What The Young Men Are Wearing

What was that flash of brilliance that just passed my line of vision? I'll have to investigate this—oh, it was a shirt! You mean the kind boys wear? That they put on their backs? Why, that was a something yellow—maybe it was to complete the tropical picture I saw the other day on a boy's shirt front—no, it was a something of a grilly beach—all it lacked was the mid-day sun—WAA! I'm not sponsored, this is the greatest against classic masculine attire! For you know there must be some reason for the drastic change in men's clothes in the last two years—changing a precedent of the 50 years previous. Maybe after noticing nature's treatment of the birds our males just decided they weren't following the intended order of things by being the more beautiful sex and wanted to rival the birds for their bright plumage.

The trend seems to be toward much informality and attention-getting colors and combinations, and styles that stamp themselves indelibly on the mind of the passer-by. Who would ever forget a shirt of bold blue and red plaid or one with huge orange flowers splashed all over it? There are, too, deep winereads, solid browns, navy, royal blue, grass greens, and all sorts of figures and prints. I might mention by-the-way, that a royal or brown shirt is very attractive with a white suit but not especially so when used in some of the combinations seen. Even their trousers have been affected by this influence—One has no way of knowing if they are just ten minutes away from bed. Here, as in ties, gaudy

Magazine Princess Glee Club Comedy Is In Rehearsal

"Magazine Princess," a musical comedy to be presented by the Glee Club on March 10, is now in intensive rehearsal. Chorus parts are being polished and dance routines completed. The spoken lines are, of course, secondary to the music, and are included only to create a continuous plot.

One of the dances will be a moonlight waltz for the "Sweet Marie" number. The chorus is to be sung and a lovely dance ensemble will carry out the theme in pastel organy frocks.

Members of this number are Doris McCall, Helen Tamm, Mary Wathen, Doris Newsome, Gladys Pippin and Evelyn Dale.

In vivid contrast is the pirate dance staged by the bold-brave "pirates of the briny deep." Complete with skull and crossbones these parts are acted by Harry Hall, John Hall, Billy Coursey, Leon Barwick, Billy Wathen, and Thomas Burnett. The Gypsy Queen is Gladys Ferguson, and her troupe are dancers and are Mary Wiggins, Helen Tamm, Muriel Knox and Mary Ellen Lester. A special number is to be danced by Nell Stewart and Gilda Chapman.

The Comic Parts are ably filled by L. M. Telford, Orien Farrell, Buck Ferguson, and Edwin Priggen as the Royal Policemen. Mike Sans, as the bear, is excellent. Be sure to see this production—it will be worth while.

The Rise Of Silas Lapham Is Seen As Best Play Of Year

Almost everyone agreed that "The Rise of Silas Lapham," the most recent of the Federal Theatre Plays, was one of the best that has been presented. The play was given Tuesday afternoon in the Seminole High School Auditorium. All the school children and parents were urged to attend as this performance was to decide whether or not these plays were to be continued. A large number was present, and judging from the applause, the play was well received by the audience.

"The Rise of Silas Lapham" is the story of the "racket" during the latter nineteenth century between the newly rich and the old aristocratic families. It takes the family of Silas Lapham, who has recently become rich from manufacturing paint, and shows their struggles as they try to "crash" society in Boston.

Both daughters of Silas are in love with Tom Cory, a boy who works in their father's office and who belongs to one of the most aristocratic families in Boston. However, Tom loves Fern, the elder and asks her to marry him in spite of the opposition of his family.

Silas' new $100,000 home burns to the ground and then through a series of bad investments in the stock market, he loses his money and has to close his paint factory.

In the end Silas starts at the bottom and begins to climb up again, finding himself happier than ever in the process.

Pageant Of America Sponsored By P. T. A.

On Saturday at 8:00 P. M. in the auditorium of Seminole High School the finance committee of the Parent Teachers Association will sponsor "The Pageant of America."

The pageant will be presented by Robert Thomas Newcomb. The famous paintings of American history by the American artist J. L. Ferris, now displayed in a gallery in Philadelphia, are acknowledged to be the finest works of their kind ever made. Now for the first time permission has been given to reproduce these works of art for projection purposes, and a set of lantern slides in the brilliant colors of the original has been prepared.

Beginning with that moment when Columbus' eyes first beheld the shores of the New World, these pictures carry on the story of the life of our nation through the periods of exploration, settlement, the Revolution, and the war between the states.

A wholly unique feature of this entertainment is the introduction of orchestral music as a dramatic and emotional background.

Appeal Made To U. S. Labor By Roosevelt

CIO And A. F. Of L. Are Asked By President To Bury Differences At Once

Both Lewis And Green Written

Letters Suggest Naming Of Committee To Effect Labor Peace

MIAMI, Feb. 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt in letters to heads of the country's rival labor organizations today said that labor "faces a challenge in finding itself divided into opposing camps" and called upon them to name a committee to negotiate peace.

In letters to John L. Lewis, chairman of the Congress of Industrial Organization, and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, identical except for the final paragraphs, he declared that the American people "sincerely hope that a constructive negotiated peace with honor may come about between the A. F. of L. and the CIO with early months of the new year."

"The Secretary of Labor," he added in letters made public at the temporary White House here, "tells me that after careful investigation and prolonged conversations with respective leaders in both groups, there appear to be no insurmountable obstacles to peace and that in fact there is a real and honorable desire for unification in the labor movement among all parties concerned."

The President was still at sea aboard the cruiser Houston when his letters, making a dramatic plea for labor peace, were given out by acting Secretary William H. Henshaw.

In asking the CIO A. F. of L. to logheads nearly three years "over the organization by industry and by craft to appoint a committee to negotiate the 'terms of peace,'" Mr. Roosevelt based his request on four grounds:

- 1—Because it is right.
2—Because responsible officers in both groups seem to be heady and capable of making a negotiated peace.
3—Because "your membership ardently desires peace and unity."
4—Because the government of the United States and the people of America "believe it to be a wise and almost necessary step for further development of co-operation between free men in a Democratic society."

Hopkins Offers Co-Operation To Business In U. S.

Commerce Head Says Private Capital To Be Encouraged

DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 25 (AP)—The New Deal has shifted its emphasis from reform to recovery. Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins said last night in his first address since he became a cabinet officer.

"The administration now is determined to promote that recovery with all the vigor at its command," he said.

Hopkins told the Des Moines Economic Club, non-partisan group of business and professional men, that there should be no general rise in Federal taxes this year and that any Federal taxes that tend to freeze the flow of capital should be amended.

The new commerce secretary offered business the co-operation of government, praised the profit system and said that the administration desires to create an environment in which private capital will be encouraged to invest.

He denied that the government desires to own or operate all utilities in the country.

"The utilities question," he said, "is reaching a solution."

To small business, Hopkins especially offered a helping hand.

"One of my principal interests of the government are particularly directed toward aiding small business."

The negro may be sentenced by Judge Millard B. Smith when he visits his chambers here next Friday to hear motions in respect to the case.

Green was indicted by the Grand Jury last week on a charge of murder on information prepared by Assistant State Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle, who prosecuted the case after pleas of abatement, charging that the Grand Jury had been improperly drawn.

A sentence of 20 years is the minimum provided for conviction of second degree murder.

Mayo To Seek Dissolution Of Canner's Order

Supreme Court Held Likely To Get 1st Test Of 1935 Law For Final Ruling

Application for dissolution of the restraining order granted C. H. Eckerson, president of Eckerson Fruit Canners here, will be sought by Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo within the next few days, according to information received today from the citrus inspection bureau in Winter Haven.

The Federal canning company sued by Eckerson, was granted a temporary injunction by Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith Thursday enjoined Mayo from interfering with the operation of the plant for alleged violation of the growers' contract guarantee law which was invoked by the Florida Citrus Commission on Jan. 16.

No date has been set for a hearing before Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith, but it is expected that it will be held as quickly as possible.

This will be the first test for the 1935 statute, described in the growers' contract guarantee law and it was thought that Mayo will send his attorney, William E. Pierce of Tampa, to ask Attorney General George C. Gannett for the assignment of an assistant to file the motion for dissolution.

It was said here that the company in applying for the restraining order, had contended that the growers' contract guarantee law was unconstitutional as a price fixing law, but the law is not pointed to the law fixing prices for farmers, dry cleaners, laundries and other industries, which have been upheld by the Supreme Court.

It was held certain that several less of the county court circuit Court ruling on the motion, the case will go to the Supreme Court for a final ruling on the constitutionality of the law.

Over Three Thousand In Corsica Prepare To Return To Italy

France Reveals Plans In Spain

Formal Recognition Will Be Given Franco On Next Monday

Italy's territorial aspirations at French expense east a new shadow over Europe's peace today as thousands of Italians began an exodus from France in what many quarters viewed as a direct slap at the French.

The Italians' return to their homeland is said to be part of Benito Mussolini's plan to repatriate Italians abroad. Police sources said 2,000 were leaving continental France and 1,000 were leaving Corsica, a French island department which has figured in the Fascist clamor for French possessions.

An Italian embassy spokesman in Paris said this was "only a beginning" and foreign cables in Rome expressed a belief it was another step toward Italian ill-will toward France. It coincided with signs of moment peace in Spain.

Both France and Britain are making urgent efforts to end the Spanish civil war and clear a way for formal recognition next week of Generalissimo Francisco Franco, ruler of Spain's last remnant. France already has declared her intention to give formal recognition and the Netherlands is said to have given a similar encouraging reply.

The leader of the Hungarian "Black Cross" is still sought. Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, arrived in Warsaw on a visit to Col. Joseph Beck, Polish foreign minister, which foreign observers said was to obtain Polish support "for Polish national interests."

At the same time, both Reich leaders Hitler and German Propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels of anti-Nazi opposition in Germany and their attacks on "Germanophiles" abroad caused fears in some Berlin quarters of further Nazi repressive measures.

A few moments' still tension, Hitler declared on the 19th anniversary of the Nazi party's program formation, but they are dying out.

VERSE FOR TODAY

LOVE SHAPES OUR DESTINY: Take good heed therefore unto yourselves, that ye love the Lord your God.—Josh. 23: 11

No grass has grown in the streets during the Democratic Administration. They've been too busy making hay out of it while the sun shone.

Not everyone can drive expertly but everyone can drive carelessly and that should be enough to avoid accidents.

Former President Hoover, recalling the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse—war, famine, pestilence, and death—adds a fifth, the horseman of intolerant ideology. With former President Hoover leading President Roosevelt in opposition to intolerance, there would seem to be small room in this country for Nazi persecution.

Among those being mentioned for governor in 1940 by A. W. Morrison in "Doc's Latest Dope" are Pat Whitaker, Fred L. Touche, Cas Chappell, Mark Wilson, Lewis Carlton, B. F. Pate, W. G. Hodges, Raleigh Pettey, Nathan Maye, Jerry Carter, Harold Cole, Turner Butler, Stuart Gillis, Lex Green, J. T. Alton, Charles F. Coe, and Russell Kay of Tampa.

Recent testimony before the Senate Military Affairs Committee would seem to indicate that the Fascist powers either already have, or are planning, air bases on the continent of South America from which to conduct bombing raids on the United States. If that be the case, Florida will be in a most advantageous position to meet the first shot at them as they fly over.

Dr. Harold G. Moulton, president of Brookings Institution, says payment of $200 a month old age pensions amounting to between $20,000,000 and $44,000,000 a year as "insurance." One may well wonder if it is any more visionary than the creation of a 40 or 50 billion dollar reserve fund out of which pensions are supposed to be paid at some remote date in the future but which is already being used to build battleships and make work for the unemployed.

It is hard to tell how many of these reports from across the water are true. Eighty Italians and four Frenchmen are said to have been killed in a pitched battle which took place somewhere on the Tunisia-Lybian border a few days ago, but both the French and Italian governments deny to the press that any battle ever occurred. A Turkish tanker is reported to have been torpedoed by a mysterious submarine, but ships which went to the assistance failed to find any sign of it when they arrived. The authorities deliberately trying to minimize actual occurrences?

It is currently reported that rumors are being circulated in the State of Florida concerning the State Government's plan to violate the State Constitution and to issue bonds for the purpose of financing a dam on the St. Johns River. The dam is not completed, but as the massive pile of concrete rises higher and higher the lake behind it grows. Eventually the water level will be 150 feet long and one to six miles wide, a total of 99,000 acres.

Founders Week At Rollins

These are busy days at Rollins College where Founders Week is being celebrated as the fifty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the college. A packed and jammed calendar of events for the week will reach an exultant conclusion in a packed and jammed campus Sunday afternoon where the Twelfth Volume of the Animated Magazine, more brilliant and spectacular than ever, will be edited.

With Edwin O. Grover as publisher and Hamilton Holt as editor, this magazine will come from the press with as impressive a list of contributors as any Atlantic Monthly or even Dr. Holt's old Independent, ever contained. Arthur Haynes Sulzberger, publisher of the New York Times; Dr. Charles Seymour, president of Yale University; Mary Margaret McBride, brilliant radio star; all tops in their line; not to mention the inimitable Fred Stone; Louise Homer, Metropolitan opera star; and Sanford's own Elvira Garner; will all do their stuff.

We in Sanford have much in common with Rollins College. Not only do many of our boys and girls attend Rollins, not only are many of our best citizens alumni of Rollins, but this institution of higher learning, Florida's first, also got its start right here in our own city, when a small group of intellectual and far-sighted people met in the old Lyman Bank Building and organized it exactly fifty-four years ago.

And so we congratulate Rollins on its long record of brilliant achievement and pledge for it the whole-hearted goodwill of its neighboring community.

Justice Served

Regardless of what may be the judgment of the public as a whole toward the punishment of Franklin Pierce McCall, those who have children will certainly breathe a sigh of relief that the law was allowed to take its course and that this one kidnaper, at least, is out of the way.

There may be some room for argument that it is not good law to send a man to his death without a trial by jury, there may be some truth in the statement that confessions of guilt are sometimes exacted from defendants through cruel and inhuman treatment, but there is no question whatever in the mind of anyone who has followed this case from the beginning that McCall kidnaped the little Cash boy and killed him.

Whether he did it accidentally or not is beside the point. It doesn't make the slightest difference in the world, either to the parents of Jimmy Cash, to the public, or to the law, whether McCall's story that the child smothered to death accidentally while being carried from his crib is true. The point is that McCall admitted he kidnaped the boy, and he admitted that while doing so the boy died.

These two facts alone make him guilty of first degree murder, the punishment for which under the law in the State of Florida, without recommendations of mercy, is death in the electric chair. The kidnaping was obviously premeditated, and in carrying out this crime a death resulted. It may have been accidental, but it was murder just the same.

If we are to have capital punishment, and in our present state of society there seems to be no alternative, McCall deserved what he got. Surely it is hard to conceive of any crime for which death might justly be the penalty if McCall were not executed. If the law and the courts had not accomplished at least as much in this case, the people would be bound to take matters into their own hands.

As it is, law and order have been upheld. It has been shown that justice can be meted out in Florida even when it means the life of one with prominent political connections. The law, the courts, and all those office-holders who were in any way connected with this case deserve the commendation of the public for the manner in which the ends of justice were served.

And another example has been found that crime does not pay.

IF RECENT STATEMENTS of Administration stalwarts, particularly those of Harry Hopkins in his Iowa address last night, are to be taken at face value, they mean that the New Deal has finally awakened to the fact that it is more important for the country to have recovery than to have reform; and one may be even permitted to hope that they realize at last that it is impossible to have recovery if we are to go on having reform. The Herald has never been opposed to reform, as such; in fact, we might even say that we have at times been regarded as somewhat of a reformer ourselves; but it has been self-evident to us from the darkest days of the depression, that you cannot remodel a ship while it is battling a storm. We believe that the Administration is beginning to realize that it is perhaps better for the unemployed to have jobs with private industry, even if the working conditions are not exactly perfect, than to have no jobs at all.

Home Sites Will Soon Be Inundated In Man-made Lake

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 24.—(AP)—Three thousand persons are about to see their homes, farms and even the towns they have built disappear under a vast man-made lake.

They are dwellers in the great Columbia River Canyon, which is slowly being flooded as water backs up behind the Grand Coulee dam.

soon look forward to having a great lake in your front yard. Uncle Sam is paying about $10,000,000 to the people he is displacing, and plans to spend another $10,000,000 clearing the lake bottom so that dead trees and old barns and houses will not be bobbing up to the surface in years to come. The average small home and the land it occupies has brought about $3,000.

Ten towns large enough to have a postoffice, several smaller hamlets, and many individual farms will be submerged. Marcus, population 600, is the largest town in the area.

FASCIST GET TOGETHER

WHY MAKE THEM SOCIAL OUTCASTS?

By RUTH ELLEN LINDENBERG

As the social worker in the syphilis clinic of a large hospital with an established reputation for its treatment of syphilis, I am in a position to observe the backwash of the present campaign to eradicate the disease.

Of course, we, who have long been hushed by the conventions of a society which preferred not to think about syphilis, welcome the change that is bringing this problem to public notice. The present campaign in teaching part of the public to consider syphilis realistically, without moral connotations—to familiarize themselves with scientific facts about the nature of the disease, its means of transmission, and its treatment. But there is a greater number of people who, because of ignorance of the nature of the disease and traditional condemnation of those infected, build up false impressions which threaten to counteract the many desirable results of bringing syphilis to public attention.

Let us look at some of the consequences. Mrs. Jones hears that her maid, a well-trained and efficient domestic, is taking "shots" at a clinic. Through indirect questions and spying, she gathers that Susie is receiving anti-syphilitic treatment. With frantic concern, she angrily dismisses Susie. Turns all the objects the maid has handled and worries lest she and Mr. Jones and their two small children, whom Susie has cared for since they were babies, may have been infected. Susie, thrown out of a job and having no resources, has to turn to relief.

Had Mrs. Jones consulted a reliable syphilologist she would have been assured that so long as Susie had no open lesions on her body and remained under regular treatment, there was no sound medical reason why she should not be employed as a domestic; that Susie could not possibly harm her family through caring for their clothing, preparing their food, or washing their dishes. The syphilologist might have explained to her that the syphilis, because of the very special conditions under which it must live, is seldom, if ever, transmitted through the usual contacts of daily life. Further, he might have explained how the powerful drugs used in the treatment of syphilis hold under the germ innocent to others even in sexual contact.

True, to assure that opinion Mrs. Jones would have needed to consult a specialist on syphilis. She might have secured this opinion from a family doctor who had not kept up with recent advances in the field. It is not uncommon to hear a general practitioner recommend the lay-off of a woman under treatment for syphilis. One well-known specialist in a national magazine has recommended that women be kept out of the home during treatment.

German Barter Trading Invades The U. S.

By WILLIS TROBANTON

While much worrying has been going on about German barter methods of trade in South Africa, nobody has noted the intrusion of such methods into the United States itself.

Details of a pending deal between western co-operatives and the German government are not yet clear or definite. But the general line is this: the farm co-operatives and packinghouses would trade land for German farm machinery, poultry netting, and barbed wire.

Before 1934, Germany was a large buyer of exported American land, taking about a third of it. In the past few years this has fallen greatly, because Germany hadn't the money to buy, though land is desperately needed in the Reich.

Just what stage the present negotiations have reached, nobody knows, but they are tangible enough to have run up the domestic price of land in the future market from 20 to 25 cents a hundred pounds.

The proposal is not without precedent. California fruit and Virginia apple growers have already tried it out, swapping their products for German fertilizers. Such barter deals are entirely legal. The goods brought to this country are subject to high tariffs, as Germany has no reciprocal treaty.

It will be very interesting to see how this proposal works out. First, note that the organizations reported to be interested are co-operatives. The fact that co-operatives have been rigorously suppressed in Germany and that therefore American co-operatives would be helping a government opposed to their own principles will probably not affect the deal. Business is business. Russia and Mexico are the best friends Italy has in furnishing the oil that is today practically unobtainable.

Yet every yard of wire or piece of machinery brought in under such arrangement is one less for American shops to make. Such a straight barter deal, however, is still somewhat different than the one Germany is working in South America.

In this case, no money would change hands at all. It is a straight exchange of definite products, suitably planned under the leadership of the United States Public Health Service, will avail little in the end if ignorant and emotional "syphilis consciousness" causes the lay-off of people who could safely remain in their jobs, and drives those people infected to psychological breakdown and the evasion of treatment because of the stigma attached to them by an unformed and moralistic public.

The case of Susie and Mr. Bee are only two examples of an unfortunate response to the current publicity given to syphilis. Along with them we find different degrees of hysteria—the teacher who shuns a congenital syphilitic child as something unclean; the social worker who suspects that every individual with facial lesions is syphilitic; the morbid-minded who emphasize the disgrace of syphilis and condemn as worthless all who have it.

The program for syphilis control.

Mrs. Martin Bram Talks On New Orleans

Impromptu talks on "New Orleans, the Queen City" were given by Mrs. Martin J. Bram and Mrs. J. J. Bolly yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the N. D. v. Howard Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which was held at the home of Mrs. M. S. Wiggins on Magnolia Avenue.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Anna and Catherine.

There present were: Mrs. Rossiter, Mrs. B. L. Perkins, Mrs. Bram, Mrs. M. Rupert Strickland, Mrs. J. H. Truluck, Mrs. St. Clair White, Miss Margaret Roberts, Mrs. Bolly, Mrs. J. M. Coakill, and Mrs. Wiggins.

There is a test for boiling fudge. All soon as the fudge is cooked, set aside on a flat surface until you can easily run your hand on the bottom of the pan. The fudge is then ready to beat. Lifting it stand this way helps keep it from becoming grainy—if it's not overcooked. The fudge beat for sufficient melting in when a small portion poured into a cup of cold water can be taken up in the fingers.

TO CLEAN THESE SMART looking transparent raincoats, spread them on a flat surface and rub them gently with a sponge or soft brush. Slightly dipped in warm water and add soap suds. Sponge with cloth dipped in warm water and then wipe as dry as possible with soft cloth. Shake and let dry in room of moderate temperature—do not use a radiator or register or the coat will stiffen.

Add four whole cloves, or peppercorns, one-half teaspoon of salt and some parsley sprigs for seasoning. Then cover with four inches of water. USES OF CELERY
Dressings—stuffings—all call for celery. It is excellent to use in a stuffing for the less tender roasting cut of meat such as shoulder. Saute, say, two cups of diced celery in butter with onion, then add two cups of stale bread crumbs with salt and pepper to season.

Celery made its original bow as a wild herb in European kitchens. In this country celery began its career on top as herb d'oeuvres in the company of olives and salted nuts at turkey time. Today celery well merits its place with the aristocrats of the garden—a gustatory favorite because of its crisp texture and distinctive, nutty flavor. Fortunately, because of its fine keeping qualities, most of it can be eaten raw.

The absence of floury sauces in the recipes following will be noted. They were omitted deliberately in an endeavor to keep the starch content low.

Use 1 bunch celery, 8 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper. Scrape, wash and dry the celery on a towel, saving the heart to eat raw. Cut the remainder into three-inch lengths. Put the butter in a frying pan and when melted add just enough celery to cover the bottom of pan. Cook slowly and turn frequently until the celery is browned and cooked through. Pile on hot serving dish; add a few tablespoons of hot water to liquid in pan, season, cook a minute and pour over celery. Serve immediately.

Butter Cooked Celery Saute
Take 1 bunch celery, 6 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper. Drain the cooked celery and shake over the fire to dry as much as possible. Brown the butter, add seasoning, and pour over the hot celery. Serve immediately.

Savory Celery
Use 1 bunch celery, 1 raw egg, 4 yolks of hard-cooked eggs, 1-2 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, dash of cayenne, 1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar, 3 tablespoons olive oil, and juice of 1-2 lemon.

Chill the cooked celery. Put cooked egg yolks in bowl and rub to a smooth paste with vinegar, seasoning and prepared mustard. Add olive oil, a few drops at a time, and when smooth add the raw egg yolk. Stir until light, add lemon juice a little at a time and the seasoning. Stir constantly. Pour over chilled celery.

Household Hints

For a hurry-up chocolate sauce for pudding, cake or ice cream, melt a sweet chocolate candy bar in a double boiler, stir in enough milk to give it a creamy consistency. After a minute of cooking, pour it over the dessert.

Unless the baby's milk bottles are completely covered by water when sterilized they will not be germ-proof. Bitter have at least three inches of water above the bottles when starting to boil. If the bottles bob in the water, weight them down.

For a jiffy meal, beat up two eggs, add a cup of canned mushroom soup, one-third of a cup of sliced cheese, and salt and pepper. Heat in a double boiler until a little thick and pour over hot boiled rice, macaroni, crackers or toast.

Cheesed toast fingers are something new for serving with soup, salads or beverages. Dip thin finger lengths of white bread in toasted cheese mixed with a little melted butter. Sprinkle lightly with salt and paprika and toast on all sides until well browned. Serve warm.

Use up leftover mince-meat as pastry sticks. Spread thinly rolled pastry with mince-meat, fold half over, press and cut into strips. Press around open edges of each strip with a fork, prick tops and bake eight minutes in moderate oven.

Five voices—a first tenor, a second tenor, a baritone, a bass, and a mezzo-soprano—compose the concert group known as the Russian Imperial Singers who will give a concert at the Woman's Club this coming Wednesday evening at 8:30 P. M. This is the second in the co-operative series sponsored by the Seminole County Music Association. Under the leadership of Stephen Slopoushnik they will sing a variety of songs from the marching beat of Russian Soldier songs to the haunting simple melodies which are new, gay, now sad, now humorous. Their music is said to attain astonishing height, boldness and energy, alternating with dazzling flashes of humor.

To cut cornmeal mush into even edges, lines for frying, use a sharp knife frequently dipped in warm water. Well molded mush cuts best. To make it time a small flat pan or a pound baking powder can in cold water and fill it with mush. Cool, cover with waxed paper held in place with rubber band. Birmingham Boys' Choir Is Here Sunday

The Birmingham Boys' Choir will give a program of classical and modern music at the Episcopal Church Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement today by the Rev. Martin J. Ryan, rector.

The boys in the choir are touring the state under the supervision of their leader and the performance here is one of many which have been given over the state. A similar program was presented last year which was said to be highly entertaining.

There will be no admission charge for the program, the Rev. Ryan said, extending a cordial invitation to winter visitors and tourists in addition to residents of the city and county.

The choir is made up entirely of young boys and they sing music which requires three to five part harmony with coloratura effects, the Rev. Ryan said.

They have given many important concerts, among them one at the White House. Victor Gombor, director of the famous Vienna Boys' Choir said of the Apollo Choir, "The intonation is as nearly perfect as I have heard demonstrated by an American choir. The solo voices are unsurpassed by any I have heard."

Drivers To Seek Track Laurels At DeLand On Sunday

VIEW Is Sponsoring Six-Event Program At Volusia Track

DELAND, Feb. 25.—Over a dozen widely known auto race drivers will attempt to bring back laurels to the Volusia county track which Tony Wilman and a crew of Triple-A speed men have set up at Plant Field, Tampa, during the recent DeSoto Exposition, when they completed a six-event V. F. W. sponsored auto race last Sunday.

Wilman, and Bud Busch and Larry Beckett all three battered Gus Schrader's state record of 27.7 seconds for the half mile made on the DeLand track several years ago and Sunday drivers will strive to get the Volusia track back in the upper bracket.

A crew of workmen labored all day today hoping to shape the course to warrant a half mile race in 27 or 28 seconds.

V. F. W. schedule calls for gates to open at noon, three trials at 2:00 o'clock and races proper starting at 3:15 P. M. Approximately 70 laps of fast action is slated with a triple-feature billed for the sixth event, the state championship race in which Hugh Dixon defends his title track Florida title; a distance regulation race; sweepstakes and a feature start handicap feature final. A semi-feature and consolation are also on the program.

Beckett, Shuler and Hunt are former feature race winners here and Murphy is a former state champion. The entry list includes Hugh Dixon, Hilliard, Fla.; Sharon Fitzgerald, Gainesburg, Ill.; Bob Barker, Canton, Ohio; Larry Beckett, Dayton, O.; Hanson, Carter, Phoenix, Ariz.; Harry Shuler, Pittsboro, N. J.; Larry Varrier, Indian Trail, N. C.; Den Murphy, Okmulgee, Okla.; Floyd Hunt and Red Page, St. Petersburg; Spry; Miller, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; and Tommie Elmore, Jack Lavigne, Ellis Postree, Don Rutledge and Jack Horner of Jacksonville.

Griffith Buys Major Interest In Orlando Nine

Wolff Re-elected To Head Of DeLand Entry In State Loop

ORLANDO, Feb. 25.—Taking the first step in his plans to make Orlando a mecca of major baseball, Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators announced yesterday that he had purchased controlling interest in the Orlando baseball club. Griffith did not reveal the purchase price, but said that he bought 51 per cent of the stock and that F. M. Coffey would retain 49 per cent and act as his partner.

John Gintel was named general manager of the club and was given full power by the Washington club owner. Griffith has been negotiating for the local club for over a year and he gives Gintel all the credit for swinging the deal. Gintel took over the Orlando club in June last year and filled the team from seventh place to third and a place in the playoffs at the end of the season.

Griffith said the next step was to bring another major league club here next year. "If we can get another major league team to train in Orlando then we may be able to work toward bringing other teams to the surrounding Central Florida towns, Griffith declared.

DELAND, Feb. 25.—W. W. Wolff, local manager for the Florida Public Service Company, who announced several months ago he would not be connected with the DeLand Reds on this season, Thursday night was re-elected president of the DeLand Baseball Association.

Wolff served in the double capacity of president and business manager last year, assuming the latter job when Uncle Bill Page was forced to resign because of illness. This year, however, George Chester Freeman, former basketball coach and assistant football mentor at Stetson University, will act as the Reds' 1939 business manager, according to articles of directors filed night. Freeman also was elected vice president. Clifford Batts was named treasurer of the organization, and Miss Alma Parks, secretary. Dr. T. L. Baker, a former president, will serve as chairman of the board.
