The Republicans are undergoing the kind of pulling and hauling, both from within and outside their ranks. which inevitably develops in a majority party struggling to get back

In Pennsylvania, faced with a chance to recapture the governorship and a U. S. Senate seat, factions fell into near chaos as the GOP tried to shape an agreed ticket.

In Maryland, a former Republican governor complained of the scarcity of good and willing candidates as the party there confronted similar opportunity.

Sinting Separation - tomber a are smarting meantime under the rash of charges that the party offers the nation an image of negativism and inaction.

Their new 12-member House-Senate committee to draft a 1962 declaration of party policy is frankly intended as an answer to these criticisms. They insist they have many positive party positions but that these get buried under a steady barrage of Democratic publicity from both the White House and Congress. But Republican National Chairman William Miller, who echoes well the party's dominantly conservative tone, flatly asserts that the coming party declaration will offer no special tailoring for the best urban "vote market" in an effort to steal the Democrats' thunder.

"If we're just going to ape the Democrats, what's the point of our existing as a separate party?" asks

In his view, better organization, better promotion of the present inage, is the way to cut Into Democratic urban majorities and regain power in the populous states.

Republican politicians of like mind have the strength in Congress and the national committee to make this view prevail in the declaration due June 1. It seems aure therefore, to stress such things as fiscal responsibility, the return of power to the states and cities, less welfare.

Since the party faces golden opportunities in such big-city states as Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and California, and must hold position in Illinois and Massachusetts, the voters in these areas will inform the GOP leaders in some eight months whether or not they are resolving their intraparty conflicts in a manner productive of victory.

DEAR ABBY: My father is a den mother. My mother said she would be our den mother but my father has had to run most of the meetings because my mother never gets home in time. My father works the night shift so he is home when I get home from school. All the kids like my Dad to be the den mother she promised to

DEAR ABBY: How can you tell a mother her faults? She complains that she is "lonely," but she brings so much of it on herself with her fussy ways. She is a nut on housekeeping. When she's expecting guests for dinner, she even cleans out her

Even worse, regardless of whose house she's in, she scours "spots" from the stove, bleaches the sink, wipes finger marks from the walls and scrubs around the faucets. She thinks she's being helpful when she "rearranges" your cuphoards, -notrealizing she makes you feel like a poor housekeeper. She points out little things like, "The children's shoe laces need washing," and "Your towels look faded." We love Mom, but we (her married daughters) are nervous wrecks after each visit,

DEAR EXHAUSTED: Your mother's "fussiness" is probably due to an excess of nervous energy. You'll never change her, so learn to roll with the punches. Go about your business and let her scour, scrub and "rearrange." She loves it!

DEAR ABBY: My husband's hair is thin and he says his ears get cold at night. He wants to wear a night cap and I don't like the idea. Do men wear them now or not? MARRIED 44 YEARS

DEAR MARRIED: Night caps are still very popular (both to drink and to wear) and I am told they still sell quite a few.

In the fourth and final hand of our match on TV against Gerber and Hodge, we carried a 610 point lead They needed to set us 700 or to bid and make a slain to win the match.

Mrs. Johnson's opening four diamond bid was correct rubber bridge strategy. Under the conditions of the match she A7 really should have passed, but the players are asked in advance to bid as if it were a rubber bridge game and not a match of four hands.

Gerber passed and Hodge reopened with a double whereupon Gerber cue bid five diamonds. He wanted to get to a major suit slam and did not Pom care which one Hodge might

Hodge felt the same way. He could stand either major suit and for all he knew there might be seven so he cue bid right back with six diamonds. Gerber closed the bidding at six spades and I opened with the five of diamonds.

The play at six spades was short but not sweet from our standpoint. Gerber won the trick, led a spade to his king and finessed successfully against my queen. Then he conceded a trick to the ace of clubs and claimed his contract.

His trump play was based on the fact that Mrs. Johnson's four diamond bid had shown a long suit, therefore she was likely to be short in the others.

Thinclads Meet Titusville Today

By Rosnie Broadway Heraid Sports Editor Coach Jim Pigott takes his track team to Titusville today where they will meet with the Terrier thinciads at 4 p. m.

This will be the first meet ing of the two teams and it should prove to be an interesting meet.

The Seminoles came home first in their last meet, which was against Leesburg and DeLand. Today's meet will also be a triangular meet, with Titusville, Seabreeze, and Sanford participating. The Seabreeze team is a real tough one and the Seminoles have their work cut out for them.

Sanford has several fast entries entered, including the hurdle jumping of Chip Crawford, the running of speedy Buddy Lawson, Mike Champion, Vick Welsh, the pole vaulting of Dave Melanio, and the broad jumping of Jensen Jones, Sanford also has several fast relay Answer antered James Is the speed demon of the team and he is expected to carry a big load in the sprinting events. He has broken one and threatened other Semi-sole records. The Seminole will be out after first place in the meet and if they continue their fast times and can rack up a few first places, they should be able to do the job.

Paret Shows Slight Gains

NEW YORK (UPI)-Benny (Kid) Paret showed "very slight improvement" in his battle for life today while his embittered manager branded the New York State Athletic Commission's report absolving Referee Ruby Goldstein of blame for the boxer's condition as a whitewash.

The 25-year-old Paret re mained in critical condition at Roosevelt Hospital but an official announcement said he showed "very alight improvement" and Manager Manuel Alfaro reported that Paret had opened his eyes and moved his hands in response to commands.

At the same time Alfaro reacted violently to the New York State Commission report which absolved Goldstein for his role in Saturday night's savege 12-round welterweight title bout in which Emile Griffith of St. Thomas, V. I., pummelled Paret to the point of death.

Players Rebel Against Coach

BOULDER, Cole. (UPI) -William E. (Bud) Davis got a late start on the new job today, hurrying to reorganize a University of Colorado football program shattered by a recruiting scandel.

The 33-year-old ex-high school coach accepted Colorado's head coaching job Tuesday night-but not until he met personally with players who threatened to quit the team because he was selected by the Board of Regants earlier in the day,

The players, led by 1962 Capt. Ken Blair, rebeled because Davis, who has never coached in college, was picked over end Coach Bob Ghilotti.

Completes Staff

ST. LOUIS (UPI) - New St. Louis Football Cardinals head Coach Wally Lamm has completed his staff by naming Don Shroyer, 36-year-old head coach at Milliken University. Shroyer joins a staff made up of assistant coaches Chuck Drulis, Ray Procha-aka and Fran Polsfoot, all of whom served under former St. Louis coach Frank (Pop) Ity.

NBA Playoff

NEW YORK (UPI)-President Maurice Podoloff of the National Basketball Association has announced that this senson's playoff pool will total $125,000. The Boston Celtics, who finished the regular season with the best won-lost record, are in a position to divide a total of $43,500 if they win the play-

On Supreme Court Ruling

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) -Gov. Farris Bryant today urged opponents to Florida's proposed new legislative reapportionment formula to "go slow" in asking voters to turn down the amendment at the polls in November.

Bryant said if the 43-senator, 104-representative plan is rejected, the small county bloc in the Legislature will be given the tool to defeat reapportionment,

They will have the tools, he said, "to relegate us to the existing unsatisfactory conditions."

Attorneys from Miami Wednesday filed suit in federal court to force legislative reapportionment giving more representation to Jirhan grees .. The suits were a follow-up to this week's U. S. Supreme Court ruling that federal courts may hear suits brought by big city voters complaining of unequal representation in the Legislature.

Bryant told his weekly news conference, in his first comment on the ruling, it was a false hope that the Legislature might pass a better reapportionment formula if the proposed one is turned down. He said the Legislature would simply come back and reapportion under the existing 38-senator, 95-representative formula which he said was unsatisfactory.

The governor said he had not yet gotten a wire from State Sen. Scott Kelly, Lakeland, asking for an attorney general's ruling on whether
