Czechoslovak Court Sentences Oatis To 10 Years In Prison

Term Is Reduced To Five Years Because Of Good Behavior; Trial Called Farce

By DAN DELECE, FRANKFURT, Germany, July 4.—(AP)—Associated Press correspondent William N. Oatis was sentenced to 10 years in prison today by a Communist court in Czechoslovakia for "spying out state secrets" and reporting "landis and lies."

The chief magistrate said Oatis, the first Western newsmen ever tried (along the Iron Curtain), was spared from the death penalty because of his "admission of guilt and assistance in exposing the espionage activities of Western diplomats and Western news agencies."

Three Czech employees of the AP's Prague office, tried with Oatis, also were judged guilty and sentenced to prison terms ranging from 10 to 20 years.

In New York, the Associated Press termed the two-day trial a "sham and a mockery of elemental justice" and said the AP would continue, "by all means available, to seek Oatis' release from this cruel and unjust detention."

The AP statement said the prosecution's evidence at the trial "showed only that Oatis was engaged in the legitimate pursuit of newsgathering as free people understand it."

British Enshrine American Heroes' Names In Church

Roll Of Honor Is Presented To Royalty By Gen. Eisenhower

LONDON, July 4.—(AP)—The names of 28,000 U. S. service men who died on duty in Britain during World War Two were enshrined today in bomb-scarred St. Paul's Cathedral. A Communist attempt to displace the solemn ceremony was put down by police.

General Dwight Eisenhower handed over the roll of honor in the presence of Queen Elizabeth, Princess Elizabeth and Margaret, Prime Minister Attlee, wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill, and dozens of other military, church and diplomatic notables of America and Britain.

Eisenhower asked that the honor roll be dedicated to the glory of God and that it be a "perpetual memorial" to the men who gave their lives in the common cause of freedom, justice and truth.

The ceremony highlighted the Fourth of July observance by the American colony here. The Communists staged their demonstration as 650 marching U. S. and British army, navy and air men arrived at the church.

British troops pushed their way through the waiting crowd shouting "Send the Yanks back" and "Britain for the British."

Hundreds of leaflets bearing the imprint of the London district of the Communist Party were strewn around the church. They accused America of "using British troops for cannon fodder" and asserted England has become a U. S. atom bomber base.

Three of the demonstrators were taken off to jail by the police. Others, including several women, scurried away through hump on his head where a large...

Iranians Suggest Compromise Deal To Transport Oil

Wording On Receipts From Tankers Is Reported Changed

LONDON, July 4.—(AP)—Britain is studying a new Iranian suggestion for solving the two countries' oil payment deadlock and insuring continued flow of fuel to the West, official sources said today.

The development arose in the course of a talk between U. S. Ambassador Henry Grady and Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh in Teheran Monday, the informants added.

The Iranian suggestion reportedly concerns the wording which appears on receipts oil tanker captains are called upon sign when they take on their fuel cargoes at Abadan.

Iran has wanted a firm guarantee that the receipts promise payment to the newly formed Iranian National Oil Company.

Britain has insisted that such receipts should reserve the rights of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company (AIOC) in any share of the oil proceeds to which it might become entitled under a final settlement.

Grady left Mossadegh with the information that the Iranian leader will consider a new receipt form which seeks to satisfy both parties, the informants said.

The Foreign Office and AIOC are studying a new formula which they hope will be accepted by Mossadegh yet not prejudice their own claims.

If they succeed the new arrangement likely will do three things: 1. It will allow Britain's tanker...

American Nation Celebrates Birth Of Freedom On Independence Day

PHILADELPHIA, July 4.—(AP)—The Bell of Freedom tolled again today on the historic Fourth of July. The nation relived the birth of American liberty, and prayed for worldwide peace in a dramatic declaration of independence on this 175th anniversary of the signing of that immortal document.

Philadelphia, cradle of U. S. liberty, took the lead in the four-day Independence Jubilee. The Tower Bell in the Old State House, a block from Independence Hall, tolled the year, 1951, and the anniversary, 175.

Thousands listened and watched in Independence Square. The Congress of the U. S. and the City Council of Philadelphia held token meetings in Independence Hall. The Pennsylvania state legislature held a mock session in the state house.

U. S. Senator James H. Duff (R-Pa.), chief speaker, said America "at this very hour of greatness" faces "the greatest challenge in our history."

TEEN TALK

AP Newsfeatures
A small mound of snow would look awfully good about this time of the year. But then you can't have snow here. If you could have a magic wand and produce anything you heart desired, what would it be? Personally, I'd like a headress with a revolving fan, earrings made of non-nelt icicles and a gown of numbers.
But nevertheless, here we are, in even though warm and weary, summer is a wonderful time of the year. It is difficult to believe that so many young people are active in lots of busy projects here and abroad, when they are enjoying warm sand, brilliant air and blue skies. We're a bit of news on what is going on in our teenage world right now:

TEENNEWS

On the frivolous side, note that beauty marks are back in vogue. There are brightly colored designs—butterflies, fish, etc.—to be worn on bare shoulders, arms or legs to add that extra bit of glamor to beach and streetwear. And for the girl who wants for fancy hosiery there are colorful clocks to be applied directly to the legs, worn under nylon or over a suntan. They are waterproof but can be removed quickly in case of emergency, say the makers.
If you've been yearning for a pair of pedal pushers or shorts in popular grey flannel or white linen or other summerweight cloth, cosy up to Pop. Almost every Dad has a pair of trousers that has outgrown or which have frayed at the cuffs or which he still is wearing. Why not pass on, if you grab them before he tabs them for garden-wear.
When you get the trousers, cut them down to size, if they are big around the hips, sew in a few slits, front and back, and you'll have brand new play timehorts. Faded denim can be perked up in a dye bath and if they no longer can be patched, cut them down to shorts or pedal-pushers to get the best possible use out of them.
Recently some 200 high school paper editors attended a meeting at the RCA Exhibition Hall to hear about and see applications of various types of equipment in science, entertainment, education, industry, commerce and public service, in connection with an essay contest on electronics. Among the displays they peered at were mobile radio communication equipment for use in police and fire stations to communicate with patrol cars and fire apparatus. This proved fascinating to most of the kids, just as the television gadgets did. It's amazing to see girls so interested in engineering projects.

Hints To Housewives

By Anna Mae Sikes

Families with a closet which can be set aside for storage only are in luck when it comes to protecting woolen garments from the clothes moth. Better yet is a closet in the attic, build large enough to hold not only clothing but also upholstered furniture not in use. Such closets should be well stocked with flake naphthalene.
To control moths in a storage closet, entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture advise, brush all clothing thoroughly, clean the closet thoroughly, and seal all cracks in the plaster and about the baseboards with crack fillers. See that door frames are equipped with rubber or moth-proof felt gaskets, against which the door can be shut tight at all points.
On the top shelf of the closet, or in muslin bags hung from hooks, put one pound of either flake naphthalene or paradichlorobenzene crystals to each 100 cubic feet of closet space. The fumes given off by the slow evaporation of the crystals quickly stop moth larvae from feeding, and ultimately kill the larvae, if the fumes are retained long enough in proper concentration. To maintain such concentration, be sure the closet is perfectly tight, and that it has a tight fitting door which is kept closed except for the brief times when clothing is being put in or taken out.
As for the use of paper garment bags in moth control, they have no value in themselves for killing moths. However, if clothing free from moths is put into an unbroken garment bag that is tightly closed and sealed, the paper will keep moths out indefinitely. Once the moths get into the bags, either with clothing, or through breaks in the paper or at the fastenings, of course damage will result. An added precaution is to put a cupful of paradichlorobenzene crystals in the bag before sealing it.
As the entomologists point out, the smell of cedar or pine oil in a garment bag does not trouble the clothes moth, nor does printers ink on newspapers.

Beef Survey

The by 10 per cent last May and proposed another 9 per cent cut by Oct. 1. But Congress appears in no mood to go along with this extra 9 per cent rollback.
Just what is the farmer's profit in this gamble on cattle? Is it too high? Should the farmer be willing to take more cuts in cattle prices?
Those questions bring a variety of answers in this fertile farmland and here are some of them:
The majority are opposed to any controls on beef prices—but they appear willing to accept the 10 per cent rollback now in effect if there is assurance of no further rollbacks.
J. S. Russell, veteran farm editor for the Des Moines Register Tribune, says: "The corn belt cat her, is opposed to price controls because the last few years have been making some pretty good profits. Most of them realize that cattle feeding is a gamble. Most of them are willing to take the gamble, provided there aren't too many uncertainties."
Russell said of the rollbacks: "It doesn't set any too well with some of these folks who have heard that many merchants had enough warning of the price freeze last January that they could mark up merchandise and ultimately sell their prices frozen at a higher level."
"The farmer will argue that this was just the reverse of the procedure on beef cattle."
The Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, representing 127,500 members, is opposed to price controls because it says this is the wrong way to go about trying to control inflation.
E. Howard Hill, federation president, argues the farmer's net income is down 33 per cent for 1950 compared to 1948 and "contrary to popular belief, the consumer is not being hurt by current food prices."
Hill says in 1901 the consumer could buy a pound of meat with 52 minutes of labor, and in 1929 the cost had dropped to 27 minutes of labor. Now, he says, a pound of meat can be earned with 32 minutes of labor.
On this basis, he argues beef prices are not out of line with wages and other costs.
OFS contends beef prices are out of line and the farmer can take another 9 per cent out of his beef cattle prices and still make a nice profit.
OFS figures show that farmer-feeder who fattens cattle for the market can push the weight of a 700-pound steer up to 1050 pounds, sell it at a ceiling price of 31.20 per hundred weight in October, and still come out with a profit of $40.20 on the animal.
Hill says he bought some 500-

Westerners attending the trial.
The prison sentence came to the 37-year-old American from Marion Ind., on his country's Independence Day. During his two-day trial he admitted "espionage activities," but most of the so-called spying apparently was what is considered routine news-gathering in the West.
Under Czech Communist law, however, almost any type of reportorial activity beyond the relaying of official government announcements, newscasts, and Communist press items can be interpreted as a crime against the state.
During the trial in Prague's Pankrac prison the Communist prosecutor charged that Oatis was "particularly dangerous because of his discretion and his insistence on obtaining only accurate, correct and verified information."
The Czechs convicted with Oatis, and their sentences, were: Tomas Soboda, 20 years; Pavel Wepelme, 18 years; and Peter Manta, 16 years.
Held incarcerated in Pankrac prison for 69 days, Oatis was brought into court on Monday to answer "yes" when asked whether he had carried out espionage. He entered no formal plea of innocence or guilt, however.

Sam Snead Turns In Spectacular Round To Win PGA Title

Veteran Golfer Is 22 Under Par For 166 Holes Of Grueling Match Play Tourney

OAKMONT, Pa., July 4.—(AP)—West Virginia's only-ranking hillside, Sam Snead, finished one of the most spectacular match-play rounds in history yesterday to another young Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., 7 and 6, for his third PGA championship.

The smart money was on the Deland Red Hats from the beginning and Frank Radler's collection of experienced old pros have come through leading the Florida State League all season. It was the opinion of the column that the midsummer heat would not be too much for Snead, but such has not been the case. As a matter of fact the heat was to improve in the torrid temperatures mid-June.

The All-Star team which will meet the Red Hats in another matter of days, will be a team of individual stars who have never played with each other. They will combine the various playing styles and styles of play. The match will be little time to change the habits of a season.

Looking over the squad it is hard to believe that the Red Hats will be a team of individual stars who have never played with each other. They will combine the various playing styles and styles of play. The match will be little time to change the habits of a season.

At second Lyle July is as good as any in the league. He fields with an easy, easy wisdom and south of a league and his playing style is not to be underestimated. He is a true baseball player.

They learned their three H's—Hit, Run, and Field. They travel from town to town on long roads via buses ready for the jump and they played on fields where there would no longer graze.

And when they baseball bats hit the major leagues they already had established themselves as the major leagues. When they chance they proved their hitting and the American and National League fields.

This year being the 50th anniversary of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues which was founded in 1901, the league is fitting to note some of the finest players in the history of the game.

Frank Radler To Face Jim Coppock In All-Star Tilt

SILVER SPRING, July 4.—(Special)—Under orders to produce a decisive victory, it was expected that the two-time Florida State League All-Star team would be a team of individual stars who have never played with each other.

Starting lineup issued this morning by the Red Hats management has led to the hope that they will be a team of individual stars who have never played with each other.

Veck Goes Over Top In Attempt To Buy 75% Of St. Louis Browns

ST. LOUIS, July 4.—(AP)—Bill Veck went "over the top" today in his stock drive to buy the St. Louis Browns.

An important stockholder, who had been a stubborn hold-out in the deal, tossed in his 5,772 shares at noon to give Veck more than the 75 per cent of Browns' stock he wanted.

Now all he has to do is arrange an option he holds on the club. It is his.

Herbert Walker, the stockholder, had been one of the important hold-outs in Veck's deal to buy the club from the DeWitt brothers.

Veck reached his stockholding goal with only 12 hours left in the deal. He was about to buy 600 shares when Walker decided to sell his stock and assure Veck's ownership.

Johnson Says Controls Not Tough Enough

New Law Would Mean Dollar-A-Day Rise In Living Costs, ESA Head Asserts

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(AP)—The Truman Administration is not doing enough to control the economy, said Eric Johnston, economic stabilization director, made his first trip to the White House today. Johnston said that all elements of the Administration should engage in a campaign of speeches, statements and appeals to inform the public on the hazards of inflation.

Johnston added to a news conference: "We don't want an economic Pearl Harbor or a Dunkerque. And we don't want a Munich of appeasement."

Johnston, without directly asking housewives to write their congressmen, said he was sure that if the voters have convictions in this matter, they will communicate with their representatives.

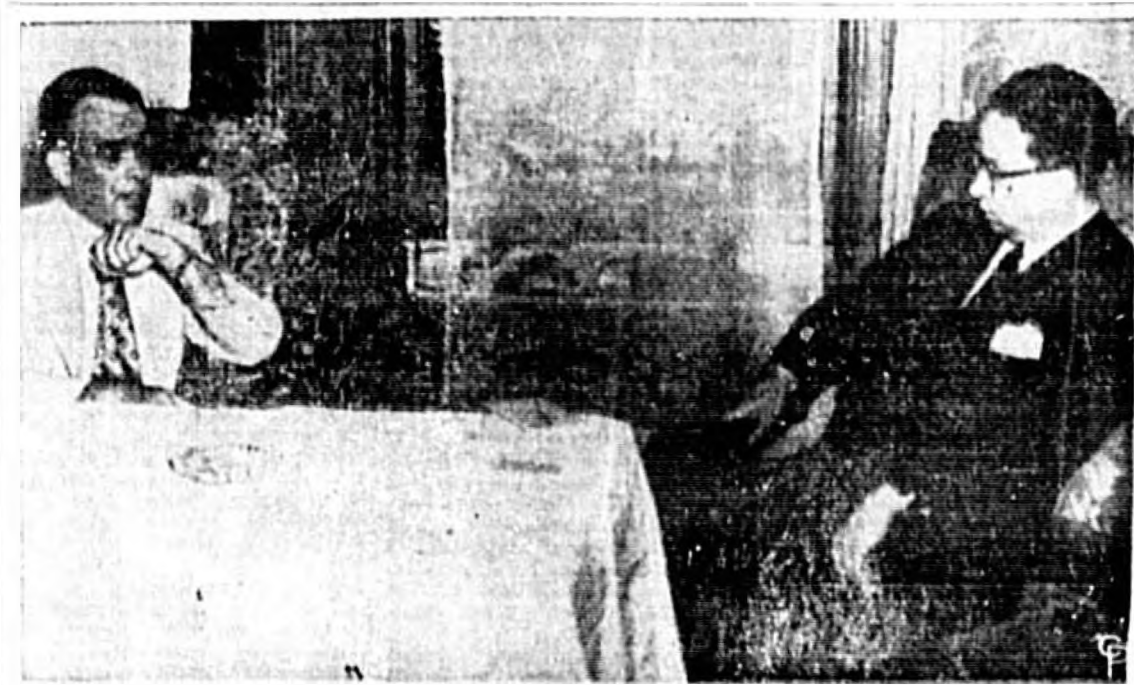

Local Delegates Tell Jaycees Of Boys State Meet

Sanford delegates to the recent Boys State Convention in Tallahassee today reported to their parents at the weekly luncheon of the Jaycees at the Yacht Club.

Joe McClure, Robert Bookouth, Wesley Spencer and Gerald Carling each gave their impressions of the experiment in youthful government and practical training.

Wesley Spencer took up the Creek-long meet on Thursday and described preparations for entertainment for the boys including a skit night and dance which was held on Friday at "Papa" Hall, Olympic high jumper from the University of Florida, addressed the boys during the day.

Czech Official Refuses Protest On U. S. Reporter

2 U. S. Diplomats Allowed 24 Hours To Leave Hungary

Members Of Legation Are Declared To Be Unwelcome Persons

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 5.—(AP)—Hungary today ordered two United States diplomats to leave this country within 24 hours, labeling them "persons non grata" (unwelcome persons).

The note was handed to the U. S. Legation after the United States rejected Hungary's previous demand that three members of the legation be recalled as plotters against this country's Communist government.

The two diplomats involved must cross the Hungarian border into Austria by Friday at 11 P. M. The Hungarian note said that Budapest "considers legation secretary Albert Scherer, Jr., and attaché Ruth Tyson persons non grata and demands that they leave the territory of the country within 24 hours."

This is the latest development in the diplomatic strife between the U. S. and Hungary following the recent trial of Archbishop Jozsef Groso, who was sentenced to 15 years in prison as a plotter against the government.

European Newspapers Castigate Czech Trial Of William Oatis

FRANKFURT, Germany, July 5.—(AP)—West German newspapers published angry denunciations today of the sentencing of William N. Oatis to 10 years in a Czech prison on espionage charges.

The Offenbach Post called for sharp retaliation by trying Soviet bloc correspondents now in the West for supplying information to their government.

The Swedish Zeitung, also of Munich, declared: "One can see how degenerate the eastern world of journalism has become when a correspondent is only allowed to admire the ballet or praise the climate of Stalin's birthplace if he would stay free."

Rollins To Revamp Curriculum To Fit New Modern Needs

WINTER PARK, July 5.—(AP)—Rollins College is revamping its curriculum of young people to fit new modern needs.

Acting President Hugh P. McKean says these needs are a clear understanding of basic American institutions, too often lacking in the young people of today.

The second will be met with a course called "Neighbors of the World," the third with a course called "Orientation for Service in the Armed Forces."

Rollins has been administered since May 13 by a triumvirate of McKean, professor of acting vice president Alfred J. Hanna, Florida historian and professor of history, and vice president and treasurer John M. Teal.

Interim Solution Looms In Iranian Oil Field Crisis

World Court To Make Proposals For Compromise Of Dispute

LONDON, July 5.—(AP)—Britain is studying an Iranian suggestion for an interim solution to the oil dispute which would secure a continued flow of Iran's fuel to the West.

The International Court of Justice is suggesting a 10% increase in the price of oil to Britain and Iran which would protect British oil rights pending negotiation of their oil dispute.

The British wanted the receipts to ensure the rights of AIOC to any share of oil proceeds which might be agreed upon in a final settlement.
