Apportionment Explained At Demo Meeting

By Donna Esten Mrs. Beatrice Ettinger, vice president of the League of Women Voters, spoke on reapportionment at the July meeting of the Seminole County Democratic Association at the Altamonte Springs Town Hall. Mrs. Ettinger pointed out hat the shift in population from rural to urban areas, as well as the supreme court decision concerning the matter, necessitated reapportionment in the state Legislature.

She explained the 109 member house-58 member senate plan recently adopted by the Legislature whereby Seminole and Orange Counties will comprise one senatorial district with one senator to be elected from each county and two senators to be elected at large. A question and answer period followed the talk.

During the business meeting, it was announced that the steering committee will meet at 8 p.m. Aug. 31 to discuss plans for the fall. Charter for the organization is expected by the September meeting. Prominent Democrats attending the meetnig in ,add-tion to Mrs. Ettinger, included Robert Petrie, vice president of the State Young Democrats, County Commissioners W. Lawrence Swofford and Ed Yarborough, Mrs. Jane Adriatico, of the county Democratic committee, and Mrs. Swofford, of the League of Women Voters.

Good advertising can put you a long leap ahead of the pack. Maybe you've just started in business and folks don't know you yet. Maybe, on the other hand, you're well-established and you want to tell cuetomers (old and new) about your next big sale. Or maybe you just know that smart merchants keep their names before the public.

In any case, you get the jump on competition by advertising regu larly in the retailer's traditional medium — the daily newspaper. The newspaper reaches just about everybody in town-87.3% of all households. The newspaper is a part of daily life. Particularly with shoppers. They scout its pages for ideas for good buys. They clip rads. They buy from it.

Advertise in the daily newspaper and watch the shoppers hop to it.
