Dulles Visit To Spain May Be Big Evolution In Defense Plan

By CHARLES H. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The visit of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to Spain may be a big development in the new plans for European defense.

It could turn out to be secondary in importance only to the Paris meeting itself. Spain is not a member of the NATO alliance. But it is closely, if indirectly, tied in with NATO. That is because of the seldom mentioned fact that under an agreement with Franco, the United States is building a network of air, naval and supply bases all over the country.

Dulles, France "Consult" The official announcement of Dulles' visit, first issued in Madrid, said that the visit was being made at Franco's invitation. Dulles will "consult" with Franco, Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella and other officials, it was said. Dulles naturally will give Franco a full report of the NATO meeting which ends today, including the agreement in principle of Western European countries to the establishment of nuclear missile bases on their territory. It is an agreement in principle, rather than of fact, because the question of equipping the bases with missiles is still to be negotiated between the United States and the individual countries concerned. As has been made plain in Paris, some of these countries do not want the missiles. Dulles may sound out Franco on the possibility of setting up missile bases in Spain. If he does, it is not only possible but probable that Franco would agree to consider the suggestion favorably. France called "Totalitarian" Spain never has been invited to join NATO because some European allies, still mindful of the Spanish Civil War, object to Franco's regime as "totalitarian." That may be. But Franco also is a bitter enemy of Communism. And his country, protected by the grim Pyrenees Mountains, would be the last bulwark of defense if Russia's Red army swept over Western Europe. Franco has intimated that he would join NATO if all of its present 15 members asked him to. The fear of Russian Communist aggression is pretty nearly as serious now as it was when NATO was formed in 1949. Russia's successes with its Sputnik earth satellite and its intercontinental ballistic missile have radically changed the European defense picture.

It seems quite possible that those Allied countries which have objected to Franco's regime might have some second thoughts about him now. That Spain would strengthen NATO is unquestionable. It would be the first step in pulling Spain into the

PRESIDENT "HOMESICK" HE TELLS TROOP'S—President Eisenhower (right), visiting Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe, told assembled officers and enlisted men, "I have a special kind of homesickness—one that afflicts the aged and the young—homesickness." The Chief Executive, in Paris for the summit conference of North Atlantic Treaty Organization representatives, visited his last military command, SHAPE headquarters at Rocquencourt, France. (UP Telephone)

NATO Allies To Attempt New Talks With Russia

PARIS (UP)—President Eisenhower and the 11 other NATO chiefs concluded today their historic summit conference with an agreement to seek missile-age peace through fresh disarmament talks with Russia and to insure it by arming Western Europe with nuclear missiles.

President Eisenhower said he thought the decisions reached here made "war less likely, peace more sure." The President said he also felt that the four-day meeting had made for a "stronger North Atlantic alliance."

In the closing phases of the final NATO council meeting in the Palais de Chaillot, Eisenhower said he recognized there were certain differences of detail among the 15 member states that could not be "summoned completely."

four-day conference included an American offer to share with its allies the technical know-how of 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile production. The decision to strengthen the western nations against the threat of aggression through IRBM's and nuclear warheads was blamed on Russia which "persisted" in arming itself with "the most modern and destructive weapons, including missiles of all kinds."

Shinholser Gives Annual Kiwanis Presidents Report

"Once each year you have the opportunity to take an inward look at the real meaning of Kiwanis," Edwin Shinholser, Sanford Kiwanis Club president, told the local Kiwanis Club yesterday. Shinholser gave the president's annual report on Kiwanis Club activities which he called "what you are and what you have done." "You are 83 men blended together into one service club—a smoothly operating machine whose product is community service," he said. The Kiwanis Club president divided his report into two phases with the first being that of the committees. Those committees he named were: the house, reception, sunshine, attendance, historical, membership and classification, program, music and elections. "These hold the machine together and make it run," he said. The producing end of the machine, said Shinholser, are the activities committees and from a lengthy list of club accomplishments he read the activities of each committee for 1957. Committees in the activities list included the boys and girls committee, Boy Scouts, Marianna plan, Key Club, underprivileged children, vocational guidance, agriculture, public and business affairs, support of churches, Interclub, Kiwanis education, projects, and public relations. "All of this has been what you are and what you have done," said Shinholser as he made his end-of-the-year report. Jack Tharpe, a club member, told Shinholser "When I listen to reports such as this one I am proud to be a Kiwanian." The Sanford Kiwanis Club, for the next two weeks, will meet on Friday instead of the customary Wednesday, because of the holidays.

Reservations Being Made For Elk's Ball Saturday

"Reservations are now being made for the Annual Elk's Charity Ball on Saturday night," Dick Mapes, this year's chairman for the event, said yesterday. "We have mailed out more than 850 invitations," said Mapes, "but we hope that everyone, whether they have received an invitation or not, will take advantage of the gayest event of the pre-Christmas season and attend." Reservations are being made with E. J. Moughton Jr. at his downtown office. Stated to furnish the music for entertainment and dancing is Tony Perez and his Country Club Orchestra with dancing starting at 9 o'clock Saturday evening and continuing until 1 o'clock. "This is our big charity fund event," Dick Mapes commented today. "Proceeds from the annual Elk's Charity Ball go to the Elk's Club Charity fund," he said. From these funds the annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children on Christmas Eve is given and financed. Also benefiting from the fund is the Harryanna Crippled Children Home in Umattila. "The Annual Elk's Charity Ball gives everyone an opportunity to enjoy one of the top social events of the pre-Christmas season and at the same time help contribute to many of the worthy charitable projects undertaken by the local Elk's Club," Mapes said today.

President Flies Back To Washington Today

PARIS (UP)—President Eisenhower flew home to Washington tonight happy with the results of the historic NATO summit conference. Much of its success was due to his presence and to his enormous personal prestige in Europe. The President left Paris aboard his plane, Columbine III, for the overnight transatlantic hop. The plane was scheduled to land in Washington early Friday morning. The President closed the final session of the four-day NATO meeting with a request that the other chiefs and their staffs pause with him for 30 seconds of silence "in the hope that our work has not been in vain." His own presence had done much to dispel the gloom that enveloped Western Europe on the heels of Soviet missile and satellite successes.

Tornadoes Leave Ten Dead In Path

Murphyboro, Ill., injured more than 50 persons, two of them critically. Communication lines were knocked out and power lines were down. Shortly after midnight, a United Press reporter on the scene said the fires still were smoldering and the only lights against the pitch-black sky were the torches of rescue workers probing the rubble. Floyd Hart, a pharmacist, said lack of power hampered rescue work. "There must have been 200 homes hit," Hart said, "but it's dark and we can't see a thing, we can't tell for sure if there are any more dead or injured." Emergency Measures St. Andrew's Hospital admitted 9 of the most seriously injured, and 42 other dazed and walking injured received first aid treatment in the hospital gymnasium. Nuns at the hospital handed stoked furnaces. Nineteen other seriously injured persons were sent to Doctor's Hospital at nearby Carbondale. Drinking water was being shipped into Murphyboro. The Red Cross and Salvation Army set up aid stations for the homeless. Hardest hit by the rash of nearly 25 twisters was this small southern Illinois city of 9,200 where at least 8 persons were killed, 4 from one family. The Library Council enjoyed a delightful Christmas party last Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Ann Allen.
Of course, the theme of the party was "Christmas". Games were played and the contests were enjoyed immensely. Annette Wolfe and Margery Stevenson came out ahead as the winners of the prizes. During the evening, refreshments were served, consisting of canapes, hot chocolate, fruit cake, and other tidbits.
Attending were most of the members of the council, Miss Laura Chittenden, Mrs. Allen, "our" Miss Chittenden, and Mrs. Allen's mother, Mrs. Stephen Ter Horst.

Agriculture Report

By Burke Winn
The boys at the Vocational Agriculture building have been doing some fine work, with the assistance of Mr. West. We sold 200 bushels of beans that we grew at the farm. Our Black Angus cows are doing very well. The hogs are also well and gaining weight fast.
Several weeks ago, Roger Jimenez and I had the pleasure of going to a Farm Bureau meeting. We had a grand supper and enjoyed the good time we had. The Farm Bureau gave us $25, to use for our own benefit, and, of course, we feel very thankful to them for this gift.
We have had a good year so far, and, if our luck holds out, perhaps this year will be more successful than last. We hope so.

FFA Chapter

By Kathy Carlos
Please lend an ear while I furnish you with a bit of interesting confidential information on our own Future Farmer Boys.
As a visitor to one of their recent meetings, I was nothing less than amazed at the way this group of boys carried out their meeting. There was no funny stuff to it. It was strictly business from beginning to end, that is up until refreshments.
Each officer knew his responsibilities thoroughly and did an excellent job. All members gave their complete attention and were very courteous. I wish everyone could see what a marvelous job these boys are doing and what fine citizens they are going to be.

Tom Tom Talk

Hey gang! Did you know that Delores Bailey is going steady? Yes, that's right, with none other than a swell guy, namely, Larry Shook.
Charlie Hall seems to still be one one-man show these days. I guess we might as well give up on his settling for one girl. Watcha say, C. H.?
Some sweet little freshman girl should try to trap Billy Knowles. Oh, he's a freshman again! (That's Barbara Middleton has certainly been making some swell grades. Gang, see what a little studying will do for you? Good going, Barbara!
We hope everyone had a fabulous time at the Christmas Ball, Wednesday night! Shame on you kids who didn't go. Well, there's always next year, I guess.
Cupid's pulled a booboo. Some of the gals who were on cloud No. 7 recently seem to have their feet on the ground again—and back into circulation. Margaret Benham, anyone we know?
Some fellow students have spotted a great picnic ground in Orlando—and on a beautiful lake, too. Mind if we go along, F.W., A.W., and E.P.?
If you ask me, Rob Reedy's theme song must be "I Like Girls" because he really does. We think you're swell just the same, fellow. Was his date for the Christmas Ball, Linda is whom we mean.
Confidentially, Jimmy Cordell, that cute little E. C. thinks you're pretty special. We just thought that you might like to know so something could be done about it. Gals, there is a dream walking, or should we say dancing, around town. He isn't really new; he's our own Carol Petty's brother, Willy, home from the Marines—to stay. Welcome home, fellow!
A new dating team these cold days is none other than Mike Tammy and Eva Jo Wynn. See you two around, a lot, we hope.
Sweet little Linda Smith still waits patiently for Brantley's trips home from college every weekend. You've got yourself quite a guy there, Linda, but then, you're you've got yourself quite a guy quite a gal yourself. Luck, lucky two!
It makes all of us feel good to have had such a wonderful football team! We're really very proud of the Brahman Bowl trophy! Incidentally congratulations, Claude

Question Of Week

By Joyce Lynn Beaton
Question: What would you do if Mutnik landed in your backyard?
Jimmy Dlythe—I'd run.
Kathy Carlos—Send for the Armed Forces.
Jimmy Cordell—I'd give the dog some food.

Pete Rans—I'd go out and look at it.
Edith Hanson—Go and see if it looked like Earle.
Jackie Hera—I'd go take a peek at it.
Mr. Ray—I'd tie a rope around it and charge people to see it.
Penny Lundquist—Call Billy.
Shirley Morgan—Tell them to go to Greg's house.
Mary Jane Flynn—I'd go to get the puppy dog and feed him.
Haine Mims—Feed the poor little dog.

Kiddie Korner

By John Miller
Well, it's been a long time since that last Kiddie Korner appeared in the Smoke Signals, and, although certain people might not have missed it very much (Angelo! Get that smirk off your face) I am very glad to be back. I don't know exactly what happened, except that somehow there was a mixup. Oh well, at least I didn't have to worry about dashing this thing mainly off on my old trusty typewriter for a while.
Fellow Kiddies, it's getting colder and colder. You know what I'm talking about. The newest row, it seems, is that there isn't going to be a ??? Flat Day. I tried telling some of the upperclassmen (and soph) this tale, and it seems that they thought the same thing last year. It sure is funny.
Another funny thing around here, it seems to me, is the odd thing that seems to happen in soph who were last year's fresh. Terry and Arthur, I am thinking of you. It sure is odd how high

Problem Corner

Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder,
Please don't laugh; this is very serious. After trying several times, I finally caught the cutest wild kitten that I have ever seen. He got loose in our car and went down the air vent. He has been in there for three days. Mother won't drive the car until I get him out. Please advise me on how to get him out.
Miss Cry-Shoulder
Dear Cat Lover,
Have you tried turning your air vent on, full force? Don't feed him for a while. You could always tie a rubber mouse to a string and coax him out. When you find the solution, please let me know. Some of my other readers may be faced with a similar problem—Heaven forbid! From now on, "Don't let the Kitty get in" the car.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"Behold, the days come, when the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land."

Greater Purse String Control Is Necessary For U. S. Funds

Under the present system of appropriations in Congress, money allocated to a department but not spent in the ensuing year may be carried over without being subject to further congressional review. The controller general has estimated that such "carry-over" funds amount to about 70 billion dollars. Control over this vast sum is now largely outside the hands of Congress. A bill designed to correct this situation by establishing "annual accrued expenditure budgeting" has been submitted to Congress on recommendation of the Hoover Commission. In the last session of Congress, the bill passed the Senate but encountered opposition in the House. This opposition files in the face of strong support by the high administration officials most concerned with government financing. The secretary of the treasury has said that the proposed reform "should provide an excellent basis for improvement in control over actual costs," the controller general thinks that possible passage of this bill, when it comes before the nation's lawmakers in the next session of Congress, would "provide greater congressional control . . . than the present method of appropriating funds," and the budget director believes that it will result in "improved program control." Such an improvement in control would constitute a valuable step toward reducing waste and inefficiency in our national government. This proposed reform has attracted broad nonpartisan support. That support is amply justified. This measure of control over the purse strings deserves passage at the next session of Congress.

As a matter of fact, there is a possibility that many millions of dollars that would never be used might be found in the dammed up funds for projects that are long to the future. Maybe some of the funds could be released to help reduce or even balance the budget.

Solve Water Traffic Problems

At first thought, one might suppose that this is no time of the year to be mulling over plans for summer boating. The fact is that winter is the best time to build a boat or even buy a ready-made boat, just as summer is the best time to use it. By the same token, winter is the time to be thinking about regulation of boats on our streams and lakes.

The case for more regulation is a good one. Years ago, when power boats were few and there was plenty of open water, minimum regulations were enough. That has changed, in most parts of the country, especially in Florida and here in Central Florida where boating is possibly the number one pastime. Since the war, the number of power boats on inland waters has gone up tremendously.

As a result, there is a traffic problem. There is also a problem of identification in case of accidents and law violations. Licensing of boats would help not only identification but by providing money for better traffic control. Training in the proper way to handle water craft also would be helpful. This is the time of year to do something about it. Next summer there will be more boats than ever on lakes, not only here in Florida, but all over the country.

Florida and Central Florida especially has a problem that must be controlled in some way. That is the one of water skiers. Wherever you find boats there are skiers.

Disaster Relief Coming—From his hospital bed in Bethesda Naval Hospital where he is recovering from an operation, Senator Spessard Holland took the lead in seeking Federal aid for Florida growers hit by last week's freeze. Although his movements were restricted, he was in constant touch with his office staff. Long distance calls, telegrams, results of conferences with the Department of Agriculture, all were relayed through the hospital switchboard. Result: William T. Shadlock, State Administrator of the Farmers Home Administration was authorized to conduct a complete survey of the vegetable, fruit and berry damage due to the freeze. Upcoming (due today or tomorrow) is a recommended list of counties for the President to designate as "disaster areas." Last word from Holland's bedside is that the Senator hopes to attend the Orange Bowl game.

Party Time—There were two parties slated for December for Floridians in Washington. (Social, not political). Last Friday night, the Florida State Society held a Christmas Party at the American Newspapermen's clubhouse. It was well attended and lasted into the wee hours. Tonight, (Dec. 19), the University of Florida Washington Alumni Club is entertaining in the Caucus Room of the Senate Office Building. Egg nog and a film—the LSU-Florida game.

Tax Cut Coming?—In spite of the clamor to spend more for National Defense and missile development, the Ways and Means Committee has been quietly studying the possibility of killing some of our excise taxes. These taxes were put on during the war as emergency measures, but are still on the books. Congressman Syd Herlong is in favor of calling a halt to such taxes as those on handbags, cosmetics, telephone calls, and some of our other nuisance taxes. He spent last week in Washington meeting with fellow members of the Committee, looking over the whole excise tax program. At week's end he would make no prediction about the outlook for tax cuts next year. He plans to push his tax reform plan which he introduced last year.

China Berries vs Rats—The other day we were looking through a copy of the first Agricultural Yearbook, dated 1949. At that time, Federal work in agriculture was centered in the office of the Commissioner of Patents. He issued two reports that year, Volume II being devoted to agriculture. Most of the report was made up of letters that he had received from farmers from throughout the country giving their ideas on all phases of farming and farm life.

In his report was a communication from a David L. White of Quincy, Gadsden County: "I have for 30 years stepped my seed-corn in nitro brine, a pound of nitre and eight ounces of copperas to the bushel of seed-corn, the grain to remain in steep from 48 to 60 hours before planting. My rule in selecting seed-corn is to take myself into the field accompanied by two hands with bags, seeing that they select only from stalks bearing two good ears, and of these the largest is gathered. My seed-corn is then put away in a new crib erected on high wood posts four feet above the ground, leaving one and a half inches between the weatherboarding and cover. This crib is located about 100 yards from my corn-house. When housing my corn, I top a china-tree and throw a quantity of berries, leaves and all, into the house with each load of corn. After the experience of a number of years, I find this to be a good preventive of weevil; and since I adopted the plan, my house has never been infested with rats."

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. MCCANN - United Press Staff Correspondent
A Soviet Russian proposal to ban nuclear weapons bases in Central Europe may lead to new negotiations to ease the cold war. Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin made the proposal in the series of "peace and co-existence" letters he sent last week to western, allied governments and to all other countries which belong to the United Nations.

Bulganin said that if the United States would give up the idea of establishing the bases in West Germany, Russia would not set up similar bases in East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. The United States believes that it is essential to establish intermediate range ballistic missile bases in the allied countries of western Europe.

Principal NATO Issue
This issue is one of the principal ones at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization conference now meeting in Paris. Some of the NATO countries frankly do not want them. They fear that they would become targets for Russian nuclear missiles if war broke out between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Even Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, one of the staunchest leaders of the NATO allies, is hesitant about consenting to the establishment of missile bases in West Germany. It is beginning to look now as if the United States may be forced into negotiations of some kind with Russia.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles do not believe that Bulganin's various "peace and co-existence" proposals of last week were made in good faith.

They are mindful of Russia's persistent refusal to enter in good faith into any proposals on the disarmament, or the reunification of Germany—over a long period. Aimed at NATO Sabotage

In addition, Bulganin's letters were too obviously aimed at sabotaging the NATO meeting in Paris. But pressure for some kind—almost any kind—of negotiations to ease the strain of the cold war, and especially to diminish the threat of a calamitous nuclear war, are becoming almost irresistible. Eisenhower, in his speech opening the NATO conference yesterday, spoke largely in generalities. He spoke of the need for "re-dedication" and "self-sacrifice" and emphasized the combined power of the 15 NATO allies. But at the first business meeting which followed, Adenauer really got down to business.

Adenauer called on Eisenhower and other NATO leaders to open the way for cold war talks with Russia. He suggested that a start be made through normal diplomatic channels. The idea would be to find out just what Bulganin meant in his letters.

Herlong Reports

When I left Washington at the close of the last session to come home I was determined that I was going to see and shake hands with every person in my District, if possible, in the time that I could be there. I can assure you that I did my best. However, I did a little mental arithmetic and came up with this answer. If I spent every working day that I did not have to be in Washington, visiting people and shaking hands with them, and shook hands with 500 people a day, it would take me over 17 years to shake hands with every person in my District. This is just some idea of how large our District is and how much it has grown. If I didn't get to see you please know that I did try and hope that next time I will have better luck.

In the meantime, if you have any problems where we might be of assistance, write me at my office, 1508 House Office Building, Washington 5, D. C. I will be back for Christmas but have to return to Washington very shortly thereafter.

Christmas always means a lot to my family and me, especially now that there are grandchildren. I hope that this Christmas more than ever will place all emphasis on the true meaning of Christmas. Just before I left to come back to Washington we took our three-year-old grandson downtown in Leesburg to see the Christmas lights and decorations. As you would expect, he was wide-eyed and excited at the colorful display. We were so pleased and impressed to hear his comment to his grandmother—"And all this, Mimi, is for Jesus' birthday." It certainly is, and I hope we don't forget it.

I wish it were possible for me to send each one of you an individual and personal greeting this Christmas, but of course this is not possible. I should, however, like to take this opportunity to express to all of you my warmest personal greetings and my very best wishes that you and yours have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. We are so grateful for the many cards that you have sent to us. It is so nice to be remembered, especially at this season of the year.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor

A promotion party was given Tuesday night by some very happy souls who had either added stripes to their sleeves, or are about to. The usual cartoon accompaniment was drawn by George Humphries to commemorate the affair. Hosting were George Waters (now Lt.), Jim Stevens, Al Schmid, Marion Smith, Bob Anderson, E. Parris, and Gil Turner (now Lt. (jg)); John Massey, Bob Martin, Jim Petersen and Abe Fennell (almost Lt. (jg)).

The buffet table was centered with a Christmas arrangement of red gladioli and white caryanthemums. Turkey, ham and shrimp were supplied in abundant quantities. Special guests were Ed Winter, Father Hubbell (in Lawrence Weik socks) and Mr. and Mrs. McBratnie, Chuck's parents who have rented Doris Francisco's house and are looking around Central Florida, prepared to build and settle down. Mr. McBratnie has been overseas with General Motors for many years and has now retired.

Nearly all of VAH-9 was there (yes, this was a nine party)—Betty and Fud Hazlett, Skip and Ernie Horrell, Sally and Norm McInnis, (fresh from seeing their child perform at Pinecrest School), Betty and Chuck McBratnie, Jean and Dick Fowler, Mary and Jim Nelson, Maecia and Jack Cousins.

The presents were clustered around a tiny green tree, standing by a large snowman. The tables held silver pine cones, greens and Christmas balls. Attending were Muriel Scott, Myrtle Adams, Gladys Brown, Betty Brown, Sue Compton, Jackie Crawford, Lee Cunningham, Jean Dowley, Hazel Duran, Jeanne Fouk, Claire Fite, Ruth Heron, Celia Higginbotham, Billie Tooke, Fanchon Mait, Betty Anne Marsh, Reba Mahan, Betty McCracken, Blanche Nisely, Shirley Perkins, Audie Russell, Dee Russell, Carlie Strubling, Virginia Sullivan, Ruth Tully, Genevieve Woodruff, Harriet Williams, Jo McDaniel, Ginny Shelden, Evelyn Volpique, Grace Martin, Celeste Overstedt and Ginny Conn.

ANNUALS

Now that the cold weather has taken such a heavy toll in our gardens we naturally will want to do something to brighten them up as soon as possible. Of course, we think of animals.

There are still many of the hardiest annuals that can be started from seed. Some of them are: sweet alyssum, which makes a beautiful border or edge for other beds already planted with shrubs or herbaceous flowers of all sorts; Calandua (pot Marigold) is another that will delight you until late in the spring. Corn Flower, annual Larkspur and also Dianthus (Chinapinks) are others. When sowing these seeds, it is wise to place a light mulch of finely pulverized, well rotted manure over beds of late sown plants. Let it not be more than an inch or so thick, so that it will not choke out the seedlings.

In most cases our annuals do not like the shade, but some have been grown quite successfully in the shade, (partial). We find many such nooks in our gardens and the following may be recommended for them:

China, Astor, Clarkia, Lupine, Monkey Flower, Sweet Alyssum, Pansy, Sweet Sultan, Snap Dragon, and Schizanthus or Butter Fly Flower.

The best way to have an abundance of flowers for cutting is to sow them in rows far enough apart that they may be cultivated easily. Remember, too, that annuals stop blooming when they are allowed to ripen and seed, so be sure to remove all failing flowers immediately. Better still, pick the flowers while fresh and enjoy them inside.

With many of our annuals the more we cut them the more abundantly they bloom for us.

Some annuals do not stand transplanting and should be well thinned. It takes a brave hand to pull the surplus out, but remember the remaining seedlings will occupy much more space than you can possibly imagine.

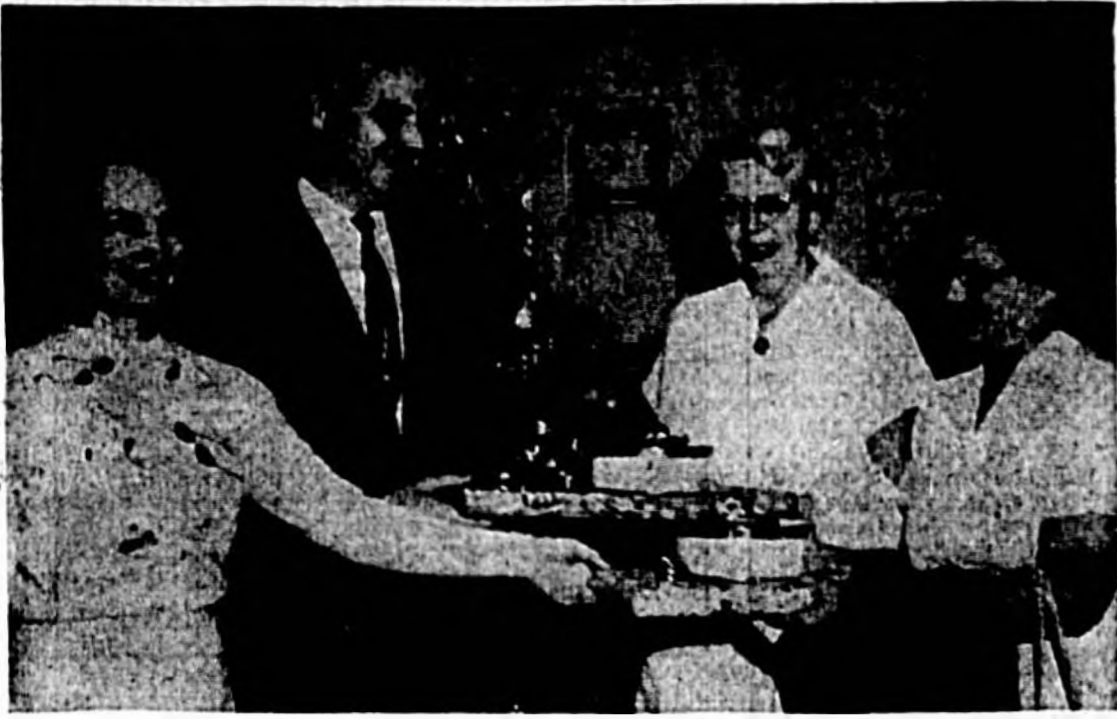

Give your annuals loving care, plenty of water and fertilizer and they will repay you many, many times.

DO NOT LIST FOR CARE OF FROZEN TREES AND ORNAMENTALS
By Mrs. E. L. Vihlen
Garden Gate Chairman
Sanford Garden Club

According to Mr. Fred P. Lawrence, horticulturist with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, owners and operators of bearing citrus groves should NOT make any move now to treat trees for injury caused by the recent freeze. Certain measures can and should be taken in case of young trees. Examine the young trees and if only slight damage is found, nothing should be done. If the trees are barked, they should be inspected frequently to be sure ants

Keep Things Going First Rule In TV

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Rule No. 1 in television is keep things moving. Keep that picture stirred or your viewer may desert to another channel.

So, when you're faced with Shakespeare and the awful thought that your audience may drop off, why, you stir and stir and stir.

Sunday Maurice Evans and Co. stirred like crazy in an NBC-TV production of "Twelfth Night." It was a vital romp—a pink and violet "Twelfth Night," a dream illyria complete with 14 gals and 19 footmen dressed in monkey heads, attendants dressed like unicorns, jolly people who hung from trees and a Malvolio who spoke in a cockney accent and disappeared in a puff of smoke.

Inevitably in this kind of thing, Shakespeare's strength—his verbal magic—is sloughed off. And what is left is a kind of sugar-coated, rating-happy Shakespeare; a Shakespeare for all those people who have been scared off the playwright by their schoolmarm.

But I suppose TV really has no choice in the matter and this sort of sugarcoating is inevitable. And it is only fair to say that "Twelfth Night" was mounted stunningly—particularly the scene in which Malvolio is taunted.

One further note of praise—for Dennis King (Sir Toby) and Max

Number Of Jobless Predicted To Rise

WASHINGTON (UP)—A forecast of continued high unemployment for the first six months of 1958 today was tacked on a government report that U. S. industrial output slid again during November for the third straight month.

Thirteen prominent economists in New York predicted the number of jobless would rise during the first half of next year to an average of 3,600,000. The Labor Department said last week there were nearly 3,200,000 unemployed at present.

The Jobsless forecast by the National Industrial Conference Board said for the last half of 1958 the unemployment would average 3,400,000.

It followed Monday's report by the Federal Reserve Board that its production index dropped last month to 139 per cent of the 1947-49 base—the lowest since the nationwide steel strike in July 1956.

when it touched 136 per cent. The last time the index fell as low as 129 per cent under more normal conditions was in June and July, 1955, when it was exactly at that level.

The board said production was curtailed in November at both factories and mines. It reported reduced output at steel mills, aircraft, factories, textiles, apparel, petroleum refining, television sets, furniture, soft coal, metal mining and crude oil pumping.

Mrs. Leon Taylor called last week to ask if Mrs. Wiley was still visiting Mrs. Skewes. She read about it in the Herald. Mildred thought that she might know this lady or her daughter. As it turned out Mrs. Wiley's daughter Reba Wiley Rogers and Mrs. Taylor were school mates in Va. Small world.

My mother's father A. R. Hunkins arrived Friday from Iyrites, N. Y. to spend the winter. This is his first trip South in three years.

Keith Keogh had a "school birthday party" at the Holy Cross Kindergarten last Friday. He and his teacher Mrs. Marion St. John served ice cream and cup cakes topped with Angels to all his school mates.

Governor Gives Good Citizenship Rules

Windows Made Here Meet AWA, FHA Requirements

Aluminum windows, manufactured in Sanford, have met all requirements of the Aluminum Window Association's specifications and those of the FHA.

A report from the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory shows that the windows, manufactured by Harcar Aluminum Products Co., of Sanford, have met the air infiltration tests in winds of 25 miles per hour.

The tests also include the hardware load test which showed that there was no failure or permanent deformation of pivot pins or rivets or any component of activating or operating hardware observed.

Windows manufactured here, according to the report, were hurricane tested at the University of Miami.

The test was of 15 minutes duration under prescribed conditions which included an approximate wind velocity of 90 miles per hour. There was no water overflowing the sill during the test, the report said.

H. H. Sherwood, a spokesman for the firm, said today that "before windows can be sold for FHA construction they must meet the FHA specifications as set down by the Aluminum Window Manufacturers Association."

Sherwood also pointed out that distributors have been set up over a wide area for the Harcar Aluminum Products Company's jalouse window.

"We now have orders on hand for over 3,000 windows and 900 windows have just been completed for a West Palm Beach subdivision," he said.

Construction of a new building to house the Harcar Aluminum Products Company will get underway in the near future, Sherwood said this morning.

The new building, which will be on Highway 11-92 just south of the city limits on property acquired from the City of Sanford.

The Harcar Aluminum Company's present plant is located in the Standard Growers Building on West 13th St. where modern machinery for the manufacture of aluminum products has been installed.

TALLAHASSEE (TP)—

In a letter to a little girl, Gov. LeRoy Collins listed seven rules for good citizenship, and topped the list with: "Love God and go to Sunday school and church."

Little Linda Smith, a student at Monticello Elementary School in nearby Jefferson County, wrote the governor to send her a few reasons why he thought school was important.

Some of her young friends didn't think so, she wrote, and she wanted something to "maybe change their minds." She also asked for advice on "how to become fine American citizens."

Gov. Collins replied that he believed that "happiest person is the one who looks on life as a period filled with opportunities — for learning about other people, for helping other people and for enjoying all the wonderful things God has put on the earth for us to appreciate and to take care of."

He said without a good education, it was "quite difficult for a boy or girl to grow up to take fullest advantage of all these opportunities."

"I'll admit that learning the multiplication tables or grammar or dates in history might be hard at times. But I think if you try it, you'll agree that learning comes much easier if you do it yourself when I learn this, I'm giving myself a key which will unlock all sorts of interesting and exciting experiences for me."

The governor's seven rules of good citizenship included: Love God and go to Sunday school and church . . . be honest and dependable . . . be humble, understanding and tolerant . . . be unselfish . . . work hard . . . realize that you are never really down as long as you have the strength and spirit to get up . . . learn to sell. Salesmanship is involved in all kinds of success.

"One of the best things to be learned in school can't be found in books," the governor wrote. "That's how to get along with other people."

Christmas Tree Lighting Friday Night At Lake Mary

unordered merchandise promotions are conducted during the Christmas season.

The Chamber executive said that among the items of merchandise persons may expect to receive in their mail boxes this season are ball-point pens, religious medals, Christmas cards, and a variety of small gift items. In each case, the merchandise will be accompanied by a request for remittance. In some cases, if the recipient fails to respond to the mailing, he may receive a follow-up letter or postcard, urging either that he remit or that the article of merchandise be returned to the sender.

Citing a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau with which the Chamber is affiliated, Manager Krider gave the following pointers for the information of people receiving unordered merchandise through the mail:

(1) Recipients of unordered merchandise are not obliged to acknowledge receipt of such merchandise. No reply of any sort is necessary. Persons receiving such materials in the mail should ignore any suggestions contained in the accompanying literature that a reply is required or necessary.

(2) Recipients of such mailings are not required to return the merchandise if they have received. The literature accompanying the merchandise and succeeding follow-up letters or postcards, may hint or suggest that the recipient must either pay for the merchandise or send it back. This, however, is not the case.

(3) Unordered merchandise need not be paid for unless it is used. Recipients should understand that, if they plan to use the merchandise, it should be paid for. If, however, they do not want the merchandise, payment is not necessary, providing the merchandise is laid aside and not used.

(4) Recipients of unordered merchandise are not required to give it any particular or unusual care. The merchandise should not be deliberately abused, but the recipient is under no obligation to take particular pains regarding its general upkeep and preservation.

(5) Recipients of such merchandise are not required to keep it beyond a reasonable period of time. After it has been kept a reasonable period of time, it may be thrown away or destroyed.

(6) If the sender of the unordered merchandise, or his agent, calls in person at the home of the recipient and requests the merchandise, the recipient is obliged to surrender it to the sender or his agent. In doing so, the recipient may demand payment for storage charges before relinquishing the merchandise.

(7) When unordered merchandise is mailed by a charitable organization, recipients who believe in giving wisely may wish to ascertain essential facts about such organizations before making a remittance. Charitable gifts should be made on the basis of familiarity with the organization and its activities—and unordered merchandise solicitations are no exceptions. If persons who receive unordered merchandise find themselves interested in the charitable causes involved, but do not have information on the specific organization, it is recommended that information should be received from the Chamber of Commerce before a donation is made.

Aggies Want Chilly Weather On Dec. 28

Dodgers Look Good

EDITORS NOTE: This is the fourth of 16 dispatches on the offseason outlook of each major league team for 1958, written by the managers of each club.

By WALTER ALSTON
Written For The United Press
DARTMOUTH, Ohio—We have a new home and surroundings and with the addition of some new faces to the team, I expect the Los Angeles Dodgers will be in the thick of the National League pennant race right down to the wire in 1958.

Several of our youngsters have shown promise at St. Paul and we'll take a good look at them in spring training. Two boys, infielders Dick Gray and Bob Willie have looked particularly outstanding and may give us a lot more punch.

My biggest worry is to get the team off on the right foot and hitting early.

Weather May Help
I don't know for sure but I think the warmer California weather early in the year may help some of our power hitters to get started sooner. It certainly won't hurt them.

Most of our success depends on the improvement of our young staff, especially with our veteran team.

Don Newcombe should have a better season than last and I believe Clem Labine will shake off the back trouble that hampered him during the last half of the 1957 campaign.

These two, combined with Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres and Carl Erskine give us the nucleus of a great pitching staff.

Gil Hodges and Duke Snider, along with Carl Furillo, figure to be our power hitters again and I believe they are due to have a good season. Don Demeter, a young outfielder with terrific power, will give us added bench strength as will Jim Gentile.

Add Cimoli, Amoroso
Of course we have Cino Cimoli and Sandy Amoroso who play a lot of ball every day.

Cimoli and Charlie Neal improved a lot as last season went along and 1958 may be their year. Randy Jackson, who hurt his knee last year, will be mended and will help us in the infield.

PeeWee Reese has slowed down but he'll still be in there when we need him, although he may not play as much as he did last year when Jackson was out.

AGGIES LOOK SLUGGISH
COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—Coach Bear Bryant of Texas A&M was a bit disappointed in the showing of his charges Tuesday after running them through an hour-long practice session.

Bryant termed the workout sluggish and said the Aggies will scrimmage later this week. The team worked on both offense and defense. The Aggies meet Tennessee in the Gator Bowl, Dec. 28.

Holiday Hospitality STARTS WITH

Borden's Egg Nog

ORDER NOW

EDITORS NOTE: This is the third of 16 dispatches on the football bowl teams. The dispatches will cover the teams in the Gator, Orange, Rose, Sugar and Cotton Bowls.

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer
COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—For the sake of Texas A&M's rugged "hard-nosed seven" stalwarts, Aggie coach Paul Bryant hoped today — with apologies to the Florida Chamber of Commerce — that it will be unseasonably chilly in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 28.

That's the date Bryant's manpower—thin Aggies tangle with Tennessee in the Gator Bowl and he knows he'll need every second of playing time he can scrape from the "hard-posed seven" if he is to close out a terrific tenure at Texas A&M on a victory note.

The Aggies were not blessed with depth at any position this past season. Yet they banged out eight straight victories and a No. 1 national ranking before the pressured labor of facing fired-up foes week after week took its toll and saw them drop two games by only three points.

Wanted: Cool Weather
Bryant said the long rest would help, but a chilly snap would be even better because his stars could go longer without relief.

The seven mainstays have been All-America halfback John Crow, quarterback Roddy Osborne, fullback Richard Gay, and Bobby Marks, tackles Charles Krueger and Ken Beck and center John Gilbert.

They are the "hard-nosed" type who thrive on contact — the more of it the better, go all-out at all times and have the savvy to come up with the key, clutch plays on both offense and defense that kept the Aggies winning the close ones.

"We're working almost 75 per cent of the time on our defense these days," Bryant said, "and will continue until we quit for the holidays Saturday. We'll brush up on our offense again in the two workouts after we get to Jacksonville the day after Christmas."

That offense is geared around Gros, a 210-pound steamroller when he hits between the tackles and a hefty gnat when Osborne calls for him to go outside.

Basically, the Aggies use the Split-T, but they unbalance the line to either side and use floaters and flankers frequently.

They don't pass often but Osborne is the type who hits in the clutch and is a great hand at turning apparent disaster into big gains when trapped behind the line.

The Aggies have been in six previous post-season contests, but only four could be classified as "major." All came in a five-year span around 1940.

So, the Aggies have a long drought to avenge and also have the incentive of trying to win this one "for Bear," since Bryant leaves A&M two days after the Gator Bowl to become head coach at Alabama.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK—The pro golfers have found a tournament which is tougher to win than the U. S. Open and, in the process, have proved that even the worst prima donnas of cow pasture pool can stand the grinding of cameras if the price is right.

Cameras have been the bane of the bunker brigade ever since golf became important enough to photograph. Many a photographer has barely escaped having a nine iron or a putter imbedded in his skull. But television has changed all that by sound-proofing the whirl of the cameras with dollar bills.

A Soothing Effect
The soothing effect of greenbacks on the camera-shy nerves of the nation's top pros is being proved every Saturday by a teevee show called All-Star Golf. It is a series of 28 matches, each an 18-hole medal play affair, with the winner coming back the next week against a new opponent.

Six cameras record the action. To make it even worse on the tender sensibilities of the pros, they have to wait between each shot while the cameras are moved into position. Thus one filmed takes about six hours.

But the waiting, and the jumpy nerves, all become worthwhile with the winner receiving $2,000, the loser getting $1,000 and a $10,000 bonus for a hole-in-one and a $500 bonus for each eagle.

Oliver Shoots 82
Ed Porky Oliver proved that the grinding of the picture machines can't be too bad. In the first match he shot a 62 in beating Julius Boros.

But others who competed in the matches, which are played under tournament regulations and edited down to an hour show, view the affair with rather mixed emotions.

"You might call this the ulcer open," says Bob Toski. "With the small gallery on hand, it's like the Yankees playing in Yankee Stadium before 70,000 people with nobody uttering a word."

Yet, Billy Maxwell summed it up by saying it was all worthwhile because it will help to educate the golfing masses.

Then too, there's all that lovely money.

DUKE STARS BACK
DURHAM, N. C.—Some of Duke's ailing regulars were ready to resume workouts today, while three others remained on the injured list.

The Blue Devils, who meet Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day, opened their final week of home workouts Tuesday with tackle Tom Topping, guard Roy Hord and halfback Wray Carleton, all out with injuries, pronounced fit and ready.

Meanwhile, end Bill Thompson, guard Buz Guy and end Doug Padgett remained on the sidelines.

Ike Will Prepare American People To Meet Russia's Challenge

By HERRMAN SMITH
 United Press White House Writer
 WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower returns today from the crucial NATO summit conference in Paris to prepare the American people for the sacrifices that will be necessary to meet Russia's challenge to a missile-fueled world.

The President, described as "bearing around like a rocket" after a jam-packed week of talks with NATO leaders, was expected to arrive here in his plane, the Columbine III, this morning. He will plunge immediately into the job of translating decisions made in Paris into action and formulating plans for a reported massive defense buildup that may spell increased taxes for Americans.

Eisenhower also faced a barrage of criticism from Democratic congressional leaders who said the NATO talks had not accomplished enough. The Democrats are demanding a total reappraisal of U. S. foreign policy.

One of the Chief Executive's first tasks was the swearing in of Sumner G. Whittier as the new Veterans Administration head. An appointment that touched off reports of a big slash in vets benefits to pay for the stepped-up missile output.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler said Thursday night that the nation could look for "vigorous old guard onslaught against all the programs in this country which affect human welfare." He said the Republicans "are going to be too busy trying to clean up or cover up the missile mess" to worry about domestic progress.

Eisenhower will report to the nation on the NATO conference and other vital matters on a nationwide radio and television hook-up. It is not known whether he will comment on the NATO summit. Gaither Committee was presented to the security Council Nov. 7.

The Washington Post and Times Herald disclosure that the Gaither report, compiled by top national leaders after six months of study, was so pessimistic in regard to the state of the nation's defenses that Eisenhower "was fearful that publication . . . would panic the American people into going off in all directions at once."

Disaster Plea Made For 5-County Area

AL HARRIS, AIA
 Architect Opening Office In Sanford

A decision to declare the five-county area of Central Florida a disaster area because of freeze losses to citrus groves will be made by Monday or Tuesday, Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong said this morning in Melbourne. He will plunge immediately into the job of translating decisions made in Paris into action and formulating plans for a reported massive defense buildup that may spell increased taxes for Americans.

Authorities in three states today faced the mammoth job of clearing away the ugly scars of tornadoic devastation in the wake of a wave of twisters the night before that spread heavy destruction in downstate Illinois and Missouri. Two Negro women were killed Thursday night in a tornado near Waldo, Ark., and several persons were injured. The Red Cross declared the district a disaster area.

Other twisters hit the communities of Elkville, Ill., near tornado-blasted Murphysboro, and Waltonville, Ill., near Mount Vernon which also suffered earlier tornado damage. The twisters Thursday night caused minor damage. Murphysboro, the hardest hit by the rare late December twisters, reported nine known dead. National Guard officials earlier had reported two additional unidentified victims, but local authorities said that report apparently stemmed from communications difficulties.

Other tornado victims included one each at Mount Vernon and Sunfield, Ill., and at Farmington, Mo. Heavy rains pounded the tornado-swept Midwest communities Thursday, hampering the search for more possible victims. In Washington, the government announced it has designated six counties in Missouri and five in Illinois as disaster areas as a result of the widespread tornado damage.

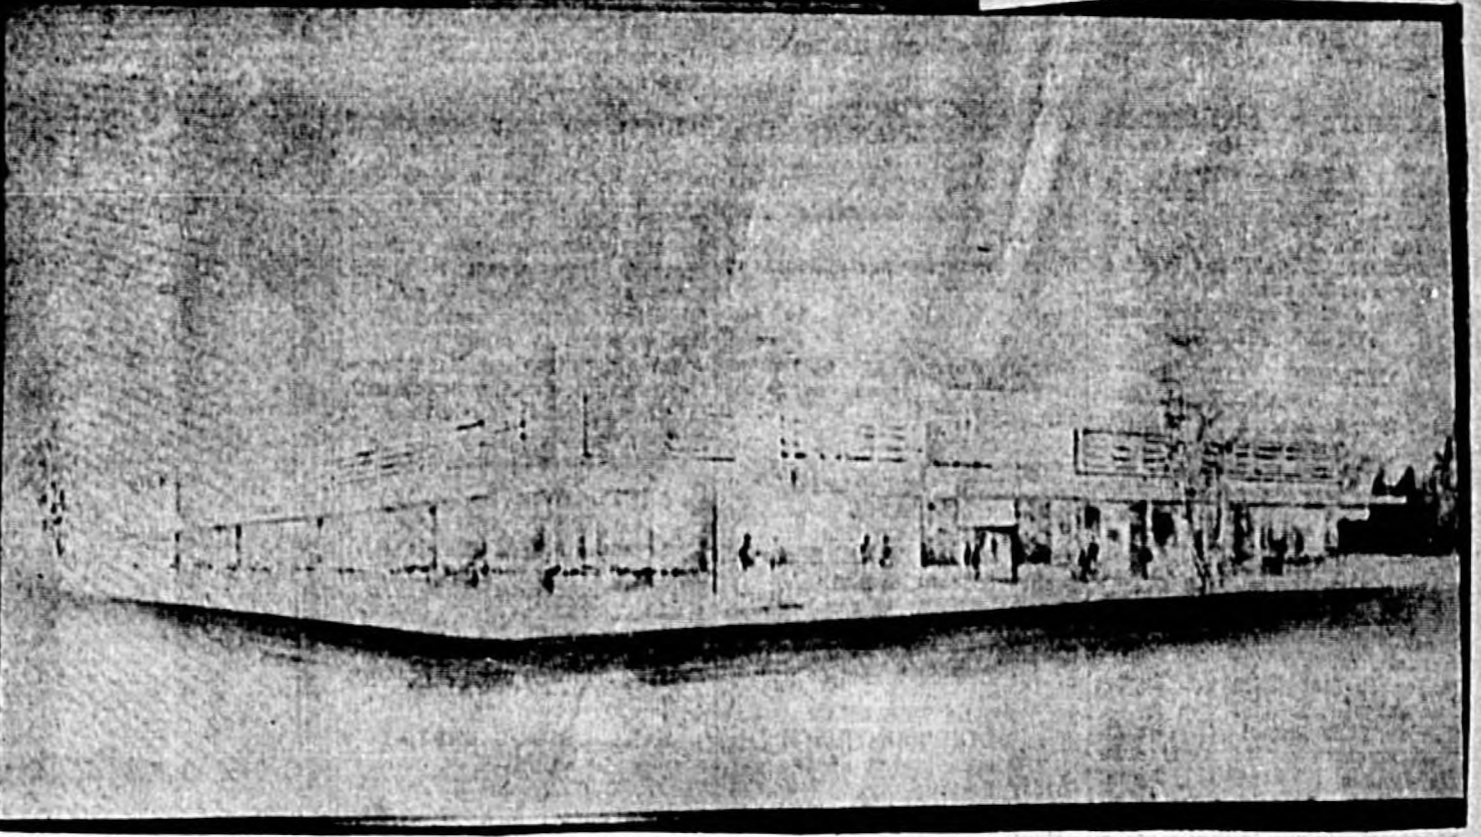

In Murphysboro, Sheriff Howard Cheatham said 178 were injured in the storm. Two of the injured continued in critical condition. "There's no telling how much damage is done," Cheatham said Thursday night. He said between 100 and 150 homes were demolished and at least that many more damaged. About 300 persons were homeless.

A proposed store and office building in downtown Sanford has been announced by William L. Kirk.

To be known as the Kirk Building, it will be located at the corner of Commercial and Hood Avenues.

Hal Harris, AIA, a newcomer to Sanford, is the architect for the proposed construction. The building will be two stories in height, with a total floor area of 18,000 square feet, and of completely fire-proof construction. Practically the only wood in the building of any consequence will be the doors. Framing will be all steel, with concrete block walls, concrete floors and a gypsum slab roof.

An unusual feature of the new building will be the central breezeway-arcade, which will tie the two halves of the building together with a fibre-glass-roofed walkway which will provide the inside offices with light, air, and a pleasant outlook enhanced by a series of wrought-iron-trilled brick planters.

Access to the second floor will be by means of two reinforced concrete stairs flanked by wrought-iron railings. These stairs will be strategically placed at the east and west entrances, which are themselves defined by antique brick piers. The entrance-way will be spanned by a tasteful header grille of "elemental ornaments."

MELBOURNE (UP)—Farmers in 21 Florida counties are eligible for emergency loans from the federal government to help overcome crop losses suffered in last week's big freeze.

Gov. LeRoy Collins disclosed in a speech to the Rotary Club here Thursday night the Agriculture Department had approved the loans to farmers.

The announcement of the disaster loans came at the same time from the USDA. The department said the Florida designation lasts through next June 30.

The counties involved are: Broward, Charlotte, Collier, Dade, De Soto, Glades, Hardee, Hendry, Highlands, Hillsborough, Indian River, Lee, Manatee, Martin, Okeechobee, Osceola, Palm Beach, Pinellas, Polk, Sarasota, and St. Lucia.

The three day freeze damaged millions of dollars worth of citrus and winter vegetable crops in the counties.

Back-lighted stainless steel lettering facing the two most important directions will direct everyone to the Kirk Building within sight.

Center of attraction is actually what the building will be in the downtown area, since, in the words of Al. A. "Fats" Yelvington, the city's building inspector, "The Kirk Building will be the biggest thing that's hit Sanford in half a century."

Mrs. William L. Kirk, on first seeing the rendering in the Architect's office, exclaimed "It leaves me breathless!"

Kirk said this morning that construction of the new downtown store and office building is expected to get underway in about 45 days.

The governor praised the Florida congressional delegation for the "wonderful job" they are doing and said the successful plea for agriculture loans "is just another example of what our congressmen are doing for Florida."

After winding up his two-day tour of the Central Florida east coast, Collins and Mrs. Collins began the long drive back to Tallahassee Thursday night. The governor explained that Mrs. Collins had promised their young daughter, Darby, she would be on hand for a school Christmas function today.

The governor in speeches here and at Eau Gallie praised the communities in the area for their growth and for supporting the influx of scientists and technicians connected with the missile tests at Cape Canaveral.

Chief Yarbrough Retires After 27 Years With Navy

Aviation Ordnanceman Chief H. A. YARBROUGH, after 27 years of Naval service, retired and was honored at a traditional retirement ceremony at quarters this morning.

Mrs. Yarbrough witnessed the ceremony with a "deep feeling of pride" as the Commanding Officer, Cdr. E. B. Dower commended the Chief on his faithful service to duty.

As a part of the retirement ceremony Chief Yarbrough inspected personnel in the company of Cdr. Dower, Commanding Officer of Heavy Attack Training Unit.

The chief petty officers of HATU presented Yarbrough with a watch and two chickens. "The chickens to serve as a safety factor in case his plans for the future weren't as profitable as anticipated," a spokesman for the chief petty officers' group said.

Chief Yarbrough has been a mainstay of the HATU's duty office since reporting from Attack Squadron 34. Although the physical features of the duty office will remain unchanged, the countenance of the "old salt" will be missing.

During the Chief's naval career he has served aboard 11 ships, including the first aircraft carrier, the USS Langley, and a coal burner, the USS Kittler.

His years of devoted service have found him recipient of the following medals and awards: (Continued on Page 10)

SHS Seeks County Championship Tonight

By Jerry Covington
 The flashy Sanford Seminoles made it 6 out of 7 here Thursday night by defeating a very aggressive Oviedo Lion team by a score of 68-65. The Seminoles held a ten point lead at the half but big Carl Fabry and Andy Duda roared back to tie it up at the end of the fourth quarter and it took a three minute overtime for the Seminoles to come out on top. By defeating the Lions, the Seminoles will play Lyman tonight for the county championship.

This was a very impressive win as the Oviedo team has long dominated the cage glory in the county. Sparked by "Spider McCoy" in the second period the Seminoles took a good lead. McCoy started to fire from the outside and the ball hit nothing but the bottom of the net. He piled up 15 points in the first half and hit 4 more for the night to run his total to 19.

Oviedo played a very tight defense under the basket but it didn't take McCoy long to loosen it up. Big Carl Fabry, who was great on the boards and in the scoring department kept the crowd on its toes with his wonderful play. He hit 24 points for the losers and he was followed closely by Andy Duda. Andy did a good job under the baskets and hit most of his points from Ray.
