Snailpaced Snarl

Motorists creep along Interstate 4 at Lake Mary Boulevard while state workers' barricades taper Wednesday's 5:45 p.m. traffic down to a single, eastbound lane. There will be no quick fix for the tie-up while the road is being resurfaced, but during the next 9 months the worksite will be moving north to the Volusia County line said DOT spokesman Michael Beha. Beha said motorists contribute to the tie-up by not merging when warned.

Not Enough Beef, His Beef

A 12-year-old boy took the Seminole County School Board to task Wednesday.

Tim Scharlau, a seventh grader at Lakeview Middle School, raised his hand to speak after the board approved a resolution proclaiming Oct. 14-20 "National School Lunch Week."

"I'd like to say something about the school lunches," Scharlau said. "I don't think they give you enough."

While the crowd chuckled, Chairman Bill Kroll asked food service director Charlotte Whitmore, to address the boy's complaint.

Mrs. Whitmore said she understood the problem and recognized that middle school-age children are growing and require more to eat. However, she said cafeterias were limited in how much they could serve and if his appetite was not satisfied he would have to buy extra food.

Scharlau responded tersely, "I have to do that now."

Kroll commended his boldness and said "We need more (students) like that."

Scharlau was part of a 30-student entourage from Lakeview and Sanford Middle schools that observed the meeting as a part of their government studies. Other students echoed Scharlau's remarks.

"When they give you later tots they only give you five or six of them," said Shanah Stewart, a 12-year-old from Sanford Middle School. "And the hamburgers are disgusting."

"Yeah, where's the beef?" another student chimed in.

Henley Named Among Top Principals

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

By his own description, Carlton Henley, principal of Lyman High School in Longwood, is a "mover and shaker." And assistant principals and students concede that when the 6-foot, 230-pound administrator walks the halls he can move and shake anything he wants.

This "consummate authority figure," as assistant principal Gretchen Schapker calls him, has been named one of the most outstanding high school principals in the nation by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

The association and Burger King chose 52 principals, one from each state and two territories, as a part of its "In Search Of Excellence" program.

Henley was selected, according to the association's press release, because of his problem-solving abilities, emphasis on student achievement, developing high morale, and for the direction he is taking the school.

As an award, he will go to a free conference in Captiva on excellence in education. He will also attend a NASSP regional training seminar next year.

The 51-year-old Henley shrugs off the recognition saying "I've just got a lot of people to make me look good." He said the 15 other plaques and awards on his wall were put there by his secretary after he left for a conference.

While he may shun publicity, he said he never shuns controversy.

"I'm not afraid to speak out and say

Carlton Henley

what should be done for education."

For example: Henley on lawmakers and educators holding press conferences to laud the recent jump in Scholastic Aptitude Test scores.

"Any of those people who are beating their chest for the results this last year should be giving credit where credit is due — those principals and teachers who have been working with the students for the last four or five years."

Henley on the push by the Florida legislature to improve education in three years:

"The legislature has gotten more dictatorial. The goals are desirable but they must be attainable — they run the risk of going overboard."

He said his statements have not made him the "most popular person around" but he "gets things done and sees things happen."

Near Seminole Golf Course

EDB In Longwood Wells

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Wells contaminated by the suspected cancer-causing pesticide EDB have been found in the area of the Seminole Golf Course as the result of tests made by the Seminole County Health Department.

The golf course, owned by State Rep. Bobby Brantley, is located at E.E. Williamson Road and Markham Woods Road.

Brantley said today that it has been "three or four years" since the soil fumigant containing EDB was injected into his golf course before the practice was banned. He said tests are being routinely made around all golf courses where EDB was used to fight nematodes.

He said that the county had previously found some EDB in the well used for irrigation at the golf course, but that the other one used for drinking water at his home on Markham Woods Road as well as the golf course was acceptable.

"Any amount of EDB contamination in drinking water is something we all have to be concerned about and something has to be done to clean up contaminated wells," Brantley added.

Tests run two weeks ago in wells on Parsons Road, Longwood, which is off Markham Woods Road, turned up EDB contamination in some private wells.

John and Vanessa Faeas of 112 Parsons Road, Longwood, have been told that their well water is contaminated with EDB and not to use it for drinking or cooking.

Mrs. Faeas said about two weeks ago the health department came and took water samples saying they were "probably a safe distance, but we decided to test to make sure." But when the man came back he told us to use bottled water and it would be 12-14 years before half of the contamination was gone.

Mrs. Faeas said the investigator told her that they were presuming the golf course was the source of the EDB. She said other residents of the street have hired a private testing firm to determine if there is EDB in their water.

Once they were told it would take several days for the county to get permission for the testing because their wells are further from the course, they decided not to wait.

Park Start Date Hinges On Grant

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Construction should begin on the development of the Hidden Lake Park in Sanford around April 1, 1985, if the state approves a grant to be requested by the city.

If the state doesn't approve a grant, the city will develop Hidden Lake Park in phases over a period of time, said Sanford Parks and Recreation Director Jim Jernigan.

The grant application will be submitted before Nov. 30, he said, and the governor and cabinet are expected to make a decision in early January on whether to approve the city's request.

Sanford is asking for a grant of $87,644 from state funds allocated for parks. Jernigan said he believes the Hidden Lake Park development will be approved for the state funding because of the city's good track record with the state on grants of this sort. Over the past two years, he said, Sanford received state grants to aid in the development of both Starke and McKibbin Parks.

In addition to any grant funds, the city will spend almost $60,000 on the project plus provide labor and equipment.

The 12-acre site, off Airport Boulevard at the end of Sweet Bay Drive, was donated to the city by developers of Hidden Lake and additions and is worth about $72,000. City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles estimates.

Tentative plans for the development, Jernigan said, call for handball courts, jogging and fitness trail, tennis courts, basketball courts, a picnic shelter, a children's lot and multiple-use athletic fields.

Four city wells are built on a 30-foot by 30-foot spot within the park, but they won't hinder the park development, Jernigan said.

Hidden Lake Park, he said, will become the second largest park facility of the 26 in Sanford.

The largest city park — 25 acres — is Fort Mellon Park on the lakefront. The third largest is a 10-acre site in Pinchurst, Jernigan said.

Got Rid Of It During 'Amnesty Days'

Got Some Hazardous Waste?

In a move to purge the communities in Seminole County of hazardous wastes often found around the house, the state Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) has scheduled "Amnesty Days" here from Oct. 31 through Nov. 3.

On those days from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., citizens, homeowners, farmers, small businesses, schools and government agencies can take solvents, heavy metals such as batteries, gas, oil, paints, banned pesticides, insecticides and herbicides to the parking area of Seminole Blvd. and Park, 2000 Seminola Blvd., Casselberry, for disposal, free of charge.

The department's goal is to purge areas of significant quantities of wastes while increasing public awareness of the importance of establishing ongoing hazardous waste disposal programs, according to DER public information officer Sherrie Mendelson.

Wastes not covered in the program include radioactive and biological materials, gas cylinders, aerosol cans and explosives, Ms. Mendelson said. Although not specified for disposal, the state-commissioned contractor for the job will provide facilities just in case these materials show up during the cleanup operation.

The contractor for the project is Triangle Resource Industries, a division of SCA Chemical Services. SCA is a licensed, bonded and insured professional waste disposal company from south Florida, Ms. Mendelson said.

The "Amnesty Days" were established under the state's Water Quality Assurance Act of 1983.

There is no charge for up to one 55-gallon drum or up to 450 pounds of waste.

All wastes will be disposed of out-of-state in U.S. Environmental Protection Agency permitted hazardous waste disposal sites.

Teacher Fingerprinting Set

The Seminole County School Board voted Wednesday to comply with a state regulation requiring all substitute teachers hired after Oct. 1 to have a valid teaching certificate and to be fingerprinted. The teachers will be charged an $18 fee for the fingerprinting and their prints will be sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

School district personnel director Ann Nelawender said the rule was designed to screen out any "serious felons." In addition to the fingerprints, applicants will have to supply physical information such as hair and eye color, height and weight.

Mrs. Nelawender said this requirement replaces the old question on the application asking if the person had ever been convicted of a crime.

"In the state of Florida, as long as you lied they didn't do a check on you," Nelawender said. "Now that's changed."

Eventually, all teachers will be fingerprinted, she said.

The board also allowed a Sanford man who works in Matland to keep his 11-year-old son enrolled in an Altamonte Springs elementary school.

Alan Doty, who lives aboard a houseboat in the Sanford marina, has his son enrolled at Lake Orlena Elementary

Sanford Man Pleads Guilty To Murder

A Sanford man has pleaded guilty to the first-degree murder of a former girlfriend after the state agreed not to seek the death penalty.

Jose A. Padilla, 35, of 109 Balboa Court, entered the plea Wednesday before Seminole Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. who sentenced Padilla to life in prison with no possibility of parole for 25 years.

He was charged with the shooting death of Carol Lynne Keith, 30, of Lake Gem Drive, Longwood, on March 9.

During the proceeding, Padilla stood before Mize with a court

Ferraro And Bush Square Off Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Vice President George Bush and Democratic challenger Geraldine Ferraro face off today in their sole debate — a contest Republicans say will not change many votes but Democrats hope will give them a boost.

Democrats want a win by the first woman vice presidential candidate to go along with Walter Mondale's strong showing against President Reagan in their debate in Louisville, Ky. Sunday.

Such a one-two punch would show the Reagan-Bush team as losers, Mondale-Ferraro strategists believe.

The television networks estimate as many as 60 million

Debate will be carried by all three major television networks beginning at 9 p.m.

Americans may watch the vice presidential clash, which will be broadcast live starting at 9 p.m. EDT.

League of Women Voters President Dorothy Ridings said Wednesday the panelists for the debate would be John Mashek of J.S. News & World Report; Robert Boyd, Washington bureau chief of Knight-Ridder Newspapers; Jack White of Time magazine and Norma Quarles of NBC News.

Bush, 60, spent the day in his vice presidential office next door to the White House studying his black three-ring briefing notebook.

Ferraro, 49, also looked at the videotapes of Bush debating in the 1980 primaries and watched a playback of her performance against Barnett so she could see how she came across on TV.

Mexico Bites The Bullet ...

Mexico is to be commended for its gallant struggle against inflation and its earnest effort to pay back more than $95 billion in foreign debt.

An austerity program launched two years ago is working. The Mexican people are stoically accepting a deterioration of their living standards as their country, in the words of President Miguel de la Madrid, "follows the hard path of economic realism."

Recovery from Mexico's worst recession in half a century will not be quick. Economic balance is a long way off. But there are healthy signs, nevertheless.

The government is forecasting a 1 percent growth in Mexico's gross domestic product this year and 4 percent in 1985-86 — a great improvement over the 4.7 percent drop in 1983.

Inflation, which soared to 100 percent in 1982 and 80 percent last year, continues to slow down. This year 45 percent to 55 percent is forecast.

The number of workers employed in Mexico has increased by 3 million over last year.

In August, Mexico's Finance Minister Jesus Silva Herzog announced a tentative agreement with foreign banks to stretch out payments over 14 years and lower interest on $48.5 billion in debts due by 1990. The agreement must be approved by 600 foreign banks, but it already has the backing of the United States.

Paul Volcker, chairman of the U.S. Federal Reserve Board, says that the foreign banks should agree to the proposal and that Mexico should be rewarded for adopting tough austerity measures to improve its international financial position.

These austerity measures were insisted on by the International Monetary Fund before it would make bail-out loans to Mexico.

De la Madrid imposed the austerity program soon after he took office in December 1982. His country had just plunged into a financial crisis that ended five years of economic boom based on petroleum production. The previous president, Jose Lopez Portillo, had spent billions on national improvements, and when the price for oil dropped, Mexico was in deep financial trouble.

We hope the foreign bankers take Volcker's advice and allow Mexico more time to pay its debts at slightly reduced interest rates. It will help assure that the debts will be paid in full eventually and give a struggling nation a chance for survival.

Mafia Downfall

"The single most devastating assault on the Mafia in its entire history."

That's how U.S. Attorney General William French Smith describes the international roundup of organized crime members which has followed the arrest of Tommaso "Don Maalino" Buscetta.

Buscetta, held in Italy, has reneged on his Mafia vow of silence and turned informer. As a result 366 arrest warrants have been issued in Italy, including those for 28 people in the United States.

There are two factors behind the arrests — a new mutual assistance treaty that allows law agencies in Italy and America to cooperate on a direct level and a new extradition treaty between the two nations that streamlines deportation procedures.

These agreements were necessary for a coordinated attack on Sicilian drug traffickers, believed to be the major suppliers of heroin to addicts in the eastern United States.

Buscetta may be the break needed to stem this flow of heroin. He's a valuable witness, and we hope he is guarded carefully until he can appear in court.

BERRY'S WORLD

By Donna Estes

The Moral Majority, which has taken an active role across the nation in voter registration, citing moral issues such as abortion, featured in a recent edition of their Moral Majority Report a story on the importance of groups of voters in elections from 1948 to 1982.

The story points out how switches by voters could have changed the political complexion of the country.

In 1982, the Moral Majority Report says, the Republicans were very close to losing the Senate. If just 39,500 voters had switched from the Democrats to the Republicans in five states, the Democrats would have gained control of the U.S. Senate.

Twice in postwar elections, the Republicans were kept from controlling the Senate by small margins, the story says.

In 1954, if 865 voters in Montana had switched from the Democratic to the Republican candidate, President Dwight Eisenhower would have retained a GOP Senate. In 1956, if just 1,386 Colorado voters had switched from the Democratic to the Republican candidate, the Republicans would have won the Senate.

Reagan in 1980 won 10 states each by a margin of less than 20,000 votes. If Reagan had lost those states, he still would have won because of his national landslide, but if that kind of switch had occurred in previous elections:

Nixon would have defeated Kennedy in 1960; Ford would have defeated Carter in 1976; two elections, Truman-Dewey in 1948 and Nixon-Humphrey in 1968, would have been thrown into the House of Representatives because third-party candidates would have kept anyone from winning a majority of the electoral vote.

In 1976, Gerald Ford lost to Jimmy Carter in the state of Ohio by less than one vote per precinct.

If just 9,604 voters in Colorado had switched from the Democratic candidate to the Republican in 1980, Gary Hart would have been one of the Senate and might not have run for the presidency.

Because of a margin of 597 votes, South Dakota changed the course of U.S. history in 1962 by electing its future, and to date only, candidate for president, Sen. George McGovern.

In 1974, Republican Louis Wyman was elected to the U.S. Senate from New Hampshire by a margin of two votes. The Senate, then controlled by Democrats, refused to seat Wyman and ordered that the race be run again. The Democrat, John Durkin, won the rematch and the Senate seat.

EDWARD J. WALSH

Campaign With The Russians

It is written that presidential candidate Walter Mondale is trying to focus the public's attention on foreign policy in the concluding weeks of the campaign. He is said to believe that his foreign policy views display the greatest contrast between himself and President Reagan.

No one knows how many votes foreign policy buys, but almost everyone agrees that the 13-month-long Iranian hostage crisis had something to do with President Carter's 1980 defeat. Of course the prime rate on that fateful election day was up around 21 percent, and inflation stood near 13 percent. But the hostage situation lingered for a year before the election.

So too, does the Soviet presence in Afghanistan linger. President Reagan has not been able to do anything about that. He has, however, said something about it, to wit, that the Soviet Union is an "evil empire," that persecutes its people and others, and aims at enslaving nations and continents. Mr. Reagan's willingness to take potshots from Congressional and editorial liberals for his opinion of the Russians is one of the saving graces of his foreign policy. As far as the Soviet Union is concerned, the President said the same thing after the election as before it.

Mr. Reagan deployed Pershing and cruise missiles to Western Europe despite a torrent of Soviet agitation, and the Soviets walked out of arms limitation talks in Geneva. He sent in Marines to kick a squalid Marxist regime out of Grenada. All that guaranteed bad reviews.

However — the Reagan Administration has assured the USSR that we'll keep selling them grain, and backed off in tough restrictions on sales of high technology to Soviet trading partners, and even on monitoring such sales. With the election a month away, Mr. Reagan gave a soothing speech at the United Nations about seeking peace, for all the world and the voters to hear. He hosted Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at the White House. Gromyko, who has himself met nine presidents, knows what this is all about.

The politicization of U.S. foreign policy continues, uninterrupted by personnel changes. If perchance Walter Mondale should win the election, Mr. Gromyko would soon meet his tenth president, since Mondale has promised to give us a foreign policy of "tough" negotiating, the process would begin again, from the opposite slant.

CIA Tied To Investment Swindle

WASHINGTON — At least one CIA agent was fired and several others disciplined when it was revealed that they were part of a Honolulu-based investment scheme that bilked private investors of millions.

The agency at first denied involvement, but has now admitted at least some connection to the swindle in confidential affidavits filed in federal court.

Intelligence sources told my associate Indy Badhwar and Dale Van Atta that the CIA's inspector general investigated the investment operation and found the agents guilty of "poor trade practices," but concluded that they did not act illegally.

But the sources suggested that the internal investigation, which left a handful of agents hanging out to dry, may be just the tip of the iceberg. Still submerged, they say, is a massive scandal — a story of deception and betrayal that has the intelligence community watching

JEFFREY HART

Mondale's Hecklers

If those students and others who are heckling Walter Mondale were really serious about defeating him, they would let him get his message across without interruption. It is certainly in Reagan's interest that the voters understand as clearly as possible what Mondale stands for. I.e., the coerced transfer of income from their pockets to the pockets of his own constituencies. As that message sinks in, Mondale sinks. The Reagan campaign should probably foot the bill for Mondale's TV ads.

Mondale is asking Reagan to denounce the hecklers and ask them to stop, and Reagan probably should do so, but there is something just a bit odd about this request coming from Mondale. Mondale did not utter a word of reproach when student hecklers prevented Jeane Kirkpatrick from speaking on campus. Mondale was silent when riotous heckling at Harvard drowned out Caspar Weinberger. Mondale said nothing disapproving when Henry Kissinger cancelled a campus appearance because of threatened disruptive demonstrations. Mondale, in fact, comes before us as the candidate of the very forces that have made disruption and demonstration a political force over the past 25 years. I do not recall that Mondale has previously denounced any of this — not the civil-rights sit-ins, certainly, and not the anti-war campus riots and teach-ins. Mondale has never been prominent among those asking for greater civility in our public life.

Reagan, in contrast, has always been the candidate of civility. When he first won the governorship of California, beating Governor Pat Brown by a million votes, he did so in part because of the incivility on the Berkeley campus and on other California campuses. Mario Savio and his merry men of the Free Speech Movement were trashing a great anniversary. Reagan condemned it, and the voters approved of Reagan's stand. As governor, Reagan did indeed help to restore order at Berkeley. In one memorable episode, he brought in the police to close down the "People's Park," a hippie enclave on university property. S.I. Hayakawa, a prominent linguistics scholar, came to public attention when he faced down the rioters at San Diego State University. Voting for civility, Californians sent Hayakawa to the U.S. Senate.

Until he himself was heckled at the University of Southern California recently, it is not on the record that Walter Mondale has denounced public incivility. I have no doubt that his own manners are excellent, but his allies in the Democratic Party have existed in a kind of symbiosis with disruptive demonstrators for what they regard as good causes. The political right seldom goes in for that kind of thing. The last example I can recall of right-wing incivility was the booging of Nelson Rockefeller at the Cow Palace in 1964. Rockefeller having goaded the Republican delegates with charges of extremism and bigotry. They booed him, and it was not an attractive moment.

But this and perhaps a few other examples excepted, virtually all demonstrating, disrupting and heckling has come from the left, that is, from Mondale's side.

DON GRAFF

About Working Women

The influx of women into the work force has had profound effects on the American economy and lifestyle.

You already know that. But you may not know to precisely what sometimes startling extent and consequences.

This is laid out in some detail in a study, "The Working Woman: A Progress Report," just released by the Conference Board, the New York-based economic research organization.

Taking it from the top statistically, close to 50 million women now hold jobs and 45 percent of the national work force are women. More than 53 percent of all women, and more than 50 percent of all women with children, now work. During the last two decades, female employment has been increasing at three times the rate of male.

The similar percentages are not a coincidence, the study notes. Today's younger women generally have much more schooling than those in previous generations. And it pays off — if not yet enough — in paychecks. On the average, full-time working women with degrees earn two-thirds more than those who did not complete high school.

What hasn't changed so greatly over the years is the professional segregation of women workers. More than 60 percent are still in clerical and sales jobs, fields they have traditionally dominated.

Less than 10 percent of college-educated women are in managerial and administrative positions, while 25 percent of similarly qualified men hold such posts.

And the earnings gap remains. The average woman with a college degree makes about 55 percent of what her male equivalent does. Among the managers and administrators, it drops to 50 percent.

Even so, the working woman has made her greatest impact financially, especially in family finances.

Women have always worked, usually out of economic necessity. But historically, the study notes, they came from the economically disadvantaged segment of the population. They were the poor and poorly educated, exploited as domestics and in sweatshops.

Not today's breed. Comparatively far fewer wives in low-income families now work than those in more affluent households. About a third of wives contribute to the family income in households whose income is in the $10,000-$15,000 range, where it might appear the assistance would be most needed.

The working-wife percentage rises to two thirds in $30,000-$35,000 families and to more than 70 percent at $40,000-$50,000.

diverted to his own use some of the $22 million in investors' money "by means of false and fraudulent pretenses ... and omissions of material facts."

A year earlier, in response to complaints from investors and the Securities and Exchange Commission, as well as a bankruptcy petition lodged against BBR&W, a federal judge froze the firm's assets and placed it in trusteeship. Rewald was arrested and jailed by Hawaiian police. When the agency disowned him he filed a confidential, 40-page affidavit with 95 exhibits giving details of the BBR&W operation — as well as of several other CIA activities in the Orient.

Here are some of the charges he made in the affidavit:

— Rewald, who had worked as a CIA informer on anti-war demonstrators during his school days in Wisconsin, said he was introduced by CIA operatives in 1978 to Honolulu station chief Eugene Welch. Rewald said it was Welch who suggested setting up BBR&W as a CIA front; and it was Welch who arranged a phony pedigree and $150 million net worth for the company and fake credentials for Rewald.

Rewald stated that Welch OK'd the hiring of a former National Security Agency employee to work full time for BBR&W, and that at least 10 CIA agents worked for the company, including Welch's successor as station chief, John C. Kindachi.

— From 1980 to 1982, the CIA used BBR&W to gather intelligence on Japan, Indonesia and the Philippines; as a conduit for funds used in covert operations; and as a shelter for well-connected foreign diplomats and businessmen who wanted to export cash to the United States, Rewald stated.

The crucial question, of course, is whether Rewald is telling the truth in his affidavit. Confidential documents and transcripts of secret taped conversations appear to bear out parts of Rewald's story.

FHSAA Slices, Dices County Football Unity

Perhaps, we've been had. We as in Seminole County. Do you know what the Florida High School Activities Association did to our nice little county setup? The FHSAA didn't just change it, it sliced it and diced it.

With one fell swoop, the FHSAA, following a recommendation from the classification and tournament committees, has probably destroyed the Five Star and Metro conferences. Not to mention sent this county up for grabs district-wide.

The FHSAA voted Monday to add a fifth classification — 5A — just for football. Schools with 1,366 students in the upper three grades move into the new class. The others are broke down like this: 4A (970-1,365), 3A (486-969), 2A (225-485) and 1A (1-224).

Although the new class may be needed, the way the committees restructured the schools may devastate the Five Star and Metro conferences.

● Seminole, which remained AAAA, and Oviedo, which was AAA, become part of AAAA-District 5 with Seabreeze, New Smyrna Beach and Titusville.

● Lake Mary and Lyman, both AAAA, join DeLand, Mainland and Spruce Creek in AAAA-District 4.

● Lake Howell and Lake Brantley, both AAAA, form AAAA-District 5 with Apopka, West Orange, Winter Park and Evans.

The committee, which based its moves on enrollment and geographic location, couldn't have carved up Seminole County better with a .4-gamatic. What's going on? Oviedo and Seminole go one way, Lake Mary and Lyman go another while Lake Brantley and Lake Howell go still another.

The Metro Conference is 20 years old. How can you throw that away? So what if it's only football. Football is the revenue generator. Football draws the most. Football is the most popular sport in Florida. Whatever happened to tradition?

And the Five Star? It's on the verge of being quite a conference, too. Although not yet half as old as the Metro, it has taken big steps in the past few years. Football graduates of the Five Star dot college rosters everywhere.

The decision came as a surprise to Seminole principal Wayne Epps and Lyman principal Carlton Henley, too. Epps said "he move wouldn't hurt him financially or scheduling-wise, but rivalries may be hurt. He can't be too happy about being AAAA. He was vigorously against being AAA last year. And Seminole was close. It was the smallest AAAA school in the state last year.

"You have in effect broken up the Five Star and Metro conferences," Epps said. "We'll still play the county schools, but it won't be of the same importance. The buildup and the intensity of the district game won't be there.

"But I still think the games will be important and draw well. I heard they were considering doing it (redistricting), but I really didn't think it would pass. A lot of people didn't."

Henley was one of them. "I've been looking at it all day and getting sicker by the sight of it," Henley said Wednesday. "The thing that I'm afraid of is that it will take away the conference rivalries without the district and the conference.

"I did not expect it to be approved. I think some people that were not fully aware of what was taking place just voted with the majority. I opposed it and I'm still opposed to it."

Seminoles Not Poor Anymore

While at the Lake Brantley-Lake Howell fiasco, which the Patriots won going away (33-7), someone asked me, "Who's Seminole playing tonight?"

"Apopka," I replied. Then, the person laughed, and said, "Poor Seminole."

If I had, let's say 100 bucks for everybody who thought Apopka would win in a laugh, I'd be a rich man. After last Friday's game, no one will call Seminole "poor" anymore.

If you've read the Evening Herald the past four days, you don't need me to go into any details about Seminole's stunning upset. So I won't.

After a 7-2-1 log last week (Florida State tied Memphis State), the Fearless Fister Forecast stands at 35-13-1 for the season. For those who go by the percentages, that's a 70 percent prognosticating efficiency.

Seminole at Lyman
The Greyhounds may be headed for a disaster, not quite of biblical proportions, but a pretty big one nonetheless. After being contenders the past two years, it looks like Lyman may be headed for an 0-10 season. Lyman's best chance for victory was last week, and the Greyhounds couldn't pull it out against Spruce Creek. Lyman has had trouble scoring points all season long and Seminole's defense will look for another shutout Friday night. — Seminole by 13

Lake Mary at Lake Howell
The Rams had better keep on their toes in this one. Sure, Lake Howell got blown away last week, but Lake Brantley was totally awesome. If Lake Howell can put up some points and play defense like they did in the first four weeks of the season, this one could go down to the wire. But Lake Mary has a storybook season going and the Rams aren't ready to close it yet. — Lake Mary by 9

Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Mainland at Lake Brantley
The Patriots busted some Silver Hawks last week and this week they'll go into their "Bucbusters" act. Mainland is no longer a ghost in the Five Star Conference, though, as it proved that by beating Seminole two weeks ago. Lake Brantley has a shot at Apopka next week and will want to go into that battle with just the one loss (Lake Mary). The biggest Bucbuster of them all, 6-6, 275-pound center Curt Mull will lead the way as the Patriots zap the Buc. — Lake Brantley by 18

Jones at Oviedo
Jones has three major college prospects at running back including Darryl Perry (8-0, 200 pounds), Leon Perry (8-2, 215) and Marcus Evans (5-9, 180). Going against the Jones express is like stepping in front of a runaway locomotive. Oviedo's defense is one of the toughest around but the Lions will have a tremendous task in stopping Jones' devastating attack. But that's something no team has been able to do this season. — Jones by 10

Padre 'Goat' Bounces Back

Bevacqua's Blast Shocks Tigers, Pulls San Diego Even

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Kurt Bevacqua says he will do anything to get his name in the paper. So far in the World Series, he has.

A goat in Game 1 because of a base-running blunder, Bevacqua bounced back with a three-run homer Wednesday night to rally the San Diego Padres to a 5-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Now he doesn't have to catch balls tossed off a building to get publicity as he did two years ago in downtown San Diego.

"It was done for charity," said Bevacqua. "It wasn't as difficult as I thought it would be. They say the ball was traveling between 109-111 miles per hour when I caught it."

Bevacqua's efforts helped the Padres tie the World Series at one victory apiece heading to Detroit for the next three games.

Buy a lottery ticket, folks. Anything can happen. The only guarantee was offered by San Diego manager Dick Williams.

"Kurt Bevacqua's bat will be in the lineup somewhere in Detroit," he said.

For a while, it looked like the only thing that would be going to Detroit with the Padres was despair.

The first three Tigers singled off starter Ed Whitson and the score was 3-0 almost before the marching band had finished the national anthem.

World Series

But that turned out to be a good break for San Diego. In came right-hander Andy Hawkins and he shut down Detroit on one hit for 5 1-3 innings. Craig Lefferts followed that act with three scoreless innings of his own.

The Padres' bullpen has registered 21 scoreless innings in succession.

"I'd like to say I think tonight a game was won by Andy Hawkins and Craig Lefferts," said Detroit manager Sparky Anderson. "They put a complete stop on us."

In the meantime, San Diego was asserting its offense. Craig Nettles made it 3-1 in the first with a sacrifice fly.

The Padres pulled within 3-2 in the fourth when Bevacqua singled, moved to third on a single by Garry Templeton, and scored on Bobby Brown's infield grounder.

But the game turned in the fifth, with loser Dan Petry getting himself in trouble by walking Nettles.

Terry Kennedy then hit a ball that one-hopped off second baseman Lou Whitaker for a fluke base hit.

"I thought the ball that bounced over Lou Whitaker was the turning point," said Anderson. "It was one of those things. I've said I thought this infield is the worst in the major leagues, but they won the pennant playing on it."

Bevacqua then stepped to the plate, and smashed an 0-1 breaking ball toward the wall in left. Ruppert Jones drifted back, looking for a moment as if he could make the catch.

But his shoulders drooped, telling the crowd of 57,911 that the Padres had a 5-3 lead.

No one had to tell Bevacqua. He was dancing so madly that he almost missed touching a base.

"I made sure to touch all the bases," said Bevacqua. "I knew I wasn't going to get thrown out at third."

Marcus Makes A Point

Marcus Kendrick, Seminole coach, makes a point with his offensive linemen. The Tribe's line turned in its best effort of the season last Friday in a 21-7 upset over Apopka. Tackle Danny Stone, center Strickland Smith and guard Carl Tipton each picked up Hatchmen awards for their blocking. Backs Daryl Edgemon, Cliff Campbell, Jo-Jo McCloud and Mike Wheelchel along with wideout Charles Bailey were also honored. Defensively, Dexter Franklin, Dennis Lawrence, Daron Thompson, Fred Brinson, Bryan and Mike DeBose and Brian Brinson earned Headhunter awards. Savage awards, for special team excellence, went to Tipton, Jimmy Rowe, Hal Posey, Mike DeBose, Dexter Jones and Fred Brinson.

Patriots Swamp Seminole; Rams Split With Hawks

Lake Brantley's swimmers doubled their pleasure Thursday afternoon as they swamped Seminole's boys (5-2) and girls (3-4) by identical 110-55 scores at the Sanora Pool in Sanford.

The Tribe, which was without standout Chuck Burgess, salvaged the diving competition as Chris Sparrow won for the girls and Marc Kleine picked up the win for the boys.

"We're going to be swimming against some real tough competition during the next two weeks," said Seminole coach Donalyn Knight.

Seminole sends two swimmers — Burgess and Kristy Keeling — to this weekend's Gator Invitational in Gainesville before returning home for a dual meet against Mainland Tuesday at Sanora. Meet time is 4 p.m.

Burgess will compete in the 200 individual medley and the 100 fly while Keeling is in the 50 free. Keeling was third in the 50 free and second in the 100 free Wednesday.

In other action Wednesday, coach Walt Morgan's Lake Mary Rams split a meet with Lake Howell at Trinity Prep. The boys won, 104-67, while the girls lost, 92-80.

Freshman Joe Roesser turned in a sparkling performance with first places in the 100 free (54:18) and 100 breast (1:10.15). Roesser also joined Rich Kurtz, Todd Stebbins and Scott Wise to win the 400 free relay (3:42.22).

Other double winners were Wise in the 200 free (1:58.24) and 100 fly (57.17) along with Stebbins in the 200 IM (2:14.20) and 200 free (1:58.24). Trey Seibold, Brian Cook, Toby Clayton and Tom Miller combined to take the medley relay (1:57.49). Kurtz won the 50 free (24:38).

For the girls, Shert Clayton won the 200 IM (2:22.38) and 500 free (5:24.71). Jill Budenhagen took the 200 free (2:13.70). Amy Maher grabbed the 100 free (1:01.42) and Sherry Purkerson captured the 100 breast (1:15.22).

Oviedo Volleyball Express Gets Back On Track, Topples Hawks

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

The Oviedo volleyball express was temporarily derailed Tuesday when the Lady Lions lost their first match of the season to Orlando Jones. But they got right back on track Wednesday at Oviedo High with a 18-14, 15-10 victory over Lake Howell, snapping the Lady Silver Hawks' winning streak at six.

Oviedo improved to 13-1 for the season and the Lions stand at 6-1 in the Orange Belt Conference.

"We just fell apart against Jones," Oviedo coach Anita Carlson said of Tuesday's 9-15, 15-2, 15-8 loss. "But we really came out and played excellent volleyball today."

Lake Howell now stands at 7-3 overall. The Lady Hawks look to stay tied for the Five Star Conference lead (6-1 record) with Deland tonight as they travel to Lake Brantley (Junior varsity 4 p.m., varsity 5).

"Oviedo is the best team we've played," Lake Howell coach Teresa Tinsley said.

While Oviedo's big hitters had an outstanding match, it was the Lady Lions' setters that set everything in motion. Oviedo's two setters, Tina Pauldo and Kim Beistel, set impressively, paving the way for the powerful hitting of Stephanie Nelson, Mary Lokers and Fran Foster.

"We have some great hitters, but if it wasn't for the setters, the hitters wouldn't have anything to hit," Carlson said. "Tina (Pauldo) and Kim (Beistel) did an outstanding job today."

All Souls Drops 3-2 Decision

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — All Souls soccer team rallied for two second-half goals but still came up one short while dropping a 3-2 decision to Orlando St. John's Wednesday at St. Mary Magdalen.

All Souls, 1-4-2, travels to St. Mary Magdalen again Saturday for a 12 noon game with Good Shepherd.

The Sanford school fell behind, 2-0, in the first half then, 3-0, early in the second half. Chris Bowlin and Jason Kaiser then booted goals to pull All Souls within one with six minutes to play, but coach Hal LeRoy's squad couldn't get any closer.

Donovan Tucker turned in a solid performance in the net as he came up with 12 saves.

ICBA Schedules Clinics, Signups

All boys and girls at Jackson Heights, South Seminole and Tusawilla Middle Schools, who wish to play basketball for their school teams that compete in the Inver County Basketball Association, may sign up this week. They may do so at clinics held at Lake Howell and Oviedo high schools, or by calling the coordinators listed below.

The Lake Howell clinic, organized and run by Lake Howell head coaches Greg Robinson (boys varsity) and Dennis Codrey (girls varsity) will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 10 at 4:15 p.m. in the Lake Howell gym. Instruction in fundamentals will be demonstrated for all Tusawilla and South Seminole boys and girls and they will be given the opportunity to actually participate. Signups for the ICBA will take place during the clinic.

Jackson Heights boys and girls will be hosted at an Oviedo clinic on Sunday, Oct. 29 at the high school gym, starting at 1 p.m. Head boys coach and Athletic Director Dale Phillips will conduct the activities with head girls coach John Thomas participating.

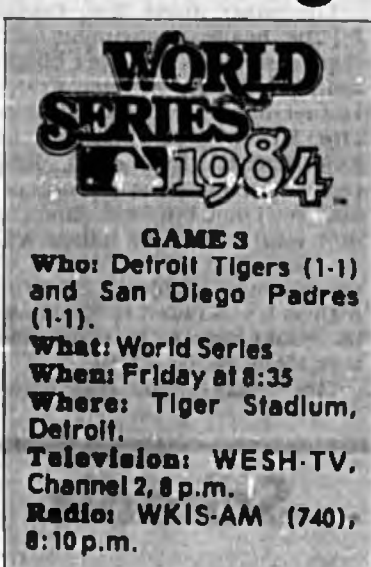

For those who can't attend the clinics and wish to register for the ICBA, they may do so over the phone. For South Seminole, Jackson Heights, and Tusawilla boys and girls, call Mickey Norton at 365-4040 or Jim Norton at 365-8436 or Alice Fry at 339-8360.

Tigers Don't Laugh At Unlikely Hero

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — It was sort of like Steve Martin winning the Indianapolis 500. Don Rickles catching the winning TD pass for Notre Dame. It was Rodney Dangerfield hitting a 30-foot jumper at the buzzer to beat the Celtics.

Wednesday night, San Diego Padres' funny man Kurt Bevacqua — who struts through lockerrooms with arrows piercing his head, fills people's shoes with water and prior to a game last month powdered his hair and donned Manager Dick Williams' glasses and uniform to bring the lineup to homeplate while Williams was serving a suspension — crashed a three-run homer to beat the Tigers, 5-3, in Game 2 of the World Series.

As far as the Tigers were concerned, Bevacqua was about as humorous as leprosy. He got as many laughs from Detroiters as you'd get from driving a Toyota through their city with an unemployment chart stenciled on the side.

Bevacqua's blast in the fifth inning ushered the World Series to Detroit tied at 1-1.

Bevacqua, used as a pinch-hitter all season but filling the designated hitter role in the Series, cracked an 0-1 pitch, sending the ball into the left field seats and sending nearly 58,000 San Diego fans into hysterics.

Bevacqua had two other hits in four trips to the plate, and afterward he basked in the attention.

Asked if he knew the ball was gone as soon as he hit it, Bevacqua got a puzzled look on his face.

"I hit one home run all year," he pointed out. "How the hell do I know if anything is going out when I hit it? I'm not what you might call real experienced in that type of thing."

Bevacqua also wasn't about to let the moment slip by without reminding all who would listen of what a performance he turned in.

"Let's face it, I had a helluva night," he said with a laugh. "I'm real happy about what I did tonight."

Bevacqua also made his manager happy with what he did.

"I had been thinking about using Champ Summers as the designated hitter in Detroit," said Williams, "and he'll still see some action. But now I might put Kurt in right field."

"I'll tell you this, though, Bevacqua's bat will be in the lineup. No question about that. He's earned a spot with that stick of his."

Knights Hit The Road For Another Tough 1

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

The University of Central Florida Knights hit the road for another tough battle Saturday as they travel to Richmond, Ky. for a 1:30 p.m. meeting with the Eastern Kentucky Colonels.

UCF, 1-5, dropped a 26-21 decision to Akron last week while Eastern Kentucky, 3-2, lost to Middle Tennessee, 22-10. Eastern Kentucky is a traditional small college powerhouse.

"Eastern Kentucky has a good, solid football program," UCF coach Lou Saban said. "It's a tough ballclub."

Eastern's tough defensive unit is yielding just 14.8 points per game and 236 yards total offense per game. Sophomore linebacker Fred Harvey (from Titusville) leads the Colonels defense with 61 tackles. He had eight solo stops and six assists last week. Eastern Kentucky also has a former Seminole High standout on its defense in junior tackle Rick Campbell, a Lake Howell graduate.

Defense has been the Colonels' forte in 1984. Until last Saturday's game, ECU had not given up any second half points.

Offensively, the Colonels average 16.4 points per game and 285 yards total offense. Sophomore tailback David Hensley is Eastern's leading ballcarrier with 383 yards on 93 attempts and he has scored five touchdowns. He's joined in the backfield by Vic Parks (230 yards).

The Knights, meanwhile, spotted Akron a 14-0 lead last Saturday before coming back to take a 21-17 lead early in the fourth quarter. But Akron came back and converted two drives into touchdowns for the winning margin.

Senior quarterback Dana Thyssen had another fine game Saturday, completing 18 of 27 passes for 173 yards and two touchdowns. For the year, Thyssen has connected on 78 of 152 passes for 971 yards and 12 touchdowns and he has been intercepted eight times.

UCF backup quarterback Darin Slack, a Lake Howell High graduate, has played in four games this season and completed 26 of 58 passes for 216 yards and two touchdowns.

Junior tight end Glen McCombs leads the Knights in receiving with 28 catches for 279 yards. Robert Ector, who caught six passes Saturday, has 23 receptions for 217 yards.

Ector also leads the team in rushing with 323 yards on 83 carries. Sophomore running back Elgin Davis led UCF in rushing last week with 83 yards on 18 carries. For the year, Davis has picked up 314 yards on 78 carries.

SCOTT LEADS SEC RECEIVERS

Vanderbilt's Chuck Scott, a Lake Howell High graduate, took over the lead in receiving in the Southeastern Conference (SEC) this past weekend with seven catches for 145 yards in Vandy's stunning 27-23 loss to Tulane. The loss dropped the Commodores, 4-1, out of the unbeaten ranks.

Going into this Saturday's SEC clash with Louisiana State at Tiger Stadium in Baton Rouge (ESPN will televise the game live at 7:30 p.m.) Scott has 27 catches for 484 yards (17.9 yards per catch) and three touchdowns.

The senior flanker, a Sporting News All American last season at tight end, now has 118 career catches for 1,728 yards and 15 TDs.

UCF running back Robert Ector looks for room against Akron. Ector caught six passes Saturday but the Knights lost in the closing minutes. Saturday, UCF, 1-5, goes on the road to play Eastern Kentucky.

Tallahassee

Sanford's Isaac Williams, a Seminole High graduate, is the starting left defensive tackle for Florida State and he will be looking to put the hurt on Auburn running back Brent Fullwood, a St. Cloud High graduate.

Williams, a 6-1, 260-pound junior, has been a consistent performer for the Seminoles this season while Fullwood, a 6-0, 195-pound sophomore, stepped into the starting left halfback position when Heisman Trophy candidate Bo Jackson was injured and sidelined for the season. Fullwood leads Auburn in rushing with 305 yards on 66 carries.

Florida State, 4-0-1 after last week's tie against Memphis State, is looking to avenge its 27-24 loss to the Tigers last season. Auburn, 3-2 after last week's 17-13 victory over Mississippi, is looking to extend its supremacy over the Seminoles. Auburn has 12 out of 13 meetings between the two teams.

Dan Morris, a Lake Brantley grad will line up at guard for the Seminoles.

Brewer Learns In A Hurry, Joins Expert Class

Thirteen-year-old Ronnie Brewer has been racing BMX for a little more than one year but he already is running with the fast crowd.

"A friend took me to the track right after I turned 12," said Ronnie, "and I've been racing ever since."

Ronnie placed first in that first moto a year ago, and has been doing it ever since. Yet, he has never won with the grace and confidence that he has now.

"I had butterflies that first time, but I thought I could do good because my riding was smooth, not awkward," said Brewer.

Ronnie, of Longwood, races a GHP (Greg Hill Products) bicycle. "I got it last February for my 13th birthday," said Ron.

Ron's fondest memory of BMX is of an event held earlier this year. Ron made it to the main event, and placed fifth at the State Championship race held at Lake Alfred.

As of two weeks ago, Ronnie earned the 20 trophies necessary to turn expert. "I like the competition," said Brewer. "My biggest competition is Raymond Rogers."

Ronnie is a co-factory member of Funway Bicycles Race Team. "What I would really love is to be factory GHP," said Ronnie.

So far, Gordon Barnett Park in Pine Hills is Ronnie's favorite track. From the track, Ronnie picks Torker's 18-expert Todd "Orbitt" Corbett as his favorite racer.

Favorite pro? You guessed it. Greg Hill of GHP is who Ron names.

When Ronnie isn't racing, you would probably find him pursuing one of his other hobbies. Fishing, playing football, and girls top his list.

Last Saturday night at Barnett Park, the motos were small due to the double pointer races in Jacksonville. But for all the kids who didn't go, the races went on. All in all, the Seminole County kids dominated. Eight-expert Dusty Cummins raced both expert and open classes. In expert, he placed third, and brought home a fourth in the open.

Taking second and third places in the nine-novice class were two Lake Mary racers. Eric Lucia placed second, and Jeff Lane earned third place.

Newly turned 12-expert Andy Spence was looking good all night long. He brought home third place to prove it.

Todd Hunt placed second in the 13-novice class, and Danny Lombardi brought in fourth place. Fifth and sixth place went to Scott Lucia and Mike Deag, both of Lake Mary.

In his third week as an expert, Ronnie Brewer placed second in the 13-expert class. Shawn Cummins was right behind Ron in third place.

In the 13-open class, Shawn Cummins bounced back to win this one, and Ronnie Brewer settled for third. Todd Hunt placed fifth in the action.

First place in the 14-novice class went to Brian Lane. Luckily, for the novices, Brian's only five trophies away from the expert grading.

In the 15-expert class, John Poole placed third.

FHSAA as its vice-president, said he was not a member of the classification committee, but he did "sit in on one of the meetings."

Apparently, the problem started several years ago. Fort Meade, a 2A school, presented a plan so that the 2A schools could go to a 18-team district. When this happened, the gap from the smallest 2A school to the largest grew too wide. It was possible for a school of 208 students in the upper three grades to play a school with 729 students.

So what? That's a 2A school problem. Since when do they start calling the shots?

Epps agreed. "I don't understand how small schools can decide who the big schools play," said Epps. "I'm upset that they (FHSAA) didn't consult the principals. They consult us when they're moving swimming season or golf. But they can't consult us on something as important as this?"

It does seem strange how this thing came about, Henley said the vote was 18-6 by the board of directors.

The push behind the 2A schools was provided by Blountstown principal John H. Tomlinson. Blountstown is 50 miles northwest of Tallahassee. Tomlinson, who is chairman of the classification committee, confirmed Wednesday that it's an unbalanced situation at the 2A level was the reason for the change.

Tomlinson said the committee tried to keep the divisions at four. "But when we adjusted the 2A, it messed up the 3A. When we adjusted the 3A, it messed up the 2A."

Tomlinson said he wanted to make it very clear that the committee wasn't out to hurt anyone. "We knew some people would be unhappy," he said. "We don't claim it's a cure-all. But the ones at the bottom (of the classification) are the ones that are usually unhappy."

Although Tomlinson's committee is responsible for the move to five classes, he said his committee had nothing to do with the redrawing of the districts. "That was all up to the tournament committee," he said.

Henley said the redrawing was based on enrollment and geographic location. He isn't happy with the result, but he said you should have seen some of the original plans. "At first, they wanted to send Oviedo to play with Lakeland Kathleen and Lake Lake Gibson." Henley said about the proposed move of the Lions to AAAA District 6. "We finally got them to keep them around here in District 5."

Czech Poet Winner Of Literature Nobel

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Czechoslovak poet Jaroslav Seifert today won the 1984 Nobel Prize for Literature for poetry that "provides a liberating image of the indomitable spirit and versatility of man," the Swedish Academy announced.

Seifert, who signed the Czechoslovakian dissent manifesto Charter 77, was elected chairman of the Czechoslovakian writers association in 1969, but was deposed by the government of President Gustav Husak, which has since gradually accepted his nonconformism, the Academy said.

A writer for more than 60 years, Seifert made his debut in 1920 with a volume of poems called "Mesto v Slzach" (City in Tears). His most recent work is his memoirs called "Vsecky Kraay Sveta" ("All the Beauty in the World").

Militiamen Free Ambassador

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Shiite Moslem Amal militiamen rescued the Spanish ambassador to Lebanon from two youths who abducted him in a bid to gain the release of comrades jailed in Spain.

Ambassador Pedro Manuel de Arístegui, 57, said Wednesday he was kidnapped by two members of a radical Shiite group — the Musa Sadr Brigades.

He said the gunmen, both in their 20s, were taken into custody by Amal.

The paper given Mrs. Fassas by the health department said there were 1.23 parts per billion found in their water. Frank Hutter of the Orlando office of the State Department of Environmental Regulation, said that .1 per billion is the acceptable level now but next June the new level of .02 per billion will go into effect. He said that to cause health problems even the highest levels found in Florida so far would have to be consumed over a long period of time.

The Fassas bought their home in the neighborhood where houses are in the $95,000 to $150,000 class in April, but didn't move in until June, she said.

Although the instructions left by the county said they could get bottled water at the Wekiva Fire Department, she said she has been too busy to go there so has been filling plastic jugs with city water at her husband's office and mother-in-law's home.

"I didn't create the problem, so why should I have to pay $3,000 for a filter system?" Mrs. Fassas asked. "There are seven houses on this street and it shook everyone up when they heard our test came up positive. It usually costs from $75 to $150 to have a well tested, but the man next door, Dick Hardman, has found a place that will give us a bulk rate of $42. We're going to have our well rechecked and even if we get a filter it will still need rechecking."

"I've been to my attorney. I don't think it's fair. We moved out here for the country atmosphere and wanted a well, now we can't drink our water. We've put our life blood into fixing this place up."

"I'm the kind of mother, who tells her children, 'Drink lots of water,' but when I found out we had a high level of EDB in our water and it more dangerous for younger children, I was scared," Mrs. Fassas said. The Fassas children are 5 and 10 years old.

Late last year, city wells in the vicinity of the Mayfair Country Club in Sanford and private wells around the Rolling Hills Country Club near Longwood were found contaminated after the courses had been treated with EDB.

The Hidden Lake parkland was donated to the city in compliance with city law which requires a developer to provide a certain amount of open space for each unit of housing he constructs.

Jernigan said he expects a decision on the grant request from Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet by the second or third week in January. It will probably be April before all the paper work between the city and the state is concluded on the proposed project and construction will begin immediately thereafter, he said.

Hidden Lake area has two smaller parks, both owned and operated by the homeowners association, Jernigan said.

School. The marina is part of Hamilton Elementary's district.

Doty said if the board forced him to enroll his son, Matthew, in Hamilton it would create a financial and emotional hardship on him. He argued that since he has started a business in Maitland he spends most of his time there. Lake Orienta is "just a stone's throw away," and Matthew comes to the business after school.

If enrolled at Hamilton, Doty, a single parent, said he would hardly ever see his son.

School superintendent Robert Hughes said Doty was given an extension last year and had seven months to make other arrangements. But board member Pat Telson, saying she was "family-oriented" urged the board to accept Doty's request for an extension of another year.

"The board has to have compassion for what's being said," Telson said.

But Chairman Bill Kroll said Doty wanted "the best of two worlds," and giving in to his request would set a "dangerous precedent."

After that, the board voted 3-1 in Doty's favor.

...Henley

Mrs. Schapker and assistant principal Ed Buckner said this is his finest quality. They credit his involvement and forthrightness for getting equipment and facilities for the school — like a heated swimming pool and a lighted baseball field — that it might not have gotten otherwise.

His co-workers also call him a "pacesetter." Because of his numerous memberships on education and community committees, he learns the latest trends and brings them to Lyman. He has started a day care center on campus and a robotics class for shop students.

But Henley's forceful, non-nonsense style is often misunderstood by parents and teachers, Mrs. Schapker said; especially when he upholds the student's side in a dispute, as he often does.

And he's been accused of being dogmatic. "But that comes from shaking people up," she said.

While Henley's dominating physique and mannerism may make him appear harsh, Mrs. Schapker says he is not. And students say he is big but fair.

"He's a nice guy. He runs the school fairly," said freshman Chip Nagle.

Morale remains high at Lyman, partially because Henley is so involved in the school, co-workers say. He regularly attends its sporting and cultural events.

And because of Henley's policies, there is little employee turnover, Mrs. Schapker said. "People are not leaving like flies."

Henley, whose own four children have attended Lyman, has been its principal for 21 years. He started his teaching career in Humboldt, Tenn., in 1955. In 1959, he moved to Oviedo and started teaching at the high school. He became principal a year later.

During the next two years he worked as an assistant principal at Seminole High and South Seminole Middle schools. In 1963, he came to Lyman and has been there since.

Many of his assistant principals now work at the Seminole County School Board office. Henley himself has been offered school board posts but keeps turning them down because, "the county office is too far from where the action is."

appointed translator, Florence van Hiseenhoven, interpreting for the Spanish-speaking defendant.

"This was not the type of case we needed to roll the dice on," said Public Defender Don West, explaining that if Padilla had been found guilty by a jury there was a possibility a judge would have imposed a death penalty given Padilla's previous history of violent acts.

Padilla was convicted in his native Puerto Rico for the manslaughter death of his wife, according to comments made at the plea hearing.

Assistant State Attorney Donald Marblestone agreed not to seek the death penalty if Padilla pleaded guilty to the charge, West said.

Padilla was indicted March 28 by a 18-member Seminole County grand jury following the death of Ms. Keith.

She was killed at about 4:20 p.m. March 9 during an argument with Padilla who she met at a Sanford nursery where they both had worked. She reportedly was having a difficult time keeping Padilla away from her prior to the shooting.

According to witnesses, Padilla fired several shots into Ms. Keith as she sat in the front seat of her purple AMC Concorde while it was parked at her employer Vaughn Inc., a nursery at Button Road and Sunset Drive.

She died when a bullet ripped through her lungs and ruptured a major blood vessel, according to an autopsy. A second bullet pierced her left wrist and cheek.

Padilla, who had a history of DUI arrests in Seminole County, was arrested March 10 at the ABC Liquor Lounge, Robinson Street, Orlando, after the police received an anonymous tip, according to Orlando police officer Jim Bishop.

Bishop said a man called Crimeline and said he heard a man talking about the shooting and the informant told police where the suspect was. Police investigated the lead and Padilla was arrested. —Deane Jordan

Bradley-Lay Vows Spoken In Texas

Pamela Bradley and Robert Morgan Lay were united in marriage on Aug. 25 at South Hills Baptist Church in Fort Worth, Texas. The Rev. Walter Reid was the officiating minister for the double ring ceremony.

Bill Simpson sang nuptial selections and piano solos were played by David McPherson.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slaton Bradley of 101 Vinewood Drive, Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Lay of Conroe, Texas.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore an ivory knit silk organza and Brussels lace gown featuring a bodice overlaid in Brussels lace and reembroidered with pearls and long sheer Bishop sleeves trimmed with Brussels lace and pearls. Appliques of lace and pearls sprinkled the flared skirt which fell from a natural waistline and extended into a cathedral length train. A deep flounce of scalloped lace trimmed the hemline. Her ivory mantilla attached to a Camelot head piece and fell into a cathedral train. She carried a cascade of silk nosegays of roses, forget-me-nots and orchids on English ivy. All the flowers were created by Mrs. Carol Fletcher, sister of the groom.

The bride wore a gold necklace with a diamond and pearls, a gift of the groom. She also carried out the tradition of something borrowed, a wedding band worn by the groom's great grandmother; a blue garter, a cluster of gold bracelets encrusted in pearls, a gift of the groom's mother, and a penny in her shoe.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ted (Johnette) Williams. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas (Eloise) Bates, sister of the bride of Gatesville, Texas; Mrs. Curtis (Alma) Dunaway, sister of the bride of Lake Mary; Mrs. Carol Fletcher, sister of the groom from Houston, Texas; and Mrs. Richard (Julie) Williams, sister of the groom from Bedford, N.Y.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length mauve gown of "Promise" satin with matching corsage of roses and orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan Lay

The groom's mother wore a floor-length gown of light blue silk organza over satin with a matching corsage of roses and orchids.

The bride presented each mother with a long-stemmed rose as she approached and left the altar.

The best man was Roy L. Lay Jr., brother of the groom from Placentia, Calif. Groomsmen were Richard Williams of Bedford, N.Y.; William Thomas of North Salem, N.Y.; Gene Mullenberg of Grand Prairie, Texas; and Kerry Spano of Arlington, Texas.

Candlelighters were Bradley Bates, nephew of the bride from Gatesville, Texas; and David Williams, of Bedford, nephew of the groom. Dondi Bates of Gatesville, Texas, niece of the bride, registered the guests and Tiffani Bates, niece of the bride, was in charge of the rice bags.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Friends of the couple served at the bride and groom's tables. Bill Simpson sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told", which had been sung at the wedding of the groom's parents who celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary recently.

On the evening before the wedding, the groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Edelweisse German Restaurant. Gifts were presented to the attendants.

After a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple are at home in Arlington, Texas, where the groom is in real estate and insurance in the firm of Lay, Spano and Williams, Associates. The bride is an employee of Kelley Moore Paints of Fort Worth.

One Child Too Many May Sour A Second Marriage

DEAR ABBY: I have a sticky situation I could use some help with. I'm divorced with three kids — 18, 17 and 11. I've raised them with no child support for the last eight years.

I want to marry a nice guy I'll call Sam. He also married before and has two kids, now 11 and 12, by Doris, his ex-wife. Doris is married again and has a 3-year-old daughter (Suzy) by her present husband. She's expecting another baby any minute.

In the past, Sam has been taking his kids every other weekend. Ever since Suzy has been old enough to walk, Doris has been sending her along to Sam's with his two kids. He has had to stop and pick up Pampers and milk for Suzy, who isn't even his! Sam feels that he should continue to pick up Suzy after we're married. I feel Doris would just be using me, and if she could get away with sending Suzy to me, she would probably send the next kid, too.

I'm 36, have a good job and I like my peace and quiet. I love Sam, and don't have any trouble welcoming his 11- and 12-year-olds, but I'll be darned if I'm going to baby-sit his ex-wife's kids by her second husband so she can have a free weekend. By the way, Doris doesn't work.

Do you think I'm being selfish and unreasonable?

HATES TO BE USED

Dear Abby

DEAR HATES: Absolutely not. You have no obligation to Doris' children by her second husband, and neither has Sam. I urge you to settle this with Sam before you marry him. It's just this type of "misunderstanding" that can sour a second marriage.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a sophomore in high school. I tried out for cheerleading and I didn't mess up even once. Everybody who saw me try out said I was really good — much better than the girls who were picked — so I really feel that it wasn't fair.

I know I should be a good sport and pretend I don't care, but, Abby, this was the most important thing in my life and I do care. Please help me.

POOR LOSER

DEAR POOR LOSER: You tried and lost, which is nothing to be ashamed of. There are no good losers — just good actors. Keep practicing and try again. Maybe next year you'll get the jump on the competition.

DEAR READERS: Here are some statistics that will blow you away. In 1980, handguns killed:

- 77 people in Japan.
- 8 in Great Britain.
- 24 in Switzerland.
- 8 in Canada.
- 23 in Israel.
- 18 in Sweden.
- 4 in Australia.
- 11,522 in the United States.

We must be doing something wrong.

If you want to help keep handguns out of the wrong hands, and stop handgun crime before it stops you, send a few bucks to: Handgun Control Inc., 1400 K St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 10005.

DEAR ABBY: On the last weekend in August, I went to Harris Beach, Ore., and met this really nice girl from Grants Pass, Ore. It was love at first sight, and we spent a fabulous weekend together. I never experienced anything like it in my life. The only bad thing about the weekend was that when we said goodbye, I didn't get her last name or address.

I would like to get in touch with her. Can you help me?

IN LOVE IN OREGON

DEAR IN LOVE: Did you give her your name and address? If you did and she feels the same way about you, you will hear from her. If not, you're out of luck, Romeo.

Tymi Howard To Perform With SET

Southern Ballet Theatre will open its fall season with a repertoire of three ballets Friday, at 8 p.m., at the Bob Carr Performing Arts Centre, Orlando. All three ballets including La Fille Mal Gardee will be performed by the SBT professional company accompanied by the Florida Symphony Orchestra.

Tymi Howard, 13, daughter of Betty Anne and William Howard of Winter Park, formerly of Sanford, is one of the apprentice dancers selected to perform with the company.

Tickets are available in advance or at the box office.

'Cope' Cancer Course

"I Can Cope," a course designed for cancer patients and their families will be presented by Florida Hospital/Altamonte and the American Cancer Society beginning Oct. 16. The class will meet from 7-9 p.m., every Tuesday night for eight weeks and will address issues important to cancer patients, such as treatments, daily health problems, nutrition, exercise, feelings, fears and sexuality. Community resources available to cancer patients will also be discussed.

The "I Can Cope" classes provide an opportunity for participants to share their concerns with others facing a similar experience and will help them realize that they are not alone in their adjustments to everyday life.

The classes will be held at FH/Altamonte and pre-registration is required. Call 767-2264 for more information.

You Can Look Great And Have Bad Heart

DEAR DR. LAMB — My brother died two months ago of a heart attack (myocardial infarction). He was 60 and in good health. His death was a complete surprise. He seemed to be doing everything right except for smoking one pack of cigarettes a day. He weighed 174, watched his diet so he wouldn't get fat and walked every day.

Just eight months ago he retired from a steel mill, where he worked near white-hot steel in very high temperatures. It was so hot that he was required to work an hour then take an hour's break to cool down. He worked at this job for 30 years. Could the job and the heat have caused his heart attack?

DEAR READER — The first question is what makes her calves large. If it is fat, she could see a plastic surgeon who does cosmetic surgery. If it is muscle, there is no way anyone would recommend cutting out calf muscle to make her legs look thinner.

If it is fat, weight reduction may well help, along with endurance exercises. She should not do exercises that requires a lot of strength of the calf muscles, as that will stimulate their enlargement.

I'm not enthusiastic about the lipo-suction technique. It does have dangers and may leave ripples. I doubt that she wants rippled calves.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

DEAR READER — There is no evidence that working in heat as you describe, without a heat stroke or other complications of heat, causes heart attacks. Heat does increase the work of the heart and thus can cause angina pain or other symptoms in people who already have heart disease.

But there is evidence that smoking cigarettes substantially increases a person's risk of having a heart attack. I would suspect that was much more significant factor.

Also, your letter is a good example of a persistent misconception about heart disease. You can look great and have serious coronary artery disease. That is why it is important to know what a person's blood pressure is and to measure his cholesterol level along with his HDL cholesterol. You can't guess what a person's chemistry is by looking at him. Also, your brother's weight may not have been excessive, but, unless he was quite tall, it was enough to have allowed a reasonable amount of body fat to have accumulated.

I am sending you The Health Letter 17-10, What You Need to Know About Heart Attacks, to help you understand the disease.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Don't take the first finesse you see just because you happen to be in the right hand to do it. There may be something else to think about.

South rolled into the quite reasonable contract of three no-trump. On the opening lead he put up dummy's jack of spades, covered by the queen and ace. Now he played a heart to the queen. East grabbed the king and returned the nine of spades. South ducked. West overtook with the 10 and played back — you guessed it — the 10 of hearts. So the adroit defenders took one spade, three hearts, and the diamond ace to put declarer one down. I call the defense adroit, but a more accurate assessment is that the declarer was clumsy.

He can easily make his contract if the ace of diamonds is with East or if the king of hearts is with West. However, to take full advantage of both chances, South must take the diamond play first. And so, painful though it may be, declarer should cross to dummy's queen of clubs and lead a diamond to the king. When that wits, school is out. Should the diamond king lose to the ace, South wins the spade return, cashes out his clubs, and then decides whether to take the heart finesse for his contract. Chances are he'll grit his teeth and go for the gold.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
OCTOBER 12, 1984

You are in the early stages of a beneficent cycle in which you will be able to acquire many material things you have always wanted. However, be careful not to buy useless items.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Do not expect more than you're legitimately entitled to and you won't be disappointed. There are no free rides on today's railroad. The Matchmaker wheel reveals your compatibility to all signs, as well as showing you to which signs you are best suited romantically.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) What you might consider a harmless flirtation could mean just the opposite to one whom you owe your loyalty. Keep his feelings in mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your ambitions may be at a low ebb today and they could be further drained if you associate with persons who lack drive and initiative.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You will be graded by others in social situations today, so be on your best behavior. Keep your thumb out of your soup and your foot out of your mouth.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Everyone has feet of clay, so be careful who you put on a pedestal today. If your expectations are too high, no one will be able to fulfill them.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Innately you have a good sense of color and design, but your artistic qualities may not be up to par today and you could buy something beneath you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Do not feel enticed to spend money today in order to impress others. In the final analysis, sincerity, not pretense, wins acceptance.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Dealing with others in a condescending manner today will provoke undesirable results. Treat everyone as an equal and forego "upmanship."

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be sensible about your health habits today and avoid all forms of overindulgence. If you want your waistline to stay trim, don't cater to fatty whims.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You will be typed as a shallow person if you use flattery to further your purposes today. Say nothing that could make you appear to be insincere.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you desire to impress others today, just be yourself. Putting on airs or affectations dulls your image in the eyes of others.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Instead of viewing situations in a realistic manner today, you might rose-color facts to suit your fancy. Unfortunately, you're only kidding yourself.

Brokaw Confident 'NBC Nightly News' Will Be No. 1

By Julianna Hastings
UPI TV Reporter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Anchorman Tom Brokaw says there's no way he'd stay at his job if he didn't believe his "NBC Nightly News" program would one day be the nation's No. 1 early evening news show.

Brokaw, who has been the sole anchor on "NBC Nightly News" since September 1983, sees the ratings race as being so close he is confident "CBS Evening News with Dan Rather" can be knocked out of its lead position.

"There have been times during the year when the differences between the ratings have been so narrow," Brokaw said. "We won two nights in Dallas during the Republican convention.

"It's all possible."

Since mid-summer, when ABC's coverage of the XXIII Olympiad in Los Angeles won top ratings, "NBC Nightly News" has been in third place, behind the CBS News program and ABC's "World News Tonight" with Peter Jennings.

"We were a clear second before the Olympics. But the ratings always fluctuate as the result of many factors," he said, citing the local newscast that leads into the network program as a significant factor.

Brokaw said he was encouraged by the changes that have been made by Lawrence Grossman,

Tom Brokaw

...program may one day go to an hour in length

who took over as NBC News president in May. "This network has been in turmoil for awhile," Brokaw said. "Things started moving again under Reuven (Frank, Grossman's predecessor) and Tom (Pettit, NBC News executive vice president) and Larry's gone on from there."

Sitting at his desk in a cushy, but cramped office with a small refrigerator stocked with yogurt, cottage cheese and apples, Brokaw said NBC News currently was concentrating on the quality of its early evening news show.

"We're doing longer and more thoughtful pieces than the other two shows," said Brokaw, who said the reason he took the anchor post was because he was promised the news show one day would go from a half-hour show to an hour.

"We've revived and beefed up our special segments and we're doing more investigative reporting on single subjects — running two or three reports, like Garrick Utley's report on nuclear warfare."

"We do more on politics now than the other two networks," said Brokaw, who calls himself a political junkie. "They seem to think the presidential race is boring."

Brokaw said he wasn't as optimistic now that "NBC Nightly News" would become an hour-long show.

"We might come to that point, but at the moment, it's very low on the agenda."

Brokaw was anchor of the late evening news on KNBC-Los Angeles, before he joined the network in 1973 as White House correspondent.

The anchorman still has four years to go on his seven-year contract.

"But I realize I live by the whims of numbers," he said. "In a year and a half, if I'm running a distant third, I don't deserve to be around."

"I've been doing the job just about a year and I think it takes time to develop an audience. Dan (Rather) had his ups and downs."

Unlike former CBS anchorman Walter Cronkite, who since his retirement has made a number of speeches criticizing the concept of anchorman, Brokaw believes his job is necessary, because it's what the viewers want.

"The fact is, people like to get their news from people one on one, the same way they go to the same doctor, the same mechanic or the same store."

'Teachers' Moves To Head Of The Class

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Teachers," a drama about a tony-turvy high school, has edged out "All of Me," a slapstick comedy of the supernatural, to go to the head of the class at the box office, MGM-UA executives have announced.

A studio spokesman acknowledged that the film, which debuted in first place at the box office last week, received scant praise from critics. The spokesman said the film's stars Nick Nolte and Jolene Williams attracted box office crowds because of an imaginative TV advertising campaign and soundtrack performances by Joe Cocker, Bob Seger and ZZ Top.

"Teachers" grossed $7 million over the four-day Columbus Day weekend.

"All of Me," the Steve Martin-Lily Tomlin comedy, lost a two-week hold on first place and slipped to second with $4.5 million. The film has grossed $18.6 million to date.

"Places in the Heart," which won rave reviews, opened nationwide after a limited release the week before and landed in third place, grossing $4.1 million. Sally Field plays a Depression Era widow fighting to hold on to her Texas farm.

"Irreconcilable Differences" fell one place to fourth its second weekend, grossing $2.7 million. The social comedy about a youngster "divorcing" her parents has collected $6.5 million so far.

"Ghostsisters," the year's biggest hit, stayed in fifth place with $2.2 million for an 18-week total of $206.9 million.

"The Wild Life," a men exploitation flick, fell from second to sixth, grossing $2.28 million.

Soap Awards Show Oct. 17

Television hasn't been the same since a primetime drama named after a Texas city captured the imagination of the public and the numbers in the Nielsen.

"Dallas" brought the success of daytime dramas to primetime and a whole new generation discovered the "soaps" or continuing dramas. Today millions watch them.

On Oct. 17 at 8 p.m., WMOD-TV-43 will present "The Soap Opera Awards," the first nationally broadcast awards special to honor the series and stars of television's primetime and daytime continuing dramas.

Hosted by David Hasselhoff, star of "Knight Rider," and his wife Catherine Hickland, featured in "Capitol," the two-hour gala was produced and directed by Marty Pasetta, director of the Academy Awards for 14 years.

PICTITIOUS NAME Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 745 East Bay Ave., Longwood, Seminole County, Florida under the fictitious name of HOWLAND COMMUNICATIONS, and that I intend to register said name with the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Seminole County, Florida in accordance with the provisions of the Fictitious Name Statutes, to-wit: Section 865.09 Florida Statutes 1983.

NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER THE ADOPTION OF AN ORDINANCE BY THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA.

Notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held at the Commission Room in the City Hall in the City of Sanford, Florida, at 7:00 o'clock P.M. on October 22, 1984, to consider the adoption of an ordinance by the City of Sanford, Florida, as follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 1721 AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA, TO AMEND WITHIN THE CORPORATE AREA OF THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA, UPON ADOPTION OF SAID ORDINANCE, A PORTION OF THAT CERTAIN PROPERTY LYING NORTH OF AND ABUTTING EAST 27TH STREET AND BETWEEN COLLINS DRIVE AND SANFORD AVENUE; SAID PROPERTY BEING SITUATED IN SEMINOLE COUNTY, FLORIDA, IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE VOLUNTARY ANNEXATION PROVISIONS OF SECTION 171.044, FLORIDA STATUTES; PROVIDING FOR SEVERABILITY, CONFLICTS, AND EFFECTIVE DATE.

WHEREAS, there has been filed with the City Clerk of the City of Sanford, Florida, a petition containing the names of the property owners in the area described herein, after requesting annexation to the corporate area of the City of Sanford, Florida, and requesting to be included therein; and

WHEREAS, the Property Appraiser of Seminole County, Florida, having certified that there are two owners in the area to be annexed, and that said property owners have signed the Petition for Annexation; and

WHEREAS, it has been determined that the property described herein is reasonably compact and contiguous to the corporate area of the City of Sanford, Florida, and it has further been determined that the annexation of said property will not result in a creation of an enclave;

WHEREAS, the City of Sanford, Florida, is in a position to provide municipal services to the property described herein, and the City Commission of the City of Sanford, Florida, deems it in the best interest of the City to accept said petition and to annex said property.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ENACTED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF SANFORD, FLORIDA:

SECTION 1: That the property described below situated in Seminole County, Florida, be and the same is hereby annexed to and made a part of the City of Sanford, Florida, pursuant to the voluntary annexation provisions of Section 171.044, Florida Statutes:

SECTION 2: That upon this Ordinance becoming effective, the property owners and any resident on the property described herein shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges and immunities as are from time to time granted to residents and property owners of the City of Sanford, Florida, and as further provided in Chapter 171, Florida Statutes, and shall further be subject to the responsibilities of residence or ownership as may from time to time be determined by the governing authority of the City of Sanford, Florida, and the provisions of said Chapter 171, Florida Statutes.

SECTION 3: If any section or portion of a section of this ordinance proves to be invalid, unlawful, or unconstitutional, it shall not be held to invalidate or impair the validity, force or effect of any other section or part of this ordinance.

SECTION 4: That all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 5: That this ordinance shall become effective immediately upon its passage and adoption.

A copy shall be available at the Office of the City Clerk for all persons desiring to examine the same.

All parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard at said hearing. By order of the City Commission of the City of Sanford, Florida.

ADVICE TO THE PUBLIC: If a person desires to appeal a decision made with respect to any matter considered of the proceedings, including the testimony and evidence, which record is provided by the City of Sanford, (FS 206.018), H.
