

SELECTED SEMINOLE MEN GO FORTH WEDNESDAY TO TRAINING CAMPS

SANFORD WILL GIVE THEM REAL SEND OFF

Seminole's first forty per cent of select men will go forward to Camp Jackson at Columbia, South Carolina tomorrow at ten forty-five, unless something unforeseen happens to disarrange the plans of the district board.

At least there are forty per cent enrolled but all of them may not go, as the railroads are taxed to their utmost to take all of them and some may be held until a few days later, in order to lessen the tension of the carriers.

In order to show the appreciation of the services that these selects will render to the country Sanford will turn out en masse tomorrow morning and with the Sanford Band and the Home Guards and various other orders the parade will leave the court house about ten o'clock in order that the men can get to the depot in time to take the train north.

The ladies of the Red Cross will also be one hand with lunches for the men and in many ways they will receive the whole hearted farewell that they deserve, and Sanford will show them that they are in the hearts of the people.

The following men have been ordered to the training camp and while this is not the entire list these will leave tomorrow and if the remainder get their orders in time they will leave with them, as forty per cent are supposed to be sent forward:

- Andrew J. King
- Charles Friester
- Robert O. Weeks
- Walfrid Piersen
- Yander Perritta
- Adolphus Shaw
- Barney Frank Griggs
- Harry Miles
- Duncan A. Mitchell
- Drady E. Mathers
- Lewis Collins
- John A. Rhoades
- John R. Long
- William B. Lynch.

CHURCH INCORPORATED

First Baptist Church Begins a New Era of Business Administration

The First Baptist Church of Sanford, incorporated, is now the style of the First Baptist Church of this city. The church was organized back in the seventies, and obtained possession of the present church lot by warranty deed from the Florida Land & Colonization Co., Ltd., of England, on Nov. 12th, 1884, this deed being made to James F. Prince, Chas. H. Tuxbury and J. P. Kelly as trustees of the First Baptist Church of Sanford and their successors in office. Since that date a number of people have been trustees of the church, and the board of trustees has been increased from three to five members. During the time mentioned there have been a number of buildings erected on the lot, the last one being a handsome edifice costing something like $12,000.00, which is fitted up for Sunday school purposes, the intention being to use the present building for Sunday school exclusively after the auditorium is erected, the foundation for which has been laid and part of the wall raised already. This auditorium is to be erected just behind the present building and is to be connected with the main entrance on Park avenue, which is now the entrance to the Sunday school hall. This auditorium is to be fitted with 800 pews which will mean that it will accommodate 1000 people if necessary.

Through the incorporation the board of trustees has been increased from five to nine members, and the first annual election was held last Wednesday night, the board of trustees being elected as follows: Jas. D. Jinkins, D. R. Brinson, Joe Cameron, F. E. Gatchel, Fred Ripes, W. E. Scoggin, R. M. Grovesstein, B. L. Perkins and Schelle Maine.

At the same annual meeting the church decided to increase the board of deacons to fourteen in number and elected seven new deacons to fill out the board. The board of deacons are: M. M. Stewart, D. R. Brinson, Jas. D. Jinkins, W. G. Albridge, R. H. Davis, J. W. O. Single-

LITTLE BAND OF DEVOTED WORKERS ARE BUSY

Although the general public of Sanford has failed to a shameful degree to respond to the call made by this excellent organization for workers those who did respond have proven themselves so much in earnest and thoroughly efficient to the extent that during August a box was forwarded to Jacksonville, our headquarters at present, containing pieces among which were bed shirts, capes and socks for the sick and wounded, covers for hot water bottles, surgeons' robes and operating helmets, convalescent robes and last, but by no means least, 48 comfort kits, completely fitted out which were fondly intended for our own Seminole county boys but upon information given by the Orlando Auxiliary to the effect that they had anticipated us in this intention and had already completed sufficient number for their boys and ours, we were compelled to send them on to Jacksonville with other work, however, of course, with the assurance that although they seemed not to be needed for our boys yet they would no doubt be a comfort to some other boys.

On Friday, the 14th, however, we shipped our second box, the credit for which must be entirely given to our Geneva friends. This box contained surgical dressings, 601 pieces in all, most beautifully and accurately made. Our chairman, Dr. Neal was at Geneva just at the time this box was to be packed and said he never saw more complete or better finished work, every bit done by the Geneva members of the Auxiliary. In this connection it might be said that for honest, hard working, efficient workers we will certainly recommend the Geneva contingent.

Every Tuesday and Thursday of each week the work rooms are open to those who wish to come and sew or for those who wish to take work home to do; so far, with but feeble results, as far as our townspeople are concerned.

In the event anyone cannot come for this work and wishes to help, Mrs. Terheun, chairman of distributing committee, phone 208-J will gladly furnish you with whatever kind of work you can do, either machine or hand sewing, and in this connection we wish to make an appeal to those owning automobiles who are willing to take Mrs. Terheun on these errands of mercy to please so notify her and she will make a list of such people and call on them when needed. Please respond.

It is the aim of our Auxiliary to get off a nice box during October and anyone and everyone having the interest of the work at heart are asked to lend their assistance in making this a success.

Sanford Ladies Prompt
County Agent C. M. Berry says that if all of the housewives called upon throughout the United States for the War Emergency Food Survey were as prompt and efficient as the twenty five women of Sanford who made the invoice and kept a record of the week's supplies used by their families, Mr. Hoover will within ten days from this date have a fairly accurate knowledge of the contents of the average kitchen and pantry of the country and what the average family used during the seven day period.

The new cold storage plant will be completed at Plant City and opened for operation during September. The establishment of this new plant will prove very beneficial to the farmers and growers of this section.

Lake county will not expend any of its efforts on exhibits at the Orlando and Tampa Fairs next year, but will devote all of its energies to the fair to be held at Tavares January 28, 29 and 30 and February 1. This has been decided on at a joint conference of the county commissioners and the county school board.

POSTPONED RED CROSS MEETING

REORGANIZATION MEETING WILL TAKE PLACE SEPT. 27TH

On Thursday evening, Sept. 27 at 8 o'clock a reorganization of the Red Cross will be taken up and completed at the Woman's Club, Oak avenue. It is the purpose of the Red Cross headquarters to establish county chapters who will deal direct with the authorities eliminating the detour of some other chapter. This will afford more progressive work and will place our county work on a basis of direct communication enabling us to secure rapidly all needed supplies, etc. While Sanford has been designated as county headquarters it is proposed to keep the activities of each unit separate, so that due credit to headquarters will be theirs. In fact future operations will be carried on as heretofore, the general purpose being to aid each worker from a closer source of supplies and a communication direct with headquarters. At this meeting full future working arrangements will be made subject to general approval and for this purpose a large attendance is solicited from the county at large.

Miss Ruth Rich of Jacksonville was expected to be present on the 20th, but has been unavoidably detained and will be here on Thursday, the 27th.

Prospects are bright for the largest acreage of potatoes in the Hastings-Elkton belt at the next planting in the history of this section. It is estimated that 14,000 acres will be planted. Up to the present time 1,500 acres of new land have been cleared or being cleared.

GOOD WORK BEING DONE BY RED CROSS

KERENSKI SEEMS TO HAVE MATTERS IN HAND

The state department is more hopeful of Russian affairs today. General Korniloff has surrendered to Premier Kerensky and while no disposition has been made of him the people are more concerned about the future form of government and the best means of stopping the German advance.

Russia has been proclaimed a republic. The Provisional Government issued the following statement: "General Korniloff's rebellion has been quelled. But great is the confusion caused thereby, and again great is the danger threatening the fate of the fatherland and its freedom."

"Holding it necessary to put an end to the external indefiniteness of the state's organization, remembering the unanimous and rapturous approval of the republican idea expressed at the Moscow state conference, the Provisional Government declares that the constitutional organization according to which the Russian state is ruled is a republican organization and it hereby proclaims the Russian republic.

The Provisional Government today announced that all the affairs of state had been entrusted to five members of the cabinet. The following communication was issued: "Pending the definite constitution of a cabinet, and in view of the present extraordinary circumstances, all affairs of state have been entrusted to M. Kerensky, premier; M. Terchenko, minister of foreign affairs; General Verkhovsky, minister of war; Admiral Verdecki, minister of marine; and M. Nikitich, minister of posts and telegraphs."

At a preliminary session of the Petrograd Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Deputies today, which was attended by soldiers who were absent from the previous meeting, the council repassed the Maximalist resolution adopted yesterday, putting forward an extremely radical program demanding exclusion of all representatives of the propertied classes from power, abolition of private property, the immediate declaration of a democratic republic and other demands.

The delegates also adopted a resolution setting forth that the tragic situation of the country made necessary the constitution of a strong revolutionary power free from all compromise with the counter revolutionary Bourgeois elements and announcing they had decided to convene immediately a general conference of representatives of the whole organized democracy for the settlement of the question of constituting a power capable of leading the country until the time the constituent assembly assembles.

The resolution adds that until this conference is summoned the present government will remain in power, working in close union with the revolutionary democracy which is invited to give energetic support. If necessary, the resolution says, the government will act in close cooperation with a committee for the safety of the revolution.

CALLING YOU TO SERVICE

The Colors, the College, or the Farm Open to Young Men

Young men are in greater demand than ever before. In fact, so much attention is given to the young men just now, that they may well believe themselves the backbone of the nation. If the backbone is strong and viable, the nation will be strong. If they are weak the country will reflect the weakness.

Thousands of young men over twenty one years old have been called to the colors, and they have responded patriotically. Thousands more have been called to the farms and they have met that call. The thousands who remain are being called to our colleges and universities; how will they respond to this call is soon to be determined.

REPUBLIC ESTABLISHED IN RUSSIA

GOOD SUGGESTION COMES FROM OVIEDO EDUCATOR

The following letter from Prof. Hatch of Oviedo is a timely and sound suggestion. The Board of Trade can and will assist the teachers of this county and the children they instruct. Both deserve it and the Sanford Board of Trade will do all in its power to institute the methods suggested by Oviedo's progressive instructor. This method is practiced by many boards of trade outside of the state and from the various periodicals received an endless amount of good is accomplished. We all remember our school days and the very few outsiders who came to visit us during school hours. Those that did are firmly photographed in our memory and as we go back into years gone by the mental picture of those visitors carries only features of kindness, thoughtfulness and homely, of purpose. We need more visitors now than then and it is up to us to do our duty and assist those Seminole county teachers who want progressive methods introduced to succeed.

This matter will come up at an early meeting and in the meantime if other teachers wish to advance a suggestion along this line kindly address the Sanford Board of Trade. Following is the communication of Prof. Hatch:

Oviedo, Fla., Sept. 17, 1917.
Secretary D. C. Marlowe, Sanford Board of Trade, Sanford, Fla.
Dear Mr. Marlowe:
As a member of the Sanford Board of Trade and as a Seminole county teacher I take the liberty of suggesting that the Board of Trade add a committee on education to its list of standing committees. Closer cooperation between the commercial and educational interests of the county would be bound to result in the betterment of the Seminole school system. The Board of Trade represents the organized enthusiasm of Seminole county; and as a teacher, I feel that this enthusiasm should not be limited in its application exclusively to matters of dollars and cents, when it can be used for the development of our greatest asset, the Seminole county boys and girls.

The Board of Trade members among its public spirited members, experts in all lines of work, whose knowledge if shared with the public school children would add greatly to the value of school work. Teachers often feel the need in class room of the outside viewpoint; of information in specific fields, presented in an interesting manner, by speakers who are not directly connected with school work. There are many matters such as school savings banks, Red Cross work, medical inspection of school children, beautifying the school grounds, use of the school plant as a community center, etc., in the execution of which the Board of Trade could be of material assistance.

I am sure the teachers of the county would welcome any aid from the Board of Trade, in our joint efforts to build up a better county.
Yours very truly,
A. L. Hatch.

Saw His Soldier Boy

Mr. T. E. Carlson has returned from an eight day visit to Philadelphia, Cape May and Charleston. Mr. Carlson was accompanied north by his wife. Their stay in Philadelphia was made most pleasant by a visit from their son who is stationed at Cape May, N. J. Harry is a Sanford boy, a graduate of our High School and received his technical training at Georgia Tech. Harry was among the first to respond to the President's call for volunteers, enlisting at Pittsburg's Naval Coast Defense Reserve as an electrical engineer, was assigned to Philadelphia for training and later transferred to Cape May, to become a radio operator.

Mrs. Carlson continued on her journey for a six weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Pennsylvania.

SANFORD BOARD OF TRADE SHOULD TAKE INTEREST IN PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM

And this last call for young men of all ages is just as important, just as strong, as the other two calls, says the University of Florida, Public spirited man from President Wilson down to the need of college trained men. The President calls for them in this way:

"I would particularly urge upon the young people who are leaving our high schools that as many of them as can do so avail themselves this year of the opportunities offered by the colleges and technical schools, to the end that the country may not lack an adequate supply of trained men, and women."

If you are waiting for the President's call to service, you have heard it. Dr. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of education, says "a right conception of patriotism should induce all students who cannot render some immediate service of great value to remain in college."

The call of the young man under twenty one is not to the colors but to the colleges," says Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy; to which Newton D. Baker, secretary of war, adds, "There can be no higher duty than to maintain our educational processes, giving to our boys and girls in school a patriotic incentive to prepare for present and future service alike to their country and mankind."

The man who believes the continuation of his college work will brand him as a slacker has the assurance of the heads of our military organization that such is not true. But to neglect the opportunity for greater service will brand him as one. The proposition is up to the young men.

SANFORD BOYS HAD LAST FAREWELL WITH FOLKS

The first of the boys in uniform and the first of the state troops with our Sanford boys have gone into training at Macon, Georgia. Company C of Orlando left Sunday in company with other command from south Florida for Camp Wheeler where they will receive intensive training for several months and from there will more than likely go to France.

We are interested in Company C because so many of our Sanford boys enlisted in that company, preferring to go where the bulk of the boys from home were going.

The Sanford boys were here a few hours on Saturday bidding the folks good bye, for they had good reason to think it would be their last day in Sanford. Saturday night Orlando had a big celebration in honor of Co. C and the boys were feted as only Orlando knows how and early Sunday morning they entrained with the many from southern points and when the train arrived here there were some twenty cars of troops and equipment.

The many friends and relatives of the boys were at the depot and while the boys only had thirty minutes they made the most of their short stay and their departure was a time for tears and smiles for it will be many moons before we see them again.

The Sanford boys in Company C were Joe Chittenden, Oscar Spear, Bruce Anderson, Ernest Gregory, Fred Mason, Oscar Zittrower, Henry Byrd, Osborne Williams, Arthur Dickins, John Lee, Denzier Stafford and Frank Campbell.

Among The Theatres

"American—That's All"
Jack Devereaux and Winifred Allen are featured in "American—That's All," a Triangle play produced under the supervision of Allan Dwan, which will be exhibited at the Star tonight.

It is a comedy of youth, love and business, showing the troubles a young college graduate falls into when he deposes his father's wishes. Devereaux as the hero refuses to give up the girl he loves to marry a title. Consequently he is thrown on his own resources to make the best of things.

How the girl aids him to get the best of his father is shown in the clever episodes that go to make up the story.

Lyric Today

"The Submarine Eye" can be logically divided into three episodes, with the theme of the story carried uninterrupted throughout. Its marvelous under water photography, its thrills, its amazing novelties, stamp it as the supreme photodrama of the age.

The introduction of the story proper is developed in a prologue that goes back to the year 1820, when New Orleans was a social center of the New World.

John Fulton, a young inventor has perfected an under-water periscope with which it would be an easy matter to search out sunken treasure on the floor of the ocean. To finance it is his problem.

Fate intervenes to save him from disappointment. Just when things look bluest, he makes the acquaintance of Dorothy Morgan, a vivacious heiress to millions. She introduces him to her father, who organizes an expedition for treasure hunting, using for the purpose his private yacht.

Armed with an old chart fixing the exact location of a sunken treasure chest, the expedition arrives in the West Indies. The professional diver who has been brought along refuses to work in the shark infested waters. Young Fulton volunteers. Clad in the regulation diving suit, he is lowered to a depth of fourteen fathoms.

Trapped by the heavy lid of the treasure chest closing on his hands, he is held a prisoner at the bottom of the sea. His rescue by Buller, a native diver who scorns any such contraptions as helmets or rubber suits is one of the biggest thrills of this amazing deep sea drama.

The treasure casket is opened in the presence of Captain Bob, whose chart gave the clue to its whereabouts. What it contained is one of the pleasing surprises of the picture.

"Fatal Ring"

A thrilling succession of scenes and a great fight are features of the third episode of Pathe's serial, "The Fatal Ring," in which Pearl White will star at the Star Theatre Saturday.

The walls have closed in and are starting to crush the occupants. The last ray of hope has vanished. Tom Carlton regains his senses and staggers toward the lever. Tom reaches the lever and drags it back. Suddenly the walls start to recede and in an instant they all realize that they are saved. Tom opens the door and the first one he sees is Pearl. Knox, eager to be the first one to escape grasps Pearl by the shoulder. Knox attempts to cross the threshold but is promptly knocked down by Tom, who takes Pearl in his arms and carries her out.

"The Tiger Woman"
Miss Theda Bara, the famous William Fox screen star, of "The Tiger Woman," has been the recipient of many strange and wonderful gifts from unknown admirers, but one which is remarkable for its beauty and value was sent to Miss Bara from an anonymous donor in Italy. This gift is a necklace of intaglios of exquisite carving and intrinsically of great value. Accompanying the necklace was a letter explaining to Miss Bara that the sender of this rare gift was attached to a scientific expedition exploring the ruins of ancient Pompeii. While digging in some ruins he came across a chest of ancient jewels, in which reposed the string of intaglios in a rare state of preservation. Having always admired Miss Bara, he wrote having only the night before seen her in a William Fox photodrama in a moving picture theatre in one of the smaller Italian cities, adjacent to where he was making his scientific researches, then and there made up his mind that a string of such beauty and exquisite workmanship could only grace the fair throat of the most wonderful screen actress in the world.

Mr. Scientific Anonymous Admirer concluded his letter with a request that Miss Bara wear the famous necklace in her next vampire picture, as he was sure that the intaglios must have once graced the neck of a Pompeian vampire many hundreds of years ago. Lyric Monday.

The Bittern.
The bittern mentioned in Isaiah 14:13; 24:31, and in Zephaniah 2:14, is a fowl about the size of the heron. It is mentioned as the symbol of desolation. Nineveh and Babylon became a possession of the bittern.

Not What Was Wanted.
"I have no patience with men who fall in love with amusing girls and then grumble because they don't find them soothing; it is like buying diamonds and crying because you can't make them up into flannel petticoats."

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH, 'HE'LL PRENT 'EM'---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

A newspaper exchange gives this definition of an automobile: "The automobile is a large iron and rubber contrivance for transforming into speed, luxury, excitement and obituaries. It consists of a handsome leather upholstered body mounted on fat rubber tired wheels and containing a glassard full of machinery suffering from various ailments. It has run over 100 miles and ten thousand people. It can transport seven people from the front porch to the police station, the bankruptcy court or the golden gates in less time than any other known method.

"I find chairs a great help in making sales," says an eastern grocer. "A woman comes into the store tired from tramping the streets doing her shopping, and if she has to stand and wait a little while, she either becomes impatient and erratic or cuts her order from what she intended to purchase on entering the store. When she is resting in a chair, the clerk has an opportunity to bring different articles to her attention and make sales of goods other than just what she called for. The more at home and comfortable a woman feels in a store, the more apt she is to buy generously. It pays to show attention and be courteous to your customers."—Tampa Trade and Traffic.

It is stated that one hundred pounds of beef shrink to sixty seven pounds after ordinary roasting. This perhaps accounts for the smallness of the roast and I apologize to the butcher.

Make up your mind to one thing, brother. The United States will not turn the scale to victory in this war with less than two million men in the trenches—and five million may come nearer the mark. The sooner we face the bold facts and act accordingly the quicker the war will be over and our own men back home again.

I have said before and say it again that if the people of this city will pay cash for their groceries, will make many of their own deliveries and will cut out some of the wrapping of canned goods eliminating all small expenses that the grocers are now carrying that cheaper groceries can be had in Sanford. In fact I believe that Sanford could be made the trading center for this part of Florida. There is no reason why this city should not get on a cash basis. Those of us who are now paying cash do not get goods any cheaper than the ones who ask for credit and the reason of this is that the cash customers are obliged to shoulder the burden of those who do not pay. I hope the ladies of the National Council of Defense here will take up this matter here as they are taking it up everywhere. I take this from the Miami Herald:

Package and canned goods will be carried home unwrapped and there will be no orders over the telephone and no calls for the delivery of small packages, say members of the Miami Unit, Florida division of the Woman's committee of the National Council of Defense—if the merchants of the city will lower the price of goods. The unit has agreed that unless such a regulation means a cutting of expenses that the plan will be useless.

The cost of delivery service will be the main discussion at tonight's conference between the Miami Unit and the butchers, grocery men bakers and other merchants at the Woman's Club building at 8 o'clock. Recently the local unit failed in its attempt to interest the merchant's bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and now the unit will work individually and not through the bureau, it has been decided. Merchants in certain other cities have adopted the cash and carry plan all together, and from the way the system is spreading, it is judged to be a success.

Co-operation is a great thing. It builds cities, makes man power greater, gives capital greater scope, gives farmers and manufacturers and business men more business and better prices, gives the laborer better wages and makes the world revolve more smoothly on its axis and thereby gives all mankind a better chance in life. Co-operation should not be confined to the merchant or the manufacturer but should be fostered especially by the farmer of the Sanford section. It is true that we had a farmers' association here some years ago and it failed because the farmers did not like the method of marketing and other ideas of the association. But that is no reason that the farmers of Sanford should not form an organization now for mutual protection and profit thereby saving much on fertilizer and crate material bills, creating more and better markets and generally working for a better community. And out of this co-operative spirit we could have an ice factory and cold storage plant for the farmers primarily but that could also be for the benefit of the people of Sanford as well. The co-operative spirit is the thing and we should have more of it here in the Sanford section. Who will be the first farmer to do the evangelistic work? The Herald will support the movement and assist in organization for we firmly believe that the farmers should unite, the business men should unite and all industries should unite and make for better products, for cheaper products and conservative business methods that would give us a better living and without grinding down any man in the community.

Did you ever say, "The Board of Trade ought to do something about What?"

WHY? Wasn't it because the business community would you quit your instructions or would they quit? Then, if the Board of Trade does not do it, why aren't you and other representative business men don't exert your power to change things? Do you think for a minute you can change things from the outside? Then, why not come inside and do it?

Well, who is the Board of Trade, anyway? Isn't it the business community? You are a part of the business community, are you not? Are you a part of the Board of Trade? Why not? Don't you like the way they do things? Or do you think they don't do anything?

Well, don't you know that they have got to do whatever the business community makes them do. because, you remember, there is no Board of Trade except it is composed of the business community.

Aren't you a representative business man, would not the Board of Trade represent your ideas if you and other representative business men were members?

You don't let your employes misrepresent you, do you? If any of your employes violated your instructions would you quit business or would they quit? Then, if the Board of Trade does not do it, why aren't you and other representative business men don't exert your power to change things? Do you think for a minute you can change things from the outside? Then, why not come inside and do it?

What do you mean? "You have not the time to spare?" Wouldn't you spare one evening a month to correct troubles in your own private business. And wouldn't a live Board of Trade help your business? What could keep it from being "live" if the representative business man, like yourself "supplied the means and brains to make it "Live"?"

A Full Order. A high-school girl recently inquired of a librarian, "Have you a book on 'American education in the twelfth century'?"—Christian Register. Where Bluebird Nests. During the nesting season the bluebird may be found in the United States (west to Arizona, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana), southern Canada, Mexico and Guatemala; in the winter in the southern half of the eastern United States and south to Guatemala.

All speakers will be ready to answer questions and stockmen and farmers are urged to lead the discussions. Heating Citrus Groves. Just now, with the mercury reaching well above zero may be a poor time to discuss orchard and grove heating. Yet citrus men must be ready to meet conditions similar to those which developed last February, and to meet them promptly and economically. It is just another way of supporting that favorite program, preparation.

It is with commendable foresight that the University of Florida experiment station has set aside one evening of the Eighth Annual Citrus Seminar for a discussion of orchard heaters and means of protecting the groves from cold. The present outlook promises much discussion. The high cost and scarcity of metal in making it difficult for the growers to get heaters. It may be necessary to depend on wood for protection from cold this winter.

A number of prominent growers will relate their experiences during the past winter in protecting their groves from the cold waves. All the different methods will be discussed by men who have used them. Their experiences should be particularly helpful to those who contemplate protection for their trees this winter. The Seminar will be held at Gainesville, beginning the morning of October 9 and continuing until the afternoon of October 12. Special railroad rates from all points in Florida have been granted.

Grain Sorghums Eliminate Corn Grain sorghums as a feed for beef and dairy cattle, hogs and poultry, have been underestimated, says the University of Florida experiment station. It has been found by the U. S. Department of Agriculture that the sorghums of different variety do not differ greatly in feeding value and that they are nearly the equal of corn. The sorghums are higher in protein content but not so high in carbohydrates. Also, the starch content is not as readily digested as is that of corn. The difference is about ten per cent.

This would indicate that the sorghums are worth about 90 per cent of corn. Whenever they can be had at 90 per cent of the price of corn they might be used. In Florida, where there is no market for the grain sorghums, they may well be fed to domestic stock, leaving the corn for human consumption or for export.

The animals eat the grain sorghums readily if they are not musty, moldy, wormy or weeviled. Owing to the hardness of the kernels it would be well to grind or chop them before feeding.

Kill Ants in Seed Beds Many truckers' troubles begin with the seed bed, and one of them may be the presence of ants. The ants may do serious trouble by carrying away seed, but the chief trouble is one of annoyance, when they make their nests in the seed bed.

All nests in or near the seed bed should be destroyed before the seeds are planted, and J. R. Watson of the University of Florida experiment station recommends the use of potassium or sodium cyanide for this purpose. Pounce a hole about a foot deep into the middle of the nest and pour into it a few fluid ounces of the cyanide which has been dissolved into water. When the liquid has soaked in, cover the hole with earth and tramp the surface solid. The gas given off by the solution will penetrate for a considerable distance through the soil, reaching the old and young ants in the galleries, killing them. This treatment will prove most effective if done at night while most of the ants are in the nest.

Carbon bisulphide can be used for the same purpose and is much the same way, but it is more expensive. Kerosene is not nearly so effective.

What is Schooling Worth If any young man in your neighborhood is looking for opportunity, point him to the school house. If he has finished the grades, show him the way to college. You will do him an inestimable service, as shown by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A careful survey made among our hill farmers indicated that each day of common school was worth about $1.15; each day of high school, about $11.50; each day of college, about $12.45; or, in other words, that the common school education had a capitalized valuation of about $1,500; that common school and high school together had a capitalized valuation of $13,500; and common school, high school and college together had a capitalized valuation of $25,000.

If each day of schooling is worth from $1 to $25, it is up to the young man to make the most of his opportunities, and the University of Florida extension division. The new school year is just before us; the time to start is now.

TALKING THINGS OVER AT FRONT

TEMPERANCE NOTES

(By the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.) BREAD OR BOOZE? "We cannot conceive of any poorer business than that a nation should use the grain which it produces in the manufacture of liquors which sap the vitality and efficiency of its people without adding any desirable or useful quality, thus leaving the nation dependent upon the outside world for its bread and cereal foods. Such a practice is a fundamental economic error, and it seems to have taken this great war to teach the folly of such a method," says Farming Business of Chicago.

"The great war has taught the nations of the earth, as no moral or religious campaign ever could have taught them, the absolute uselessness of alcoholic beverages. It is not a moral lesson which is being taught so much as it is an economic lesson. And out of this war will come the greatest good which ever yet has been done to the cause of temperance and of personal and national efficiency for it will have taught very forcefully the individual and national damage which comes from diverting the grains of the world to the manufacture of harmful drinks rather than using them for the manufacture of bread and other foods."

PIGS, BLIND AND OTHERWISE. Liquor men would have us believe that blind pigs flourish only in dry communities. It is, therefore, surprising (1) to learn that in New York city 1,000 places are selling liquor without a license. This statement was made by a member of the New York excise board in an appeal to that body in behalf of the "poor licensed bars," pigs which are protected—pigs in clover, so to speak.

Then there is San Francisco. A liquor journal—the Wholesalers' and Retailers' Review—is authority for the statement that "the blind pig situation in San Francisco has passed all reasonable bounds. According to the best opinion there are now about 2,000 places in this city in which liquor is sold without a license."

Male and Female. A fashion page gives the information that bifurcated garments have taken a strong hold on the feminine fancy. For the benefit of those who do not clearly understand what this style is, it may be explained that a pair of trousers is bifurcated.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

Times Have Changed. "Times ain't as easy as they used to be," said Uncle Eben. "I kin remember when a gemman didn't have to go to war to get da title of 'major' or 'colonel!'"
