

LIST OF CANDIDATES WHOSE NAMES WILL APPEAR ON PRIMARY BALLOT

The following is not the "Official Ballot" but is substantially the form to be used on June 6th. One set of Candidates for County Commissioner will be on each ticket.

The following are the names of the candidates which will appear on the ballot for the primary of June 6th. This is not the official ballot but if each voter will study it carefully it will prove to be a great aid to them when they go to the polls to vote.

Table listing candidates for various offices including Vice President, State Senator, United States Senator, Member Congress, Sheriff, Superintendent Public Instruction, County Judge, Tax Assessor, County Commissioner, Secretary of State, Comptroller, Justice of Supreme Court, State Treasurer, Railroad Commissioner, and Representative in the Legislature.

BIG PARADE OF MINSTRELS THIS WEEK

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY ELKS WILL PARADE AT 4:30 P. M.

They come. They come like waves upon the fold, and expect to conquer by numbers, if not by merit. They boast the largest galaxy of artists. Largest repertoire. Largest hands and feet, and the most swollen heads of any combination extant.

Grand street parade, provided it is held, will be suspended during the parade, and the sound of traffic or jingling will not be heard on the streets. Avoid the crush of sight-seers by securing your locations in advance from the mayor or chief of police.

"Honor's Altar" That power and luxury do not always spell satisfaction and pleasure is shown in the Ince-Triangle drama, "Honor's Altar."

Registration Notice Notice is hereby given that the registration book of the city of Sanford, Florida, will be open in the city clerk's office in the city hall from the 30th of May to the 5th of June, 1916.

who accepts without question the man without honor as a friend of her husband. Stone takes Miss Barriscale for an automobile ride and manages to break down near a notorious roadhouse.

Col. Sam Fitts Here Among the prominent visitors to the city last week was Col. S. O. Fitts who lived in this section in the early days and has many old friends here who are giving him the glad hand.

Press Association Committees The Florida Press Association has organized committees to handle the press during the coming year.

Memorials and Resolutions. Lee B. Brown, O'Independent, St. Petersburg; Harry L. Brown, Record, St. Augustine; Arthur B. Brown, News, Ft. Pierce.

Special Committee No. 1 To consider matter of buying paper in bulk. A. H. Andrews, Eagle, Estero; Clarence E. Woods, Lake Region; Eustis R. B. Brodner, Reporter, Star, Orlando; W. M. Ball, Times-Union, Jacksonville; W. F. Stovall, Tribune, Tampa.

CLOSING WEEK OF CAMPAIGN WILL BE BUSY

BIG MEETING AT LONGWOOD, GENEVA, AND AT SANFORD

This is the closing week of the campaign and while there will be one day of next week in which the candidates can work it is conceded that they will be tired enough to retire next week until the morning of election calls them early to the polls there to "labor and to wait."

Being the last week it is also the busiest and there will be meetings and still hunts galore. It was thought that a big barbecue could be arranged at Longwood but the time was too short and it has been decided to give a big meet instead and on Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Longwood Hotel the candidates will expound the prime plex that are expected to give them the votes to which they aspire.

The candidates will give a blank of good cheer in a last night Saturday night and all the county candidates will be here from far and wide and every one of them is expected to speak for ten minutes and as this will be the last opportunity to hear them a large crowd is expected from all parts of the county.

The Blindness of Devotion. Briefly told, the story of the "Blindness of Devotion," in which Robert B. Mantell, the celebrated dramatic star makes his debut under the management of William Fox, is as follows: Count de Carnay, a man over sixty, falls in love with and marries a beautiful adventuress, Renee Delavoy by name.

Count de Carnay, a man over sixty, falls in love with and marries a beautiful adventuress, Renee Delavoy by name. Renee does not love her aged husband, whom she has married solely for his wealth and position. The Count is guardian to Pierre Cavercaux, a handsome young soldier on foreign service. Pierre leaves his regiment for a visit to his guardian. He and Renee meet under romantic circumstances, with the inevitable result. Youth calls to youth, and under the very eyes of the dotting husband, a disgraceful intrigue is carried on.

At the Star Wednesday. The Presbyterian C. E. met on Friday evening with good attendance. The program was in charge of Co. A, Mrs. Geo. Paxton leader.

On Monday evening an interesting business session was held by the executive committee at the church.

The Climax.

"We had a bad accident the last time we were out motoring." "What was it?" "We were so unfortunate as to knock down a man and fracture his skull." "That was bad." "But that wasn't the unfortunate part of it. The man was holding a sharp knife in his hand and the point of it punctured our tire."

The Reason.

"You see that it is only a matter of a few feet with the latest in road wear?" "We have tried hard," explained the driver, "but can't perfect any way to save ice cream in it."

Worth Pleading.

MATERNAL RESPONSIBILITY

by an instinct that is vastly superior to the wisdom of many mothers.

The summer in Florida, as in every other section, is particularly hard and trying on young children. It is a season that brings large risks of intestinal troubles, as a result of improper feeding, and with babies whose power of resistance is much below that of grown-ups, the probability of accidents is increased.

The chances of food poisoning are increased, and the danger of cholera is not to be overlooked. The State Board of Health, which supervises the trains, moving seasonally, will bring these results, but they are generally the result of ignorance regarding health matters that seem little short of a miracle. A recent experience is summarized as follows:

A lady, among the visitors to the exhibition, was shown a photograph, which showed various articles of food, such as meats, fruits, beer, coffee, and water, and other articles for grown-ups, and read beneath the list of these articles the following:

"These are not intended for babies."

The supercilious comment was: "My babies these things go on anything they want."

A local physician replied: "Madam, if babies were intended to eat such things, they would have been born with teeth. The Creator would have supplied them with the means to masticate and digest such things." "Well, I can see that," she said, "but God is at fault, and the blame is left, evidently surprised at the ignorance of the doctor.

If proof were needed of the fact that some women have not the right to be mothers, it is supplied here. An all-wise Providence has conferred upon woman the wonderful privilege of maternity, with all its anguish and responsibilities, but offsets these with a capacity for loving that raises the mother to a plane almost divine, a plane above the comprehension of her companion, the father of her children. And yet, in view of such a condition as shown by this Florida mother, is it any wonder that nearly babies of every hundred born in the United States die before the age of a year old, that one-fourth are gone before the fifth year, and that from one half to three quarters of the children in the public schools are physical deficients?

Every child has the inherent right to a fair start in life, of a clean, healthful parentage. Every child has the right to proper nourishment, clothing and protection until he reaches the years of discretion and self support. He has the right to demand of his parents the exercise of the highest wisdom in the care given him. Because a father wants a certain thing to eat, is not a reason why he should have it? He might want to touch a red hot iron because its bright color attracts him, but the mother who would permit it is a criminal.

Too often children are neglected. Once in the world they are regarded as nuisances; they are neglected and abused by willful ignorance, and their progress toward manhood and womanhood is made a thorny way.

In the matter of feeding, young animals are guided and protected

INFORMATION GROVE GARDEN & FIELD
 QUESTIONS ANSWERED IMMEDIATELY BY MAIL
 MRS. N. M. G. PRANGE, DEPT. MGR., WILSON & TOOMER FERTILIZER COMPANY, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

the same effect as the lime in ground limestone, except acting quicker because of its finer particles, and the potash in the ashes should have the same effect as the ordinary potash of fertilizer, but it is believed by the larger number of old and successful growers that there are times when nothing can take the place of ash.

As an ordinary soil neutralizer we consider the ground limestone entirely suited to general needs, but some times the trees seem to need the quick work and special characteristics that are found in ashes and cannot be substituted in anything else.

Lime In Ashes.
 A friend of mine criticized my purchase of hardwood ashes, saying it was mostly ground limestone which is much cheaper. How about this? If the limestone is just as good, why not use it instead of ashes?

ANSWER: We have a great sympathy with the friend of yours who spoke of hardwood ashes as being "mostly ground limestone." Of course, he did not mean that limestone had been put in the ashes, but, instead, that there was about a 35 per cent content carbonate of lime, which is the same form of lime as in ground limestone, but is in very much finer physical condition. Theoretically, he is right, because this lime should have exactly to be applied, but the crops will be better when the manure is broadcasted. Many plant diseases are carried in manure, so care should always be taken that stock does not eat diseased vegetation.

General Spray Information.
 What is the latest control of melonose in citrus groves, any special combinations of sprays so as to hit two enemies at one application? Any thing new, let me know.

ANSWER: The latest control of melonose in the citrus grove is a thorough pruning during dormant seasons. However, the fruit can be protected from melonose disfiguration by spraying with ammoniacal copper carbonate or weak Bordeaux mixture. The best combinations of spray for control of whitefly, scale, rust mite, etc., are shown in the Yothera Schedule which we are enclosing. If you will bring the particular troubles you wish to combat we would advise you much more intelligently, as it is practically impossible to go over all the troubles that may occur in the citrus grove and work out the different combinations.

Experiments Expensive.
 This is my first year in this part of the State and I expect to do some experimenting. Shall appreciate the opportunity to get information from you from time to time.

ANSWER: If you are running your place as a hobby, this, of course, is all right, and we will be pleased to tell you any particular points that you need to know in regard to the general action of fertilizer materials, needs of your crops, etc., but as a commercial proposition we would most earnestly advise that you benefit from the long years of experience that have gone before you. You will have your hands full at first in the attempt to master these general principles. When you have done this you will be far better fitted to reach out beyond.

Soil For Small Fruits.
 I would like to know where the best soil for raising small fruits in Florida is located, if you will kindly oblige.

ANSWER: We could not decide as to where the best soil in Florida for raising small fruit is located. We have been in the State a great many years and find the better acquainted we become with the different localities the better opinion we have of the opportunities awaiting right development. We would choose the place where we liked best to make our home and feel sure that with right management we could certainly make a living.

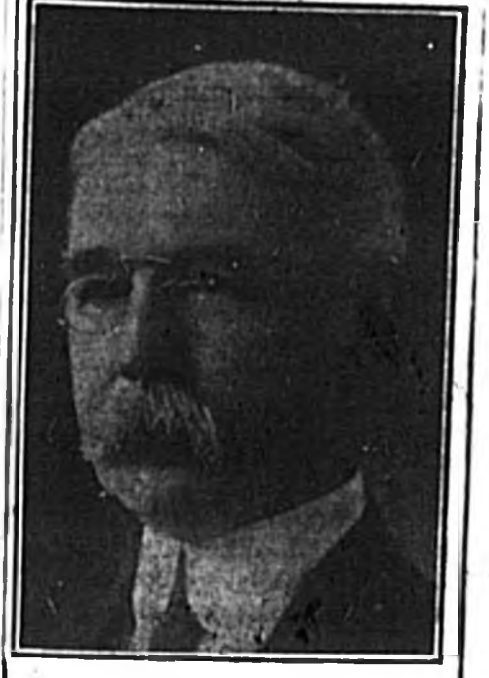

Beer From Rice.
 Perhaps the most peculiar beer in the world is sake, a beer which the Japanese make from rice. It is the common alcoholic liquor of Japan, and is usually heated before drinking.

Premonitions.
 Patriotic Belligerent: "How are you going to describe and comment on this affair?" Press Writer: "I am going to tell you all important facts and put the blame where it belongs." Patriotic Belligerent: "There. I knew all the time that you were bitterly prejudiced against us!"—Longville Leader.

Sound Advice.
 "What are you doing, Thomas?" asked the father of the young man who sat dreamily gazing into space. "Building air castles, father," answered the visionary youth. "Quit it my boy, quit it," said the old man. "You can't mortgage structures of that kind for a cent."

His Views.
 "So you think a college education is a good thing for a boy?" "Yes, I think it's a pretty good thing. Fits him for something in life. If he can't catch on with a baseball team, he can often land a job as a professor."

FOR STATE ATTORNEY

To the Democratic voters of Seminole County and the Seventh Circuit:
 I beg leave to announce myself to the Democratic Primary, June 6, 1916, as a candidate for the office of State Attorney of the Seventh Judicial Circuit of Florida.
 Fully appreciating the duties of the high office, I pledge my best ability to the faithful discharge of the same, as I have given during the short time I have held this office.
 I will appreciate your endorsement of my past work by your vote at the primary.

Why You Should Own a Maxwell

- Comfort First, because it is a comfortable riding car. Plenty of room for five people; deep, soft cushions; springs made of the best spring steel, scientifically heat-treated, accurately suspended and balanced. You will always be comfortable in a Maxwell.
- Appearance Second, because the Maxwell is a trim, smart, good-looking car. Many makers of heavy, high priced cars, as you know, have copied the general lines, the shape of the body and hood of the Maxwell. This is more of a compliment than an infringement.
- Service Third, because the Maxwell, being a product of thirteen years evolution, is so designed and manufactured that it gives unfailing, consistent and satisfying service to thousands of owners. Maxwell cars are made of the best materials that money and brains can buy—and they are made right. You can get out of any car only what is put into it.
- Low First-Cost Fourth, because you get everything in a Maxwell that you can get in any car and you get it for less money. The answer to this is that the Maxwell is a light car and it is built in enormous quantities. The Maxwell Co. is one of the three largest producers of high grade motor cars in the world.
- Low After-Cost Fifth, because the Maxwell will give you more miles per dollar than any car built. We say this without hesitation or doubt. It is our honest belief and we are willing to prove it by Maxwell owners, by comparison with any other car or by any other way you suggest or prefer. The Maxwell will please you. We know it will. Let us arrange for a demonstration and we'll take the responsibility of satisfying you completely.
