By REIDA McCALL
American Red Cross is now offering two new volunteer services for those who want to give of some of their time to helping others. These are both year-round programs, and require one-half day a week. A Red Cross orientation which includes training in a greater understanding of the helping process and a standard first aid course are the two requirements for becoming a confident volunteer.

The first service is as assistants to the dentist at the dental clinic at the county health department. Mrs. Grace Fisher, director of Public Health Nurses, stated today that they could not run the clinic without the volunteers, that their help is valuable. Many children in the county would not get the dental care they need if the clinic were not open. She also said that by the volunteers assisting the dentist, the PH nurses are released to give nursing care at home to the sick, who do not have others to do it, and to keep a closer watch on communicable diseases in the county.

The second new service is at Seminole Memorial Hospital. The value of the trained and uniformed volunteers is commended enthusiastically by Mrs. Monserrate Vales, the in-training supervisor, and Robert Beaser, the hospital administrator. The volunteers are presently transporting patients to and from the Physio-therapy and X-ray departments, and assisting Robert Jones, the physio-therapist in this newly-established department.

Red Cross would like to offer this service to men also. Any man or woman interested in either or both of these services, please call the RC office, 322-4125 before 5 p.m., or Mrs. Helen Peasgood, chairman of volunteers, at 328-9050 after 1 p.m. Training classes will be set up right away.

Central Florida Chapter, American Red Cross, is made up of three divisions.

The north division being Seminole and the north portion of Orange County, the central division is Orange County and the south division is Osceola County. The fiscal year of the Central Florida chapter is July 1 through June 30.

'Political Malice' Scored Kirk's Budget Version Delivered To Legislature

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Gov. Claude Kirk's hand drafted but reached the Legislature to day and the chief executive blamed "political malice" for its still being $40 million over anticipated revenue.

The measure, a combination of two spending bills which totaled $1.56 billion, was drafted by Kirk's budget director, James H. "Bud" Kirk, who said the bill maintains the recently-proposed salary increases for government officials because Republicans could not vote them out as the bill was written.

However, he said he plan to introduce a separate bill striking this section and putting salaries for the next two years back to where they are now.

Kirk was not in town for the showdown, he was in Jackson Hole, Wyo., for a governor's conference.

Kirk held several meetings with the Democratic leadership but was unable to arrange a compromise, a failure he said "disturbed" him.

He said he was displeased at having to "get involved in the legislative process" by writing his own bill.

This is, in effect, what Kirk did by re-writing items in the bill he didn't want and junking them by veto.

"I've been able to meet the state's needs," said Kirk, adding that some of them were over-stated in the bills as passed.

Kirk also took the knife to a supplemental bill containing $75 million.

Kirk reportedly was seeking to arrive at spending totaling $1.29 billion.

Lawmakers prepared to give him some leeway Wednesday afternoon when the House approved a bill permitting bond financing of $2 million worth of new construction which had been in a capital budget, Kirk vetoed.

He also ousted the veto before sending the bill to the Senate. Senate action had not been taken however, before Kirk wound up his work on the two bills.

Solons Racing Time

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—While waiting for a break in the appropriations log jam, legislators Wednesday sailed through a package of other bills and formed up preparations for going into constitutional revision.

Details of Gov. Claude Kirk's action on two appropriations bills were revealed Thursday.

The House got through a thorny problem—summer horse racing—Tuesday.

It approved 67-40 the so-called "Calder Bill," allowing construction of a new, $6 million summer horse racing track in North Dade county.

Deafated was an opposing bill, the "Big Three" bill, which would have given the summer horse racing business exclusive to Gulfstream, Tropical Park and Hialeah parks in Miami and reduced the state for they must pay daily from 8 per cent to 5 per cent of the take.

"This is simply a struggle between monopoly control and free enterprise," said Rep. Dan Scarborough, Jacksonville, a proponent of the Calder bill. It authorizes Fort Lauderdale businessman Stephen Calder to construct the race track.

The Senate faced again through its "speedy calendar," which is made up of non-controversial bills.

It approved legislation abolishing the Florida Educational Television Commission and creating a Florida Advisory Commission on Educational Television.

All facilities will be put under the State Board of Education, except for educational facilities of the university system.

An ad valorem tax relief measure, exempting household goods and personal effects from personal property tax, was approved by the Senate without objections and sent to the governor.

Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth would be given the teeth to change the state's election practices affecting Florida counties under another bill approved by the Senate. It creates a Division of Consumer and Business Protection within the attorney general's office.

At Altamonte Springs New Plats' Sewerage Pondered

Discussion of ways and means of providing a sewerage system and temporary treatment plant for two new subdivisions in the Town of Altamonte Springs consumed nearly the full two hours of the Town Council meeting Wednesday evening at City Hall.

The town, after prodding by the State Health Department and Federal Housing Administration, formed a policy at a recent meeting of council to permit plating of new subdivisions on the condition that sewerage provisions be made.

The town also has submitted applications to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for grants for a sewerage system for the part of the town south of SR 166.

William Palm, of Glebe Engineering, reported cost of providing a sewerage system for the part of the town south of SR 166. It has been tentatively agreed to provide a sewerage system for the part of the town south of SR 166.

In addition developers will be required to furnish all lines within their subdivisions and turn them over to the city. Value placed on the lines to be contributed by the developers is estimated at $100,000. It has been tentatively agreed to provide a sewerage system for the part of the town south of SR 166.

Another resolution was reported in preparation for assembly of the town council on Tuesday night.

It is to be an international city, but Israel took the new part of the city during the 1948-49 Palestine war and Jordan seized the Old City. The Israelis drove the Jordanian army from the Old City — which contains the holy sites of the Christian, Jewish and Muslim holy places — at the start of the June 5-11 war.

In a statement issued last Wednesday night, Jordan's King Hussein said his government would support a proclamation of the city limits of Jerusalem to include the Old City and some adjacent territory seized from Jordan.

UN Pressure Mounts On Israel

UNITED NATIONS N.Y. (AP)—Pressure mounted on Israel today at the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly to reverse its annexation of the Old City of Jerusalem.

Fifteen nonaligned nations submitted a resolution to the Assembly Wednesday calling on the Israeli government to withdraw its troops from the territory seized from Egypt, Jordan and Syria in the six-day war that began in June 1967.

Introducing the resolution, Ambassador Danilo Kozic of Yugoslavia said the Israeli army was treated with full integration into Israel and called for the "2-nation Assembly to adopt his resolution on Friday."

Betty Furness Plans To Wed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Betty Furness, President Johnson's special assistant for consumer affairs, and television executive Leslie Midgley have announced their engagement.

The wedding is set for Aug. 15 in New York according to the announcement Wednesday.

Miss Furness, 31, has been married twice before. Her first marriage ended in divorce and her second husband, Hugh Ernst, died in 1956.

Midgley, 32, said they had met at CBS about three years ago. His first wife died in 1963.

Girl Finds Advertising Pays—Wins A Husband

CAMBRIDGE Mass. (AP)—Last year a Radcliffe girl got 250 replies to her advertisement in the Harvard Crimson saying she wanted to get married for one year to escape dormitory life.

What happened? "I got married," says Beth Lutz.

As a result of the ad? "Not really, not directly," Mrs. Lutz says. "But it did get me out of the dorm."

Beth, 21, and a native of Pittsburgh, Pa., married Michael Lutz, 23, of Syosset, N.Y., last January. She was graduated from Radcliffe a few days ago and will do graduate work in Russian studies next semester while her husband finishes his last year at Harvard Law School.

Gulf American Stock Probed By State Unit

MIAMI (AP)—The Florida Installment Land Sales Board is investigating Gulf American Land Corp., one of Florida's largest developers, and the American Stock Exchange has suspended trading in its shares.

Published reports that Gulf American was being investigated were confirmed Wednesday by company officials at its headquarters in Miami and by Charles G. Ford, Miami, chairman of the state board.

Both said no action had been taken.

Gold said the Land Sales Board had never heard the matter fully and Gulf American has never been found guilty of anything.

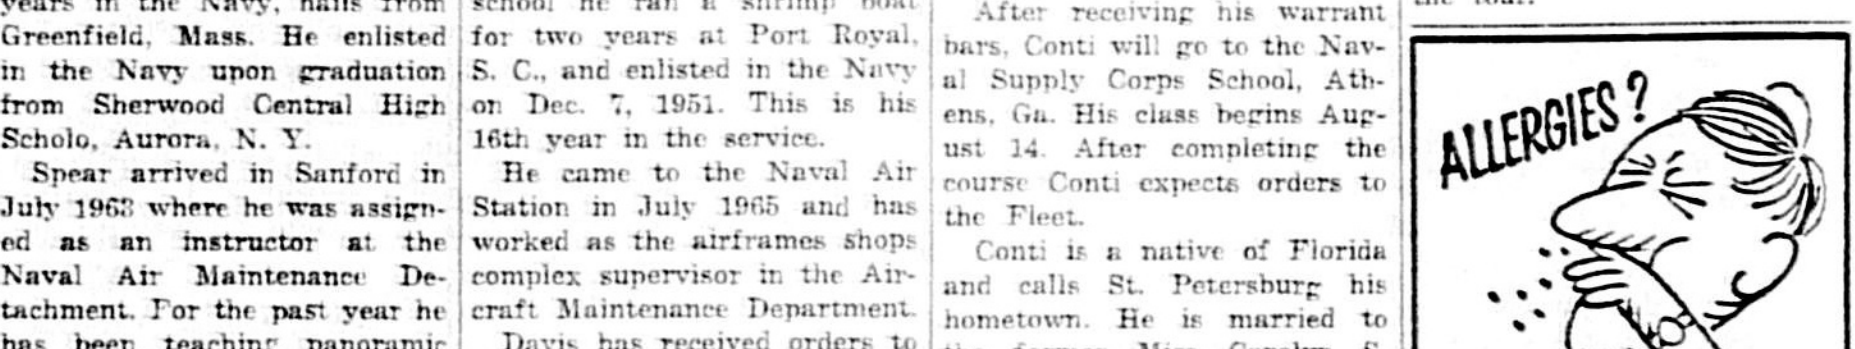

A spokesman for the American Stock Exchange said suspension came after a large influx of orders, but he declined to say whether the orders were to buy or sell the firm's stock.

Closing price Tuesday was $1.25 a share. There was no indication from the stock exchange when Gulf American would be reinstated.

Gold said the Land Sales Board is scheduled to meet Friday in Tampa. A meeting Wednesday was canceled for lack of a quorum.

Gulf American, which was started lightly on the wrist by a real estate developer, had the most of two years ago, agreed to be identified as Florida, most of it in the south west section of the state.

It developed Cape Coral, Gold Beth says. "But I still have some of the answers. I'm saving them for my grandchildren."

Inspection A Good Move

State Senate the other day approved legislation that would have a far-reaching effect on the state.

Approval was given legislation that would require motor vehicles to be inspected twice annually.

We fully realize that "pilot" error is still the principal cause of the majority of highway accidents — the "pilot" error coming from bad judgment, or driving while drinking, speeding, or a number of other reasons.

But it is known that some accidents are caused by faulty equipment operation.

And, there are other accidents, the cause of which has never been determined, simply because of the condition of the vehicles involved after the accident.

State-ordered inspection is just one step in the direction of making Florida highways safer for travel.

During the average person's years of drinking, we are sure they have noticed vehicles being operated without proper equipment — "crossed" turn signals, "one-eyed" headlights, improper or no year lights or reflectors, broken windows, etc.

The inspection won't completely eliminate such equipment from being operated on the highways, but it will limit the length of time — since the twice-a-year inspection should turn up such faults.

Highway safety is one of the big problems in America today. It is as serious a problem as a shooting war — as far as the killing and maiming of thousands of people each year.

Vehicle inspection is a good move in an attempt to help solve the problem.

Blunt Swords By Words

Though he would never admit it to his editor, many a reporter in the staff of the United Nations proceedings a delightful assignment. The droning talk of the diplomats exerts a powerful soporific effect which the soft seats in the hall do nothing to dispel.

Many people who watched the Security Council's deliberations on the Middle East crisis over their television sets may well be inclined to agree.

But it is to be hoped that the United Nations continues to talk about the problem. And talk, talk. If this seems futile, we can only repeat Churchill's famous statement that jaw-jaw is better than war-war.

On the assumption that a great deal of bluffing is involved in the menacing developments that have taken place in the Middle East, the longer the diplomats talk, the sounder the whole world will sleep.

Bruce Biossat — Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

Moscow may have overplayed its hand in the Middle East war. Instead of increasing its influence, the Soviet Union may show up as a paper tiger. "Things don't appear that way now."

Arab countries are taking over American, British and other oil interests. Some have asserted they will not march on the West.

Book-throwing Arabs have marched on U.S. embassies, consulates or libraries in Lebanon, Syria, Tunisia and Egypt.

The Arabs speak of the Soviet Union as their great protector and friend. Several Arab nations have cut diplomatic relations with the United States.

So it would look as though the Soviet Union were riding high regardless of the turn of the war.

Now comes the reckoning. The Soviet Union supplied the Arabs with arms and promised economic help. It encouraged the Arabs with statements.

But the Israelis are winning. Arabs need planes, tanks, other weapons and military advisers and some sort of Russian action "volunteers" to stem the tide.

The Russians are in no position to deliver.

The Egyptians need food in this crisis. The Russians don't have the food to spare, except in token amounts.

As things already stand between the Egyptian-Israeli war, the Russians, as well as the Arab world, were suffering a serious loss of face because of their inability to come effectively to Ho Chi Minh's aid.

Moscow apparently believed a relations with the United States would take some of the heat off the Soviet Union were riding high regardless of the turn of the war.

Reports in scattered countries now comes the reckoning. The Soviet Union supplied the Arabs with arms and promised economic help. It encouraged the Arabs with statements.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every once in a while President Johnson reveals, after 30 years in public life, his extreme sensibility to criticism. He doesn't do it often, at least directly and in public.

It happened again in a speech he gave Tuesday at the national convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Baltimore, although why he did it isn't clear.

Partly, this is because Russia and Red China didn't come through sufficiently in the Congo and other African countries in Vietnam. Partly, it's because of the weakness exposed in the Moscow-Peking split.

If the Russians are unable or unwilling to protect the Arab world, their stock as "protectors" will sink to a new low.

The Russians could still pull their dignity out of the fire — with American help — as part of an effective team lacking a truce in the Middle East. The Russians won a victory in Arab eyes when the U.S. demonstrated, some believed, some in sandals, milled around the hotel where he spoke.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Charley suffers from a widespread sexual complex. It not only afflicts widowers who are about to marry again, but it is a secret worry that drives many good husbands into alcoholism and the "Ponce de Leon" complex.

For impotence is usually about the eyes!

A person cannot "emote" and also "cerebrate" simultaneously, for those are opposite processes.

Since worry is a cerebral or brain process, it automatically quiets the man's passionate ardor.

Charley and his fiancée were very well suited to each other, so I had a conference with her soon after she was married. "I decided to register with your Scientific Marriage Foundation."

"Within six weeks, I was given the name of a very charming widow, about 44 years of age."

"She had been married to a physician but her husband had been killed in an auto accident."

"Well, we corresponded for a couple of months; then I drove over to her town for a visit."

"From the very first, we have been greatly attracted to each other. And now I have proposed marriage."

"But as the wedding day approaches, I am getting scared. For I wonder after two years of being a widower if I will be able to function as a virile husband."

"And the more terrified I become, the more platonically I love her. Would you advise me to call off the wedding dog?"

WOMEN WAKE UP

Most of you women don't understand the apprehension that many men feel as they approach a second wedding day.

For you women don't have the viewpoint that men adopt. A wife is normally the most, passive, passive partner of her mate.

So a second marriage doesn't cause her Charley's anxiety, for it requires no conscious effort just to be passive.

The husband, however, realizes that his role is an active one and as he begins to wonder about his years of abstinence, he grows nervous.

Also, that very worry can soon change a virile mate into a platonic husband.

For impotence is usually about the eyes!

A person cannot "emote" and also "cerebrate" simultaneously, for those are opposite processes.

Since worry is a cerebral or brain process, it automatically quiets the man's passionate ardor.

Charley and his fiancée were very well suited to each other, so I had a conference with her soon after she was married. "I decided to register with your Scientific Marriage Foundation."

"Within six weeks, I was given the name of a very charming widow, about 44 years of age."

"She had been married to a physician but her husband had been killed in an auto accident."

"Well, we corresponded for a couple of months; then I drove over to her town for a visit."

"From the very first, we have been greatly attracted to each other. And now I have proposed marriage."

"But as the wedding day approaches, I am getting scared. For I wonder after two years of being a widower if I will be able to function as a virile husband."

"And the more terrified I become, the more platonically I love her. Would you advise me to call off the wedding dog?"

Navy Mum On Ship Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy court of inquiry has refused to speculate on whether Israeli jets and PT boats knew they were attacking a U.S. vessel when they rocketed, machine-gunned and torpedooed the communications ship Liberty during the Middle East war.

A summary of the court's proceedings, released by the Pentagon late Wednesday, also made no mention of reports the ship was engaged in electronic spying or Israeli and Egyptian communications when she was hit June 8 some 15 miles north of the Sinai Peninsula.

The summary, prepared from a secret report, said witnesses before the Navy court testified to "significant surveillance of the Liberty on three occasions from the air hours before the midair attack."

But the document added that because it was not an international investigation, there was no evidence on whether the planes identified the Israeli and Egyptian vessels.

The Navy court affirmed the vessel's right to be where it was, in international waters and produced evidence the Israeli armed forces "had ample opportunity to identify Liberty correctly," the summary said.

"The court has insufficient information before it to make a judgment on the reasons for the decision by Israeli aircraft and torpedoo boats to attack," the Pentagon report said.

"It was not the responsibility of the court to rule on the culpability of the attackers, but the evidence was heard from the attacking plane."

The summary said the Navy court, which met in closed session in London and aboard the shattered vessel in Malta, found that the Liberty was in international waters, "properly marked as to her identity and nationality, and in calm, clear weather when she suffered an unprovoked attack."

A total of 33 U.S. Navy men and a civilian technician for the superspacer National Security Agency were killed in the attack. Seventy-five others were injured.

The Israeli government apologized and offered to make amends. Israeli military authorities have announced their own inquiry into the attack, which occurred three days after the outbreak of the Arab-Israeli war.

The Defense Department has said from the outset that the Liberty, a converted World War II merchant ship, was in the area "to assure communication between the U.S. government posts in the Middle East and to assist in relaying information concerning the evacuation of American dependents and other American citizens."

There have been published reports that the Liberty actually was functioning as a spy ship eavesdropping on Egyptian and Israeli communications, but that it was operated by the Navy for the National Security Agency.

The Pentagon says the three NSA civilian technicians aboard the Liberty were assisting in "technical research and intelligence communications security operations."

An officer aboard the 6th Fleet carrier America told an Associated Press reporter shortly after the attack that the Liberty was "there to spy for us."

Later, Vice Admiral William I. Martin, commander of the 6th Fleet, denied this.

The summary stated the Joint Chiefs of Staff, early on the day of the attack, had ordered Liberty to move further from the coast, even though such a move would have partially lowered her effectiveness.

"The messages were misrouted, delayed, and not received until after the attack," the summary said.

The summary of the Navy court's investigation said the Liberty provided free access to all parts of Jerusalem "and in both directions."

A spokesman for the municipal government in New Jerusalem stressed that Israel would provide free access to all parts of Jerusalem "and in both directions."

Jerusalem Now One City

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli court of Jerusalem and the Arab Old City which Israel seized from Jordan in the six-day war became one Israeli city today.

Interior Minister Moshe Shapira issued a proclamation requiring the Israeli and Arab sectors of the 3,000-year-old Old City of David for the first time since Jordan seized the walled Old City and Israel occupied the new sector in the 1948 Palestine war.

"Let us see to it that peace and mutual understanding shall prevail among all the city's residents," Shapira said.

Israel acted despite warnings from the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and the Vatican and increasing pressure at the United Nations.

The State Department said the Israeli court would not recognize Israel's assertion of administrative control over Old Jerusalem and its shrines of Islam, Christianity and Judaism.

"The hasty administrative action was regarded as a violation of the future of the holy places or the status of Jerusalem in relation to them," the State Department said.

Earlier Wednesday, the White House made a public appeal to Israel to avoid any quick annexation of the old section of Jerusalem.

King Hussein of Jordan called the Israeli action "unacceptable and intolerable." Christian religious leaders in Amman, the Jordanian capital, protested.

Yugoslavia and 14 other non-aligned members of the United Nations rushed a resolution into the emergency General Assembly calling on the Israelis to pull their troops back from all territories occupied since 1948.

Israel's Foreign Minister Abba Eban countered with an announcement that his government would keep Jerusalem united and would administer the holy places with scrupulous respect to all faiths.

A spokesman for the municipal government in New Jerusalem stressed that Israel would provide free access to all parts of Jerusalem "and in both directions."

Lurleen Suffers Cancer Again Queen's Gems Cause Housing Problem

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II's worldly possessions are about to cause a housing problem.

What sort of possessions? Diamond necklaces, old masters, golden daggers with jade hilt and beautiful. So far, the palace rooms resemble palace rooms.

The queen and her husband, Prince Philip, travel abroad with great dash. Each time they return loaded with gifts.

When King Farouk of Saudi Arabia visited Britain recently he brought a diamond necklace and a palm tree fashioned in gold. The queen gave him a gold chain and a large silver bowl. It is said the queen owns more diamond necklaces than any woman in the world.

The queen owns one palace in London, Buckingham; two castles at Windsor and Balmoral; and a big country house, Sandringham, in Norfolk. Among them there are several hundred rooms, but royal gift-swapping has been going on for centuries.

Queen Elizabeth is reported to own over 500 carriages by Louis XV and XVI. One was valued recently at $2.8 million.

Most of the more perishable things are kept in temperature-controlled vaults beneath Buckingham Palace. In charge of the queen's possessions is Brigadier Geoffrey Hardy-Roberts, master of the queen's household.

He has distributed hundreds of the gifts around the various rooms, with taste. It is easy to make a room look like a museum if its objects too cluttered with them, however costly and beautiful. So far, the palace rooms resemble palace rooms.

In 1961 the Maharajah of Jalpur gave Her Majesty a dagger with a jade handle studded with diamonds, rubies and sapphires. She also received from him a pair of elephants carved out of emeralds. They stand a little more than three inches high.

When visiting Sierra Leone in Africa, the queen was presented with an uncut diamond the size of a pigeon's egg. Also a live box constructor.

Nikita Khrushchev gave her a coat of Russian sable. She wears that, and jewelry and mink coats, but many other things may be stored.

In 1962 the president of West Germany gave her a grandfathers clock. Nassau presented her with a tapestry made from gold-doubled threads of a sunken pirate ship.

What about those live gifts, such as the box constructor and a pair of elephants from India?

Use Minerals Sea Foreseen

KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — Dr. Walter R. Hubbard Jr., director of the Federal Bureau of Mines, says it is not a question whether we're going to use minerals from the sea but when. Speaking at the University of Rhode Island, he urged that the United States be ready with legislation, diplomacy and organization for the time when it may go to the bottom of the sea for oil and natural gas.

Hal Boyle Says:

NEW YORK (AP) — Border crossings are often controversial. They have been throughout history.

But the most controversial border today isn't a political border. The one that most people are anxious about isn't even on any map—it's the bordering between youth and middle age.

Many who have crossed it deny that they have; others cross it without ever realizing it.

How then can one tell reliably if one is middle-aged? Well, actions speak louder than words.

Here is a tentative guide based on actual conduct. You're probably middle-aged if:

When a new neighbor moves in next door, you automatically assume he'll be worse than the one who just moved away.

You find yourself muttering to all who will listen, "I don't want any more trouble. All I want is a little peace and quiet."

When you yawn in public, you no longer bother to apologize.

You realize that a public yawn is about the most honest act a man does in life.

You have forgotten the name of the reclining girl who turned you down for a date in high school, but you can name to the hour and day just how far away you are from a pension.

Anytime you are served a piece of meat the first thing you do is cut the fat off it.

It's hard for you to make up your mind which you hate more, the alarm clock or the telephone.

Instead of pretending you don't have prejudices, you tend to brag about them. You feel they are a sign of courage and character.

You dislike buying a new pair of shoes because it takes so long to break them in.

At breakfast you and your wife will always start the day by asking each other, "Did you sleep well?" Each then gives a 10-minute summary about how restless a night he or she spent.

Jayne Mansfield Decapitated In Traffic Mishap
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Jayne Mansfield, her lawyer, and a Mississippi youth died today when their car struck a trailer truck on narrow U.S. 90 in eastern New Orleans. The 33-year-old Hollywood star's three children were taken to Charity Hospital. A police spokesman said the children—Marie, 5, Mickey, 8, and Zoltan Hitzley, 6—were "not hurt too bad."
Police identified Miss Mansfield's male companions as Sam and S. Brock, her attorney, and Ronnie Harrison, 26, of Mississippi City, a small town on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Miss Mansfield had left Biloxi, Miss., about midnight and was en route to New Orleans where she was scheduled to appear on a television program at noon.
Police said the actress was decapitated.
The accident happened about 20 miles east of downtown New Orleans on a winding, narrow stretch of the two-lane route known as the Old Spanish Trail. Richard Rambo, 40, of Pensacola, Fla., driver of the truck, said the car appeared suddenly from the rear and ran

Red Guerrillas Escape Allied Trap
SAIGON (AP) — A crack battalion of some 500 hand-picked Communist guerrillas fanned out into the jungles today after a running two-day battle in which it badly bludgeoned a South Vietnamese ranger battalion and evaded a searching force of more than 2,000 allied troops.
Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from the battle area that U.S. officers believe the Viet Cong unit scattered after more than 21 hours of heavy fighting over the two previous days.
Unofficial reports from the field said 63 South Vietnamese troops were missing, 9 were known dead and 119 had been wounded.
The running battle 40 miles northwest of Saigon matched the pattern of hit-and-run engagements that have sent U.S. casualties up sharply in recent days. The weekly casualty report released today said 274 Americans were killed and 1,258 were wounded last week. The death toll was almost double that of the week before.
The American dead were also more than double the South Vietnamese figure of 119 for the week. Enemy casualties totaled 1,085 dead, the U.S. Command said, compared with 1,801 the week before.
Information on the battle northeast of Saigon was sketchy. Esper reported that South Vietnamese casualties were heavy but no figures were available. The worst losses appeared to have been inflicted on a ranger battalion shortly after it closed on the Viet Cong unit.
Several helicopters were possibly downed in the range, but details were lacking. The escaping force still included men from the U.S. 11th Airborne Cavalry Regiment and the U.S. 9th Infantry Division, and several battalions of South Vietnamese troops.
The operation was touched off Tuesday when the rangers pushed into the jungle on a tip from a defector who claimed to be the bodyguard of the Communist battalion commander.
For two hours this morning U.S. air and artillery again pounded the Viet Cong positions before the extensive allied force struck. It made intensive contacts with small units and reported a large haul of equipment and ammunition. But the main Red force had evidently evaporated.
Several other sharp fights were reported Wednesday on a tangle of rail lines extending north and south of Hanoi. The raids cost one Navy Phantom jet downed. Two crewmen were missing. A spokesman said two parachutes were seen descending after the plane was hit. It was the 590th U.S. combat plane reported downed over North Vietnam.
Hanoi Radio claimed three American planes were shot down and the pilots captured.

48 Seminole Co. Girls Enjoy 4-H Encampment

By MRS. H. L. JOHNSON
Have you ever thought of writing the ending to a story first because in the ending you have the theme or plot for that story? That is what I am doing this time. Why? Well, it's this way...

Last Friday morning was the final day of a five-day encampment for 48 girls at Camp McQuarrie. Forty-eight of these girls were from Seminole County, 28 from Lake County, and 14 from Hernando County.

Friday always means "pack up, load up and leave home" day. When the 7 a.m. bell rang for "get up time," the tears came to flow from eyes of the campers. Time was at hand to say goodbye to new-found friends. A week of learning, swimming, boating, and recreation was over. The week of an imagination to the Hawaiian Islands had been a very short one. The luncheon on Wednesday evening had been a colorful and wonderful affair. Each girl, dressed in Hawaiian dress with a flower in her hair and a lei around her neck, had had an exciting evening which will stay in her memory for a very long time.

Monday afternoon as the girls arrived at Camp McQuarrie, they registered in for a week of 4-H learning. In the 4-H pledge are the words, "I pledge my head to clearer thinking; my heart to larger loyalty; my hands to larger service; my health to better living for my club, my community and my country." It is the determination of the girls to do this when they attend camp.

Theme for the week was "Hawaii." Each cabin was given an special name and the lake was "Waikiki Beach." The dining hall was "Ehukai Hale" (food house) and the auditorium was "Hula Hut."

The camp started this year was "Nui Lani" (good news). Gita Wright; "Kane," Maureen Anthony; and "Head Street," Michael Leclercq.

CLASSES on Hawaiian foods for the 48 girls attending annual 4-H summer camp last week were taught by Miss Sandra Weiss (left, left photo). Seminole County girls gave a program on safety for the Tuesday evening assembly and Wednesday evening a program on conservation was presented by a state official from the Wild Life and Fish Commission. Following his talk, girls from each cabin presented original, humorous skits.

Each girl came home with a Hawaiian cookbook given by Miss Weiss, who was in charge of the food class. Mrs. Forner also gave each girl a small booklet on how to have an indoor luau.

During the afternoon arts and crafts classes, girls, leaders, taught the girls how to make a recipe file book from felt, a daily memo pad from burlap, and a paper flower and yarn vase.

Homemaker's Corner

By MRS. H. L. JOHNSON
Since I attended 4-H camp last week at Camp McQuarrie with 48 Seminole County girls and we learned something about Hawaiian foods, I thought I would use some of the recipes this week. And are they delicious and they look so pretty when prepared in the food class, taught by our own Seminole County Home Economics agent, Sandra Weiss, she kept her classes very interested by the way she prepared the different recipes. Let's try some of them.

Cones Nanna Loa
12 slices Bologna
1 pkg. cream cheese
1 can crushed pineapple
Fold bologna over to form corncups and hold together with a plastic toothpick. Fill with the cream cheese and crushed pineapple which has been blended together.

Kokua Candy Bars
1/2 cup pitted dates, prunes or figs
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup walnuts or other nuts
1/2 cup shredded pineapple
1 cup crushed coconut
Chop the dates or prunes or figs, raisins and nuts in a food grinder or food blender. On a piece of waxed paper combine the fruit and nut mixture, the drained, crushed pineapple and 1/2 cup of coconut. Mix well with a rubber spatula, then mold into a rectangular bar 2 inches by 6 inches. With a knife dipped in cold water slice crosswise to make 12 bars 1/2 inch thick and 2 inches long. Roll in remaining coconut, chill and store in refrigerator.

Pali Plantation Punch
1 (4oz.) can pineapple juice
2 (6oz.) cans frozen banana-orange juice concentrate
1 qt. water
1 qt. lemon-lime carbonated beverage
Combine well chilled ingredients just before serving. Pour over block of ice or frozen cubes of pineapple juice, tinted green. If desired, makes 39 servings.

Here is the recipe of the Chicken Polynesian used by the camp cook, Mrs. Marie Nall at the camp luau.

Retirement Dinner Party Honors Mrs. Janie Shoemaker

By DORIS WILLIAMS

It was a great night for a lady! Mrs. Janie Shoemaker, affectionately known as "The Fairy" and "Miss Shoe," reigned as queen, June 23, when she was the surprised guest of honor at a retirement dinner at Otto's Hofbrauhaus.

The surprise maneuver was a carefully and cunningly executed by Mrs. Henry Black, a former Herald employe now residing in Winter Park, who invited Miss Shoe out to dine with her and husband, George.

Arriving on the scene in infinite innocence, the threesome entered a private dining room of Otto's, where they were royally greeted by 66 members of The Sanford Herald family, all attired in their best bit and tucker to honor my lady. Wearing a lovely corsage on each shoulder, the honor guest felt like a queen. "I feel like a queen," she commented, "I feel like a queen." Special guests from Martinsville, Va., were Robert H. Haskell, president of The Sanford Herald, Inc., and his charming wife, Toni, who presented Miss Shoe, business manager for the past 15 years, with a perfectly gorgeous dinner ring created from six perfect opals in a handsome antique gold setting. Tailored and versatile Toni pointed Miss Shoe a beautiful woodland scene which was framed for hanging.

"I FEEL LIKE A QUEEN" remarked Mrs. Janie Shoemaker, center foreground, as she admires typewriter given her by Sanford Herald employes at a surprise retirement dinner in her honor at Otto's Hofbrauhaus, June 23. Sharing the enthusiasm of the honoree are from left, Mrs. Helen Brown; Robert Haskell, president of The Sanford Herald, Inc., and his wife, Toni, from Martinsville, Va.

The Walter A. Gietowicz clock, depicting the famed Herald column, "Around the Clock," and their signatures. Miss Cassberry, our faithful correspondent, designed a cartoon, featuring an oversized writer's animated "characters" of the newsroom staff, oozing out in all directions, accompanied by a cleverly written bit of poetry.

All of the employes "chipped in" and contributed to a typewriter for our beloved Miss Shoe, so that when we get snowed under, Miss Shoe can "carry on" for us at home and we know, "there's more truth to this fact!"

Another surprise came with a special edition of The Sanford Herald naming Miss Shoe in the limelight on the front page with glowing headlines, a large picture and special proclamation issued in her behalf. Copies of the edition were given to all guests as mementoes of the special occasion.

Others attending the lovely retirement dinner party with the Herald family were Mrs. Shoemaker's daughter, Helen Brown, her husband, Robert and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. V. Shoemaker. Everybody dined sumptuously from the appetizing authentic German buffet at attractively appointed tables, centered with WASHING ENAMEL. Household cleansers may destroy the shine of a glossy enamel surface. To wash an enamel surface correctly, all you need is a household detergent when washing enamel and start washing at the bottom of walls or woodwork and continue upwards to avoid water streaks. It's a good idea to test your detergent solution on an out-of-the-way spot before you begin!

This organization is composed of members of the band who received gold keys for outstanding service to the band. The keys were first given in 1952. Mr. Cowley's first year as bandmaster. From arrival at the Cowley's. Each person was presented with a name tag written in the form of the band's famous pink card. (Pink cards were given for various infractions of the rules and were kept in the member's personal files). Later on in the evening, a drawing was held and Mrs. Phillip Toney won the "door prize" — a blue card, (these were given to the band members for outstanding achievements).

Most of the afternoon was spent in reminiscing and looking through the huge band scrapbook. A picnic supper was enjoyed by all and following that, the group looked at movies taken throughout the fifteen years that Mr. Cowley was bandmaster. These consisted of halftime shows, contests, parades, and various trips. Highlights of these were the March 28th trip and parade in 1954, the Washington trip and parade, and various Gasparilla and Watermelon Festival parades.

During the evening a short business meeting was held at which time the committee was thanked for their efforts in making the event such a success. Those on the committee:

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I started writing to you when I was 16. I liked her a lot, but she seemed to have a lot of crummy friends. One day Vi called me at work and told me she had been beaten up and robbed, so would I stop off to see her and bring her some money to pay her bills.

When I saw her, she sure was a mess. She said some men she had never seen before used a pass key to get into her flat, beat her up, and took all her savings which was about $300.

I took Vi to the emergency hospital, and they fixed her up. She told them she fell down some stairs. I wanted to report it to the police but Vi wouldn't let me. I gave her $200 to pay her bills.

Now I am wondering who she would report a robbery to the police. This does not make sense to me. Does it to you?

VI'S GUY: Probably the reason Vi didn't want to report the robbery was because there wasn't any. If you're smart, you'll stay away from the likes of Vi, honey.

DEAR ABBY: I married Ted when I was 16. I have him four sons. When the youngest was eight months old, Ted took off for California and left me to raise the boys alone. I did, and believe me, I wasn't easy.

I divorced Ted, and he didn't fight it. In the meantime he married another woman, and the boys grew up and had families of their own.

It has been 40 years now. Ted's wife died, and he has returned. He expects me to take him back and feel the same toward him as I did in the early days. I have no feeling for him. I don't hate him. He is like a stranger to me, except that he is the father of my sons. The boys tell me that their father and I "feel" together. Am I wrong to say I want no part of him?

HURT: Not in my book, you aren't.

DEAR ABBY: I guess you get all kinds of letters, but this will be a new one: My husband went to work for a certain garage downtown. He's a mechanic. Well, Pete worked there for only a few days when I stopped by to pick him up from work, and I met his boss. The boss told me personally that he liked my husband's work, and he hoped Pete would become a permanent fixture around there.

Well, after Pete got his week's pay he was fired. Hold on to your chair while I tell you the reason:

His boss said Pete was too energetic and ambitious — and that the old timers around there looked awfully poor compared to him, and it made them nervous."

Jacoby On Bridge

In most bridge columns the experts also seem to wear the white hats, like the good guys in westerns. But sometimes the experts do not come out best. Occasionally, expert knowledge works against them.

Most any bridge player will wind up at a four spade contract with the South hand. He will undoubtedly be led with three hearts and lead will trump the third.

The ordinary good player will decide to finesse. He will enter dummy with a diamond in order to lead a trump to his queen. When the queen holds he will lead the ace and claim the balance when the ace play drops both the king and jack.

The expert knows a better line of play. He is interested in the best line to avoid the loss of more than one trick; not the line to avoid the loss of any trump trick at all.

Instead of leading a diamond to dummy at trick four, West will play out his ace of trumps. This is a standard safety play that will insure his contract against any trump break, except king-jack-small or king-jack-small-small in the West hand and there is no way for him to handle those combinations.

This time he picks up the six and deuce of trumps with his ace. Then he goes over to dummy and leads toward his hand. East makes his king but that is all. East's spade suit has collected one less trick than the ordinary player South would have done if West had preceded the king of spades to go on the queen and if the next spade lead from dummy left the jack still unaccounted for. Would he finesse and play West for the singleton king or would he risk with the ace and play West for the ace-jack?

We don't find out this time, but the bird sang sweetly, wore the white but instead of the expert.

DEAR POLLY: To keep my four-year-old happy while I do the dishes, I let him wash his play dishes in a basin of just warm soapy water. In addition to keeping him busy, setting the table, teaching him the correct way to handle glass dishes, and to wash and rinse thoroughly. Now does the soap water do any harm to small bowls and other easy-to-handle dishes from the table? This is a big help to me — SHIRLEY

Beauty after Forty

"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod: My neighbor refused to follow your diet but I simply cannot stop eating good food. I have to do something but I have no will power. Can you help?" — Fatty

No, I cannot help, but I can give you the proper diet plan. YOU MUST FOLLOW IT, HOWEVER. Surely you have pride in your appearance, and also you must know that overweight is a health hazard. Diet foods are not unattractive; they're the normal things we eat but they are planned in proper proportions. You can have the same meals for your family but eat what is right for you. Be called "crash diets" are not good and pills should not be taken for reducing unless they are prescribed by your doctor. Now after this little lecture, you can make up your mind whether or not you want to follow my FIGURE CONTROL diet. For a copy, and another leaflet on food, send me a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin. Remember, if your neighbor can reduce, so can you!

"Mr. G. I'm considering a real dress for after-dinner wear. Am I too old? I'm not overweight; I'm tall, with wavy hair. My daughter suggests a slightly torn dress, thought to be a substitute for regular silver clothing. Constantly used and washed, silver tends to need cleaning even for a red dress. If it will give you happy to have one, do so by all means.

"Do you think it is necessary to wear dark glasses when walking in the street? I have three but I never wear them. I'm 54." — Nell

No, it isn't necessary to wear dark glasses when walking in the street. Millions of people are wearing them and you're a celebrity and live in Hollywood. If you have need any time for dark glasses, I'd advise. Brown and gray are the best; they're most hygienic and, at the climax, worshippers test their faith by dipping hands into pots of boiling oil.

Jacoby On Bridge

In most bridge columns the experts also seem to wear the white hats, like the good guys in westerns. But sometimes the experts do not come out best. Occasionally, expert knowledge works against them.

Most any bridge player will wind up at a four spade contract with the South hand. He will undoubtedly be led with three hearts and lead will trump the third.

The ordinary good player will decide to finesse. He will enter dummy with a diamond in order to lead a trump to his queen. When the queen holds he will lead the ace and claim the balance when the ace play drops both the king and jack.

The expert knows a better line of play. He is interested in the best line to avoid the loss of more than one trick; not the line to avoid the loss of any trump trick at all.

Instead of leading a diamond to dummy at trick four, West will play out his ace of trumps. This is a standard safety play that will insure his contract against any trump break, except king-jack-small or king-jack-small-small in the West hand and there is no way for him to handle those combinations.

This time he picks up the six and deuce of trumps with his ace. Then he goes over to dummy and leads toward his hand. East makes his king but that is all. East's spade suit has collected one less trick than the ordinary player South would have done if West had preceded the king of spades to go on the queen and if the next spade lead from dummy left the jack still unaccounted for. Would he finesse and play West for the singleton king or would he risk with the ace and play West for the ace-jack?

We don't find out this time, but the bird sang sweetly, wore the white but instead of the expert.

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY: To keep my four-year-old happy while I do the dishes, I let him wash his play dishes in a basin of just warm soapy water. In addition to keeping him busy, setting the table, teaching him the correct way to handle glass dishes, and to wash and rinse thoroughly. Now does the soap water do any harm to small bowls and other easy-to-handle dishes from the table? This is a big help to me — SHIRLEY

POLLY'S PROBLEM: DEAR POLLY—Do you hope some of the readers can tell me a way to clean the mesh on a portable radio and phone so without setting the radio mechanism. I have tried a damp, soapy cloth which does not clean it.—MRS. J. R. DEAR POLLY:—The mesh covering Mr. and Mrs. J. R.'s radio is a clean terry face cloth. Soak it in water, wring it out, hang it to dry and watch him cheer at all.

DEAR POLLY:—When washing dishes recently I discovered quite by accident that one can clean tarnished silver with rubber gloves. I had on blue rubber gloves and picked up a tarnished spoon; rubbed it in the INSIDE of the glove. There are no more pushed-out screens or broken glass.—MRS. V. L.
