Youthful Suspect Held In Service Station B-E

Burglars were active again last night in the county with two reported break-ins at Seminole Junior College and Elections Hearing Aid Company.

An entry to the junior college luncheon resulted in the opening of eight vending machines and a change maker and the loss of $10.

Efforts by the intruders to enter the office safe in the college administrative building failed, according to a report from George Abbey, investigator.

Machines were opened by a wrecking bar but because the vending machines had been emptied earlier by a server, there was only a $10 total in all the machines.

An old-type metal safe failed to open for the burglars who used tools in an effort to pry open the security mechanism.

Meanwhile, another break-in occurred at a Fern Park hearing aid company, when the rear door of the establishment was pried open.

Dputies Jay Lemon and George Abbey investigated the incident which resulted in the opening of a safe in the firm office located on Atlantic Boulevard, but no report has been made as yet on amount of loss, if any.

Sanford Detective William Lykens has solved the Feb. 12 entry of a Texaco Service Station at 25th Street and arrested Charles T. Copeland, 20, of 2402 Key Avenue, Sanford, on a breaking and entering charge.

Recovered property belonging to the station were an axle spacer, two foot pegs, headlights, a front wheel assembly with tire and a shock absorber.

Murder Suspect Is Free On Bond

A 31-year-old Longwood auto mechanic accused of murder, second degree, in the death of his 25-year-old stepdaughter, was bonded out of Seminole County Jail last night by his 23-year-old wife and mother of the dead child.

Ronald Frank Powers was freed at approximately 8 p.m. after Charles Powers posted $10,000 bond for the man charged by the state in the beating death of Lana Bennett, Mrs. Powers' daughter by a previous marriage to George Bennett, now stationed with the Air Force in Oklahoma City.

Powers spent approximately three weeks behind bars and was arrested three days before a County Grand Jury indicted Powers and the mother on second degree murder charges for the death of the little blonde child.

Powers indicated to authorities he planned to return to work as an auto mechanic in Longwood.

Charles Powers, his wife and mother of the murdered child, stomach injuries.

She had been hospitalized for more than two months on five other occasions for injuries including a broken arm and leg. She died Feb. 6 at Orange Memorial Hospital two days after her mother had admitted her.

Bowers Sentenced To Life

Carl Lee Bowers, 34, who disrupted court proceedings with a riotous outburst on Tuesday, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday by Circuit Court Judge E. Thom Rumberger. The jury returned a verdict of guilty of first degree murder and recommended mercy.

Bowers was charged with the murder of his common law wife Beryllian Bess Bowers, 32, on Halloween night. Prosecution witnesses testified to hearing gun shots and seeing Bowers drag the woman from the house and stomp her in the street.

The victim's face was said to be a "bloody mess." The incident occurred at the defendant's mother's home off Tyson Street, Oviedo.

Bowers testified that he could not remember shooting and stomping his estranged wife and that he "loved her." A psychiatric examination of Bowers had been ordered by Judge Rumberger, and two Orlando psychiatrists testified, out of their opinion Bowers was sane at the time he shot his wife and at the time of the trial.

The defendant's mother, Mrs. Bessie Bowers, testified that she had been in her home and his wife were in a back bedroom. She stated that room with a neighbor, who was visiting, and saw the victim lying on the floor with blood on her face. Bowers was standing by with a gun in his hand, his mother testified, after which she and the neighbor ran, screaming, from the house into the street.

Dorothy Montgomery, the victim's sister, testified that she saw Bowers fire two shots point blank at the woman's head. Mrs. Montgomery then fled from the house and called for help.

SPECIAL AWARD

COLONEL JAMES H. DYSON, of Sanford, admiring his recently received award from the National Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. Colonel Dyson was instrumental in helping the city of Gadsden, Alabama build a refugee city in Vietnam.

Officer Wins Honor Medal

MADDILL APR. Fla. — Col. James H. Dyson, USA, of Sanford, and his wife, the former Margaret Wegner, were guests of the National Freedom Foundation at the awards ceremony recently held at Valley Forge, Pa.

Colonel Dyson was commander of the 23rd Artillery Group stationed at Phu Loi, 55 miles northwest of Saigon, Republic of Vietnam, when the group was adopted by the city of Gadsden, Ala., in January 1966.

Colonel Dyson's mother, Mrs. W. R. Dyson, lives at 1201 Magnolia Ave., Sanford.

The city of Gadsden and the 23rd Artillery Group were presented the National Freedom Foundation George Washington Honor Medal, jointly for their efforts in sponsoring and helping Vietnamese refugees build the new village—Gadsden, Vietnam.

In the early days of the adoption, Colonel Dyson received a letter from the Mayor of Gadsden, Lesley L. Gilliland, asking what the people of Gadsden could do for the men of the 23rd. Colonel Dyson's reply read in part:

"You ask what could be done to help us. Other than your moral and spiritual backing and support, there is not a great deal in the way of material support that we need.

"We are pretty well supplied with the necessities and practical comforts. It is my feeling that one of the greatest opportunities lie in the field of helping us help the Vietnamese people.

"As you know there are thousands of homeless families and refugees who have left the Viet Cong tyranny and have sought safe haven in and around the Saigon area.

"The government of Vietnam and various United States agencies are making a valiant effort to resettle these people into hamlets where they can be reasonably safe and re-establish their homes and earn a living.

"In this regard we are investigating the possibility of asking the people of Gadsden to resettle these people by helping them to help themselves..."

"Our preliminary investigation indicates there is a distinct possibility of such an opportunity being available, the city of Gadsden could help to provide homes, churches, a school and some forms of industry — such as a few hand-operated brick or block-making machines or other basic tools... to assist them not only in building for themselves but also as a means of income.

"I am told that a budget of about $20,000 a year would do the trick."

Street Dance For Teens

Downtown Sanford "Go Merchants" last night, at their first general membership meeting of the fiscal year voted to sponsor a "teen street dance" Saturday night, May 1st on Magnolia Avenue.

The dance to be held in conjunction with their annual "Side-walk Sale" will feature a top local rock group "The Chaparels." Arrangements for the event will be made and coordinated by radio station WFLR.

Mrs. Vivian Sweeney reported that arrangements are well underway by area civic and charitable organizations to reserve space on downtown sidewalks for the two day sale.

Merchants were also encouraged by President Sid Waldman to promote and place bargains tables on the sidewalks both Thursday and Friday, April 30th and May 1st, for the sale.

In other business, the "Go Sanford" group approved abandoning the yearly membership drive by a membership committee, in favor of a continuing drive throughout the year. In the form of a "neighborhood membership committee" each member will take the responsibility of soliciting his members.

The next general meeting is scheduled to be held on Thursday, April 16th at location to be determined later.

Police Complex Site Is Sought

City Commissioner Gordon Meyer has inquired of the Sanford Industrial Commission (SIC) about leasing a Sanford Airport building to the city for use as a police security-court complex.

Meyer attended this morning's SIC meeting and questioned the industrial seeking arm of the city concerning its reaction toward using Building 310 for the municipal court police security now being sought by the city.

Pointing out the savings to the taxpayers of leasing the operations in an existing but renovated structure, which is owned by the city through an arrangement with the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), Meyer said moving the police operations to the airport would place it in a "less offensive" area than having it remain downtown in some form after city decides what route to take in acquiring a new city hall and police security operation.

Mayor W. Lawrence Swafford agreed, and suggested that the council take the matter under immediate advisement, with initiation of a sign control ordinance.

Council has taken under consideration fire department in the municipality with regard to insurance. Swafford stated that the city would have to offer "poorer service in order to get better rates and that better protection was offered now.

The mayor contended that the South-Eastern Underwriters Association had recommended purchase of a new fire truck by the city which would cost $30,000. Swafford stated "all of the money is in the company; the people have no chance." He continued that "companies are flocking to Florida, thinking they've got it made here, but they might just be wrong... the people won't take it." The mayor concluded that "we must save the people money or forget the fire department... we might have to go with volunteers."

Mail Strike

The mail clerk's strike at New York City and environs (detailed story on page 3A) reached into Sanford today, when a Postmaster Cecile Heard said she received instructions not to accept mail addressed to 11 area cities.

Until further notice mail of all descriptions will not be accepted at Sanford and other postoffices for delivery at New York City, Bronx, Brooklyn, Far Rockaway, Jamaica, Long Island City, Station Island, Flushing, Mineda, Hicksville and River Head.

Mail addressed to those points and deposited will be stored at Orlando for delivery at some future date.

Lake Orienta Flooding Problem May Be Solved

BELTONE OF SANFORD

407 E. 1st 322-0714

By MARION BETHEA
The controversy which erupted over flooding at Lake Orienta in Altamonte Springs may find resolution in the future with delineation of flood plain zoning in the county.

County Engineer William Bush, Zoning Director Robert Brown and County Attorney Harold Johnson have reviewed various aspects of the problem, consulting the U. S. Geological Service, aerial photographs and data from previous years in which there was a flooding problem.

Bush suggested several restrictive practices with regard to flood plain zoning such as an issuance of building permits in areas which are less than three feet higher than the adjacent flood plain, the five-foot flood plain area established by the county commission and the county engineer utilizing services of historical records and U. S. Geological data.

Bush stated that he had prepared trial analysis sheets on known flood plain districts, and that there were 34 lakes encompassed. Among these are Jakes Jessel, Monroe, Barney, Crystal, Bear, Orienta and Prairie. Johnson advised that the county had the authority to initiate zoning in these areas.

County Commissioner Greg Drummond has sounded a note of caution in that the county may only pursue the issue with regard to past experience and cannot predict what the future holds. Drummond continued that the past must be the criteria for zoning and allowed that the fact that most of the information which has been disseminated has been based on flooding conditions in 1950. He further mentioned C.R.A.'s report stating that the flood plain may rise in this area, with no one being able to predict the future developments. Bush suggested that the zoning classification be created to apply to these flood plain areas such as B-1 or A-1, based on a variable engineering data. Bush also mentioned that the matter with regard to legal terminology, assisted by Brown and Bush.

Brown speculated that the matter will be two months of study, after which it will be advertised for public hearing. Entire plans to complete the flood plain zoning is estimated at 3-4 months. Brown advised that currently inspectors are referring building permits in these flood plain areas back to the County Planning and Zoning Board, to which Drummond

County Amenable To Expansion

Although County Commission Chairman John Alexander is amenable to expansion of Big Tree Park, with the possible acquisition of an additional 80 acres from the Bloom estate, he alluded to the age-old problem of "no funds available."

Alexander continued that the county recreational and advisory committee has stated that they would rather deal with a comprehensive park program than with "spurts." The chairman said that funding of the park would have to come from a bond issue with a referendum of the people and that he would like that the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce would work with the county commission toward a park bond issue. Alexander added that he feels that the most imperative need in the county with regard to funding is the juvenile detention home and mental health facilities.

Commissioner Greg Drummond advised that the exceptional offer of the 80 acre from the Bloom Estate may not remain available and suggested that William Beck, who made the presentation to the commission, study HUD forms with respect to obtaining a grant under its land use program.

Alexander advised Beck to contact the Parks and Recreation Advisory Committee to review the matter. Beck will also contact the Bloom Estate with regard to price and also the adjacent property owners with regard to sale of acreage.

Beck was admonished by Alexander that only the county was in a position to negotiate the matter, but that Beck could "explore all possibilities." Beck is to report his findings to the commission.

U. S. Sharing Plan Believed 'Dead'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Withholding of money from schools which do not meet federal requirements has caused Florida congressmen to cast doubt on the "no strings attached" policy in a government revenue sharing proposal.

The congressional delegation heard the Nixon Administration's proposal explained by assistant secretary of the Treasury, Murray Weidenbaum, at a luncheon given Tuesday by John E. Mathews, Jr., president of the Florida Senate.

Mathews, a Democratic candidate for governor, said he now can tell the Legislature not to count on the proposal to share revenues with states, counties and cities.

Several congressmen pointed out that federal aid to schools was first given without strings, and expressed their controls might be placed on revenue sharing money.

Weidenbaum said that under the distribution formula Florida's share of the revenue share in fiscal year 1971 would have been $6,717,560, including $6,171,990 for the state government, $1,006,470 for the county governments and $1,464,540 for the city governments.

Weidenbaum gave this breakdown of money which, if the legislation is passed, would go to the most populous cities and counties in fiscal year 1971 and the projected estimate of the amount which would be available for them in fiscal year 1976.

Cities: Fort Lauderdale $52,482 and $1,328,078; Jacksonville $90,559 and $1,645,610; Miami $146,161 and $2,657,474; Orlando $40,128 and $729,607; St. Petersburg $135,323 and $2,466,427; Tampa $123,950 and $2,230,000; West Palm Beach $33,245 and $594,450 and all others $799,031 and $13,982,384.

Counties: Brevard $31,594 and $573,897; Broward $47,139 and $852,814; Duval $75,449 and $1,880,863; Duval $57,724 and $1,040,524; Hillsborough $128,635 and $2,238,026; Orange $40,239 and $738,180; Pinellas $50,461 and $917,842; Polk $20,139 and $348,247 and all others $13,590 and $5,701,625.

Probe Opened In Trooper's Death

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — A light aircraft jet crashed in a Florida Highway Patrol plane in Lakeland and killed a trooper on an air traffic patrol, but the bomber's pilot did not know he was involved in a collision.

Trooper John Haggerty Wednesday plunged to his death in a swamp after the Navy AT-6 Corsair bomber ripped off the tail of his single-engine patrol plane.

After landing safely at Cecil Field, Lt. J. G. Hillside, 26, said he did not feel the impact,

Court Outlaws Bowl Baths

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Paternalistic government is forcing an end to the "good old days" when pioneers bathed out of bowls, a state court announced in a decision issued Wednesday.

The 1st District Court of Appeals reversed a lower court decision that upheld the right of Jacksonville officials to require two elderly spinsters to install lavatories and hot water in eight low income housing units they own.

The opinion written by Judge John T. Wigginton said the primary issue was whether Anna and Josephine Safer could be compelled to install the plumbing facilities.

"To hold in the affirmative would violate the history of our country in the early years of which hearty citizens were reared and grew to maturity under living conditions which included bathing in a bowl supplied by a water pitcher placed upon a washstand in the bedroom, and under which all water used by the family was heated in a kettle, pot or tub on the kitchen stove," the decision said.

"Research fails to reveal any substantial number of instances in which living under these conditions adversely affected the health, safety or morals of our forebears, or indeed many of the older generation living today," it said.

The district court instructed the Duval County Circuit Court to issue an injunction preventing city officials from requiring the

Faircloth Linked To Bribe

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk claimed Wednesday that he had ordered a probe into the alleged bribery case through a law enforcement investigation, and said House Election Committee Chairman William Andrews is a "fraudulent, dishonest, disruptive, discredited Democrat."

The governor did not specify how Faircloth, a candidate for Kirk's office was implicated in the Apopka bribery case by a Florida Law Enforcement investigation.

The report cleared Faircloth of any knowledge of criminality involved in the Apopka dispute over a new sewage disposal plant.

Kirk said he met with Apopka Mayor Leonard Hurst Dec. 23 in Tallahassee and "this valiant American" told him all details of the Apopka bribery case.

"Until such time as we vote in November," Kirk responded, "we'll never know who is going to the governor. If the Lord had not been sparing and the doctors good... I may not be governor now."

Five persons, including an Apopka councilman and former Assistant Atty. Gen. Robert Parker, 33, were indicted on conspiracy to bribe charges. The indictments were dismissed on technical grounds by a circuit judge, but authorities said further action is pending.

Asked if Hurst told him Faircloth had knowledge of the bribery attempt, Kirk replied: "Why certainly."

The governor, holding his first news conference in his Lakeland hospital bed since he underwent kidney surgery, said Andrews "only interested in one thing — and that's trying to defeat a two-party system."

"He doesn't believe that anybody who's not of his party is a 'Fraudulent or American,'" Kirk said.

The governor urged the election committee not to "fold its tent now," but investigate the fund raising dinners of Democrats.

If Andrews wanted to be fair, said Kirk, he would demand to know what State Sen. Robert Shubin, a Miami Democrat running for attorney general, did with $24,000 he collected from a fund-raising dinner in March 1969.

Also, Kirk said, he should seek to learn who is contributing and why to the campaign of such candidates as State Sen. Robert

BOSTON (AP) — U.S. Atty. Herbert F. Travers Jr. says a short order cook charged with murder in the aerial gunship slaying of an airline pilot also may be accused under the federal Air Piracy Act.

Conviction on either charge could bring a death penalty.

The alleged assailant, John J. DiVivo, 27, of West New York, N.J., remained under heavy restraints at Massachusetts General Hospital after removal of a bullet from his stomach Wednesday. He also was wounded in the chest and right arm during the mile-high cockpit struggle on an Eastern Airlines plane Tuesday night.

Doctors described his condition as satisfactory.

Also in satisfactory condition was pilot Robert M. Wilbur Jr., 35, of Fair Lawn, N.J., who landed the twin jet DC-9, carrying 46 passengers and a crew of five, at Logan International Airport although shot in both arms.

State police obtained a judgment in East Boston District Court charging DiVivo with murder in the cockpit's death and another charging assault with intent to murder the captain.

The copilot was James E. Hartley, 30, of Port Lee, N.J., who died of a gunshot wound in the chest.

State police investigators, quoting Wilbur, said Hartley lived long enough to wound DiVivo in a struggle for the man's 35-caliber pistol.

An airline statement said Wilbur did not remember whether he or his copilot was shot first.

The shooting occurred when the jet was over Franklin, Mass., about 30 miles south of Boston, on the final approach to Logan of a flight from Newark, N.J.

The airline said DiVivo ordered, "Take me east," but Wilbur replied that he would first have to land at Logan and started a turn into the approach path.

"Capt. Wilbur said that when he banked the aircraft for the turn, DiVivo appeared surprised and began firing his weapon," Eastern's account said.

In Washington Wednesday the Air Line Pilots Association asked the Justice Department and federal judges generally to give priority to trials of accused airplane hijackers.

The association said 21 hijackers now in custody are awaiting trial.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — The high multiple gamma stocks is aggressive money and will not necessarily be switched into "blue-chip" stocks.

Bache & Co. says. At least a portion of this money is more likely to wind up on the sidelines than remain in the equity market, the firm feels. A sustained rally in the market as a whole will be difficult to launch as long as the glamor issues are under such intense pressure. How they come through April's first quarter earnings reports will provide a clue as to the depth of investment disenchantment," the firm adds.

The leveling off of the stock market over the past couple of months probably represents a major bottom, unless the economic picture deteriorates much more rapidly than anyone is predicting, Shearson, Hamill & Co. says. The economy has slumped to the point where some remedial action is justified, although this should take the form of a gradual loosening of monetary restraints, it adds.

NEW YORK (AP) — The financial situation on Wall Street, financial capital of the world, is not one to inspire confidence. Some observers, in fact, speak of a crisis of investor confidence.

Red ink is smeared on brokerage house books. For a while it looked as if such problems affected fringe operators only. But now it is very clear that the establishment itself is in serious trouble.

This is the darkest side of the picture:

- Bache & Co., second largest brokerage house in the country, lost $4.7 million in the 12 months ended January 31. Francis I. DuPont & Co., another giant, lost $7.7 million before taxes.
- Goodbody & Co. held its losses to less than $1 million but now must consider consolidating some of its 105 branches after its accountant's noted that last year's dismal fortune followed like a shadow in 1970.
- Other firms are precariously balanced between profits and losses and are desperately seeking an increase in commissions. One company, Kleiner Bell, simply withdrew from selling stocks.
- Hayden Stone Inc. has apparently averted a capital crisis through the infusion of $15 million by some Oklahoma investors. But other firms may not be so lucky.
- Gregory & Sons is being liquidated because of problems with insufficient capital to conduct its affairs. Two other firms, Amot Baker & Co. and Richard & Co., also are being liquidated with aid of N.Y. Stock Exchange personnel.
- Another big firm, McDonnell & Co., soon will be in the same situation, having already announced that it was giving up the ghost amid financial, book-keeping and personal problems. It too was one of the largest.

Investors Losing Confidence

Nine brokerage houses are now under restrictions from the NYSE, meaning that until they resolve various problems they must turn away business. This figure, however, is an improvement; months ago 48 firms were restricted.

Latest figures show that $1.46 billion in certificates are listed as "fails," meaning that following transactions, brokers have failed to deliver to each other that amount of certificates within five business days.

But large as that figure is, it too is a considerable improvement. At one time in 1968 there were $4.1 billion of certificates undelivered.

Some brokers were so confused in those days that certificates were simply lost within their offices. But it is feared, many millions of dollars worth have been stolen, a matter now being investigated by state and federal officials.

During the glory days of the roaring sixties, when stocks rose like kites and everyone made money, some brokers and mutual fund managers were idealistic; months ago 48 firms were restricted.

As fortunes changed on Wall Street, the business of small investors was blighted for being a drain on finances. His efforts to buy stock were thwarted by uncooperative brokers. He was turned away.

Now, however, that situation also may have taken a subtle turn, as some high ranking securities officials are concerned that maybe the small investor will stay away of his own accord.

Postmen's Wildcat Strike Grows

NEW YORK (UPI) — Angry letter carriers decried the government, the courts and their own national leadership today with an illegal strike that has paralyzed mail delivery in the metropolitan area.

Reports from Milwaukee, Chicago, Kansas City, Mo., Houston, and some intermediate points indicated sentiment for a strike among letter carriers in those areas was very strong. The postmen are protesting their wages.

Many communities in the northern suburbs of Westchester County on Long Island, and New Jersey have already joined the walkout or voted to start striking today.

The strike, illegal because of temporary restraining orders issued Wednesday by federal courts, has begun to hit the corner mail box. Thousands of mail drops were filled to overflowing by the National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC), and the union would call a national walkout April 15 if Congress fails to meet wage demands.

The million, who seek wage hikes and other benefits, face discharge and criminal prosecution with a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and a year in jail if they remain on strike.

In Washington, Postmaster General Winton M. Blount Wednesday urged postal workers, including members of allied unions observing the picket lines to stay the course and get back to work.

In addition to ordering an embargo on the acceptance of mail of all classes originating in, and destined for, the New York City metropolitan area, Blount announced the government had temporarily suspended enforcement of the law granting the post office a monopoly on movement of first class mail.

This permits private transportation of letters to or from the New York area. Blount pleaded with the public "not to call any matter to this area until further advised."

James Rademacher, president of the NALC, said he would call a national walkout April 15 if Congress fails to meet wage demands.

The million, who seek wage hikes and other benefits, face discharge and criminal prosecution with a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and a year in jail if they remain on strike.

He also was wounded in the chest and right arm during the mile-high cockpit struggle on an Eastern Airlines plane Tuesday night.

Doctors described his condition as satisfactory.

Also in satisfactory condition was pilot Robert M. Wilbur Jr., 35, of Fair Lawn, N.J., who landed the twin jet DC-9, carrying 46 passengers and a crew of five, at Logan International Airport although shot in both arms.

State police obtained a judgment in East Boston District Court charging DiVivo with murder in the cockpit's death and another charging assault with intent to murder the captain.

The copilot was James E. Hartley, 30, of Port Lee, N.J., who died of a gunshot wound in the chest.

State police investigators, quoting Wilbur, said Hartley lived long enough to wound DiVivo in a struggle for the man's 35-caliber pistol.

An airline statement said Wilbur did not remember whether he or his copilot was shot first.

The shooting occurred when the jet was over Franklin, Mass., about 30 miles south of Boston, on the final approach to Logan of a flight from Newark, N.J.

The airline said DiVivo ordered, "Take me east," but Wilbur replied that he would first have to land at Logan and started a turn into the approach path.

"Capt. Wilbur said that when he banked the aircraft for the turn, DiVivo appeared surprised and began firing his weapon," Eastern's account said.

In Washington Wednesday the Air Line Pilots Association asked the Justice Department and federal judges generally to give priority to trials of accused airplane hijackers.

The association said 21 hijackers now in custody are awaiting trial.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — The high multiple gamma stocks is aggressive money and will not necessarily be switched into "blue-chip" stocks.

Bache & Co. says. At least a portion of this money is more likely to wind up on the sidelines than remain in the equity market, the firm feels. A sustained rally in the market as a whole will be difficult to launch as long as the glamor issues are under such intense pressure. How they come through April's first quarter earnings reports will provide a clue as to the depth of investment disenchantment," the firm adds.

The leveling off of the stock market over the past couple of months probably represents a major bottom, unless the economic picture deteriorates much more rapidly than anyone is predicting, Shearson, Hamill & Co. says. The economy has slumped to the point where some remedial action is justified, although this should take the form of a gradual loosening of monetary restraints, it adds.

Business Mirror

NEW YORK (AP) — The financial situation on Wall Street, financial capital of the world, is not one to inspire confidence. Some observers, in fact, speak of a crisis of investor confidence.

Red ink is smeared on brokerage house books. For a while it looked as if such problems affected fringe operators only. But now it is very clear that the establishment itself is in serious trouble.

This is the darkest side of the picture:

- Bache & Co., second largest brokerage house in the country, lost $4.7 million in the 12 months ended January 31. Francis I. DuPont & Co., another giant, lost $7.7 million before taxes.
- Goodbody & Co. held its losses to less than $1 million but now must consider consolidating some of its 105 branches after its accountant's noted that last year's dismal fortune followed like a shadow in 1970.
- Other firms are precariously balanced between profits and losses and are desperately seeking an increase in commissions. One company, Kleiner Bell, simply withdrew from selling stocks.
- Hayden Stone Inc. has apparently averted a capital crisis through the infusion of $15 million by some Oklahoma investors. But other firms may not be so lucky.
- Gregory & Sons is being liquidated because of problems with insufficient capital to conduct its affairs. Two other firms, Amot Baker & Co. and Richard & Co., also are being liquidated with aid of N.Y. Stock Exchange personnel.
- Another big firm, McDonnell & Co., soon will be in the same

Postmen's Wildcat Strike Grows

NEW YORK (UPI) — Angry letter carriers decried the government, the courts and their own national leadership today with an illegal strike that has paralyzed mail delivery in the metropolitan area.

Reports from Milwaukee, Chicago, Kansas City, Mo., Houston, and some intermediate points indicated sentiment for a strike among letter carriers in those areas was very strong. The postmen are protesting their wages.

Many communities in the northern suburbs of Westchester County on Long Island, and New Jersey have already joined the walkout or voted to start striking today.

The strike, illegal because of temporary restraining orders issued Wednesday by federal courts, has begun to hit the corner mail box. Thousands of mail drops were filled to overflowing by the National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC), and the union would call a national walkout April 15 if Congress fails to meet wage demands.

The million, who seek wage hikes and other benefits, face discharge and criminal prosecution with a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and a year in jail if they remain on strike.

In Washington, Postmaster General Winton M. Blount Wednesday urged postal workers, including members of allied unions observing the picket lines to stay the course and get back to work.

In addition to ordering an embargo on the acceptance of mail of all classes originating in, and destined for, the New York City metropolitan area, Blount announced the government had temporarily suspended enforcement of the law granting the post office a monopoly on movement of first class mail.

This permits private transportation of letters to or from the New York area. Blount pleaded with the public "not to call any matter to this area until further advised."

James Rademacher, president of the NALC, said he would call a national walkout April 15 if Congress fails to meet wage demands.

Cook May Face Piracy Charge

BOSTON (AP) — U.S. Atty. Herbert F. Travers Jr. says a short order cook charged with murder in the aerial gunship slaying of an airline pilot also may be accused under the federal Air Piracy Act.

Conviction on either charge could bring a death penalty.

The alleged assailant, John J. DiVivo, 27, of West New York, N.J., remained under heavy restraints at Massachusetts General Hospital after removal of a bullet from his stomach Wednesday. He also was wounded in the chest and right arm during the mile-high cockpit struggle on an Eastern Airlines plane Tuesday night.

Doctors described his condition as satisfactory.

Also in satisfactory condition was pilot Robert M. Wilbur Jr., 35, of Fair Lawn, N.J., who landed the twin jet DC-9, carrying 46 passengers and a crew of five, at Logan International Airport although shot in both arms.

Apopka Affair Useful As Political Guide

It was bound to happen: an explosion in the highly charged political atmosphere which surrounds this election year.

Leonard Hurst of Apopka, key figure: Attorney-General Earl Fairoch, front-runner in the Democratic gubernatorial sweepstakes; and Gov. Claude R. Kirk, Jr. (R) seeking a second term.

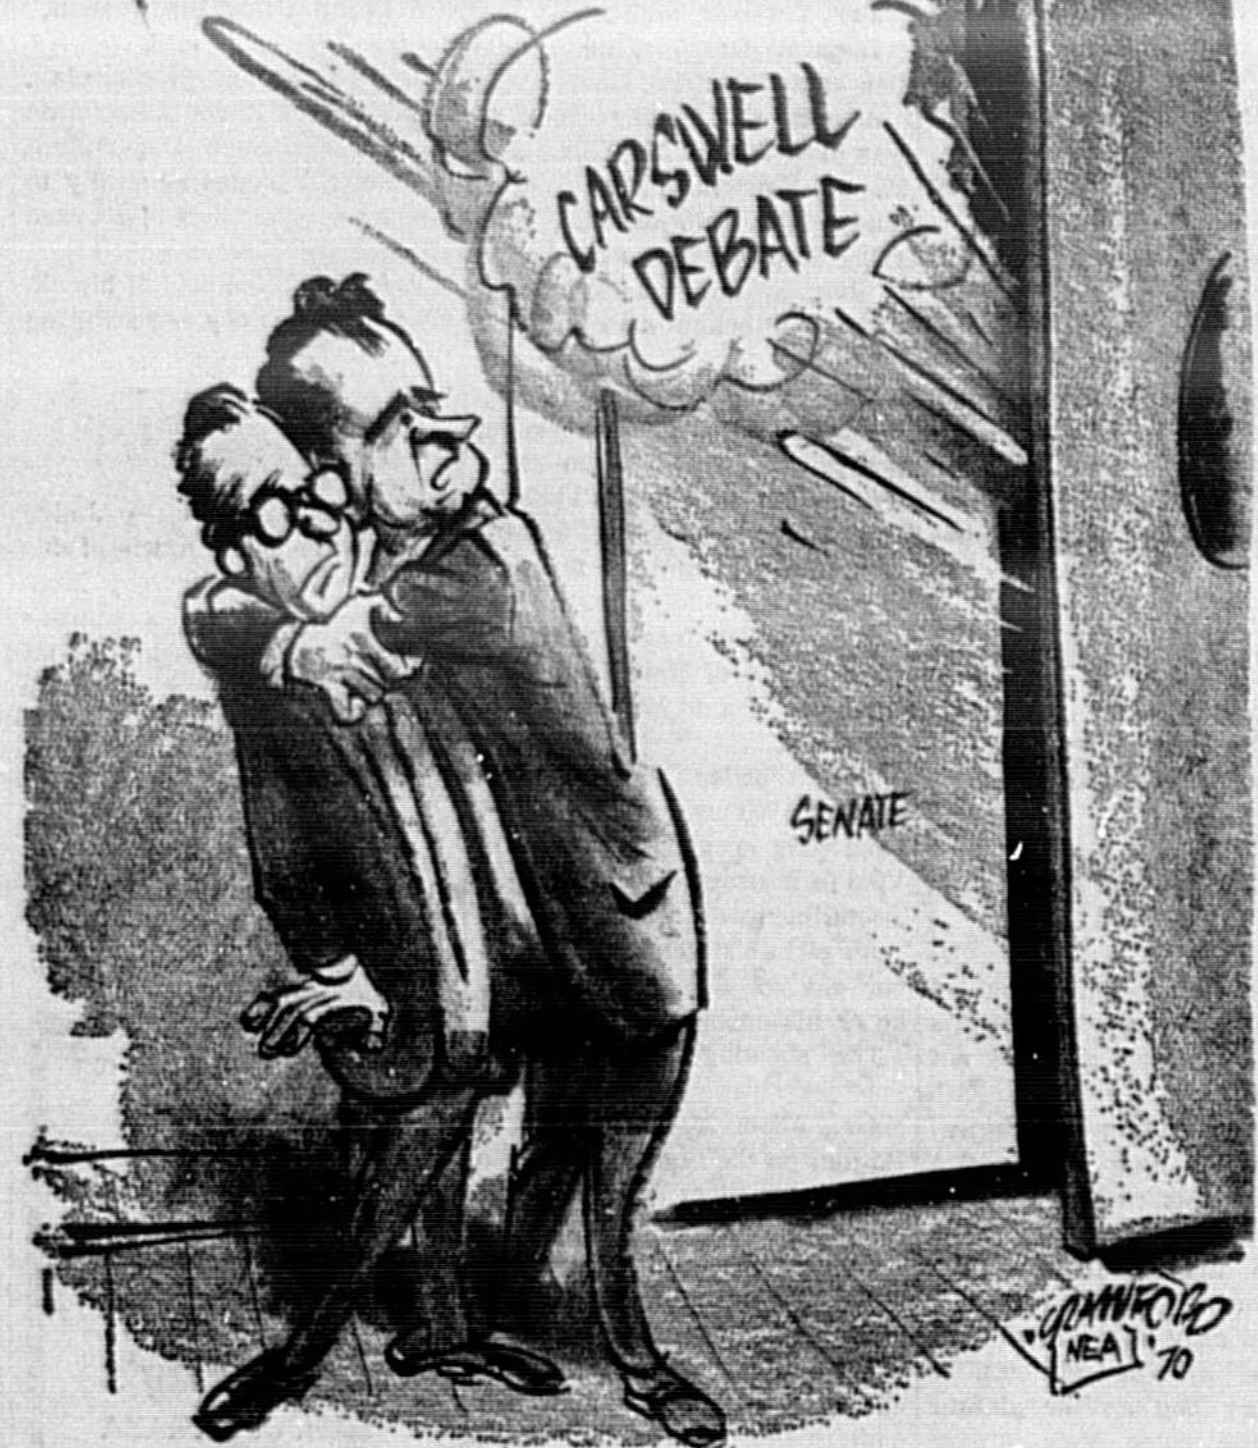

Each political hopeful involved by his own decision and by the very force of events in which he must play an important part, is revealing the character, the ability to "keep his cool", the ability to actually perform his elected duties for the good of those who gave him the responsibility, rather than those who have personal, political ambitions which thwart such endeavors.

There are the yardsticks which voters must start applying at once to the political "sound-and-fury" which is the hallmark of campaigning and will increase.

Rock Music?

Many older people are confused about the difference between rock and roll and the newer rock. Rock and roll came on in 1954 as a sort of heavily accented, two beat jazz. It was characterized by the simplest melodic line, and it was scored for small groups.

"Ugly American" In Our Midst

By BRUCE BOSSART, NEA Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON (NEA) — The "ugly American" does not just travel abroad. He is here in this country, in far too great numbers.

The truth is that none of it is defensible as long as we are living under the basic presumption—which we are—that by a preponderance of Americans, not by noisy, lawless, barbaric groups or individuals appropriating to themselves the power—a very small minority—by a preponderance of Americans, not by noisy, lawless, barbaric groups or individuals appropriating to themselves the power—a very small minority—by a preponderance of Americans, not by noisy, lawless, barbaric groups or individuals appropriating to themselves the power—a very small minority—

Crime In Streets Solution Elusive

By JOHN BECKLER, Associated Press Writer. WASHINGTON (AP) — Like peace in Vietnam, relief from the fear of crime in the streets that grips millions of Americans remains elusive after 15 months of the Nixon administration.

The latest statistics show serious crimes in the nation rose 11 per cent last year, and if that was a smaller increase than in previous years, it was far from the abrupt reversal promised by President Nixon in his 1968 campaign.

In speech after speech since then the President and other administration spokesmen have blamed Congress for delaying legislation that would produce the longed-for change. But would it?

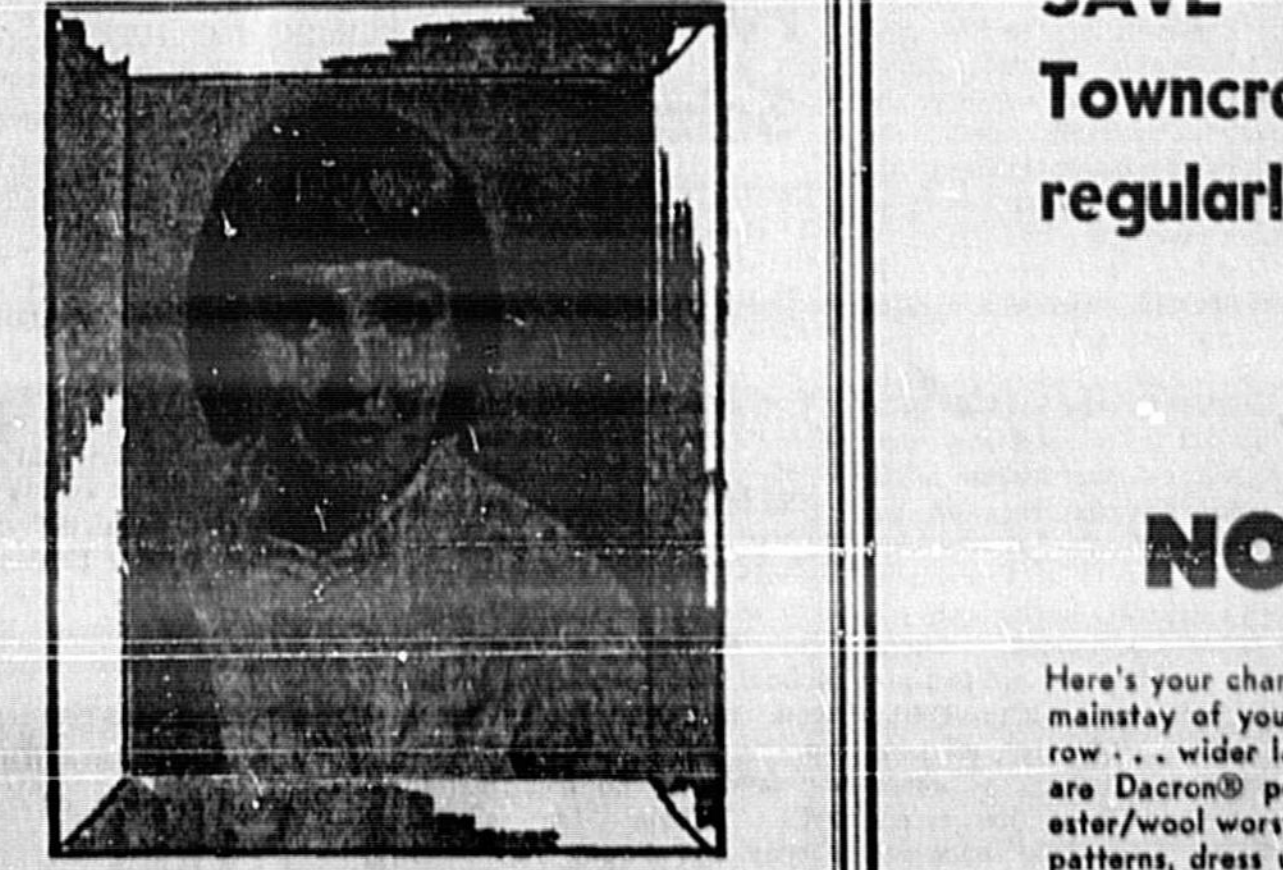

1. We must first clean up these areas because anyone looking for a place to dump would obviously be attracted to a place that has been used so many times before.

Hounds Capture Meet

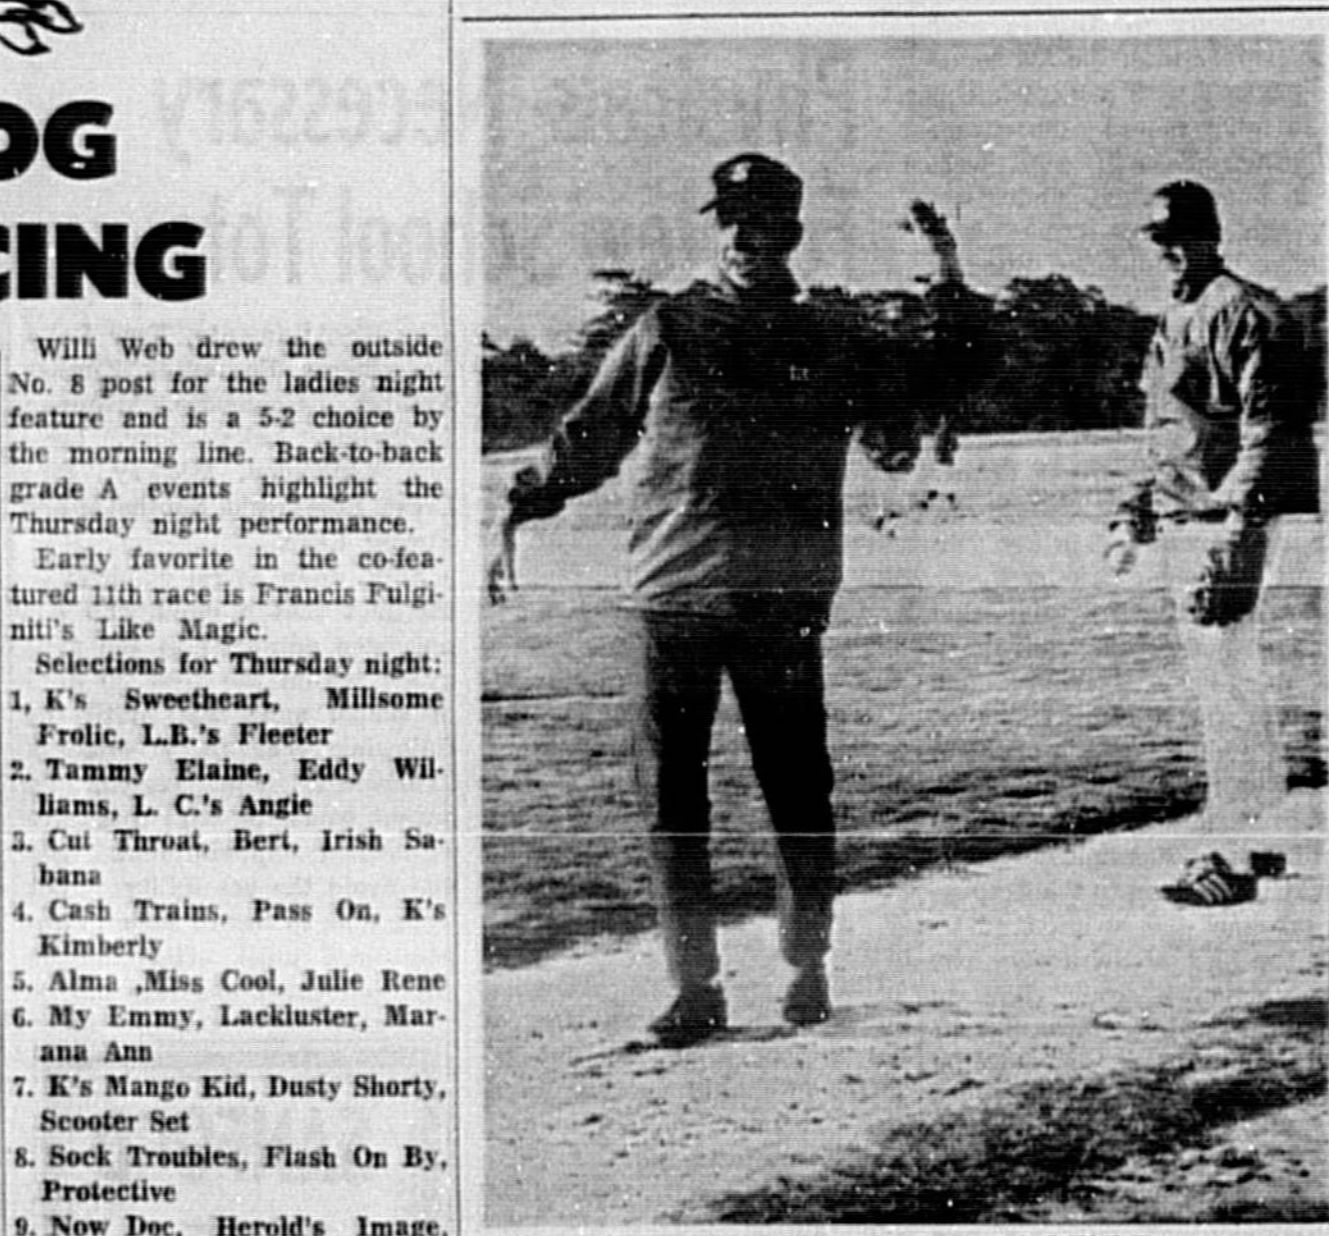

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Writer
The only thing yesterday's six-way track meet at Deland High School could be called was a county battle; Seminole County vs. Volusia County.
Representing Seminole were Lyman, first with 113 points, Seminole, third with 87 1/2 points and Croombs, fifth with 17 1/2 points. Also competing in the meet were Deland, second with 90 points and Seaboard, fourth and New Smyrna Beach, sixth.

LYMAN
The thinclads from LHS had some tough competition for a while, but as the last events starting coming to a close, they stacked up point after point to assure them a win. They scored 113 points, while the best the second place team, Deland, could do was 90 points.
They started their winning in the very first event as Gordon Denson won the 120-yard high hurdles. Before the meet was over they had achieved seven first place finishes and a tie for first in an eighth event. There were sixteen events in the meet.
Other first place finishes for Lyman were Ferguson in the 160-yard dash; Bruce Knoebel in the mile run; Knoebel in the 880-yard run; Rick Browne in the discus throw; Ferguson in the 220-yard dash; and Alan in the two-mile run. Denson also achieved a tie for first with Deland's right in the 180 low hurdles.

SEMINOLE
The tracksters of Seminole High made a gallant effort to capture second place in the meet but fell short by 2 1/2 slim points. The Seminole were trailing second-place Deland by 25 1/2 points going into the final two events. They took second and third place in the two-mile run, with fine pointers by Richard Settle and Riles as the Bulldogs failed to finish in the top six brackets of the event.
The final event was the mile relay and the Seminole ran away with the first place finish and ten points. But the Bulldogs captured fourth place, good for four points, and slipped ahead of the Sanford team.

The mile relay was the only first place finish for the Seminole as they captured six second and six thirds. Second place finishers were Aaron Johnson in the 100-yard dash; Ricky NeSmith, tying Gordon Denson of Lyman for second

McLain's Furniture Seized

DETROIT (UPI)—The Internal Revenue Service seized furniture belonging to suspended Detroit Tiger pitcher Denny McLain Wednesday "to satisfy an outstanding liability."
The government has alleged McLain owes $9,400 in income taxes.
The furniture was loaded onto a van from the suburban Beverly Hills home McLain had been leasing and hauled away. McLain, a friend of Tom Westland, a friend of McLain, had been living in the home with his family since working out a settlement with the landlord who had sued to evict McLain for alleged nonpayment of rent.
Mr. and Mrs. Vernon D. Bakely, who own the home, had filed suit in Southfield District Court claiming McLain was $2,400 behind on his $300-a-month rent. They worked out the arrangement with Westland, however, before the case went to trial.

The Seminole Junior College diamond nine has played 13 games this season. They are currently 10-3 and have 29 games remaining on the 42-game slate. Today they will play the Cardinals in the co-located 11th race in Francis Fulginiti's Like Magic.
Early favorite in the co-located 11th race is Francis Fulginiti's Like Magic.

Vote Favors Move For Boston Patriots

HONOLULU (UPI)—The American Football Conference's Boston Patriots are no longer in control of their own destiny, said President Billy Sullivan Wednesday night.
Sullivan indicated that because of political delays on plans for a new stadium for the team, it appeared probable that the Patriots would have to leave Boston. But he said the "Patriot family" would do everything to keep the club "somewhere in New England."
The Boston City Council's Legislative and Home Rule Committee voted Wednesday to shift the site of a proposed stadium, a move which appeared to virtually assure transfer of the Patriots franchise from Boston.
The fate of the club, Sullivan said, rested with the other 25 NFL clubs which were scheduled to take up the Boston issue today at the league's spring meeting here.

As I See It!

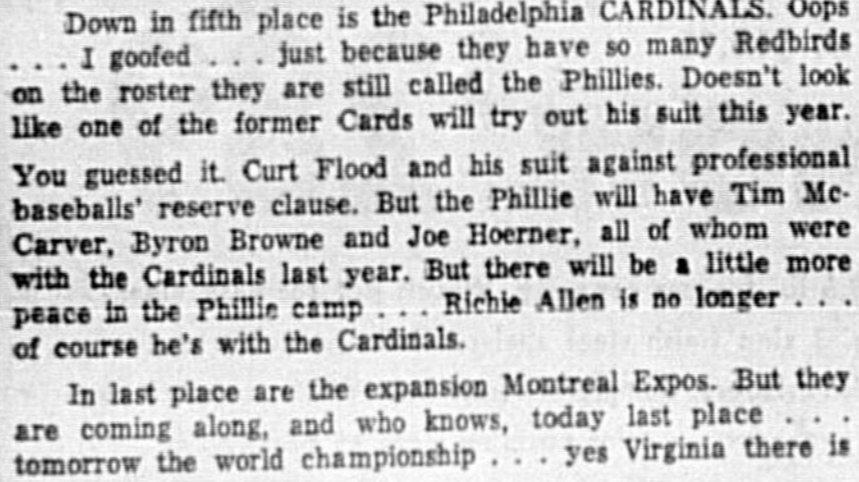

by Gary Taylor

Bad-hack Taylor here again. No sooner did I predict Atlanta to take their division, than Rod Reed, the number two pitcher on the staff, comes up with a broken collar bone. Have no fear Atlanta fans... the South will rise again and the Braves will win the pennant (I hope).

RICHE ALLEN

In second... you guessed it... the New York Mets... those "amazing" kids from New York to win not only in their division, but taking the National League flag and later the World Championship.

CURT FLOOD

Down in first place is the Philadelphia Cardinals. Oops on the roster they still called the Phillies. Doesn't look like one of the former Cards will try out his suit this year. You guessed it. Curt Flood and his suit against professional baseball's reserve clause. But the Phillies will have Tim Lincecum, Byron Browne and Joe Hoerner, all of whom were in the Phillie camp... Richie Allen is no longer... of course he's with the Cardinals.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
The favorite Spring outing of the small fry, Little League Day, will be held at Tinker Field, in Orlando, on Monday, March 30th.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
The Minnesota Twins will meet the tough Philadelphia Phillies in a 1:30 p.m. game here that day, and all youngsters 14 years of age and under attending the game in organized groups will be admitted to the game free of charge.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
Here's a thought that crossed my mind (and it didn't take long because it didn't have far to go). Since the major league teams play one-half of their 164 games (or 82 games) are played on the home diamond, and they hardly ever pack the stadium, why couldn't they sacrifice a few of those games, say five or six to the fans at the Spring Training camp.

The Herald's All-County Cage Team Kearse, Crouse Headline Quintet!!

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Writer

Talented Larry Kearse, who led his Seminole High team to the Region 11 tournament, the winningest season in the history of the school, 20-8, was the top selection for the 1969-70 Sanford Herald All-County Basketball team.

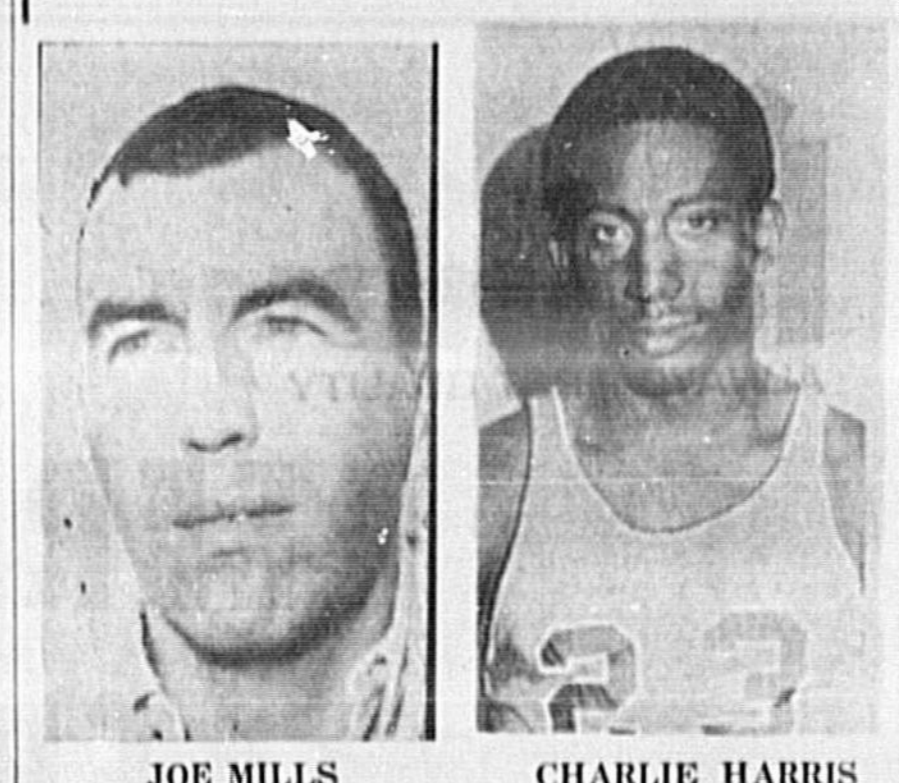

Kearse, who averaged nearly 17 points per game and about as many rebounds, set several school records during his senior year. During the last regular season game, he smashed the single game scoring record of 37 set in the 1962-63 season with a 42-point performance.

Joining Kearse from Seminole High was Bill Corso, who was a 6-foot-3 forward and Kearse was a 6-foot-5 center. Corso came along strongly offensively during the season, but was held back by the team's rebounder all season long, and took over where Kearse left off.

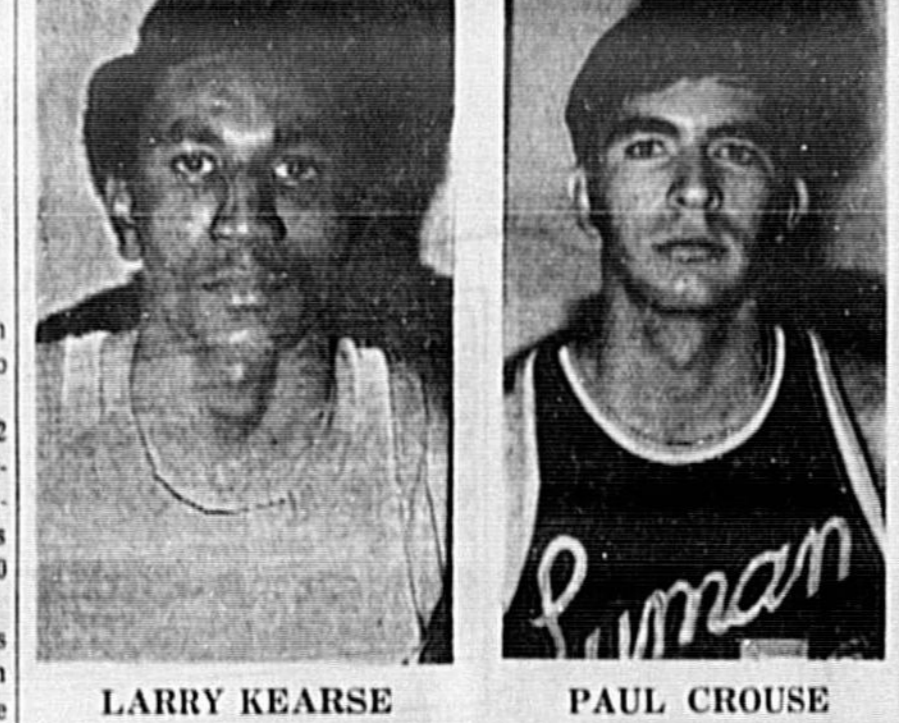

Lyman's Paul Crouse, a tall center for the Greyhounds, was also an All-County choice. Though the Lyman team had a rough season, Crouse came through individually, pacing the team in almost every game.

Randy Leader, who starred as the quarterback for the Sanford Naval Academy Bluejackets, was also an All-County Basketball selection. Leader paced the Middies throughout the season, and was one of the top players in the Lake and Hills Conference.

BILL CORSO

Team was Charlie Harris, a hustling senior from Croombs High. Harris had one of the best games of the season when he scored 23 points against the defensive minded Fighting Seminoles. The Panthers had a rough season, but Harris came on strong and had a fine average.

Joe Mills, coach of the Fighting Seminoles, was the unanimous selection for "Coach of the Year" in Seminole County. Mills led his team to a 20-8 year, the most wins for him as a coach and the most wins ever for the school. Mills has been the basketball coach at Seminole for four years and is one of the top high school coaches in the state.

Oviedo High, which failed to place a player on the first team, paced second-team selections as Herbert Washington, a senior guard, and George Parker, a junior center, were selected to the team. Croombs' John Daniels, SNA's Harold Murphy and Seminole's Tommy Barks rounded out the selections to the second-team.

Barks was the hot outside shooter for the Seminoles as well as their play-maker. Murphy was the center for the Middies and their top rebounder. Daniels, who slacked off during the second half of the season, paced the Panthers during the first game of the season and was a top-notch offensive player. Clifford Martin, Croombs; Bill Parker and Tommy Whigham, Seminole; Bill Horne and Richard Anderson, Sanford Naval Academy and Bruce Rose, Ed Sanford and Chris Hitt of Lyman received HONORABLE MENTION in the All-County selections.

Frank Sloan fired a dazzling one-hitter, retiring 14 batters on strike-outs, as the Sanford Junior High Braves thumped the South Seminole Hurricanes 7-1 in their season opener.

The Braves were in control of the game all the way as they scored three runs in the opening frame. Bernie Montgomery reached first on a one-out single and stole second. David Bach walked and Dickie Deas reached first on a fielder's choice as Bach was forced at second. The Braves attempted a force-play, but couldn't pull it off and Deas reached second safely. George Griffin then slammed a single that scored both Montgomery and Deas. Griffin stole second and scored on a single by Levi Raines.

A two-run second and another run in the fourth gave the Braves a 4-0 lead before the Hurricanes pushed across a lone run in the top of the sixth. The Braves scored their final tally in the sixth inning.

Kurt McLeod and Willie Wall had perfect days at the plate as McLeod was 2 for 2 and Wall went 1 for 1. Montgomery, McLeod, Wall and Griffin each took credit for two stolen bases. The lone South Seminole hit was achieved by Downing, the Hurricanes second catcher of the day.

The next game for the Braves will be next Wednesday at 4 p.m. when they trek to Oviedo to meet the Baby Lions.

Jax Takes Slight Edge

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Coach John Wooden of defending champion UCLA says he believes Jacksonville University has a slight edge in the NCAA basketball finals but he also wouldn't bet against his Bruins.

Wooden said he isn't looking for the Bruins to win the title, but he would like to have a 7-foot center in the western final. Jacksonville has won 26 and lost 11 while St. Bonaventure is 25-11. UCLA and New Mexico State set 36-2 records.

UCLA, which has reeled off 22 straight victories in NCAA tournament play, takes on New Mexico State in the western final tonight at 7:40 p.m. EST. Jacksonville is scheduled to begin its 9-4 NCAA championship.

Jack Johnson will have 26 and St. Bonaventure is 25-11. UCLA and New Mexico State set 36-2 records.

UCLA defeated the Amateurs, as they like to be called, in the first round of the western regional tournament last Saturday. The Dolphins beat 7-foot-2 Arnie Gilmore, 7-foot-10 Rod McLarty.

His primary worry, however, was New Mexico State, which he says will be looking for revenge. UCLA defeated the Amateurs, as they like to be called, in the first round of the western regional tournament last Saturday. The Dolphins beat 7-foot-2 Arnie Gilmore, 7-foot-10 Rod McLarty.

Cards Lose Shannon; Pennant Hopes Hurt

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals' pennant hopes received a severe jolt Wednesday when it was revealed that third baseman Mike Shannon would be sidelined for at least a couple of months with a kidney ailment.

Shannon's illness was revealed by Cardinals' physician Dr. Stan London who said the exact length of Shannon's absence from the team "will be determined by the results of further testing. We are most certain the defect is not surgical."

The illness is a common one and could involve both kidneys. Continued exercise would be detrimental to his health. His progress during hospitalization will be watched carefully and he will not be able to do any exercises for several months, London added.

Shannon, his wife and five children will leave the Cardinals' training camp for St. Louis Friday where he will be hospitalized for an indefinite period of rest, examination and treatment.

Nineteen golfers scored a low, Dan Sikes was the only one to get two of them.

Corn Off the Cob's triumph followed by two weeks his unexpected runnerup shot in the Flamingo, an event that saw Sonny Wertheim's highly-lauded Silent Screen fade to eighth behind winner My Dad George.

Silent Screen tries to reestablish himself in today's Callie Future Book against My Dad George. Silent Screen is the 3-1 favorite and the Flamingo victory was listed in early odds at 5-1.

Painting Still Cries

By ERIC SHARP
TARPON SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — Three months after it began, a painting of St. Nicholas is still producing "tears" and the Rev. Elias Kalarites is still wondering what the omen means.

"We think it is a message from God. We are just waiting to see how it will be revealed," he said. "Living with this phenomenon is difficult. Every night as I go to bed I wonder, 'Am I missing something?' Is there something I fail to understand?"

The icon is a painting of the saint which is sealed in a glass and wood case in St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church.

In early December, drops of moisture began forming on the inside of the glass. The drops slide to the bottom and disappear.

The priest said he had asked a chemist to examine the drops, but the chemist refused.

"He said that if he found the tears to be caused naturally, a lot of people would still refuse to believe him and he would get himself involved in a lot of senseless controversy," Fr. Kalarites said.

"The chemist said we should leave it as a matter of faith. If people don't want to believe the tears are miraculous, so be it."

Two Killed As Helicopter Falls In Vietnam

America's Commanding General Hurt In Crash

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
SAIGON (AP) — A helicopter carrying the commanding general of the U.S. Army's Americal Division crashed on a jungle hillside two days ago, killing two men and injuring the general and the other five persons aboard, the U.S. Command announced today.

The command also announced that 10 U.S. troops were killed in action last week and 638 wounded. It was the second week this year that the number of American battle dead exceeded 100.

The Americal Division's commander, Maj. Gen. Lloyd B. Ramey, and other survivors of the helicopter crash were rescued only three days after the crash. The helicopter was a Sikorski HO4S, a four-blade helicopter, and was carrying Maj. Gen. Ramey, his aide, Capt. John P. Tucker, Lima, Ohio; CWO Stephen C. Pike, Enterprise, Ala.; the aircraft commander, WO Ronald D. Franston, San Diego, Calif.; the helicopter pilot, and Spec. 4 Mickie L. Reed, Brownsville, Ind., the door gunner.

Ramey, a native of Somerset, Ky., whose family now lives in McLean, Va., is a veteran of World War II. He took over the Americal Division in June 1969. The crash occurred at 4 p.m. Tuesday as Ramey was returning to Chu Lai from visits to units in the field. Thomas, who was to take command of a battalion, had gone along to familiarize himself with the area.

When the helicopter disappeared from the radar net, a search mission was launched, and the survivors made contact, first with a "beeper" signal and then by their survival radio. They guided the rescue helicopters to their general area, and the survivors to the crash site. A doctor was lowered by sling into the nearest clearing and hauled his way for 30 minutes to the crash site. Paramedics also were dropped by sling and helped tend the wounded until all were lifted out.

With lesser injuries than the general, but all were suffering from exposure to rain and cold after waiting all night on the mountaintops.

They were hospitalized in Chu Lai, the division's headquarters on the coast seven miles east of the crash site.

U.S. spokesmen said the cause of the crash of Ramey's command helicopter was not known but it was not hit by enemy fire. News of the crash was withheld until the next of kin were notified.

Those killed were Lt. Col. Robert J. Thomas of Col. Va., who had arrived in the division only three days after the crash.

U. S. Senator Voices His Support For Deposed Cambodian Prince

By WALTER B. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield foresees disintegration and chaos in Cambodia unless Prince Norodom Sihanouk, leader would be in the best interests of the United States, he counseled against any American involvement in Cambodia.

While Mansfield says the return of the mercenary neutralist leader would be in the best interests of the United States, he counseled against any American involvement in Cambodia.

He said the CIA or any other government agency had nothing to do with what has been going on in Phnom Penh.

Mansfield said he was not counting out the possibility of a Sihanouk return to power. Fulbright and McGovern said the same thing.

"It is a bit apprehensive because of the uncertainty, if this new direction succeeds, in what direction it will move," said Fulbright. "It emphasizes the need for us to proceed with a political solution in Vietnam."

Acknowledging a shortage of facts about developments inside Cambodia, McGovern said he was certain only that the upheaval there stemmed from the war in neighboring Vietnam.

"Now what this suggests to me," he said, "is that there will be no real peace in Laos, no stability there, there will be no real stability for Cambodia or any other country in that immediate area until we find some way to bring an end to the war in Vietnam."

How Sweet!

WOODBRIDGE, Va. (AP) — Army Pvt. Curtis Reel carefully penned a letter — a love letter, you might say — to his teenage sweetheart, Eida Wever, and took it to the post office at Ft. Benning, Ga., in 1949.

A few days ago it was delivered to Eida — now Mrs. Curtis Reel — at their home here. It had been forwarded from her parent's home in Moorfield, W. Va.

An accompanying note from Postmaster W. R. Matthews of Columbus, Ga., explained that Reel's letter was discovered when the Ft. Benning Post Office was dismantled.

Mrs. Reel, now the mother of five, said she didn't plan to open the letter because of its age.

"Besides," she added, "I'm sure everything he said in it he's told me many times before."

Carswell: Ethics Violated?

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of G. Harwood Carswell's nomination to the Supreme Court have dusted off a weapon that proved deadly to an earlier nominee — charges of possible ethics violations.

But an administration lieutenant says any attempt to draw such a comparison between Carswell and Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. was "reaching a long way."

Haynsworth, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va., was rejected by the Senate last November, largely on the strength of charges he violated the Canons of Judicial Ethics by sitting on cases in which he had a financial interest.

Carswell, a Tallahassee, Fla. member of the 5th Court of Appeals bench who was nominated to the Supreme Court in January, has never owned any stock.

But Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., told the Senate Wednesday Carswell may have displayed "a constant pattern of bias and hostility toward anyone arguing a civil rights case."

These three canons of the American Bar Association's ethics code say that judges should be courteous, patient, temperate and impartial.

Cranston, a nonlawyer, said two witnesses before Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on Carswell last January had described the 50-year-old judge as openly hostile.

One of them, Leroy Clark, a

Nixon Would Aid Students

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today to put even the poorest students on an equal financial footing with those coming from families earning $10,000 a year.

In a special message, the most arresting feature in a series of Nixon-advocated changes would greatly increase dollars available for grants and loans to low-income families.

"Every low-income student entering an accredited college would be eligible for a combination of federal grants and subsidized loans sufficient to give him the same ability to pay as a student from a family earning $10,000."

The administration program would make federally guaranteed loans available to every qualified student, regardless of the income level of his family.

But, the President said, direct "federal subsidies would be directed to students who need them most."

Nixon said the effect of concentrating subsidies in the lower income brackets would nearly double the actual amount of assistance available to most students with family incomes below $1,500.

And, under his plan, "All eligible students from families of $4,500 annual income would be guaranteed a total of $1,300 each in grants and subsidized loans."

Another Nixon recommendation would create a national student loan association which could purchase student loan paper from banks and other financial institutions, thus making available additional funds for private loans.

Soviets Are Still Testing

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has tested more than 30 long range missiles since Strategic Arms Limitation Talks started last November, sources say.

During the same four-month period, the United States has test fired 15 missiles.

This 2:1 Soviet margin in missile testing is one comparison cited by Nixon administration officials challenging recent Russian statements attacking U.S. weapons policies.

In essence, the Soviets have accused the United States of stimulating the arms race, partly by moving to deploy multiple warhead MIRV missiles this June.

Pentagon officials see this as a propaganda campaign aimed at weakening the American position at the upcoming arms talks by playing on U.S. public opinion.

Defense officials said while Russia is charging the United States with heating up arms competition, the Soviets are pushing ahead vigorously with their own intercontinental ballistic missile, a submarine-launched missile, and antimissile programs.

Sources indicated the 30 or so Soviet missile tests since mid-November have included huge SS-9's, carrying triple warheads, as well as other types of ICBMs.

Among the U.S. test firings were six missiles designed to carry multiple warheads, believed on the basis of Soviet testing the Russians could deploy multiple warheads late this year.

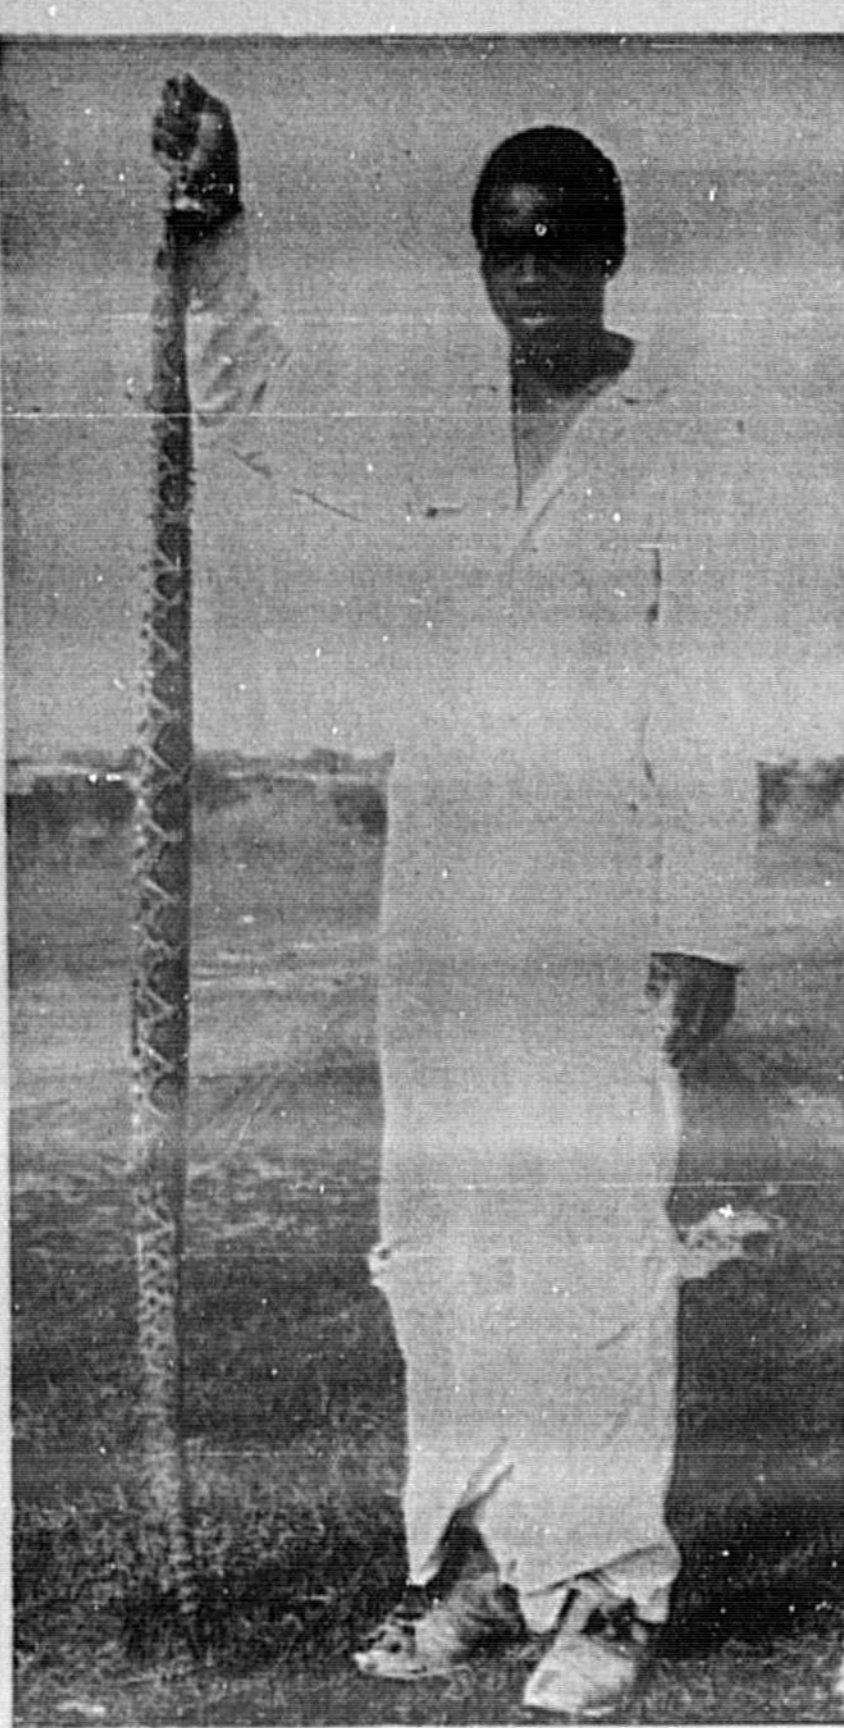

The Russians already have more land-based ICBMs launched than the United States—2,200 plus to 1,534—and are still increasing them, while American forces remain constant.

U.S. intelligence also is watching anxiously an apparent strong Russian effort to catch up with the United States in Polaris type submarines.

Male Plumage Of '70's Shades Of Beery And Bogart

MALE plumage of the 1970s, as shown at the Men's Fashion Association's 12th annual press preview. A look that would have pleased Gatsby (left) is the long, lean-shaped jacket with wide lapels and squared shoulders worn with a bold striped shirt and colorful tie. The center crease, brim down hat is definitely out of the past. New is the "non-suit" or vest suit (center) in lightweight wool herringbone perfectly matched in vest and stovepipe pants. Mid-length blue jacket in longer length (right) is worn with black and blue plaid evening trousers for a colorful but elegant look. The trend toward double-breasted evening wear continues.

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor
DALLAS (NEA)—A woman's most effective accessory is a well-dressed escort at her side. But until recently that well-dressed man simply provided an impeccable, unobtrusive background for her finery.

Fashion Association's 12th annual press preview, there was no getting away from that fact. The emergence of men from the gray flannel and most blue variations in which they are being worn. Most will have six-button fronts but, while many often shirked rebellion rather than good taste. But the best of the fashions of the past have been fused with the best of designs inspired by the future and many handsome-looking have evolved for both the young and the mature man.

The new men's clothing is either definitely or slightly slanted in a longer jacket to provide the desired slim, trim look. And moderately shaped jackets cover a multitude of figure faults from expansive waistline to paunch.

There is, too, vast acceptance of the double-breasted jacket. Ken O'Keefe, MFA's fashion director, said, "The growing popularity of the double-breasted can be gauged by the many variations in which they are being worn. Most will have six-button fronts but, while many often shirked rebellion rather than good taste. But the best of the fashions of the past have been fused with the best of designs inspired by the future and many handsome-looking have evolved for both the young and the mature man.

In the men's field, high-slacks with pleats, the peaked cap and straight-legged slacks are back. The straight stovepipes are scoring with mature as well as with young men.

One look from the '30s—long, lean jacket, wide lapels, squared shoulders, striped shirt and wide, colorful tie—was described here as a cross between "real gangster and Humphrey Bogart"—a fairly well-trodden private eye.

Two entirely new categories of fashion were introduced. The sport suit for summer, one in multicolor striped seersucker, floppy cap and a shirt reminiscent of the top of Wallace Beery's ballpigan underwear—called, naturally, "Wallace Beery sport shirt."

U.S.-FP & L Thermal Pollution Suit Could Be Landmark

By JAMES PHILLIPS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's suit to force Florida power companies to construct safeguards against thermal pollution could become a landmark decision in man's battle to preserve the environment.

The suit against the Florida Power & Light Co. marks the first time the government has sought court action to halt possible pollution before any damage has occurred. And it focuses on nuclear power plants, a target of conservationists who fear hot water discharge will radically upset the balance of aquatic life.

The outcome will affect virtually all nuclear generating plants now in operation in the United States and the scores under construction or in planning stages.

The government wants the Florida utility to modify its plans for reducing the temperature of cooling water at its Turkey Creek plant, currently being converted to nuclear power.

The company had planned to flush the artificially heated water into the Gulf of Mexico via a 20-mile canal, stating the water will not harm the aquatic life in the bay.

This is in line with the position taken by most utility spokesmen when questioned about possible environmental damage at nuclear installations along the Great Lakes and coastal areas where there is an abundance of water.

The hot water at issue is created by the cooling process employed in most nuclear reactors. Water is drawn from a nearby river, pumped through the condensers and spewed back into the environment at temperatures ranging from 10 to 20 degrees higher.

The volume of water used by nuclear reactors is huge. It is estimated, for example, that by the end of this decade nuclear power plants will discharge 20,000 cubic feet of hot water per second into Lake Michigan.

By comparison, the amount of water flowing into that lake from all tributaries averages only 35,000 cubic feet per second.

This torrent of hot water could harm the delicate relationship between temperature and aquatic life, thus destroying aquatic life, scientists say.

The interrelationships of species, length of daylight and water temperature are so intimate that even a small change in temperature can have far-reaching effects. Kenneth N. Mackenbach and Lowell E. Neup, two Interior Department biologists, said in a paper presented to a recent power conference.

Temperature determines the species that can survive, triggers migrations and reproductive processes and stimulates or suppresses growth, the report said.

Higher temperatures increase as well the toxicity of pollutants such as pesticides, domestic sewage and refinery wastes.

Moreover, the biologists warn, water temperatures need not reach lethal levels to wipe out a species.

"Temperatures that favor competitors, predators, parasites and disease can destroy a species at levels far below those that are lethal," the report said.

Taking all this into consideration, the biologists asserted:

"Because of its capacity to determine metabolic rate, temperature may be the most important single environmental factor to life and life processes."

Second Cable TV Firm Petitions Casselberry

By TOM ALEXANDER
A second cable television firm, Seminole Cablevision, Inc., has approached the City of Casselberry for a franchise in that municipality. Representing the firm, a subsidiary of American Telephone and Communications, were Dominick Salti and Clifford Paul.

The request was made at a work session of the City Council, Seminole Cablevision, according to Salti, was awarded a franchise in the City of Orlando three weeks ago and the Orlando office stated, "We are looking at the overall concept of including the entire Orlando metropolitan area."

Paul then explained that the firm he represents is presently the largest (CATV) company in Florida, serving some 20,000 residents in the state so far.

The cable TV engineer then explained the concept that his company is planning on using in Casselberry. He stated that an Seminole Cablevision was awarded a franchise in Casselberry. It would provide 12 initial channels to subscribers, and that the system would be built to handle 20 channels, but could provide up to 34 channels.

The channels would include independent stations, educational channels, news, stock market, and weather channels along with a local programming channel.

The city, according to Salti, would derive a percentage to be negotiated, of the gross receipts of the company in its service to Casselberry.

The council probably will hear one more CATV company before drawing up specially designed ordinances for cable television firms and putting their franchise out for bids to the CATV companies.

Gasoline Fumes Seen Cause Of Lounge Blast

The body of Jack Ross Berryhill, Orlando, killed early Tuesday in the explosion of the Post Time Lounge, on U.S. 17-92 at Casselberry, was shipped to Fort Worth, Texas, today by Seminole Funeral Home.

Olga Lee Berryhill, the dead man's second wife, is also on her way to Fort Worth as the investigation into the explosion moved into the fourth day, with Capt. Thomas Brody, of Duke County sheriff's office, aiding the Seminole County authorities in trying to unravel the mystery of why the night spot was blasted.

Sheriff John E. Polk said he "definitely feels that fire and explosion were caused by gasoline and gasoline fumes."

Polk divulged that two gasoline cans, a five-gallon and a two-gallon, were found in the sitting of the debris left from the fire. "The fumes from gasoline set off the furniture," he said. "We've sifted through about half of the ruins now and hope to finish going through the rest today," the sheriff advised.

Berryhill was the only person inside the bar at the time of the blast.

Russell Rustan, part-owner of the club, had left earlier with several other employes to have breakfast at a nearby restaurant, and returned after the explosion.

Olga Berryhill, an employe of Rustan, told authorities she had left the club with her husband at closing time or 2 a.m., but said Berryhill came argumentative and got out of the car.

She reportedly went home to care for the six Berryhill children by a former marriage.

Floating (?) Dock Discussed

A three-hour closed meeting Thursday between Sanford officials and Monroe Harbour authorities, operators of the city-owned marina, is producing much comment and speculation since reporters were barred from attending the session that discussed property owned by city taxpayers.

Only two commissioners, Mayor Lee D. Moore and Gordon Meyer, attended the session, called at the request of Monroe Harbour authority Pharr Aber and held in the office of W. C. Hutchison, city attorney.

Earlier, Hutchison told The Herald, he would call the press if he thought the commission was about to take any action or make a decision. Later it was learned that, since only two commissioners were present, no action could be taken.

Hutchison discussed the results of the meeting, called off the problems arising from the restoration of the sunken dock units from Pier A of the marina. He informed The Herald that E. Conklin, engineer, whose firm did the work planning the lake front project, would explain the possibility of adding a bulk head to break up the heavy wave action that is being blamed for contributing to the sinking of the concrete floating dock.

Votrey Contractors, of Jacksonville, firm which placed the docks on the marina, also will begin to look into the costs of raising the 45 sunken units and assay other damages to the property.

Early estimates of the amount to replace the facility were between $25,000 and $30,000. An additional 50 docks are now stored on the lake bulk heads after having been raised several weeks previously.

Hutchison said there was no discussion of a court suit between the participants at Thursday meeting, but there were some heated words between the two attorneys at the beginning.

Also attending the meeting were Carl Dieter, Cobia Boats, and Harold Slama with Monroe Harbour Inc., a subsidiary of Cobia.

City Manager W. E. Knowles and Robert Kelley of city public works department were also participants in the discussion, Hutchison said.

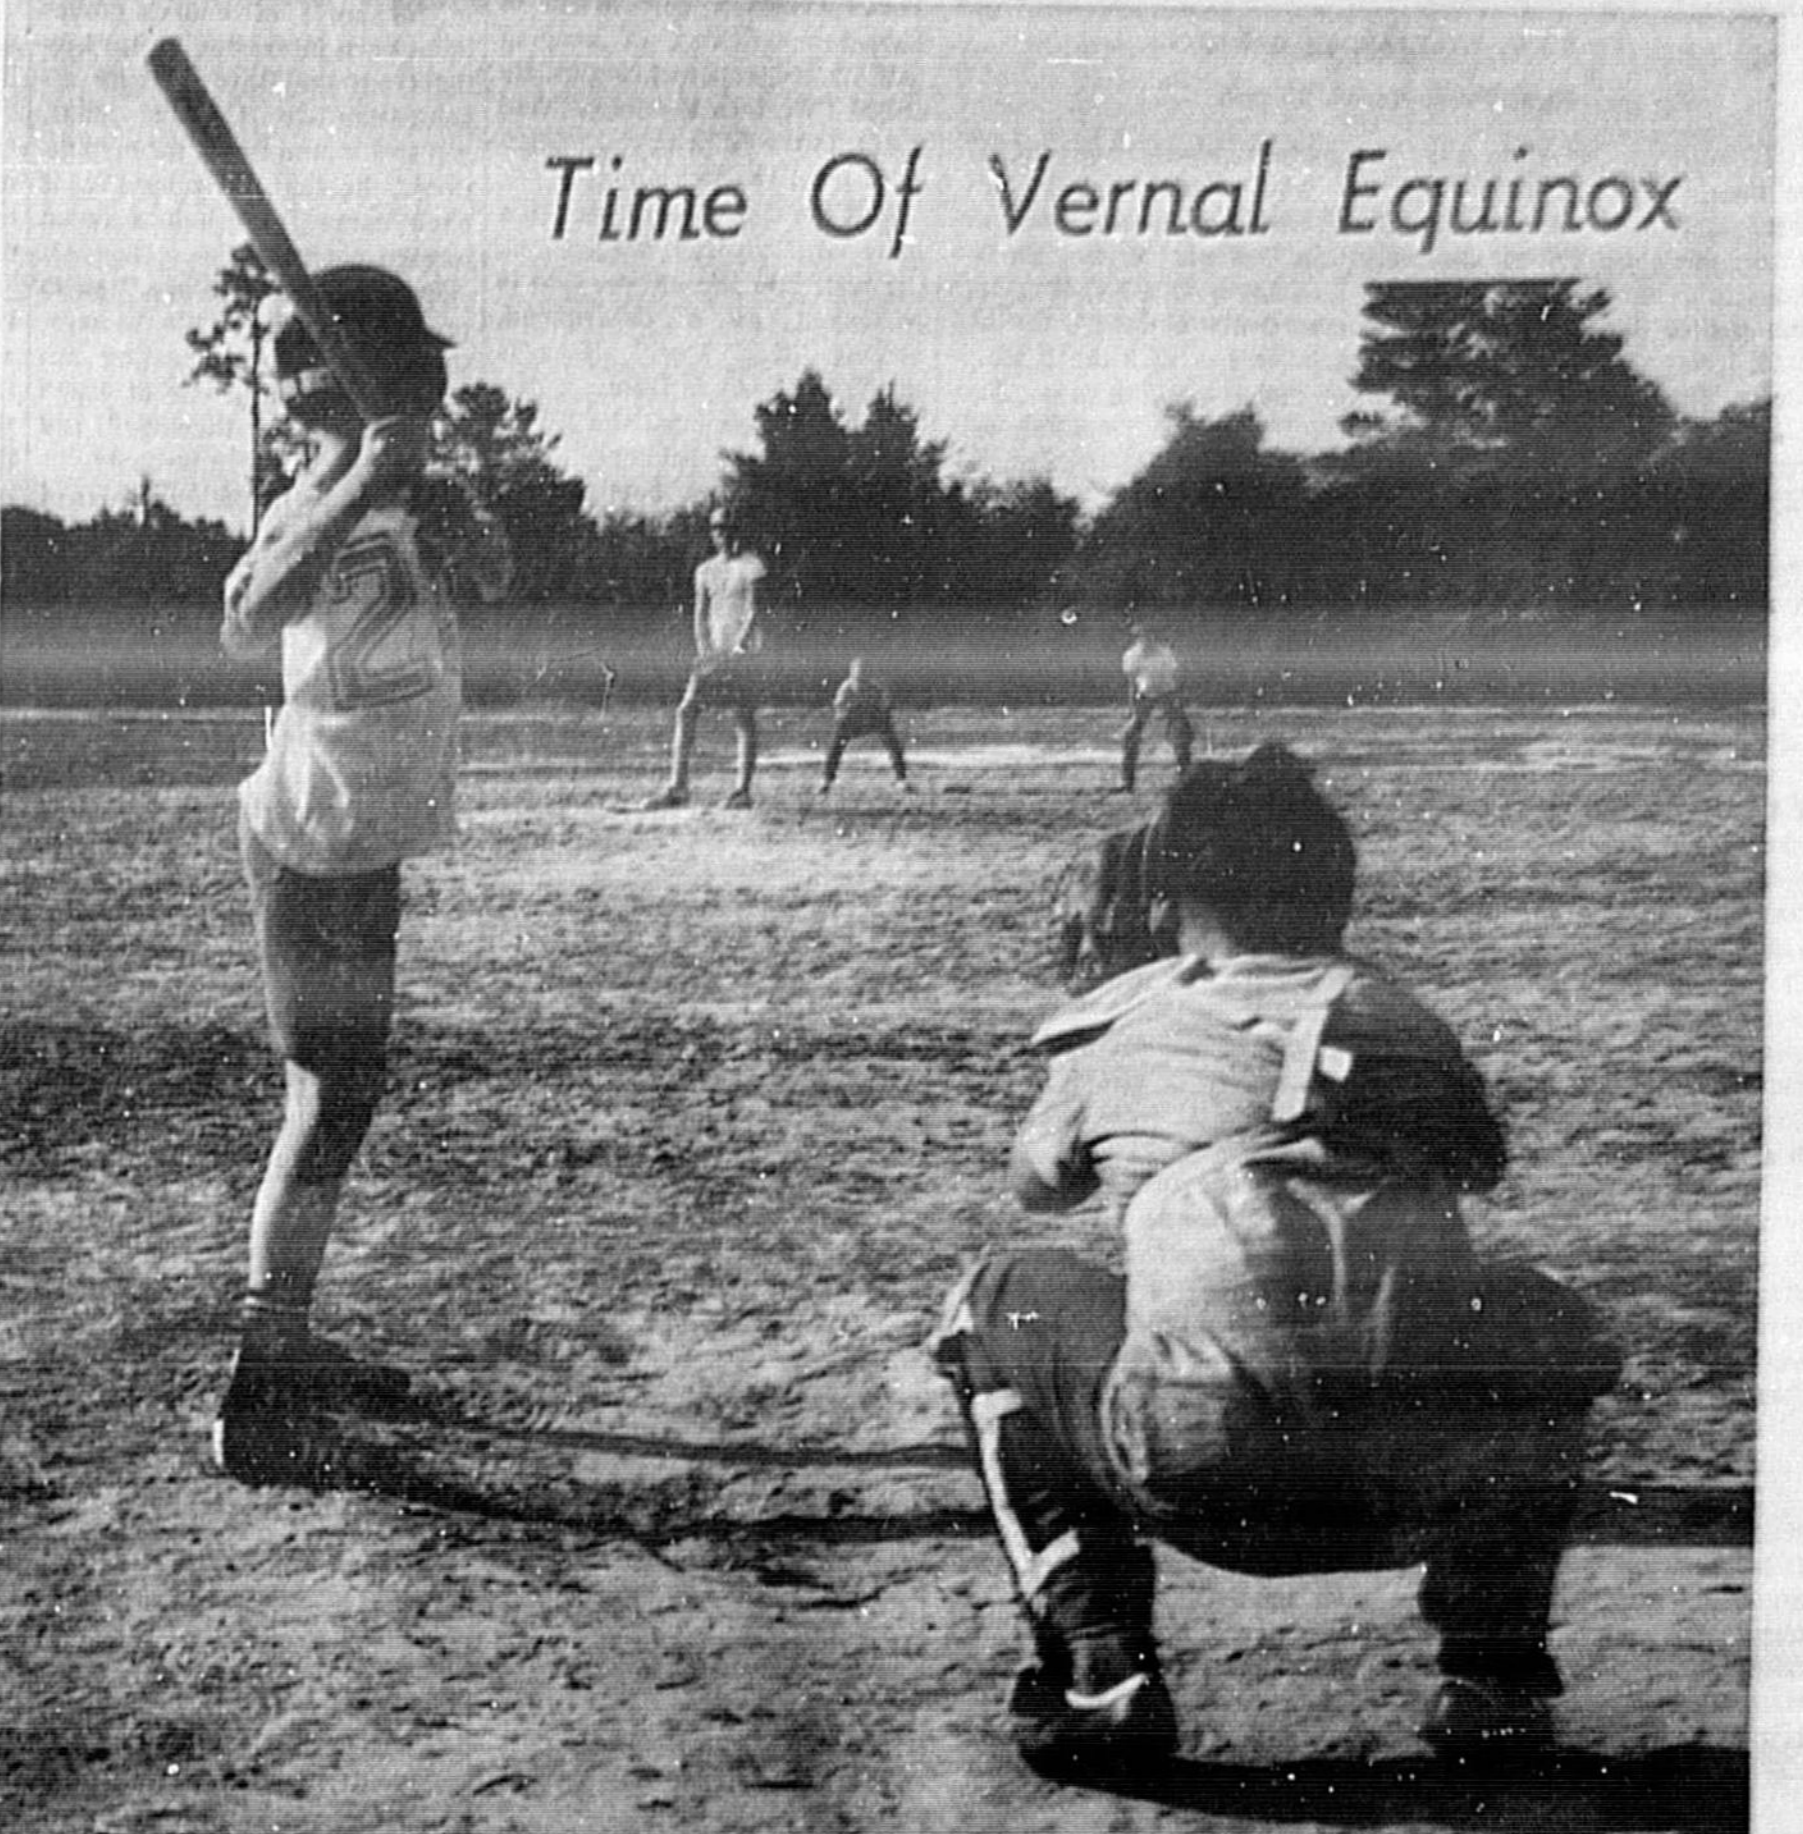

Double Sessions Told

Tentative scheduling for both Seminole High School and Lyman High School has the day starting at 7:00 a.m. till noon for a complete day and the second shift beginning at 12:30 p.m. and lasting till 5 p.m.

Gatchell explained that students with cars will be able to take better advantage of schooling at present since no transportation will have to be provided by the county.

Recently, the School Board voted to allow principals to determine what students will be allowed to attend evening or morning classes and there were indications some would be drawn to facilitate transportation problems and student attendance.

Alexander, Drummond Will Attend Solons Will Study Roads

By MARION BETHA
Board of Seminole County Commissioners has cancelled its meeting for next Tuesday in order that Chairman John Alexander and Commissioner Greg Drummond may attend a meeting in Tallahassee at which time the state Department of Transportation (DOT) will make a presentation to the joint House and Senate sub-committee on Transportation.

The DOT will make recommendations on needed highway improvements in Florida through 1990, which will update its previous reports on the 15-year road plan. The Legislature may set up this committee during a special session in December when the 16-year road program was not adopted.

The meetings will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The discussion upon road improvements in Central Florida will be held on Tuesday. Alexander and Drummond, although not having an opportunity of a presentation, nevertheless feel it advisable to be present in order that they may take a position on the road needs in Seminole County. Alexander stated that the commissioners needed to be on hand when the needs for the next 20 years are presented to Seminole County can procure first hand information on the subject.

The cancellation of the Commission meeting, which had been discussed at the meeting this week, will necessitate the continuation of a public hearing on re-zoning from R-1 to C-2 property north of SR 428 and west of Palm Springs Road. The request was made for an additional 21 acres to be rezoned to the present R-1 zone. The additional acreage, if approved will be utilized for parking facilities and another department store in the new cross-county shopping center.

Commissioners were concerned with drainage in the area with regard to the velocity of water emanating from the parking lot to Crane's Road. Commissioners had indicated that they would attempt a solution to the ecological problem. The hearing has now been continued until March 31.

Flood Warnings Are Sounded By County Aide To Realtors

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
County Commissioner Greg Drummond spoke to the Seminole County Board of Realtors meeting at the Tradewinds Cafeteria in Casselberry on the problems of flooding and roads.

"Just as we have experienced flooding of Seminole County lowlands in the 60s and now in the 70s, we can expect the 10-year wet cycle to revisit us by 1980," he told the group.

Warning that flooding impacts will be swifter and more extreme due to the development of the area he predicted, "Just as we have seen these flood proved areas sold, zoned and built upon after the 1960 flooding, the present Seminole land rush will encourage buyers to disregard the warning signs."

Drummond suggested that the Board of County Commissioners state that the Realtors of Seminole County continue to dedicate themselves to this community and the highest standards of ethics in their profession.

He also touched briefly on the very serious problem of roads in the county, accusing the state of not fulfilling its responsibility in Seminole in reference to road problems created by the establishment of Wehiva Springs State Park and Florida Technological Un-

We Support Our Local Sheriff And Police Department!

We would like to use this space that we normally use for new and used car advertising to publicly commend our sheriff's department and police department for the outstanding job they do in seeing the area. And a special tribute goes to Deputy Sheriff Roy Hughey who patrols our dealership. Sanford is indeed fortunate to have a man like Mr. Hughey who will go "beyond the call of duty" in trying to protect your property and mine. We urge every citizen to support the law enforcement agencies in any manner possible. Their job is a difficult one but one which we appreciate!

Limited Funding Program

Mrs. Helen Bennett, Unit Supervisor of the State Department of Health and Rehabilitation in Deland, speaking at the monthly meeting Friday of the DeBarry Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons explained that Medicare, being a new program in Florida with limited funding, is working out operating procedures and the allocation of available funds.

Medicare's purpose, she said, are to take care of the essential medical needs of those on the welfare rolls not covered by Medicare or other medical services and some others, who are able to meet normal expenses but not emergency medical costs.

She outlined the conditions applying to six areas of Medicare services — physicians' services, in-patient hospital services, outpatient services, lab and X-ray services, nursing home services and drugs.

Paul Thout of Delbarry presented a group plan available to AARP members for covering the medical costs of all types of cancer. He pointed out that treatment costs of cancer often exceed the available coverage of other health insurance.

The free library services of Delbarry and adjacent communities by the Delbarry Public Library was presented by Earl Merrill, president of the Delbarry Library Association. He said that in addition to an excellent and up-to-date collection of over 3,900 books chosen for Delbarry area needs, the library has a well planned reference section for all ages, nearly 300 periodicals on all shelves, 400 photograph records and albums available on loan.
