Charter Revision

Sanford City Commission Districting Still Causing Problems

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Districting, the issue that led to the creation of a charter study committee 13½ months ago, is still creating problems in Sanford.

Despite the fiasco at the polls in December 1980, when a confused Sanford electorate had four questions concerning districting to vote on, multiple questions concerning charter revision may again be placed on the ballot this year.

The City Commission and the city's charter revision committee, in joint session, discussed a multiple-question referendum Monday evening.

And City Commissioner David Farr rejected the committee's compromise proposal to create residency districts from which commission candidates would have to qualify.

Farr called the committee's compromise between "true districting," wherein a candidate is elected by the voters within a designated area, and the proposal requiring candidates to live in a geographic area but run at large meaningless.

"I see districting where a candidate is elected within a district. Residency in a district with elections at large is meaningless," he said.

He said that under the proposal a candidate could lose the election in the district he represents but win in the remainder of the city.

Farr suggested a series of questions be put to the voters on the proposed changes, from districting to changing the commission's name to a council to changing the times of elections from December to September.

The other members of the commission, up to that point, had been discussing whether to place on the ballot three questions:

—Whether to retain the current charter as is.

—Whether the proposed new charter, with the exception of districting, should be approved.

—Whether the proposed new charter with districting should be approved.

Commissioner Ned Yancey said it would be difficult to sell the city voters on a charter that included the districting provision. He also said residency districts created the possibility that no qualified candidate might live in a given district. At the same time, two qualified candidates might have to oppose each other in another district.

Commissioner Milton Smith said districting could cause the entire revision to fail because of the controversy concerning that one issue. "If we give the people only one choice, the chances are they will reject it," he said.

He said that 16 months ago the people turned down districting by a large margin.

On the Dec. 2, 1980, election ballot the people were given four straw questions to consider.

The questions were: to keep the status quo — commissioners living wherever they desired in the city and being elected at large; district residency for commissioners; election by voters within a district; and residency within a district but election at large.

The status quo was approved and the other three issues were turned down.

But voters were allowed to vote on all four issues. The questions were placed on the ballot after leaders in the black community asked for a change in electing commissioners to assure minority representation.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said Monday that the results could be interpreted as a victory by either side of the issue.

He also said that the entire charter, including "housekeeping" items in the document — minor changes to bring the charter into conformance with state law could fall because of the controversy over districting.

Committee member Clyde "Robbie" Robertson said that if the commission does not like the districting proposal it should send it back to the committee for additional study.

Mayor Lee P. Moore urged commissioners and committee members to consider, prior to the next joint meeting on May 3, which way the charter revisions should be presented to the people.

Insurance Firms Busy With Claims For Storm Damage

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

Insurance companies in the Sanford area have been busier than ever the last two weeks handling an enormous volume of claims stemming from the two storms that ripped through the area nearly two weeks ago.

"I've been a Sanford resident all my life," says Tony Russi of Tony Russi Insurance Agency, 2417 So. French Ave. "And I guarantee you one thing — nothing that's come through here equaled the hail damage and damage from the tornado that came through."

Russi said he estimates his company has handled some 1,600 claims totaling repairs. But there's a problem there too," he added. "The damage has been so great that supplies like glass and carpeting are in short demand right now."

Russi said the claims his company has handled have been split 50-50 between homes and autos, and he pegs a $12 million to $15 million figure on total damage to the area.

"There's probably around $8 million in insured damages, but that's not counting a lot of uninsured vehicles and things like crop damage," he said.

Thomas L. Dorroh, resident claim superintendent for State Farm Fire & Casualty, says his office has handled between 3,000 and 4,000 home claims, and some 2,000 auto claims.

"So far we paid out over $2 million in the first week," he said. "I'd estimate we'll handle between $6 million and $8 million in claims by the time we get everyone taken care of."

Dorroh said most people with claims are more interested in getting their autos fixed right now. "It seems to be some kind of a status thing," he said. "Everyone sees you driving your car, but not everyone knows what your house looks like."

Dorroh said that the vast majority of State Farm's policyholders have been honest in filing damage claims.

"I think everybody's been real honest," he said. "I'm sure there are some out there trying to make a little bit, but that's to be expected."

He agreed with Russi that policyholders should remain patient and stay local when getting repair work done.

"The local contractors have been pretty good about not raising prices too much," said Dorroh.

Bill Wight, vice president of the Karns Insurance Agency in Sanford, says his company has handled between $50 and 1,000 storm-related claims, "and we're still counting."

"Most of the homeowner claims have run from $500 and $600 up to $7,000," said Wight, "although I did see one for $16,000 — the roof was completely peeled and there was massive water damage."

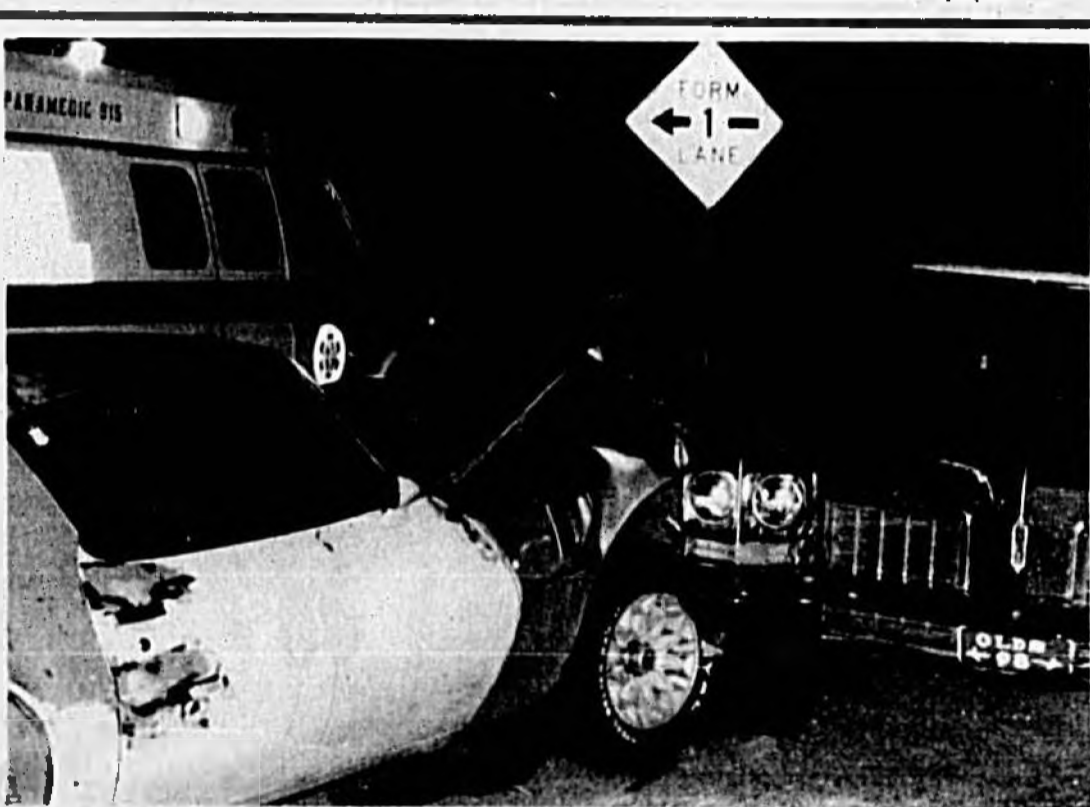

He said his company had received no bizarre or out-of-the-ordinary claims, but that estimates on total damage to the area have been low.

"Just from the sheer number of claims that have been filed, estimates in the newspapers are lower than actual damage," he said.

Wight said policyholders are encouraged to do business with the company of their choice, but cautions persons seeking repair work to check out the reputation and credibility of the contractors they use.

"There have been some builders and contractors trying to get rich off the storm," he said.

Wight said the going rate for 100 square feet of roofing is about $90 to $95, but that figure has gone up some since the storm, and he said he knows of one out-of-town contractor asking $300 for 100 square feet of roofing.

CAR CRASH INJURES 3

The collision of two automobiles at a Sanford intersection Sunday night resulted in injuries to three people and about $4,000 worth of property damage. Police have charged Norman Lee Staley, 30, of Sanford, with improper turning after he reportedly attempted to make a left turn onto Mellonville Avenue from First Street about 9:30 p.m., crashing into a car driven by Helmer G. Cacace, 21, of 723 S. Wymore Road, Altamonte Springs. Staley, Cacace and Staley's passenger, Rosetta James, 30, of 1013 Hickory St., Sanford, were treated for cuts and bruises and released from Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Shooting Of Broker Remains A Mystery

By TONI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Police have determined that the weapon used in an attack on a prominent businessman in front of his downtown Sanford office last week as a .22-caliber handgun.

Thomas J. Stevenson, a licensed real-estate broker and business associate of millionaire Jeno F. Paulucci of Paulucci Enterprises, told police he was about to enter his 201 W. First St. office at 9:30 a.m. Saturday when a man jumped from behind nearby bushes, said he's been "waiting a long time" for Stevenson, and

"Our detectives are working on a lead now. Mr. Stevenson has been very cooperative."

— Herb Shea

fired three shots. Stevenson braced off two of the bullets, using his briefcase as a shield, and quickly ran inside the office building unharmed, police said.

The third bullet struck Stevenson's car, which was parked nearby, police added.

Following the attack, sources indicated Stevenson had hired bodyguards to prevent further attempts on his life. However, "to my knowledge, he is no longer using the bodyguards," said Police Sgt. Herb Shea, assistant to Chief Ben Butler.

"Our detectives are working on a lead now," Shea said. "Mr. Stevenson has been very cooperative but we don't have a lot to go on in the case. But I have a lot of confidence in our detectives that they will come up with something."

Asked whether police feel the attempt on Stevenson's life was a case of mistaken identity, with the armed man possibly seeking to kill Paulucci, Shea said "There is always that possibility, but I really don't think that is the case here."

Stevenson and Paulucci could not be reached for comment today.

Shea said his office received a call from a local resident who said he thought he knew a man who resembled the composite sketch of the shooting suspect which appeared in Friday's issue of the Evening Herald.

"After looking into it, though, it didn't pan out," he said.

New Tuskawilla School OK'd

U.S. District Court Judge Elizabeth A. Kovachevich has given court approval to the proposed site of the new Tuskawilla Elementary School.

After a hearing in Orlando, the approval was given on recommendation of the U.S. Justice Department.

The Seminole County public school system has been under a federal court order since 1970 requiring prior federal court approval for sites and zoning lines for new schools.

Preliminary plans for the 755-student-capacity school are being prepared by Watson & Co. The site is on the east side of Tuskawilla Road, 1½ miles south of State Road 419.

Budgeted for the construction is $3.1 million, and the opening of the new facility is planned for September 1983, said Dan Dagg, assistant school superintendent.

Construction costs are being paid from tax money raised through a $2-per-$1,000 assessed valuation of real property in the current fiscal year, Dagg said.

He noted that the school administration will also have to ask federal court approval when zone lines for students who will attend the school are drawn.

Automobile Kills Forest City Boy, 7

Funeral services are scheduled Wednesday for a 7-year-old Forest City boy killed when he was struck by a car Sunday evening in front of his grandmother's home in Apopka.

The child, Terry Lee Summersill Jr., 1213 Lois Ave., had stepped out of his mother's parked car to go to his father's truck parked in front of it when the accident occurred, according to his grandmother, Mrs. Edna M. Summersill. She said the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Summersill, had been out driving in their truck, then went to her home to pick up their automobile. The boy's mother was to drive the car back to Forest City with her son, while his father was going to drive the truck back, according to the grandmother.

The grandmother said the boy got out of his mother's car to walk over to his father's truck to get a toy, but apparently wandered too far into the street and was struck by a passing car. The grandmother said the boy's father attempted to lunge at the child to pull him to safety, but couldn't reach him in time.

The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Florida Hospital-Apopka shortly after the 8:56 p.m. accident, according to police.

No charges have been filed against the driver of the car that struck the boy, Beverly Shupert Davis, 21, of Brunswick, Ga., police said.

Humane Society Adds 4 To Board

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Members of the Humane Society of Seminole County board voted unanimously Monday night at a meeting in the Longwood community center not to close its animal shelter on April 30, as had previously been considered.

The society's financial condition has improved, at least for the time being, as the result of community support and donations sparked by an emergency fund drive. The agency had been losing about $1,300 a month because operating costs were exceeding the receipts.

The shelter, operated by two full-time and two part-time employees, is at 2001 E. 25th St., Sanford.

Four new directors were appointed to the board. They are R.T. Millwee of Longwood, a retired educator, who was formerly assistant to the president at Seminole Community College and county school superintendent; R. Bryce Baker, vice president of Cardinal Industries, Sanford; John Worthington Jr., Winter Park real-estate broker and longtime supporter of the Humane Society; and Mrs. Mary Cilley of Apopka, a newcomer to the county, who has been active in volunteer work.

The board closed the books on the two-year-old Irish setter "Bo," adopted by John Bartholf of Apopka, when Carl Stephens reported the dog had been neutered as required by state law for adopted dogs.

Bartholf had falsified his application to adopt the dog by saying his yard was fenced in when it wasn't. It was a policy to require fenced yards for large dogs, but exceptions were made when an investigation revealed the conditions to be safe for the animal. Bartholf was permitted to keep the dog under such an exception.

However, the suggestion that he might have to turn the dog back to the Humane Society caused a furor that rocked the organization, bringing about resignations and withdrawal of some financial support.

The board approved its revised bylaws, which had previously been discussed at a special workshop, and formally approved guidelines for employees.

Barbara Woodall reported 30 cases of cruelty and neglect of animals were investigated in March, including horses, cows, hogs, dogs, rabbits and squirrels.

Upcoming fundraisers for the Humane Society include a garage sale May 1 at 106 Maplewood, Idyllwild, Sanford; a lunch and fashion show at 11:30 a.m. at the White Marlin restaurant in the Longwood Village Shopping Center, and a dog wash at 10 a.m. Saturday at Southeast National Bank on Airport Boulevard, Sanford.

There will be a "Blessing of the Animals" May 23 at the San Pedro Center on Dyke Road in southeastern Seminole County from 3 to 5 p.m. The Rev. Nino LaStella will conduct the blessing.

HOROSCOPE by BERNICE BEDESOL

For Thursday, April 22, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY
April 22, 1982

Strive to disassociate yourself this coming year from projects or ventures that have failed to produce the results you've hoped for. Your success will be found in fresh fields.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
Don't fall behind today on your duties or responsibilities. Any time or motion that you lose now will be hard to make up later. Keep plugging. Predictions of what's in store for you in each season following your birth date and where your luck and opportunities lie are in your Astro-Graph Mail #1 for each Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Avoid friends today who do not share interests similar to yours. They could involve you in things you'll not find pleasurable, and may ruin what should be a fun day.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Important goals are reachable today, but you may not have an easy row to hoe. If you hope to succeed, tenacity and endurance are necessary.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Normally you're rather optimistic, but today you could be more impressed by negatives than positives. Look for rays of light, not for dark clouds.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
This is not a good time to ignore past-due financial obligations. Make an effort to keep accounts current.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Of all the signs you are most noted for your cooperative spirit, but today this attribute could desert you. You might become miffed with others if they don't do things your way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
You're very capable, but you, too, have your limitations. You must be careful today not to bite off more than you can chew. Schedule your work wisely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Steer clear of situations today that require gambles or contain elements of risk. There's a possibility you might press your luck too far.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
You must guard against using methods or tactics today that may be a little too heavy-handed on those in your charge. Try to get your points across with a light touch.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
If you expect others to respect your ideas and opinions today, you must first find merit in theirs. Discount their views and they'll write off yours.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
Be on guard today so that you won't be taken advantage of again by one who has used you in the past. Don't be too hasty in opening your wallet.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
In important one-to-one relationships today, if you fall to be tactful or cooperative you could seriously disturb the alliance. Be prepared to yield.

WIN AT BRIDGE

but two years in the Far East for the Korean War found him out of the first 10. By 1958, he was back to third place but 2,000 points behind the leader, Charles Goren. He decided to really go after points and the No. 1 spot and predicted he would get there early in 1962. He did just that and went one step further. He became the first man to collect over 1,000 master points in one year.

Here is a hand from the 1962 Mid-South regional which he won with Pat Connelly. Pat sat South and played four spades after Jacoby used a transfer bid to get him there.

Pat won the trump lead in dummy and led a diamond. West won with the queen and led a second trump to Pat's ace. Pat ruffed a diamond, led a third trump to his hand, a heart to dummy's king and a successful finesse of his jack followed by the ace. Then he ruffed his last diamond and finally led the club. West won with the queen over Pat's jack and was end-played.

As Jacoby said later, "The way to score master points is to have good partners."

Pat had certainly played like a really great partner. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASS.)

Various Treatments For Diverticulosis

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB— I am 73 years old. Six months ago I was having great difficulty walking and lots of pain in my lower abdomen. I had tests and the diagnosis was diverticulosis, a little arthritis in my left hip and low potassium. My blood pressure holds at 140 over 70 with one hydrochlorothiazide daily.

I was put on a low residue diet, two potassium pills daily and Naprosyn for arthritis. I don't have pain now and get around better, but I really miss my salads and fresh fruits.

One of my lady friends just went through the exact same tests and she put her on a roughage diet including bran. Her physician says this is the newest treatment for diverticulosis. I would appreciate your comments on these two methods of treatment for diverticulosis.

DEAR READER— Would you comment about hypospadias in your column? I have three sons, now adult, and two were born with this abnormality. Surgery was necessary as their cases weren't severe. I'd like to know if this condition is inherited. How common is it?

DEAR READER— In the majority of these cases, the urethral opening is underneath the penis rather than at the very tip. When it is on the underneath side of the glans (head), it is not a major problem. But the opening can be along the shaft or even near the scrotum. There may be associated abnormalities, such as cords that bend the organ.

This condition occurs once in every 125 infants. The chances of having it are about five to 10 times greater in first-degree relatives as opposed to the general population. The cause is unknown but some instances may be related to hormones taken during pregnancy. Such infants should NOT be circumcised as the foreskin may be needed in case of repair is required.

Still Soupy After All These Years

NEW YORK (NEA) — From the late '50s to the mid-'60s, Soupy Sales wore a polka-dot bowtie and pork-pie hat, danced "The Mouse," told bad puns and more often than not had the remnants of a custard pie splattered on his face.

By behaving this way on his live, at time anarchic "children's" TV show — whose hip zanyness presaged the humor of "Rowan & Martin's Laugh-In" and "Saturday Night Live" — he became a pop culture phenomenon whose viewers were estimated to be 65 percent adult.

But TV comedy, he says, is becoming an endangered species. He speaks reverently of the days of live television.

During the ensuing years, Sales went hatless and traded in his bowtie for more conventional neckwear. But he barely changed his slapstick humor. Now there seems to be a revival of interest in Soupy's work, fueled perhaps by the trend to "ally" comedies as well as incipient nostalgia for the '60s among those who grew up then.

"I didn't talk down to the kids. It wasn't like Captain Kangaroo or Mr. Rogers, and the kids appreciated it. They said, 'Hey he's one of us.'"

The 58-year-old comic has recorded a new, well-received LP appropriately titled "Still Soupy After All These Years" (MCA). The record captures his rejuvenated (and well-attended) nightclub act and also gives a nod to Soupy's '60s roots by containing the original versions of his two-sided 1965 smash single, "The Mouse" and "Pakalafaka."

college revolutionaries and yuppies of the late '60s. "I don't see how. I never won. The dogs beat me. I always got a pie in the face."

"But I don't want to be considered a blast from the past. I never went away," Sales asserts, over a fillet of sole lunch at New York's Friars Club. Indeed, while Sales never disappeared from the public eye — in addition to his frequent nightclub performances, he appears regularly on TV game shows and programs like "Sna Na Na" — his profile has been considerably lowered since the mid-'60s.

Indeed, the comedian is still Soupy after these years. When the interview was finished and he was asked to pose in one of the club's elegant mahogany-paneled rooms holding a large cherry cheesecake, Sales responded by dancing an unintentional version of the "Soupy Shuffle."

And those changes have left him distressed — to the point that it seems nothing would please him better than to throw several well-aimed pies in the faces of today's network executives. In fact, he's positively appalled at what's happened to both kids' shows and comedy on television.

"The only reason I'm doing nightclubs is that I don't have a creative outlet on TV anymore where I write and do the things I want to do. I hope that will change," says the rubberfaced comedian at whom an estimated 20,000 custard pies have been hurled since the first hit him square in the kisser in Cleveland in 1960.

When Soupy received enough money to take a small vacation, he was suspended by station management. But that incident elevated him from kid-show host to cult hero. Articles in major magazines and dime stores full of Soupy merchandise followed.

Microwave Magic

Leftover Ham Makes Meals In Minutes

There are many meals to be planned with even small amounts of ham. It can be used with potatoes and other vegetables for casseroles, with cheese for a brunch dish or as the main ingredient for a delicious ham loaf. Since the ham is already cooked the time required in the microwave is quite short.

One of the quickest meals using ham is this ham and vegetable casserole.

HAM DIVAN

- 2 pkgs. frozen broccoli spears
- 2 cups cooked ham 1/2 in. cubes
- 1 can French fried onion rings
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1/2 cup milk

Place broccoli in microwave safe casserole. Microwave 100 percent power 5 mins. Drain. Separate. Top with ham, half the onion rings and cheese. Blend soup add milk. Pour over other ingredients. Cover. Microwave 100 percent 8-10 minutes. Sprinkle with remaining onion rings. Microwave uncovered 5-6 minutes or until heated through. A 12x8 inch dish is ideal for this casserole. HINT: By alternating the heads and stems of the broccoli, the doneness will be even.

FAVORITE HAM LOAF

with a thermometer 160 degrees internal temperature indicates doneness. Let stand 5 minutes (tenting to keep hot). Remove from dish with spatulas.

Try this do ahead ham dish for your next brunch. Assemble the night before and microwave just prior to serving. This recipe is an adaptation of a conventional one. The changes are in the cooking time and shape of the casserole.

BRUNCH HAM RING

- 6 slices white bread
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 cuts cooked ham, cubed
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 teaspoons parsley

Cut bread in 1/2 inch cubes. Place 1/2 of cubes in bottom of microwave safe ring mold. Top with onion, ham, cheese and remaining bread. In small bowl, blend together eggs, milk, salt, pepper and mustard. Pour over ham mixture. Sprinkle with parsley. Cover. Let stand, refrigerate overnight. Microwave uncovered at 50 percent (medium) 24-28 minutes or until set. Let stand 5 minutes.

Rich Molasses Caramels and Old Fashioned Molasses Peanut Brittle more than satisfy that craving for "a little something sweet."

Homemade Candy Has Own Niche

The craving for "a little something sweet" goes back to the dawn of civilization, when early man first savored honey and the juice of sugar cane. At least 40 centuries ago candy made its entrance in the world of sweets.

The confections of the Egyptians, Greeks and Romans may seem strange compared to modern candies; they were made from flour, crude starch, honey and spices, to which fruits were added. Orientals boiled down barley water, hardened it into sticks and rolled them in toasted almond seeds.

According to the makers of Grandma's Light Unsulphured Molasses, German bakers became well-known for making sweets in the 15th century, turning out sticky, sugary concoctions of fruits, nuts, seeds and spices held together with honey, then rolled in flour and poppy seeds.

When sugar and molasses became more available in the 17th century, along with the introduction of vanilla, bakers everywhere added newly created candies to shelves lined with gingerbread and cakes. And then in 1876, the development of chocolate turned candy-making into one of the world's largest industries.

RICH MOLASSES CARAMELS

- 2 cups firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 cup light unsulphured molasses
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 1 cup milk
- 4 squares (4 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

In a 4-quart heavy saucepan combine sugar, molasses, butter and flour. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves and mixture comes to a boil. Boil 5 minutes, without stirring. Gradually add milk and chocolate. Cook, stirring occasionally, until candy thermometer registers 248 degrees F. (firm ball stage). Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Turn out of pan. Cut into 1-inch squares. Wrap caramels in cellophane or plastic wrap, if desired. Store in a cool, dry place. Yield: 5 dozen 1-inch squares (about 2 1/2 pounds).

OLD FASHIONED MOLASSES PEANUT BRITTLE

- 3 cups sugar
- 1 cup water
- 1 cup light unsulphured molasses
- pinch cream of tartar
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon hot water
- 1 teaspoon lemon extract
- 2 cups unsalted, dry roasted peanuts

In a 4-quart heavy saucepan combine sugar, water, molasses and cream of tartar. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until candy thermometer registers 270 degrees F. (soft-crack stage). Add butter. Bring to a boil. Continue cooking until candy thermometer registers 300 degrees F. (hard-crack stage), stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Dissolve baking soda in hot water. Stir into molasses mixture with lemon extract. Pour into well-greased 15 x 10 x 1-inch jelly roll pan. Using back of wooden spoon, spread mixture very thinly. Sprinkle peanuts evenly on top. Gently press peanuts into candy mixture. Cool completely. Loosen edges of pan with spatula. Break brittle into pieces. Yield: About 2 pounds candy.

Younger Set Cooks Up Some Magic

Once upon a time there was a man who made wishes and dreams from childhood fantasies come true. That man's name was Walt Disney. His magic kingdoms in Florida and California and his animation features such as "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Alice in Wonderland," "Pinocchio," "Peter Pan," "Cinderella," and "Sleeping Beauty" have delighted audiences young and old.

Like the mischievous white rabbit who led Alice into Wonderland, parents can lead their children into the magical world of cooking. Given half a chance, boys and girls from toddlerhood on will make marvelous messes. Most youngsters can't wait to get their hands in the flour.

Teaching kids to cook not only provides the fun and satisfaction of putting things together, but also answers a very real need for working moms who need help in the kitchen. Children ranging from eight or nine (if already kitchen-hardy) to fourteen are at the ideal age to share some responsibility for dinner.

The key to raising your own chef de cuisine is to involve the younger set early, at three or four years of age, in simple tasks which meld with their relatively short attention spans.

To keep up the enthusiasm, try a variety of dishes that can be associated with familiar and favorite stories like the fanciful Alice in Wonderland tea party created here by Kraft.

The presentation of these treats is delightfully childlike. And the story can be woven into the cooking lesson and used as a diversion if you sense the young chef is becoming frustrated with a certain project.

No doubt Heritage Shortcake and Sesame Cookies would have been included in the Wonderful tea party had the Mad Hatter and the March Hare known how these treats excited young children like Alice.

Leave the magic of the Heritage Shortcake to your young chef by guiding him or her in filling and topping the shortcake with the fruit and marshmallow creme mixture.

Meanwhile, the Sesame Cookies provide the opportunity for the novice to shape dough into balls, roll them in sesame seeds, and place them on the cookie sheet as Mom and Dad fills the cookie centers with preserves.

Cakes are what made Alice grow very, very tall in Wonderland. That can be the topic as you prepare the Angel Mallow frosting for the Cupcakes With Petite Daisies. Explain to your child the magic of watching the beaten egg whites form soft peaks. Frost the cupcakes together.

Lastly, to appease the Queen of Hearts, try the Finale Fruit Tarts. Once the shells and filling have been prepared, invite your young chef to assist in filling the tarts and garnish with strawberries and bananas.

The Moral of the Story for success with your growing chefs is: maintain flexibility. Specifically,

Don't overwhelm them with long lists of rules.

Know in advance that when youngsters help cook, total cleanliness is next to impossible and that the final clean-up chores may well be yours alone.

Avoid the temptation to take over and do everything yourself.

And, above all: Always enthusiastically eat what your young chefs help cook!

HERITAGE SHORTCAKE

2 1/2 cups all purpose biscuit mix
1 cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup marshmallow creme
1 1/2 cups peach slices
1 1/2 cups strawberry slices
1 cup miniature marshmallows
1/2 cup blueberries
Prepare biscuit mix according to package directions for 8-inch shortcake. Whip cream and vanilla until slightly thickened. Add marshmallow creme, continue beating until stiff peaks form. Remove from heat; beat in vanilla. Frost cupcakes. Decorate with:

CUPCAKES WITH PETITE DAISIES

(Angel Mallow Frosting)
1/2 cup sugar
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons water
1 7-oz. jar marshmallow creme
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
24 cupcakes
Combine sugar, egg whites and water in double boiler; beat with electric or rotary beater over boiling water until soft peaks form. Add marshmallow creme; continue beating until stiff peaks form. Remove from heat; beat in vanilla. Frost cupcakes. Decorate with:

PETITE DAISIES

For each flower, dip scissors in water. Cut across the flat side of Kraft miniature marshmallows to form petals. Arrange five petals on wax paper in a daisy design, slightly overlapping tips. Dip inside of flower into colored sugar to coat outside of petals.

FINALE FRUIT TARTS

1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
two-thirds cup margarine
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
Dash of salt
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Strawberry halves
Banana slices
Divide cream cheese in half; reserve 4-ozs. for filling. Combine flour and salt; cut in 4-ozs. cream cheese and margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Divide dough into 12 balls; chill. On lightly floured surface, roll out each ball to 4 1/2-inch circle; place in 3-inch tart pan. Prick bottom and sides with fork. Bake at 375 degrees, 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Cool completely.

In saucepan, combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually add milk; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture becomes clear and thickened. Add vanilla and remaining 4-ozs. cream cheese, cubed; stir until smooth. Fill tarts. Chill. Before serving, garnish with strawberries and bananas, 12 tarts.

SESAME COOKIES

1 cup margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Sesame seeds
Strawberry preserves
Cream margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in extract. Add flour and salt; mix well. Shape rounded tablespoonfuls of dough into balls; roll in sesame seeds. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Indent centers; fill with preserves. Bake at 400 degrees, 10 to 12 minutes. Approximately 3 dozen.

Sesame Cookies, Cupcakes With Petite Daisies and a tray of Finale Fruit Tarts are examples of party fare prepared by young chefs.

One Dish Dinner For Busy Cooks

Cooking is more creative than it was a decade ago, and most cooks are also busier than they were then. So it's good to have quick-to-prepare meat and vegetable casseroles that can be made ahead to pop in the oven after a busy day.

Corn Bread Pot Pie is an easy mixture of cooked meat, cheese, and corn — you can use leftover meat — blended together with a creamy cheese sauce of evaporated milk and cheese. You don't have to cook the sauce ahead.

CORN BREAD POT PIE
 2 cups cut-up cooked chicken, ham or beef
 1 1/2 cups cooked peas, drained
 1 can (17 oz.) cream-style corn
 3/4 cup (4 oz.) diced process American cheese
 1 cup evaporated milk
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 1 package (8 1/2 oz.) corn muffin mix

Combine meat, peas, corn, cheese, evaporated milk, onion and Worcestershire sauce. Pour into a greased 12 x 8-inch baking dish or a shallow 2-quart casserole. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 15 minutes or until bubbly at edges. Mix corn muffin batter according to package directions. Drop batter by spoonfuls around edges of hot mixture, leaving center uncovered. Bake 25 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes 6 servings.
 Note: In place of peas, lima beans or diced carrots may be used.

Easy Salad Mold

Molded salads have a reason for being. They're easy to make and provide a combination of fruit and vegetable possibilities that require little work in assembling.

This is why a selection of molded salads are good ideas to include in the recipe box of a bride or the single male or female who wants to have a few basic dishes that do not call for cooking-school expertise.

Many molded salads contain canned pineapple, such as this one with chicken and cranberry sauce. I've often wondered why it is always "canned" and not fresh or frozen pineapple. The answer is that fresh or frozen pineapple contains an enzyme that breaks down protein, and gelatin is a protein product. Therefore, using fresh or frozen pineapple in a recipe means that the gelatin will not set.

CHICKEN AND CRANBERRY MOLDED SALAD
 Cranberry layer
 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
 1/2 cup water
 1 can (16 ounces) whole berry cranberry sauce
 1 can (8 1/2 ounces) crushed pineapple in unsweetened juice

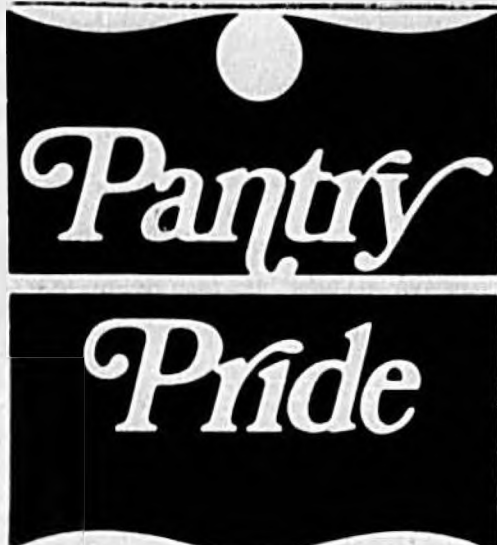

1 tablespoon lemon juice
 In a small saucepan, sprinkle gelatin over water. Let stand 5 minutes; heat over low heat until completely dissolved. Stir in cranberry sauce, pineapple and lemon juice. Pour into a lightly oiled 1 1/2-quart mold. Chill about 1 hour until set but still sticky to the touch. (Do not use fresh or frozen pineapple.)

CHICKEN LAYER
 1 cup chicken broth
 1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
 1 cup mayonnaise
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 1/2 cup diced celery
 1/2 cup diced green pepper
 one-third cup chopped parsley

In a small saucepan, sprinkle gelatin over chicken broth. Let stand 5 minutes; heat over low heat until completely dissolved. Stir into mayonnaise, beating constantly with a wire whisk. Stir in lemon juice, salt, chicken, celery, pepper and parsley. Chill until slightly thickened and pour over jelled cranberry layer. Chill at least 6 hours before unmolding and serving on a bed of crisp lettuce surrounded with fresh orange segments. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

CREATE AN ALPSUNDAE
 1/2 cup margarine
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 egg white
 1 1/2 tablespoons milk
 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
 3/4 teaspoon almond extract
 1 cup flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 3 tablespoons finely chopped pecans vanilla ice cream
 chocolate, strawberry or caramel topping
 1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Cream margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in egg white, milk, vanilla and extract. Add flour and baking powder; mix well. Stir in nuts. Drop rounded tablespoonfuls of dough, 3 inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheet. Spread each to 4-inch circle. Bake at 350 degrees, 7 to 8 minutes or until edges are browned. Immediately remove from cookie sheet; place on inverted greased 6-ounce custard cups. Press gently against cup to form shells; cool. Fill each shell with ice cream. Spoon on topping; garnish with whipped cream. 12 servings.

Rumanian Soup Has Sharp Tang

Here's a hearty soup with a surprising taste. It combines the familiar flavor of tomatoes with the sharp tang of sauerkraut. Poured into bowls or mugs, this hearty recipe tastes and looks "soup"-er topped with a dollop of sour cream and sprinkled with caraway seeds.

RUMANIAN TOMATO SOUP
1 can (16 oz.) sauerkraut, drained
1 can (28 oz.) Italian plum tomatoes
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) beef broth

1 tablespoon fresh or 1 teaspoon dried and shredded parsley
Dash of Tabasco or hot pepper sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Sour cream (optional)
1 teaspoon caraway seeds (optional)
Place sauerkraut in colander and rinse with cold water. Squeeze dry. Using sharp knife or scissors, cut through sauerkraut several times to shorten long strips.
Run tomatoes through blender or food processor. Strain.

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, April 21, 1982—5B

Combine blended tomatoes and beef broth in 2 1/2 quart saucepan. Bring to boil on high heat.
Add drained sauerkraut, parsley, Tabasco or hot pepper sauce and Worcestershire sauce. Stir. Cover, reduce heat to low and cook for 5 minutes.
Pour into bowls or mugs. Top with sour cream and caraway seeds, if desired. Makes 3-4 servings.

Curry Up A Combo

Curry is basic to Indian and much Far Eastern cooking. Despite common belief, curry is not a single spice, such as a clove, but made up of many spices.
For example, curry powder may include cardamom seeds, cinnamon bark, whole cloves, black cumin seeds, mace, nutmeg, garlic, poppy seeds, tamarind and chilies, to name a few. This is why curry in its purest state varies so much.
Curry evolved centuries ago in the days of no refrigeration for medicinal and antiseptic purposes.
Add curry powder in the final few minutes of cooking to obtain a well-rounded flavor.

MIXED VEGETABLE CURRY
1 pound small potatoes, pared and cut in halves
1 pound fresh green beans, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 pound carrots, pared, quartered lengthwise and cut in 1-inch pieces
1 package (9 ounces) frozen peas
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 cup plain yogurt (room temperature)
1 tablespoon tomato sauce
In a large covered saucepot, cook potatoes, green beans and carrots together in boiling salted water to cover, until vegetables are barely tender, about 15 minutes. Add peas, continue cooking until vegetables are just tender, about 5 minutes. Drain. While vegetable are cooking, melt butter in a large skillet. Add curry powder, salt and black pepper. Sauté until curry turns golden, about 30 seconds. Toss with vegetables. Simmer, until piping hot, about 1 minute. Remove from heat. Combine yogurt and tomato paste. Stir into vegetables. Spoon onto a serving dish. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 portions or about 5 cups.

Biscuits Base Of Turnovers

Refrigerated biscuits make quick breakfast turnovers. Mix a filling of cream cheese, milk, sugar, apple, peanuts and raisins, roll out the biscuits in a 4-inch circle, fill and fold dough in half. Bake and sprinkle with powdered sugar or drizzle on honey or maple syrup before serving.
NUTTY APPLE BREAKFAST TURNOVERS
1 can (10 biscuits) refrigerated buttermilk or country-style biscuits
3-ounce package cream cheese, softened
1 tablespoon milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 medium apple, pared and coarsely chopped (about 1 cup)
one-third cup chopped peanuts
one-third cup raisins
Powdered sugar
Heat oven to 400 degrees. Grease cookie sheet. Mix cream cheese, milk, sugar and cinnamon; stir in apple, peanuts and raisins.
Separate dough into 10 biscuits. Pat or roll each biscuit into a 4-inch circle. Place about 1 1/2 teaspoons of the apple mixture in the center of each biscuit. Fold dough in half; press edges with fork to seal. Place on prepared cookie sheet.
Bake at 400 degrees for 11 to 13 minutes or until golden brown. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve warm. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 10 turnovers.

Briefly

DAR Chapter To Present Flag To New Hospital

The April meeting of the Sallie Harrison Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Burch Cornelius. Despite the heavy rains there were nine members present. The scheduled speaker was unable to attend because of the storm.

Following the business meeting an announcement was made concerning the flag project. U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles has obtained an American flag which was flown over the Capitol in Washington for the Chapter to donate to the new Central Florida Regional Hospital when it opens. A certificate which accompanies the flag was viewed and admired by the members.

Plans were revealed for the May meeting, the annual luncheon when the speakers will be installed. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Cornelius and Mrs. V.C. Messenger.

Pre-School Registration

The Pre-School Center is now accepting applications for the 1982-83 school year. Classes are held at the First Presbyterian Church Education Building on Park Avenue.

Boys and girls, 3 years old, attend classes on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Children 4 years old are scheduled on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. If a child will be 5 years of age by Oct 1 he may register for the Kindergarten class that meets every day.

Registration is open to anyone in the community. For information call 322-2662.

Garden Bazaar, Plant Sale

The Sanford Garden Club will hold a spring plant sale and garden bazaar Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Sanford Plaza. Plants, shrubs, garden tools, plant containers, ceramics, macrame and garden supplies will be sold.

Professional Secretaries Week

As its originator in 1952, Professional Secretaries International (formerly NSA) continues to be the sole sponsor of Professional Secretaries Week, observed April 18-24. PSI has designated today as Professional Secretaries Day.

More than 800 Chapters of PSI spearhead Professional Secretaries Week observances in every state of the United States and in every province of Canada. The Week is also recognized in many foreign countries through the efforts of PSI Associated International Affiliates.

Barbara Taffer Weds R.D. Rosenberger Jr.

MRS. R. D. ROSENBERGER JR.

Miss Barbara Jane Taffer and Robert Daryle Rosenberger Jr. were married April 2, at Knowles Memorial Chapel, Rollins College, Winter Park.

The Rev. Arnold Wettstein performed the 11 a.m. double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hurbell Eugene Taffer, 501 Pine Drive, Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Daryle Rosenberger, 1529 Primrose Lane, Bethlehem, Pa.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

A brunch at LaBelle Verriere, Winter Park, followed the ceremony.

The couple are making their home in Maitland following a wedding trip to Montreat, N.C.

The bride teaches English at Seminole High School where she is also a journalism sponsor.

The bridegroom teaches English and is also head soccer coach at Lake Howell High School.

Getting Married

Engagement and wedding forms are available at the Herald office to announce these events. The forms may be accompanied by professional black and white photographs if a picture is desired with the announcement. Wedding forms and pictures must be submitted within two weeks of the wedding.

MAY DAY BRUNCH COMING UP

Committee members Linda Reck, from left, Bill Gielow, Vivian Buck, and Peggy Deere put their heads together dreaming up plans for the upcoming CIP May Day Brunch, May 2, from 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Sanford Civic Center. The committee promises good food and entertainment with proceeds going to the Sanford Woman's Club CIP project "Neighborhood Crime-watch." Tickets are $2.00 for adults, children $1.50. Ruth Gaines is chairman with Eve Crabtree ticket chairman and Martha Yancey in charge of entertainment.

Miss Lloyd, W.A. DeLong Repeat Marriage Vows

Patricia Jean Lloyd and William Arthur DeLong were married April 10, at 5 p.m., at Countryside Baptist Church, Lake Mary. The Rev. Avery M. Long performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marie Meeks, Lyons, Ga., and Howard Lloyd, 133 Grand Bend, Lake Mary. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. DeLong, 520 W. Plantation Blvd., Lake Mary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal gown of white chiffon embellished with lace accents. Pleats formed the center panel. Her imported veil of illusion was secured to a lace crown.

Angela Lloyd was the maid of honor and Jeanine Lloyd was the bridesmaid. They wore pink dresses and carried spring bouquets of pink blossoms.

Joe Mancuso served the bridegroom as best man. Usher-groomsmen were Kim Racca, Roger Syner and David Norton.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the church fellowship hall.

After a wedding trip to St. Augustine, the newlyweds are making their home in Longwood. The bride is employed by J.C. Penney, Sanford, and the bridegroom is employed at Uni-Pak, Longwood.

Susan Treece Becomes Bride Of M.R. Andrew

Susan Clarissa Treece, the Ottaway Hills Fire Department in Toledo.

Susan Clarissa Treece, Toledo, Ohio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Treece of Altamonte Springs, and Matthew Richard Andrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Andrew of Waterville, Ohio, were married April 3 in the gardens of the Maitland Art Center, Maitland.

The afternoon ceremony was conducted by Elder Horace E. Walsh of Forest City.

A reception for friends and neighbors was held at the Barclay Woods Altamonte Springs home of the bride's parents.

Thomas Treece, brother of the bride from Chicago, attended the wedding.

The couple returned to Toledo where Mrs. Andrew is a Specification Specialist with Bauer, Stark and Lashbrook Architects and Engineering Firm. Mr. Andrew is a paramedic with the Life Squad of

Zesty Marinade Tenderizes Lamb

PIQUANT SHOULDER LAMB CHOPS
 4 to 6 New Zealand spring lamb shoulder chops, defrosted
 1 cup dry white wine
 3 tablespoons wine vinegar
 1 tablespoon light brown sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 clove garlic, minced
 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
 1/2 cup beef broth

1/4 cup chili sauce
 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 1 tablespoon water
 1/4 cup sliced, pitted black olives
 1 canned green chili, seeded, chopped
 Place lamb chops in flat, shallow dish. Combine wine, vinegar, brown sugar, salt and garlic; pour over chops. Marinate 2 hours at room temperature, turning once. Drain chops and pat dry. Reserve marinade.

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, April 21, 1982—2B

In large skillet, heat oil; saute chops on both sides until lightly browned. Add reserved marinade, beef broth, chili sauce and onion. Simmer, uncovered, 25 to 30 minutes or until chops are tender.

Remove chops to serving platter; keep warm. Mix cornstarch and water. Add to skillet. Cook, stirring, until sauce boils and thickens. Add olives and green chili. Spoon sauce over chops. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

Tasty Tuna Dishes

If you are over 50, eating well may not turn you into an 18-year-old again, but it may help you enjoy your future years more.

A moderate or prudent diet includes less protein, more complex carbohydrates for fiber (bran, pasta, etc.) fewer saturated fats and more fresh fruits and vegetables and, of course, lower calorie intake.

However, studies show that prime time-aged people (over-50) and the elderly are better off eating several light, nourishing meals a day, rather than indulging in the standard American three heavies.

TOASTY TUNA SANDWICH-BUN

1 can (8 1/4 or 7 ounces) tuna, in vegetable oil or water, drained and flaked
 1 and one-third cups chopped vegetables (zucchini, carrots, celery, parsley, etc.)
 2 tablespoons low calorie mayonnaise
 2 tablespoons low fat yogurt
 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon dried dill
 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
 3 Vienna-type rolls

In a medium-size bowl, combine tuna, vegetables, mayonnaise, yogurt, lemon juice, dill, pepper sauce; mix well. Cut a thin slice off tops of rolls. Remove most of the soft centers (save for bread crumbs) and spoon tuna mixture into roll. Bake in a 350-degree oven 15 to 20 minutes or until mixture is heated through. Cover rolls with tops; serve hot. If desired, serve with additional pepper sauce. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 3 servings.

TUNA-VEGETABLE PILAF

1 can (8 1/4 or 7 ounces) tuna in vegetable oil or water
 2 tablespoons polyunsaturated margarine
 1 cup fresh green beans, cut in 2-inch lengths
 1 cup, each coarsely chopped onion and carrots
 1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
 1 cup diced fresh tomato (about 1 medium)
 1/2 cup minced fresh parsley
 1 cup uncooked brown rice
 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts

Drain tuna of excess liquid; heat polyunsaturated margarine in large skillet. Add green beans; saute 8 minutes. Add onion, carrots and mushrooms; cook, stirring for 5 minutes. Add tomato, parsley and tuna; heat through. Cook rice according to package directions; toss with walnuts. Spoon rice onto a serving platter. Spoon tuna mixture over rice. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 3 to 4 servings.

SPAGHETTI AL TONNO

3 tablespoons olive or salad oil, divided
 1 clove garlic, crushed or minced
 1 cup sliced mushrooms
 1/2 cup diced red and green pepper
 1 1/2 cups fresh broccoli flowerets and chopped stems
 1 can (8 1/4 or 7 ounces) tuna, in vegetable oil or water, drained
 1 pound thin spaghetti
 1 egg, beaten
 1/4 cup grated, Parmesan cheese, divided

In a medium skillet, heat 2 tablespoons olive oil, saute garlic, mushrooms and red pepper until tender. Add broccoli and tuna, heat through. Cook spaghetti according to package directions; drain. Immediately return spaghetti to saucepot. All at once, add egg, tuna mixture and cup Parmesan cheese; toss well. Mix in remaining 1 tablespoon olive oil. Serve immediately topped with remaining cup Parmesan cheese. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 3 servings.

Cook Of The Week

Gift Of Wok Led Pastor From Pulpit To Kitchen

By LOU CHILDERS
Staff Correspondent

The minister is a good cook who prefers to be called by his first name rather than his title. Greg Rice, pastor of Christian Assembly in Longwood, developed a taste for the Oriental food he now prepares when the U.S. Navy stationed him in Japan and China during the early '70s.

Greg's first experiences of actually becoming a "stir-fry cook" came when he and his wife, Doree, received a wok as a wedding gift from relatives. Greg explains his first frustrations, "At first I tried to remember how the Oriental vegetables looked, and tried to achieve that look by guessing quantities and spices." He admits those first tries weren't that great.

Another gift from a relative, this time at Christmas, pulled Greg's Oriental cuisine out of the fire. With recipes from his how-to-stir-fry-successfully manual, Greg started developing what he calls "technique." "The name 'stir-frying' almost says it all," he continues, "but, actually once the vegetables are in the wok, you stir, fry, and toss using your spoon or spatula."

Two other tips from Greg that may help newcomers to Oriental cooking are: first, always cut meat and vegetables that are to be stir-fried into bite-sized pieces, second, don't overcook anything. The tendency in America is to cook vegetables until they are completely "soft!" When stir-fried, vegetables are cooked only 1 to 5 minutes until "fork tender but still crunchy."

Greg considers himself on the way to becoming "really skilled" with his wok because he can now, after much practice, stir-fry-toss what he's cooking, getting the cooked vegetables up on the side of the wok while allowing the uncooked ones to remain in the "bowl" of the wok in the hot oil.

Greg and Doree live in Hidden Lake with their son, Stephen, 3, and brand new baby daughter, Kristen, 1 month.

Greg says, "It always interests our guests to watch as I cook the wok-way at the table."

When cooking several vegetables together, Greg states, "You start with the sturdy ones first, like broccoli or snow peas which require about 2 minutes cooking time, then add the leafy vegetables, such as cabbage which requires only 1 minute." This way, you don't have some overcooked, some undercooked.

Greg Rice is calm and confident in the kitchen and the pulpit, and he has a "genuine love" for preparing both natural and spiritual food for those who are hungry.

PERFECT RICE

1 1/2 cups cold water
1/2 teaspoon vegetable oil (optional)

Steps:
1. Add rice and water to 1 1/2 quart saucepan. Add the oil. The oil decreases the chance of the rice boiling over. Give the mixture a quick stir with a fork to level rice.

2. Turn heat to high. When water comes to a boil, stir once more to prevent lumping. Reduce heat to very low. Cover with a tight lid and slow-simmer for 16 minutes.

Rice is done if the grains are dry and separate. If rice is too moist, cover and simmer for another 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Let the rice "stand" covered for 5 to 10 minutes. Rice cooked this way will be fluffy and separate, yet will stick together very slightly for easy eating with chop sticks. Yield: 2 to 4 servings.

STIR-FRIED ASPARAGUS

4 cups fresh asparagus, cut into 1-inch diagonal slices
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons vegetable oil

Steps:
1. Parboil asparagus. Bring 1 cup water to a boil in a 2 quart sauce pan. Add 4 cups vegetables, slice. When water begins to boil again, start timing for 3 minutes. Drain at once. Do not use baking soda for additional brightness of color, it makes asparagus too slippery.)

2. Combine salt and sugar. Hold for step 3.

3. Use wok, skillet or electric fry pan. Turn heat to high. When wok is hot, add the oil. If oil begins to smoke, turn heat down slightly. Add the vegetables. They should sizzle actively. Stir-fry 3 minutes. Sprinkle on the salt and sugar. Stir-fry 1 minute to blend. Remove from heat. Yield: 2 to 3 servings as a single course with rice, or 4 to 6 servings as a full course with appetizer, meat and dessert.

STIR-FRIED CHICKEN BREAST

2 whole chicken breasts, skinned, boned, and cut lengthwise in thin strips
2 teaspoons corn starch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon brown sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 teaspoons cooking sherry
1 scallion with green cut in 1/4-inch rounds
1 teaspoon minced ginger root (do not use ground ginger)

2 tablespoons chicken broth or water
3 tablespoons vegetable oil

Steps:
1. Combine chicken, corn-starch, salt and brown sugar in small bowl. Toss to coat chicken evenly. Add soy sauce and sherry. Let mixture stand for 30 seconds. Add the hot oil.

2. Prepare scallion and ginger root.

3. Use wok, skillet, or electric fry pan. Turn heat to high. When wok is hot, add the oil. If oil begins to smoke, turn heat down slightly. Add scallion and ginger root. They should sizzle actively. Stir-fry with a spatula or chop sticks

Preparation after restirring to coat chicken. Stir-fry 1 1/2 minutes. The chicken should lose its pinkness. Add stock and stir 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Chicken will be glazed with brown, thin sauce. Do not overcook because the chicken will become tough, dry and stringy. Serves: 3 as a single course with rice, or 6 in a full menu.

The Rev. Greg Rice considers himself on the way to becoming 'really skilled' with his wok because now he can stir-fry-toss what he's cooking.

Overweight Dogs A 'No-No' Living On Condo Premises

DEAR ABBY: I live in a condo that has a rule: "No pets weighing over 17 pounds may live on the premises." When I moved here three years ago, Mimi, my French poodle, weighed 16 pounds, 4 ounces, so she was no problem.

Later Mimi put on a little weight, but not enough to make any difference (I thought) until the manager came to my door demanding to weigh her. I later learned that the reweighing of Mimi had been instigated by a neighbor who had a grudge against me because once or twice I broke the rule of no smoking in the elevator.

Well, Mimi weighed 21 pounds, so I was told I couldn't keep her at the condo. I immediately took her to the vet, who assured me that he could get Mimi's weight down to 17 pounds in two weeks, so I left her there.

Two weeks later when I picked Mimi up, I almost didn't recognize her. She weighed 16 pounds, 2 ounces, and she looked sad-eyed and listless. When I got her home she followed me around and whined constantly. Also, she ate practically nothing.

To make a long story short, Mimi died two weeks later. The vet said it was her heart, but I know it was the diet. Now I blame myself for letting that vet put her on that crash diet. It's too late for Mimi, but please print this to let animal lovers know that it is cruel and inhuman to put a dog through what I did. I should have moved and taken my chubby little angel with me.

SELFISH AND SORRY

DEAR SORRY: You meant well, so don't blame yourself. Readers, crash diets are hazardous to your health, too!

DEAR ABBY: Can you settle an argument? My husband says that Zsa and Eva Gabor are twins. I say they are not. Who is right?

Dear Abby

WANTS TO KNOW IN WISCONSIN

DEAR WANTS: You're right. I have always known that Zsa Zsa was the older, but I wanted to confirm it, so I asked Eva. Eva replied, "I am younger than Zsa Zsa. But, unfortunately, by only two years."

DEAR ABBY: I agree with "For Equality," concerning the cost of the wedding. Yes, it certainly should be split 50-50 between the bride and the groom (or their families). But how about the expense of courting? When the couple is dating, in almost every case the male pays for all of it. Shouldn't that be on a 50-50 Dutch-treat basis, too?

Let the feminist groups challenge the age-old tradition of the male always picking up the tab.

FAIR IS FAIR

DEAR FAIR: I'm all for the 50-50 split. Then gone will be the days when a guy buys a girl a chocolate malted and then tries to squeeze it out of her.

Everybody needs friends. For some practical tips on how to be popular, get Abby's Popularity booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed stamped (37 cents) envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Buying A House

Both Buyers And Sellers Are Caught In An Economic Catch-22

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Timmy walks into his neighborhood candy store, digs deep into his jeans pocket, puts every penny he has on the counter and says, "I want that big red and blue lollipop on the shelf." The merchant looks at the few coins before him and shakes his head sadly, saying, "Timmy, I'm sorry. You just don't have enough money to buy the big lollipop, but I think you've got just the right amount to buy a gumdrop."

"That illustration adequately portrays what the buyer and seller market for real estate is in Sanford and Seminole County," says David Farr, Sanford city commissioner and owner of Farr's Real Estate Supermarket in Sanford. "You've got to look at the real estate market from two standpoints," he continues. "The buyer in Sanford and surrounding areas has abundant choices. It's a buyer's market. And the sellers are willing to do just about anything to sell their products. They'll negotiate if possible. The problem comes when the buyer cannot get, or doesn't have, the capital. So the buyer has to readjust his wants."

Farr says the average home buyer is looking for low down payments and owner financing. However, the unavailability of money hurts the buyer, while the high interest rates are hurting the real estate market, in general.

"Picture this," he explains. "A buyer comes to this area. He wants to buy a home. However, he hasn't sold the home he owns in the other city. So where will he get the money to put something down on a new home? His capital is all tied up. He can't purchase a new home because he can't sell his previous home. It's Catch-22."

Farr says a person coming into the area wanting to buy a "reasonably nice home can purchase one for about $60,000 to $70,000, without frills. He can put $15,000 to $20,000 down."

"We, those who own homes now, could not afford to rebuy the same home today," he says. "There's no way most of us could afford our homes, purchased years ago, if we had to rebuy them today."

Farr says people also are having a difficult time qualifying for bank loans to purchase homes.

"It used to be that when someone walked into my office I would tell them, without hesitation, that they could probably afford such-and-such a home," he says. "It used to be that we determined whether someone could qualify for a loan by taking 2.5 times their yearly income as the ballpark figure on a home. Now, take someone who makes $10,000 a year. The figure we multiply it by has gone down to 1.3 times, and we would say he could afford a home costing about $13,000. Can you tell me where anyone can buy a home for $13,000 today? It can't be done."

Farr says, though, that those who can come up with the money to purchase property or a home should do so immediately.

"Our advice to young buyers is to buy as much as you can stretch yourself to do, within reasonable limits, because of the appreciation of a house," he says. "If you wait a year, your salary may go up some, but the cost of the home will increase."

Because the potential buyer often has difficulty acquiring the capital to purchase a home, the seller is faced with the problem of no buyer for his home.

"It's not the bank's fault that they won't lend," Farr says. "Some like to blame it on the banks, but they buy and sell money, and when they have to pay more for it they also have to get a higher price for it."

Farr says builders and developers also are faced with a dilemma because of the poor economic situation.

"The builder builds a product that is marketable to the masses," he says. "They build with very few frills except in areas where they know people will want and can afford frills, such as innovative energy savers, pool, double garages, etc. But in most cases they will build the most at the lowest cost. This then allows the buyer to add on a garage, pool, patio or whatever as he can afford to do on down the road. These homes generally run from $40,000 to $50,000."

So why don't people just buy land and build their own homes instead?

"Buying land isn't cheap," Farr says. "Most of the undeveloped yet developable land remaining for home construction lies in the middle and northern parts of Seminole County. But the problem is that developable land sells for about $10,000 to $15,000 an acre, zoning the land is an expensive and time-consuming process, and the water and sewer connections are extremely strict."

According to Farr, current interest rates on new home mortgages range from 16.5 to 17.5 percent. Federal Reserve Administration (FHA) mortgages average about 15.5 percent interest, he added.

"I'm just crystal-balling — guessing — right now, but I predict that interest rates will make a steady but gradual decline into the middle to late summer and hit their lowest ebb in September," he says. "But they will not dip below 13 percent. After the November elections, there will be a gradual increase, with rates settling at about 16 percent or so. I doubt seriously that you'll ever see a mortgage below 15 percent again."

Simas, Mincey Batter 'Noles

One year ago, Lake Brantley's Bombers used to light up an opposing pitcher like the Fourth of July fireworks celebration over Lake Eola. This year, however, the Patriots bats have more in common with the dud fireworks that scale upward into the stars, then fall harmlessly and quietly into the water.

Tuesday night at Sanford Memorial Stadium, nevertheless, seniors John Simas and Joe Mincey took their Brantley brothers for a ride back in time.

Each ripped a double and a triple to pace the Patriots to a 7-4 victory over defending champion Seminole in the first round of the District 4A-9 Baseball Tournament.

"I felt good tonight," understated Simas following his power show. "I started choking up more and that helped pull my average up (over the past three weeks)."

Brantley wasted no time. After Brian Wright reached on an error, Jimmy Robbins roped a triple into the left-field corner to score Wright.

Simas, who also turned in the defensive play of the game to kill a Seminole uprising in the fifth, followed with a shot to left center which chased home Robbins as Simas cruised into second. Moments later, though, Tribe catcher John Polk gunned him down trying to steal third.

The two runs erased a 1-0 edge Seminole had built in the first on a walk to Brett Von Herbulis, a stolen base and a single by Fred Howard for the run.

Brantley made it 4-1 in the second when Mincey powered his triple over Von Herbulis' head in center field. Starting pitcher Tommy Novak rapped a ground ball through Greg Hill's legs at third for an error and the run. After Seminole's Tracy Walker fanned Robert Lynch and Brennan Asplen, Hill threw away the potential third out after fielding a ground ball to allow Novak to score all the way from second.

"We just didn't make the routine play," manager Bob Lundquist said post-game. "Our errors killed us."

Novak, who came into the game with a 6-3 record and 71 strikeouts in 57 innings, wasn't overpowering, but held the 'Noles in check on two hits during the first four innings.

"Tommy was struggling. I think he was too keyed up," said manager Sam Monary, who recorded his first victory ever over Seminole in district play.

Novak struggled the most in the fifth, and may have found himself struggling to the bench had it not been for a super catch by Simas. Paul Griffin beat out an infield hit to open the inning. Von Herbulis drew a walk and Howard slugged a fastball between short and third for one run. On the throw, "Von" and Howard moved to second and third.

Walker then hit a chopper to shortstop Asplen who heaved the ball home too late to catch Von Herbulis.

Hill then sent a screamer to right center which Simas somehow grabbed with a head-long dive. He jumped to his feet and swiftly ran the ball into the infield before Howard or Walker could tag up and handed it to a relieved Novak.

Sophomore Brian Rogers followed with a deep fly to right to tie the score at 4-4, but Novak escaped further damage when Greg Register lined out to Robbins at third base for the third out.

In the bottom of the inning, Simas and Scott Killam clobbered back-to-back three-baggers after two were out for a 3-4 lead. Killam added number six when Walker bounced a curve ball past Polk for a wild pitch.

In the top photo, umpire Dennis McComb gets a bird's eye view of Mike Williams sliding into home plate as Spruce Creek Skip Thomas puts on the tag. In the bottom photo, McComb calls out the Apopka baserunner as teammate Billy Johnson does a little wishful gesturing with his hands. The Blue Darters whipped Spruce Creek, 4-0, as ace righthander Lamar Chandler tossed a 5-hitter.

Chandler Throttles Creek, 4-0

Apopka's Lamar Chandler and Darrin Bruhl made a pretty good combination Tuesday in the opening round of the District 4A-9 Baseball Tournament at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

Which is only natural, since Chandler is the Blue Darter's number one pitcher and Bruhl handles the catching chores for Sonny Wise's Five Star champions.

The Darter duo, however, took their respective jobs one step further against underdog Spruce Creek. Chandler, 8-3, throttled the Hawks on three hits as Apopka rolled into the semifinals with a 4-0 victory.

And, when the Hawks were fortunate enough to reach base against the righthanded senior, Bruhl made second base "off limits." On three separate occasions the nimble receiver gunned down advancing baserunners at second base.

"Darrin went after them today. That'll do us some good," said Wise. "He'd been having some trouble. But we started throwing to second 30 times every other day in practice and it's helped."

Chandler, an All-Five Star selection, didn't need too much help. He toyed with Spruce Creek, striking out five and walking three. At one stretch he retired six in a row. He yielded harmless singles in the first, fourth and seventh innings.

Bruhl, meanwhile, cut down base stealers in the third, fourth and sixth innings. In each instance, the runner was the leadoff hitter and sabotaged any rally the Hawks may have desired.

Apopka pushed across the only run it would need in the first when Mike Justice singled, went to third when Gary Sackett reached on an error, and scored on shortstop Billy Johnson's fielder's choice.

In the third, the Darters made it 3-0 on some aggressive base running. Justice, who scored three of Apopka's runs, walked, stole second and went to third on a passed ball. Johnson walked and when Rodney Brewer reached on an error, Justice scored. Russell Wambles then chased home Johnson with a base hit.

On Thursday Wise will send sophomore lefthander Brewer against Mainland, a 6-4 winner over DeLand in Tuesday's second game. Brewer, 4-1, has 56 strikeouts in 43 innings and a fine 1.34 earned run average.

Brewer's mound opponent will be John Garris, 3-2, and author of a no-hitter against DeLand earlier in the season.

Hitting, however, and not pitching, was Garris' forte against DeLand Tuesday. The big first baseman slugged two doubles, scored two runs and drove in one as the Blues held off a late Bulldog rally.

Mainland went ahead 2-1 in the second on Garris' ripping double to right, an RBI single by Tim Phillips and a throwing error by catcher Ronnie Harris which allowed Phillips to score.

DeLand tied the game without a hit in the second, but the Blues bounced back with single runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings. Garris' second double accounted for one, another scored on an error, and a bases-loaded walk to Alan Moak added the third. Al Peros' single chalked up the last run in the seventh inning.

Brown Quick, Dimauro Quicker, Hawks Down 'Hounds

Lyman's Kenny Brown is quick. His 23 stolen bases in 24 attempts will attest to that. But Tuesday afternoon in the first round of District 4A-9 baseball action at Sanford Memorial Stadium, Lake Howell shortstop Tony Dimauro was quicker.

Lyman trailed, 4-2, entering the last inning. After two were out, Rick Humphrey ripped a fastball into right field for a single. Brown then fought off an inside fastball that dropped into shallow right field for another hit.

Frank Zuber gunned the ball into Dimauro, who made a quick pivot and caught Brown straying too far from first base. David Martinez slapped on the tag to end the balgame as Lyman's two best hitters—John Reich and Todd Marriott—gnashed their bats in the on-deck circle.

"I can only coach them," lamented 'Hound manager Bob McCullough'. "When they get on the bases, it's up to them to think."

Thinking, nevertheless, was exactly what Dimauro was doing as the ball came in from the outfield and Humphrey settled into second base. "I've been doing that all season," pointed out the Silver Hawk senior. "I thought it would be a good way to end the game."

Lake Howell jumped on the board in the first inning against Lyman ace Kevin Brubaker. After Bill Lang flew out, Doug Chiodini stroked one of his patented singles up the middle.

Leftfielder David Martinez followed with a scorcher which one-hopped off the right field wall. Chiodini scored easily and Martinez sped into third base with a triple.

Prep Baseball

Brubaker, though, fanned Jim Royal and induced Dimauro to fly to left for the third out.

Given a one-run advantage, Howell's Randy Ramroth proceeded to mow down the Greyhounds on two hits over the first four innings. Jorge Sierra and Tom Perkins had harmless base hits.

In the fourth, the Hawks improved their lead to 3-0 when Martinez reached on an error by Brown and moved to second on a nice bunt by Royal.

Dimauro slapped a ball in the hole and Sierra tried to nail Martinez at third, but overthrew the bag allowing "The Matador" to score and move Dimauro to second.

Zuber followed with a smash up the middle to chase home Dimauro for a 3-0 edge.

The Greyhounds finally got to Ramroth in the fifth. Sierra reached for his error with a ringing double, but pulled up lame at second and Dwayne Johnson went in to run for him.

Humphrey reached on an error by Dimauro which scored Johnson who had stolen third a pitch earlier. Reich then jerked a double down the right field line, but was cut down when he tried to stretch it into three bases.

Howell added an insurance run in the sixth when Dimauro, who scored twice, reached on Sierra's third error of the game. Golmont, a promising sophomore, rapped his second straight hit to plate Dimauro for the final 4-2 count.

Ramroth, 4-5, struck out four and didn't walk a man in going the distance. Brubaker was tagged with his third loss in 11 decisions.

"That's the 'New' Lake Howell you saw out there," said a happy manager Hito Benjamin. "We know we blew the regular season, but we're going to make up for it now."

They took their first step Tuesday.
