About Eagleton... it has been said to me on many previous occasions. "The whole world is nuts, except for thee and me. And here I am, I'm not too sure about thee!"

Or, another way of forming an opinion on this dilemma would be to remember the words of an Indian Prayer... "Grant that I may not criticize my neighbor until I have walked a mile in his moccasins."

So, before I offer a personal opinion... what do the doctors who treated the man have to say on the subject?

Which brings me to still another perplexing problem, which proves that they, too, don't always agree on a medical issue... like marijuana!

It's ironic that last night, one of our deputies apprehends an individual walking away from a residence with what appears to be a plant in his possession. The lawman makes him return it... NOT REALIZING that it was a marijuana plant.

Grant that it was dark, and possibly this would have been the reason for him not recognizing the plant. Whatever... maybe we all ought to take another look at the darn thing. Even in broad daylight we're having trouble fully comprehending the effect of this product.

Read the story in today's edition on page 10A and you'll better understand what I'm talking about.

Now we're told that the "effects" of smoking marijuana suggests that pot may be effective in treating glaucoma, a major cause of blindness, researchers say.

I BELIEVE... the only thing we really know about marijuana is how very, very little we do understand concerning all of the ramifications of the weed.

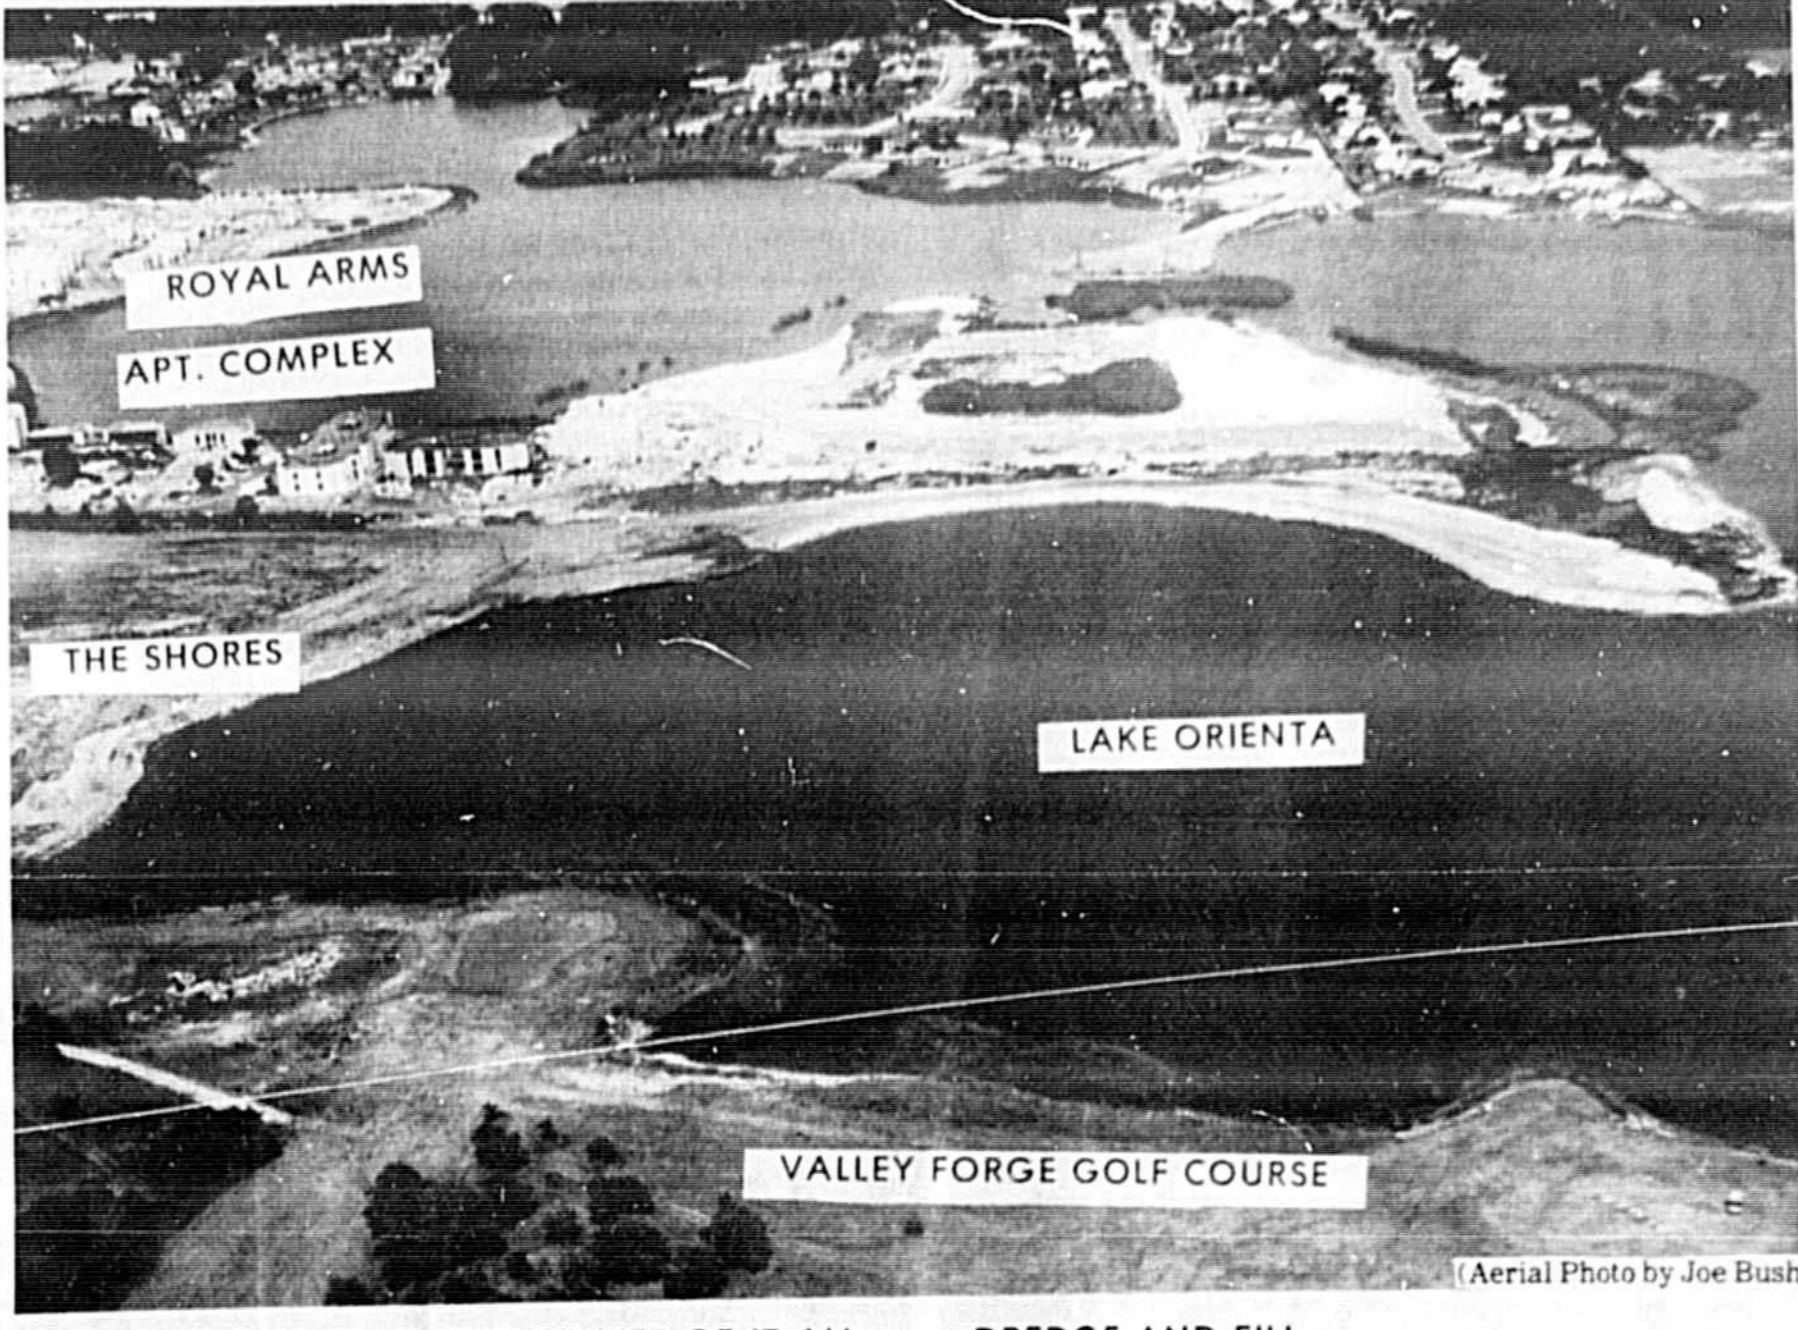

And please, don't read into this anything more or less. I am not extending that same thought to the "hard drugs"...

Some of "big muscle" about to move in from Tallahassee now that Senator Bill Gunter has written to the Executive Director of the Pollution Control Board, citing some of the problems representing what the Senator calls "a reprehensible pollution problem in Seminole County"... Albert's Pit.

FHP Tomany Tomlinson told me of a man who got out of his car, left the engine running (parked in "park")... his young daughter hops out of the car while Dad is going to do some shopping at a roadside fruit stand... he shoots her back to the car... she touches the shift-lever... not only runs over her Dad, but a lady who was standing nearby.

Nothing happened to the lady; Dad got lacerations of the legs and minor injuries.

No charges were filed; but I'll betcha a lesson was learned. (Never argue with a lady—regardless of her age!)

THE CENTER OF IT ALL... DREDGE AND FILL developments. Dredge and fill operations for one such development — The Shores — was halted last week by state attorney.

$2.6 Billion Contract Space Shuttle Pact Inked

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP)—North American Rockwell Corp. has captured the $2.6-billion contract to build the Space Shuttle orbiter vehicle that will jet into orbit like a rocket and land on earth like an airplane.

North American's Space Division, at Downey, Calif., won over three rival bidders Wednesday to get the National Aeronautics and Space Administration contract to build five vehicles over a six-year period.

The 120-foot-long craft with a 78-foot wing span are to be in full operation by 1980. They are to be used over and over again to carry men, satellites and equipment into earth orbit and to bring personnel and materials back to earth.

North American's Rockwell Division of Canoga Park, Calif., won the first Space Shuttle pact about a year ago—a $500-million contract to develop 36 of the main engines for the three-engine orbiter.

Once the orbiter has completed its space mission, it will return to earth and land conventionally, like a rocket-powered airplane.

Municipal Building Pictured By Mayor

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford may not be getting a new jail soon but he is surprised if the city fathers decide to construct a new city hall police station.

A combined police station-city hall was hinted by Mayor Lee P. Moore Wednesday during his luncheon speech to the Sanford Kiwanis Club.

In an explanation of the decision by Sanford to voluntarily relinquish its municipal court in order for a second court in Sanford to be created to handle the overflow of court cases expected after Jan. 1, when the new judicial rules under Article V are state imposed, the Mayor said: "Perhaps what we should have is a city hall-police station combined, if we are not going to house our own prisoners." He added, "We may not be as far away from a new city hall as we think."

At least one version of the effect of judicial reform is a statement attributed to a Supreme Court justice that the county will house prisoners formerly held in city jails, since the county is assuming the tasks of adjudicating the cases made by municipal police.

Commissioner Gordon Meyer suggested at Monday night's City Commission session that the city proceed immediately to construct a police station and forget about the jail.

Wednesday, the Mayor said, ultimately, I feel this is what the city will do.

Architects have drawn plans for a jail-police station to occupy a site on Marshall Avenue off 25th Street west, but due to the uncertainty of the effect of Article V, a stop order has been issued until more information is available.

An Aug. 2 meeting with the architects has been set by the commission to discuss all ramifications of the project.

MARIJUANA HARVEST, consisting of some 50 plants, some potted and others pulled from the ground in stalks, was examined Wednesday night by Sheriff John Polk, right, and Sgt. Ray Parker, county vice squad chief after the "grass" was seized in the Sanlando area. Sgt. Parker said the drug plants were taken from a spot near the home of convicted gambler Clyde Lee, but he discounted any involvement by Lee since the purport-k confederate of Harlan Blackburn has been in jail for a year. An arrest is expected today after the service of a warrant, Parker said. (Bill Scott Photo)

Little Jimmy's Last Ride

WENDOVER, Utah (AP)—A futile and agonizing 100-mile ride across the scorching desert to save the life of little Jimmy Carlos was made in vain, possibly because of a flat tire.

Jimmy, 11, had just finished taking a shower and came out of the bathroom at his home gasping for breath.

When Deputy Sheriff Marion Carter and state Highway Patrolman Scott Sparks arrived at the home, they revived Jimmy but determined that he needed hospital care.

Two weeks earlier, Jimmy swallowed an accidental overdose of family prescription and was flown to a Salt Lake City hospital where doctors revived him.

Tuesday, however, Wendover's only ambulance driver was out of town, so the officers, with the boy's mother, put the gasping Jimmy in Carter's oxygen-equipped cruiser for the ride across the Great Salt Lake Desert to a hospital in Tooele, 100 miles away.

Four miles out of Wendover, a tire blew out.

Carter called for help on his radio as the precious oxygen ran out.

Jimmy struggled for life. His mother was frantic watching him thrash about the cruiser's rear seat.

The car's spare tire had been used three days earlier after another tire blew out on the hot desert pavement.

Meanwhile, Sparks ran to a nearby gas station for a bottle of industrial oxygen. He made the trip three times in temperatures believed more than 100 degrees.

Jimmy revived to a state of semiconsciousness as another cruiser arrived, and the ride to Tooele continued. But Sparks suffered a mild heart attack due to exhaustion, and he needed oxygen. He shared Jimmy's fate. When they arrived at the hospital, Jimmy was dead.

Carter later said he was told by service station attendants that the car tire had been deliberately slashed with a sharp object.

Carter said Jimmy died because someone cut the tire on purpose, just enough to have it fail when he needed it the most.

"We don't always write tickets," Carter said. "We do sometimes try to save lives."

Friday Meet Scheduled For "The Shores"

By DONNA ESTES

ALTIMONTE SPRINGS — Mayor Lawrence Swford has scheduled a meeting for 10:30 a.m. Friday, in his office in city hall with a contractor, builder, state and county officials in an attempt to work out problems with the development of "The Shores" condominium community on a tract adjacent to Lake Orienta.

In the legal description of the tract the wording designates a boundary of the property at the waters of Lake Orienta... and along its shore line." Swford said there is some difficulty determining at this time seven months later where the shore line was when the property was annexed. "The land may have increased or decreased," the mayor said.

He added, however, the city has no authority whatever over the waters of the lake.

Building permits were issued by the city building department Wednesday for patio homes to be constructed on the site.

Last week employees of the A. J. Rowe Heavy Equipment and Paving Co. of Orlando were charged by the state attorney with illegal dredging and fill operations in the lake.

Swford told The Herald today he has invited State Attorney Albert Herrington, a representative of the State Internal Improvement Fund, Rowe, land owner C. Finley Knight, and County Pollution Control Officer Langley Adair to meet with him Friday to discuss jurisdiction and proper action.

The building site is located west of Royal Arms

Profs Arrested For 'Sunshine'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two University of Florida professors who serve on the Gainesville City Commission were arrested today on warrants charging they violated the state's Government-in-the-Sunshine law.

Conrad L. Callier, 45, an associate professor in engineering, and Joseph Little, 37, a law professor, were booked in the Alachua County jail, then released on their own recognizance pending an Aug. 16 appearance in the Court of Records.

In a separate case the Charlotte County Commission was found guilty Wednesday of violating the state's ban on secret meetings.

The warrants were issued after Robert Williams, head of the federally financed North Central Florida Regional Planning Council, entered affidavits saying the professors met at the university May 30 and discussed the possibility of replacing John Kelley as head of Gainesville's Municipal Utilities Department, the judge said.

The Sunshine Law case involving the Charlotte County Commission was a civil action brought by a man who lost a $340,000 contract to another firm.

Circuit Judge Charles Carlton ruled in Punta Gorda that the Charlotte County Commission acted wrongfully in breaking into committee to meet privately with representatives of Honeycutt and Associates, a St. Petersburg assessment firm which was awarded the contract.

The judge declared that contract null and void, but he said the commission could sign a new contract immediately as long as it did not "meet in the shade."

The civil suit was filed by James A. Howze, who runs an assessment firm in Tampa.

U. S. Bombing Analyzed

Commies' Power Supply Is Set Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence analysts estimate it will take the North Vietnamese up to 18 months to get their biggest bombed-out power plant back in operation.

But the analysts also forecast that several other major power plants can be restored to half capacity in three to six months.

These projections are contained in an intelligence assessment of the effects of heavy U.S. air attacks on North Vietnam's electric-power-generating resources in May and June.

Principal targets were seven plants in the general Hanoi-Haiphong areas, which furnished more than two-thirds of North Vietnam's 220,000-kilowatt capacity.

11. Gen. George Eade, the Air Force deputy chief of staff for plans and operations, has said successful strikes on these plants "force the enemy to use inferior and substandard equipment, such as mobile generators, an attempt to sustain his military and industrial capabilities."

Eade also noted that repair of bombed facilities absorbs manpower and scarce materials.

The biggest of North Vietnam's power sources was the Lang Chi hydroelectric plant, 55 miles northwest of Hanoi. Built with Russian help and inaugurated only last October, it was rated at 73,000 kilowatts.

Another 24,000-kilowatt thermal plant, at Thua Nguen north of Hanoi, may be restored to half capacity in three or four months, the analysts said.

This plant has provided power for North Vietnam's only steel mill, where bridge sections, rails and barges have been manufactured.

The 10,000-kilowatt Han Gai plant, northeast of Haiphong needs three to six months of reconstruction work to reach half efficiency, the intelligence study said.

Three smaller installations could be functioning again in two to five weeks, the analysts said.

Letters Received From 24 New PWs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent letters from U.S. prisoners of war in North Vietnam have been sent to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for relay to their families.

Kennedy said Wednesday that the letters and other developments represent a "hopeful measure of progress, specifically for the prisoners' families in this country."

The senator disclosed he received 24 letters from North Vietnam on July 23, the first time that letters from prisoners have been routed through a U.S. government official rather than through private parties.

Kennedy has been in correspondence with North Vietnamese leaders since 1966 in behalf of the prisoners.

He said he received on June 29 an updated list with 24 new names of American pilots who had been captured since Nov. 15, 1970. This was followed on July 23 by letters from the 24 men, which Kennedy said he relayed to their families.

The senator wrote to North Vietnamese President Ton Duc Thang on May 19, urging that wounded and ill prisoners be transferred to a neutral country, such as Sweden, until a general agreement for prisoner release is reached.

Kennedy said Ton Duc Thang replied on June 16 that the prisoners are being humanely treated, but their release is being delayed "the more the U.S. authorities intensify and extend the war."

McGovern Will 'Stick By' His Veep Running Mate

CUSTER, S.D. (AP) — Despite concern from some of his supporters around the country that Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton's place on the Democratic ticket jeopardizes George McGovern's chances of beating President Nixon, the South Dakota senator says he has no intention of changing running mates.

"I'm 1,000 percent for Tom Eagleton and I have no intention of dropping him from the ticket," McGovern said in a brief statement Wednesday.

That has been his position since he first learned Tuesday the details of Eagleton's medical history, which includes visits to the hospital in 1960, 1964 and 1965 for nervous exhaustion and fatigue.

Eagleton had been under the treatment of a psychiatrist, and on two of the occasions received electric shock treatments.

"McGovern said he was repeating his endorsement of Eagleton to assure no misunderstanding on my part."

Yank, Russ 4-3 In Chess Tourney

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer and Boris Spassky went into the eighth game of the world chess championship match today with the American challenger still leading the Soviet titlist by a full game after a draw in the seventh.

The score in the 24-game match now stands at 4-3. Fischer leads by more points to wrest the title from Spassky, the Russian another 6 to keep it.

Since wins count a full point and draws a half, Fischer could take the crown by halving the remaining 17 games; Spassky must win at least one more game and draw one to retain his title. But the competitiveness displayed so far by both players makes any such attempt at a holding action most unlikely.

The draw Wednesday came after Fischer's 49th move. Both players agreed to it less than an hour after the Russian resumed Tuesday's play with his sealed 41st move.

Grandmasters said bad play by Fischer in the last stages of Tuesday's portion of the game cost him a win. The American agreed that he had made six or seven bad moves and that the draw was inevitable no matter how Spassky responded the next day.

International grandmaster Isaac Kashdan, analyzing the play for The Associated Press, said Fischer, with a pawn ahead at the resumption of play Wednesday, had better winning chances, but Spassky's centrally placed rooks were a constant menace.

"The hardest fought of the series to date," said Kashdan.

Castro Seeks To End War

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and a top Viet Cong representative have called on world public opinion to force an end to the Vietnam war.

When the United States stops the war, removes its troops and quits supporting the Saigon government, "the Vietnamese people will be disposed to free all prisoners of war," said Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, chief Viet Cong delegate to the Paris peace talks.

"The protests against the war shall grow within the United States," said Castro. "And the Vietnamese cause, in one way or another, will triumph — with Nixon or without Nixon."

He added that world support for Vietnam should not be underestimated.

Mrs. Binh was guest of honor at a massive outdoor rally in Havana on Wednesday night commemorating the 1970 anniversary of a rebel attack on an army barracks that Communist leaders consider the start of their revolution in Cuba.

At least seven men died as a direct result of syphilis and that figure could be higher, the officials said.

Dr. Williams, a Black physician, said he was an intern at the Local Tuskegee institute Hospital when the study began and that he and two other interns, under the direction of two PWs doctors from Washington, worked on participants when they came in.

Dr. Williams said that the interns were never informed of the purposes or procedures of the study.

"It was just told you to give a needle to the people and come back," Williams said. "I thought I was administering an arsenical (the mercury-arsenic treatment used at the time to combat syphilis).

Syphilis Study Aired By Doctor

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — A local doctor who took part in the early years of a federal syphilis study says he does not recall that the black participants were ever told they were subjects of an experiment or what the study involved.

"The people who came in were not told what was being done," Dr. J. W. Williams said in an interview Wednesday. "We told them we wanted to test them. They were not told, so far as I know, what they were being treated for or what they were not being treated for."

"We didn't tell them we were looking for syphilis," he said. "I don't think they would have known what that was."

The experiment, called the Tuskegee Study, began in 1932. It was run by the U.S. Public Health Service and involved 600 black men from this area, 200 of whom had signs of syphilis and 400 who had the disease, according to the federal agency.

Current officials at the PHS Center for Disease Control in Atlanta have said their records show that none of the 400 syphilitics in the study ever received treatment for the disease.

At least seven men died as a direct result of syphilis and that figure could be higher, the officials said.

Jailed Workers Freed

LONDON (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of British strikers went back to work today following the release of five longshoremen jailed by the new labor court. But union leaders vowed to keep up their war to kill the Conservative government's industrial relations law.

After a swelling wave of strikes protesting the jailing of the five dockers last Friday, London's buses were running again, airlines once more were leaving London's Heathrow Airport on schedule, London's central meat, fish and fruit markets reopened, and coal miners went back to their pits.

However, the 1.8-million-member engineering workers' union and the 80,000-man printers' union said they would go ahead with a 24-hour strike Monday to protest the labor relations law.

The country's 42,000 dock workers were meeting later today to decide whether to continue their strike, which stopped loading and unloading in all ports last Monday.

The unions' opposition to the industrial relations law, Prime Minister Edward Heath's version of the Taft-Hartley Act, was heightened by a decision Wednesday of the House of Lords judicial committee, Britain's highest court, that unions are responsible for the actions of their local officials, even if the local men act on their own.

The five jailed longshoremen had been put in Pentonville Prison for contempt of court after refusing to heed the Industrial Relations Court's order to stop illegal picketing. In freeing them, the president of the labor court, Sir John Donaldson, said the Lords' ruling had transformed the situation and "a fresh start should now be made."

The ruling means that in such cases the parent union rather than the individual members can be taken to court, and the court can fine the union if it doesn't bring its members into line.

Now In Knowles' Lap 'Hot Seats' Cost Up

Sanford City Commission's new chairs were back in the news again Wednesday with word from W.E. Knowles, city manager, that bids from three firms for the purchase of 10 judicial type chairs were opened.

Knowles said bids were received from George Stuart, Inc., of Orlando, and Powell and Sweeney's office supply stores, Sanford. "The prices ranged from a low $119.19 to a high $131.80 each for posture type chairs," the city manager disclosed.

"Prices for the executive type chairs are about $20 higher than the posture types, Knowles added.

When asked if he would issue a purchase order for the new chairs, the city manager replied, "I'll take it under consideration."

A.A. McClanahan previously moved to buy new chairs and colleagues Julian Sorenson and John Morris provided enough votes to push through the proposal over the lone "nay" vote of Gordon Meyer.

Mayor Lee P. Moore was away on vacation when the commission approved the chair purchase but Wednesday, at a Kiwanis Club luncheon where he was guest speaker, the city's chief executive indicated opposition to replacing the present seats and explained there is a bit of nostalgia about them.

"I had high school sleep in these chairs for 17 years while he was on the City Commission," Moore quipped.

Questioned later concerning his feelings about new chairs for commissioners, Higginbotham snarled, "Those men knew what kind of chairs they had before they were elected."

He continued, "They didn't say they wanted a comfortable chair when they were running for office; they were going to save their money."

The former commissioner and mayor added, "Anyway, it's not the chairs that make a commission, it's what you put in them that counts."

LEOP MOORE, right, Sanford mayor, was the guest speaker Wednesday at the Sanford Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Civic Center. Moore, introduced by Commissioner Gordon Meyer, (background), program chairman, explained the proposed 1972-73 budget to the civic club and answered questions from members about the city operations. Two teenage bandits, one holding a revolver, Wednesday night forced a convenience store clerk to gather the contents of a cash register and place it in a paper bag before escaping, sheriff's records disclose.

The sheriff stated a $100 reward will be offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone responsible for mutilating or removing any political signs.

"Regardless of political affiliation or candidates involved, any persons caught defacing or taking signs will be arrested and brought directly to jail," Polk promised.

He explained this does not apply to signs erected on state rights-of-way or private property, where a sign is placed without the property owner's permission.

Candidates have spent a lot of money for signs and whether a person favors a certain candidate or not, his signs should not be destroyed," the sheriff added.

He advised there have been no reports yet of vandalism but recalled there were some reports four years ago during the past political campaign.

U. S. Bombing Analyzed

Commies' Power Supply Is Set Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence analysts estimate it will take the North Vietnamese six to 18 months to get their largest bombed-out power plant back in operation.

But the analysts also forecast that several other major power plants can be restored to half capacity in three to six months.

These projections are contained in an intelligence assessment of the effects of heavy U.S. air attacks on North Vietnam's electric-power-generating resources in May and June.

Principal targets were seven plants in the general Hanoi-Haiphong areas, which furnished more than two-thirds of North Vietnam's 230,000-kilowatt capacity.

11 Gen. George Eade, the Air Force deputy chief of staff for plans and operations, has said successful strikes on these plants "force the enemy to use inferior and substandard equipment, such as mobile generators, an attempt to sustain his military and industrial capability."

Eade also noted that repair of bombed facilities absorbs manpower and, vice versa, materials.

The biggest of North Vietnam's power sources was the Lang Chi hydroelectric plant, 55 miles northwest of Hanoi. Built with Russian help and inaugurated only last October, it was rated at 73,000 kilowatts before flights of Air Force F4 Phantom jets knocked it out with laser-guided bombs on June 10.

U.S. intelligence specialists said photos indicate that 12 to 18 months of repair and rebuilding will be necessary before the Lang Chi plant can again provide energy.

They said it would be another six to nine months until the Uong Bi thermal plant northeast of Haiphong could be running at 50 per cent of its 24,000-kilowatt capacity.

Uong Bi was the primary source of power for Haiphong port and naval repair facilities. The plant also served military control centers in the Hanoi area.

Another 24,000-kilowatt thermal plant, at Thai Nguyen north of Hanoi, may be restored to half capacity in three or four months, the analysts said.

This plant has provided power for North Vietnam's only steel mill, where bridge sections, rails and barges have been manufactured.

The 10,000-kilowatt Hon Gai plant northeast of Haiphong needs three to six months of reconstruction work to reach half efficiency, the intelligence study said.

Three smaller installations could be functioning again in two to five weeks, the analysts said.

Letters Received From 24 New PWs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent letters from U.S. prisoners of war in North Vietnam have been sent to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for relay to their families.

Kenney said Wednesday that the letters and other developments represent a "hopeful measure of progress, specifically for the prisoners' families in this country."

The senator disclosed he received 24 letters from North Vietnam on July 23, the first time that letters from prisoners have been routed through a U.S. government official rather than through private parties.

Kenney has been in correspondence with North Vietnamese leaders since 1966 in behalf of the prisoners.

He said he received on June 29 an updated list with 24 new names of American pilots who had been captured since Nov. 15, 1970. This was followed on July 23 by letters from the 24 men, which Kennedy said he relayed to their families.

The senator wrote to North Vietnamese President Ton Duc Thang on May 19, urging that wounded and ill prisoners be transferred to a neutral country, such as Sweden, until a general agreement for prisoner release is reached.

Kenney said Ton Duc Thang replied on June 16 that the prisoners are being humanely treated, but their release is being delayed "the more the U.S. authorities intensify and extend the war."

Jailed Workers Freed

LONDON (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of British strikers went back to work today following the release of five longshoremen jailed by the new labor court.

The country's 42,000 dock workers were meeting later today to decide whether to continue their strike, which stopped loading and unloading in all ports last Monday.

The unions' opposition to the industrial relations law, Prime Minister Edward Heath's version of the Taft-Hartley Act, was heightened by a decision Wednesday of the House of Lords judicial committee, Britain's highest court, that unions are responsible for the actions of their local officials, even if the local men act on their own.

The five jailed longshoremen had been put in Pentonville Prison for contempt of court after refusing to heed the Industrial Relations Court's order to stop illegal picketing. In freeing them, the president of the labor court, Sir John Donaldson, said the Lords' ruling had transformed the situation and "a fresh start should now be made."

The ruling means that in such cases the parent union rather than the individual members can be taken to court, and the court can fine the union if it doesn't bring its members into line.

Bobby Fischer

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer and Boris Spassky went into the eighth game of the world chess championship today with the American challenger still leading the Soviet titlist by a full game after a draw in the seventh.

The score in the 24-game match now stands at 4-3. Fischer needs 6½ more points to wrest the title from Spassky, the Russian another 5 to keep it.

Since wins count a full point and draws a half, Fischer could take the crown by halving the remaining 17 games; Spassky must win at least one more game and draw on the rest to retain his title. But the competitiveness displayed so far by both players makes any such attempt at a holding action most unlikely.

The draw Wednesday came after Spassky's 49th move. Both players agreed to it less than an hour after the Russian resumed Tuesday's play with his black 41st move.

Grandmasters said play by Fischer in the last stages of Tuesday's portion of the game cost him a win. The American agreed that he had made six or seven bad moves and that the draw was inevitable no matter how Spassky reopened the match.

International grandmaster Isaac Kashdan, analyzing the play for The Associated Press, said Fischer, with a pawn ahead at the resumption of play Wednesday, had better winning chances, but Spassky's centrally placed rooks were a constant menace.

"The hardest fought of the series to date," said Kashdan.

Castro Seeks To End War

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and a top Viet Cong representative have called on world public opinion to force an end to the Vietnam war.

When the United States stops the war, removes its troops and quits supporting the Saigon government, "the Vietnamese people will be disposed to free all prisoners of war," said Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, chief Viet Cong delegate to the Paris peace talks.

"The protests against the war shall grow within the United States," said Castro. "And the Vietnamese cause, in one way or another, will triumph — with Nixon or without Nixon."

He added that world support for Vietnam should not be underestimated.

Mrs. Binh was guest of honor at a massive outdoor rally in Havana on Wednesday night commemorating the 19th anniversary of a rebel attack on an army barracks that Communist leaders consider the start of their revolution in Cuba.

Syphilis Study Aired By Doctor

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — A local doctor who took part in the early years of a federal syphilis study says he does not recall that the black participants were ever told they were subjects of an experiment or what the study involved.

The experiment, called the Tuskegee Study, began in 1932. It was run by the U.S. Public Health Service and involved 600 black men from this area, 200 of whom had signs of syphilis and 400 who had the disease, according to the federal agency.

Current officials at the PHIS Center for Disease Control in Atlanta have said their records show that none of the 400 syphilitics in the study ever received treatment for the disease.

McGovern Will 'Stick By' His Veep Running Mate

CUSTER, S.D. (AP) — Despite concern from some of his supporters around the country that Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton's place on the Democratic ticket jeopardizes George McGovern's chances of beating President Nixon, the South Dakota senator says he has no intention of changing running mates.

"I'm 1,000 per cent for Tom Eagleton and I have no intention of dropping him from the ticket," McGovern said in a brief statement Wednesday.

That has been his position since he first learned Tuesday the details of Eagleton's medical history, which includes visits to the hospital in 1960, 1964 and 1965 for nervous exhaustion and fatigue.

Eagleton had been under the treatment of a psychiatrist, and on two of the occasions received electric shock treatments.

McGovern said he was repeating his endorsement of Eagleton "to assure no misunderstanding on my part."

But the competitiveness displayed so far by both players makes any such attempt at a holding action most unlikely.

The draw Wednesday came after Spassky's 49th move. Both players agreed to it less than an hour after the Russian resumed Tuesday's play with his black 41st move.

Grandmasters said play by Fischer in the last stages of Tuesday's portion of the game cost him a win. The American agreed that he had made six or seven bad moves and that the draw was inevitable no matter how Spassky reopened the match.

International grandmaster Isaac Kashdan, analyzing the play for The Associated Press, said Fischer, with a pawn ahead at the resumption of play Wednesday, had better winning chances, but Spassky's centrally placed rooks were a constant menace.

"The hardest fought of the series to date," said Kashdan.

Canal Fight Resumed

TALIHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert Shubin has released copies of a resolution he will present to the Cabinet seeking to withdraw state support of the Cross-Florida Barge Canal.

Shubin moved to cut off canal funds in 1971, shortly after President Nixon halted construction of the $160 million canal, but the Cabinet rejected his position.

The resolution released Wednesday by Shubin would direct the Florida Canal Authority to halt all legal actions against the U.S. government, directing its efforts instead toward protecting the interests of citizens whose tax dollars were spent on canal construction.

Marines Relieve Paratroopers

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese paratroopers who raised their flag over the Quang Tri Citadel were pulled off the line today to recover from severe casualties in the drive to retake the provincial capital. South Vietnamese marines replaced them.

There was no major fighting in the Citadel during the changeover, although scattered fighting was reported elsewhere in South Vietnam and a firebase near Hue was abandoned after taking heavy shelling for the past two days.

British Strikers Return To Work

LONDON (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of British strikers went back to work today following the release of five longshoremen jailed by the new labor court. But union leaders vowed to keep up their war to kill the Conservative government's industrial relations law.

Political Magnet Attracts A Host

If there had been any doubt that this is a key political year, it must now be thoroughly and completely dissipated. At least so far as political hopes are concerned.

Indeed, the old baseball cry of the hawkers — "You can't tell the players without a program" might well be adopted and applied to this evolving political game.

Even with a "program" however, the task of the primaries came on Tuesday, there had been such a flood of aspirants that a record of 1,162 had been reached for state offices.

How McGovern Got O'Brien Back

By BRUCE BOSSERT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Even as the quiet accurate and damaging news of his willow dealings with Lawrence P. O'Brien was getting into print, Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern was moving to correct the situation—and his image.

In Miami Beach the day after the Democratic convention ended, the senator had gone all-out to urge O'Brien to stay on as party national chairman, had persuaded him, and then allowed his staff to veto the arrangement.

Then on Sunday in Washington, McGovern started looking again for O'Brien. He found him packing up at the National Committee offices. He asked if he might come to the ex-chairman's apartment that evening, and O'Brien agreed.

McGovern showed up there at 10:30 p.m., accompanied only by Secret Service agents. Mrs. O'Brien met him at the door. The two men talked for two hours, just as they had in Florida.

Only this time it was different. McGovern said over and over that he had made a serious mistake in letting O'Brien get away, and particularly in permitting his staff to veto his own decision.

What impressed O'Brien most was McGovern's evident capacity for quick, almost brutal re-evaluation. Not only was he candidly self-critical, but he laid it on his own staff hard for not seeing the folly of interposing a veto on his decision.

Hearing that, O'Brien found it wholly believable when the senator that night offered him the job of "national campaign chairman," a post independent of the National Committee, with the double function of prime personal political consultant and chief liaison man with key (and presently disaffected) parts of the Democratic establishment.

No decision was reached in O'Brien's Sheraton Park apartment. But in the next 48 hours McGovern kept the heat on. An O'Brien aide estimates that the senator called his boss between 15 and 20 times in that period— from Washington and later from South Dakota. The question was always substantially the same:

"Larry, have you made up your mind yet?" Finally, Larry did. McGovern first moved to correct his errors. And it is being suggested by some sources that he kept this phase of his O'Brien negotiations so secret that some of the senator's top staff men got their first word of the new agreement when it was announced publicly.

The whole episode, stretching over at least six days, is a fascinating chapter in presidential politics.

There cannot be many cases in which a presidential nominee has eaten crow in such huge gulps as McGovern did in this instance. He ate it up when he learned that people can bring themselves to confess error. He did, mentioning "convention fatigue" but not really fergiving himself.

Seat Belts Could Cut Deaths 50%

By DON OAKLEY

A recent saturation campaign of television commercials urging seat belt use "had no effect whatsoever," reports its sponsor.

During a nine-month period in 1971 and early 1972, the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety conducted a television campaign in a middle-sized American city consisting of six professionally produced commercials.

Observations were made of cars throughout the city to determine any change in the level of seat belt use. At the end of the period, the researchers discovered that the campaign had been a complete bust. In fact, seat belt use actually declined, but this was believed due to the onset of cold weather and the inconvenience of buckling belts over winter clothing.

"In spite of the number of campaigns urging safety belt use," concludes the institute, "the proportion of vehicle occupants using them is so low that much of the reduction in death and injury that should be achieved by their use is not being realized."

The Highway Safety Foundation estimates that half of the 50-plus deaths recorded in the nation every year could be prevented if people would wear their seat belts. Disabling accidents could be cut by 25 per cent.

Yet four out of five drivers and passengers are seem to be immune to all the statistical arguments and appeals made. A mad scramble is under way for these two years, with 22 candidates already filed for the next two years.

There will be general election dues between Democrats and Republicans in these three and other congressional districts Nov. 7. Only two seats will be decided in the primaries, the 1st and 2nd districts.

Here is a district-by-district breakdown of what to expect in the congressional campaign:

1st District: Includes all of Escambia, Santa Rosa, Okaloosa, Walton, Washington, Bay and Gulf counties and part of Holmes. Incumbent Rep. Bob Sikes, a Crestview Democrat, drew two Democratic challengers but no Republicans. The Democrats running against him are Anous Brannon of Pensacola and Harvie Belser of Bonifay.

2nd District: Part of Holmes and all of Jackson, Calhoun, Gadsden, Liberty, Franklin, Leon, Wakulla, Jefferson, Madison, Taylor, Hamilton, Suwannee, Lafayette, Dixie, Levy, Gilchrist, Columbia, Union, Bradford and Alachua. Incumbent Don Fuqua, Alpha Democrat, drew Democratic opposition from Nathan "Fete" Skinner, 29, a former Peace Corps member from Lake City. Fuqua is considered strong throughout the district, although a large student vote in Tallahassee is

Skinner could cut into his apparent lead. 3rd District: Nassau and most of Duval. Incumbent Rep. Charles Bennett, a Jacksonville Democrat who boasts he's never missed a day since being elected to the House in 1949, drew only Republican opposition. He will meet John F. Bowen, a political unknown, in the general election.

4th District: South Duval, Clay, Putnam, St. Johns, Flagler, Marion, Volusia, and North Lake. Incumbent Bill Chappell, an Ocala Democrat, will face Republican P. T. "Bud" Flechman of Daytona Beach. This is the second new district. There are four Democratic candidates — a former state official in the business regulation department Burton Thorne of Arcadia, Bruce Scott of North Fort Myers, Bill Sikes of Clewiston and John A. Darison of Stuart. There are two Republicans, former State Sen. L. A. "Skip" Bafalis of Palm Beach Gardens and Paul Myers of Cape Coral. Thorne and Bafalis are the best known in the race.

Disney World Sued For False Arrest

By EARLE JOSIAH Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — An attorney representing six teenagers who claim they were "wrongfully arrested and imprisoned" by security guards at Walt Disney World has filed suit against the giant central Florida amusement complex.

The suit, filed Wednesday in Circuit Court here, claims the youths were accused of "bumping in line" and then detained for four hours, refused food and drink and not allowed to contact their parents.

Spokesmen for Disney World said they could find no record of the incident, which allegedly occurred last April 22.

The suit seeks in excess of $5,000 in compensatory damages and $5,000 in punitive damages. It charges that the "minor plaintiffs suffered great mental and physical distress, have been damaged in their good names and reputation and have lost the value of the time and expense it took to journey to Disney World."

Attorney Roberta Fox filed the suit on behalf of Eugene Sands, 13; Donnie Sands, 14; Gary McDaniel, 14; Ricky McDaniel, 15; Everalld McDaniel, 16; and Michael Waugh, 14.

Disney World spokesman Frank Langley said Wednesday he could find no record of the incident.

Charles Ridgway, public relations manager for the $400 million recreation complex, said "I'm not familiar with the case. I don't think there will be any comment at this time."

Named as defendants in the suit are Walt Disney World Co. and Insurance Company of North America, Disney's insurance company.

A Plea From Zoo Residents

Unfortunately, there is no accurate number available of the total animals killed, injured or crippled for life because humans like this, but even if it were only one, it would be one too many.

We're sure you are all aware that there are people at the zoo whose fulltime job is to care and well-being. They clean our houses every day, feed us, talk to us and scratch our heads sometimes.

They treat us well when we're healthy, call the doctor when we're sick and worry about our welfare. They do their best to catch people who torment us, but most of our agitators go unnoticed.

Obviously, we are unable to defend ourselves. Our only defense is you, our owners. The zoo is yours and we belong to you. You are the only ones who can protect us from those who would do us harm or treat us disrespectfully. If you see someone throwing things at us, annoying us, climbing fences, or doing anything they shouldn't, ask them to stop. Remember, we belong to everybody and no one person has the right to jeopardize our well-being at the expense of others, who are trying to care for us and want us to survive.

The zoo is our home. You can help make us a safe, happy one. Please let me take this opportunity to commend you and the citizens of Longwood, Chief Ed Swartz and the Longwood Police Department.

So often the accomplishments of a Police Department are overlooked but I would like to bring to your attention the excellent cooperation that exists between the Longwood Police Department and the Seminole County Sheriff's Department. Just recently Chief Swartz apprehended a suspect that was charged with rape and also he and his department was instrumental in the arrest of several subjects involved in narcotics. Without this excellent cooperation and

Congressional Scramble On; Lou Frey Is Shoo-in

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Charges by critics that the 15-district congressional plan put to the test as 11 of the state's 12 incumbents face challenges for reelection.

Only Rep. Louis Frey, R-Winter Park, escaped opposition. A group of legislators, mostly Republicans, fought the districting scheme to the Florida Supreme Court. Their unsuccessful challenge was based on arguments the plan was politically unfair and designed to keep incumbents in office.

The redistricting plan passed by the Florida legislature created three new seats which no current officeholders are seeking — and a mad scramble is under way for these two years, with 22 candidates already filed for the next two years.

There will be general election dues between Democrats and Republicans in these three and other congressional districts Nov. 7. Only two seats will be decided in the primaries, the 1st and 2nd districts.

It could be a close race. Rogers has been reelected every two years since 1955, but a heavy Republican constituency could swing the race over to Gustafson who is popular in the district.

6th District: Most of Broward and incumbent Rep. Herbert Brown, Hollywood Republican, is considered fairly strong. He is being challenged by James T. Stephens, a Fort Lauderdale Democrat.

Two former Pilot Club members, now residing in Orlando, complimented a group of Pilots and former members who were active in the club when they lived in Sanford, with a dinner party at The House of Steak on Holiday Isle, July 20.

Hostesses were Miss Maude Ramsey, a charter member of the Sanford club and Mrs. Bernice Purcell.

The private dining room was decorated for the occasion with special lanterns aglow with colored lights. The group enjoyed a delicious dinner of broiled chicken, vegetables, baked potatoes, salad, hot rolls, tea, coffee and dessert.

During the evening there was plenty of reminiscing with everybody trying to get caught up on news for the past several years.

During her years in Sanford, Miss Ramsey held many major offices in the club. Mrs. Purcell also held various offices and served as president a short time before moving to Orlando. She has worked in the B.E. Purcell Co. stores in Sanford and Orlando, both of which were owned by her late husband.

Those enjoying the evening with the two hostesses were Misses Rosamond Chapman, Martha Raborn, Lida Stine, Neil Touchton, LuRene Ball, Olive Hunt, Carolyn Carter, Nancy Brock, Esther River, Felice Swanson, Lourine Messenger, Mary Ruth Rudd and the Misses Elsie Farley and Gussie Hinton.

Requests for women's news and photo coverage (parties, clubs, etc.) should be made at least a week in advance.

Freeing 'Aggressive Girl' From The Trap Of The Past

By Ernestine Guglielmo

NEW YORK—(NEA)—"I'm lying my mother is a more and my mother ain't no whore so I ain't lying," screams one girl into the principal's face.

"Take a walk until you've lost that temper," is the command from Dr. Esther Rothman.

Another girl comes rushing in about someone on another floor causing trouble in a class. "Tell her I have to come up and get her, I'll break her neck," is the not-so-mild reply.

The faded pink walls and the smell of dusty chalk are like any other school, but the girls let you know it's not just any school.

"They suddenly shuffe through the corridors, bodies tense, eyes hard. Or they burst screaming and cursing into Dr. Rothman's office. "Hey, Dr. Rothman, you make me sick. Who you think you are? You ain't my mother. You get on my nerves."

This is a special school. The Livingston Street School in lower Manhattan was set up as a "special emergency school for girls" 14 years ago. But that typically stiff phrasing of the Board of Education conveyed none of the emotion that goes with this school for "aggressive girls."

Dr. Rothman, who has been principal at Livingston for 13 years, has been learning how to handle the girls' anger. "We look at each girl and not at her behavior. The behavior may be unacceptable to both the girl herself and to society, but the girl never is," explains Dr. Rothman.

Esther Rothman, looking like a middle-class mother on her way to a bridge party, with a tailored black blazer and perfectly arched eyebrows, is principal, mediator, lawyer and substitute mother for many of her students.

While the board worried about walking in lines, lesson plans and nice language, Esther Rothman was putting all her energy into teaching these girls.

Within her first year at Livingston, Dr. Rothman discovered what was wrong with the school. They had taken girls who didn't fit into normal school and put them in a special setting where they tried to imitate the normal school with the same rules, the same curriculum. That only continued the girls' pattern of failure.

Her approach is built around the thought that "we are less normal, more portable people. With homes used more frequently for casual entertaining, furniture must be more than just a pretty face. It must be functional."

The future in casual furniture for dining or playing cards, for example, definitely is more architectural.

According to Robert Fujioka and Art Ellsworth, "Our

Freeing 'Aggressive Girl' From The Trap Of The Past

When the girls have shown their responsibility and desire to learn they are promoted into the Upper School where they work part of the day and go to school the rest of the day. "Money is a powerful motivator," says Dr. Rothman. "It helps build the girl's self-esteem."

During her 13 years at Livingston, Dr. Rothman collected scraps of paper with her successes, failures and hopes scribbled on them. She put them together in her book "The Angel Inside We Sear," in which she recounts some of the achievements as well as some of the devastating failures.

"The desperation of not being able to comfort a girl whose mother has just killed her father, the anger of not being able to keep a girl from prostitution, the defeat of not being able to stop a drug-addicted street society from slowly encompassing a girl — these are our agonies."

But for the graduates of Livingston — many of whom become typists, fashion models and even college students — Dr. Rothman has helped them see that their lives don't have to be failures, that they don't have to be trapped by their pasts.

Dr. Esther Rothman and her girls... "the beaters of teachers and firesetters and cursers and otherwise thoroughly ineffable and incorrigible girls who need to be made effable and corrigible."

Hideaway Furniture Is Space Saver

By ALLEN SNOODY

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Shrinking living space in most homes and apartments goes hand-in-hand with the swing to more home entertainment. And such a trend brings up the question of where to put the extra furniture necessary when guests appear on the scene. Fortunately, furniture designers are coming to the aid of the space squeeze.

For example, there now are tables that hang on the wall and look like artwork, chairs that fold in a sculptural form, inflatable stools and chairs, cushions and clamp-on lamps that can be moved from room to room.

The future in casual furniture for dining or playing cards, for example, definitely is more architectural.

According to Robert Fujioka and Art Ellsworth, "Our

Donna Rumbaugh, R.H. Maltby Jr. Exchange Vows In Double Ring Rites

Miss Donna Lou Rumbaugh and Raymond Howard Maltby, Jr. were united in Holy Matrimony, July 22, 1972, at Upala Presbyterian Church. Rev. Darwin A. Shea was officiating clergyman at the 7:30 p.m. candlelight, double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Rumbaugh, 3803 Country Club Road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Maltby, Sr., of Lake Mary.

Mrs. Darwin A. Shea, organist, presented nuptial selections, "Oh Perfect Love," "Because," "Theme From Love Story" and "Walk Hand in Hand With Me."

Accenting the altar were two seven-branched brass candelabra and two standing baskets arranged with orchid mums, baby's breath and white glads. Magnolia leaves and candles were featured on the altar rail.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride chose for her vows an original gown made by the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. A.L. Maltby.

The exquisite formal gown was created of imported snowflake Venice lace from Austria over silk organza and the bridal taffeta with a seeped neckline. Snowflake lace appliques lavishly embellished the sheer organza Juliet sleeves and hemline.

Her tiered veil of imported illusion, made by her mother, cascaded to a sweeping train which was secured to a lace Juliet headpiece. She carried a nosegay of white roses, pompons and baby's breath showered with satin streamers.

Debra Ann Moody attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of orchid crepe with matching Venice lace accents and a fly-away train. A headpiece of orchid daisies held her shoulder length veil and she carried a nosegay of orchid pompons and baby's breath.

The bridegroom's father served as best man and ushers were brothers of the bridegroom. Patrick C. Maltby and Mark Christopher Maltby, Acolytes were Jack E. Rumbaugh, brother of the bride, and Scott Baker, cousin of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rumbaugh wore a floor length aqua crepe gown highlighted with re-embroidered alenon lace accents and long bell sleeves. She wore a Cybilium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Maltby, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a formal length avocado green crepe gown complemented with a Cybilium orchid corsage.

Grandmothers were gownned as follows: Mrs. Annie Rumbaugh wore a floor length green floral print chiffon gown; Mrs. J.P. Thompson, a floor length pink chiffon gown; Mrs. A.L. Maltby, a floor length pink length gown; and Mrs. R.T. Clay, a blue and white silk print gown. All grandmothers wore Cybilium orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, the church fellowship hall was the reception site.

The tables all featured orchid skirts overlaid with lace cloths, silver candelabra and silver appointments.

The four-tiered wedding cake, made by the bride's mother and Mrs. Bruce Walcott, was decorated with white roses, lily of the valley and green leaves highlighted with a fountain of orchid water and topped with a cherry.

The punch table was centered with a wishing well surrounded with orchid pompons, daisies and baby's breath.

Pouring the punch were Mrs. Roy Rice and Mrs. T.R. Sheibenberg. Mrs. Julius Blackwelder cut and served the cake and Mrs. Gordon Heichold was in charge of the rice bags. Donna Landers registered the guests in the bride's book.

For her going away outfit, the bride selected a Navy and white double knit ensemble enhanced with matching accents and an orchid corsage.

Following a wedding trip to St. Augustine, the newly-weds are making their home in Lake Mary.

The bridegroom is employed by J.C. Greene Tire Contractors and the bride is a dispatcher with Sanford Police Department.

Out-of-town wedding guests came from Anniston, Ala., New Smyrna Beach, Titusville, St. Augustine, Pensacola, Ocoee, Gainesville and Hastings.

MISS LYNN SHARON KNERR

Mary Ann Courier Honored At Zodiac 'Love-In' Supper

By LIZ MATHIEUX

OVIEDO — Miss Mary Ann Courier, lovely August bride-elect of James Alford was honored at a "love-in supper," Zodiac style and a miscellaneous shower at the lovely home of Mrs. James Partin in Mead Manor.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. Milton Gore and Mrs. Leon Olliff.

The lovely Partin home experienced a complete metamorphosis when the appointed party rooms were transformed into a real swinging "hippie pad" complete with posters, Zodiac modules, pungent incense tapers, flashing strobe lights and jive background music.

As each guest arrived she was given a fluorescent horseshoe headband as a memento of the occasion which was immediately placed upon her head, thus completing the required hippie attire.

Prizes were given for the best costumes and were won, hands-down, by Mrs. Ben Ward Jr. and Mrs. Ben Wainwright.

As an added feature and joke, by a pre-arranged agreement, the local law enforcement appeared on the scene and promptly escorted the honoree to jail, but they just as promptly returned her so she could once again join the festivities and open the many beautiful and lovely gifts which were presented to her.

The hostess gift was a place setting of her chosen pattern of China.

The party fare, truly a chef's dilemma was as follows: Aries haymaker, Tarus tanzilizer, Gemini goulash, Cancer cut-ups, Leo lovers lane, Virgo excavator, Libra lamps, Scorpio sooper, Sagittarius supreme, Capricorn cooler, Aquarius appetite and Pisces paud.

Those invited to attend were the honoree's mother, Mrs. John Courier, her sister, Miss Martha Courier and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jim Courier.

Also Miss Kathy Staley, Mrs. Barry Bunch, Mrs. Bob Ward, Mrs. T.L. Lingo, Jr., Mrs. W.H.

Here's How Newlyweds, Study Mortgage Carefully

By VIVIAN BROWN, AP Newswriter

In planning their new life together, newlyweds should be vigilant in keeping debts to a minimum.

The first step may be to buy or rent a home that they can afford. Many are not doing that.

A large number of newly married people are seeking 80 per cent mortgages on expensive homes, commented one bank officer. He fears "the going will be a little rough" for those who are accepted. But they are turning down many young people for mortgages in the 80 to 90 per cent bracket, he says.

Couples signing up for 30-year mortgages on an expensive house may be taking a status step they cannot afford. And they aren't seriously considering their future, bank men say. While it is true the real estate market is still up, bankers felt it would peak long ago. Things could change at any time.

The reasoning by young people who have assumed the large financial burden of an expensive house has been shaky but has paid off for many, he says. Those who have bought houses in good locations have managed to sell them at substantial profit and move on to another house where the debt can be reduced by the profits. This is a great plan if you manage to make it work, but he considers it risky unless one has guarantees of bigger income in the future.

A 20-year mortgage is a far better risk. Just about the time the first child is ready to go to college, the mortgage is ready for burning, and the debt can be diverted. This has been especially fortuitous for the family with two or three children in college at the same time.

But a 10-year mortgage means a young couple might still be paying the mortgage when their children are ready to start college.

At 7 1/4 per cent, a $30,000 mortgage for 30 years means monthly payments of $204.66. The 25-year mortgage payment would be $216.80 and the 20-year mortgage payment would be $237.12.

Why then do young couples take a 30-year mortgage when the difference is only about $10 a week to pay it off 10 years sooner. For $5 a week more they could pay it off five years sooner.

It makes sense when you realize that those few dollars

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG

A do-it-yourself chore once requiring at least some measure of skill, painting a room in your house can now be accomplished in a fairly professional manner once you have recovered from put-it-off-itis.

Modern paints go on easier, hide better, last longer and are more washable. And the use of a roller in conjunction with a brush enables you to do the job in half the time.

You are most of the way to a good result if you will spend just a little extra time preparing the surface before applying the paint. This means freeing the wall of loose dirt, peeling paint, oil and grease. Loose paint should be scraped away, dirt taken off with a dry mop or a vacuum cleaner attachment, oil and grease removed with an odorless paint thinner or a detergent, and cracks and holes filled with spackling compound or some other type of patching plaster.

Where gloss or semi-gloss enamels have been used in kitchens and bathrooms, any remaining gloss should be dulled with sandpaper or with a special compound you can buy from your paint dealer. This is necessary because paint will not adhere well to slick surfaces.

Also before starting, remove switch plates and outlet covers, then when you paint the ex-

Home Canning Saved Meals

By HELEN M. PAGEL

The modern housewife would probably find it hard to imagine a world without frozen foods. But 50 years ago, nobody imagined a world with frozen foods.

Neither were fresh fruits and vegetables shipped all over the country the year around. People mostly had their own gardens and orchards, which meant that they ate fresh foods when they were in season and only when they were in season. During the rest of the year they ate canned foods, but very seldom were they bought at stores. Housewives mostly did their own canning, and they started early in the spring, probably with asparagus, and kept at it all summer as the different garden products ripened.

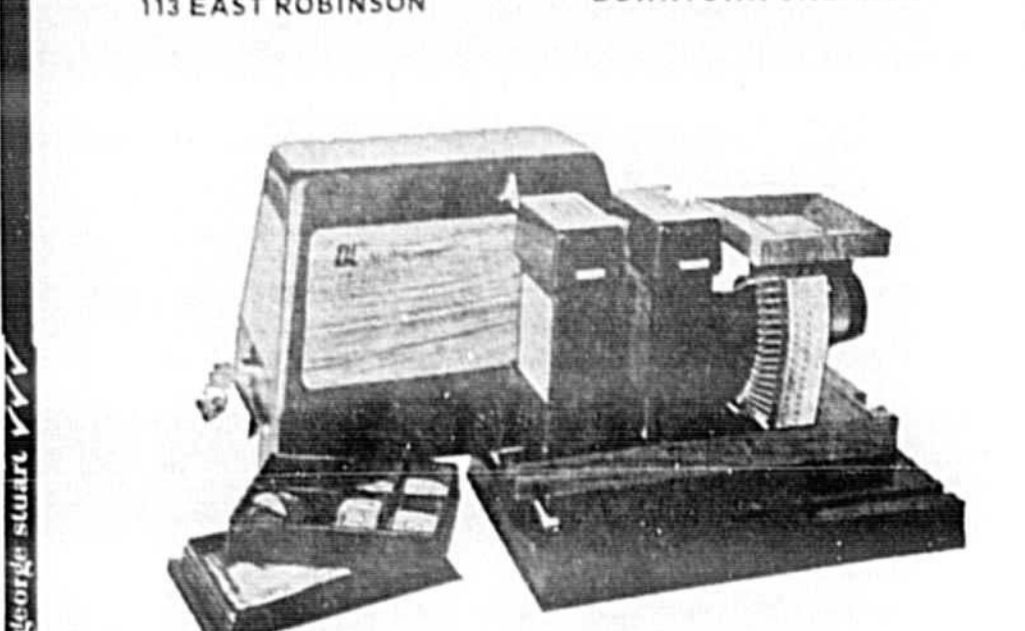

We don't feature a talking dog... BUT We do offer quick competent repair service at a fair price.

Here's the Answer

By ANDY LANG, AP Newswriter

Q - I have to install some wooden posts into the ground. I intend to buy a wood preservative for the bottom parts of the posts. While I planned to coat the posts with a brush, my friend says that it is better to spray on the preservative. Is he right?

A - Spraying would seem to be a little less practical than brushing in the case of just a few posts. But the best way to get the preservative deeply into the pores of the wood is to soak the posts thoroughly. This is done simply by pouring the preservative into a container large enough so that the posts can be placed upright in it. Depending on the size of the container, soak one post at a time or all at once.

Q - We are having our house painted by a professional. He tells us that the peeling of one of the outside walls is caused by moisture coming from the kitchen. How can we prevent this?

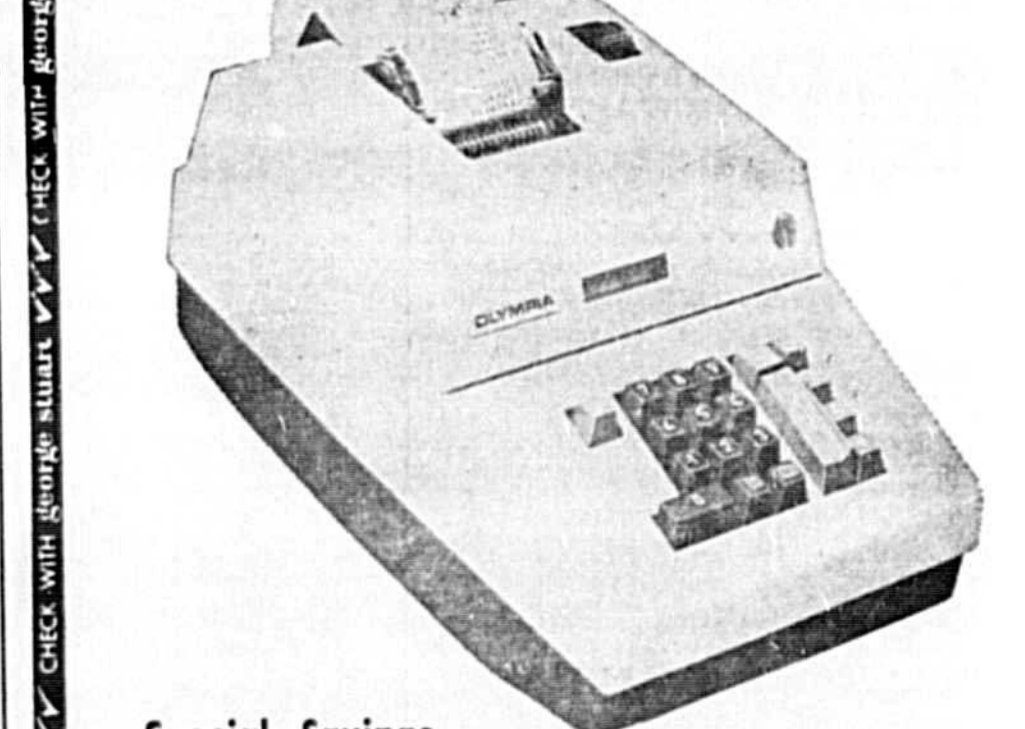

A - The use of an exhaust fan will help remove the moisture and at the same time prevent the walls of the kitchen itself from becoming covered with cooking grease.

Q - I intend to make wood window awnings from slats 2 inches wide. How long should the slats be?

A - It depends on how far down you want the awning to hang. In other words, how much of the window do you want to keep shaded? Generally, awnings of that type are about half the length of the window frame.

Mayor Halts Altamonte Building

BY KATHY NIBLACK
ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Mayor Lawrence Swofford called a halt to the issuance of building permits in west Altamonte Springs, and expects that within the next few days building permits won't be issued anywhere.

Mayor Swofford stated that his action was "not really a moratorium" but in any terms was a necessary since the utilities system in west Altamonte has no capacity for additional hook-ups, and the main system is running low.

The entire problem revolves around the disposal of effluent," Radcliffe said. He went on to say that federal and state officials are "reluctant" because they have some question about the amounts of nitrogen in the effluent, and are concerned that overly large amounts may seep into water which will be used for drinking.

MAJOR SWOFFORD

The problem seems to revolve around the West Altamonte utilities facility. Following a meeting Friday with representatives from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the Florida Pollution Control Agency and the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council, the city was advised that state and federal literale drivers, more easily than a word message. Because of the universality, symbols will aid all foreign-born drivers here as they have Americans driving in Europe.

An important change that will be seen as symbols replace words will be the use of the international red circle and slash as the symbol for "No Parking." Pavement markings have a service life of about a year. By the end of this year, the universal striping should be complete.

are set. "What we need to do is get these expansions under way," he said, but the hands of the city seem to be tied under the release of the funds is granted.

Until then, building permits will not be issued, because, according to Mayor Swofford, "I can't issue permits when I know the capacity isn't there. Sewer hook-ups who already have permits as soon as engineers come up with information about how much capacity exists on the main system. No more hook-ups are expected on the west system until expansion is carried out. City engineers are "putting the facts together" and will report back to the council as soon as possible. They will also maintain liaison with Tallahassee until the problem is resolved.

In further action at yesterday's council meeting, bids were opened on expansion of the west Altamonte system. The bids, which range around the $200,000 mark, were referred to city engineers for reports.

Forest City Fears Annex to Altamonte

BY AN RHILEY
FOREST CITY — "Do you know? You are now standing within two-tenths mile of the city of Altamonte Springs," reads a sign in the heart of unincorporated Forest City.

The sign also reminds residents that Altamonte's tax is five mills, that they can be annexed without the privilege of voting on annexation, and that Forest City Community Association can supply "The Facts."

State Rep. Eugene Mooney spoke Monday night at Forest Lake Academy group of about 40 persons interested in investigating possibility of incorporating the Forest City area. Representing West Lake Brantley Civic Association was Larry Brown; East Lake Brantley, Harry Stokes; Brantley Harbor, B. House; Bear Lake, Ted Nuncio; Forest City, Sharon Stall. Attorneys Roger Martin and Roy Tipton were present in an unofficial capacity.

Mooney advised the group on steps which should be taken if they wish to incorporate. A steering committee was formed as a result of the meeting.

Ernestine Forward of the Forest City Post Office substation, "I am very much in favor of incorporating to keep our own identity, to stay country living. I have lived over 25 years in the area. Forest City has a history and identity of its own. I know of no other way to protect ourselves than by incorporation."

Mr. C. Baker, a resident of Lanier Avenue, which is not far from property recently annexed by Altamonte, stated, "I want to preserve the Forest City area. I want to have a voice in both the building and development. We have a way of life in this I would like to see continued."

Sharon Stall, acting president of Forest City Community Association, told The Herald, "When one moves into Forest City they fall in love with it. It is like preserving a way of life and I want to help feel incorporation is the only way. Small town living is an American tradition. I like to be able to stop and people say 'hello' and to know people. This is the kind of living I want to keep for my family."

When asked his opinion on proposed incorporation area resident Harvey Coulter said, "I think I would protect the undeveloped parts of the area from annexation to Altamonte Springs. If we have control over zoning, incorporation would help preserve our identity. It would give us better control over licensing of alcoholic beverages or refusal of licensing."

Annexing Of Land Tedious Under Casselberry Laws

By KATHY NIBLACK
CASSELBERRY — The road to annexing land into this city for apartments is a long and tedious one, as several developers have found recently.

Two of these were before the City Council this week for "repeat" discussions, and indications are that they will be appearing again.

Developer Norman Rossman is becoming a familiar face at council meetings. This week he presented a petition for an annexation ordinance, which Rossman said would apply to him. Last night he came before the council with a revised annexation petition, and finally came up with authorization of an annexation petition, but there are still some questions unanswered.

Prime consideration at this point seems to be with drainage of the property, and with location of parking lots in Rossman's proposed apartment complex.

Rossman indicated to the city this week that he will dedicate an easement on the north side of his parcel for drainage, and will dig a ditch for "his. Rossman's plan is to fill in the small lake which exists on his parcel, and then to extend Oxford Road across SR 436 to tie into Sunset Drive.

City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh queried Rossman as to whether water created by this fill-in would be properly handled, saying, "Will the swamp (behind the property) handle water which will come from this lake being filled, or will it back up across Highway 17-92?"

Rossman assured the city that this had been studied, and that city engineer B.C. Conklin had approved the adequacy of drainage provisions.

It seemed at first that Rossman again would be blocked when city officials began speaking about parking requirements under the new ordinance. The new ordinance, which Rossman has not seen, calls for parking spaces to be located at least 25 feet from buildings in apartment complexes — Rossman's plan calls for parking 15-15 feet from buildings.

Rossman was indignant at the city's failure to provide him with the ordinance before, saying, "We've agreed with everything you've asked, and now you come in with a 'zinger' at the very end." He went on to say that he could not abide with the 25 foot setback required by the ordinance.

After discussion, it was decided that parking will be allowed against the brick masonry wall which buffer between these proposed sets and Carriage Hill. This will allow for the required setback. Council then voted to authorize the preparation and

Supreme Court Finds Against Boy On Rape

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Double jeopardy does not apply in the case of a 16-year-old Ormond Beach boy who was indicted for raping a woman at a juvenile on the same charge, the Florida Supreme Court said today.

In a 7-0 decision, the court affirmed a 1st District Court of Appeal ruling allowing the state to try the boy as an adult for the crime of rape.

The boy, Eugene Eugene Fain, Jr., 18, was charged with the Nov. 12, 1970 rape of a woman in his home, but was adjudicated delinquent in juvenile court and sentenced to a boy's training school.

Eleven days later, the Volusia County grand jury indicted Fain for rape. A circuit judge dismissed the charge with prejudice on grounds of double jeopardy.

The state then appealed to the 1st District Court, which overruled the circuit court. The appeals court said double jeopardy does not apply to juvenile court proceedings.

The Supreme Court, considering an appeal filed by lawyers for Fain, said "the excellent opinion of the district court correctly answers the questions involved."

Thank Goodness!! Computer Denies Credit

I finally got a letter from a computer I liked. It said: "Dear Mr. Horton: We regret that in view of the information furnished to us by the credit bureau identified below, we are unable to approve your credit application at this time. If you wish to discuss your credit record with the credit bureau, you should contact their Customer Relations Department."

"We hope that at such time as your credit record may permit us to take favorable action, you will file a new application. In the meantime, we invite you to share with our many cash customers in the values, quality and wide assortment of merchandise offered by..."

I couldn't have been happier if the letter from the computer had said, "You will not be allowed to shop in our store!" The letter is framed and hanging on my wall. It reminds me how much money some computer has saved me by rejecting me.

As my father used to say, "my credit must be OK; everybody has some of it." But for some reason some computer searched into my distant past and found something it didn't like. It tossed a blackball into my life.

I could write the computer and say, "How come you told so-and-so my credit was no good? I have a wallet full of credit cards and a dozen stores in town who think enough of my credit that they invite me to come in any time and spend all I want. Which, of course, is what I do."

Instead, I am planning to write a thank-you letter to the credit computer. "Thank you for rejecting me. You have saved me hundreds of dollars. Maybe more. Should any further credit applications bearing my name come your way, please take similar action. Gratefully yours..."

Sewage Treatment Is Proving Costly

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A 10-million gallon advanced sewage treatment plant would cost about $9 million to build, a federal official told the State Pollution Control Board at a public hearing today.

That cost would include both primary and secondary effluent treatment, said Joe Franzmathes, a representative of the Environmental Protection Agency.

For cities considering such an outlay in bonding, computed costs to residents could be $4.30 for advanced treatment and $2.50 per month to the average home for secondary treatment, he said.

The board is considering a proposed rule for advanced treatment which would amend the state code, and set forth minimum requirements for treating sanitary wastes.

The board, however, has not decided whether the rule should be administered statewide — which was the prime purpose for the hearing.

Franzmathes warned board members to consider long-range impact of one of the proposals providing for an alternate effluent proposal.

It's with a certain amount of trepidation that I open some of those personal letters, coming from you readers. Pro and Con, they're all interesting to say the least.

And before I share two of 'em with you, I ought again make mention of the "speedy" service being rendered by the Postal System.

The South Seminole Chamber of Commerce mailed on the 6th of this month, an advance of their upcoming meeting scheduled for the 13th.

Would you believe it arrived on Tuesday, July 24th?

It has long since been removed from being a laughing matter. A Congressional inquiry should be initiated.

The first letter comes from one who'd prefer to be identified as "perplexed reader."

"You will please explain in your column, how anyone can be charged with possession of marijuana paraphernalia while it can be purchased over the counter in a store in the Sanford area?"

Are not the store owners in possession of paraphernalia when they have it to sell? How in the name of heaven can the law read two ways? Is selling the paraphernalia not a crime? While possession by an individual is a crime?

"Do you have an answer? Or is this just another puzzlement of the laws? We do not need new laws, just enforce the ones we now have."

Well, I couldn't agree with you more, whether it be on drugs or guns, or any number of other areas of concern.

Another one which "gets to me" and probably makes me that much more certain that we should have capital punishment is those who are sentenced for life, as an example, may be paroled after serving eight years of the sentence.

Why not life and/or 99 years whenever is longer?

Anyhow, I didn't have an answer for you, so, I called Assistant State Attorney Bill Eaton for a legal explanation and this is how they can get around what you have described.

A pipe, as an example, only becomes "paraphernalia" when it goes to the crime lab and they prove it was used to smoke grass. Then and only then may it be categorized as paraphernalia.

Another which I'd consider a pleasure sharing with you is the following thoughts mailed to me by Eugene Fersilleger and entitled, A Father's Wish For His Son:

I have a son who's only 3 months old, and there are things I want for him, and things I want to teach him.

I would like my son to honor his father and mother, respect his elders, listen to his teachers, and not be embarrassed to pray.

I would like him to be fair to all men and yet retain the right to choose his friends and his neighbors. I would hope he is would choose from what is in

Rape Charge Nets 12 Years

Tommy J. Wilcox, 18, of Longwood, was given a 12-year sentence after entering a guilty plea before Circuit Judge Clarence Johnson Jr., to an assault with intent to commit rape charge.

Wilcox, a slim, anemic drifter weighing approximately 100 pounds, was arrested while hiding in a Maitland woman's home.

Barbara Pietrak, 48, Lake Kathryn Drive, called police after finding his bicycle in the bushes near her house.

After his arrest on burglary charges for being in the Pietrak house, investigation led authorities to charge him with two counts of rape of another woman but Thursday the state agreed to nolle prosequere one of the charges after Wilcox entered his guilty plea on the first.

Clad only in blue jeans and denim shirt, Wilcox admitted his guilt to the judge and admitted being in "trouble with the law" on previous occasions.

Judge Johnson told him, "You've been in trouble with the law for a long time" and added that "everyday had been judgment day as decisions had to be made."

"Up to now, the decisions you have made have not been too good," the judge advised.

With that he pronounced sentence and Wilcox was led away by sheriff's officers, leaving Gerald Rutburg, his attorney, and O. H. Eaton, prosecutor, staring at the creaky old courthouse floor.

In a second pleading, Eddie Booker Williams, 21, of Sanford, received a four-year probation after a guilty plea to breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony charge.

Couple Arrested On Dope Charge

County Det. Sgt. Ray Parker and Sgt. William Vinton Thursday night arrested a Longwood couple on three counts of possession of marijuana after an investigation disclosed a marijuana farm was being operated near the man's house.

Parker said Dennis W. Daugan, 21, of Sandhill Springs Road, and Sandra Lou Sartan, 19-year-old girl friend, some address, were jailed after between 5000 marijuana plants were discovered on Douglas Road, south of 434, near Daugan's home.

Daugan's bond was set at $5,000 for two counts of possession of marijuana and $2,500 for one possession of marijuana count.

Parker said Daugan admitted growing the "pot" because he liked to smoke it but did not want to buy "grass" grown by someone else because "you never know what's in it."

Parker said the accused liked "organic type" marijuana for himself, but did not sell it to others. The detective said the two pounds of marijuana was discovered inside the couple's house.

Jetliner Loses Tail Engine

LOS ANGELES AP—The tail engine of a Continental Airlines DC-10 that had just left Los Angeles, fell off Thursday, dropping nearly a ton of smoking hot metal on Hollywood and Beverly Hills. No one was hurt by the debris and the plane landed safely on its remaining two engines.

One 300-pound piece of the engine plunged into the front lawn of a Beverly Hills home and 40 to 50 pieces were scattered over a densely populated area about with a four-mile radius, police said.

Capt. Robert Glas, the pilot of the Chicago-bound jet, Flight 902 with 123 persons aboard, jettisoned the engine "to retain the plane off" from Los Angeles International Airport at 2 p.m. The engine began shedding parts about 10 minutes later.

No injuries were reported on the plane or on the ground and there were no reports of damage to structures on the ground.

One witness, Curtis Howard, a sheriff's deputy, said he looked up at the plane after he heard a sound like a sonic boom.

"Smoke and flames were coming from the rear of the plane," he said. "I saw a number of large pieces fall."

Chinese Confirm Lin Piao's Death

ALGERS AP—The Chinese Embassy today confirmed Lin Piao, once Chairman Mao Tse-tung's political heir, died last year in a plane crash, fleeing to the Soviet Union after an unsuccessful plot to assassinate Mao.

It was the first official explanation of Lin's disappearance from public view last year. It was contained in a statement made to the Algerian government newspaper El Moudjahid.

The Peking correspondent of a Canadian newspaper, the Toronto Globe and Mail, reported Thursday that Mao had told two Soviet foreign visitors—Prime Minister Srimavo Bandaranaike of Ceylon and Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann of France—of Lin's plot against him and his death.

The Chinese Embassy's statement said:

"Lin Piao died Sept. 13, 1971. The Lin Piao affair is a reflection of the battle between two lines which was taking place within the party for a long time. Lin Piao committed repeated errors and Chairman Mao Tse-tung fought many battles against him."

He indulged in anti-party activities and in a planned and premeditated way with a clearly determined program with the goal of usurping the leadership of the party, the government and the army. Chairman Mao Tse-tung unmasked his plot and aborted his maneuvers.

'Injection Of Economic Aid' Seen Rural Development Is Studied

By CARL C. CHAFF Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is a step away from passing a rural renewal bill offering America's ailing countryside communities an injection of economic aid.

Ending the tinkering over compromises reached by Senate-House conferees in a bill to get a bill passed this year, the House voted Thursday to accept proposals setting 52 disputes.

This intricate agreement, putting together a rural development program authorizing about $800 million a year in new grant funds and extensively expanding loan authority, was approved intact after the bill's supporters survived a major parliamentary challenge.

In the key test, rural-development advocates headed by Agriculture Committee Chairman W. H. Pogue, D-Tex., won 214-162 over a coalition guided by Government Operations Committee Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., and Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill.

Holifield objected to the bill's provisions empowering the Agriculture secretary to coordinate rural-development activities. He claimed that would encroach on the jurisdiction of his committee which has approved its own bill to reorganize government community-development programs.

Anderson joined in a call for a separate vote on disputed provisions of the compromise. Then, the House passed the bill by 339 to 36 and the measure was aimed to the Senate.

It was aimed at sparking economic growth of rural America and

Senate Hands Nixon A Victory

By JOHN FENDEL Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has handed the Nixon administration a victory by voting to speed development of the Trident submarine, the most expensive ship ever built.

Opponents objected to accelerating development of the cruiser-sized atomic-powered vessel and its 24 nuclear warhead missiles, but not to the concept itself.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., paraphrasing a former Pentagon official's "fly before you buy" policy, said, "We should own before we sink." A rash to construction could mean costly overruns, he said, but his amendment to cut some $50 million in Trident funding was defeated 47 to 39.

Debate on the Pentagon's $3.5-billion program will now be held today on several other amendments, including an increase in military retirement pay and a ban on military use of rainmaking and fire-storms in the Vietnam war zone.

Said Bentsen, "Surely the experience we have had in the recent past with huge cost overruns in defense contracts is enough to warn us to put the brakes on before responding to a full-speed-ahead order."

A Project Of SEEDCO Job Bank Now Open In County

By BILL SCOTT

A job bank is now operating in Seminole County.

Horace Orr, president of Seminole Employment and Economic Development Company (SEEDCO), announced today his office is now in the process of taking job orders from employers, setting up a referral and placement system to assist in meeting the employment needs of the unemployed and job seeker.

"SEEDCO is basically designed to promote and establish businesses and to generate jobs via these ventures. However, the establishment of a venture demands planning and preparation which does not allow us to become involved in providing more immediate and direct benefits to the people in the community," Orr said.

SEEDCO believes that one way of providing some of the benefits of a job bank, he added.

In determining the feasibility of such a project, SEEDCO also discovered job and training opportunities for Seminole County residents in the Orlando area, Orr said, and explained that SEEDCO made contact with several businesses and training programs in Orange and Seminole counties.

One contact put SEEDCO in touch with the recruitment and training program (RTP) in Orlando, which offers opportunities for minority participation in the building and construction trades through an apprenticeship program," Orr added.

He said the RTP offers opportunities in any of the following positions: Carpenters, electricians, glaziers, operating engineers, painters, plumbers.

Marion Woodard, RTP field representative, attended a SEEDCO session Thursday to inform community residents about opportunities offered by RTP.

For the large majority of the apprentices in the building and construction trades, a high school education, the ability to use your hands as well as your head and a good physical health are the only qualifications. Age requirements is between 17 and 19 years old, up to age 21.

As at SEEDCO see this coordination of efforts between the two agencies as an opportunity to be instrumental in job placement "requests," Orr stated.

Since SEEDCO is still in the initial stage of developing its job bank, employers wanting to place an order and applicants seeking employment are asked to contact SEEDCO at 1011 Sanford Avenue.

Solons Frown On Session

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. AP—Strong opposition from senators virtually assured today that the Legislature will not call itself into special session and pass a law allowing execution of criminals.

With 11 legislators responding, so far to a poll on whether there should be an immediate special session of the Legislature, 17 have said conditions warrant immediate action and 24 have said "no."

It takes a three-fifths vote of each house in the poll, being conducted by Secretary of State Richard Stone, before legislators can call themselves into session. That comes to 29 senators and 71 House members.

Six senators, all Republicans, have voted for the special session and 13 are opposed. Fourteen of the remaining 27 senators would have to call for the special session to meet the legal requirement of three-fifths.

Senate President Jerry Thomas (D-Jasper) wants an immediate special session and has attacked House Speaker Richard Pattagrew (D-Miami) for opposing it.

But Senate President-designate, Meloye Horne (D-Tallahassee) who will take over in November if Thomas is defeated, said the Senate is opposed to a special session at this time.

Since Horne will be stepping into the next Senate job session may be a major factor in the Senate vote.

The House vote was 11 for a special session and 9 against. A select House committee has scheduled Aug. 4 and 11 meetings in Tallahassee in a death penalty bill, in Aug. 1 hearing at Miami and in Aug. 11 hearing at Sanford State Prison.

Chairman Jeff Hunter (D-Miami) and vice chairman Gene Brown (D-Ft. Myers) issued a statement today saying, "We have concluded that an immediate special session would not be detrimental to the development of a sound state policy in regard to the death penalty."
