Central Baptist WMU Holds Mother-Daughter Banquet

The Girls Auxiliary and invited guests presented a very entertaining program recently for the Mother-Daughter Banquet, sponsored by the Women's Missionary Union of Central Baptist Church.

Those participating on the program were Rev. Gall Smith, principle speaker of the evening, who brought an inspiring message. Miss Pat Nelson welcomed the mothers with a poem.

Miss Winnell Messer, home for spring vacation from Nurses Training College, was also a guest speaker. In her talk, she impressed the girls with the advantage gained for college life through having been an active participant in work of Girls Auxiliary.

The G. A. Hymn, "We've A Story To Tell To The Nations" was sung by the entire assemblage. The girls recited their G. A. Allegiance. Five girls took part in the "Dear Ideals" candlelight skit. Miss Becky Nelson gave a short testimonial on "What Girls Auxiliary Means to Me". Miss Faye Hayes gave an informative talk on "What Forward Steps Mean To A Girl." Mrs. Edna Giles, Girls' Auxiliary Director, told of the blessings received from the privilege of leading girls in their mission work. Mrs. Joyce Walker, newly elected Junior Girls Counselor, spoke of the happiness she feels for the privilege of serving as a counselor.

Mrs. Maybelle Hayes, W. M. S. President, spoke on the advantages of working in each organization of W. M. U., from Sunbeams through W. M. S. Circles. "The G. A. Anniversary Song" was sung by Mrs. Alice Smith. Mrs. Shirley Grieme was accompanist for the evening.

Girls whose mother were unable to attend the Banquet, adopted a substitute for the affair. Food for the banquet was plentifully supplied by members of the W. M. S. The Banquet Hall was beautifully decorated with crepe paper streamers, G. A. Insignia, stars, flowers and candles in the Girls Auxiliary colors of green, gold and white. A large candelabra was arched over the speakers table, with a center with a twelve-inch gold star carrying the G. A. Insignia.

Those attending the banquet were Mrs. Ben Bullard and Ruth Bullard; Mrs. R. D. Grieme and Wanda Nelson; Mrs. Alice Smith and Pat Nelson; Mrs. Leon Nelson and Becky Nelson; Mrs. Theresa Warren and Theresa Warren; Mrs. Joyce Walker and Barbara Maples; Mrs. Edna Giles and Gandace Watson; Mrs. Charles Hayes and Faye Hayes; Mrs. Linda Bostic and Patricia Bostic; Mrs. Hazel Warren and Alice Warren; Mrs. R. L. Bradley and Jon Smith; Rev. Gall Smith, pastor, Miss Winnell Messer, special guest and Rev. and Mrs. J. H. East, who kept the Nursery.

Post 8207 Sets Chicken Dinner

By Donna Estes
South Seminole VFW Post 8207 will sponsor a chicken barbecue dinner Sunday with serving scheduled to begin at 1 p. m. The dinner will be held on the grounds of the Post Home on the Old Dixie Highway north of Longwood.

On the menu with the chicken will be baked beans, coleslaw, potato salad or potato chips and coffee. Cold drinks and cakes also will be on sale. Proceeds from the event will benefit the building fund.

Luther League Elects Officers

By Donna Estes
The Lutheran League of the Messiah Lutheran Church of Casselberry elected new officers at the regular monthly meeting held June 2 at the home of Mrs. W. T. Muir in Longwood.

Elected were Dorothy Muir, president; David Unley, vice president; Gall Friddle, secretary-treasurer and Anna May Muir, senior counselor.

This month's meeting of the League will be held on June 27.

Space Agency In Scientific Hot Water

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Professional jet pilots ordinarily are not scientists, and vice versa—and the Federal Space Agency is getting into some scientific hot water because of it.

A growing number of U. S. scientists are demanding that at least one of their number be included on the nation's first Apollo flights to the moon, now set for 1968. Failure to do so, they contend, would reduce the manned lunar landing to the status of an expensive stunt.

There were no "pure scientists" as such among the first group of seven Mercury astronauts selected by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA); nor were there any in the second group of nine picked for the Gemini and Apollo space programs.

The space agency has just issued invitations for a third group of 10 to 15 new astronauts—and it's a cliché there will come up a bowl of protest from the scientific community.

For in the list of qualifications, there is one key line: "... Must have 1,000 hours jet pilot time or have experimental flight test status through the Armed Forces, NASA or aircraft industry."

There are few, if any, scientists walking a round with 1,000 hours of jet flying time under their belts. They are not, generally speaking, a sporty breed.

The space agency has taken its stand — that the first astronauts to the moon will be pilots. It contends that the initial lunar landings will be largely concerned with just the gigantic technical task of getting men up there and back, alive and healthy.

Without saving so in that many words, it means that science as such will have to take a backseat the first few Apollo times out. The astronauts will be collecting scientific data, such as rock samples and photographs, but their time in this area will be severely limited.

The question of sending a scientist to the moon on early Apollo flights is complicated by still another question: What kind of scientist? Geologists would want one of their number, in their certain belief that the geologic make-up of the moon is the most important area of scientific interest. Astronomers, on the other hand, are entranced by the thought of an atmosphere-free moon as a base for looking up at the stars, and they might logically be expected to disagree with their geology brethren. And so it goes.

Sen. Clinton Anderson is a defender of NASA's position. His comment is that "what is needed is an expert scientific observer who can be trained to make critical observations in a number of areas." The term "scientific observer" here is distinguished from "scientist."

Furthermore, says Anderson, "there is plenty of time between now and the lunar landing to add a substantial amount of such training to the schedule of all NASA's lunar astronauts."

But Anderson recognizes there is "a growing rift" between NASA and the scientific community, and he proposed that NASA work more closely with the National Academy of Sciences to identify the areas of scientific need in lunar exploration, and for the astronauts along these to set up a training program lines.

Now that school is out why are the blinker warning lights still in operation at the Lake Mary School?

Our informant "goofed." He told us the courthouse committee would NOT recommend a South County annex. Today the committee did just that . . . recommended an annex.

Wednesday evening session of the North Orlando village council has been cancelled. Councilman Art Rhodes announced today.

Word is that Altamonte Springs has rounded up enough councilmen to make a quorum for a special meeting called for 8 p. m. this evening at Town Hall.

Notice to dog owners: Time to have your pets inoculated for rabies. Dr. Raymond Bass will be at the rear of the city hall tomorrow (June 12) and again on June 19 between 1:30 and 4 p. m. to "shoot" your dogs.

Our apologies to South Seminole VFW Post #207. Last Friday an announcement was scheduled for their chicken barbecue which was held Sunday . . . It appeared in Monday's paper. At any rate, we hear the event was successful and more than 60 dinners were served. We'll try to do better next time, VFWers.

The "Clock" has a vote of thanks from AA members last week the "Clock" invited ex-alcoholics or for that matter, alcoholics to attend the AA meeting. Officials in-charge extended appreciation . . . five new AAs showed up and signed up. For others interested, AA meets at 8 p. m. Mondays and Thursdays at 1201 West First Street.

But in all fun, and we hope AA will excuse us: A local bar displays a sign—"Resignations from AA accepted here."

Or as a local wag puts it: Difference between a drunk and an alcoholic is that the drunk doesn't have to attend AA meetings.

Note to AA: We are only making a joke. We highly commend your aims, activities and success. And wish you well.

Final meetings of the fiscal year will be held by Florida Nurses Association, district 37, at 8 p. m. Thursday at the county health offices. Business meeting and refreshments are on the agenda.

Is it ladylike (or for that matter gentlemanly) for an argument at a town meeting to be settled "outside?" Mrs. Hope Bennett and Alderman George Howard exchanged "pleasantries" about something that was supposed to have happened when Mrs. Bennett was a member of the Caselberry Board of Aldermen. Acting Chairman Cliff Overman had to gavel them into silence and a settlement outside was suggested.

Annual meeting of Seminole County Chapter, Red Cross, will be held Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the Florida State Bank. If you have contributed to the Red Cross in the past year you are considered a member and are invited to attend.

Winners of the American Legion Citizenship Awards at All Souls School were Susan Galletta and Steven Macek.

Co-operation with the law authorities is the watchword in a certain South Seminole County community. Boys broke into two homes and stole a camera, projector, tape recorder, pellet guns and other articles, according to Sheriff J. L. Hobby. Deputies spread the word around, asking for co-operation. One juvenile reported to the sheriff's department Sunday and most of the articles were recovered. That boy is in jail and the investigation is continuing.

New University Moves Closer

(Editor's note: Sanford and Seminole County authorities—County Commission, City Commission and Chamber of Commerce—have been driving for months to have located here one or both of two proposed colleges. Governor Bryant has signed into law acts to establish these universities in East Central Florida. Sanford and Seminole County want one or both of these two institutions of higher learning. The following tells the story.)

Gov. Bryant's approval of the bill authorizing new facilities for higher learning in East Central Florida is the culmination of a co-ordinated effort by many groups. Our own Senator Mack Cleveland and Representative Joe Davis deserve a vote of appreciation for their effective work on this project. This is a tremendous step forward, and will truly open the door for a new horizon in this area.

F. E. Roumillat Jr., President, Chamber of Commerce

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Bills authorizing new facilities for higher learning in the vicinity of the nation's missile test center at Cape Canaveral became law with Gov. Farris Bryant's approval.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA) and space industrialists told the Legislature Florida might lose vital plants if it failed to provide graduate facilities for advanced training of scientists in this center of the space activity.

One of the bills directs establishment of an extension of the University of Florida engineering college to provide graduate studies at the masters and doctorate level and research facilities in order that proper instruction and research can be carried on in the field of sciences and engineering.

The extension must be established in East Central Florida but the exact location is left to the State Board of Control and Board of Education. The general appropriations bill carries a $1.5 million appropriation to get it started.

The second bill is more permissive, authorizing rather than directing establishment of a state university or branch of an existing state university in a nine-county area covering Flagler, Orange, Seminole, Lake, Bradford, Volusia, Osceola, Indian River and St. Lucie.

The exact site would be picked by the boards of control and education and a number of counties vying for the university.

Funds for the university depend on what happens in the coming week to a bill implementing the $75 million bond financing program for higher education which cleared last week.

The bill as originally written contained $200,000 in first priority planning funds for the East Central university and $1.4 million in construction funds in second priority.

However, the bill had to be recalled for adjustments after the bond program was reduced from $125 million to $75 million and it is not believed there will be funds in the next biennium for building the new university.

Taffer Relected By Fleet Reserve

Gene Taffer, USN-Ret, was re-elected president of the Sanford branch of the Fleet Reserve Association Monday evening.

Other officers chosen were Don Pierce, first vice president; Bob M. Meyers, second vice president; Mich Thomas, secretary-treasurer, and Jim B. McClure, Charles Fleetmeyer, Walter E. Carlyon, Ed E. Fisher, Bill F. Holcomb, Chet F. Macek, Lt. Jim T. Talmadge, Clyde Bryan, Dan G. Sweeney, Donald G. Walton and Ed L. Weber, director.

JFK Moves On Alabama

Old P. O. Site Bid $6,760

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today federalized the Alabama National Guard and authorized Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to use any Army troops he may need to enforce admission of two Negroes to the University of Alabama.

The President issued his executive order shortly after Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace blocked entry of the Negroes in defiance of a proclamation by Kennedy and a federal court injunction.

Kennedy said he acted because the commands in his proclamation "have not been obeyed, and the unlawful obstructions of justice and combinations referred to therein continue."

The secretary of defense is authorized and directed to take all appropriate steps to remove obstructions of justice in the state of Alabama.

It further authorized the defense secretary "to use such of the armed forces of the United States as he may deem necessary."

Kennedy specifically directed McNamara "to call into the active military service of the United States . . . any or all of the units of the Army National Guard and of the Air National Guard of the state of Alabama."

Army units trained in riot control have been stationed at Ft. McClellan, Ala., on a stand-by basis since Kennedy sent them there for possible use in the Birmingham race riots last month. This was the first authorization for their actual use in an Alabama racial trouble spot.

Kennedy earlier today ordered Wallace "to cease and desist" from any unlawful obstruction of justice in connection with the admission of the Negro students.

County Annex Wins OK

The Courthouse Committee unanimously recommended to the County Commissioners today that a branch facility of courthouse services be established in the south end of the county, preferably in the Caselberry-Fern Park area, near Hwy. 17-92.

The committee, represented at the Commission meeting by H. B. Pope, based its recommendations on the bulk of school attendance growth in the south end of the county and the actions of 16 other counties which have experienced similar problems.

Recommendations of the committee for beginning services included those of the tax collector, sheriff's office, county judge, tax assessor and zoning office—all services to be combined in a central rented facility with telephone service.

The committee's report noted that the present recommendations represent only the minimum requirements at the present time and if the facility is used for the purpose intended will have to be expanded considerably in the future.

Upon presentation of the committee's recommendations, John Alexander moved that the commissioners, the committee and all fee office heads and department heads meet together as soon as possible to formulate plans for the establishment of the facility.

James Avery noted that Hibbard Caselberry had offered (orally) to build, adjacent to the Caselberry postoffice, any type of structure that might be needed according to the specifications of the commissioners, and lease it to the county.

The County of Seminole . . .
The Junior Chamber of Commerce . . .
And our merchants . . .
All are co-operating this week to promote a cleaner community.

For this is "Clean Up - Fix Up - Paint Up" week in Sanford and Seminole County.

President Jim Smith, of the Jaycees, writes: "The Sanford - Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce heartily endorses the 'Clean Up - Fix Up - Paint Up' project scheduled for June 9-15 and we promise to support and participate in the project."

The Sanford Herald recommends to its readers to turn to Pages 4-5-6-7 in today's paper.

Sales Tax OK'd
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Senate passed and sent to the House today a sales tax broadening bill that would raise $63 million per biennium without taxing groceries or other so-called necessities of life. It was the first major tax measure to clear either house this session.

INTERSTATE 4 construction through Seminole County is progressing more rapidly than the public realizes. This top photo shows bridge piers for the cross-over at Highway 46A

. . . and this will be the cross-over at Lake Mary Boulevard. County Commission is endeavoring to have the State Road Department and federal government to place a cloverleaf here

. . . while presently traffic is being routed around this bridge construction over Highway 434 at Sandhills Springs. However, it is only a brief detour and

. . . extra work is being carried on here, where I-4 and Highway 466 will by-pass, west of Altamonte Springs. Plans are in the working for 466 to be a four-lane highway. (Herald Photos)

Casselberry Charter OK'd

The charter bill for Caselberry has been passed by both houses of the Florida Legislature and is awaiting the signature of Gov. Farris Bryant, City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh reported to the Caselberry Board of Aldermen Monday evening.

McIntosh said that a complete and up-to-date copy of the charter, introduced May 31 before the Legislature by the Seminole delegation, would be prepared and placed in the hands of the board at its next meeting.

The board voted, after some discussion, to amend a brochure explaining the provisions of the charter to include the changes made by the Legislature and to have copies printed to be mailed to residents of Caselberry for study and guidance prior to the referendum.

In this connection the board voted to have printed vote registration cards to be mailed out to all new residents of the town to enable them to become eligible to vote in the referendum.

The card proposal was included in a resolution, proposed by Acting Chairman Cliff Overman, calling for a campaign to "get out the vote" for the referendum. This would include a concerted effort by all the civic organizations. Mayor David Heath was authorized to send out letters calling for a meeting of these organizations to plan a city-wide campaign. Another proposal calls for preparation of absentee ballots to enable residents on vacation at the time of the referendum to vote.

Bryant Asks U. S. Push Civil Defense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant has asked the federal government to put more emphasis on civil defense and the need for public fallout shelters.

"The public sense of urgency has been dissipated," Bryant warned a House Armed Services committee during a hearing Monday.

"The one thing of which we can be sure," he said, "is that if we wait on public concern to drive us to take the proper precautions, they will never be taken in time."

He fully backed the administration's $175 million to provide 10 million more shelter places during the next fiscal year.

He said he was forced by the October Cuban crisis "to turn my attention rather urgently to the necessities which would be imposed on my state by foreign military action."

Bryant told the congressmen that civil defense should be recognized as a major part of military defense.

awards ceremonies held in conjunction with graduation ceremonies at Oviedo High School.

Miss Partin was awarded the Jaycee Past President's Scholarship, Jaycee Leadership Award, Social Science Award, Math Award, English Award and SAC (Scholarship, Athletics and Citizenship) Award.

Miss Partin also spoke to the class on "Your Magic Moment" in her role as valedictorian.

Next in line of awards was Salutatorian James (Jimmy) DeShazo, who received the Jaycee Leadership Award, along with the SAC award and the Science Award.

The Danforth award for citizenship went to Miss Ann Slavik. It was presented by Rev. Robert Soka, who also gave the invocation.

Capt. Robert Ward, Oviedo American Legion, presented the Legion's citizenship awards to Wes Swenson and Miss Dorothy Duda.

The commercial award went to Miss Diane Aulin. All the departmental awards were presented by Principal Clyde Holder.

Mrs. Thelma Clonts, DAR, presented that group's citizenship award to Miss Rose Beasley.

Valedictorian Jimmy DeShazo spoke to the class about "The Test."

Brief remarks also were made by the school's three other top students, Miss Dorothy Duda, who talked about "The Little Things"; Miss Ann Slavik, who described, "The Awakening," and Wes Swenson, who cautioned his classmates to "Slow Down."

Special music during the program was presented by the Oviedo High School chorus, singing, "The Halls of Ivy." Miss Ann Martin accompanied the marching graduates on the piano.

Diplomas were awarded to 30 graduating seniors by Principal Clyde Holder and Rev. Jack Bryant pronounced the benediction.

Bryant Uninvited To Discussion

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant said Thursday he was not one of a group of southern governors asked to visit President Kennedy and discuss sweeping integration steps in the South.

Bryant said that he had been invited to Washington to lunch with the President, but that no mention was made of integration.

"I couldn't make the trip earlier due to legislative problems," the governor said, "but I hope the invitation is still open."

up is the exciting direction

It's part of our tradition. Up means growth, success, progress. Up means wider perspectives, more potential. Up is exciting.

The strong and the healthy grow—upwards, like the daily newspaper. Because it is so necessary in the world we live in... fills a vital function... is the most useful, effective medium of communication... for all these reasons the daily newspaper moves up in circulation and in advertising revenue.

Since 1940, daily newspaper circulation has risen from 41 million to more than 60 million, a growth rate almost double that of the adult population in the same years. Newspaper advertising revenue grew from $2 billion in 1949 to more than $3.6 billion in 1961.

Newspapers will keep moving up, staying on top as the advertiser's most effective medium.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: On Mother's Day my brother and his wife came to visit us. Maxine was telling us how much she liked the china set her husband had given her...

NO MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: In my opinion any woman who is unable to hear children, but wants so desperately to be a mother...

DEAR ABBY: Tell "Wet Pillow," who cried because her husband gave her $20 and told her to go out and buy herself a Mother's Day gift...

Happy Birthday. Instead he gave me a big lecture on how "commercial" Mother's Day and all the other holidays have become.

"CRIED ME A RIVER"

DEAR ABBY: We recently had a discussion about whether or not to bury pets with a little ceremony...

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: I could not have expressed the above sentiments. May I quote one of my favorite poems?

"Oh, shame on the mothers of mortals Who did not stop to teach The sorrow that lies in dear dumb eyes"

The sorrow that has no speech. The same force formed the sparrow

That fashioned man and king And the God of the whole Gave a spark of soul To each furrowed and feathered thing."

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

In rubber bridge you should take plenty of chances in order to make your contract but in duplicate a player will occasionally decide to play safe for a small set on the theory that other players will be going down more.

This conservative approach works on occasion, but generally you will do better to gamble for whatever contract you can get in.

ings it was up to South to gamble for his contract. He could see that most players would have stopped below game and that it was up to him to take every chance in order to make his three no-trump.

Thus he should have gone up with the king of diamonds. When it held he could run off his clubs and wind up by missing against the jack of clubs.

However, South decided to play safe. He played a low diamond. East won and led a spade to his partner. West might have played another low diamond, but West simply cashed his ace and chalked up a one-trick set.

Bridge score table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH and various card suits.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

"If it's a solid marriage, what's wrong with it?" Fred A. Young, the Republican party chairman of New York state, asked when a reporter wanted to know if he thought remarriage would affect Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's political future.

What's wrong with the gov. error's remarriage from a political point of view is simply this, Mr. Young.

The women aren't going to like it—and for a very simple reason.

This remarriage follows the breakup of a marriage of 31 years. And whenever a woman hears of the breakup of a marriage that has lasted in her mind's eye a picture of the wife of over 30 years, now alone.

That isn't a comforting picture to any woman. In fact, it's a downright depressing one. And it's safe to bet that an awful lot of women will carry that picture to the polls with them when they go to vote—the picture of the wife who has been left behind—along with the picture of a happy second time bridegroom and his happy younger bride.

Modernization is a major reason why one former today produces as much as four former did in 1910.

Your house needs a new spring wardrobe just as much as your family does. And this can be accomplished without a major outlay in either time or money.

Like all good fashion, a "new look" in the home can be achieved with a change of accessories emphasizing the season. Here are a few tips on how to give a springtime lift to your home without unbalancing the budget.

—Use toss pillows as accents to freshen the living room with gay spring colors. Latex foam occasional pillows are preferable because they never need plumping and don't mat with use. You can buy them already covered or ready to cover with a fabric of your choice. Choose a closely woven fabric and cut it the same size as the cushion itself. Then when you seam it, you'll have a snug, plump fit.

—Take down your heavy winter draperies and replace them with light, inexpensive ones of some easy-care fabric. You can get a custom look by adding a valance cut out of plywood, gluing on foam rubber sheeting for padding, and tacking on an outside cover of fabric to match the drapes.

—Send your heavy carpet to the cleaner for storage. Replace it with inexpensive small rugs or mats.

—Dress up your dining room with a new wardrobe of vinyl place mats in assorted colors. Make tie-on seat cushions for your chairs with two-inch foam rubber cushion now sold by the yard. Cover in a bright fabric.

—Replace your winter bedspreads with washable lightweight spreads that lighten the tone of the room. Tint your bedroom curtains a corresponding shade and use foam rubber accent pillows in contrasting colors.

—Get at least one new set of towels for the bathroom with a change of shower curtains and bath mat to complete the spring color scheme. If your old curtain still is useful, wash and dry it thoroughly before storing.

—Scatter a garden of potted plants throughout the house. They add a rich note of earthiness to the colors of a room.

JAYCEES ARE pitching in this week, along with city and county attaches, in cleaning up Sanford and Seminole County during "Clean Up—Fix Up—Paint Up" Week. These Jaycee members started with their own headquarters on French Avenue, from the left: Jack Ludwig, Frank Voltoline, Dave Berrien, President Jim Smith, Chuck Bose and Phil Skates.

Arrange Plans In Advance

Spring house cleaning does not have to be the frantic, time-consuming chore usually faced at this time of year, if homemakers will only take the advice of one of the biggest house cleaners of them all.

After 20 years experience cleaning and maintaining more than six million square feet of space in the world's largest city, the maintenance engineers of Kinney Service Corp. in New York have developed commercial cleaning procedures easily adaptable, with minor changes, to the average home or apartment.

Professional cleaners figure carefully in advance what supplies will be needed, and assemble them in one place. At home, this means packing a cart full of the items which will be used, an apron with large pockets for extra dust-cloths and paper bags for emptying wastebaskets and ash trays. Be sure, too, that you have the proper tools and appliances to insure quick, easy cleaning. Here are some useful tips:

1.—Clean all glasswork—pictures, windows and mirrors—at the same time. Then wash and wax window sills to make periodic sponging more effective.

2.—Slip an old sock on each hand; apply furniture polish with one and wipe with the other.

3.—To spread liquid furniture polish more evenly, insert a clothes-sprinkler top into the bottle neck.

4.—Rinse floors thoroughly before waxing to prevent traces of soap or detergent from dulling the finish.

5.—Mark lines with nail polish at quart levels inside the cleaning pail; this helps mix cleaning solutions of proper strength.

6.—Mix warm water and water conditioner to wash down bathroom tiles. To make tiles shine, dry with a towel.

7.—To clean lamps, disconnect cord first and run it through a soapy sponge. Remove bulb, wipe with wet rag; dry thoroughly. A sudsy cloth will clean most lamp bases. Fabric shades can be cleaned in a tubful of warm suds, but coated, glass fiber, paper or parchment shades should be vacuumed, washed with "dry" soapuds on a sponge, rinsed with a damp cloth and wiped dry.

8.—Cotton-tipped swabs clean kitchen range buttons and the number plates under telephone dials.

To fill cracks around window frames, make your own papiermache insulation at minimum cost. Stir a little glue in thick hot soapuds, and add a large quantity of shredded newspaper. When dry, this filler will be hard enough to paint.

If kitchen cabinet space is limited, use predecorated pegboard panels for hanging shelves or individual pots and pans. Utensiles and condiments will be close at hand and will occupy little wall space.

Take Tip: Take L.Q. Test

Today's homeowner is well advised to take an L.Q. test. If he scores low, he is losing money by not getting the full dollar's worth of livability from his home.

According to the New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, L. Q., or Livability Quotient, is determined by the amount of square feet of floor space the family actually lives in.

For example, if there are areas where the family spends 30 per cent of its time and others where it only spends 5 per cent, then the relative number of square feet of these areas should correspond roughly with the time spent in them.

When it is realized that homes cost anywhere from $10 to $20 a square foot, plus maintenance and taxes, it's not hard to see that this unused space comes at a high price.

If a house rates a low L. Q., a well-planned remodeling job can often raise the quotient to give the family economical livability. One homeowner found that his dining room, which was used only about 10 per cent of the time, was the same size as his adjacent frequently used living room.

The solution in this case was to remove the wall from between the two rooms and construct a partition which provided the family with a

Pictures Need Checking, Too

When housecleaning this spring, don't overlook your framed pictures.

Check to see that the picture is hanging securely. Are the screws and wire securely attached to the back of the painting? Is the nail or picture hanger firmly anchored?

Next, check the backing. Next, check the backing. Next, check the backing.

Carefully examine the picture frame. Since the frame is meant to protect the picture as well as enhance its beauty, it should fit well. Be sure the corners of the frame are even and fit together tightly. The inside frame edges should be smooth and level without jagged edges.

If there are small cracks in the frame, you can repair them at home with stick shellac, heated and applied like sealing wax. It is available in wood colors as well as gold and silver.

To dust the frame, use a small soft paint brush, particularly on highly ornamented frames, then polish lightly with a clean cloth.

If your picture is covered with glass, clean the glass with a damp cloth wrung as dry as possible. Even a small amount of moisture on the glass can seep along the edges and ruin the picture or the mat.

Home Like Women: Need Spruce-Up

The Sanford Herald

June 11, 1962 — Page 8

JALOUSIES always need a cleaning. Take a tip from pretty Barbara Vincent and give them a good cleaning, at least once a week.

Homes, in a sense, are like women. A little paint and some new draperies can do wonders for their looks.

From the amount of money spent each year on home improvement (one recent estimate was $750 per U. S. family), it would seem that the home gets its annual facelift even if the lady of the house has to scrimp and save to do it.

Some home improvement projects are the outcome of careful planning for the family's needs. Often the homeowner finds it less costly to add to his present home than to buy a larger one. Other projects are the result of a decision to sell.

Sprucing up a house before placing it on the market does pay off. Recently a survey taken in three suburban counties showed that 15 per cent of homeowners who did a major interior and exterior housepainting before selling, realized from eight to 12 per cent more than the amount received for comparable dwellings without fresh paint.

Sometimes, though, a home becomes a den of flying sawdust simply because pop got some power tools for his birthday. Whether his efforts result in "improvement" is debatable. But, undoubtedly, some changes are made.

There should be a raft of do-it-yourself jobs coming up soon. Power tool manufacturers claim sales are ahead 30 per cent for the first 10 months of this year as compared with the same period a year ago.

Last year $10 billion were spent on remodeling and repairs, and such a goodly amount should certainly be spent wisely.

Even the experienced do-it-yourselfer shouldn't attempt a structural remodeling job without first consulting an architect. You may want to solve the problem of two tiny, impractical rooms by knocking down the wall between them. But unless you check first with an expert, you may damage the structure of your house.

Check carefully, too, before you contract for a building or repair job. Be sure that the price quoted covers everything you've been led to believe will be done. Sometimes modifications alter the price, and you find to your dismay that your final bill is more than you had expected.

Furnishings and appliances take another big chunk out of the budget of American families. Home fashion is now a $17 billion a year industry.

Turn mom loose in the appliance department and she'll give up the idea of a new fur coat. But that won't save any money. For every squeak in the old refrigerator will be magnified in her ears from that day on, until she's sure it won't last another month. And that beautiful pink one in the store would match the wall paper perfectly.

At a recent association meeting it was suggested that carpet salesmen should learn more about the way women think if they want to build up sales. If they've done their "homework," they'll point out to mom that the floor is the first wall of a room and that the room should be decorated from the floor up. You may then find yourself paying for a whole new living room, when all you needed was a new rug.

If that happens, pop, even the score by insisting that watering the lawn is too time-consuming a job to face year after year, and you must have an underground watering system. An installation for the lawn area of an average-sized home lot only costs between $500 and $700.

In the home improvement area, it is possible to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear. All you need is the money!

Planting a tree? Remember the limbs on a young tree do not move higher from the ground as the tree grows. They grow in thickness and length, but the tree gains height only at the tip of its crown and the limbs remain the same distance from the ground.

PAINTING TIP

Budget The Cleaning: Clean Room A Day

How often you hear women say, "I've got to clean house today. The place is a mess." Instead of one weekly job, try putting yourself on a room-to-room basis for a change. One room a day, thoroughly cleaned, actually KEEPS a tidy house.

Start your preparations by commandeering something on wheels, such as a kitchen serving cart. Load it with a pan of thick soap or detergent suds, a pail or bowl of rinse water, two sponges, clean cloths, and an extra bowl to hold the soiled suds you squeeze out. When you wheel your mobile cleaning aids into a room, you are equipped to chase a lot of dirt without having to walk back and forth for the tools to do it with.

Today's wonderful upholstery materials do nicely with a thorough sudsing once in a while. A big plastic-upholstered lounge chair can—and should be—"tendered" from top to bottom. Squeeze a big sponge in fluffy suds, scrape excess suds off along the rim of the suds pan, then go over one section of the chair at a time, with overlapping motions. Rinse with that second sponge, squeezed out in clear water. Then wipe dry with the clean cloth.

It might be a good idea to add an ordinary ruler to your cart supplies—for getting into upholstery crevices, for there's where so much dust and lint accumulates. Use one end of the ruler to prod an edge of the sudsy sponge into the crevice where the back and seat meet. A long cross-wise swipe will remove the soil. Then wipe out the suds with your ruler and rinsing sponge, followed by your dry wiping cloth. Don't forget that every chair has a bottom. Unless the dust on the underside is swabbed away, it will filter down onto your clean floor every time somebody sits down.

Dirt and tarish can be removed from brass-finished hardware without destroying the antique finish by brushing on a mixture of vinegar and salt. Follow with a thorough washing and rinsing.

For safety's sake, do not discard cabinets or refrigerators without removing the doors. Children who crawl into these pieces of furniture can suffocate if the door is pulled shut.

What should go into the medicine chest? A doctor recommends including a cake of soap and a scrubbing brush to cleanse skin immediately after a minor wound.

Protect the wall behind a stove from grease splatters and food stains by giving the clean wall thin coats of white shellac. Splatters and stains can then be removed with a damp cloth.

Preparation Pays Off On Painting Job

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

It's a truism that any paint job is only as good as the preparation for it. But while most people accept the theory they follow the practice of simply setting up ladders and painting away the first pleasant day that comes along.

Since ideal painting weather may not always occur when the homeowner has the time to do the job, it's understandable that many preliminary steps are skipped.

Try to get the preparation done well ahead of time. Unlike painting, preparation can be done an hour or so at a time over a long period.

Loose, peeling or blistered paint should be removed. Scrape or sand off the old finish. A putty knife or scraper will remove loose paint. Watch for accumulated dirt and remove this as well. A wire brush will also come in handy.

Defective paint that is not loose enough for a scraper can be removed with rough sandpaper. Feather edges wherever you remove paint. The surface at the edge should be smooth or a ridge will show through the new finish.

In extremely difficult cases, especially where large areas are involved, the paint is burned off. This is done with a blow torch or with a special device that combines the features of an electric iron and a scraper.

Since the danger of fire is great for the inexperienced person, better leave burning to the experts.

Look for cracks and nail holes. Fill them with wood putty and sand smooth. They should have plenty of time to harden before painting.

Check windows for loose or missing putty. Scrape out thoroughly, then brush on a coat of linseed oil over the exposed wood. Apply fresh putty or glazing compound, which doesn't dry out as putty may.

Check around window sash, doors and other joints to see if new caulking is needed. Again, scrape out broken caulking before applying fresh caulking.

If there are knots in the wood, seal them with shellac before painting. This will prevent them from bleeding through the paint.

Once you have scraped off all loose paint, give these bare spots a coat of exterior grade primer. These will then be dry and ready for the final coat when you get set to paint.

Throw Out Old Stuff

Instead of a coffee klatch today, how about a closet klatch? Begin by throwing out lots of old stuff. No sense holding onto things forever.

Unless those hats are classics, chances are they're out of style this year. Keep a couple that have possibilities. Get rid of the others.

Get out the woollens and send a batch off to the cleaners. And now start to organize the closet.

Arrange summer clothes in garment bags. How convenient it is to have something freshly ironed for that first warm day.

Check around window sash, doors and other joints to see if new caulking is needed.

Again, scrape out broken caulking before applying fresh caulking.

If there are knots in the wood, seal them with shellac before painting. This will prevent them from bleeding through the paint.

Once you have scraped off all loose paint, give these bare spots a coat of exterior grade primer. These will then be dry and ready for the final coat when you get set to paint.

Store away your fall and winter clothes. Don't forget mothballs. Many homemakers find new insecticide sprays effective for this purpose.

Be sure to save your old hatboxes and shoe boxes. When you wallpaper your bedroom or hall, you might want to try this trick: use some of the leftover paper to cover these boxes for the closet.

While there are many attractive types of storage receptacles on the market, nothing gives the finished look quite like matching paper.

United Wallpaper recommends a prepacked, precision-trimmed and plasticized wallpaper for this purpose. Because the paper is prepacked, it merely has to be dipped into cold water before applying.

Since it is plasticized, it can be kept fresh looking with just the application of a damp cloth from time to time.

Check around window sash, doors and other joints to see if new caulking is needed.

If there are knots in the wood, seal them with shellac before painting. This will prevent them from bleeding through the paint.

Once you have scraped off all loose paint, give these bare spots a coat of exterior grade primer. These will then be dry and ready for the final coat when you get set to paint.

Check Color Scheme For Harmony

When one house looks better than its neighbors, but you can't quite figure out why, check its color scheme.

Exterior color is often the secret of a more attractive, better-proportioned appearance. With a wide palette of colors available today in both exterior paints and roofing materials, the appearance of any home can be improved and given individuality without making architectural changes.

Since the roof normally is the largest visible exterior area of a house, its color is the most important. It should harmonize with both the landscape and other exterior colors.

The many shades of asphalt shingle, from white to black, and including many pastels, blended colors and deep tones, make it possible to choose exactly the right roof color. Many of them harmonize with a variety of colors, so that the home owner can change other exterior colors completely when the house is repainted, without causing a jarring note.

Since white and pastel asphalt shingles help keep a house cool by bouncing the sun off without causing glare, they are a good choice for sunny locations. They also help make a low house look higher and add a light, modern look. Darker colors are used with Colonial or traditional architecture. Another choice is a blend of different tones of one color or a combination of several.

To avoid a cluttered look, color consultants advise home owners to use no more than four exterior colors on roof, siding, trim and accent points such as entrance door and shutters. Each color should be a different value—lighter or darker than the others.

A survey of 1,000 dwellings in three large suburban counties points up the importance of sprucing up a house before placing it on the market.

The study, recently completed, showed that 15 per cent of homeowners who were about to sell their homes did a major interior and exterior housepainting immediately before placing them with brokers.

Owners of homes in the $20-$25,000 price category, who had their houses decorated, received anywhere from eight to 12 per cent higher than comparable dwellings without the fresh paint. Since many of the homeowners in this price range are do-it-yourselfers, the price of the paint was the only cost involved.

R. J. Eckart, vice president in charge of research at Sapolin Paints, Inc. commented that not only did homeowners receive significantly higher amounts for their houses, but also found buyers more quickly.

Within recent years, the paint industry has intensified its efforts in creating paints for specific surfaces.

For example, roofings and sidings now can be protected with coatings such as Temp-Trol, which actually reduce interior temperatures by up to 15 degrees in summer. The presence of leafing-type aluminum pigment in the formula forms an instant shield. This paint also gives roofs superior resistance to winds of even hurricane proportions, literally glueing down asphalt shingles.

To remove stubborn white mineral deposits from glass cookware, half fill it with hot water and two tablespoons of vinegar. Boil the mixture for a few minutes and then wash the utensil.

Because they provide natural drainage and protection against high room temperatures, porous clay pots are preferred containers for house plants.

Kennedy Seemingly Wins Victory

By Leon Dennen

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — President Kennedy seemingly won a diplomatic victory in the Cold War when he quarantined Cuba last October and forced the Russians to remove their offensive missiles.

Red China's Mao Tse-tung, Nikita Khrushchev's bitter foe in the Communist world, denounced Moscow's Cuban retreat as a "Soviet Munich."

There is little doubt that in a world where "face" is important the Soviet premier suffered a loss in prestige.

Yet in six months, while United States diplomacy was paralyzed by partisan quarrels, Khrushchev was able to snatch victory out of defeat. He even had the effrontery to announce that he had accepted Castro's invitation to visit Moscow's Cuban satellite 90 miles from Florida.

As seen by specialists on communism, Khrushchev was able to turn defeat into victory because the Russians never conceded that it was the U. S. quarantine that forced them to remove their missiles from Cuba.

Moscow's Pravda and Izvestia write to this day that the Soviet premier's "sacrifice to peace" was due solely to President Kennedy's alleged pledge not to invade Cuba and to prevent anti-Communist Cubans from overthrowing Castro's dictatorship.

This has also been repeated with deadly monotony by Moscow's global propaganda organ Novoye Vremia (New Time) ever since the United States failed to press Khrushchev for the agreed, on-site inspection of missile bases. Such inspection was the main condition for lifting the quarantine, President Kennedy said last fall.

The State Department was obviously reluctant to engage in a public debate with the Red press. Thus, the United States never denied officially that a pledge to bar force against the Castro regime was the price paid Khrushchev for removing his missiles from Cuba.

However, it was the Soviet premier himself — and not anonymous Red journalists — who recently warned that Russia will aid Cuba if the United States failed "to carry out" the agreement Khrushchev says he reached with President Kennedy in October.

The Soviet Premier spoke at Moscow's mammoth rally for Fidel Castro. Here, as reported by Pravda, is what he said:

"A breach of obligations by the United States could not be regarded otherwise than as perfidy."

"If the United States does not strictly observe the agreement reached and aggravates the situation, the world might find itself in an even more dangerous situation than during last year's Caribbean crisis."

Truth, of course, is not a tenet of Marxist-Leninist double talk. Nor is Khrushchev known for his veracity. But he is the leader of one of the world's most powerful nations. His words about an agreement with President Kennedy, spoken in public, were clear. They can no longer be ignored or dismissed with vague denials by the United States.

Should Moscow's statements stand unchallenged, the belief that President Kennedy pledged to bar force against Castro under any conditions will bolster Red prestige in Latin America. It will play havoc with the Alliance for Progress. It will sow confusion in the United States.

No phase of the Kennedy administration's policy baffles the ordinary American more than the policy on Cuba, as this writer has found on trips around the United States.

Surely Americans are entitled to know if there are pledges of the kind Khrushchev is talking about. It is not enough to say that the foreign policy of a free nation is the business of the government. Policies pursued by democracies are credible and can be effective only if the whole people share the conviction that their aims are right.

Are the Reds indulging as usual in reckless propaganda? If so, no time should be lost by the State Department in contradicting officially and without ambiguity Khrushchev's claims.

Alcohol Agent Fined As Drunk

LEE, Mass. (UPI) — Clarence Dixon was fined $100 in district court on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol and drunkenness.

Dixon, who pleaded innocent and appealed the conviction, is an inspector for the state Alcoholic Beverages Commission.

Schoolmasters Protest Tattoos

BARROW, England (UPI) — Schoolmasters have asked the government to make it illegal to tattoo a child under 16 without parental consent.

H. Cunliffe, headmaster of Risedale secondary school, said he was shocked to find seven boys in a physical training class had tattoos, including one with "a naked woman along his forearm."

One way to solve the seating problem for guests is to purchase a stack of plastic shell chairs, upholstered in foam rubber, which fit together in a pile when not in use.

Miss McAlexander, William Chandler Married At First Methodist Church

Miss Dorothy Jean McAlexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McAlexander, and William Ray Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Chandler, of St. Augustine, were married May 24 at 4 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Sanford.

Rev. John T. Adams Jr., pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mrs. R. K. Wiggins presented a program of wedding music.

The church was decorated with palms and arrangements of white pom poms, stock and baby's breath, including a large altar arrangement flanked by tall candelabra with white burning tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of delicate pink lace with matching accessories. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a half crown and she carried a colonial nosegay, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Louise Dodimead, maid of honor, wore an aqua lace dress, with white accessories and a headpiece of matching flowers.

The groom's father, served as best man and Alex Carman was usher.

The bride's mother wore a blue and white embroidered sheath, with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a green and white print with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Loch Arbor. The home was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers and the bride's table, overlaid with a white organdy and lace cloth was centered with a white floral arrangement, flanked by candelabra. Silver and crystal appointments completed the table arrangements.

Refreshments of cake, punch, wedding ring minis and nuts were served to the guests. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Betty Noyes, Mrs. Charles W. Carman and Mrs. George Maffett.

For traveling Mrs. Chandler chose a blue linen suit with white accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet. The couple left for a wedding trip through the southern states and will reside in El Paso, Texas, while the groom is attending Missale School at Fort Bliss.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McAlexander, of DeLand, and Mrs. W. S. Park, St. Augustine. The groom's parents entertained with a rehearsal supper at the Capri, following the rehearsal for the wedding.

The bride graduated from Seminole High School in 1960 and has been attending Florida Southern College. The groom graduated from the St. Augustine High School and he also attended Florida Southern. He is presently serving with the U. S. Marine Corp.

Praying Hands Program Given By Eastern Star

Twenty-eight members and three visitors recently witnessed a very impressive program at Seminole Chapter 2, Order of Eastern Star. The program was based on one of the Worthy Matron's emblems for the year—praying hands.

A plaque of praying hands was spotlighted against a runner of white paper in the East. Mrs. Byron Leach read a poem "Praying Hands," followed by a reading "Our Hands" by Mrs. Charles Cole, worthy matron. The program closed with a solo by Mrs. Joe Corley "Beautiful Hands."

Changes in procedure were read from Grand Chapter affecting local Chapters. Substituting officers Mrs. P. A. Rowland, Mrs. Harvey Dunn, Mrs. J. O. Huff, and W. D. Causey were recognized.

Birthday honorees were Mrs. W. R. Reynolds, Mrs. Herman Burger, Mrs. Joe Corley, Mrs. J. H. Blibrey, Mrs. Ruby Anderson, Mrs. J. J. Nicholson, and Mr. and Mrs. Byron Leach. They contributed to the Rainbow fund and were presented ceramic plaques of Praying Hands. The Rainbow fund was then presented to Mrs. Reynolds, Mother Advisor of the Rainbow Girls to help defray their expenses to Grand Assembly on June 16.

Enterprise Family Enjoys Western Trip

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Wright returned last week to their home in Enterprise after five weeks of traveling across the country to Los Angeles, Calif.

They visited with their daughter, Reita, in Monrovia, then up the coastal route to San Francisco. They also went up the Redwood Highway to Portland, Ore., for a visit with granddaughter, Christa, her husband Ken and family, then on to Seattle and a trip into Victoria Garden, B. C.

Enroute home they stopped in Butte, Mont., and Salt Lake City where they heard the famous choir at the Mormon Temple. They spent one night with Mrs. Ralph Sauls, in Atlanta. During the entire trip they covered almost 8,000 miles.

Miss Gloria Jean Crews To Marry Robert O. Cohen

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Crews, 614 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gloria Jean, to Robert O. Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Cohen, 703 South Magnolia Ave.

Miss Crews was born in Apopka and graduated from Seminole High School with the 1962 Class. While in high school she was a member of the Glee Club and Future Nurses Club. She is presently employed by Goodyear Service Store.

The groom-elect was born in Sanford and was a member of the 1958 graduating class of Seminole High School. He served four years in the U. S. Army, two years of which were spent in Germany. He is now self employed in Titusville.

The wedding will be an event of July 4 at the First Baptist Church in Sanford with Rev. Fred Chance officiating.

Longwood Personals

By Donna Esten

Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy have returned to their home in Longdale after attending the state convention of the Knights of Columbus, held at Tampa. Mr. Kennedy was a delegate from St. Richard's Council 5357. While the men attended business conferences, social activities were in progress for the wives. After the Pope died all social events were cancelled.

Mrs. William Hollam recently visited her husband in Lexington, Ky., where he is employed.

Wells Family Visiting Her Parents

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Skinner of 908 Magnolia Ave. have as their guests, their daughter and son-in-law and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Wells, Paul and Stuart, of Sanford, Conn. Mrs. Wells will be remembered as Carol Skinner, and they will spend their vacation here, in Sanford, and at the Jo-Dee Apartments, in New Smyrna Beach.

Sunny Skinner has returned to Sanford from Charlotte, N. C., where she has just finished her sophomore year at Queens College. July 1, Sunny and her parents will go to their home in Hendersonville, N. C., for the rest of the summer.

Sorority Learns To Eat Butterflies

At a recent meeting of the Phi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, at the home of Miss Donna Hodges, the group was introduced to a new delicacy "Butterflies." They were made of dough and sprinkled with sugar and were quickly accepted by the girls.

Preceding the unusual refreshments, the hostess assisted by Miss Leslie Jones, presented a witty skit entitled "The duties of a hostess and guest." This was the final meeting of the season for the newly organized group.

Surprise Shower Honors Mrs. Cook

A surprise miscellaneous shower was held recently in Fellowship Hall of the Congregational Christian Church when the Ethel Root Circle members met for their regular monthly meeting.

The ladies met in the hall as usual and the business session was well underway when the unsuspecting guest of honor arrived. Making sure that all members and gifts would arrive first, Mrs. Norma Cook, bride-elect, was detained deliberately by one of the ladies. All went in a very businesslike manner until the Wedding March was played and the honoree was showered with many lovely wrapped gifts from under an elaborately decorated pink ruffled and lace umbrella.

Games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Walter Bethea and Mrs. Ralph Lossing.

The serving table was overlaid with a white linen cloth and held white and silver tapers in crystal holders. In the center was a large tree of tiny handmade lace and ribbon umbrellas in pastel colors. More miniature umbrellas attached to nut cups held assorted nuts and were placed at random.

Chicken salad and cream cheese sandwiches and petit fours in pastel colors topped with assorted pastel rosebuds were served on lace doilies. Punch was served from a crystal bowl decorated with gardenias and pink carnations carrying out the pastel theme.

Mrs. Maurice Corbett served assisted by Mrs. Helen Remusat and Mrs. Edward Simpson. About 30 members enjoyed the meeting and Miss Osterholm To Marry Wallace M. Philips, Jr.

Cdr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Osterholm, 1133 Rainier Drive, Oak Harbor, Wash., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Carolee, to Wallace Merritt Philips Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace M. Philips, 2009 Lilly Court, of Sanford.

Miss Osterholm was born in Connecticut, attended North Attleboro High School in Massachusetts, but transferred to Sanford in her freshman year as her father was stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Station. A graduate of the 1960 Seminole High School class, Miss Osterholm was a member of the Spanish Club and a majorette in the Seminole High School Band. She attended Saint Petersburg Junior College and is presently employed at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank.

The groom-elect was born in Florence, S. C., attended schools in Sanford, and graduated in 1959 from Seminole High School. He was active in sports, music and a member of the Key Club. He attended Davidson College in North Carolina and graduated in January, 1963. While at Davidson he was a member of Pi Kappa Phi social fraternity. In the fall he will attend Emory University Medical School.

An August wedding is being planned.

Jaycee Wives Present Program On Lighting

The Jaycee Wives Club met at the Lake Mary home of Mrs. Jack Wilber for the June session. Mrs. Hammond Polk, president, welcomed a visitor, Mrs. Chuck Bose, and a new member, Mrs. Jimmy Smith.

Mrs. Charles Telenbaum gave a report on the tasting tea, held recently. It was such a success it was recommended that it become an annual event.

Plans were discussed for a swim party and members voted to send a check to the Good Samaritan Home. The president was asked to see if there was any other way the club could help.

Miss Lucy Nowlin, of the Florida Power and Light Co. showed slides and gave a talk on outdoor lighting. She also exhibited several kinds of lights. The one the group liked best was a decorative lamp that electrocutes bugs when they get too close.

Nancy Schuring's SKI SCHOOL

Written for NEA
Tubs-offs are best learned in shallow water. With the skin properly adjusted in the bladders, wade into a few feet of water and grasp the tow bar. The tow line should be rigged to your boat, which should be about 50 feet away and aimed away from you.

Take the sitting position you practiced on land, tilting your skis until the tips are popping above the water. It is well to have an experienced skier take off with you the first few times to give you confidence and steady you if you begin to wobble, which you probably will.

The driver should ease ahead until the line is taut and wait until you feel up to shouting "hit it!" At your signal, there will be a sudden, but gentle pull and before you know it you'll rise to the surface and actually be planning. They'll tell you to keep your arms and skis straight, but if you can do that the first time out, you're a natural born champion.

You'll probably come up hunched over, with the knees bent too deeply, but that won't make too much difference as long as you stay upright.

Once you get used to riding the water, you'll begin to feel how easy it is and gain confidence to straighten out the flaws.

YOU'LL probably come up hunched over with the knees bent.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolaki
Gee, we had a good time Saturday night at the Civic Center. As a matter of fact, I remember that was the general consensus of the other 125 people who also were in attendance.

For the benefit of those of you who weren't on hand, permit me to inform you that you missed out on the second annual Junior Bowling League banquet!

We were especially pleased on the number of parents who took time from their busy schedules to be there as their sons and daughters stepped into the spotlight for their due recognition and trophies.

Just for the record, there were more than 50 trophies presented to these happy youngsters.

Special thanks and appreciation from all of the Junior League members to the various sponsors who helped to make this year's event even bigger and better than last year's. Those falling into this category are the Florida Power and Light Co., Sanford Manufacturing Co., Sanford Electric Co., Carroll Daniel Construction Co. and Dr. Robert Smith.

If your son or daughter isn't presently a member of this popular bowling league, won't you please have them at the lanes this Saturday at 9:30 a. m.

There are quite a few happy faces around our town this week. And you can thank Mr. Mallman for that, too.

The winner's checks finally arrived for the bowling done in the Men's State Bowling Tournament.

One of the big money winners was Dennis Munro (local Navy man) who finished eighth in the handicap singles event and collected $120.

Here are some of the other winners: Eddie Kirchhoff, $7 for singles; Henry Tamm, $5 also singles; as was the case for Dick Atkins, $5; and Bob Combs, $10 and John Wright $18 for singles and $5 for A. E.

In the doubles category, Hall-Kirchhoff, $35; Floyd Martin-Dennis Munro, $150; and Borsdorf-Spolaki, $15.

I believe that Al DePalma told me he collected something like $10 for his strong finishes in the singles and all events groups.

I'm quite certain that there are many, many others who also won prize money. As soon as I'm able to find these results the information will be passed on to you.

Don't forget about the Sunday Sweeper this coming Sunday and the Sunday immediately following it. Since Winter Garden is running its big Scotch doubles, they won't be running their sweeper on the last Sunday of the month. So, we'll be running an extra one during June.

It's not too many weeks away until you'll be hearing more and more about the Men's Bowling Association tournament, the Fire Cracker Special.

It was introduced over the Fourth of July week last year and it was a tremendous success. Well, the same time and set of rules will apply again this year.

It'll be in two divisions, A—170 average and above; and B—169 and under.

The qualifying rounds will be on July 1 through the 4th, and the eliminations will commence on the 5th through the 7th.

Last year's winners were John Wright in the A group and Gary Folds in the B division.

This past Friday night saw Bob Timlin connecting on all 10 pins as he shot the high single in the Mr. and Mrs. League, a 215. Similar honors to Joan Krick for her fine showing of 189/490 combination.

The Friday A. M. Holler Motors-Navy Wives League watched Lucy Mayer's fast ball clear the pins from the deck. Lucy just missed the "charmed circle" with a 104/459 series.

Sanford Legion Nine Has Near Perfect Record

Sanford, undefeated in the American Legion Baseball League, travels to Eustis Wednesday for a Sixth District game at 7:30 p.m.

Then on Saturday at 1 p. m. Sanford, representing Campbell - Losing Post 53 will take on DeLand in a double-header at Municipal Stadium.

Sanford is in the Sixth District with Orlando, Eustis and Apopka. Districts winner will compete in the state tournament and that winner in the regional tournament at Greenwood, S. C.

After playing an 11-inning 6-0 with Ormond Beach in the first game of the season, Sanford defeated Eustis 6-0 with Don Smith gaining the win, Ormond Beach 9-2 with Jimmy Courier the winning pitcher, and DeLand 8-1 with Bobby Johnson going all the way.

Campbell-Losing team is a compromise of boys 16-18 and represent Lyman, Orlando and Seminole High Schools.

George Perides is coach and Frank Thomas is manager.

THIS BEAUTY SPOT is on the tranquil and serene Wekiva River, at Herb and Adah Sutton's Wekiva River Haven. But on weekends it's anything but tranquil and serene. There's a huge gar nicknamed "Flippy" who makes his habitat right in the center of this scene. (He's nicknamed "Flippy" for his continual playing and leaping from the water.) Nearly every Saturday and Sunday for two years "Flippy" has been playing a game with an ardent fisherman, who devotes all his fishing time in efforts to hook the gar. This fisherman has no designs on other fish . . . he wants "Flippy." And to date "Flippy" has won every round. (Herald Photo)

Chi Bears Buy Vet Tom Bettis

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Bears today acquired veteran linebacker Tom Bettis from the Pittsburgh Steelers for a 1963 draft choice, owner coach George Halas announced.

Bettis, a 235-pound linebacker, played seven years with the Green Bay Packers before he was traded to Pittsburgh last year. He played college football at Purdue.

Cepeda, Bailey Pace Giants Over Dodgers

By United Press International
The Los Angeles Dodgers had better get a new book on Orlando Cepeda and Ed Bailey or they'll have to read about the World Series again next October.

The Dodgers have one of the best pitching staffs in baseball but Cepeda and Bailey greet 'em like they were battling practice hurlers. Just take a look at how Orlando and Ed have treated Dodger pitching and you have the explanation for the fact the San Francisco Giants have beaten Los Angeles in three of their last four meetings.

The Giants topped the Dodgers again Monday night, 7-5, with Cepeda crashing a line-breaking homer in the eighth

Sarasota Gains One Game Over St. Petersburg

By United Press International
Pace-setting Sarasota gained another game over the Florida State League Monday night, beating second-place St. Petersburg 8-3.

In other league action, Miami beat Fort Lauderdale 7-4, Tampa beat Lakeland 9-4 and Orlando took a 13-inning contest from Daytona Beach 1-0.

A four-run second inning rally gave Sarasota the win. Catcher Joe Cherry got the biggest blow of the inning, a one-run triple in right field. Another run was singled in and two were walked home.

No birds now living have teeth.

Al Kaline Slams Out Homers 200, 201

By United Press International
Al Kaline may at last have the last laugh on those critics who've said he'll never be a better ball player than he was at 20 years of age.

It's been seven full seasons since Kaline won the American League batting title with a .310 average in 1953 and became the youngest batting champion in major league history.

Kaline is currently leading the AL with 45 runs batted in, ranks second in batting with a .337 mark and his 13 homers place him two behind leader Bob Allison of the Minnesota Twins.

Kaline reached a career milestone Monday night when he hit the 200th and 201st

Push-Button Pushovers

Listening to the blandishments that pour in on the American people, you'd think we were all physical cripples given over to nothing but comfort and pleasure.

All day long, we hear that this or that thing can be fun, can be had with ease, can be managed with "finger-tip control," can be found in a drive (never walk) "just minutes" from our doors.

Isn't there anything these people have to offer us to challenge our brains, our muscles, our stamina and will? Are we to get the world on a self-propelled platter while we dawdle on soft cushions?

The late comedian Willie Howard, doing a skit years back as a French teacher, offered a laughing audience "French in 10 easy lessons—or five hard ones."

This country will be a better place when people hear at least a few times a day that there are some hard, tough, taxing alternatives around somewhere that can't be managed with the flick of a wrist.

Before too many months it will be time to have a fresh look at the glossary of much-abused political terms.

In 1960 the honors went easily to "deadlock."

Even a superficial review of presidential nominating history back to post-Civil War days discloses that the convention deadlock is a fairly rare occurrence. Yet the idea turned up in 1960 more often than your breakfast orange juice.

Both major party nominees were of course chosen in one ballot.

An early front-runner this time is "king-maker." This covers the man who by exerting forceful influence, can either determine or affect a convention's choice.

Harry Truman tried it in 1956 on behalf of Averell Harriman and again in 1960 in aid of Sen. Stuart Symington. He failed because he had no power over delegates—which is how you make kings.

Now they're saying Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon want to be kingmakers for Michigan's Governor Romney. At the appropriate time in 1964, if this is indeed their aim, let the key question go out:

"How many delegates do they control?"

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona says the nation twice was rescued from financial disaster by war—first World War II and then the Korean war.

Certainly it is true that in 1940 and thereafter, the great war provided a stimulus to the economy which neither government nor business had been able to give it in the late 1930's. It is equally so that the Korean conflict helped erase the effects of the 1949-50 recession. The latter was no worse, however, than many we have had since.

Though it was not reported along with his observation on war and the economy, Goldwater presumably has ideas for stirring to prosperous heights an economy not merely without war but without $50 billion in "peace-time" defense outlay.

War may have "rescued" us from economic doldrums. But, aside from its terrible human cost, it added $216 billion to the U.S. public debt in 1941-45. Another $11 billion was tacked to the debt in the Korean war period.

Some of Goldwater's most ardent followers would say that is trading one kind of financial disaster for another.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Although everybody in the Kennedy administration from the President down and everybody in Congress is feeling pretty virtuous now for having passed an equal-pay-for-women amendment to the Fair Labor Standards Act, there is considerable question as to how much good it will do.

There are no accurate figures on how many women workers will get a pay increase out of it. More won't than will.

Of the 68 million workers in the U. S. civilian labor force, 23 million are women. Of these 23 million women, however, only 7.5 million are now covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act as to minimum wage, overtime and working hours.

These 7.5 million women are the only ones who stand to benefit in any way from the equal-pay-for-equal-work amendment.

Women workers in agriculture, hotels, motels, restaurants and laundries are excluded. So are all professional, managerial and administrative women workers, and all outside salesladies.

The equal-pay amendment, however, has so broadened the concept of what constitutes equal work for which equal pay must be given that it includes equal skill, effort, quality or quantity of work, experience, training, seniority or merit system now in effect and excludes almost every differential factor other than sex.

The new amendment doesn't mean that all women workers will have to be paid the same as all men workers on similar jobs across the board and across the country.

The legislation applies only to men and women doing exactly the same work under the same conditions in the same plant.

The catch is that so many restrictions were put in the amendment that it may turn out to have very limited effect.

The secretary of labor is given no regulatory authority. He is even prohibited from blacklisting for government contracts employers found guilty of violating the amendment. It is to be handled by the Wage and Hours Division of Department of Labor, now under Clarence T. Lundquist, who administers the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The Department of Labor is specifically denied the authority to go on fishing expeditions through an employer's payroll records, looking for possible violations of the equal work amendment. It cannot classify jobs.

Specified employer's records may be examined only after obtaining a federal court subpoena. Enforcement of the amendment will be only by federal court trial and decision, not by administrative order.

The amendment will not become effective until a year after it is signed by the President. For men and women workers covered by union labor agreements, the amendment will not become effective until the contract is renegotiated to comply with the new law or for two years, whichever date comes first.

The amendment is so limited, in fact, that Rep. Katharine St. George, R-N.Y., called it, "just one bite of the cherry."

"In other words," she said, "we are just nibbling away at a thing that could have been completely covered by an amendment to the Constitution, simply giving women equal rights and letting it go at that."

This is what the League of Women Voters wants.

'Well—It's Quittin' Time'

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE P-462: Lois L., aged 27, is president of a Women's Club. "Dr. Crane," she began, "we'd like to have you speak at our banquet meeting."

"For that is the time we invite our husbands to be present. So we should have a very large crowd."

"And I wish you would say some things to wake up both husbands and wives to a better understanding of each other."

So I did, but since the old adage about "Ladies first" is still in vogue, I picked on the wives at the outset.

One of the greatest causes for snarling husbands, who "chew out" wives, is the tardiness of women!

You members of the female sex thus are much like children. Most of you don't watch the clock!

Ordinarily, in business and industry a "clock watcher" is not desirable.

But you wives could easily reduce family tension if you'd just learn to be a keener clock watcher.

Thousands of good husbands thus must drive like the devil on Sunday morning just to get you to church on time!

And you wives are usually the guilty parties. For, although you have known for 7 days in advance that you were to get to church by 10:45, you piddle around in the kitchen long after you should have been in the car.

Your husband heads for the door, calling out, "Are you ready?"

"Yes," is your reply or "Yes, in just a moment."

So your husband goes out-doors and starts the motor. Then he begins to chafe and fume and get hot under the collar, although it is Sunday and he is supposed to be in a benign, meditative mood.

Finally, he even toots the horn. And then he may actually get out of the car and stomp into the house to bawl you out.

Then you traipse outside, but it is now so late he must break the speed laws to reach the church (or airport) on time.

Did you wives realize that you are indirectly responsible for thousands of auto wrecks every year, just because you have such a poor sense of time?

For it is angry husbands who are trying to make up the time you've wasted, that often smash the car and kill their families, plus innocent folks in the other auto.

"Hut, Dr. Crane," you wives protest, "my husband has nothing to do but put on his hat and coat, whereas I have many chores to perform in the kitchen. And I am left with the children to look after, too."

That sounds very plausible, on its face, but it is chiefly malarky!

Mrs. Crane used to hoof-wink me with that same outworn feminine alibi, too, but when our children were grown and all away from home, she was still just as slow to get into the car.

Besides, if you wives have 24 hours advance warning of a date for church or a movie, then why don't you organize your time better?

And on Sunday, why not get ready for church and only then start to putter around in the kitchen. Why do you suppose aprons were invented?

To wear over your Sunday clothes, of course! But you wives wait till almost church time before you even think about dolling up! More tomorrow.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

What Price Loyalty?

No one on the outside can yet be completely sure of the exact price Nikita Khrushchev paid for Fidel Castro's continued loyalty in the current bitter squabble between the Soviet Union and Red China.

Nor can it yet be foretold how far Khrushchev is willing to go to compromise that quarrel.

But unless Khrushchev is willing to break totally with his onetime Chinese friends, then a compromise must be made.

That compromise, plus his deal with Castro, is certain to have an effect on Communist tactics in Latin America, a prime Communist target.

Hence, all the more importance should be attached to the findings of a special later-American committee which investigated subversion in Latin America.

The committee reported that subversive activities issuing from Cuba have "increased considerably" in the last year.

From the communique issued at the close of Castro's visit to Moscow it has been concluded that Moscow's aid Cuba, currently running to about $500 million a year, not only will be continued but will be stepped up.

This is the kind of aid which has enabled Castro to make Cuba a headquarters for the training of hundreds of subversive agents who then are sent back to their own countries with money, weapons and forged documents.

A Sino-Soviet compromise at their meeting scheduled for next month in Moscow almost certainly would see a switch to the Chinese line of direct revolutionary action now, rather than the slower approach through popular political fronts as heretofore advocated by Khrushchev.

Among the individual nations, Venezuela is a No. 1 Communist target. But there, determined action by President Romulo Betancourt's government has forced the Communists into retreat even though they remain capable of acts of terrorism in Caracas.

The United States finds itself on the horns of a dilemma. The U.S.-sponsored Alliance for Progress is dedicated to the aid of governments elected by democratic processes.

But in more than one Latin American nation, quick military action might prove democracy's defense against a Red take-over by infiltration, subversion and terror.

Site Changed For Casselberry Swim Classes

By Jane Casselberry
American Red Cross swimming classes will begin in Casselberry on Wednesday morning at Lake Crystal Bowl for beginners, advanced beginners and intermediates.

It has been necessary to change the site of the classes to the home of Roy Pope at 3500 Crystal Bowl instead of Lake Griffin as previously announced.

Crystal Bowl is spring-fed and known for its clear water. It is located just northwest of the South Seminole school and can be reached by turning off Hwy. 17-04 on Lake Tripet Dr. at the firehouse, turning right on South Tripet, past Queen's Mirror to Winner Park Dr.

The first morning class will begin at 8:45 and the first afternoon class at 1:45. Registration was held Saturday and continued until Monday as there was room for a few more.

Vegetable Market

In New York Monday, the market was slightly stronger for Florida celery, corn and peppers, slightly weaker for okra, and about unchanged for most other items. Celery, in crates of two to 3½ dozen sold for 3.25-3.50, three dozen were 3.30, mostly 3.25 and four dozen 2.75-3. No sales of celery hearts were reported.

Crates of 4½ to five dozen ears of corn ranged from 2.85-3.75, mostly 3-3.25. Eggplant sold for 2.50-3. in bushel hampers, baskets and crates, mostly 3. Okra was 6.50-7.50 per bushel hamper for small to medium size, mostly 7-7.50. Bushel hampers of crowder peas (purple hull) were 2.75-3. Peppers brought 3.50-4. for extra large and 3.75-3.50, mostly 3-3.50 for large, in bushel baskets or crates.

In Central Florida, celery prices were steady, with a fair demand. Crates of two to 3½ dozen sold for 2.25, four dozens were 1.75 and other sizes 2. Crates of 24 film wrapped celery hearts were 2.75. Corn sold for 2-2.50 per crate of five dozen ears for yellow, mostly 2.25, and white type was 2.25. Pepper sales ranged from 1.75-2.30 according to condition, with most offerings fair condition and selling for 1.75-2. There were too few sales of eggplant to establish a market.

Shipments from Florida over the weekend included: rail 94, truck 102; peppers, rail 15, truck 35, and radishes rail none, truck two.

DeBary Civic Assn. To Meet

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The DeBary Civic Assn. will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the Community Center for the last meeting of the current season. Members who have stamp books or loose trading stamps to donate towards purchase of the organ are asked to turn them in at this time.

DeBary Day at Fonce DeLeon Springs, sponsored by the Civic Assn. and the local Chamber of Commerce, will be held this Friday. Plenty of gate prizes will be awarded and for a small fee DeBary residents attending will be given use of the picnic grounds, underwater observatory, swimming pool, bath house and fishing facilities plus dancing in the main dining room. Other attractions at the recreation spot include the train ride, the stern wheel boat ride, the old sugar mill pancake house and the snack bar and lounge.

Mrs. Lamar Stokes, class president, presided at the meeting, which was opened with prayer by Mrs. Harley Wilhelm. Mrs. M. P. Matheson, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. Coupons were collected and members were reminded to continue to turn them in through the month of June. They were also asked for

Altamonte Garden Club To Have Picnic

By Julia Barrios
The Garden Club of Altamonte Springs will hold its annual covered dish supper and picnic this Thursday at the Altamonte Park, weather permitting. In the event of rain the picnic will be held at the Altamonte Springs Community House.

Children are invited. All persons planning to attend are asked to bring their own plate and silver.

Serving on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hodges, chairmen, and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Baumgartner, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Benkelman, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Winter, and Jesse Harbot. Other members will assist with the serving.

The picnic will be the club's last event until meetings are resumed next October.

Church Choir Sets Third Annual Concert

The third annual spring concert of secular music by the Chancel Choir of the Park Lake Presbyterian Church of Orlando will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Egyptian Room of the Cherry Plaza Hotel.

Conducting the group will be H. E. McFarland, minister of music of Park Lake Church. Accompanist will be Gene Webb, church organist.

The program will include choruses from Offenbach's "La Belle Helene," selections from Brahms' "Liedeslieder Waltzes," a piano duet by Webb and Bill Madson and selections from the "Music Man."

PTA Meet Set

The newly elected executive board of the Lyman High School PTA will meet at 8 p.m. today at the school with Principal Carlton Henley to make plans in order to facilitate matters when school opens in the fall.

Rev. Miller Speaks For Baccalaureate

By Jane Casselberry
Rev. Edward Miller, pastor of Altamonte Chapel who has served as chaplain for the Greyhounds' football team for the past three years, delivered the sermon Sunday night at the baccalaureate exercises at Lyman High School auditorium. He was introduced by Principal Ralph Diggs.

The invocation was given by Nellie Rupe and the benediction by Victoria Forsyth, members of the graduating class.

The processional and recessional were played on the organ by Mrs. Darwin Shea and the chorus was directed by Mrs. Dorothea Benson, both of whom graciously stepped in as last minute substitutes for Mrs. Neil Drueding, who suffered a slipped disc a few days ago.

The chorus sang "I Heard a Forest Praying" by DeRose and "Lift Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn.

Honor escorts were Susan BonEsse, Sylvia Chambers, Joseph Pavechak and Roger Schmidt.

Ushers were Alice Hall, Marcia Lyons, Mary Mack, Donna McCoy, Bernadette Osvala, and Lorraine Wagner. A reception was held by the seniors in the cafeteria. Punch and cake were served by members of the home economics classes.

The senior class looked back to its early years at Lyman to choose the "Honor Teacher" to cut the senior cake decorated in the school colors of blue and gold. Mrs. Euillia Grantham, who taught third grade at Lyman when it included all 12 grades, was given the honor. She now is a teacher at Bear Lake Elementary School.

Osteen School Has Festival

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder

A music festival was held at the Osteen School near the close of school under the direction of Mrs. Sellers, music director of the Volusia County schools.

All grades participated in the program which included music from Hungary, Belgium, Mexico, England, Australia and Italy. The United States was represented in a cowboy song and a square dance number.

The first grade opened the program with a welcome song and the program closed with all singing "America, the Beautiful."

Young People Have Party

By Helen Snodgrass

A group of young people from the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Barnett Memorial Methodist Church of Enterprise enjoyed an all day picnic and swimming party at Sanlando Springs last Friday.

Those attending, who coincided the event, "glad that school is out" party, were Dwayne Watson, Linda Long, Richard and Jimmy Morris, Susan Ryan, Ernie Watson, Charles Sims, Timmy Sain, Van Robbins, Danny Braddock, Fay Isley, and Alan, Jimmy and Crystal Braddock. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Braddock.

Memo to the City Commission: Please not to mumble over items with which you members are well acquainted. . . but with which those in the audience know nothing. 'Tis confusing to know what you are talking about. Same goes for the County Commission.

Mayor Tom McDonald has informed the City Commission members that all is complete in the negotiations to establish here the new Sanford Military Academy. But all officials are wondering where is the new school's superintendent, Col. Harry Furman, who was due here Monday to get the ball rolling.

City still a little concerned with ironing out problems with H.H. Hunt's want city facilities without annexation.

Harry Lee has been appointed a member of the City Civil Service Commission.

We would like to quote a memo from City Manager Pete Knowles to the City Commission: "Verbatim, that is: 'Letter attached regarding post facility whereby the federal HIFA is sitting on the application (for a feasibility study loan) until the city talks to them about a 15-year-old planning loan on sewage treatment. This might be termed 'government blackmail' as the federal government continues to reach out further and deeper to infringe on the democratic role of self-government.'" (Ed's note: That's the City Manager talking; not the "Clock.")

A youth program for South Seminole County was projected Monday evening by Alderman A. N. Lego at the Casselberry board meeting. "Teenagers have no supervised or organized outlets in South Seminole," said Lego, "and the communities of this area should get together and set up a youth program." A bouquet to Mr. Lego!

Ike Speaks Out
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today "anybody who would spend $40 billion in a race to the moon for national prestige is nuts."

Solons Eye End; Debate Colleges

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida's tax program for the next biennium began taking shape today as the Legislature worked to adjourn the extended 1963 session on Friday and go home.

House and Senate members are still not in agreement on the bulk of a proposed $140 million tax program to underwrite record state spending, mostly for education. But tax bills have begun to move and there is hope for early adjournment, barring a hopeless tangle that would require a conference committee to untangle.

Such a tangle might come over a proposed $5 across-the-board increase in license tags for passenger cars and a $15 raise in the price of tags for mobile homes.

If this $3 million in revenue is lost, it could force the Legislature to take another look at a grocery tax which thus far has been strongly resisted.

Legislators say the $140 million tax program would still leave a $30 million gap between spending and income. A further widening by $23 million would make the grocery tax almost inevitable although the Senate decisively defeated such a tax Monday and the House finance committee has repeatedly refused to recommend the levy.

Bryant Seen As Successor To Smathers
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant refused to comment today on whether he would be available for appointment to the U. S. Senate should Sen. George Smathers get the nod for the U.S. Supreme Court.

Bryant has consistently said he would not run for the U. S. Senate when his term is over. But he always has qualified it by saying the reason he wouldn't run was because there would be no vacancy.

He said Sen. Spessard Holland plans to seek re-election next year and Smathers has several years to go on his current term.

But rumors circulating around Washington and drifting to Tallahassee say Smathers may be appointed to a U. S. Supreme Court judgeship to replace Justice Hugo Black who reportedly will resign.

Then, the rumor goes, Bryant would step down as governor and hand over the reins to Senate President Wilson Caraway, first in line to succeed a governor who resigns or is unable to serve. Caraway then would appoint Bryant to the Senate.

School Code Is Revised
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Bills containing sweeping revisions in Florida's public school code and creating a special commission to set up a code of conduct for teachers became law today.

The bills were allowed to become law along with a host of others without Gov. Farris Bryant's signature.

The school code bill, introduced by Sen. G. T. Mellon, Lake City, allows individual county school boards more latitude in running their schools by pulling the state's weight out of local matters.

Among the major changes, the new law will: —Authorize county boards to cooperate with other county boards, government agencies or non-profit corporations in joint projects and activities.

—Require county boards to supervise their individual school lunch programs.

—Authorize employment of teachers under 20 years old who have a four-year college degree.

—Make county boards responsible for control of all local school funds according to state Board of Education regulations.

$350,000 Water Plant Started

Brown Hired As Inspector

By Judy Wells
Actual construction on Altamonte Springs' $350,000 municipal water system got underway early this morning after some two years of preliminary work and engineering study. On hand when well-drilling equipment pushed through the earth for the first time were Altamonte Mayor Lawrence Swofford, Charles M. LaPrade, Housing and Home Finance Administration (HIFA) field engineer, and A. C. Brown, the town's new inspector and supervisor of construction.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS began construction this morning on its new Municipal Water System when well-digging equipment moved in next to the Town Hall and started work immediately. Looking over engineering plans for the well plant are Harold Rutcliffe, president of Gluco Engineering Corp., consulting engineers; Altamonte Mayor Lawrence Swofford, C. M. LaPrade, HIFA field engineer and A. C. "Ace" Brown, inspector and supervisor of construction for the town. (Herald Photo)

Recommendation to hire Brown, former assistant superintendent of the water works in Apopka, who resigned the job to come to Altamonte, was unanimously approved by four members of the Town Council at a special Tuesday night session after qualifications had been checked by council committee and planning engineers.

Thoroughly experienced in his line of work, Brown served from 1952 until 1958 as sales and service representative for Continental Motors of Muskegon, Mich., where he worked with industrial power units and pumps and irrigation systems.

From Continental he went to the Mann Irrigation Company, of Fitzgerald, Ga., where he designed and helped install large irrigation systems throughout the state.

Coming to Florida in 1960, Brown returned to the field to sell and supervise installation of cement asbestos pipe on municipal construction jobs later taking over the assistant superintendent's job in Apopka.

Crispy said the old post office and the land on which it sits was turned over by the City of Sanford for use as a public library. The land for lots is located immediately to the west of the old post office.

"We're hoping the latest bidder will raise his price to above the $100,000 mark," Crispy said. "If we don't get a bid of more than $100,000 we will put out another advertisement."

Crispy said he now wishes that the bidder who earlier offered $100,000 would re-submit his bid for the property.

Herman Jacobson, head of Ho-Jay, next in the list, told The Herald today he will re-submit his $100,000 original bid for the property.

U. S. Seeking Higher Bids On P. O. Site

ATLANTA (UPI) An official of the General Services Administration said today that GSA is delaying action on a bid for part of the site of the old post office at Sanford, Fla., by hopes of getting a higher bid.

William C. Crispy, general director for land disposal, said the federal agency earlier turned down a $100,000 bid for the 35-by-140 foot plot of land and is now sitting on a $1,000 bid which was offered after a second advertisement.

John Krider and John Brumley, of Sanford, members of the soon-to-be defunct St. Johns-Indian River Navigating Committee, have been endorsed by the State Legislature for appointment by Gov. Bryant as Seminole members of this five-man district aimed at guiding the planning for a canal from Sanford to the East Coast.

Negro Leader Slain After Kennedy Plea

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — The top integration strategist for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Mississippi was shot to death by a sniper early today while returning from a civil rights rally.

The slaying of Medgar Evers, 37, followed only hours a plea by President Kennedy for a "racial Golden Rule to put out 'fires of frustration and discord' among Negroes."

It was the third death in the South in the past two months involving participants in racial activities.

Evers, dying from a rifle slug in the back, was found by police investigating a report of a shooting in the neat, middle class Negro neighborhood where he lived in the Mississippi capital reeled for the past month by racial demonstrations.

The Negro leader died about 15 minutes after being taken to the University of Mississippi medical center.

Jackson Detective Chief M. B. Pierce, who sent detectives swarming into the neighborhood, announced that the FBI had been asked to assist the investigation.

The NAACP in New York immediately offered a $10,000 reward "for information which results in the arrest and conviction of any person or persons guilty of this crime."

Floridian Wins Writing Award
NEW YORK (UPI) — The third annual Paul Tobenkin Memorial Award for the best writing on the subject of civil rights was presented to James K. Batten, a reporter for the Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

Batten was given a $100 cash prize and cited for excellence in writing a series on "The Subject of the Unending War Against Racial and Religious Hate, Bigotry, Bias, Intolerance and Discrimination."

Honorable mention went to Emmett Peter Jr., Leesburg (Fla.) Daily Commercial, for an editorial campaign in defense of academic freedom in Florida's universities.

Two Negroes Start Class At Alabama

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Two Negroes started classes today at the University of Alabama where federalized National Guard troops forced

Mayor Tom McDonald released the following statement today: "The City of Sanford has had a bi-racial advisory committee for the past two years. This committee is comprised of leading citizens of both races. It has made recommendations at various times to the City Commission as to improvements to our community that would make Sanford a better place to live for all its citizens. I wish to take this opportunity to thank them for serving their community in this important way."

the capitulation of the last segregation holdout state. The campus was under strict control of military and civilian police forces.

Vivian Malone, 21, of Mobile, Ala., and Jimmy A. Hood, 21, of East Gadsden, Ala., moved calmly through historic events that brought federalized National Guardsmen to the campus before the two Negroes were finally registered late Tuesday against the protests of Gov. George C. Wallace.

The governor risked jail for contempt of court but apparently no one was ready to push for his arrest.

Soldiers with fixed bayonets on their rifles stood all-night guard duty at the entrances to the dormitories where Hood and Miss Malone were quartered.

Concert workers working in concert with the Army manned roadblocks and patrolled the campus for stragglers. One frightened student who had missed the strict 10 p. m. curfew was marched on the double to his dormitory by a state trooper.

Florida Tests Invalidated

By United Press International
A national teacher testing service spokesman said today the scores of a number of Florida applicants have been invalidated due to evidence they had advanced knowledge of test answers.

Ted McNulty, director of information for Education Testing Service of Princeton, N. J., said scores of 175 of 4,000 persons taking the test May 4 in 25 Florida testing centers had been "withheld."

McNulty said there was no evidence money had been exchanged for answers and there was a good chance the persons may have been unaware study aids furnished them contained actual answers.

Sarasotans Face Tax Election

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A constitutional amendment permitting Sarasota County voters to decide if they want a portion of their homesteads taxed for school purposes cleared the Legislature today.

The proposal, which originally included Flagler County, will go to the voters at a statewide election next year. If approved, it then would have to be okayed by freeholders in Sarasota County.

The amendment would allow taxing of the first $2,000 of a homestead to raise local school funds.

Storm Funds

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida is getting $1.5 million in federal "major disaster" funds to help repair East Coast beaches battered by winter storms last year. President Kennedy notified Gov. Farris Bryant of the allocation.

GI Killed

DARMSTADT, Germany — (UPI) — A U. S. Army truck loaded with GIs crashed into a bridge near here early today and burst into flames, killing one American and injuring five. West German police reported.
