CROP REPORTS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 7.—(INS) Perfect weather prevailed in Florida during the week ending yesterday and it was generally favorable for farm work which made good progress, according to the weekly weather and crop bulletin issued today by A. J. Mitchell, meteorologist in charge of the local government weather bureau.

The complete bulletin follows: "There was a high percentage of sunshine, generally dry and warm weather, although the nights were cool. The week was practically without precipitation in all districts. The daily temperature departures ranged from 2 to 7 above the normal, and the rainfall deficiency was as much as 0.37 inch. The continued dry weather was generally favorable for farm work, which made good progress. The need of rain is urgent on most uplands, and the drought is acute over the greater portion of the southern division, where citrus and other fruits were unfavorably affected. The planting of corn and the setting of tobacco and sweet potato slips continued where soil moisture was sufficient.

Early corn and melons were cultivated; some corn is 'knee high' in the central division, and melon vines are 'trailing.' Oats are maturing in fair condition, although poor on uplands. Tomatoes are doing well in the central and northern divisions. Shipments of beans, peppers, squash, and other truck continued; tomato shipments were reduced from the southern division, owing to unfavorable markets. The harvesting of potatoes continued over portions of the central division, and digging became active in northern counties where, however, 'light' is damaging some late planted fields. Early planted peanuts are being worked; planting continued. The planting of cane made good progress in the cane district of the southern division. The dry weather seriously affected truck crops in some districts of Lee county.

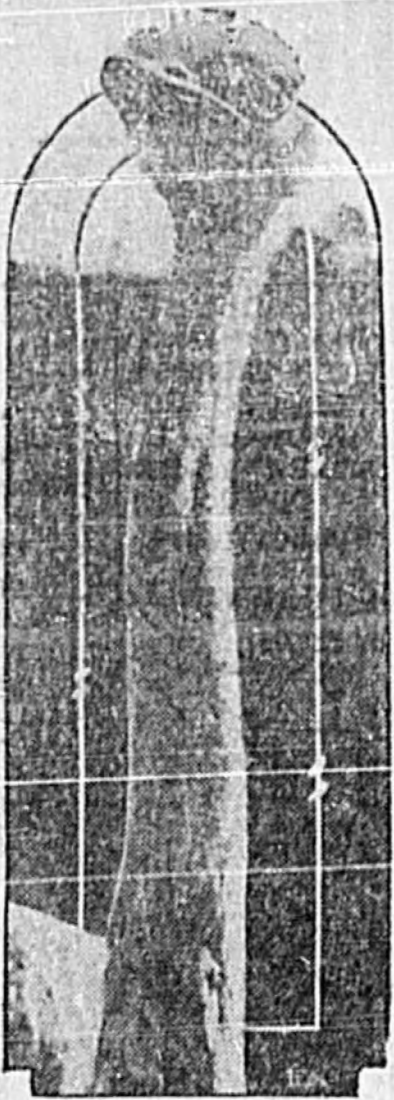

Citrus groves, including the satsuma of the west, are in good condition, as a whole; bloom is profuse in some groves. Rain is needed generally throughout the section—most urgent in the southern division and on the uplands of the peninsula.

Northern Division "Dry, warm, and sunshine were favorable for the working of corn, melons, peanuts, and groves. The planting of corn and peanuts continued. Berry shipments increased; tobacco setting continued in some districts.

Central Division "Citrus groves continued to do well, and there is much bloom. Groves were worked and fertilized generally. The shipping of beans, potatoes, and other truck continued; tomatoes are in good condition. Berry shipments decreased. Oats are maturing.

Western Division "The weather was mostly favorable, except rather dry on uplands. The planting of corn and peanuts continued; truck is in good condition. Satsuma groves are in bloom. Cotton was planted over much of the division. Potatoes will be ready to harvest at an early date; oats are fair to good.

Southern Division "The need of rain is pressing for fruits of all kinds. Large quantities of tomatoes are available for shipment, and beans and other truck went forward. Cane is doing well."

Countess De Janze Held For Homicide

PARIS, Apr. 7.—(INS)—The Countess de Janze, formerly Alice Silverthorn of Chicago, is willing to pay the penalty for having attempted to shoot Raymond de Trafford, son of an English baron, according to a statement made today by Rene Mettetal, counsel for the Countess.

"The Countess de Janze is the bravest client I ever had," said Mettetal, to the International News Service. "She is an American to her finger tips, taking the attitude of, 'I know what I have done and I am ready to pay.'"

"Even the thought of going to St. Lazare—perhaps the dreariest prison in France—doesn't break her morale."

Mettetal saw the Countess yesterday in the presence of examining Magistrate Baquart.

"Judge Baquart admitted to me that he found the Countess very brave and honest and with no fear of consequences," said Mettetal. "I assure you the Countess has suffered greatly and deserves sympathy."

Asked if he knew the attitude that de Trafford will take, Mettetal replied, "I am sure that he won't forget he is a gentleman. He knows as well as I do that the Countess has suffered."

Count de Janze may be a defense witness it was reported today. It is possible that he will testify that the Countess told him that she feared for her mind after de Trafford had said that he would not marry her even if the count divorced her.

"Vermont" Special To Make Long Trip As Good Will Stunt

BOSTON, April 7.—(INS)—From the Green Mountains of Vermont will soon leave the "Vermont Special," a crack train which will tour the country as far west as Louisville and St. Louis.

The purpose of the train is to carry into the other sections of the country products of Vermont; that the people of the parts may see at close range and in actuality instead of relying upon advertisements only.

Four baggage cars filled with exhibits will be attached to the train. Space in these exhibits has been allotted for showing agricultural and manufactured products.

A year ago the "Maple Sugar Special" went on a similar excursion and made a decided impression upon those who visited the train during the trip.

This year's itinerary, includes first-class cities, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Flint and Lansing, Mich., Madison and Milwaukee, Wis., Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., Davenport, Ia., Springfield and Peoria, Ill., St. Louis Indian-apolis and Louisville, Cincinnati, Dayton, Springfield, Columbus and Cleveland, Ohio and Albany.

Mexico To Admit American Wheat With No Charges

NOGALES, Ariz., Apr. 7.—(INS)—Quintin Rosas, collector of customs of Mexico at the port of Nogales, Sonora has received instructions from the Mexican Federal government authorizing him to allow the entrance of duty free wheat from the United States. According to Collector Rosas this instruction is sent to all seaport and border officials under the Mexican program of duty free wheat to the amount of two millions of bushels.

Each port is to keep a complete record of importations which are declared necessary, Mexico having lost much of its own crops by floods, adverse weather conditions and failure of farmers to plant.

It is reliably reported here that the west coast of Mexico is in bad shape so far as grains are concerned; the majority of the planters having turned from the wheat raising to the more lucrative and higher profits of tomatoes and early season vegetables and produce.

CELERY FEDS WIN EXHIBITION TILT BY LONG MARGIN

Free Hitting By Bailey, Wade, Frisbie, Crowe And Meyers Bring Easy Victory Against Visitors From Winter Park

With their eyes glued to the ball and with plenty of power in shoulders and arms, the Celery Feds yesterday bombarded their way to an easy victory over Winter Park, of the Orange County Circuit, by a score of 12 to 1. The game, otherwise dull, was featured by the clouting of Eddie Wade, Frank Bailey, Lee Crowe, Bill Meyers and Cecil Frisbie, all of whom had a big hand in sending the visitors back to the "City of Homes" on the sad end of a count.

In the sixth the sparkling gem of the day was delivered by Frank Bailey with Allen, Wadq and Bill Meyers on the sacks. Bailey caught a curve on the end of his bat and sent it screaming in the direction of Lake Monroe. He chased the others across the plate without extending himself.

Eddie Wade who had previously collected a double and a single, leaned on a fast one in the fifth and circled the bases before the center fielder and released the ball, after chasing it for several minutes.

In the seventh, Frisbie sacked one for three bases with Allen and Withrow on the sacks. It was good for a home run but Frisbie, who knocked so many triples last year, figured he would be violating the rules if he came on home.

Lee Crowe and his captain, young Bill Meyers also showed the way for their aspiring youngsters. Each had three hits marked up in the column that salaries are gauged on. It was good to see the whole gang coming through with a reputation of that 1926 attack spirit.

The chunking of Stout, Brown and Withrow was gladdening. Only one run was pushed over by the visitors and that was accountable to an error. The marker name while Brown was flinging them over. Cash customers were as scarce as were the guests.

Indian Affairs Committee Threatened With Death In Present Legislative Meet

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 8.—(INS)—The Indian Affairs Committee, one of the oldest and at one time most important committees of the house of representatives, is threatened with extinction at the 1927 session of the state legislature, according to the reports here.

The Indian Affairs Committee, which, with but one exception, had not held a meeting since the Seminole Indian Wars, and which was practically idle for half a century, will most likely not be appointed when the list of committees are made known Tuesday morning, it is intimated.

The honor of appointment to its membership in the past had been an empty one, according to E. L. Eaton, (Alachua County), one of its present members.

The last time that the famous committee functioned was when Representative Eaton introduced, during a period of legislative frivolity, a bill that every store selling tobacco and cigarettes place in front a "wooden Indian in keeping with the traditions of the State of Florida, at a cost of not less than $50." The bill, after being subjected to much burlesque on the part of various members of the legislature, was referred to the Indian Affairs Committee where it was duly "scalped."

While the Florida "Injun" was a source of much concern to legislators in the past, he has become virtually a nonentity and the Indian Affairs Committee's importance has gradually passed into oblivion.

Some of the members answered with blooms when the roll call was held. Mrs. Curlett announced that she has a few plants left from the plant sale and will be glad to dispose of them to the members. It was further decided that when free plants are distributed among the members that they are given only to members attending the meeting.

Through the courtesy of Ernest Landoberg, city park superintendent, shrubs from the city nurseries were distributed. Mrs. Markell announced that the June flower show will be an informal one.

Coast Guards Kill Two And Injure Third

MIAMI Fla., April 8.—(INS)—Coast guards killed two men and wounded a third in a clash with a rum boat today, the wounded man, Alexich told police this afternoon after a coast guard speed boat brought him to the city docks.

The guard boat sped away and had not reported an affray to the United States customs house here or the base at Fort Lauderdale, officials said.

According to Alexich's story, the rum boat captain died in a fusillade of coast guard bullets and a negro was drowned during the shooting. Alexich has been wounded in the neck and became delirious before he was able to tell the complete story at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

Announcement was made that the local organization may become affiliated with the Federation of Florida Garden Clubs as a result of a communication recently received from the executive board of that body. It was also pointed out that already the Sanford club has received state-wide recognition in the election of three of its members to state officers. Mrs. Galloway has been chosen state treasurer, Mrs. Markell, chairman of the publicity committee for the conservation of wild flowers.

Truth About World War Being Taught To Children?

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Are American school children being taught the truth about the World War? No, says Col. Thomas J. Dixon, Chaplain General of the War, who has examined more than 100 present day school books and has charged they are filled with inaccuracies and "official absurdities." In this second of a series of articles (see 1st page, Col. Dixon's account of further examples of lies in these histories.)

By Lieut. Col. THOMAS J. DIXON, Formerly of First Division, A. E. F. (Editor for International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Apr. 4.—Unless more than 100 of history textbooks used daily in thousands of American schools are corrected, American school children are going to take with a hedge-podge of inaccurate information about the first war American ever engaged in.

These histories are brimful of lies. I have examined more than 100 of them, and compared them with official military records. Their errors are amazing.

Yesterday I told of one history book which said that more than a million men fought in an action by three miles. There are articles such as this to be found in these histories.

For example, take Wertheimer's history of the American People. It says that the Boche of Chempy, over a hundred towns of Yagoups, on the heights of the Heights of the Boche.

It sounds all right. But try to find the map. You will find that these nine American divisions—more than 250,000 soldiers—came from the direction of the sea, saying to their right, pass through a small and unimportant wood, climbed over the top of a mountain, marched up a hill creek and stopped about the Liberty and Keystone divisions from New York and Pennsylvania began the action which ended in their capture of the Argonne Forest.

It is about as accurate as running a picture film backward. To continue more more situations of errors from these present day histories:

HAWKINS:—The fight at Belleau Wood was the first serious battle the Allies had encountered.

The First Battle of the Marne, Foch and Cantigny were long before Belleau Wood.

MASTER:—The first shot by a man in France was in October, 1917.

The date should be October 23, 1917.

STEPHENSON:—The Americans were sending over their men in sleds. We played our part in a majorly retreating defense. The Germans never had a chance to bury the dead of an American division.

YEN:—Fully 70 percent of the Americans engaged in the (Meuse-Argonne) campaign were either killed or wounded.

The official records give 10 percent as the figure.

HAWORTH & GARNER:—The enemy quailed before the counter-offensive of Foch on July 18.

The battle losses positively contradicted this.

MACE:—The Americans charged across the river (St. Mihiel) yelling like demons.

There is no river there.

Photos In Dark:—During the 47 days of the Meuse-Argonne battle there never was one day of clear American sunshine.

This is contradicted by excellent photographs made from airplanes.

KENEY & JOSEPH:—The Marines captured Belleau Wood.

Belleau Wood was taken by elements of the Second, Third and Yankee Divisions. Only two regiments of marines were included in these three divisions.

PITE:—Americans of the First and Second Divisions, marines as well as regular infantrymen, in company with chosen French divisions, in July turned the enemy back and saved Paris at Chateau-Thierry and Belleau Wood.

The First Division was never at Belleau Wood. The Second Division was never at Chateau-Thierry. Paris was not endangered in July.

TITLE BOUT MAY DAVIS DECLARES BE HELD BY TEX STATE LAWYERS' AT PHILADELPHIA PAY TOO SMALL

New York Promoter Insists That Minimum Gate Shall Be $1,400,000; Gotham Is Good For Only A Million

By DAVIS J. WALSH, International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 8.—Tex Rickard, the big stock and belt man, is insisting upon a minimum gate of $1,400,000 for his world's heavyweight championship fight this summer. It was reported today, holding the gunny sack when the under-pain of leaving New York time for the pay off comes. There has been some little conversation of late days about the Tumey shoe being dropped down in Philadelphia again and my information today was that this end of the transaction is just about as definite as a called third strike.

It is all a matter of elementary addition and subtraction and Rickard has a singular aversion to the latter except as applied to the customers. After sealing the prices of the Yankee Stadium five different ways with his ticket man, Mike Jacobs, it is said that subtraction is the inevitable penalty if he goes through with the fight at the fight park.

The best he could hope for at the stadium, it seems, is a maximum gate of $950,000 and a crowd of 80,000. The latter, no such, might be considered fair enough if Rickard could have the gate taken off the $2, and $1 customers but it seems that New York must have its cut price witness at these affairs and this fact is making it increasingly difficult for Rickard to have his profits.

As the polls were closing, it wasn't quite established in my mind which of these two projects were less important, since the cut price witness can stay away in droves to the detriment of no one and Rickard can always turn to Joe Galloghly if fight promotion fails toirk him.

In this case, however, he is under contract to Gene Tunney to deliver the bullion at the appointed hour and some gentlemen, very large and hose in their ways, have gone so far as to admit that Tunney has been guaranteed a sum aggregating $850,000. Still I have the law with me when I say that I disbelieve this with much caution; in fact, my understanding is that Tunney stood for $450,000 flat, and so the rest of all receipts over a million dollars which will be ample, sufficient and enough if the fight is held in the Philadelphia stadium.

There doesn't seem to be any doubt that this will be done, provided Philadelphia is willing; of course, Philadelphia might be unwilling and then it may be that sulfuric acid is being recommended as a gargle.

Anyhow, Rickard's last venture in Philadelphia grossed nearly two million dollars, of which the town itself took more than $100,000 to say nothing of the prestige involved, and if this isn't worth a return engagement, to all parties concerned, you might as well start wheeling up the padded cell.

Campaign Committee Work Delayed Until After The Ford Trial

DETROIT, April 8.—(INS)—All activities of the Reed campaign fund committee, under the new face of life given it by Vice-President Dawes, will be postponed until after the Ford-Sapiro trial ends.

Samuel James A. Reed (D) of Missouri, chairman, announced today.

Reed was highly pleased with Dawes' action in ruling the committee's power to investigate primary elections extended through the recess of congress.

"The matter, though, will have to rest until I get back to Washington," said Reed.

"Naturally, I think the ruling of Mr. Dawes is right. Every lawyer of standing, who has examined the question, held the committee had power to act during the recess."

MAST OF YACHT BRITANNIA TO BE SHORTENED

Racing Craft Will Undergo Alterations In Preparation For Big Race Events

SOUTHAMPTON, Apr. 8.—(INS)—Britannia, the King's racing yacht, is to have her mast cut by four feet.

This, says Major Philip Hulloke, the King's yachting adviser in chief is the result of a decision recently endorsed by the Yacht Racing Association.

The decision, which Hulloke thinks would be excellent in practice, especially for the big classes, was in the measurement of sail area.

The big classes of yachts have never been measured at all up to now, and this has not always been a good course.

This year they will have to be measured before they come out, and no alteration will be permitted afterwards without notice being given and sanction obtained.

Many yachtsmen think that the weight of masts hitherto has been ridiculous, because if there came on a big blow, many owners have not cared to start, the risk being too great, and if they did start it has been adds on several breaking down.

There was a nasty experience of the kind last summer when Shamrock carried her mast away. While Heather had a bad accident, while Britannia lay flat on the water for more than five minutes.

"There will be a new feature in yachting this summer," says Hulloke, "through the Prince of Wales giving a cup for competition by dinghies. It will mean a large development in this small class and at least fifty of these boats will compete at Cowes."

ARMS SMUGGLING BEARED WITH END OF EL PASO PACT

Mexican Press Worried Over Effect Of Abrogation Of Treaty By United States; Illegal Traffic May Result

BOGALES, Ariz., Apr. 8.—(INS)—The Mexican press here is devoting considerable space to the recent abrogation of the El Paso treaty, saying that in doing so Washington is opening the way for a "serious" effect on Mexican and Mexican.

The effect of the abrogation of the treaty, says the article, "is doubtful for it most certainly lifts the smuggling clause thereby mentioning it with possibility of arms smuggling."

The newspaper stresses the sentiment which they declare cannot be over estimated. "A lot up on the part of the American customs as regards the smuggling of arms and the smuggling of arms."

Just what effect will this have on Mexico should arms be permitted to pass by the United States? The article asks. It is the belief here that strict watch will be kept by the Mexican government as it will be necessary for Mexico to be self sustaining. There is considerable agitation felt here.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

IMPLICIT CONFIDENCE.—O love the Lord, all ye saints; for the Lord preserveth the faithful, Psalms 31:23.

PRAYER.—Lord God, with Job we would proclaim, "Though He slay me yet will I trust Him."

DO IT NOW

- If you've found a task worth doing, Do it now.
- In delay there's danger brewing, Do it now.
- Don't you be a by-and-by-er, And a sluggish patience-tryer; If there's aught you would acquire, Do it now.
- If you'd earn a prize worth owning, Do it now.
- Drop all waiting and postponing, Do it now.
- Say "I will" and then stick to it, Choose your purpose and pursue it; There's but one right way to do it, Do it now.
- All we have is just this minute, Do it now.
- Find your duty and begin it, Do it now.
- Surely you're not always going To be "a going-to-be," and knowing You must some time make a showing, Do it now.

It takes a showdown to give us the "low-down" on some things.

Sleep is all right in its place, but that doesn't happen to be on the job.

Speaking of appropriately named businesses, how about the Cackleberry Poultry Farm of Lake Mary?

If Bobby Jones plays par golf, that's not news, but let him shoot one or two strokes over and that's interesting.

Now that everything is quiet on the Chicago front we'll turn our attention once more to the Chinese fighting.

It seems that Uncle Sam did "tell it to the marines" and as a result they are now telling it to the Chinese.

Now that Frenchman are complaining about the high cost of wine over there maybe they can appreciate how things are over here.

Representative Housholder says he is in favor of the fish bill with certain modifications. Wonder what he means by that?

Dr. Wellington Koo has resigned as foreign minister of the Peking government. Perhaps because the troubled affairs of state were about to run him coo-coo.

Milwaukee students recently took the dry side of a debate on prohibition. Could you imagine Herrin citizens taking the lead in a peace movement?

In some Florida counties a movement is under way to have fish imported to restock lakes. Fortunately Seminole county hasn't reached this stage yet. All it needs to do is protect the fish that are here.

Earl Carroll failed to secure clemency from President Coolidge to escape serving his term of one year in Atlanta. He has been duly tried and convicted of violating a federal law and he should pay the penalty as did Ex-Congressman Langley, Former Governor McCray, Charles W. Morse and other notables.

French counties shot Raymond Vincent de Trafford, a member of a prominent English family, and later told the police when questioned as to her motive, "It is my secret." If she has any desire for it to be a secret at all, she had better keep it "My secret."

Our idea of two unpopular things is a fly around a bald-headed man and an Englishman in China.—Times-Union. How about a Umbrella in a bath room or the third party in an automobile parked by the side of the road.—Dunellon Truth. How about a Florida license in California for a quart anywhere near Will D. Upshaw?

He'd Make A Good One

Along comes members of the Lions Club with a proposal that should end with the election of a popular and capable attorney as head of the Chamber of Commerce.

For some time business men have been looking around to find a man who could take the presidency of this commercial body at a time when conditions are unsettled and successfully bring the organization through the period of depression with a record of achievement.

An unlimited opportunity for doing a great piece of work rests with the man who leads in Chamber of Commerce activities. A man who can develop a united working force, who has the necessary ability and personality and who holds the confidence and respect of the people of the community, should be able to render some really worthwhile service for Sanford.

In proposing Sam Dighton, we believe they have hit upon the right man for the place. He has good ideas and knows how to do things. A lawyer of prominence and recognized ability and a graduate both of the University of Michigan and the Yale Law School, Mr. Dighton has all of the qualifications necessary to make a successful Chamber of Commerce official. In addition to possessing a keen well-trained mind and considerable business acumen, Mr. Dighton has a fine presence and an able manner of speaking. The president of such an important civic institution as the Chamber of Commerce should not only have something to say but should know how to say it.

The Herald feels that Mr. Dighton "rings the bell" on all requirements.

As To The Police Force

We are indebted to the Orlando Sentinel for statistics relative to the proportion of policemen to population in various cities in the eastern half of the United States. While these figures apply only to the larger cities, they are at least interesting as a basis of comparison for Sanford. The following statistics were compiled by the Philadelphia Record:

At the present time Sanford's police force consists of sixteen men. According to figures in the office of the Chamber of Commerce, Sanford's population is now estimated at thirteen thousand, five hundred. This gives, for Sanford's protection, a ratio of one policeman to approximately every eight hundred and forty-three persons. In other words Sanford has a smaller police force in proportion to population than any of the cities listed above.

Based on our judgment upon these facts, we assume that Sanford either has a particularly efficient police force or is unusually free from crime. Certain it is that even with as few men as Chief Williams has at his command, there is very little lawlessness in this city. Probably the reason rests with both the police and the restraint of the citizenry.

It is also interesting to note in the statistics that Boston has more policemen in proportion to population than any other city listed and Cleveland has fewer. Yet both of these cities are equally free from crime and are more law-abiding than almost any other large city in the United States. Cleveland has few policemen because it has little crime, and Boston has little crime because it has many policemen. They go hand in hand.

THOSE WHO READ should not be left under the impression that Plant City truck farmers devote their entire attention to strawberry production. The article which told in the Courier of the berry movement mentioned the fact that other things were coming in, and said that good prices were being paid, at the railroad, for beans, potatoes, squash, cucumbers, cabbage and other good things. And it can be added, from information obtained through the agricultural department of the United States, that Florida truck and small fruits bring growers more money from smaller acreage than is found possible anywhere else in the country.—Florida Times-Union.

THE CHILD POPULATION of Florida having increased more rapidly than sources of school revenue, immediate relief is needed, whether it be permanent or temporary, pending development of a more effective system. An increase of total taxes is never pleasant, but this year especially any increase should be avoided. Taking the counties' one-fourth of the gasoline tax might mean one county would have to look to other sources, or one county would have to curtail its expenditures, but the present system of distribution needs changing, anyhow, and we can think of no better use this year than for the schools.—Tampa Tribune.

FRANKLY, BILLY SUNDAY seems to have lost much of his "punch." The sermons he delivered here lacked in the recognized Sunday originality and "pep." And it must be admitted that, no matter what may be the reason for it—and different persons will give diametrically opposite reasons for it—the Sunday style of meeting appears to have largely lost its appeal. This is by no means a criticism. It is a statement of fact, which calls to be made in order that it may be most carefully and prayerfully considered by those who are most interested in such things.—Tampa Times.

THE MURDER NEW YORK WORLD

It is a depressing tale that comes to light with the murder in Queens. The central figure is a woman who appears to have been helplessly mislead in the role that she had to live. She was born on the boulevards; cafes, music and dancing were in her blood. But she had to live in a place that offered no gratification to this side of her. It was a new colony, a "development" inhabited by people who had come to settle down with their families. She had nothing in common with them; in consequence she had no neighborhood life, no pleasant associates that might have brought her contentment. Her heart was elsewhere—with friends constituted like herself. And it takes no effort of the imagination to picture her disintegration under these circumstances. When she was younger her pleasures appear to have been innocent enough. But when she moved to this place she gradually went from bad to worse. Drinking, flirtations in restaurants, presently a lover, more drinking, nights spent away from home, finally the murder of her husband who did not share her tastes—there is a frenzy about all this that comes from real desperation. You know without being told that this woman, when she laughed, often shrieked; when she danced, she danced too fast; when she talked, there came a glitter in her eye that boded no good. Something had to crack, and it did. No criminologist is needed to explain this to us in terms of modern psychology. It explains itself. It serves as a reminder that the slum does not hold all the tragedy of life. To some natures the bleak vacuity of a shiny new bungalow can be a terrible toll.

Pigs to Greece

Volstead Act Question.

BRITAIN TELLS Sir Miles Lampson at Peking to ask punishment for those who killed Britons and cash reparations for damages. But no ultimatum is sent. Japan repeats that she will not send any army to China. President Coolidge also confirms himself to expostulation.

EVEN SO, China is now boycotting American goods. It doesn't take the seventh son to guess that China's dislike will be toward the United States, if possible.

FOUR HUNDRED MILLION Chinese have got to cool down; there's no use planning to shoot them down. You could not do it even if your conscience, directed by your pocketbook, would let you try.

A FAMOUS BOAR named Colonel Broadcaster and 14 other pedigreed American swine were sent to Greece yesterday. The mountains that look on Marathon will soon see finer pigs rooting along the beach than they ever saw before.

POETRY IS ABOVE PIGS, but pigs that America sends to Greece will be Greece's one good thing. The poetry that Byron wrote. Greece has won for herself the freedom that Byron wished her. She couldn't win without foreign help such a pedigreed pig as Broadcaster.

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE now have eleven thousand million dollars invested in foreign countries. That doesn't include ten thousand millions lent by the United States to foreign nations in the war—thus purchasing the hatred of those nations.

EUROPE OWES US, in all, twenty-one billions—a good deal of money, and some of it will never come back.

If you are tempted by usurious interest rates on European bonds, be careful at least to watch your investments closely.

SOON BEFORE MEMBERS of the solemn Roosevelt Club in Boston, Senator Borah and Dr. Butler of Columbia University will debate, "Should the Prohibition Amendment be Taken Out of the Constitution?" They might as well debate, "Should the moon be made of green cheese?" The eighteenth amendment will not be taken out of the constitution.

THE VOLSTEAD ACT, which interprets the Eighteenth Amendment, might be replaced by another act, interpreting it otherwise.

What, if anything, should be done to the Volstead act, to which many attribute our bootleggers, high jacks, high school whisky drinkers and crime waves?

That is a reasonable question.

SECRETARY HOOVER SAYS the railroads are now in fine condition, supplying "completely adequate service." He thinks this "vindicates private ownership."

It shows at least that private ownership is working well, as it well may when government guarantees railroad owners good earnings, including interest on their mistakes and much water.

Private ownership of railroads is going to stay as long as prosperity stays, everybody knows that. If things become very bad of course railroads would say to the government, "Please take us."

IT SHOULD NOT be overlooked, and Secretary Hoover knows it, that the United States postoffice also gives "completely adequate service," and is not under private ownership. Mr. Hoover couldn't imagine any private owner carrying a letter from the southern tip of Florida to the northern end of Alaska for two cents.

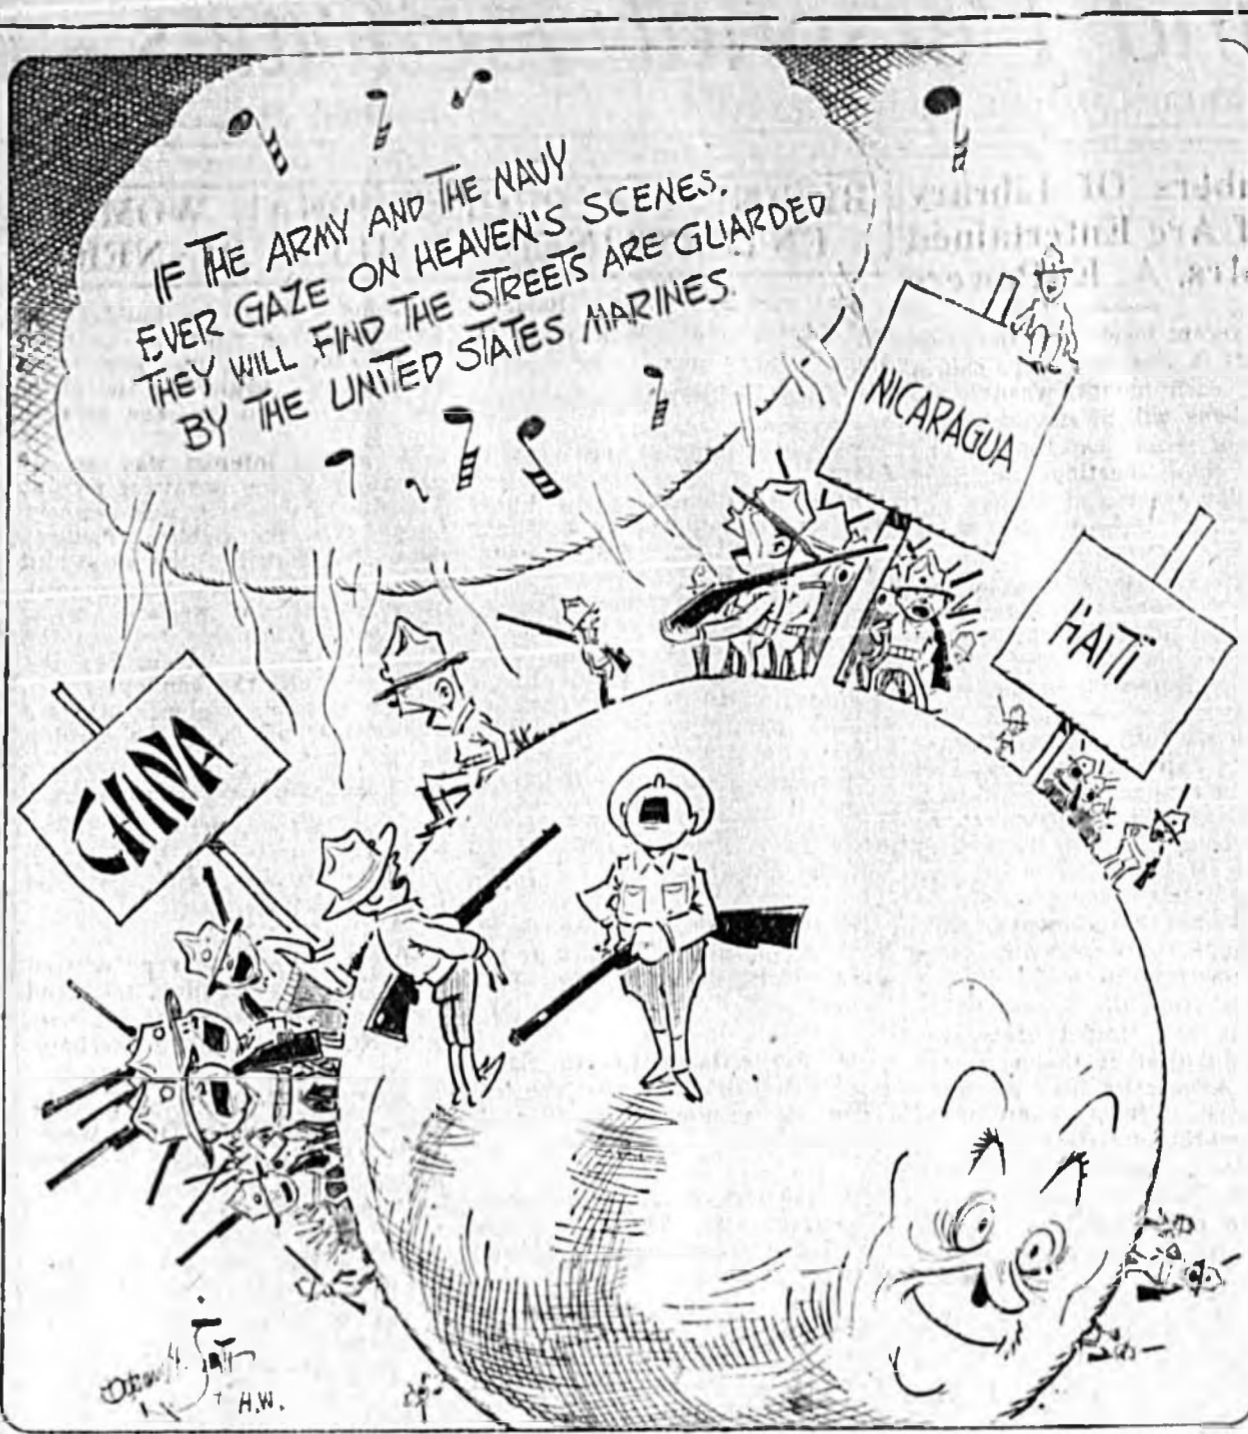

THIS COUNTRY ENTERED the World War officially ten years ago yesterday. And when we did go in, we went in with a splash, millions of men sent across the ocean, to countries that wouldn't have sent one man under similar conditions. Billions of dollars sent to the countries that wouldn't have sent us 25 cents under similar conditions.

We don't regret it, nothing is more valuable than experience, even if you don't make the world quite safe for democracy. But let's hope we will be cautious about going into future wars, and especially about paying nations as much as five billion dollars apiece to dislike us.

Tom Sims Says

GOING A-COURTING
Your blade of the gay nineties used to play court to his lady. Nowadays he pays the court costs and himself. . . . Alimony is derived from the pygmy, meaning "all the money" you can get. . . . A Michigan man was so jealous to let his wife go out for groceries, she charged. Every time she brought home a cucumber he saw green. . . . A Chicago man committed suicide because his wife wouldn't believe him. . . . No general mobilization of the marines to stop a national wave of this sort is expected at this writing. . . . The Chicago judge who has heard 22,000 divorces ought to conduct a column of boxing gossip for the Congressional Record. . . . In some parts of Africa a man has to kill five jaguars to marry two wives. . . . What's that for—practices?

Looks Like They Might Be Right, After All

CARROLL'S ALIBI TAMPA TIMES

Earl Carroll, theatrical manager and stager of the "bathub party" which nauseated pretty well all of the American people, facing a sentence of a year and a day in the federal penitentiary on a charge of perjury growing out of that event, proves that he is human after all by setting up an alibi for himself. He describes himself as "a creation of the tabloids," by which, he says, he has been made "the goat." His statement reads well, if you are interested in that sort of reading, but it is scarcely convincing.

The Times has no sort of sympathy for "yellow journalism." It abhors it. Even so, it cannot conceive of how any or all of the papers of that species either induced Carroll to the giving of that party with its display of womanly nakedness or so to swear, when the matter got into the courts, that he would be convicted of perjury. The process of reasoning that reveals such to be the case is entirely too difficult for us to follow.

Nor does his declaration that he was merely trying to shield his friends and to protect Joyce Hawley, the young woman involved, business appear. Had such been his motive he could have succeeded far better by never having pulled off his party. In that case they would all have been fully protected. Perhaps he didn't think of it in time. Perhaps, too, he didn't think that what he did would ever get out. This is the most likely.

FALSE ECONOMY GAINESVILLE SUN

Most outstanding in the fight to give the people of this state correct information on the tax question was the resolution recently passed by the Directors of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce in session at Orlando which asked the legislature to restore the state tax millage to the same figure as before the reduction two years ago.

To some, who have listened to the pleadings of politicians who desire to gain favor by appearing to greatly lower the taxes in Florida, this seems little short of foolhardiness, but to those who have studied taxes and know where the burden lies, it appears in the utmost.

The resolution was fostered and proposed by no less a personage than Colonel Peter O. Knight, who is undoubtedly the best known Floridian throughout the United States today. The people of this state have time and time again acknowledged their debt to this mental giant, who has done much, through speeches and articles in the North to create a faith in Florida, and to down the flood of adverse propaganda which developed during the boom, and which has lasted ever since.

Col. Knight says in this regard to his proposal: "We have, I believe, made a suggestion in the interests of real economy. The reduction in millage effected in 1926 was not made in response to any widespread public demand and it was not made because appropriations to essential institutions were excessive."

Every word of Col. Knight rings with truth which is more apparent when we investigate needs in the state. The directors of the State Chamber have pointed out that conditions have changed materially since the last reduction in the millage was made and that the amount of millage does not determine state necessities. In the opinion of Colonel Knight and his associates, we are told in a dispatch, the reduction in millage in 1926 not only opens the gate to measures providing new sources of taxation, but in view of the present necessities renders legislation of that type a practical necessity.

Herman A. Dana, president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, has the following to add in regard to the resolution: "It is far better to obtain the revenues of the state from present sources than it is to impose new taxes upon the working man and housewife."

In view of these most logical explanations of the move the arguments of Governor Martin and others against any increase in the state millage seem rather hollow. The governor has rested his upon "laurels" he gained by reduction in the first place. He is now calling for economy which in the last analysis is nothing more than false economy which will cost the people of Florida more in the long run. He has taken the state millage, which represents less than one tenth of the total taxes paid by the people of Florida on real estate, and has dramatically called for applause by reducing this by a small fraction. He now opposes any move to raise it a small fraction, giving as his reasons that the people in Florida are "in no mood to stand an increase in taxation" without attempting the impossible task of showing to the people that there is no dire need of such an insignificant raise.

Let us illustrate our point. The University of Florida, as we all know, needs something over $5,000,000 within the next two years to function as it should. The board of control set at the absolute minimum with which it could carry on properly is $3,600,000. The budget commission, of which Governor Martin is chairman, has cut this to about $2,200,000.

This they have not done because the University does not need it, but in order to prevent an increase in state millage at all costs. Is that economy? Suppose Governor Martin should advocate a further reduction in taxes which would cut into the money needed for the functioning of the central government in Tallahassee to such an extent that there would not be officers or clerks enough to handle the business of the people. Would that be economy? No, but it would be a reduction in taxes.

THINGS THAT GIVE A NEWSPAPER PERSONALITY

NEWSPAPERS have personality---just as your friends have---elusive, intangible, it is true, yet a personality that is real and vital.

When you read a copy of The Sanford Herald you see in its printed pages a personality that is as definite, as individual, as truly its own as your personality is your own. The personality of The Sanford Herald is the vivid yet substantial personality of Central Florida, the district it so truly represents.

The Herald is a newspaper, first and always. It tells all the news tersely, directly, interestingly, without bias or concealment or exaggeration. It tells the news of Sanford and Florida, it tells the news of the nation and all the world

The Herald can never be provincial---the interests of the people it serves are too broad, the scope of its news-gathering services too widespread.

The Herald has opinions, too---honest, fearless opinions which are offered to its readers AS OPINIONS and no more. Editorially, The Herald has aimed throughout its twenty years as a newspaper to offer sane, constructive comment and advice on matters of public import. It is proud of the causes it has advocated.

This personality of The Herald is not a fickle, transient thing. It is deeply rooted in the years and in the lives of the men who have made it a great newspaper.

In a city and state of homes, The Herald is a home paper. It is an old and respected family friend. It mirrors the interest of the family in the things that are worth while, in the things that endure.

Just as the news columns review the current history of the world, just as the editorial columns express opinions of broad perspective, the advertising columns are the market place of the Solid Central Section of Florida. Column after column, the products of mind and hand passin review in honest display of their merits. The Herald permits no lowering in tone of these columns because they are frankly commercial, they hew to the same strict moral line as all the rest, for BUSINESS is honorable.

The same standards of ethics hold in the advertising columns as in the other departments. Every item in the Herald, whether it is news, editorial or advertising, bears the same strict scrutiny. Every item may rightly and properly be admitted to your family circle.

All of these things have given The Herald a personality that is its own.

It is a trusted family friend. Its pages are given the same credence as a friend's word of honor. It is these things that have made The Herald the greatest newspaper in its field, and one of the really highly respected newspapers of Florida.

$1,000,000 Radiological Institute Cancer Study Center In St. Louis

By W. F. SULLIVAN International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, Apr. 8.—(INS)—St. Louis, or rather Washington University, will become one of the chief centers of the world in the study of cancer with the erection here of a Radiological Institute, for which purpose the school has just received a gift of $1,000,000.

One fourth of this amount is to be spent in the erection of an addition to the large medical groups of buildings which has made the city famous and the balance is to be used in equipment and endowment of the institute.

Best Equipped The structure will be the largest and best equipped radiological institute west of the Mississippi, according to Chancellor Herbert S. Hadley of the university. It will be placed at the disposal of the hospital staffs of the city for use in their research work and in curing for patients.

The importance of this enterprise to Washington University and to the southwest can hardly be estimated, Chancellor Hadley said. "Not only has the X-ray become one of the most effective agencies in modern scientific medicine and surgery, but the importance of radiology from a therapeutic standpoint is daily becoming more evident, particularly in the treatment of cancer and skin affection."

Other Gifts Announced The gift was made possible through the combined action of the General Education Board of New York, a branch of the Rockefeller Foundation for the Advance of Medical Research and members of the Mallinckrodt family, particularly Edward Mallinckrodt, wealthy chemical manufacturer and his son, Edward Jr.

The board also announced a gift of $50,000 to be given to Washington University for the use in development of the clinic in surgery of the chest. This latter gift is in recognition of the work of Doctors Everts A. Graham, head of the department of surgery at the university and J. J. Singer.

GREEN COVE SPRINGS—$230,000 to be expended in this city for street improvement work.
