Commission Votes To Accept Plan Of Bondholders' Body

Reversing their majority action of two weeks ago, the Sanford City Commission by an unanimous vote this afternoon voted to accept the bondholders' Protective Committee's recommendations as to the 1932-33 budget.

The Commissioners voted two amendments to the plan, however. They are: That all delinquent tax monies collected be applied to the purchase and cancellation of City of Sanford bonds at market prices instead of to the payment of interest items included in the judgments against the City by the Committee. That the Commission be given a more definite statement as to the cancellation of all accrued interest up to Sept. 30, 1932, approximately $225,000, instead of the Committee's statement of Aug. 6 that "we will endeavor to devise a plan during the next fiscal year whereby this interest obligation can be discharged as a general obligation of the city subject to the approval of all depositors and subject to a satisfactory record of tax collection on the city's part."

The motion to accept the Committee's plan was made by Commissioner C. A. Byrd. It was seconded by Commissioner W. A. Laffler. In seconding the motion, Mr. Laffler said, "While it is not entirely satisfactory to me, I believe that we will make a halfway under the plan, and with that thought in mind, I second the motion."

The recorded vote found Commissioners Laffler, Byrd, and Mayor Dumas dissenting, and prompt "Aye" Commissioners H. J. Lehman asked for a few minutes to consider his vote, and when all other votes had been recorded he said, "In order to make my vote, I'll vote aye."

By their vote, the Commissioners concluded many days of study by a problem which found them frequently at odds, and brought to an end a discussion that started early last night and ended in a deadlock shortly after midnight.

NORRIS PLEADS FOR ELECTION OF ROOSEVELT

McCOOK, Neb., Sept. 29.—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt and George W. Norris, speaking from the same platform yesterday called upon Republicans to put the interests of country above those of party.

The veteran Republican independent, his white thatched head tossing vigorously, told several thousands of Nebraskans whom he represents as senator that the nation "needs another Roosevelt in the White House."

The Democratic presidential nominee responded with words of high praise for the Nebraskan. They spoke from a platform in the county fair grounds at the senator's home town while Governor Bryan, brother of the late William Jennings Bryan and himself once a vice-presidential nominee, sat close by.

Roosevelt said of Norris that "whether we agree with him on all the little details or not, he stands forth as the very perfect, gentle knight of American progressive ideals."

Norris in introducing Roosevelt to his home folks said patriotism demanded that the interests of the country be put above those of party and compared the Democratic Roosevelt with Theodore Roosevelt, asking if either would have been any different had they called themselves by some other party name.

The New York governor said the whole nation gave full recognition to the integrity, selflessness, courage and consistency of Norris. Addressing an appeal to "thousands of boys and girls, thousands of first voters," Roosevelt said:

"I should like them to read of the able and heroic fight on..." (Continued On Page Three)

LINDBERGH CASE AGAIN RETURNS INTO SPOTLIGHT

ILLINOIS Photographer Held As Suspect As Charged In Letter

HARRISBURG, Ill., Sept. 29.—(AP)—On the strength of an anonymous letter received by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the Illinois State highway police last night were holding Dennis Lawrence, 30-year-old photographer, in jail here as a suspect in the Lindbergh kidnaping.

New Jersey authorities said they had no interest in Lawrence, however, and Col. Newman Swartz, chief of the New Jersey State police, refused to send an investigator to Harrisburg to question Lawrence.

Sergeant J. L. Gibson, who arrested Lawrence Tuesday night, at Morris Plains, N. J., on charges from his superiors at Springfield, Ill., said last night Lawrence did not have anything to do with the kidnaping.

"I did a question Lawrence at length," Sergeant Gibson said, "but when he asked me what he was being held for I told him it was in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping."

Gibson quoted Lawrence as saying: "I've got plenty of will to prove I didn't do it."

Gibson said he would hold Lawrence until orders come from Springfield to release him.

The letter, which was sent to Colonel Lindbergh at Trenton, N. J., was unsigned.

The writer advised the police to arrest Lawrence and gave directions as to where he could be found." Sergeant Gibson said. It said Lawrence knew all about the kidnaping. All that I have is the letter and orders to hold him for questioning. I don't know where the envelope is. The hand writing appears to be that of a woman. I don't know who sent the letter to my superiors at Springfield."

MILK WAR ENDS AS PRICE BASIS PACT IS SIGNED

Atlanta Mayor Offers Plan Which Suits Producers, Dealers

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 29.—(AP)—A milk price war in Georgia, which had been marked by outbreaks of violence and dumping of milk ended yesterday as representatives of local milk plants and the producers signed an agreement on a price basis.

The settlement was reached after Mayor James I. Key, of Atlanta, called the opposing groups into conference. After nearly four hours of argument, the mayor interrupted the proceedings to outline a plan which was promptly accepted by both sides.

Under the terms, the basis price for purchase of milk by local plants will be 16 cents a gallon beginning Oct. 1, 18 cents beginning Nov. 1 and 20 cents on Dec. 1. The price is on a basis of milk with a four per cent cream basis.

Columbus Roberts, of Columbus, Ga., president of the Georgia Milk Producers' Confederation, which called a holiday Sept. 21 on milk shipments to Atlanta from 20 counties, expressed gratification over the terms of the settlement.

Roberts said dairymen previously had been receiving about 12 to 14 cents per gallon for milk, with most of it going at 12 cents.

He said the agreement "not exactly what we wanted, but ultimately we will get our price through the price stepping arrangement." He praised Mayor Key for his part in effecting the agreement.

David Miller Dies This Morning After Eight Day Illness

Seemingly on the road to recovery after an exceedingly protracted illness, performed about eight days ago, David W. Miller, 17, younger son of Mrs. Lulu Miller, West First Street, died suddenly this morning at the Sanford Lighthouse Memorial Hospital where he has been confined during his recent illness. Funeral services will be at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

About two weeks ago young Miller, a candidate for the 1932 Seminole High School football team, was injured in practice when he broke a blood vessel in his arm. It was about five days after that he suffered an attack of the appendix.

His attending physician today said that his football injury in no way affected his appendix.

Immediately following the operation the youth's condition was termed serious. But several days ago he improved to such an extent that all danger was thought past. He became suddenly worse yesterday afternoon. Death came this morning at 8 o'clock.

The Miller boy was born in Sanford on Aug. 16, 1915. He attended the Sanford schools, and was in his third year of high school.

He is survived by his mother, a sister, Mrs. Tony Ray, of West Palm Beach and a brother, John L. Miller, also of this city.

Out of respect to the memory of David Miller the football game between Seminole High School and Deland, scheduled to take place here tomorrow afternoon has been postponed until Saturday at 3 o'clock P. M.

Fleischer Returns To Sanford After Tour

Arriving in Sanford yesterday afternoon with his brother after having spent the past several months in the Northern and Eastern states, Sam Fleischer, member of the New York produce firm of Fleischer Bros. and Danziger, Inc., this morning declared that business conditions are on the upgrade in many of the sections that he visited.

He declared that thousands of persons have been re-employed after long months of inactivity and great relief as being able to draw a salary once again was apparent in the increased volume of business done at groceries, clothing stores, and businesses which handle staple products.

He commented upon the low price of clothing and similar articles on sale in New York City, and that during a two weeks' stay near Buffalo and along Lake Ontario, "I was caught without an overcoat and had to buy one, it was that cold," said that the general opinion is that the New York Yankees will win the World Series, and that he had to come to Sanford at this time in order to make ready for his firm's activities during the coming season.

Mr. Fleischer was accompanied home by his younger brother, Irvin, to Fleischer. Their mother, Mrs. M. Fleischer, will remain in New York City for probably another month, they said.

OTIS CURRY TURNS IN ONE-HIT, 5-0 VICTORY

Young Hurler Puts Stop To Islanders' Pennant Aspiration

Lone Blow Comes With One Out In Ninth To Ruin No-Hit Chances

Man Reaches 3rd Lane Is Knocked From Hill For 1st Time

Assuming post-season series round duties for the second time in five days, Otis Curry, the Central Florida Baseball League's leading hurler in point of wins and losses, pitched himself into the loop's Hall of Fame by turning in a 5 to 0 shut-out victory over the Daytona Beach Islanders at Municipal Park yesterday afternoon in which he allowed but one hit, and that, Hutto's single to right, with one out in the ninth inning.

In completely silencing the big bats of the Islanders, Curry not only earned for himself honors plentiful, but maintained early season predictions that this is to be a pitchers' series exclusively. In four games during the series Curry, Jones and Lake have allowed but 18 hits, Curry granting six in 12 2/3 innings; Jones, 10 in 20 innings, and Lake two in 3 1/3 innings.

It marked the second time this year that Curry has turned in a one-hit performance, the first being a fine victory over Deland just when a victory was most needed. In yesterday's game he had unusual support in the infield from Cecil Friable and Jack Sanford, and batting support from Manager Barnes who drove in a pair of runs, Jack Sanford, Cecil Friable and Bert Chapman, all of whom came through in the pinches.

Only one Islander reached third during the game, Herbie Harris, who was given a pass in the third and went to third on the successive put-outs. After that, it was three up and three down until the ninth when, with one out, Otis Hutto poled one to right field to pull an end to Curry's chance for a no-hit game. Stone drew a walk after that, but Curry struck out M. Mobley and caused Shannon to ground out to the infield.

An odd fact about the victory is that all of Sanford's 27 put-outs were made by four men, Barnes, Hunter, Sanford, and Chapman, Hunter being the only outfielder who had a chance during the afternoon, for only three balls were hit to the outfield, two going for hit-outs and one for that pesky

Another unusual feature of the game is the fact that Lefty Lane, Curry's leading left-hander, maintained his season's reputation of never having been knocked from the box, by having the game at the end of the fifth, complaining of a sore arm. The arm trouble has appeared before, but Lane has stuck it out. Yesterday he stuck it out too long for the Feds had reached him for seven hits and four runs before he gave up in favor of Cracker Graham. Three of the runs were earned too so Lefty has an argument except with his sore arm.

The Feds got to him in the third with Lionel Mobley's error paying the way. Chapman was safe on the error and went to second on Curry's fine bunt. Friable singled to left field to send Chapman to third. Lake, running for Friable, stole second just before Barnes singled to left field, scoring both runners. Martin and Hunter both failed at bat to end the inning.

Another run came over in the fourth. Sanford was an infield out but Harrison singled to short. He went to second on Moore's infield out. Curry was hit in the ribs and Friable drew a walk to fill the bases, but Manager Barnes grounded out to prevent a score.

The fifth saw another run come over. Martin opened with a beautiful bunt hit along the first base line. Hunter filed out to right field. Sanford doubled to left field, scoring Martin. Harrison and Moore both went out in the infield. The Feds got to Graham in the sixth to get two men on due to a hit batsman and walk, but a score was prevented when Friable was struck at second and Martin filed

Another run might have come over in the seventh if Sanford had tried to stretch his lead. In the eighth, the Feds scored another run when Moore, opening with a

Post-Season Series Batting Averages

The Celeryfeds are nearly 100 points ahead of the Islanders as batting leaders in the post-season series which has now gone four games, two in favor of Daytona one in favor of Sanford, and one tied. At the end of yesterday's game the Feds had a series batting mark of .339, compared with a .142 mark for Daytona. As fielders the Feds, while credited with one more error than Daytona, have had more chances and therefore have a fielding average of .970 while the Islanders are fielding at a .969 clip.

Crooms Academy Team Expects Good Season

Eddie B. Jones, publicity director for Crooms Academy, colored high school in Goldsboro, today announced that with the arrival of football coach Foster, the Tigers of Crooms Academy are doubly optimistic about the chances of their team for the 1932 season. With reports current that Prof. Horace Jackson may be retained on the faculty, Jones said that Coach Foster will have adequate assistance in handling the team.

Prospects for an undefeated eleven are bright, Jones said, because all of last year's players will be on the 1932 team. Players are now busy going through hard drills in preparation for the opening game soon to be played here. Jones said that "The new rules do not affect the Tigers' system of play," and that the schedule will soon be released.

MEDICOS DEFEAT FIRESTONE TEAM BY 11-10 SCORE

Odham Beats Britt On Mound During Game Won In Final Frame

By E. H. CULLUM
Odham, pitching for the Medical Detachment, bested Britt doing similar duty for Firestone Monday night, the Medical Detachment defeating Firestone 11 to 10.

The Medical Detachment drew first blood, putting over one run in the first inning and two in the second, while the Firestone was unable to push across a counter during these two frames. However, Firestone evened the score in the third by chalking up three runs in this inning. Neither side was able to do anything in the fourth. In the fifth inning Firestone staged a batting rally which netted them seven runs and apparently the game, four runs coming across the plate before an out could be made. Driggers opened the inning by flying out; Steele singled; Piercy got a double, scoring Steele; Britt tripled, Piercy scoring; Cordell hit for the circuit bringing Britt in ahead of him; Tillis grounded out; Herndon singled, Morgan safe on an error, Herndon crossing the plate; Kelly drew a walk; McClelland singled, scoring Morgan and Kelly; Driggers grounded out to end the inning. Driggers making two outs in the same inning.

However, it seemed that a seven-run lead did not faze the Medicos, and nothing undaunted they staged a rally themselves in this inning, putting over seven runs to again tie the game into a hard knot; Williams, first up, connected with one of Britt's slow balls for the circuit; Odham scored on an error; Porter singled; Sands singled, Odham and Porter scoring; Thompson grounded out; Hill Moye walked; J. Phillips safe on an error; with the bags full, H. Phillips tripled, scoring Sands, Moye and J. Phillips; Kahner safe on an error. H. Phillips scoring; Wade hit into a double, Cordell to Tillis.

Going into the last inning, with the score tied, the Medical Detachment added the winning run, thereby grabbing the game 11 to 10.

Britt batted a 1000 getting two official trips to the plate; Steele got three for four, while Sands for the Medical Detachment got two out of three.

In 1928 the University of Florida, scoring 336 points, outscored every football team in the United States.

1932 GRID RULES CLEARED UP FOR BENEFIT OF FANS

Press Service Paints Clear Picture Of What Might Occur

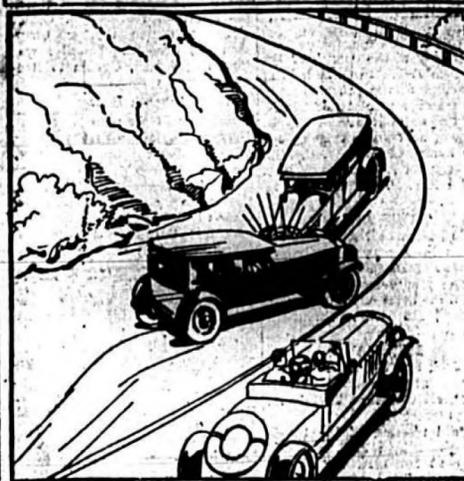

By NE WYORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Here is a list of "don'ts" for football fans witnessing the 1932 openers:

- 1—If your favorite halfback gets away on a long run, but slips and falls just when it looks like a certain touchdown, don't draw a bead on the official who blows his whistle and stops the young man's wild career right there. It's one of the new rules.
- 2—If the substitutes seem to flow in more freely than ever, slowing up things and threatening you with a cold supper, don't think you have stumbled in on a practice scrimmage, where anything goes. The coach can substitute a man every quarter now, twice as often as before.
- 3—If the linesman you admired so greatly last season for the clever way he had of smacking an opponent on the back of the head, gets fined 15 yards for doing the same thing this year, don't blame the official. The player can't do that anymore; must keep his arms stiff and shove the other fellow down, unless he can prove the other and vastly more efficient lick merely was intended to get his rival out of the way, not punish him. It's a boon to centers.
- 4—If you wonder why they have abandoned that "flying wedge" that used to thrill you on the kickoff, don't think the coach is passing up a bet. Five members of the receiving team must remain in front of the 45-yard line under the new regulation, making it next to impossible to "gang up" around the ball carrier.
- 5—If on the kick-off some husky grabs the ball and sends a crocked soaring down the field, don't think he is trying to grab a quick three points with a field goal. It's a legal kick-off now.
- 6—And if the players look not so slim and lithesome as of yore, don't think they have been eating heavily. It's the new equipment, with more padding about the knees and hips and elbows and shoulders designed to cut down the list of injuries.

Don't Pass On A Curve

Motor Vehicle Administrators of the United States, the men who know, will describe a series of traffic violations and driving errors responsible for a majority of automobile accidents and advise how they may be avoided. This is number six of the series.

By JOE B. WILLIAMS
(Chief of the Tennessee Highway Patrol)

DON'T PASS ON A CURVE. If you do you may be responsible for one of the most serious automobile accidents. If you put yourself in the dangerous position of the driver of the black car in the picture, and another car comes around the curve from the opposite direction, a head-on collision cannot be avoided. These accidents, because they are usually of the head-on collision type, are often fatal.

Last year, according to the statistics of the National Bureau of Casualty and Underwriters, 2,470 persons were killed and 20,000 were hurt in 24,870 accidents of this kind. This was a needless waste of life, limb and property, for all these accidents were avoidable.

Safe drivers follow the rule set forth in the Model Municipal Traffic Ordinance prepared by the National Conference on Street and

Relief Work

It is unfortunate that the appropriation of some three hundred millions by the federal government for purposes of direct relief to unemployed would have the tendency of relaxing the efforts of the individual to help himself...

It should be remembered, however, that the appropriation of the federal government was designed to be in addition to and not in place of local charities. It is expected that private contributions to relief organizations will be as great as, and the need will doubtless be greater than, ever before.

Yet by no stretch of the imagination of use of political propaganda is it conceivable that federal relief funds alone will be able to care for unemployed or that unemployment will be so far diminished within the coming months as to make such contributions as were absolutely essential last year any less necessary during the next year.

It is further worth considering that many of those persons who have been without jobs for several years have been existing on previously accumulated savings. Thousands of those who last winter were down to their last hundred dollars will next winter be down to their last dollar.

It is evidently becoming increasingly essential that those who have jobs and those who have property or accumulated savings should give to the utmost of their ability in order that those less fortunate may be spared some of the dangers of destitution. In the various drives that will be put on throughout the coming year it should be continuously kept in mind that the federal government has not and can not accept full responsibility for the care of poverty stricken people and that the assistance it renders is only to supplement the work of local relief organizations.

Faith In Something

History is full of men who having no faith have come to believe when faced with eternity. There must be something in the awful prospect of leaving this earth which makes men require something on which to lean.

"Clarence Darrow, the agnostic and evolutionist," the Miami Herald declares, "does not believe in miracles. He derides religion and faith in divine creation. He sees no reason to expect a future. He ridicules the Bible belt and the teachings of the church."

"Evidently, Darrow has been converted to a certain extent, even if his church and society do not altogether accept the general Christian ideas. In his age, he sees some light. He would preach the humanities, handed down from pagan times. He must feel there is a God, if not above, then right here on earth. To believe in something is faith, religion. Darrow embraces that after all his harsh blows against the religious classes. A miracle has come to pass in his mind."

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Olive Newman, the dainty little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newman, entertained a number of her little friends at a delightful party Tuesday afternoon on her fifth birthday.

A passing sidelight on the recent Wisconsin primary resulting in the overthrow of the LaFolletteites, is the fact that this factor for years has been famous for its advocacy of government ownership of practically everything. The defeat of Gov. LaFollette indicates that the people in Wisconsin who are familiar with the evils of socialism are now more interested in lower tax rates than in government ownership.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States has adopted one of the most intelligent recommendations we have seen in a long time. It reads: "The federal government should not engage in any form of business or service except for purposes limited to those clearly necessary in the proper administration of government functions which are pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution." When the government does that taxes can be reduced.

An interesting comparison between the two greatest depressions in the history of this country reveals that when William Jennings Bryan made his famous speech of gold speech in the interest of bi-metalism, regarded even in some places as a cure for depression, the federal gold reserve was approximately $100,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wagner and daughters, the Misses Maud Alice and Ada, passed through Sanford Sunday enroute to Kissimmee, their future home. A large number of their friends were at the depot to spend the short time between trains with them and express their great regret that Sanford was no longer their home.

Miss Lilla Farnsworth, of Daytona, Tenn., principal of the Daytona school, returned here Sunday. The principal of the school in Daytona is Mrs. Farnsworth. She was in Daytona for a few days on her way to her home in Tennessee.

SUCCESS OF RADICALISM

MARK SULLIVAN

That a considerable body of radical and angry voters has arisen admits of no doubt. It expresses itself in both parties and all over the country. It expressed itself 10 days ago in Georgia. There, one of the two or three ablest Democrats in public life, one of the five or six ablest in either party, Charles R. Crisp, ran for the senate. Crisp has been in the house of representatives at Washington for some 20 years. He is the son of a former Democratic speaker and, therefore, has the aroma of fine tradition that is supposed to weigh much in the South.

Crisp, however, was defeated and now passes out of public life to the very great detriment of the country. Whether his successful competitor belongs in the category conservative or non-conservative, the writer of this article does not know. But there is no doubt what ever that the elimination of Charles R. Crisp from public life, through the present mood of the Democrats in Georgia is a very great loss to the country. The loss is great in a direct sense. It is made greater by the unhappy lesson it must give to young men. Here was a man of fine character and high ability, who entered public life in his youth, largely because his father had been distinguished in Democratic leadership. He spent substantially all his mature life in the public service with the comparatively meager rewards that go to a member of congress, and now he is ousted, due chiefly to a mood on the part of the public that has little to do with his personal merits and is caused mainly by economic disturbances.

Of this mood of rather blind anger among some voters there was another example in Louisiana on the same day. Louisiana had in the senate a conservative Democrat, Edwin P. Broussard. Mr. Broussard was by no means so distinguished or able a man as Charles R. Crisp, but he was conscientious, hardworking, and would rank in the first 20 or 25 out of the 96 senators. One of his useful qualities was that he worked hard on his committees, gave faithful attention to the details of legislation, had no appetite for publicity, and was an important cog in the legislative machinery that keeps the government of the United States functioning. Broussard came up for re-election. Huey Long, the other senator from Louisiana, and present boss of the political machine of that state, made it his business to retire Broussard from public life. Long said he wanted a colleague in the senate who would help him "wipe out every millionaire in the United States." Broussard was beaten. Broussard was not a great senator but he did not need to be great in order to be better than those whom Huey Long would choose. Long will now command in the senate the vote of himself and of his colleague. Long—this is a sign of the times—is acquiring no little power. He was extremely active in the campaign in his neighboring state, Arkansas, which elected Mrs. Caraway to the Senate, and by all the rules of politics Mrs. Caraway will be under obligations to follow Long's leadership.

Long is radical. That word, radical, has in the United States a loose meaning without the definiteness that it has in European politics. But Long fits the word radical in the European sense, or the American sense, or the Asiatic sense.

Shall The "Bonus" Become A Bonus?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

The "bonus" is not strictly a bonus. Adjusted compensation for American veterans of the World War has never been regarded either by the government or the veterans as a gift. In 1920 the commander of the American Legion told the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives: "The American Legion asks for no bonus, wants no bonus—that sounds too much like a gift or a present from the government. It merely asks the government to assist the service man in overcoming some of the financial disadvantages incidental to his military or naval service."

The Adjusted Compensation Act was intended to carry out that purpose, not to pay for patriotism. The theory was that men who had gone into military service, although enjoying higher pay than soldiers ever did before, suffered financial handicaps compared with men who stayed at home, and that the government should endeavor to recompense them. And under the law enacted in 1924, length of service was carefully computed, with $1 of extra pay allowed for each day of service in the United States and $1.25 for each day overseas.

To meet the accumulated bill for this retroactive increase in soldiers' and sailors' wages by a cash payment would have meant a bond issue or higher taxes. But by yearly deposits of relatively small sums and the operation of compound interest the amount required could be obtained in twenty years. At the same time a measure of financial security could be given the veterans in the way of insurance. Thus adjusted compensation—popularly referred to as the bonus—took the form of a twenty-year endowment policy with premiums to be paid by the government.

The government computed the additional compensation due each veteran on the number of days served and then tacked on an extra 25 per cent which, according to General Himes, head of the Veterans' Bureau, was to make deferred payment more palatable. Thus a man who had 400 days of home service received a credit of $400, plus an extra $100. However, the government, instead of paying him $500, gave him a certificate calling for $1000—but not due until 1945.

That second $500 was not a gift but the result of compound interest. The only part of the average face value of the certificates—that could be considered a gratuity was the 25 per cent added to the actual service credit based on time in uniform. America's "bonus" is no more a bonus than England's unemployment insurance is a "dole" so long as it is operated on a strict actuarial basis.

The original unemployment insurance was twisted by political abuses into a system for doling out governmental funds as free gifts to the jobless. Adjusted into something like a "dole" for veterans through the relaxing of loan provisions. To pay immediately the face value of certificates in 1945 would be to make a gift of approximately half the amount. The second $500 on a $1000 certificate has not yet been built up by compound interest. If paid now it would be a gift. And adjusted compensation would become a bonus.

Kiwanis Clubs Held Inter-City Meeting Here

"From Main Street to Broadway" was the final number on the program. During his talk, Mr. Lehmann pointed out the six factors which tend to develop a small town into a large city. He said they are: Commercial, social, civic, press influence, school, and religious. Each of these factors must be cultivated to a marked degree before real progress can be noted, he said. Concluding he declared that "Loyalty, enthusiasm and service are the highest marks of patriotism that you can show."

As the guests left the dining room they witnessed the showing of a motion picture film of the Sanford Kiwanis Club—taken in February 1928 by Kiwanian Peter Schaal.

NORRIS PLEADS OF ROOSEVELT FOR ELECTION

half of the average citizen which he has made during his long and honorable career. I should like them to know that sometimes he has made this fight with his party; and sometimes, as now, against the leaders of his party. I should like them to know that always he has been thinking of the rights and welfare of the average citizen, of the farmer, of the laborer, the small business man—yes, and of the rights of the welfare of those who have been born to, or have acquired, greater wealth.

"But especially it has been an unselfish fight, and one directed to the fact that it is the little fellow who has the fewest friends in high places and too often it is the little fellow who has been forgotten by his government."

The New York governor reminded that he had said before that his quarrel was not "with the millions of splendid men and women who in the past have called themselves Republicans, but that my battle is against certain forces now in the control of the leadership of the Republican party who have forgotten the principles on which that party was founded and have become representatives of a selfish few who put personal interests above national good."

"That is why I rejoice and approve the statement that Senator Norris is a better Republican than President Hoover," he added.

"The forces of evil are far less respectful of parties," he continued, referring to Norris' outspoken disregard of party lines.

"Selfish business which seeks through the tariff a monopoly on a given product in order to obtain vast private profit at the expense of the people is no respecter of parties.

"Those bankers and brokers who in order to obtain a commission will willingly deceive an investing public into buying worthless domestic or foreign bonds are no respecters of party.

"A conscienceless power trust seeking to charge the home owner, small manufacturer, the little business man, all the traffic will bear, is no respecter of parties."

Concluding, the candidate called Norris "radical like Jefferson, demagogue like Jackson, idealist like Lincoln, wild like Theodore Roosevelt, theorist like Wilson."

"Our cause is common," he added. "I welcome your support. I honor myself in honoring you."

In his speech of introduction, Norris said, "we have been wishing during the Hoover administration, especially for another Roosevelt in the White House."

"The real patriot will expose and punish crime and debauchery wherever he finds it, regardless of party," Norris said.

"Patriotism demands that we put our country's interests above our party interests and perform our governmental duty, whether as private citizens or public officials, according to our conscientious convictions."

"The citizen who permits his party spirit to control his vote when his conscience tells him that such action is wrong disregards his patriotic duty which he owes to his family, his home and his country."

Norris said he did not agree with Roosevelt's ideas on the power question 100 percent but that "under his administration I have no fear but that the natural resources of the country will be preserved and developed for the benefit of the people rather than for the benefit of the power trust."

He called the nomination of the New York governor a victory for the people over "the greedy machine politicians and the special monopolistic interests." The Nebraska urged "progressive income and inheritance taxes to prevent accumulation of wealth by the few and abolition of the electoral college to provide a direct vote for the presidency."

Barbara Stanwyck Has Unique Roll In Film At Milane Tomorrow

Barbara Stanwyck, ranking high among the dramatic actresses of the screen, comes to the Milane Theatre Friday in her newest drama, "Shopworn," a Columbia picture written by Sarah Y. Mason, with dialogue by Jo Swerling and Robert Riskin, and directed by Nicholas Grinde.

"Shopworn" was written to exercise the particular emotional equipment of Miss Stanwyck. It allows her to portray that interesting transition from a sweet young girl, with the aspirations of innocence, to a disillusioned woman.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 29.—(AP) William Ayres, 66, of Raceland, Ky., entered the Louisiana National Bank yesterday and ordered the president of the institution to hand him $1250. But he surrendered peacefully to police who were promptly called, and said he wanted to go to prison as he was "unable to make a living." half of the average citizen which he has made during his long and honorable career. I should like them to know that sometimes he has made this fight with his party; and sometimes, as now, against the leaders of his party. I should like them to know that always he has been thinking of the rights and welfare of the average citizen, of the farmer, of the laborer, the small business man—yes, and of the rights of the welfare of those who have been born to, or have acquired, greater wealth.

"But especially it has been an unselfish fight, and one directed to the fact that it is the little fellow who has the fewest friends in high places and too often it is the little fellow who has been forgotten by his government."

The New York governor reminded that he had said before that his quarrel was not "with the millions of splendid men and women who in the past have called themselves Republicans, but that my battle is against certain forces now in the control of the leadership of the Republican party who have forgotten the principles on which that party was founded and have become representatives of a selfish few who put personal interests above national good."

"That is why I rejoice and approve the statement that Senator Norris is a better Republican than President Hoover," he added.

"The forces of evil are far less respectful of parties," he continued, referring to Norris' outspoken disregard of party lines.

"Selfish business which seeks through the tariff a monopoly on a given product in order to obtain vast private profit at the expense of the people is no respecter of parties.

"Those bankers and brokers who in order to obtain a commission will willingly deceive an investing public into buying worthless domestic or foreign bonds are no respecters of party.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE RAID ON THE SABINE WOMEN

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Saul Tepper... inspired by the story of the Roman warriors' ruthless capture of the Sabine village for the express purpose of carrying off its women (190 B. C.)

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, the first build his house in the wood, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
