OFF-SIDE! By Jo Metzger

Dr. Clinton Says Faith In God Can Sustain Moderns

Speaking on the paralysis of fear at the Congregational Church last night Dr. Clinton stated, "Faith in Almighty God should carry men through the dangers of our modern world."

"Immunity from disease, accident, tragedy is not promised to those who dwell in the Secret Place of the Most High, but there is an enabling sufficiency of grace and courage by which we may with set face and resolute readiness go through the hazards of our civilization."

"Deliverance from fear is the supreme need of our world today and such a deliverance is a richer experience of the reality and loving wisdom of God than that He should take us out of the conflict. The sublimest attitude through life's tribulation is found in the Man of Galilee, who set His face steadfastly to go to Jerusalem."

Dr. Clinton spoke of the dangers of our modern life in a parent's innocence. "It is not the Devil of native ugliness we need fear but rather the evil that appears in Seraphic guise," he said. "There are also the coarse and vulgar wickednesses well known to every man and threatening our American life more blatantly than ever."

In the liquor trade Christian America has released damnation. The Gambling Cancer is honey-combing the whole fabric of our day. Even reputable business must give their service to the community with speculation and the laws of equivalence are being broken on every hand but there is no deception and no destruction in the Secret Place of the Most High."

Tonight Dr. Clinton will speak on "Two sides of a Scriptural Medal."

ECONOMICAL TIME-SAVER
Hard-cooked six eggs. Remove and mash the yolks. Then add one-third of a cup of chopped, cooked ham, a little minced parsley, onion and celery. Stuff the mixture into the whites, buttered dish. Cover with left-over gravy or tomato sauce. Bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven.

To sweeten sweet potatoes cut them in half. Place flat sides up in a shallow bowl filled with water. Keep in the sunshine. After several weeks a wine will develop.

Ten Star Fun Frolic Features New Songs

Enough to cast a half-dozen big Broadway productions, with the accompanying music, specialty numbers, dance offerings, settings, costumes, etc., is offered in the streamlined farce-musical-comedy, "Merry-Go-Round of 1938" which begins its run at the Ritz Theatre today.

Hollywood, Broadway and way points were apparently diligently combed for talent and novelties for this production. Mischa Aber, Alice Brady and Louise Fazenda, enough comedy talent for three pictures, are featured roles in the production. As if that were not enough, Billy House, Jimmie Savo and Bert Lahr were imported from Broadway—each of whom is a stellar name in any man's show.

Dave Apollon's orchestra, long noted as the best musical act on the American stage, is in a featured spot in the picture. And Harold Adamson and Jimmie McHugh, famous Broadway and Hollywood song writing team, composed music for the orchestra and for the song numbers by the four male comedians, and by Joy Hodges, another Broadway favorite who has just arrived in the big town via the national coast-to-coast radio network. John King, of "Road Back" fame, is seen opposite Miss Hodges in the chief male romantic lead.

Song numbers composed by Adamson & McHugh for "Merry-Go-Round of 1938" include two, "The Grand Street Comedy Four" and "Six of One and a Half dozen of the Other," which are rendered by Billy House, Mischa Aber, Jimmie Savo and Bert Lahr; "In My Glory," and "Move Power to you," which Miss Hodges sings to the latter to the accompaniment of Dave Apollon's orchestra; "You're My Dish," by John King, and "A Masher in a Bad, Bad Boy," with Alice Brady and Louise Fazenda.

U. S. Refuses Jap Request To Evacuate

Note To Japan Says Americans Have Perfect Right To Live In China

Island Empire Fears Bombings

Tokyoans Prepare For Possible Air Raids By Chinese

HANKOW, China, Feb. 25.

(AP)—The United States government told Japan in a blunt note today that it has no intention of ordering the evacuation of Americans in the Central China war area as requested by the Japanese army.

Diplomatic circles here said the note declared Americans have a perfect right to live and carry on their duties in any part of China regardless of the presence of the Japanese army. Most of the American concern is misapprehension.

After the sinking of the United States gunboat, Panay, by Japanese airplanes, Japan guaranteed the rights of the United States in China would be respected. A short time later the Japanese army notified American representatives in China that Japan intended to bomb a vital area of Central China and suggested that Americans in the area leave after striking their property so the Japanese could remove it from the air.

Japan later said the threat to bomb the area, killing and wounding more than 1,000 non-combatant Chinese.

Mostwide riotous debate over a war control measure forced parliament into session today after Japan had spent four terrible Chinese air raids that never appeared.

The upper in the lower house, one of the most turbulent scenes in Japanese parliamentary history, broke up debate last night on the government's national mobilization bill which would impose wartime regulation of Japanese business, finance, property and private lives.

A few hours earlier, air raid warnings had been cancelled on Kyushu, southwestern island of Japan proper, on the main island of Honshu and the colony island of Formosa, sending a store that had proved false.

Chinese bombers, which Wednesday raided Formosa, had been reported based across the China sea toward Kyushu.

In Tokyo, much of the reaction dwelt on the fact that the Soviet Union, Russia, which was a host to Soviet air force in concern raised by almost as close as the capital as Formosa, is to China. The calm with which densely settled Tokyo, much of it built of paper and wood, had taken the defense practice yesterday was over.

Plainly nervous, the populace obeyed the screams of sirens and the shouted alarms of motorcycle squads warning of "enemy air raiders" as the rehearsal continued.

"It is within the realm of possibility that the Chinese could raid Kyushu or other points throughout Japan," a spokesman acknowledged.

Defense headquarters at Fukuoka, on Kyushu Island, gave the first warning. Dances reported Japanese air patrol based out of the sea 500 miles of China sea to search for the Chinese planes.

The scene in parliament arose in the first five minutes of debate on the government's long-awaited mobilization bill and drew to each side the speaker and the government's review.

A cabinet crisis was predicted unless the government revised the bill which twice had been referred to a planning board for modification.

DUCE BRISTLES

Premier Mussolini of Italy has apparently underwritten Hitler's latest adventure in Austria which started a train of diplomatic incidents including the downfall of Britain's Foreign Minister, Anthony Eden.

After the sinking of the United States gunboat, Panay, by Japanese airplanes, Japan guaranteed the rights of the United States in China would be respected. A short time later the Japanese army notified American representatives in China that Japan intended to bomb a vital area of Central China and suggested that Americans in the area leave after striking their property so the Japanese could remove it from the air.

Naval Officer Speaks Before Local Students

Program Is Fourth Of Series For Vocational Guidance

Outlining aviation in the United States Navy and giving a resume of his work in this branch of the national defense, Lt. Com. Harry N. Carlson, graduate of Seminole High School, and former resident of Sanford, told boys of the Junior and Senior classes at the local high school at the opportunity offered in aviation through the Naval Air Corps.

The program today was the fourth regular monthly Vocational Guidance program for boys in the Senior Class and was sponsored by the Rotary Club. Boys of the Junior Class who are sponsored in their Vocational programs, by the Kiwanis Club were guests at the program this morning.

Lt. Com. Carlson who at the present is an instructor of the aviation cadets at the Naval Air base in Pensacola, flew to Sanford yesterday afternoon in the latest type naval aircraft which was inspected by the boys who were taken to the local air field in buses following the address. G. O. Nordgren, sergeant-at-arms at the air base and brother of Karl Nordgren of this city, accompanied the Lt. Commander.

In giving a resume of his career, Lt. Commander Carlson explained that he graduated from Seminole High School in the class of 1911 and spent three years at the Georgia Institute of Technology but before his graduation from the school he enlisted in the United States Navy as an aviator.

In 1917, Lt. Com. Carlson enlisted in the air corps and received a brief training in Pensacola where he was retained as a flight instructor during the remainder of the War. In 1920 he was detailed

Rev. Williams Talks On Prodigal Father

The Rev. John R. Williams delivered a sermon on the prodigal father, based on the 15th chapter of Luke's Gospel, last night at the Presbyterian Church. Tonight will be Rev. Williams' last night in Sanford. His sermon tonight at 7:30 o'clock will be "What is Looking in Church Members."

"The Prodigal Father here represents a man who has wandered far from his Heavenly Father," Rev. Williams said, "who made us all and who still calls for us. Since it is true, then, that we are children of God, let us not be ashamed to go home to Him."

"First, if this is a picture of our Heavenly Father, then we must never have to beg for forgiveness. Second, no one will ever have to get good enough to come home. Third, our assurance that we are children of God does not rest upon our goodness but upon our relationship."

"Fourth, our efforts at holiness are not to save ourselves but to be a part of God's plan because He has already saved us. And last, there is no more terrible sin than remaining a prodigal."

Home Is Wanted For Persian Cat

"I am depositing a 50 cent contribution and request that a home be found for the Persian Cat, a two is no place for a house pet which needs human companionship," signed, "a lover of cats."

Superintendent of Parks James Moughtin found the above note in the contribution box at the Municipal Zoo yesterday and he stated that it probably referred to the Persian cat which has been left in the care of caretaker Phil King by a Sanford resident who left the City for a few days. The cat was given a temporary home in one of the vacant cages at the zoo.

LAKELAND, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The Weather Bureau warned Florida fruit and truck growers their citrus blossoms and tender crops may be damaged by tonight's cold. Frost after four or five days of heavy rain is predicted.

Mayor Insists Sanford Dogs Be Muzzled

Continuance Of Mad Dog Scare Brings Drastic Action In Try To Curb Spread

Acting on the recommendation of City Physician, Dr. J. N. Toler, and through the authority provided in City Ordinance, Mayor Edward Higgins today issued a proclamation requiring all dogs to wear muzzles when off the premises of the owner effective March 1, and to continue to do so as long as this precaution is deemed necessary.

This recourse was taken by Mayor Higgins to prevent animals that have been infected with the virus from transmitting the infection to citizens of Sanford.

During the number of weeks that the infection has been on a rampage in Sanford and Seminole County a number of persons have been bitten by infected animals and have been required to undergo the Pasteur treatment. This action, it is hoped, will prevent further infection to persons in the City and also curb the spread of the epidemic to other animals.

Chief of Police Roy C. Williams reported that two mad dogs were killed by members of the Department yesterday and brought the total number of dogs killed in the community since the beginning of the epidemic to approximately three scores.

Stray dogs that are found roaming the streets without muzzles will be killed by members of the Police Department, Mayor Higgins stated, indicating that muzzles for the dogs could be purchased from post headquarters for a nominal sum.

"Shrine Day" To Be Held In Azalea City

The program for the third annual "All Florida Shrine Day" will be held in Palatka on Sunday, Feb. 27, was announced yesterday in a letter from Charles H. Hyde, president of the Palatka Shrine Club, to George Weinstein, president of the local club.

"In order that our visitors may have an opportunity of looking over the Gardens during the morning," Mr. Hyde wrote, "our program will not start until 12:30 p. m. but in case any one should arrive prior to that time their seats will be plenty to see. The Gardens will be at their best next Sunday, and we sincerely hope that your community will be well represented."

The program was listed as follows:

12:30 p. m. to 1:30—Lunch in Azalea Bowl for Nobles and their ladies

1:30 p. m. to 2:30—Band concert in Gardens by Matrocco Temple Band

2:30 p. m. to 3:30—Introduction of distinguished guests

4:00 p. m.—Drills in Azalea Bowl by Patrol and Drum Corps of Matrocco Temple and by Patrol of Daywood Beach Shrine Club.

IN THRONE'S SHADOW

In Throne's Shadow, If General Franco, Spanish insurgent chief, wins the civil war, there is increased reason to believe he will ask Prince Don Juan, former King Alfonso's youngest son, to re-establish the Spanish monarchy. Here are the prince and his wife.

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 25.—(AP)—General John J. Pershing, whose condition became so critical last night that physicians predicted the end was near, continued to rally today.

An official bulletin said his heart and blood pressure were improved. The bulletin added "his condition must still be regarded as critical."

The World War leader lapsed into unconsciousness last night and awoke this morning and spoke a few words to his physicians, his sister and his son who were at the bedside.

Summoned hurriedly to his bedside yesterday were Dr. Verne Allison, Los Angeles specialist, and Dr. William Kerr, head of the University of California.

General Pershing's only sister, Miss May Pershing, and his secretary and chauffeur, Serg. E. C. Sheffer, moved additional belongings from their hotel quarters in the hospital yesterday afternoon, indicating they were preparing for an extended stay.

General Pershing, who has been ill since suffering a heart attack Feb. 6, warmly greeted his only son, Warren, New York investment broker upon the latter's arrival yesterday morning from Palm Beach.

The depressing bulletin from the physicians followed in less than three hours. Dr. Davison denied, however, that reaction at seeing his son had caused any change in the commander's condition.

Friends and relatives, on the other hand, said the son's visit had cheered the old soldier and was "the best medicine he has had."

Dr. Davidson said the change to the worse was gradual during the night but later this morning he seemed improved.

Guffey Withdraws From Governor Race

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Sen. Joseph P. Guffey (D Pa.) today eliminated himself from the 1938 Pennsylvania gubernatorial race at the request of President Roosevelt who otherwise refused to be drawn into a political feud ranking the State's democracy, it was said after a White House conference.

Gov. George Earle, who headed a group of Pennsylvania leaders who placed their political woe before the Chief Executive, said that "you keep Joe in the Senate, because I need him there." Guffey said on leaving the White House that "I am going to comply with the President's request, of course."

SEAT AT $76,000

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Sale of a New York Stock Exchange seat was arranged yesterday at $76,000, unchanged from the previous sale reported Wednesday, and an increase of $1,000 over the 18-year low established early this month.

Federal Deficit Has Risen To Record High

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The Federal deficit has passed the $1,000,000,000 point and the debt has risen to a new record high of $27,614,986,571, the Treasury said yesterday.

On February 21, expenditures exceeded income by $1,008,655,794.

Including the $200,000,000 of additional relief expenditures approved by both houses of Congress, the Federal deficit is expected to reach $1,544,000,000 by June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Supreme Court Upholds Murphy Low Dollar Act

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The Florida Supreme Court today upheld the Murphy "Low Dollar" tax Redemption law for the second time although the six justices said they would not have supported it if they had been members of the Legislature.

The Court unanimously decided the law provided for 1937 taxes to be included in the amount bid for the certificates which were two years old when the law became effective on June 1, 1937.

The court decided the certificates which became two years old after that date could not be sold at auction.

In another case, the Court decided the certificates must be delivered to the highest bidder regardless of the amount of the bid in comparison to the amount of the delinquent taxes.

Explanation Of Celery Surplus Is Given Growers

Paat Provisions Are Outlined Following Grower Complaints

Following several complaints to the Florida Celery Control Committee and to County Agent C. H. Dawson by growers who declare that the entire amount of their available celery acreage has been cut by shippers even though the allotment percentage in effect at the time was only 75 per cent of the available supply, County Agent Dawson, in a statement to growers today explained the provision of the Celery Marketing Agreement relative to this matter.

The County Agent advised the growers that they are within their rights in preventing shippers from cutting the total amount if they so desire and that surplus celery might be sold in interstate commerce.

The statement of the County Agent to the growers is as follows:

"This is an attempt to explain that the estimates made by the Control Committee should not be used as a basis for selling. These estimates are made for the purpose of showing the total amount of celery available for shipment for any week, and with this total information the Committee recommends to the Secretary of Agriculture and the latter places the acreage percentage which should be shipped from the State with the purpose that the growers will get greater returns for the amount shipped than he would if the total is shipped.

"Committees have reached this office from growers that in selling their celery 'in the field,' all of their celery has been cut while the present in effect at the time was 75 percent of the available. In most of these cases investigation shows the buyer purchased the entire block, but paid his purchase price on the amount allotted for that particular field.

"The Marketing Agreement and Order states that each shipper shall equitably apportion among their growers the total allotment which they have received. If a shipper has one grower whose crop has been somewhat under-estimated and another grower's celery has been over-estimated, the shipper can so apportion his total allotment.

"From the above it can be seen a buyer can make a deal on a crop by buying the total block, and through the above fluctuations can get an advantage.

"It is suggested when a buyer wants to deal on the basis of allotment of any block, and the percentage, for instance, is 75 percent, the grower would be within his right to permit only 75 percent of his field to be cut. The remainder could be sold within the State to which the Marketing Agreement and Order does not apply, or dispose of it otherwise.

"Any grower has the right to request a re-estimate of his field. If he thinks the estimate made is not right, another estimate will be made, as far as is humanly possible to make it.

"To avoid confusion and misunderstanding make a definite agreement with your buyer that you are selling him the total block of celery on a percentage basis."

Florida East Coast Train Is Derailed

MAIABAR, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The northbound Havana Special of the Florida East Coast Railway was derailed here this morning but no one was injured. Some passengers in four pullmans which left the track even had to be awakened after the accident.

Both northbound and southbound traffic was held up more than five hours. Four pullman cars did not turn over but they were leaning badly and were damaged. Railroad officials said a broken rail apparently caused the accident.

Bill Is Approved To Stop War Profiteers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The House Military Committee today approved a bill to give the President broad authority to prevent profiteering in war times. The committee's action looks a long way toward over legislation which President Roosevelt had recommended as a national defense measure. The bill contains a provision for the universal draft of manpower and industry in wartime. The chief executive would have power to put "ceiling" on prices. In addition the legislation provides for a "system of taxation which shall absorb all profits over a fair normal return to be fixed by Congress."

Washington Ball To Be Held In Armory

Officials of the Sanford Semi-Pro Football Association today reminded local football fans of the Washington Ball to be given in the Armory tonight beginning at 10:00 o'clock to be a benefit dance for the Association.

Officials announced that the proceeds will be applied on the purchase price of uniforms bought for the players during the past season so that the team may begin work on the contemplated schedule for next year without financial worries.

Members of the Semi-Pro team appropriately decorated the Armory last night and have engaged Higger Wester and his Hotel Palma orchestra to furnish the music.

Eckerson Employees Have Theatre Party

Employees and friends of the Eckerson Fruit Cannery last night enjoyed a theatre party in the Princess Theatre, sponsored by the company and the company union.

"Any string music and other entertainment were furnished by local talent and an exhibition of magic was given by a visiting magician in addition to the featured picture on the screen.

C. H. Eckerson, president of the Cannery Company, was master of ceremonies of the program which was presented to a packed house.

German Nazis Are Bitter Over Austrian's Claim Of Independence For Country

Echoes of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg's paean of Austrian freedom tinged in Europe today but its motif of harmony with Germany became one of jangling discord in Berlin.

Leading Nazis in Hitler's capital called it Schuschnigg's swan song, saying "for us he is finished, history will take its course without him, Austria is ours."

Rome, while had looked askance at the Hitler-Schuschnigg pact, was "highly pleased" by Schuschnigg's interpretation of the agreement as meaning Austrian independence and Austro-German peace.

Austrian patriots paraded joyfully after Schuschnigg's address to the nation. Austrian Nazis were angry and there were some scattered demonstrations.

London shared Rome's pleasure for Italian support of Austrian independence may give Britain the leverage needed to block further German dominance of Central Europe.

England and France hoped they might be able to play Germany and Italy against each other, said London Viscount Halifax, British Foreign Secretary, in the Council and former Viceroy of India was formally named foreign secretary in spite of the Labor party's sharp warning the appointment would prime a constitutional issue.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain announced that Lord Halifax, who was his emissary on a special visit to Hitler last November, would take over the post vacated by Anthony Eden, who declined to follow Chamberlain's realistic foreign policy.

Wild Nazi demonstrations broke out in many parts of Austria last night as Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, in his eagerly awaited speech to the federal diet announced that Austria's Adolf Hitler of Germany is sworn to uphold Austrian independence.

The Nazis, who hurled stench bombs in Vienna's working class districts, were infuriated by Schuschnigg's assertion that Dr. Fuhrer has promised to restrain any attempts at "Nationalization" of Austria's 6,750,000 people and that the illegal Austrian Nazis will remain outlawed.

Even before Schuschnigg ended his speech with the shout "Austria will remain free and for this freedom we will fight to the death!" The Nazi-aided demonstrations broke out.

For thousands of radio listeners the premier's shout of "United death, hell Austria!" was drowned out by screams of Nazis—many of them were released from prisons only a few days ago—sweeping along the streets.

"Hell Hitler, one nation!" cried Nazis parading along Maria Hilfer Street in Vienna.

Laborers and members of the Fatherland Front, Schuschnigg's own political union which he proclaimed will remain the only one in Austria, immediately organized counter-demonstrations.

"Hell Schuschnigg—we don't want a Hitler regime!" they called to the Nazis.

At Graz, hotbed of Nazi and anti-Nazi feeling, the Nazis demonstrated loudly throughout Schuschnigg's nearly two-hour speech with "Hailing for Hitler!" They succeeded in placing the (Continued on Page Three)

Better Vision

Health, educational, social and other organizations interested in public welfare are co-operating in the annual observance of Save-Your-Vision Week...

Eyesight conservation is now recognized as a major social and economic problem. Studies have indicated that nearly one-quarter of the nation's children reach their majority with defects in vision...

The problem of eyesight conservation divides itself into two phases, (1) preventive, and (2) remedial, according to M. J. Julian, president of the Better Vision Institute...

The development of eye defects is usually progressive. Frequently faulty eyesight is not noticed in children until it seriously affects the clarity of sight...

"Uncorrected defects in children's eyes—and 95 percent of such defects can be corrected—often have far-reaching social implications," continued Mr. Julian...

"Dr. Samuel D. Risley, following a study of the Philadelphia schools, concluded that, 'Many a child groping with poor eyes and struggling for an education against his handicap becomes not only a stupid child but a rebellious child—a truant child, and a truant child is an embryo criminal.'"

The same opinion was held by Judge Cabot of the Boston Juvenile Court, who found that "bad eyesight leads to inattention at school, to unfair competition with his fellows, to dullness or sullenness, and perhaps a break with some form of authority at home or in school or on the street."

Asserting that half of the millions of adults with correctable defects of vision fail to avail themselves with the seeing aids provided by modern optical science, Mr. Julian says that "uncorrected visual defects sap the vitality of workers, make them less efficient and rob them of ambition..."

Illegal Drug Traffic

Repeated reports in the newspapers that some murder has been committed by some drug crazed addict, or that some robbery has been perpetrated by some half-mad dope-fend indicate somewhat the extent which the drug traffic operates in this country...

"On Jan. 1 more than 6,000 cases of narcotic law violations were pending," says the Miami Daily News. "The number of arrests in New York City alone was 657. The major drug rings were crushed and the federal government began its drive against marihuana, a serious problem because the weed from which it is produced may be grown anywhere and its unscrupulous peddlers have made youth their special target."

"Various other federal agencies, notably the coast guard, co-operate with the bureau in a co-ordinated program. The coast guard last year trailed several thousands suspect vessels, both domestic and foreign, into and out of American ports. The ships were kept under surveillance, likewise, while anchored for discharge of cargo, as a precaution against possible transfer of drugs from foreign sources to small contact boats."

"These efforts check the flood of drugs to a great extent. Yet the seizures last year totaled almost 5,000 ounces more than in 1936, though the number of arrests declined slightly. Such continuing hauls assure that the vigor of federal enforcement activities will not be relaxed."

Dr. Clinton Talks On 'Strength For The Pilgrim Way'

Speaking last evening at the Congregational Church on the theme, "Strength for the Pilgrim Way," Dr. James R. Clinton said that strength is a fundamental need of all who seek to fulfill a life which is life indeed.

Speaking of the directions of every human journey, he said that Christianity calls us to the upward way. "It is the privilege of every man to reach the towering heights of Christian character," he declared. "Christianity also calls us into valleys of humiliation. We haven't much to stand upon if we have only our dignity to stand upon. True greatness stoops to conquer. The noblest soul in history, Jesus of Nazareth, girded himself for the lowliest tasks in human service."

"Christianity further and most importantly finds us on the monotonous road of the daily round and common task," he continued. "Here is where Divine grace registers its supreme adequacy and triumph. To be patient and faithful along the dull levels of duty is the constant problem of our day. Life for all of us after all has but a few days of privilege in the heights or sensation in the depths."

The public is especially invited to hear this evening's theme: "The Distinctive Christian Witness."

PARIS, Feb. 25. — (AP)—Premier Chautemps, with his own government strengthened by the refusal of political leaders to form a national union cabinet, turned last night toward the British plan of negotiating with Italy.

Foreign Minister Delbois had hinted earlier this week France might adopt a policy parallel to British Prime Minister Chamberlain's as a possible solution to the continental isolation in which that diplomacy has left her.

Chautemps, however, apparently had sought to strengthen his own hand before trying such a course. Parliamentary leaders pictured him now as confident of his strength and considering overtures to Italy.

At the end of a long chain of "ifs"—if negotiations with Italy are begun, if they are successful, if an agreement is adhered to—members of the chamber of deputies, even talked of conversations with Germany.

George Washington Cable's books were based on the life of the Louisiana Creoles.

Naval Officer Speaks Before Local Students

for service in the only U. S. Detachment of Flying Boats which patrolled the eastern seaboard. Three years later he was shifted to an air base where he became interested in photography and a year later was again sent to the Pensacola base where he was made photography instructor.

In 1927 he was transferred to the aircraft carrier Lexington and in 1930 he was sent to the naval air base in the Canal Zone. In 1934 he was detailed to head the scouting planes aboard the cruiser Louisville and in 1935 was again sent to Pensacola where he has been in charge of the ground schooling for the recruits. In the Spring, he said he was scheduled to command a squadron aboard a United States battleship.

Declaring that aircraft is one of the most essential weapons in naval defense, Lt. Com. Carlson reviewed the role of aviation in naval activities and told the boys of methods for obtaining aviators training in the service.

He told of the technical training offered boys entering the Navy as enlisted personnel, which, he declared, fitted them for service while in the Navy and trained them for a career in civil life.

He also explained the opportunities offered aviation cadets who must be graduates of college. These cadets, he said, are taken into the service and given approximately 11 months preparatory training following which they are placed in active service for three years training, when they are paid $155 monthly on expiration of their enlistment, they are commissioned as an Ensign in the reserves and paid a bonus of $1,500.

Lt. Com. Carlson came to Sanford largely through the efforts of Volie Williams, president of the Sanford Buick Company and local representative of the Eastern Air Lines, who introduced the speaker this morning. J. L. Ingley, chairman of the Vocational Guidance Committee of the Rotary Club acted as master of ceremonies and O. P. Herndon of the Vocational Guidance Committee of the Kiwanis Club, was also present.

Seminary Professor, Pastor Without a Pulpit, Creates Unique "Church of the Air"

ST. LOUIS—(Special)—A remarkable enterprise in the field of modern evangelism has been established by the noted Lutheran theologian, Walter A. Maier, Ph. D., member of the faculty of Concordia Seminary here, who preaches the Gospel as a Sunday afternoon sideline.

Speaking each Sunday over the coast-to-coast Lutheran Hour network, Dr. Maier receives letters from his listeners in a volume that famous stars of the entertainment world might envy—as many as 7,000 in a single week, a half million since the broadcast began.

All the modern languages and even classic Latin are represented in this mail and the establishment of a Braille script department is contemplated for handling the correspondence with the blind. Foreign language newspapers frequently request material, while Dr. Maier's lectures are now being translated into Arabic for distribution in Palestine, Transjordan and among Arabic traders in Africa.

Many Denominations Approve

Advocating the complete acceptance of Christ and the Scriptures, Dr. Maier is the recipient of many letters from members of the clergy and laity of other denominations, both Protestant and Catholic, warmly praising his views. Pastors of many denominations have set a precedent, according to Dr. Maier, by urging their own parishioners to listen to the Lutheran Hour.

More than once, listeners have written to thank Dr. Maier for dissuading them from suicide; others for changing their determination to seek divorce. A Missouri "lifer" writes regularly of his renewed faith, while the Governor of a state paid tribute and an industrialist with a "front-page" name visited Dr. Maier to obtain advice on a personal problem.

"Problem" Letters

The most interesting of all, according to Dr. Maier, are his so-called "problem letters" received in response to his offer of spiritual advice to any listener who has no church affiliation. Men and women who have suffered sorrows and reverses; hospital "abrupts," many of them incurably ill; parents concerned with the social problems of their children, prison inmates and persons in isolated places not convenient to churches, reveal their desire for spiritual renewal in letters which Dr. Maier, aided by a large volunteer staff, answers personally.

Graduate of Harvard and Concordia Seminary, Dr. Maier is a full-time member of the faculty of the seminary, as professor of Old Testament interpretation. His activities on the Lutheran Hour, for which he refuses all compensation, are carried on between classes and afterward, and still Dr. Maier finds time somehow for prolific writing on religious and religious-social topics, his books being widely read and commented upon.

Heard Throughout America

Five years ago the voice of this modern missionary was heard over but two stations. Today 61 stations of a national network carry his messages to the far corners of the continent, and several other stations voluntarily pick up the programs and rebroadcast them for the benefit of their own audiences. A substantial portion of the expenses of the broadcasts, all of which are paid for at regular rates, is voluntarily contributed by the listening audience.

The Lutheran Hour is sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League, with the cooperation of the International Waltham League, young people's organization with a national membership of 85,000. These lay organizations have the cooperation of the Lutheran Synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states, composed of several thousand Lutheran churches.

Love And Intrigue Feature War Drama

The 20th Century-Fox film deals with the adventures of a free-lance American pilot who finds himself in China's great metropolis as the city is engulfed in the maelstrom of conflict.

War sequences on a scale unduplicated since the filming of "The Road to Glory" at Twentieth Century-Fox are used in the massive production. Several thousand film players including hundreds of Chinese actors, have been engaged for the war scenes and other sequences.

Chief roles in "International Settlement" are taken by Dolores Del Rio, glamorous screen beauty, George Sanders, new star "discovery," June Lang, piquant little star, and Dick Baldwin, handsome young player.

Others in the notable cast, appearing in supporting parts, are Keys Luke, youthful Chinese actor who has won a wide following among film fans by his work in the Charlie Chan series, John Carradine, Leon Ames and Ruth Terry. The latter a young singer who recently made her screen debut in "Love and Illu-

What's The World Coming To?

By ALEXANDER GEORGE

4. This is the fourth of five articles in which Alexander G. George, after talking with the researchers who are charting tomorrow's world, pleases his in 1920 as it shows up in the laboratory and on the drafting boards of 1935.

Clothes
These fashion experts who are not afraid to go out on a limb to forecast America's future in clothing styles are predicting that:

1. Women will wear less and less clothing, the simplicity and the comfort of sports apparel becoming more and more popular.

2. Men, too, will be wearing far fewer clothes 25 years hence. (The hot weather town suit of 1933 may well be washable shorts, shirt and jacket, like the Tyrolean mountaineer's costume.)

3. The familiar collar and tie may be supplanted by a less-binding, modernized tunic, with perhaps a soft neckerchief for prominent Adam's apple concealment.

4. Fabrics which resist rain, perspiration or spilled drinks, will be in common use.

5. Glass raincoats may serve also as protectors from lightning.

Style observers say Empress Eugenie may pop up here and there to put their fleeing stamp on the fashion world but it is the Helen Willis Moodys of the future who will set the pace for the long pull.

Not that the ladies have much left to shed. And from diaper to dinner gown, garments are becoming more streamlined. The slim silhouette dress is in vogue from bunga-bunga boudoir to Biarritz ballroom. Baby rompers are going more Hollywoodish. As the flair for sports and play clothes becomes stronger among girls an increase in the percentage of more natural, healthy figures is expected.

Corsets Going, Going—

This trend will result in a diminishing need for "compressor" garments such as corsets. And some stylists believe even the girdle may vanish. Clothes of today are especially designed for quick and easy dressing.

Twenty-five years have whittled by since handsome young John Barrymore in an English suit, gate-lap collar and a streamlined derby had the "sweet young thing's" eagle-eyed with admiration. But though there have been changes along the comfort line, masculine attire has seen no great transition in a quarter-century.

Man, however, is becoming less self-conscious in abbreviated sportswear and is appearing in shorts on the tennis courts, at the beach and at the lawn mower. Accustomed to showing off his shanks at summer colonies he may become emboldened to expose more or less knobby knees in office and shop.

Further improvements are expected in water-repellent fabrics. Materials made from grass, glass and milk are here. Crownless hats are made of cellophane.

Lightning-Rod Cost

The present glass cloth with stands high temperatures, is resistant to corrosive chemicals, does not absorb water and is said to be a highly effective electrical insulator. In the future we may be wearing glass raincoats to shield us from lightning.

The current trend to short skirts is expected to continue for some time but extremely abbreviated skirts are considered unlikely.

New casual clothes of the softly tailored or spectator sports types will be important in spring fashions for 1935. Popularity is forecast for suits and jacket costumes.

Designers predict new versions of the fitted waistline, modified so that it is easier to wear.

Tomorrow: Health.

ENGLAND EXPECTS EVERY MAN ...

'ENGLAND EXPECTS EVERY MAN...' and children too are taught stern realities of gas defense in case of war, but to young minds these sinister-looking masks were just another plaything. Youngsters took part in tests conducted at an orphanage by the Home Office in conjunction with Britain's preparedness program. Other children showed curiosity at the long snouts of their cycling playmates.

Azalea Manager Asks Palatka For Co-Operation

George Andrews, manager elect of the Palatka Azalea League for the forthcoming season, has asked the baseball lovers of Palatka to cooperate with him in making Palatka baseball-minded, according to a story appearing in the Palatka Daily News yesterday.

Andrews stated that when he came to Palatka in 1934 with a House of David baseball nine, the Azalea city was "done" as far as baseball was concerned, but that if baseball fans and the city of Palatka would cooperate this season, attendance records would likely reach peak records.

The manager asked the Palatka Baseball Association, which is under control of the city of Palatka this season, to have at least $5000 or $6000 in the club's treasury before the opening of the season which has been set for April 10.

It is said that Andrews will act as playing manager this season and at the present time he is an instructor at the Joe Stripp school of baseball at Orlando. It is believed that Andrews will promote several of the Orlando students to Palatka with him.

THRIFTY STREET PAVING

MIAMI, Feb. 25.—(AP)—City officials did some thrifty street-paving by spreading sand over a street where 270 gallons of crankcase oil had been spilled by accident. A truck carrying the used oil to a refinery collided with an automobile at an intersection and the oil flooded the street for 200 feet.

Mark Wilcox Opens Campaign For Senate Post

WEST PALM BEACH, Feb. 25.—(AP)—J. Mark Wilcox of West Palm Beach, representative from the Fourth Florida District, opened his campaign for Democratic nomination to the United States Senate last night with the assertion "I have never been, am not now and never intend to become a rubber stamp for any man or group of men."

His enemies have said that I am anti-New Deal, or anti-administration or anti-something else. As a matter of fact, I probably have the most consistent record of loyalty to the present administration of any man in either branch of Congress who has served since the beginning of the New Deal," Wilcox said in an address here.

Wilcox said he had "examined every piece of legislation as it was presented to me as a member of Congress, and I have measured it by the yardstick of my party platform. When legislative provisions have come within the provisions of my party platform I have vigorously supported them."

Wilcox said he was submitting his candidacy "solely on my own record of public service, upon the basis of things which I have stood for and the things which I have opposed. I do not seek election because of the deeds of someone else."

Wilcox said he had supported such laws as the Bank Deposit Guaranty Act, the Home Owners Loan Corporation Act, the law setting up the Civilian Conservation Corps, housing legislation, and others sponsored by President Roosevelt.

He said he had opposed the "un-American Sugar Control Act," and the renewal of the reciprocal trade agreement law "because under this act the trade agreement with

Cuba has brought the products of that country into direct competition with our Florida products."

"I believe," he added, "in our Constitutional form of Government and I believe that the safety, liberty and freedom of our people can best be safeguarded, preserved and protected by a free and untrammelled judiciary. I therefore opposed the plan for making the judiciary subservient to the executive."

He opposed the Black-Connerly Wage and Hour Bill, Wilcox said, because it violated the Democratic platform.

The candidate declared he obtained passage of such measures as the Municipal Bankruptcy Act, the act establishing the Everglades National Park, the Wilcox Aid Defense Act and others.

GREYHOUND ENTRIES TONIGHT

Table listing Greyhound race entries for tonight, including race numbers, names of horses, and jockeys.

At the meeting in the Pirate's cove village the chiefs sat upon the ceremonial platform to discuss the shooting. A messenger, Brown Tiger, hurried in from Ochoppee, near Lake Okechobee, with word from other chiefs.

In the flickering firelight Brown Tiger addressed the heads of the tribe. When he had finished speaking an interpreter said he had told them the other chiefs knew of the slaying and approved of it.

The Indians were close-mouthed but from Jones Jells, a negro eye witness, and others, Smith and Patro men Raleigh Hill and A. W. Fairbrother reconstructed the killing in this manner:

They said the gouty old chief, who uses crutches, had his son, Billy Osceola, lift him into a truck and drive him from his Muna Isle village to another nearby camp on the bank of the Miami River where John Billy had been living recently.

There, they said, the younger Osceola summoned the victim from his hut and the chief lifted him with one blast of the shotgun. Billy had been shot at such close range his clothes were scorched.

F. J. Scott, superintendent of Indian affairs, was summoned from the reservation at Dania, north of here, but said that the local courts had jurisdiction over the case since the shooting had not occurred on reservation territory.

Victim of the summary shotgun execution was John Billy, 30, who had met less severe tribal discipline for numerous infractions before, including the fatal stabbing of a fellow brave in a drunken brawl near the town of Everglades several years ago.

His killer, authorities said, was crizzled John Osceola, one of the six chiefs of the Seminole Nation, but the operators of the Indian camp related that the Seminoles had been holding tribal council on recent nights and Stuart K. Smith of the State Attorney's office expressed the theory they had delegated the 78-year-old chieftain to do the act.

Investigators found Osceola, bare-footed and wearing the gaudy shirt and skirt of Seminole stripping, sitting cross-legged in the midst of camp puffing a pipe and receiving the acclaim of his people afterwards. Many Indians crowding around gave him money which he placed in a tin cup by his side.

Moreover a tribal celebration was arranged there tonight. At the meeting in the Pirate's cove village the chiefs sat upon the ceremonial platform to discuss the shooting. A messenger, Brown Tiger, hurried in from Ochoppee, near Lake Okechobee, with word from other chiefs.

Seminole Indian Is Put To Death In Tribal Fashion

John Billy Has Been Trouble Maker For Years, Killed Brave

MIAMI, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A Seminole Tribe, encamped in the White Man's civilization for tourists to see apparently invoked their own law of the Everglades yesterday and executed a troublemaking member.

Victim of the summary shotgun execution was John Billy, 30, who had met less severe tribal discipline for numerous infractions before, including the fatal stabbing of a fellow brave in a drunken brawl near the town of Everglades several years ago.

His killer, authorities said, was crizzled John Osceola, one of the six chiefs of the Seminole Nation, but the operators of the Indian camp related that the Seminoles had been holding tribal council on recent nights and Stuart K. Smith of the State Attorney's office expressed the theory they had delegated the 78-year-old chieftain to do the act.

Investigators found Osceola, bare-footed and wearing the gaudy shirt and skirt of Seminole stripping, sitting cross-legged in the midst of camp puffing a pipe and receiving the acclaim of his people afterwards. Many Indians crowding around gave him money which he placed in a tin cup by his side.

Moreover a tribal celebration was arranged there tonight. At the meeting in the Pirate's cove village the chiefs sat upon the ceremonial platform to discuss the shooting. A messenger, Brown Tiger, hurried in from Ochoppee, near Lake Okechobee, with word from other chiefs.

In the flickering firelight Brown Tiger addressed the heads of the tribe. When he had finished speaking an interpreter said he had told them the other chiefs knew of the slaying and approved of it.

The Indians were close-mouthed but from Jones Jells, a negro eye witness, and others, Smith and Patro men Raleigh Hill and A. W. Fairbrother reconstructed the killing in this manner:

They said the gouty old chief, who uses crutches, had his son, Billy Osceola, lift him into a truck and drive him from his Muna Isle village to another nearby camp on the bank of the Miami River where John Billy had been living recently.

There, they said, the younger Osceola summoned the victim from his hut and the chief lifted him with one blast of the shotgun. Billy had been shot at such close range his clothes were scorched.

F. J. Scott, superintendent of Indian affairs, was summoned from the reservation at Dania, north of here, but said that the local courts had jurisdiction over the case since the shooting had not occurred on reservation territory.

Household Hints

Carefully separate the whites and yolks of four eggs, and be sure to keep the yolks whole. Beat the whites, adding a little salt, then fill buttered baking dishes or custard cups (two-thirds full of the beaten whites. Carefully drop a yolk on top of each cup), sprinkle with salt and pepper, dot with butter and then bake until the yolks are set (about seven minutes). Sprinkle with grated cheese, chill, sauce or catsup and serve in the baking dish.

Wealthy Britons Killed In Crash Near Hearst Ranch

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The wealthy Lord Conyngham Plunket and Lady Plunket of London, England, and Pilot T. J. (Tex) Phillips, were killed in a crash of an airplane a mile and one-half south of the Hearst airport at San Luis Obispo, Joseph Willcombe, secretary to William Randolph Hearst, announced yesterday.

A third passenger in the plane, James Lawrence, Hollywood, was injured critically, Willcombe said. The party was en route to the Hearst ranch at San Simeon. Heavy fog which blanketed the coast throughout the day was blamed for the crash, Willcombe, at the Hearst ranch, reported.

The plane, a Valtre owned by the Los Angeles and San Francisco newspapers of Hearst, crashed when the pilot became lost in the fog. Smashing to earth a mile and one-half south of the San Luis Obispo airport, the ship burst

Race Horse Stands In Way Of Stuart Erwin's Romance With Una Merkel

It's "Checkers" Jane Withers now!

The girl who has just been voted one of the six most popular stars of today wears the proudest racing silks on the track in "Checkers," her latest Twentieth Century-Fox picture, opening next Thursday at the Ritz Theatre. Jane's at her uproarious best, and what a thoroughbred she is, even when Lady Luck forgets to act like a lady.

Stuart Erwin and Una Merkel are featured in romantic roles in the film, and Marvin Stephens the bad body of "Borrowing Trouble," plays Jane's first screen "crush."

As the slickest horse-trader who ever got stung, Stuart has been courting Una for seven years. She disapproves of Stuart's motto: "Love me, love my horse," for Una is a girl who refuses to fill her hope chest with horse blankets.

The horse that stands in the way of Stuart's romance in the recent days of his sit-down courtship is "Blue Skies," a racing filly whose flashing hoofs at the end of the film give the girl a new light on the Erwin mot o.

Jane, Stuart and "Blue Skies" wander around to the track at the opening of the story. The horse, with Jane riding, beats the star of another owner's stable. Enraged, this sportsman fires Marvin Stephens, his jockey, who joins forces with Jane & Co.

The quartet then descends upon Una's farm. When "Blue Skies" breaks a leg in a race, Una is forced to put the horse up in her barn, even though she dislikes racehorses. Stuart gets a job on the farm, and Jane and Marvin start school.

Screen Play Is Called Dramatic Triumph Of Years

Gripping drama, heart throbs and comedy mingle in a story told in terms of down-to-earth human characters in "Of Human Hearts," dramatic story of Lincoln's day which brings Walter Huston to the screen for the first time since his triumphs in "Dodsworth." The picture opens next Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

"Of Human Hearts," like "Ah Wilderness!" was directed by Clarence Brown. Though the story is entirely different and the dramatic theme one of the greatest in literature, it shares with the O'Neill play the quality of sheer humanity, with characters so genuine that the audience veritably looks upon a cross section of American life.

Based on Honore Morrow's story of an itinerant preacher in a pioneer Ohio village, its principal characters are Huston, as Ethan Wilkins, the zealous ceryman; Stewart as his son, who prefers medicine to saving souls; and Beulah Bondi as the adoring wife, who tries to follow both blindly. Huston plays his character with restraint and a genuine human quality. Stewart is given an opportunity for some of the finest dramatic acting in his career, and Miss Bondi as the mother is a gripping figure in the drama.

The story starts before the Civil War. Father and son do not understand each other. There is a quarrel and the boy leaves for medical college. When the father dies, the mother sacrifices everything she owns to educate her son. He becomes a great surgeon but forgets his mother until his feet are set on the right path by Lincoln. The story is told with many simple, homely characters; Charles Coburn as the bibulous, kindly village doctor, Guy Kibbee as the skinflint storekeeper, John Carradine in an amazing portrayal of Lincoln, Ann Rutherford as the boy's sweetheart.

"MAN-PROOF"

Myrna Loy does her darndest to pretend that she's "Man-Proof" in the picture of that name coming to the Ritz next Tuesday and Wednesday, but Franchot Tone and Walter Pidgeon soon disillusion the star of any such idea. Rosalind Russell also plays an important part in the proceedings of the new romantic comedy.

Lynn Root and Frank Fenton, and Robert Chapin and Karen De Wolf wrote the screen play for Jane Withers' new picture, "Checkers." Based on an original story by Lynn Root and Frank Fenton, the Twentieth Century-Fox film opens Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

'Man-Proof' Is 'Hollywood Hotel,' Famous Show Of Airways, Becomes Screen Comedy Of Love Rectangle

In today's mad race of modernity, the marital "triangle" has been pushed into limbo and in its place rises the matrimonial "rectangle" in the fast stepping comedy drama, "Man-Proof," coming to the Ritz Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday.

With Myrna Loy, forming the quartet of principals, are Franchot Tone, Rosalind Russell and Walter Pidgeon.

Miss Loy is a young artist disillusioned in love. Miss Russell is a wealthy socialite. Franchot Tone is a newspaper cartoonist and Walter Pidgeon is a social climber. Miss Loy loves Pidgeon, but he marries Miss Russell. Tone loves Miss Loy, but he keeps it to himself. Miss Loy is determined to separate the newlyweds and marry Pidgeon herself. While they are away on their honeymoon, she temporarily forgets Pidgeon and remains "wedded" only to her art. Tone, idolizing Miss Loy, marks time.

The honeymooners return and Miss Loy's waning spark of love for Pidgeon is rekindled. They have lots of fun together at the fights and in night clubs, until the wife finds the husband in Miss Loy's rooms. Yet it is not an "irate wife" scene. They sit down and talk it over, friendly-like. The wife offers a divorce to the husband. He doesn't want to lose his job and declines the divorce, forgetting Miss Loy to return to his wife. Miss Loy realizes her mistake. She and Tone pledge themselves to remain friends—but her mother knows it is love.

Richard Thorpe directed "Man-Proof" and admirable performances are given by the principals and by such supporting players as Rita Johnson, Nana Bryant, Beth Hussey, Leonard Penn and John Miljan.

The most lavish and spectacular musical comedy of the 1938 season, "Hollywood Hotel," a Warner Bros. production, starring Dick Powell and featuring a score of 80 other songsters and funmakers plays tomorrow and Monday at the Ritz Theatre.

It is based upon the famous radio program carrying the same name, which has been beloved by air-fans during the past three years. But the film has a well-knit story to serve as the dramatic structure.

The film story shows Powell as an obscure crooner who comes to Hollywood looking for a break and gets involved in no end of an elaborate and humorous complication before he even gets started on his career.

AMERICA'S NO. 1 CROONER

Dick Powell heads the star-studded cast of "Hollywood Hotel," the swagging musical of the year, featuring one of the nation's favorite radio programs, and coming to the Ritz tomorrow and Monday.

"CHECKERS" JANE

If ever a star and a story were meant for each other, this is the time. Jane Withers (above) is at her uproarious best in the proudest racing silks on the track in the grand human story of "Checkers," Twentieth Century-Fox picture coming to the Ritz Theatre next Thursday and Friday.

EVEN IN WAR, FIGHTING MEN MUST EAT!

Busy as they are with their warfare in North China, Japanese soldiers take time out for lunch on the battlefield. These warriors, perhaps, and thousands of their fellows later took part in more extensive fighting that drove the Chinese from nearby Peiping and Nanking.

Mark Wilcox Opens Campaign For Senate Post

Congressman Affirms Loyalty To President And To Party

WEST PALM BEACH, Feb. 25.—(AP)—J. Mark Wilcox of West Palm Beach, representative from the Fourth Florida District, opened his campaign for Democratic nomination to the United States Senate last night with the assertion "I have never been, am not now and never intend to become a rubber stamp for any man or group of men."

My enemies have said that I am anti-New Deal, or anti-administration or anti-something else. As a matter of fact, I probably have the most consistent record of loyalty to the present administration of any man in either branch of Congress who has served since the beginning of the New Deal," Wilcox said in an address here.

Wilcox said he had "examined every piece of legislation as it was presented to me as a member of Congress, and I have measured it by the yardstick of my party platform. When legislative provisions have come within the provisions of my party platform I have vigorously supported them."

Wilcox said he was submitting his candidacy "solely on my own record of public service, on the basis of things which I have stood for and the things which I have opposed. I do not seek election because of the deeds of someone else."

Wilcox said he had supported such laws as the Bank Deposit Guaranty Act, the Home Owners Loan Corporation Act, the law setting up the Civilian Conservation Corps, housing legislation, and others sponsored by President Roosevelt.

He said he had opposed the "un-American Sugar Control Act," and the renewal of the reciprocal trade agreement law because under this act the trade agreement with

Cuba has brought the products of that country into direct competition with our Florida products. "I believe," he added, "in our Constitutional form of Government with its three separate departments and I believe that the safety, liberty and freedom of our people can best be safeguarded, preserved and protected by a free and untrammelled judiciary. I therefore opposed the plan for making the judiciary subservient to the executive."

He opposed the Black-Connery Wage and Hour Bill, Wilcox said, because it violated the Democratic platform.

The candidate declared he obtained passage of such measures as the Municipal Bankruptcy Act, the act establishing the Everglades National Park, the Wilcox Aid Defense Act and others.

Seminole Indian Is Put To Death In Tribal Fashion

John Billy Has Been Trouble Maker For Years, Killed Brave

MIAMI, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A Seminole Tribe, encamped in the White Man's civilization for tourists to see apparently invoked their own law of the Everglades yesterday and executed a troublemaker member.

Victim of the summary execution was John Billy, 30, who had met severe tribal discipline for numerous malfeasances before, including the fatal stabbing of a fellow brave in a drunken brawl near the town of Everglades several years ago.

His killer, authorities said, was grizzled John Osceola, one of the six chiefs of the Seminole Nation, but the operators of the Indian camp related that the Seminoles had been holding tribal council on recent nights and Stuart K. Smith of the State Attorney's office expressed the theory they had delegated the 78-year-old chieftain to do the act.

Investigators found Osceola, bare-footed and wearing the gaudy shirt and skirt of Seminole striping, sitting cross-legged in the midst of camp puffing a pipe and receiving the acclaim of his people afterwards. Many Indians crowding around gave him money which he placed in a tin cup by his side. Moreover a tribal celebration was arranged there tonight.

who uses crutches, had his son, Billy Osceola, lift him into a truck and drive him from his Miosa Isle village to another nearby camp on the bank of the Miami River where John Billy had been living recently. There, they said, the younger Osceola summoned the victim from his hut and the chief killed him with one blast of the shotgun. Billy had been shot at such close range his clothes were scorched.

T. J. Scott, superintendent of Indian affairs, was summoned from the reservation at Dade, north of here, but said that the local courts had jurisdiction over the case since the shooting had not occurred on reservation territory.

With a 28-year-old grandson, Henry Cypress, for interpreter, the chief was taken to police headquarters and then released by Circuit Judge Worth W. Trammell in custody of Attorney O. E. White, pending an inquest.

While said he would have to obtain the consent of the other five chiefs, four of whom are Osceolas and of the dead man's family before he could represent John Osceola under Indian law. Whatever disposition the courts make of the case, the chief will be tried by his own people at their annual Green Corn Dance in May.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—(AP)—The wealthy Lord Conyngham Plunket and Lady Plunket of London, England, and Pilot T. J. Phillips, were killed in a crash of an airplane a mile and one-half south of the Hearst airport at San Luis Obispo, Joseph Willcombe, secretary to William Randolph Hearst, announced yesterday.

The pilot, thrown clear of the plane, was dead. Lawrence, also thrown clear, suffered a double fracture of his ankle and severe burns.

The nobleman, sixth Baron Plunket and descendant of a historic Irish family, arrived in Los Angeles only two weeks ago with Lady Plunket, who was the daughter of Fannie Ward, famous stage and screen beauty.

Lawrence, a world traveler who had spent much time in Hollywood, is the son of Sir Walter Lawrence, owner of a large estate outside London. He was a traveling companion of the Plunkets.

Lord Plunket was born in 1889. He married Dorothea Mabel Lewis in 1922. She was the daughter of the actress and the late Joseph Lewis.

Pilot Phillips left the Monterey, Calif. Police Department two years ago to become a pilot for Hearst.

Household Hints

Carefully separate the whites and yolks of four eggs, and be sure to keep the yolks whole. Beat the whites, adding a little salt, then fill buttered baking dishes or custard cups two-thirds full of the beaten whites. Carefully drop a yolk on top of each cup, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dot with butter and then bake until the yolks are set (about seven minutes). Sprinkle with grated cheese, chili sauce or catsup and serve in the baking dish.

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

Race Horse Stands In Way Of Stuart Erwin's Romance With Una Merkel

It's "Checkers" Jane Withers her hope chest with horse blankets.

The girl who has just been voted one of the six most popular stars of today wears the proudest racing silks on the track in "Checkers," her latest Twentieth Century-Fox picture, opening next Thursday at the Ritz Theatre. Jane's at her uproarious best, and what a thoroughbred she is, even when Lady Luck forsakes her to act like a lady.

Stuart Erwin and Una Merkel are featured in romantic roles in the film, and Marvin Stephens the bad body of "Borrowing Trouble," plays Jane's first screen "crush."

As the slickest horse-trader who ever got a wing, Stuart has been courting Una for seven years. She disapproves of Stu's motto: "Love me, love my horse," for Una is a girl who refuses to fill

Screen Play Is Called Dramatic Triumph Of Years

Gripping drama, heart throbs and comedy mingle in a story told in terms of down-to-earth human characters in "Of Human Hearts," dramatic story of Lincoln's day which brings Walter Huston to the screen for the first time since his triumphs in "Dodsworth." The picture opens next Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

"Of Human Hearts," like "Ah Wilderness!" was directed by Clarence Brown. Though the story is entirely different and the dramatic theme one of the greatest in literature, it shares with the O'Neill play the quality of sheer humaneness, with characters so genuine that the audience veritably looks upon a cross section of American life.

Based on Honore Morrow's story of an itinerant preacher in a pioneer Ohio village, its principal characters are Huston, as Ethan Wilkins, the zealous clergyman; Stewart as his son, who prefers medicine to saving souls; and Beulah Bondi as the adoring wife, who tries to follow both blindly. Huston plays his character with restraint and a genuine human quality. Stewart is given an opportunity for some of the finest dramatic acting in his career, and Miss Bondi as the mother is a gripping figure in the drama.

The story starts before the Civil War. Father and son do not understand each other. There is a quarrel and the boy leaves for medical college. When the father dies, she mother sacrifices everything she owns to educate her son. He becomes a great surgeon but forgets his mother until his feet are set on the right path by Lincoln. The story is told with many simple, homely characters; Charles Coburn as the bibulous, kindly village doctor, Guy Kibbee as the skilful storekeeper, John Carradine in an amazing portrayal of Lincoln, Ann Rutherford as the boy's sweetheart.

If ever a star and a story were meant for each other, this is the time. Jane Withers (above) is at her uproarious best in the proudest racing silks on the track in the grand human story of "Checkers." Twentieth Century-Fox picture coming to the Ritz Theatre next Thursday and Friday.

"MAN-PROOF"

Myrna Loy does her darndest to pretend that she's "Man-Proof" in the picture of that name coming to the Ritz next Tuesday and Wednesday, but Franchot Tone and Walter Pidgeon soon disillusion the star of any such idea. Ronald Russell also plays an important part in the proceedings of the new romantic comedy.

Lynn Root and Frank Fenton, and Robert Chapin and Karen De Wolf wrote the screen play for Jane Withers' newest hit, "Checkers." Based on an original story by Lynn Root and Frank Fenton, the Twentieth Century-Fox film opens Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

'Man-Proof' Is 'Hollywood Hotel,' Famous Show Of Airways, Becomes Screen Comedy Of Love Rectangle

In today's mad race of modernity, the marital "triangle" has been pushed into limbo and in its place rises the matrimonial "rectangle" in the fast stepping comedy drama, "Man-Proof," coming to the Ritz Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday.

With Myrna Loy, forming the quartet of principals, are Franchot Tone, Ronald Russell and Walter Pidgeon.

Miss Loy is a young artist disillusioned in love. Miss Russell is a wealthy socialite. Franchot Tone is a newspaper cartoonist and Walter Pidgeon is a social climber. Miss Loy loves Pidgeon, but he marries Miss Russell. Tone loves Miss Loy, but he keeps it to himself. Miss Loy is determined to separate the newlyweds and marry Pidgeon herself. While they are away on their honeymoon, she temporarily forgets Pidgeon and remains "wedded" only to her art. Tone, idolizing Miss Loy, marks time.

The honeymooners return and Miss Loy's waning spark of love for Pidgeon is rekindled. They have lots of fun together at the fights and in night clubs, until the wife finds the husband in Miss Loy's rooms. Yet it is not an "irate wife" scene. They sit down and talk it over, friendly-like. The wife offers a divorce to the husband. He doesn't want to lose his job and declines the divorce, forgetting Miss Loy to return to his wife. Miss Loy realizes her mistake. She and Tone pledge themselves to remain friends—but her mother knows it is love.

Richard Thorpe directed "Man-Proof" and admirable performances are given by the principals and by such supporting players as Rita Johnson, Nana Bryant, Roth Hussey, Leonard Penn and John Miljan.

The most lavish and spectacular musical comedy of the 1938 season, "Hollywood Hotel," a Warner Bros. production starring Dick Powell and featuring a score of so many other songsters and funmakers of dancing, too, directed (as was the whole show) by Busby Berkeley.

It is based upon the famous radio program carrying the same name, which has been beloved by air-listeners during the past three years. But the film has a well-knit story to serve as the dramatic structure.

The film story shows Powell as an obscure crooner who comes to Hollywood looking for a break, and gets involved in no end of unfortunate and humorous complications before he even gets started on his career.

Lock sings half a dozen new hit songs by the clever composing team of Whiting and Mercer, and there is plenty of other music by Benny Goodman and his famous swing band and Raymond Paige's well-known orchestra. There is plenty of other songsters and funmakers of dancing, too, directed (as was the whole show) by Busby Berkeley.

Other notables in the cast include Hugh Herbert, Ted Healy, Greta Farrell, Mabel Todd, Alva Morley, Allyn Joslyn, Edgar Kennedy, Frances Langford and Johnnie "Beat" Davis. The screenplay was by Jerry Wald. Maurice Leo and Richard Maysong by the clever composing team of

EVEN IN WAR, FIGHTING MEN MUST EAT!

Busy as they are with their warfare in North China, Japanese soldiers take time out for lunch on the battlefield. These warriors, perhaps hundreds of them, took part in more extensive fighting that drove the Chinese from nearby Peiping and Nanking.

THE ARM ALSO RISES to London, but you'd scarcely guess it from this picture taken during a recent review for one of the vessels in front, and stored in the compound. The ship may be observed at the left through a blizzard of smoke, while in the background is the busy port of Big Ben, named after the clock on Parliament, in the foreground is the statue of Britannia, renowned Queen of Britain.

HE GOES SLIDING. Richard C. de Font of Wilmington, Del., is shown in his German-made glider as he started for the Elsinore, N. Y., soaring meet in the tow of a plane. En route, he cut loose for a stop at Sarasota, Fla., and made a hazardous landing.

JAPAN'S ANSWER

More of Japan's big guns have moved into action against the Chinese, squelching all hopes that the capture of Shanghai and Nanking might bring an early peace in the Orient.

Celery Feds Win Semi-Finals From St. Paul Cagers

Continued From Page One... At the half, the Basils were leading by a score of 18 to 10 but the localites thinned their defenses in the last half to allow the opponents to score only 7 points.

Three field goals in the last 46 seconds of play gave the Fed's the winning lead, Johnny Morgan, Fed guard, returned to his old form last night to take scoring honors again with a total of 10 points. Red Williams followed with 8 points, Darrell Ferguson whose playing for the local team has been spectacular, was not in his usual form last night and scored only three points. Merchant crack Fed forward, also was held to three points.

The Basils cagers defeated the local in the first round by a score of 25 to 23 and St. Paul's defeated Ocala in the first bracket by a score of 29 to 19. In other games played in the tournament yesterday, Lake City was triumphant over Live Oak 38 to 20 only to lose to Daytona Beach by a 35 to 34 margin. Leeburg won from Palatka in the last game last night by a score of 34 to 19.

Bombs Dropped On German Warship Kill 23

The German "pocket battleship" Deutschland (above) limbed into Gibraltar with 23 of her crew dead, 83 injured after a shower of bombs was rained on the ship off Almeria, Spain. German officials attributed the bombing to Spanish government airplanes. A few hours later a fleet of German warships retaliated by bombarding Almeria with heavy casualties and great damage.

What's The World Coming To?

By ALEXANDER GEORGE

This is the last of five articles in which Alexander George, after talking with the researchers who are charting tomorrow's world, pictures the laboratory and on the drafting boards of 1950.

Health

We have yet to find the fabled fountain of youth, but the average American is becoming healthier and bigger, and is living longer. Despite the fast tempo of life today, the automobile's appalling slaughter and new-fangled diseases, a child born in the United States this year has the prospect of living 12 years more than his parents had at birth.

And on the basis of continued conquest of disease the average child born 25 years hence will live 5 to 10 years longer than one born this year. The 1500 infant had a prospect of living until 49, and the 1938 baby to reach 61. The 1963 baby's life expectancy should be 66; perhaps 71.

Nation Of Graybeards?

This increase, coupled with a declining birth rate, is enlarging the proportion of elderly persons in our population. But don't be afraid that we soon will be a nation of graybeards. The change within the next century will be scarcely perceptible.

Nor is soft living and machine age strain making Americans deteriorate physically. College boys and girls of today are taller and heavier than those of the last generation.

Medical science and hygiene virtually have conquered typhoid fever, diphtheria, malaria and smallpox, scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough and similar diseases of childhood are much less malignant.

Surgical wizards build new blood "pipe lines" to the heart, take off tops of skulls to operate on the brain and perform "miracles" in building new stomachs as well as new faces. Wonder working glandular treatments are still in their infancy and new secrets of vitamin values and the functions of lony cells are still to be revealed.

War On Deadly 'Big Ten'

Medical authorities, now concentrated their attention on the Big Ten of death-dealing diseases that take their toll among the middle aged and elderly predict spectacular gains in 25 years.

The Big Ten, in order of mortality rate, are: Heart diseases, cancer, pneumonia, kidney diseases, cerebral hemorrhage, tuberculosis, malformation and diseases of early infancy, diabetes, influenza and syphilis.

U. S. medicine is marshaling powerful resources for the war on cancer, which takes some 137,000 lives yearly. The federal government, the American College of Surgeons, the American Medical Association, clubwomen and health officials are enlisted in the drive for early diagnosis, intensive research and improved treatment for "the great darkness."

Hearst disease has been increasing but medical science is better able to detect this No. 1-killer and has made effective means of controlling it.

Help For The Poor

All of the Big Ten except cerebral hemorrhage, diabetes and appendicitis strike most often and hardest in the homes of the poor. Consequently the prospect is for more group effort to improve the health of the underprivileged.

Socialized medicine and the regulation over it is increasing.

Meanwhile, our now slightly predominant male population is to become more feminine, the average woman living three years longer than the average man. Reasons: Women are believed to be "tougher" biologically than men (their metabolic processes are slower and they wear out less quickly) and they are more sheltered from occupational hazards.

In 1910 the ratio of males to females in the United States was 106.6 to 100. In 1936—the last census—the ratio was 102.7 males to 100 females. Women probably will outnumber men 25 years from now—unless the immigration bars are let down.

Both Napoleon and Caesar were great administrators as well as great soldiers.

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

The OCKLAWAHA RIVER
MOST CROOKED NAVIGABLE RIVER IN THIS COUNTRY

So crooked is the OCKLAWAHA RIVER that although it is only about 38 miles, as the crow flies, from its junction with the St. Johns to its source in Lake Griffin, it is probably 155 miles as the river runs. The extreme crookedness of the swift, narrow stream, makes it difficult to navigate in a 40 or 50-foot boat. The Ocklawaha, which is famous for its excellent fishing, affords an interior view of a great cypress swamp such as cannot otherwise be obtained in Florida.

The FLORIDA COFFEE-BEANIELL, so often called because of a strig resemblance to the bean of coffee, has a length of only two-thirds of an in. It is unique, pinkish button-like shell with a tinge of brown, marked with six blue spots on the back. Strong ridges encircle.

Sholtz Opens Senate Campaign March 1

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 25.—Dave Sholtz, former governor and immediate past grand exalted ruler of the KKK, will open his campaign for election to the United States Senate at Pensacola, Mar. 1, it was announced at his headquarters here today. Sholtz will spend 10 days campaigning in northwest and west Florida.

In selecting Pensacola for his initial address, Sholtz follows the precedent set in his successful campaign for the governorship of Florida in 1932. His candidacy was enthusiastically inaugurated at that time.

Sholtz will seek the nomination as United States Senator on his record as governor of Florida and will promise continued cooperation for the development and betterment of the state.

DOES IT SAIL TOWARD PEACE OR WAR

DOES IT SAIL TOWARD PEACE OR WAR with this cargo of scrap iron? Will other this metal be destined for use in machinery of peaceful factories or in engines of destruction? It remained a mystery as the S. S. Berlin loaded its cargo in New York harbor. But certain it was that someone had a special interest in it. Among buyers of large quantities of scrap metal, as well as paper and other waste material, have been Japan and Germany.

ROAD TO PEIPING. The rumble of Japanese tanks and armored cars was heard outside Peiping while diplomats of both nations were striving to find a peaceful settlement of their several claims. Japan was concentrating a huge war machine in the battle area from its base at Tientsin.

MISS MAUDE LAKE IS MARRIED TO GEORGE H. JOHNS IN JACKSON, MISS.

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 23.—State College for Women, Tallahassee, Fla., where she was a member of the Chi Omega sorority. For the past few years, she has been residing with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Munroe B. Hutton, in Jackson, where she has been Society Editor for the Jackson Daily News.

Mr. Johns is the son of the late William David Johns and the late Mary Barney Johns, of Gloucester. He is the grandson of the late H. K. Barney, one of the early settlers of the historic town of Liberty, Miss. He attended Southern University at Memphis, Tenn., where he was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. For the past few years, he has been living in Jackson, where he is connected with the William M. T. Sales Agency.

The bride who was presented in marriage by her brother-in-law, Munroe B. Hutton, was attired in a navy blue crepe ensemble, made with an Eton jacket and a crushed fuscia sash. Her accessories were of navy blue and her hat of matching blue and fuscia. She wore a carriage of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Johns is the daughter of Mr. Lake and the late Maude Anne Lake, of Sanford, Fla., and is a granddaughter of the late Col. William R. Anno, of Orlando, Fla., one of the early Florida pioneers. She received her education at Stuart Hall, Sanford, Fla., and later attended Florida

Marguerite Ingley Is Active At College

Miss Marguerite Ingley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ingley, 702 Oak Avenue is taking a prominent part in the activities at Agnes Scott College, in Decatur, Ga., where she is a freshman. It was reported today by the Journalism Club of the College. She was recently made a member of the Spanish Club in its tryouts, and of the Glee Club.

She is also fire captain for her dormitory wing, and the freshman representative on the Lecture Association. This association is responsible for bringing to the campus such noted speakers as Carl Sandburg, Edna St. Vincent Millay, and Stuart Chase.

Miss Ingley also worked as make-up chairman for the Black Cat stunt, an annual contest between the freshmen and sophomores which creates much interest in Decatur and Atlanta.

Court Is Planned By Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts of Troop No. One made plans for their next court of awards at the Little House Friday afternoon.

Roberta Evans, who has passed her cooking test, furnished and served refreshments. The scouts then went to the home of Mrs. H. M. Papworth on Park Avenue where they were presented with several hundred plants.

Crippled Youth Has Many Hobbies

KENDALLVILLE, Ind., Feb. 23.—(AP)—Although Jack Preston, 26, was given up as "dead" seven times and has been crippled 15 years as a result of a stroke and complications, he has become a stamp collector and inventor of living room games.

Construction of model airplanes, Preston says, "has become more play." Some time ago he built 27 planes and sold each for $1.50. His collection of 10,000 stamps has been valued at more than $300. He has invented such games as table basketball, table hockey, table track and table softball.

PEONAGE CHARGES MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 23.—(AP)—

Thomas Johnson, 39, a 35-year-old white farmer who allegedly enslaved a negro family of five for two years, yesterday was indicted on peonage charges.

Control Group Asks Prorate Of 75 Percent

Colery showed an increase over the past week, shipments from California were expected to decline considerably. Leading shippers expressed beliefs that less than half of the estimated supply of 255 cars of the commodity produced in the western area will find its way to eastern markets. According to reports received from California, only an approximate 800 cars of colery remains to be shipped.

Information received from leading carriers, led to a change in carlot shipments from 352 crates to 345 crates after it was found that this was considerably more accurate than the 352 figure that has been used up to this time. Allocations however, are based on the number of crates rather than the cars, and this change will not affect shipping allotments.

J. C. Lettice, secretary of the Committee, in a report of the treasurer, stated that $5,522.19 had been collected in assessments by the Committee and that the amount on hand at the present time was $2,251.47.

In a meeting of growers and shippers following the adjournment of the Control Committee, B. F. Wheeler, Oviedo shipper, was named chairman and B. W. Powell of Sarasota, was named vice-chairman.

J. C. Hutchison presided over the Sanford meeting and Loring Raehl of Sarasota presided over the meeting of members in the Sarasota-Manatee section. Telephone communications were maintained between the two groups.

3 Persons Seized In Plot To Sell Military Secrets

Porting to be secret agents of a foreign government is return for information concerning the coast artillery and other fortifications and the mobilization of forces in connection with the defense of the Panama Canal.

Hoover quoted Rumrich as saying the military secrets were sometimes written in code and turned over to Miss Hoffman and other individuals employed on various ships, which called at New York.

On other occasions, Hoover said, Rumrich would send information by code to various addresses in the foreign country. Hoover said a further investigation disclosed that "certain secret agents" were plotting to lure the commanding officer of an important New York military base to a midtown hotel under forged orders at which time the

Woman Blacksmith Enjoys Distinction

BALTIMORE, Feb. 23.—Socially eminent Mrs. Savannah Bartlett enjoys being a blacksmith at 65 as much as she used to enjoy riding to hounds.

She, the horsehooves the form and Gertrude Belle forms wouldn't (D) A. She had a pony. They're miniature and make excellent decorations for ash trays. Mrs. B. also produces wrought iron or brass antique reproductions, or knockers, foot resters, and pens and book ends. The demand has increased so that she had to employ two assistants, but she is outgrowing her cellar workshop.

Mrs. Bartlett is a sister-in-law of the late Major Archie Butt. Her husband, Edward H. Butt, a colonel in the army, died in 1922. When she was depressed after the war, she turned to smithing.

"What was I to do?" she asked, as she patted a big saw with a work-battered hand. "I refused to be supported by my daughter and I couldn't find a job."

"I just love this creative work. It's almost as much fun as for-

Major Battle Develops In Chinese War

Handred Thousand Chinese Troops Engaged In Attempt To Halt Japanese War Machine Bugged Down

Bank Movement Begun Because Of Resistance Found

SHANGHAI, Feb. 23.—(AP)—A major battle developed today at Linghinh in central provinces where 100,000 Chinese troops were struggling to halt a sweeping Japanese offensive along the extreme western flank of the Central China war zone.

The Japanese, stilled in their Central China campaign by a Chinese resistance along the Yangtze River, shifted their attack to the west in a flank maneuver, declared to affect Japanese positions near the head of the Yellow River. Chinese military dispatches said that the Chinese in the Linghinh battle probably would suffer the loss of southern Shansi province.

They claimed to have struck China's air force a paralyzing blow in a great air battle over the Yangtze delta, "neutralizing" the Chinese aviation in central provinces.

The Chinese navy, it was said, is being bugged down by the Japanese navy. It is reported that the Japanese navy command destroyed eight of the Japanese planes mentioned in the report.

Charles Edison Tells Congress Defense Needs

Assistant Secretary Of Navy Says U. S. Should Have Parity

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Charles Edison, assistant secretary of the navy, told congress today that the future peace of the United States depended directly on the maintenance of a defensive force "sufficiently strong and expertly trained that other nations will not risk war with us."

Edison, before the House Naval Committee on behalf of the $1,184,000,000 naval expansion program, said he was "thoroughly and sincerely" in favor of it. In the face of current international political conditions, he asserted, "it is certain that our naval needs are for parity in strength with other naval powers."

Meanwhile the President was questioned concerning reports of a German Army and Navy tests to determine the vulnerability of battleships from the air. He said his recent recommendation for a 35 percent increase in the size of the fleet was the best answer.

Edison said 50 of their own planes overwhelmed a fleet of 10 "Russian and American" manufactured Chinese combat planes that rose to battle them. Chinese said they counted 33 Japanese raiders.

Control Group Asks Prorate Of 75 Percent

Committee Requests Surplus Commodities Corporation To Buy 65 Carloads

A prorate for the coming week of 75 percent of the available supply of Florida celery was for the third consecutive week, recommended in the Secretary of Agriculture by members of the Celery Control Committee at its weekly meeting last night.

The RCC agreed to purchase 60 cars of celery during the current week, but because the program was launched late only an estimated 30 cars can be purchased. In view of this fact Committee members believed that the RCC may purchase five cars more than had been allocated for purchase during the coming week.

Committee members were optimistic over the effect of the reduction in the average daily truck holding which was reported as only 100 for the current week as compared with over 200 for the prior week. Improvement in the demand for Florida celery was also seen and a slight increase in the net returns to the growers was noted.

Reports at the meeting indicated that there are 800 acres of Florida celery available for shipment; quality was reported as the best in several years and yields in some sections were estimated as high as 600 cwt. per acre.

Although the supply of Florida celery is abundant, it is reported that the quality is the best in several years and yields in some sections were estimated as high as 600 cwt. per acre.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Vicious dogs in the City of Sanford, Florida, have become a menace to the public safety of the people of the City of Sanford, Florida, and in the judgment of the undersigned Mayor of the City of Sanford, Florida, public safety requires that all dogs shall, for a reasonable time, be securely muzzled when outside the private premises of their owner or keeper.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Edward Higgins, as Mayor of the City of Sanford, Florida, pursuant to Sections 290 and 291 of the Revised Ordinances of the City of Sanford, Florida, do hereby order and proclaim that for a period of thirty days from the date hereof, all dogs in the City of Sanford, Florida, shall be securely muzzled when outside the private premises of their owners or keepers, and any dog found at large during the prescribed period aforesaid, without being securely muzzled, may be killed by any police officer or by any other person authorized by me so to do.

DONE and ORDERED in Sanford, Florida, this 23th day of February, 1935.

EDWARD HIGGINS
As Mayor of the City of Sanford, Florida.

Florida Is Bright Spot Of Country, Says Frank Evans

Business Conditions In North Said To Be Jittery And Spotty

Business conditions in the North are unusually "jittery" just at this time, said Frank Evans, chemical and dye manufacturer of Boston, Mass., who is maintaining a residence in Lake Wales, Fla., "where it is just what I go what is going to happen next," he said.

When asked what was the cause of this condition, he said that everyone is scared to death, scared about business conditions, scared about what the government is going to do, and scared by the danger of war abroad.

Business in some lines is good, Mr. Evans said, and in some it is bad, but they are all scared. Prices should be going up, he said, and everyone expected them to go up, but instead they are dropping. The bottom has dropped out of the chemical business, he added.

Brightest spot in the nation, said Mr. Evans in Florida, unless it is Washington, D. C., which he said is having a real boom. "Things everywhere in the South look better than they do in New England," he said.

Flames Destroy J. C. Hall Home On Celery Avenue

Destruction Of Two Story Residence Caused By Sparks

Fire, fanned by a brisk wind, completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hall on West Celery Avenue last night. The fire started in the kitchen and spread to the main house and outbuildings of the property.

Brown Shirts Angered By Schuschnigg

Fatherland Front Admits That Critical Situation Exists Hitlerites Silent

VIENNA, Feb. 23.—(AP)—Austrian Nazis, seething with dissatisfaction, declared last night they planned a fight to the finish against Chancellor Schuschnigg and his determined stand for a free and independent Austria.

Fatherland front members of Austria's only legal party, pleaded as they were by the chancellor's defiance of Nazi hopes in the German and Austria, admitted the situation was critical.

The forthright speech of Schuschnigg to parliament Thursday led to wide conjecture that somebody or something had given him the assurance to speak so boldly of independence and freedom in the face of German support of Austria's Nazis.

One widely believed report said Schuschnigg had talked to Italian Premier Mussolini by telephone before the speech and was told to speak right out.

It was also said Hitler had distated to Mussolini that the Anglo-Italian friendship negotiations might proceed more smoothly if Mussolini kept a friendly eye on Austria's independence.

Although Italy and Germany are linked in the Rome-Berlin axis, Mussolini has been considered generally to have a closer tie to the great powers of the world than Hitler.

3 Persons Seized In Plot To Sell Military Secrets

Celery Feds Win Semi-Finals From St. Paul Cagers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said today that three persons had been arrested in New York in an alleged plot to sell United States Army and Navy secrets.

He said the persons in custody are Johannes Hoffman of Dresden, Germany, a hair dresser on the Irish Atlantic Line steamer; Graham Gustave Rumpel, a former United States army sergeant and already an army deserter; and Erich Oberst, a soldier stationed at Maxwell Field.

Hoover said Rumpel confessed that he had obtained various sums of money from persons for the purpose of selling military secrets.
