Free Parking Added To Shopping List

Sanford Mayor J. E. (Jimmy) Crappa and Police Chief Roy Williams today ordered free parking in the downtown area for Christmas shoppers. The order went into effect this morning and will continue through next Monday.

Mayor Crappa, in issuing the order, said "the city wants to do everything it can to work with the merchants in making it easier for our residents to shop at home."

Special courtesy tags will be placed on cars that over-parked in the downtown area. The tickets will read: "You have parked here beyond the metered time. We know you did not intend to violate our city ordinance. Your cooperation is solicited in making space for other Christmas shoppers."

Chief Williams asked downtown business employes to please use the city parking lot and not park their vehicles along First St.

Downtown Sanford merchants continued their shop-at-home campaign this week with late shopping hours for area residents.

Stores are staying open until 9 p. m. from now until Christmas for shoppers' convenience.

Cuban Prisoner Deal On Again

MIAMI (UPI) — New York attorney James B. Donovan and a negotiating group left for Havana aboard a special plane today apparently to arrange the ransom of 1,113 Cuban invaders before Christmas.

Donovan and three members of the Cuban Families Committee departed at 9 a. m. aboard a Pan American World Airways plane, which had been standing by awaiting approval of their flight plans by Premier Fidel Castro's government.

With Donovan were Alvaro Sanchez, president of the Families Committee Mrs. Beria Barreto, Cuban go-between in the negotiations who came to the United States about three weeks ago; and Virginia Betancourt.

The three Cuban members of the delegation all have relatives among the prisoners captured during the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion in April, 1961.

The group had waited all night for Cuban government approval of their trip, and the departure this morning indicated it was forthcoming only shortly before they took off.

Before they left, arrangements were reported under way to mass supplies in the Miami area for ransom of the prisoners.

Details of the ransom deal never have been made public. At one point, Castro demanded $2 million for the release of the prisoners, but he is believed to have agreed to accept supplies of less value.

No firm information could be obtained either here or in Havana as to the travel plans of Donovan or others in his party.

A Cuban spokesman said Donovan received a telephone call Sunday night instructing him to leave for Cuba immediately.

"We are very hopeful this whole situation can be cleared up in the next few days," the spokesman said. "We're back in a cliff-hanging situation."

Warmer Weather Deteriorates Fruit

Citrus fruit here is beginning to deteriorate because of the warm weather, Assistant County Agent Ernie Lundberg reported today.

Lundberg warned it is better to continue to be mild and fair than to have more and heavier droppage of fruit and an increased breakdown of the county's hardy vegetables including celery and cabbage.

"The cooler the weather the more we can salvage," Lundberg said.

Earlier County Agent Cecil Tucker reported that most of the citrus crop could be salvaged if the temperature would stay below 45.

The low reading predicted in the Sanford area today was 48 and more warm and mild weather is forecast tonight and Wednesday.

Man Slays Four With Crowbar

LAKEWOOD, N. J. (UPI) — A chicken farmer told police Monday night he killed his parents and brother and sister with a crowbar.

"God had told me to do it because my family is bad," police quoted Gabriel Trifari, 30.

Trifari was arrested after he led police to his isolated farm home in nearby Howell township.

In the neat, comfortably furnished white-frame farmhouse police found the battered bodies of his mother, Marie, 60, and his sister, Olga, 36. In a workshop, where the family repaired pocketbooks for department stores across the nation, they found the body of his father, Maxim, 65.

Sanford-Coast Canal Could Be Priority Choice

Frank H. Brownnett, Jacksonville, president of the Florida Waterways Assn., declared at a meeting of the organization in Winter Park Monday that the Sanford-Canaveral Canal will probably be constructed before the Cross State Canal.

Brownnett made his prediction in discussing the immediate need for the construction of a canal-way across Florida if Cape Canaveral is to keep its primacy as a missile test and launch center.

With the advent of super rockets, said Brownnett, is becoming increasingly difficult to transport them around the end of the peninsula, and the importance of a cross state canal is becoming more and more obvious.

But if any canal is to be built, there must be a state-wide effort, and Brownnett said he felt the construction of the Sanford-Canaveral project would come first because it would be the most economical to construct.

Addressing the group, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce manager John Krider, pointed out that the longer the delay in constructing the cross-Florida canals, less and less becomes the prospects of "any of us here seeing them completed in our lifetime."

Krider pointed out that Florida receives an average grant for public works of only $12 million to $14 million per year, and "here we are hoping to get a $700 million appropriation out of a limited amount of funds that everyone of the other 48 states hopes to dip into also."

Senator Randolph Hodges, Cedar Keys, director of the State Board of Conservation, said the conservation board has made several trips to Washington to ask for funds to begin construction on the cross state canal and there is reason to believe that the next session of Congress will set aside over $6 million in the new national budget for construction funds for the project.

Hodges pointed out that the business climate and present state of our missile preparedness program make mandatory the construction of the Sanford-Canaveral canal and the cross state waterway. But, he said, it will call for a unified effort at the state level to achieve the objective.

Krider also pointed to the need for a total state effort in carrying out the waterways program for Florida, and said the answer to funds might lie in a state financed program to get the ball rolling before it is too late.

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce manager previously has spoken in favor of an additional one percent sales tax which would bring in roughly $70 million a year and would be enough to get the two projects afloat and provide some chance of completion even if federal money failed to come through.

Red Chinese Greatest Threat, Kennedy Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy said Monday night that Red China, not Russia, is the decade's greatest threat to world peace.

The president said "We would be far worse off—the world would be—if the Chinese dominated the Communist movement."

Kennedy made the statement in an unusual radio and television interview covering his first two years as president, which he said had given him "great satisfaction."

The interview ranged over a wide number of subjects, both domestic and international, but Kennedy's emphasis showed his concern with world affairs.

Kennedy said "I don't think there is a need" for a meeting between him and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev now, and "I think he probably feels the same way."

Because of Cuba, "it is going to be some time before it is possible for us to come to any real understandings with Mr. Khrushchev."

Without minimizing the danger of Russia's goal of world communism, Kennedy said "we are better off with the Khrushchev view than we are with the Chinese Communist view, quite obviously."

"But Mr. Khrushchev does not wish us well, unfortunately," he added.

Rather than trying to widen the rift between Moscow and Peking, the president said, attention should be given to bolstering the cause of freedom by helping suffering areas of the world.

"I think that anybody who looks at the fatality lists on atomic weapons and realizes that the Communists have a completely twisted view of the United States, and that we don't comprehend them, that is what makes life in the sixties hazardous," he said.

Kennedy said that while the showdown over Cuba taught the Communists something, great dangers still exist.

"One mistake can make this whole thing blow up," he said.

Embargo In Effect

LAKELAND (UPI) — An embargo on the shipment of fresh citrus out of Florida was in full effect today, five days ahead of when most citrusmen had planned a week ago. The embargo went into effect at 6 p. m. Monday by order of the Florida Citrus Commission to prevent freeze-damaged fruit from getting into the hands of consumers and causing possible long damage to the industry.

British Wife Seeking Reason For Spy Charge Against Mate

MOSCOW (UPI) - A British housewife hoped to find out today when she may see her husband, imprisoned as a key figure in the major spy case building up here. Mrs. Sheila Wynne arrived Saturday to see her husband, Greville, who was arrested in Budapest Nov. 2. He was brought here and subsequently is alleged to have confessed taking part in a spy ring in Russia. He is believed to be held in Lubyanka prison. Soviet newspapers so far have named five American diplomats as members of the ring and hinted Sunday that the list could grow. The signs indicated a build-up for the biggest Soviet show trial since the 1950 conviction of U.S. pilot Francis Gary Powers on charges of aerial espionage. Two U.S. diplomats - embassy archivist Richard C. Jacobs, of Egg Harbor, N. J., and assistant agricultural attaché Rodney W. Carlson, 30, of Alcester, S. D. - have left the Soviet Union. Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, Saturday accused three other embassy employees of being "cloak and dagger" agents. They are: Security officer Hugh Montgomery, 36, of Springfield, Mass.; embassy doctor and assistant air attaché Capt. Alexis H. Davison, 31, of Atlanta; and second secretary Robert K. German, 35, of Dallas, Tex. Jacobs was accused of spying Nov. 3 and was expelled three days later. Carlson left Russia last Friday after an official Tass news agency dispatch linked him with the alleged ring. Embassy officials said they have received no government demands yet that the other three embassy employees be expelled. The seventh man accused of belonging to the ring is a Soviet government employee, Oleg V. Penkovsky who reportedly was corrupted by the Charleston and the twist while studying the secret codes used to send political, military and economic secrets to the West. "He dreamed of the time when he would be in the New York or London night clubs for good," it said. "But the ordinary Soviet people who worked alongside Penkovsky helped the security police to expose and catch the brazen traitor red-handed."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a different kind of mother-in-law problem. She isn't in my home five minutes when she drags out my vacuum sweeper, mop and dust cloth. Even when I explain that I have just given the place a thorough cleaning, she goes right ahead and pulls the house apart, moves the furniture and crawls under the beds looking for dirt. When I invite her for dinner she comes hours early and takes over the kitchen. I have had 14 years of home-making experience and feel that I do a pretty good job. How can I let her know I do not need her help?

THE LADY ON THE CORNER
DEAR CORNER: Whether she thinks you "trust" her is not as important as making sure that nothing regrettable happens in your home.
DEAR ABBY: I used to be a very heavy drinker. I had to have a shot of whiskey first thing in the morning so you know I was not exactly a "social drinker." I met a woman who said she would marry me if I quit drinking. I joined A.A. and haven't had a drop of whiskey since New Year's, 1961. Now this woman says she changed her mind and doesn't love me enough to marry me. I am ready to start drinking again. Do you think she has been fair to me, and how can I get her to keep her promise?

DEAR MAD: Your mother-in-law obviously hasn't enough to keep her busy at home and is merely flexing her domestic muscles at your place. Let her have a good time.
DEAR ABBY: Please set a couple of teen - agers straight as my advice is not wanted. They go steady and have decided to spend from $50 to $100 on each other for Christmas. They both work. Their wages are small and what is left weekly is $10 or less.

SOBER BUT WEAKENING
DEAR SOBER: Sobriety is your life-saver and this woman provided it. You owe her a lot, so thank her and say good-bye. Perhaps this is a test. If you stay sober through this crisis, she might marry you after all.

DEAR MOM: I think they are spending too much on a single gift, but if they have earned the money, it's their privilege.
DEAR ABBY: A 16-year-old neighbor girl baby-sat for us last Saturday night. She asked me before hand if her boy friend could keep her company while she sat, and I didn't see any reason why he shouldn't. When we got home (about midnight) it was pitch dark in the house and

Once partner has given a clear picture of his hand and you want to be in game, simply bid the game and he will pass. Thus, if partner raises any major suit bid of yours and you continue to game in that suit you assume that he will pass. Simply, if he makes any bid in no-trump and you go right to game in either no-trump or a suit you are acting to close the bidding. North's jump to four spades was a bid of entirely different nature. He had opened the bidding and his partner's one spade response might represent anything between 6 and North was willing to gamble on game if South held the minimum. He was equally willing for South to go on with a good hand. South had a good hand and decided to use the Blackwood route to a slam. North showed two aces in responding to the four no-trump bid and then South bid five no-trump to ask for kings. North only held two kings, but he was sure these were the kings South was interested in. Because South's five no-trump had guaranteed that the ace held all the aces, North went right to the lay down grand slam.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Many of America's adults who are 10 or more pounds overweight never think of themselves as "fat," according to the findings of a recent survey. That's really not surprising. Just consider all the ways a woman can avoid getting. The person who is lazy labels himself relaxed. With others' faults it is easy to call a spade a spade. But with our own it's much easier to call them by a nicer name, or refuse to see them at all.

Casselberry Women's Club To Have Party

By Jane Casselberry
The Women's Club of Casselberry will hold its annual Christmas Party Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. for members and their husbands. Mrs. J. E. Dunwoody will be in charge of the program and there will be entertainment and card singing. Members will exchange gifts and they will be asked to bring a donation of a non-perishable food for Christmas baskets which the Lions Club will distribute to needy families. Members of the regular executive board will serve as hostesses. They are Mrs. Albert Grimwood, Mrs. Thomas Hueston, Mrs. Myron Jacobs, Mrs. Henry Hansen and Mrs. Willfred Alexander. Facing the fact that she has put on a few unwanted pounds... The cleaners must have shrunk last year's dress, now a bit too tight for comfort. Clothes that have to be given away because they can't be let out aren't too small—they're just not becoming any more. Bold plaids and big figures are avoided, not because they call attention to those extra pounds, but because they are too loud. The clerk who recommends a dress by insisting that it is "slenderizing" isn't being helpful. She's impossible. Some other woman who has just shed her extra pounds doesn't look wonderful. Her neck looks scrawny and she looks 10 years older. A new style is avoided, not because it requires a slender figure, but because it is "too extreme." And so it goes. No wonder so many of the overweight refuse to think of themselves as "fat," when it is so easy to ignore the evidence! But that is true of all human weaknesses and shortcomings. The person who insults other people doesn't admit he lacks tact. He prides himself on his frankness. The person who is stingy thinks of himself as a good manager. The person who is pushy thinks of himself as a go-

Enterprise Personals

Howard Henderson and Dwayne Watson attended the State Christian Youth conference this weekend. The interdenominational Christian Youth Conference was held at the Christian Church conference camp grounds at Silver Springs and was a most inspirational meeting. Miss Sylvia Foster was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Foster in Daytona Beach. Friends will regret to learn that Mrs. Adam Muller, DeBary correspondent is confined to the West Volusia Hospital. Mrs. Muller has been associated with many of the people in Enterprise in various church and club activities and has many friends in this section who wish her a speedy recovery. Be an "early-bird" and treat your Christmas evergreens—especially holly—so they will last longer. Mash or crush the tough, woody branch ends and place them, for a couple of days, in a quart of water mixed with a tablespoon of brown sugar. This will give the branches a chance to absorb enough moisture to remain fresh through the holidays, says the Society of American Florists. When you invite someone to restaurant or club, YOU should arrive a bit early.

Club Meets With Mrs. Herrington

By Shirley Westworth Mrs. Vernon Herrington was hostess for the December meeting of the Bear Lake Garden Club. President, Mrs. Richard Scott conducted a brief business meeting. Mrs. Richard Ostrander was elected corresponding secretary to fill the vacancy due to Mrs. Jay W. Malone moving from the area. The group presented Mrs. Malone with a plant for her new home at Cape Canaveral. The Christmas Tree Lane project was reported a success with the circle's lavender Christmas tree entered in competition. It received honorable mention. The president distributed pamphlets with specifications for entries in the flower show to be held at the Central Florida Fair, Feb. 25 through March 2. Following the meeting a gift exchange from a grab bag was held among members. Each article was homemade and included many things ranging from Santa Claus made from a bottle to miniature palm trees sprayed red and cleverly decorated. During the social hour refreshments of homemade cakes, cookies, punch and coffee were served from table overlaid with colorful red net and lighted with candles. Mrs. Herrington presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Richard Ostrander will be hostess for the January meeting at her home on Jamison Drive in Bear Lake.

Mrs. Diaz Presents Travelog

A group of approximately 80 DeBaryites were entertained, recently, at St. Ann's Social Hall by Mrs. Angel Diaz, with a travelog of Italy, Spain, Ireland, Rio and Mexico. The program was followed by a social hour with refreshments served by Mrs. A. Guisari and her committee. It was reported that the recent rummage sale, sponsored by St. Ann's Guild, was a success. All left over items from the sale were donated to the Good Samaritan Home, in Sanford.

Pajama Party Given By Doris Faber

By Helen Snodgrass Miss Doris Faber entertained Carolyn Watson and several of her girl friends, in celebration of her birthday, with a pajama party at her home on Lake Shore Drive, Friday evening. The girls enjoyed popping corn, making candy, just loafing around and watching TV during the early part of the evening.

OES To Meet Thursday

Seminole Chapter No. 2, Order of Eastern Star, will hold the regular meeting, this Thursday at 8 p. m. at the Masonic Hall, followed by a Christmas party. Sisters will bring a gift exchange for another lady and brothers will bring an exchange gift for a gentleman.

Unemployment: Challenge

According to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, more productive men - known as "hard core" - in the first 11 months of 1962 through unemployment than in all the months of the last 25 years.

The secretary does not discount the possibility of a "hard core" as a permanent feature of the economy. Like his predecessor, Arthur Goldberg, he has previously indicated in labor disputes.

Wirtz believes that the question of unemployment is a fundamentally more important matter than strikes, particularly in times of economic stress.

A chronic economy and the growing use of automation have led to unemployment hovering around 6 1/2 percent of the total work force for several years. The November figure was unexpectedly swollen by 150,000 teenagers looking for jobs.

Some of this persistent unemployment is "hard core" made up of workers who are not so much unemployed as unemployable. They would be out of work no matter what the state of the economy was.

The business includes, among others, people whose jobs have disappeared from under them whether because of recession or because of technological change. It is these the nation cannot afford to let become unemployable.

For their part, some labor leaders have come up with nothing better than urging a 35-hour work week. While this may be a stopgap measure during a recession, it would, in the long run, mean the loss of automation all the more. Manufacturers would naturally seek ways to overcome the loss of productivity which would result from having more men do less work. If they did not, they would have to raise prices.

Prosperity cannot be built with a plan that would only spread around available work; it is achieved by increasing the amount of work to be done - by opening up new industries and new areas of employment.

This is what has happened since the industrial revolution began in America. It is happening now. Millions of people are employed making products or performing services that were unknown 50 years ago.

For many older workers displaced by machines or stranded with skills no longer needed, the government's retraining and education programs around the country are helping make their period of unemployment one of preparation, not desperation. Industries and unions also conduct similar retraining schools.

For teenagers who find a blank wall facing them after they leave school, the need is not for retraining but for the right training in the first place. Knowledge and skills, not muscles and availability, are the basic requirements for fruitful employment today.

Unemployment is a challenge to everyone, from grade school teachers to senior senators. The challenge is being met. The question is whether it is being met fast enough.

Shifts In Season

It is trading time in baseball. Big League managers are buying new players and shifting old ones to new spots. President Kennedy has been doing the same with his administration team.

When he promoted Secretary of Labor Goldberg to the Supreme Court, Kennedy moved Goldberg's backstop. Undersecretary Willard Wirtz, to Cabinet position. Early indications are that the new Secretary is full of initiative and drive, and likely to prove a strong addition to the team.

Two new men have been brought into economic positions. Both are liberals. Stanley Rutenber, who will be assistant to Wirtz, comes from the job of research director of the AFL-CIO. Sen. Harry Byrd and men of Byrd's view seldom agree with the testimony on economic policies Rutenber gives before Congress.

The newest member of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, Prof. John Lewis of Indiana University, is probably to the left of even the liberal chairman of the Council, Dr. Walter Heller.

One of Lewis' pet theories is that the federal government should play a stronger role in wage and price decisions.

The President is shifting players and emphasis in the foreign aid field next year too. The tough job of foreign aid director has been down eight men in 12 years. And the job is not going to get easier. Last week the chairman of the committee that passes on appropriations for the AID agency, Rep. Otto Passman of Louisiana, returned from a foreign tour to announce that he was "totally disgusted" with AID operations - a friendly hello for the new head of the program, former Budget Director David Bell.

The President's choice of Bell to move into the foreign aid position - and his decision not to put Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver into that hot spot, as had been rumored - plus other hints - suggest a shift of Kennedy strategy in the fight against Communism. That shift would place more reliance on men than on money. The days of massive doses of foreign aid funds may be numbered.

The President provided a clue to his thinking at his latest press conference on Wednesday. In reply to a question about the value of Red trade boycotts, Kennedy listed "effective ways to stop the spread of communism." Those who "really want to do something . . . will assist the Alliance for Progress, for one thing," he said, "or they will encourage their children to join the Peace Corps, or . . . they will be generous to students who come to the United States to study and show them something of America. These are the things that really make a difference."

With Bell in charge, Kennedy can count on stronger pitching in the foreign aid department. Bell keeps a sharp eye on the dollar and has a reputation for efficient management.

By emphasizing a limited number of geographic areas, Kennedy and Bell might be able to mollify growing Congressional hostility to aid in general.

The parade of Latin American presidents through Washington - one visitor almost every week (last week Chile) - points to this hemisphere as their choice for priority area No. 1. Since Castro, the public and the Congress are receptive to doing something to head off spread of his influence. By agreeing to concentrate on the Alliance for Progress in Latin America, Kennedy might save more of his aid program than in any other way.

Meanwhile, the Administration is thinking up new forms of person-to-person aid to poorer countries to make up for sending less cash abroad, of course, is the most successful, and the most economical, U.S. overseas experiment to date. Peace Corps Director Shriver significantly was not assigned to try to save AID. Instead his staff is being built up and the Peace Corps role expanded.

Richard Goodwin, one of the bright young men Kennedy brought with him to the White House, will move over to Shriver's squad with the job of helping other countries organize Peace Corps of their own, thus spreading the work and the expense.

With the prospect of having to propose the nation's first $10 billion budget two years hence staring him in the face, Kennedy has a sharp eye out for bargains in the expense field of aid to other nations.

"Whatta Ya Read?"

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

What brings up one of the most dangerous problems in America. Scarcely a day goes by when you don't become the "reading crutch" for your children. Instead, testfully train them to like books and to become avid, skillful readers.

CASE 0-14: Eileen M., aged 25, is a school teacher.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my children are 8th graders. But most of them are poor readers. Despite the emphasis which we teachers place on good reading, I am wondering if the parents at home are doing their part to cooperate."

"When I ask my youngsters what they do at home, they tell me they watch television. Few of them read any books and very few have mothers who read stories to them."

"What will happen when Americans become so car-mind-ed that they ignore the printed page?"

As a rule, mobs are spurred onward by spoken words.

Whether it was a western "huckle" party for hanging a horse thief or a propagandist crowd in Pontius Pilate's courtroom or a vast group of Romans at the funeral of Caesar to hear Mars Antony, mobs are ear-minded.

By contrast, people who read, whether newspapers, magazines or books, are eye-minded.

And readers tend to be far more independent in their thinking.

Thus, readers are not easily regimented or stampeded by silver-tongued orators.

So we must emphasize better reading on the part of our children, not only for their educational sake, but as splendid insurance for the preservation of this Republic and those wonderful freedoms written in the Constitution.

Remember, too, that Prime Minister Gladstone of England described our Constitution over 100 years ago as "the greatest document ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man."

And Thomas Jefferson added: "Our peculiar security is in the possession of a written Constitution."

Jefferson emphasized that word "written," for our Constitution is not a mere bit of folklore, passed along by word of mouth.

Being "written," it demands that our children learn to read so they can fully appreciate this unique government.

And unique it is in the annals of mankind, for Daniel Webster says:

"We live under the only government that ever existed which was framed by the unrestrained and deliberate consultation of the people."

"Such a government, once gone, might leave a void to be filled for ages with revolution and tumult, riot and despotism."

If you have children for whom you wish to purchase appropriate gifts, then select BOOKS.

And when your pre-school youngsters ask you to tell them a story, suggest that you will READ them a story, thereby linking their pleasure with the printed page.

For when you TELL them stories, you become their crutch and they look to you instead of to the printed copy for entertainment.

After youngsters reach second grade, tactfully coax them into the reading habit.

And by the time they are fourth graders, be sure they have developed the library habit.

For readers go far in school. And they become our most independent thinkers, thus safeguarding America from mob hysteria created by silver-tongued orators.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The talk in the corridors at the mid-December NATO meeting in Paris is expected to be heavily charged with argument over the deployment and use of nuclear force.

And looking over this three-day session of foreign defense and finance ministers will be the pending shadow of French President Charles de Gaulle, a presence made more commanding by his recent triumphal election sweep.

The general is reportedly capable of surprises. His support of this country in the Cuba crisis could be other than what observers feel his strengthened personal independence is likely to make him more, rather than less, intractable in NATO affairs.

Officially, the Paris meeting shapes up as a stocktaking interlude. Barring last minute changes, the nuclear problem is not to be on the agenda — though on the minds of all.

Secretary of State Rusk and Secretary of Defense McNamara will make the principal United States talks. Secretary of the Treasury Dillon is not billed.

The United States, as it has so often in recent times, will urge again a marked step-up of NATO's conventional forces, toward the established NATO goals.

The Cuban crisis will be offered to underscore this need. Undersecretary of State George Ball struck this note before NATO parliamentarians a month ago in Paris. He suggested that our blockade-plus-negotiation demonstrated the wisdom of the "measured response" possible only through use of effective conventional force.

The government plans also to urge upon its NATO partners wider and fuller political consultation within the NATO framework.

The United States sees this as implementing the Atlantic partnership idea advanced by President Kennedy in Philadelphia on July 4.

Furthermore, American officials are pleased at the results of the freer transmission of nuclear and other information to other NATO members. This practice was initiated after the spring NATO meeting in Athens, where McNamara laid out relative East-West capabilities in the bluntest terms.

The Paris meeting will hear a triennial review of member's financial contributions and defense capabilities, with candid talk on relative burdens and ability to pay. We believe a prospering Western Europe can carry a bigger load.

Also due for presentation is a major report on the coordination for research and development efforts in sup-

Two More Get Away From Rock

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The myth of "invincible Alcatraz" (tarnished six months ago when three inmates escaped from the island prison in San Francisco Bay, was shattered a second time Sunday night when two convicts escaped from "The Rock."

Both men were captured in a matter of hours.

John Paul Scott, 35, a Kentucky bank robber, floated and swam three miles through the churning, rain-swept bay and landed on a rock under the Golden Gate Bridge.

Another bank robber, D. Lee Parker of Canton, Ohio, was captured 8 minutes later as he shivered on a rock outcropping known as "Little Alcatraz," only 100 yards off the main island.

But Scott, using a makeshift set of water wings including an inflated shirt and several pair of surgical gloves, made it to Fort Point, a Civil War era fortress directly under the bridge on the San Francisco side.

He was seen there by two unidentified boys who called the military police at the Presidio of San Francisco. A team of MPs and firemen captured the shivering, speechless convict. A spokesman at Letterman Army Hospital, where he was treated for exposure, said he had been in the water at least an hour and a half.

It was the first instance of a convict actually negotiating the cold, fast-moving bay and reaching shore in the 25 years Alcatraz has been a federal civilian prison.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolaki
B. P.!!!! That could mean Bowling Personified or you could interpret it (providing you're a mind reader, that is) to mean B as in Borsdorf and P as in Powell!

These two charming bowlers are perched away up on top of the highest scores turned in in league play here at Jet Lanes.

That's quite an honor considering all the many games rolled and the keen competition which exists locally.

In last week's column we were telling you that Dot Powell turned the trick for the women by rolling the highest three games series for women - 232, 215 & 209 for a scratch 656 series.

That happened during the bowling in the Thursday Night Mixed League.

Exactly four nights later, while tossing 'em in the Monday Night Peterson Singles League, Long Lean Bobby Borsdorf finally achieved one of his most cherished bowling dreams . . . he cracked through the 700 barrier.

Bobby exploded with a 214 for his first effort and then really struck-out (this time that means it's good) by amassing games of 257 and another 237 to total 725.

That's the highest sanctioned series ever turned in here at Jet Lanes.

As a result of this superlative bowling, both Dot and Bobby will step into the receiving line, headed by genial George Touhy of the First Federal Savings & Loan Assn., to receive individual trophies commemorating this wonderful occasion.

The kids from the Saturday morning Junior Bowling League and their coach, Al DePalma, are eagerly looking forward to this coming Saturday when the first half of their regular bowling season is concluded and (more importantly, this time) A SPECIAL CHRISTMAS PARTY!

We'll have lots of little goodies for these youngsters and only wish that more of their type took part in this rewarding sport. We're certainly not one to "commercialize" (Hal Hal) but seriously, just come on down and see the caliber of boys and girls who are active leaders in our two leagues.

More programs like these certainly would put an immediate end to that bugaboo "juvenile delinquency." (Rumors have it that one of the city organizations is going to start actively promoting a Roller Skating League and another Junior Bowling League.) Just give us the word and you'll get service the likes of which you've not ever had before, gentlemen.

Next Saturday, our Buntams and Juniors will be holding forth in their own Christmas Bowling Tournament. There'll be over 900 bowling trophies awarded nationally by the American Junior Bowling Congress. I'll betcha that a couple of 'em find their way into the Sanford area for presentation.

Oh, I'm real proud of my Wednesday morning "girl friends," the nurses from Seminoles Memorial Hospital.

In their own little two-team league, they've started to turn in some fine scores. Consider the fact that many of them had never been inside a bowling establishment more than three or four months ago.

Bowling for the Pains, Jordan had a 143, Stanley 140, Winship 132, and for the Aches, Knollinger's 123, Burtch 148, Lubits 127, Holt 110 and Smitty's 144. That's the way to roll 'em, gals!

Betty Smith finally unleashed that Strike Ball of hers as she capped series and high game honors in the Jet Bowlerettes League with a 206/530 series.

Say, if you think that some of those nicknames we've invented don't stick, guess again.

As an example, when we say "Bernuda Shorts" what comes to your mind? Charley Petherbridge, of course.

So help me, that's the way the information was turned in on last week's action in the Kegler's League. Hi series went to Bernuda Shorts with a 590 set. Five-ninety!!!! From our boy, Charley O. K. If you keep shooting games that high we'll let you continue to wear those Bermudas into the lanes. (I mean how egotistical can you get? So, it is 18 degrees outside. . . . You think that stopped him from wearing 'em? Hal)

The only thing I'll say, Charlie is you just wait and see those three lovely lassies who bowl for the Betty Ann's team in the scratch league. You just wait until they show up on the scene with their green wigs, green shirts, green bowling balls, (sounds rather revolting doesn't it?)

For your information, we will open at 4 p. m. on Christmas Day! Merry Christmas!

By JACK TRIM
Governor Bryant will be in Sanford Jan. 19, but he won't go shad fishing.

He was invited, though, and his refusal of the invitation revealed that he hasn't had time for any fishing since he became governor. The rigors of politics are stern, but that seems too great a penalty to pay.

Jim Crowe read in The Herald while back that the governor was to speak here and wrote to invite him to try the shad fishing. Bryant wrote back, in part:

"The joys of shad fishing have not escaped me and I am turning over your letter to the Development Commission for their information."

Of course, Crowe had advised the governor of some of the latest statistics on shad fishing as a tourist attraction and hinted that perhaps the state might do a little more about including Seminole

County in its public relations program "up north."

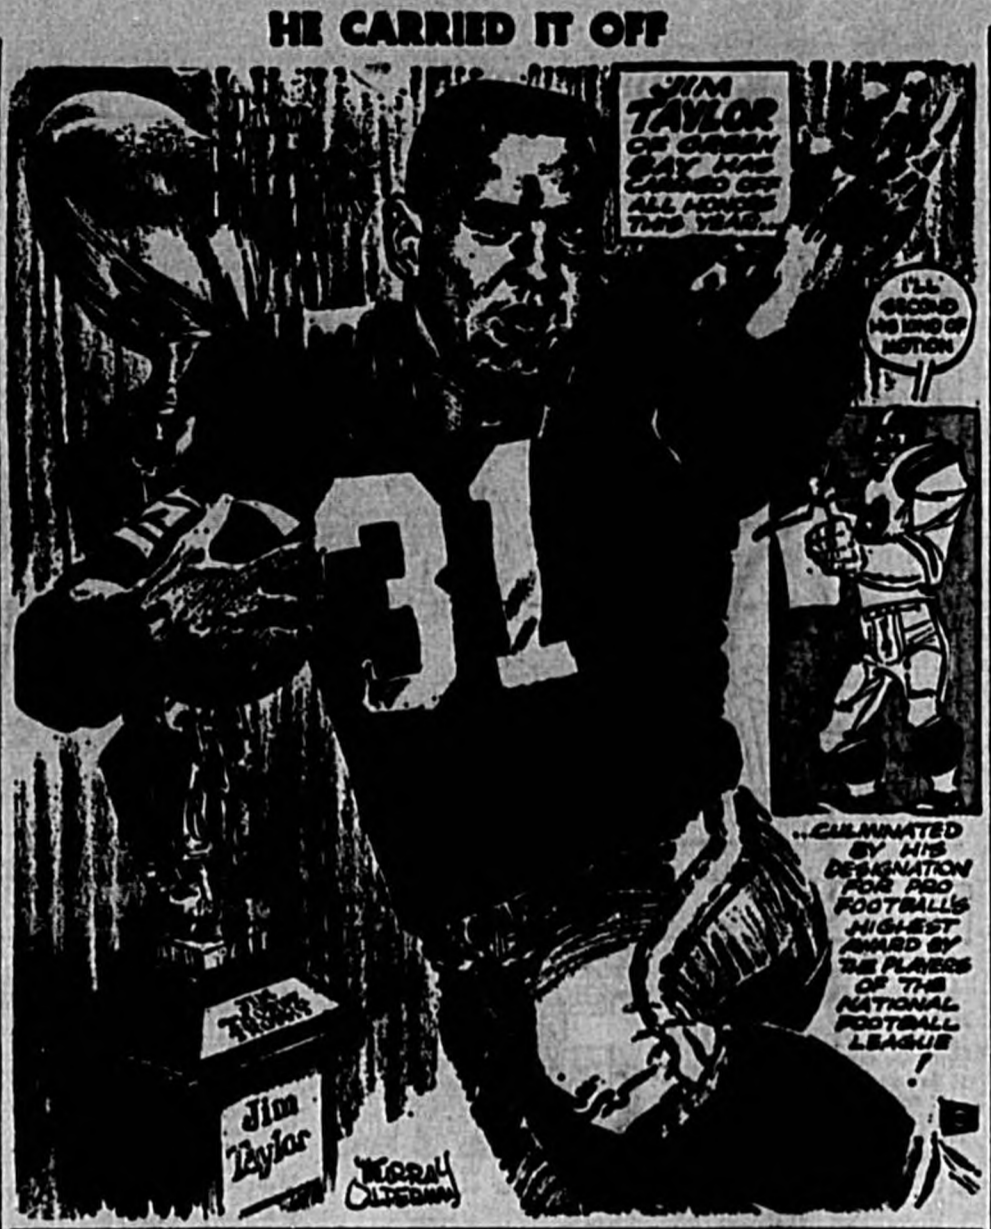

I went through one of the newest and fattest Development Commission publications and didn't find our county mentioned at all.

The one I'm talking about is the new package plan vacation guide they put out in gorgeous technicolor, with hoopla aplenty.

They tell about the vacation possibilities at Ruskin (you know where Ruskin is), describe the fishing at Crescent City and other minor places and still fail to mention any recreational or vacation place in Seminole County.

Maybe the governor better take time to try our shad fishing - and bring along the chairman of the Development Commission - and maybe invite some of our local wheels who apparently think that fishing and recreation are for lazy people who don't spend any money.

Koufax, Drysdale Top Hurlers

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Southpaw Sandy Koufax and right-hander Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers performed the niftiest two-man haul of the year today when they walked off with practically all of the National League's pitching honors for 1952.

Koufax, who looked like a cinch to break his own league modern strikeout record until he came up with a finger injury in July, compiled a 2.54 earned run average that was by far the best in the circuit.

And Drysdale not only won the most games, 25, but also started the most, 41, pitched the most innings, 314, faced the most batters, 1,299, and led the league with 232 strikeouts.

Official averages released at NL headquarters here revealed that despite the individual brilliance of Koufax and Drysdale, the Pittsburgh Pirates finished first in team pitching with a 3.38 earned run average. The St. Louis Cardinals were second with 3.35 and the Dodgers third with 3.61.

Koufax, out of action for almost two months, still struck out 216 batters while posting a 16-7 record. Last year he struck out 298 batters to break Christy Mathewson's NL strikeout record of 267. Bob Feller of Cleveland established the all-time strikeout mark with 348 in 1946.

Bob Shaw of Milwaukee was runner-up to Koufax in the ERA department with 2.90 while Bob Purkey of Cincinnati was third with 2.81, Drysdale fourth with 2.84, and Bob Gibson of St. Louis fifth with 2.85.

Purkey, with a 23-5 record, had the best won-lost percentage in the league, .821, and veteran Warren Spahn of Milwaukee pitched the most complete games for the sixth year in a row, 22, although he failed to win 20 games for the first time since 1953. The 41-year-old Spahn won 18 and lost 14 and his earned run mark of 3.04 was eighth best in the league.

Ron Ferranoski of the Dodgers appeared in the most games, 70, and Pittsburgh reliever Roy Face finished the most games, 57.

Jay Hook of the New York Mets yielded the most runs, 137, and rookie Jack Hamilton of the Phillies issued the most wild pitches, 22. Hamilton's teammate, Art Mahaffey gave up the most homers, 36.

Bob Friend of the Pirates and Gibson each hurled five shutouts to tie for the lead in that category.

The only other 20-game winners besides Drysdale and Purkey were Jack Sanford of the Giants, who won 24 games and lost 7, and Joey Jay of the Reds, who had a 21-14 record.

Sanford put together the league's longest winning streak when he won 18 in a row from June 17 through

Two Games Set Tonight

Two Seminole County basketball squads will be in action tonight.

The Orlando Lions play Hovey Academy at Orlando and the Lions will be out to win again after dropping their last game to Sanford. Lyman's Greyhounds take the floor against Klamath in the other contest.

Sweeney's Halts Record Holders

"How the mighty have fallen!" Returning to action in the City League after toppling the record of high scratch team series just one week ago, Lake Monroe Inn ran smack into a dead end, personified by the obviously unimpressed Sweeney quintet.

Inspired by Dorman's 218/568 series, his highest to date, Sweeney's fabled Lake Monroe Inn with a clean sweep of their match. Although the Inn-men rolled their lowest series of the season, they would have had to bowl over average to take anything from Sweeney's who came up with their second highest series to date. Marcotte had the only other 300 plus game in the match, rolling a 211 in his second game.

Taking full advantage of this development, league leaders Jet Lanes opened their lead to 9 full points over the hapless Lake Monroe five by taking 4 points from Buddy's Auto. Behrens became the new leader for Jet Lanes, rolling a fine 238/698 series, both being high for league action that night. Spolaki's 201 and Borsdorf's 212 gave an assist while MacIntyre's 235 and Von Herbulis' 225 were high for the losers.

Engle's found tough going against Sanford Mfg. Co. and only managed to salvage 1 point. Tamm rolled games of 300 and 207 in a winning cause for the Manufacturers, although the very presence of "Captain Curly" this week must have been a decided asset. Estridge succeeded in hitting of an even 200 for Engle's.

Another clean sweep was registered by Team No. 1 over B & W Marine Service, who are still having difficulty fielding a complete team every week. Schuttet and Ring entered the 200 circle with 200 and 208 respectively.

Lorenzo was his partner in the 11th, both displaying a performance that will long be remembered by pulling from behind with spectacular plays for four straight points and then clinching the victory on the next turn with three points.

Gasti Celebrates With 3 Wins

Gasti had a lot to shout about Monday night, winning three out of four games at the Orlando - Seminole Jai Alai Fronton.

The wins were for Raffal Vincenzo, a bouncing 10 pound four ounce baby boy born Sunday at the Winter Park Memorial Hospital.

Giants Head Roster For Pro Grid Star Bowl Competition Jan. 13

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — An eight-man delegation from the New York Giants will bulwark the Eastern Conference All-Stars against a team from the Western Division in the 12th annual National Football League's Pro Bowl here Jan. 13.

The squad selected by seven head coaches of the Eastern Division was announced Monday by co-directors of the charity clash, Glenn Davis and Dave Branman.

The 32-man Eastern team had six players from the Cleveland Browns and five from the St. Louis Cards, late-season surprise of the NFL. Dallas picked up a fifth man when Eddie LeBaron of the Cowboys replaced Norm Sneed of Washington who suffered a shoulder separation and will be unavailable for relief quarterback duties.

The top signal-calling spot went to the veteran Y. A. Title of the Giants who will have his favorite passing target, Del Shofner, to receive his throws. Other Giants on the Eastern team were tackle Roosevelt Brown, center Ray Wietecha and guard Darrell Dees on the offensive unit. Giants on the defensive squad were Jim Katsavage, Erich Barnes and Jim Patton.

U.S. Red Leaders Next Target

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department, notified by a speedy jury conviction of the Communist party of the United States, today sought an early trial for the party's chief leaders, Gus Hall and Benjamin Davis.

A federal court jury deliberated only 35 minutes Monday before finding the party guilty of 15 counts of failing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union. Judge Alexander Holtzclaw immediately fined the organization $120,000, the maximum punishment provided under the 1950 McCarran Act.

Collection of the fine, however, will be held in abeyance pending an appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Thomas K. Hall, executive assistant for the Justice Department's internal security division, said the government was now ready to proceed with prosecution of Hall and Davis, general and national chairmen of the party. Both have been indicted for failure to register as officers of a Communist-aided organization.

"We have asked the court to set trial dates as soon as possible but have not been informed when that will be," the Justice Department official said.

Under the 1950 law if an organization found by the Subversive Activities Control Board to be dominated and controlled by the world-wide Communist movement fails to register, then responsibility falls to its officers and then to its members.

In addition to Hall and Davis, the Justice Department said today registration petitions would be filed at an early date against a number of other members.

Party attorneys John Ahl and Joseph Forer said they would seek an immediate appeal of Monday's conviction, partly on the ground that any registration attempt would amount to self-incrimination in violation of the Fifth Amendment.

A special centerpiece on the table was a huge cookie baked in the shape of a Christmas tree by Miss Linda King, daughter of the president of the auxiliary, Mrs. W. J. King.

In the business meeting which preceded the party, members heard reports on the Mid-Winter Conference of the Auxiliary which was held in Tampa. Reporting delegates were Mrs. Joel Field and Mrs. John McCloskey.

Membership rolls for the year have now reached 119 percent and the unit has received a citation for passing the 100 per cent goal. Mrs. Charles Webster, membership chairman reported. Mrs. Bea Newsom told members that the recent bake sale was successful.

Present for the event were Mrs. Jerry Farrel, Mrs. John P. Ferro, Mrs. Bea Newsom, Mrs. David R. Emily, Miss Linda King, Mrs. Joel Field, Mrs. Eva Wynne, Miss Hazel Stiles, Mrs. D. J. Class Of 1952 Plans Reunion

The Seminole High School graduating class of 1952 is planning a 10-year class reunion to be held at Spencer's Restaurant Saturday at 7 p. m. Gerald Covington, reunion chairman said today.

"We still lack contact with several members of our class and ask that any one knowing the whereabouts of the following persons contact Fred Wilson at Wilson-Maier Furniture Co.:

Altamonte Sets Annual Party

Little Red Schoolhouse Growth Outlined By Leaders Of Group

The progress of the Little Red Schoolhouse over the last three years was outlined by Mrs. Frank Huhn for members of the School Food Services Assn.

The address was presented at the December meeting and Yule party of the association held at the Longwood School.

Mrs. Huhn, who has been one of the pioneer supporters and workers of the school for mentally retarded children, was accompanied by Mrs. Ann Karns, who is also active in the growth of the school.

"From one room in a church, we have progressed to the present Little Red Schoolhouse, an old building, the use of which is given to us by the county school board," Mrs. Huhn said.

The budget for this year has been set at $5,000. Mrs. Huhn told members of the association and support is entirely through the donations of individuals and charitable organizations.

A paid teacher is in charge of the school now and the group of children varies from five to 13 years of age, with a waiting list of several more children pointing up the need for further expansion.

"These children can be taught a good many things, but they must be taught individually, because each has special problems," she pointed out. "They go to school three hours daily, and have the same vacation periods as children in public schools."

Last summer, the children were able to take advantage of a six-week craft course, emphasizing the use of the hands, and drawing on the creative and manual ability of the children.

Many local civic groups and organizations contribute funds, materials and labor to keep the school going, Mrs. Huhn said. Navy officers wives clubs furnish bread and milk for the children at their milk break each morning. Many mothers help out with the care and teaching of the children and "we always have something to sell, to try to raise money for the support of the organization," she added.

There is immediate need for another room and another teacher to care for the children on the waiting list who need the training and teaching, representatives of the supporting organization said.

Mrs. Huhn and Mrs. Karns are both officials of the Seminole Association for Retarded Children, the governing and administrative body of the school.

School facilities are not adequate to help children over 16 years of age, and a shelter and workshop needs to be organized for them, it was pointed out.

At the Christmas party following the program, a gift of funds was presented to the school by the members of the School Food Services Assn.

The devotional was presented by Mrs. Minnie Harrison and Miss June Rascom led the singing of Christmas Carols.

Church Plans Annual Program In Enterprise

By Helen Backgros

The Barnett Memorial Methodist Church of Enterprise will hold its annual Christmas Tree Party and program Thursday beginning with a covered dish supper at 6 p. m.

Those planning to attend are also asked to bring table service for each member in their family group.

The film, "The Littlest Angel" will be shown and a program will be presented under direction of Mrs. Frank Winkler assisted by Mrs. Allen Sain after which Santa Claus will visit with goodies for all the children.

Rev. Fred Foster, pastor of the church, emphasizes that the party is for all families in the community whether or not they are members of his congregation. The minister has advised that particularly would like all children of the area to attend and join in the festivities.

A CONVERSATION WITH BILL BUSH.
Reporter: What's the big road project for next year?
Bush: (Smiling and raising a fist to the sky) 25th St.!

We hear that Altamonte Springs will go to court next week to have their municipal revenue bonds for the new water system validated. It'll be up to the State's Attorney, Arthur Stead, to prove to the court that the improvement isn't desirable, and Joe Davis to prove it is. It ought to be a jolly affair.

Wonder if the "Idlewild of Central Florida" idea for McCoy AFB will do anything to hurt an airport for Seminole County? Or is it Sanford, now? Talking to Merle Werner late this afternoon, and he says anything is say on the subject.

Orlando's Bill McCree, chairman of the State Canal Authority, speaking at the Winter Park meeting of the Waterways Assn., accused the railroads of pushing the idea that the canal system will ruin the state's water supply. "That so, says he, and the group fervently agreed."

We forgot to mention the other day, that the truck that brought the 33,000 pounds of beans to HLB Products parked in front of the office out there and promptly sank up to its hubs in the soft sand. Took a bull dozer to get it out.

Passat—Don't tell a soul, but Santa is paying a surprise visit to the Little Giant Food Store tonight from 6 to 9 p.m. The store, managed by Jim Buckley, is at 2305 S. French. Jim didn't know if Santa was coming by A-1 helicopter or what, but he was notified this morning the jolly gent will be there tonight.

A lot of Casselberry property owners are worried about the zoning question out there. They are afraid of what an R1-A or R1-AA will do to their county taxes. One put it this way: "When the assessor sees that, her nose twitches, her ears wiggle and she sees great big dollar signs!"

It'll be a long drawn out session at the Casselberry meeting tonight, if everybody comes with complaints that says they're going to. The road to zoning looks like a rocky one.

If you see a strangely familiar face around town for the next couple of days, don't flip, it's who you think it is... famous emcee Don McNeil of the Breakfast Club.

McNeil told us he would be broadcasting live, direct from the new Mackle Development in Deltona, and it ought to sound mighty good to folks up Chicago way.

Anybody got any office furnishings they are not using? Particularly a filing cabinet? The Juvenile Council now has an office with Mrs. D. M. Ladd serving as secretary, but it's just a bare room. Call Mrs. Angel, council president, if you can help.

'I'LL BE HOME FOR CHRISTMAS,' is the theme of Jerry W. Hook, of Sanford, presently deployed aboard the USS Forrestal with VAH-5 in the Mediterranean. Hook was one of four men aboard the ship who won trips home for the holiday in a contest based on contributions to the United Fund drive. He is shown giving his lucky ticket to Cdr. J. S. Kenyon, Forrestal executive officer.

Santa Surveys Sanford

De-da-da-da-da, de-da-da-da... yep, you guessed it, Santa Claus is coming to town. He'll be at the old post office building Friday morning to meet the kids, and we understand he will look the place over as a possible Florida headquarters. This visit has been specially arranged by the downtown merchants and they are anxious to have a good welcome rolled out for the famous winter tourist, who travels by sleigh, whether to Florida or New England.

Be on hand, kids, this is your chance to meet St. Nick and get a good lick in for those toys you're always wanted.

On Friday Santa will be in front of the post office between the hours of 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. and 8 p. m.

On Saturday, he will be downtown from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 3 to 8:30 p. m. Monday he will be on hand from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Stores in the downtown shopping section will be open again tonight until 9 p. m. for those getting caught in the last minute Christmas rush.

Missiles, Congo Top Agenda As Kennedy, Macmillan Confer

NASSAU (UPI) — President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan faced up today to word-per-spic examination of U. S.-British differences over the Skybolt missile and a threatened new crisis in the Congo.

The British knew before coming to Nassau that the United States had decided to drop its end of the highly expensive program to develop the 1,000-mile air-to-ground Skybolt missile.

What Macmillan was believed to be seeking here was a solid indication of what the United States is willing to do to fill the gap in Britain's nuclear deterrent that will be caused by Skybolt's loss.

The United States is expected to make some sort of concession but American officials said flatly Kennedy had made a final decision not to pour further U. S. millions into Skybolt.

The grave U. S. view of possible Soviet intervention in the Congo appeared to be the newest element injected by Kennedy into the meeting.

Shortly after the president arrived and received a warm airport welcome from Macmillan and Bahamian officials, American sources disclosed that a high level U. S. military mission had been ordered to the Congo for a fast survey of United Nations and Congolese defense forces.

American officials reported the Congo is becoming an increasingly tempting target for Soviet ambitions. According to these sources the failure of efforts to integrate mineral-rich Katanga Province into the rest of the Congo is shaking the central government of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

The United States is particularly interested in recent indications that the Soviet Union wants to be invited to intervene in the Congo—an invitation that might be forthcoming from the future Congo regime if the Adoula government should fall.

A change in the Seminole High basketball schedule has resulted in a game tonight at Titusville, previously beaten by the local courtneers.

Fasula Says No Funds On Hand

North Orlando Mayor Frank Fasula said today there was no money in the municipal coffers to pay for an audit of the town books, now being pushed by councilman and treasurer, Woodrow W. Anderson.

Fasula says he anticipates a motion to have the books audited at the next council meeting Jan. 8 at the town hall.

Frank Watkins of Seminole Bookkeeping Service, who prepared the books for the village, said the other day his $493 bill for the preparation has not been paid and he is going to institute action to force payment in the near future.

The need for an audit was indicated by Assistant State Auditor George Warner on a recent visit ordered by Governor Bryant in response to a petition sent to Tallahassee signed by property owners in the town.

Warner said then that he had no indication of the cost of such an audit, and would make no estimates until requested to do so by the town council.

However, it was previously estimated that a check of the town books by a certified public accounting firm would cost in the neighborhood of $400 to $500, which Mayor Fasula says the town doesn't have available.

'Loud' Commercials Target Of Survey

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Communications Commission, in response to a deluge of complaints, will investigate "irritatingly loud" television commercials.

The agency Tuesday appealed to broadcasters to listen for themselves and to eliminate any practices which might contribute to "annoyingly loud" advertisements. It said it's been telling everyone within earshot that he hears the noise level rise on commercials.

"Complaints have been coming in by dribbles for years," one FCC official said. "But recently they have multiplied. Maybe it's because Chairman Minow has been telling everyone within earshot that he hears the noise level rise on commercials."

FCC Chairman Newton N. Minow has said his sensitive ears have noticed that commercials seem to sound louder than the programs," although his engineers can't detect the difference on their monitoring devices.

Minow said he wanted the volume of commercials limited to the volume of adjacent program material.

The FCC voted unanimously to investigate the situation despite the fact that past inquiries "have generally revealed that no violations of commission rules, such as overmodulation, for example, were involved as the cause of loudness of which listeners complained."

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.), one of several members of Congress who passed on complaints to the FCC from their constituents, said he hoped the commission would "bring this public nuisance to an end."

Case cited the protest of one parent who said that loud commercials not only woke up his baby, but also one in the next apartment.

Prisoner Deal Okay Near; Ransom Goods Are Loaded

HAVANA (UPI) — Negotiations for the ransom release of 1,118 Cuban invasion prisoners were reported today to be on the verge of a successful conclusion.

A source close to the negotiators headed by New York attorney James B. Donovan said "we are awaiting an answer this afternoon," presumably from Fidel Castro. It was understood the only hitch to announcement of a successful end to the talks was government verification that Donovan's list of foodstuffs and medicines conformed to Castro's ransom demand as outlined previously.

Donovan was expected to meet again with Castro to iron out the last details of the prisoner swap.

The maritime trades department of the AFL-CIO said today the African Pilot will sail from Miami either Friday night or Saturday morning with goods to be exchanged in Havana for Cuban prisoners.

A spokesman for the union said the time of sailing was set during a conference at the Justice Department today.

He said the conference was called to workout details of the shipment of goods to be exchanged for the prisoners held by Fidel Castro.

The maritime trades department, he said, agreed to donate the labor needed to transport the goods to Havana. He estimated the monetary value of this labor at $15,000.

The spokesman said the trip to Havana would take only a few hours. The cargo would consist mainly of baby foods and medicine, he said.

The ship is being loaded at Fort Lauderdale, he said.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Louis F. Oberdorfer of the tax division represented the Justice Department in the conference. Relatives of the prisoners hoped that, if a settlement is agreed on today, the captured invaders might be free by Christmas.

Through the day Tuesday, huge freight planes roared into the Miami airport loaded with medicine and foodstuffs to be used in ransoming the prisoners. At least 40 tons of supplies were landed. Another 210 tons is being shipped in by road.

Drugs, air and truck transportation are being donated free by the companies concerned as a "humanitarian act... in the U. S. national interest."

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — An unwed mother of five children who told a probation officer "I'll have as many children as I want" faced the possibility today of having her children taken away from her.

She told a probation officer, "I'll have as many children as I want, and the county will support me and nobody will do anything about it."

If the children are taken from her custody, they will be placed in a foster home and Miss Wainwright could be charged for their care. She now receives $236 a month in welfare payments.

29 Killed In Mass Prison Break Try

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Guards crushed an attempted mass break from the Villa Devoto jail early today after 12 hours of rioting in which 29 persons were killed and four wounded. Infuriated guards killed four escape ring-leaders in violation of a "truce agreement."

The enraged wardens shouted down their superiors trying to keep them from storming cell tiers, and used tommyguns to cold bloodedly shoot down four ring-leaders who had earlier executed guards held as hostages.

Prisoners killed guards at frequent intervals to "dramatize" their demands. The bodies of two were thrown out into the prison courtyard from a second floor window. Cries of "we will kill them all" were heard over an open telephone line.

Mackles Reveal New Negotiations

Deltona development received a financial shot-in-the-arm Monday when directors of C. K. P. Developments Inc. and Mackle Bros. Inc. voted to consider a plan whereby C. K. P. will acquire Mackle Bros. Inc. through an exchange of stock.

Officials said today that the move will add the substantial backing of the development company and increase the development pace of the 12,000-acre of land located in Volusia County north of Sanford.

It is expected that the contract will be signed within a week. The exchange will be made subject to approval of C. K. P. Developments shareholders.

It is planned that a special meeting of C. K. P. Developments shareholders will be called as soon as practicable.

Under the plan, C. K. P. Developments would exchange 250,000 shares of its common stock for all stock of Mackle Bros. Inc.

Elliott, Frank and Robert Mackle, owners of Mackle Bros. Inc., would take over active management of C. K. P. Developments under the plan, together with Norman K. Winston, present board chairman and president of C. K. P. Developments, and Stanton D. Sanson, vice chairman.

Officials Get Briefing On Jet Port Efforts

Orlando officials made a hard pitch to officers of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon on behalf of support for a Central Florida Jetport to serve the Southeast with jet service to world points.

The meeting was requested by the chamber officials so they could be briefed on the subject and learn its possible effect on the local airport picture and to provide a basis for consideration of a resolution backing the project.

Deas called a meeting of the chamber executive committee for this afternoon to discuss the resolution of support for the Orlando Jetport effort.

Making the trip were chamber president Richard Deas, executive committee member Clifford McKibbin, airport committee chairman Merle Warner and manager John Krider. The pitch for the Orlando project was made by Mayor Hubert Carr and aviation director W. B. McLean.

The Orlando group hopes that the complete support of all Central Florida counties can be acquired for the project, in order to stave off the establishment of such an installation in the Melbourne-Eau Gallie or Titusville-Cocoa area. It was maintained by Mayor Carr that there wouldn't be sufficient traffic originating on the central east coast to warrant a large jet facility there.

It was pointed out by McLean that the ultimate development of the Jetport depends on the eventual phasing out of $150 million McCoy facility as a B-52 base, but there is nothing definite on that yet, he said.

If it happens, then the dream is that McCoy will become a local Idlewild, to serve all the southeastern states with overseas flights. It was pointed out that at present, if a Floridian wishes to make a flight to Europe he must go to New York for his transportation.

Polaris Soars To New Success

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A Navy Polaris missile soared across the Atlantic Ocean before dawn today in a successful test of the smallest inertial guidance system ever built for a U. S. military rocket.

The bottle-shaped Polaris, modified especially for the test, roared from its launching pad at 2:33 a. m. Within 20 minutes, the nose cone landed squarely on target more than 1,200 miles away.

The Polaris was an earlier A3 model carrying the guidance system built for the longer range A3 version now undergoing test flights at the Atlantic missile range.

The lightweight steering system is a key to the increased range of nearly 2,900 miles claimed by the A-3. The Polaris rockets now operational are limited to 1,375 miles and 1,725 miles.

The guidance package is the smallest and lightest now in use in America's growing family of ballistic missiles. It is about one-third the size and weight of earlier systems used on the Polaris.

Mona Lisa Gets Air Conditioning

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mona Lisa, the fragile beauty of the old world, arrived in the new world today.

Leonardo da Vinci's 16th century painting completed its first Atlantic crossing aboard the French Lines' France to begin a tour of museums in Washington and New York. It was placed in a heavily guarded, air-conditioned truck for the first leg of its journey.

The Louvre Museum's chief treasure is on loan from the French government until the end of February for display at the National Gallery in Washington and at the Metropolitan Museum here for three weeks each.
