BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

Advertisement in state paper reads, "Salesman wanted to sell church people on commission." When these salesmen get started I would like to put in my order for a nice soft shelled Baptist.

It is nothing to me which side wins in this international unpleasantness but unless the allies hurry up and take the Germans on the flank (whatever that means) and stop their clock it is a lead pipe cinder that is going to be put on this advisedly and from a careful scanning of all the war news that comes to us filtered by the sanitary inspectors of all the armies. The Germans are showing the world what a well equipped army of men can do and they are making a much better showing than any of the allied armies all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

The first of October is here and the time for the Supreme Court to settle the little differences about the brick roads has arrived, and while I think of it, don't you all agree with me that the time for petty grievances and bickerings has passed and it is high time that all of us were together on the great question of going ahead and making brick roads and more of them. We surely spend an awful lot of time talking and fooling around when we should be up and doing.

From all reports this will be the greatest winter season for tourists that Florida has ever experienced and how fine it would be if Sanford had that new hotel to accommodate the people who are already flocking here for accommodations. Several new hotels and apartment houses here would be the best paying propositions that men of means could own and just why they are not started is a mystery to me. We hear rumors of one here and there but rumors are not providing a place for the people. It is my candid opinion that a hotel will never be built in Sanford unless Sanford people build it themselves.

"Why don't you advertise?" asked the editor of the home paper. "Don't you believe in advertising?" "I'm ag'in advertising," replied the proprietor of the Haysville Racket store. "But why are you against it?" asked the editor. "It keeps a feller too awful busy," replied the proprietor. "I advertised in a newspaper one time about ten years ago, and I never even got time to go fishing."

A friend of mine who happened to be at the opening of the schools the other day remarked afterward that he deplored the useless additions to school curriculums these days, all of which reminds us that while getting shaved the other day the barber getting on the same line of talk remarked: "Hub, there wasn't no physical geography in my days when I went to school. Teachers didn't know what paddin' was then."

You never miss the water until the well runs dry and by the same token you never miss a good citizen until several weeks after he is dead and as the different questions come up in array—questions that usually needed his advice and assistance his absence at the meeting places is made more noticeable as time passes. I was immeasurably shocked at the telegram announcing the death of George Fernald. Being accustomed to seeing him each day for a number of years and numbered among his friends there were but few matters of state that were not discussed with him and his absence is the more noticeable now. His unflinching good humor, optimistic nature and manner of going into each and every proposition for the benefit of the city and county made him a valuable addition to the city, the board of trade and civic interests of Sanford. He even found time to devote to the Sanford Band and promote its interests and, I am glad to learn that on Thursday night of this week the band will render a Fernald Memorial Concert, sacred to his memory and his favorite pieces will be rendered in the First Park in the band stand where for so many years his presence was always noted at the different concerts.

No more beautiful tribute could be paid to the memory of George Fernald than to have the band play his favorite selections as a memorial concert and every citizen of Sanford should attend the concert as a mark of respect.

To me the Jew is the one particularly pathetic figure in the European war. He is loyal and brave and patient and goes forth to kill the men of his blood who are opposed to the government under which he is serving, but there certainly must be lacking the incentive which actuates the men of other nationalities, and that is all the more reason why the Jew is entitled to credit for the part he plays. The Belgian, the German, the Frenchman, the Russian, the Englishman, all have the pride of their individual nations as a spur to activity and they are not fighting, as a rule, the men of their own blood. They are actuated by different ideals, different ambitions, different customs, they speak a different language; but this is not so of the Jew. He is the pawn of circumstances and goes forth to battle against his fellows in the interest of another race. He does his duty with the full knowledge that the ultimate outcome does not mean anything in particular to the Jewish race and when the war is over he must again take up the individual struggle for existence without the reflected greatness of a nation to cheer him. To me his position is indeed pathetic.

There is no end of shame and cant about interlocking directorates in banks. It is about as dangerous to society as for the same man to have an interest in more than one newspaper or any other kind of business.

A Chicago building corporation boasts because it built two stories in 48 hours. Which is a mighty small achievement to those of us who have been accustomed to building at least six stories every night.

During these strenuous days of war when the disciples of Mars are doing all they may to annihilate one another in several parts of the world the life of the newspaper worker is not all beer and skittles by any manner of means. With the strict censorship which has been established in Europe it is difficult for the various press associations to get authentic information and day after day there is a sameness about the press report that drives the telegraph editor almost to despair in an effort to find a paragraph that throws a new light on the situation, and when it comes to writing heads for the stories it taxes his ability to the uttermost to avoid sameness and repetition.

A peculiar idea is more or less prevalent to the effect that the newspaper of the United States purposely print reports unfavorable to the German empire. This is so far from the truth that it would be unworthy of comment were it not for the fact that the majority of the persons who held this view are sincere in their belief. The majority of the newspapers in the larger cities of the country are served by the Associated Press than which there is no more conservative or reliable organization in existence. The Sanford Herald has been receiving daily bulletins from the Publishers' Exchange and the news has been more reliable than that of the big papers.

The attitude of a newspaper in such matters must be judged by its editorial utterances and not by its news dispatches. The present European war is the most difficult to handle, from a newspaper standpoint, of any that has ever occurred. It is practically impossible for a correspondent to get anywhere near the real scene of action and the battle front is a day's journey by fast express in length. If the correspondent should, by some good fortune, secure a story it must pass the censorship of half a dozen individuals before it is transmitted and there is but little left of the original dispatch. The ultimate consumer gets it in the form of a salad minus the mayonnaise.

With the German cable cut it is but natural that most of the news comes from sources controlled by the allies and the reader of every newspaper must necessarily take his news with a grain of salt until he further confirms its statements. There isn't a newspaper in this country but that wants to publish the real news about the war and if it were permitted they would have hundreds of correspondents in the field. Selling newspapers is a business just the same as selling groceries or dry goods and whatever the personal feelings of a publisher may be you can rest assured that he is printing every scrap of news that comes to hand, regardless of whom it favors.

DISPOSED OF FAMILY "PET"

Mr. Bildo Bore Much With Fortitude, but There Came a Time When Patience Failed.

"Did you ever have a dog in the family?" asked Bildo. "We did recently. How that dog got into the family, I don't know. Each member of the household went around saying 'I am sorry they got that dog' by the time we had had him a week. "There was never any way of telling who was responsible for his presence with us. No one claimed the credit of it. "We disposed of him because he took a piece out of a man's trousers. It was a peddler's trousers. It is a bad thing to let a dog bite a peddler."

a day or so after the event and informed me that he had been in the hospital a week, and that I must pay his hospital expenses; also his doctor's bill; also for the time he had lost from his vocation; also for the pants which my dog had ruined. "When I asked to see his receipts from the hospital and doctor he offered to compromise on my paying $5 for the damage done his trousers. I offered to pay the five, but insisted on immediate delivery of the garment. "He was unable to deliver the goods, so it cost me nothing. Still, it was a narrow escape, and I decided that I had better either acquire a lawyer or get rid of the dog. "While I was pondering a man went by all dressed up in a beetle-tailed coat, with white gloves on like a pall-bearer ready to dance the tango, and the dog fell for him. The apples in the Garden of Eden didn't look near as good to Adam as that man did to my dog, and he got a chunk out of the black legs of that man. "The tango dancer had a fiery disposition, and what he proposed was not to sue, but to lick the owner of the dog immediately. This made me very uncomfortable, indeed. I hid in the cellar until the storm blew over. "We got a muzzle for the dog after that, and then he scratched up the neighbor's geraniums. We consoled ourselves that he was a good watch dog, anyway, but one night a burglar got into the house and stepped on him, and that scared the creature so badly that we had to let him sleep in the bed with us after that. "We tried keeping him in the shed, but he dug out in the night and after announcing his presence by licking us on the face, he crawled in with us, fleas and muddy feet, and all. "So we had to get rid of him."

The Camera in War. Reporting wars with cameras is like hunting big game with a photographic outfit. It gives us something we never had before. If Gettysburg were fought today the camera would be on Cemetery ridge. Perhaps the talking machine would also be on hand to reproduce for the world the terrible grumble and rattle and rattle of a battle. There would be a moving picture worth looking at—films reeling off Pickett's charge and the talking machine records unrolling the crackle of 10,000 rifles. I wonder if our Victor friends could reproduce a sound as great as the combined roar of Lee's and Meade's 300 and more cannon? But even with the daring scouts high in air taking photographs of the enemy's positions, and with cameras and phonographs reproducing battles for fireside consumption, war finally comes down to the same old gamemen behind the guns shooting the other fellows.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Who Laughs Last. It was in old Pohick church down in Fairfax county, Virginia, that Washington used to worship, and the ancient town of Alexandria stood much as it stands now on the south bank of the Potomac before the city of Washington had begun to be on the north bank. Pohick also still exists, as the following story proves: "Washington folks laughs at the Alexandria slow-pokes," mused the Potomac river flatboatman, "and the Alexandria feller laughs at the Fairfax hayseeds, and the Fairfax guys, they laughs at the one-galussed yaps down in Pohick. "And Pohick?" queried a curious stranger. "Ob, none of 'em ain't nuthin' on them Pohick natives," returned the ancient mariner confidently. "Them hill-billies laughs at the po' devils in Washington what has ter wear their sto' clo'es an' a clean shirt every single week-day an' has ter come plum' down ter Pohick for their coon-huntin'. They laughs at 'em, but, mostly, they pities 'em!"

Daily Thought. In God's world, for those who are in earnest, there is no failure. No work truly done, no word earnestly spoken, no sacrifice, freely made, was ever made in vain.—P. W. Robertson.

Sound Advice. Treat your friends as you do your bank account. Don't be reckless with them just because you've got them.—Detroit Free Press.

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. D. L. Thrasher entertained with a delightful bridge luncheon Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. W. E. Watson, one of the season's popular brides.

An elegant simplicity characterized the decorations which were effectively carried out in red. In the reception hall red roses featured the decorations, while the drawing room was charmingly pretty with its red dahlias and caladium leaves.

In all of the rooms the mantels were banked with cut flowers and ferns. Carnations were used for decoration in the dining room. From the chandelier over the table ribbons of red reached to the corners and were caught in place with sprays of fern, a lovely combination of colors upon the white cover. Upon the center of the table a tall vase held a shower of red carnations and ferns, from which radiated glass chains, connecting four smaller vases of carnations, with its dainty appointments and favors of small white satin slippers filled with candies.

The table was artistically pretty. A tempting six course luncheon was served.

ANTWERP, NEXT BELGIAN CITY TO SUFFER HORRORS OF WAR

A BRIEF SUMMARY OF EVENTS IN THE GREAT EUROPEAN SLAUGHTER—DECISIVE RESULTS EXPECTED BY BOTH SIDES SOON

London, Friday, 11 a. m. Reuter dispatch from Antwerp says: "Bergerhaul, Antwerp, suburb, burning. Bombardments been terrible, according to Ostend dispatch dated last night. Germans reported throwing incendiary bombs. Many parts of city burning."

Official statement by German General Staff at Berlin, dated last night, says nothing definite decisive on western front. Fort Breendonk, before Antwerp been taken. Attack on inner fortifications begun. Bombardment city behind fort opened when Commander assumed responsibility. Hostile aviator damaged hall at Dusseldorf, destroyed airship cover.

Antwerp besieged cannot long withstand heavy guns of Germans and will be forced to capitulate. Inhabitants fleeing to Holland and Germany.

Little doing in the eastern and western theater of war. Success claimed by allies and Germans at both places. Von Kluck still holds out, and no marking movement has turned the German army yet. Zeppelins have attacked city of Antwerp and dropped bombs on inhabitants, killing numbers, and terrorizing the populace.

Both armies in west depending on flanking movements and troops are completely worn out with long fighting.

Bulgaria reported as entering war and will be an ally of Germany, having already attacked Serbia.

Capital has been removed from Antwerp to Ostend to avoid the German army that will soon enter Antwerp.

Reported that allies line has been broken by attacks of German cavalry in the French territory and on the western wing of the army.

In the east the Russians are battering away at Przemysl and will effect the capture of that city. All efforts of Austrians to relieve the city have been repulsed by the Russians.

Died in Oviedo

Mr. Thomas Weston died at his home in Oviedo, Florida Thursday evening Oct. 1st, 1914.

He was born in Clinton, Iowa, July 20, 1848. He spent his childhood days in Iowa and moved with his parents to Illinois, where he resided until 1871 when he went to Kansas. In January, 1894 he was married to Mary E. Elliott from Newark, Delaware. To this union were born seven children, four girls and three boys. Thomas Arthur, the eldest son, was taken from this family by the great angel of death near Wichita, Kansas in 1907.

In 1911 the family moved to Oviedo, Florida.

Mr. Weston was taken seriously ill on Monday with kidney trouble and passed away Thursday.

He was a man of sound mind and able ability and was always busy.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist Episcopal church in Oviedo on Sunday morning, attended by his entire family, including his daughter from Kansas, who has never been seen by the family in Florida.

The mother and children wish to sincerely thank their many friends, who have been so kind and patient during the illness and death of their father, including our many thanks for the many and beautiful flowers.

REGISTRATION BOOKS WILL CLOSE TOMORROW

Registration Books Close Tomorrow Tomorrow is the last opportunity you will have to pay your poll tax and register. If you have not already done so. The books close Saturday and will not be opened again for two years, and those not qualified will therefore not be able to vote in the general election next month, or in any special elections which may be held in the next two years. Tomorrow is also the last day on which poll tax may be paid in order to qualify for the general election and the Tax Collector will be in his office until 8:00 p. m. tomorrow night for the purpose of receiving poll taxes.

Injured by Auto

The little daughter of John Stember was seriously injured yesterday by the Ford car of Mrs. McBride. On account of a passing wagon obstructing the road the child was not seen in time and the car knocked her down, the wheels passing over her head, breaking her jaw and otherwise injuring her. At this writing the child is resting easy and will recover.

The Sins of Sanford

The subject of the sermon to be delivered at the Baptist church next Sunday night at 7:30 will be "The Sins of Sanford." The church is located at the corner of Park and Sixth street. Mr. George Hyman, the pastor of the church will deliver the sermon. The large audiences continue to attend the Baptist services. You are welcome to all services.

Methodist Church

The Sunday school attendance is improving with each session of the school. The largest attendance since the school was moved to the Star theater was recorded last Sunday. A much larger attendance is expected next Sunday. The banner which was awarded the school will be displayed for the first time. There have been four scholars to join the church the last two Sundays. These are formed into a class which is taught by the pastor. This instruction will fit them for intelligent church membership.

The church will meet each Sunday at 10:15 a. m. in the Star Theater on each Sunday, 9:15 a. m.

Strangers in the city will be made to feel at home 2:00 p. m.

On next Sunday at morning hour, 11 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Stember will present the "Duties of a church member." After which two applicants for membership will be baptized and received into the church.

The evening service will be in the usual exemplification of the love of the Lord and prayer.

We are seeking in all services to bring those who attend into fellowship with God. Setting forth the unhappiness of the worldly life and the joy of a life having the Christ as the ideal.

THE GREAT WORLD SERIES STARTS TODAY

Mrs. Gibson and Hurt have arranged for the Great World's Series and the score board at the Imperial is the best that has ever been arranged in Florida. The electrical equipment is par excellence and the plays will be shown just as they are made on the field of action at Boston and New York. The ball fans of Sanford and vicinity will enjoy the games as never before and with the same excitement as if they were watching them in New York. The game will be called each day at one o'clock and from that time until they push the electrical switch board right from the wires will chronicle each and every play. It is a most fascinating pastime even if you are not a ball fan and the people of Sanford should patronize the games each day. The admission will be 35 cents.

Methodist Sunday School Honored

The pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city attended the Sunday School Institute which was held in Jacksonville on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The reports from the school here proved to be the best organized Methodist school reporting from this section of the state. A beautiful silk and gold banner was awarded to this school. The banner will be exhibited next Sunday. Every member of the school will rejoice, as each one has made possible the result.

Plans are being perfected whereby a much larger attendance and better work will be done before another report will be made, so that the school will hold first place in the state.

EXPRESS RATES ARE NOT EXORBITANT

OSCEOLA GROWERS SATISFIED THAT COMPANY IS TRYING TO SERVE

Kissimmee, Oct. 7.—There was a well attended meeting of the Osceola Growers Association here today. The principal topic of discussion was express rates. Lloyd S. Tenny, secretary and manager of the Florida Growers and Shippers League, W. K. Haile, superintendent of the man of the express company and many of the merchants attended.

It was shown to the growers that the Southern Express Company was in no way responsible for the rates of which the growers had been complaining and that voluntarily that company had petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to allow it to decrease the rate.

The meeting at Ocala at which the existing rates were put into effect, was a meeting at which the Interstate Commerce Commission fixed the commodity rates and paid no particular attention to the vegetable rates and then issued an order that the vegetable rates would be seventy-five per cent of the first class rate, and the result was an increase in rate.

Sork for Better Rates

It was further shown that it had taken a great deal of work and effort on the part of the company to get the reduction as far as it is, because the Southern Express Company had to first get the consent of the other express companies of the country, something with it and then had to get the consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission which it was petitioning for and was hopeful of getting in effect November 1.

The lessons in express rates which were given the growers were interesting and gave them an insight into the many questions entering rates. These rates which are to go into effect not only apply to Florida but Louisiana and wherever the Southern Express Company reaches, and effects the connecting express companies as well.

Growers Convinced

Many of the growers who came with blood in their eyes and with the conviction that the express company was a robber went away as deeply convinced that the company was trying to do the right thing by the growers and that the application of the fact the interest of the company and the grower were identical.

A resolution was unanimously passed as follows: "Moved that it is the sense of this meeting that we approve as a general proposition the proposed new rates, but that we recommend that the express officials here present be asked to confer with the express companies in an effort to get a further reduction of the proposed rate on eggplant."

Company Doing Its Best

Mr. Haile speaking of the meeting afterwards said: "I am glad indeed that these growers were satisfied that we are trying to do what is right, and that we have satisfied them that this is as near right as human beings can figure it out, and they are going to withdraw any complaint to it for it would mean that we must, against our will, keep in effect the present high rates, and that would mean an undue burden on the grower, and to such an extent would that burden be that we would not get any shipments worth while."

"I can appreciate that these men have quite an average in eggplant, and on the heavier vegetables like eggplant our rate we are asking for is sixty per cent of the first class rate, while on beans, peas and the lighter vegetables it will be sixty-five per cent."

To Serve the Public

"We have adopted and are living up to the motto 'Serve the Public.' Signs of that kind are in all our offices, and it is a pleasure to me to attend such meetings, and explain matters in full detail, and leave it to the fair minded if we are not keeping to the straight and narrow path."

Bought Hancock Place

Mr. David Taylor of Asbury Park, N. J., has purchased through the Connelly Real Estate Agency the L. J. Hancock place on Golden Lake. Mr. Taylor is here and will take possession at once, intending to make Sanford his future home. We welcome these new people to Sanford. He is accompanied by L. G. Egbert and son, who will spend the winter at the Taylor home.

BULKHEAD WORK IS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY AT THE PRESENT TIME

THE CONCRETE PILINGS ARE BEING PLACED AND DREDGE ALMOST READY

The bulkheading is progressing, slowly perhaps and yet as fast as could be expected when one takes into consideration all the difficulties that these men who have the work in charge have surmounted. The work of dredging has been delayed on account of the bad pair encountered at the very outset. This was necessary to overcome by the use of specially constructed machinery that could only be built in certain shops and larger engines and other equipment were found to be absolutely essential.

While the workmen were waiting for the new equipment the work has not lagged, but the bulkhead is being constructed every day as the concrete pilings were being constructed all the time they were waiting for the machinery.

Few Sanford people realize what a fine piece of concrete work these pilings are going to be and a trip to the lake front is a revelation to the visitors. The pilings are probably the best that have been manufactured in the state for similar purposes and consist of concrete posts tied and reinforced by iron and steel and they will last a century. The pilings are placed in position by water pressure and the wall that was finished part of the way a few weeks ago has been furnished with the concrete caps and makes a handsome appearance. The walls are doubly reinforced and tied by concrete posts that are fastened to dead men as the foundations in the ground are called and these will absolutely prevent the walls from giving way to high seas or heavy pressure from the wind and water. The walls are very substantial and the work of filling in will start in about one week from date as the cutter heads will arrive by that time. The dredge boat and engines and all the appliances of the very latest make are now installed and the real work will start in a matter of days and be finished on record time.

Congregational Church Next Sunday morning, a sermon on the Psalms will be presented, seeking to give practical suggestions for more appreciative use of that portion of the Bible. In the evening at 7:30 the service will be short and uplifting, good music especially prepared, and a short talk by the pastor on "Gamael, and his let-it-alone policy." A cordial welcome is extended to all. Our Sunday school is being recruited and yet there is room for more. Our school is graded, using the Graded Series of lesson helps. We hope all the old scholars and many new ones will be found with us next Sunday. Don't forget the Get Together social tonight (Friday). A pleasant time is promised all who come, a church fellowship evening, music and light refreshments. Come and bring a neighbor with you.

SANFORD 27; ORLANDO 20

Sanford Basket Ball team beat the Orlando Military Co. team last Friday night on the home floor. It was a fast game from start to finish. This is the team that beat Sanford on the Orlando floor by a score of 29 to 26 but Sanford turned the tables on them in good form. The team work of the Sanford boys, which is considered as good as any in the state fooled the Orlando players who were much larger men. A large crowd witnessed the game and were satisfied in seeing the home team win.

Sanford plays Orlando tonight on the Orlando floor, a tight game is expected and Sanford boys hope to put another victory in their column.

James Mitchell has bought a gasoline launch, row boat and other equipment for his fishing business.

PAOLA POINTS

A. V. McGuinn is back again, after a pleasant summer spent in Canada and his summer home at Demorest, Georgia.

Miss Ruby Smith is teaching school at Blake, near Daytona.

Roy Garwood is attending school in Sanford, this term.

Weather still continues warm and rainy, with little hint of autumn as yet. Mocking birds are nesting again and fill the air with their music all day, and are even sometimes heard at night when it is moon light.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Bona had an exciting and dangerous experience at Rand's Siding on their way home from Sanford last Saturday. They had driven across the main line, and were approaching the siding, when their horse became frightened at a noisy engine nearby, and was soon unmanageable, jumping into the ditch and wrecking things generally. The fireman on the engine ran to the rescue and caught the struggling horse before he had completely demolished things. Mr. Hicks and the ladies were all more or less painfully injured, but it is thought not seriously. The dangers of this railroad crossing have been mentioned before, and it is only a question of time when lives will be lost there. The tracks are close together, the ditches on either side, and weeds and bushes high enough to obstruct the view of the tracks on the west side. The railroad company should do something to safeguard traffic, and the authorities, whoever they may be, of county or city, should see that they do it.

TRY TO RATTLE COVELESKIE

New York Highlanders Make Persistent Efforts to Excite Big Pole by Discordant Singing.

Players throughout the American league live under the impression that Harry Coveleskie, the Tigers' south-paw, can be rattled by the persistent whistling, singing or playing of "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

At different times this season opposing teams have tried to make the big Pole slip by following up this practice. They have yet to succeed, but ball players are persistent individuals.

New York's Highlanders started the tune when Coveleskie was pitching a recent game in Detroit.

All through the first inning they whistled and sang and stamped their feet in accompaniment. A double play pulled Coveleskie out of a hole in the first period and in the second the Highlanders renewed their efforts.

Through the second inning and into the third they went.

Coveleskie, intent on pitching, paid no heed.

But behind the bat there was one person who possessed nerves that were not attuned to such music. This was Billy Evans. The league's best umpire finally lost his smile, and, turning to the New York bench, he bawled:

"Cut that out, you fellows. What d'ya think this is—a county fair?"

Rule Does Not Hold.

The first decision under the ruling of President Johnson that the provision calling runners out at third when touched by a coacher does not hold if the ball is knocked out of the park came in a recent Athletic Tiger series at Philadelphia.

After slugging the sphere out of the lot, which is not a rare thing for Sam Crawford to do, Moriarty, who happened to be coaching at third stepped over and congratulated Sam with a hearty hand-shake, whereupon the champions set up the claim that the batter, under the rule that a coacher must not touch the base runner, was out. Umpire Chill overruled the contention, holding that the ball had been batted out of the field and therefore was out of play.

Working Out Sound Magic.
 M. Dosoe has invented a method for recording radio-telegrams. He first substitutes for the telephone receiver of wireless telegraphy a sound amplifier, and then connects this with the "receiver" of a Poulsen telegraph. In this manner the microphone current, serving to convey the reinforced sound, arrives, with all its variations, to a bobbin of fine wire in the center of which is a pen writing on the steel plate, which has the property, when it is afterward passed under the iron pen which wrote it, of provoking a repetition of the original signals in the connecting telephones.

Yes. We would like to sell all of our papers every week.

After very strenuous efforts on the part of John Trice to keep Florida wet he seems to have given it up as a bad job and quit. The returns from Kentucky and Virginia must have given John and Pleas Holt some bad jolts.

We never can tell when our confidence in an esteemed friend is going to be rudely shattered by some unexpected disclosure of his wrongdoing. Here is "Bob" Holly, for instance—he has actually been writing near-poetry for a Buffalo paper.—Tampa Tribune.

Headline in daily papers states that the allies are surprised at the audacity of the Germans. That same kind of audacity has conquered the world before and if the Germans keep up their gait they will conquer the allies yet.

Every one in Seminole county should send a copy of The Herald to some friend out of the state on October 17th. A free copy will be furnished you by the management. You will only need to furnish the stamped wrapper.

Upon behalf of the Lake Region Press Association the editor of The Herald wishes to thank the press of Orlando, the Board of Trade, the cigar manufacturers and the people in general who made the stay of the association so pleasant in that city on Wednesday.

While we are on a "Buy a Bale" business would it not be a good thing to buy a box of oranges, or a crate of lettuce and celery, or a home in Sanford, or a membership in the Commercial Club, or a new tourist hotel or any of the divers and numerous enterprises in which we are engaged. Buy a Herald.

Orange county has subscribed for three thousand copies of the county papers. It would be well for Seminole to at least take one thousand copies of the Sanford Herald. There is no better form of advertising in the world and this has been proved at Kissimmee and other places.

Has anybody seen anything of Clarence Woods of the Eustis Lake Region? He went to Kentucky several weeks ago and nothing has been heard of him since. Meantime there is no telling what has happened to his sand oil road and it must be suffering terribly with ingrown nails and whickers by this time.

The Jacksonville Metropolis says to plant a hen which is not bad advice when one considers the present price of hen fruit. Eggs stay around 30 cent mark all summer and get beyond it in the winter and the man in Florida who plants hens is much better off than the man who plants fancy stuff and falls down on marketing same. Plant a hen should appeal to more of the Florida farmers, also plant a pig and a cow.

Congratulations to the Orlando Reporter-Star that now comes out in seven column eight pages and a metropolitan air. Five hundred homeseekers arrived in Florida this week and they will be coming in this ratio all the winter. Sanford is receiving them and will continue to receive them, for Sanford offers them as much and more than most sections. Let every citizen organize himself into a committee of one to see that the stranger within our gates is made to feel at home.

Friday, October 17th has been designated by the president of the Florida Press Association as Florida Newspaper Day and on that day Florida newspapers will be sent out of the state by the thousands to parties who might be interested in knowing what a paradise we have here. There is really no necessity of a special day to send The Herald out as every issue is a boost edition to the state, but on the special day more interest is given to the papers and the results will bear out the claim of the newspaper men that newspapers are the best advertising mediums and money for advertising the state should be spent with the papers that have been and are now doing the great work of advertising the resources of Florida.

VEGETABLE PROSPECT

Another season for the growing and shipping of Florida vegetables is almost upon us. Already the tender plants have been nursed through the infant stage and have been set in the fields. Soon the succulent vegetables that have made Sanford famous will be going northward and as to whether the good prices will be coming back to us or not depends largely upon the growers themselves.

Every school boy knows that the money markets of the world are tight. That the north is feeling the stringency more than Florida and that here where cotton is but little known we do not feel the heavy hand of war. Our vegetables will find a market in the north the same as heretofore but the prices may not be so good and it will be up to the growers themselves to carefully feel the pulse of the trade and start the figure. Don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg by stuffing the vegetables down her throat but the start should be made with a full knowledge of the conditions governing the markets and the growers should be satisfied with a reasonable profit in the beginning. It is much better to get an ordinary price in the start and lead up to a better figure at the lag end of the season than to start with a big price and fall down before the season is ended.

The Herald will keep in closer touch with the markets this year than ever before. We want to give our readers especially the grower readers the truth about conditions and will arrange for letters from the northern markets that will give a truthful statement of the conditions prevailing and sound advice to the growers about their packs and their products. The fortunes of the business men of Sanford are identical and in this the Herald shares. We will endeavor to give to the best of our ability the actual conditions and will protect not only the interests of the shipper but also of the buyers. This old life is a game of give and take and this rule holds good even in the growing and shipping of vegetables. The man on the other end should be protected by the grower just as the grower should be protected by the buyer. Each depends upon the other for a square deal and each should see that a square deal is given.

In the past there have been some shady transactions on each end and all of this should be eliminated. The buyer should contract for the stuff and pay the guaranteed price. The grower should put up the pack that he has guaranteed and a good price is bound to be the result.

This advice should be heeded this season more than ever before, taking the present conditions of the money market into consideration and it is to be hoped that the growers will get together on the subject and by starting the stuff right maintain a fair price through the season. The buyer will have harder lines this year than ever before on account of the stringency of the money market and the difficulties of borrowing money at a time when it is needed and the buyers should receive the consideration and the cooperation of the growers more than ever.

With this thought in mind let the season open and despite the war and other calamities the Sanford celery delta will not even feel the stringency. We have the goods and should be able to dispose of them.

Cure for Whooping Cough.

A gill of amber, half a gill of old Jamaica rum. Mix them together and rub the child's back and breast with it. Then put a piece of new flannel over breast and back. Do this night and morning and whenever the cough and is very troublesome. You will find that whooping cough will not last long.

THE LAKE REGION PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Lake Region Press Association was called to order at the San Juan Hotel in Orlando on Wednesday at 2 o'clock by President R. J. Holly. There were present Secretary C. E. Johnson, editor of the Kissimmee Journal, W. B. Harris, editor of the Kissimmee Gazette, C. E. Howard, editor of the Orlando Citizen, Josiah Ferris and Hugh Sparkman of the Orlando Sentinel, E. C. Walton and J. Hugh Reese of the Orlando Reporter-Star, Chris. O. Codrington, editor of the DeLand News and the guests were Mrs. Codrington, and Mr. and Mrs. Rowland of DeLand. On account of the busy season with the editors the attendance was not as large as usual, although the Lake Region comprises the counties of Volusia, Orange, Lake and Seminole and Volusia do not number very many editors and the meeting was a very successful and interesting one.

Many questions relating to the price of stock, labor, cost of subscriptions and advertising were discussed and much good will resulted from this getting together of the editors of this territory.

The Lake Region comprises the garden spot of the south and in the five counties all the fruits and vegetables, cattle and stock, hay and grain and all products that can be raised in Florida are grown and the five counties are probably richer in products of the soil than any other five counties of the state. The next meeting will be held in Sanford in January.

The newspapers of these counties will rank with those of any in the United States, north or south, and the newspaper men feel that the association will accomplish much for the craft in the years to come.

The editors and guests were dined at the San Juan hotel at one o'clock and being at the San Juan meant that they had a fine repast under the careful supervision of Harry Waters and his efficient staff. Editor Howard took charge of the party and saw to it that they lacked for nothing in the way of entertainment.

After the business meeting the entire party was taken over the city in the cars of Commissioner Johnson and Commissioner Clark Robinson and these gentlemen are not only good city commissioners but they know their Orlando and her needs and the work of the commission form of government is showing results in the better paving at cheaper rates and many other improvements. The editor of The Herald thought he knew something of Orlando being engaged in newspaper work in that city several years ago, but the new Orlando is some city and on every street buildings are going up and factories are tearing their heads toward the sky. The new Yoxell-Duckworth building, four stories in height and the roof garden on the fifth is a great addition to Orange avenue and puts Orlando in the big city class. Another big hotel is in contemplation in Orlando and already the many hotels of the city are filling up with winter visitors. Lake Eola has been beautified with a fine cement walk and flower beds around the shore line and Lake Lucerne is being bricked all around it. Many new palaces are being erected on Lake Lucerne and there is no end to the building and improvements going on in every part of Orlando. The Country Club having the finest golf course in the state is one of the points of interest and the fair grounds are being improved and lockers and bath rooms are being installed here for the benefit of the Birmingham ball club to winter in Orlando this season.

The Orlando Sentinel, the Reporter-Star and the Citizen are making improvements and expect to make their papers better than ever, if such a thing is possible and the hustling Board of Trade and County Commissioners think enough of the papers to take a thousand copies of each to send to northern prospects.

The visitor to Orlando is at once struck with the idea that every man in Orlando knows that he has a good town and knowing it never hesitates to let the stranger know it. Other cities have laid claim from time to time as being the most beautiful cities in the state but Orlando is the first and will always come first in civic improvements. The wide spreading oaks, the many lakes in the city limits, the Country Club, the good hotels and many fine stores and above all the boosting, energetic citizens who spend their money on their city all go to make Orlando one of the best and undoubtedly the most beautiful city in Florida.

It is always a pleasure for the editor of The Herald to visit Orlando, for despite our occasional differences there are friends in Orlando that will be friends forever and they have the dash and style and nerve that make the city go.

In Solon's Time.
During the time of Solon, the famous lawmaker, he secured the passage of a statute compelling every able-bodied adult man in the nation to give proof once a year that he was earning a decent living and was self-supporting. Somebody has written to us suggesting that this would not be a bad example for Uncle Sam to follow, since the class of those who have learned to live "gracefully in idleness" is constantly on the increase.—Christian Record.
Everyday Virtues.
An intrepid courage is at best but a holiday kind of virtue, to be seldom exercised, and never but in cases of necessity, wrote John Dryden. Affability, mildness, tenderness and a word which I would fain bring back to its original signification of virtue, I mean good nature, are of daily use, they are the bread of mankind and staff of life.

Put it on the Other Fellow.
"We should so lye," remarked the man on the ear, "that the other fellow will be to blame if anything goes wrong."

Hate the Cause of Baldness. Baldness is a matter of headgear. The doctors are fairly well agreed up on that. Men grow bald more frequently than women because of the hats they wear.

DAY OF BIG FIRST BASEMAN HAS PASSED

"Stuffy" McInnis, Initial Sacker of Athletics.

The day of the towering first baseman is past and gone, says Harry Davis of the champion Athletics. Harry continued, saying, "The big one who held down the initial sack in days gone by could do just two things, that of hitting the ball mighty hard on the nose when it was grooved, and catching a perfect throw. "Stuffy" McInnis has proved beyond doubt that a big fellow is rather in the way on first base in these days of fast, scientific baseball, providing the small fellow has the same requirements as that of McInnis. First basemen today are required to field, throw and run bases just like a fielder, and be able to hit the ball hard and often. "The old-time first sackers, such as Anson and Brouters, couldn't hold a job in the big league today. Comiskey alone of those early first sackers could field. "Claude Rossman was about the last of the old type. The Athletics learned through Ira Thomas, previously with Detroit, that Claude couldn't throw. Hence in Rossy's declining years the Athletics played to get the ball in his hands and then, well nothing could stop them on the base. "This was the slide on which Rossy went to the minors."

STARTLING RISE BY BRAVES

Boston Team in Short Period of Month and Half Jump From Bottom to Top of Ladder.

After a sensational spurt extending over a period of one month and a half the Boston Braves are in undisputed possession of first place in the race for the National league pennant. Stallings' youngsters were in eighth place when they opened the game of July 18, and by scoring a victory that day they jumped out of the cellar position, landing in seventh position. From that time on the Braves have accomplished wonders on the diamond, having won 31 of the last 38 contests played. On August 23 they reached even terms with the Giants for the lead, but fell back as far as third position, only to come again and pass McGraw's men. The complete record of the Braves since starting the sensational rise on July 18 follows:

Table with columns: Date, Position, Won, Lost, Pct. Rows list dates from July 18 to Sept. 2, showing the team's performance over time.

IS HONUS WAGNER SLIPPING?

Wonder Expressed as to Whether Veteran Shortstop Will Be Supplanted in Shakeup of Pirates.

The Pittsburgh Pirates have been a big disappointment this season. At the outset they looked like pennant winners. They secured a big lead in the early stages of the pennant fight and it looked as if they might make a runaway of the race. But all of a sudden something happened. The Pirates started to slide down the chute and they finally touched bottom. It is hard to tell what is the trouble with Clarke's team. One criticism is that there are too many veterans on it. Another year will likely see a big change in the makeup of the Pirates. New blood is needed and Clarke will have to supplant the veterans. Much wonder is expressed as to whether or not Hans Wagner will be among those to go. Honus has grown gray in the service of Barney Drayfus and the Pittsburgh team would not seem the same without the big shortstop. Honus can still play the game, but is not as fast as he was. He is hitting the ball for 281 this year, which is way below his usual mark.

886 Players in Union. Baseball Players' Fraternity numbers 886 players. The major league players pay $18 dues a year. Players in the AA leagues pay $10 and class A leagues pay $5 each year. Proportion has not been arranged for leagues of lower classification. The sliding scale of dues is based on the earning capacity of the players.

OWNERS NOT MAKING MONEY

Few Clubs Will Have Balance on Right Side of Ledger When the Present Campaign is Over.

Owners of ball clubs are not going to lay up a lot of money this year. Few of the clubs in the two major leagues will have much of a balance on the right side of the ledger when the present campaign is over, and so far as the Feds are concerned, their losses must be enormous. Conditions have not been for the best interests of the game this year. There has been a lack of interest from the outset. The public did not take kindly to the talk of players jumping and the promise which the mercenary end of the sport has been given. The threatened war with Mexico also had its effect, and the present European mixup also helps to detract from the sport. Because of the one-sided contest in the American league race the organization has been particularly hard hit. The present race in the National probably will save several clubs in that league from suffering losses.

VETERAN HAS NO GRIEVANCE

Rhoddy Wallace, Old-Time St. Louis Shortstop, is Perfectly Satisfied With Old Contract.

Rhoddy Wallace, the infielder who has been with the Browns ever since 1902, has refused to take a new style contract. Colonel Hedges offered to give him one with the ten-day clause, but Rhoddy said the old form contract was good enough for him.

Reulbach Unpopular. Ed Reulbach has become extremely unpopular with the Brooklyn fans because he is not devoting his time and energy to winning ball games for the Dodgers, although he has been treated very liberally by the Brooklyn club.

Cards to Trade Pardus. From St. Louis comes a report that Hub Pardus, recently secured in a trade with the Boston Braves, is not to remain long with the Cardinals. The story has been slated to take part in another trade which will land him in New York.

NOTES of the DIAMOND

Stallings rules the Braves, but there's no stalling in that gang these days.

We have read but few stories lately entitled "Twenty thousand fans saw the game."

Muggsy McGraw calls Ray Schalk, White Sox catcher, the greatest little backstop in the world.

Bresnahan is being offered the job of Cub manager for next year by many of the eastern writers again.

They say Nap Lajoie will finish right in the American league. Others say he is already finished.

The Cleveland Naps have bought Pitcher Harstad from the Vancouver club of the Northwestern league.

Max Carey of the Pittsburgh outfield is so fast getting down to first that few players even try to double him up.

The Dodgers have a good third sacker in Getz. The youngster is a brilliant fielder and can wallop the pill.

Rumor has it that when the Brooklyn Federals make their next trip West they will be found playing Sunday ball.

Emporia, a new member of the Kansas State league this season, was successful in winning the championship pennant.

Scott, the young shortstop of the Red Sox, has developed so fast this year that Helms Wagner is nothing but a sub now.

Dave Fultz, president of the Baseball Players' Fraternity, has succeeded in organizing the players of the Western league.

It is reported on good authority the Feds have no desire to steal Frank Chance from the Yankees and assume that $25,000 contract.

Grover Loundermilk, the tall pitcher the Browns secured from the Louisville Colonels, is the same hurler the Cubs had two seasons ago.

O'Mara, Brooklyn's young infielder, is playing a corking good game for the Superbas. He is a classy performer in the field and is hitting at a .300 clip.

The scout who dug up Pezold and Wambagans must have had a difficult time getting his courage up to the point of signing the men, because the names do not look like those of ball players.

Capt. George McBride of the Washington team has signed one of the new contracts with no ten day clause, just to prove to the world that he is not one of the 11 major league players that Gilmora says will jump to the Feds next spring.

The Junior League is undertaking this work with only one aim in view—A MORE BEAUTIFUL SANFORD.

ent planting are:

Hibiscus—including the beautiful Peach-blow, at $1.50 per dozen, 15c per plant.

Palms, shrubs of various kind and ferns. Among the latter it may be well to mention the handsome Cibotium Barometz, which grows so well in Sanford, and is seen in such beauty at the home of Mr. H. R. Stevens. These may be bought, very strong plants at 25c each or $2.50 per dozen.

It is hoped that the Civic League may have a very large response to their first venture in plants.

A GOOD MEETING OF THE COMMERCIAL CLUB HELD

MEMBERS DESIROUS OF GIVING SMOKER THIS MONTH

The Sanford Commercial Club held a most interesting meeting last Friday night in the city hall that was well attended. President Lake called the meeting to order but as the secretary was absent the minutes of the last meeting could not be read, although the President remembered enough of the proceedings to call for reports of the various committees. It was discovered that all of them have been on the job and many new members have paid their dues and the finance committee will soon have a comfortable sum on hand for the winter's work. The up town ticket office will be established as much for an information bureau as for the sale of tickets and will be a great convenience for the tourists. A committee was named for investigating the laxity of the Southern Express Company, in closing their up town office during the business hours and it was also decided to ask them to call for packages to take to the office at the depot as they have not been doing this. All other cities have this convenience and the express company should do this in Sanford as well.

A committee was also appointed to make preliminary arrangements for a smoker the same to occur some time during the month and being a general get together in which the citizens of Sanford will be invited and a general resume of the work of the club be given and also an outline of the work to be accomplished during the year. On account of the work that has devolved upon Tax Assessor Bates he will be obliged to give up the position of secretary of the club and at the next meeting a new secretary will probably be elected to fill out the unexpired term. The next meeting will be held in the city hall on Friday night, Oct. 23rd and a full attendance is desired. The club is constantly growing and every citizen of Sanford who has the good of the city at heart should enroll and become an active member.

This program was enjoyed by all present. At the close of our meeting our pastor presented the union with a A 1 pennant and was accepted by our president and she explained in a few well chosen words what we had done to win this pennant, of which our union is quite proud. Our meeting will be held every Sunday evening at 6:30 in the church. We were certainly pleased to have so many visitors and again extend to all a cordial invitation to attend with us.

Next Sunday evening the program will be rendered by Group No. 3, Miss Edith Stewart Captain.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, is going to send a war vessel to Europe to be filled with Christmas presents for the little "kiddies" on the other side. This will make the little ones love "Uncle Sam" and we all ought to join in that love. "If ye do it unto one of these little ones you do it unto me."

PRESIDENT WILSON DECLARED GREAT PEACE MAKER

GLOWING TRIBUTE PAID TO CHIEF BY SPEAKER CLARK

Atlantic City, Oct. 13.—Tribute to President Wilson as peace-maker of a fervent hope that the war in Europe might soon end marked the first speech of Speaker Champ Clark in the fall campaign delivered here tonight in advocacy of the renomination of Representative J. Thompson Baker.

"Perhaps—who knows," said the Speaker, "when President Wilson has finished his course as Chief Magistrate of this mighty Republic and when historians come to assign him his place in history, they will pass over the great domestic measures of his Administration such as a tariff revision, currency legislation, etc., and declare that his efforts to keep the United States out of war constitute his clearest title to the gratitude of his country."

"President Wilson expressed with great felicity the sentiments of all true Americans when he tendered his kindly offices to the belligerent powers in order to stop the Titanic struggle across the seas," said the Speaker. "For fortunate in his own of advantage happy in the confidence of a powerful people, let us hope that he will succeed in his philanthropic endeavor and that upon him will rest the blessing vouchsafed to the peace-makers of the Roman on the Mount."

The Speaker reviewed the work of the Democratic Administration by giving "We have put upon the statute books in one session of Congress more laws than in any other session of the Republic since the first Congress."

Kissimmee Kissimmee

Kissimmee entertained the October meeting of the South Florida Press Association on last Friday and the representative of The Herald who attended the meeting returned with the assurance that the next meeting of the Association will be held in Kissimmee.

Several of the speakers of the city from the railroad a number of times we some way had gained the impression that it was nothing more than a nice little village, but what was our surprise to find a modern, metropolitan little place with up to date stores and streets and handsome residences and as fine a class of people as it is possible to meet.

We were driven to St. Cloud during a lull in our session and there we found a little city only four years old which for its age is a marvel, and furthermore is a live one. We were entertained in St. Cloud by the ladies (God bless 'em) who were all members of the City Improvement Association. In fact, it is whispered confidentially that the ladies are the whole thing in St. Cloud and that the men simply let them run it. Whether this is the case or not it is certain that the job of running the town is well done.

Florida holds many surprises in the matter of beautiful little cities, but certain it is that Ocala county comes in for her share.

WAR SUMMARY

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN EUROPE'S WAR—FOOD IS SCARCE IN BELGIUM

The Hague, By Way of London, Oct. 12.—The Belgian Legation asserts that conditions in Brussels are alarming owing to a scarcity of food and other supplies. During the siege of Antwerp, it is said, no Belgians were allowed to leave Brussels unless they had special passports.

The number of Belgians in Holland is estimated at close to half a million. Holland probably will not be able to meet indefinitely the problem of feeding them.

It is stated that the German soldiers are active in mastering the fire in Antwerp which are almost subdued. The Germans agreed in the terms of capitulation not to disarm the civic guard or make prisoners of males between the ages of eighteen and thirty years. It is rumored, says another dispatch, that Antwerp will be obliged to pay a large indemnity.

Official war news was brief today, but war office statements are not needed to make plain that momentous results hang on the fortunes of the desperate battles being waged at vital points on that line that stretches from Switzerland through northern France to cover Switzerland through northern France to within 25 miles of the Straits of Dover.

The heaviest fighting is on the line of Lassigny and Lens. This morning's official report from Paris says the allies repulsed German attacks between Arras and the Oise and that cavalry engagements took place in the region of La Bassée, Estaires and Hazebrouck.

Special attention is directed to the front. There have assembled the greater part of the Belgian army, about two-thirds of the British forces that escaped from Arras, and it is believed Germany is preparing forward to attack the city hoping to capture and use the port in her operations against England.

A bitter struggle to keep the Germans from the coast is inevitable. Today's reports indicate that the German cavalry advance is less than thirteen miles from Ostend.

The strength of the allies at Ostend is not known. It is possible that British reinforcements which were unable to reach Antwerp in time to help in the defense of that city are now in Ostend.

Still less is known of the situation in the eastern theater of the war. Petrograd is silent on recent developments. The Russian war office explains this silence on the grounds of strategy. Vienna claims the Prussian attack on Przemyśl, the strongest fortress in Austria Galicia has failed. Berlin asserts that the Russian on the east Prussian frontier has been checked while the Germans are steadily working eastward in Russian Poland.

Neutral sources report that cholera is spreading in Austria.

German armies dropped bombs in Paris this morning. The missiles struck in the yards of the Northern railway station but failed to explode.

It is stated that the front of the Allies in the good old state of Alabama, an allowance of 30 cents a day for feeding prisoners, permits a crop of eighteen hundred quarts. This would amount to be a considerable amount of food.

The city of Sanford is a small town, but it is growing rapidly. It is a beautiful city and is well situated for business.

REGULATE THE SHIPPING OF CONTRABANDS

COTTON TO BE CARRIED ON ALL NEUTRAL VESSELS

Washington, Oct. 13.—Continuing its policy of forging out a complete code for regulation of shipments of ammunition products, not only to neutral but the belligerent countries, the state department today announced a decision relating to exports of cotton seed oil. The decision marks a distinct advance in the exemption of semi contraband goods from seizure when carried in American bottoms.

This declaration in effect is that American trade in cotton seed oil in neutral bottoms is not subject to seizure or detention, not only when destined for neutral countries, but when shipped to Germany, if not intended for military uses. The British Government has assented to so much of the proposition as relates to shipments to Holland of neutral goods, such as food stuffs which The Netherlands Government has embargoed for exportation.

The solution's opinion goes beyond the mere matter of cotton seed oil and lays down the principle that cotton is not contraband and is not subject to seizure even when shipped to a belligerent country, providing it is on American or other neutral ships and therefore there is no impediment to the shipment of American cotton to Hamburg consigned to German shippers.

Stole a Car

Two young men were caught here early Monday morning by Officer Hugh Howard upon 5th street, near from Orlando. The men had been working in an Orlando hotel and decided to skip to Chicago and not wishing to walk stole the hotel proprietor's car and came this way. Officer Howard on the look out for them caught them on the Orlando Sanford road and made them climb from the car. They were taken back to Orlando by the Orange county deputy and will face the court there. They had a bull dog revolver on the front seat when arrested by Officer Howard but promptly put it away and were taken to the jail. The officer found upon their person a bunch of keys, the wheel and ran the car down to the city bastille where they were put on ice waiting for the Orlando officials.

Woman's Club Notice

Fine Sweet Potatoes

While the editor was absent from the office on Saturday Alfred King, who has a fine place on the west side brought in some fine sweet potatoes and as we did not see him we will thank him publicly for the gift. They were great and if we had sufficient to last the winter would not particularly care about the high cost of living.

The educational authorities of Miami have taken another step in advance and have decided that they will require the school children to be inspected as to their physical condition. The Dade County Medical Association has been asked to recommend a plan by which this can be done most satisfactorily, and if the suggestions of the physicians prove practicable they will be carried into effect. The county superintendent was authorized by the county board at its last meeting to order all of the appliances necessary to establishing the departments of manual training and domestic science in the Coconut Grove school. Accommodations will be provided for sixteen girls and the same number of boys.

CONGRESS WILL ADJOURN THIS WEEK SURE

WAR REVENUE NOW READY FOR SENATE'S ACTION

Washington, Oct. 13.—Administration leaders in Congress are making every possible effort to wind up the long session by next Saturday night, with the assurance from the President that it will be unnecessary to return until the first Monday in December.

While no new legislation is to be permitted, there is no certainty, however, that action on the war revenue bill can be completed within the week. When it has passed the Senate, a conference will be necessary, and the prospect is that it will be October 20 before Congress can adjourn.

"We will expedite the bill in the Senate as much as possible," said Senator Simmons, Chairman of the Finance Committee. "Democrats are not disposed to change the measure as it came from the caucus. We all realize that war revenue is necessary and we believe the bill is the best that can be devised at this time."

Republican Senators are not inclined to prolong debate. Several minority leaders have declared they would help bring about early adjournment as soon as assurances were given of a definite purpose to end the session without a recess.

Such is now the Administration program.

In the House the bill to pave the way for ultimate Philippine independence probably will be passed within a day or two. Following that the House will mark time awaiting Senate action on the war revenue measure. Some Democratic members will continue their agitation for legislation to benefit the cotton situation.

Douglass in Orlando

Mr. E. A. Douglass of Sanford is spending the day in Orlando, looking after his working force who are getting out the new set of abstract books for Seminole county.

"We furnish the individual with an abstract a document that requires no attorney to pass upon it, as the transfers, etc.," said Mr. Douglass and it will require two years to complete the work of making the entire transcript of Orange county. In the mean time we are furnishing abstracts to our customers."

Mr. Douglass is the clerk of Seminole county and is quite enthusiastic over the work which he and his company have inaugurated. Reporter Star.

The Tampa Times says that Luke McLuke is running to seed when he shoots off such an old chestnut as the following: "Before marriage he thinks she is the dearest girl in the world; after marriage, when the bills come in, he knows it." We thought that, ancient as it is, one of the best things Luke McLuke has given us.

A man up in Maine was shot the other day because the gunner took him for a moose. Didn't know that the feeling up there was so intense against that party as to cause the taking of such desperate steps, although the vote the other day was pretty heavy.

THE BRICK ROADS INJUNCTION

SIGNERS OF PETITION FOR INJUNCTION MAKE REPLY TO TIMES-UNION ARTICLE

It is better to keep home affairs quiet and settle our differences among ourselves. With this idea in view the Herald has not allowed the road injunction space but since the articles have appeared in the Times-Union, one of which was copied in the Herald the other side of the controversy are entitled to a reply which appears below over the signature of the original signers of the injunction. The affair has been an unfortunate one and will be settled in a few weeks in the supreme court. Meantime no more articles on the question will be published and the matter has only been taken up so far to dispel the doubts in the minds of some of our northern subscribers who were afraid the roads will not be finished. For their benefit we wish to say that the injunction will soon be settled and the roads built, as far as the money will allow them to be built. Here is the statement signed by the petitioners, whose names appear below (Editor Herald):

The petitioners for the "Brick Roads Injunction," realizing that this was a matter of law and justice, and having submitted the case to the courts, have avoided any effort to influence the courts or even bias public opinion by trying the case on the street corners, or through the columns of the newspapers. For nearly a year they have submitted to adverse criticism of their position in the matter without resentment or reply. The petitioners for the injunction are: S. O. Chase, H. H. Chappell, D. R. Brisson, L. A. Brumley, Joe Cameron, G. E. Smith, W. A. Ginn, T. J. Hawkins, Bert Fish, Cliff Bull and J. S. Whetner.

Recently there seems to be an effort to make one of our number responsible for what has been done by a dozen and a spirit of fairness compels us to submit to the public a brief statement of the facts in the case: At the October, 1912, meeting of the board of county commissioners of Orange county a petition was presented asking that the roads voted for in the election establishing a road district in and around Sanford be changed to take in certain roads not voted for in the election, and materially changing the specifications of others. In the absence of the county attorney, Hon. W. L. Palmer, the petition was granted without an opportunity for hearing from any who might oppose the change. Immediately some of the petitioners for injunction became alarmed, believing that it would jeopardize the validity of the bond issue and make it impossible to levy and collect taxes should any tax payer, and especially a non-resident, see fit to contest the matter, and furthermore believing the change unwarranted. We therefore took counsel in the matter and Mr. T. E. Wilson of Sanford, who drew the original petition for the road district was absent on his vacation north, a transcript of the proceedings had was sent him for advice, the following is his reply: "Your letter of the 19th inst. enclosing resolutions passed by the city council of Sanford, Fla., and copy of minutes of the county commissioners both referring to change of route advertised and voted for in re bond issue of Special Road District No. 1," duly received. Neither the county commissioners nor the city council have any authority to change the route or routes in any way which were advertised and voted and all the funds realized on the sale of bonds are to be applied to the routes advertised and voted for and to none others. It would be a misapplication of funds for which the trustees would be liable if they applied any portion of the funds arising from the sale of the bonds to the payment of any other road or roads than those set forth in the (Continued On Page 5)
