

DEMOCRATS OF BOTH HOUSES PLAN FOR 1932

Leaders Hope To Put Through Legislation That Will Aid Present Business

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—The collective wisdom of Senate and House Democratic leaders will be marshaled in a series of conferences called to devise a strong legislative program for the coming Congress.

By a re-organized party policy, they hope to be able to force through both closely divided branches constructive legislation that will improve business conditions. In this way they hope, also, to indicate to the people what legislation they may expect if Democrats take over the government in next year's elections.

A Senate subcommittee headed by Robinson of Alabama, Democratic leader, and including Senators Walsh of Missouri and Harrison of Mississippi, will meet with a House Democratic group to formulate the program. Several other subcommittees will be selected by Robinson.

Representative Garner who is likely to be speaker, Representative Bailey of Illinois, another House leader, and Representative Duffie of Alabama, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, are probable members.

Pictures Taken Of Sanford Projects To Aid Advertising

Photographers are working on the new 17-acre municipal stadium field and the Eckhardt Fruit Canners, Inc. plant where they will take several photographs which will be used for publicity purposes in more than 80 papers in Florida during the next few days.

At the airport, the entire City Commission and members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce posed at various points. Later they made an inspection of a trip of the entire field. The airway has been arranged for business office, seat room, and observation platform.

At the building factory, nearly 100 persons, most of them school girls, wearing the Ekhamer green and white uniforms used during the process of preparing fruit, ranging from 10 to 15 years of age, were present with members of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Commission.

Sanford Delegation Attends P. T. A. Meet

Among those who attended a meeting of the Greater Parent Teachers Association in Geneva Friday night were Karl Lehmann, Secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, T. W. Layton, superintendent of Seminole County schools, J. C. Hill, of Geneva and Madeline Josephine Bettinetti who is visiting friends in that town.

Mrs. Paul Dasher, president of that body, called in order when it reported to have been one of the largest gatherings of that organization this year. After the business was transacted Mrs. Dasher introduced Madeline Bettinetti who, accompanied by Mrs. James Abbott Lyons, received several vocal choruses. Mrs. Sam Levy occupied the meeting with a talk.

Lowell Bayles Dies As Plane Crashes

DETROIT, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Lowell E. Bayles, Springfield, Mass., speed pilot, was killed at 1:00 P. M. today when his plane struck the ground and burst into flames while he was making another attempt to lower the world's land speed record.

Bayles, who earlier this week had attained a speed of 269.9 miles per hour in his third attempt on the record, was on the first lap of his fourth attempt. He was about 75 feet up going at terrific speed over a measured course at the Wayne county airport when suddenly his plane dipped, turned over three times, and rumbled into the ground.

KOO QUILTS POST AS MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Chinese Delegate To League Of Nations Also Resigns Post

NANKING, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Dr. Wellington Koo, who became foreign minister of China last week, and Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese delegate to the League of Nations, resigned today. President Chang Kai-Shek sent a telegram to Dr. Sze in Paris urging him to reconsider and assuring him the Chinese government is firmly behind him. The president also sent Dr. Koo and requested him to remain as foreign minister but it is believed Dr. Koo will make his resignation effective tomorrow. The resignations came within two hours of each other and greatly surprised the capital.

Mob Takes Negro From Hospital Bed And Lynches Him

BALTIMORE, Maryland, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—The lynching of Hugh Williams, 30, negro, who was taken from a hospital bed and hanged and his body cremated, stirred a storm of indignation today. Williams, who was killed last night by a mob of 2000, had just shot and killed his employer, Daniel Elliott.

After shooting Elliott in the latter's office, Williams turned the gun on himself but he was only wounded. Elliott's son rushed in, picked up the gun and fired another shot but the negro had still died.

Mob cry of "lynch Williams" sounded when it was learned Williams was still alive at the hospital. While doctors stood off the crowd at the front of the hospital, six men entered the side door, dragged the negro nearly unconscious from wounds, out and the mob took him to the court house where a rope was produced. The mob took the body from the sheriff, after he recovered it hanging from a tree, and burned it.

Garner and Rainey Named Candidates

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Without a ripple of disunion House Democrats today selected Garner of Texas, and Rainey of Illinois, their candidates for speaker and leader respectively. There was no opposition to either and the placing of the names of a southerner and northerner pleased a flood of praise by their friends. The election of Rainey as leader was assured several days ago by the withdrawal of O'Connor of New York and McDuffie of Alabama, along with other contenders.

Negro, On Chain Gang, Tries To End Life By Diving In Front Of Truck

With half of his term served and with only another 30-day period left to stay on the county chain gang, Rudolf Nymann, negro, yesterday afternoon threw himself in the path of an advancing truck in an attempt to end his life, officials of Sheriff J. P. McClelland's office said today. The negro was rushed to the Farquhar-Lightfoot Memorial Hospital to receive first aid treatment, but was only necessary for him to remain there for a short time.

Today Nymann is back on the chain gang, working on the road building project. He was taken to the hospital about 20 days ago for a hernia. At that time he was taken to the hospital at New York and he was taken to the hospital at New York and he was taken to the hospital at New York.

U. S. BONDS TO BE PROTECTED AVERS HITLER

Says American Bondholders Need Not Fear When He Takes Over German Rule

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Hitler, when he takes over German power, American bondholders need not fear for their holdings, he said yesterday, when he said that "France's thesis" on reparations is accepted by the world powers.

The militant leader of the National Socialist Party said: "If the world acknowledges that political debts take priority over commercial debts—in other words if France's thesis is accepted, then Germany is bound to be a large economic and there obviously will be nothing from which to meet commercial obligations."

"To pay two and a half billion marks reparations besides two and a half billion interest on debts would recalculate exporting fifty to sixty billion marks worth of goods. That would spell economic chaos, not only for Germany but likewise for foreign countries."

"Assessing commercial debts are given priority over political debts," the correspondent asked, "are you to assume that you favor payment of these commercial debts in the event of your seizing power?"

Driving home every syllable, he replied, "that is self evident. There is no doubt about it. But I do not doubt."

Florida League Of Cities Ends Two-Day Session

YESTERDAY GIVEN OVER TO DISCUSSION OF FINANCE AND TAXATION

NEW SMYRNA, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—The Florida League of Municipalities will hold its next semi-annual meeting at Hollywood, it was decided at the close of a two-day meeting here yesterday.

Two new vice-presidents were named yesterday to fill vacancies on the official roster. They are H. H. Hefner, Tallahassee, and J. H. E. F. Jacksonville.

Yesterday's session was given over principally to discussion of reports from standing committees, particularly to the report of the Finance, Taxation and Legislative committees which told of activities during the 1931 session of the legislature.

Submitting the latter named committee reports, City Attorney Mark Kilgus of West Palm Beach said:

"Although we cannot point to the passage of many pieces of constructive legislation due to our efforts at Tallahassee, we cannot, nevertheless, point to our successful efforts in preventing the passage of several pieces of iniquitous legislation."

J. Hardin Peterson, city manager of Lakeland, reported on municipal taxation and the Florida constitution, correlating the subjects.

Mayor Earl W. Brown of Orlando, chairman of the League's standing committee on advertising, devoted the time allotted to the program to a resume of plans for Florida's display at the 1933 exposition in Chicago.

Among the resolutions approved by the committee was one which objected to "statements derogatory to Florida," which appeared recently in a nationally circulated magazine. It asked the magazine to send a staff writer to the state to gather data which would paint a "true picture of Florida."

Another resolution would petition the legislature to pass a law whereby 100 percent of county road and bridge taxes collected within municipalities would be returned to the respective city governments, instead of 50 percent, as is now the law.

Judge R. B. Gastler, mayor of Miami, presented a resolution, which was adopted, calling on Congress to appropriate $9,000,000, or a sufficient amount to cover cost of extending the coastal highway from Homestead to Key West.

Right Of Smith To Sit On Commission Is Upheld By Court

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—The right of George Otis Smith, chairman of the power commission, to hold his office in the face of a Senate challenge was upheld today in the District of Columbia supreme court. The case was a test of the President's appointive power, the Senate with granting its approval of Smith's nomination after having approved it. Judge Gordon said that Smith could not be removed under the circumstances except by the President's order. The case will probably be appealed before a final ruling on the principles involved.

Freight Rate Row Reveals Another Step

Controversy Marked By Letters Passing Between Railroad, Chase And Company

Another chapter has been written in the controversy between railroads and shippers and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad over the increase of freight rates on celery, with the disclosure of three letters which have passed between Chase & Company and the Coast Line.

The opening letter in the latest file of controversial communications was addressed to C. Mell Davis, vice-president of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, with offices in Wilmington, N. C., was signed by W. C. Hutchinson, chief manager of Chase & Company, and was written in answer to a letter previously published in The Sanford Herald "attempting to justify increased rates on celery" by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Mr. Hutchinson first took up the "class" or "commodity" rate question declaring that the "class rate in per hundred pounds, actual weight, on celery, and other vegetables, made a lower charge than the per package commodity rate," then criticized the railroad because it "has not only dropped from its tariffs this right, but also with..."

Fred Dorner Wins Seminole County Corn Championship

Fred F. Dorner, prominent Celery Avenue grower, last night succeeded R. F. Cooper as the rank of corn champion of Seminole County and was awarded the corn championship cup together with the cash prize of $40 by Alex R. Johnson, Agricultural supervisor of the local high school, who acted as toastmaster at the corn championship supper held in the school cafeteria.

One hundred and 25 farmers and their wives were present to witness the presentation of the cash prize and two others, a Thurston, and 810 presented to R. F. Cooper who ranked second and third respectively.

Each year the corn contest is sponsored by the Seminole Agricultural Club and the Agricultural Society of Seminole High School to stimulate interest in the cultivation of corn both as a cover crop and as a stock feed, a report pointed out.

The judges were Roy Pippin and W. A. Pitts, of Sanford and Dr. J. E. Turlington, of the University of Florida at Gainesville.

The speakers of the evening were M. R. Ensign, of the experimental station at Gainesville, Clifford Hill, county agent of Lake County, Roy Pippin, R. F. Cooper, W. A. Laffer, Henry Thurston, Fred F. Dorner and Alex R. Johnson.

Members of the Future Farmers of Florida class assisted in serving the supper and in preparing the cafeteria for the supper.

Jacksonville's Fire Finally Extinguished

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Jacksonville's $500,000 waterfront fire officially was declared "out" at 6 o'clock last night.

At that hour Fire Chief H. R. McMillan called fire boats, fire trucks and firemen away from what was left of the huge warehouse of McGriffin & Co., general shipping agents, where a blaze started Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock, destroyed fertilizer materials and buildings valued at a half million dollars.

With this yesterday firemen battled desperately. The fire was under control Thursday night at 10 o'clock but was not entirely extinguished until yesterday.

Additional Letters Sent To Santa Claus By Way Of Sanford Herald

The little daughters of City Commissioner Clyde A. Byrd are among the Sanford children who are preparing for a visit from Santa Claus by promising him lots of love and a continuance of their good behavior.

The Christmas Editor of The Herald has this letter from little Mary Marie Byrd today:

"I am a little girl, 10 years old and would like to give you my Christmas list. I hope my little sister will see what she wants but all I want is a blanket for my doll and some dresses for her too, and shoes and all I want is for you to give me some nuts, apples, and peaches, because I cannot eat candy."

"I will have to say goodbye and will see you Christmas. Lots of love."

Here's a letter from little Betty Byrd which will be sent direct to Santa Claus by special airplane:

"I hope I am not greedy. I want a complete new and a BE good."

REX BELL DENIES THAT HE AND CLARA BOW WERE WED BUT OFFICIALS DON'T AGREE

LAS VEGAS, Nevada, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—A ceremony in which Rex Bell and Clara Bow, Hollywood stars, solemnly became the bride and groom, after entering the subject of conflicting reports today. Bell, who is recovering from a long illness, denied that he was married to Bow.

Harley Harrison, district attorney here, and William Schuyler, county clerk, declared they had signed the ceremony on paper. Bell, however, declined to sign the ceremony, claiming that they were married, said the ceremony was a wedding night ceremony in a picture contract.

Mrs. Bow is under the care of Dr. J. H. Schuyler, deputy county clerk, who also issued the marriage license. The license is in the name of Rex Bell and Clara Bow.

The act was given her age as 26. Bell only is 24. Immediately after the reported wedding, they left by automobile for Bell's ranch near Searchlight, about 40 miles from here.

The couple has lived on the ranch since they were married.

HOOPER PLANS HUGE FEDERAL FINANCE GROUP

Will Outline To Congress Scheme Stimulating War-Time Finance Corporation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—President Hoover plans to spread before Congress the outline of a huge federal finance organization, simulating in part the structure of the War Finance Corporation with its government backing of many millions.

Disclosure that the president has such a formula before him came yesterday from a high source. It is variously reported that it will be out in time by hopes to incorporate it in his annual message due next Tuesday.

Word that he was to work up a formula was regarded in some quarters as more of a confirmation than a surprise. Last Oct. 6, in announcing his $500,000,000 credit pool, he stated that such a step would be recommended if it could be considered a "necessity."

Meanwhile, a Senate subcommittee continues its hearings on the feasibility of establishing a national economic council. Testimony before it ranged from requests for congressional aid in the coal mining to statements that an upward trend properly led but a matter of months.

SENIATOR BORAH TELLS MARCHERS CONDUCT RAID ON IO BE PEACEABLE YBOR CITY 'REDS'

Says They Have Right To Seize $1,000 Hidden In Cigar Boxes, And Communist Paper

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Senator Borah, in a speech in the Senate today, told marchers to conduct a raid on Ybor City, Fla., to seize $1,000 hidden in cigar boxes and a Communist paper.

Borah, long a leader of the western Republicans, Independent League, issued a statement which was virtually a manual of conduct for the more than 1000 troopers expected here Sunday.

The delegation plans to march on the capital Monday—the opening day of the session. It demands for unemployment relief.

The Idaho senator issued a statement on the march after warning Herbert Benjamin, spokesman for the group, against attempting to lead the demonstrators to the Senate floor.

Benjamin had said a group would be made but Borah, after forming him the only way to gain admission to congressional floors was to get elected to the House or Senate, warned:

"If I were you I would leave the march out of my program."

Telling Benjamin that the demonstrators had a "perfect right" to come to the capital to petition the government, Borah said the demonstrators should be "treated with the seriousness of the economic situation and there will be a determined effort here in Washington to help those who are in distress."

From a Democratic senator also came the assertion that the groups marching toward the capital "have a right to come to Washington to make as any point."

BRITISH TARIFF CONFIRMED

LONDON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Heavy duties affecting numerous articles under the anti-dumping act, which were established recently by the board of trade, were confirmed by the House of Commons yesterday by a vote of 234 to 57. Most of the articles affected came from the United States and Germany.

2 DETROIT AVIATORS HAVE EXCITING AND NEAR FATAL FLIGHT

DETROIT, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Two Detroit aviators yesterday revealed a fact they had been keeping secret for 18 months. They had flown 100 feet above the city, believing the oil handling company would not find out.

George Murphy and Ralph Snow, transport pilot, said they both felt "sort of sheepish" about the flight, which occurred two years ago, and did not reveal it until yesterday.

The plane, a two seater, with dual controls, took off near Harper Beach with Murphy piloting. "It was a small flight," Snow said, "and George just missed a tree top in getting away. I was just a burn back and I reached over and gave my partner a joggle. I couldn't help it. I suppose George thought I was signaling that I wanted to handle the ship."

"Anyway, the plane shot up in a steep climb, almost stalled, fell off on one wing, lost altitude, fell on the other, then it climbed, and went into another dive. This kept up for 15 minutes, and we kept getting into and out of the clouds. We were just nicking the trees when I thought George was showing off for his friends below."

"Finally I had plenty, so I wrote a note and handed it to George, saying 'quit showing off and land before you kill us both.'"

"When George saw the note he realized (for the first time that I wasn't flying the ship, and he gave me the signal to take over the controls. We were both a scared and disgruntled that we flew right back to the hangar."

CURE OF RHEUMATISM BY SERUM IS CLAIMED

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Cure of rheumatism, also called arthritis, by injection of a serum prepared from the placenta of a child, is claimed possible last night by Dr. H. Warren Crowe, London, England.

Speaking before a group of physicians at a meeting of the American society for the study of arthritis, Dr. Crowe said he discovered the value of a vaccine in the treatment of rheumatism by applying it to his wife. He stated the cure was so rapid as to fall little short of being dramatic.

The vaccine treatment, he said, he believed could be used in general rheumatism, which is characterized by inflammation of the joints, and is caused by a virus, he said.

ENGINEERS ATTENDING GAINESVILLE SESSION

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Delegates representing every southern college having an electrical engineering department, attended the opening sessions yesterday of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at the University of Florida.

Presentation of reports occupied the major part of yesterday's program. Today several notable electrical research engineers will address the convention. One of the outstanding problems to be discussed at that session will be unemployment among members of the profession.

By PETER SCHAAL

Members of Coach S. A. B. Wilkin's record-establishing football team of 1922 are deserving of five of the 11 places on the first All-Time, All-Sanford football eleven ever selected, in the opinion of the Sports Editor of The Herald who today releases the two teams which to him represent the imagination, enthusiasm, courage, confidence, and all-around ability necessary to championship play.

Fated with selecting an all-around football team which, in the hands of S. A. B. Wilkin, Sanford All-Time coach, would set a record mark in competition with even modern day football eleven, Sanford teams as far back as 1914 were scrutinized, and their records studied. Nearly 175 players' names were selected as being of value, and more than 125 newspaper accounts of games played were read to refresh the mind of The Herald Sports Editor who saw his first football game, Nov. 7, 1914, when Sanford played a scoreless tie with St. Augustine.

The backfield of the first team combines speed with power, and above all imagination, which is 60 per cent of any team. Walter Bach, of the 1923 team, who is placed at the important quarterback post, is easily Sanford's most all-around player at that position, for he not only had an uncanny sense of football play and particularly the advantages of tough competition as a member of a championship New York state eleven, but he could run, pass, and kick with effortless ease.

Leonard McLucas, who was perhaps more sensational than was Bach, and later starred in prep school and college, is placed on the first team in the halfback position simply because he is the finest football player ever to wear a Sanford uniform. None was ever as cool, as spirited, as efficient, as sensational as he, and as a field general he stands along with Bach as an ideal. His extremely small stature prevented him from being the defensive player which Bach was, another reason for Bach's selection as quarterback. McLucas' greatest year was as field general for the Sanford eleven which nearly won state honors in 1922, losing only one game, and that to Miami after having played Palm Beach the previous day. McLucas was chosen All-State quarterback on the second eleven that year.

Jim Stoinoff, of the 1929-30 team, sets the other half-back post although he played a portion of one year at end. There has never been a player with the controlled speed and drive which was Stoinoff's outstanding characteristic. He knew when to do with the ball, and the memory of his five touchdowns will linger in the minds of Sanford football fans for years to come. Stoinoff is the finest defensive player able to control a game, and his ability to lead a team of players to victory is a credit to his coaching.

In selecting Walter Wickham of the 1914, 1915 teams as one of my guards, I believe that I have chosen possibly the best guard of the many who have worn Sanford uniforms. Football is a hard game, and almost every player of true strength and courage must be able to stand up to the blows and kicks of his opponents. Wickham was the backbone of the Sanford team of 1914, 1915, and his playing style was a credit to his coaching.

Problem Of Fixing Babe Ruth Salary Now In Spotlight

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Now that football is about over, the time apparently has come again for the nation to consider one of the most serious sports problems of the winter—Babe Ruth and his expired contract with the New York Yankees.

"Aw," said baseball's great man today, "that's no problem. I'll see Colonel Rappert some time in January and we'll talk it over. We never have had any real trouble reaching an agreement before. Why should we now?"

That is all the first hand information available on the subject, but it is enough to start conjectures as to whether the great hitter hasn't already seen the Yankees' owner and already talked of the past with its two year contract at $80,000 per annum as well as the future, at a decreased rate.

The Babe, as he gets older, prefers now now to get the intimate details of his business problems to himself. Hoping for only two more years of playing life to round out his career of seasons under the big top, he is looking far ahead into the managerial possibilities of the future.

Baseball and the possibility of argument over a new agreement with the Yankees were the farthest things from the Babe's mind yesterday as he bustled about his apartment, speaking into a microphone another moment, posing for pictures another, talking for movies, and in between times packing for a hunting expedition against the wild turkeys of North Carolina.

He said he weighed 223 pounds and expected to toughen his legs hunting turkeys, then tackle a few weeks of gym work before heading south in February.

of a team which lost nine of the 12 games played in two years. Not because of any fault of his own, but because of the brilliant ball-carrying was tempered with a thorough knowledge that success came only because his linesmen were performing as they should, offensively and defensively. I don't think any other Sanford full-back could fit into the McLucas, Bach, Stoinoff combination as well as Moye could.

Jim Stone and Lofton Edenfield are a player at that position. Ed's outstanding quality was his quick insight into his part of the play. His play was always an inspiration to his mates for his brilliant ball-carrying was tempered with a thorough knowledge that success came only because his linesmen were performing as they should, offensively and defensively. I don't think any other Sanford full-back could fit into the McLucas, Bach, Stoinoff combination as well as Moye could.

When it came to removing the opposing tackle from play, Jim performed as one possessed, proof of which is found in the fact that every long gain by a Sanford back during the two years he played, began on his side of the line. Jim was in love with football for the games' sake, and with McLucas, probably the only two players on the first eleven who played for the pure joy of the game consistently.

Edenfield, who starred on the 1927, '28, and '29 elevens at right end, has never had an equal for enthusiasm and fighting spirit although Stone topped him a trifle on the former. Edenfield was the type of end who was in every play. Even though he was dumped earlier in the play, you nearly always saw him bob up as the tackler who brought the ball-carrier low. His outstanding quality was the ability to take it game after game, to appear fresh and eager at the end of each of the hard games his team engaged in.

Gail McAlexander and Mutt Moye of the 1921, '22, and '23 teams are ideal tackles, in my opinion. I doubt if a Sanford team has ever had as outstanding a man in one position as McAlexander. Sheer courage and unlimited strength, combined with a brain keen to sense opponents' next moves, had McAlexander's head and shoulders above the tacklers in the state during the years he played here. Possessing large hands which swept opposition aside on every play, he stalked over gridiron after gridiron, leading Sanford to victory game after game by the inspiring play which he revealed in.

Mutt Moye played only one year as a Sanford tackle, but I put him on the first team because even as late as 1931, he is still one of the best two tacklers Sanford ever had. Powerful, understanding instantly what he was in the game for, hard-charging, and fearless against all sorts of opposition, Moye would gladden the heart of any coach, high school or college.

In selecting Walter Wickham of the 1914, 1915 teams as one of my guards, I believe that I have chosen possibly the best guard of the many who have worn Sanford uniforms. Football is a hard game, and almost every player of true strength and courage must be able to stand up to the blows and kicks of his opponents. Wickham was the backbone of the Sanford team of 1914, 1915, and his playing style was a credit to his coaching.

NEWSBOYS BEAT BRYAN'S IN TILT OF MANY ERRORS

Extreme Wildness Is Shown By Pitchers In 19 To 12 Contest

By E. H. CULLUM.

In a very listless game, marked by the extreme wildness of all the pitchers concerned, and innumerable errors on both sides, the Sanford Herald boys defeated Bryan's Sporting Goods Store team last night 19 to 12.

Raymond Shaw started the game for the Herald, and held Bryan's scoreless in the first inning, retiring the side on three strikeouts. In the second inning, Bryan's jumped on him for fair, putting over six runs. They added one in the third, and two in the fourth, fifth, and sixth, retiring the side, three up, three down. However, in the last inning he lost all control of the ball, walking four and allowing two hits, good for five runs, bringing Bryan's total up to 12.

A Johnson was in the box for three full innings and a part of the fourth. He also retired the side in the first inning without a run, although there were runners at second and third when the last out was made. In the second inning after Voss had struck out, Myrick drew a walk, but was forced at second by Herndon; Shaw safe on an error; Quantock walked, filling the bases; with the bases choked, two out, Kelly hit one to deep left center for a home run, bringing in Herndon, Shaw and Quantock ahead of him. Stemper, Eubanks and Knight walked in succession; Williams hit his left short who tried to get Stemper at home, but Otham dropped the ball. All safe; Voss and Myrick walked, forcing in Knight and Eubanks; Herndon popped out to end the agony. Johnson managed to get by the third inning without any runs off his delivery, but in the fourth it seemed like a repetition of the second; in this inning Eubanks and Knight again got on through free passes; Williams doubled scoring Eubanks and Knight; Voss and Myrick walked, again filling the bases; with none out, three balls and one strike on Herndon, Cook relieved Johnson in the box, and on the first pitched ball passed Herndon to first, forcing in Williams. He struck out Kelly; Shaw, but walked Quantock, forcing in Voss; Myrick out at home; Kelly struck out; result Herald four runs in this inning. They added three more in the fifth and four in the last inning, to bring their total up to 19.

Both teams seemed to have had an off night, neither team putting on the game they are capable of playing.

Tonight the Truck Growers and Company D will clash in what should prove a much more interesting game.

BANKER ARRESTED

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—William J. Ruff, vice president of the First Central Trust Company, of Akron, was arrested in his hotel room here yesterday on a federal warrant charging him with embezzling $80,000 of the bank's funds. Harry Williams, president of the bank, said the shortage would amount to $400,000.

Explanation Given For Falling Off In Grid Gate Receipts

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Cut-rate ticket prices, the "radio" economic conditions and a few long streaks combined as the main factors contributing to the decline of college football gate receipts for the 1931 season. Professional football also felt the financial blow in some places.

The vigilance with which most college authorities guard their figures makes a detailed study and comparison of the gate receipts impossible. Nevertheless a survey by The Associated Press is sufficient to indicate a probable drop of 15 per cent in total receipts as compared with 1930 and about 25 per cent as compared with the last "boom year," 1929.

The estimates of decreases run as high as 50 per cent. Georgia Tech admits a falling off of 40 per cent, Washington and Lee 18 per cent, Denver 23 per cent, Utah 15 per cent, Michigan 10 per cent.

Instances where increased attendance was reported for the season, such as at Tulane, Tennessee, Ohio State, Harvard, New York University and California at the gate, failed to show a corresponding gain in receipts, principally because ticket prices were reduced.

There were sharp indications in the East, as elsewhere, that the "old grade" displayed much less enthusiasm for returning to their Alma Mater for more than one big game.

From all reports, radio audiences were larger than ever. Recognizing this competition, many colleges refused to grant broadcasting privileges. Others limited the radio to games which they figured to be sellouts anyway.

FOOD PRICES DROP

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Bradstreet's weekly food index, after sinking to the record low of 32.07 last week, continued the decline this week to another all-time low of 32.04. It now stands one percent below a week ago, 1.9 percent below a month ago and 31.3 percent under the corresponding week last year.

GATORS IN GOOD PHYSICAL SHAPE FOR NEXT GAME

Next-To-Final Drill Is Staged In Preparation For Saturday

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 4.—With the Gator gridder in their best physical condition since the opening of the season, Coach Charley Beckman put his charges through the next-to-final drill of the year yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Kentucky game which will end the 1931 Florida campaign.

Defensive play was stressed as the varsity squad was coached against the Kentucky attack. Coach Nash Higgins drilled the Seabians in the Wildcat formations and while one varsity eleven used the Kentucky play in dummy scrimmage another varsity outfit would receive instructions as to how to stop these plays. There are numerous line drives in the Kentucky repertoire and several spinners were used very effectively yesterday afternoon against the defending Gators.

Much attention is being given to methods of stopping "Shipwreck" Kelly, the great Kentucky back. He is one of the most elusive ball carriers in the south and is the big gun in the Wildcat attack. If the Floridians can keep him bottled up Saturday afternoon their chances of winning the game will be greatly enhanced.

A prolonged signal drill completed the day's activities as the Gators brushed up on their offensive tactics. Three varsity elevens ran signals until darkness—sent them to the showers.

Bobby Treadgold, a converted quarterback, was running at right halfback again yesterday and with Johnny Fountain out of the game, Treadgold has a fine chance to start the Kentucky tilt. Shaw Buckley, sophomore quarterback who was lost to the squad in the North Carolina game when he suffered a broken ankle, was directing one of the varsity outfits yesterday afternoon and in all probability this stellar little field general will see a lot of action Saturday.

Jerry Litherland and Johnny Culler will also be available for the quarterback assignment. Al Rogers, Sam Davis, Palm Kelly, Bo McClellan and George Beck will bear the brunt of the half-backing duties while Jimmy Hughes and Link Silsby will share

ATLANTA, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Nisport B. Estes, general manager of Colonial Stages South, Inc., announced yesterday the formation of the Colonial Short Line Company, a combination holding and operating through the Middle West, East, North and South. He said the merger investments amounted to $2,500,000.

WILL GET SCRAMBLING AND WALKER BATTLE

State's L.A.S. Against Championship Bouts Offers No Obstacle

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(A.P.)—Dickering for a heavyweight title match between Max Baer and Mickey Walker came out into the open yesterday. Joe Jacobs, manager of the heavyweight title holder, delivered an ultimatum to Madison Square Garden and William P. Carter, head of that organization, indicated Miami would get the match.

Jacobs told Carter he had called Schmeling not to call today from Germany, and had not back until January an exhibition bout scheduled to start the middle of this month. The bout had been designed to carry Schmeling across the country and lead him to California in time for a few weeks of training if the match with Walker were arranged for Feb. 22 in Los Angeles.

Indications that the bout would take place in Florida came from Carter's own lips. He said he had a reply to Jacobs, and the Garden Wednesday received word from Boxing Commissioner William Mackay in Miami that "national and international championship matches" were barred in this state.

"It is true," a statement by Carter said, "that the boxing laws of Florida provide that no championship contest for a national or an international title can take place in this state."

"However, this is something along the line of the blue laws of Connecticut, which never have been enforced. Florida, so far as I know, never has enforced the boxing law."

It is extremely doubtful whether a match which would involve Schmeling and of the international importance would be prohibited. It is the opinion of Madison Square Garden that Florida would welcome the contest.

Jacobs, in announcing that he had called Schmeling not to call for New York today, because details of his next match had not been worked out, also declared that he had turned the Garden one of three propositions which he accepted in the near future, or he would accept another offer for a match in Los Angeles.

DOWN DOWN GOES UNIT COST as UP Goes Convenience

EVERYONE likes to see his dollar buy more and more. Thousands of Associated System customers are now enjoying this experience. And they are also enjoying the added comfort and convenience brought by new labor-saving gas appliances.

You can reduce your own gas rate—make your dollar buy more, by using more of the gas services you have always wanted. This is because the more gas you use the less the average cost. In most homes the use of gas is now sufficiently large so that additional service is available at $1.25 to $1.50 per M. C. U.

Customers who make full use of gas find that no satisfactory will do the same things any cheaper. It pays in dollars and comfort to make full use of gas service.

We will be glad to tell you how you can reduce your gas rate. Please feel free any time to come to any of our offices. Ask about the new optional gas services available. Sanford, it will place you under an obligation.

The West Palm Beach Settlement

Sanford citizens should be interested in what purports to be a final settlement of the bond difficulties of the city of West Palm Beach. It will be recalled that West Palm Beach, like Sanford, was among the first Florida cities to become involved in financial difficulties. It was among the first to default, among the first to rest its case with the courts, among the first to be ordered by the courts to pay. Mandamus proceedings compelled the Commissioners to levy taxes in the amount of over six millions, calling for a millage in excess of 200. A so-called "Blackwell Amendment" was designed by the city to enable property owners to pay part of their taxes for operating expenses, withhold the balance. But taxpayers hesitated to pay. Since the middle of November no city employees have received pay checks, as the treasury was empty.

Finally an agreement has been reached between leading business men and bondholders' representatives, and endorsed by the city commission. Under this plan no millage of 200 will be levied. Last year's millage of 27 will be reduced to 26, on an assessed valuation of $41,600,000. All outstanding indebtedness, amounting to approximately $18,000,000 will be refunded over a period of thirty-five years, with the interest rate during the first ten years cut in half. Interest for the remaining twenty-five years will be calculated at the present rate.

The effect of this plan will be to raise a fund during the current fiscal year of $1,081,600 on the basis of 100 percent collections of which $350,000 will be for operation, $480,000 for interest (at one half the present rate) and all additional tax collections for a sinking fund. Seventy six percent of the collections would be required to meet operating costs and interest payments. The first $350,000 collected this year will be used by the city for operation. Hereafter, incoming revenue will be divided equally between the city and the bondholders until operation has been provided for.

The advantages of the Palm Beach plan lie in the finality of the settlement. At no time during the next ten years can the amount of tax levy exceed $1,200,000. No principal will be due on the bonds for thirty-five years. The interest payments are cut in half during the next ten years and thereafter are restored to the present rate. All elements of uncertainty are removed. Citizens can pay their taxes with absolute assurance as to the amount of their taxes for next year, and for the next thirty-five years.

This, unfortunately, can not be said in the case of Sanford. At present we have a very satisfactory arrangement with our creditors, but there is a decided element of uncertainty as to what taxes may become in the future. For purposes of comparison it may be interesting to recall that our present millage is 80 on a valuation of a little more than ten millions. Our present arrangement with our creditors provides for a millage of 13.27 for operation; 16.72 for debt service. Our creditors are now receiving approximately $136,000 a year. Were we to pay them as much as one-half the interest on our present indebtedness of approximately $7,500,000, we would have to raise $225,000, or $39,000 more than we are now paying. This would entail an increase of debt service millage to 28 1-3 mills, making an increase in total millage of from 30 to 41.61.

Such a millage, of course, Sanford could not pay. It is our opinion that the city could not levy any additional millage without a corresponding decrease in tax collections. However, such a plan as has been worked out in West Palm Beach might be applied successfully to Sanford providing the interest payments could be reduced to one-third or one-fourth the present rate, not to be increased for a period of fifteen years.

Meeting The Test

The other day a friend of ours bought a new automobile and dropped by the office to give us a ride. "I am going to try this car out," he said. And he did. He didn't just take the car around the corner to see if it would run. He put it through every test he could think of to find out just what the car was capable of doing. In about a half hour, he had satisfied himself that the car was all right, and we had to agree that it had met with wonderful precision every test to which he had put it.

As we were driving around the thought occurred to us that it would be a fine thing for human beings, to test themselves out as that car was being tested, and we couldn't help but wonder how many of us are quite content to jog along through life taking things easily and doing just as little work as we can and still make some sort of a living. We seldom put ourselves to any very severe test to see just what our utmost capacity is. So long as we have three "squares" a day and a roof, we are contented. "Contentment", once declared John Pilgrim, "often ceases to be a virtue. We grow older in this strange new world of which we know so little. We have a very little idea most of the time of the things we are capable of doing or of the powers that may lie sleeping within us. Many of us are capable of doing much more than the ordinary every day things we are doing, yet the only way to discover what we can do is to try ourselves out, to take on big jobs, to find hills to climb, mines to dig, and stars to gaze upon."

How much like that automobile test is the human test which Dr. Pilgrim suggests. If we test ourselves climbing hills, we will strengthen our muscles so that when the opportunity comes along in the form of a big job, we are not afraid to try it, and no matter how steep the ladder may be we are ready for the climb.

If you are a ten second man, try a little harder. A fifth of a second may win a very important race some day.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Both houses of the Sixty-second Congress convened at noon yesterday. Practically every member of each House was in his seat. The galleries were crowded and hundreds of people were unable to gain admission. The expected speech of Representative Littleton of New York, regarding the steel trust question was the sensation of the evening featuring the opening day of Congress.

The recent report of the Commissioner of Pensions brings out the startling fact within thirteen years of the close of the war with Germany and eleven after the settlement of the Philippines Insurrection there are no less than 1,000,000 pensioners on the rolls of the United States Government. It is estimated that the total cost of these pensions will amount to $1,000,000,000 in the next ten years.

THE EMPTY STOCKING FUND

Most youngsters believe that there is a benevolent old saint somewhere, far to the north who locks up his toy factory on Christmas eve and travels around the world with a bottomless sack of toys. Children's eyes hold a little of the glory of the Bethlehem star-shine as they hang up their stockings on the magic night. Maybe they are hungry, cold, too, perhaps. And disappointed. But Santa Claus won't fail them, they tell themselves.

They remember that he has stood on the corner and asked them exactly what they wanted. He has pocketed their letters. They saw him do it. Secure in their dreams, they go to sleep.

But a great many children are going to have lumps in their throats when they waken on Christmas morning unless we get busy. They are going to be hurt and baffled when they find limp stockings where they had expected them to be so plump and gay and merry. They are going to bury their heads in the blankets to crush the sob while they wonder why they were forgotten.

And ever after the tinsel gleam will mean nothing. A world in which Santa Claus will take all of

UNOFFICIAL MIAMI HERALD

"Jimmie" Walker, most generally known as the mayor of New York, has gone to California for the purpose of securing the release of Mooney, whose case involving the discharge of a bomb on a certain Friday night, in San Francisco, was carefully followed by the world that his journey to the Golden state is entirely unofficial, that he goes merely as a private citizen.

Nevertheless, at points along the route Jimmie has been received officially by mayors of different cities, including San Francisco itself. It is planned also that when he goes to interview the governor in Sacramento he will be received with all official honors including the firing of 15 or 20 or 31 guns, whatever is according to visiting governors.

These ceremonies seem to take the cloak off unofficial receptions and mark the attention being paid to the mayor as highly official.

Taking that view The San Francisco Chronicle says that Mayor Walker is a mediator and that his talk about securing justice for Mooney is merely hallyho, for which the mayor of New York is somewhat famous.

The Chronicle says that it is only by the fact that Walker is mayor of New York that he can be of any value to the Mooney defense and that paper remarks that if he really wants to secure justice he would well remain at home and clear up his own government. "In his own government," The Chronicle says.

TERMITES

The insects with a $40,000,000 Appetite
More than forty million dollars in damage to homes and buildings is caused by termites each year. They are the most destructive and difficult to exterminate of all pests known to the property owner today. They are invisible and difficult to detect. They usually succeed in hiding their work so all present, those intimately acquainted with their habits will rarely suspect a case.

The Termites Co. of Orlando, licensed by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, has a special method of exterminating termites. The results are permanent and the cost is very low.
