FUTCH EXONERATED FROM CONNECTION WITH TRAGEDY DEATH OF VIRGINIA TURNER

Is Traveling Salesman For a Jacksonville Concern

CASUAL FRIEND

OF DEAD GIRL WHOSE DEMISE HAS BECOME ANOTHER WEST COAST MYSTERY

Interest yesterday and last night in the investigation of the Turner murder mystery centered about the investigation of any possible connection with the matter of M. D. Futch, 22-year-old traveling salesman of Jacksonville, who spent the afternoon and several hours last night in the office of Detective Fred Thomas answering questions from the investigating officers, who sought to ascertain what relations, if any, he had with the dead girl, Miss Virginia Turner of Clearwater, whose body was found floating in Booker Creek last Saturday night. Futch, who was not put under arrest, was exonerated. Detective Thomas and Sheriff Lindsey, of Pinellas county stated.

Results of the day's work showed, according to the officers, that:

Futch met Virginia Turner but once, according to his assertion, and the young woman at the time of this meeting had been in a delicate condition for a month or more, according to an affidavit by another witness.

Dr. I. J. Belcher, Tarpon Springs physician, who was charged by the coroner's jury at Clearwater, Tuesday, with having performed a criminal operation which resulted in Miss Turner's death, received possession of his Lexington car, which had been held by the Pinellas authorities.

Dr. John T. Bowen, having examined the spots apparent upon the rug in the Belcher car, pronounced them to be bloodstains, almost to a certainty.

The spots upon the Booker Creek bridge, where the body is supposed to have been dumped into the water, are also undoubtedly bloodstains, the officers state.

The officers will continue their efforts to locate a third party, who they believe to be responsible for the dead girl's condition and who may have attempted to arrange for her to secure the criminal operation which is the alleged cause of death.

Every effort is to be made to trace Miss Turner's movements in Tarpon Springs upon Wednesday, the last day she was seen alive, to determine when and with whom she left that town.—Tampa Tribune.

SHIP BY WATER COM MITTEE HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT FOR ORGANIZATION PLANS

Representatives Here From Many Neighboring Cities

MEET AT ORLANDO

ON SEPTEMBER 13TH TO PERFECT SHIP-BY-WATER ORGANIZATION ALL INLAND CITIES

Subject to a call from the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, "Ship-by-Water Committee", representatives of five organizations met at the Hotel Valdez last night to form a permanent organization for the purpose of inducing the business men and growers and shippers of fruits and vegetables to use the water transportation, in this case being the Clyde Line.

The meeting was called together by President George W. Knight, of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, who stated the object of the call and had Secretary Pearman to read some of the rates by water and by rail showing the saving by water. Delegates from Mt. Dora, Oviedo, Geneva, Orlando and other points expressed themselves on the subject and Messrs. S. J. Sligh, C. E. Stewart and F. S. Skelley, representing the Traffic Committee of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce, gave some interesting data regarding the shipping of citrus fruits.

Much valuable information was gleaned by the various talks of those present and at the close of the meeting it was voted to have three representatives from each board of trade or Chamber of Commerce from all the towns and cities interested to meet in Orlando on September 13th and form a strong organization for the ship-by-water campaign. It was also determined by all those present last night to make a campaign of education in the south central part of the state calling attention to the water rates with the view of getting all the shippers to use the Clyde Line wherever possible and to have all the merchants route their goods via the Clyde Line coming south. The meeting was the first gun fired in this most important campaign that will at least loosen the hold that the railroads seem to have obtained upon the commerce of Florida but which, thanks to the St. Johns river, can be broken as far as the cities on the river and those adjacent are concerned. With good roads, goods can be shipped via the Clyde Line and trucks for twenty-five and fifty miles thus making a great saving in rates and giving quicker and better service. It was brought out at the meeting that the handling of citrus fruits was much more satisfactory by steamer than by rail and all things being equal and wherever it was possible the shippers of citrus fruits will haul it to Sanford and give it to the Clyde Line thus giving the boat line a cargo going north.

The meeting was a very enthusiastic one from every standpoint and is certain to be productive of much benefit to growers, shippers, merchants and business men in every line and the community in general. A large crowd is expected at Orlando on the 13th.

PERMANENT ASSISTANCE FOR FARMERS

Farm Credits Investigated Along Sane Lines

FEDERAL AGENCY

IS NEEDED TO MAKE MORE PERFECT THE PRESENT SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Permanent agencies should be established to provide credit, running from six months to three years, for farmers' production and marketing purposes to fill the gap between short and long time credits furnished by existing banking systems, Chairman Anderson of the congressional commission investigating agricultural conditions declared yesterday in a statement. There is "immediate, imperative and conclusive necessity of setting up permanent machinery," he said.

The proposed credit, the statement continued, must be of such character as to conform to the farmers' turnover, and of sufficient flexibility to meet the varied requirements of different localities and different commodities. Mr. Anderson contended the credit should be extended "for a time sufficient to enable payment to be made out of the earnings of the farm, without frequent renewals, which add to the expense of the borrower in fees and commission."

Declaring that machinery of sufficient scope can be established only through federal legislation, the chairman held that, once established, it should be self-supporting, and should require no government support except possibly for the initial capital required to put it in operation. A system established by such machinery, he continued, must be comprehensive enough to meet the requirements not only of the large farmer borrowers but the small farmer borrower with limited assets.

"There are two essentials of such a credit machine," the statement said. "The first essential is an agency to deal directly with the farmers. These agencies should be sufficiently numerous to meet the requirements of every locality, of every commodity, and of every farmer. Two agencies now exist which might be used as the point of contact of the system with the farmer borrowers. These agencies are the commercial banks (state and national), and the farm loan associations as now established under the farm loan act. A new agency might be created in the form of a co-operative credit association, built upon lines similar to the farm loan associations."

"The second essential is an agency which can convert a large number of small obligations of the farmers into short-time debentures, or other credit obligations, which can be sold to the investing public. In other words, it is necessary to have an agency through which the investing public can be reached."

DECLINE IN COTTON CROP DURING AUGUST CAUSED BIG REDUCTION.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—A decline in the condition of the cotton crop during August, caused a reduction of 1,166,000 bales in estimated final production as compared with the amount forecasted by the Department of Agriculture one month ago. The condition on August 25th, was 49.3 per cent of normal.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 1.—The lowest August crop condition report ever made by the government, indicating the smallest crop of thirty years, created a wild market in cotton today and prices advanced violently, rising about six dollars a bale in ten minutes after the report was issued. The market already had advanced considerably before the report was issued and the to prices were about eight dollars and fifty cents per bale above yesterday's closing quotations. The condition of cotton on August 25th, was the lowest it has ever been in any month in the history of the industry according to records of the Department of Agriculture.

New Baptist Church Building for Monroe

On the morning of August 22nd a gathering of interested people was held on a corner lot recently acquired by the Baptist church at Lake Monroe, for the purpose of breaking the dirt for the erection of a new Baptist church building at that place. The church was organized several years ago and has been holding its services in a community building. Some weeks ago the membership became enthused over the erection of a house of worship of their own and a live building committee was appointed with L. B. Mann as chairman, and as a starter Mr. Mann, deeded to the church a beautiful corner lot facing on the Dixie Highway, on which to erect the building. The church was led in its action by the faithful and earnest efforts of its pastor, Rev. E. Lee Smith.

At the breaking of the dirt the following program was carried out: Hymn—"How Firm a Foundation." Scripture Reading, Rev. E. Lee Smith.

Prayer—Dr. George Hyman. Address—"The Value of a Church to the Community," Jno. D. Jinkins.

Address—"The Co-operation of the People in Building a Church," Dr. Geo. Hyman.

The breaking of the dirt by the pastor, Rev. E. Lee Smith.

Placing of receptable containing records of church membership, Sunday school, B. Y. P. U., Woman's Missionary Union and miscellaneous records. Doxology and benediction.

The Lake Monroe church, while one of the youngest in the Seminole Association, has shown a steady growth, and under the leadership of its present pastor has gone from a mission church with services once a month, to a self-supporting church with services two Sundays in the month and with Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. every Sunday.

The building will cost, when completed, $6,000.00. However, it will not be finished at this time, only sufficient work being done to prepare it for immediate use.

The remarkable thing about a jit is not that the tires stand up under so much punishment, but that the cushions stand up under so much pressure.

LETTER FROM MRS. A. E. PHILLIPS

My Dear Herald:

Our fine paper is being received faithfully away up in the hills of Carolina where we are visiting and enjoying the magnificent weather and gracious hospitality of loving friends.

I note the trial to which you have been subjected in being the recipient of a low-flung "anonymous" letter. We congratulate ourselves that we have a man at the helm who knows how to take care of the situation!

I am the child, the grand-child and the great grand child, it may be, of slave-holders! They did not introduce slavery, the north did that, but we perpetuated it.

The time came in the providence of God when these negroes, after perhaps one hundred and fifty years, should be freed. For the most part, let us hope, they had not been treated unkindly, and many a tender tale of their devotion to their masters' families can be recounted.

For instance, during the Civil war, with our men in the army and our women and children at home unprepared, these slaves might have risen up and have committed the unspeakable crime with all the horrors of a bloody insurrection!

What do we not owe them in the way of kindly feeling and appreciation? There is a creature upon whom we may confer the title of "ignoble Southerner." He is a white man who has a black heart. How much better to be a black man with a white heart!

How much better to congratulate our colored men on every endeavor for improving their condition. How much nobler to recognize that he has a heart and soul that can be appealed to by kindness and consideration.

Perhaps, nowhere else is there a finer settlement of colored people than our own Georgetown with its homes, its schools and churches. There is one grand rule that will be measured by at the judgment day, which may be fast approaching. It is called the Golden Rule.

May the Lord who can melt stones into hearts and open blind eyes enable this ignorant, narrow anonymous letter writer to see himself as he is should, broad-minded, noble Southerner.

With best wishes, MRS. A. E. PHILLIPS.

Sanford Band There With the Real Goods at Wedding, Dance

(From Monday's Daily)

The Sanford Band was so good last night and earned so many fine compliments from all those who gathered at the wedding and street dance that the Herald believes they are entitled to special mention. It is a grand thing for any city to have a good band; Sanford has one of the best in the state now and the members are seasoned musicians and those who were in the beginners class have graduated into the real "mainstay" class. The music they played last night was just simply great and it was with a feeling of pride that the Herald can point to the Sanford band and say it is a home institution and one of the best.

GOVERNOR COMMENDS GUARDSMEN

Members of the National Guard in Florida are showing considerable interest in general order No. 16, just issued by the office of the adjutant general, Charles P. Lovell, from the state arsenal, St. Augustine, the order, which is issued to call attention to a letter from Governor Cary A. Hardee, follows:

"The following letter from the Hon. Cary A. Hardee, governor of Florida, and commander-in-chief of the Florida National Guard, is published in the troops: 'State of Florida Executive Department, Tallahassee, Aug. 24, 1921. 'Gen. Charles P. Lovell, St. Augustine, Fla. 'Dear General Lovell: I cannot let the opportunity pass without saying a word regarding my visit to the National Guard encampment and my respect for the guard on the nineteenth instant. I was greatly pleased with the personal of the officers and enlisted men. Among the members of the guard, I found many of the state's most prominent and patriotic young men and there is no doubt but what we have included in the guard, the highest type of the state's citizenship. 'The encampment was a great success; the spirit of the men was fine and I want to take this opportunity to express my appreciation of their loyalty, and their patriotic regard for the preservation of the state's highest interests. 'As chief executive, it is comforting to know that the state has such a force which would readily respond should domestic trouble ensue and which would likewise hear the call of duty should the interests of their country be seriously threatened. My heart is with the officers and men of the guard. I shall, during my administration, encourage and co-operate with them in every legitimate manner. Will you not express to the various units throughout the state, my sincere appreciation of their loyal service. 'Very truly yours, (Signed) 'Cary A. Hardee, Governor.'"

"The letter will be greatly appreciated by the troops, not only because it expresses their commander-in-chief's approval of their efforts, but because it shows his interest in them. It also expresses the opinions of all the officers who had the opportunity to see the work accomplished at the four-day school and the fifteen-day camp of instruction. 'The school and camp were unquestionably, the best administered, the best instructed and the best disciplined the adjutant general has seen during his twenty years' experience with the national guard. 'The officers and men have every reason to be proud of the Florida National Guard, and if in the future, the work measured up to the high standard that the guard has been organized, we can point to our organization as the best in the United States. 'This order will be read to the organization at the first assembly after the receipt of same, and will be posted on the bulletin boards. 'Very truly yours, (Signed) 'Cary A. Hardee, Governor.'"

TRADE EXTENSION COMMITTEE VISITS GENEVA MONDAY

MEETING HELD IN TOWN HALL LAST NIGHT WAS WELL ATTENDED

(From Monday's Daily)

The Trade Extension Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce had a fine meeting at Geneva last night in which many matters of importance were taken up and a better feeling established between the two cities. There were about twenty-five people from Sanford and about fifty from Geneva present and all those who attended were glad they had taken part in this great work of getting all the component parts of Seminole county together in the spirit of co-operation.

President George W. Knight called the meeting together and stated the object of the Trade Extension Committee and promised the support of the Chamber of Commerce and of the local guard encampment and my respect for the guard on the nineteenth instant. I was greatly pleased with the personal of the officers and enlisted men. Among the members of the guard, I found many of the state's most prominent and patriotic young men and there is no doubt but what we have included in the guard, the highest type of the state's citizenship. It makes one feel good to take a trip over Sanford and note the hundreds of homes going up everywhere.

Man remarked to the Herald yesterday that the Chamber of Commerce had him worked to death.

No, Pauline, the Herald will not close on Labor Day. Neither does it close on Thursday afternoons.

The board of governors of the Chamber of Commerce is working while the majority of the members are sleeping.

Schools will soon open, business will begin to begin, advertising will get bigger and better.

The poor old printers have but few holidays. Like the clock of grandfather and the brook of Tenyson, we just seem to run on forever.

But you now have a better idea of Sanford, yes.

And Sanford has a better idea of Orlando and everything is lively.

In the future to come with the big projects that are contemplated in Sanford and Orlando working together.

It is good for some boys to travel over Alachua county now and see the actual road construction that is being made.

Over in Sanford the Woman's Club is marrying off its men and women publicly for the benefit of the school lunches for the children of the grammar school.

The Escambia County Game and Fish Association held an enthusiastic meeting in Panama recently.

Florida just now appears to be in the midst of a crime wave which has been more or less prevalent the country over.

Judge Cheney and I. W. Phillips, of Orlando, want a broad highway forty feet wide from Sanford to Orlando beautified with trees and shrubs and flowers.

That Bimini trip promised the members of the Associated Dallas in November has awakened the boys.

The meeting of the "Ship-by-Water" organization here last night shows that the American people are especially the people of Florida are tired of being gouged by the railroads.

There is no question that should command more careful thought and study than the building and maintenance of public highways.

NO GOVERNMENT AID FOR STOCKING SEMINOLE LAKES WITH THE PRESENT FISH LAWS

Sen. Fletcher Gives Reason for Government Withholding Aid

The Herald has advocated for fourteen years adequate fish laws for Seminole county but up to date there has been nothing done in this respect and all that the fish and game clubs and all other clubs have tried as well as the Board of Trade, the Chamber of Commerce and the requests of private citizens, have gone for naught because no member of the legislature from this county could ever pass a fish law that would prohibit seining at certain seasons that would conform with the federal laws. It is well for the various organizations in Sanford to know this and to remember it when you are talking about getting tourists here. The request of the Chamber of Commerce for the government to restock the lakes of Seminole county brought the following answer:

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22, 1921.
Mr. R. W. Pearman, Jr.,
Executive Secretary,
Chamber of Commerce,
Sanford, Florida.

Dear Mr. Pearman:

Replying to your letter 15th instant, requesting government aid in restocking lakes in Seminole county with fish, beg to advise that I had up with the Commissioner of the Bureau of Fisheries, Department of Commerce, sometime ago a similar request, and was informed that:

"While the Bureau is greatly interested in the matter of maintaining and increasing the supply of food fishes in Florida and elsewhere, and anxious to do everything within its power to assist in securing this end, yet the state of Florida, from information at hand, does practically nothing for the maintenance of its game fishes, permitting fishing for bass and other members of the same family at a time when the fish are spawning and are guarding their nests, eggs and young. Under a law of congress the bureau is prohibited from spending any money in the propagation and distribution of fish in any state in which there is not adequate protection afforded to the fishes thus handled.

"The Bureau is endeavoring to observe a consistent policy in regard to this matter, not only in Florida, but in various other states, in order that the states may be brought into line for fish protection."

I am advised by Mr. T. R. Hodges, of Tallahassee, Shell Fish Commissioner, that:

"There is no provision in the law of Florida that suggests any co-operation between the state and the Bureau of Fisheries."

If, in view of the information here conveyed, your Chamber of Commerce desires to submit formal application for fish to restock the lakes in Seminole county, I will be very glad to procure and forward the necessary blanks, and when returned, properly filled out, urge the commissioner to give some favorable consideration, but I cannot hold out assurances that he could be induced to reverse the position recently taken in connection with a similar request—above referred to.

Very truly yours,
DUNCAN U. FLETCHER.

WEDDING OF INTEREST.

(From Wednesday's Daily)
A wedding of much interest took place Sunday afternoon, when Miss Dorothy Martin became the bride of Mr. Douglas Charles Griffin, the ceremony having been solemnized at 2 o'clock at the Palm Avenue Baptist church, Dr. Hampton officiating, only the immediate relatives and a few invited guests being present.

The bride was lovely in a traveling costume of dark blue crepe la jerse, combined with grey georgette with accessories to match.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for Daytona Beach, where they will spend several weeks before returning to Sanford, where they will make their home.

The bride was a popular student at Stetson University, DeLand, last year and it was there that the mutual attachment between the young people began. She is a member of the Alpha Delta sorority. Since removing to Tampa about one year ago from Columbia, Mo., where she was a student at Christian College, she has made a large number of friends here, who are much interested in her marriage.

Her mother, Mrs. H. DuLaney, is a talented reader and elocutionist, well known in chautauque circles.

Mr. Griffin is a prominent business man of Sanford, and his large number of friends there will extend to his attractive bride a most cordial welcome.—Tampa Tribune.

EAST SANFORD

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Hart and Miss Ruby Hart, returned last Wednesday from a three month's trip through the north, their first trip up the country, and they enjoyed it fine. Niagara Falls, they think, the most wonderful ever, also the apple orchards, grape vineyards, full of fruit, and clover fields in full bloom. They visited Mrs. Atcheson, who formally visited here on Geneva avenue. She is now living in Middlefield, O.

Mrs. Jennie Powell Cowan was here last week from Jacksonville with her sister, Mrs. W. W. Miller, who has been ill some time. Mrs. Cowan and Mrs. Miller went to Jacksonville Monday, Mrs. Miller to remain some time for medical treatment.

Mrs. Lily Jones, Miss Hoskins Jones, and Paul Jones, were at Daytona Beach for the week-end and Mrs. Jones remained for last week which was spent very pleasantly.

Elwood Irish was in Pahokee last week on a business trip.

Alton Morris was here over week-end visiting relatives. Alton has been at the teachers preparatory school in Gainesville and will teach school in West Palm Beach this winter. He was an East Sanford boy until the family removed to Pahokee and every one here wishes him success.

Miss Susie Fay has a position in Palatka with the Southern Utilities Co.

Mrs. Frances McDougal Swanson is returning to Hot Springs, Ark., on Friday to finish training as graduate nurse.

Mrs. Charles Merriwether and baby are expected home this week from a month's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Merriwether, Sr., at their home in Lynchburg, Va.

G. C. McDougal is in Tampa on a business trip for a short time.

Mr. Toyama is setting cauliflower in the field, and there are a good many fine looking lettuce beds to be seen growing.

Paul Jones has a brand new dog imported direct from Italy. Paul's friend, M. L. Futch, came up from Tampa the other day, and brought the dog as a gift to Paul. The dog had come over here from Italy as a stow-away in a returning phosphate ship and Mr. Futch got him of the sailors. The dog has been named Toney. It has not been decided whether he is a garlic or a spaghetti hound. Toney is a bright clever pup if he is a dago.

The Weeks family have Carl Clark, of Wilmington, N. C., as their guest. A party was made up of the Weeks young people and Mr. Clark and others for a week-end trip to St. Augustine.

G. F. Smith, from town, has decided to go into farming again we understand, and has rented twenty acres of G. W. Spencer at Cameron City, and will grow celery and lettuce.

The homes of W. W. Miller and Elwood Irish were broken into on Saturday afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock. Both homes are located on Cameron avenue, near Moore's Station. At the Miller home a window screen was cut and the window broken and then unlatched; at the north side of the house the thief broke open a trunk and got a beautiful hunting case watch with a chain. The watch was engraved with Mrs. Miller's initials. A ring and a watch chain slide set with a cameo and a ring belonging to Mr. Miller, with his initials. A revolver and a purse containing $21. The thief also took some ties belonging to Mr. Miller and two silk waists and a crepe de chine scarf belonging to Mrs. Miller, and made a parcel of them and then went next door to Mr. Irish and broke in a window in the same as at the Miller home, and got a shot gun and just about then Mr. and Mrs. Irish drove in the back way and the noise frightened the thief and he ran out the front way and left the parcel containing the scarf, etc. The sheriff was called up and visited the Miller and Irish homes but as yet there has been no one suspected. The thief was apparently a man or boy with a neat little foot as the foot print would mean about a No. 8 shoe.

Very truly yours,
DUNCAN U. FLETCHER.

BANANA GROWING IN FLORIDA

By W. E. BOLLES, Oldsmar, Florida

It is great to be able to go out in your back yard and pick a bunch of bananas any time you want to. Every family in central and south Florida can have all the bananas you want to eat, and grow them at home on your own property. In north Florida this fruit has matured at Tallahassee, Jacksonville and other places. Banana-growing is a highly profitable commercial enterprise being one of the easiest crops to make. It might almost be called the lazy man's job.

The plants which give the distinct tropical tone to our Floridian landscape are palms, bamboos and bananas; of these the banana is the most useful and the biggest money-maker. A banana planter can make from $500 to $1,000 per acre per year. Five acres well cared for can give a good income. Bananas are immune from many diseases, and can mature good fruit in about one year after planting. They grow successfully in many kinds of soil, from low muck and flatwoods to rolling citrus fruit lands. The soil must have plenty of moisture and humus, and must be well drained.

The Heart's Choice or Ladyfinger variety seems to be best suited to this State, being less liable to damage from cold weather, and is considered the best all-around sort. It is a rapid grower, throws up its stalks to a good height and adds a luxuriant tropical appearance to any property. The story of its popular introduction in Florida is interesting. Mr. Edmund H. Hart sent to tropical countries about 1875 and got a number of varieties to try. After a series of tests at considerable expense he reported that one variety was superior to the others in flavor, hardness and general suitability to Florida. It was his choice out of all the kinds he experimented with. His friends called it Hart's Choice, otherwise known as the Ladyfinger. It is a truly delicious fruit, like the banana which the natives of the tropics prefer for home use.

The Orinoco is sometimes called the horse banana on account of its size, being larger around than the ordinary fruit; it is hardy, but produces its fruit ordinarily in smaller bunches and is not generally regarded as having a flavor equal to Hart's Choice.

The Cavendish, or dwarf, has a shorter trunk, the leaves are closer together; it bears good bunches which are difficult to ship because the skin is tender. The plant itself is also more tender to cold weather.

The Martinique, or the Gros Michel or Jamaica banana, and is less hardy in this climate than the Cavendish. The Martinique is the leading commercial banana of the tropics.

I have all of these and other useful and money-making varieties growing on my plantation at Oldsmar, in Pinellas county, and Hart's Choice is my choice. My property fronts directly on Tampa Bay and the salt air does not have any bad effects; in fact it is a benefit to my plantation.

I have been studying the cultivation of bananas in Florida for years. I am told that my banana plantation at Oldsmar is one of the largest in this State. I have visited banana growers in other localities, and they are making money. I have secured literature on the subject from Hawaii, the West Indies and England, and have been able to help others who are interested. Having gone into the subject rather thoroughly, I am satisfied we can supply our cities and towns in Florida, and work out a plan to extend sales into other states.

A few words about the method of growing large bunches may be of some help. I have made a special study of this feature. Florida bananas grown by amateurs are criticised on account of their small-sized bunches. The number of fingers or hands on the bunch is determined when the bud is formed away down inside at the root of the plant. After the bud has begun to push its way up through the center of the trunk, it is too late to influence the size of the bunch. A complete fertilizer of the fruiter variety, high in available phosphoric acid and potash, can be put on when the stem of the plant has developed mature leaves and is about four feet or five feet high, at which time it is called a maiden sucker. Another reason for small bunches is that too many suckers are left growing on one root.

The best season to set out bananas is from March 1 to November 1. Young banana plants are easily transplanted, and go on growing with little delay. They should be set about ten feet apart each way in well-broken soil to give the roots plenty of feeding room. The roots will eventually spread out five feet or more if you give them a chance. From the time the leaves are half-grown they will partly shade the ground, keeping the roots cool in summer and helping to kill grass and weeds. This is worth while to the men and women who haven't much time for gardening. If set six to eight feet apart each way, the full grown plants will thoroughly shade the ground so that nothing else can grow in the same field.

When a bunch is fully developed in size, and the green bananas have lost their angular form and are round and about ready to turn yellow, that's the time to cut that bunch off, and hang it in a dark room to let the fruit ripen. This is the method used by commercial growers because it produces better fruit more evenly ripened and protects it from birds, rats and insects. It enables the grower to ship green hard fruit. About 35,000,000 bunches of bananas are shipped long distances into the United States from foreign countries every year, so it is evident there is a good opportunity for greatly increased production at home.

When cutting off a bunch of bananas, use a sharp-edged shovel or spade, driving it part way through the tree about five or six feet above the ground. The top with the fruit will fall slowly, and the bunch can be caught as it comes down. After putting the fruit immediately in a shady place to protect the bananas from being damaged by the hot sun, the cut should be finished completely through the trunk, dropping the leaves and the upper part on the ground to rot and make food for the roots. The stored-up plant food in the sap in the remaining stump will be re-absorbed by the roots and go directly to the nourishment of the plant. A week or two later, when the stump begins to turn dry, it should be cut off at the base just above the roots; and then it also can be thrown on the ground to make more humus.

A banana tree only bears one bunch. Young suckers or shoots come up from the same old roots and make new stalks to bear more bananas, and in this way the banana tree renews itself year after year. It is best to allow only a few stalks or trunks to live on one root at the same time. I prefer what I have named the four-four system of pruning. Let the fully grown fruit-bearing plant represent four fourths. Let the next highest sucker be three-fourths as high. Let the next be only one-half, and the smallest sucker only one-fourth the height of the full grown one. By proper selection of these rattoons or successors, the stalks can be graded in size to make a succession of fruiting, and a grower can get two good bunches of bananas per year from each root he sets out. A dozen roots should give a family two dozen bunches per year, two each month. If you figure 400 roots to the acre, that would mean 800 bunches of fruit per year per acre. This can be done by liberal fertilization and liberal mulching with other conditions correct.

If pruned in this manner, when the fruiting stalk is cut down, the next stalk will be about three fourths matured, with its bud already formed inside the trunk. It is evident from this that it is wise to maintain fertility of the soil. March, June and October are good months to apply the fertilizer. The cheapest form is mulch, dried grass, dried weeds, dry pine needles, any material which will decay and form plant food. You can hardly put on too much mulch. It protects the roots from the sun in summer and from the cold in our Florida "winter." Animal and chicken manures and complete fertilizers are good.

When green bananas begin to turn yellow, the starch is changing to fruit sugar, and then the fruit is more easily digested and the flavor is better. Scientists say there is as much nourishment in three bananas as there is in a pound of meat. The natives in tropical banana growing districts pretty nearly live on this fruit and work hard, too. Some claim bananas are at their very best when the skin turns brown, indicating they are fully ripe and the formation of fruit sugar has been completed.

They grow comparatively few bananas in California. The climate of Florida is better suited to this fruit. Bananas are as safe to grow in Florida as cucumbers, tomatoes, peppers and similar truck farm crops. Bananas have the added advantage of producing continuous crops without replanting. I trust we can soon organize a Florida Banana Growers' Association. All who would be interested in such a mutual benefit organization are requested to send their names and addresses to W. E. Bolles, Oldsmar, Fla.

Murrell Innocent of Wrong Doing in Auto Robbery

Merely Made Out Papers in Case and Was Acting as Attorney

The many friends of Oliver Murrell the attorney mentioned in connection with the automobile robberies in Polk county in Saturday's papers will be glad to know that he is innocent of any wrong doing in the case. Oliver made the following statement in yesterday's Tribune and The Herald gives the article in full in justice to Mr. Murrell:

In statements to The Tribune's representative here tonight, Attorney T. Hart Getzen of this city, and W. O. Murrell of Wauchula, accused of being members of the gang of auto thieves arrested in Polk and Hardee counties Thursday and yesterday, made vehement denials of participation in the gang's activities.

Both men were released on bond today. The other alleged members of the gang are in jail, being unable to make bond.

Murrell claims he first met J. M. Lee and J. F. Flynn, leaders of the gang, when asked by Getzen to aid him in securing freedom of the two men when they were arrested at DeLand some weeks ago on the charge of running into and injuring a man and a girl. He admits that he made out three bills of sale for Lee but denies that they were delivered to the man. He states that he told him that day that he (Lee) had stolen two Ford cars.

Murrell's statement follows: "I was at a dance in Lakeland one night and Mr. Getzen asked me to go with him on a case at Daytona, and I went with him, where I met Mr. Lee, who was charged with culpable negligence, of injury to a woman and a boy, and Flynn, who was charged with aiding in case of Lee. We waived preliminary hearing and Lee and Flynn were bound over on bond amounting to one thousand dollars and five hundred dollars respectively. "At that time Lee had a car in DeLand, and Flynn had one in Tavara. These cars were turned over to me and Getzen, and we came back to Lakeland and when Flynn got out of jail, one of the cars was turned over to him and Mr. Getzen kept his. Mr. Lee's wife had a bill of sale for the car in DeLand, which Mr. Getzen got from her and the car in Tavara belonged to Mr. Getzen which he had a clear title to, purchased from a Mr. Parker of Wauchula.

"I made several trips to DeLand, held a habeas corpus proceeding for Mr. Lee and finally got him out on bond.

"This was about three weeks ago. I came through Lakeland going to Wauchula and Mr. Lee's wife joined us in Lakeland and we went to Wauchula and I was there about three or four days, saw Mr. Lee frequently and he came to my office and I asked him for the money for my services in the case. He told me he didn't have it then but said that he was going to Lakeland and would be back with the money on the following Wednesday.

"I was in Wauchula until Saturday night and saw him again on Thursday and asked him, again for the money for my services. He told me that he was going to get it in a day or two; and as I never saw him again until Friday, when he came to my office and introduced me to a man who asked me if I would look into his case that was about to be tried at Wauchula. I told him I would and to come back to my office later and I would see what I could do for him.

"On Saturday night I left for Daytona Beach and returned on Monday morning to Wauchula, when I heard there were two cars stolen at Zolfo, Mr. Lee came to my office about 11:30 and told me he wanted three bills of sale made that, he was going to make a deal. I had my stenographer to fill in the blank forms and I gave them to him unsealed, unsealed and with no names except the ones he gave to my stenographer and myself. He came to my office about 4 or 4:30 the same day and told me that he wanted the bills of sale. I gave them to him and told him they would cost him $7.50.

"He then called me outside the door and told me that he had stolen two Ford cars and intended to leave Wauchula about 4 o'clock next morning. The next I heard from him he was in jail, and he sent for me and I told him that I could do nothing for him as I had resigned from his case. His wife was in a delicate condition. He learned through some source that she had left Wauchula and would not live with him any longer. I later found out that he has been convicted for murder in Wauchula some time ago.

"The deputy sheriff came to me on Tuesday afternoon and asked me if I knew anything about Lee. I told him I did and that he had told me of stolen cars, and I considered it my duty to tell him, because it was a crime against the state and the community, and I did not feel it my duty, even as his attorney, to keep this to myself. I learned afterwards that Lee had made an alleged confession to the sheriff in which he involved Mr. Getzen and myself.

"The sheriff asked me if I had made three bills of sale for him that afternoon, and I told him my stenographer did fill in the blank forms, but left them unsealed and unsealed, as Lee said he would complete the deal in Polk county through a notary public.

"I know nothing about the gang of auto thieves. I have had no connection with them, and so far as I know Mr. Getzen knows nothing about them and had no connection with them, and I only ask for a trial to establish my innocence. I feel that I have been done a great injustice by the publicity of certain papers, that took it upon themselves to implicate me in this deal, and I hope that when I establish my innocence it will be as widely published as the fact that I was charged with such a crime."

Sanford, Fla., August 29th, 1921.
Editor Sanford Herald:

Believing you are always ready to see justice done I am asking you to publish the statements of Attorneys Murrell and Getzen as they appeared in the Tribune Sunday. I wish further to say that I investigated the charges against these attorneys last Friday at Wauchula and I can assure you that there is nothing whatever to convey the idea of guilt in any particular against them. I know positively of my own knowledge that W. O. Murrell never knew or heard of the parties accused of the theft until they were jailed in DeLand on July 29th. He met Lee and Flynn at the Volusia county jail and was asked by Mr. Getzen to assist in getting them released. He made several trips up to DeLand and finally secured their release on bond. This was for reckless driving of an automobile on the public highways and injury to others. That there will be complete vindication of these charges there is no doubt when the proper time comes, against Oliver Murrell and Hart Getzen there is no doubt.

I will thank you to publish this in behalf of W. O. Murrell as he is a Sanford boy and it is unjust to him to allow these statements to go unchallenged.

SOCIETY WEDDING

(From Saturday's Daily)

After ten days of puzzled questioning that mysterious wedding has come to pass. Last evening an immense crowd gathered in front of the court house to watch and wait for the satisfaction of that curiosity which had been growing day by day, as the Herald gave out tidbits of information. At the first sounds of Miss Mabel Bowler's glorious voice in "I Love You Truly," a great silence fell and at the well known strains of Lohengrin's Bridal March titters began which grew into an uproarious shout as the wedding party swept grandly into view. Once more the dear public showed its love for a hoax.

The ushers, Messrs. Ball, Dubose, Lloyd, Kirtley, Ourlitt and Caswell, came in first, bringing in the family of the bride. Mrs. W. F. Blackman, gorgeously attired as a Titian-haired mother in Israel, Miss Deager, Miss Brinda Morrison and Mr. Akers, as her daughters and Robert Herndon as Uncle Ike, the family of the groom, fresh from the country, Miss Virginia Smith impersonating widowed mother with her baby daughter, Martha Pitts and her most thoughtful and affectionate old uncle, Billy Sutton. These relatives seated, the ushers themselves marched in couples to a position along the left end of the court house steps. Then the bride's maids beautifully gowned in rainbow colors and picture hats followed daintily in single file to position opposite the ushers. These exquisite maidens were personated by Messrs. Robert Deane, Sam Younts, Deas, MaGee, Peabody and Pearman and radiantly enjoyed their unaccustomed attire. Hodgson Ball in a Buster Brown suit of blue then appeared bearing a huge ring on a very small satin pillow. The flower girls following with baskets of posies were Lealie Hilt and Mr. Niblack. After all these had gracefully arranged themselves in a fan shaped grouping on the steps, the maid of honor, John Leonard picturesquely frocked in satin and tulle, preceded the bride, Mr. E. A. Douglas, who came in leaning upon the supporting arm of her father, Mr. E. T. Woodruff. She was a picture of loveliness, as she took her place at the top of the decorated platform where the groom, Mr. Schelle Maines and his best man, Mr. Howard Smith, were awaiting her. A breathless pause and Mr. Rob Holly, stepped forward in full regiments and read a ceremony full of wit and local hits. During this process the groom became so embarrassed that he had first to loosen his collar and finally attempted an escape which was prevented by the strong arm of the best man. After a hair breadth venture near to an interrupted wedding, the knot was tied, and the maid of honor threw back the voluminous veil disclosing the face of the bride. Congratulations followed after the respective families of the interested parties had successfully calmed their emotions enough to express themselves. The most amazing feature of this amazing farce was the enhanced beauty of its players by their feminine frills and frizzles for absurd as it was from beginning to end, that really and truly was as fine and handsome a wedding party as one is likely to gaze upon for many a moon.

"The deputy sheriff came to me on Tuesday afternoon and asked me if I knew anything about Lee. I told him I did and that he had told me of stolen cars, and I considered it my duty to tell him, because it was a crime against the state and the community, and I did not feel it my duty, even as his attorney, to keep this to myself. DEATH OF MRS. SELICK.

(From Monday's Daily)

Mrs. Sellick, wife of H. S. Sellick, died at her home on Mellonville avenue last night after a short illness. The funeral will occur from the home tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Sellicks came to Sanford about two years ago from Connecticut, Mr. Sellick being the foreman at the Sanford Novelty Works, and the death of the mother has cast a shadow over the many friends who had learned to love her. The death leaves the loving husband and one daughter bereft of wife's devotion and mother's love. The sympathy of the community goes out to them in their bereavement.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS IF BLADDER BOTHERS YOU.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and causes all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv.
