

Number Of GIs In Vietnam Drops To Below 344,000

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that American troop strength in Vietnam has dropped below 344,000, beating President Nixon's withdrawal timetable by three weeks.

Nixon already has announced that U.S. forces in Vietnam will be reduced another 60,000 troops by next May 1, and informed sources said 7,000 of these will be cut by the end of the year, dropping American strength to about 337,000 men.

The U.S. Command said American troop strength in Vietnam was 342,700 men last Thursday, 6,000 less than the previous week and the lowest level in more than four years. The command said the total included 236,300 Army, 43,300 Air Force, 25,000 Marines, 17,000 Navy and 100 Coast Guard.

Nixon has now pared American strength in Vietnam by 27 per cent from a peak of 543,000 in April 1969 to its present level. Authoritative sources said present plans call for all U.S. combat troops to be out of Vietnam by the summer of 1972. But one source said a "very substantial number" of Americans would remain to give the South Vietnamese advisory, logistics and air support.

As a result of the withdrawal program, the big U.S. base camp at Cu Chi, 20 miles northwest of Saigon, was turned over to the South Vietnamese 25th Infantry Division during the week-end. It replaces the U.S. 25th Infantry Division all but one brigade of which has been returned to Hawaii.

Highly placed sources also reported that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong are scaling down their forces in South Vietnam, having deactivated four regiments and 18 battalions since last July.

"Most were deactivated because of tremendous personnel losses," said one informant. The U.S. Command reported no major ground action but announced the loss of an American spy plane over Laos, an F7H fighter-bomber, in Cambodia and two helicopters in Vietnam, raising to 7,379 the total number of aircraft "reported lost in the war. One man was reported killed and five wounded, all aboard the two helicopters.

The spy plane was a B57 loaded with top-secret electronic equipment. The command said it was brought down by ground fire Saturday night while over the Ho Chi Minh trail in southern Laos, but informants said the Air Force thinks the secret detection equipment was destroyed. The two crewmen were rescued.

$800,000 Granted To Aid Small Firms

By BILL SCOTT
Seminole Employment and Economic Development Corporation (SEED CO) a non-profit membership, charitable and educational organization to build up the economic development opportunities for minority people within the county.

This was the description given of a holding firm at a news conference called by SEED CO officials to explain the firm's programs after receiving an $800,000 grant from the U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), which allowed the firm to be formed to help private enterprise among the county's minority groups.

Richard E. Darnell, 46-year-old former Over-Youngman division vice president in charge of operations from Trumbull, Conn., was introduced by Sam Ackerman, Dynatronics official and member of the SEED CO board of directors, as SEED CO manager.

Ackerman said Darnell was selected from 550 responses to advertisements to fill the position as head of the operations that would help local people become owners and operators of their own businesses.

The Dynatronics official said the first effort toward training minorities for private business would involve a hand-scraping nursery operation to provide from 20 to 25 jobs within a nine-month starting period.

A second venture will involve a building maintenance firm to employ from 12 to 15 persons. A third venture will be a contracting business to make it more efficient and economical. A fourth venture stressed that this is not a consolidation study, that it could be metro government or could incorporate little or no change in the governmental structure. The discussion will determine which route the county should follow... that of legislation or home rule.

A discussion will be held upon the possibility of the county having a road bond issue for the next 20 years.

The county attorney will report to the commission upon the preparation of an ordinance regulating the transmission of water out of the county by certain entities. This matter has stemmed from incidents at Geneva and Lake Monroe in which wells were drilled.

There will be a report upon the Mental Health Association Fund Lease could ascertain the outcome of a seminar which was held at Orlando by the state Division of Mental Health. The seminar was in connection with the new mental health act.

County Will Consider St. Johns-Indian Canal

By MARION BETHEA
John Krider, chairman of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District, will advise the County Commission at tomorrow's meeting as to the proposed new studies now that the matter has reached the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Also on the agenda is discussion of the establishment of a local government organization. Chairman John Alexander has recommended that the county commission study the possibility of a local government organization to make it more efficient and economical. A third venture stressed that this is not a consolidation study, that it could be metro government or could incorporate little or no change in the governmental structure. The discussion will determine which route the county should follow... that of legislation or home rule.

Old Plane Wreckage Located

Civil Air Patrol Cadettes of the South Seminole Squadron waded through the dense growth of Black Hammock swamp near Lake Jesup Sunday to investigate the wreckage of a World War II fighter airplane thought to be a Navy plane discovered recently by a Casselberry deer hunter.

The wreckage had apparently remained partially submerged and undetected in the remote area for at least 25 years as a midget plane was still mounted in place. Water was drawn as a result of the present dry spell. No evidence of the pilot's body being in the debris was found. The area was searched in an effort to establish the identity of the plane.

Donald Findell Eyed As Casselberry Judge

The Casselberry City Council will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. and on the agenda will be the resignation of Municipal Judge, Thomas Freeman, and the proposal by Mayor Curtis How of the name of Dr. Donald Findell as his successor for the approval of council.

Dr. Findell is instructor of business law and law enforcement at Seminole Junior College and formerly served on the Casselberry Civil Service Board.

The election of a council chairman to serve for the remainder of 1970 will also be on the agenda. Tom Napier, former council chairman, in order to run for county office, had resigned effective Dec. 1, but following his re-election to council was appointed to fill out the rest of the year.

A zoning request from Land O' Lakes Country Club to rezone a portion of the course in the Southeast area in order to build townhouses and apartments will also be considered. Council will also consider a request for the unveiling of the complex for the unveiling of a memorial plaque to Hibbard Casselberry, founder of the city and donor of the land for the municipal building, Mrs. Martha Casselberry. Also present were his daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Dickson of Tampa with her husband and young son, Kenneth; his son, Hibbard Casselberry Jr., of Ft. Lauderdale, with children Tom and Mary; and son Leonard Casselberry with his wife, Jane, and children, Dan, Richard, and Cathy. In dedicating the plaque, McIntosh called the city's founder "a family man, a man dedicated to his city, county, state, nation, and church; a man interested in the welfare of other people. He was one who always made a contribution of himself."

Municipal Complex Dedicated

Blow was presented with the official gold key to the building by McIntosh.

Following the dedication ceremony, which was held outside, the crowd adjourned to the large Council Chamber inside the complex for the unveiling of a memorial plaque to Hibbard Casselberry, founder of the city and donor of the land for the municipal building, Mrs. Martha Casselberry. Also present were his daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Dickson of Tampa with her husband and young son, Kenneth; his son, Hibbard Casselberry Jr., of Ft. ## $21 Million In Heroin Seized; Four Arrested

MIAMI (AP) — A hearing was scheduled today for three men and a woman held in lieu of $1 million bond each after U.S. Customs agents seized $21 million worth of heroin smuggled into the country in Christmas wrappings.

Thomas Harney, regional director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, said about 200 pounds of heroin was seized as it was being transferred from one auto to another on Miami Beach's Collins Avenue Saturday.

The four arrested were charged with conspiracy to smuggle narcotics into the United States.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A group of Orlando men who claim to have found Arizona's fabled Lost Dutchman mine probably have more glitter in their eyes than there is on all of Superstition Mountain, an old prospector says.

"I've rode and prospected that mountain since I was 16. I'm 64 now, but I've never seen anything in there that indicated any gold at all," says Amos Hawkins, a range-riding deputy for the Pinal County, Arizona sheriff's department who is considered an authority on the legendary mine.

Cases Pending Are Piling Up

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal courts have more cases pending for processing than ever before, says Commerce Clearing House, a law authority.

Cases pending before U.S. Courts of Appeals at the end of fiscal 1970 climbed to a high of 8,212 — up 963 from the prior year and marking the 12th straight year of an increase.

Filings for appeals totaled 11,802 cases in 1970, a 14 per cent increase over last year. There were 10,699 cases processed during the year, 1,685 more than last year.

District Court civil case filings totaled 87,221, 10,000 more than last year. There were 80,435 civil cases closed, more than 7,000 above the number disposed of in 1969.

A native of Sanford, Florida, formerly with the Shoemaker Construction Co. has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The ceremony was conducted by Brig. Gen. J. W. Morris, Missouri River division commander.

After earning his BS degree in business administration at the University of Nebraska under the "bootstrapper" program, Colonel Dennison was assigned to the Corps' Omaha district. He is currently serving as resident engineer in Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska.

His overseas assignments include tours in Greenland, Germany and Vietnam.

Colonel Dennison and his wife, the former Carol Quastner, are residing in Millard, Neb.

'The Transition' Currently Playing In Tallahassee

By RICH OPPEL
 Associated Press Writer
 TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Don Pride plowed his fingers through his hair, short-circuited for the first time in years and began again. "What I said was..."

Such was one scene in the quadrantal phenomenon known as "The Transition," currently playing in Tallahassee.

Control of the $1.3 billion-a-year, 60,000-employee monster known as state government gradually was shifting from Gov. Claude Kirk to Gov.-elect Reubin Askew's new press secretary...

It was a time of for-see signs on the style and substance of the new administration.

There was Republican Claude Kirk, projecting a low profile after nearly four years of ex-haunting confrontations in every corner of the state.

He made perhaps his last major official decision last week, appointing Appellate Justice David McCain of Fort Pierce to the State Supreme Court. Then he gave his loyal legal aide, Gerald Mager, McCain's comfort job as state secretary of state in West Palm Beach.

Kirk worked at his desk, shunning newsmen and news conferences, busily filling the remains of several hundred appointments he can make before mid-night Jan. 4.

He gave full cooperation to Askew, lending him an assistant and press secretary and assigning a top aide to make things easier for the governor-elect. He gave him a tour of Capitol offices in mid-week.

There were few regular Kirk appearances now except for Tuesday mornings at the Cabinet, where the 44-year-old Kirk takes with the state Democrats and listening attentively to reports.

Across the street and down the block from the Capitol, Askew sat in cramped interim offices in an aging state office building. There were scores of callers and almost as many others looking for jobs.

Running the office when Askew retreated to work in the quiet of a motel room was George Sheldon, only 24 years old. The slender, collegiate-looking Sheldon served as an aide to Askew when he was a state senator, and seems to have projected him into an important decision-making job.

Askew operated in low profile, too, holding no news conferences since shortly after his Nov. 3 election and making few public appearances.

But a news conference was planned this week as his administration gradually characterizes on identifiable characteristics.

The first two major appointments, those of Pride and senior executive assistant James Appthorn, provided sharp contrast to the approaches of Askew and Kirk to administration.

It was clear from the start that Pride had more authority than Askew. He had served as press secretary to Askew for K-2, with the possible exception of Jim Wolf, who left in 1967.

In the 33-year-old Appthorn, Askew chose an experienced government official. Appthorn learned Cabinet politics in six years as Secretary of State Tom Adams staff and headed a major department—Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund.

Kirk's top aides, Tom Ferguson, Lloyd Hagaman, Richard Warner, Don Mettlejohn and Russell Stratton, came to the governor's office directly from private business.

Observers watched closely in gauge the close L. Gov.-elect Adams would swing in the Askew administration, and Askew people seemed sensitive about this. The campaigning Kirk had told voters the older, more experienced Adams would boss around Askew if elected.

It would not be surprising if "Adams people" held many jobs in top echelons of the new administration. Adams had a large following of aggressive, talented young aides on his staff late in the 1960s, many waiting for Adams to run for governor. On the other hand, Askew never has held the sort of public job which enabled him significant patronage.

Presidential-Press Relationship: Its Importance

In the long and ragged record of presidential-press relations which can roughly be dated from FDR's New Deal to Richard Nixon's Low Profile doctrine, the one held last week may prove to be one of the most definitive.

In President Nixon's political career, both his role and that of the mass media have produced emotional high-lights which still color this most important situation.

On one occasion when the reporter, pencil and paper in hand, attended a presidential press conference there was an air of intimacy and informality which was shattered when radio and television intervened with electronic reporting.

What was lost will not be regained. But the function of the presidential press conference is to operate with the greatest of candid questioning and honest reply so that the public may know the motivations of acts which, otherwise will obscure or distort

No Space Let Up

Willard F. Rockwell, Jr., chief executive officer of North American Rockwell Corporation, a firm deeply involved in space and commercial manufacturing, makes the strongest kind of case for continuing the U.S. program of space exploration.

"In these 249 action-packed years," he comments, "every great land mass was discovered and virtually every space charted, and the foundation was laid for the development of the world as we know it today."

Mr. Rockwell points out that, even now, tangible benefits from the space program are visible. He says, "In the United States we estimate that our windfall of technology from the space program is already returning four dollars of value for every dollar invested."

Salt's Anniversary Noted

LONDON (UPI)—For a whole year the United States has been discussing with the Soviet Union the prospect of mutually agreed nuclear arms curbs.

When the United States and Russia agreed, after long soundings, to meet in Helsinki November of last year for Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT), both super powers were aware of the difficulties.

Since then, according to both American and Soviet assurances, the talks—now in their third round—have been conducted in a serious and businesslike manner, free from polemics and propaganda.

Orlando Running With Sanford's Zoo

Editor, Herald: As usual, Sanford is letting Orlando run with the ball. Sanford cries about its lagging economy but takes no action. Orlando continually moves to build its economy. Sanford says it needs a "gimmick" to entice tourists and has been looking for one for years. Orlando apparently is getting tired of referring visitors to the Sanford zoo. It plans to build its own . . . and has started to run with the ball. Television news host Jaycees plan a corporation, selling 10,000 shares at $1 each to raise a working fund. It was claimed that the corporation can obtain $5 million in a federal grant for a zoo. Orlando has put its sights on a zoo-acre.

Sanford . . . ? ? ? Voters put their approval on a referendum in a straw ballot. It was claimed that the corporation has been taken. Somebody is surely dragging their feet. Or Sanford as it is and doesn't want it to grow. —Disgusted

Florida Will Escape Power Shortages

By JOHN VAN GIESON
Associated Press Writer

Most of Florida apparently will escape electric shortages this winter caused by fuel shortages, but it is probable that world-wide conditions will force rates upward for Sunshine State consumers.

One of Florida's big private electric companies, Tampa Electric Co., has already asked the Public Service Commission to approve an $18 million rate hike.

"The reason is primarily our interest cost for borrowed money, the cost of our new plant that has just gone into service last month," said company spokesman Hugh Culbreth. "Increased fuel cost is not a major factor."

But he said that the company's oil contract, which accounts for about 10 per cent of its power generation, has an escalator clause which provides that the supplier can increase the present cost of $1.70 per barrel to six months later.

"We are not on notice now, but it could come at any time," Culbreth said.

With the flow of foreign oil gradually reduced by the continuing Middle East crisis and other international struggles, and a complicated set of factors slowing production of domestic fuels, power crises have been reported in many parts of the United States this winter.

"Florida as far as electric energy is concerned is probably as well off as any state in the United States," said T. Mabry Ervin, PSC executive director.

"We'll be all right through next fall and next summer but the following winter we might have some trouble. As of now we can see no crisis."

The PSC, however, regulates only the big four power companies: Florida Power and Light, Florida Power, Gulf Power and Tampa Electric.

In Tallahassee, for instance, city officials are estimating that increased fuel costs will drive the cost of power production $3 million higher than previous estimates.

nationally-operated power systems in Florida are increasing at about the same rate, since they purchase oil from the same sources at about the same price.

Fuel represents such a large part of the cost of power production that even small increases in cost are passed on to customers.

"Fuel for a utility in Florida represents roughly 50 per cent of the operating costs," Culbreth said.

Rate increases had slightly behind fuel cost leaps, Seckel said, as the city raised rates 4000 cents per kilowatt hour on Sept. 20, another 8000 cents on Nov. 20 and will go up 6000 cents on Jan. 2.

Assuming monthly consumption of 1,900 kilowatt hours, probably a low for the typical household, the total increase would be $2.80 a month.

Costs for the many other municipally-operated power systems in Florida are increasing at about the same rate, since they purchase oil from the same sources at about the same price.

Fuel represents such a large part of the cost of power production that even small increases in cost are passed on to customers.

"Fuel for a utility in Florida represents roughly 50 per cent of the operating costs," Culbreth said.

Rate increases could be ahead in the summer," said Jack Haselgrove, utilities will be in increasing demand for oil, natural gas and coal to meet the peak demand over the summer.

"Our peak power demand is in the summer," said Jack Haselgrove, director of marketing for Gulf Power.

Fashion Forecast

"The main reaction against the mid-length is from older women who are afraid of aging themselves by wearing longer skirts," says French couturier Pierre Balmain. "With the mini, older women felt they looked young. It was completely psychological. They were not looking younger, they were looking sly."

Suspenders are back, says Levi's, the world's largest pants maker. So saying, the company will feature four numbers in fashion suspenders — a nine-color ribbon stripe, a red and blue stripe, a red and white red stripe, and a solid red. They are to be worn with suspenders. Since there are a few pants now made that do not have such buttons, Levi's will make detachable button buttons with each pair of suspenders.

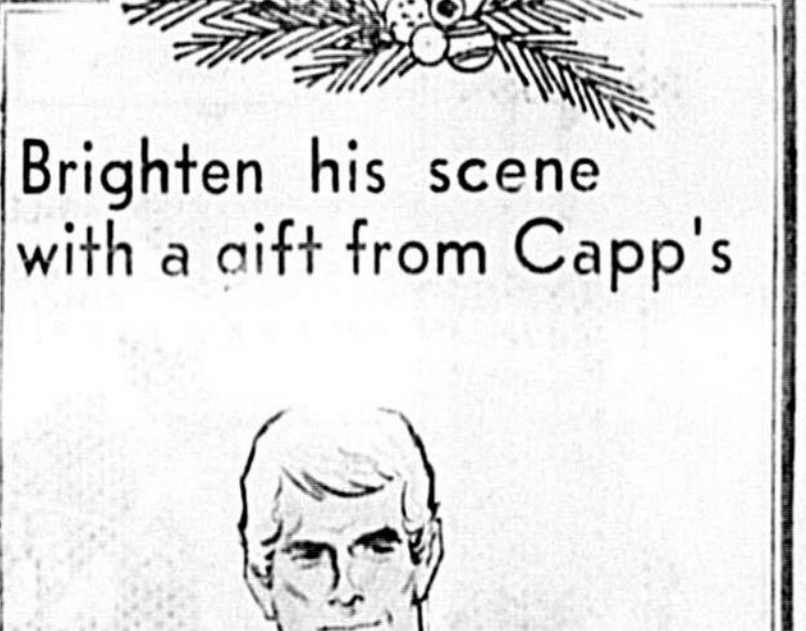

Art objects you can wear is a new idea from Diane Love's jewelry collection for Trifari. Her collection includes such novelties as a collar and pendant made from 27th century B. C. Egyptian objects, 18th Century Russian enamel lion replicas presented as pendants and pins, and a miniature Roman heroic bronze studded with flashing jewels in silver and mossy gold settings.

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—While caring for my mother during the last few months of her terminal illness I discovered a few things that conserved her strength and helped her communicate with me and others who helped care for her. I put a small dinner bell near her so she could ring when she wanted something. This allowed me to go on with my other work. When the bell rang even my small son would run to see what Grandma wanted.

KENILWORTH, England (UPI)—Frank Miller spent almost $200 installing a new staircase in his home. "This is bureaucracy gone mad," Miller said.

Nikita Khrushchev Avers: Soviets Could Have Crushed U. S. In '62

NEW YORK (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev in the last installment of the reminiscences attributed to him says the Soviet government in 1962 installed enough missiles in Cuba to destroy New York, Chicago and other American industrial cities. "No mention a little village like Washington."

But the account, "Khrushchev Remembers: Part IV," in the Dec. 8 issue of Life, says the Soviet aim was to keep the United States from invading Cuba, not to start a war. It says the Bay of Pigs invasion in April 1961, convinced the premier that Soviet missiles should be installed in the Communist island. The reminiscences also say President John F. Kennedy's meeting with Khrushchev to order the missiles removed in the 1962 crisis because he feared a nuclear attack in the United States, and that Khrushchev complicated only after obtaining assurances there would be no U.S. attempt to invade Cuba. "The Caribbean crisis was the triumph of Soviet foreign policy and a personal triumph of my own career," Khrushchev is quoted as saying.

In another article in the magazine, an American doctor says Khrushchev told him last year that after Francis Gary Powers' U2 plane was shot down in Soviet territory in 1960, he "was no longer in full control. Those who felt America had imperialistic intentions and that military strength was the most important thing had the evidence they needed."

The doctor, McGeorge Bundy, director of the Department of Medicine at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, went to the Soviet Union last year for a medical consultation on a member of the Khrushchev family.

The Khrushchev reminiscences say that President Kennedy only during the missile crisis sent his brother Robert, then the attorney general, to see Soviet Ambassador Anatole Dobrynin, and Kennedy told the Ambassador, "The President is in a grave condition . . . and he does not know how to get out of it. We are under pressure from our military to use force against Cuba. President Kennedy implores Chairman Khrushchev to take into consideration the peculiarities of the American system. Even though the President himself is very much against starting a war over Cuba, an irreversible chain of events could occur against his will. That is why the President is appealing directly to Chairman Khrushchev for his help in liquidating this conflict. If the situation continues much longer, the President is not sure that the miliitary will not overthrow him and seize power. The American army could get out of control." Life commented to Robert Kennedy are extremely unlikely, and Dean Rusk, the Kennedy administration's secretary of state, said Sunday "there was never any question of the army taking power" during the missile crisis.

Robert Kennedy in his book on the crisis, "Thirteen Days," said his brother felt that if the impasse acted to rid the world of the sphere of Soviet influence, he would have been impressed.

President Kennedy's death was a great loss to the administration, he declared. "He was directly to Chairman Khrushchev for his help in liquidating this conflict. As the whole world learned during the so-called Cuban crisis. Regardless of his youth, he

22 Boys Named To Team

All-Seminole County Football Team Announced

By GARY TAYLOR
 Herald Sports Editor

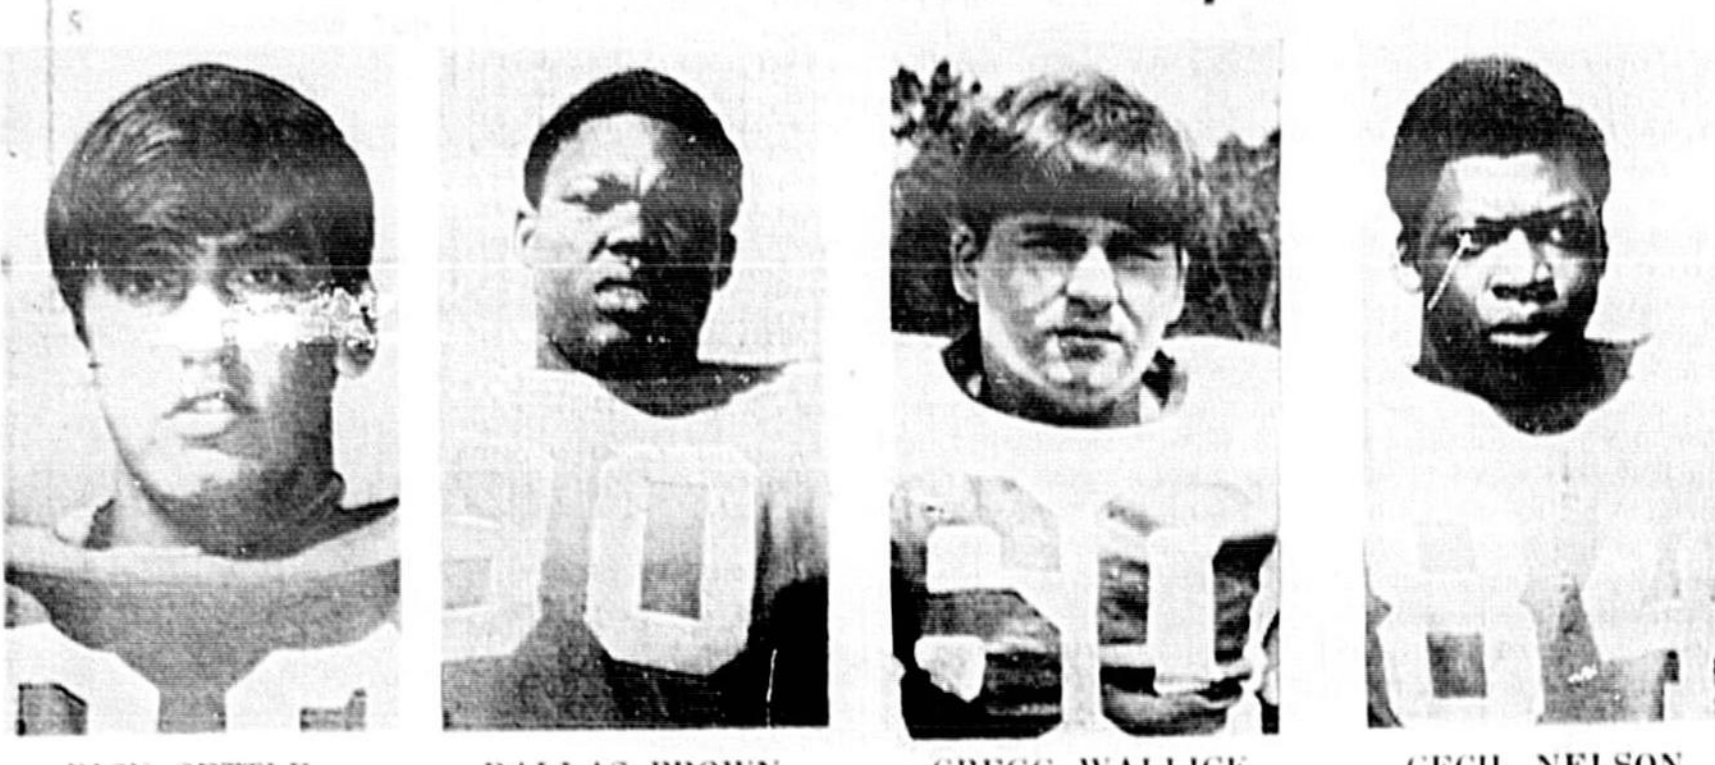

Twenty-two boys have been named to fill 24 positions in the 1970 All-Seminole County Football Team released today by the Sanford Herald. Justin Dwyer, from Oviedo, and Mike Hardin, from Oviedo, were the only two selected on both offense and defense. Joe Mikler and Kevin Spolski were named special ists for their performances as punter and place kicker, respectively.

Making the selections was quite a task this year. There was an overabundance of talent in the five schools in the county. Boys selected for the first team and honorable mention came from Seminole High, Lyman High, Oviedo High, Trinity Prep and Sanford Naval Academy.

Seminole dominated the selections, filling 16 of the 24 positions. The Tribe finished the season 18-1, and were undefeated during regular season play. The starting team could well have been All-County in other counties, but Ly-

Honorable Mention Gridders

There won't be a lot of vacancies on next year's team if these boys play up to par. Of the 24 positions on this year's team, only nine of them are filled by seniors, including both the specialty spots.

There is only one sophomore on the All-Seminole County team. Lyman could be represented by Wallace for the next two years. The young defensive tackle is 170 pounds and knows how to hit.

Other defensive first teamers that could be back as seniors next year are Brown, Martin, Stephens, Jackson, Daum, and Kiddy. Brown has been selected by sports writers all over the state as one of the top high school players in the state, and a good performance next year could give him all kinds of honors, both in and out of the state.

Lineers Harmon, Nesmith, Means, Brown, Doster, Green and Linkowich, Harmon could be one of the top backs in the state next year.

Martin, also an All-Region first team player, should be one of the top players in Central Florida next year. The young defensive end is a possible choice for All-State recognition, and has been selected to many All-Central Florida teams selected by various papers throughout the area.

This year's squad is a true "dream team" for any high school coach. It's a team that could bring state championship for any school.

Of these nine seniors, many of them will likely be going on to play football for some college. Most of them will go on "free rides" through athletic scholarships. Certainly the college scouts will have a lot to look at in these juniors coming back.

So here it is: The Sanford Herald All-Seminole County Football Team; a team that can certainly say "We're number one."

All-Seminole Offense

On most all-county, all-region or all-state teams, honorable mention is a place to put the names of those not quite good enough to make the first team. Not so on The Sanford Herald All-Seminole County football team. Any one of the 24 boys listed under honorable mention could very well have made first team any other year. But the talent was at an over-abundance here in Seminole County this year. These honorable mention players are certainly the equivalent to All-Seminole County second team.

Seminole High is represented by Ronnie Howell, Chris Mally, John Beasley, Randy Brister, Mike Swensen and John Daniels. From Lyman we have Kevin Driesse, Bill Fader, Bob Florence, Billy Meeks, Ray Smith and Roger Timlin.

Trinity Prep is represented by Dale Parsons, Jeff Schenck, Lawrence Cleveland and John Kennedy. From Oviedo we have Lynn Burch, Bruce Carwise, Greg Hutchison, Willie Brooks and Alan Daniel. Closing out the list are Bob Garcia, David Left and Jim Rathbun, representing Sanford Naval Academy.

Many of these boys are sophomores and juniors, and can be expected to be seen on the All-Seminole County first team next year.

Spolski, Mikler

Our Gridiron Kicking Specialists

Of the pigskin pickin' on this year's All-Seminole County Football team, two are of a particular breed. They are the guys that put the "foot" in football. Kevin Spolski of Seminole High and Joe Mikler of Oviedo High.

Spolski's efforts as a place kicker added the 70 Fighting Seminoles quest in their almost undefeated gridiron season this year. One might think Spolski the Jan Stenerud of Florida prep football.

Grinding out 38 PAT's in eleven games, while missing only nine times, Spolski was one of the best if not the best placekicker to come out of Central Florida in many a year. Spolski also had the honor of booting the second field goal in Seminole High School history, that coming in the post-season Sentinel Star Charity Bowl.

Unlike Spolski who restricted his kicking efforts to place kicking, Oviedo's Joe Mikler compiled his most impressive statistics in the punting department. Throughout Oviedo's rather dismal season Mikler punted 55 times averaging 39.1 yards per kick, a mark equaled only by Handy Tabot of Class AA Coral Gables and David Posey of Class B Boca St. Andrews.

Only once in ten games did Mikler's punting average fall below 35 yards per game and that was in the Umattila contest when he had a strong wind to contend with and averaged 29 yards per boot.

In Oviedo's Apopka game, Mikler put out his best effort. The Lion senior punted seven times for an average of 48 yards per kick. That was also the game when he kicked his longest punt, a booming 56 yarder from his own end zone that could not have come at a more opportune time and was perhaps the key factor in Oviedo's eventual 7-0 triumph over the Blue Darters.

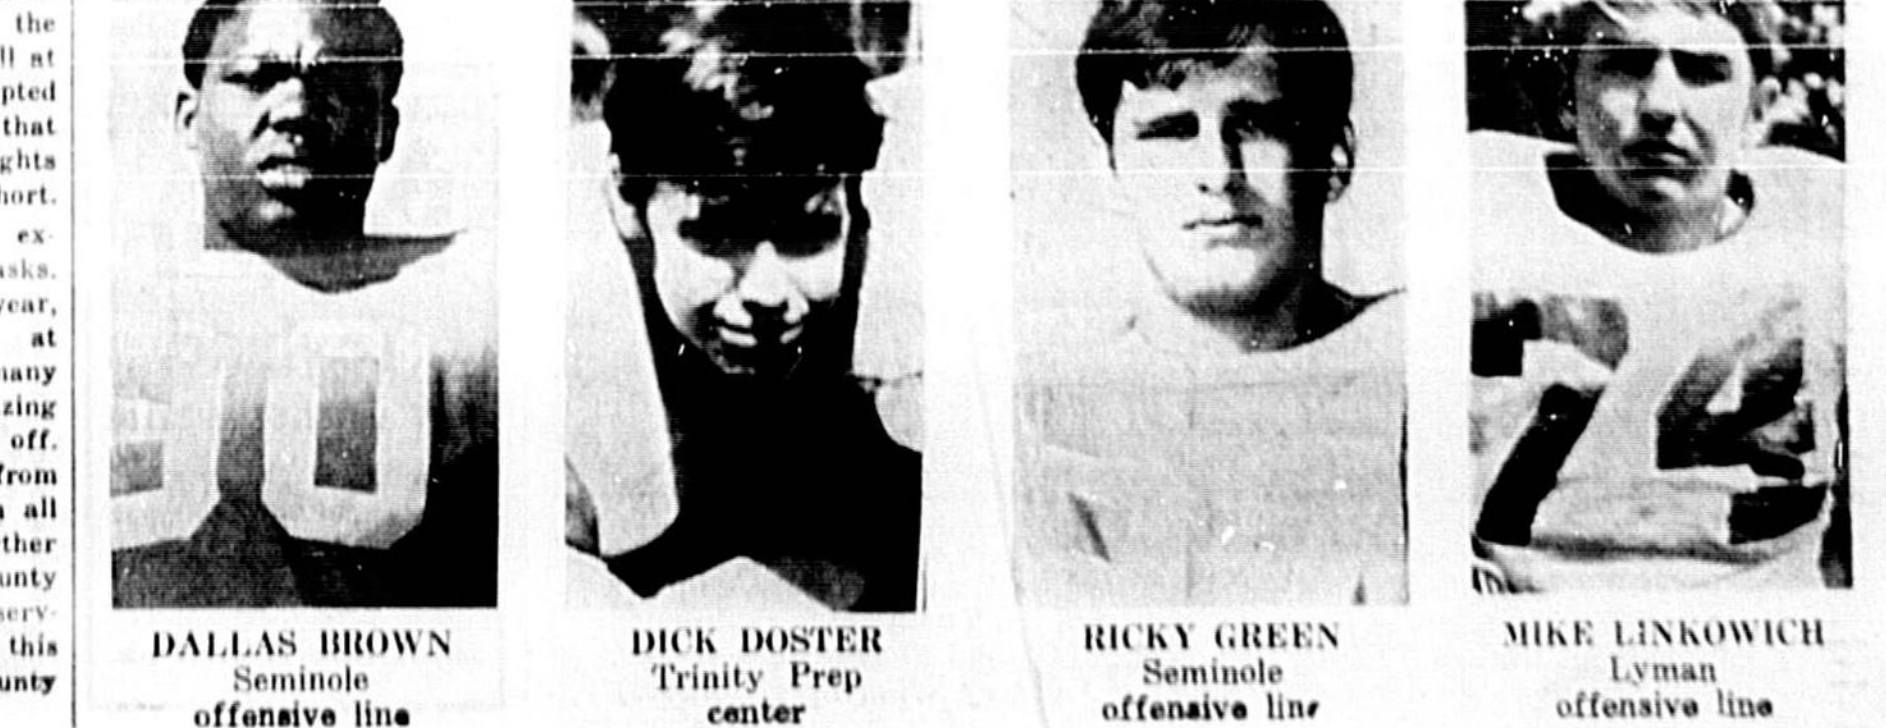

Mikler also took on the placekicking duties for Oviedo. Of nine attempted PAT's he completed six. He was also credited with two field goals. The first, a 30 yard kick in Seminole County's prep opener between Oviedo and Seminole. The other came during Oviedo's ninth game of the season against New Smyrna Beach which was a successful 39 yard boot. Mikler also had the kickoff honors for Oviedo.

One of Mikler's missed field goals deserves an explanation. That came during the New Smyrna Beach game as well. In the final moments of the game the Lions had the ball at mid-field and Mikler attempted a near 60 yard field goal that was on target for the uprights but fell just a few feet short.

Both young men were experts at their respective tasks. Spolski had up until this year, no previous experience at placekicking and the many hours spent under the blazing Florida summer sun paid off. Both have had queries from major colleges and will in all probability bring further honors to Seminole County athletics and are well deserving of their places on this year's All-Seminole County Football Team.

Florida Tec Knights Win A Pair

By HERBY CURS
Herald Sports Staff

Geno "Torchy" Clark's amazing Florida Tec Knights came up with back to back victories this past weekend both of which were accomplished on the coach's home base.

Friday night the Knights of Pegasus invaded Miami to do battle with Florida Bible College. It wasn't much of a battle as the Knights carved out a 116-71 triumph. They followed that with a 78-66 victory over Palm Beach Atlantic.

In their romp of Florida Bible the Knights went over the century mark for the fifth time in this season and had things under control at the intermission. At that stage of the game it was a 26 point lead, 56-34.

Mike Clark, Rudi Jesse, and Ed Smith all contributed five points apiece in the half effort, many of which came off the wanted full court press applied by the Knights.

Coach Clark used his bench freely throughout the game but Tech could do no wrong and the score continued to mount. No less than fifty shots fired by Tech from the floor hit the mark.

Mike Clark's 27 point effort was tops for both teams. He was one of six Knights to hit two figures. Jesse hit for 24 and Smith 20 in over nine Palm Beach Atlantic.

Saturday's victory over Palm Beach Atlantic was sweet revenge for the Knights who dropped a 83-80 decision to Palm Beach in the consolation game of the Gee Cee Classic last month.

Perhaps the key to the victory came from a sparkling 20 point effort by Mike Clark, who was the defensive performance by the Tech team.

And more specific the defensive job done on Palm Beach, Rick Figner. In the previous meeting Figner canned 15 of 16 free throws and shot in Saturday's game but did wind up as his team's high scorer with 16 points.

Middies Dropped Again

By FRANK EDWARDS
Herald Sports Staff

It looks like it's going to be a long season for the Middies come this year, as they lost their third game of the season to Winter Park.

Unless the Middies can settle down and move out by Jan. 15, when they travel to Tampa to meet Bentley Prep, it could be a very bad season. This loss leaves the Middies 0-3 for the season.

It seems things went wrong for the Middies from the start.

In the first ten minutes of the first quarter a SNA player attempted to pass the ball back to the goalie, it was intercepted, and one swift kick scored for Winter Park.

That's the way it is in soccer; one little mistake can be fatal.

Before the quarter was over the Middies broke through Winter Park's defense and a beautiful side angle shot by SNA's Tim German set the score.

In the second quarter WPMS dominated the ball as time after time they drove into the Middies defense. Here, Winter Park managed to score twice, leaving the score 3-1 at half time.

The third quarter rolled around and showed a different story. The Bluejackets settled down and played a much better game. Several times the Middies managed to touch the ball over the Parkers defense and take a shot on goal, but failed to score. On the other hand, Winter Park was moving ahead and in the last few minutes of the third quarter scored.

In the fourth quarter the Bluejackets kept the ball down at the other end of the field more often. When WPMS did get the ball in Bluejacket territory, the Middies didn't waste any time in sending it back, thus keeping Winter Park from scoring again.

John McClain, SNA's goalie, did a great job. In the first half of the game when the Parkers dominated the ball, McClain successfully stopped many shots on goal. Even when three or four of Winter Park forwards were charging in hard and fast, McClain was right in the heart of it making the save. With many other goals the score would have been much higher against SNA.

McClain really played a heads up game.

The New York Giants, behind Fran Tarkenton's three touchdown passes, joined Dallas as NFC East co-leader by dumping the St. Louis Cardinals 36-17 in one of Sunday's key games. Dallas was a 6-2 victor over Cleveland on Saturday.

St. Louis lost out of the title picture, however, although the Cards dropped to third place in the NFC East.

In Sunday's regular games, Cincinnati's Bengals claimed sole possession of the AFC Central lead with a 20-20 beating of Houston; the Vikings crushed Boston 35-14; San Francisco remained on top of the NFC West with a 38-27 decision over New Orleans; Washington won the NFC East by beating the Los Angeles Rams 37-10; Denver cracked the 1,000 yard rushing barrier, defeated Philadelphia 34-6; Atlanta choked Pittsburgh's AFC Central title hopes 27-10; Chicago blasted Green Bay 35-17; Miami remained in the playoff picture despite Baltimore's title-clinching triumph by downing the Jets 18-10 and the Denver Broncos to a below-average 46-36 rebound advantage, agreed. # Baltimore Takes One Big Step

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

"The first step to the Super Bowl."

That's how Coach Don McCafferty described the 20-14 victory by Baltimore Colts against Buffalo Sunday over the Buffalo Bills in National Football League action.

The triumph gave the Colts 19th Super Bowl berth to the New York Jets, the championship of the American Football Conference East and one of the eight NFL playoff berths.

The Colts joined the Oakland Raiders and the Minnesota Vikings on the list of division champions. The Raider wrapped up the AFC West on Saturday with a 20-7 decision over Kansas City, defeating Super Bowl XI title, Minnesota won the National Conference Central Division crown last week.

With only one more weekend of regular season action left, the NFC East and West and the AFC's Central Division races will go down to the wire.

The Oviedo ninth grade cagers bounced back successfully after their loss to Bishop Moore by upsetting St. Luke's 63-37 Friday afternoon at Oviedo behind the double figure scoring of Leon Cobb, Carlton Brundage and Richard Hodges.

The Baby Lions held St. Luke's scoreless in the opening frame while notching 17 points. The Lions expanded their lead by eight additional points in the second period while the St. Luke's five got their scoring under way with five points.

In the second half the Baby Lions registered 70 points while holding St. Luke's to a meager 11.

What's up, Jack?

Proving it's what's up front that counts, the third-ranked Dolphins unleashed their 7-0 nonstomach at Richmond and came up with a 94-69 college football victory Saturday night.

St. Louis' Tom Reed UCLA quarterbacked the Dolphins to a 20-10 win over the Dolphins with 20 points and 19 first downs.

And as usual, he wasn't satisfied with his performance.

"We were lousy, we stunk up the gym," said Gilmore, who threw for 7-60 Pembroke, Brundage and 6-69 Nelson to give Jacksonville one of the biggest wins in the nation.

Coach Tom Wasdin pointing to a below-average 46-36 rebound advantage, agreed. "We won, and that's all we came up

Muskie Front Runner As Demo Presidential Candidate

By WALTER R. MEARS and CARL P. LEUBSDORF
 AP Political Writers
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Two years and a long campaign away from the ultimate goal, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie is the front runner, the target, the Democrats' presidential prospect with the most to lose. He is likely to be the one to win the nomination.

His formal announcement of candidacy will not come for a while, but it will come. It is only a matter of time.

But Muskie of Maine is on the move, speaking out more sharply and quickly on major developments at home and overseas, planning to travel abroad—probably next month—seeking to enhance his foreign policy credentials.

Every likely rival acknowledges Muskie a long lead to ward the 1972 nomination; Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts said it may be all but insurmountable.

One public opinion poll shows Muskie running ahead of President Nixon, the ultimate rival, 46 per cent to 40 per cent.

"It doesn't mean anything," said Muskie. "There are going to be ups and downs. I've been Goddammed lucky. It hasn't been the result of deliberate planning."

In a Senate anteroom, Muskie says he can see no value in evaluating his candidacy, and proceeds to do so.

"I don't know whether I'm a front runner or not. There's no way of proving it, the polls are the only indication."

"As the front runner, you tend to become the target of the other candidates. . . . But it also means that the front runner is a meaningful candidate. . . ."

"If there were a way of putting this as you do a horse race, a pacing race, I suppose the pace might be a little bit slower."

Then a shrug.

Muskie says he cannot pace what he did not plan. He believes his high rating in recent polls stems from his appearance as the Democratic spokesman in an election-year telecast last month.

"I suppose in a sense that was a pure stroke of luck," said Muskie of the biggest single boost to his candidacy since named to the party's vice presidential spot in 1968. "How do you control that?"

"If the result is to get you running faster than you want to be running, that's the price you have to pay."

At 56, Muskie relishes the political campaign, those past—and that ahead. He has just been elected to the Senate for a third term, with 62 per cent of the vote.

Now he sits outside the Senate, answering questions, and waves his left hand toward the chamber.

"There are 100 guys in there who would like to be President, however remote the possibility may be. And there are 77 governors."

"So who knows?"

But along with the political realism, the talk of luck, there is a methodical plan taking shape. It envisions membership on the prestigious Senate Foreign Relations Committee several trips abroad; an ambitious record of public appearances; a question of timing, certainly formidable opponent should be undertaken the candidate he has foreseen.

"He has said he is not a candidate," said Muskie. "I have no intention of expressing doubt about what he has said. With the kind of support that is shown in the polls, he can be a formidable opponent should he undertake the candidacy he has foreseen."

As for the ultimate rival, Muskie said he considers President Nixon vulnerable, and the more so since the Nov. 3 elections.

"I think it is a setback for him. He tried to do something in the election, and failed to do it in terms of the reaction in the country, he lost."

Perhaps, Muskie muses, he is not acting firmly enough to dramatize his role as top man among the Democratic White House prospects.

Voting Requirements in Sanford Explained

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford residents registered to vote in county elections are automatically included without re-registering to vote in city elections. This fact, unknown to many city dwellers, may have accounted for at least a portion of the low voter turnout a week ago in the Dec. 8 balloting for the lone city office open this year.

Sanford, unlike many municipalities, does not require separate city registration for voting as do most other state cities.

If a city resident has been registered with the county election office and has resided within the city limits for a six-month period and in the county for a year, that person is qualified to vote in Sanford elections.

It is, however, too late now for registering to vote in the Dec. 22 runoff between Earl Higginbotham and Julian Stenstrom for the commission seat being vacated by Thomas McDonald, but persons already registered and living within the city limits may vote.

It has been figured that 6,405 persons are eligible to cast ballots in the coming battle but this is not quite a third of the number of city residents, of which the majority are within the legal age and resident requirements for voting.

CASSELBERRY — Dr. Donald Findell, instructor of business law and law enforcement at Seminole Junior College, was unanimously approved as Casselberry municipal judge by the City Council last night. The appointment came after Mayor Curtis Blow recommended Findell for the interim appointment for the rest of 1970.

Preceding the appointment of Dr. Findell, the council accepted with regret the resignation of Thomas Freeman as municipal judge. Freeman has been municipal judge for the city for five and a half years but resigned because of the pressing duties of his law practice. Over this past weekend, Freeman was elected president of the Florida Municipal Judges Association. He presently serves as judge for the city of North Orlando.

Thomas Napier was appointed to serve as council chairman for the remainder of 1970. This is a position he held prior to his Dec. 1 resignation and subsequent appointment to serve interim vacancy on council. Napier was re-elected to council in the recent municipal election.

A large number of homeowners from Carriage Hill were on hand last night to be heard in the matter of the rezoning of a portion of Carriage Hill for townhouses and apartments. ## Move On To Counter Directive City Orders Closing Of Zoo

County Commissioner Sidney Vihlen Jr. will begin an individual effort to save the Sanford Zoo by working through the County Commission to place the animal attraction at Big Tree Park.

Vihlen told The Sanford Herald today he hopes the Sanford City Commission will retract its decision made at its last night meeting to phase out the city zoo by Oct. 1 or the end of this fiscal year.

Speaking personally, Vihlen said he was disappointed in the city's action especially since that body had received a mandate from the people in a straw ballot at Town Meeting. "The zoo is the main claim to fame and right now it is the only thing we have. My hope is that the city fathers will re-examine their position and go back into the zoo business," Vihlen stated.

The county commissioner said if the city does not reconsider its action, he would begin an individual effort in county government to look into the possibility of placing the animals with the city's cooperation in the Big Tree Park, which is centrally located off U.S. 17-92 on the General J. C. Hutchison Parkway.

Regarding financing of the zoo removal, Vihlen said the attraction could become a part of the county's $14 million park program, which was just approved by county voters.

"Commissioner Greg Drummond and I have been appointed by the commission chairman to meet with U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) as liaison with hope of setting up a 50-50 federal-county fund match; possibly we could arrange for some financing in this manner," the commissioner said.

Vihlen again said his actions were based on an individual stand and commented, "I feel the City Commission has its problems in providing service to citizens but, after a mandate from the people, I feel the zoo phase-out was a mistake."

It was a City Commissioner Meyer's lone vote that tried without success to delay the City Commission's action last

Hospital Expansion Reviewed

Seminole Memorial Hospital trustees at last night's monthly meeting named Watson and Company, architectural firm with home offices at Tampa, to prepare a master plan to expand the hospital's facilities to a maximum on the present site.

At an $8,500 cost the architects will begin a study to determine how to develop the medical center's facilities to the optimum.

On hand representing the planner was Jack Walberg, Watson vice president. Walberg said he would be in Sanford to discuss the study should circumstances warrant.

Walberg advised he felt the hospital would have to acquire additional lands for parking if the bed capacity is increased to 500 as had been proposed by Dr. Thomas Largent, trustee.

Walberg reported his study would be done in five separate phases with the trustees approving each part before proceeding to the next phase.

In discussing whether the hospital facilities should be increased to 500 beds, it was brought out by the architect that there would be no additional costs to figure on a 500 bed study than for 300. However, if 350 were selected, then it would mean increased costs to proceed to a 300-bed study.

Dr. Harold Miller, trustee, questioned advisability of a 500-bed hospital, when he advised Dr. Largent that he felt a large bond issue would be needed for such a large hospital expansion, and wondered if South Seminole residents would approve an issue for a Sanford hospital.

Dr. Largent countered by explaining the hospital is available for all county residents to use.

After more discussion Largent moved to explain Watson and Company and the motion was approved without opposition.

Prison Idea For Sanford 'Buried'

To allay concern by Sanford residents that a minimum security state prison might be established at the Sanford Airport, Mayor Lee P. Moore at last night's City Commission meeting stated the commission had unanimously turned down the idea.

Moore, at the end of a two-hour commission meeting, explained what had transpired between the state corrections department and the city relative to leasing airport facilities to house from 600 to 700 prisoners under age 25.

He reported an inspection team from the Bureau of Prisons had toured the former Navy facilities on Nov. 17 and had discussed with David Kelley, Sanford Industrial Commission director and himself the prospects of locating at the airport.

Moore said he returned to Sanford and either he or City Manager W. E. Knott contacted each commissioner regarding the state proposal, but it was unanimously turned down.

Orlandoan Jailed For Alleged Rape

A 28-year-old Orlando man has been jailed for the alleged rape of a 13-year-old Orange County school girl in an incident that occurred last Monday in Seminole County.

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk reported Jerry Maurice Greer, an Orlando salesman, was picked out of a lineup by the alleged victim after Orange County deputies had apprehended the man at a Lee Road coin laundry shortly after the reported incident.

Sheriff Polk stated the incident happened around 5:30 p.m. yesterday when a 13-year-old girl was picked up as she walked along Lee Road by a man driving a late model car.

The sheriff reported the girl was driven into Seminole County to an orange grove off SR 434 near Forest City where she was raped; later returned to Orange County and released.

After contacting Orange County authorities, the girl reportedly gave the car's license number and described her assailant to deputies, who broadcast the information to cruising patrol cars.

In just a short time a deputy spotted the auto described in the girl's story and Greer was arrested and voluntarily came to Seminole County where he was identified by the girl as the man who assaulted her.
