

PAUL'S POINTS
 Mrs. J. A. Rane left for her home in Brockville, Ont., on the 2nd, making the entire trip by water. Mrs. Lane was much benefited in health by her winter at "The Turtle," one of the most attractive places in this vicinity and owned by Mr. Frank Brown, brother of Mrs. Lane. There is a thrifty fifteen year old orange grove of some five acres, on level ground back of the bungalow, which stands on the crest of a high bluff overlooking the lake. The bungalow is a model of cozy comfort with its prettily furnished rooms, and big breezy veranda, nicely screened from any wandering insect life, adorned with many flags and pennants, and furnished with couches and seats that make one feel lazy to even look at. The steep slope to the clear waters of lovely "Banks" Lake is shaded by a grove of pine saplings, and will be further beautified when the numerous shade trees that have been planted grow larger. At the foot of the hill, a regular Indian canoe waits ready to give aquatic sport to those inclined that way. A conspicuous ornament of the grounds is the "Union Jack" always flying to the breeze. Mr. Brown has a fine little library to which he is constantly adding, and to which his friends are always welcome. With the exception of a yellow cat, who patrols the grounds, the place is free from all animal life. No pests are to be seen, as its master desires to be sure free in that respect, and at liberty to run away for a holiday whenever he chooses.

C. M. Cleveland has gone to Waukegan on business and may not return until fall. Mr. and Mrs. Kreslin of New York are visiting Mrs. Cleveland and will assist her in the management of "Echo Lodge" during the summer.

Mrs. Beale Smith has been visiting friends in Sanford and reports having a good time generally.

Arthur Row of Clearfield, Pa., is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Edgar Bridge.

Mrs. Bridge is entertaining as well as instructing the children of Paola with a "Sunday school" class at her home every Sunday morning. This is surely a good work, and is no doubt much appreciated.

C. D. Pearson went to Jacksonville during the recent reunion, where he enjoyed himself immensely and says the crowd was something worth seeing.

Jack Booth also spent a couple of days in the metropolis, and reports a good natured and orderly crowd, fine decorations, good music, big parades and pretty girls as thick as huckleberries and twice as sweet. Something blew up or broke down at the Zachary saw mill the other day, and made things lively there for awhile. But for the prompt courage of a colored employee, they say the trouble might have been more serious.

and family wish in this manner to thank all the kind friends who helped during the illness and death of the dearly loved daughter and sister, to those who sang, to the Rev. Mr. Steinmeyer, and for the beautiful flowers.

Mrs. W. W. Dresser left Monday night for Watertown, N. Y., called there by the serious illness of Mr. Dresser's mother.

O. E. Walker of Topeka, Kans., is here for a short time. Mr. Walker's cousin, J. D. Taylor of Kankakee City, Mo., is personally supervising the work of growing 50 acres of potatoes on a portion of Mr. Walker's ground. The first 5 acres to be dug gave a yield of 100 bushels per acre, one field comprised 4 acres.

J. C. Rich and Dr. W. A. Minnick of St. Petersburg were here on a business trip last week.

Mr. Hudson of Cameron Farm has been in Lakeland to visit his father.

Mrs. Annie Mann of Sarasota was called here last week to attend the funeral of her niece, Jennie McClelland.

Mrs. Thomas Durlap of Park avenue, Sanford and her guest, Miss Elizabeth Hunter of Wheeling, W. Va., were all day guests of Mrs. Ellsworth Wednesday at Wildwood Nook.

R. E. Grier, Sr., of Cameron City has been ill, under the care of Dr. Puleston.

Joe Cameron is at the new cattle ranch company's headquarters south of Ft. Christmas, installing an engine to be used at the plant for various purposes.

We hear from Walter Hand that bricklaying will begin about June 1st on Beardall avenue, unless something unlooked for happens.

A VEGETABLE ELEMENT THAT IS RAPIDLY DOING AWAY WITH THE USE OF CALOMEL
 J. C. Bowers, druggist, is one of the first progressive concerns to offer for sale the new system of medicine that is fast supplanting the use of old fashioned calomel as a liver medicine. Nearly everyone knows how easily the liver becomes sluggish in this climate and how this sluggishness affects not only all the other physical organs but the mind as well. The signal towers of this dread condition, which some call malaria are coated tongue, lack of energy, dull eyes, constipation, sallow complexion. Taken with regularity this proven scientific liquid vegetable medicine in the form of Caswell's Liver-Aid will prevent or promptly relieve all liver troubles. On sale under money guarantee by R. C. Bowers, druggist.

Rev. D. Jones was with us last Sunday and preached two very interesting sermons.

Miss Lettie Hoard of Orlando is visiting her sister, Mrs. B. W. Lord. Among those that took in the reunion in Jacksonville last week were Messrs. J. M. Lord, R. W. Lord, W. T. Humphrey, O. C. Humphrey and family, R. L. Humphrey.

J. D. Humphrey of Jacksonville has moved back here and is located at the old John Z. McDonald place near Lake Mary.

J. M. Wynn opened his week in Sanford, running L. S. Bryan's bicycle shop while he was in Jacksonville.

Mrs. W. H. Evans of Lake Mary and Mrs. H. E. Hester of Sanford were the guests of Mrs. J. H. Wynn last Sunday.

Mrs. J. M. Lord and Mrs. I. V. Stenstrom spent last Wednesday with Mrs. McGaughey of Longwood.

MOORE'S STATION.
 Jennie McClelland, eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McClelland died at 3:30 the afternoon of May 6th, aged 15 years and 15 days old, leaving a father, step-mother, two sisters, Edith and Christine, and brothers Gettis, Morgan and half-brother James F. W. Jennie had been ill since the first week of last November, first with an attack of fever and later with heart leakage brought on by rheumatism, which she had suffered for half of her life. She was a sweet, beautiful girl with a loving, cheerful disposition and bore her long illness with patience. She was loved by a host of loving relatives and friends. The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the church, Rev. F. E. Steinmeyer officiating. The floral offerings were nice and beautiful. Her class mates at school, Hattie Estelle, Etta Johnson, Ruth and Gertrude Little, Alice Vaughan and Laura Parker acted as pall bearers. The burial was at Lake View cemetery beside her mother, brother and sister who have graves on before. The family have the sympathy of the entire community.

FOUR CANDIDATES FOR CONGRESS SPOKE IN SANFORD

MEETING NOT ADVERTISED TO DRAW CROWD

BUT THEY WERE GIVEN VERY CLOSE ATTENTION

THE MAIN CONVERSATION ABOUT PRESENT INCUMBENT AND HIS INSANILITY

The candidates flocked to Sanford on Saturday and before any one was aware of their intentions they had captured the place in its entirety. They were the candidates who think they can snatch the Congressional toga from the shoulders of Claude L'Engle and wear it with more grace than the present incumbent. Claude was not in the bunch but Joseph Sear, of Kissimmee, W. H. Malone of Key West, Albert Williamson of Jacksonville and St. Regis Orie, Abosta of Jacksonville, were all here in their glory and they related the streets in the afternoon and at night spoke to the people at the corner of First street and Park avenue. They had a large crowd and were listened to with attention. Space will not permit an extended account of the speeches of the candidates but most of the efforts were directed at Claude L'Engle and the fact that he was sick and unable to answer roll call was the burden of their speeches.

They are all good fellows and Joe Sear especially appeals to the people of this county as he comes from the interior. Billy Malone will also poll many votes here as will Williamson and Acosta as they all have their personal friends but if the meeting on Saturday changed any votes it was not apparent, although it was the consensus of opinion that Sear made the most telling speech since he did not say that he would get the people everything in the calendar but that he would do his best. The boys were very tired from their long campaign down the East Coast and their arrival was not heralded in advance, consequently they did not have the crowd from the country that would have attended and their talks were not as spirited as they would have been earlier in the campaign.

L'Engle was not represented by any one at the meeting as his friends here are confident that he will be elected on June 2nd, but those four contestants are certainly turning some and shaking every bush.

Travelling together to meet in joint debate brings to minds of the older voters the early days when this was a common practice and the people wanted to hear from all of them. It is a good thing for the voter to see all the candidates in action, hear them, talk to them and make up your mind accordingly.

Mr. Congressman L'Engle is able to make the campaign over the state he will probably do so but at the present he is engaged with the affairs of the nation at Washington and being crippled up with rheumatism cannot get around in an active campaign.

The fight in the Fourth will be full of life and it is about the only one that has awakened much enthusiasm and some of the candidates have promised to come back and make another trial before the campaign is ended.

They will always be welcome.

Another Point
What to do with $100 which has been turned over by the various candidates for office in Seminole county is puzzling the members of the County Democratic Committee. The law says that each candidate shall pay five per cent of his annual salary as a primary fee. Of the three per cent goes to the county commissioners and is to be used in holding the primary. Two per cent goes to the county committee but the law does not say for what purpose this money shall be used or how it shall be expended. The county commissioners have about $1,000, which is more than enough to hold the primary. The Democratic Committee met in Clearwater yesterday to arrange for the primary. After talking over the political situation, the committee returned to their homes without having accomplished anything by going to Clearwater.

DIKTATOR WILL RESIGN JOB IF NECESSARY

GREEKS ARE FARMERS

Raising Vegetables and Silk Worms in Leon County

Tallahassee, May 19.—In January four Greeks, associated under the name of D. Barkis & Co., came to Tallahassee from Michigan, bought 105 acres of land two miles northeast of the city and immediately began to improve it for truck farming. The place was without houses, in a badly neglected condition, and they have had a great deal of work to do. But despite this they are now harvesting Irish potatoes, beans, onions, squash, cucumbers, cabbages and lettuce for the market in this city. They have some vegetables and tomatoes coming on for a successful season throughout the summer. Within a few weeks they will be supplying the market with cantaloupes and watermelons, their crop of each being very promising. They also have crops of corn, peanuts, sweet potatoes. They believe in variety and are seeking to introduce several new vegetables from their native country. They have also set out a large bed of asparagus, which one vegetable the True Democrat has often asserted can be made to make Tallahassee as famous as Sanford is for its celery.

Another industry to which they are giving particular attention is the growing of silk worms. They are adept in this business, having been regularly engaged in it in their native country. They claim that silk can be produced here within thirty days, where it takes forty-five days in Greece, and the earlier the production the more valuable. They have hundreds of worms farmed out on the mulberry trees of their neighbors and are setting many mulberry trees themselves as well. It means business. They say that a few worms bring in from $30 to $100 to thousands of individuals in their country.

Their work is a great interest in beautifying their surroundings and flowers and shrubbery. They say they are greatly pleased with conditions here and that several other Greeks will join them here in the fall.

They will grow vegetables largely next season for shipment. They are also experts in poultry raising and machine incubation.

Killed by Lightning

Kissimmee, May 18.—During an exceedingly heavy electrical storm which passed over this section late Saturday afternoon, lightning struck Andrew Simmons, a prominent farmer residing near Fish Lake, about four miles southeast of Kissimmee, killing him instantly. Mr. Simmons was at work on his farm when the storm arose and before he had time to reach safety the bolt struck him. He was a man of middle age, industrious and well known in the vicinity and leaves behind him a family of six children.

One Thing to Remember

When you go to the polls Tuesday June 2 remember that in place of marking your ballot at the left of the name as you heretofore have done, the cross must be made at the right of the name of the person for whom you wish to vote. While there is no extra effort required to do this it is expected that there will be many a vote lost by the change among those who have been used to voting in this state.

Made Trip by Auto

Dr. J. N. Robson, R. R. Middleidge and Gregory left Wednesday for Richmond, Va. They will make the trip by auto.

Mr. Eldridge returned to his home in Dilwyn, Va., after spending the winter in Sanford representing E. G. Miles & Co. His many friends hope to see Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge next winter. Mr. Harold Lopez will represent his home during his absence.

Miss Mabel Bowler of Jacksonville is receiving many social favors during her stay in the city.

NEW FEATURE NOW CONFRONTS MEDITATORS

HUERTA IS PREPARED TO STEP DOWN AND OUT AT ANY TIME

Washington, May 19.—General Huerta has authorized the Mexican mediation delegates to submit his resignation in case such a course is necessary to a settlement in peace negotiations. This was stated positively in dispatches today from a thoroughly competent diplomatic source in Mexico City. As one of the foreign representatives here, and confirms intimations given by friends of the delegates here yesterday.

According to this information from Mexico City, Huerta at first authorized the delegates to discuss only the question of the Tampico conflict leading to the American occupation of Vera Cruz. Later the Mexican dictator, it is explained, came to recognize the necessity of a broader settlement, and then conveyed to the delegates assurances that he was prepared to step down should this course be found necessary by them.

The problem causing chief concern to diplomats in Mexico City now is that of the form of administration during the interim, before a constitutionally elected president could assume office. No intimations concerning the name of a possible successor to Huerta were contained in the dispatch, this subject being one in which it would be necessary to consult opinion of Constitutionalists and other leaders in Mexico.

OVER MILLION TIRES

Takes This Many to Supply the Ford Factory

Detroit, Mich., May 19.—One million two hundred fifty thousand tires for this year's production of Ford cars is the estimate made by officials at the Ford factory in Highland Park, Mich.

This immense quantity will be supplied by four leading American tire companies. The tires arrive in daily shipments of sufficient quantities to keep pace with the production of the Ford factory. Each year contains about 400 sets of tires to be used during the months of January, February, March and April when the factory production is around eleven hundred cars daily, approximately three hundred of which are very required for each day's production.

With 400 sets of tires to a freight car it will require approximately 351 cars, or a train approximately five and one half miles long to bring the year's tire supply to the Ford factory.

The tires are all shipped less valve caps and fittings, the inner tubes being in the cases. Upon their arrival at the factory the tires are assembled on wheels, innards, the fittings attached and sent down to the car assembly, where they are left as parts of completed cars.

The department where tires are assembled on wheels is an interesting one from a spectator's point of view. Here the big men of the factory, the Abyssinians, and its Hackenschmidt, keep their muscles in shape. The record for assembling tires on wheels was made by a pole who weighed something near 250 pounds. He assembled three hundred tires on wheels in a day and kept up the pace for days at a time. That is a completely new record.

One of the visitors at the factory recently figured out that if every coupon will also be attached to the return railroad ticket. It is probable the plan will be tried out next month, as soon as possible after the building of the new pavilion at the beach has been finished, and the first experiment will be run as an experiment. If it proves successful an effort will be made to induce the railroad companies to continue the experiment every Sunday during the remainder of the summer season.

It is estimated that several hundred people, living in the interior towns will avail themselves of such an opportunity to spend several hours at the beach, and plans are now being talked and considered to furnish amusement and entertainment for the visitors when they arrive. As yet plans have not been fully made, but it is practically certain the railroads will try out the experiment in the near future.—New Smyrna News.

THE GREAT NATIONAL GAME

Sanford Will Have Baseball This Summer Sure

A very successful meeting of baseball fans was held last Tuesday evening. After full discussion it was decided to place in the field an amateur team composed of local boys. Those present were able to ascertain from reliable sources of information that we have in our midst, extra good material for one of the best teams in this section of the state.

All the boys ask is that they have the support of every person in Sanford who desires to have baseball in Sanford during the summer months.

Mr. H. R. Stevens was elected to be manager of the team, for the coming year, and we all know from past baseball history in Sanford that if we support Mr. Stevens we will have a good team and good baseball in Sanford this year.

Mr. E. F. Lane was elected to fill the position of secretary and treasurer, and his office will be open to the voice of the people.

The finance committee, a very essential part of the success or failure of baseball is composed of the following men: Felix Frank, Chas. H. Dinger and E. P. Housholder. These men will call on you and state their purpose and it is hoped that every man in Sanford will heed the call for baseball in Sanford this year.

Let us all pull together and we will have a good team and good baseball. Teams in the field and open for games might be mentioned: Palatka, Loughman, The Phosphate League, Tampa, Eustis, Haines, East Coast towns, and of course if old Orlando desires to try and come back again we can take care of her, or we will give them the chance at least. Give us your support and we will give you baseball.

EXCURSIONS TO CORONADO

Railroads Will Make Cheap Rates During the Summer

That New Smyrna and Coronado will entertain hundreds of people at least several Sundays and perhaps every Sunday during the mid-summer season, is practically assured by a program being made in a movement to run Sunday excursions from Orlando and Sanford to this city.

The plan is to have the excursion train leave Orlando early in the morning Sunday, arriving here in the middle of the forenoon, and starting back in the late afternoon, giving the visitors several hours for sun bathing and amusements on the beach and getting them home before night.

GENEVA PEOPLE HAVE BIG PICNIC CANDIDATES THERE

HAD A BIG TAKEAWAY FROM ALL OF THEM

MADE MANY FRIENDS IN EAST SEMINOLE

WELL FILLED LUNCH BASKETS WERE DEPLETED BY THE HUNGRY CROWD

There was a grand crowd attended the school picnic at Geneva last Saturday for Geneva has a reputation for hospitality that cannot be discounted. There were about twenty candidates and camp followers from this city that journeyed thither by boat and auto and when they lined-up at the tables they did not leave anything that would bother the people by carrying it back home.

The people did not gather at the grounds until about eleven but the candidates were right on the job bright and early and worked every known dodge and artifice for the votes. At noon all the good people of Geneva had gathered all the good things to eat in the beautiful pavilion on the shores of Lake Harney and there the hungry ones fell to and devoured the chicken pie, fried chicken and all the good things that those Geneva ladies know how to make. After dinner the candidates were called upon to earn their dinner by speaking and all of them took their turn and told the people why they expected to be elected and gave an excuse for wanting their votes. That is all the candidates spoke that could be found. Some of them hid out, but Hon. Forrest Lake who presided managed to corral D. L. Thrasher, C. L. Polk candidates for Supt. of Public Instruction, E. A. Douglas candidate for Clerk, S. L. McBride and L. P. Hagan, County Commissioners, E. E. Brady and C. M. Haud for Sheriff, W. B. Hapley for Treasurer, T. K. Bates for Assessor, Geo. G. Herring and L. G. Strickfellow candidates for County Judge and several others. The day was greatly enjoyed by every one and there is no more beautiful spot in the county for a picnic or more generous hearted people to serve you than the people of Geneva and vicinity. Some of the candidates want to give the people of Geneva a fish fry before the campaign is over just so they can visit them again.

Cabaret Dance

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Herndon's beautiful home on Park avenue was the scene of a lovely cabaret dance one evening of last week, given in honor of Mrs. H. W. Dickins of St. Petersburg. Mrs. Herndon's charming house guest. Upon arrival the guests were cordially received by Mrs. F. L. Miller.

The entire first floor, including the spacious veranda was thrown open to the dancers, and the room were beautifully decorated with cut flowers, roses, ferns and Easter lilies being used with much taste and skill to produce an artistic effect. Small tables were arranged in the dining room, where the guests were served dainty sandwiches and coffee throughout the evening. Mrs. A. P. Connelly graciously presided at the coffee urn, while Miss Norma Herndon and Miss Bertha Lake were her attractive assistants. Mrs. E. F. Harris in her charming manner, served refreshing punch from a handsome punch bowl in a basket of vines and flowers artistically arranged in the room. Delightful music was furnished by Messrs. Withington and Smith, and many of the newest dances were greatly enjoyed. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Herndon were Miss Laura Fish, Mrs. Puleston, Mr. and Mrs. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lane, W. E. Watson, W. Hill, Miss Lucile Apinwell, Miss Helen Rowland, Mr. Bishop, Mr. Lloyd, Miss Penelope Laffer, Miss Lillian Laffer, Mr. Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hysat, Roy Chittenden, Joe Chittenden, Miss Belle Smith, Mr. Clarence Mahoney, J. D. Roberts, Branton Perkins, Miss Bessie Schumbert, Mrs. Charlotte Hand, Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, Miss Frank, Henry Perdon, Mrs. Long of Jacksonville, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. F. L. Miller and Mrs. E. E. Dickins of St. Petersburg.

Have No Opposition

Tallahassee, May 18.—According to the provision of the new primary law, a candidate who has no opposition for the office he seeks, is already declared the nominee for that office, and his name will not appear on the ballot to be voted for in the primary election. Under the old arrangement the ballot was unnecessarily encumbered with the names of such candidates.

R. Hudson Burr and Newton A. Blitch, candidates for re-election to the office of a railroad commissioner, find themselves in a most enviable and commendable position in that they have no opposition and under the new law are already declared the nominees without the necessity of their names appearing on the ballot to be voted for.

The fact that they have no opposition is considered a most complimentary recognition of their services in the office which they have filled for the last several years.

AT THE NATION'S CAPITAL

SPECIAL LETTER FROM OUR WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT

Washington, D. C., May 18.—The sub-committee of the senate committee on commerce, which has given serious consideration to the River and Harbor appropriation bill since the senate received it on Mar. 23 last had hoped to report the bill to the full committee on Wednesday, but there were so many senators desiring to be heard on projects under way and so many inaugurated, that it is impossible to predict when the committee on commerce will have the results of the work of the sub-committee. It is stated that a number of surveys will be ordered over and above those carried in the House bill, while several projects now under way will be placed in the "continuing contract" class, to the end that their completion may be brought about as early as possible.

If history repeats itself, and there is no reason to doubt that it will, the river and harbor bill, as it will be reported in the senate will exceed the house bill by four or five millions, and it may go higher, as a number of additional projects have been agreed upon due to information that was not at hand when the bill was under consideration by the River and Harbors Committee of the house.

With the beginning of work on the Alaska railway for which the federal government has appropriated $30,000,000 all sorts of "wild cat" mining schemes will be unloaded upon the people of the United States, if they are not careful, according to a statement made by Elwood Bruner of Nome, Alaska, a senator of the Territorial legislature. Mr. Bruner, who has been in Washington for the past four months looking after several bills before congress in which the legislature of Alaska is interested, said, before leaving for his far northern western home, "The people of the states must fight shy of wild cat mining schemes which promoters will foist upon them. It has been the constant aim of the legislature of Alaska to keep the credit of the territory first class. When the question of a government owned railroad came before the legislature it was most generally contended that the moment the bill making appropriations for the road had passed congress, it would be the signal for the advent of hundreds of 'Wallingford' and 'get-rich-quick' adventures who later on would drift back to the states in due season with the most unheard of stories of rich finds, fabulous placers, and a wealth of description that would out-Munchausen old Baron Munchausen himself.

"In view of these questions I would advise the people to be seriously considering the purchase of Alaska mining stock to go slow. Get some one in whom you have confidence to examine the property before you purchase, otherwise you stand to get stung good and hard."

Naval gossip says that Admiral George Dewey took with him upon the waters of the coast of Mexico the great and mighty fighters of America have assembled to uphold the dignity of Uncle Sam in conjunction with the military forces, and that the hero of Manila Bay, scanning gunpowder and the boom of great warship guns, fairly itches to be upon the scene and directing affairs from the bridge of a flagship, just as he did on the historic occasion when he trimmed the Spanish fleet and fought in the Philippines. But, while he would like to be in command off Vera Cruz and Tempico, the grizzled old warrior will not take away from younger officers the opportunity to gain their spurs if any opportunity presents itself at any time in Mexico, much as he hates to be absent at fighting time. Discussion of this a few days ago by a number of army and navy officers at the army and navy club recalled to one of the group, a naval officer of high rank, a significant remark Admiral Dewey made about the time the Schley-Sampson controversy was running high. A newspaper correspondent had met Schley one afternoon, and, the battle of Santiago being referred to, Schley had said to him with a merry twinkle in his eye: "What should I know about that fight. From what I read in the newspapers now I can't even see it." The newspaper man had occasion to see Admiral Dewey that evening, and, in the course of conversation casually mentioned Schley's remark. "Well, well," mused Dewey. "How sad! Why don't you know that if Schley wasn't there then about 1,500 Spaniards, poor devils, must have committed suicide that day."

Net Waist Draped With Lace and Silk

ONE of those pretty fancy waists which are so easily made by draping a net foundation with silk or chiffon and lace is pictured here. Any woman who can sew even a little can manage a waist of this kind and get results that will delight her.

The blouse shown in the picture is made over a ready-made foundation waist of cream-colored net, cut with a round neck and elbow sleeves. Waists of this kind, or of inexpensive all-over lace, may be had for a dollar or two. And, since fashion decrees that clothes are not to fit but to hang upon the figure, a ready-made foundation is altogether satisfactory for use in making a dressy blouse of lace or of crepe or silk or chiffon or combinations of these fabrics.

Over the foundation waist of net there is a simple drapery of wide white lace. It is gathered in at the shoulder seams and brought to the waist line at the front and back, where it is sewed into the narrow belt or tape that finishes the net waist. This gives the blouse the full, soft appearance which is required for style and for beauty.

A plain over-bodice of crepe de chine in periwinkle color is cut, opened in a V shape to the waist line at the back and in front. This is finished with a very narrow hem and a fold of chiffon, in the same color as the crepe. It is placed over the waist and sewed in at the waist line. The shoulder is long and the armholes are finished with a narrow border of chiffon.

Sleeves of net dyed to match the crepe in color are placed over the sleeves of the foundation and sewed down to them at the armholes. The crepe bodice extends over the neck's eye and conceals it.

Short motifs of dyed lace with touches of silk embroidery in turquoise blue, pale green and silver thread are placed over the full lace surplus at the front. The hand neck is finished with narrow velvet ribbon in turquoise blue.

There is a wide, soft grade of the crepe de chine, which fastens in front and, as a finishing touch, frills of plaited net are set on to the sleeves. Such a waist would be an effective enveloped in any other color—in black and white. The color of the net at the neck and those colors in the embroidery are to be chosen to harmonize with that used for the over-bodice.

Ballard's Snow Liniment

Is a Healing Remedy for All Ailments of the Flesh of Man and Beast.

The great relief which this wonderful liniment brings to a bad wound or sore has surprised and pleased those who were accustomed to the slower and uncertain effect of less powerful remedies. It mends the lacerated flesh so quickly that there is but little time lost from work. In relieving rheumatic pains, neuralgic, sciatic, it has done and is doing a wonderful work. Many chronic victims of these diseases have found in their great suffering that it cures an attack in a fraction of the time required by the ordinary treatment.

It is equally effective in the flesh ailments of animals. Swarms of blooded stock value it highly for two reasons: It heals sores and wounds quickly, and leaves no disagreeable scars. This remedy is needed in every home. It is great power and aid may be generally known, no family would be without it.

Laura Jean Libbey's Talks on Heart Topics.

WED OR WORK.

Do not grieve beneath imaginary sorrows. Cut to your and your courage and your wisdom. Depend on the mighty power of virtue. AMEN Providence that guards the good.

In many a poor but mental family where there are growing daughters the question of their futures troubles their parents from this time they bring home their diplomas which means the school days are over. It is then the ambition of the mother asserts itself. The family talks the situation over. The girl listens and steams from what she hears that she is either to wed or to go to work.

If she is not much interested in boys she makes her own choice quickly she will seek employment. There are other girls who sit down in their rooms and wait for their imaginary husbands to come along. She may find fault with the first young man who begs her home from a friend's house. Another young man falls. He is acceptable, but says nothing of matrimony. The next man may not be in a position to support a wife. The family that is growing poorer is not able to take on an extra burden. When these would be cultured women coming, none other presents himself. At last they follow the hard fate of many another, similarly placed—wed an elderly widower, who takes her up for love, but to look after his house full of children.

The girl who has indeed wedlock rather than work finds she has made a mess of it. She who took to employment, leaving her matrimonial chances to the winds, is always sick and span. She has her own money and can look the world fearlessly in the face. She realizes her own value, knows that there is an army of the unemployed young men looking for jobs such a wife as she would make. She's a jewel in the home, and won't miss the few years she devotes to helping her parents. The girl who prefers to wed rather than go to work often finds she made a sorry mess of it. She finds there are other tribulations greater than that of earning her own living. Such girls are always more fortunate in making a happy love match. The girl who earns her own money does not encourage a man's hope of wedlock who is distrustful to her. She weds for love only. Parents cannot do better than to influence their daughters to put work before dreams of wedlock.

LIFE'S SHATTERED PLANS.

"Our day dreams bring long last scenes of the past. Back to our view. Pictures of friendships not destined to last. Loves that grew weak 'neath adversity's blast. Painted anew." Every man and woman make glorious plans for their future when life is in its morning. Young men are full of ambition. They plan first for a business that shall prosper, then comes the thought of a home of their own, and a wife. The plans of young girls are mostly hazy, taking no definite shape. They look eagerly forward to a happy girlhood and the pleasures which jewel it. Here the timid maiden plans half. There are others with further reaching day dreams of a lover who shall one day come from somewhere in this great world, to seek them out, and the romance will lead to the peak of marriage bells. But, slack and alas.

The best laid plans of mice and men, 'Gang aft agley."

The young man's ambition leads him into the thick of life's battles, the sport for those who have been born with a silver spoon in their mouths. They grasp every opportunity which he is striving for. And one of these falls in love and marries the girl whom he has set his heart upon. He sits down amid the wreck of his plans, facing life's truth. That which we aim for we seldom accomplish just as we had planned it. It is always the unexpected which happens—turns our feet into unknown paths. The girl who made such rosy plans does not find that her road runs as smooth as glass. She has her ups and downs, her little troubles, heartaches and jealousies. Her dream cuts her out with the college boy who she was sure was to be her fate. She has a half-dozen of lovers and would-be admirers are Mr. Right comes along. She does not meet him either at ball or sleighing party, as she had pictured. On the contrary, he comes on business to a law office where she is employed. It is not at the first meeting that they seemed to take to each other. He happens to come along just in time to take her out of a snow-bank, as she plodded her way through the darkness and storm. She invites him in to take a cup of coffee. The night is coming on, so bitter-cold that coffee sends a glow to his heart. But he leaves, they plan to go through life together hand in hand. The planning of the wedded pair is quite different. They turn no false light upon their hopes. They are too wise to long for the unattainable. They have reached an age when they can appreciate the fruits of a well-spent life. Yet who would forbid the making of glorious plans in youth-time? Expectation is truly a beacon light. Sometimes unwise plans are shattered.

GIRLS WHO DREAM OF WEALTH.

"Can wealth give happiness? Look round and see. What gay distress, what splendid misery! Whatever fortune lavishly can flow, The mind annihilates and calls for more."

It has been said that "worldly wealth is the devil's bait," those whose minds are led upon riches are in general from real happiness. It is sad enough to see those who are weary battling with the world grasping for wealth, but it is sadder still to hear from the lips of a girl in her teens, "I'll never marry unless I can get a rich man." Such a girl sees before her mind's eye visions of splendor—a fine home, liveried servants, automobiles, an opera-box and flashing jewels. It never occurs to her to give a thought to the kind of a man who would give her all of these luxuries.

If she were to be transplanted from her humble home to such a life of grandeur, she does not consider that it would mean giving an impassable barrier between those who had loved and talked with her and herself. She would not continue the intimacy with the girls who had worked side by side with her, sharing their torn umbrellas with her because she was too poor to own one, and their luncheons, a bit of dessert that was such a treat to her. The lives of the women who had been born to wealth would be far apart from hers.

She cannot drop the threads of an old life and pick up those of a new and fit into the surroundings perfectly in many a day. There can be unhappiness underneath silken bodices. The rich man a girl is pleased to wed may have tastes that are repulsive to a refined girl, glaring faults that would bar her from being an unsympathetic nature and a cold heart. Could flashing gems and shimmering silks satisfy her longing for companionship or for a tender word or fugitive caress? Many a girl who weds for wealth and out of her sphere wishes in her heart's depth she could undo it. She sobs in her loneliness: "Would that I had wedded the poor, struggling clerk who loved me well! He would have spent his evenings at home, I would have had work to do, but I would have been sweet for love's sake." If a poor girl marries rich, she has no guaranty her wealth may not take wings. When she is older, weaker, unable to cope with the world, she seeks eagerly for the work she tossed so gladly from her in the days when she was young and life before her. Girls should marry for love and help their husbands accumulate wealth. Then it can be equally enjoyed by both, hand to hand and heart to heart.

Would Leave Nature Alone.

"When Nature has decided on the color of an eye, it is not for man to alter it," remarked Mr. Plowden at Marylebone in fixing a man for blackening another man's optic.—London Chronicle.

Excuse Hunting.

Dodge—"What's the matter with your cooking here lately?" Mrs. Dodge—"The gas company doesn't give us as good a gas as I used to."—Kansas City Times.

After a Bad Dinner.

Tommy—"Papa, what is it that the Bible says is here today and gone tomorrow?" Papa—"Probably the cool, my son."

Each and Every One.

Each new friendship is forever. Candidly Expressed. Rector—"I hope you didn't find my lecture dry last night?" Old Barker—"Well, sir, I wouldn't go so far as to say that, but when you stop in the middle to have a wig, though it was only water, I was to meeter."—Hay, 'ser."

Lawful to Call Man an Ass.

It is lawful in Switzerland to call a man an ass, either in anger or otherwise, according to a decision of the cantonal tribunal at Zurich. The court declined to award damages in a suit arising out of a quarrel between two prominent citizens.

Made It Out a Big Job.

Jude Johnson repaired a broken window pane in his house today and then came downtown and told the reporters he had remodeled his house.—Aitchson.

A CHIEF IS AMONG YOU TAKING NOTES AND FAITH "HELL PRENTICE" SO SAYS SAUNTERER

President Wilson tickles me about this Mexican affair. Of course I am with him no matter what the phase of the war may be, but his idea that no war exists in Mexico, certainly makes me laugh. Our sailors make up a picnic party in Mexico and after landing a few bags of beans and get stuck in the extent of seventeen dead and many wounded and yet there is no war in Mexico. If there is no war in Mexico, then there is no hell. My old friend Schley says does not mean that Schley is old but that I have known him seventy-five years. He is on the following about the war:

"Just how will future historians word their story of those brave sailors and marines who lost their lives at Vera Cruz? Inasmuch as President Wilson declares that we are not at war with Mexico history may read that they were killed while making a peaceful excursion one early spring day into the City of Vera Cruz and meeting a large band of Mexicans who refused to let themselves and companions pass in peace they killed a hundred and more Mexicans whereby they also lost their lives. But it is yet hard to convince the unsophisticated of the excursion features of bullets and scarpans as applied to peace."

There is war in Mexico now and there will be more of it later and America will soon mean the entire stretch of land from the Arctic circle to the Panama canal. This may not come in our time but it will come. President Wilson and Secretary Bryan are trying to keep peace in the family but peace is impossible and sooner or later we will be obliged to step in and spank that bunch of Greasers good, set up a territorial government try to seat a Mexican as governor if possible and create peace in that terror ridden country if peace can be brought about. In the first place the United States did right by not recognizing Huerta. Then they made the mistake of asking him to salute the flag and right here the U. S. reversed themselves by recognizing Huerta indirectly. If Huerta was not the president of Mexico why should he have been called upon to recognize our flag. We could have bottled up the ports all right and Villa would cut him down sooner or later. We do not want Villa as President of Mexico any more than we want Huerta. Both of them are beasts. Neither one is fighting for the good of the cause but merely for the boot in Mexico. If we are called upon to go to Mexico and take the country we ought to go at the job blithely and do it up right. We should choke that country right off at the start and after it is taken over we should not buy it or give it away. To the victor belong the spoils and it is the veriest rot to take any piece of parcel of territory and then pay for it. If there is to be any tax on account of war the country that has caused the war should pay the indemnity. Mind you, I am not in favor of a war now or at any time if we can keep from it but I do not want the United States, the greatest country on the globe to be spat upon. We should demand recognition at all times and being the greatest country in the world have the respect of every nation on earth."

I do not want war, but in the present instance we seem to be at war and yet we are not at war. Seems funny to say the least.

The mills of God grind slowly but they grind exceeding small. Last week you probably noticed that Chase-Walsh Post the millstone Postum bread manufacturer of other breakfast foods had committed suicide in California. This man Post made millions in the manufacture of so-called health foods and himself was a member of a trust or association in this manufacture yet he fought the unions in this country tooth and nail and spent many thousands of dollars trying to put the working man on the blink. Now that he is dead I will not say anything about him only in passing that it seems strange that after a man has made millions he should want to commit suicide. He spent his life in trying to build up people at his large Battle Creek Sanatorium—build them up in mind and body and yet at the last he seemed to find no solace either in his treatment or in religion and he killed the grave of a suicide. Maybe if he had spent more time while living in ameliorating the condition of the down trodden working man he would have been in better shape for money. It is precisely all right and laudable. But I do object to the manner in which he makes it and spends it if he intends to continue his operations to grinding down the poor devil who toil and sweat day and night at small wages and long hours in order that the corporation can pile up millions of useless money.

Volunteers are needed in the army for a dangerous service. I strictly these armies forward to him the number of men required. These selected become heroes by their deeds, in the spur of the moment. The United States needed men to sink the Merrimack in the neck of the champion of Santiago Harbor. Hobson and his brave comrades sank the vessel and bottled up the Spanish fleet. And the men who performed them better all which they were.

But the world has little of the every day acts of heroism stretching over years instead of hours. What of the woman with a family of small children and no money? There can be no trumpet sounding the "Charge!" to her courage, no knowledge that the eyes of the world are fastened on her, she does not march to the battle with banners flying and stirring music urging her on. She is left to face not with an act of bravery that may be commemorated in a few minutes or a few hours, and that will be blazoned through all the land, she is confronted with a struggle that must go on for years, with nothing to lend strength but her love for those for whom she must labor.

The charge of the Light brigade at Balaklava: "Cannon to the right of them, cannon to the left of them, volleyed and thundered!" The "noble 600" were in the heat of battle. They were filled with the holy battle fire. Inspiration could point to nothing else than "to do or die." John Paul Jones "I have not yet begun to fight" deserves no greater place in the annals of heroism than the silent resolve of the widow. "I'll keep them all together, God giving me strength." It is premeditated heroism that enables a mother to say that premeditation that sees the long, weary struggle, perhaps days over the wash tub, breaking task, mending the children's clothes long after the waters have been tucked into bed; twelve and sixteen hours of work a day, scheming and planning instead of sleeping, in order to keep the little flock together. There can be no thought of self for the mother who elects to keep her children together. She is and must be "thankful to work for all the seven, trusting the rest to God in Heaven."

There are dark days in this life imposed task—days when it seems that life is not worth the struggle, days when it seems that flesh cannot stem the tide, days when there is no vista beyond the dull dreary monotony for doing for a brood that is too young to appreciate the Heroic struggle.

The ungrateful nation to preclude the mother with a mind. Her heroism will go unsung. But somewhere, the One who notes the sparrow's fall has weighed the wartime hero and the little mother and writing in the Book of Gold the world may be sure that the little mother's name is not going to be the last on the page. For how could the heroism of battle be possible without the foundation of the heroism of the little mother?—Indianapolis News.

It was just seventy years ago last Sunday that the telegraph was formally introduced. Samuel F. B. Morse, the inventor who had worked for twelve years on electro magnetic communication, and his associate, Alfred Vail, had strung the first line between Washington and Baltimore. On the morning of May 24, 1844 Annie G. Ellsworth, daughter of the then commissioner of Patents, burst into the United States Supreme Court chambers in Washington where Morse and several distinguished men were gathered around his telegraph instrument, and brought the news that Congress had appropriated $30,000 for official tests of the invention, after a disheartening series of refusals. Morse reached for the sending key and looked off the historic message "What hath God wrought?" Vail, in a station at Baltimore, surrounded by another group of distinguished men, read the message upon a paper tape. Two days after the telegraph gave out its first public news by announcing that Polk had been nominated for the presidency in the Baltimore convention.

Today the telegraph is one of the strands holding modern civilization together. It is estimated that something like half a billion of dispatches, business communications and social messages are transmitted every year over the six million miles of telegraph wires connecting practically all of the important settlements in the world. Nearly 400,000 miles of submarine telegraph also have been laid. One invention after another read to the reading of messages wholly by sound, to the sending of as many as a dozen messages simultaneously over one circuit and in a crude form the sending of pictures over the wire by intermittently flashing beams of light. In its most advanced form the telegraph has eliminated wires altogether and from hundreds of stations ashore and from the masts of almost every large ocean going vessel the exchange of messages through the air has likely become almost as common as an ordinary wire communication.

As Shakespeare said, "What is the meaning of the word 'adage'?" the schoolmaster asked. "A place to put cats into," was the boy's answer. "What put such an idea into your head?" "Well, sir, I heard it say in Shakespeare, 'Take the poor cat in the adage'."

Making the Editor Love You
Make all the noise you possibly can when breaking into the office, put your feet on the table, read all the exchanges, and don't forget to try to enlighten the old fool by commenting on a few articles. Don't forget to say, "What's the news?" If the paper is half-printed, read that half and ask him when he goes to press. Read the copy on the hook and lean on him while he reads the copy he is setting up; and if you happen to be smoking, just show a whiff in his face occasionally; he appreciates it. Put on the stove and rub the corners of the job.

There is a fellow who has been in the office and advertising rates. Don't say anything for it—he doesn't need the money, but ask him to contribute liberally for everything that comes along and see how it does not, and above all occasionally give him valuable pointers on how to run his bloomin' office.—Ectofore.

SANFORD GROWERS WANT MORE LAND TO OPERATE

SEVERAL GOOD SALES REPORTED THIS WEEK

SANFORD LANDS ARE TAKING UPD SPURT AND FARMS ARE BEING SOLD DAILY

The five crops and big prices in the great Sanford Celery Delta this season has startled the world again and already the people are buying lands and getting ready to put in bigger crops in the early fall. Many places are changing hands and the new owners are home people for they know what they can accomplish on Sanford lands and have all the faith in the world in their own proposition. Strangers there are in plenty who are coming here to buy property both in the city and the country and it is freely predicted that next fall will be a most busy one in Sanford. The spring crops are bringing good money and the rains of this week have freshened the celery market that had gone bad for several days, and the shippers this week are getting good prices for their late celery and green celery.

W. J. McBride has disposed of his home place on the West Side in Henry Nichols and expects to purchase another farm on First Street as soon as the necessary papers can be made out. Mr. McBride has also sold his farm on the Sanford Orlando road to parties in the north who expect to reside there during the winter months.

E. E. Brady has sold his fine place on the West Side including the store and other buildings to Jas. Meisch, who will edit to his other possessions. Mr. Brady still has a good farm on Lake Monroe near Rand's farm.

William Acres has purchased the house and land on Celery avenue known as the Post place and will change this his home place but will continue to farm his other place on the S. & F. Ry. south of Celery avenue.

There are many other sales reported that have not been completed but in the next few months many farms will change hands and new people but the majority to Sanford growers who know they have a good thing and want to increase their acreage.

Buy Florida Mountain

Leesburg, May 22.—Six prominent wealthy men worth at least $200,000 altogether, have bought Stone Mountain, containing about 70 acres on beautiful Lake Harris. They will build a handsome modern club house, and six modern residences. They will put in lawns and an electric light plant and build a wide hard surface road leading out to the main thoroughfare. They will not spare any means to beautify the grounds. It will be the most beautiful spot in this section as Stone Mountain stands right on the shores of Lake Harris, on a bluff 50 feet high. These men are all prominent in their respective fields. C. G. Mayo of Paducah, Ky., is a successful oil king. Rufus Vincent of Ashland, Ky., is the chairman of the state Democratic committee of Kentucky and a large lumber and mill man. Dr. Collier of West Liberty, Ky., is also a prominent oil man. Colonel S. B. Barrow of Indiana has eighteen oil wells, now flowing with prospects of more. Judge Hanna of Frankfort, Ky., is judge of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky. Major Camden of Versailles, Ky., is a well known oil man of his section.

Will Reside in Seattle

Mr. and Mrs. Stouman who were married here last week will make their future home in Seattle, according to the latest news from the East. Mr. Stouman is now one of the valued employees of that paper and will give of great assistance to Editor Clarence Woods in getting out Lakes County's great paper. Mr. Stouman recently worked in the office of the Herald here and has many friends in Sanford who wish him all the best in his new and happy home.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK AT THE SANFORD SCHOOLS

FOUR DAYS AND NIGHTS OF PLEASURE AND PROFIT—GRADUATION TONIGHT

Commencement week in Sanford is always anticipated with much pleasure and pride by most of the citizens of this place as it is made up of a series of most interesting and entertaining events that are a delight from beginning to end.

There is no better way to judge of the progressiveness and prosperity of a community than by its public schools. In this respect, Sanford has wrought well, and no expense has been spared in making her system of public schools one of the best in the United States, thus demonstrating to the world that she is wide awake to her responsibilities, and that there is nothing too good in the way of educational advantages for her young people.

Much has been said and much more will continue to be said during the coming year of what Prof. N. J. Perkins, as principal, has done for the public schools of this place during the last ten years. Improvement and advancement have been the watchwords. Prof. Perkins has been fully assisted by a corps of competent, careful teachers and the boys and girls of this town about count themselves fortunate to have these opportunities for learning.

The opening event and one of the most enjoyable during commencement week is the piano recital of Mrs. Fannie Munson's pupils. This was given at the High School Auditorium on Monday evening to a large audience, the members of the graduating classes of the Grammar School and the High School being the guests of honor. These with other High School girls and boys occupied the front row of seats. The stage was prettily adorned with palms, making a pretty setting for the lovely young performers.

The first part of the beautiful program was played by Mrs. Munson's advanced pupils, and every number was a gem within itself, showing a most careful training. The numbers were unusually pretty and noticeable features that every one was played entirely from memory, not a piece of music appearing on the stage. Much of the music was played by the first number played by Miss Adelaide Higgins, who captivated the audience with her grace and exquisite touch. Miss Lucia Chappell was heard in a solo number, Scherzo, from Sonata in G-Flat major, that was played with great expression. Miss Marian Phillips rendered the Second Nocturne from Chopin in a very pretty manner. Miss Ruth Kanner charmed the listeners with a Grand Signe Land, Rabe, one of the prettiest numbers of the program was the Butterfly Glee—beautifully rendered by Miss Fannie Rehn Munson.

The second act of the program was a lovely number by Miss Edna Williams. Miss Marian Packard played a fine selection, An Meer by the Sea—Schubert List. Miss Adelaide Higgins was again heard in a lovely number Norwegian Bridal Procession, which closed the first part of the program.

Part Second was the graduation recital of the two young ladies who have completed the course of music and were assisted by Miss Mabel Bowler, a former Sanford girl but now of Jacksonville and a pupil of the School of Musical Art at that place. Miss Margaret Luella Davis opened the program with two Chopin numbers that were rendered with exquisite touch and finished style that was charming. Miss Mabel Bowler came next in a Song Cycle, Love's Epitome, that completely captivated the audience. Her lovely voice was never wavered and every note was clear and distinct. Miss Bowler was accompanied beautifully by Miss Phoebe Frank. The third performer was Miss Maud Allen Wagner, who is also one of the graduates of the school. Miss Wagner has been heard in Sanford on previous occasions but her exquisite aided mix up in his efforts to rescue the stolen goods and most of the thieves who had the Sterling goods. The whole Sterling family, servants and all were arrested as they arrived and a very amusing situation was the result. The play was cleverly acted and finished with a plot up from the first. The girls never looked prettier and the boys handsome and were all well and did their parts as well as any one could wish for.

Another success was scored for the Sanford amateur theatricals. Thursday's and Friday's plays will be published in the Herald.

Will Try Sand Oil Roads Bartow, Fla., May 22.—Sand oil roads are to have a test in Polk county. W. F. Hallman and others make a proposition to the county commissioner to contribute $2,000 towards a road of this material from Bartow to the club house on Banana lake, a distance of about two miles, and the board decided as an experiment to put down a road of this material between said points. In March two members of the county commissioners, the secretaries of the Lakeland and Bartow boards of trade, and a number of representative citizens from various parts of the county made a motor trip to Bartow to inspect the sand oil road there, and since the trip there has been a great desire shown among the good road boosters for an experiment in this county. Polk county is spending about $100,000 a year for roads and the people believe it should be expanded in building roads which will last.

Rest Room Success The Rest Room of the Woman's Club has proved to be a remarkable success and now, at the close of the season's business is in brick that the ladies are in doubt about closing up the room as there is a constant demand from the out of town people for a place of this kind. Luncheon is served in the room and under the able management of Miss Alma Peterson the success of the room has been a great one. The room is only the good ladies of the club and have had the Rest Room in charge have been amply repaid by the spontaneous thanks of the traveling public and the many tired ladies and babies. The room has also been successful from a financial standpoint but needs the active support of the public and business men of Sanford.

THE PEOPLE OF CHULUOTA HAD ENOUGH TO FEED AN ARMY ON BARBECUED MEATS

The big barbecue and general all around good time given by the people of Chuluota yesterday was one of the greatest political and social gatherings that has occurred in the new county of Seminole. Chuluota is famous for the excellent beef and hogs raised on the broad prairies of that section and the farmers and stock raisers demonstrated yesterday that they know something about raising stock for the finest of beef and pork and other good things went into the making of a big barbecue.

Messrs. Hodges and Billy Jacobs were masters of the culinary department and they barbecued the beef and hogs in first class style and had shelter of all kinds provided for man and beast in case it rained. There were some seventy-five people from Sanford and large crowds from other towns surrounding, many coming from old Orange because the hospitality of the Chuluota people and their big gatherings are famous all over the state.

The most that we can gather from the Sanford people who attended was that the Chuluota people had plenty to eat and the majority of those who attended ate so much that they were unable to be around town today which is proof sufficient that they enjoyed themselves to the limit.

After the big feed and speeches on all during the day a fine orchestra furnished by the unbleached of this city and also a band from Oviedo furnished good music and the young and old folks danced all the newest and the oldest dances and there were all kinds of amusements for the visitors.

The majority of the candidates made speeches and gave good and sufficient reasons why they were running for office and all of them were well treated by the audience and returned home believing that they were elected. These meetings are so entirely satisfactory to the candidates and their friends that they are all sorry not that a series of meetings all over the county were not arranged as the executive committee was anxious to do. The meetings bring the people and the candidates together and engender better feelings. If there are any disgruntled persons they have the opportunity of telling the reason of their grouse and a great big joy ride is the result of each meeting. They also broaden the minds of the people and give all of them a better idea of the reasons and the reasons.

There should be one big meeting in Sanford before the campaign closes, if such is possible, and give everybody a chance to come to Sanford and close up the campaign.
