Despite Hard Fighting Sanford High Drops Gridiron Honors To Orlando Yesterday

Higgins, Maxwell And Stoinoff Star

Excitement Rampant In Final Quarter; Locals Score First

In spite of brilliant play, game fighting and straining every nerve to win, the breaks went against the Sanford gridgers and a 19 to 12 victory went to Orlando high school foot ball team at Orlando yesterday afternoon.

Star players for Sanford were Stoinoff, Maxwell and Higgins, who were consistently on the offense and were a constant menace to the Orlando line and making brilliant gains. Sanford backs raised Orlando again and again for nine downs. The Orlando team was no match for the locals and was unable to get two first downs in the sturdy defense of the Sanford players.

The first score was made by the Sanford team in the second period. The high school team took the ball in mid-field and rushed two first downs in the first quarter. At the beginning of the second period when the directions were changed Sanford had the pigskin on Orlando's 29 yard line. The first play was made by Stoinoff who started right end for touchdown; Higgins missed the attempted drop kick for the extra point.

During the third period the fight was mostly mid-field, but in the last quarter Sanford started a heavy drive, crashing the enemy's line relentlessly and scored a touchdown; Stoinoff smashing through with the ball. Higgins again missed the try. Excitement ran high in the grandstands when a few minutes later Sanford was again breaking through the Orlando defense in a final thrust for the goal.

A heavy penalty for hurdling scattered the hopes of the Sanford team, but not their spirit; a punt rolled over the goal line for a touchdown. It was Orlando's ball on the 20 yard line. After an exchange of punts Sanford was again battling away relentlessly at the Orlando front line. A loss was intercepted by Whittaker who raced for a touchdown. Braswell attempted drop kick went wide and the game ended with a score of 19 to 12.

Ralph Whittaker, captain of the Orlando high school team, scored all three of the Orlando touchdowns. He came back on the field in the last period in time to make a brilliant play in intercepting a punt pass. His 70 yard race for a touchdown was the final break that took the victory from the shoulders of the Sanford Gridgers.

Ernest Amos Doubts Legality Of The Two Local Indictments

"I have succeeded in reopening two of the sixty four indictments that have been issued since January 1926. With better conditions and more helpful cooperation I might have been able to have brought others back. It should be remembered that Florida is not the only state that suffered severely from bank failures... within the past two years two many counties have failed worse, particularly in the northwest. I have an abiding faith in the fairness and integrity of our courts and I am sure that a prompt decision quashing this indictment was made on the other case attempted sometime ago. An official granted discretionary powers of supervision must be permitted to use his discretion and best judgment after considering all information before him, otherwise he becomes subject to the whims of others who might be maneuvered into positions of temporary authority for purposes of personal persecution. The matter will be immediately laid before the Supreme Court on proper petition for writ of Habeas Corpus."

Local Baptists' Plan For Florida Contest Meets With Favor

The Florida Baptist Convention is expected to adopt the plan of the First Baptist Church of Sanford, according to information recently received here from D. W. W. William, secretary of the convention. The local church's proposed outline involves a contest between the various Sunday schools throughout the state. The school will be divided in groups according to size and a banner will be awarded to the Sunday school with the highest percentage of teacher-training work during the period of the contest. Dr. William is conferring with officials of his organization to arrange the proper publicity through the "Witness," the official organ of the Florida Baptist Convention.

LAKE MARY

The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce held an enthusiastic meeting Thursday evening. The program was the most entertaining in some time and the attendance was unusually good. The meeting opened with a musical furnished by the Lake Mary Orchestra, followed by a recitation by Helen Emmet, which brought much applause. The speakers were P. D. Anderson, president, C. H. Ellis, president, Frank Evans and A. King. The three speakers all urged the people of a larger number of members. They stressed the fact that membership dues had been raised and that co-operation was necessary for the development of Lake Mary.

The United Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Evans. After the routine business it was decided to spend a Thanksgiving luncheon at Jacksonville. The members are invited to attend a meeting of the Auxiliary at St. Cloud November 4th. The meeting adjourned early and adjourned the chamber of commerce meeting in a body.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt Camp, U. S. W. V., met last Thursday evening in the Evans building. After the usual business the meeting adjourned and the veterans attended the chamber of commerce meeting in a body. The Lake Mary Parent-Teachers Association will hold the first meeting of the year Thursday evening, October 20th at eight o'clock at the school building. All parents and friends are invited to attend. C. D. Wolfe of the Y. M. C. A. will have charge of the social hour.

Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting, which will be followed by a reception for the teachers. Hostesses for the evening will be the retiring officers, Mrs. Frank Evans, president, Mrs. Elmer Hyndman, Mrs. J. A. Peckham and Mrs. R. Kipp. Mrs. Henry Tamm entertained about 35 boys and girls Thursday afternoon at her home in Lake Mary. The party was in honor of the birthdays of her three children, all of which came during this week. After an hour of playing various games the children came into the house where the little host and hostesses presided, each at a table. Miss Mary celebrated her 10th birthday. Master Henry Jr., his 7th and Miss Helen her 4th. The children were served with ice cream and cake. The decorations were in Hallowe'en motif and each guest was presented with a Hallowe'en favor filled with candy. Mrs. Tamm was assisted in serving by Mrs. J. A. Peckham.

The final matches in the first round of the Chamber of Commerce handicap tournament resulted in A. Bryant winning from F. Long, by default; R. Edington defeated J. Pittman with a score of 3-1 and R. Chittenden defeated Leon LeRoy. Sunday is scheduled for the opening of the second round of the full handicap and it is expected that many devotees will follow the players. Considerable interest has been evoked by the announcement of a blind bogey tournament on Sunday.

PHOTOGRAPH IN FOG

A photograph showing every detail of a landscape with complete accuracy has been taken, an optical fog, according to J. Baird, the inventor of television. The photograph exhibited before the British Association in London such photographs and a camera equipped with his television ray. The special photographic plates are sensitized to the infra-rays of the spectrum, which are invisible to the human eye—and by this means the camera can record pictures through the thickest cloud haze. Baird predicts that photograph development in the next war will be carried out by an aeroplane far above the clouds and hidden from the sight or hearing of the earth below.

CLOCK PLAYS MANY TUNES

A clock that plays many tunes has just been put on display in London. Every year is hand made and engraved, and the timepiece is believed to be the only one of its kind in the world. It is a perfect time keeper, chimes every quarter of the hour on eight bells, and at the hour after striking, plays one of six tunes on 14 bells concealed in a gilt box. The tunes are "Auld Lang Syne," "The Blue Bells of Scotland," "Robin Adair," "Callie Herrin," a Scotch reel and the Scotch national anthem. The clock was made in Glasgow, and required two years to construct. Some of the parts are minute, and are perfect in detail.

ISLAND DESERTED

Gradual desertion of St. Kilda island belonging to Scotland, has caused a recent prediction that within a few years it may be uninhabited. Its cliffs rise sheer out of the deep water of the Atlantic and there is only one landing place which for eight months of the year is practically inaccessible. Seventy years ago there were 100 people today there are 44. The men must take great risks on the towering cliffs in search of puffins and other sea birds, hanging over the ocean at a height of 1,000 feet but consider it part of their daily life. The people speak Gaelic, and on Sunday every man, woman and child attends church.

THE WOMAN BARKER AT THE FAIR

She was plainly very tired, she was plainly very hoarse. And I wondered how it happened life had taken such a course. Oh, what curious prank of fate, Set a woman barking there, At a side show's narrow gate. Selling tickets at a fair? In the blazing sun she sat, like a statue gray with grime, And the burden of her cry to the crowd was "just a dime!" "It's a sorry life," thought I, "for a woman day by day, To be shouting to the throng for their dimes in such a way, And to move from place to place Knowing neither home nor friends; Peace nor mirth nor touch of grace, On which happiness depends." So I lingered till the crowd left me standing there alone, And I smiled and spoke to her just to make my pity known. "I don't understand," said I, "how you brave this constant din. Dust and heat and jostling course just to get a few dimes in. Surely this is not a task That a woman ought to do; Out of pity now I ask How this hardship came to you?" Then she wiped a sticky brow, powdered fresh her features red, "It's a swell life tramping round, and I like it kiddy!" she said. Considering the shape of the country, Italians should make good bootleggers. — Brunswick (Ga.) Pilot.

"Persecution" Or Prosecution

From his statement appearing in Saturday's issue of The Herald, we gather that Comptroller Ernest Amos is somewhat concerned, perhaps a little nettled, over the two indictments that have been returned against him in connection with the failure of the Seminole County Bank. Mr. Amos expresses surprise that he should be charged with law violations and describes the indictments as "just another manifestation of the persecution to which I have been subjected."

The comptroller, The Herald is willing to agree, has had a hard time in recent months. He has been handicapped because of lack of co-operation from the state. He has had to supervise the operation of scores of state banks with only eight examiners and a limited appropriation. A large number of failures in the past two years has increased the work of the bank examiners and the responsibility of Mr. Amos. But with all these difficulties, Mr. Amos cannot be exonerated in this particular case; neither can he shirk the responsibility on the plea that he is being persecuted.

Mr. Amos must have known more than a year ago that the Seminole County Bank was an insolvent institution. A lengthy letter sent by him under the date of May 20, 1926 to members of the board of directors is ample proof that the comptroller was familiar with the condition of the bank. Quoting the letter, Mr. Amos says at the very outset that "four of your directors are heavily indebted to the institution and the line of credit to the president, Mr. Forrest Lake, is in excess of the entire capital and surplus of the bank." In fact it was $127,626.20.

The comptroller pointed out the collateral for loans of the bank was poorly kept and said, "For instance, the Sanford Hotel Realty Company of which your Mr. Lake is president, has a loan in the bank and the value of the collateral securing the loan is less than the amount of the loan made, and I want to ask you frankly if you think this is judicious banking?" The amount of the loan in question was $60,000 with sales contracts being used as the collateral. In addition Mr. Amos cited several unusually large loans, among them being a total of $34,383.67 made by a certain Rhode Island real estate promoter.

In connection with loans amounting to $108,790 made to another realty company, Mr. Amos wrote as follows, "Regarding this line of credit. This development was promoted by the bank itself. They foreclosed on a piece of property in the edge of Sanford some years ago and have been carrying the property for approximately $8,000 in their 'other real estate' account. The president of the bank conceived the idea of making this into a subdivision. Consequently the land was put on the market and the initial payment on each sale was ten per cent which went to the salesmen. The bank then took the notes which were given for the balance, into their work and HAVE EXPENDED all of the funds with the exception of $1,000 and they still carry the parcel of land in their 'other real estate' account for $8,000. The president advises that they have discontinued the sales and have about two-thirds of the property yet on hand. He thinks that the balance of the property will be sold for a handsome profit. Therefore the proposition resolves itself into this condition: If the plans of the president carry, they will probably make some profit; if his plans do not carry, the bank will have an investment of $116,000 where they only had $8,000 to start with and will have the same land, with some improvements. Needless to say, such financing as this on the part of banks is not good policy."

Another indication of the bank's deplorable condition is gained by the following comment of the comptroller, "Your past due loans aggregate $294,481.41. This is a very heavy percentage of paper to carry in your past due files, and no time should be lost in bringing this paper into a satisfactory and acceptable condition." According to the letter, the bank's profit and loss account for a period of six months just prior to the writing of the communication totalled $10,391.09. On this matter the comptroller commented as follows: "The list of items which the bank has charged out would indicate that a very lax and inefficient system is employed by the tellers."

Among questionable transactions of the bank, the comptroller noted that the examiner reported "an item of $14,000 representing the advance of this amount of cash to the race track promoters and no evidence of indebtedness whatever was obtained from anyone to represent this sum and I shall expect a full and detailed explanation regarding this system of financing." Regarding heavy deposits of public funds, Mr. Amos wrote the directors as follows:

"You have a large amount of public funds on deposit in your bank and instead of investing your public funds in liquid securities, such as marketable bonds, you have in turn loaned it out principally on real estate mortgages, and when taking the amount of your local deposits subject to check, which amounts to practically one and one-half million, your loans should not be over eighty per cent of this amount, but instead you have loans and discounts to the amount of $2,200,000, and your public funds are not properly protected by secondary reserves in the form of liquid security."

Mr. Amos declares he is not guilty of violating any law or departing from moral or ethical duties in any matter touching the failure of the local bank, but yet he was thoroughly familiar with the deplorable conditions of the institution. The comptroller is the head of a department which has absolute supervision of the state banks and although he had the authority to close the bank, he permitted the busted institution to keep its doors open fifteen months until it finally was closed by its own officers because there wasn't any money left in the vaults.

Mr. Amos by his letter to the directors, indicates that practically every banking law in the state was being violated by the Seminole County Bank. He knew that it had less than the legally required cash reserve, that its president was deeply obligated to the institution and that it was charging to profit and loss at the rate of $20,000 a year. He knew that its officials had questionable transactions with the race track promoters and that slipshod methods characterized every dealing of the institution. He knew that the loans far exceeded the limitations and that most of them were on real estate with inflated valuations.

Despite his knowledge of the conditions, Mr. Amos DID NOT MAKE another examination of the bank's books until the institution closed on August 6, 1927, fifteen months after he wrote the directors. He permitted the institution to follow its reckless course until it closed as perhaps the worst bank failure in Florida for many years. The comptroller's failure to act when action was needed has cost the taxpayers and depositors hundreds of thousands of dollars. For this gross negligence in administering the affairs of his office, Mr. Amos has been indicted by a grand jury. Is this "persecution"?

Worms And The Rich Men. A Sturdy Growth. Much About Wives. Two Unusual Items. By Arthur Delahane Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, eulogizing America's great industries, says, "The rattle of the reaper, the buzz of the saw, the clang of the anvil, the roar of traffic, are all part of a mighty symphony, not only of material but of spiritual progress."

There has been improvement since Pharaoh built the great pyramid and since Saint James wrote his bitter denunciation, "go to now ye rich men weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you."

PAYROLLS ARE REGULAR and bigger. Scarcity of labor makes employers realize the value of men as well as machinery. Public opinion has helped and some employers plan to make workers happy, for the sake of making them happy, not merely because it pays.

BUT THE MILLENNIUM is not here. The average great industrialist thinks of his men as he thinks of other machines. He owes that to his stockholders. If a rich man proved that to make 100,000 men independently well off would please him more than making $100,000 for himself, he would be classed among "cranks" as were those that freed their slaves before Lincoln.

MEN, ONCE AS IMPERFECT as the higher apes, are slowly improving, and marriage is their training school. Wives know it, and prepare their matrimonial dialogues chiefly for amusement. It interests them to think what a husband might be, if he were not what he is.

NEARER REALITY is the "husband calling contest." At Suffolk, Virginia, fair prizes were for wives that could call their husbands with a voice endearing and audible from afar.

The wife, combining endearment with extreme rancor, was to be crowned queen of husband-callers. Unregenerate husbands will shudder at the thought of that penetrating, endearing call.

WIVES HAVE BEEN engaged in that husband calling contest for 500,000 years first to get him, then to keep him. Their patience throughout the ages is amazing, the smallness of their reward pathetic.

VIRTUOUSLY, MILDLY rebellious wives of Chicago, Massachusetts, and elsewhere, are prepared to demand, for husbands and show that they do not understand the problem of husbands or marriage. It is useless to talk about details, including the double standard of morals.

The problem is in two words, sympathy and justice. If a man is sympathetic and just he will try to do what he ought to do. His success will depend on his age and his degree of semi-civilization.

FORTUNATELY Civilization is a steady growth and decency grows with it. A baby's empty mouth grows a full set of teeth, no thanks to the baby. And out industrial civilization, safer, richer, more intelligent than the military feudalism it replaces, grows and produces better conditions, no thanks to individuals.

About their real work, they know and care as little as the tiny creatures that built the coral islands, or worms that chewing and wriggling in utter selfishness produce the fertile soil. But that is no reason for refusing gratitude to those worms.

TWO UNUSUAL NEWS items. A clergyman kills himself. No need to print his unfortunate name. A young woman is caught stealing to get money to buy tombstones for her mother and sister.

The clergyman struggle on as they do, many poor and neglected in old age, is a tribute to their courage, and a disgrace to men.

THAT THE YOUNG woman should steal to buy tombstones is a reflection on her common sense.

THE ANGEL GABRIEL is amazingly accurate, in memory and memoranda. There is no possibility of his forgetting of mistaking anyone, even though buried in the sea. Besides science proves that the earth and men on it will last at least one hundred million years longer. No tombstones could outlive that period.

THOUSANDS OF POOR widows and daughters, by the way, rob and impoverish themselves to provide tombstones and elaborate funerals for husbands and fathers that never did much for them.

The poorer families suffer most in this way, and clergymen should discourage them regardless of sexton's protests.

An Indiana woman, 95, split three cords of kindling. We are hoping the coal supply doesn't run out before we get that old.

A London specialist advises women to blow bubbles for beauty. Bubbles are pretty; but what's a person going to do with 'em?

Spooning in public in Chicago "must be reasonably clandestine," is the edict of the city's attorney. Quick, Watson the dictionary!

Here's Dora again. She wants to know why men are so eager to win air battles when they're hardly the war—at least for winter.

FINE CITRUS CROP IS PROMISED

FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

Good news for the country is that a splendid crop of citrus fruit is now beginning to mature in Florida oranges and grapefruit. With only a fair crop last season, and no doubt very many people disappointed because unable to have the delicious Florida product available all winter and spring, there has been inquiry and speculation regarding the crop for the season 1927-1928. A statement made by E. L. Wirt, president of the Florida Citrus Exchange, that a good crop could reasonably be expected. Conditions at this time suggest a gathering of about twenty million boxes, and this will be considerably ahead of the previous year.

Mr. Wirt told of plans to have the oranges and grapefruit sent out by the Florida Citrus Exchange stamped "Scaldsweat" and this will assure the customers getting what they pay for. It will also protect the Florida fruit from the damage that has been discovered in the past through unscrupulous dealers selling inferior fruit boxes and even wrapping each orange or grapefruit in marked papers has not fully prevented substitution. Now the fruit itself will be marked. The process used in designating the origin of the fruit will in no way injure it, or interfere with its use.

Mr. Wirt was in Jacksonville recently conferring with officials of the exchange and those who have dealings with it, and it was thought conclusions reached that it would be wise to advertise Florida citrus fruit even more extensively than

Pace-Tyre

Mrs. Harry Thurston Pace announced the marriage of her daughter EULA THELMA to CLAUDE GEORGE TYRE wedding taking place Sunday, October 16, Orlando, Florida.

MISS EULA THELMA PACE BECOMES THE BRIDE OF CLAUDE G. TYRE

A simple yet most impressive wedding was that of Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Baptist Pastorial in Orlando, when Miss Eula Thelma Pace became the bride of Claude George Tyre. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lee Smith in the presence of relatives and a few of their most intimate friends.
The bride was beautifully gowned in a stunning fall frock of French rose crepe combined with matching velvet. Her chic hat and other accessories were also of French rose. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of pink rose buds and maiden hair ferns.
Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left for West Palm Beach where they will visit the groom's mother, Mrs. V. Urquhart. The bride is traveling in a smart costume of midnight blue georgette with hat and shoes to match. Upon their return to Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Tyre will make their home with the bride's parents on Rosedale Drive, San Lanta.
Mrs. Tyre is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thurston Pace and has made Sanford her home for the past seven years, coming her from Thomasville, Ga. By her winsome manners she has made hosts of friends here.
The groom is the son of Mrs. V. Urquhart of West Palm Beach. He came to Sanford about five years ago from California where he was with the Aero service for several years. He is now connected with the A. C. L. R. Ry.

Norma Proves The "Play's The Thing" In Milane Picture

Shakespeare's contention that "the play's the thing" is unmistakably upheld by present-day trends in motion picture production, according to Norma Talmadge, whose latest screen vehicle, "Camille," will be the feature attraction at the Milane Theatre today.
"Camille," which has been transferred to the screen in modern form, is an example of the manner in which motion pictures are coming around to Shakespeare's point of view," Miss Talmadge said.
"It is interesting to know that all of the immortal bard's plays were presented without costuming or stage scenery, yet his dramas, tragedies and comedies were the most convincing of their day. In spite of the varied stage settings and costumes provided for them in later years, Shakespeare's dramatic creations have come down to the present time without the slightest loss of appeal. This most certainly supports his declaration that 'the play's the thing.'
"Following this principle, 'Camille' has been given a modern treatment without fear of detracting from its dramatic value. For such classics as this most famous work of Alexandre Dumas, Jr., and the writings of Shakespeare are eternally modern."

Master Wilson Sneed, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sneed, was host Friday afternoon at one of the loveliest children's parties given this season, when he entertained in celebration of his birthday a number of his small friends at his home on Catalina Avenue.
The rooms of this cozy home were gay with festoons of black and orange, as well as myriads of black cats, bats, owls and witches. Grinning from cabinets and mantles were large Jack o'lanterns which added much to the weird scene. In unexpected places were large ghosts and witches.
A peanut race afforded much merriment during the afternoon for which prizes of a dainty pocket book, a novelty top, toy truck and large ball were given the winners. After the race much fun was created by the children trying to pin on the black cat's tail while blindfolded. The lucky children were given a doll, a large box of candy, paint box and box of handkerchiefs.
Placed at one end of the spacious lawn was a cleverly arranged fish pond, where the small guests fished twice for pretty gifts.
After trying their skill at fishing the guests formed in line for the grand march, and marched into the dining room for refreshments. Here the colors of green and yellow predominated. The refreshment table was laid with a lovely lace cloth. The center was graced by the birthday cake iced in green and white and topped with tiny yellow tapers. Placed at either side were candelabra holding lighted yellow candles and individual cakes on which were tiny yellow candles served by the Mrs. Sneed assisted by Miss Ollie Johnson, Mrs. L. P. McCuller, Mrs. A. C. Fort, Mrs. James F. Hawkins and Mrs. Coleclough. Each young guest was cap and horn.
About 40 children helped Wilson enjoy his natal day.

The Senior Epworth League of the First Methodist Church entertained members of the A. F. C. Union most pleasantly Friday evening at the Church annex. Golden rods, daisies and other wild flowers together with all kinds of Halloween suggestions were used in decorating the annex. The long tables were centered with bowls of daisies and golden-rod, and extending down the center were strips of black and orange crepe paper. Black cats, witches and ghosts were placed here and there adding a festive touch. Pickles, hot rolls, olives and coffee were served by the refreshment chairman, Miss Ethel Tillis assisted by Mrs. Otto Schell.
After supper, the evening was merrily spent with games of all kinds as well as several clever comedy. Favors of sticks of candy dressed as witches were given. About 140 were present.
James W. Scott of Orlando arrived here Sunday, and is the guest of Fred R. Wilson.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA
Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action. It soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

Now Read What 11,105* Doctors say About Lucky Strike Cigarettes Because "It's toasted"

Paul Whiteman, Noted Orchestra Leader, writes:

"It was but recently, when I started to act as master of ceremonies with my band at the Paramount Theatre, that I realized how vital perfect voice condition was to a performer. I have always been a consistent smoker and, fortunately, Lucky Strikes were my favorite brand. I like their toasted flavor and, best of all, I can smoke as often as I like, without fear of irritating my voice, which is becoming a great asset in my work."

WHAT is the quality that Giacomo Rimini, Margaret D'Alvarez, Cesare Formichi, Armand Tokatyan, Emma Trentini, William Faversham, Florence Reed, Paul Whiteman, and other famous singers, actors, broadcasters and public speakers have found that makes LUCKY STRIKES delightful and of no possible injury to their voices?

For the answer we turned to medical men and asked them this question:

Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason?

11,105* doctors answered this question "YES."

Consider what these figures mean; consider that they represent the opinion and experience of doctors, those whose business it is to know.

"It's toasted"
No Throat Irritation-No Cough.

* We hereby certify that we have examined 11,105 signed cards confirming the above statement.

DEFEAT OF PENN BY STATE COMES AS BIG SURPRISE

Yale's Defeat Of Brown Also Occasions Some Surprise As Does Northwestern's Defeat Of The Ohio State Eleven

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Out of the welter of Saturday's football games some highly startling results were achieved, with the topping of Pennsylvania by Penn State as the one big reversal of a day in which the majority of the college eleven played more or less true to form.

Yale's big score in defeating Brown was another surprise and goes to prove that after all there can be transmutation of metals, for the famous "iron" men of a year ago have by their successive reversals at the hands of Penn and Yale proved themselves to be a rather soft grade of lead this season.

Notre Dame's decisive victory over the Navy was not unexpected to close followers of the game although Navy did believe that its green eleven measured every bit as strong as the championship 1927 combination. Harvard found Holy Cross as weak as advance forecast had indicated and won by a safe, though narrow margin. Princeton, third member of the now broken "Big Three", stands out as the only one member of the group as yet unbested, by virtue of its victory over Washington & Lee, an eleven which caused the Tiger no end of trouble a year ago.

In the middle west, Northwestern turned a sterling performance to wreck Ohio State's conference championship aspirations and to prove incidentally that Dick Harney had moulded the remnants left him by Glenn Thistlewaite into a machine that is as good as the best in the conference. Michigan came through with a victory over Wisconsin to confound the critics who saw the Wolverines headed straight for ruin because "Hurry Up" had relinquished the reins after more than a quarter of a century.

Osborne at his best, played the sort of a game that Yost's eleven did when playing their strongest and indicated that they were in the race for the championship.

Dr. Clarence Sears had counted on a comparatively easy game for Minnesota against Indiana, but Minnesota was fortunate to escape with a 14-4 game.

In the south was a wholly unexpected uprising which saw Georgia triumph as it did in the days of Tommy Heisman and the Golden Tornado to wreck the University of Alabama, which stood just about not actually at the top of all the country's teams last year.

Georgia Tech halted Alabama's famous crimson tide in its tracks and showed its own offensive power to be of high order by scoring two touchdowns in one of the most thrilling games the south has seen in years.

Many Eastern Teams Have Not Been Beaten Thus Far This Season

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (INS)—Leading eastern football teams which have not been beaten or tied this season include Army, Dartmouth, Pittsburgh, New York University, Princeton, Syracuse, Washington and Jefferson Cornell, Bucknell and Williams, of these, Pittsburgh and Princeton have not been scored upon.

Elevans, which were erased from the honor roll on Saturday included Penn, Navy, Georgetown, Columbia, Carnegie Tech, Fordham, Holy Cross and Lafayette, which was tied.

Princeton, Cornell and Dartmouth will get their first real test of the season on Saturday when the tigers play Cornell and Dartmouth clashes with Harvard.

Army meets Yale in the week's feature game and Williams will tackle Columbia.

Other eight lights on Saturday's schedule are Penn vs. Chicago in the Windy City; Penn state vs. Syracuse; Washington and Jefferson vs. Lafayette; Notre Dame vs. Georgia Tech; and Pittsburgh vs. Carnegie Tech.

Several teams in Saturday's game will be handicapped by injuries stars on the injured list include Paul Scell and Shober of Penn., Caldwell and Cox of Yale and Hower of Williams.

LEVINE RETURNS HOME TO RECEIVE FINE RECEPTION

"Were you born in America, Mr. Levine?" "I was born in North Adams, Mass., on St. Patrick's Day," Levine replied with a grin.

Levine parried questions concerning his reported eccentricities. "Let others do the talking, I'll be flying," he declared.

However, when it came to ques-

PRETTY AVIATRIX EAGER FOR PARIS SHOPPING TOURS

They are expected to board the Portuguese mail ship, Lima, which will take them to Lisbon. According to Miss Elder, she may fly from Lisbon to Paris, where her trunk await her, but she added this depended upon circumstances when she reached the Portuguese capital.

The girl flyer will first land at Ponta De Gada in order to replace her lost passports at the American consulate there as there is no American consul here.

Before leaving, Miss Elder declared that she was most enthusiastic about making another attempt to span the Atlantic by airplane.

She said the flight will be held next year and that she will immediately start preparations when she gets back to the United States. Her next flight, Miss Elder said, will be financed by a wealthy American.

Speaking of her flight, Miss Elder said that the weather was clear at first but later became very boisterous. Once she took the controls while Haldeman poured gas into the tanks from the cans, which were too heavy for her to lift.

But steadying the ship and against the wind was difficult for her to do for any length of time.

While here, Miss Elder and Haldeman were the guests of G. P. Macky, traffic director for the western union telegraph company. Entertained with the Americas were the crew of the junkers plane D-1239 who have been held due to bad weather since they arrived from Lisbon.

The Germans plan a hop to New York. Lilli Dillenz, viennese actress who is a passenger aboard the junker plane, will be among those bidding Miss Elder farewell today.

Miss Elder and Fraulen Dillenz became very friendly and spent several hours together exchanging accounts of their air experiences.

Miss Elder spent Sunday writing letters and account of her flight. Late in the day a thunderstorm blew up and prevented her from leaving the hotel to fulfill private engagements of her adventure she said.

"There was nothing mysterious about the flight. It was simply this: we left America, we flew 2,000 miles, and we encountered circumstances that compelled us to come down. We were rescued by the dutch ship, Barendrecht and we were landed at Fayal. You know the rest. That is all there is to it."

The steamship, Lima upon which Miss Elder will travel to the continent, is due to leave tonight. Miss Elder is anxious to get to Paris as quickly as possible.

Second Round Of Tournery Is Opened

The second round of the Chamber of Commerce handicap tournament opened Sunday and the following results have been announced by officials of the club: J. Ivey defeated J. Ludwig 3-2; R. Mellig won from F. Meisch, 3-2; A. Bryant defeated P. Markwood, 6-5; E. Villen won from H. Ta-ville 2 up. A good crowd watched the players on Sunday and officials state that they are pleased with the increased interest shown in the tournament. The remaining matches in the second round will be played sometime during this week and the third will open next Sunday.

In the Sunday blind bogey tournament the following scores are announced: R. Mellig, 90-19-71; T. Jones, 93-21-72; C. Chapman, 90-18-72.

tions concerning aviation, Levine became more voluble.

"I am going over to Europe again next summer and attempt an east to west flight," he said.

"I am sorry to come home this way, as I hoped to fly back but experts cautioned me against the flight back to America at this time of the year."

What did he think of Ruth Elder's flight?

"It was a great flight and she was fortunate to be rescued," Levine said. He admitted he had stayed up all night in Paris following the daring attempt of Miss Elder and her co-pilot, George Haldeman, air passenger was pessimistic over the proposed flight to Europe of Mrs. Frances Grayson from Old Orchard Me.

"The season is too late for ocean flying," he said.

He said that American aviation was "on a par with European aviation" and that he expected that in time "we will pass them."

"American pilots are better than European ones, I believe," Levine said. "They are less temperamental."

Levine said he was not perturbed over the pending government suit against him concerning former contracts to dispose of surplus war materials.

CONGRESS TO GIVE TIME TO TREATIES AT NEXT SESSION

Senate Expected To Shelve Some Proposed International Agreements; Some Important Countries Up

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (INS)—Congress will have at least eleven treaties and international agreements to contend with at the coming session. Of this number, six or more are expected to be shelved by the Senate.

The most important of the negotiations to be submitted by the Department of State is the Lausanne Treaty with Turkey, which was rejected last year through the efforts of Senator King (D) of Utah primarily on the ground that the United States should have no dealings with the Turks because of the Armenian massacres.

Analyzing this opposition, State Department officials have come to the conclusion that it would be futile to reopen negotiations with Argona inasmuch as the terms of the Lausanne compact were not in dispute. Instead the Secretary of State plans to renew his plea for ratification of the 1923 treaty and will point out to the Senate that relations with Turkey have already been resumed by the appointment of Joseph C. Grew to be ambassador to Argona.

Panama Treaties—Two treaties with Panama will also be sent to the Senate. The first of these takes the place of the 1903 pact and the subsequent Tait Agreements under which the United States exercises sovereign rights over the Canal Zone, and the second is a convention for the settlement of claims by the citizens of each country against the other. It is probable that both of these pacts will be held up until they are ratified by the Panama National Assembly.

Congress has now ended consideration of the debt funding agreement with France. A joint resolution approving this agreement has already passed the house, but is being delayed in the Senate, at the request of the Administration to await ratification of the agreement by the French legislature.

Other Agreements—Other pending treaties and conventions which may safely be placed in the same category include one relating to air navigation, signed in Paris on October 13, 1919; another which was signed by the United States at The Hague on November 6, 1925, as a member of the International Union for the Protection of Industrial Property and which modifies the Treaty of March 20, 1883 under which the Union was created; a third revising the International Sanitary Convention of January 17, 1912, which was signed at Paris on June 21, 1926; and a fourth providing for the unification of rules relating to bills of lading for the carriage of goods at sea, signed at Brussels, August 25, 1924.

The treaty between the United States and Belgium to prevent smuggling of liquor which was signed December 9, 1925, is in a doubtful case.

Miss Florida?

Judge Walter Gates of Los Angeles may have the final say as to Who's Who in Florida beauty circles. Miss Ada Williams (top), 14, says she represented the Everglades at a Galveston beauty show, while Miss Myrtle Manon (below) is said to have been selected as Miss Florida for the Atlantic City contest. Miss Manon asserts she was intimidated into signing a disclaimer of her title and is now bringing legal action to enjoin Miss Williams from publishing the alleged illegal document.

English Stage Likes Work Of Authors, Actors From U. S.

By International News Service LONDON.—Although musical plays represent nearly 75 per cent of the theatrical productions staged in London, they are not only dominated by American actors and actresses, but they are in most cases written by American authors.

During the past year there has been a great deal of discussion regarding this question, especially as to the writing of the shows. "Why," ask the producers, "do we not have some English written musical comedies?"

When the question was brought before a general meeting of members of the theatre world of England it was concluded that there were no English musical shows because:

"There is no one in London able to write successful musical plays. A large number of people say it is wrong that we should go to America for musical plays, but the answer is that we only because, unfortunately, there are no Britishers to bring forward books of music which are likely to succeed if put into a rehearsal," declared Sir Alfred Butt, M. P., managing director of a large London play-house.

"Sky-writing" may soon be classed with bilbois as a public nuisance and limited by ordinance in Germany if the suggestions made by the "Deutsche Juristen Zeitung," chief journal of the bench and bar, are carried out.

Since Berlin has become the most "flown over" city in the world, with airplanes constantly criss-crossing above, and the hum of propellers always in the ears of its inhabitants, juridical experts of the Reich have begun to busy themselves with the question

NEW MEDIUM IS NOW PUZZLE TO THE PROFESSORS

German Routs Scientists With Psychic Phenomena Investigation Fails To Reveal Fraud And Draws Notice

By International News Service BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Though unwilling to describe the symptoms of Therese Naumann as "miraculous," the investigation committees of the medical and theological faculties of Erlanger University who have just completed their examination of the modern trance medium she displays are unable to give a rational explanation.

Part of the women's symptoms for example her assertion that she has not seen anything since 1923, the professors brand as faked, and part of them, as for example some of the signs of the wounds of the body of Christ which appear on her face, hands, and feet every Friday, the professors could be duplicated in many normal reports of hysteria.

But the professors admit that their experiments upon Therese's eyes showed results which may well be unique in the history of medicine.

One of the most important of Therese's symptoms is the trance which she enters on Friday, and during which she loses consciousness, in imitation of the death of Christ. It was during this trance that the professors sought to bear on her eyes the full force of a 5,000 candlepower arc lamp. Therese failed to react in the slightest. The light was powerful enough, according to the professors, to blind temporarily and injure permanently any normal human eye looking full at it.

In anticipation that she would either subconsciously or with malice aforethought, keep her eyes closed, the professors ventured to employ the arc lamp to test her normal reactions. To their horror, however, Therese opened her eyes widely and gazed full into the glare of the lamp for nearly a minute. Professor Papsmann and several of his colleagues observed with astonishment that the pupils of the eyes, instead of contracting, remained stationary.

Did Not Remember

After looking into the lamp, Therese not moving a muscle of her face, closed her eyes, and only woke up hours later, on her awake, the professors asked her if she had not seen a bright light.

DANCE OPENS BRIDGE

Japanese, Chinese and other foreign residents took part in the opening of the new Maita Bridge in Yokohama recently. Following the formal dedication by officials, the Dragon Dance was staged by 27 Chinese on the new structure, and thousands lined the riverside to witness the spectacular performance, which was last seen in Yokohama in 1919, when the Armistice was celebrated. Two Chinese one holding an enormous head and the other, the tall dan d with violent motions, accompanied by high-pitched sounds of drums and gongs. The dance continued till into the night, when eyes of the mask were illuminated by electric light. Japanese drama, dancers and wrestling matches were also part of the program.

Denmark Flight Means Much to Them

The attempted flight of Mrs. Frances W. Grayson, Long Island realtor; Brice Goldborough, navigator, and Wilmer Stultz, pilot, from New York to Denmark, means a great deal to these three women. In the center, above, is Mrs. Grayson herself; to the left Mrs. Goldborough, the navigator's wife, and to the right Mrs. Stultz, wife of the pilot.

Miss Grayson Hops Off for Copenhagen

OFF toward Copenhagen from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, soars Miss Frances Grayson's Sikorsky amphibian biplane, "The Dawn." Three hours later it landed safely at Old Orchard Beach, Me., whence its departure across the Atlantic for the Danish capital is to be taken as soon as weather permits. At the left above is Brice Goldborough, navigator of the expedition, and at the right, Wilmer Stultz, the pilot. Below the map of the route is Miss Grayson in her flying helmet. Dupont tried to hide under the seat but eventually the station master covered him with his coat, took him to the waiting room and loaned him a pair of trousers so he could continue his journey. YOUTH FED UP "Fed up" on aviation, a young mechanic of the Royal Air Force deserted the flying field at Don-ibristle, Scotland stole an automobile and started on a tour before he realized what he was doing. In Edinburgh Sheriff Court, an officer of the air force, testified that the two women wanted to enter his carriage. He signalled them away, and in such a deliberate manner that they summoned the station master, doctor's car which he saw standing in a street in Portobello. He drove to Stow, left the machine in a quarry at the roadside, then walked to Galahiel's police telling where he left the car. Later he gave himself up to the police. The accused said that he wanted to learn a certain trade in the air force, and the authorities assigned him work as his pleasant that he could not stand them any longer. He was sent back to his corps. VALPARAISO—Coastal Highway survey finished from Walker County line to Sunset Bay at Valparaiso. Tarpon Springs—Third Street of city being paved.

DEFEAT OF PENN BY STATE COMES AS BIG SURPRISE

Yale's Defeat Of Brown Also Occasions Some Surprise As Does Northwestern's Defeat Of The Ohio State Eleven

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Out of the welter of Saturday's football games some highly startling results were achieved, with the topping of Pennsylvania by Penn. State as the one big reversal of the day in which the majority of the college elevens played more or less true to form.

Yale's big score in defeating Brown was another surprise and goes to prove that after all there can be transmutation of metals, for the famous "iron" men of a year ago have by their successive reversals at the hands of Penn and Yale proved themselves to be a rather soft grade of lead this season.

Notre Dame's decisive victory over the Navy was not unexpected to close followers of the game although Navy did believe that its green eleven measured every bit as strong as the championship 1927 combination. Harvard found Holy Cross as weak an advance force as had indicated and won by a safe, though narrow margin. Princeton, third member of the now broken "Big Three", stands out as the only member of the group as yet unbeaten, by virtue of its victory over Washington & Lee, an eleven which caused the Tiger no end of trouble a year ago.

In the middle west, Northwestern turned a sterling performance to wreck Ohio State's conference championship aspirations and to prove incidentally that Dick Hanley had muddled the remnants left him by Glenn Thistlewaite into a machine that is as good as the best in the conference. Michigan came through with a victory over Wisconsin to comfort the critics who saw the Wolverine headed straight for ruin because "Hurry Up" post had relinquished the reins after more than a quarter of a century. Michigan, with Benny Osterman at his best, played the sort of a game that Yale's elevens did when playing their strongest and indicated that they were in the race for the championship.

Dr. Clarence Bears had counted on a comparatively easy game for Minnesota against Indiana, but Minnesota was fortunate to escape with a 14-14 game.

In the south was a wholly unexpected surprise which saw Georgia Tech triumph in the days of Johnny Holman and the Golden Tornado to wreck the University of Alabama, which stood just about as high as the top of all the country's teams last year. Georgia Tech halted Alabama's famous crimson tide in its tracks and showed its own offensive power to be of high order by scoring two touchdowns in one of the most thrilling games the south has seen in years.

Many Eastern Teams Have Not Been Beaten Thus Far This Season

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (INS)—Leading eastern football teams which have not been beaten during this season include Army, Dartmouth, Pittsburg, New York University, Princeton, Syracuse, Washington and Jefferson, Cornell, Bucknell and Williams, of these, Pittsburg and Princeton have not been scored upon.

Eleven, which were erased from the honor roll on Saturday included Penn. Navy, Georgetown, Columbia, Carnegie Tech, Fordham, Holy Cross and Lafayette, which was tied.

"Why should I?" Levine answered.
"Were you born in America, Mr. Levine?"
"I was born in North Adams, Mass.—on St. Patrick's Day," Levine replied with a grin.
Levine parried questions concerning his reported eccentricities.
"Let others do the talking, I'll do the flying," he declared.
However, when it came to ques-

PRETTY AVIATRIX EAGER FOR PARIS SHOPPING TOURS

habitants of this port, Miss Ruth Elder and George Haldeman, rescued American transatlantic fliers, today bid farewell to Horta and start for Paris by way of Lisbon.
They are expected to board the Portuguese mail ship, Lima, which will take them to Lisbon. According to Miss Elder, she may fly from Lisbon to Paris, where her trunk await her, but she added this depended upon circumstances when she reached the Portuguese capital.

The girl flyer will first land at Ponta De Gada in order to replace her lost passports at the American consulate there as there is no American consul here.
Before leaving, Miss Elder declared that she was most enthusiastic about making another attempt to span the Atlantic by airplane. She said the flight will be held next year and that she will immediately start preparations when she gets back to the United States. Her next flight, Miss Elder said, will be financed by a wealthy American.

Speaking of her flight, Miss Elder said that the weather was clear at first but later became very boisterous. Once she took the controls while Haldeman poured gas into the tanks from the cans, which were too heavy for her to lift. But steadying the ship and against the wind was difficult for her to do for any length of time.

While here, Miss Elder and Haldeman were the guests of G. F. Macky, traffic director for the western union telegraph company. Entertained with the Americas were the crew of the junker plane D-1239 who have been held due to bad weather since they arrived from Lisbon. The Germans plan a hop to New York.

Lilli Dillenz, viennese actress who is a passenger aboard the junker plane, will be among those bidding Miss Elder farewell today. Miss Elder and Fraulen Dillenz became very friendly and spent several hours together exchanging accounts of their air experiences.

Miss Elder spent Sunday writing letters and account of her flight. Late in the day a thunderstorm blew up and prevented her from leaving the hotel to fulfill private engagements of her adventure she said.
"There was nothing mysterious about the flight. It was simply this: we left America, we flew 2,000 miles, and we encountered circumstances that compelled us to come down. We were rescued by the dutch ship, Barendrecht and we were landed at Fayal. You know the rest. That is all there is to it."

Second Round Of Tournery Is Opened

The second round of the Chamber of Commerce handicap tournament opened Sunday and the following results have been announced by officials of the club. J. Ivey defeated J. Ludwig 3-2; R. Mellig won from F. Meisch, 3-2; A. Bryant defeated F. Markwood, 6-5; E. Vihlen won from H. Taville 2 up. A good crowd watched the players on Sunday and officials state that they are pleased with the increased interest shown in the tournament. The remaining matches in the second round will be played sometime during this week and the third will open next Sunday.

In the Sunday blind bogey tournament the following scores are announced: R. Melling, 90-19-71; T. Jones, 93-21-72; C. Chapman, 90-18-72.

Cocoa—Local ice plant will increase capacity.

Conditions concerning aviation, Levine became more valuable.
"I am going over to Europe again next summer and attempt an east to west flight," he said. "I am sorry to come home this way, as I hoped to fly back but experts cautioned me against the flight back to America at this time of the year."
What did he think of Ruth Elder's flight?
"It was a great flight and she was fortunate to be rescued," Levine said. He admitted he had stayed up all night in Paris following the daring attempt of Miss Elder and her co-pilot, George Haldeman, air passenger was pessimistic over the proposed flight to Europe of Mrs. Frances Grayson from Old Orchard Me.

"The season is too late for ocean flying," he said.
He said that American aviation was "on a par with European aviation" and that he expected that in time "we will pass them."
"American pilots are better than European ones, I believe," Levine said. "They are less temperamental."
Levine said he was not perturbed over the pending government suit against him concerning former contracts to dispose of surplus war materials.

CONGRESS TO GIVE TIME TO TREATIES AT NEXT SESSION

Senate Expected To Shelve Some Proposed International Agreements; Some Important Countries Up

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (INS)—Congress will have at least eleven treaties and international agreements to contend with at the coming session. Of this number, six or more are expected to be shelved by the Senate.

The most important of the conditions to be submitted by the Department of State is the Lausanne Treaty with Turkey, which was rejected last year through the efforts of Senator King (D) of Utah primarily on the ground that the United States should have no dealings with the Turks because of the Armenian massacres.
Analyzing this opposition, State Department officials have come to the conclusion that it would be futile to reopen negotiations with Angora inasmuch as the terms of the Lausanne compact were not in dispute. Instead the Secretary of State plans to renew his plea for ratification of the 1923 treaty and will point out to the Senate that relations with Turkey have already been resumed by the appointment of Joseph C. Grew to be ambassador to Angora.

Panama Treaties
Two treaties with Panama will also be sent to the Senate. The first of these takes the place of the 1903 pact and the subsequent Tait Agreements under which the United States exercises sovereign rights over the Canal Zone, and the second is a convention for the settlement of claims by the citizens of each country against the other. It is probable that both of these pacts will be held up until they are ratified by the Panama National Assembly.
Congress has now ended consideration of the debt funding agreement with France. A joint resolution approving this agreement has already passed the house, but is being delayed in the Senate, at the request of the Administration to await ratification of the agreement by the French legislature.

Other Agreements
Other pending treaties and conventions which "may" safely be placed in the same category include one relating to air navigation, signed in Paris on October 13, 1919; another which was signed by the United States at The Hague on November 6, 1925, as a member of the International Union for the Protection of Industrial Property and which modifies the Treaty of March 20, 1883 under which the Union was created; a third revising the International Sanitary Convention of January 17, 1912, which was signed at Paris on June 21, 1926; and a fourth providing for the unification of rules relating to bills of lading for the carriage of goods at sea, signed at Brussels, August 25, 1924.

The treaty between the United States and Belgium to prevent smuggling of liquor which was signed December 9, 1925, is in a doubtful case.

Dartmouth Star Leads Scorers In Eastern Football

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(INS)—Myles Lane, Dartmouth half-back, is still the leading scorer of eastern football teams today with a total of 87 points. The ten leaders are:

| Player | College | Td. | Pat. | P. |
|-----------|--------------|-----|------|----|
| Lane | Dartmouth | 13 | 9 | 87 |
| Booth | Pittsburgh | 8 | 9 | 87 |
| Connor | N. Y. U. | 8 | 2 | 50 |
| Howe | Williams | 7 | 4 | 46 |
| Roeple | Penn. State | 6 | 4 | 45 |
| Balderson | Cornell | 7 | 2 | 44 |
| O'Leary | Maine | 7 | 0 | 42 |
| Guest | Lafayette | 6 | 1 | 37 |
| Williams | Conn. Aggies | 6 | 1 | 37 |
| Blenstock | C. C. N. Y. | 6 | 1 | 37 |

The five high scoring teams are Georgetown 182, Dartmouth 178, N. Y. U., 153, Pittsburgh 153 and Vanderbilt 143.

Miss Florida?

Judge Walter Gates of Los Angeles may have the final say as to Who's Who in Florida beauty circles. Miss Ada Williams (top), 14, says she represented the Everglades at a Galveston beauty show, while Miss Myrtle Manon (below) is said to have been selected as Miss Florida for the Atlantic City contest. Miss Manon asserts she was intimidated into signing a disclaimer of her title and is now bringing legal action to enjoin Miss Williams from publishing the alleged illegal document.

English Stage Likes Work Of Authors, Actors From U. S.

By International News Service LONDON.—Although musical plays represent nearly 75 per cent of the theatrical productions staged in London, they are not only dominated by American actors and actresses, but they are in most cases written by American authors.
During the past year there has been a great deal of discussion among English theatrical circles regarding this question, especially as to the writing of the shows. "Why," ask the producers, "do we not have some English written musical comedies?"
When the question was brought before a general meeting of members of the theatre world of England it was concluded that there were no English musical shows because:
There is no one in London able to write successful musical plays, amplying of liquor which was signed December 9, 1925, is in a doubtful case.

Germany May Class Sky-Writing Public Nuisance Is Rumor

BERLIN.—"Sky-writing" may soon be classed with billboards as a public nuisance and limited by ordinance in Germany if the suggestions made by the "Deutsche Juristen Zeitung," chief journal of the bench and bar, are carried out.
Since Berlin has become the most "frown over" city in the world, with airplanes constantly criss-crossing above, and the hum of propellers always in the ears of its inhabitants, juridical experts of the Reich have begun to busy themselves with the question

German Roulis Scientists With Psychic Phenomena Investigation Fails To Reveal Fraud And Draws Notice

By International News Service BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Though unwilling to describe the symptoms of Therese Naumann as "miraculous," the investigation committees of professors from the medical and theological faculties of Erlanger University who have just completed their examination of the modern that the phenomena she displays are beyond rational explanation.

Part of the women's symptoms, for example, her assertion that she has not eaten anything since 1923, primarily on the ground that the professors' brains are faked, and just as much, as for example some of the signs of the wounds of the body of Christ which appear on her face hands and feet every Friday, these claims could be duplicated in many medical reports of hysteria. But the professors admit that their examination upon Therese's eyes showed results which may well be unique in the history of medicine.

Go To France
One of the most important of Therese's symptoms is the trance which she enters on Friday, and during which she loses consciousness, in imitation of the death of Christ. It was during this trance, that the professors brought to bear on her eyes the full force of a 5,000 candlepower arc lamp. Therese failed to react in the slightest. The light was powerful enough, according to the professors, to blind temporarily and injure permanently any normal human eye looking full at it.
In anticipation that she would, either unconsciously or with malice aforethought, keep her eyes closed, the professors ventured to employ the arc lamp to test her visual reactions. To their horror, however, Therese opened her eyes, widely and gazed full into the glare of the lamp for nearly a minute. Professor Papstmann and several of his colleagues observed to their astonishment that the pupils of the eyes, instead of contracting remained stationary.

Did Not Remember
After looking into the lamp, Therese not moving a muscle of her face, closed her eyes, and only woke up hours later on her awake, the professors asked her if she had not seen a bright light.

DANCE OPENS BRIDGE

Japanese, Chinese and other foreign residents took part in the opening of the new Maita Bridge in Yokohama recently. Following the formal dedication by officials, the Dragon Dance was staged by 27 Chinese on the new structure, and thousands lined the riverside to witness the spectacular performance, which was first seen in Yokohama in 1919, when the Armistice was celebrated. Two Chinese one holding an enormous head and the other, the tall dan d with violent motions, accompanied by high-pitched sounds of drums and gongs. The dance continued till into the night, when eyes of the mask were illuminated by electric light. Japanese drama, dance and wrestling matches were also part of the program.

Denmark Flight Means Much to Them

The attempted flight of Mrs. Frances W. Grayson, Long Island realtor; Brice Goldborough, navigator, and Wilmer Stultz, pilot, from New York to Denmark, means a great deal to these three women. In the center, above, is Mrs. Grayson herself; to the left Mrs. Goldborough, the navigator's wife, and to the right Mrs. Stultz, wife of the pilot.

Miss Grayson Hops Off for Copenhagen

OFF toward Copenhagen from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, soars Miss Frances Grayson's Sikorsky amphibian biplane, "The Dawn." Three hours later it landed safely at Old Orchard Beach, Me., whence its departure across the Atlantic for the Danish capital is to be taken as soon as weather permits. At the left above is Brice Goldborough, navigator of the expedition, and at the right, Wilmer Stultz, the pilot. Below the map of the route is Miss Grayson in her flying helmet.

ROUTING ANTS Busy ants invading the baggy pants of a respectable retired farmer named Dupont, living near Caen, France, caused him a bit of trouble recently. While waiting at a small wayside station for a train he sat down in a field. When he took his seat in the train he found that his trousers were full of ants. Being alone, he took off his coverings, and shook them out of the window. A gust of wind blew his trousers from his grasp, leaving him sans pants. At the next station two women wanted to enter his carriage. He signalled them away in such a desperate manner that they summoned the station master.

YOUTH FED UP "Fed up" on aviation, a young mechanic of the Royal Air Force deserted the flying field at Donibristle, Scotland stole an automobile and started on a tour before he realized what he was doing. In Edinburgh Sheriff Court, an officer of the air force, testified that the youth left the camp Saturday night and on Sunday night drove off in a doctor's car which he saw standing in a street in Portobello. He drove to Stow, left the machine in a quarry at the roadside, then walked to Galahiel's police telling where he left the car. Later he gave himself up to the police. The accused said that he wanted to learn a certain trade in the air force, and the authorities assigned him were so unpleasant that he could not stand them any longer. He was sent back to his corps.
