WORLD IN BRIEF

Hardliner in Line As SALT Talks Replacement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retired Army Lt. Gen. George M. Seignious II, a hardliner on defense issues, is one of the top candidates to replace outgoing chief arms negotiator Paul Warnke, it was learned today.

White House sources said Seignious, president of The Citadel, has been interviewed for the position by several of President Carter's top advisers.

On Sept. 20, 1977, Carter named Seignious as the at-large chairman of the U.S. delegation to the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks in Geneva.

Vance Namibia Talks Stymied

PRETORIA, South Africa (UPI) — Secretary of State Cyrus Vance has met serious difficulties in his bid to get South Africa to accept a U.N. independence plan for Namibia, endangering the vital diplomatic mission. "We are working tonight, I don't know about tomorrow," said South African Prime Minister Pieter Botha after two days of talks on Namibia's future with the representatives of five western nations, led by Vance.

Mideast Treaty Signing Delay?

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Optimistic reports that Israel's peace talks with Egypt in Washington may end "within a few days" are exaggerated, a source in Prime Minister Menachem Begin's office said Tuesday. He did not elaborate, but earlier a Foreign Ministry official had reported, "We are getting only optimistic noises from Washington."

The delay in the signing of the peace treaty apparently is related to an Egyptian demand to link it in some way to the future of the West Bank, another source in Begin's office said. The comments on the delay came following a 4½-hour Cabinet meeting in which Begin reported on progress in the talks.

Another Umbrella Victim?

PARIS (UPI) — Bruno Busic, exiled Croatian writer who was shot to death two days ago may have been the latest victim of Communist agents who have dispatched three Bulgarians — two of them in disguised umbrellas — an emigre publisher says.

Busic was warned by French police eight months ago to stay away from Paris because Yugoslav killers had been assigned to murder him, said emigre Croat publisher Viado Pavlinic in London.

Karpov Keeps Chess Title

BAGUIO, Philippines (UPI) — The longest and richest world chess series in history ended today after challenger Viktor Korchnoi resigned the 32nd game, after refusing to even look at the board in which his black pieces were hopelessly pinned in a corner. As a result Anatoly Karpov retains the title he won by default in 1975 when it was abandoned by American Bobby Fischer.

The champion earned $450,000 for his victory. Korchnoi got $250,000. The $700,000 total purse was a record as was the length of the match — exactly three months.

Seminole Supervisor of Elections Camilla Bruce's office, said today Mrs. Bruce received a letter from Walter Springs City Clerk Mary Norton asking whether it is possible to have a contest for Logan's seat on the Nov. 7 ballot.

"There's no way that I know of that it can be done," said Mrs. Bruce.

"It is really too late to put additional information on the ballot. The ballot is at the printers," she said. "It is difficult to handle city matters. While this office must operate by state law, the cities operate by some parts of the state election law, city ordinances and charter."

"If this happened in a county office, someone would be appointed to fill the unexpired term," said Mrs. Bruce.

In another issue involving a contest in the city, Councilman Laurel Pulliam and Daniels Tuesday night made a motion to remove Councilman John Salantini from his council seat.

Salantini has missed three consecutive council meetings and the city charter provides that three consecutive unexcused absences operate to remove an officer.

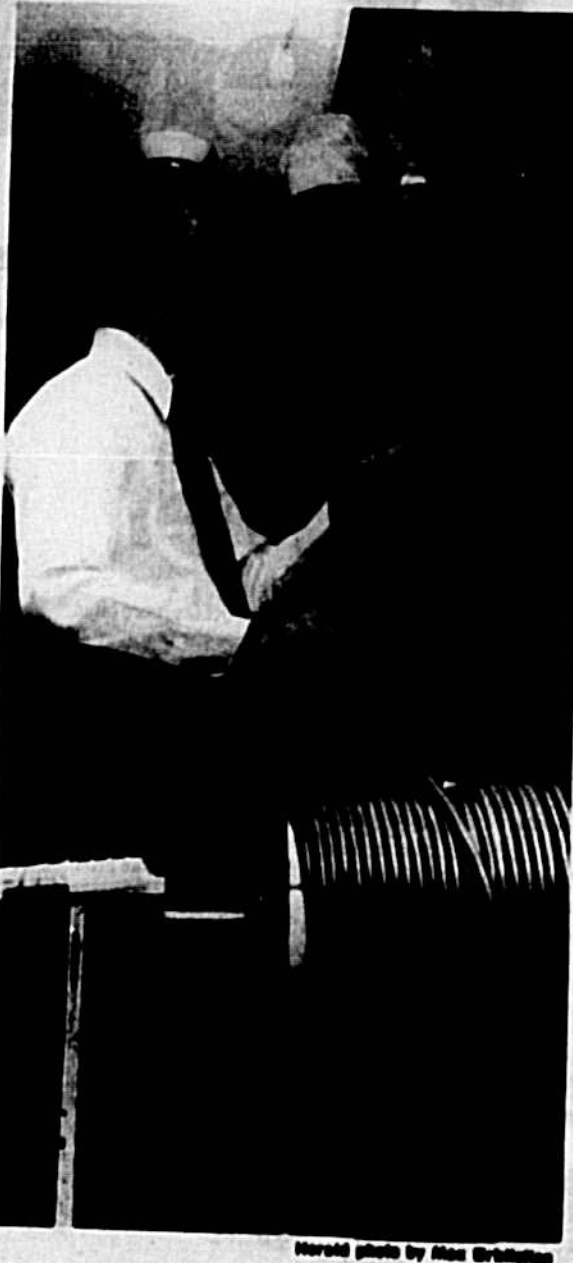

Land has said a hearing would have to be held before the removal of a councilman on these grounds could take place.

The motion was tabled because it was not on the official agenda and it was ordered placed on the agenda for consideration at the Oct. 24 meeting.

Boy, 12, Sexually Assaulted By Unidentified Man, 18-20

By DENNIS FEOLA Staff Writer

A 12-year-old Sanford boy was sexually assaulted by an unidentified man about 18 to 20 years old as the child was walking home through a wooded area behind the ballpark at Colery and McAllister avenues.

Standard police today said the incident occurred sometime between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. Tuesday.

The boy's assailant, according to police, grabbed the child as he walked through the wooded area and held a large knife to his throat, then assaulted him. The assailant fled after the incident, police said.

The boy later went to a telephone and contacted city police who responded to the scene then had the child transported to Seminole Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released.

Police said today there are no suspects in the case yet, but they are continuing their investigation.

NATION IN BRIEF

Personal Income Shows Only A Moderate Gain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Personal income rose a moderate 0.5 percent last month the government reported today, the same increase as in August and a gain that will probably be eroded by inflation.

The new report from the Commerce Department could cause concern among administration economists who have been counting on robust consumer spending this fall to keep economic expansion on target.

When less money is earned, it leaves fewer dollars for consumers to spend in grocery stores, department stores and other retail outlets.

Violent Crime Still Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Law officers have been unable to check the steady rise in violent crimes — usually carried out by men under 25 — but overall crime appears to be dropping slightly, the latest crime statistics show.

The FBI's newly released annual index of seven major crimes shows the total number of those offenses reported to 15,000 law enforcement agencies fell by 3 per cent in 1977, compared with 1976.

He's Sure Ray Had Help

PETROS, Tenn. (UPI) — After a five-hour meeting with James Earl Ray Tuesday, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy said he is sure Ray alone did not engineer the sniper slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. But Abernathy and Mark Lane, Ray's attorney who also attended the session at Brushy Mountain Penitentiary, were refused to disclose details of their talk with the man convicted of murdering King in 1968.

Will Carter Sign Tax Cut Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter will decide in the next day or so whether to sign the $18.6 billion tax-cut bill, based on recommendations of the Treasury Department and other experts, according to White House officials.

5-Year Disease Probe Eyed

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The national Center for Disease Control at Atlanta will direct a five-year investigation of the so-called Legionnaires Disease in an attempt to determine how it flourishes and find preventive measures, an expert told an American Legion committee Tuesday.

Did Arson Cause 8 Deaths?

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Authorities today were investigating the possibility that firebombs were the cause of a raging pre-dawn blaze that killed a family of eight and forced seven others to flee a three-story rowhouse. Julia Aponte, a tenant who escaped Tuesday's fire, told police her brother found two smoldering gasoline cans in the first-floor hallway of the structure. She said the metal containers burst into flames when he tried to throw them out the door.

Jeff Davis Now A Citizen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first president from the Deep South since the Civil War has restored the U.S. citizenship of the Confederacy's only president, ending the last official remnant of punishment imposed by a Reconstruction Congress. President Carter, mindful of his Georgia heritage, signed a bill Tuesday posthumously restoring full citizenship to Jefferson Davis, who lost all of his rights at the end of the War Between the States and died in 1889.

Firestone: Control Campaign Spending

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

If the state of Florida would just pay its bills on time rather than delaying payment for six months to a year, small contractors might bid on projects and save the state money, George Firestone, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, claims.

Speaking to a handful of voters at a political forum sponsored by the Altamonte Springs Recreation Center at Spring Oaks, Firestone said the state's continuing lag in payment of its bills discourages small contractors who cannot afford to wait that long for their money from bidding on projects while encouraging larger firms to submit higher bids.

"If the state would just pay its bills on time, that would stimulate the economy," he said.

Firestone, the only statewide candidate attending the event, urged that the state get involved in the process of limiting spending by candidates for office, noting that one way would be to provide equal time for debates.

"If we do not control spending, public office will become a rich man's toy," he said.

"People are saying why should I vote; public officials are only crooks. But if the election laws are not changed from being outside courses to a rich man's toy," he said.

A representative for Firestone's GOP opponent, State Rep. Ander Crenshaw, said Crenshaw opposes casino gambling and binding arbitration and strikes by public employees.

Jack Calderon, press secretary for David Best, Democrat for the fifth district seat in Congress, slapped at incumbent Congressman Richard Kelly for voting to spend millions on the B-1 bomber which Calderon said is generally agreed by military experts to be unnecessary in light of the Cruise missile.

But, said Calderon, Kelly "obviously doesn't know what it is like to be a hungry child at school. Kelly voted against the school lunch program," he said.

Ken Stratford, representing Kelly said the GOP congressman is an "ultra-conservative" who is against any large spending bills and was for something like Proposition 13 before it was adopted in California. He predicted that district five will be split up into two or three districts when Florida is reapportioned after the 1980 census.

He said Kelly has a 90 percent attendance record.

Test Your Sexism

Quiz Separates Women's Libbers From Chauvinist Pigs

By BARBARA McDOWELL. NEW YORK—The husband should handle the money in the family. If you strongly agree with this statement, chances are you have male chauvinist tendencies. If you violently disagree, on the other hand, you probably have some sympathy with the women's movement.

The issue of who controls the family checkbook is one of 28 items on a sexism test developed by Shirley Rombough and Joseph Vestimiglia, sociology professors at the University of Texas at Arlington. They devised the test—the first ever, they say—as part of a comprehensive study of power in 100 FL. Kern, Tex., households.

To determine your own sexism quotient, note whether you strongly agree, agree, have no opinion, disagree or strongly disagree with each of the following statements. "You have to be candid with yourself," cautions Rombough. 1. The job of plumber is equally suitable for men and women. 2. It is more important for a wife to help her husband than to have a career herself. 3. A woman should willingly take her husband's name at marriage. 4. The husband should make the major decisions. 5. The husband should handle the money. 6. A woman should wait until her children are out of school before she goes to work. 7. A woman's purpose in life should be to take care of her family. 8. Pope Counted On To Stress Religious Values In Church

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Polish Cardinal Karol Wojtyla's election to the papacy appeared today to be a bold attempt by the leaders of the Roman Catholic Church to affirm their stand against communism, atheism and materialism.

John Paul II will be able to inspire a similar surge of religious interest in the Catholic Church. More than 60 percent of the population attends mass every Sunday and seminaries are so full they are turning away applicants. The thought must have gone through the minds of many Catholics as to whether Pope John Paul II had for years been teaching religious values in the face of relentless hostility by the Polish state that denies the existence of God.

In choosing Wojtyla, the concrete pol experience as a pastor and teacher ahead of experience in the Roman Curia, the church's central administration, as many prelates predicted. But the cardinals also were clearly dealing concerns about the rise of communism in Italy and elsewhere in Europe.

Rombough and Vestimiglia are curious to see how test scores of people from other parts of the country compare with those of the Texans. If you would like to take part in the project, send your answers to each question plus your age and occupation to them at the Sociology Department, University of Texas, Arlington, Tex. 76019.

Doyle Raps Record Of Foe Hattaway

State Rep. Robert Hattaway rested on his laurels in the 2nd District to return him to Tallahassee, while his opponent, Republican Jean Doyle, contended his years in office amount to a "lack of representation."

The two views came at Tuesday's meeting of the Seminole County Realty Association at the Holiday Inn, Altamonte Springs. "I think there is a lack of representation when the greatest piece of legislation my opponent can point to from the last session of the legislature is the reaming of the Ocean Bridge," said Mrs. Doyle. She also charged Hattaway was not representing the public when he voted for an appointed instead of elected Florida Public Service Commission. "As the only incumbent running for the legislature in Seminole County who lives in Seminole County, I can point to over 900,000 I've brought back to Seminole County," countered Hattaway. Hattaway said he will be in line for a leadership post on the House Appropriations Committee. In the 3rd District House race between Bobby Brantley (R) and Joe Knowles (D), Brantley said Knowles' proposal for an increased sales tax "would deprive many people of the dream of owning their own home."

Lawsuit Eyed On Residency In Longwood

By JANE CABELLERRY. A Longwood city council candidate is considering a mayoral race in Longwood to move out of his district by taking a place out of the district represented by Councilman Larry Goldberg.

Robert M. Daves of 24 E. Magnolia Ave., Longwood, who has qualified to run for the District 3 seat now held by Councilman J.R. Grant in the December municipal election, asked the city council to enforce Ordinance 437 (listing resident requirements for candidates) and the city charter. "In my opinion," Daves told council Monday night, "when Goldberg moved out of his district he is required by law to resign." Daves brought with him his attorney, John Liebman. Council in a vote failed to override a veto by Mayor Gerard Council of an ordinance.

Yankees' Slap-Hitters Dent, Doyle Do In Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — It was a most impressive finish to the most incredible season for the Yankees, who rolled from 14 games behind in July to win the American League East in a playoff, lost the Kansas City Royals for the third straight year for the present, then, after losing the first two games of the World Series to the Los Angeles Dodgers, came back to sweep the next four games for their second straight world championship.

In this case it was Dodger loser Don Sutton who "let" the Yankees win. Doyle doubled into the leftfield corner to tie the score 1-1. Don Sutton pitched with a single up to the fifth Yankee run. Jackman belted his towering two-run homer some 680 feet into the Yankee bullpen in right field to close out the Yankee scoring in the seventh.

Hunter earned the win, scattering six hits in seven innings before giving way to Rich Gomez. He struck out three and walked one. "I didn't have the velocity tonight," he said, "but the control was sharp. I could hit the corners at will and that's what helped me."

Tuna Rates High On List Of Health Foods

Health food: What exactly is health food? Is it all food "healthy," you may ask yourself? The answer is no — and no. We all need to eat to live, and to eat, we need to eat things that are good for us. Tuna is one of the most beneficial to us in terms of nutrition and general well-being.

People are beginning to realize more and more that what you eat affects your appearance, your work — and even your mood. Americans are starting to care more about what foods are doing to them, rather than just eating anything to fill an empty stomach.

Many people are using more fish as their major source of protein — along with fresh vegetables and fruits, whole grains, seeds and nuts to balance the diet — and not just because of high prices but the high content of saturated fats in red meats, as well.

This way of eating is considered "vegetarian," even though fish is included in meats. Whatever it is, it's working for many Americans and people say they feel happier and healthier lately eating fish and fresh vegetables.

A special dish "designed" for today is Tuna Vegetarian's Fancy. This solid (without being too heavy) meal consists of a wonderful mixture of fresh green beans, onions, mushrooms, tomato, seasonings and of course, that vital element for good protein and great flavor — canned tuna. Saute' the tuna and veggies, and serve them over cooked brown rice with sunflower seeds. Have some wheat or pumpernickel bread with your quick dish, a glass of milk — and fresh fruit for dessert. Now we're talking "health" food.

For an interesting change in vegetarian fare, here is a version of the Polish Kapotas Metelt, which is Cabbage and Noodles With Tuna. This is an intriguing blend of cabbage and other vegetables, tuna, seasonings, and buttered noodles.

TUNA VEGETARIAN'S FANCY

2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
2 cups fresh green beans, cut in 2-inch lengths
1/2 cup coarsely chopped onion
1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon dried leaf oregano
1 cup diced fresh tomato (about 1 medium)
1 cup uncooked brown rice
2 tablespoons sunflower seeds
Measure 3 tablespoons oil

CABBAGE AND NOODLES WITH TUNA

(Kapotas Metelt)

2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Melt 3 tablespoons butter
Large skillet over medium heat
Add green pepper and onion
Sauté until cabbage
crisp-tender, about 5 minutes
Stir in tuna; heat through. On noodles according to packing directions; drain. Add noodle parsley and remaining tablespoons butter to skillet toss until mixture is well blended and butter is melted
YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

Get to know your health foods. You can't miss with Tuna Vegetarian's Fancy, a medley of flavorful tuna and sauteed fresh vegetables.

French Dishes Are Worth Your Effort

It's time to plan the menus for holiday entertaining.

A different entrée is the French bean casserole known as a gratin. Since the dish takes time to prepare, it makes an interesting centerpiece.

Ingredients for the gratin may be combined in advance, refrigerated and heated at serving time. Serve with a crisp green salad, crusty French bread and a classic French fruit tart.

Are You A Snob Over Between-Meal Nibbling? Don't Turn Up Your Nose At Snacks

No need to turn up your nose (or turn off your appetite) when it comes to enjoying between-meal treats.

Ever since the Indians carried corn in the pouches of their riding gear and took an occasional nibble during long journeys, Americans have been snacking. The early pioneers munched while the wagon trains were rolling; and, the coffee break got its start among workers during World War II. Today, over 50 percent of Americans snack.

How to make snacks part of a well-balanced, healthy nutritional intake? Home economists suggest knowing your nutritional requirements and building an intelligent diet around those needs, based on the basic food groups - meat, dairy, fruits-vegetables and breads. Some hints:

Fill in nutritional gaps with snacking. If main meals are light on fruits and vegetables, have a supply of those available for last-minute nibbling. If meals are meagre, munch on cheese, peanut butter or nuts (all high in protein).

Look at the total picture. If meals are heavy, perhaps forgo snacks for the day. Or, if meals are on the lighter side, plan snacks in food categories that will round out the diet.

Don't bite off more than you can chew. Make sure snacks are just that... snacks, not so much that it makes a meal. And, don't use snacking (however nutritious) as an excuse for constant eating.

Specific suggestions? Popcorn is big on many a person's snack guide. Here's why:

According to the Popcorn Institute, it's a low-calorie snack, containing only 33 calories per cup, unbuttered. Gram for gram, it provides more protein and fiber than enriched white bread or whole wheat toast. It's economical, too. Only half a cup of unpopped corn will fill a four quart popper, enough to satisfy the whole family for about 30 cents, including the price of oil and salt.

Bag the butter and opt for a seasoned salt flavoring, for just a few added calories.

Vegetables, too, are tops on everyone's list of nutritious nibble foods. But, while low in calories, high in vitamins and minerals, they're often way down the list as far as taste appeal goes. Dress them up with a dash of salt or other seasonings. Or, use them to scoop up a taste of low-calorie yogurt dip.

So, whatever the snack, enjoy!

POPCORN OLE
1 tablespoon popcorn salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/4 teaspoon ground oregano
1/4 teaspoon ground sage
Pinch garlic powder
Pinch white pepper

2 quarts hot popped corn
Mix popcorn salt with chili powder, oregano, sage, garlic powder and pepper. Sprinkle over hot popped corn. Stir until well mixed. Makes 2 quarts.

Popcorn popped in the new hot air popping machines has slightly fewer calories than that popped in traditional poppers with oil. Adding melted butter or margarine means adding about 60 calories for half a stick or 1/4 cup.

CHEESE YOGURT DIP
1 cup (8 ounces) cottage cheese
1 cup (8 ounces) plain yogurt or sour cream
1 teaspoon popcorn salt
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon ground sage
Pinch garlic powder
Pinch white pepper

In blender or food processor, pure the cottage cheese until smooth. Add yogurt, popcorn salt, chili powder and herbs. Blend just until well mixed. Chill at least 2 hours to mellow the flavors. Makes 2 cups.

SNACKS SERVED WITH FLAIR

Dirty Old Women Making Advances Annoys Bachelor

DEAR ABBY: I am sick of reading about "dirty old women" how about dirty old women? I am a retired bachelor of 60, and, take my word for it, a man who isn't in a wheelchair isn't safe alone anywhere.

Last year I went on a cruise for relaxation, and the women wouldn't leave me alone. One woman, who admitted to being 70, propositioned me for afternoon dates, evening dates and even late dates! When I told her I was "tired", she dropped the key to her room into my pocket and told me to get some rest and pay her a visit.

A 71-year-old widow kept writing me love notes and sending me presents. Even the young ones made passes at me. One girl in her 30s asked me to dance. Then she whispered, "Let's get together, Pop. What are you, saying? It's... the present!"

I may be old-fashioned, Abby, but I still think the man should do the asking. Or have those changes that much?

Dear Abby

Naturally, this terrifies the child into behaving.

I think this is a very poor way to discipline a child. Should I say something to the mother, or keep my mouth shut?

FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: For goodness sake, SAY SOMETHING! But remember that you are dealing with a very angry woman. Don't criticize her for her cruel tactics - instead, try to make her understand that a child adopted at 1 has had a great deal of time to feel secure, and should never be threatened with rejection or abandonment.

DEAR ABBY: I'm 13. I recently met a 13-year-old girl and I think I'm in love, but I don't think I'll last long if she ever finds out that I can't dance.

This girl just loves to dance. So far, I have been able to keep her interested just talking. What should I do?

BILLY THE KID

DEAR BILLY: There's no shame in not knowing how to do something. The only shame is refusing to learn. Admit to the girl that you never learned how to dance, and ask her to teach you. Her response will tell you her mother threatens to take her back to the orphanage!

Tasty Yam Has Southern Roots

Many foods played a part in the history of yams. One is the yam. Though it had southern roots, this tuberous vegetable is today enjoyed in all parts of the country. The yam is either an sweet potato, its cousin and equally high in vitamins A.

The Indians were giving yams when the first English settlers established their farms in the South. The yam's nourishing value was recognized early and it became the most important food during the trying days of the American Revolution, Civil War and Reconstruction.

YAM-BAN POT PIE
Yam purée
Three-fourths cup cold mashed cooked yams (3 medium yams)

Neat Tricks To Dish Out Tasty Treats

An old-fashioned apple dunking takes on a new dimension when young tricksters or treaters come calling on Halloween.

Introduce old-fashioned apple dunking to the 1978 generation. Set up your dunking tent or certain portion of the garage to create a spooky trick-or-treat room. Place two or three candle-flickering, grinning jack-o-lanterns in the trick-or-treat room. Get a tub, fill it with water and float apples in it. When the young Halloween revelers call, in their Star Wars, Disney World, and Baggy Bunny masquerades, tell them they'll have to get a treat in your special Halloween room.

Before you know it, you'll have a yardful of children and mother-and-dad escorts merry-making in the true tradition of Halloween.

The treats for the children are the easiest Halloween ingredients to come by. Anybody can buy them readily made, but why not try these for fun in the kitchen as well as for the enjoyment of watching the kids enjoy your goodies.

Plane Crashes Into Roof

By MAX KREKLETIAN
Herald Staff Writer

A 27-year-old Sanford pilot miraculously escaped death this morning when his Cessna 280 fell power and crashed through the roof of a house at 184 Par Place of the south edge of Mayfair Country Club. He spent about an hour pinned in the wreckage until rescuers freed him.

Mrs. Chas. M. Krol, who was eating breakfast in the house at the time, was uninjured. The pilot, Mike Morgan of 1289 Forest Blvd., was listed in fair condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital following the early-morning crash. "He's lying around, but he is talking," said a hospital spokesman.

Sitting in a lawn chair in the driveway of the home of Mrs. Ruth Rhyne, 169 Par Place, Mrs. Krol recounted the incident. "I was sitting at the breakfast bar when it happened," said Mrs. Krol. "It just happened all of a sudden. The whole roof seemed like it was coming down," recalled Mrs. Krol.

Morgan reportedly left Herndon Airport in Orlando between 9 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. in a Cessna 280, commonly referred to as a push-pull craft because it has an engine in the front and one in the rear of the plane, according to airport officials.

The young pilot reportedly was on route to work in DeLand, then later to fly the craft to Mid-Florida Aviation Inc., an aircraft maintenance firm at Cassel Field Airport in Seaboard.

Mid-Florida Aviation said the plane is part of an order being handled by an Orlando attorney. Someone said the attorney asked him to assess the plane for possible sale. "It's a very good pilot," someone said at Morgan. "The crash came shortly after 9 a.m. while a constant rain fell throughout north Seminole County.

"Just before it happened we saw the tree top taken off and my husband said, 'Oh my God, it's a plane,'" said Mrs. Rhyne.

The airplane actually turned or tipped, according to neighbors, and slammed into the roof of the house with its tail end.

Fire units from Brevard County, Sanford, and Lake Mary responded to the accident. Seminole County Sheriff's Department, Sanford, and Lake Mary police officers also responded to the scene.

Law enforcement officers worked to keep crowds away from the area. They explained that the area had to remain secured for Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). FAA investigators were reported on their way to the scene.

"There was no engine sound," said Miss Rhyne. "The only sound I heard was when the plane hit the tree and the house."

Mrs. Krol was later taken by ambulance to Seminole Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Krol said she does not remember hearing any sound prior to the crash. "I thought it was a bomb," she said. "I had been sitting at the breakfast bar and the only sound I he hit the house."

"I don't believe it happened we saw the tree top taken off and my husband said, 'Oh my God, it's a plane,'" said Mrs. Rhyne.

Sanford Pilot: Very Religious, Versatile

"Very versatile... very intelligent... very religious, that's how I know Mike Morgan of 1289 Forest Blvd., Lake Mary, was described by friends today after his plane crash. Morgan holds a commercial pilot's license and has logged 900 hours flying time since he learned to fly at the age of 17.

He graduated from high school in San Leandro, Calif., in 1956 and moved to the Sanford area two years ago.

He is single and lives with his parents, Ethel and Linda Morgan. Morgan is employed in the family shoe business. Don's Shoes, and has been helping to get the DeLand store ready for its grand opening this week.

The family also owns Don's Shoes in Sanford. The Morgan family attends First Assembly of God of Sanford and according to the church secretary, Jackie Herman, Mike controls the sound equipment during church services. His mother, Linda, who is employed at Stetson Realty in Sanford, plays the vitary for the services.

"He is really a big help and very knowledgeable in electronics," said Mrs. Herman. "He believes in miracles," she added, "and has testified to a lot of things done for him in the past. Mike is also active in the Light House, the church's program for youth.

School Clerk Affiliation With SEA May Be Invalid

By LEONARD KRANFORD
Herald Staff Writer

In the affiliation between the county education clerks' union (SECU) and the Seminole Education Association (SEA) last year? That is the question an official of the Public Employees Relations Commission (PERC) said today that the affiliation may not be valid since it was never registered with PERC.

"They are registered under Florida statute to avoid their records being changed and their records in counties they have never updated their file," said Stanley Thomas, a PERC spokesman.

He said he is taking before they look into the other matter," said Mr. Thomas.

The PERC official said that the only resources open to the commission "is to demand that the file be updated."
