The master site plan for the Aloma Park Planned Unit Development will be reviewed. The project, planned by Parkview Corp., will be built north and south of State Road 426 just east of Howell Branch Road in Goldenrod.

Parkview Corporation's plan calls for acres. Another 6.43 acres is set aside for of schools.

Parkview also agrees to construct a swimming pool, two tennis courts and a six-foot masonry wall on the south side of the complex. Stano Link To Death In Altamonte Studied Altamonte Springs police want to know if the unsolved 1974 slaying of an unidentified woman is linked to confessed mass killer Gerald Stano who has admitted murdering 33 women.

And Seminole County sheriff's deputies, while not having any unsolved homicides they think may be linked to Stano, want to talk to him anyway.

Officers said they are trying to determine if the woman, who was strangled and left for dead behind the Interstate Mall on State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs, might have been one of the two victims Stano, 31, has told police he killed in Orange County

Investigators said they plan to bring Stano to Orange County next week to show investigators where he left the bodies. Meanwhile, Florida and out-of-state authorities are continuing to gather facts to support Stanto's claims. Stano, a short order cook, is serving life sentences for killing three Volusia County women, but in the last few weeks he has admitted 30 other murders. Of the slayings, 31 were in Florida and two in New Jersey.

If found guilty of the 33 slayings he has admitted to authorities, plus the four to six deaths he has claimed responsibility for in Pennsylvania, Stano would be the worst mass murderer in U.S. history. John Wayne Gacy was convicted of killing 33 young men and boys in the Chicago area. Altamonte Springs police LL Edward J. Overman said he has sent details of the 1974 murder - Altamonte Spring's only unsolved slaying involving a woman - to authorities investigating the Orange County allegations.

Overman submitted the case after he learned Stano may have killed in the area and his victims were only women. The unidentified woman's partially clothed, decomposed body was found on Nov. 24, 1974.

Zoo Move Study Is Fully Funded

The study on whether it is feasible to move the Central Florida Zoo from its present location off U.S. Highway 17-92 across from the lakefront near Sanford to Turkey Lake Park in Orlando is expected to be completed by February.

SPLISH, SPLASH

This 1979 Zephyr took an unexpected dip into Lake Monroe this morning when Joan S. Phillips lost control of the car along U.S. Highway 17-92 near the Central Florida Regional Hospital, According to Sanford police, the accident occurred about 8:20 a.m. when Mrs. Phillips, traveling east, went off the shoulder of the road. When she tried to steer the vehicle back onto the pavement, the carspun and skidded into the lake backwards, police said. The car floated in about five feet of water for 60 feet before it sank. Mrs. Phillips managed to escape unharmed.

A spokesman at the Dick Pope Institute for Tourism at the University of Central Florida, which is conducting the study, said it is well underway now.

The $5,000 study is being paid for by the city of Orlando, $2,5000; the Dr. Phillips Foundation, $1,250; and by the Orange County Commission $1,250.

The Orlando City Council approved the allocation in early September and the Orange County Commission approved its allocation Sept. 9.

Al Rozon, zoo executive director, asked the Orange County Commission to contribute $1,250 toward the study cost after informing its members that Orlando and the Phillips Foundations already had committed to paying shares of the cost. Rozon and other zoo officials have said the current site, leased from Seminole County, is not adequate for 200 expansion and because most of the site is low-lying it is an unhealthy environment for certain animals.

2 Men Killed In Car Wreck

Two men were killed in a two-car collision at the intersection of Old Mims Road and Snow Hill Road near Geneva at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

A spokesman for the Florida Highway Patrol said William Campbell, 52, of 1511 Oak Lane Casselberry and Gary Sanford, 18, of 1811 Craig St., New Smyrna Beach, died in the accident. Campbell's daughter Angela, 9, is expected to be released from Winter Park Hospital this afternoon, the spokesman said.

Police said the 1981 Chevrolet van driven by Campbell went through a stop sign on Old Mirns Road at Snow Hill Read and struck Sanford's vehicle broadside.

Campbell was ejected from the van, which landed upside down atop the 1968 Ford driven by Sanford.

Sanford was taken to Winter Park Hospital where he died in surgery, police said.

The fatalities bring the total on Seminole County highways this year to 27.

Coleen Lynn Finch of DeBary and Roger Lee Chamberlain of Sanford chose the lovely sylvan setting at the Central Florida Zoo for their outdoor wedding Saturday, but someone forgot to notify the weatherman. Standing under cloudy skies the guests kept umbrellas at the ready as the Rev. Dismas Markle, Orthodox priest, performed the ceremony.

State Attorney Requests Use Of City Parking Lot

A department head in State Attorney Douglas Cheshire's office will ask the Sanford City Commission at a 7 p.m. municipal parking lot at First Street and his office.

Harriett will urge commissioners to deny the request.

Ed Schuckman's secretary, Ellen Doyle, said today Schuckman is making the request for weather and safety reasons. She said it "scares me to walk from the other city parking lot to the Roumillat Building in the early morning hours."

"There have been a few instances when someone was in the alley" between the parking lot and the county-owned building, Ms. Doyle said, adding downtown merchants complain about the 26 employees in Cheshire's Citizens Dispute Settlement group parking on First Street all day.

Schuckman is director of the program. Ms. Doyle said all employees of the various firms seeking bids, only three Others bidding were: Hood Tractor Co., $4,380; James Sales Corp. $4,539.60; Oviedo Tractor Co., $4,900.

Bids also will be considered for 383 new high pressure sodium vapor street lights for the city. French Vs. Sturm In Commission Race

By MICHEAL BEHA Herald Staff Writer

As former Seminole County commissioner Robert French sees his race with incumbent Robert Sturm for the 2nd District seat, it's a pay." question of managing growth.

"I see the board going more prodevelopment than I'm happy with," said French, who served on the commission between 1975 and 1980 and was defeated by Barbara Christensen for the 1st District seat in 1960.

French, who has worked with Dick Joyce Well Drilling since 1980, said the issue is not growth versus no-growth but of growth versus managed growth.

"I'm pro-growth," he said. "But I think we had a better handle on it than commissioners do now."

French suggests impact fees should be instituted, passing on the cost of constructing roads, drainage, sewers and other amenities directly to developers.

"People who are already here shouldn't have to pay for widening roads or improving sewers," he said. "The developers should

French showed a list of contributors to Sturm's campaign and charged that developers listed there had given $10,000 because of what French called Sturm's "prodevelopment" stance.

But Sturm said the developers want to see him re-elected because of his fairness. "I'm for controlled growth, I'm not pro-developer. I listen and if it's feasible I'll support it."

Sturm, who was elected in 1978, said the issue facing Seminole County is not growth but the impact that growth has on the county.

"Growth is not the problem. It's the impact that growth creates, the services that growth requires."

For the second day in a row, Seminole Countians this morning woke up to record low temperatures

The thermometer at the National Weather Service in Orlando registered a low of 48 degrees this morning. The previous low for this date was 53 degrees recorded in 1965. In the wake of a weather front that moved into the area Saturday, area residents were reaching for an extra blanket Saturday night as the temperature dropped to 54 degrees.

This was a record low for Oct. 24, with the previous low of 55 recorded in 1955. The maximum temperature of 55 degrees Sunday was a record low also. The previous record was 75 degrees recorded in 1962.

The Weather Service predicts a gradual warming trend with another front due to move in about Friday.

A half-inch of rain Saturday and a low this morning of 50 degrees were recorded at the Seminole County Agricultural Center in Sanford.

Richard Langley, 45, of Clermont, is challenged by the 69-year old Florence Hunter of Eustis, a widow and grandmother, for a second term in the Florida Senate from District 11.

Mrs. Hunter, a retired school teacher and past president pro-tem of the Silver Haired Legislature, is making her first bid for public office. Langley served six years in the Florida House before a defeat in 1978 for a state Senate seat. In 1980 he was elected to the Senate.

A Republican, Langley is slated to be Senate minority whip if he wins re-election.

Mrs. Hunter, a Democrat, says her background is in agriculture, small business. dentistry, health issues, environment, conservation and social security, in addition to education.

Langley also served as a city attorney, municipal judge, assistant public defender and on the Lake County School Board for a four-year term. He is a lawyer.

Mrs. Hunter sees unemployment as the major issue confronting the Florida Legislature in 1983.

"Unemployment is an off-shoot or result of our fragile economy," she said. "When people are out of work as they are now, housing, industry, consumer products and buying is effected. Selling is down considerably, auto sales decrease, medical needs are not given attention. Only emergencies are addressed and crime escalates," she said.

"People are just plain scared. Promises and scare tactics simply won't work. We need less talk and more action. The public and private sectors must work together to balance a working program suitable to fighting inflation See SENATE, Page JA

NATION IN BRIEF Sierra Club Report Claims 'Superfund' Not Being Spent

Monday, Oct. 25, 1982

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Reagan administration is budgeting only half the money needed to clean up the nation's worst toxic waste dumps under the muchheralded "Superfund" law, a Sierra Club report charges.

Sparked by discoveries of hazardous waste sites such as the Love Canal neighborhood in Niagara Falls, N.Y., the Superfund is a congressionally mandated effort to clean up the 400 worst dumps within the next five years. Some $1.6 billion is committed to the program.

But the Sierra Club report, released today, accused the Environmental Protection Agency under the Reagan administration of breaking the government's "solemn pledge" to overhaul the dump sites.

"The Reagan administration has consistently budgeted only half the money required to clean up sites scheduled in (the original) 1980 EPA study," the group said. "And the administration has cleaned up ... fewer than half the dumps scheduled for action."

Poor Shiver In Tent Cities

United Press International

Hundred of the poor and unemployed shivered today in Depression-style tent cities dubbed "Reagan Ranches" as a replacement for the "Hoovervilles" of the 1930s and designed to protest "disgusting" administration policies.

Comedian and political activist Dick Gregory pitched his tent in a rocky vacant lot in Piltsburgh and said Reagan should "let his feet get cold and go a day without eating. Maybe then he could relate.'

"I don't think there is the radical core in America now that existed in the '60s," an organizer in New Orlenas said. "But the next step down from here is where the poor have nothing left to lose. And that's when things will start to happen."

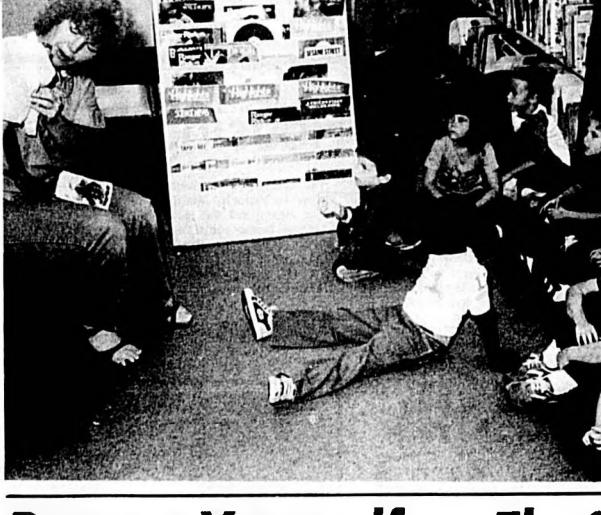

Members of the Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now said the "Reagan Ranches" would remain stor ing in at least 15 com-munities nationwide until Nov. 2 to remind voters of the needs of the poor must unemployed.

Protect Yourself — Flu Season Coming

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The National Foundation for Infectious Diseases is urging millions of Americans who are particularly susceptible to flu and pneumonia to take steps to protect themselves this winter.

Dr. Richard Duma, head of infectious diseases at the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond, recommended preventive vaccinations for older Americans and those who have chronic diseases such as diabetes, heart disease, kidney disease and alcoholism.

Duma begins the foundation's flu and pneumonia alert campaign with a news conference in Boston today, followed by similar events in Detroit Wednesday, St. Louis Thursday and Cleveland Friday.

More meetings with public health officials protect against influenza and pneumonia." are planned during the following two weeks in Seattle; Los Angeles; Miami; San Francisco; Dallas; New Orleans; Richmond, Va.; Houston; Denver; Washington; Tampa, Fla.; Chicago and Philadelphia.

President Reagan endorsed the project in a letter dated Oct. 12 to Duma.

"With the onset of colder weather, hundreds of thousands of our citizens face the prospect of contracting influenza or pneumonia," it said. "If past winters are any indication, thousands will die of these diseases.

"The National Foundation for Infectious Diseases is helping reduce the toll by alerting the nation to the availability of vaccines to Duma said in an interview the non-profit foundation is spearheading the effort because of a lack of leadership from government health agencies since an outbreak of the sometimes-fatal Guillain-Barre syndrome following widespread swine flu vaccinations in 1976.

Durna said today's vaccines are safe, but federal agencies have become "a little sensitive and gun shy" about the issue.

He estimated that some 50 million to 60 million Americans are at high risk of developing the flu and more serious complications such as pneumococcal pneumonia. Last winter was relatively mild as far as influenza was concerned, but there was an epidemic of influenza in the winter of 1980-81 with an estimated 60,000 to 70,000 Americans dying of the disease or its complications.

Duma said there is no way of predicting how much flu there will be this winter.

"I think everybody's keeping their fingers crossed," he said. "I think the high risk population just has to be prepared."

The foundation estimates that only 15 to 20 percent of people over 50 have been vaccinated against the flu, and less than 10 percent for pneumonia. Flu shots are required annually, but pneumococcal pneumonia shots are only needed once.

Sturm was among the commissioners who supported borrowing the money from the fund. French said he can't understand why the county agreed to lease the Humane Society 3.7 acres along U.S. 17-92 across from the County's Five Points complex. But Sturm said the county agreed to the deal, which calls for the county leasing the property to the Humane Society If construction begins on a facility at the site before October 1983. Armed Robbers Strike Twice; Net $775

Armed bandits netted a total of $775 in two separate holdups over the weekend, robbing a Sanford service station attendant and a convenience store employee making a night deposit.

The first robbery occurred Friday when a man armed with a shotgun entered the Highway Oil station, 2425 U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, and ordered assistant manager Frank Putman behind the building, police said.

Waiting there was a second robber who punched Pulman and took his wallet which contained $15 and some personal papers. Putman told police that the pair stole nothing from the station.

The second incident occurred about 2:45 a.m. Saturday at the Southeast Bank at 161 Airport Blvd., Sanford.

According to a police report, Joyce Engelkens, assistant manager of the Lil' Champ convenience store, 1920 U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, was making a night deposit when someone pushed her from behind into a wall, grabbed the bank bag containing $750 from her hand and fled.

Six Leading Newspapers Endorse Gov. Bob Graham

United Press International

Incumbent Gov. Bob Graham, leading Republican challenger L.A. "Skip" Bafalis 2-to-1 with just a week to go before the election, added another feather to his campaign cap with the weekend endorsement of six of the state's largest newspapers.

The Miami Herald, St. Petersburg Times, The Orlando Sentinel, The Tampa Tribune-Times, The Florida Times-Union and Jacksonville Journal and Today of Cocoa all threw their support behind Graham in editorials published Sunday.

The Naples Daily News and The Fort Myers News-Press-both in Bafalis' home region-had endorsed Graham last week.

The papers cited their dissatisfaction with Congressman Bafalis' performance in Washington, as well as their satisfaction with Graham's record in the area of crime, education, the environment and the economic climate of the state.

2 Pedestrians Killed

ORLANDO (UPI)-An Orlando man has been charged with manslaughter in the traffic deaths of two Latin American men who were hit by a car after their station wagon ran out of gasoline on Interstate 4.

Five other people were seriously injured in the accident early Sunday.

The victims were two Colombian families and a Puerto Rican family, said police officer Rick DeTreville. The two Colombian families were in central Florida on vacation.

DeTreville said the seven were struck by a car about 2:30 a.m. while walking near an I-4 west exit in downtown Orlando after their station wagon ran out of gas. The seven got about 200 yards before they were hit, DeTreville said.

The driver of the car, Victor A. Geddings, 22, of Orlando, has been charged with manslaughter. He was released Sunday after posting $5,000 bond.

Sharon: Begin Didn't Know

About Massacre Beforehand

United Press International Israeli Defense Minister Ariel Sharon, in the first public session of an investigation into the massacre of Palestinians in west Beirut, said today he learned of the slaughter 24 hours after it began, but failed to advise Prime Minister Menachem Begin.

Sharon, architect of the June 6 invasion of Lebanon, testified for 90 minutes before a three-man panel and for the first time in public gave a timetable of the decisions that led to the massacre of as many as 1,700 people in the Sabra and Chatila camps. He said Israel's chief fear was that the Phalange were not combat-ready and not that they would kill civilians to avenge the assassination of Lebanese President-elect Beshir Gemayel.

Senate Race Between Langley, Hunter

She suggests that light industry be attracted with incentives. She urges that quality education be provided as an incentive to uproot and transplant families and that stronger punitive measures be enacted against employers who hire aliens and runaways for cheap labor.

Langley also believes the economy is the single greatest issue facing the upcoming Legislature.

"Florida is finally feeling the effects of the national economic problem. The tax bases that we have relied on so long are croding because homestead exemptions have reduced the property tax base. The lagging economy has reduced the sales tax base and the high price of fuel has reduced this source."

The Legislature also will be faced with the financing of education, roads and prisons and decisions on whether to continue or abandon formerly federally financed programs, in Langley's judgment.

What legislation would the two candidates introduce in the 1963 Legislature, if elected?

Mrs. Hunter said she sees so many critical issues confronting Florida citizens that she wants to conduct a thorough research but believes at this time a need exists for legislation in the following areas: unemployment, utility rates, consumer protection on medical bills and lawyer fees; environmental protection, quality education, crime, law enforcement and for mobile home and condominium owners.

Langley plans to introduce: a constitutional amendment to tax the second $10,000 of home values changing the homestead exemption law: a constitutional amendment to prohibit the state from passing costly programs on to cities and counties unless the revenue is sent with it; an additional tax on liquor to fund the building of jails and the upgrading of law enforcement and to plug any loopholes in the "driving under the influence" law

The District 11 seat in the Florida Senate for which Mrs. Hunter and Langley are vying includes about 40 percent of Seminole County.

Seminole voters who will choose between the two live in precincts 2, 4, 9, 10, 13, 14, 17, 20, 26, 30, 32, 33, 34, 35, 41, 46, 47, 51, 53, 54, 58, 60, 61, 64, 65, 66, 70, 71 and 72.

State Loses Armed Robbery Case For Lack Of Prompt Prosecution

While an alleged armed robber escaped prosecution in Seminole County, he is currently being held in the state prison on charges he violated probation terms in an Orange County case.

Seminole Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McGregor Jr. dismissed the charge of attempted armed robbery against Kelly Hughley in connection with the attempted armed robbery of an Altamonte Springs store owner last March after the state failed to being him to trial within the required 180-day time limit.

However, prosecutors said the legal clock ran out before they realized it because of a mix-up in communications between the Seminole and Orange County sheriff's departments.

Jenny Martin, owner of the Custom Floor Covering store in Altamonte Springs, said a gunman entered her store and tried to rob her, but she told him he would have to shoot her first and left the store. The befuddled gunman then fled, police said.

After Mrs. Martin reported the in-Orange County deputies said trial timeclock. Usually, a notice is sent via teletype to the other law enforcement agency telling them the suspect has been arrested. However, no teletype was sent to Seminole County deputies notifying them Hughley's records were incomplete. of Hughley's arrest, deputies said.

In addition, a copy of the legal notice requesting the arrest is usually stapled to the defendant's jail file but that was not done in Hughley's case, deputies said.

Hughley later was acquitted of the Orange County charge and Seminole deputies were notified to pick him up. Hughley was transferred to the Seminole with the March attempted armed rob-

Suicide Rises With Unemployment Rate

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (UPI) - More than 300 American men commit suicide with every 1 percent jump in the nation's unemployment rate, a new study shows.

A trial date of Oct. 25 was then set for Hughley, but on Oct. 14, Hughley's courtappointed lawyer filed a motion for dismissal of the charge saying the legal clock had run out Oct. 13. McGregor granted the motion Oct. 15.

Soviet Spy Defects

LONDON (UPI) - In twin spy thrillers that shook intelligence services from Moscow to Washington, the KGB's man in Tehran defected to Britain and a British linguist reportedly supplied key U.S. data to the Soviets.

Official sources said Sunday that British M16 intelligence agents were questioning Soviet defector Vladimir Kuzichkin, 35, at a "safe house" in Sussex, England.

Agents described Kuzichkin as a "big fish" in the Soviet spy service who has provided a valuable insight into the Russian espionage network.

There were new worries, though, over the case of Geoffrey Arthur Prime, 44, a Russian language expert at Britain's Ultra-secret Cheltenham communications center who was arrested and charged with espionage in July.

U.S. Should Support ASEAN

The South China Sea is Japan's umbilical cord to Mideast oil. A generation ago, it was the invasion route for the Japanese Imperial Navy. Today, the Soviet navy, stationed in abandoned U.S. bases in Vietnam, is flying the hammer and sickle in the South China Sea. Not only Japan is nervous.

Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia, Singapore and the Philippines, which all border the South China Sea, feel threatened not only by the Soviet navy but by the Vietnamese army, one of the world's largest, which now dominates much of Laos and Cambodia. But memories of Japanese atrocities in World War II are still fresh in Asia, and the free-enterprise nations organized in a NATO-style alliance called the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, ASEAN, are unhappy about prospects of a new Japanese military presence. America's memory of the Vietnam War is fresh, and there is little likelihood of U.S. troops being sent to fight in Southeast Asia.

The best defense is strength: ASEAN wants to defend itself, but needs U.S. and Japanese help.

Thailand, the northernmost ASEAN nation, is undergoing a Japanese-style economic miracle, despite the influx of thousands of starving fugitives from neighboring Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam. It exports rice and textiles and has managed to remain immune to most effects of the world recession, while increasing the minimum wage 10 percent ahead of inflation. It is a kingdom with a strong, 200-year-old monarchy, and any flirtation with Marxism among the young has been halted by the "object lesson" of seeing refugees from communism, says Thailand's. ambassador to the United States, Prok Amranand. Thailand has never been conquered by outsiders, unlike Vietnam and Burma, and it has the will to remain independent and capitalist. Its army hopes to match Vietnam's strength with Western technological superiority, but U.S. technological superiority did not prevail in the Vietnam War, so there is reason for concern.

President Suharto of Indonesia, the southernmost nations of ASEAN, met recently with President Reagan, in part to plea for U.S. military aid. But U.S. support for Suharto is complicated by the ruthless Indonesian conquest of East Timor in 1976 and by starvation and slaughter of thousands of people after Portugal pulled out of its former colony. Indonesia says it has ended starvation in East Timor, but reporters have been prevented from visiting the island. The Philippines, which has historic and economic ties with the United States, has its own human rights problems, and the future of the regime of President Ferdinand Marcos is uncertain. Malaysia, especially the area around Java, has a problem of poverty, which could give an opening to Marxist infiltration. Singapore is rich, but tiny.

Disagreements in government are the ringing of the liberty bell, said Gene Burns, radio commentator and talk show host in his role as master of ceremonies for the recent "Victory '82" banquet of the Seminole County Democratic Party.

Burns proved to be popular with the 150 or more Democratic party workers, officials, candidates and special guests at the Altamonte Springs Inn and Racquet Club event as he waxed on in a patriotic theme citing the unique American form of government.

Saying the U.S. government has a delicate system of government, Burns noted, "We are the power and the only way we can lose it is by lack of attention by the citizens."

Among those present were Clerk of the Circuit Court Arthur H. Beckwith Jr., Tax Collector and Mrs. Troy Ray Jr., Democratic legislative candidates, Glenn Turner, Bobby Hattaway, Troy Piland, Bettye Smith and County Commission candidate Bob French.

Special guests, in addition to guest speaker

U.S. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Cal., were: Longwood Mayor June Lormann and City Commissioner Chick Pappas; Sanford City Commissioners and Mrs. Milton Smith; Casselberry Mayor Owen Sheppard, unannounced mayoral candidate Charles Glascock, Councilman Bill Grier; Winter Springs City Commissioner Martin Trencher and City Commission candidate Ellen Weiss; former state Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Glenn Conner, brother of State Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner.

Long-time party workers, Florence Gilmartin and Kathleen Reynolds and many others were also present.

State Committeernan Bill Wack said the Democratic Party in the past two and one-half years has come a long way, "but the cause is worthwhile."

Party chairman Marvin Meltzer said the Democrats were sending a message to Washington that anyone can cut inflation and the interest rates at the price of unemployment.

Florida House of Representatives Speaker Designate Lee Moffitt and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schilke were hosts at a reception given at the Sanford Civic Center in honor of Bettye Smith, candidate for the District 35 seat in the state House.

Mofflit, who personally endorsed Mrs. Smith for election, said he looked forward to working with her in the House in 1983. He drove over from Tampa to participate in the event, saying he was impressed with the large number of Smith yard signs he had seen in Seminole County.

In addition to Cleveland, the Smiths, Sanford Commissioner Ned Yancey and his wife, Martha, others at the gathering included Mr. and Mrs. Tom McDonald, Nellie and Boyd Coleman, Helen and Al Fitz, Virginia Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Harriett, Dan Pelham, Kenneth McIntosh, Glenn and Relda McCall and Beckwith.

DON GRAFF On The Polish Courier

If the oppressors of Poland want to know why they will never succeed in bringing the country to heel, they need only ask Jan Nowak.

Or Jan Kwiatkowski, Adalbert Kozlowski, Zdzisław Jezioranski or, for very short, Zych. They will answer as one man because they are, an economics graduate of Poznan University.

Jan Nowak—as he will be known from here on because it is the name that, through the misfortunes of war, has stuck—never had the opportunity to put his academic skills to professional use. His studies ended as World War II began.

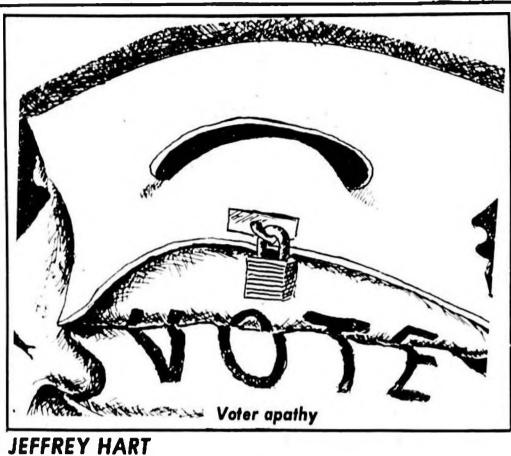

What followed is the subject of "Courier I from Warsaw", his gripping memoirs of the Polish underground.

The first phase of Nowak's war ended quickly. Called up as a second lleutenant in August of 1939, he was captured in the German onslaught but shortly escaped from a prison train.

It was then that active duty really began. Using the code name "Zych" and various cover identities, Nowak entered the resistance through Action N, a black propaganda campaign sowing dissent among the enemy.

Eventually he was tapped for a more perilous mission—as a messenger from the underground command in Warsaw to the government.

Why They Hate Reagan

Recently I had lunch in Manhattan with a normally pleasant woman who works for a publishing house, an episode I mention only because of what seems to me its wider significance.

I was practically blown out of my chair by her hatred of Ronald Reagan. This emotion is not widespread in any statistical sense, but it seems to me to be powerful among the kind of people who work in publishing houses, the media, and the academy.

And the important thing to notice is that it is not supported by anything that Reagan has actually done.

My own view is that it is a kind of "religious" hatred, and that the religion it serves — tacitly — is a kind of egalitarian socialism.

But the hatred is there, exaggerated though it may seem to the sober-minded.

of income has been significantly altered in favor of the rich since the present administration took office. Corporation profits plunged from $163 billion in 1960 to $140 billion...in the first half of 1962, in the face of a rising price level over the same period...The share in the national income of property receipts in general — including profits, interest, rent, and royalties — dropped from 25 to 23 percent over that period...In all, the plcture was hardly the dream of the world's greediest capitalist come true."

Even the big three-year tax cuts, won last year over liberal howls of protest, did hardly more than make up for the silent tax rise caused by inflation and "bracket creep."

What is the real source, then, of the fury directed against Ronald Reagan in the name

Poland's Agony Goes On

The Polish military government's passage of a new labor law on October 8 that outlaws all non-communist labor organizations will share the infamy of the martial law crackdown last December.

The rubberstamp Polish Parliament passed the bill annulling the liberalized law of August 1980 that gave birth to Solidarity, the first free trade union behind the Iron Curtain. The right to strike was canceled, even as the shipyard workers of Gdansk, the vanguard of Solidarity two years ago, threw down their tools in protest. The following week witnessed widespread unrest and violence, as Poles poured into the streets. The now-familiar scenes of riot police firing tear gas canisters appeared again on Western television.

As the Gdansk shipyard was placed under military control, President Reagan suspended Poland's "most-favored nation" trading status, under terms of the 1974 Trade Act. The White House began considering special legislation to revoke Poland's trade privileges.

While the regime cracked down at home, it was castigated by its most feared, and most effective for, Pope John Paul II, who declared to an audience of 11,000 Poles gathered in Rome that "My nation does not deserve to be driven to tears."

The Polish nation is now bathed in tears, and in blood. But the abolition of Solidarity has not dented the resolve of the men and women who formed it. They still plan a nationwide strike on November 10, the second anniversary of the union's registration as a legal organization.

That event, and the months of summer 1980 that led to it, now seem terribly distant. Poland is today crushed economically and politically. Poles wait in weary lines to shop for what meager, pathetic fare is available, as the nation veers towards bankruptcy. The government pleaded with the shipyard protestors that each day of the strike cost the country nearly $1 million. Meanwhile, the Soviets stand and watch in supreme satisfaction. Their Polish serfs are paying the price of rebellion against the Kremlin, which for 37 years has always been levied: in East Germany, Hungary and Czechoslovakia. But there is a vast difference to Poland's trial today. Inspired by their brief intoxicating whilf of freedom, sustained by their religious faith and the gallant, centuries-old tradition of Polish patriotism, Poles are still taking to the streets, arms raised in defiance, shouting the slogans of Solidarity and their church. And the world watches, stunned at their courage, as we await the next chapter in Poland's sublime, noble agony.

ASEAN merits strong American support, which must be matched by aid from Japan.

Terrorist Subsidy

It has been painfully obvious for years that the United Nations is becoming ever less effective as a force for international peace and security. One reason, perhaps, is the tendency of the General Assembly in particular to see its role less as a peacekeeper than as a force for social and political change.

To that end, the General Assembly has voted to fund a variety of Third World "liberation" movements despite conclusive evidence that these groups engage in terrorism. These subsidies, amounting to more than $100 million since 1975, have gone to such groups as the Palestine Liberation Organization, the Southwest Africa People's Organization, the African National Congress, and the Pan-African Congress.

The Reagan administration may not be able to persuade the General Assembly to repudiate all terrorist organizations. But the administration could at least insist that not one nickel of this country's contribution to the United Nations go to support those who kill and maim innocent civilians in the name of "liberation."

coal dust dripping steadily on the stowaway through black nights and equally black days. He returned to Poland by plane, on a British night flight allotted six minutes to unload cargo in a clover field, take on out-bound passengers and take off again for its Italian base.

No wak left Poland for the last time by train, across a disintegrating Reich, and on foot, through the snow of Christmas Day 1944 into neutral Switzerland.

In between he had seen it all—the refusal of conquered Poles to accept conquest, the crumbling of German might, the Warsaw uprising in which Polish irregulars took and held the capital for two months while the Red Army sat across the Vistula and did nothing.

He had also witnessed the destructive feuding among London Poles and, as victory neared, the desertion by the Anglo-American leaders of their Polish allies. There came the growing realization that both government in London and underground in Poland were fighting a losing battle.

But Jan Nowak fought on, and went on fighting after the war, first with BBC's Polish broadcasting and then for a quarter of a century as director of Radio Free Europe's Polish service.

In the continuing flood of war memoirs, "Courier from Warsaw" is a standout. In part because it is a thunderingly good true adventure, in part because of its insights into a tragedy of the recent past, and above all because of its relevance to the present.

JACK ANDERSON

According to Sen. Kennedy, for example, Reagan presides over "government by and for the rich." The cartoonist Herblock depicts him as a whip-wielding slave driver. The economist Robert Lekachman calls Reagan an "apostle of naked avarice." To educator Stephen Rousseas, he is sacrificing "the powerless on the altar of the wealthy." The New York Times editorializes about Reagan's "brutal cuts" in social programs.

But, as University of Maryland economist Melville J. Ulmer points out in a recent article, and this seems to me of major significance, this extreme rhetoric and extreme emotion are not at all justified by the facts.

"The cold statistical facts," writes Prof. Ulmer, "show that federal outlays for weifare, including income maintenance and public health, have continued steadily upward — from $248 billion in fiscal year 1980 to $291 billion in 1982. The last figure is more than 70 percent greater than the presumably bloated 1982 budget for national defense."

Prof. Ulmer notes that some programs generally considered sloppy and ineffective, such as the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) have indeed been cut back. Eligibility requirements have been tightened on student loans — where abuses were often flagrant. But there has in fact been no massive retrenchment on programs for "the poor."

"Nor," observes Prof. Ulmer, "has evidence appeared as yet that the distribution of the "poor?"

It seems to me that Prof. Ulmer has the answer. The fury arises not really out of anything that Reagan has done, but at his expressed intention of stopping the redistribution of income downward. The fury is rooted in egalitarian and socialist assumptions. It is assumed that income levels, at some time in the future, ought to be equal. It is assumed that the federal government will play the central role in bringing that result about. These socialist assumptions are never - or almost never - openly avowed, because they would be widely unpopular. But it is certainly this redistributionist ethic that explains the egalitarian animus against Reagan.

There is another curious feature to all this. It is impossible to get a redistributionist like economist Robert Lekachman to define just where the leveling process ought to stop. To put it another way, there seems to be no specific kind of society in which these liberals would become conservatives, admitting that their goals had been largely achieved. They do not define a model of the good society; they merely express a tendency.

And to me that means that their chief motivation is envy — much more hatred of "the rich" than concern for "the poor." Their desired equality is not achievable, given the facts of human nature, but they will use the rhetoric of equality to express their resentment of those who in one way or another have accumulated some money and property.

Ways, Means Panel Lobbyists' Target

WASHINGTON-The 34 members of the House Ways and Means Committee are probably the most pampered and pressured group of lawmakers in the world.

The reason is simple. Under the Constitution, "all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives." And a careleasily or cleverly worded phrase or sentence in a tax bill—even the omission or placement of a comma—can mean literally millions of dollars saved or lost by an industry or even by a single company.

In this high-stakes game, the services of professional lobbyists are essential. The corporate fatcats want to make sure their companies don't suffer from a badiy written tax bill; ideally, they'd like to have the legislation worded in their favor. So they hire lawyer-lobbyists to "ansist" the Ways and Means Committee, if possible, in drafting tax bills—or at least watch over the committee's shoulder and make suggestions.

One way of winning friends and influencing members of this powerful committee, of course, is to contribute to their re-election campaigns. Both givers and receivers stoutly deny that the few thousand dollars involved can buy a member's vote. But it helps to establish a cordial working basis, and in the case of lagislation that may not otherwise concern a lawmaker, he may understandably go along with the suggestions of his friendly lobbyist.

As one veteran influence-peddler put it in the language of lobbying: "He might see you as a player he likes to play with." With this in mind, I had my reporters Tony

With this in mind, I had my reporters Tony Capaccio, Dorothy Wegard and Jock Hatfield check the "scorecards" filed with the Federal Election Commission to identify the players and see how the game is being played these days.

They found that Ways and Means Committee members have received a total of at least $84,000 in campaign contributions during 1961-62 from representatives of 38 Washington law-lobby firms. The firms' clients range from oil companies to airlines, insurance companies to department stores, with one thing in common-they all had an interest in specific tax legislation the committee was considering.

Almost all the lobbyists who made campaign contributions listed their occupation as either attorney or self-employed—a technically accurate designation permitted by the election commission. Peering behind this smokescreen, we found only five committee members who had not benefited from Big Lobby's largense: Rep. Barber Conable, R-N.Y.; Bill Archer, R-Texas; Phil Crane, R-III.; Robert Matsui, D-Calif., and Sam Gibbons, D-Fia.

Those at the top of the lobbyists' gift list were Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-III., the committee chairman, who got $5,500; James Shannon, D-Mass., $5,300; Frank Guarini, D-JN.J., 6,010; James Hones, D-Okla., $6,473; Marty Russo, D-III., $5,300; Fortney Stark, D-Calif., $4,500; Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., $4,305; Bill Fremel, R-Minn., $4,200, and Wyche Fowler, D-Ga., $4,236.

The records show that four members of the prestigious Williams & Jensen law firm donated a total of $7,980 in 1981-82 to 17 individual members of the Ways and Means Committee. Of that amount, $4,960 was given by lawyer-lobbyist Donaid C. Evans-who also donated $4,900 to various Senate campaigns.

Five members of the equally influential law firm of Patton, Boggs and Blow donated a total of $5,500 to 12 committee members, mostly in $250 tickets to fundraising events. Thomas Boggs, the best-known partner, also contributed $10,000 to various Senate races.

Boggs, whose mother, Rep. Lindy Boggs, D-La., is not on the committee, described his firm's contact with the Ways and Means Committee as "in the heavy category." The members he gave money to are his friends, he said, and he couldn't recall giving anyone "any real money"—which he defined as more than $1,009.

Former Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills put up $2,000 of the $2,500 his law firm donated to seven members, while former Internal Revenue Commissioner Donald Alexander contributed $3,350 of the $4,450 his law firm gave to committee members.

"I'm glad to contribute," said Alexander. "I like the people. I respect them."

Tribe, Patriots In 'Basement Bowl' Friday Quit.

A four-letter word among football oaches. It's a distasteful word. It's he ultimate downer in sports. It's when you reach a point where it is no onger important to salvage your ride.

When you quit you have no pride. 's kind of like dying. A player oesn't care any more and he just lets o of everything and goes through the hotions.

Seminole High's football team quit a the second half Friday night gainst Lakeland Kathleen. Oh, not all of them, but most of them. They guit because the game was out of reach, 27-0 at halftime. The arm tackles became more frequent and the effort became less.

Sure, it's been a frustrating season. Anytime a team crosses the halfway point without a victory, it has to be trastrating. There is still no reason to quit, however. No matter how bad things get. Even 41-0.

Friday at Lake Brantley, the Seminoles play another team, the 0-6 Patriots, which is still searching for that elusive first win.

Unlike the Seminoles, though, the Pstriots seem to be going in the oposite direction. After being blown ou early in the season, Brantley has been respectable the last three weeks. Against Mainland Saturday, the Patriots were within three minutes of their first win when Eric Sommeriad secovered Eric Childs' fumble in the and zone for a 12-7 victory for the Buccaneers.

By SAM COOK Herald Sports Editor It wasn't too many years ago that it was considered a major accomplishment when a Seminole High cross country team finished the season. That was before coach Ted Tombros. Now in his second year, Tombros has breathed life into a dormant program which lingered on extinction. The Seminoles boys took their biggest breath Saturday at the Lake Mary Ram Invitational and brought home the first invitational championship in the history of the school.

"We're ecstatic," said Tombros Monday morning. "The kids are super happy. Everybody really responded and ran their best times ever. Everybody just did a tremendous job."

The best of the respondees was senior Mike Wooten. He ran a 16:25 three mile to finish third overall. It was 22 seconds better than his previous best.

Ken Troutman (eighth, 16:57), Chris Calloway (12th, 17:17), William Boyd (14th, 17:28), Scott Meck (17th, 17:32) and Mike McClohon (21st, 17:41) followed Wooten's lead.

All five improved by 20-30 seconds apiece while McClohon ran over a minute faster than his previous best.

Ironically, it was a slackening in training habits that keyed the school's first championship.

"We had been working real hard for the last three weeks ... maybe too hard," said Tombros. "That may have accounted for our poorer times in the county meet. We eased up a bit last week and it paid off."

There wasn't any easing off for Lake Mary's Derek Tangeman, however. The alented junior blitzed the previous course record with a 15:24 clocking to take first place by 38 seconds over Lake Brantley's Mike Garriques. The old record was 16:04 by Lake Highland's Mike Olvey.

Cross Country

New Smyrna Beach (63) and Seminole (71) were next.

Tim Kornacki (fifth, 18:7), Ivan Carbia (18:42), Jack Likens (12th, 18:49), Pat Murphy (13th, 18:53) and Tom Busquets (23rd, 20:12) followed Palumbo home.

Seminole placed fourth. Freshman Kelly Faint broke the freshman record with a 17:54 effort. He finished third overall.

Former record holder Billy Penick (ninth, 18:22), Anthony Brown (18th, 19:31), Gary Barnett (20th, 19:48), Steve Chung (21st, 19:55), Mike Davis (22nd, 20:02) and Mike Wohlgemuth (25th, 20:50) were next for the 'Noles.

Lake Brantley's girls made a shambles of the varsity and junior varsity competition, running away with both titles. Junior Kathryn Hayward sailed to her best two-mile time of the year (12:05) while leading five Patriots girls home in the top 10.

Regurgent Ellen Stern was third in 12:18, Joanne Hayward was fourth in 12:39, Barbara Holmes was sixth in 13:04 and Tammy Roberts was 10th in 13:46. "Tammy was a total surprise," said Brantley coach Jim Marshall. "She's been running junior varsity all year and she really turned in a fine effort."

Kim Averill paced the Rams second place finish by coming in fifth in 12:50. Trinity Prep's Adrienne Politowicz ran second to K. Hayward in 12:16.

Liz Stone (eighth, 13:12) and Shannon Weger (ninth, 13:34) were in the top 10 for the Rams.

Lyman Sweeps

Boone Meet

Lyman's boys and girls cross country squads tuned up for this Friday's Five Star Conference Meet by sweeping the Boone Invitational Saturday in Orlando. Coach Joe Laughlin's girls edged Winter Park by nine points, 70-79, for the title, while coach David Huggins boys were an easy 39-63 winner over runnerup Jacksonville Forrest. Lake Howell was third.

Lyman's JV girls also won behind a strong effort from Christine Gigicos who won the two mile in 14:23. The Lyman boys JV was second to Rockledge.

"We might have won that too, but the Rockledge coach was disciplining a (14th, 16:50), Wayne Straw (15th, 16:59) couple of his runners and made them run JV," said Laughlin about the near sweep.

What's the difference between second and third — just a smile and a look of exhaustion. The smile belongs to Adrienne Politowicz (right), Trinity Prep's amazing freshman who finished second to Lake Brantley's Kathryn Hayward in the Lake Mary Rams Invitational Saturday. The exhaustion belongs to Ellen Stern who finished third. Stern's best effort of the year helped the Patriots to still another title this year.

Both the Seminoles and the Patriots re floundering in the Five Star Conference cellar. It should make an nteresting game for Friday's "Basement Bowl."

Days and even weeks before the ake Mary-Oviedo football game, rumors were flying that the other county high schools were getting tired and irritated with Lake Mary's motto - "The Beginning of the Best."

So, when the Lions had built a 21-0 lead with 50 seconds left, they didn't eem satisfied with the loosided rout. Backup guarterback Dwayne Johnson tonned a 22-yard touchdown pass to Ken Ashe which didn't sit too well with the Rams' head coach Roger Beathard.

Beathard felt the Lions were running up the score, a cardinal sin in the coaching ranks. Coaches usually abstain from this tactic because sometime, somewhere they will run into that team or that coach again and he may hold the upperhand next time and may stomp you.

Blanton defended the touchdown by saying he was just trying to get his players some experience. "What's the difference 21-0 or 28-0?" he asked after the game.

Apparently to the Rams, it was a lifference of more than seven points. "They're not too happy with us," nid Ovledo offensive coordinator Ken Kroog Saturday morning.

Sounds like a great start to a rivalry.

While Lake Brantley and Seminole are worried about their first win and Oviedo and Lake Mary are fouding. there are two teams in the county which have something important at stake.

Lake Howell, 3-1 in the conference, and Lyman, 2-1, battle Friday at Howell in a game which could determine the Five Star champion. The Silver Hawks hammered previously-undefeated Spruce Creek, 40-20, last Friday while Lyman stunned Apopks, 15-7. The Creek is 3-1 and Apopka is 3-1.

The Greyhounds have a pretty easy schedule after Lake Howell withs Seminole, Spruce Creek and Lake Brantley completing their seasons. -SAM COOK

"Eleven of our 12 runners in both meets had personal bests," said Lake Mary boys coach Mark McGee. Mark Blythe (fifth, 16:39), Jim Schnell (ningh, 17:02), Brian Lavigne (26th, 17:50), John Amrhein (27th, 17:54) and Kit Johnson (20th, 17:41) complemented Tangeman. Brewers Capture Fancy Despite Losing

NEW YORK (UPI) - At the very top, let's get one thing straight. The St. Louis Cardinals are the world champions and certainly deserve to be.

They played by the rules, they won The Thing as prescribed, in seven games, and nobody is trying to take their victory away from them. Nobody could, anyway. But in losing the World Series, the Milwaukee Brewers seemed to capture the fancy of people and swing them over to their side more than the Cardinals did

In winning. The Series has been over almost a week now, but everywhere I go, everybody still talks about the Brewers. not the Cardinals.

"What a shame they lost." "I was pulling for them so hard." That's all I keep hearing. At airline ticket counters in the Midwest as well as in the East, in such diverse places as supermarkets and barbershops and astonishingly enough, even among many of my journalistic colleagues. There's supposed to be no. rooting in the press box but the World Series was one athletic event in which that rule was violated.

Maybe it was because the Brewers had never won mything before or because of the way they battled back to beat both the Orioles and the Angels in those final games where they would've been all finished had they not. Or maybe it was because Milwaukee symbolizes America's Heartland to most people more than St. Louis does.

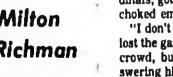

I don't really know what it was, but I do know the Brewers are emerging as the most popular losers in sports since groberto De Vicenzo erased himself as the winner of the Masters championship by not using his pencil properly.

The Brewers lost with style. They went to war with one of their biggest guns spiked when their Cy Young relief ace Rollle Fingers had to merely stand around and watch but they never offered that as any excuse for losing. They didn't whine, they didn't alibl, they didn't complain, and maybe that's what made so many people take to them all the more.

Last Thursday was a cold and cloudy day in Milwaukee, the kind of day you feel like staying indoors. But, according to police estimates, some 100,000 people lined Wisconsin Avenue to show the defeated Brewers' players how they felt about them as they came along in a motorcade.

Later at Milwaukee's County Stadium, Pete Vuckovich, who was charged with the seventh game defeat against the Car-dinais, got up to speak to the crowd. His choked emotion showed in his voice. "I don't feel so good today because we lost the game ..." he started to say to the crowd, but it never let him finish, answering him back in a rising but loving chorus, "It doesn't matter ... it doesn't matter."

Bud Selig, the Brewers' owner, became so excited when they won the pennant by beating the Angels that he bloodied his hand on the roof of his private box. He bled some more, inside where nobody saw, after the defeat by the Cardinals. In light of what he has seen, and how much it has meant for his club even to reach the World Series, he's feeling a lot better.

"It has bound this state and community together like nothing else has in the past three decades," he said from his home in Milwaukee Sunday. "It brought a source of joy that's almost impossible to believe.

"When we lost the last game to the Cardinals, I felt heartbroken. For our fans, our players, yes, even for myself. I had an empty feeling for about 20 hours. Then when I saw the reaction of the people to our team after we came back from St. Louis, I felt a sense of pride. I still do."

One of the more amusing aspects of the World Series was how a number of National Leaguers, who ordinarily would've been rooting for the Cardinals, swung over and cheered for the Brewers.

PETE VUCKOVICH ... choked up

"Bud Selig is my good friend," declared Giants' owner Bob Lurie. "Just because it's the World Series, you think I'm going to root against him?"

Other National Leaguers who felt pretty much the same way were Peter O'Malley of the Dodgers, Ballard Smith of the Padres, Charles Bronfman of the Expos and Danny Galbreath of the Pirates.

When NL president Chub Feeney saw all this crossing over of league lines, he said to Smith in mock alarm:

"Hey, what's going on here? The Cardinals are in the National League. remember?"

grueling duel. When the dust cleared, Salazar had shaken off Gomez and pulled away to a foursecond triumph in 2 hours, 9 minutes, 29 seconds — his third straight New York victory. For the second time in three years, he had withstood a challenge from Gomez, the veteran Mexican runner.

Salazar, the 24-year-old from Eugene. Ore., who now is undefeated in four marathons, played down the significance of the dust, saying, "When you have 600 yards to go in a 25-mile race, you don't worry about little things like dust."

The Cuban native had begun his charge to the finish 10 meters before the dust kicked up, stunning Gomes, who was unable to respond.

"I was surprised that he increased the tempo so drastically," Gomes said through an interpreter. "I didn't expect it. Then we entered the dust storm and I couldn't see him. The surprise was the spurt Alberto did."

Salazar knew from the start, along with 14,308 other runners, that he would not have much of a chance at his world record of 2:08:13 which he set last year: the cold headwinds which gusted out of the northeast at up to 23 mph made sure of that.

Still, the pace was even slower than expected. At the sixth mile, the lead group's time of 29:42 was 30 seconds behind the record. By the half mark, the the pace.

Claim Flag Football Wins

The Wildcats, Bulldogs and Bucs were all victorious Saturday in the Sanford Recreation Department's Fall Flag Football League at Chase Park.

In the day's first game, the Bucs won in sudden death over the Steelers by driving, deeper into Steeler territory then the Steelers could drive into Buc territory.

The sudden death period came after the teams battled to a 6-6 tie in regulation. The Steelers scored first when Joe Wiggens returned a punt 40-yards for a touchdown and the Bucs tied it on Calvin Donaldson's 10-yard run.

The victory gave the Bucs the championship of the Midget Division.

In Junior Division play, Harrison Hampton ran for touchdowns of 10 and 75-yards to lead the Bulldogs to a 13-6 victory over the Cowboys.

Gerald Morris scored on a 40-yard run for the Cowboys only TD.

In the third game of the day, Willie Grayson returned a kickoff 55-yards for a touchdown to lead the Wildcats to a 12-6 victory over the Rams.

Grayson's TD broke a 6-6 tie after the Rams tied the score just 20 seconds earlier on Mike Burke's 35-yard run. The Wildcats first score came when Marque Howard picked up a fumble on the second half kickoff and returned 50 yards for a touchdown.

Sommerlad Saves Bucs

Daytona Beach Mainland's Eric Sommeriad followed the bouncing ball Saturday and recovered two fumbles for touchdowns as the Buccaneers claimed a 12-7 Homecoming victory over Lake Brantley's Patriots.

Sommerlad, who recovered four fumbles on the day, gave the Bucs a 6-0 lead in the second quarter when he scooped up a Patriot fumble and rambled 54 yards for a touchdown.

Lake Brantley came back with 1:23 remaining in the first half to take a 7-6 lead on Andy Reardin's 11-yard run and conversion kick.

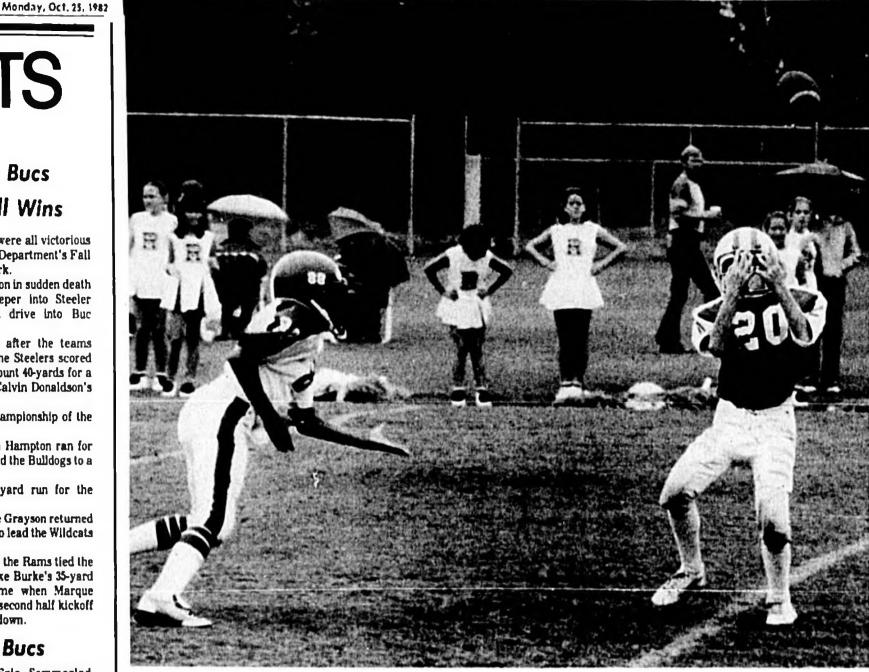

Lake Brantley held on to the 7-6 lead throughout the third quarter and for most of the fourth quarter and it looked as if the Patriots might get its first win of the season.

Then, a familiar name popped up as the ball popped loose from Mainland quarterback Eric Childa with 2:57 remaining in the game. In the scramble for the loose ball, Sommeriad recovered in the end zone to give Mainland a 12-7 lead and the Bucs held on for the win.

Mainland remains in the race for the Five Star Conference crown with a 3-2 conference mark, 3-4 overall. Lake Brantley fell to 0-6.

Washington Staggers Past Texas Tech

United Press International It took 91 years for Washington to finally set up a football game against Texas Tech. With that rivalry all of two years old, the Huskies may be ready to recess for another 91.

For the second straight season, a heavily favored Washington squad staggered out of a meeting with the Red Raiders with a red face and a narrow victory. The top-ranked Huskles. who beat Texas Tech 14-7 last year, had to rally in the fourth quarter Saturday en route to a 10-3 triumph at Seattle.

Texas Tech, 3-4, went ahead 3-0 early in the fourth quarter on a 39-yard Ricky Gann field goal, but the Huskies scored the game's only TD with 9:39 remaining when star running back Jacque Robinson scampered for a 19-

yard touchdown after cornerback Vince Newsome's fumble recovery set the Huskies up at the Texas Tech 32.

Robinson, who finished with 204 yards on 35 carries, then set up a 43-yard field goal by Chuck Nelson as Washington won its seventh straight. Huskies' quarterback Steve Pelluer, limited to just 46 yards by the Red Raider defense last year, was bounded again Saturday, throwing for only 45 yards.

"Our defensive play made the difference," acknowledged Washington Coach Don James. "They helped us win a game when we really needed them against a very quick team." The Huskies have struggled often this year despite a soft early schedule that hardens in the next month. Seeking a third straight Pacific-10 conference title, Washington meets dangerous Stanford in Palo Alto this Saturday, plays host to 10th-ranked UCLA and faces unbeaten Arizona State in Tempe.

The Huskies held the Red Raiders to 147 total yards and sacked quarterback Jim Hart six times during the windswept contest.

No team in the Top 20 lost Saturday, but many had surprising struggles against unheralded opponents intent on inflicting major upsets. No. 2 Pittsburgh blanked Syracuse 14-

Colonels Rip Knights, 60-10

This time, Goliath crushed David beneath his mammoth foot.

The Goliath-like Nicholls State squad pulverized underdog University of Central Florida, 60-10 Saturday in Nicholls' Homecoming at Thibodaux, La.

The Colonels, as Nicholls State is known, dominated every aspect of the game. UCF was held to minus five yards rushing on 30 carries and completed just eight of 33 passes for 88 yards.

Nicholls State got on the board first on a oneyard plunge by Oscar Smith and Rhett Tranchina's kick put the Colonels in command, 7-0. A 37-yard field goal by Tranchina gave Nicholls (5-2) a 10-0 lead and that was the score as the first quarter ended.

Before the Knights had a chance to come up for air, they were submerged by a 20-point second quarter scoring binge by Nicholls State.

UCF's only bright spot of the first half came with just 47 seconds left until intermission when Scott Ryerson booted a 50-yard field goal, his longest of the season as the Knights went into the locker room down 30-3.

In the third quarter, Nicholls State equalled its entire first half output with 30 points. The way it was going, it could have wound up 100-10, but Nicholls State didn't score in the fourth quarter.

While the St. John's defense held Trinity scoreless in the first half, Reynolds tossed a 29 yard touchdown pass to Mike Parker and Parker added the extra point to put St. John up 10-0. Earlier in the second quarter, Parker booled a 16-yard field goal to give St. John a 3-0 lead.

Trinity Prep pulled to within 10-7 in the third quarter when Jay Lawyer scampered for a 25-yard touchdown and Bobby Miller added the extra point.

St. John added an insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter when Reynolds took it in from four yards out to put St. John's up, 17-7.

Trinity Prep fell to 3-4 for the season while St. John rose to 3-4.

Rains Cancel Smyrna Show

NEW SMYRNA BEACH - Continuous, torrential rains forced New Smyrna Speedway officials to cancel Saturday night's racing program. The complete show, including the annual Pit Stop Competition has been rescheduled for this coming Saturday night.

South Daytona's Joe Middleton continues to lead the season-long point chase for the late-model division and seems to be heading for his first track title, after having been close runner-up for the last three seasons.

In the thunder car division, it's New Smyrna's own Jerry "Red Eye" Fitch on top, with regular Tommy Patterson, who hasn't missed a racing program her for the last three years, in second place.

Bob Collings of Orlando leads the street stock division's point standings by a slim margin over Dodge driver-owner Orie Smith. Also an Orlando resident, Smith makes a living selling new cars, Dodges, of course

In the four-cylinder division, young surfer Danny Pardus of Daytona Beach is the high-point man, but he has just sold his potent Pinto race car to J. W. Watts and will make the move to the thinder car class, if sufficient sponsorship can be secured.

This leaves Apopka's Eddie Tovat in direct line for the track championship, with "Good Time" Charlie Tolson, Alan Howell, Bob Clark and Paul Brassfield breathing down his neck.

Scheduled for November 27-28 at New Smyrna Speedway, the Fifth Annual "Florida Cracker 200" Late-Model Championship is less than five weeks aver

Just recently, the event's defending champion Gary Belough phoned to inquire as to when the track will be available for practice time, and Gary is definitely expected to be here at New Smyrna Speedway to defend his title.

Striker Message -No Football Without Agreement

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Just in case there was some doubt, the striking NFL Players sent league owners a message that there will be no pro football in 1982 without a collective bargaining agreement.

Even those union members who don't always agree with the leadership either agreed with the union line Sunday or stayed silent following a meeting of about 100 players in Washington.

The 34-day strike apparently won't end before games next weekend are called off, the sixth straight weekend without pro football. "If anyone came here looking for us to blink, I'm sorry," said Dan Jiggets of the Chicago Bears, a member of the union negotiating committee.

No further meetings have been set to resume negotiations that broke off Saturday when mediator Sam Kagel pulled out. Kagel walked out when both sides refused to budge on the crucial issue of how wages will be distributed. Ed Garvey, NFLPA executive director, said he will ask chief NFL negotiator Jack Donlan for further talks "as soon as possible." No meeting is expected before midweek since Donlan is scheduled to meet today in New York with members of the league's executive committee.

Garvey also said the union plans to push for further action by the National Labor Relations Board. NLRB General Counsel William A. Lubbers said last week he will issue a complaint against the NFL for refusing to bargain in good faith.

Union attorney Joseph A. Yablonski said the NFLPA will decide soon whether it will seek a rehearing of an appellate court decision allowing the NFL to challenge in state courts the players' right to play in a series of unionsponsored alistar games or appeal the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Yablonski also said the union may go back to U.S. District Court in Washington this week seeking to have the standard NFL player contract ruled invalid. The union sought an injunction against the contract, but Judge John Penn said the matter needed further hearing.

Union player representatives re-issued Sunday their resolution passed Aug. 30 in Chicago.

The five-point resolution demands that the NFL Management Council: "provide immediate substantial wage increases ...; guarantee players a fair share of future NFL revenues; eliminate wage inequities; produce longer careers through elimination of incentives to cut older players for financial reasons, and reward performance through significant incentives."

Union President Gene Upshaw said the wage scale demand is not mandatory, but any management offer must "be something that addresses our five points. We think a wage scale does that, but we re open to listen to any other solution. We just don't see any other way."

Russ Francis of the San Francisco 49ers, Bert Jones of the Los Angeles Rams and Russell Erxleben of the New Orleans Saints have spoken out against the union's stand, but said little after Sunday's meeting.

A reported published Sunday in Denver said 19 Broncos would send a message to union leaders urging an immediate end to the strike.

The report said the players were reacting to a straw vote among NFL owners that favored, 16-12, cancelling the 1982 season unless an agreement is reached soon.

Kurt Mosher, Broncos' liason with the NFLMC, denied the report.

"I'm the player representative," he said. "I don't represent 19 players. I will only deliver a resolution to the player representatives meeting which comes from the majority of the Broncos."

Miss Srock, B.W. Caldwell Exchange Vows

Cherryl Lynn Srock and Bruce Wayne Caldwell were married Sept. 18 at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer of Sanford. The Rev. E.A. Reuscher performed the 8 p.m. candlelight and double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Srock, 710 Baywood Ave., Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Gladys Caldwell, Jupiter Way, Casselberry, and Glenn Caldwell, 3007 S. Semoran Blvd.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal white organza gown fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and long slender sleeves with ruffled cuffs. Chantilly lace lavishly trimmed the bodice and the A-line skirt with a three-tiered ruffled hemline extending into a graceful cascading chapel train.

Mrs. Terry Owens attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a blue taffeta off-the shoulder gown with a flounced skirt caught into a bustle effect. She carried a Colonial nosegay of peach carnations interspersed with baby's breath and peach and blue streamers.

Bridesmaids were Virginia Harding, the bridegroom's sister, and Elizabeth Tart. Their gowns were identical to the honor attendant's and they carried similar nosegays.

Phillip Roesell served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Thomas Owens and Brian Meewes.

Natasha Stamm was the flower girl and William Bracken,

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE WAYNE CALDWELL cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Following a reception at the church fellowship hall, the newlyweds departed for a beach wedding trip. They make their home in Altamonte Springs. The bridegroom is a teacher at Lakeview Middle School, Sanford. The bride is a 1982 graduate of University of Central Florida.

Give Trickers, Treaters Gifts Of Money DEAR ABBY: Halloween "stop" - but he pays no attention to her.

Dear

will soon be here, and despite all the publicity about children who have been victims of poisoned candy and apples with razor blades, thousands of youngsters will be out "trick-or-treating" again this year.

I pray you will print this suggestion: Instead of handing out candy or fruit, get several rolls of pennies from the bank, and when the youngsters show up, drop two or three pennies into their trick-or-treat bags. The kids will get a kick out of counting their money when they get home, and their parents will rest a little easier.

This may not solve the problem entirely, but it might belo.

pleasure to work with you for these few years. Have you any suggestions for this week's article?"

Alan: "I see that they have re-issued Marshall Miles' book called 'All 52 cards." Why don't we use some hands from this fine book?" Oswald: "Marshall's first hand is about as simple a one as you can produce. He uses it as an example of a hand where there is no real need to wear yourself out with too much thought."

Alan: "You get to four hearts without any trouble. West opens the king of clubs and continues with the queen to East's ace. East cashes the jack of clubs and West chucks the nine of spades. East shifts to the three of spades."

Oswald: "Marshall didn't show the rest of the East-West cards. He said, There is no point stewing over your play. You must try the queen linesse."

Alan: "We have given the king to East so the finesse gives you your contract. If West held the king you would go down, but there was nothing you could have done to win."
