Gaston Will Run Against Sen. Holland

Politically Unknown IRB Inspector Announces After Pepper Declines To Run

TALLAHASSEE (U. S. En)—Senator L. Holland today got a surprise opponent for Democratic re-election in William A. Gaston, a politically unknown Internal Revenue Bureau inspector.

Both the senator and the 33-year-old Jacksonville civil service expert filed the qualification campaign with Secretary of State H. A. Gray.

Holland had been left without any reported opposition for re-election when former Sen. Claude Pepper announced Saturday that he would not seek a public office this year.

Holland, former governor, has served in the Senate since 1945, and is seeking his second full six-year term.

Gaston said in a letter to the secretary of state that he is resigning from his Internal Revenue Bureau job Feb. 1 to conduct a campaign "on lower taxes, lower cost of living and a sounder economy."

He said he is "a farmer by trade, but a self-labeled efficiency expert, as connected with my employment with the Treasury Department, Inspector, Bureau of Internal Revenue." He is a native of Suwannee County and a veteran of six years in the Marine Corps.

He named himself as his campaign treasurer and the Florida National Bank of Jacksonville as his depository.

The major candidates for governor, in their weekly financial reports, continued to show substantial expenditures. But the least well known again reported no income and no gain.

Alto Adams said he spent $800.33, mostly for office rent, preparing campaign literature and travel. He listed deposits totaling $200, including $500 from W. Wallace Carl Dennis of Panama City and Paul Foster of West Palm Beach, and several smaller contributions.

Dan McCarthy reported he spent $1,000 for his campaign. He listed $1,000 in deposits from W. C. Brannon and J. R. Moody Jr. of Panama City; $200 each from William E. Arnold Jr. of Jacksonville, and Nelson Mason of Tampa; and $100 each from C. C. Brown of Stockton, W. J. Troup Jr., and F. G. Murphy of Miami; John H. Eden Jr. of Inverness, Joseph Clocy of Fort Pierce, Finley P. Smith of...

Armed Forces Blood Clinic

The blood donation program for the Armed Forces held Thursday at the Episcopal Parish House, was an outstanding success with 104 pints of blood donated and 111 persons volunteered their services. The Red Cross committee, headed by A. B. Peterson, Jr., had charge of the program. In the foreground, left, receiving a blood pressure test, preparatory to making a blood donation, is Eugene Stewart, 1401 E. 11th Avenue, member of the Sanford Post of the American Legion. He was wounded in fighting in Germany in World War II. Behind him and to the right, Dr. J. J. Rogers.

Thousands Moved To Higher Ground By Ohio Floods

Three Persons Drown As Heavy Rainfall Overflows Streams

MARIETTA, O. (AP)—Flood waters of the muddy Ohio River, which overflowed lowlands today, displaced about 7,000 persons from their Ohio and West Virginia homes.

The Ohio chalked up three deaths and untold property damage in the first 36 hours of its rapid rise.

The crest of the sudden flood, which struck at the turn of the big head of the Ohio at East Liverpool, O., Saturday, looked for a crest of 12 feet by noon and the river rose one foot an hour just ahead of time.

Chain Of Missions

The Rev. A. Russell Stevenson, left, will speak here at First Presbyterian Church, at 8:30 Tuesday on the subject of "Storm Signal Over Egypt," as part of the program of the Florida Chain of Missions, through the area of his administrative responsibility, including Algeria, Tunisia, Egypt, Ceylon, India, Pakistan, Iran, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Lebanon and Turkey. Mrs. Woodford Kellersberger Voss, right, a missionary to the Belgian Congo, who will be a featured speaker at 7:30 Tuesday at the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Voss has been an active worker in the Congo only one year, but she is the second generation missionary, the first in the Southern Presbyterian Church to return to that field.

New Premier Of Egypt Gets Help Of Four Parties

Wild Rioting Is Expected To Be Controlled By Nahas

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Chamber of Deputies tonight approved a bill in all Egypt for a period of two months.

CAIRO (U. S. En)—Egypt's new "strong man" premier, given the helm of government by King Fouad in the wake of a military coup, announced tonight he had won the support of four political parties, including the powerful Wafd.

The Wafdist government headed by Mustafa Nahas Pasha was set to begin tonight.

Florida Jaycees Support Study Of Turnpike Project

LAKELAND (U. S. En)—The Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce today rejected 100 per cent approval of the turnpike project of further study of the project.

A resolution offered by Miami delegates urging all-out support of the idea and a program for winning public approval was defeated at the Jaycees' quarterly conference.

Opposition to the resolution came from State Rep. Volin A. Williams Jr., Sanford, chairman of the public affairs committee.

"It is obvious that the governor and his Road Department chairman made their decision to promote the toll road in advance of any supporting data," Williams said. "They are now seeking justification of the project."

He reported his committee figured the road would cost at least $100 million dollars a year and $10 million dollars a year and suggested, instead, the state spend $5 million dollars to make U. S. 1 a four-lane highway.

J. R. Pettigrew, Jacksonville, chairman of the Jaycees' good roads committee, said, "It is unfortunate that the subject was originally presented against a political backdrop. He called for further study of the idea."

Jaycees named Col. H. N. Kirkman, director of the Florida Highway Patrol, to receive their annual Good Government Award.

An offer from Florida Southern College of a four-year scholarship to winners of the junior chamber's Voice of Democracy contest was accepted.

Fruit Stand Dealer Held For Passing Worthless Check

NATHANIEL MAYES, co-operator of a new open-air market on Highway 17-92 was arrested this morning at about 11:30 o'clock by Deputy Sheriff Howard Hood and Oscar Decker, on a warrant issued by Police Chief Walter L. McNulty of Wakefield, R. I., charging Mayes with passing a worthless check for $2,200 to obtain produce from a farmer in Rhode Island.

Mayes was placed in County Jail, pending further developments in the case. At 7:14 o'clock last night, Police Chief Roy G. Williams received a telephone call long distance, informing him that Rhode Island state police had a warrant for Mayes' arrest on a charge of passing the check. The warrant was received in the mail this morning, and turned over by Chief Williams to Sheriff P. A. Mero for action.

The fruit stand was started by Mayes and Edison Simmons soon after Christmas.

Cold Wave Moving In On Florida As Rain Is Predicted

TALLAHASSEE (U. S. En)—Several houses suffered minor damage, two barns were blown over and trees were felled when a small cyclone struck the area today. No injuries were reported. The wind was accompanied by heavy rain.

MIAMI (U. S. En)—A cold front, troubled by strong winds and thunderstorms, moved over Florida today.

Rains of an inch or more fell during the night in Pensacola, Lake and Greenville, S. C., while at New Orleans and Mobile and downtown were around 3 inches.

Small craft warnings were issued south of Cape Hatteras, N. C., in Melbourne, Fla., on the Atlantic Coast, and from St. Marks to Fort Myers on the Florida West Coast.

Forecasters in the Miami Weather Bureau said the coldfront in its passage over Florida today and tonight will be attended by thunder squalls and northwest winds of 20 to 25 miles an hour.

"Most of the state will get wind and rain," said the Weather Bureau. "There will be less frontal effect in the southern portion of the peninsula, but that section, including Miami, has a good chance for showers."

GRASS FIRE

Fire Chief M. N. Cleveland reported two grass fires which caused no damage this morning. One fire, occurring at 11:04 a. m., was extinguished by firemen in back of the United Lumber Company on French Avenue and Eighth Street. The other grass fire was put out at 1:01 a. m. Second Street at noon today.

MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

Dazed, and unable to recall what had happened to him after a fall from a motorcycle on which he was a passenger, Harry Leslie Crawford, Orlando youth, was taken by Patrolman R. D. Harrelson to Fernhill-Laughton Memorial hospital at 1:00 o'clock this morning.

An unidentified motorist reported seeing Crawford lying unconscious by the side of the Orlando Highway a short distance south of Sanford. The youth, at his own request, was released this afternoon from the hospital, who has not been identified, evidently continued on his way toward Jacksonville, minus his passenger, said Harrelson.

ROFARY LUNCHEON

The Rotary Club did not hold its usual luncheon today as a result of the inter-club luncheon which will be held Thursday at the First Methodist Church on the Chain of Missions program. At that time Rev. John Shorn of Toronto, Canada, will be the main speaker.

DiSalle Urges Price Controls To Protect U.S. From Inflation

County Board To Taft Opposed Meet With City To Compulsory Over French Ave. FEPC Measure

Merchants' Association Requests Presidential Candidate Will Speak In Orlando Tonight

The County Commission meeting in special session Saturday morning, decided to meet again next Saturday at 9:00 o'clock with the City Commission in order to discuss plans and to pass a series of actions on French Avenue project.

Action came after an hour of debate and the appearance of the Merchants' Association's president M. L. Holburn, who made a plea in behalf of his organization for the Commissioners to cooperate with the City in order that the right-of-way on French Avenue may be protected before the 30-day expiration period is up for State and Federal aid.

Senator Lloyd Bayle spoke up against the project, warning the County Commissioners that if the City and County fail to agree to some concrete action before the State Highway representatives convene to investigate the project, the State will probably not include it in next year's budget and will build a four-lane highway west of Sanford to Orlando.

Commissioner L. E. McClelland, Sr., stated that when the Senate county delegation went to Tallahassee last week, the State Highway officials said they would not drop the project from the budget.

Mr. McClelland said that Alfred McKethan, State Highway Commission chairman, and Rex Swaby, Orlando, might be contacted by the project into the progress of the French Avenue project prior to the time the State budget is drawn up.

Commissioner McClelland added, "The State seems to favor a two-lane highway with an 8-foot right-of-way. If the County Board is to be pushed through without providing an elaborate investigation at the junction of Route 17-92 and South French Avenue, this, he pointed out, would necessitate an expensive acquisition of commercial property. He also made an elaborate statement which would be an emergency fund for 1952 is expended into a four-lane highway from Sanford to Orlando. The City, some time ago, agreed with the State Road Department to furnish right-of-way for the 400-foot French Avenue widening project, but did not ask assistance from the County Commission."

Thousand Moved To Higher Ground By Ohio Floods

MARIETTA, O. (AP)—Thousands of persons in Ohio and West Virginia moved to higher ground today as floods caused by heavy rainfall sent the Ohio River and other streams out of their banks. At least three persons were dead or missing.

The high water also hit portions of Western Pennsylvania and Northern Kentucky.

The turbulent Ohio struck hardest at Wheeling Island, a section of the City of Wheeling, W. Va., lying midway between the banks of the river. Partial evacuation of the island's 10,000 population was underway.

Most of the island's streets were impassable early today and if the river continues to rise as expected the entire island will be covered by water.

At Powhatan Point, O., some 15 miles south of Wheeling, the lowland Chief Powhatan broke its moorings on the Ohio side, hit a pier at a railway bridge and sank. No one was aboard. The Powhatan Mining Co., which owned the boat, estimated the loss at $50,000.

The mass evacuation of Ohio River residents is only the beginning if the river's rise continues. It was expected to hit 12 feet above flood stage in at least a dozen Ohio and West Virginia communities. Many of them were isolated.

Terminal Group To Meet Commission On Proposed Lease

Mayor William Steiner today appointed a commission to study the proposed terminal group in the city.

The commission may be able to work out an agreement for an option lease on the ground for the project at the commission meeting tonight.

Mayor Steiner said, "I would like to see them (the independent terminal group) accomplish what they are trying to do. He said he would like to see them get together and work out some reasonable solution that will be to the benefit of all concerned."

Alfred Fitts, stated that he would head a delegation of the terminal group in making its request for an option on a lease for a 10-acre plot of ground now owned in the Mill Creek section west of the City along the lake.

Commissioner McClelland, who was appointed to head the independent terminal group in obtaining critical building materials. Senator George Southard, also, promised to help earlier in the month, Mr. Fitts stated.

The terminal group's proposals to the City were mailed out earlier this month to the five City Commissioners for their approval prior to this evening's City Commission meeting. The precise contents of the requests have not yet been released but will be aired this evening.

County Commissioner H. B. Pope, a member of the group, pointed out today that if the City grants an option on the lakefront property to the terminal group, it will be necessary for them either to secure a right-of-way on Seminole Boulevard, or if a channel is cut through the highway, to reach an agreement to build a drawbridge over the channel.

If the State Road Department fails to grant the right-of-way on the boulevard, a link in Highway 17-92, the terminal group may find it necessary to dredge a channel up Mills Creek to a point south of the highway where a turning adjacent to which the dock and basin would be dredged and a terminal warehouse would be built, he declared.

Should this plan be carried out, would necessitate the building of a drawbridge over the highway in order to permit the passage of barges from Lake Monroe to the turning basin, said Mr. Pope.

Odham Plans Six Speeches During Next Few Days

Gubernatorial candidate J. Bradley Odham has stepped up the tempo of his campaign by announcing six speaking engagements in the next few days, some of which will be in the State.

Mr. Odham will appear at three separate meetings in the Tampa Bay region. Mr. Odham will address the Holmes City Kiwanis Club at noon tomorrow. At 8:00 p. m. he will go to the State Constitutional revision committee's meeting in Tampa and then speak in Gulfport, a suburb of St. Petersburg, that night.

Wednesday's agenda will find Mr. Odham appearing before the Orlando Civitan club at noon. On Thursday he will address the Seminole County Teachers Association at 8:00 p. m.

Current polls show Mr. Odham running strongest in the Seminole and Orange counties area. According to Miami Herald writer John Kilgore, Sanford's gubernatorial aspirant is strongest in the "Grass Roots" section of the state.

SEGREGATION HIT

WASHINGTON (U. S. En)—The Supreme Court today set aside, at least temporarily, a lower court decision upholding segregation of white and Negro school children in South Carolina.

By a 7-2 vote the Court vacated the decision on grounds the special court had not determined finally all the issues.

WASHINGTON (U. S. En)—The Supreme Court today refused to review three appeals involving Judith Coplon, former government girl accused of plotting to spy for Russia.

OPS Director Says Farmers Must Be Provided Against Higher Crop Costs

WASHINGTON (U. S. En)—Price Director Michael V. DiSalle told Congress today price curbs must be tightened to protect the nation against runaway inflation.

But at the same time he announced he is setting up a top-level committee to hunt for places where inflation may be possible.

The key thing, DiSalle said, is control of the costs of farmers.

"Unless we are successful in 'controlling farmers' costs," he said, "food prices could easily rise significantly during the next year and food prices are key items in maintaining the well being and morale of our workers."

DiSalle, director of the Office of Price Stabilization, testified before a Senate House Committee including President Truman's economic report.

He stressed three points:

(1) "Very large price increases for fresh vegetables 'have helped much the cost of food in all time high."

(2) "Large falling prices, he said, 'have occurred in prices of some foods on which we have so far been legally unable to put ceilings.'"

(3) "Farmers' costs have been going up steadily, particularly for feed grains and labor."

"Wages will go up unless food prices are held in check," DiSalle pointed out. "Some three million workers have their wages formally tied to the consumers' price index."

(4) "There is much pressure for increased production," he said, "but it is not being met properly. The risk of any major increase in food prices is strongly indicated."

Herald for November (From Kalendar)

Now come with me into this catamb.

This cave which is November, stark and bare, Where silence hangs, bat-like, and wolf winds roam About the white bones of the fallen year. Come, let us take this skull between our hands Unflinchingly, though pity tears the heart: Though flesh protests, the spirit understands And thrills to its unconquerable part. Strange ghosts are present in this darkened place, The broken fragments which shall be reborn: This cavern in its purpose and its grace Surpasses those green valleys we have known. The soul has need of skeleton and cave That it may see the stars beyond the gray.

VIRGINIA MORAN EVANS.

The tie that binds makes the wearer restless.

Felicitations to Douglas MacArthur who celebrated his 72nd birthday Saturday quietly in his hotel suite. Vigorous as he is for that age, we doubt if he has any political aspirations.

A trained nurse and a University of Miami student have been arrested for manslaughter after leaving their two-day-old baby on a hospital doorstep where it died before it was found. They could not afford to support the baby, they said. Somehow, somewhere along the line their training had been neglected.

When speaking of veterans' benefits it is important to remember that one-third of the nation's total population now consists of veterans, and the proportion is growing every day. It is expected to reach 40 percent by 1955 and if it keeps on growing, it won't be long before veterans will be paying benefits to each other.

Remember Charles W. Nash, the automobile manufacturer who died in 1948. His estate of $43,634,000 was settled the other day and it was revealed that the government's cut of it was $23,600,000. Besides, state inheritance taxes took another $5,952,000. Let's hope the government will dispose of its part of it as well as Nash would have if he could have used it as he wished.

The director of the University of Iowa school of journalism asks a class of Florida newsmen at Florida State University, "If today we had no constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press, could we get public support to obtain it?" That's a good question. He answers his own question, in a way, by pointing out the growing tendency of government officials to make decisions in secret meetings and issue statements later which may or may not be true.

George Smathers writes one of his constituents, a minister, explaining his stand on universal military training. "We are fighting to maintain our individual liberties," he said. "Universal military training will give us security at a price we can afford to pay. World Communism threatens to destroy religion and the right of every man to worship God as he chooses. Our choice, the nation's choice is between universal military training and bankruptcy, between traditional American freedom and totalitarian slavery."

Budget Reduction

Members of Congress always start talking about reduction of the President's budget as soon as it has been presented. That doesn't mean much. There may be some basis for optimism, however, in the fact that a good many members have been saying that there will be no "sacred cows" in this budget, no classes of proposed expenditure which will be regarded as immune from cutting. If that attitude should really prevail in Congress, every budget item might be approached with the idea that it could be reduced. That kind of talk has been heard before, too, and it will remain for events to prove whether it is really meant this time.

There are in general three kinds of budget items which Congress in the past has been inclined to regard as sacred. One is fixed charges, such things as interest on the national debt and pensions the government is committed to pay. These charges really cannot be reduced by simple action of Congress, but they constitute a small part of the new budget. A second kind is the administrative proposal which is presumed to command much public sentiment, such as defense and "security" projects in the present situation. The third is the "pork barrel," out of which each senator and representative is entitled under long-standing practice to allot funds to some pet project in his district, as a reminder to his constituents that he is looking after their immediate interests. The latter two kinds of "irreducible" expenditure can be cut without injury to the national interest, and substantially, if Congress really wants to do it.

The ordinary expenses of government, always under attack in Congress, also can be reduced, if Congress wishes. But the attitude toward "sacred cows" will be the factor which determines whether the President's record peacetime budget will be accepted about as it is or reduced materially.

Paternal Concerns

King Farouk of Egypt, unlike most new fathers, apparently doesn't have to worry about what his baby son will do when he grows up. The youngster has his job all set and waiting, and it is a rather good one. The job will be waiting, that is, if the affairs of Egypt, and the world do not change too radically before the time arrives for him to assume the throne. In that case he might be just another pretender to a nonexistent crown, and there are few figures more at loose ends than an unemployed king. So few opportunities are open in that field these days.

Even as guns barked out a royal salute to the new prince of Egypt, the firing of other guns boded ill to the future of the new prince and his people. A critical argument over British occupation of the Suez Canal Zone, at a time when the world is threatened by a menace to all existing institutions, has resulted in bloodshed. If the trouble in Egypt weakens the efforts of the powers allied against Communism to the extent that the Communists can continue to spread their dangerous doctrines, the throne of Egypt will suffer with other institutions. Kings do not fare too well with the Communists. The fate of the Russian Czar and the other monarchs who fell when the Reds came to power attests to that.

It might be better if Farouk should worry a bit about what his son is going to do when he grows up.

At Peril Of Life

Life is comparatively calm and physically secure in the well-ordered United States, and the riskiest thing the average person does is to walk across a busy street. It's hard to realize that conditions are vastly different in some other places.

Not long ago an American missionary, who had been working deep in the jungle country of western Brazil, was found dead with an Indian arrow in his back. There are still areas of the world where danger and adventure lurk beyond each turn of a trail. There are still countless men and women who go into those areas, to do a job they believe must be done, heedless of the peril to their own lives.

Sanford Forum

Holland L. Dean, Editor, Sanford Herald, Sanford, Florida, Dear Mr. Dean:

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the citizens of Sanford and Seminole County for the splendid co-operation and participation in the donation of blood to our servicemen.

There is no possible way for me to thank each individual for the gracious display of community effort which made this first drive for blood for defense such a tremendous success. I think perhaps the best way to express the sentiment that I feel is by quoting a comment I heard Thursday at the blood donor center at the Episcopal Parish House.

One worker, after surveying the room filled with donors and buzzing with the activity of the many volunteer helpers, commented, "This certainly proves beyond any doubt that the people of Seminole County can be relied on to rise to any worthy call for aid."

Sincerely yours,

Serious About Dieting?

By W. V. Hitting Touchton Drug Co.

Why do we fall in our attempts at dieting? Could it be that we don't give it the serious consideration we would any other important problem? If you are serious about dieting the very first step is to see your doctor. His check of your health and the diet he prescribes will maintain good health. With the food chart he furnishes a careful planning of meals for the first few weeks will help eliminate some of the "temptations".

Should your doctor suggest supplementing the diet with medicine or vitamins, rely on a conscientious pharmacist to supply them.

Roads, Not Fences

How can we get a better State Road Department?

This question has been popping up with increasing frequency in political speeches and in editorial pages. It is pertinent to ask it now because Florida voters soon will elect the men who must supply the answer—the Governor and members of the legislature.

Criticism of the road department chiefly is aimed at:

1. Its political control by the Governor.
2. Its independence of the legislature.
3. Its manner of spending.

There is always some grumbling about the road department under every administration. The grumblers have been multiplied recently by the road department's controversial proposal to build the Jacksonville-Miami toll turnpike and the seemingly disproportionate slices of the road fund pie it has handed out to some counties. Election year politics plays its part, too.

But, allowing for politics and sectionalism, we believe that is a growing public dissatisfaction with the way the Florida road-building system works.

Florida's 7-cent gasoline tax puts it among the nine highest states. Road department revenue from taxes and federal aid is running more than $60,000,000 a year, exclusive of the millions from special toll road projects.

With that kind of money, many citizens feel Florida ought to have more and better roads. There is a feeling—supported by considerable evidence—that too much money goes into political maneuvering and that a more judicious use of the money would result in a better road department.

The budget sets up expenditures totaling nearly $187,000,000. But all its spendable assets add up to only $123,000,000. The deficit is the Road Chairman McKelhan's problem as a matter of "flexibility." He said the road board budgeted more jobs than it could do so that if one project was stopped by right-of-way troubles, shortage of materials or some other cause there would be plenty of other places to put the money.

It is understandable that the road board would need some leeway. But a budget that is 33 per cent rubber appears to have an awful lot of "flexibility." The suspicion remains that, in this election year, the budget has been inflated for political purposes—either to fulfill promises or hold out bait.

There are other things about road department spending that have aroused distrust. Such things as the way it handed out fat contracts for machinery rentals without competitive bids (until stopped by court order); its spending of $300,000 for plans for a Fort Lauderdale tunnel which may not even be built; its swelling payroll; its fleet of expensive cars.

These faults are primarily faults of the system rather than of the men. We don't know that the Warren road department has been any better or any worse than those which preceded it. But it has had far more money to spend and its extravagances are therefore more noticeable.

Chairman McKelhan himself recognizes the weakness of the present system.

He proposed a few days ago that the road board have nine members instead of five and that their terms be staggered so no one Governor could appoint a majority. The larger board would then name a commissioner to boss the road program.

Alto Adams, former supreme court justice who is running for Governor, has a different idea of how to keep the road fund out of the Governor's hands. He would abolish the board and put the road department under the state cabinet.

The State Democratic Executive Committee came up with still another plan when it voted recently to reorganize the board into the primaries, so voters could tell the Governor whom to appoint.

We think, without question, the first step necessary to get more roads for our money is to take the road board off the Governor's leash. We don't know what specific plan is best. There is some merit in Adams' proposal; more, we think, in McKelhan's. There is none whatever in the Democratic primary plan.

The second step necessary is to put a check on the road department's financial independence. It now is accountable to no one but the Governor; its income is fixed; it can spend about as it chooses. Until last year, it even audited its own books—a wide open invitation to waste and thievery. Certainly, there should be some outside review of the road budget, by either the cabinet or the legislature.

Proposals to change the road department setup haven't gotten very far in the past, for the very good reason that few legislative bodies can match the influence of $60,000,000 in road money.

But next year Florida will have a new Governor and a new legislature. We hope it will also acquire a new and better road-building system.

Senator Taft

by saying equally in industrial employment may be obtained "by presidential interest." He said he didn't want any federal board determining when there was discrimination in employment.

Taft predicted the Republicans would carry at least five Southern states — the same ones Herbert Hoover carried in 1928: Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Texas.

"I don't say they couldn't carry other Southern states," he added.

The Republican presidential campaign kicked up by presidential Taft, his eye obviously on Florida's ten national convention votes, planned three talks — at Tampa, St. Petersburg, and Orlando — in one day.

Senator Taft, making his third bid for the Republican presidential nomination, will speak at Orlando Municipal Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. The speech will be broadcast by two local radio stations. Taft, attempting to follow in the footsteps of his father, William Howard Taft, 27th president of the U. S., will arrive in Orlando by private plane from St. Petersburg at 5:45 p. m.

Eisenhower qualified for the New Hampshire March primary Sunday simply by not notifying officials to withdraw his name.

Under New Hampshire law, a person whose name has been filed has 10 days in which to withdraw it. The general was notified Jan. 17 he was entered in the primary. However, entry of Eisenhower's name in the Minnesota primary.

Drive Is Planned To Line Up South For Sen. Russell

MIAMI (AP) — Senator Estes Kefauver D-Tenn. has signed his entry blank for Florida's presidential primary, a central primary on May 1, the Miami Daily News said today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A move to line up Democratic National Convention delegates in the South for Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) will start shortly, a Congress member said today.

The congressman, who asked that he not be quoted by name, said delegates would be used for bargaining purposes, since Russell is not a candidate for president.

"The South feels that the coming convention will offer a bit opportunity to get what it wants in regards to civil rights and other measures," he said.

"If we line up enough delegates behind Sen. Russell, we will be in a position to do a lot of talking and trading."

One Southerner, Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.), said he had heard that such a drive was to be made for Russell. Smathers added that it "is too early to say whom I will support," but he said some Southern congressmen thought "something had to be done."

The South barely missed knocking the controversial civil rights enough the dangers of premature decontrol."

The D. S. S. plans to appoint a 15-member D. S. S. committee to keep a close check on the price situation and study the possibilities of decontrol.
He noted that he will leave his post as D. S. S. director some time later in February to run for the U. S. Senate in Ohio.
He told the committee "my successor will have no easy time," but added that he has "every confidence that my successor, whoever he may be, will be able to keep prices reasonably stable."
As examples of the sharp rise in vegetable prices, D. S. S. pointed to wholesale cabbage prices now at 299 per cent of those of last January and onions at 262 per cent.
He also mentioned noticeable increases for lettuce, carrots, celery, green beans and potatoes.
"As high as these prices are," D. S. S. said, "we are far from certain that they will not go higher where prices are below the minimum ceilings we can set."
As to wages, D. S. S. observed that union leaders have often said they prefer stable prices to inflated wages but that rising food costs have in recent months led directly to rising wages.

the matter until very recently, and Mr. Pope.
He pointed out that the County Commission has no information on file as to what deed for the right-of-way has been secured, or as to what additional property is required. "Nor do we have an up-to-date right-of-way map," he added.
"I feel that very close cooperation is needed between these two committees in order to bring the project to a successful conclusion," he declared.

The problem of financing the purchase of the right-of-way was then brought up. Senator Hoye stated this could be done by having the County extend the City the money necessary to complete the project immediately on a loan basis.
"The City receives $100,000 every year from the State for road improvements," he continued, "why not have the County pay the needed money now for the completion of the project with the City repaying it in a rate of $10,000 a year until it has been repaid."
He added, "Of course it is none of my business how you pay it, but I believe this project, if I have fought so long for it, that I don't want to see Sanford lose State and Federal aid in widening French Avenue."
Commissioner W. G. Killeen closed this matter, but he believed the right-of-way on French Avenue for $25,000 would then offer the City $50,000 to buy the right-of-way on French Avenue. He pointed out that this same plan worked on Daytona Beach.
Commissioner McCallum disagreed with Mr. Killeen on his $25,000 estimate to gain the French Avenue right-of-way. "It is going to cost almost that much to move the homes down there," he explained.

the matter until very recently, and Mr. Pope.
He pointed out that the County Commission has no information on file as to what deed for the right-of-way has been secured, or as to what additional property is required. "Nor do we have an up-to-date right-of-way map," he added.
"I feel that very close cooperation is needed between these two committees in order to bring the project to a successful conclusion," he declared.

The problem of financing the purchase of the right-of-way was then brought up. Senator Hoye stated this could be done by having the County extend the City the money necessary to complete the project immediately on a loan basis.
"The City receives $100,000 every year from the State for road improvements," he continued, "why not have the County pay the needed money now for the completion of the project with the City repaying it in a rate of $10,000 a year until it has been repaid."
He added, "Of course it is none of my business how you pay it, but I believe this project, if I have fought so long for it, that I don't want to see Sanford lose State and Federal aid in widening French Avenue."
Commissioner W. G. Killeen closed this matter, but he believed the right-of-way on French Avenue for $25,000 would then offer the City $50,000 to buy the right-of-way on French Avenue. He pointed out that this same plan worked on Daytona Beach.
Commissioner McCallum disagreed with Mr. Killeen on his $25,000 estimate to gain the French Avenue right-of-way. "It is going to cost almost that much to move the homes down there," he explained.

Celery Fed Cage Avalanche Buries St. James In Twin-Bill

Varsity Wins Third Game 46-34; JVs Add 4th Victory By 26-13 Margin

By KENT CHITLAIN
The resurgent Celery Fed High School basketball team, utilizing for the first time a zone defense, repeated history by shelling St. James High School in a double-bill in Orlando Friday night. The varsity Seminoles stymied the Orlando quintet 46-34 while the Fed JVs blasted St. James 26-13.

Gerald "Spider" Covington started the biggest scoring spree of the year for an individual varsity player by racking up 18 points to extend his season's total to an even 100. Wise "Dunker" Martin also scored six points through the hoop before fouling out in the final period. The victory hungry Seminoles broke fast from the starting tip-off by racking up 14 points to St. James' 5 in the initial quarter. "Bluish" Smith sunk a pair of kiss-shots and Hardin tapped in two tips to make the weekend track. "Dunker" spun the cords three more times in the second period for a ten point total of the Celery Feds 24 markers at the half. Mr. James watched the score read 24-16 at the half never heading the hot Seminoles in the entire game.

"Spider" Covington, who had scored points in the first half, tallied five more free throws and two buckets in the third period and added another field goal the final quarter to give himself 11 markers in the last half. While Covington led the scorers he also led the Celery Feds in shots attempted and free throws missed. "Spider" made 10 attempts to score six field goals and made six out of 15 free shots.

The "Dunker" Martin contributed an amazing shooting percentage by sinking seven out of eight attempted field-goals for a .875 shooting average. After Hardin fouled out in the fourth quarter, Handy Whitney replaced him and immediately continued Hardin's hot clip by making five points. The lanky senior Whitney looked the best he ever has during the season in his brief appearance. Shooting record in St. James Tilt:

Player	Atts.	Field Goals	Free Throws
Hardin	8	7	87.5
Whitney	1	2	200
Smith	8	2	250
Metts	5	1	200
McCall	5	1	200
Howell	1	0	000

The Celery Fed JVs took complete command of the Orlando JV team from the very beginning by scoring six points, four by Bob Stafford, in the first quarter while holding St. James defenseless. By the halftime intermission the Seminoles had a dominating 12-5 edge over the host cagers. Stafford made seven of the 12 markers in the first half.

Jimmy Krider and Randall Reynolds each tallied four points in the last half to lead the 13 point Celery Fed attack. St. James made eight points in the third quarter but were held scoreless in the final stanza making the final score read 26-13 in favor of the Sanford quintet.

Baseball Naming Contest Lists Total Of 92 Names For One Week

A total of 92 different names were added to the Sanford baseball club's naming contest in seven letters during the weekend to bring the total number up to 92. Entries in 53 letters were submitted.

The deadline for the name entry phase of the contest is less than a week away now. Name entries postmarked after noon next Monday, Feb. 1 will not be accepted. Beginning on noon Feb. 1 balloting will be started by the fans for three more weeks closing on noon of Feb. 25.

To date only one letter has been disqualified for illegal writing. Out of 53 letters are cards, this is an extremely low disqualifying percentage. Marion Durman, chairman of the contest committee, said:

Some of the new names submitted include "Cadeys," "Blues," "Seminoles Kings," "Seminoles Boys," "Hamblers," "Seminoles Tigers," and "Galators." One fan submitted the name "Fouris" which might be appropriate in view of the new tourist building to be constructed.

The label of Seminoles seems to be popular alone and as a part of a name such as, "Seminoles Tigers," "Seminoles Kings," etc.

Mr. Durman emphasized, that while 92 names have been submitted, many more logical winning names can be entered that have not already been sent. He urged fans to hurry and send their names in before the contest deadline next Monday noon.

Junior High Fed Cagers Play In Winter Garden

Coach Howard Gordie Releases Schedule Of 4 More Games

The Sanford Junior High "Junior Fed" cagers journeyed to Winter Garden to play the Gardeners Junior High five this afternoon at 4 p. m. Coach Howard Gordie's quintet will be seeking its second straight victory in three seasons' games.

On Jan. 16 the local Junior Fed's romped over Enterprise Junior High by a 33-21 score for their first triumph of the year. Earlier, the Junior Feds dropped its opener to Ovidio three 21-19.

Bob Carter and Bob Salmons will be at the forwards for the local quintet this afternoon. High point scorer Jimmy Hawkins will be operating at the center pivot with Jim Taylor and David Galloway at the guards for coach Gordie.

The host Gardeners will go into the fray with a slight edge over the less experienced Junior Fed's. The era of specialization has hit Winter Garden with cage teams springing up in the sixth and seventh grades there, according to coach Gordie.

"Just like in Daytona, the Winter Garden elementary schools are emphasizing the court game early," he continued. "That accounts for the powerful junior high and high school teams that come out of those two towns."

Mr. Gordie released four more showing dates for the local cagers with possible fifth game with Winter Park here. On Wednesday the Junior High Fed's will tangle Ovidio at the Seminoles High school gymnasium here starting at 6:00 p. m.

Then again on Friday the local quintet will circle the lake to clash with Enterprise. Wednesday Feb. 6 evening at 6:00 o'clock the Junior Feds meet Winter Garden here. The last scheduled contest is with Winter Park there on Friday Feb. 8.

HALEAH RACING
MIAMI (AP)—Haleah Park enters its second full week of horse racing today with attendance and waging setting new all-time records.

Despite continued summery weather—discouraging to Florida racing crowds—the Haleah pari-mutuel handle is about 10 per cent ahead of the corresponding nine days for 1951 and attendance is up 12 per cent.

For the first nine days, the handle was up $1,000,430 over the comparative days last season and attendance increased by 6,566.

Pari-mutuel play this year is running 12 per cent more than the all-time record season of 1949.

BOAT ACCIDENT
LAKELAND (AP)—A new world record and a serious accident marked the third stop on motor boat racing's grapefruit circuit here Sunday.

Henry Shakeshaft, Mt. Kisco, N. Y., set the new mark of 57.989 miles an hour in the Class C outboard hydroplane class. The old record was 57.508 mph.

William A. Riltner, Merion, Pa., was seriously hurt when his 225-cubic-inch inboard boat abared right out of the water while running against the wind and overturned. Riltner was thrown out. He was taken to Winter Haven General Hospital.

In all, there are 11 conference games and three non-loop battles on the week's menu.

Gators Back Into "Mythical" State Basketball Title

MIAMI (AP)—The University of Florida still has one game with the University of Miami but the Gators already can claim the mythical state college basketball championship for the season.

Florida did not play last week but the Gators backed into the title when Rollins lost to Tampa and Stetson. Florida has won from Stetson, Florida Southern, Miami and Florida State.

Miami and Stetson rank behind Florida in the standings, followed by Tampa, Rollins, Florida State and Florida Southern in that order. Rollins plays at Florida State Friday night in the only game on the state schedule this week.

Miami's Sy Chadoff still leads the scorers with 284 points, with Tampa's George Montz second at 267 and Harry Bryan, also of Tampa, third with 231.

SUNSHINE PARK
OLDSMAR (AP)—Sunshine Park began its second full week of racing today with plenty of optimism and a lot of extra bucks it didn't have at this stage of the racing game last season.

Rolling is up roughly 20 per cent. There are no sure fire attendance figures available, but track officials estimate the crowds are about 30 per cent larger than they were a year ago.

Tulane Hottest Team In SEC Cage Circles Since Beginning Of Year

Associated Press Sports Writers
Tulane's Green Wave, hottest thing in Southeastern Conference basketball circles since the New Year began, will take this week off as far as league competition is concerned.

Keyed by their six-foot, nine-inch center, Don Holt, the Wave has inaugurated six straight conference opponents, starting with Alabama Dec. 29 in the Oklahoma City Invitational Tourney.

Cliff Wells' charges climaxed their comeback after a shaky beginning early in December by raming arch-rival Louisiana State last week as Holt dumped in 23 points.

The Big Green, whose only outing this week is an inter-sectional tussle at St. Louis with Washington D. Saturday, has pulled up snugly into third place in the SEC standings, behind relentless Kentucky and amazing Florida.

Kentucky, heavily backed to cop its ninth consecutive Dixie dozen title, sighed with relief today after barely topping Alabama last Saturday and looked forward to a busy week starting with Vanderbilt in Nashville tonight. The Wildcats engage Auburn Wednesday and complete the week at Chicago Saturday with Notre Dame.

In their close call with Alabama, the Bluegrass machine created under a tight Crimson defense and needed small Bobby Watson's back court artistry to win, 71-67. Watson, a senior guard, threw in nine field goals—most of them from 30 feet and more.

Auburn's sophomore-studded array perked up a bit last week after trouncing hopeless Georgia for its second SEC win in the last three years. The young Plainsmen opened fast and then skidded into five straight setbacks before topping Mississippi State ten days ago.

Now holding a 3-3 conference slate, the Tigers face Kentucky and potent Alabama during this week's busy, 15-game program.

Runnerup Florida, idle last week, takes on Mississippi Saturday in the Galators' lone appearance. The meeting should be one of the week's best.

Vanderbilt, front-runner two weeks ago, is slated to lose its fourth SEC tilt in a row tonight to Kentucky. The Commodores, who have experience and talent, but need a sparkplug, have been measured successfully by Alabama, Florida and Tennessee and have dropped to a fifth-place tie in the league reckoning.

Georgia Tech, with a 0-5 SEC record, sees little chance to scratch with Mississippi State and Vandy furnishing the conference opposition.

L. S. U., all even after eight conference scraps, finds tough opposition this week in Mississippi and Tennessee. Even with high scoring Bob Pettit, the Bengals will be hard pressed to better their 500 mark.

New Interest Is Shown In State Farm Marketing

WINTER HAVEN—(Special)—New interest each week centers on the Florida State Farmers' Markets system, states William L. Wilson in his weekly report issued today, and this is further evidenced the report states by the fact that almost every day requests and inquiries for information are received from market heads and other interested persons throughout the Nation, as well as from United States possessions. Only this past week H. Colon-Torres, Commissioner of Agriculture, San Juan, Puerto Rico, asked that his name be placed on the Board's regular mailing list for several copies of the weekly news stories.

"C. M. Todd, Pahokee State Farmers Market Manager, reports a good live movement of cabbage, celery, radish, lettuce, turnips, collards, mustard greens, escarole, peppers and beans, and a light movement of fresh corn the past week, with excellent prospects of a fine spring crop. Best peppers last week averaged $6.99 per bu.; cabbage, 50 lb bags, brought around $4.00; celery, standard crates sold from $2.25 to $4.00 per crate; lettuce, standard crate, $4.00 to $5.50 per crate. Turnips, collards and mustard brought $1.25 a dozen bunches; standard crates of corn $3.50 per crate.

"New crops of cucumbers and tomatoes moved on the Immokalee State Market, with some squash and okra. A total of 8,561 packages grossed $19,965.25, broken down as follows: 215 bu. field crates tomatoes grossed $910.25; 2,922 bu. hampers Yellow Crooked Neck Squash brought $7,763.25; 19 bu. hampers Okra, $89.50; and 505 bu. field crates cucumbers, $2,292.25.

"Tomato volume increased at the Florida City Market, and some pole beans and squash moved, C. S. Phillips, Manager, reports 'prices not too good on anything just now.'

A SUCCESSFUL CAREER

The benefits of both formal schooling PLUS actual business experience acquired as a Herald Carrier-Salesman are excellent assurances that a successful career in the adult business world will follow.

Handling a Herald route is a contract between the boys and the Sanford Herald... he buys his newspapers just as every merchant buys the merchandise he sells (at wholesale rates)... he resells them to subscribers at retail rates... the difference is his profit as a young independent merchant.

Important, too, is the money he makes and saves from his Herald newspaper route efforts --it comes in mighty handy for school books, sports, hobbies, and the good times every teenager craves! Often such savings enable an ambitious boy to complete high school... to go on to the college of his choice.

British Diplomat Finds St. Louis Not Hell Hole It's Cracked Up To Be

By AL DOPKING
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The "Hell Hole of St. Louis" slipped right up on British Vice Consul Frank Taylor today.

If the friendly 38-year-old bachelor was aware the foreign secretary in London thought St. Louis is a hell hole, in a sense, along with Jibuti, Madagascar and Buenos Aires, he had slipped his mind until—

He came across an article in Look Magazine. It reported St. Louis, Houston and New Orleans were on the British Foreign Office's list of particularly disagreeable ports.

As Frank Taylor was skeptical after all St. Louis is a prosperous, industrial city of some 850,000 with its share of cultural background.

So he checked the files. And there the three cities were on the list, but in a half-hearted way. They aren't considered first class hell holes by the British Foreign Office.

First-class hell holes call for only 18 months of duty instead of the normal three-year stint and time and one-half is given toward retirement. In the three American cities the diplomats get only time and one-half on pensions.

"Living here certainly wouldn't affect your health and morale at the moment," Taylor said.

To illustrate an out-and-out hell hole Taylor took Kuwait, his last post where he came out a sick man. Kuwait, at the tip of the Persian Gulf between Iraq and Iran, is about the size of Connecticut and has a population of 200,000. All drinking water is imported into Kuwait in tank ships and hauled overland by donkeys.

"It's straight desert on a floating sea of oil," said Taylor, "and

Complete Power Is Asked By Mutual Over Members

WINTER HAVEN (AP) — Florida Citrus Mutual says a way to prevent collapse of a floor price is to give Mutual complete power over the fruit of its grower members.

Merton L. Corey, Mutual public relations counsel, told a meeting of growers here Monday that several proposals, including that one, would be studied carefully.

If Mutual had actual title to the fruit of its members it could sell it when, where and at what price it thought best, Corey said. But he admitted, that probably is farther than growers will go.

The meeting was called to explain Mutual's defeat on the floor price last week. Wednesday Mutual admitted its $1 a box minimum for oranges to canners was no longer being observed and suspended it.

In a statement read by Corey to the crowd of 2,200 citrus men, Mutual's board of directors said several factors were to blame for failure of the floor price.

These included chiseling by some independent canners, oversupply of juice which canners couldn't move at a price high enough to justify the $1 minimum, reluctance by Northern buyers to take juice as long as they thought the price might drop and finally an offer by two canners to sell juice at a price that meant definitely growers couldn't get $1 a box.

Directors said they were confident canned juices will move in good volume and the law of supply

Completely new body styles are offered by Mercury for 1952, including the custom sport coupe with "hurdtop" body illustrated here. Distinctive styling is achieved by a high prominent fender line, low flat hood contour with arescoop like projection and a massive wrap-around double front bumper. The attractive appearance of the 1952 Mercury is further enhanced by a one-piece curved windshield, an extra-large rear window and luxurious interior upholstery and trim. A more powerful V-8 engine developing 125 horsepower and a stronger chassis are featured.

and demand will build up prices.

Another grower's meeting is scheduled at Orlando Wednesday. Some suggestions which Corey said would be considered were: developing a program to get more groceries and drug stores to use juice dispensers.

A stabilization program of withholding certain quantities of fruit from the market to produce good prices.

Establishing a floor price on the tree instead of at the cannery or packing house.

Strengthening existing contracts. Some method of dealing with the Chairman Collins Urges More Work On March Of Dimes

TALLAHASSEE (Special) — Florida's 1952 March of Dimes is well underway, but everyone must work harder than ever during this final week because we are still a long way from our goal," State Chairman Letoy Collins said today.

Praising the state's workers in the campaign, Senator Collins said: "To our many thousand volunteer workers of every race, color and creed, and in every nook and corner of the State, I say: 'God Bless You. You're doing a grand job. Don't let up.'"

To all who are being called upon to give, the state chairman said: "I urge you to help give as much as you can and as many times as you can. Know when you give that your dollars and your dime truly will help some crippled neighbor live a happier and more useful life; and, further, that these same dime and dollar will shield some other neighbor from the pain and suffering which are the scourge of polio. Knowing this, it will make you happy to give."

State Chairman Collins pointed out that the final major effort in Florida's 1952 March of Dimes will come on Thursday evening, Jan. 31, when there will be "Mother's Marches" in almost all 67 counties.

"During a one-hour period on the evening of Jan. 31, the Marching Mothers of your community will call on you to receive a final contribution to the March of Dimes—if your porch light is burning," he said.

He urged Floridians everywhere to "let your light shine that night so that the porch light brigade may contact you." He said: "We must all do our part to care for the 30,000 new victims polio will strike down this year, and the 80,000 hold-over cases we now have. Our work must be done, too, if our scientists are going to continue their determined efforts to find the way to stop polio once and for all."

Florida recently completed a new embassy at Addis Ababa, capital of Africa's Ivory Coast.

the New 1952 MERCURY with MERC-O-MATIC Drive

CHALLENGING NEW 125 HP HIGH-COMPRESSION V8

Here's the new stepped-up successor to the engine which for two straight years won top class honors in officially sponsored economy tests. This year— even more efficiency, greater horsepower, and better power-to-weight ratio. It's high-compression, V8 power at its best—by the company which has built more V-type engines than all others combined.

3 GREAT TRANSMISSIONS—Mercury offers you a choice of three dependable performance-proved drives: silent-ease standard transmission; thrifty Touch-O-Matic Overdrive; and Merc-O-Matic*, greatest of all automatic drives.

*Optional at extra cost.

FEAST your eyes on this America. Mercury has done it—brought you a really new 1952 car that's far, far ahead... that stands as an even greater challenge to the motoring world than last year's Mercury, one of the most popular cars that ever came down the American Road.

Your first look begins to tell you why. For here's something entirely new in car design... swift, clean lines that sweep from the new "Jet-scoop" hood (inspired by the smartest European cars) to a strikingly new rear deck design. Here's styling made possible for the first time in automotive history by revolutionary new techniques in metal engineering.

But wait till you feel the stepped-up pace, the steady balance of this beauty. There's more power—125-horsepower high-compression V-8—greater pick-up, and even better efficiency. And that's saying plenty when you think of the prize-winning Mercury performance of recent years.

So hurry on down to our showroom. Be one of the first to see, drive, and own the car with the "future features" today... the challenging new 1952 Mercury.

Standard equipment, accessories, and trim supplied are subject to change without notice. While sale-wait-free, when available, at extra cost.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Some of us make extremely poor witnesses. But we are just that. Ye shall be witnesses unto me.—Acts 1:8.

We would not like to be a tourist in Egypt these days. How much better off are tourists in Florida . . . despite recent bombing outrages.

Russia is doing all that it can to encourage outbreaks in the Middle East, just as it pushed China into the Korean War. The time is coming when the real enemy of mankind will have to be recognized and dealt with.

A raid on a gambling joint in a colored section of Miami produced a novel disclosure. Instead of a hat check service near the entrance way there was a weapons checking service where patrons checked their revolvers and knives at the door. Sounds like something from a good movie western.

A Los Angeles woman, wrapping packages for the YMCA's gift lift to Korea, enclosed a card with her name on it. A few weeks later she received a letter from her own son also fighting in Korea. "What a shock I got when I opened one of the gift lift packages distributed to our outfit. It was from you". You never can tell how far or where little rays of sunshine are going.

The governor's race hasn't gone far enough yet to develop major issues, says Jim Powell, writing in the Tampa Tribune. "Candidates Brailey Odham and Alto Adams have begun to outline what they consider prime issues. Less has been heard from Dan McCarty, the favorite, who is more widely known and has more time to wait and reflect". Meanwhile, someone looking for issue might look into the State Road Department.

The South is making progress in racial relations, has made progress, long before NAACP or Mrs. Roosevelt, more progress than has been made anywhere else in the country. "We have made here—and the record bears out this statement", says W. E. Debnam, North Carolina publisher, "more progress in racial understanding and co-operation and against greater odds and in a shorter time than in any other area in all the world". That progress will continue despite the hindrance of ignorant but well meaning people who do more harm than good by interfering in matters they don't know anything about.

We are glad to see that former Senator Pepper has decided not to run for the Senate this year, or indeed for any other political office. He agrees with us, though he may not know it, that it is not the right time for him to get back into politics. Maybe four years from now when Senator Smathers comes up for re-election, Pepper is recognized as a rather left wing liberal. A label which he would have difficulty in shedding at a time when shed it he must if he wants to be elected. Four years from now he would have had more time to change his political complexion if left wing liberalism is no more popular than now.

We are sorry we did not get down to hear Senator Rob T. Cook in Orlando last night. He is one of the most able men in the United States, Senate whether you agree with his politics or not, and he is a presidential candidate not altogether unlikely to become president. More than that he is the first presidential candidate, so far as we can remember who has ever visited this state during a campaign. It shows Florida is growing up, becoming a political power, when it is sufficiently doubtful in any candidate to speak here. Some Florida may be completed by Florida as rapidly as Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania are being won for now. That would be a good thing.

Problem With Peru

The southeastern Pacific has become a valuable fishing region through the co-operation of the United States and Peru. When the meat shortage during World War II caused an increased demand for fish, the possibilities of the area off the Peruvian coast were explored. American and Peruvian capital was invested to develop the project. A large percentage of the tuna consumed in the United States now comes from this area and fishing has become an important industry in Peru.

Since the end of the war some ill will has grown up between the United States and Peru over the fishing industry. The Peruvians resent the activity of American fishermen in what they consider their waters. They also object to the high tariff which our government imposes on imported tuna. These differences are exploited by the press in Argentina, where dictator Juan Peron misses no opportunity to accuse the United States of imperialism.

Members of the fishing industry in Peru hope for an inter-American conference where these problems can be discussed and possibly settled. Both the United States and Peru have much to gain from settling the problems in a friendly and neighborly fashion. On the basis of contemporary experience with the problems of the Americas, there is good reason to hope that it can be done.

Birthday Tokens

The seventy-five-year-old Aga Khan, spiritual and temporal leader of the Ismaili Moslem sect, may set a lifetime record for the value of his birthday presents. In the past he has received his weight in gold, silver and diamonds, and this year his weight in platinum is the birthday token from his followers. The Khan tips the scales at a neat 340 pounds, and with platinum at its present prices this should net him about $3,000,000. It is said that he will give most of the money to charity.

One trouble with receiving such fabulous gifts is that the point may be reached where nothing spectacular in the way of a gift remains. The time may come when old Aga Khan will have to be contented with a couple of handkerchiefs or a hand-painted tile, quite a comedown. Of course it is the spirit of the gift and not the value which really counts. If his followers would like to make one final magnificently extravagant gesture, they might present him with his weight in butter next year, or beefsteak.

Governing Washington

The biggest and highest-paid city council in the world is not in some great metropolis but in Washington, D. C., which ranks well down the list of cities according to sizes. The United States Congress, composed of 681 voting members drawing salaries of $12,600 each, acts as the city council of Washington. In the time it can spare from this duty it also attends to national affairs.

This situation might be changed if the House of Representatives would approve a bill which has been passed by the Senate. The measure would confer upon the citizens of Washington the privilege of the vote, for local affairs only, enabling them to elect a city council of their own, along with a mayor and other officials. The House has seen such bills before, and killed them. Perhaps the members are afraid they wouldn't have enough to do if they couldn't govern Washington.

Posting Of Ceiling Prices Uneventful

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Posting of ceiling prices in 1200 groceries in the Jacksonville area brought few comments from customers Monday.

Several store managers, checked at random, reported most of their customers said nothing about the price lists the first day.

This area is one of three in the nation where the price ceilings are being posted as a test to see if it should be extended throughout the nation.

Five shoppers interviewed in one store all approved the plan. One housewife said, "It should have been started three years ago." Another said she had been paying 18 cents for an item she noticed by the poster has a ceiling of 15 cents.

Julian Jackson, co-owner of a group of supermarkets, commented: "I, for one, am sure that the housewife and all consumers will welcome the pricing posters."

Ceilings are posted on about 350 grocery items or 75 per cent of all items. Fresh meats, fruits and vegetables are not included.

Retail stores in Duval, Nassau, St. Johns, Clay, Union, Bradford and Baker Counties are included in this trading area where ceilings are posted. The plan is also being tried in the trading areas of Fargo, N. D., and Fresno, Calif.

Convicts Sentenced On Tax Charges

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Three convicts of a group of 25 charged with making false income tax returns while in the State Prison at Raiford were sentenced here Monday.

The others sentenced were Rolton, 32, may never serve the two years federal judge Bryan Simpson gave him. The federal term will begin after Middleton completes three state sentences for a total of 60 years.

The others sentenced were Roland and H. Dumas and Leon Sparman, each a year and a day.

Opposition Found For Richard Mack

MIAMI (AP)—Opposition developed today for Chairman Richard Mack of the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission.

Thomas S. Ferguson, justice of the peace since 1930 and judge of the Small Claims Court in Dade County, announced he will be a candidate for the office in the May Democratic primary.

Ferguson, native of Florida and University of Florida graduate, began the practice of law in Miami in 1924. He was appointed justice of the peace during the Carlton Administration and has served ever since.

Ferguson sponsored the first Small Claims Court in Florida and the law setting up the Dade County court was passed in 1945.

Mack, only member of the three-man commission whose term expires this year, lives in Coral Gables.

"POW'FUL STUFF"

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL RAY

Most folks might think that the time spent in a morgue would be a rather gruesome experience. This doesn't apply, however, to a "newspaper morgue" and there is nothing I enjoy more than pawing over old files and digging out interesting information.

I was called on recently to provide a publisher with authentic information on the history of the Florida State Fair and Gasparilla Carnival. Since the local newspapers are the mirror of community life and action, there is no better place to look for facts, and after spending several hours in the morgue of our local papers I came up with some very interesting information.

The history of Florida fairs goes back many years. The earliest record I found of a fair in Tampa was the account of an exhibition staged in connection with the Tampa Bay Hotel by H. B. Plant, builder of the Plant Railroad System, now Atlantic Coast Line.

Plant recognized Florida as a land of tremendous opportunity. He developed the West Coast at about the same time Henry M. Flagler was pushing his Florida East Coast Railroad and development.

Desiring to acquaint wealthy hotel guests and winter visitors with the advantages and opportunities of this section, Plant arranged for an exhibit of fruit, vegetables, minerals and wild life.

These exhibits were maintained for a number of years and many of the guests Plant brought to Florida were impressed and eventually located and invested here. The exhibits were discontinued after Plant's death, but Tampanians recalled how these exhibits had helped to develop the area and a few years later the idea was revived as an organization formed to sponsor a more elaborate exposition.

This was in 1904 and invitations were extended to a number of counties in South Florida to exhibit their wares in Tampa.

At the same time the Gasparilla Carnival grew and prospered. Brilliant, colorful parades and social events were incorporated in its program and it, too, has taken its place alongside the Mardi Gras of New Orleans and the Cotton Carnival of Memphis.

Fair officials this year anticipate an attendance of well over 2 million during the eleven days of its operation, February 5 to 16. Just now the fair grounds are alive with carpenters, painters, decorators and technicians who are busy with last minute preparations for what promises to be the greatest exposition ever held.

It is interesting to note that one exhibit, the Electrical Exposition sponsored by the Tampa Electric Company, occupies more space than the entire fair occupied in its beginning.

Rotary speaker DELAND (Special) Communism is based upon the idea that people are too dumb to run their own lives, and that, therefore, their lives ought to be run by an aggressive few who are smart enough to make all decisions for them and make them like it.

This thought was expressed by President J. Dille Edmunds of Stetson University who spoke Tuesday before the Ft. Pierce Rotary Club, beginning in September all students entering Stetson will be required to study economics under a qualified teacher who believes in the American system of free enterprise.

EARLY in the year is a good time to do your financial planning . . . especially to start a systematic savings program. Start fresh with clean slate, set your sights, and stick with your plan. Congressman Herlong Reports

By SID HERLONG

So that you may know what the Congress will be asked to do this session, I have made a brief analysis of the specific recommendations made by the President in his Economic Report to the Congress. I hope you will be thinking about these things and will let me hear from you on them when our questionnaire is published.

The first request was for $4 1/2 billion in additional taxes. He asked that this be achieved by eliminating loopholes and special privileges (which we all want to go) and by some tax rate increases.

Next, credit controls. He said selective credit controls are particularly useful under current conditions because they reduce borrowing and spending for some of the less necessary kinds of goods. He recommended full administrative discretion in setting these credit terms.

Price controls: He stated that the relative stability of prices during most of 1951 was encouraging—that he wanted controls continued and the law strengthened.

Rent control: He wants it continued, especially in the critical defense areas.

Wage stabilization: He wants it maintained with a fair relationship to price controls.

Foreign aid: He asked for continued military and economic aid to the free nations.

St. Lawrence Seaway: He wants construction authorized on this swamy and power project.

Housing: He asked for the construction of needed housing and community facilities in defense areas.

Labor: He wants a revision of the basic labor-management relations legislation "so that it will not hamper sound and healthy labor relations and interrupted production".

Price supports: He wants a workable price support program for perishable commodities.

Old age assistance: He wants these payments raised and the Federal-State unemployment insurance system strengthened.

Federal aid to education: He wants this both to help schools meet their operating costs and for school construction. He also asked that Federal aid be authorized to assist medical education and for strengthening local public health services.

Quite a large order in all. Nearly every item in it will cost you and me more money. How much can we afford at this time? How much is desirable? How much is absolutely essential? Be thinking about it, please.

Telephone Service is Growing, too and the cost is up far less than prices in general!

"LADIES" already! My, how they have grown! And you can enjoy the same for Florida's telephone service.

IN JUST FIVE years in Florida, the number of telephones you can call has more than doubled.

BEST OF ALL, the price of this bigger, better "package" of service has gone up on the average far less than prices in general... and less than our cost of providing the service.

ALWAYS a bargain, telephone service is today an even better buy than it was ten years ago, and will offer part of the family budget.

Give it Air and Watch it GO!

TAKE ONE GALLON of good gasoline — 8.350 gallons of ordinary air—mix well and feed in small doses to a Fireball Engine—and what do you get?

Well, mister, the closest we can come to describing the result is to tell you—it's something like the mighty thrust of an airliner— swooshing down the runway for a take-off.

All of which is another way of saying that this newest and finest of Buicks can rev up to 170 horsepower, the highest in its distinguished history.

Now, you seldom need all this horsepower. But it's nice to know you can boss it around—even if you use no more than an eighth of it at 40 miles an hour.

BUT BUICK ENGINEERS never do things by halves. In the process of getting this whopping new charge of power, Buick engineers also came up with more miles per gallon from gasoline.

And they did it with one of the neatest bits of ingenuity we've seen in years. Instead of building a whole new engine—they focused on ways to feed a better mixture to the great Fireball Engine they already had. A mixture of fuel, which costs money, and air, which is free.

The result was the Airpower Carburetor—a four-barrel automatic—which works on a booster principle.

Two barrels are sized and designed to supply the just-right thrifty mixture of fuel and air for anything from smooth-running idle up to some 40 or 50 miles an hour.

Then—when you call for more power—for a quick spurt out of a tight spot—for an unbroken gait up a steep hill—or for full-throttle operation—the reserves go into action.

You have two more barrels—to feed the just-right thrifty mixture for extra power—something like "second wind."

LIFE'S GREAT behind this great-powered eight, but that's only part of the story. The rest is about interior styling stepped up to a new plateau of excellence and taste—of silencing to a point where a whisper sounds almost loud inside this car in motion—of bigger brakes and a smoother ride—and of Power Steering* as you have always hoped it might be perfected.

How about coming in and getting that story soon? *Optional equipment, with and without air, subject to change without notice. *OPTIONAL ON EQUIPMENT OF A MODEL OR YEAR.

Sure is true for 52... BUICK
