Commission commits $600,000 for 20 years if details can be worked out

SANFORD — The reality of a lake-front conference center and hotel in Sanford is one step closer.

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners voted 3-2 Tuesday to allocate $600,000 per year in Tourist Development Commission funds for the next 20 years in a joint partnership with the city of Sanford. The approval comes with a caveat, however.

The city and county must get a feasible response from a Request for Qualifications/Request for Proposal that answers not only who a private sector partner might be, but satisfies the commission's concerns about ownership and liability of the facility, as well as responsibility for revenue shortfalls.

The measure was approved by commissioners Daryl McLain, Dick Van Der Weide and Randy Morris, while Carlton Henley and Grant Maloy cast dissenting votes following lengthy debate.

Sanford will now utilize the services of Hunter Enterprises, Inc., to develop the RFP/RFP. City Manager Tony VanDerworp said the process should be completed over the next six to eight months.

"This is a big step — a first step in moving forward," said Sanford Mayor Larry Dale. "We had to get beyond today. Any majority vote is an endorsement. The city of Sanford will take the lead in the RFP."

In a carefully crafted motion, Morris proposed approval of the commitment based on positive feedback on the RFP process that commits the county's part-

HCA, CIGNA reach agreement in Florida

HCA's North Florida Division today announced the company has signed a statewide, two-year agreement with CIGNA to provide healthcare services to CIGNA's members.

The agreement takes effect immediately and includes all HCA hospitals, ambulatory surgery centers and physician practices. Locally, Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, and Osceola Regional Medical Center, Kissimmee, are the two largest facilities owned by HCA, The Healthcare Company.

The agreement is designed to provide better service to patients and includes provisions such as language that establishes more effective procedures to determine what services are covered, periodic meetings between the parties in order to ensure that the contract keeps pace with rapid changes in the healthcare environment, and pricing that appropriately reflects differing market conditions.

"We value our relationship with CIGNA and are pleased to have reached a long-term agreement that ensures that their members will continue to have access to HCA hospitals in the Orlando area," said Craig Blair, Marketing Director at Central Florida Regional Hospital. "We hope that by working collaboratively with CIGNA to address the needs of our patients that they will be better served."

Commissioners offer input for 'Vision 2020' planning document

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County Commissioners have a pretty demanding homework assignment between now and the fourth of January: Digest several hundred pages of information and make some comprehensible sense of where the county is going in the next 20 years and how it plans on getting there.

The county's Planning and Development Department unveiled its voluminous "Vision 2020-A Guide to the Journey Ahead" document to the board at a recent workshop.

Serving as an update to Seminole County's Comprehensive Plan, Vision 2020 outlines a blueprint for building a sustainable community that preserves and enhances the quality of life.

Highlighted in the report are the foundations for future planning issues that include: (1) a future land use map and facility strategy which effectively limits urban sprawl; (2) a natural lands acquisition and management program designed to restore key ecosystems while protecting wildlife and natural areas; (3) an economic incentives program to attract targeted industries and create new high paying jobs; (4) a unique urban design element and program to maintain community quality and create neighborhood compatibility; and (5) a secure and solid infrastructure support system.

Vision 2020 also offers an update to the Comprehensive Plan content areas of SANFORD — Police conducted an undercover prostitution sting Friday and Saturday, Dec. 8 and 9, on Sanford Avenue, between 4th and 5th Streets.

With the use of a female decoy, as soon as an offer was made by an individual, officers moved in and made arrests. In all, 13 persons were taken into custody. The following information was obtained from arrest reports at the Sanford Police station. In addition to being charged with procurement for prostitution, several other charges were made, as indicated:

- James Edward Carter, 47, listed as homeless, Winter Springs. Police said Carter had offered money as well as drugs, and was seen swallowing crack cocaine. He was given an additional charge of destruction of evidence.
Gostavo Cruz, 19, of Maple Avenue, Sanford.
Philip Charles King, 26, Summerlin Avenue. He also reportedly attempted to offer drugs and destroy them when police arrived. He was given additional charges of selling cocaine, possession of cocaine, destruction of evidence, and possession of narcotics equipment.

- John Doe, 30, of Deltona, who refused to give his name.
Anthony A. Whitaker, 44, of Myrtle Avenue, Sanford.
Van Louis Davis, 41, of Laguna Court, Sanford.
Jose F. Hernandez, 21, Orange Blvd., Sanford.
Leonard Pollard, 47, of Monroe Harbor Place, Sanford.
Isacc James Bridger, 20 of Winter Springs.
Ruben H. Malagon, 21, of Magnolia Avenue, Sanford.
Enrique V. Ramirez, 24, of Cedar Creek Circle, Sanford.
Robert D. Moffitt, 38, of Daytona Beach Shores.
Willie Lawson, 55, of Cypress Avenue, Sanford. He was also charged with sale of cocaine.

Pan Am adds flight service to New England

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

SANFORD — Domestic flight service between the Orlando-Sanford International Airport and the New England area continued to blossom this week.

Pan American Airways announced Monday the company will expand jet service between Sanford and the Worcester Regional Airport in early February.

Utilizing its "Clipper Class Service" strategy, flights will depart Worcester at 11:30 a.m. daily and arrive in Sanford at 2:25 p.m. Return flights will depart from Sanford at 8:05 a.m. and arrive in Worcester at 10:50 a.m. Fares will start at $110.00 each way.

The announcement was met with positive vibrations locally and at Pan American's headquarters in Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

"We're thrilled," reacted Sanford Airport Director Victor White. "It signals this airport is proving credibility in its marketing plan as both a domestic and international carrier. It is exactly what we hoped would happen"

Dave Fink, Pan American's president, said, "Worcester is New England's second largest city and has a market of more than two million people. The Worcester service is the first of many new opportunities we're coming in 2001.

We anticipate that in conjunction with our affiliate airline, Boston & Maine Airways, connecting flights between other New England cities will be announced later this year."

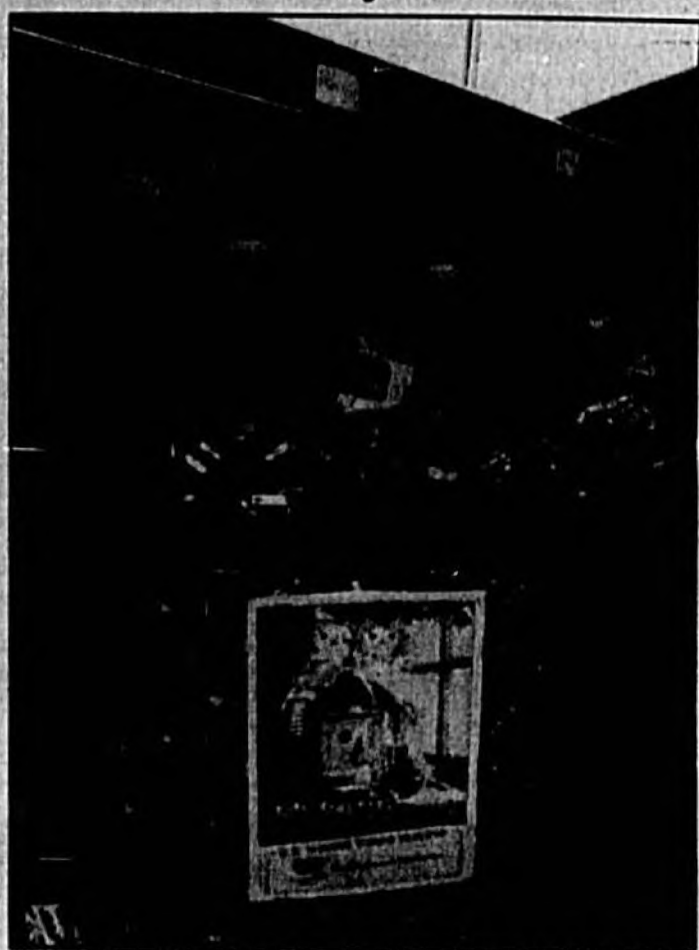

The Sanford facility operates as the Central Florida area's major international charter facility and annually handles approximately 2 million passengers. The airport will open in February an expanded, state-of-the-art domestic passenger terminal with increased gate and ground transportation operations.

Boston & Maine Airways, which is an affiliate of Pan Am, presently operates charter ser-

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

The agony of power tools and plastic

I've mentioned in a previous column; I'm a nut for power tools. If I keep them clean and properly adjusted, I expect them to work when needed. Yet there are problems, dealing with inferior components

Plastic is my main complaint. How some manufacturers are using plastic bugs me to no end. Perhaps you join me in being outraged when a power tool or motorized unit you own breaks down because a key part is made of plastic.

Case one; My vibrating sander (power tool) broke down this past week. It wouldn't vibrate and the electric motor froze up. I took it apart and found while most of it was constructed with sturdy metal, the main drive that caused the sander to rotate, had broken. It was plastic, and part of the plastic got into the motor, causing the entire unit to shut down.

Case two; My garage door opener wouldn't work. Why? The main gear that drives the chain was made of plastic. Through use, the chain being driven by the gear merely ground to the point where it no longer had teeth. Had it been made of metal, the chain wouldn't have been able to wear out.

Looking back about six years, I was driving an SUV. The radiator broke. A rock had come through the grill and went completely through the radiator. Guess what? The radiator was made of plastic. The manufacturer of that vehicle has now changed that, but there went several hundred dollars to have it replaced. The plastic radiator wasn't covered under the warranty.

I've had similar troubles with the drive gear on a chain saw and other tools. Their frame is made of metal so they look powerful, yet they put plastic products inside, which break down. Some people say the manufacturer does it on purpose so you will buy another to replace the one that has broken. Others believe it's to cut costs in manufacturing. C'mon now, one little drive gear? I'll pay the extra price just to avoid having to replace the entire piece of equipment.

For the majority of products, plastic is good. Yes, it has helped reduce manufacturing and retail cost. But there are instances (and I've cited a few) when the strength of metal must be considered over the weakness of plastic.

When you buy a power tool or other object that has a driving mechanism, strange as it may seem, they won't let you stand there in the store and tear it apart to find out if there is a plastic drive unit. You have to take your chances. In buying a power tool, if you get one that looks powerful, the clerk may tell you, "Oh, this one is good. It'll last a lifetime." I guess I shouldn't expect to live very long. The tool lasts only a year or two, and I plan to be around much longer than that.

Then they either give, or sell you, a lifetime guarantee. If something goes wrong however, they will tell you, "We don't sell (or make) that anymore. We can't replace anything."

I have purchased many of my power tools, (and that garage door opener) from one particular store. You may suggest I start using another store. But that doesn't work. I've tried several others, and end up with the same problem — a metal tool with a plastic drive mechanism.

If you want to impress me and draw my patronage, put a sign on a power tool saying, "No plastic drive mechanism parts," and I, and probably many more, will be beating a path to your door.

Oak on Elm

While mother nature may be blowing cold winds in the North, the weather is staying relatively warm in Central Florida, allowing for trees, such as the Oak trees on Elm Avenue, to flourish during the winter months.

Trying to buck the trend

I have a friend in the real estate business who was telling me how well condos are selling these days, now that baby boomers are approaching retirement age. He then proceeded to list all of the things that people no longer want in a home, which ended up being a pretty accurate description of the house I currently own.

Now I know the logical decision would be for me to sell my house immediately at a huge loss and go and live in a condo with other people who had done the same thing, and then we could all get together on Saturday nights and reminisce about the good old days when we had backyards and parking spots.

But I'm not going to do that. There are two things I don't like about trends — first, trends are like breezes, they have to keep moving to exist. So once you start following trends, you're pretty much committing to a life on the road.

Second, trends are for the sole purpose of making money. I've always preferred to eke out a living doing something I enjoy, rather than make a fortune doing something I hate. Maybe one day I'll be able to make a fortune doing something I enjoy. But that won't be a trend, it'll be a miracle.

Do I Need More Data?

I have a couple of channels on my TV where every inch of the screen is covered with information. One corner has the weather, there's a program in another corner, one section of the screen is devoted to live video of local highways, another to sports, the news is printed in another area, and during all of this, three lines of stock market reports crawl horizontally across the bottom of the screen.

Whose idea was this, to bombard me with unconnected random bits of unsolicited information? It's like talking to my brother-in-law. And how did they decide how much info to put up there? Can the average human digest six different sources of data simultaneously? If the answer is yes, then I must have had a sheltered life, because I've never met an average human being.

Instead of giving me six different things that I don't want, isn't it better to ask me what I want and then just give me that? I feel like I came into the store for an ice cream cone, and instead they're offering me 35 flavors of yogurt. I sure hope this multi-data barrage doesn't catch on. I already have enough of that kind of chaos going on right inside my own head.

Regrets, I've Had A Few

I know that people tend to have regrets in their lives, and as they get older these regrets can be very debilitating. You can't go back and change any of them, and they can actually stop you from doing things now, out of fear that you'll regret it later.

Now they tell me you must have regrets to be normal, so to keep the real bad ones out of my mind, I've made a list of reasonable regrets that are bad enough to make me feel a slight twinge of guilt, but not so terrible that I end up hating myself.

- Here are my regrets:
- Buying a car made in a Baltic country
  - Eating that second pizza
  - Not going to the bathroom before riding The Scrambler
  - Not kissing my second girlfriend
  - Kissing my first girlfriend
  - Pulling Grandpa's finger

Fight With Deputy

Seminole County Sheriff's deputies arrested Ralph Edward Daniels, 36, of Pineview Drive, Oviedo, on Monday. Officers said they located Daniels when they responded to a domestic dispute on Denise Street in Oviedo. When the deputy attempted to apprehend Daniels, he reportedly attempted to strike the officer then fled on foot. With the assistance of other deputies and the Oviedo Police, he was eventually apprehended and reportedly attempted to hit the officers again. He was arrested on charges of battery (domestic violence), aggravated assault on a law enforcement officer, two counts of battery on a law enforcement officer, resisting an officer with violence, use/display of a weapon during a felony, obstructing a police officer, and possession of an open container.

Robbery

Seminole County sheriff's deputies are investigating a robbery on Dec. 7, at a Winter Park home. Takeshi Takashima, 51, operator of the Ya Suahi Restaurant, was reportedly robbed after parking his car in the garage at his home, around 10 p.m., in the 2200 block of King Edward Court. It is believed the three suspects followed the victim home from his business. The suspects got into the garage as the automatic door was closing. While one held a gun to Mr. Takashima's head, the other two took money and items from him. The loss was estimated at $2,000 in cash as well as credit card receipts from his business. The suspects also took keys to his business before fleeing on foot.

Traffic Stops

A traffic stop early Friday ended with the arrest of a Miami man who was in possession of 10 counterfeit driver's licenses and 51 questionable checks that had business names on them. The suspect is identified as 28 year old Carlos Alberto Jimenez. The traffic stop was made in the 3400 block of U.S. Highway 17-92 in Casselberry when a deputy noticed a van making an unsafe maneuver. A check of Jimenez's drivers license indicated he was on probation.

A search of the vehicle revealed the other items, which were turned over to the U.S. Secret Service.

Jimenez was charged with possession of counterfeit driver's licenses and violation of probation. An investigation into the incident is continuing.

Sheriff's deputies stopped a vehicle driven by James Antavia Williams, 18, of Scott Drive, Sanford, after it was spotted early Tuesday at 5th Street and Olive Avenue, with no license tag. The vehicle fled however, striking a mail box in the 1300 block of 3rd Street, then a concrete wall at Lake Monroe Terrace, where Williams reportedly attempted to flee on foot. After being apprehended, he was charged with fleeing/eluding a police officer, driving with a suspended license, having no valid drivers license, reckless driving, and resisting an officer without violence. The vehicle was proven to have been stolen from Lake Monroe Terrace, and Williams was given an additional charge of grand theft auto.

Cornell Eugene Worthen, 34, of Wilner Circle, Sanford, was stopped by deputies at SR-46 and Upsala Road early Tuesday. He was charged with driving with a suspended license (habitual), possession of narcotics equipment, and having an expired license for more than four months.

Drug Arrests

Ronald Wayne Adkins, 32, of Randolph Street, Sanford, was arrested on Dec. 7, as the result of a report that a man was going door-to-door knocking on doors, asking for drugs. Sanford police said he was found to have a pipe stem in his pocket, the type normally used for smoking crack cocaine. He was arrested on a charge of possession of narcotics equipment.

Revitalizing Sanford

New businesses help make city new jewel of Central Florida

While it's always nice to see new development come to Sanford, it's even more encouraging to see redevelopment take place in the city's abandoned or run-down buildings.

In recent weeks, three unused facilities have once again opened their doors for business: Tammy's Custom Bakery on Sanford Avenue at 2nd Street, Amigos Original Tex-Mex restaurant in the old Shoney's building on 17/92, and Father's Table, a wholesale bakery that provides cheesecakes to retailers like Wal-Mart. Father's Table is currently renovating the old Southern Plantation Food's warehouse on Country Club Drive and expects to begin operation in March.

The Herald would like to recognize these efforts because opening any new business, regardless of location, is always a risk. We appreciate these business owners' faith in American capitalism and in the Sanford community. Furthermore, their efforts to rejuvenate underused properties are the backbone of successful revitalization. If Sanford is to reclaim its luster as the crown jewel of Central Florida, similar efforts need to occur throughout the city.

We wish all of these businesses the best of luck and encourage Sanford residents to patronize these and other locally owned establishments whenever possible. While it is important for local entrepreneurs to invest in Sanford, it is equally important for us to invest in their enterprises.

We also strongly urge Sanford Main Street to begin working with businesses along Sanford Avenue. Tammy and Jeff Coleman's decision to locate their bakery on Sanford Avenue is proof this thoroughfare can be a natural extension of the retail redevelopment taking place along 1st Street. It would behoove officials from Main Street to lend a helping hand to this and other Sanford Avenue businesses with beautification grants and funding sources available through the organization.

We realize there are worthy projects along 1st Street; however, a revitalized Sanford Avenue will only compliment those improvements. A careful review of history shows Sanford Avenue was as bustling with business as 1st Street. A rejuvenation plan that doesn't address Sanford Avenue taps only a portion of the potential available in downtown.

Projects like the hotel/conference center or high-rise condominiums are important to Sanford, but those can only be successful if redevelopment of underutilized properties occurs. In the last five years, redevelopment in the city has steadily increased. We expect to see more in the coming months and pledge our support to those willing to invest in Sanford.

Commission heading in right direction with conference center

Seminole County Commissioners struggled with two age old axioms this week. One, "Look before you leap," and two, "He who hesitates is lost."

Fortunately board members Randy Morris, Daryl McLain, and Dick Van Der Weide voted for the latter.

After years of kicking around the idea of building a hotel and conference center on the shores of Lake Monroe in a joint partnership with the city of Sanford, the trio cast their votes to move the process ahead with a full Request for Qualifications/Request for Proposal. In doing so they potentially commit the County to $600,000 in Tourist Development Commission for the next 20 years. The insightful motion carries with it a caveat. If the answers about ownership, liability, and revenue shortfalls are not to the commission's liking, the county can walk away from the joint venture.

While we respect the genuine concerns about those issues from board members Carlton Henley and Grant Maloy, we applaud the guts of the three commission members who decided it is finally time to put up or shut up.

If the RFP comes back with a solid private sector partner with the willingness to commit to Sanford and Seminole County, we say turn dirt and full speed ahead on the conference center and hotel.

If the RFP comes back with negative responses, then the commission can gracefully bow out with the crafty exit strategy they've built in.

Skepticism, nay-saying, and hypotheticals can only be overcome with cold, hard facts. The only way to get that kind of quantitative information is from responses to the RFQ/RFP. We applaud the Commission for its wise decision.

Bush will have to work to unite the country

Dubious congratulations are due Gov. George W. Bush. He has succeeded in doing for Al Gore what Gore could not do for himself: Democratic congressional leaders are now firmly united behind the vice president, and Democratic voters are more committed to Gore's crusade than they were on Election Day.

It looks as though Bush has become a "uniter" after all — if not quite in the way he intended. One of the worst-kept secrets on Capitol Hill is that Gore is not particularly popular among his Democratic colleagues. The same traits that rubbed voters the wrong way have long since irked his co-workers as well: Gore is not warm or friendly; he keeps his own counsel; he spends his time with his wife and children and one or two close friends.

But the GOP's outrageous tactics have created a backlash that infuriated Democrats and hardened their support for Gore. As they did with the impeachment of President Clinton, Republicans have gone too far — way too far. As U.S. Sen. Charles Schumer of New York put it: "There's a terrible taste in people's mouths about what happened in Miami-Dade."

Just in case you've missed some of the GOP's tactics down there, a brief review:

Bush's minions have engaged in incendiary rhetoric, accusing the Gore camp of trying to "steal" the election and calling election officials "thugs." They have denounced and tried to discredit the courts when they didn't rule the GOP's way. And in one astonishing episode, a Republican mob verbally attacked and intimidated a group of low-level functionaries trying to hand-count ballots in Miami-Dade.

By the way, that scene of well-heeled young conservatives engaged in a near-riot bore the imprimatur of House Majority Whip Tom DeLay, among the scary GOP contingent that Bush tried to keep hidden during the campaign.

DeLay and other Republican congressional leaders offered their aides airfare, hotels and meals if they would fly down to Florida to cause trouble. Indeed, they were thrilled for the opportunity to use their peculiar talents. One GOP operative told The Wall Street Journal: "Once word leaked out, everybody wanted in."

Perhaps Bush's resort to such tactics shouldn't come as a surprise, his mantra about being a "uniter, not a divider" notwithstanding. When he was under pressure from U.S. Sen. John McCain during the Republican primaries, Bush allowed his supporters to resort to the worst kinds of dirty tricks. Bush surrogates went so far as to suggest McCain sold out to the communists in Vietnam and to smear his 9-year-old adopted Bangladeshi daughter.

Bush ought to know better. He should have learned from the late Lee Atwater, a South Carolina native who used scorched-earth tactics to win the presidency for the governor's father, George H.W. Bush. In a deathbed confession written for Life magazine, Atwater, who died of cancer in 1991, spoke with deep regret of the bitter war he waged against Michael Dukakis, the Democratic nominee.

"In 1988, fighting Dukakis, I said that I 'would strip the bark off the little bastard' and 'make Willie Horton his running mate.' I am sorry for both statements: the first for its naked cruelty, the second because it makes me sound racist, which I am not."

"Mostly I am sorry for the way I thought of other people. Like a good general, I had treated everyone who wasn't with me as against me."

That's the least of it. The Bush camp is treating the opposition as illegitimate, un-American thieves. And, if Bush assumes the White House, Gore's supporters won't easily forget it. If he wins (and the clock seems to favor Bush at the moment), he's in for a rocky road.

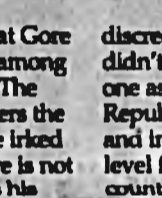

They say the governor doesn't read much, but he ought to go back and take a look at Atwater's dying words. It is too late for Bush to reclaim the mantle of "uniter, not a divider"; he has long since given the lie to that. But it may not be too late for him to reclaim his soul.

'Uniter' Bush needs to choose diverse cabinet

"I understand you're fascinating," demanded Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's insouciant dinner partner. "So FASCINATING me!!!"

George W. Bush could soon face the same abrupt reckoning of promise to performance. He claimed in the campaign to be a "uniter."

So UNITE us!!! Your victory map is limited to the conservative-leaning white folk who inhabit that wide continental expanse from the coastal South to the mountain West. A good start for a Bush presidency, assuming you get one, would be a cabinet that speaks to the rest of the country.

Christine Todd Whitman is the tax-cutting, pro-choice two-term governor of New Jersey. She's a Herald Tribune Republican, a happy warrior of a politician who will give needed balance to the party's Hezbollah faction of Tom DeLay and Dick Armye.

Governor Tom Ridge of Pennsylvania is the working-class kid who went to Harvard and worked himself tirelessly to win you his state.

William Gray is the former Democratic House leader who now heads the United Negro College Fund, a favorite cause of the Bush family. Gray showed his stuff chairing the Budget Committee and winning the Majority Whip's job. An African-American from Philadelphia, he had a gift for forging solid ties with white colleagues from the south.

Pete King, a real Knight of Columbus-type congressman from Long Island, N.Y., would put a ruddy Celtic face in the Bush crowd.

Steve Goldsmith, the former mayor of Indianapolis and a strong backer of school vouchers, will add a Jewish member to the cabinet, a boutique consolation prize for all those folks confused by the butterfly ballot down in Palm Beach.

Leon Panetta of Carmel Valley, Calif., offers even richer diversity. He would bring enormous experience to the Bush table. A legislative assistant to California senator Tom Kuchel and New York mayor John Lindsay, he headed the old HEW civil rights division before breaking with Richard Nixon over civil rights enforcement. An extremely popular congressman in his northern California district, he chaired the House Budget committee, headed OMB, and served as the Clinton chief of staff who tried manfully to keep the Oval Office off-limits for interns.

General Colin Powell, who has retained his national hero status since heading the Joint Chiefs in the Persian Gulf war, is even more impressive, more sophisticated, more visionary in small groups.

But the most striking Cabinet pick would be naming as attorney general the man who cleaned up New York City, mayor Rudolph Giuliani. A gritty kid from the boroughs, his Yankees cap would be a perfect counterpoint to those faux cowboys and their Hoot Gibson hats trying to herd the Republican congress.

Such a Cabinet would be white, black, ethnic and WASP, pro-life and pro-choice, East Coast, West Coast, big city, country and, most important, with a powerful appeal to the northern suburbs Bush failed to win in the campaign.

We can't know if it would unite us in the end, but even the skeptics would know what young Bush was trying to do in the beginning.

From A to Z

Art Ziellinski asks people what they think ...

Santa will be arriving in Sanford in less than two weeks, and most of us hope he remembers all the things we put on our list. But sometimes Santa can be a little forgetful and that one important present is never under the tree on Christmas morning. So we asked, "What Christmas present did you always want, but never got?"

Besides money — a mink coat when I lived up north. But not now that I live in Florida.
Carol Powell, Lake Mary

As a child I always wanted a bike, but never got one. But as I grew older I learned that wasn't important. Family and friends are the most important.
Rebecca T. Henderson, Sanford

I always wanted a very expensive train. I had the small ones, but never a really nice one. And I'm still waiting to get one. I told my wife so I hope she gets the message.
Marshall Perry, Sanford

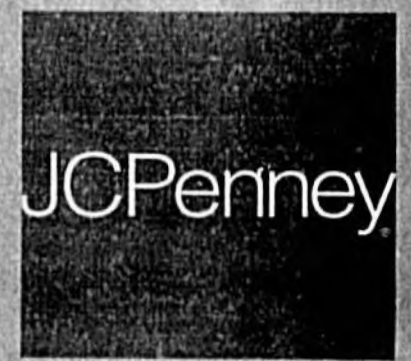

A home. I could see myself in it now. I hope Santa brings me one this year, but anytime would be fine.
Queen Williams, Sanford

A new Corvette, that would do me in. Or a good man and some jewelry.

Special, Fast And Easy For Any Meal Occasion

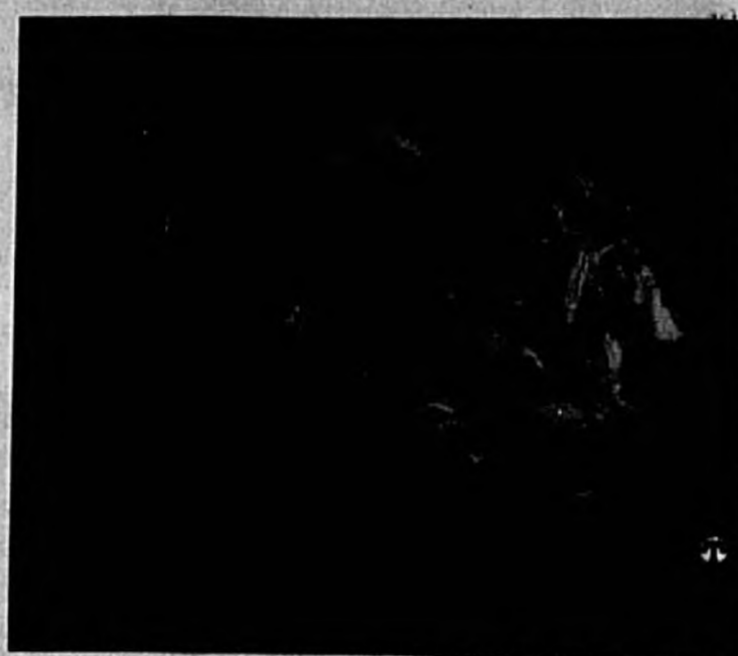

(NAPSA)-Holiday traditions often include great meals, but what about all the other meals you'll be serving, and eating, during this season? Whether it's a casual family gathering or an elegant sit-down dinner, special, easy and fast are three great ingredients.

Having Birds Eye Baby Vegetables on hand makes it easy to add a special touch to a meal, without adding extra time. Unique varieties such as Baby Gold and White Corn, Baby Pea Blend and Baby Broccoli can make meals more interesting when added as a side dish or as part of the main entrée. Extra sweet and tender, Baby Vegetables can add that special touch that sets holiday traditions apart from the everyday.

What about a new holiday entrée? Salmon with Baby Vegetables in Dill Sauce brings a new flavor into the holiday mix while maintaining a festive table. It's easy and quick enough for everyday, but no one will ever guess. As is, it's the perfect size for a dinner party of six, but another salmon filet and more Birds Eye vegetables can be easily added for additional guests or surprise drop-ins.

Salmon With Vegetables In Dill Sauce

2 pounds fresh salmon fillet
Dill sauce: 2 Tablespoons melted butter, 2 Tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 Tablespoon grated onion, 2 teaspoons lemon juice

1/4 teaspoon dill package (16 ounces) Bird's Eye Baby Pea Blend

Place filets in greased 9 x 13-inch baking pan. Bake in a preheated 400°F oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily with fork.

For dill sauce: In small saucepan, heat butter; add flour and whisk until smooth. Add milk, stirring constantly until mixture is thick and smooth. Stir in onion, lemon juice, dill and vegetables.

Transfer salmon to large platter and top with sauce. Makes six servings.

If dinner doesn't call for an entire new entrée, why not try something special for a side dish? Here's one that no one in your family will pass up. Baby Carrots with Maple Pecan Topping add a touch of sweetness to your vegetable that will complement any holiday feast. For other great holiday meal ideas, recipes and tips, visit www.birdseye.com.

Baby Carrots With Pecan Maple Topping
2 tablespoons melted butter, 10 butter-flavored crackers, crushed, 2 tablespoons chopped pecans, toasted, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon black pepper, 1 Birds Eye Baby, Whole Carrots, cooked according to package directions, 1/4 cup maple syrup

In small bowl, combine melted butter, crackers, pecans, salt, and maple; set aside. In medium saucepan, add carrots and maple syrup; heat 1 to 2 minutes stirring gently to coat; place in serving dish. Sprinkle cracker mixture over carrots. Makes six servings.

Making Greeting Cards at Home for the Holidays

This year, create your own holiday greeting cards with family photographs.

(NAPSA)-As we celebrate the holidays, it is important to remember our family and friends with festive greetings. Instead of trying to find the perfect holiday card for everyone in your address book, take a few moments to add a little personal touch and make your cards at home.

Creating personal greeting cards with family photos is a popular and well-received trend that gives holiday cards a special touch that no store-bought greeting can match. And what would be merrier than getting parents and children together to start a new family tradition of making special greeting cards?

With the help of a home computer and an inkjet printer, all of the steps to create personalized greeting cards from taking the perfect picture to printing just the right card-can be done in the comfort of your home.

First, select a favorite photograph and scan it into a computer, or take a new picture with a digital camera and download it into a computer. The step-by-step directions of a greeting card program will help you select the best layout, add a message and edit your photograph.

Then print the cards using high quality inkjet photo greeting card paper, such as Kodak's new Premium Matte Greeting Card paper. Or if you want to give your holiday greeting an extra-special touch, print them on Kodak's new Premium Linen Greeting Card paper. Coated on both sides, the new large bi-fold size cards come with convenient "peel and seal" envelopes. The results are creative, innovative and priceless.

Make Toy Buying More Like Child's Play

(NAPSA)-This holiday season, that creature, the mouse, is stirring more than ever. A nationally-known retailer offers shoppers live assistance that's only a mouse click away.

The service is free to customers who visit and shop at www.FAO.com, the Web site of the world-famous toy store, FAO Schwarz. The new online service lets shoppers interact with an FAO customer service representative live, thanks to an embedded text-messaging window, or directing through public instant messaging tools such as AOL Instant Messenger.

The toy store joined forces with FaceTime Communications to make the new applications possible. Now customers will be able to ask questions, get gift recommendations and check on product availability, all on the Web. The technology lets shoppers and customer service representatives exchange instant messages, speeding up the shopping process since the customer will not have to wait for an e-mail response.

The Web site, established in 1995, has become the fastest growing part of the toy retailer's business.

The Internet Superhighway can take you to a playground of good ideas for finding gifts at the Web site of a famous toy store.

WRAP IT UP CLEAN WITH NEAT-N-TIDY ALL CLEAN

This year you may have thought it would be remiss to get on the 15 days of Christmas. What would be the best gift to give your loved ones for the holidays? They don't just "get" a gift, they get a gift that says "I care." They get a gift that says "I thought of you." They get a gift that says "I'm glad you're here." They get a gift that says "I'm glad you're mine." They get a gift that says "I'm glad you're my friend." They get a gift that says "I'm glad you're my neighbor." ### Donaldson named middle school counselor of the year

Dr. Mary Beth Donaldson, a counselor at Sanford Middle School, was recently named outstanding counselor for all middle schools in Florida. Donaldson is also Seminole County's middle school counselor of the year for 1999/2000. She has been instrumental in reorganizing Sanford Middle School's guidance department to be more effective in reaching out to parents, students and staff. The school motto is "Reaching for the Stars." Donaldson chairs the Star-net, the Student Assistance Team at Sanford Middle School. The team provides teachers with the assistance in meeting the needs in areas of academic performance, behavior and/or attendance. A student described Donaldson as, "very dedicated and caring to me. She is very easy to talk to." "She takes time to get to know each and every one of us." The counselor said her goal is to treat every student with the same love and respect she would want others to treat her son, Ted.

'A Night Before Christmas' set for Saturday

"A Night Before Christmas" is the title of the production to be presented Saturday, Dec. 16 at 8 p.m., in the Helen Stairs Theatre, 209 Magnolia Ave. in downtown Sanford.

It is a must-see performance by the young artists of Tajiri Arts, directed by Peggy Nixon, featuring the Hungerford Elementary Voices, Hamilton Elementary Gospel Choir, Millennium Middle School String Quartet, special guest soloist Kawan Deboe. Reception and silent auction will be at 6:30 p.m. For reservations and tickets, call 407-324-9140. Regular admission is $10. VIP seating is $15. A Tajiri School of Performing Arts and Academics production.

The city of Sanford Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. celebration choir will rehearse Tuesdays, Dec. 19, and 26 and Jan. 2 and 9 at St. John Metropolitan Baptist Church, Cypress Avenue and East 10th Street. All singers, choir directors and musicians from all churches are invited to join this celebration event. Gloria Williams, Choir Director, Mary Liggon Deboe, Sylvia Stallworth and Charles Jackson, assistant directors. The Seminole County HIPPIY Program Launches Reading

Tajiri Arts, directed by Peggy Nixon, will be featured during 'A Night Before Christmas' performance scheduled for Saturday at the Helen Stairs Theatre in downtown Sanford.

Initiative, will help more than 140 preschoolers and volunteers involved in the Seminole County HIPPIY Reading is Fundamental programs. Clifford, the Big Red Dog and the RIF Book Distribution gives the children the choice of new books to keep and read, at no cost to them or their families. This festive event to celebrate the Seminole County HIPPIY RIF literacy campaign serves the children at New Beginnings Day Care, Sanford, Altamonte Springs Elementary, Head Start and Lyman High School Pre-Kindergarten. Studies show that children who read often, read well. Reading is fundamental - it motivates America's children to read through initiatives like the HIPPIY Literacy Program RIF Party, which features fun-filled reading, motivational activities and books that research show kids like. This program develops and delivers children and family literacy with books that prepare young children and motivate preschoolers to develop great reading habits. Dr. Geneviva Gano, sponsor of the Seminole County HIPPIY program was awarded a RIF grant and over 413 books will be distributed and two additional distributions will be oncoming during the school year. Over 200 million books will be put in the hands, homes and hearts of America's children. Seminole Hope, the community coalition coordinated by the Grove Counseling Center, inc., will hold their monthly meeting, Sat. Dec. 16 at noon, at the West Sanford Boys and Girls Club. The community is invited. This meeting is to enhance the quality of life and safety for every resident of Seminole County. Vernon McQueen is director of the Prevention Programs.

Community Notes

Toy Drive Under Way
Florida's Turnpike has kicked off Seminole II Santa Toy Drive. The purpose of this program is to collect 950 toys for the deserving boys and girls at Wicklow Elementary School in Sanford. Wicklow is located across the street from the Seminole Expressway Project 2 Construction site. The drive will continue through Dec. 19, with the goodies to be given to the children on Dec. 20.

School Principal Beverly Perrault said the majority of her students are from very low-income families. This program is a way for those associated with construction of the Seminole Expressway Project 2 to spread joy this holiday season by giving back to the community. Anyone who wishes can donate a toy for a child between age 5 and 12 at the Seminole Expressway Project 2 Public Information Office, 1221 Rinehart Road, Sanford.

Free Gift Wrapping
Family Worship Center, 2913 Orlando Drive in Sanford will have free gift wrapping as a service to the community, Saturday, Dec. 16 from noon until 2 p.m. in the church parking lot next to Good Lutheran Church on U.S. Highway 17-92. Bring a gift and a box. Gift wrap is free.

Christmas Cactus native to rain forest

The Christmas Cactus, contrary to what you may expect, is native to the rain forests, where it can be found hanging on trees.

Its pendulous growth makes it ideal for hanging baskets. The plants do not have leaves, but flattened, jointed, green stems that look like leaves with pointed lobes, claw-like in appearance.

Because the stem segments resemble crab's legs, the Christmas Cactus is sometimes called Crab Cactus.

The flowers are very striking and borne at the tip of the stems, their color varies from white through orange to lilac. The fruit is rare but when present it is a red berry.

Even though this plant is an epiphyte, like many orchids and bromeliads, in Florida it is grown in media containing organic matter. A mixture of perlite and peat moss is often used to grow this plant. The plants should be watered regularly, but avoid excessive watering.

Plants grown in pots need good drainage. Watering is very important during bud and flower formation, too little or too much water will cause the plants to drop their flowers.

Plants are usually fertilized every month with a diluted water-soluble fertilizer. Keep plants quite dry, unfertilized and at a temperature about 55 degrees during November and December to promote flowering. Plants can be grown outdoors during the summer but need some shade to protect them from sunburn. They are not cold tolerant and must remain indoors during the winter.

Filtered light is best for growth.

Flowering

To induce flowering of these plants, both temperature and length of darkness must be carefully controlled.

If the night temperature is maintained between 50 and 55 degrees, flower buds will form regardless of day-length. If the night temperature is kept between 55 and 70 degrees, buds will form if the plants remain for at least 13 continuous hours in complete darkness.

If the night temperature is maintained above 70 degrees, buds will form if the plants remain for at least 15 continuous hours in complete darkness.

Maintain these conditions until flower buds are fully developed, which may take about six to nine weeks. If the plants are not exposed to the above temperature and light requirements, flower buds will not form.

Any exposure to light, during this dark period, will interrupt the formation of the flower buds.

After the flower buds are formed, plants will flower regardless of light or temperature conditions. Temperatures above 90 degrees may cause buds to drop.

Propagation

In spring take cuttings from last year's growth which has not yet become woody, leave them to dry for a few days and later place them on a rooting media. Too much water will cause the stem sections to rot.

Holiday cacti

Two genera of closely related plants, Zygocactus and Schlumbergera and their hybrids are used to name these plants as Christmas Cactus, Thanksgiving Cactus or Easter Cactus. They are known collectively as the Holiday Cacti.

The Christmas Cactus has red, pink, or white flowers or combinations of these colors. The Thanksgiving Cactus has bright orange-red flowers and the Easter Cactus has white flowers.

The Easter Cactus has wider and rounder stem segments and the buds take longer to develop, consequently, they will bloom later than the Christmas Cactus.

Pests And Diseases

Mealy-bugs can cause some damage to these plants, they can be controlled with a local application of a soap insecticide or they can be removed with a cotton swab and alcohol.

Slugs may also become a problem in the garden.

Al Ferrer is Seminole County Urban Horticulturist. Inquiries may be directed to him at the Cooperative Extension service, 250 W. County Home Road, Sanford, FL 32773 or phone 863-6858. All Seminole County Cooperative Extension services are open to all regardless of race, color, sex, handicap or national origin.

English classes available at three county locations

Seminole Community College continues to offer free English classes for non-native speakers at three locations in Seminole County, including the new campus in Oviedo. All classes will begin on Jan. 8, 2001. Other locations will be at the main campus in Lake Mary and Hunt Club in Apopka. Classes are free for adults 16 years of age and older who are U.S. Citizens, permanent U.S. residents or refugees. The classes are at eight levels from beginning to high-advanced academic skills level. Courses run for approximately seven weeks and are offered days, nights, and Saturdays.

For more information phone Nelson Pagen, Student Advisor at 407-328-2420 or visit one of the campuses. Early registration is suggested.

Son's name change is slap in face to family

DEAR ABBY: We just found out that one of our sons changed his last name. What a terrible blow to our family. We found out very painfully when his wife had a baby. We went to the hospital to see the newest member of our family and couldn't find a "Mrs. Barry Nofzinger." However, there WAS a "Mrs. Barry Gibson."

Dear Abby

Barry had used the name "Gibson" before, when he was in sales. He said it was much easier to remember than Nofzinger. He never indicated that he was considering changing his name. When he remarried two years ago, he still used the name Nofzinger. As far as we know, the name change occurred prior to our grandson's birth.

When we asked why, he told us his current wife (Barry was married before) didn't want to be the "second" Mrs. Nofzinger. The funny thing is, Barry's first wife remarried long before our son met or married his current wife. She has used her present husband's name for years.

Barry contends that we're making too much of this. He expects his relationship with us will remain as it has always been. In fact, he expects his son to have the same kind of relationship with us that we have with our other grandchildren.

We have been good parents, Abby. We have given our love and support unconditionally to all our children. I pray that I can continue doing that, but right now, I'm so full of anger, pain and shame that I wonder if it wouldn't be best if I told our son we would prefer never to see him again.

Barry's father is very hurt, and his brothers are also upset. He's unable to understand why we feel this way.

Perhaps someday I won't feel like I have been slapped in the face every time I see "Gibson" instead of "Nofzinger" after his name. Please help me to let go of my anger.

SEEING RED IN OREGON

DEAR SEEING RED: William

Shakespeare was right when he said, "What's in a name? That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." It's no sin to change one's name — and your son's having done so is no reflection upon how he feels about his siblings and you. You're making a mountain out of a molehill.

You say you're wondering if it wouldn't be best to tell your son you'd prefer never to see him again. Be careful what you wish for.

DEAR ABBY: Christmas is around the corner. Because our first child was due at Thanksgiving, I planned ahead and did as much of my shopping in advance as I could. The problem is, my husband's family expects everyone to buy presents for everyone else. This means we have to buy for 20 people! I don't mind buying for his parents and siblings, and even his grandparents, but the aunts, uncles and cousins are killing me.

We've bought everyone presents for the past two years and are still paying off credit cards from last year's purchases. I still have my parents and siblings to buy for, too. Money is tight because I'm off work now and will return to work only part time in a few months.

Abby, I don't see how we can afford to continue this tradition. My husband won't let me say anything to his family. Can you give me some advice?

WANTING A SIMPLER CHRISTMAS

DEAR WANTING: Only this: If you continue trying to adhere to his family's "traditions," your little family will never be out of debt, and your financial burdens will continue to grow until they crush you. Since your husband won't "let" you explain this to his family, perhaps he will consent to accompany you to some credit counseling sessions. I hope they'll help him see the light.

The Way We Were: Turner earns award

The following items were taken from the Friday, January 25, 1952 edition of the Sanford Herald. Ronald Dean was editor, Gordon Dean was business manager, and a subscription was $1 per month.

Blood drive big success
An Armed Forces Blood Drive Program had been held the previous day at the Episcopal Church Parish House. It was an outstanding success according to

Grace Marie Stineclpher

A.B. Peterson, Jr., chairman of the program. The public responded generously to the appeal for blood from the armed services; 144 persons volunteered and 104 units of blood were donated. A few prospective donors had to be rejected because of health problems or having taken certain medications.

Six technicians from the Central Florida Blood Bank brought their equipment and they were assisted by three volunteer doctors, Dr. C.B. Boyce, Dr. Brantley Henderson and Dr. Franklin Quillman of the County Health Unit.

Miss Mary Rawlins, local X-Ray technician, directed several registered nurses, nurses aides and volunteers. The nurses included Mrs. Roy Holler, Mrs. Earl Wilkingson, Mrs. J.C. Boyce, Mrs. Charles Lawson, Mrs. Gordon Frederick and Mrs. Brooks Jones.

Nurses aides were Mrs. Robert L. Brown, Mrs. J.E. Andrews and Miss Irene Hinton. Also assisting were Mrs. Volle Williams, Sr., and Mrs. L.F. Boyle.

Facilities at the Parish House were made available by the Rev. H.L. Zimmerman, Red Cross Chapter chairman. Arthur Kirchoff, church sexton, was assisted by National Guardsmen and beds were provided by the Naval Air Station.

A.B. Peterson and Mrs. Velma Gonzalez, chapter executive secretary, planned the event.

Others assisting were Mrs. Clara Ginn, service group chairman, John Williams, civic club chairman, Col. S.G. Harriman, residential chairman, Raymond Lundquist, publicity, Al Wallace, displays, and R.I. Cox, photographs.

Cookies were provided by the Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church. Orange juice was donated by Southward Fruit Company and screens were loaned by Mather Furniture Company. The Coca Cola Company gave ice, Haynes Office Equipment provided a typewriter and B.L. Perkins provided a window display.

Major Turner Receives Award
Major Walter M. Turner, whose wife Nancy lived at 200 West 16th Street, had been awarded the second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Bronze Star Medal for heroism in the Korean Action.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald W. Turner, lived at 915 Park Avenue.

A veteran of the Korean fighting since November, 1950, Maj. Turner was commander of the 3rd Infantry Division First Battalion, 7th Regiment.

Maj. Turner was a 1939 graduate of Seminole High School and the University of Florida in 1943. He won his commission in 1943 after completing officer candidate school.

Apartments sold
Dr. and Mrs. J.C. Boyce, formerly of Ohio, had purchased the Central Apartments, 606 Park Avenue on January 15 from Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Bovis. The sale price was $20,000. Dr. and Mrs. Boyce had a home on Scott Avenue in the Mayfair section.

Swimming Exhibition
Florence Chadwick, the only woman in history who succeeded in swimming the English Channel both ways, was to be featured in a series of swimming exhibitions at the Mayfair Inn for a two week period beginning Monday. Charles G. Marion was hotel manager. Arrangements for the exhibition were handled by the Arthur Flynn Agency in New York City.

Griens Entertain Friendship Class
The Friendship Class of the Lake Mary Church had met on the previous evening at the home of Fr. and Mrs. H.H. Grier at which time officers were elected. Mrs. L. Scott was appointed teacher.

Officers were Richard Keogh, president, Ralph Williams, vice president, Mrs. Ted Brooklyn, secretary, Mrs. Millard Rice, treasurer, and Mrs. Cecil Mixon, sunshine chairman.

Plans were made for a covered dish supper to be held February 8 at the Chamber of Commerce Building. The next class meeting would be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Lloyd on February 20.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. L. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keogh, Mrs. Ted Brooklyn, Mrs. Claudine Miller, Mrs. E.E. Lloyd, Mrs. Millard Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. Byron Riser, Mrs. Bunny Soeche, Mrs. E.L. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Humphrey, and Mr. and Mrs. Grier.

Seminole High News
In the Seminole High column by Beverly Gray, it was announced that the Azalea Ball would be held Saturday night at the armory. This was an annual event sponsored by the SHS Glee Club under the supervision of Miss Ollie Reese Whittle.

Rev. Zimmerman from the Episcopal Church had been the speaker at a recent chapel service and a talent show had been produced by the Home Economics Club on another day. Delbert Abney was the director and various singing and dancing groups were presented.

Campbell donates classic police car

Bill Campbell, left, and Sanford Police Chief Brian Tooley inspect the 1962 Chevy Impala that Campbell is donating to the Sanford Police Department. Campbell and officers from the department will refurbish the automobile to make it an exact replica of the patrol cars used in Sanford during the early 1960s. Campbell has already done a similar project for Sheriff Don Eslinger and the Seminole County Sheriff's Office. Eslinger drives the vehicle during parades. Campbell said the car should be ready in time for the July 4th parade.

nership to the Sanford site and leaves the county an exit strategy if the RFP is less than desired.

His motion came following a split of opinion from Henley and Maloy over issues dealing with facility ownership, liability, revenue shortfalls in early or late operational phases and the question of what the county might do if it receives proposals for joint partnerships with other municipalities or private sector entities.

"This public-private partnership dates back to 1994," Henley said. "But since then we've moved away from the concept of tourist development with a hotel and gotten into the area of economic development with a conference center. There are two important questions that have to be answered before I can support this. Question one, who is going to own it? Question two, who is going to be responsible for shortfalls?"

"TDC funds are not guaranteed down the road," Henley said. "The state could have an economic downturn, Seminole County could have an economic downturn for that matter. This is a deep gamble. There are an awful lot of unknowns to tie up the county for 20 years."

McLain countered that going forward with an RFP would help answer those questions.

"The real issue of how it will be structured, ownership and shortfalls if they come won't be hindered by an RFP or our partnership with Sanford," McLain said. "As far as other proposals from other parties, we've seen nothing but trial balloons. No one has come to me or talked with my office about other projects. It's not reasonable to stop the RFP process. We can't operate that way as an organization."

Board chairman Van Der Weide weighed in on the debate.

"The people of Seminole County expect something that meets their needs," Van Der Weide said. "We need the flex-bility to fund this project at the appropriate level — not to would be a mistake. Let's move forward and do it right. Let's build something we can be proud of."

"Yes, it's a bold step," continued Van Der Weide. "Yes it's controversial. That's why we get paid these big salaries to make these kinds of decisions."

County Manager Kevin Grace clarified structure of the RFP and how it could be worded to address ownership and liability concerns.

"If the board moves forward with the next step the city of Sanford would handle the RFP. The RFP could be structured to address issues of concern like liability, shortfalls and ownership. Then you would have the answers you are struggling for."

Sanford sent the county a formal proposal Nov. 14 detailing the city's $10 million commitment to the partnership. That figure includes land, improvements and upgrades along Lake Monroe.

Seminole County School Board Vice Chairwoman Jeanne Morris and Superintendent Paul Hagerly cut a ribbon during the dedication ceremony at Millennium Middle School, the school system's magnet school for fine arts and communications and pre-international baccalaureate. Members of the school's JROTC presented the colors, and student Nick Kelly sang "You are my Hero." Walt Griffin, the school's principal, presided over the ceremonies.

Foresight

Transportation, Conservation, Design, and Future Land Use. "The document has been in the works since 1998," explained Deputy County Manager Frances Chandler. The board is very familiar with it because only three elements have major changes presented in Vision 2020.

In a snapshot, Vision 2020 indicates Seminole County's population will increase significantly in the next two decades while we grow older; the county will continue its transformation from a bedroom community to a major employment center, and multi-family housing construction will increase while residential construction levels off.

Population projections call for the county's current population of 365,000 to rise by an additional 72,000 residents in the next 10 years. That figure represents a continuation of the county's rapid population growth of the 1980's with trends indicating a slower growth rate of about 1.7 percent between 2010 and 2020.

Those projections dovetail with an aging county population. Over the next 20 years the growth of 45-65 year olds in Seminole County will increase significantly to about 130,000 people while the 25-44 year old age group will grow very slowly.

The projected demographics will also signal a shift in housing demands to meet the lifestyle changes of "empty nesters." Countywide multi-family housing, slow to recover from the crash that followed the boom of the 1980's has seemingly come full circle. Several large apartment projects currently under construction will add more than 2,200 housing units to the county's housing stock in the next two years alone.

Continued growth in multi-family units is expected to be fueled by the County's steady metamorphosis from a suburban to more urban community. The development of the I-4 corridor over the past decade combined with the completion of the Central Florida GreeneWay has given birth to more employment centers along those stretches.

Over the past 10 years Seminole County has averaged about 6,000 new jobs per year, concentrated in the Commercial and Service sectors. Future employment projections, tempered somewhat by an anticipated slowdown in the national economy, call for an annual average increase of a minimum of 5,300 jobs.

Along with questions about future levels of service and dedicating funding sources, board members expressed a genuine concern about cooperation from local municipalities in transforming Vision 2020 from a paper document to a reality.

"I'll say it even if its controversial," stated commissioner Carlton Henley.

"Communication is one thing and cooperation is another. It would be a mistake for us to move along with this and go our way while the municipalities go their way."

"Has this been shopped around?" Commissioner Randy Morris asked. "Do we have something with input from cities that shows us their commentary? If the cities don't buy into this there is no Vision 2020. We have to address a lot of issues that concern uniformity of zoning and the duplication of services."

Commissioner Dick Van Der

Weide echoed Morris' concerns. "Those issues could provide for a tremendous turf battle and frankly I don't think the citizens think that is a good idea," said Van Der Weide, who also serves as the county board's chairman. "We're also dealing with the uncertainty of projected revenue when we address current and future levels of service."

"I'll say it even if its controversial. Communication is one thing and cooperation is another. It would be a mistake for us to move along with this and go our way while the municipalities go their way."

Carlton Henley
Seminole County
Commissioner

The board unanimously expressed a desire for Vision 2020 to be presented to the planning departments of the county's seven municipalities for input and commentary.

The next formal step in any adoption process will be to have Vision 2020 forwarded to the State Department of Community Affairs for review and input. The first public hearing on the proposed plan will take place Jan. 9. An adoption hearing is scheduled for April 24.

Pan Am

vice and is awaiting FAA certification to operate its fleet of 10 Jetstream turbo prop aircraft. The Jetstreams will eventually add inter-city New England service as well as additional connecting routes to Florida, the Midwest, and Middle Atlantic States.

Pan Am's Clipper Class service features reconfigured 727 aircraft which have had the total number of seats reduced from 173 to 149, providing passengers with more space, comfort, and increased leg room.

Flight routes are targeted to underutilized regional hubs to allow travelers the opportunity to avoid congestion normally associated with major metropolitan airports.

Clipper Class does not require advance booking or a Saturday night stay over. Additionally, there is no pricing penalty for one-way ticket booking.

White said Pan Am's nurturing of its Sanford connection signals the airlines' intention to continue to base its growth on the local facility.

"We expect in the future there will be a more coordinated effort from Pan Am to build relationships with some of the international carriers coming in from Great Britain," he said. "We're excited about that."

Teachers receive National Certification

From Staff Reports

A total of 17 more Seminole County School system teachers have now joined the ranks of those successfully completing the rigorous and time-intensive program of the National Board for Professional Teaching Standards, to achieve the highly esteemed National Certification.

"Participating in this demanding, voluntary program is like earning an additional degree, except that it is more intrinsically related to the heart and soul of the teaching process," said Janet Haynes, Seminole Education Association (SEA) board member and successful National Board Candidate. "Students and teachers both gain from the insightful and exhaustive reflection on curriculum and methodology in their own classrooms."

The purpose of the Excellent Teaching Program is to reward teaching excellence by providing incentives, including salary and mentoring bonuses, for Florida teachers who achieve certification through the National Board of Professional Teaching Standards, (NBPTS).

Bonuses include an NBPTS application fee subsidy of $1,800; a $150 portfolio preparation cost reimbursement; an annual salary bonus of 10 percent of the prior year's average statewide classroom teacher's salary.

The 17 Seminole County teachers and their schools were listed as: Patricia Cooks of Winter Springs High; Jean Dewitt of Lake Howell High; Cheryl Eaton of Lyman High; Pamela Ferrante of Chiles Middle; Gwen Fister and Janet Haynes of Rainbow Elementary; Karen Grimm of Hamilton Elementary; and Sharon Jackson of Lake Mary High.

Also, Amy Jacobs of Oviedo High; Melanie Miller of Lyman High; Dianna Newton of Millennium Middle; Deborah Partridge of Pine Crest Elementary; Cori Priest of Lake Brantley High; Brian Sackett of Woodlands Elementary; Patricia Simmons of Oviedo High; Kathleen Snyder of Indian Trails Middle; and Joyce Taylor Walker of Rock Lake Middle School.

Wildlife Foundation of Florida helps fund FWC bear program

The Board of Directors of the Wildlife Foundation of Florida met on Nov. 17 in Tallahassee.

One topic of discussion was how designated proceeds from the sale of the "Conserve Wildlife" license plate could best be used to support FWC projects.

Requests were made by the Division of Wildlife for funds to support the black bear program, and by Florida Wildlife magazine for updating computer hardware.

FWC marketing director Dennis MacKee assured the board that revenue from tag sales has been increasing monthly beyond original estimates. Since the tag went on sale in May 1999, revenue has gone up every month to a current average of $26,000 per month.

"At the current rate," said MacKee, "even if sales were to level off at the most recent few month's volume, we can anticipate in excess of $300,000 a year revenue from the tag. Of course, if the current trend of monthly increases continues, that figure would be significantly higher."

The "Conserve Wildlife" license plate is the product of a partnership between the Wildlife Foundation of Florida, The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission and Defenders of Wildlife.

Laurie Macdonald, Florida director for Defenders of Wildlife, addressed the board giving some background on the club's involvement with the project, including the gathering of 16,000 petition signatures - 6,000 more than the minimum - from Florida citizens.

"We had an amazing variety of comments from hunters, from animal rights groups and many others, and when people learned what the benefits to Florida wildlife would be from sales of this tag, it was something that everyone could get behind and support."

Board member Dr. Allan Egbert, who is also executive director of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, praised Macdonald as the catalyst for the project, and the person most responsible for its successful launch.

Director of the FWC's Division of Wildlife, Frank Montalbano, further explained to the board how the division's $100,000 in requested funds would be used in conjunction with other grant money to maintain and enhance the bear program.

Ross Morrell, director of the FWC's Office of Informational Services, spoke to the board on behalf of Florida Wildlife magazine saying that if the magazine's $5,005 request were granted, those funds would be used to replace a desktop publishing system. The board voted to approve

Target Soccer Classic schedule set

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — Undefeated and defending Class 6A State Champion Lake Howell will be the marquee team in the 16-team girls' field when the 18th annual Target Soccer Classic takes place at four Seminole County schools starting Wednesday, December 20th.

Host Lake Mary, Lake Brantley, Winter Springs and Lyman high schools will hold games for the event that will run from the 20th through the 23rd.

6A State Champion Lake Howell paces stellar 16-team girls' field

The opening day's schedule has Oviedo facing Melbourne; Lyman taking on Bishop Moore; University playing Seabreeze; Lake Howell battling DeLand; Lake Mary welcoming Clearwater-Countryside; Winter Springs tackling Boca Raton; Lake Brantley hosting Orangewood Christian; and Satellite challenging Winter Park. A full schedule will appear in the weekend addition of the Herald. Tournament passes will be available at a cost of $12 and daily tickets are $4. Call Bill Eissele at 407-320-9672 for more information. In action from the weekend, Seminole

(0-9) had host Palm Bay on the ropes Monday night in Melbourne, as the Tribe was tied with the Pirates at 3-3 with 4-1/2 minutes to go in the contest. But the hosts went on a scoring binge and handed the Fighting Seminoles a 6-3 defeat. Kimberly German scored two goals and had an assist for Seminole, while Lauren Kovascik netted the other score. Jennette Gurtis added an assist for the Tribe. On Saturday, Lake Howell (9-0) picked

Arrow Force IX holds off Lake Howell; Oviedo still undefeated

By Dean Smith

CASSELBERRY — Robby Dupre, Marcus Robinson and Derrick Oliver all scored in double figures as Seminole held off host Lake Howell, 60-57, in boys Seminole Athletic Conference basketball action Friday night.

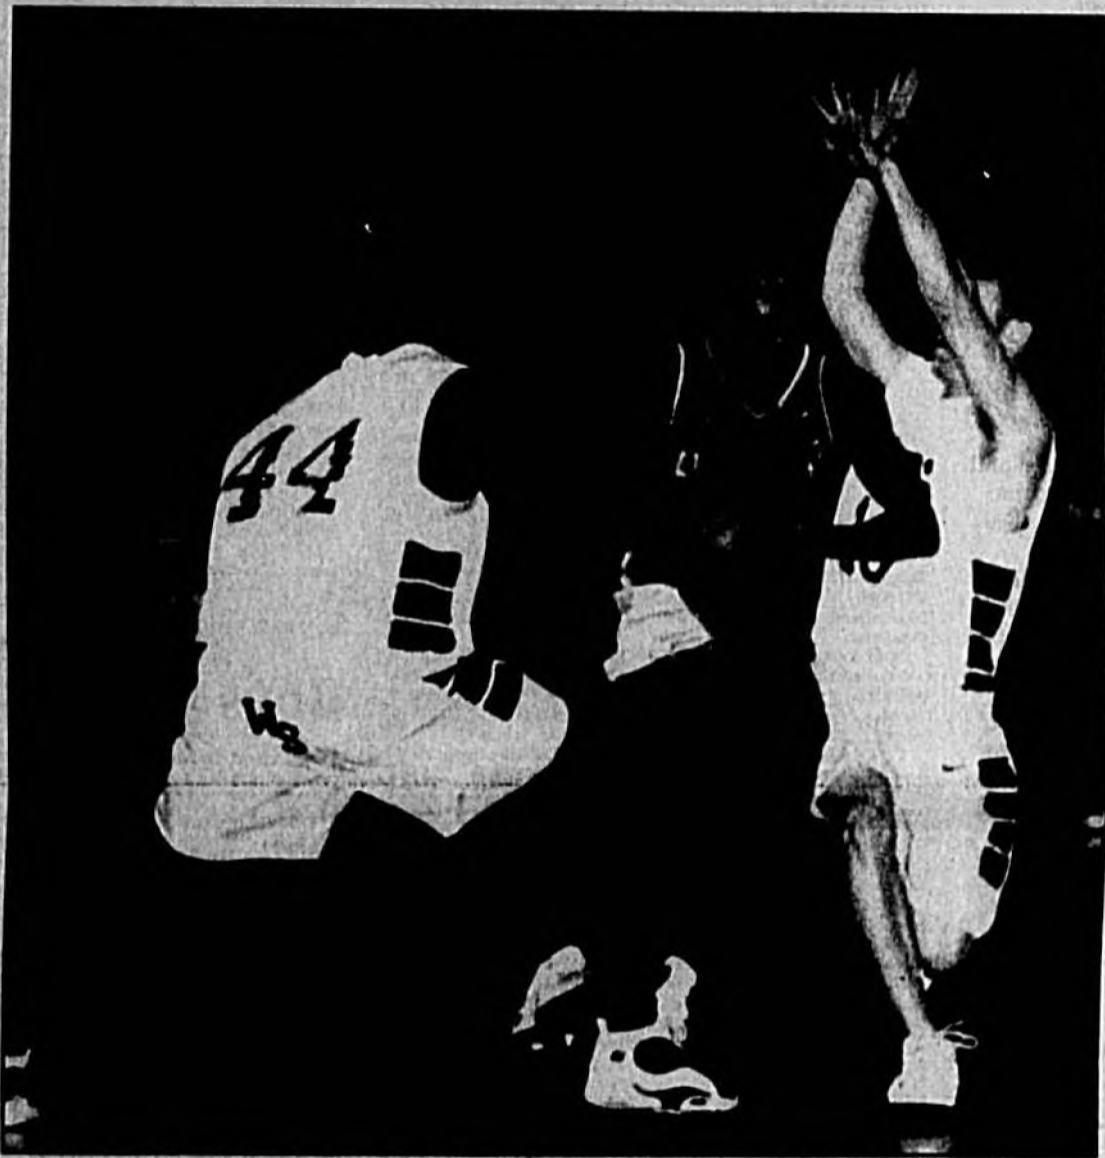

Arrow Force IX (4-2) took a 16-9 lead after one period and was up 46-34 after three quarters. But the Silver Hawks (5-4) came back strong, outscoring the visitors 23-14 in the final eight minutes to make the game close.

Dupre led AFIX with 13 points, while Robinson and Oliver tallied 11 points each. Jared Laskey netted a game-high 15 points for Lake Howell, with Lex Brown and Isaac Codrey chipping in with 11 points each.

The amazing game of the weekend was turned in by host Oviedo in the Oviedo Rotary Classic as the undefeated Lions (6-0) dismantled Faith Christian (4-2), 118-48.

The score was only 27-21 Oviedo after one period, but the Lions took control by outscoring Faith, 33-5 in the second quarter and 36-10 in the third period.

Marcus Hayes tossed in 28 points to lead the winners, while Justin Smith (18), Grant Herron and Shawn Witherspoon (12 each) and Tim Seminole's Marcus Robinson (black uniform) drives between a pair of Winter Springs defenders during action from last week. Robinson had 11 points Friday night to help Arrow Force IX defeat Lake Howell, 60-57.

Kiscaden (10) were also in double figures.

In another big game from Friday, Lake Brantley battled back from an eight-point halftime deficit behind the three-point shooting of Scott Bradley and Jamar Guy, then withstood a Winter Springs challenge as Bradley hit six straight free throws in the final 30 seconds as the Patriots (4-2) survived, 58-54.

Guy led all scorers with 25 points, while Bradley added 18.

Tony Bell, who scored on a lay-up with 38 seconds left to cut the Lake Brantley lead to two, led the Bears (3-3) with 16 points.

Lake Mary boys soccer team shuts out two foes

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — The Lake Mary boys soccer team continues to stamp itself as a power to be dealt with this season as it posted a pair of impressive shutouts over the weekend to remain undefeated.

On Friday at Don T. Reynolds Stadium, Zolie Kesckes had a goal and an assist as the Rams blanked Oviedo, 2-0, and on Monday Kesckes netted three goals as Lake Mary blanked DeLand, 4-0, at Spec Martin Stadium.

The Rams of coach Larry McCorkle are now 4-0-1 on the season.

In the victory over the Lions (3-2-1), Samer Jawad also had a goal.

Against the Bulldogs (5-3-1), Jawad also scored a goal and Eric Gorden chipped in with a pair of assists.

Lyman also picked up a big win on Friday, whitewashing a very good New Smyrna Beach squad (8-3), 3-0, at Carlton D.

Henley Field. Chris Ferriter had a big night for the Greyhounds (5-2), scoring one goal and handing out two assists.

Other contributors for Lyman were Shane Mellon and Fabio Pedraza with one goal each and Juan Zuluaga with an assist.

In other matches, Lake Brantley and Bishop Moore battled to a 1-1 tie on Friday; Lake Howell saw a 0-0 halftime tie turn into a 2-0 defeat at the hands of Flagler-Palm Coast on Saturday; and Oviedo won 3-0 over Deltona and Winter Springs dropped a 3-1 decision to Colonial on Monday.

Local girls teams get road wins

By Dean Smith

SANFORD — Monday proved to be a good night for Seminole Athletic Conference girls basketball teams to head to the east coast.

Junior forward Laquena Grayson scored 23 points, pulled down 11 rebounds, dished out five assists and picked off four steals as Seminole improved to 9-2 with a 64-57 victory over Merritt Island.

The Fighting Seminoles, which outscored the Mustangs in every quarter but the second, also had Jamala Mitchell (14 points), Chequilla Jessie (12 points) and Matia Mitchell (10 points) score in double figures.

The Tribe had also picked up a big home win on Friday, jumping out to a 23-2 lead after the first period and rolling to a Erica Dunkman (No. 10, red) battles a Seminole High School player for the ball in girls' action last week. Dunkman scored 14 points as Lake Mary crushed Satellite, 56-34, and the Tribe waltzed past Merritt Island, 64-57, on the Space Coast Monday night.

Griffin big winner as New Smyrna Speedway closes 2000 campaign

By Hank Sanders
Special to the Herald

SAMSULA — Steve Griffin's win streak came to a close Saturday night (December 2) as the red #1X of Robbie Yoakum qualified on the pole and won the Ugly Duckling Florida Championship 100 for Mini-Stocks as New Smyrna Speedway called it a 2000 season.

Over 50 top cars were on hand for a shot at the $2,000 prize, and it looked like Griffin would take the money until he made contact with the #64 of Mark Rigby and was sent to the rear on lap 58. Yoakum took advantage and took the lead on lap 71 and that was it.

The race saw several massive crashes, but nobody was injured. Overall, it was an excellent season ending show for the boys.

When the battle was over, the top 5 on the front straight were: Yoakum, the #1 of George Neumann, Steve Griffin's #3, the #6X of Troy Kruse and Ted "Mr. Mini-Stock" Vulpis in the #71.

Modifieds are alive and well! We had 17 great cars make the feature, as Jason Boyd thought he would bring his winning Bithlo car to NSS and run off with a win, but it didn't happen.

Contact with the Cadillac of Wayne Parker caused Boyd to slip, and Jeremy Fitch blasted by in the Yankee Chuck #00 to get the surprise win. Parker's #3 was second, Boyd was third, Bobby Blake was back after a two-year lay-off and got fourth. Jim "Hoot" Flynn drove the red frame car #57 to fifth.

Thirteen hot rods were in staging for the Sportsman show. It was a night for first time winners as Matt Griffin in the #00, took a devastating hit on the front straight but walked away. The most famous and well loved Sportsman in town, the beautifully prepared and flawlessly driven Tasmanian Devil car, the 0-no was back, and drove with his usual crowd pleasing style.

A dozen fast rockets were poised to go in front of the big crowd for the Super Stock finale, and when it was over we had the thrill of another first time winner!

Big Mike Soukup drove a flawless race in the #45 Total Car Care Chevelle to get a win for the Chevy gang. "Ladies man" Homer Gordon was back with his female attracting Monte Carlo, and walked off with second. The #00 of John Hodge ran good and ended up third over G. T. Maloney and Dale Carroll.

Don Smith's #22 led the pack under the checkered flag in the Strictly Stock feature.

Tracy Jackson in the #13 was second ahead of the #33 of Scott Van Alstine, with Hot Rod Moss fourth in the #35 and Josh Wronkroski finished fifth.

Saturday's action was the final night of the FASCAR 2000 season and the Samsula 1/2-mile will be closed until the "Red Eye" on January 4th.

Orlando Speedworld is also closed and will not run again until the 2001 season opens next March.

For more information on any local short track action, call the FASCAR offices at (407) 568-1367 (Orlando) or (904) 427-4129 (New Smyrna), or check the Internet site at WWW.NEWSMYRNASPEEDWAY.COM, or E-Mail at FASCARNOW@AOL.COM.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

There are more bears in our immediate vicinity than people realize, particularly around the St. John's river to the north of us.

FISHING FORECAST

River action is getting better by the day. Specks are hitting in Lake Monroe and around lily pad fields in the river. Big bass are on the move, and a large shiner is way too much temptation for a lunker bass to pass up. Fish shiners close or under floating mats of water hyacinths in 3-5 feet of water for fast action.

Big flounder are making their annual appearance at Sebastian Inlet. Doormats to over 12 pounds are caught annually by anglers bouncing finger mullet slowly across the bottom. Also expect snook, redfish, and a few trout.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral has little to report in the way of offshore action due to high seas. Inside the Port, look for flounder, sheepshead, and a few snook. Trout and redfish are slow in the Banana and Indian rivers.

Ponce Inlet is getting hot for big sheepshead. The hole at the tip of the north jetties holds sheepshead to over 10 pounds. Large live shrimp or fiddler crabs are top baits. Also expect drum, redfish, and a few bluefish and jack crevalle. Trout and redfish are fair in Mosquito Lagoon.
