Senate Adopts Compromise On Tax Plan

Way Is Cleared For Adjourning 60 Day Session Tonight; Filibuster Ended

Power Intended For State Cut

Provisions Of New Tax Collection System Softened

TALLAHASSEE, June 6 (AP)—A compromise was adopted in the Senate today by Governor Holland's program for a tighter county tax assessment and collection procedure, thus ending a filibuster and clearing the way for prompt adjournment tonight of the 60 day session.

After a seven hour night session ending at 3:00 A. M. today failed to settle the hotly debated bills, the Senate was called to meet at 9:00 A. M. today.

However, President Beacham delayed the proceedings and called into conference administration leaders and chief opponents of the program, urging them to get together.

Under his prodding, the antagonists arranged a conference with the Governor and brought before the Senate a complete accord, softening the provisions of a new tax collection system that would have given the State broad powers to enforce procedure.

Quickly and quietly, the Senate ratified the agreement, without dissent, but those who opposed the plan were not to be denied.

Under the terms of the agreement, the counties will be required to value property for taxation at 100 cents on the dollar, tax deeds will be issued two years after a tax sale, penalties for nonpayment of personal or real estate taxes will be increased, and expensive homes now enjoying $5,000 homestead exemption will be brought into the tax paying class.

Out of the two bills applying to the State and personal property taxation came broad powers for the State comptroller to fix standards for assessments and also authority for the Governor and the comptroller to control county budgets.

Completing the compromise, the Senate passed a third bill imposing penalties on the property of railroads, telephone companies and telegraph companies, which now have no interest for delinquency, thus placing them on a parity with other property.

The Florida Senate, which today had endorsed the Holland program throughout the session, broke loose last night, on the (Continued on Page Two)

Give To The U. S. O.

Start of the local drive next week by the United Service Organization under the chairmanship of Charles E. Bradshaw should meet with excellent response from the public which should by this time realize that the time has come for everyone to make sacrifices.

Certainly the young men who have been drafted and who have enlisted in our armed forces have made a great sacrifice and it is nothing less than right that those of us who remain at home do everything in our power to make their lot as pleasant as possible.

That is the purpose of the United Service Organization, comprised of the Y. M. C. A., the National Catholic Community Service, the Salvation Army, the Y. W. C. A., the Jewish Welfare Board, and the National Travelers Aid Association, which have pooled their efforts to help provide entertainment and recreation in communities adjacent to army camps and naval stations.

The government will finance the cost of providing suitable buildings and facilities, but it will be up to the U. S. O. to maintain and operate them, and it is for this purpose that the public is being called on to contribute at this time.

Just what all this means to our young men cannot be over-estimated, for an army camp without organized recreation and entertainment facilities of a wholesome nature in adjacent towns will become a camp where the men will fall prey to the blandishments of unsavory individuals and where morale will suffer for lack of proper direction while the men are off duty.

The moral welfare of our soldiers and sailors is just as important in the building of an effective fighting force as is the mastery of firing data or the intricate operation of a tank. Therefore when solicitors ask for contributions the donor should realize his gift is in a very real sense helping to protect the security of this country.

The Last Kaiser

Death of the late Kaiser has brought forth many stories pretending to show an analogy between his life and that of Hitler, an analogy which is accurate only in that both men were practically dictators of the German people and both led their country into war.

But there were many facets to the life of the Kaiser not possessed by Hitler. Both were hated, it is true, but as the New York Herald says: "To dismiss the late Kaiser William II merely as at one time 'the most hated man in the world' is to ignore the fact that he was for a generation one of the most powerful figures in Europe, and that he owed his power largely to the force of his own personality. In 1918 the cry was: 'Hang the Kaiser!' On his shoulders was placed the blame for the last war. Today we know better—that he was an accomplice rather than a war instigator; that although he had given the Austrian authorities carte blanche to go ahead with the Serbian ultimatum, and that although many of his advisers wanted war, he was not the Mephistophelian architect of the World War that so many of his enemies charged. The concentration of blame and hate on him was in a sense the personalization of Germany's role. More nearly accurate is the estimate of his onetime chancellor and close friend, the late Prince Bernhard von Bulow that in peace the Kaiser was a war lord, in war he evaded making decisions, and in defeat he fled. It is because, to use the words of this same Von Bulow, the Kaiser 'never lost an opportunity of wielding the marshal's baton, and never had his fill of parades and parade marches, cavalry charges and frontal attacks on maneuver grounds,' that the world looked upon him as warmonger. It is interesting, in retrospect, to recall that the German Socialist leader Von Rathenau at the outbreak of the war remarked to a friend on Unter den Linden in Berlin: 'Can a monarch of such arresting personality, so charming and human as a man, so utterly inadequate as a ruler, as Emperor William II, with an impossible chancellor like Bethmann and a frivolous chief of staff like Falkenhayn, ever expect a triumphant return under that arch? If he gets it, history will have no meaning.'

"He did not get it—and we see now that his failure was greater by far than the failure of his country. His was, indeed, a career marred by blunders. Beginning with the dismissal of the Iron Chancellor, Prince von Bismarck, the greatest statesman of modern Germany, it ended with the flight to Holland in November, 1918. The years that intervened until his death on Tuesday were in effect so many years in prison."

Books And Authors

By MRS. IRVING FEINBERG

Probably the best bet in fiction for the month of June is "Restless Are the Sails" by Evelyn Eaton. It is successor to a book that placed fourth among the fiction best sellers of 1940, "Quietly My Captain Waits." It is, roughly, in the same time and period as the earlier book. Paul de Morpain is living in New England, a prisoner-slave to the Yankees who have killed his father years before. As the story opens, the English are preparing another expedition against Louisbourg, the French-Canadian fortress. The story is of the hostilities between French-Canadian and Yankee-English, slightly earlier than the Revolution. The book is filled with pictures of smooth Yankee, polished French men, rosy-cheeked Yankee, beautiful maidens and historic scenes.

Much as we admire C. S. Forester, we can't rank "The Captain From Connecticut" with the Hornblower series. It is, nevertheless, a good read for the ladies. "The Captain From Connecticut" is a very good yarn from an American novelist, Gordon Davis. The War of 1812, Zedekiah Plunkett, has been given the difficult task of keeping the American flag flying on a remote island in the West Indies. He runs a small business, and his story is a very good yarn from an American novelist, Gordon Davis.

"Transposed Heads" is no exception, but it won't rival Mann's novels—for this book cannot really be called a novel. It is a Sanakrit story retold, with philosophical implications. Two friends set out on a journey. Shridaman is a scholar; Nanda is a peasant. On their journey they catch a glimpse of the beautiful Sita, bathing. Shridaman is immediately infatuated and Nanda who knows Sita, arranges a marriage. But after her marriage Sita years for the handsome body and the earliness of Nanda, and he, too, falls in love with her. Shridaman perceives this love (which the two will not admit even to themselves) and cuts off his head. Nanda discovers the decapitated body but off his head. He then about to hang himself when a god tells him a magic spell which will return the head, and life, to the two bodies. Sita puts the head on the wrong body, and then has the mind of Shridaman, the scholar, with the body of Nanda, the peasant. But this is not the happy solution and what gets fun with the difficulty of the greater triangle. It is an interesting tale, but not that only.

"RANDOM HARVEST"

Kingdom," by Dr. A. J. Cronin, author of "The Citadel." The initial advertising appropriation on "The Keys" is $20,000, the largest initial appropriation ever placed on a book by Little, Brown & Co., publishers of such current best-sellers as "Random Harvest," "H. M. Pulham, Esquire" and "Potomac."

"The Keys of the Kingdom" is as vital as "The Citadel." It is more dramatic and more moving—and it is far more significant. It takes its title from Christ's words to Peter, "And I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven." And it is the story of Francis Chisholm, Father Francis, a Scots priest. It tells of his "twisted youth," of his education, of how his environment, and a tragic event, expelled the young man to become a priest. He was a curious mixture of childlike simplicity and logical directness, and he was a complete individualist. He believed that tolerance was the highest virtue, and that humility came next. So when his idealism made him in the eyes of his superiors a failure as a curate, the Bishop, who understood him, offered him a vicarage in China, and there, for thirty-six years, a thousand miles inland from Tientsin, he labored to establish and maintain a mission in a Chinese village that he struggled against indifference, famine, plague, bandits and civil war; there he searched for the eternal truths; there he wondered, if he was a failure. Many other people appear in the novel, relatives, the girl he loved as a boy, the nuns who came to his mission, doctors, Chinese peasants and Chinese officers. The book will hold you because of its story; rich in the dramatic scenes for which Dr. Cronin is famous; because of its chief character whom you may find yourself comparing to his namesake of Assisi, and because it will bring before your mind the whole great question of the part that religion can play in the world today. And perhaps when you lay it down, you will say, as Monsignor Sleeth did: "Oh, Lord, let me learn something from this old man."

It is seldom that we use a dictionary for any other reason than to look up the meanings of words. D. Appleton-Century Company, however, comes forward with word about their new "Random Harvest" Senior Dictionary and its many features, one of which may well be a capsule commentary on our times.

That is the numeral after the words entered in the dictionary which indicates word frequency. The words "war" and "peace" are both among the first thousand most frequently used words. Surrender, however, is one of the four thousand most frequently used words. The word "attack" is in the second thousand, while "retreat" is in the third. "Although an over-sea invasion by a fleet of airships would seem to be a danger of the very distant future, the United States is already preparing to meet the situation." Francis A. Collins wrote this thirty years ago in "The Bay's Book of Model Airplanes" which is being brought out in a fourth revised edition with all the latest material on the subject on June 27. He also wrote "The military authorities look very far into the future in their preparations—one of the plans suggested is to raise a series of captive balloons at regular intervals along the shore—and thus apprise the country of impending attack by air. It is amazing that this was written in a book published just a year after the U. S. Army purchased its first airplane from the Wright Brothers, July 30, 1909."

All of the American history has been written up with those words, "Freedom of the seas," said President Roosevelt last week. Earl Willis Crockett in his book "Freedom of the Seas" helps greatly in a better understanding of the real source of this modern international problem with this story: "The Arab—was resting one night in his tent. His camel was resting also, an hour outside, but was uneasy because of an approaching sandstorm. Being more aggressive than the Arab and less easy-going, the camel nuzzled the face of placing his head inside the tent. The Arab was granted only to be followed by the request that the camel's entire body be sheltered inside the tent and that the Arab, if he found the tent to be crowded, move outside, so as to let the tent shelter the larger of the two parties. It is not recorded whether the camel used his foot on the Arab or not."

WINTER MAVEN, June 6.—(Special.)—Polk county's third district draft board witnessed its first appeal to President Roosevelt by a selectee Thursday. The man, whose name was not revealed, asked to be placed in class S-A on grounds that he had a dependent wife. The board of appeals at Tampa upheld the local board's decision to place him in I-A.

E. B. Wallball, chairman of the local board Thursday signed the appeal to the President, which may be made only on grounds of dependency.

CHUNGKING, June 6.—(AP)—Japanese planes last night subjected the Chinese capital to one of the most savage raids of the entire war. The attack lasted for five hours and officials said that 75 Japanese bombers took part. Both the old city and the modern suburbs were hit and half a dozen fires were started. Damage was over the widest area in any single raid to date.

Continued From Page One) eve of adjournment, and proceeded to pull the teeth from the administration's tax collection bills, already passed by the House.

Opponents of the Holland plan forced the Senate into a night session, after a brief executive session to confirm a number of Holland appointments, and then proceeded to debate the controversial tax program.

In a day of bitter debate, two amendments were attached to a bill tightening personal property assessment, so as to remove much of the state control from its terms. Then, into this confusion, the Senate finance committee thrust a new issue in the form of a bill to cut the chain store license schedule of $10 to $400 a year to a scale starting at $8.50 and ending with $300. Senators Hiram, Madison and Whiteaker, Tampa, brought the bill in with committee approval, even though the higher rates had been ratified by both Houses earlier in the week.

Japanese-Indies Relations Totter

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, June 6.—(AP)—Japan's year-long efforts to draw from the Indies great quantities of such war essentials as rubber, oil and tin tottered last night on what the chief Japanese negotiator himself called "the edge of a precipice."

With friendly relations thus delicately poised, the Dutch have promised to reply formally to the Japanese demands. Friday Reliable sources indicated the Dutch would offer fractional concessions and that the Japanese would refuse.

Mrs. Smith Gives Report At Meeting

The report of the golden jubilee triennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, held recently in Atlantic City, N. J., which was given by Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith on Wednesday at the business meeting of the Woman's Club follows:

Florida delegates and visitors, numbering 50 and ranging in age from 18 to 80 assembled in Atlantic City May 18 for the golden jubilee triennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. A lengthy and elaborate golden jubilee program together with a revision of the by-laws and a discussion of 12 resolutions, the largest number ever considered at a conventional meeting, to leave the delegates little time for such essentials as food.

"I shall divide my remarks into a consideration of the objectives of the convention, the business and addresses, the entertainment, and (4) items of particular interest to Florida delegates and visitors.

The most interesting event of the opening meeting in Atlantic City was the presentation by the president of the General Federation of results of home visitation projects in various fields. A very touching scene was Mrs. H. H. Newman's report on the 'Batter Uniquely' by Graham, who was being treated in a hospital in Atlantic City. Mrs. Newman's report was a most touching and inspiring one.

The day after the opening meeting, the Philadelphia Club, 'Mother of Mothers' presented us with a most touching and inspiring report on the 'Batter Uniquely' by Graham, who was being treated in a hospital in Atlantic City. Mrs. Newman's report was a most touching and inspiring one.

Roosevelt May Order Taking Over Factory

Action Will Be Taken If Workers Do Not Agree To Continue Jobs Monday

Step Meets With Cabinet Approval

Papers Are Prepared For Army To Operate Aircraft Plant

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt would order the taking over by the government of the strike-bound North American Aviation plant at Inglewood, Calif., if the strikers have not agreed among themselves to return to work Monday.

Stephen T. Early, White House press secretary, told reporters the necessary papers were ready for signature for the Army to take over the plant and operate it, and that the cabinet had unanimously approved such a step late yesterday.

The C. I. O.-United Automobile workers demand a closed shop, 10 cents an hour pay raise and an increase in minimum pay from 50 cents to 75 cents an hour.

The plant has $100,000,000 worth of plane orders for the United States and Britain.

A high government official said the government would take over the plant if the strikers do not return to work by Monday.

The government will request the workers to get back or else.

The government has also asked which to do that.

Rainfall Misses City Yesterday But Falls Today

After Month Of Dry Weather, Torrents Bring State Relief

Maybe, as one person said, it just wasn't Sanford's turn. Rain fell in several parts of Seminole County, including Orlando, Lake Monroe and Chuluota, yesterday as well as in other parts of the state, but the showers skirted the Sanford area.

At noon today, however, a heavy rain poured down over the Sanford section to mark the end of the drought and to cheer the hearts of citrus growers and cattle owners.

Torrents of rain fell in some sections of the state. Drove, just outside Tampa, had a 30-minute shower while 3.60 inches of rain fell in Orlando to break a month of drought.

Osceola county reported an end of its drought also. Lake County had scattered rains, and in the Leesburg-Lady Lake, Montverde-Minnesota sections a rowers reported fairly heavy showers.

Meanwhile the Federal Agricultural Marketing Service reported in its monthly bulletin that all Florida crops were suffering from lack of rainfall, especially in the central and northern areas where soil moisture was deficient from the start of the drought.

Directors Spike Rumors Of Ball Club Folding

Team To Remain Intact Until June 15, Say Officials

Sanford Baseball Association directors spiked rumors today that the local club would be dissolved and stated that the team would remain intact until the 15th of this month to give the people a chance to decide whether or not the game is to continue here.

Last night the ball players were told by Otto Caldwell, association president, they were playing their last game but other members of the directorate decided that Sanford backers in the club had too much money involved to allow the franchise to go without any further effort being made to hold it.

At the present time the directors are Otto Caldwell, Zeb Ratliff, Dr. L. T. Doss and Andrew Carraway. W. C. Hill resigned his position last week.

Mr. Caldwell has said the local team is teetering along on a precarious balance without enough money necessary to run through the season. Of the almost $2,000 promised the association are the opening of the season only about $700 has actually been collected.

Shortstop Mutt Williams was recently released and signed with the Orlando ball club, while Frank Hudson has been sold to Ft. Lauderdale for a small sum of money.

Several men have gone to Dr. Doss and offered their support to the club, both through their work and financially, he said this morning. With such men in Sanford willing to do that the directors are reluctant to give up the franchise, Dr. Doss explained.

President Is Misinformed, Berlin Says

Germany's Objectives In United States Are Only Collaborative, Nazis Say

BERLIN, June 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt's assertion that he had papers on his desk outlining the purposes of German propaganda in the United States was described by authorized spokesmen today as "based on falsified documents or false information."

The spokesman added: "Our objectives in the United States are no secret, in fact we are breaking our heads to devise a means of convincing the Western Hemisphere that our sole purpose is peaceful collaboration."

President Roosevelt, in an aroused and aggressive mood, accused Germany yesterday of planting reports in the United States that Ambassador Winant had brought word from London that England was all in and ready to seek peace.

Going to the unusual length of permitting direct quotation, the President told a press conference that Winant had brought "Not even a tenth cousin of a peace offer or anything like it, absolutely nothing like it, provided you use this not as a denial by the President but as an accusation by the President."

Roosevelt immediately made it clear, too, that he was not only accusing Germany of inspiring such reports, but through instructions to sympathizers in this country, but also accusing certain Americans of being duped by the German propaganda effort.

The President also revealed to his press conference that he had just signed the bill permitting the government to seize foreign ships immobilized in this country by enemy action.

Mr. Miller also was named a defendant, according to clerk's records.

Mrs. Miller was charged with reckless driving, and leaving the scene of an accident without stopping to give aid. She later was freed under $500 bail, pending appearance before Justice of the Peace Charles Beers of Daytona Beach.

Lucille Smith Is Lake Monroe Winner Of Elks Essay Contest

Lucille Smith of Lake Monroe School was recently judged one of the winners of the Elks Club essay contest using the subject "What Uncle Sam Means To Me."

Her essay is printed below: "I am proud to have the privilege to tell a few things I know and appreciate about my country, the United States.

"In America we have liberty, which means everyone should be happy. To me it is the most wonderful thing any country could have. It means we are free to do as we like.

"The Constitution of the United States guarantees us things that other countries don't have. Some are: freedom of the press, assembly, petition and speech.

"Freedom of the press means we can print what we choose.

"Free speech means we can say what we like as long as we don't put anyone's character.

"Anyone twenty-one years of age has the right to vote according to his own choice. This is a privilege that other countries don't have. It means we can elect our own government the way we want it.

Market Sales Register Big Gain In May

Average Prices Run Higher For Most Items Of Produce, Report Discloses

Business at the Sanford State Farmers' Market during May was more than double the volume during the same month last year, H. J. Lehman, manager, said today in his monthly report on sales at the market. The increase probably was due to two factors, the market manager said—higher prices for products, and the longer growing season this year.

In May, 1941, the number of packages sold at the market totaled 68,300 as compared with 34,106 the same month last year.

Value of the packages sold jumped from $36,284.16 in May last year to $99,418.10 this season.

From the standpoint of volume, the largest items were stringless beans, celery, and tomatoes. Packages of beans sold totaled 13,963 at $19.07 per 35, while 9,755 units of celery were sold at $21.85 per unit, and 5,015 units of tomatoes were handled at $16.37 per 35.

Sales of other items handled during the past month were as follows:

Red Bliss potatoes, 5,476 standard crates at $5.56; 70; cucumbers, 2,433 units at $5.75; green cabbage, 3,153 units at $2.20.

Items during May 1940, were: Snap beans, 9,913 bushel hamper at $2.19; green cabbage, 3,975 bushel hamper at $3.95; celery, 1,624 units at $3.35; Red Bliss potatoes, 4,078 units at $3.67.

Average prices of all products sold at the market this season have been at least 35 cents more per unit than last season, Mr. Lehman points out in his report. Tomatoes and celery especially showed price gains.

A sizeable increase in the amount of iceberg lettuce sold at the market during May, 1941, is also shown. Last month there were 138 crates of this crop sold at a total price of $428.20, or an average of $310 per crate, as against 100 crates of the same crop sold at a total price of $300, or an average of $300 per crate, during the same month last year.

Black-eyed peas, grown in Sanford, are coming into the farm market in large quantities, and with the quality increasing, the price is dropping. When peas first came on the market about three weeks ago they were bringing a high price, but now they are selling at 40 to 50 cents a hamper, Mr. Lehman said.

Though the market season is practically concluded, locally-grown tomatoes, peppers and eggplants are still being handled. Thursday the citrus house at the market closed for the season, after what Mr. Lehman described as an "exceptionally good year."

British-Axis Tightens Its Hold On French Empire

Charter Change Will Be Put To Vote Of People

Citizens Will Choose Methods Of Electing Their Mayor

Sanford citizens would be given the opportunity in a referendum to decide whether they want to elect their mayor directly and change the terms of the City Commission.

Sanford citizens would be given the opportunity in a referendum to decide whether they want to elect their mayor directly and change the terms of the City Commission.

Under the present setup of the City Commission, the Mayor is elected as a Commissioner by popular vote and chosen later by the other Commissioners to head them.

Terms of the Commissioners now are staggered, so that no more than two members of the body at any one time are completely new to its duties.

Under the terms of the local bill, the Mayor and all the Commissioners would be elected simultaneously for periods of two years. If ratified by Sanford citizens at a referendum, the measure would take effect in the 1941 general election.

Date for the referendum has not yet been announced.

Vise Hold England Relies More On France To Aid Her In Retaining Positions In East

War Continues On Wide Front

Vichy Summons Loyal Forces In Syria To Resist British

By Associated Press

Torn by a conflict of faiths—one in an old ally and the other in a new order—the empire of defeated France was squeezed tighter today in the British-Axis vise.

Britain's main hope of clinging to her eastern Mediterranean bastions, her troop placements in the Bible lands, and the naval strongholds of Alexandria, Cyprus and the Suez Canal itself, seemed more and more to depend on the French.

The British found hope today in a press dispatch from Switzerland quoting a French diplomatic source as saying that Generalissimo Maxime Weygand, commander of France's colonial forces, could not guarantee the attitude of his men in North Africa. If they were called on to fight the pro-British "Free French" forces of General Charles De Gaulle.

Vichy authorities have called on loyal forces in Syria for an unending defense against any British attempt at occupation. If the British go in, as they've hinted, their ranks likely will include Free French forces.

Meanwhile, Italian planes bombed Malta and lashed at Britain's stubborn foothold at Tobruk, Libya; German artillery on the invasion coast of France shelled British shipping in the English Channel; the Luftwaffe raided Scotland; the R. A. F. blasted the Germans on the occupied ground across the channel; and the British continued the mopping up of Italians in Ethiopia.

The Vichy government last night inferentially rejected American warnings against collaboration with Germany and it appeared France was on the very brink of a last fateful decision to help the Nazis—if no more than passively—in their slowly gathering offensive against the British imperial bastions of the East.

While the French cabinet met in long and urgent session with three of France's colonial commanders to discuss defense of its possessions the foreign office spokesman answered with a two-paragraph statement the declaration of Cordell Hull, the U. S. Secretary of State, that cooperation with Germany for aggression would be "utterly inimical" to the rights of other powers.

Vichy said in effect that the French government "in a particularly difficult situation" now, had as the one great task "to safeguard the vital interests of France."

It was surprising to see the American Secretary of State describe as a policy of aggression and oppression one which is directed against nobody and harms the interest of no other power.

Another strong indication of where matters were heading in Vichy was furnished by a government note—issued primarily to guide the French press as to its attitude—which flatly accused the British of preparing an attack on French Syria, although saying it was an offensive which had not been "completely approved" by the British command because "wondering if it has sufficient forces to carry out this aggression."

No Bids Accepted For Hospital Office

Bids for constructing an office addition to the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital were received May 29 and opened yesterday by the hospital board, but none was accepted.

Another date will be set to receive bids and a contract for work probably will be awarded next week, Elton J. Moughton, architect, said.

FARM LABOR LACK

ST. AUGUSTINE, June 7 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Virvan Collins, Florida draft director, yesterday said there was a growing shortage of farm laborers in the state and asked local draft boards to consider seriously requests from agricultural producers for occupational deferments.

Clerical Workers Of NYA To Be Dropped

All NYA clerical workers in the county were dropped from the rolls in accordance with an order received from the area director, L. W. Sargent, in Orlando, the local NYA office reported today.
