Court hears adoption case arguments

TALLAHASSEE — The biological father of a 2-year-old boy adopted shortly after birth should not get custody of his son because he provided no support for the mother during her pregnancy, state Supreme Court justices were told Tuesday.

"This baby was a victim if ever there was a victim," attorney Chandler R. Muller, who represents the adoptive parents, said in arguing the child was abandoned and should not be returned to its natural father.

The adoptive parents "are the psychological parents" of the child, Muller said, telling justices that if a lower court decision ordering the child returned to its biological father is upheld, private adoptions would be jeopardized.

Such a ruling would make children "unadoptable," Muller said, because adoptive parents would never know if a child's biological father might want to assert his parental rights and claim custody of the child.

The case, called "Bob Doe vs. Richard Roe" to protect the identity of all involved, began in September 1986 when the unwed mother gave birth to the baby.

She signed an adoption agreement and the child was placed with its adoptive parents three days after it was born.

Police find source of thallium sulfate

LAKELAND — Polk County Sheriff's officers said Tuesday members of a family from Alturas was poisoned in October after drinking Coca-Cola tainted with thallium sulfate.

"We have determined the source of the thallium sulfate. It came from Coca-Cola bottles," said Lynne Brudenbach, spokeswoman for the Polk County Sheriff's office.

Peggy Carr, 41, remained in critical condition at Winter Haven Hospital and her stepson Travis Carr, 16, remained in guarded condition, said a hospital spokeswoman. Both have been hospitalized since the mid-October poisoning.

Carr's son, Duane Dabberly, 17, was released from the hospital Friday, the spokeswoman said. Carr's husband, Parker, n. 43, had traces of the chemical in his body in October, but was not ill.

Thallium sulfate, a clear colorless chemical used in pesticides banned 23 years ago, attacks the neurological system and can cause numbness in the extremities, headaches, muscle paralysis, weakness, convulsions, delirium and coma. It also can cause salivation, diarrhea and vomiting.

Cabinet refuses to tax fitness centers

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Bob Martinez and the Cabinet declined Tuesday to consider applying the 8 percent sales tax to fitness center memberships, and instead recommended the Legislature examine the issue next year.

According to Department of Revenue director Katie Tucker, fitness centers should have been taxed since 1983 under a department regulation requiring taxes on admission to recreational facilities. Under a strict interpretation of the law, Tucker said, fitness centers qualify as recreational facilities.

Tucker said the rule had gone unnoticed — and fitness centers untaxed — until it came to light during last year's battle over the services tax. She asked Martinez and the Cabinet to adopt an amended Department of Revenue rule clearly spelling out that fitness centers should be taxed.

Insurance agent accused of scam

TAMPA — A 35-year-old insurance agent was in Hillsborough County jail without bond Tuesday, charged with bilking $420,000 from a California bank and five finance companies during the past two years.

Authorities arrested Kenneth Lynn Cherry of Brandon Monday and booked him into jail on six counts of grand theft, six counts of violating the Florida Communications Fraud Act and one count of racketeering.

The police seized boxes of documents at Cherry's office and U.S. postal inspectors were investigating possible federal violations.

Hillsborough County Sheriff's Lt. Randy Latimer said Cherry, who has valid insurance in Brandon for 12 years, was the target of an investigation involving the Great Western Federal Savings Bank branch in Brandon, four premium-finance corporations in Florida and one finance company in Sherman Oaks, Calif.

Great Western is based in Beverly Hills, Calif.

UF prexy expected to resign

GAINESVILLE — A news conference has been scheduled for Friday by University of Florida president Marshall Criser amid reports that he plans to resign.

Several officials have indicated Criser, 60, will resign after the school year because of the workload and the amount of time he has to spend away from home.

If he resigns, he will be the seventh president among the state's nine public universities to do so in the past 2 1/2 years.

FBI stings dealers with tapped phones

United Press International

MIAMI — A sting operation in which authorities sold bogus communications equipment to drug smugglers that was actually used to track the suspects led to the indictment of 93 people, officials said Tuesday.

The probe, code named Cat-Corn for Catch Communications, was the largest FBI undercover operation ever to target U.S. distribution networks operated by drug cartels based in Medellin and Cali, Colombia, officials said.

Twenty-three indictments were unsealed charging 78 people in Miami and 15 others elsewhere with drug trafficking, Dexter W. Lehtinen, U.S. Attorney for southern Florida, said.

Lehtinen described some of those named in the operation as front-line representatives of Colombia's major drug cartels, and said the operation inflicted major damage on those organization's U.S. distribution networks.

"We've actually hit them pretty hard," Lehtinen said.

Among those implicated in the investigation were three reputed leaders of the Arrests were underway Tuesday in Miami, Tampa, Texas and Massachusetts, officials said. Two former Miami police officers were among those arrested.

Drugs were seized in both land and sea operations, the FBI said, and bureau agents were impeded in one case when a sailboat carrying 402 kilograms of cocaine sank, forcing a Coast Guard rescue.

The investigation was conducted through a business front in Miami operating under the name R.A. Communications and Computers Inc., officials said.

FBI agents and informants who posed as specialists sold and leased cellular telephones, beepers, navigational devices and other equipment to smugglers, Lehtinen said.

Some of the gadgets provided by the FBI actually were homing devices that allowed the FBI to monitor the movements of the traffickers, a federal law enforcement source said.

A source said the drug dealers were seeking secure communications devices that could not be monitored, but "what they asked for and received were not the same thing."

"Some of the equipment enabled us to do some monitoring of them," the source said, suggesting the communications devices included scanners and beepers that enabled the bureau to electronically track the suspects.

Lehtinen said undercover agents were able to win the confidence of their clients to such a degree that R.A. Communications came to serve as a clubhouse of sorts for drug smugglers.

The drug importers openly discussed illegal shipments at the office, where their conversations were secretly recorded, officials said.

New federal prison nearing completion

PENSACOLA — Construction on a minimum-security federal prison, without fences or gates, is expected to be completed by mid-January and will hold more than 300 inmates, officials said Tuesday.

Seventy inmates are at work converting five buildings at the Navy's Saufley Field in north Pensacola into a prison, a process that began in June with a handful of inmates.

The work is far enough along that there will be an open house for local officials Friday.

At Saufley, as at other minimum-security prisons on military bases, inmates will wear street clothes after their work day ends and they will have amenities such as a soft ice cream machine. There will be no fences or gates.

"While this may look nice, it's still prison. The people who are here get up when we tell them to, eat when we tell them to, take the jobs we want them to," said Mark Henry, the new prison's superintendent.

Most minimum-security prisoners committed drug-related offenses, but others were convicted of white-collar crimes. The facility will not accept violent or inmates convicted of sex-related crimes.

The Bureau of Prisons currently operates three prisons on military bases. Saufley will be the first on a Navy base. The others are at Maxwell Air Force Base in Montgomery, Ala.; Tyndall Air Force Base near Panama City; and Eglin Air Force Base near Fort Walton Beach.

The renovation at Saufley, which will house inmates primarily from northwest Florida and south Alabama, began in June when 15 inmates from Eglin were brought in to begin construction. In November the workforce increased to 70.

Henry said he has spent about $300,000 on the project and expects to spend about $500,000. The inmates doing the work on the prison are paid 11 cents an hour.

Henry said the government's 51 federal prisons are packed, operating at 157 percent of capacity. He said the number of federal inmates is expected to grow from the current 44,000 to 80,000 in 1993.

To meet the expected growth, 25 prisons will be built in the next five years.

Commercial harvest of redfish banned

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Bob Martinez and the Cabinet Tuesday declared the redfish a game fish in Florida, locking commercial fishermen out of a $100 million harvest for the next three years.

"This may be the best solution to a bad situation," Martinez said after he and the Cabinet voted 6-1 in favor of a Marine Fisheries Commission rule that allows one redfish per person per day to be taken during a nine-month season.

The rule also banned the sale of Florida redfish, blocking all commercial harvest of the popular game and food fish.

Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner cast the lone dissenting vote.

Martinez said the rule would allow a limited redfish harvest without damaging the species' steady recovery from near devastation.

He said commercial fishermen could continue to catch other species, as they have done since the redfish fishery was closed completely two years ago.

Martinez and the Cabinet made their decision after hearing more than three hours of public testimony from recreational and commercial fishermen.

The Cabinet meeting room was jammed with about 350 people, while about 150 more watched the proceedings on closed-circuit television outside the packed hall.

The vocal crowd was divided about evenly between commercial fishermen wearing the green-and-gold caps of the Organized Fishermen of Florida and recreational fishermen wearing the red-and-white caps of the Florida Conservation Association.

Pleased recreational fishermen, including many professional fishing guides, said the decision would protect the resource while allowing them to take an occasional trophy or food fish.

But many commercial fishermen, most of them stunned or outraged by the vote, said the ruling would badly hurt their annual income.

Economists predict good shopping for holidays

GAINESVILLE — A second consecutive monthly rise in Florida's consumer confidence index, reflecting optimism about personal finances, signals healthy holiday sales for retailers, an economist said Tuesday.

The Florida Consumer Confidence Index rose to 98.9 in November, up from 96.2 in October, according to UP's Bureau of Economic and Business Research, which compiles the index from responses to a statewide consumer survey.

"Additionally, the proportion of those who say they are personally better off financially now than a year ago rose to 44.6 percent, up from 41.1 percent in October," said Jerry Millman, director of the research bureau.

"While the share of those saying that now is a good time to buy, major items fell only fractionally, to 57.5 percent in November.

"These two indicators continue to suggest that holiday sales in Florida will be generally upbeat, though not likely to set any records," he said.

Millman said retail sales probably will be hotly contested among the merchants as consumers carefully decide how to spend their money this season.

"Consumers are ready to buy, but they are shopping cautiously and shopping hard for the best deals," he said. "Stores that aggressively discount and hold pre-holiday sales will do well. Stores that hold off on promotions won't."

The buying mood is not limited to seasonal purchases. The percentage of Floridians planning to buy a house in the next six months rose from 9.5 percent in October to 10.3 percent in November. That, Millman said, is due in part to moderate interest rates.

The number of people who plan to buy automobiles also rose last month, up to 15.6 percent from 15.2 percent the month before. Millman said more people were taking

Cue ball leads to jail

SANFORD — A Sanford man accused of throwing a cue ball at another male during a fight was arrested by Sanford police after the ball missed the intended victim, broke the window of a parked car and hit another victim.

After Jessie Bobby Harper, 18, of 1931 W. 14th St., allegedly threw the ball at one man but hit John Hill, of Route 1, Box 27, Sanford. The original target of the ball, whose name was not released, chased Harper away while brandishing a shovel.

The fight occurred outside the Talk of the Town bar, 718 W. 14th St., at about noon Tuesday. Police said Harper returned to the bar and was arrested there. He is charged with throwing a deadly missile into an occupied vehicle, aggravated battery and affray.

The male who was fighting with Harper was also arrested, according to Harper's arrest report. But Seminole County jail officials said he had not been booked into jail, indicating he is a juvenile. Sanford police early today could not confirm the arrest of the second suspect. Bond for Harper is $5,000.

Four jailed after shop burglary

SANFORD — An 18-year-old man and three boys are charged in connection with a burglary to Jack's Cycle Shop, 223 W. Third St., Sanford, Tuesday night.

Witnesses reported to police that the four had been seen at the shop. Suspects, who had already been questioned once by police that night, were located again at about 8:56 p.m. on Ninth Street. Witnesses reportedly identified them as the suspected burglars.

The boys are charged with burglary along with Larry Eugene Williams, 18, of 1307 Randall St., Sanford. Williams is also charged with possession of burglary tools. His bond is $1,000.

Police report the burglars attempted to steal a motor bike. The owner of the shop told police he hadn't determined Tuesday night if anything was missing from his business.

Before the burglary was discovered, police reported stopping and questioning the suspects on Fourth Street. Police later discovered that at the time of the first confrontation, the suspects gave fake names.

Two accused of theft

WINTER SPRINGS — Winter Springs police report arresting two men on charges of burglary, grand theft and dealing in stolen property, after pawn shop tickets linked them to a burglary in which jewelry and other items were stolen.

Anthony Rivera, 18, and Daniel Rivera, 19, both of 422 Apt. B, N. Edgemon Drive, Winter Springs, were arrested Monday. Daniel was arrested at home at about 8:33 a.m. Tuesday and Anthony was arrested at 2:15 a.m. at the Winter Springs police station.

They were reportedly linked to a December 4 burglary. Some of the stolen goods had been pawned in Sanford and Longwood police said.

Man charged with theft, burglary

WINTER SPRINGS — A man accused of stealing a car and then abandoning it when it got stuck May 5 is charged in that case and in another burglary to a home.

Sean P. Dusing, 18, of 80 S. Fairfax St., Winter Springs, was arrested at home at 6:27 p.m. Tuesday. He is charged with grand theft auto, burglary, grand theft and conspiracy.

Winter Springs police report a witness saw Dusing abandon the stolen car when it became stuck in a yard at 660 Tradewinds Ave., Winter Springs, shortly after the theft. Police also reported that there is a co-defendant in the second case who was not identified in Dusing's arrest report.

A cashier reported Glimp tried to purchase a carton of cigarettes and two lighters with a $395.99 Na-Co Distributing Co. payroll check made out to Jerry Priest. Glimp presented a check cashing card in Priest's name reported stolen by Priest at the Matland Gooding's.

Na-Co owner Nathaniel Newton reported Dec. 3 that the company's checkbook containing 200 payroll checks missing from his Orlando office. Newton said Priest is not a Na-Co employee.

She celebrated with supporters at the Sanford Civic Center after the election.

Morris, who joined supporters at a restaurant-lounge after the election, took his defeat philosophically. "The people have chosen and I'm satisfied with that. I will support the mayor over the next four years and am willing to serve the city in whatever way she wants me to." He has served on the planning and zoning commission since 1980.

Morris, who was critical of Smith for her vote on the Seminole County Expressway commission for the expressway route through Sanford, said he hopes she stands behind her pledge to work for a change in the route.

Smith, who said she voted for the route by mistake, officially changed her vote later. She has been elected vice chairman of the expressway commission for 1999.

He also congratulated Commissioner Bob Thomas Jr., who was re-elected.

Morris would not rule out a second attempt to be elected mayor. "No one really loses in these campaigns," he said. "I've met many people and gained new friends and I hope raised some issues that the people of Sanford will keep alive," he said.

Morris criticized the city's purchase of land near Geneva for use as a spray field to dispose of treated wastewater. He accused Smith of not exercising leadership over the commission, and contended the purchase of land was a waste of money because much of it is not suited for wastewater disposal.

Morris said, if elected, he would pursue negotiations to form a joint sewer district with Lake Mary and Seminole County.

Smith maintained she had fostered pride in the city, improved its physical appearance through numerous beautification projects, and had improved relations between black and white citizens. She said, although she was criticized by Morris for being a member of many area boards and committees, and spent much of her time speaking to clubs, church groups and school classes, her style of governing is evidently what the people like. "I have kept in close touch with the people of Sanford, and it paid off," she said.

Global warming trend may cause bigger hurricanes

United Press International

WASHINGTON — Global warming may increase the strength of hurricanes, posing a lethal threat to low-lying areas already facing inundation from rising sea levels, atmospheric scientists said Tuesday.

At a major conference on global climate change, experts said warmer water temperatures could increase the power of hurricanes by 40 percent to 50 percent. They said while maximum hurricane winds peak at 175 mph now, they could reach 220 mph by the middle of the next century.

They warned that the "greenhouse effect" — a warming trend linked to the atmospheric buildup of industrial emissions — also could:

- Sharply reduce production of rice, a staple for many Third World countries.
- Erode hundreds of feet from East Coast beaches.
- Kill huge areas of forest in the southern United States.

However, amid the profusion of such predictions, a leading expert backed away from a statement he made this summer that 1988 probably would be the hottest year worldwide in the 100-year history of recorded temperatures.

James Hansen, director of NASA's Goddard Institute of Space Studies, said a "remarkable" cooling trend caused by unusual Pacific Ocean currents in the second half of this year forced him to re-assess his highly publicized assertion at a Senate hearing this summer.

"1988 may or may not be the warmest ever," he said. "But the 1980s are the warmest decade on record. It's a half-a-degree warmer now than it was 100 years ago and that's roughly consistent with the greenhouse effect (theory)."

Hansen was one of a host of atmospheric scientists at the Second North American Conference on Preparing for Climate Change, touted as the largest and most comprehensive meeting on world climate issues.

The three-day conference, sponsored by the EPA and 17 other government agencies, industry associations and environmental groups, features 36 seminars on topics ranging from the impact of rising sea levels on the Chesapeake Bay to the implications of climate change for insurance companies.

Smith, Thomas earned victory

At a time when voters in other municipalities within Seminole County opted for new blood on their commissions, Sanford's electorate returns the two incumbents seeking re-election. The vote was a resounding victory for Mayor Bettie Smith and District 2 Commissioner Bob Thomas.

A third race goes to a run-off election on Dec. 20 between James Sweeting III and Lon Howell for the District 1 seat.

The margin of victory by Mayor Smith and Mr. Thomas is testimony to the records of the pair. Both ran on those records and the result should be considered approval by Sanford citizens.

Both Mayor Smith and Mr. Thomas cited improved racial relations, enhancement of the city's image, beautification programs, and progress in coping with the sewer and effluent disposal systems, as the achievements of the past four years, for which they are most proud.

Neither has shown a reluctance to shy away from the difficult challenges which lay ahead.

The campaign trail came to an end Tuesday for John Morris, candidate for mayor, Jay Malone, candidate for the commission seat for District 1, and Storm Richards, candidate for the commission seat for District 2.

Yet these three have made a significant contribution to the democratic process in Sanford. By offering themselves for elective office and proposing ideas and programs they have demonstrated a willingness to serve the people in hopes of making the city a better place to live.

The Herald congratulates Mayor Smith and Commissioner Thomas on their re-elections and looks with confidence on their continued leadership.

Do not forget Day of Infamy

Forty-seven years ago today a sneak attack on Pearl Harbor by Japanese carrier-based planes introduced the United States to two new elements of national life: Immense destruction on its own shores and the ability of Americans to unify quickly and react decisively. Dec. 7, 1941 was referred to as "A day which will live in infamy."

Since World War II there have been other days which likewise will live in infamy. We won that war, tied in Korea and lost in Vietnam. Threats from governments alien to our democratic way of life continue to exist. In many ways, we are reverting to the mentality of the 1930s when America felt all was well in the world unless it affected the pocketbook.

The admonition of the song "Let's Remember Pearl Harbor" remains true: let's also trust our former enemies, but never forget to cut the cards.

One man's guilt or innocence 'later'

The devastation of drugs on our society has so enraged me that I sometimes speculate about the mass execution of drug dealers as an appropriate solution.

Yes, I believe in the death penalty. But the cases of Edward Martin Ryder and Randall Dale Adams cause me to have second thoughts about its irrevocability.

Ryder is one of four inmates convicted of stabbing a Pennsylvania prison inmate to death in 1973. He was sentenced to life in prison in 1974. Adams was convicted of a murder in Texas and was also sentenced to life.

Recently, The New York Times ran a 40-inch story about Adams that included detailed information about another prison inmate's conviction that he (no, Adams) had committed the murder.

In the last nine years, I've come up with five witnesses who have recanted their stories and confirmed Ryder's innocence. But a succession of Philadelphia district attorneys and courts refuse to give any weight to the new evidence exculpating Ryder. In Texas, the prosecutor and local judicial system just as adamantly oppose a new trial for Adams.

Adams, 40, is white. Ryder, 38, is black. Injustice in America can be an equal opportunity plague.

But you decide whether Ryder's case has any merit.

Jan. 22, 1975: Jeffrey Hunter, the DA's chief witness against Ryder, told a Philadelphia Daily News reporter that he (Hunter, who had a long criminal record) had made a deal with the DA's office to testify against Ryder in exchange for the dropping of robbery charges against him.

July 10, 1975: Hunter confirmed the deal with the DA on a television interview show with me. "I did it to get out of prison. I'm sorry I did it to the brother."

April 3, 1978: During a post-conviction hearing in court, Kenneth Covil, one of the other inmates convicted of the prison murder, testified that Ryder had not been involved. "I didn't know Mr. Ryder until they brought us out that night for questioning after the body was discovered."

June 11, 1984: A deathbed confession signed by a terminally ill Michael Grant (another of the four convicted inmates) declared: "I, along with Theodore Brown and Kenneth Covil, did in fact kill Samuel Molten by stabbing him (54 times). Edward Ryder had no knowledge of this incident."

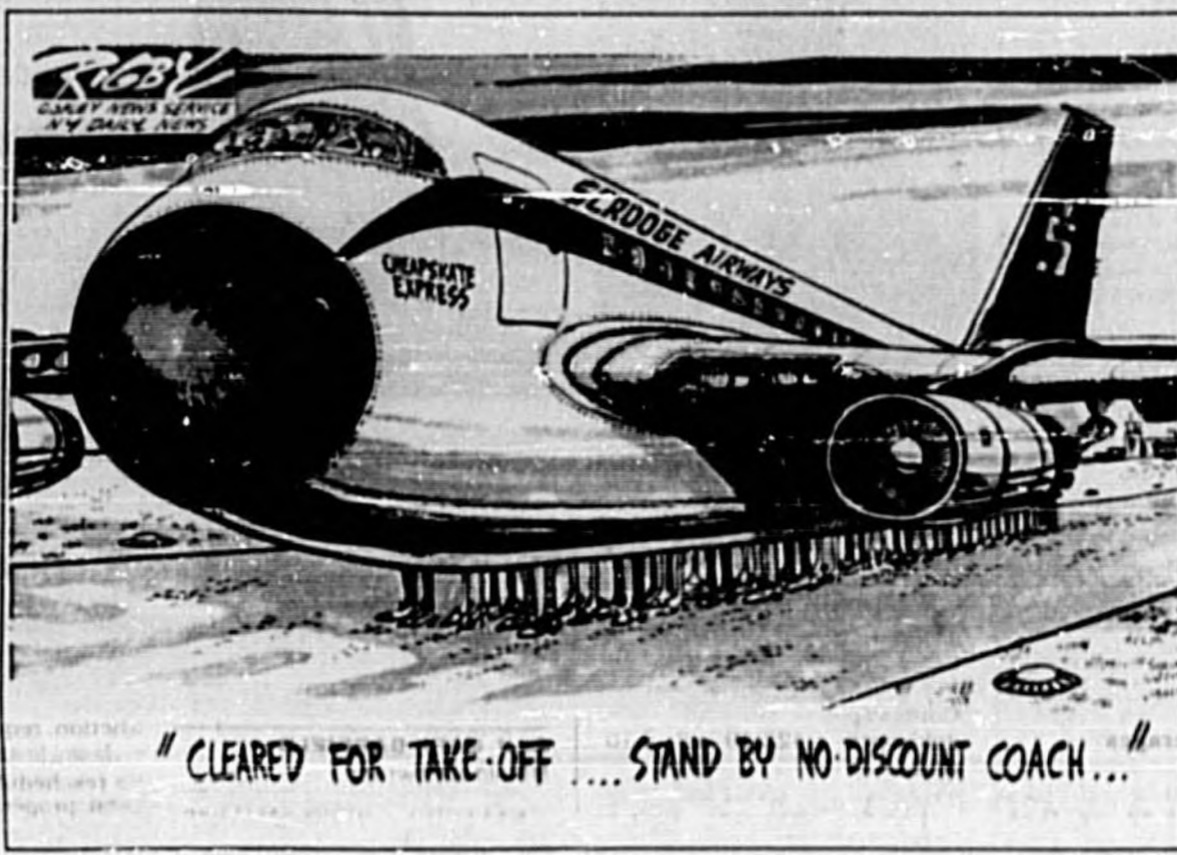

March 1985: Philadelphia Inquirer prison expert John Woestendiek wrote a story on the Ryder case, quoting yet a fourth witness, Robert Waddy, who said he saw five inmates come out of the murdered man's cell at about the same time of the murder, but none of them was Ryder.

October 1985: CBS News ran a story after a reporter had discussed the case with me and dug up a fifth witness, Edward Shelton, who told CBS: "I remember distinctly that Jeffrey Hunter was in the yard also that day. ... He was in my cell at the time Molten was murdered." (Which means Hunter couldn't have seen anybody come out of the murdered man's cell.)

But the Philadelphia DA's office, which is one of the worst in the nation, was so anxious to convict Ryder that it made a deal with one of the scummiest characters it could excavate from under a rock.

Drug smugglers dress for success

WASHINGTON — What is the well-dressed drug smuggler wearing this season? Probably a few extra pounds of cocaine or heroin stuffed in his shorts, stitched in his cuffs or stashed in the heels of his penny loafers.

Only a rank beginner would amble through customs with illegal booty in his hip pocket. Experienced drug couriers going through airports are outfitted by their own tailors in clothes specially designed to conceal little souvenirs from foreign countries.

Fortunately, it didn't take drug enforcement agents very long to catch on to the fact that while they were examining packages and luggage, drug couriers were literally wearing the evidence.

A federal intelligence center in El Paso, Texas, that collects data for various drug enforcement agencies has distributed a confidential report to its clients telling them where to look for drugs on suspicious characters.

When your mother told you to make sure you were wearing clean underwear before you left home, she never had this in mind.

Tailored-to-fit vests, underwear and leg or ankle bandages can be custom shaped to hold drugs, money or other contraband. One team of inspectors at John F. Kennedy Airport in New York found 7.5 pounds of heroin in a vest and underwear combination specially made by the smuggler's personal designer.

In Hong Kong, officials seized 86 grams of heroin from the waistband of a man's trousers.

Miami customs officials have found marijuana and currency wrapped around the lower back, thighs, calves and ankles of couriers. Evidently drug smugglers don't mind being accused of having thunder thighs or fat ankles, as long as they aren't caught committing more serious crimes.

The body wrap method is a dead giveaway if the smuggler can't bend over and walks like a swathed mummy. Ditto if the smuggler is wearing a wool overcoat in August or is an ectomorph wearing clothes from the big and tall shop.

Finally, check the shoes. The confidential report notes that California port of entry inspectors found couriers hiding drugs in false soles. Customs people have to sniff the shoes for one clue — the fresh smell of glue overpowering the stale smell of old socks. Another giveaway is a shiny pair of new shoes when the rest of the ensemble is well worn. The only sure test is to drill a hole in the heel, which understandably might annoy a tourist whose only crime is wearing a new pair of shoes.

If smugglers are sophisticated at the wardrobe game, they have also perfected their luggage techniques. Hard-sided suitcases with false sides are a favorite. Inspectors look for trim and rivets that don't appear factory-installed or suitcases that feel heavy when they are empty. One courier, snaggled in Lima, Peru, diversified his stash. He had cocaine in false compartments in his suitcase and briefcase, with more inside a hollow pair of shoes in the suitcase.

Soft-sided luggage is popular with smugglers coming out of Peru. The Drug Enforcement Administration found a factory in Lima that was producing soft suitcases with hidden compartments capable of holding two kilograms of cocaine per suitcase.

If the suitcase is clean and the clothes are empty, the customs officer still can't assume the search is over. U.S. customs officials in Houston and New York caught Nigerian couriers carrying 130 to 300 grams of heroin inside the metal tubing of baggage carts.

Unwed fathers' rights are slim

BOSTON — Eight years ago, Edward McNamara had what is described as a "casual affair." But in the way of the world, his brief romance had more than casual consequences. Unknown to him, the 29-year-old single woman became pregnant and gave birth to a baby girl.

On Aug. 1, 1981, over dinner in a San Diego restaurant, she told him about the baby and how she had placed it for adoption. She asked him to sign away his parental rights.

That vivid scene between man and woman, the news announced over the neutral turf of a tablecloth — her revelation, his shock — was a vivid tableau of the essential difference between a biological mother and father. Only a father could be "stunned," in his own words, by the birth of a child.

Despite all the birthing classes and self-conscious descriptions of "our" pregnancy, not even married men and women are truly equal partners in pregnancy. Unwed and disconnected fathers haven't nearly the same investment as unwed mothers in a newborn child.

But does that mean there are no rights that come with a paternal set of genes? Does a mother have the unilateral power to put a child up for adoption? Can the state view unwed mothers and unwed fathers wholly differently?

These are some of the questions that came out of his casual affair. On Nov. 28, Ed McNamara brought them to the Supreme Court.

McNamara never signed away his parental rights. He had them ruled away. Months after the baby girl — now a seven-year-old named Katie — was placed in a foster home, the court allowed Robert and P.J. Moses to adopt the baby over McNamara's protests. The girl had bonded with her new parents, the court ruled. Adoption was in her best interest.

McNamara claims that the law violated his rights. Indeed all fathers' rights. An unwed mother could only lose her parental rights if she was unfit. But an unwed father could lose them "in the best interest of the child." He was denied equal protection of the law.

This is not an isolated or freakish case. One out of every four children in the country is born out of wedlock. Many of these children have a tenuous relationship with their fathers. There are more women trying to get men into the lives of children than trying to keep them out. There are more women than men trying to prove paternity in court.

Indeed, that scene at the restaurant might have gone differently if the biological mother had decided to keep the child. The result of McNamara's casual affair might have been 18 years of child-support payments.

But can a state hold a man responsible for supporting his children one day and cut off his right to those children the next? If a father who is liable for responsibilities to be denied rights?

At the same time, this or any woman who carries a child alone for nine months may assume that she can decide the fate of her newborn, alone. Only six percent of babies born to unwed mothers are put up for adoption. Those mothers act in what they believe is "the best interests of the child." How would she assess those interests, make that decision, if the child could be claimed by a stranger-father?

The Supreme Court has ruled that biology isn't destiny for unwed fathers exactly the way it is for unwed mothers. If an unwed father wants to claim his paternity, he has to act like a father. But neither the mother nor the California law ever gave Ed McNamara the chance to act like a father.

This is a time of flux and confusion about families and the rules that regulate them. Family structures are more diverse, family law more complex. As a society we are trying to strengthen emotional ties while our institutions weaken. We are especially concerned about fathers and children.

Ed McNamara knows something about changing families and about maintaining relationships. A divorced father of two, an unwed father of one, he doesn't ask for custody of Katie but rather the right to visit, the right to be known and named as her father.

For all of its good intentions, the state of California was wrong to sever this or any father's rights before he can make a case for his responsibility. It may be rare, but a brief affair produced a tenacious father. There is nothing casual about Ed McNamara's fatherhood anymore.

NEW YORK — Prices opened slightly higher Wednesday in moderate trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which rose 25.63 Tuesday, was up 1.78 to 2151.14 shortly after the market opened.

Advances led declines 444-331 among the 1,316 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape. Early turnover amounted to about 10,125,000 shares.

Stock prices closed higher Tuesday in moderate trading as blue chips led broader market issues in an extension of Monday's rally.

Dollar moves higher, gold, silver lower

United Press International

The dollar moved higher Wednesday in moderate trading on major foreign currency markets as traders speculated that Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev would propose a unilateral troop reduction in Eastern Europe. Gold moved lower.

In earlier trading in the Far East, the dollar rebounded against the Japanese yen in heavy trading in Tokyo as investors snapped up dollars on speculation that the Soviet leader may be planning to reduce the size of the Soviet forces.

The dollar closed at 122.43 yen, a jump of 0.89 yen from Tuesday's close of 121.54.

Currency dealers in Japan said investors went on the dollar-buying spree in response to unconfirmed reports that Gorbachev would announce a unilateral cut in the strength of the Soviet army by 30 percent during his speech to the U.N. General Assembly.

In early New York trading the dollar was higher against key foreign currencies in moderate trading.

Tim Scala, Treasury manager of Manufacturers & Traders Trust Co., said the dollar gained in early trading on speculation that the Soviet leader might offer a substantial arms reductions in his U.N. speech Wednesday.

In Europe, the dollar began the day in Frankfurt at 1.745 West German marks, up from 1.7263 marks on Tuesday.

CSX to pare train crews

United Press International

JACKSONVILLE — CSX Transportation Inc. reached an agreement with the United Transportation Union to reduce the size of train crews on three of its rail lines, the company said Tuesday.

The agreement, which is subject to ratification by members of the UTU, would affect about 30 percent of the company's current train crew assignments.

However, R.L. Leckie, a spokesman for the unit of CSX Corp. of Richmond, Va., declined to estimate the number of workers potentially affected by the pact.

"We are not discussing any of the particulars of this agreement, because number one, it is a tentative agreement," Leckie said. "It would be totally inappropriate to discuss matters which are being handled in the union hall right now."

Longwood commission won't pull pool room's beer license

By SANDRA BOUCHAHINE
Herald staff writer

LONGWOOD — City commissioners have recommended not withdrawing a conditional use request to serve beer and wine at HNB, Inc. (Q-11) in West Lake Plaza, a pool room, at 276 W. Highway 434.

The commissioners on Monday granted a six-month conditional use on Sept. 12, 1988 to owner Louis Pacella to serve beer and wine under the conditions that the serving of alcohol was closely monitored and that no alcoholic beverage be served to minors.

City Administrator Gene DeMarie recommended that if the police needed to respond to any problems at that establishment, the permit could be withdrawn.

On Nov. 10, the Longwood police detective division arrested a worker at Q-11z after she allegedly served a minor. It was a sting operation throughout the city and 22 establishments were hit, with 10 of those cited for selling alcohol to a youth, according to Terry Baker.

Attorney Michael A. Kramer, former city attorney, represented Pacella. He told the commissioners he objected to never being informed about the meeting that evening. He said it was wrong to remove Pacella's right without advising him.

City Attorney Richard Taylor said he believed the arrest was not a problem inherent in the bar because it was a sting operation involving other businesses in the area.

Commissioner Henry Hardy said it was premature to act on the matter.

The commissioners approved Mayor Guter's motion to have the establishment monitored by the police department and to conduct a hearing after the decision is handed down by the circuit court.

In another matter, the commissioners decided to move a public hearing for the proposed water and sewer fee increases back to Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. At the Nov. 21 meeting the commissioners said they would take action on the matter at the second commission meeting in January.

DeMarie said it is urgent that the increases be addressed now because the city issued $3 million in water and sewer revenue bonds through Sun Bank, which awaits payment. He said the city was informed that Seminole County will begin reconstruction of County Road 427 by late February or early March.

DeMarie stated in a memorandum that during budget workshops, the city commission agreed that it should install sewer lines along in C.R. 427 to coincide with the county work.

told the crowd, which included the astronauts' families, that the previous Discovery flight "returned us to safe flight and it was a fantastic mission."

"But Sta-27 (Atlantis) was a superb mission and we needed that mission, also," Cohen said.

All the astronauts spoke briefly but revealed nothing about the mission that sources said put a spy satellite in orbit over the Soviet Union.

"I think we did a good job for NASA and the space program and I think we did some good things for our country as well," said rookie co-pilot Guy Gardner.

"I wish all of you who would've liked to have gone on that ride could've gone on it," said Richard "Mike" Mullane. "I suspect anyone who comes out here at 1 o'clock in the morning would've liked to have gone on that ride."

Jerry Ross said the flight was "absolutely amazing and exciting, something that if we tried all night we'd never be able to explain the feelings and the sights that we saw."

"I'm looking forward to getting into the office the next day or so and start working to get the next flights going."

William Shepherd, the first member of astronaut class of 1984 to fly aboard the shuttle, said it was a "great mission. It was really right down the pipe, really normal from what we expected."

McCullum said Florida party chairman Jeannie Austin, of Orlando, may be the next Central Florida appointment to a top-ranked party post. He said Austin could become the national party's co-chairman.

McCullum looks to an increasing Republican presence in Florida, boosted by reapportionment in 1992.

throughout the district," he said.

He spent the remainder of the evening talking to supporters, gleeful about making the runoff, then went to the Civic Center to join the crowd celebrating Mayor Bettye Smith's victory.

Sweeting's campaign staff showed up at his campaign headquarters on Sanford Avenue after the votes were counted, only to find the candidate missing. He had left on foot a few minutes before, his destination unknown.

As supporters and volunteer staff waited for him to return his mother, Dr. Lurline Sweeting, dispatched people to their home to see if he was there, and then to his law office. Finally, he was located at his office and brought back to campaign headquarters.

Sweeting thanked his supporters and said there is still a lot of work ahead for them in preparing for the runoff. Much of his campaign consisted of door-to-door contact with voters in the district, which he said would continue.

Spotting Malone and his wife in the crowd, Sweeting said he was especially happy to see the couple there, as representatives of Save Our Sanford.

SOS is a group that supports the preservation of historic homes in the downtown area. Malone said he was not representing that group. "SOS is a non-political homeowners group," he told Sweeting. "I'm here as a fellow citizen of Sanford to tell you that I support your election to the city commission," he said.

However, his wife Joyce brought up a concern of SOS, questioning Sweeting on his views concerning dilapidated multiple housing units in the single family downtown residential district, many of which she said are owned by absentee owners.

Sweeting said homeowners and the city both bear a responsibility to keep property up to the standards of the surrounding neighborhood. "Although I am reluctant to have the city interfere with what property owners can do with their property, I think if they fail in that responsibility they should either be forced to improve it, or forfeit the property."

Sweeting said there are ordinances on the books to take care of the problem. "However, ever since Sanford has been a city some people have always been able to avoid some ordinances. I support uniform enforcement of ordinances throughout the city," he said.

The three candidates went their separate ways in campaigning for the position. Howell, a leader in the neighborhood effort to rezone the downtown residential area to single family district, is a strong advocate of neighborhood organization, and proposed strengthening neighborhood crime watch through volunteer patrols to combat break-ins. He also suggested an advisory commission on crime and the police department be established, and said the city should obtain a discount rate for its citizens to purchase alarm systems for their homes.

Malone, vice president of Southeast Bank in Orlando, and a member of the planning and zoning commission, said his business expertise would be an asset on the city commission. He supported more aggressive recruitment of business and industry to the city, and more support of downtown business through improvement of the entrance and exit routes of the area, and cleaning up the First District through enforcement of existing ordinances.

Sweeting has stressed bringing the city together, saying it has often been divided along racial and economic lines. He promised to open communication between city government and all segments of the community, including the most underprivileged, if elected.

He also said innovative methods of financing must be found for low-income housing and to create development.

He supports the city entering into agreements with private financiers to develop vacant land in the city, and says a combine of public and private money should be sought to build low income housing on scattered sites.

Landing

out clear viewing sites of the shuttle's approach 15 miles from the base.

"The public wasn't invited to see this one. That's one reason why they aren't here," NASA spokeswoman Barbara Selby said. She added the lack of an invitation was probably enough to dampen the curiosity of even the most devout shuttle fans.

"The reporters aren't here either," she said. By noon Tuesday, only 200 reporters had obtained credentials to cover the Atlantis landing, compared to 1,500 several days before the touch down of Discovery.

The flight of Atlantis, from blastoff Friday to the final glide home Tuesday, was an exercise in silence by NASA officials who refused to discuss aspects of the mission.

They did speculate, however, on future spectator attendance, venturing a guess that fewer fans will show up for the dry lake landings. The last flight, officials said, was the first since the Challenger disaster and lured more than 400,000 spectators to a star-spangled welcome home.

But they noted that spectator attendance fell off with each of the missions before the Challenger explosion, with the exception of the July 1982 landing attended by President Reagan.

The Atlantis flight, NASA's third classified mission, presumably involved launching a radar spy satellite into orbit. The instrument may have cost upwards of $500 million and presumably is of a new generation of satellites capable of snapping high-resolution pictures of ground targets from its outpost in space.

Radio station escapes auction

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — WNSI-AM (1400), formerly WKUS, narrowly escaped the auction block Tuesday.

Seminole County deputy court clerk Jane Jasewic refused to auction the station at the scheduled 11 a.m. courthouse step proceeding to satisfy a foreclosure by a former owner. The reason given was that an attorney did not advertise the auction, required by state laws.

Jasewic said the auction could be rescheduled as soon as it has been properly advertised. Larry Pino, attorney for the former owners, Seminole-Orange Broadcasting, Inc., said he would advertise it as soon as possible.

The delay leaves in limbo the fate of Seminole County's only licensed radio station, located on Celery Avenue. The station currently is under Federal Communications Commission review for a sale to Juan and Bob Bennett of Orlando. The current owners, River Country Broadcasting, Inc. are selling the station for a reported $417,000.

Seminole-Orange had enclosed on a $12,837 debt and other expenses. A Seminole circuit judge last month awarded Seminole-Orange $31,205 to settle the claim and scheduled Tuesday's auction to collect the debt.

Pino said that should the Bennetts conclude their purchase, they will be responsible for the debt. Should a third party successfully bid for the station at the next auction — a scenario Pino thinks unlikely — that third party will be responsible for the debt.

If there is no opposition by Dec. 14, the FCC is expected to approve the transfer of the license from River County to Bennett Broadcasting.

House picks committee chairmen

WASHINGTON — House Democrats picked committee chairmen Tuesday, and installed Rep. Leon Panetta, D-Calif., as the head of the influential Budget Committee.

Panetta, a player in last year's budget negotiations, had served the maximum three terms on the panel before stepping down four years ago, when Rep. Bill Gray, D-Pa., took over.

All sitting chairmen were re-elected for the 101st Congress. Panetta was unopposed for the budget post; Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Texas, moved from the Government Operations panel to take over the Judiciary Committee from retiring Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N.J.; and Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., replaced Brooks on the Government Operations Committee.

The chairmanship of the Banking Committee, a panel that will have to deal with the savings and loan industry problem, went to Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Texas. The previous chairman, Fernand St Germain, D-R.I., was facing ethics problems and was turned out of office by his constituents.

Professor arrested for voting twice

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — Police charged a professor with voting twice on Election Day by taking advantage of a clerical error, and he could lose his right to vote and end up in jail for the alleged offense, officials said Tuesday.

David Robertson, 58, a photography professor at the Rochester Institute of Technology, was arrested and charged with one count of voting fraud, a felony, said Assistant Monroe County District Attorney Kathy Majewski.

He was released on his own recognizance and is scheduled to reappear in Brighton Town Court Dec. 12, Majewski said.

While voting early in the morning of Election Day, Robertson allegedly noticed a voting inspector mistakenly list the date of his vote as "8/11/88" instead of the correct "11/8/88", Majewski said.

Robertson returned to the polling place late in the afternoon and again voted, saying to the inspector after he left the booth, "There's something wrong with the system. I just voted twice," Majewski said.

"He hasn't given us a reason why he did it," she said. Robertson could not be reached for comment. His attorney, Charles Crimi, refused to comment on the case.

AMA supports new Medicare payments

DALLAS — The American Medical Association House of Delegates Tuesday gave cautious support to establishing a new system for calculating Medicare payments but stopped short of fully endorsing a Harvard study on the issue.

An AMA Board of Trustees report endorsed, with some reservations, the proposed payment system, called a resource-based relative value scale. Harvard researchers led by economist William Haiso spent three years developing the scale under a federal contract.

It would reapportion Medicare payments among specialties by factoring in the doctor's mental effort and judgment, technical skill, physical effort and the work involved before and after the procedure.

An AMA analysis predicted major payment gains for doctors whose work centers on visits and consultations, while specialists whose work consists of more invasive procedures such as surgery would face cuts, in some cases severe ones.

Family practitioners' average Medicare revenues would increase by 65 percent and that of internists would rise 24 percent, while ophthalmologists and thoracic surgeons would see their Medicare revenues fall by 39 percent, AMA projections showed.

However, if there are no changes in the Medicare budget, the AMA projected more than 75 percent of physicians would either gain or lose less than $1,000 a year, the board of trustees report said.

B-52 bomber grounded after crash

WASHINGTON — The Air Force's Strategic Air Command briefly grounded its entire fleet of B-52 bombers Tuesday following the crash of a B-52H at K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base in Gwin, Mich., while performing practice landings.

Several hours later, the military lifted the ban. Each of the aircraft was undergoing an inspection of its fuel system before being returned to service, said Maj. Dennis Pierson, a spokesman at SAC headquarters in Omaha, Neb.

Of the 742 B-52 bombers built, 261 are still flying — all G and H models.

SAC described the brief grounding as "a basic precaution" following Tuesday's crash.

The B-52s, built in the 1960s, are the nation's chief long-range bomber, but SAC spokesman Tech. Sgt. Alan Dockery in Nebraska said a grounding would not lessen U.S. strategic nuclear defense because the new B-1 bomber and other aircraft can take up the slack for grounded B-52s.

All eight crew members survived, officials said. Two were taken to the base hospital and the other six to Marquette General Hospital. Four were in stable condition, two fair, one satisfactory and one serious.

Nine horses destroyed due to disease

RICHLANDS, N.C. — Nine of 33 horses removed from Carrot Island in October have been destroyed after they were found to be infected with the deadly and contagious "swamp fever," state officials confirmed Tuesday.

Nine of the horses, seven aged stallions and two elderly mares, were "humanely destroyed" Monday, said Don Fullmer, spokesman for the North Carolina Department of Natural Resources and Community Development.

The Natural Resources Department, which owns Carrot Island, supervised the removal of the horses from the island in Carteret County because officials thought the horses were overgrazing the island and suffering from malnutrition.

Nineteen horses were left on the island as seedstock to continue the strain of feral horses.

The 33 horses removed from the island were to have been placed up for adoption in early December, but the discovery of the equine infectious anemia will delay the adoption of the remaining 24 horses at least for 60 days, Fullmer said.

The viral disease, known by oldtime horsemen as "swamp fever", is spread by mosquitoes and horseflies, Fullmer said.

"It's highly contagious and there is no cure," he added.

The horses destroyed had been found infected with the disease in two tests administered during the quarantine period that was to precede the adoption of the horses.

Soviet artists sign with RCA Red Seal

NEW YORK — RCA records Tuesday announced the signing of the largest group of Soviet recording artists ever to contract to a Western company.

The announcement, timed to coincide with Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev's arrival in New York, represents a major shift in strategy for RCA's Red Seal classical records division.

"I think we have a lot to be thankful to Gorbachev for," said Michael Emmerson, president of BMG Classics, the parent company of RCA Victor. "It's made Russian artists available to us, allowed them to travel and be exposed to the West."

The critically acclaimed Soviet artists include the conductor Yuri Temirkanov, violinist Vladimir Spivakov and his Moscow virtuosi, violinist Yuri Bashmet, cellist Natalia Gutman and the 17-year-old pianist Evgeny Kissin.

A recording by Kissin, the first in the series, is scheduled for release later this month. It includes Rachmaninoff's Concerto No. 2 in C minor, Opus 18.

One of FBI's 'most wanted' captured

United Press International

GULFPORT, Miss. — One of the FBI's 10 most wanted fugitives was captured Tuesday in a Gulf of Mexico resort town following a tip from a television viewer who had seen the suspect on a TV show about criminals.

The FBI said Steven Ray Stout, 32, a native of Webster Springs, W. Va., was arrested by FBI agents and Gulfport police on charges of murder and unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Special Agent Wayne R. Taylor of the Mississippi FBI office said Stout is charged with killing his former mother-in-law, 41-year-old Bonnie Craft, and her 19-year-old daughter, Maureen Turner, in West Valley City, Utah.

West Valley City is about 15 miles west of Salt Lake City.

Taylor said authorities believe Stout entered the victims' trailer, beat the 19-year-old woman with a hammer and stabbed her in the chest.

He said Stout then allegedly waited for Bonnie Craft to come home, beat and stabbed her to death and put both bodies in a bedroom.

Taylor said Stout has been on the Mississippi Gulf Coast about one month. At the time of his arrest, Stout was working as a laborer in a Gulfport motel which was being renovated.

Stout appeared Tuesday before U.S. Magistrate John M. Roper in Biloxi.

FBI spokesman Cal Clegg in Salt Lake City said the tip that led to Stout's arrest came from a viewer of the television show "America's Most Wanted" on the Fox Broadcasting channel.

Jack Breslin, a spokesman for Fox Broadcasting Co. in Los Angeles, said Stout is the third fugitive on the FBI's most wanted list to be recaptured as a direct result of viewer tips to the network.

The show has featured stories on 113 fugitives in its 43 broadcasts, and 54 of those are back in custody, 33 of them as a direct result of viewer tips, Breslin said.

Stout was placed on the FBI's 10 most wanted list on Nov. 27.

13 indicted in U.S.-Colombian drug operation

United Press International

LOS ANGELES — A federal grand jury indicted 13 people Tuesday on drug charges stemming from what authorities said was the first case in which a Colombian drug cartel conspired with a major U.S. drug ring to traffic narcotics.

U.S. Attorney Robert Bonner said the ring, allegedly directed and managed by Mario Ernesto Villabona-Alvarado, 28, of Malibu, Calif., and Brian "Bo" Bennett, 24, of Tempe, Ariz., smuggled cocaine from Cali, Colombia, to Los Angeles, where it was processed into rock cocaine and distributed across the country.

The organization run by Bennett, who lived in South Los Angeles until recently, and Villabona-Alvarado, a Colombian national, distributed more than 5,500 pounds of cocaine and collected $22 million in profits between December 1987 and March 1988, Bonner said.

Bennett and Villabona-Alvarado ran several check-cashing businesses in Los Angeles to launder drug profits, Bonner said at a news conference. They employed several street gang members to transport the money and distribute the cocaine, he said.

"Coming out of Miami, I have to say this is unique," said Earl Acquaviva, chief of the criminal investigation division of the Internal Revenue Service. "I spent 10 years in drug trafficking in Miami and I never saw the Colombians hook up with a black gang like they did in this case. It's very unusual and I think it's a trend we're going to have to watch out for."

Authorities said they seized a total of $12.3 million in currency from the operation, including $6.9 million last June from a house in Walnut, Calif., and $5.4 million, weighing 700 pounds, from a van in Detroit, Mich., Nov. 18.

Bonner said the indictment "strikes at the very highest levels of the (Colombian drug) organization."

The alleged cocaine ring was discovered through international wiretaps on Villabona-Alvarado, who was identified as a drug trafficker in a major drug investigation in 1987, Bonner said.

Villabona-Alvarado and Bennett are charged with narcotics conspiracy, money laundering, and managing and supervising a cocaine distribution group, Bonner said. They face mandatory life prison terms if convicted.

The other defendants face maximum sentences of life imprisonment.

All of the defendants are in custody, including Stanley David McCarna, who surrendered to authorities Tuesday.

Other defendants named in the indictment were Maria Cecilia Barona, 30, of Sherman Oaks, Calif.; Luz Janneth Martinez, of Cali, Colombia; Jimmy Washington, 42, of Pasadena, Calif.; Michael McCarver of Los Angeles; and Joseph Gough, 22, of Detroit, Mich.

Also named were: Michael Robinson, 36, of Detroit, Mich.; David Paz, 34, of Flushing, N.Y.; Miguel Rodriguez, 36, of Hialeah Gardens, Fla.; and Jairo Sanchez, 40, of North Bergen, N.J.

Advocate lists 10 unsafe toys

UPI report

BOSTON — A consumer advocate Tuesday released his 17th annual holiday list of "10 Worst Toys" of the year and renewed his call for strict safety standards for children's toys.

"Safety standards that provide more stringent protection than those in the United States can be found throughout the world," said Edward M. Swartz, a Boston attorney who specializes in litigation involving defective products.

Swartz did not rate his 10 nominees in degree of danger. They are:

- Burger King Cheeseburger Set, manufactured by Multi Toys Corp. Swartz said the plastic french fries are realistic and small enough to be swallowed.
- Toy cars and motorized vehicles for children, specifically, the Sweetheart battery-operated riding toys, made by Power Wheels. He said some battery-operated versions such as "Sweetheart" use 6 volt rechargeable batteries easily accessible to children.
- Johnny Jump Up Baby Exerciser (Ezzyto Juvenile Furniture Co.) Swartz said it is possible for infants using this toy to sustain severe head or other injury by hitting the side of the doorway or becoming entangled in the long straps.
- My Ladybird First Doll Along Puzzle, by Fisher-Price. He said the toy has a string too long for a crib or playpen toy.
- 22-Caliber Pellet Firing Target Pistols (Guarantee Distributors). Swartz called for strict regulations on mail order sale of toy weapons.
- My Train (Montgomery Schoolhouse). Swartz said the wooden train has removable wooden figurines too small to be considered "safe" for oral-age children.
- Challenger Rubberband Target Shooter, by Arner Corp. Swartz said the label stating the toy should not be used without adult supervision proves it is unsafe for youngsters.
- Battle Beasts Warrior Sword (Imperial Toy Corp.). A two-pointed rigid plastic sword Swartz said could cause injury.
- Paddington's 30th anniversary bear (Eden Toys Inc.). Swartz said small parts of the bear could be swallowed.
- Attack Force (Esquire/Nichols) Swartz said if the realistic looking machine "is so dangerous that it is only suitable to be used under adult supervision, why does the government permit the product to be sold at all?"

High court must decide on use of state militia

United Press International

ST. PAUL, Minn. — The U.S. Supreme Court likely will have to rule on the constitutionality of a law allowing the federal government to send National Guard units outside the country for training without the consent of governors.

The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, hearing a lawsuit filed by officials in Minnesota, ruled Tuesday that the law was unconstitutional — but the ruling conflicts with a decision made by another federal appeals court on the same issue in Massachusetts.

In Washington, Justice Department spokesman Amy Brown said of the 8th Circuit ruling. "We are reviewing the opinion and considering our options. No decision on an appeal has been made yet."

The ruling, written by 8th U.S. Circuit Judge Gerald Heaney, said the Montgomery Amendment to federal statutes, which overrode objections by several governors, violates states' rights.

Minnesota Gov. Rudy Perpich and Attorney General Hubert "Skip" Humphrey filed the lawsuit against the Department of Defense Jan. 28, 1987.

Neither the administration nor Congress has the authority to circumvent the powers granted to the states by the Constitution," Humphrey said. "Today's decision is a victory for the authority given to the states in determining how, when and where their National Guard members will be trained."

Minnesota Chief Deputy Attorney General John R. Tunheim said Massachusetts state officials told him "they were elated" about the Minnesota decision. "They have quite a few more days before they have to file an appeal and indicated they had not yet made any decision on whether to appeal their case."

The 1st U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston on Oct. 25 ruled that Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis lacked legal ground to stop the Pentagon from sending National Guard units to Central America.

Dukakis, who as the Democratic presidential candidate opposed aid to the Nicaraguan Contra rebels, said the Minnesota ruling "is a victory for common sense, the Constitution and the government of the United States."

"The ruling clearly underscores the intent of

WORLD BRIEFS

Famine, locusts plague Africa

NAIROBI, Kenya — War-induced famine in Sudan and several other countries and huge swarms of locusts threaten lives and agriculture on the African continent in the coming year, a U.N. agency reported Wednesday.

The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization report on sub-Saharan Africa, released in Nairobi and Rome, predicted a slight reduction in foreign food aid requirements next year following record harvests in West Africa and a good planting season in the south of the continent.

But a grave situation persists in the southern Sudan, where some 2.5 million people are isolated and cut off from food supplies by a 5-year-old civil war between the Moslem-dominated capital and Christian and animist rebels controlling the South.

Despite recent improvement in deliveries to scattered garrison cities, "further deaths from starvation appear inevitable in the coming weeks," the FAO report said.

U.S., E.E.C. farm talks stalled

MONTREAL — Talks aimed at liberalizing agricultural trade broke down Tuesday over disagreements between U.S. and Western European negotiators over the extent to which farm subsidies should be curbed, a GATT spokesman said.

Delegates from two dozen Western countries, meeting in a second day of talks on agriculture, remained at an impasse over whether farm subsidies should be eliminated altogether, as the United States wants, or frozen and then reduced over several years, a remedy favored by the 12 countries in the European Economic Community.

"Talks have stopped for the time being," GATT spokesman David Woods told reporters.

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, established in 1947, is the only treaty that sets rules for world trade. Delegates from 90 GATT signatory countries are meeting in Montreal this week to review two years of negotiations on trade liberalization.

Farm subsidies distort agricultural trade by enabling food producers on both sides of the Atlantic to lower the prices at which they sell goods abroad and gain an advantage against domestic producers.

Western European and U.S. trade negotiators have been at loggerheads over whether to eliminate or merely curb the subsidies.

Japanese accused of prohibited sales

TOKYO — The government filed a complaint Wednesday against a Japanese air conditioner maker and a trading company for allegedly selling a chemical solution to the Soviet Union that could be used to stabilize the course of guided missiles.

The Ministry of International Trade and Industry, or MITI, accused the Osaka-based Daikin Industries Ltd. and Tokyo's Doeki Ltd., an exporter, of violating an international ban on exports of military related technology to communist countries.

It would mark Japan's third major violation in two years of the prohibitions on such exports.

Police in the western city of Osaka began searching the offices of the two companies Wednesday morning.

The two firms were accused of exporting to the Soviet Union 860 tons of a concentrated solution of halogenated hydrocarbon, worth 400 million yen ($3.3 billion), on 17 occasions between February 1986 and May 1987.

The ministry said the chemical, used in Japan as a washing agent in semiconductor production, also can be employed to extinguish fires at chemical plants, or as a coolant to stabilize the course of guided missiles.

Rocket hits Bank of Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon — A rocket-propelled grenade slammed into the Bank of Lebanon in Moslem West Beirut late Tuesday, in the latest of a series of attacks challenging Syrian peacekeeping troops, police said.

No injuries were reported in the attack, police said.

They said unidentified attackers fired the grenade into the third floor of the heavily guarded Bank of Lebanon in the fashionable Hamra neighborhood, the same area where a car bomb was detonated Monday near a government building.

The attacks apparently were carried out by opponents of the 12-year-old Syrian military presence in Lebanon.

Controversy has surrounded the Bank of Lebanon, the nation's central bank, since last week when its governor refused to allocate funds for the military cabinet in Christian East Beirut.

Chinese announce change in Tibet

BEIJING — The Chinese government has appointed a top Communist Party official to run Tibet, dismissing the previous local leader in the wake of a series of violent anti-Chinese riots in the troubled Himalayan region, a Chinese official said Wednesday.

The decision followed calls from the military and security forces in Tibet for tighter control over the region, where at least 11 people have died in pro-independence demonstrations in the past year.

Hu Jintan, party secretary of southwestern Guizhou Province and a member of the powerful Central Committee, has been appointed to take over the top party post in Tibet, an official at the Beijing branch office of the Tibet Autonomous Region government said.

Hu took over leadership of the Himalayan region this month following a high-level party decision to replace the former leader, Wu Jinghua, who held the post since June 1985, the official said.

Aquino rejects communist cease-fire

MANILA, Philippines — President Corason Aquino, taking a tough stand Wednesday against communist guerrillas, ruled out a Christmas cease-fire for the first time since she took office nearly three years ago.

Aquino also knocked down speculation about the resumption of peace talks with the New People's Army, the 25,000-member armed wing of the outlawed Communist Party of the Philippines.

The 55-year-old president said any initiative for new talks — proposed by some powerful Roman Catholic bishops seeking the establishment of "neutral zones" — must come from the insurgents who have been battling the government for 19 years.

"We are not even talking about that," Aquino told reporters when asked if she planned to call a truce for the Christmas and New Year holidays in Asia's only Christian nation.

"Remember what I told you a long time ago that they will have to send in a formal request just to talk? We're not discussing any cease-fire at the moment," Aquino said.

The military said Wednesday that 3,334 people were killed in 2,274 insurgency related incidents from Jan. 1 to Nov. 15 this year, or an average of 10 people a day. The rebels accounted for 1,645 of the toll, the military 497, policemen 125, militiamen 211, government officials 51, and civilians 805.

This year's death toll could exceed last year's 3,812, the military said.

IN BRIEF

BASKETBALL

Knicks top Nuggets, 124-123

Michael Adams scored 35 points for the Denver Nuggets — and blew the game. Adams missed a free throw with no time left in overtime Tuesday night, handing the New York Knicks a 124-123 victory over the Nuggets.

With Denver trailing 124-122 and two seconds left in overtime, Lafayette Lever purposely missed the second of his two free throws by glancing it off the rim. Adams raced underneath the basket to grab the rebound and was fouled by Mark Jackson as time expired.

In other action, Portland defeated New Jersey 97-93, Atlanta rolled over Sacramento 123-113, Chicago topped Boston 105-100, Milwaukee routed Detroit 103-84, Houston nipped Cleveland 106-105, Seattle overcame San Antonio 112-107, Phoenix thrashed Washington 130-92, Golden State beat Utah 114-103 and the Los Angeles Lakers clubbed the Los Angeles Clippers 111-102.

TENNIS

Swedish women shock USA

MELBOURNE, Australia — Sweden's women's tennis team rocked the Federation Cup Wednesday by defeating the United States in two straight matches.

Relying on their characteristic baseline play, the Swedes captured the opening second-round match with Maria Strandlund beating Patty Fendick 6-2, 7-6 (7-3). Lori McNeil, substituting for injured Barbara Potter, fell to Sweden's Caterina Lindqvist 6-4, 7-5.

An inconsequential doubles match was played later Wednesday.

The United States, winner of 12 Federation Cup finals, was using an all-rookie team for the 32-team tournament.

The Americans were without Martina Navratilova, Chris Evert and Pam Shriver. Potter, the Americans' top seed, withdrew early Wednesday because of a stretched thigh muscle.

Rocker, Mandarich eye Outland

NEW YORK — The Outland Trophy, given annually by the Football Writers Association of America to the best collegiate interior lineman, will be presented Wednesday to either Tony Rocker of Michigan State, Tracy Rocker of Auburn or Mark Stepanak of Pittsburgh.

Mandarich, an offensive lineman widely considered by NFL scouts a potential No. 1 overall draft pick, finished ninth in voting for the Heisman Trophy. Despite missing three games because of an NCAA-imposed suspension, Mandarich placed sixth with three first-place votes and 52 points and was named on 37 of the 721 ballots. Oklahoma State's Barry Sanders, a running back, was the winner of the Heisman Trophy, awarded annually by the Downtown Athletic Club to college football's top player.

Mandarich, a 6-foot-5, 315-pound Canadian, runs a 4.7 40-yard dash and has been called the best blocker in the nation by opposing coaches and NFL scouts.

HOCKEY

Jets crown Kings, 5-4

Many are calling the Smythe Division the toughest division in hockey, and the Los Angeles Kings would agree.

Rookie Pat Elynuik scored on a breakaway for his second goal of the game 1:11 into overtime Tuesday night, lifting the Winnipeg Jets to a 5-4 triumph over Los Angeles, ending the Kings' three-game winning streak. The loss was the fourth in 16 home games for the Kings, 3-7 against Smythe Division teams and 15-3 against the rest of the NHL.

"We've got the toughest division in hockey," Jets Coach Dan Maloney said. "We could have the No. 1, 2 and 3 teams (Calgary, Edmonton and Los Angeles) in the league in our division this year."

SHS scares No. 3 Kowboys

By CHRIS FISTER
 Herald sports editor

KISSIMMEE — The young Seminole High basketball squad is getting its education the hard way, playing some of the top teams in Florida in the first two weeks of the season.

On Tuesday night, the precocious 'Noles had a shot at pulling off a major upset against Kissimmee Osceola's Kowboys. In the end, the superior size and experience of the Kowboys won out, but not before SHS put a scare into the state's third-ranked (Class 3A) team.

"This was without a doubt our best performance of the season," Seminole coach Greg Robinson said. "We're playing the best in the state in the early going and it's only going to help us down the road."

Seminole hung within seven points late in the contest before the Kowboys pulled away and eventually claimed a 98-82 victory in a game between District 3A foes.

The loss dropped SHS to 1-3 overall. Seminole returns to action this Friday night at Port Orange Spruce Creek. The Kowboys ran their record to 3-0 but it was without a doubt their closest game as they won their first two by over 30 points.

In the opening quarter on Tuesday night, Seminole played step for step and shot for shot with the talented Kowboys. Osceola held a slim 26-24 lead at the end of one period.

The Kowboys continued their hot shooting in the second period while Seminole stayed within striking distance. Seminole, though, had trouble at the free throw line and that enabled Osceola to build a 49-39 halftime lead, outscoring the Tribe, 23-15 in the second quarter.

Seminole, though, came back strong in the third period and, behind the defensive play of Bernard Eaddy, and the offensive spark of Robert Moore and Brandon Cash, pulled within 66-58, going into the fourth quarter.

The 'Noles hung within seven points with three minutes remaining, and that's when Justin Thompson and 6-7 center Paul Shippe took over for the Kowboys. Osceola outscored the 'Noles, 30-24, in the final period.

"They killed us with their height," Robinson said. "Other than that, it was an even game. Both teams shot well and ran the break well."

Eaddy had a superb night for SHS as he had 17 points, six steals and five assists. John Hendricks pumped in 16 points while Moore added 15, Cash 11 and Earl Williams nine.

Thompson led the Kowboys with 29 points and 14 rebounds while Shippe pumped in 25 points. Lanny Vermillion had 15 points and 15 assists.

Rams outlast DeLand

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary's Lady Rams used a pressing defense and fought off a valiant comeback attempt to trip DeLand, 58-50, Tuesday night before 151 fans at Lake Mary High School.

Lake Mary improved to 2-4 on the young season and will return to action this Thursday at Lake Brantley. DeLand fell to 2-2 and will return to action Thursday at Lyman.

"I wish we could play a game without a third quarter," Lake Mary coach Anna Van Landingham said. "We played with a lot of heart, though, and I'm pleased to see that. That's what I emphasized this week and it seems to have gotten through to them."

The Lady Rams jumped out early using a full-court man-to-man pressing defense. The pressure worked as Lake Mary came up with a collection of steals and converted them into points.

After the Lady Bulldogs jumped out to a quick 4-2 lead, Lake Mary's defense began to take its toll as it came up with three consecutive turnovers and went on a six-point run to take an 8-4 lead with 5:22 to play in the opening quarter.

DeLand's Renee Bellamy, who led all scorers with 19 points, and Tiffany Williamson then hit back to back hoops to even the score. Lake Mary's Wiletha Hartfield then put down an inside bucket followed by a Lisa Johnson three-point field goal. Amy Kuvach added a off a steal seconds later to give the Lady Rams a 15-9 lead at the end of the first period.

The Lady Rams continued to dominate in the second period as their press totally frustrated DeLand who turned the ball over consistently in the quarter.

Kuvach opened the second frame with a steal and a layup followed by two Williamson free throws. Lake Mary then went on a 8-2 run, shooting 6-8 from the line during the streak, and built a 25-13 lead with 4:15 remaining in the opening half.

The Lady Rams continued to shoot well from the free throw line and built a convincing 32-17 lead at the half. Lake Mary, though, fell apart in the third quarter and the Lady Bulldogs came alive.

DeLand outscored Lake Mary, 16-7, in the third period and began playing pressure defense also to pick up the tempo of the game.

Bellamy scored eight points in the quarter and sparked a 12-1 run that got the Lady Bulldogs back into the game as they trimmed the lead to 39-33 going into the final eight minutes.

DeLand came out and scored the first six points of the final quarter on back to back buckets

Illinois stomps Gators

United Press International

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Illinois forward Nick Anderson and guard Kendall Gill excelled offensively and defensively to lead the 9th-ranked Illini to a 97-67 blowout of Florida Tuesday.

Anderson, hitting three of five 3-point shots, was high man for the Illini with 21 points. Gill made seven of ten from the floor to end up with 18.

Perhaps even more importantly, both had three steals and led a tenacious Illini defense that caused 26 Gator turnovers, compared to the Illini's five.

"Our guys did a good job with half and full-court pressure," said Illinois Coach Lou Henson. "It was the difference in the game."

"Our defensive pressure was outstanding. We pressured Florida, and they are a young team, and our quickness really got to them."

For Illinois, whose tallest player is 6-foot-8, it was the first test against a team with a substantial height advantage. Dwayne Schintzius, the Gators' 7-foot-2 center, scored 18 points but was not a dominant factor in the middle.

"The key was that we did a good job not letting them get the ball inside," Henson said.

The Illini, 4-0, staked themselves to a 48-35 halftime lead. Florida, 3-3, led only briefly in the opening minutes of the game.

Illinois worked from the perimeter early in the contest. A 3-pointer by Anderson with 13:11 left in the half gave the Illini a 16-9 edge.

Another 3-pointer by Anderson gave Illinois an 11-point spread, 28-17, with 9:08 left in the half.

Illinois' defense caused 12 first-half turnovers and converted many into points at the opposite end.

With 7:26 to play in the half, forward Ken Battle came up with a steal and fed Gill for a layup and a 32-19 advantage.

Illinois took a 15-point lead, 41-26, on a driving layup by Gill with 3:17 left before intermission.

Agreement reached on O's sale

United Press International

ATLANTA — Agnes Williams, wife of the late Baltimore Orioles owner Edward Bennett Williams, Tuesday told the American League she has agreed to sell the franchise for $70 million.

The new owner is Baltimore Orioles Baseball, Inc., whose principal shareholder is financier Eli Jacobs. The company's president and chief executive officer is current club president Larry Lucchino.

The prospective owners will include Sargeant Shriver, the former vice presidential candidate and Peace Corps chief, and his son Robert Shriver Jr. Lucchino also will be a shareholder.

"Baltimore is a great baseball town," Lucchino said in a statement released after AL President Bobby Brown's summation of the 40-minute league meeting. "It will have a great baseball stadium and the new ownership will be dedicated to the rebuilding and future success of the franchise."

Brown said the AL would begin reviewing the group's proposal to buy the Orioles after details of the transaction are submitted for approval.

The commissioner and three-fourths of AL owners must approve a change of franchise ownership in the league.

Baltimore Mayor Kurt Schmoke, who disclosed the sale on his weekly radio show, said he was pleased Marylanders are involved in the purchase.

The group includes "people that have already demonstrated a commitment to Baltimore," said Schmoke, who learned of the sale in a call from Lucchino about 3 p.m. Tuesday. "I think these are people that will respect the fact that this is a Baltimore institution."

In another action, the league again tabled efforts by Edward Gaylord to buy the Texas Rangers. Brown said the ownership committee, chaired by Jerry Reinsdorf of the Chicago White Sox, will meet again in late January to consider Gaylord's application to buy Texas.

"The material was studied and digested," Brown said, "and it was determined there are several options to explore. We will continue to do that."

"The committee decided to meet again in late January and at that time it will issue a recommendation. After that recommendation, there will be a decision made on an American League meeting to decide the matter."

Gaylord, one of whose holdings is Gaylord Broadcasting Co., is making his second bid to buy the Rangers from Eddie Chiles. A previous bid was turned down since owners feared another team going into a television superstation.

Chiles retained ownership of the Rangers but put them up for sale again this year. Another group agreed to buy Texas but Gaylord exercised an option he held to match their offer.

The state signed a 15-year lease in May with the team owner, the late Edward Bennett Williams, that commits the Orioles to playing in a new stadium once it opens in Baltimore's Camden Yards in 1992.

The lease stipulates that the team remain in

Lake Howell tops Greyhounds, 2-1

By TONY DeBORMIER
Herald sports writer

LONGWOOD — There aren't many times you're going to catch an All State-calibre athlete on a bad night, but when you do, you've got to take advantage of it.

That's what the Lake Howell boys soccer team did on Tuesday night, defeating All State goalie Kelly Walden and the Lyman Greyhounds, 2-1, in a Seminole Athletic Conference contest.

Both of the Silver Hawks' goals, which were well taken by Greg Schicker and Kavan Howell, were created in part by the uncustomarily poor play of Walden.

"They (Lake Howell) played good defense," said a visibly upset Ray Sandidge, coach of the Greyhounds. "But this was the worst game we've played in five years. It was a total lack of composure. The goalkeeping was bad, the defense was bad, the attacking was bad."

"Kelly's a good keeper. He'll win some games for us. But he did not play well tonight."

After a scoreless first half, Schicker put the Hawks ahead following some miscommunication between Walden and his defenders. As a Lake Howell throw-in came into the Lyman box, Walden went up and into one of his defenders. The ball came loose and Schicker touched it into the net with just 1:20 into the second half.

Lyman's tying goal was a try prettier as Erik Leiben took a ball in a scramble in front of the Lake Howell goal and beat Hawk goalie Didier Menard to the left post to tie the score 1-1 at 52:58.

But five-and-a-half minutes later, the Silver Hawks capitalized on another Walden let-down. From about 30 yards away, Howell played a long shot that caught Walden flat-footed and beat him to the upper right corner.

"That one really bothers me," said Sandidge. "It looked like he didn't even make a move for it."

In Walden's defense, the ball was played on a hard line from within a crowd. By the tie Walden probably saw it, all he could have done was wave a hand at it as it went by.

"The keeper couldn't see it until it was too late," said Lake Howell coach Bill Stevens. "He really stuck it in the corner. That's what we call the upper 90."

What really did the job for Lake Howell and made the win possible was the hard work done by its midfield. By clogging up the middle, the Hawks kept Lyman's Bernard Harden from creating. After a while, the Greyhounds grew so frustrated that they started to take themselves out of the game.

"We used Scott Meskill to mark one of their top players, Harden," said Stevens. "We marked him man-for-man."

"Jason Trefonas and Greg Davis did a great job of helping out on defense. And Rlad Saidi, who plays on a wing, was all over the field tonight."

And on the few occasions that Lyman's offense was able to penetrate that line of defense, Lyman's Jeff Onderko and Lake Howell's Greg Schicker (10) go for the ball in Tuesday's match at Lyman High. Schicker scored one of the two goals on the night for Lake Howell in a 2-1 victory over the 'Hounds.

Menard was there to make save after save. In all, Menard registered seven saves on 18 shots by Lyman. At different times, Menard robbed Lyman's Jodo House, Leiben and Harden.

"He made some critical saves, didn't he?" asked Stevens rhetorically. "This was the No. 9-ranked team in the state. But we felt coming in that we could beat them. We have 20-odd good players."

"Playing a team this good on their field, you should be satisfied with a tie. But we wanted to win. We like this field."

This is where we came from behind 2-0 and beat them in the district semifinals last year. I knew this could be a good grudge match."

Sandidge, despite saying his team played poorly, gave credit to the Silver Hawks for playing a tight-marking defense that took the Greyhounds out of their game.

"They just tightened up," said Sandidge. "There were too many bodies in the midfield. We showed no composure. Maybe it's a lack of experience. We got caught up in that instead of getting back and playing our game."

On Thursday night, the two teams return to action. Lyman traveling to Deland while Lake Howell hosts Oviedo.

Rams drill Seminole

From staff reports

Lake Mary, coming off a successful season-opening swing through Hillsborough County, kept its record perfect with a 5-0 win over Seminole Tuesday night in boys soccer.

"I thought Seminole had some good things going," said Lake Mary coach Larry McCorkle. "Their defense was effective. None of the goals we scored were easy."

The Rams, who outshot the home-standing 'Noles 36-7, took a 3-0 halftime lead on goals by John Mora, Darren Forde and John Brooks. Both Mora's and Forde's goals were unassisted while Brooks converted a penalty kick.

In the second half, Brooks scored two more times, once heading home a pass from Forde and the other deflecting in a shot by Mora.

"It was the toughest soccer match I've ever been involved in in 14 years of coaching," said Seminole coach Carlos Merlino, referring to the move of Forde, the leading scorer for Seminole last year, to Lake Mary.

"Both teams handled the situation well. There was a lot of hard feelings out there. It was tough for everyone to handle."

With the win, Lake Mary improved to 2-0-1 while Seminole dropped to 0-2-0.

Both teams will play on Thursday, Seminole hosting Deltona while Lake Mary returns home to play Lake Brantley.

Waisanen lifts Lions

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Tim Waisanen scored two goals and assisted on two others to lead the Oviedo Lions (2-1) to a 4-1 victory over the Lake Brantley Patriots (1-1-1) in Seminole Athletic Conference boys soccer action.

Just 9:00 into the game, Waisanen set up Jeff DeRose for the Lions' first goal. With five minutes left in the half, Waisanen created another scoring opportunity, this time for Jeff Griffin.

Just before halftime, Waisanen scored a goal of his own on an assist from DeRose, giving Oviedo a 3-0 lead the half.

Lake Brantley cut the lead by one when, at 51:30, Louis Meletlidis knocked home a penalty kick. But at 62:30, Waisanen scored again to put the Lions up by three goals.

Oviedo controlled almost all of the play, outshooting Lake Brantley 20-5 and taking five corner kicks to the Patriots' two. In goal, Oviedo's Jeff Hoffman made three saves while Kirk Klatter had to make 10 for Lake Brantley.

Oviedo's Moss has big day

No. 4 Mainland routs Lake Brantley

By CHUCK BURGESS
Herald correspondent

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The fourth-ranked Lady Buccaneers of Mainland found that pressing matters to the extreme can pay big dividends as they overpowered the outmanned Lady Patriots of Lake Brantley, 64-39, in girls prep basketball action Tuesday night at Lake Brantley High.

The Lady Patriots, who were without the services of senior leader Tracy Brandenburg, fell to 0-1 on the year and host the Lady Rams of Lake Mary Thursday night. The Lady Bucs improved their undefeated record to 4-0.

"We really needed Tracy out there tonight," head coach Cindy Frank said of her star senior. "She's out with some type of virus and we don't know when she'll be back in the lineup. It could be a week, a month, two months, we don't really know."

Brandenburg's absence and an irritating Lady Buc press were too much for the Lady Pats to handle as Mainland jumped out to an early 29-10 first half lead. The Lady Patriots did play the aggressive Lady Bucs close for the first period as they only trailed 8-6 going into the second period.

"We played with them (Mainland) for a solid quarter and a half," Frank said. "We were doing alright until the four-minute mark of the second period, but then things got out of control."

"We had a tough time adjusting to the new lineup with Tracy being out. We did a good job for the short amount of time we had to work with the new lineup though. I was happy with our performance tonight."

With a relentless scoring attack led by Kristi Austell's game high 24 points, the Lady Bucs built a quick lead that was never challenged by more than 10 points by the Lady Patriots. Mainland's Segena Mackery added 18 points and contributed to the brutal inside game of the Lady Bucs.

"To beat them (Mainland) all you've got to do is stop those two girls (Austell and Mackery)," Frank said. "We couldn't shut them down inside. On one possession, Austell got six rebounds in a row off of missed shots before she finally put it in. We were a little tired in the second half because we were forced to go to a man to man late and that hurt us."

The Lady Patriots were led by 5' 11" junior Lori Bounce who chipped in 14 points, grabbed 10 rebounds, had 2 assists, and added 2 steals. Tammy Tufford added 10 more points, despite shooting an icy 4 for 16 from the field.

"She (Bounce) did a great job tonight," Frank said. "I was very happy with her performance tonight considering it was her first varsity game. Tammy didn't shoot well from the floor, but she had to do a lot of things she's not used to. She did a good job."

The key to the game was the lopsided play during the second period as the Lady Patriots were outscored 21-10. The Lady Pats were also outscored 17-11 in the third and 19-12 in the fourth.

"We need to get a few things squared away for Thursday's game against Lake Mary," Frank said. "I think it's going to be a good game. We need to get a little more from our inside people and have our guards do a little more and we should do well."

MAINLAND (4) — Graver 4, Cooper 4, Mackery 18, Austell 24, Boney 2, Williams 8, Young 3. Totals: 22-19-31-64.
LAKE BRANTLEY (3) — Tufford 10, Mull 2, Billmeyer 4, Bounce 14, Roth 7, Gibson 2. Totals: 14-11-16-39.
Halftime — Mainland 29, Lake Brantley 16. Fouls — Mainland 14, Lake Brantley 23. Fouled out — none. Three point goals — Williams (1), Technican — none.

Franklin, Jones shoot down Oviedo

By DAVID CORCORAN
Herald correspondent

ORLANDO — Center Nicole Franklin led four scorers in double figures with 17 points, and showed why she's considered one of the state's top girls players as the Jones Tigers (5-0) crushed the Oviedo Lions (2-1), 76-49, in girls prep basketball action Tuesday night before 301 fans at Jones High.

Jones, ranked fifth in the Class 3A girls basketball poll, played in the words of coach Jimmy Mincey, "a very solid game in which we were able to play the slow down game when Oviedo went into their zone defense, and go to the fast break game when the tempo picked up.

Jones took charge right from the outset, as the Lady Tigers raced to an 8-2 lead, and were never threatened. Just once did Oviedo tie the score, and that was at 2-2, thanks to a 10 foot jumper by center Suzanne Hughes, who shared the high scoring honors for the Lady Lions with her sister Beaty with 10 points.

After the first period ended with Jones holding an 18-12 lead, the Lady Tigers broke open the game in the second as a combination of Franklin's great play and Oviedo's cold shooting (just 2-18 from the field) enabled Jones to outscore Oviedo, 19-4, and for all practical purposes the game was over as Jones went into the locker room with a 37-16 lead. The Lady Lions never got closer than 16 points in the second half.

"I wouldn't be the player that I am without the support of my teammates," said a very modest Franklin, considered one of the 10 best girls players in the state, and a top blue chip college prospect. "When other teams try to defend me, then it gives my teammates the opportunity to do their thing."

In JV action, Jones won it, 45-27 with Octavia Sheppard leading a balanced Jones attack with nine points. Melanie Schrupp was the high scorer for Oviedo with 11 second half and went on an 8-0 run. Anderson capped the surge with a steal, then drove the length of the court for a layup to give the Illini a 56-35 lead with 16:25 left in the game.

The Gators sealed the lead back to 15, 58-43, on a layup by forward Livingston Chapman with 13:17 to play.

But the lead was back to 20 points, 69-49, on a 3-point shot by Gill from the left baseline.

At the 8:20 mark, Gill came through with a steal off a Florida inbounds pass and made a jumper in the paint for an 81-53 margin.

A pair of free throws by reserve Andy Kaufmann with 7:55 to go gave the Illini their first 30-point lead, 83-53.

Florida guard Clifford Lett led the Gators with 20 points.

"We're not ready to play against a team like Illinois," admitted Florida Coach Norm Sloan. "We don't have the people. I don't know if we'll be able to play against a team like Illinois even in February."

RANGERS ACQUIRE FRANCO

The busiest team at the winter baseball meetings, the Texas Rangers, made their second major deal in two days Tuesday when they acquired second baseman Julio Franco from the Cleveland Indians.

In return, Texas sent first baseman Pete O'Brien to Cleveland along with a pair of fast but light-hitting players — second baseman Jerry Browne and center fielder Oddibe McDowell.

In another deal, the Montreal Expos obtained right-handed pitcher Kevin Gross from the Phillies for right-handers Floyd Youmans and Jeff Parrett. The Expos also agreed to waive their rights to reclaim left-hander Jeff Tabaka, whom the Phillies drafted Monday from the Montreal organization.

Oviedo tames 'Canes

By DEAN SMITH
Herald correspondent

OVIDEO — The Oviedo Lions, behind 27 points from Brad Bolton, won their second in a row as they defeated the Hurricanes of Mount Dora High School, 78-64, before 223 fans at the Lions Den on the Oviedo High School campus Tuesday night.

Center Robbie Crager added 19 points and point guard Danny Phillips 12, all on three pointers, as the Lions took control at the outset and dominated the game throughout as they moved to 2-0 on the season. Oviedo has home games scheduled this Friday and Saturday against Bishop Moore and St. Cloud, respectively. Mount Dora which got 17 points from Joe Wiggins and 18 from Nate Woods fell to 2-3.

"I thought we played pretty well," said Lion Coach Dale Phillips. "We didn't know what to expect. Tim Tocco and Andy Thomas came up sick and the two football players, Hector Diaz and Charles Warner, had only one day of practice. So we called up Vince Hollis from the junior varsity to fill in and he did a good job."

The game got off to a good start for the Lions as they won the opening tip and Bolton missed and was fouled. Mount Dora was unable to find the mark and Bolton added two jumpers to make it 7-0 with 6:49 to play in the first quarter.

The 'Canes finally got on the board with 6:25 left when Nate Fountain scored on a layup. Wiggins then scored on a jumper to make it 7-4 Oviedo but the Lions countered with another basket by Bolton. A free throw by Crager and a 3-pointer by Phillips offset a basket by Wiggins to give the Lions a 13-6 lead and give Oviedo control of the game.

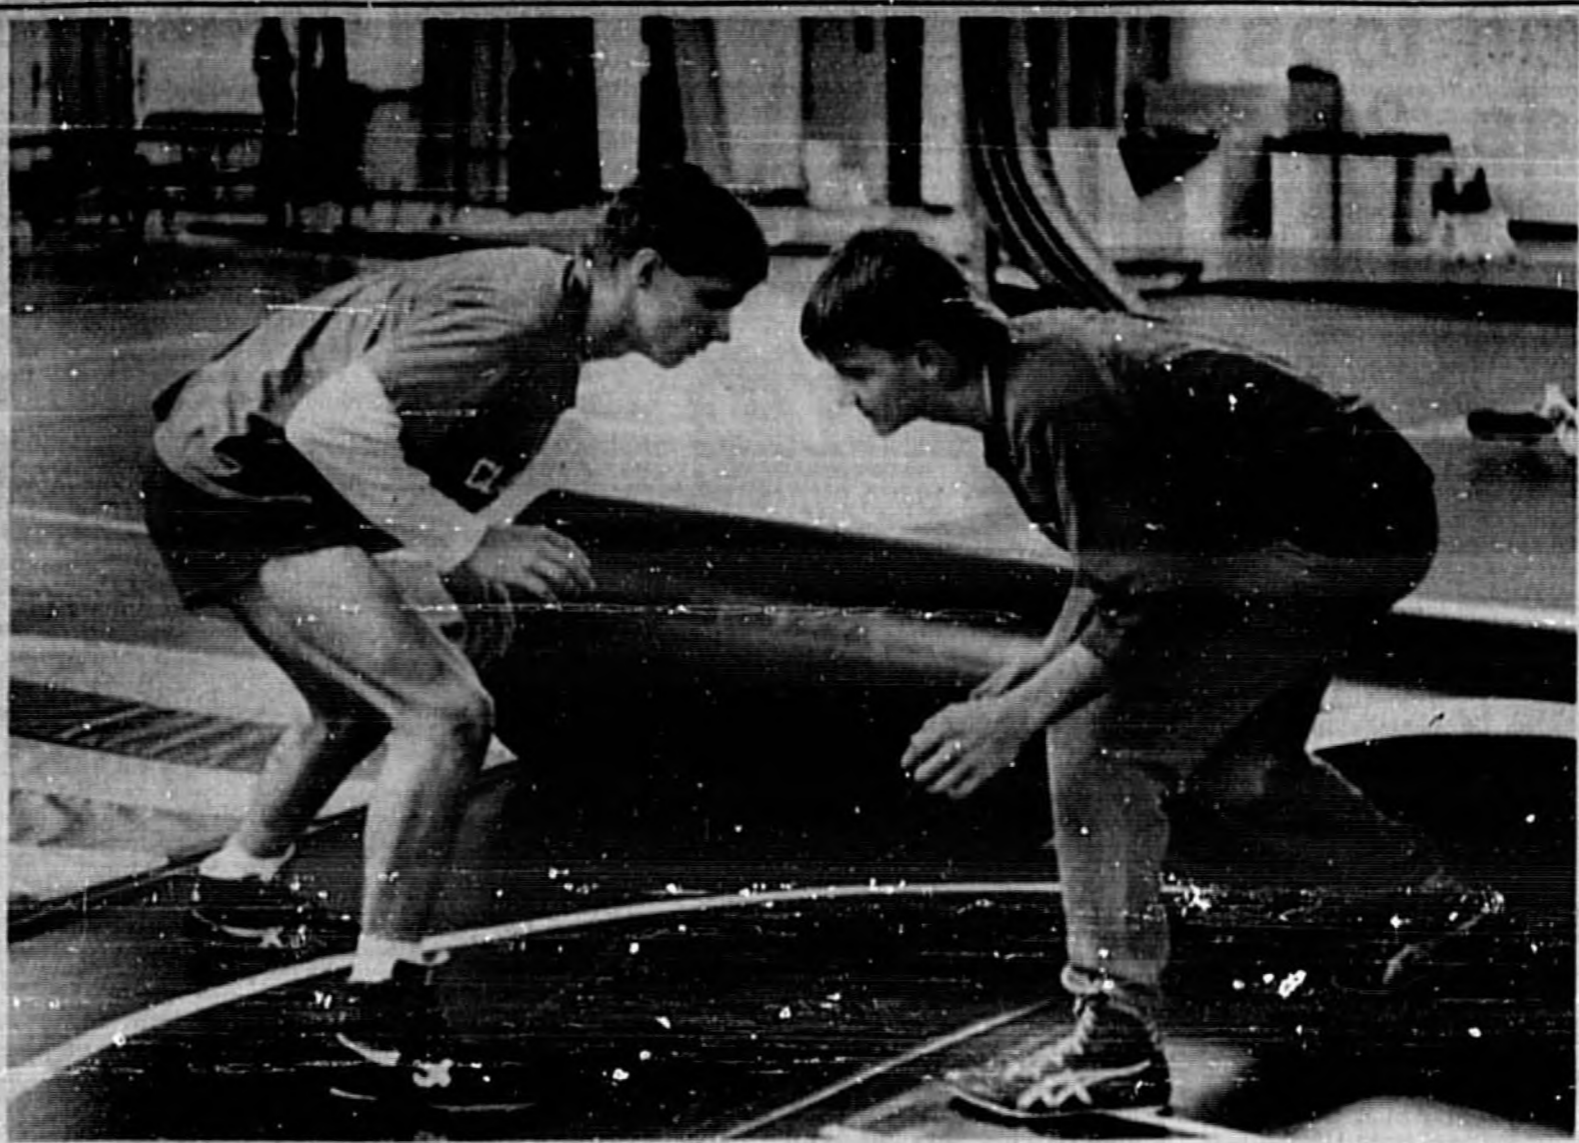

The quarter ended with Oviedo ahead 23-15. Bolton had 13 points in the opening stanza.

"The way the game started I thought Brad was going to score all the points," said coach Phillips. "I think his hot start demoralized them, that and our strong defense. We did very well on defense early, then started to play around with the 1-3-1 zone. Once we got that big lead I think we started to worry more about the points instead of the defense."

The Lions kept up their hot play in the second quarter as they outscored the 'Canes 20-15 to take a 43-30 lead into the locker room at intermission. Oviedo spread the scoring around in the stanza as Bolton had five, Crager, Hollis, and Todd Tocco four each, and Phillips three.

The halftime intermission did not slow the Lion onslaught as they outscored the 'Canes 16-12.

In junior varsity action it was Mount Dora coming out on top 83-50 as Cornelius McDowell had 26 points and Shann Howard had 22. Also in double figures for the baby Hurricanes was Marcus Sears with 15. Forrest Rogers was the only Oviedo player in double figures as he scored 13.

Brian and Scott Meredith are continuing a tradition of wrestling families at Lake Brantley High.

Merediths continue 'Tradition'

By DAVID CONCORAN
Herald correspondent

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Country music superstar Hank Williams Jr. several years ago wrote a song titled "It's a Family Tradition." The song told of how a family's deep pride in its past was continued by its younger members.

At Lake Brantley High School, the "Family Tradition" continues in its wrestling program with a pair of brothers, Scott and Brian Meredith.

They are two reasons that Patriots mat fans are looking forward to another outstanding season.

Scott, a senior who qualified for the state meet last year in the 125 pound weight class, has moved up to 130 this season and is considered a threat to go to state again. A quick, tough technician, Scott began the '88-89 season in fine style as he won all three of his matches in the quad meet that was held this past weekend at Lyman high school, all three by pins.

Brian, a junior who competed on the JV team last year, got his first taste of varsity action at the quad meet. And Brian didn't do so badly as he won two of his three matches in the 125 pound class.

And how did the "Brothers Meredith" get involved in the sport?

"I got involved in wrestling during my freshmen year (1985) here at Brantley," said Scott during a break in a practice session Tuesday afternoon. "Coach Carpenger (Kevin, Lake Brantley's head coach) asked me to go out for the team as a way to stay in shape for football. And I just fell in love with the sport. My first two years were a learning experience, and in my junior year, I came into my own as I qualified for the state meet."

And as for Brian, "I got involved in the sport after I saw how my brother (Scott) enjoyed it, and it's a great sport."

And as in most brother relationships, Scott and Brian are each other's biggest fans and toughest critics as Scott said "when one of us wrestles before the other, one does it really fires us up. If one of us loses a match or doesn't do well, then we help each other out. It's the family pride in both of us. And we have a younger brother Tim (7th grader at Teague Middle School) that wants to wrestle too. He's in a local club, USA Wrestling in Longwood.

Scott, who's an excellent student, has been contacted by the Air Force Academy, Navy, Furman and Georgia Tech to go to college, with the Air Force Scott's first choice as he would like to have a career as a fighter pilot, and Brian would like to have a career in coaching football or wrestling.

And the Merediths are not the first pair of wrestling brothers that has competed at Lake Brantley as coach Carpenger explains, "we have had a lot of brothers on the team in past years. Wrestling is a family orientated sport. We had the Powers (Chas and Keith, 1977), the Hoyt's (Kevin and Tim, late 1970's) who were team captains their senior years, the Jacobs (Danny and David late '70's) the Farmers (Richard, state champ in 196 in 1982, Allen and Billy), and the Roth brothers. Scott and Dan who are now assistant coaches here, and their younger brother Steve is a freshman who wrestles on the JV team in the 112 class."

It's great to know that Scott and Brian Meredith are continuing the fine family wrestling tradition at Lake Brantley High School.

Quakers turn nasty on rival Villanova, 71-70

United Press International

The Penn Quakers, who lost to Villanova by 29 points last year, turned nasty on their city rivals Tuesday night.

Walt Frazier, son of the Hall of Famer, scored 25 points, including a pair of free throws with 46 seconds remaining as Penn won 71-70 in a Big Five game at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

"We've got some guys in the locker room crying," Penn Coach Tom Schneider said.

"This is the biggest win of their lives."

The Quakers lost to Villanova 84-55 in their only meeting last season.

Penn improved to 2-1, Villanova, 4-2, was led by Tom Greis, who scored 24 of his career-high 32 points in the second half.

Lake Mary freshmen top Seminole, 51-37

From staff reports

SANFORD — Lake Mary came up with a strong second half to pull away from Seminole, 51-37, in freshman basketball action at Seminole High School Tuesday night.

Lake Mary, 1-0, was led by Alonzo

Brundage and Brian Grzyb who each poured in 17 points in the winning effort. Shawn Washington, a 6-4 center, added six points to aid in the opening game victory for the Rams.

Seminole, 1-1, was led by Mark Couch's 16 points as Anthony Williams netted 11 in the losing cause. Seminole opened its season with a victory last week.

LYMAN CRUSHES HOWELL

In other freshman action it was Lyman crushing Lake Howell, 84-34, at Lyman High School. Jason Goodpastor led the Greyhounds with a game-high 19 points. Charles Francis added 10. Sol Henick and Brian Grayson chipped in nine points apiece for Lyman. Tom Manor led Lake Howell with 16 points.

Howell survives Luther, 38-37

By MARK BLYTHE
Herald sports writer

Lake Howell came up with a strong defensive performance and overcame a tough Luther High School team, 38-37, Tuesday night in girls prep basketball action at Lake Howell High School.

Lake Howell improved to 4-3 and will return to action this Thursday when it hosts Oviedo in a big Seminole Athletic Conference confrontation. Luther fell to 2-1 on the season.

Jennifer Brown led the Lady Silver Hawks with 12 points as Tanya Lewis came up with eight. Lewis played the best all-around game of her career as she pulled down a career and game-high 12 rebounds, handed out five assists and came up with three steals and played solid defense.

"(Tanya) Lewis played her best game since she's been at Lake Howell," Lake Howell coach Dennis Codrey said. "She played excellent defense and hit the boards well."

Lake Howell again used a number of players and relied on its youth to help pull out the narrow victory. Luther managed to give the Lady Silver Hawks a scare as it's group of veterans played a solid game.

"Luther has a very, very good Class A team," Codrey said. "We had to go to the middle late and came up with the win."

Neither team could register a large amount of points and they were tied 14-14 at halftime. Luther went on a run in the third period and built a 26-21 lead heading into the deciding quarter.

Brenda Davis led the way for the Lady Crusaders with nine points. Michelle Duda and Katie Jacobs each added eight with Andrea Duda connecting for six.

Luther took a two point lead, 37-35, with 1:46 to play on a Jacobs layup. Codrey then instructed his team to get the ball inside to Becky Miller. Miller posted up and was received the ball on the block. Miller hit the field goal and was fouled after the shot. Miller then hit one of two free throws to give the Lady Silver Hawks a point lead, 38-37, with just under a minute to play.

Luther then went down, ran some clock and put up a shot that was off the mark.

Lake Mary's Shannon Stoddard puts up a layup while DeLand's Renee Bellamy looks on. Stoddard and the Lady Rams defeated DeLand Tuesday night in Seminole Athletic Conference action.

by Bellamy and Williamson with Williamson adding two free throws also to even the score, 39-39, with 6:53 to play.

Heather Gleason then sank two free throws for the Lady Rams to break three minute scoring drought. Anita Mitchell then put two buckets for Lake Mary to up the lead to 45-39 with 5:38 remaining.

The two teams then went back and forth with DeLand closing the gap to one point on two occasions. The Lady Bulldogs, though, could never take the lead and Lake Mary hit its free throws late to pull away for the victory.

The Lady Rams shot 7-of-10 from the line in the final 1:58 of the game to hold off DeLand. Lake Mary shot 32 free throws on the night and made good on 19 attempts, all of which turned out to be important points.

Mitchell led a balanced attack with 13 points for the Lady Rams while adding five rebounds. Amy Kuvach added 12 points and came up with a game-high nine steals. Tara Jackson added 10 points with seven steals, six rebounds and three assists as Wiletha Hartfield contributed 10 points, five rebounds and four steals.

Valencia comes to SCC

From staff reports

The Seminole Community College men's basketball team, 9-4 on the season, returns to their home court Wednesday to take on Valencia Community College of Orlando in an important early season Mid-Florida Conference game. Game time is 7:30 at the Health and Physical Education Center on the Seminole campus and, as always, admission is free.

Both teams come into the game with 1-0 records in conference play and holding upsets over the pre-season favorites, Seminole an 81-75 win over Florida CC of Jacksonville and Valencia a 79-78 win over Central Florida CC of Ocala, and have high hopes of going on Christmas break with at least a share of the Conference lead. Daytona Beach and Lake City are also undefeated in Conference play.

This game has been a thorn in the side of the Raiders as they have only six conference losses, the last two seasons, four to champion Florida CCJ and two to Valencia.

"This is an important game to me," said Seminole coach Bill Payne. "It probably means more to me than the players. They usually look at the teams that have been at the top of our conference, but this is the team that kept us from winning the conference the last two years. They always give us a tough time and last year beat our brains out here."

Valencia has a very deceiving record of 2-8. With the exception of Seminole they may play the toughest schedule in the state. They have won two of their last three and have lost close games to some very strong ball clubs. Two of the losses have been to No. 1-ranked Polk and two to No. 7-ranked and undefeated St. Petersburg Junior College. They have also lost to Indian River and Brevard, two very strong teams.

Valencia is led by 6'1" shooting guard Homer Gray, an Evans High School graduate, and 6'6" center Lamar Smith from Apopka. Gray is one of the best shooters in the conference and likes to put up the 3-point shot while Smith is the workhorse inside. He is one of the best rebounders in the state and does an excellent job scoring. Also expected to start for the Raiders are point guard Joe Jefferson and forwards Matt Suedmeyer and Duane Johnston.

Seminole is led by sophomore forwards Terrell Barnes and Vincent Emerson. Barnes leads the team in scoring and rebounding, averaging 16 points and 7.5 rebounds per game. Emerson has shown signs of playing like he did last year when he led the state in field goal percentage. Last week he scored 27, 19, and 18 points while shooting 28-42 (67 percent) to up his average to 15.4 per game.

Also averaging in double figures is shooting guard Robert Thomas (13.8 points per game) and forward-center Richard Brown (10.5).

Heather Gleason played a strong all around game off the bench for Lake Mary as she netted seven points and came up with eight steals while pulling down six rebounds.

Behind Bellamy's 19 points and game-high 12 rebounds was Williamson who added 14 points and eight boards. Mary Ford added eight points and came up with a game high seven assists.

"Now that we're playing with heart hopefully we can pull it all together," Van Landingham said. "I think the team knows what I'm trying to accomplish and they're working to get it done."

In junior varsity action it was Lake Mary whipping the Lady Bulldogs 38-18. The Lady Rams were led by freshman Tara Calvin who tossed in a game-high 14 points with Melissa Mau netting 12 to aid in the victory.

DELAND (9) — Bellamy 19, Ford 8, Williamson 14, Yarrington 1, Webb 4, Jenkins 4. Totals: 30 16 21 30.

LAKE MARY (8) — Johnson 3, Mitchell 11, Jackson 18, Hartfield 10, Kuvach 12, Gleason 7, Roundtree 1, Winnall 2. Totals: 19 19 23 38.

Win a few, burn a few

Cook not perfect, but she's closer

By JANE HALE
Herald correspondent

SANFORD — Friends call our Cook of the Week "zany," but don't say that about her cooking, despite the factor of human error in what she cooks.

Janie Turner was born and raised in Sanford, starting school at Southside Elementary School, going through Sanford Junior High School and graduating from Seminole High School.

Her mother, Helen Shoemaker Brown, was born in Virginia, but moved migrated to Sanford many years ago. "She was a ward secretary at the old Seminole Memorial Hospital in Sanford before she passed away," Turner said of her mother. "Mama was a great old girl and I miss her very much."

Turner's mother was a fabulous cook who could cook just about anything Turner said.

"I remember one year at Christmas when Mama baked some fruitcakes and sold them," she said. "She sold enough of them that she bought my father a shopsmith outfit that he used at home."

The recipe has since been forgotten but the thought of it brings back fond memories to Turner.

Her father, Robert Brown, was born in Georgia and, like his wife-to-be, moved to Sanford many years ago. "Dad was a butcher for Winn Dixie for many years," Turner said. "We always had plenty of meat to eat, especially the aged steaks. These were really great."

Turner has three sisters all younger than she—Judy Sullivan, Barbara Bowes and Debbie Brown, all of Sanford. They all think that their sister is tops.

Turner said that she is an observation cook, in that she watches someone fix something and then goes home and tries to fix it.

"My mother was a terrific cook and fixed everything from scratch," Turner said. "Mother's mother, Janie Shoemaker, was a delightful cook. I remember her fixing a fabulous chocolate cake, but the recipe has disappeared and all that I am left with is tre memories."

Both Turner's mother and grandmother tried to teach her how to cook. "I just wasn't interested when I was younger," she said. "By the time that I got married I knew nothing about cooking. I just experimented and tried to remember what my mother did and tried it. After several tries, the dishes started tasting better and better each time."

The first dish Turner remembers fixing was a roast, after she had married.

"I've come a long way since cooking my first dish," she said. "I tried to cook a 4-pound roast in a stainless steel mixing bowl on a gas stove and then I went off and left it on the stove cooking. When I came back there was smoke pouring out of my kitchen window. My husband took a shovel out and buried the roast in the backyard."

"I still burn things but not as bad as I used to," Turner said. She admits to even burning boiled eggs recently.

Turner said she enjoyed her childhood. She remembers loving being outdoors and having wonderful, adventurous times playing in the woods with her friends.

In May 1981, she met Phil Turner when they were introduced by a mutual friend. The two dated for about a year and were married in the First United Methodist Church in Sanford.

Phil works as a Manufacturing Representative for BMMAC, Inc. in Orlando. He also teaches Sunday school at the First United Methodist Church of Sanford.

The Turners have seven children between them. Daughter Kathy Coyne lives in Charlotte, N.C., has a degree in psychology and would like to work as a counselor.

Patty Ross also lives in Charlotte. She is married and a homemaker. She is the mother of a 5-year-old son named Patrick and is expecting another child in May.

Daughter Terry Perna lives in Goshen, N.Y., with her husband, Dean. She teaches second grade in the elementary school.

Son Jim Turner is single and works for Horizon Tech in Melbourne, where he lives.

Daughter Susan Pringle lives in Tampa and just recently received her bachelor of science degree in English literature. She is married and is expecting her first child in June.

Another daughter, Nancy Syverud, is an airman first class in the Air Force and is stationed in Berlin, Germany. She recently married.

Son Jeff still lives at home. He is a student and enjoys body building and girls.

As an occupation, Turner said she is a "domestic scientist"—she has her housework down to a science. She enjoys being in the choir and playing the handbells at the First United Methodist Church.

Her hobbies include needlecrafts of all kinds, sewing, ceramics and taking care of her plants. She also likes to quilt.

Turner's philosophy in life is "Laugh a lot because laughter is the best medicine there is. Also, find something to do each and every day that is fun."

Listed below are several recipes that Turner fixes for her family and friends.

- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 cup raisins
- 1 tablespoon rum, if desired

Combine all ingredients except pears in a 2-cup microwave-safe glass dish. M/W on high for 2 1/2-3 minutes, stirring twice during cooking time, until slightly thickened.

Halve and core pears. Place cut-side up in round baking dish, with large end of pears toward outside of dish. Pour sauce over pears. M/W at high for 5 1/2-6 minutes, until pears are tender. Serve hot with ham or pork. Makes 6 servings.

Combine remaining ingredients. Place squash in 7 1/2-by-12-inch baking dish. Spoon sauce over squash. Cover and M/W at 100 percent power for 2 minutes. Turn dish and spoon sauce over squash at least once. Serves 4.

Fat disappearing from food writing

United Press International

Not everything that goes on behind your back is bad for you. Especially when it comes to the arena of food, where a lot of things are changing for the better.

These are changes that are subtle and implicit in food writing today, changes that have been systematically and deliberately brought about through the efforts of private groups such as Michael Jacobson's Center for Science in the Public Interest, Ellen Haas's Public Voice For Food and Health Policy, and the Kaiser Foundation, among others; and by governmental agencies, such as the National Academy of Sciences and the National Cholesterol Education Program.

One nutritionist said her company regularly analyzes recipes for a number of national women's magazines that had made an editorial decision to slowly and gradually reduce the fat, cholesterol and salt in the recipes they publish.

These magazines felt it was best to do this in a way that was slow and responsible, without ever mentioning it to their readers. While writers for these magazines are still creating food that looks and tastes like the higher fat, sodium-doused recipes of a decade ago, overall they are lower in those elements.

This is the kind of responsible attitude that is contributing to the evolutionary trend toward lighter and more healthful foods, and ultimately toward a higher quality of life for the readers of those magazines.

Many newspaper writers have also taken steps in the same direction, though generally they have taken smaller steps, limited by budgetary restraints, small staffs and a lack of test kitchens and facilities. Even so, these editors have responded to today's nutritional consensus and have added phrases to the word "salt" like "optional" or "to taste."

Some have gone so far as to adjust recipes they receive for publication to reduce the fat and minimize the salt by quietly making small adjustments in those recipes, and by adding a little additional lemon juice here and there when salt has been reduced or eliminated. In general, cookbook authors have been slower to respond to changes in these areas, and many fine cookbooks being published today are densely packed with recipes that are clearly sodium-soaked and lipid-laden. This is in part because the response time in cookbook publishing is much slower than in magazines and newspapers.

A good cookbook can take three, sometimes four, or even five years to go from inception to publication. The cookbook publishing industry, as a whole, is quite slow on the uptake. And cookbook authors themselves are often irresponsibly ignorant of modern nutritional needs.

Jacobson and Haas are the nation's two leading consumer food advocates. Both are based in Washington, D.C., and each, in a separate way, is taking on the big guys to remove the hidden dangers in food from our diets.

Jacobson has a product orientation and has been a major force in removing unnecessary cholesterol and saturated fat from our diets through his successful attacks on fast food chains. Jacobson speaks out on specific products as well as to general policy.

Haas, on the other hand, is directing her efforts toward implementing change through government regulations and legislation so that those regulations and laws will favor, rather than penalize, industries which would like to produce reduced fat and reduced sodium products.

There are also working in other areas of the food arena to reduce hidden dangers such as false or deceptive advertising and bacterial contamination in our food supply.

Government agencies, such as the National Academy of Sciences, which recently published the long-awaited study "Designing Foods" has made some of the broadest suggestions for responsible nutrition ever to have been issued by the government.

"Designing Foods" isn't the kind of manuscript most people will ever read, but its recommendations for redesigning our food supply could make America a better place in which to eat.

Tropical affliction like venereal disease

DEAR DR. GOTT:

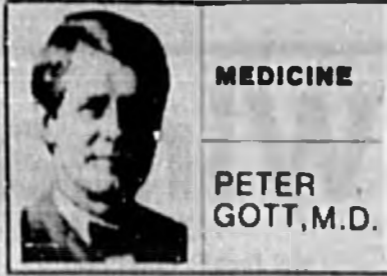

In 1943 I was in North Africa. In the Army's little booklet, we were warned of a disease called yaws. I never know anyone who had it or what it was. Can you throw any light on the subject?

DEAR READER: Treponema refers to a class of spirochetes, microorganisms that are larger than bacteria. They cause disease that is identical to syphilis. In underdeveloped areas of the world, the infection is known as yaws, pinta or endemic syphilis. These infections are not spread by venereal activity, as syphilis normally is, but by non-sexual body contact.

Yaws begins as a raised rash at the site of contact; it appears to heal, then is followed by a generalized eruption of various parts of the skin. Eventually, the infection invades bone, causing horrible ulcerations, particularly around the nose. The disease is readily treated with penicillin, an antibiotic that was not generally available in 1943. The illness is not the public health problem that it once was.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband had a partial left mandibulotomy and left upper-neck dissection for a large malignancy. This was followed by radiation. He doesn't have enough saliva, is on a liquid diet and has a hard time swallowing. It's tough eating out. He had a swollen tongue and stomach pains. Can you help us figure out this saliva problem?

DEAR READER: After extensive surgery and radiation for cancer, your husband is bound to have developed troublesome medical problems, of which lack of saliva is one. I cannot specifically answer your question because I do not know how much damage was inflicted

MEDICINE

PETER GOTT, M.D.

— and how best to treat it. Since your husband has evidently been under the care of specialists, I suggest that you ask them to give you specific guidelines about how to manage his difficulty swallowing. To give you more general information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report, "Viruses and Cancer." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I was bothered by seborrheic dermatitis for years. I found a cure! Modest amounts of rubbing alcohol are applied to the affected area once or twice a week. Is there some medical reason I should not be using this treatment? DEAR READER: I can think of no reason why you shouldn't use rubbing alcohol to help your seborrheic dermatitis. The alcohol, when applied externally, will not harm you, although it may damage some people's hair — especially if it has been chemically treated, such as with a dye, rinse or permanent. Although this treatment is by no means curative for most patients with this common skin disorder, if it works for you, fine.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY
December 8, 1988

Several unproductive ties to the past will be severed in the year ahead. The new course you set for yourself will provide you with a fulfillment that previously eluded you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Enterprises or projects you personally manage or direct have good chances for success in this time frame. Be careful, however, to whom you delegate key assignments. Trying to patch up a broken romance?

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You'll awaken an interest in associates regarding your present plans if you're a bit mysterious about them. Disclose just enough to whet their appetites.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This is a period where your hopes and wishes will have good chances of being gratified. Don't abandon your dreams now just because they haven't been fulfilled yet.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

You are now in a very good achievement cycle and if you take the appropriate measures, you can vastly improve your material circumstances. Establish meaningful goals starting today.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If there is a special subject you have been wanting to study, this is a good time to initiate the program. What you learn you will be able to retain and put to valid uses.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be alert today because something could transpire that makes it possible for you to add to your earnings from a new source. There could be a partner involved in this operation.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There are strong indications that you may form a new alliance soon. This could turn out to be an extremely valuable association.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) As of today you're in a rather favorable cycle for your work or career. Take the necessary steps to prove yourself, because a promotion or more income could be in the offing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If your social life has been a bit dismal lately, don't be dismayed. Big changes are on the horizon. It looks like you're going to get involved with an exciting, new group.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This could be a day of both endings and beginnings. An old issue will be resolved to your satisfaction and an interesting new enterprise could be launched.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Bright ideas you get today should not be ignored, even if they are a departure from your present field. Your concepts could have tremendous potential and they should be boldly pursued.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today you'll be entering a rather extended cycle that has extremely encouraging financial possibilities. Before it is over, there should be a marked improvement in your money department.

Poinsettias don't leave a poison taste in your mouth

DEAR ABBY: I've always heard that poinsettia plants are poisonous. Every year at Christmastime, I warn friends with small children or pets to avoid poinsettia plants for that reason. Well, last year, my roommate, who is a landscape architect, showed me an article in Landscape Contractor magazine saying that poinsettias are not poisonous. So, please pass this information on to your readers, as I am sure there are many who believe otherwise.

BILL IN ILLINOIS
DEAR BILL: I telephoned several local florists in Los Angeles, asking if the poinsettia plant was poisonous, and was told, "Yes, we think so."

However, Marvella Crab (her real name), manager of the Florist Information Committee of the Society of American Florists, stated that the poinsettia plant is not poisonous—and she is amazed that this rumor still persists. Furthermore, according to the American Medical Association, no deaths or serious injuries have been attributed to poinsettia ingestion.

So, after years of being maligned, badmouthed and discriminated against, the beautiful poinsettia plant rates a clean bill of health—and comes out smelling like a rose!

DEAR ABBY: A very close relative of mine has a terminal illness. Her doctor says that she has six months to a year to live.

No one in her family thinks she should be told. Some are afraid she might take her own life if she knows the truth. I have my own opinion about this, but I would like to hear yours. Sorry, I can't sign my name, so please sign this.

ONE AGAINST MANY

DEAR ONE: If I were diagnosed as "terminal," I would want to know. I may want to travel, visit friends and relatives, revise my will, and enjoy my remaining time to the fullest.

However, news of this kind should be broken gently, beginning with "Your chances for recovery are slim." Bear in mind that there are people who are alive today who were told and every year we feel the need to get out of town for a weekend to recharge our batteries and reaffirm our love for each other. And what better time to do this than on our wedding anniversary?

This year we weren't able to leave town, so I got a sitter for the kids, then I asked Norm's boss to let him off early. I showed up at his shop with a dozen long-stemmed roses, a bottle of champagne, a warm kiss, and I took him to a motel for a couple of hours.

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed "Confused" (obviously a man) complained that women always expect gifts from their husbands on their wedding anniversaries, but they never give their husbands anything. Well, here's one who does.
Norm and I have five children.

'Tis the season to be cautious.

We joyously supply the power that lights up your holiday season. And we ask you — please use it carefully. Always read and follow instructions that come with gifts that are powered by electricity. For example, use only grounded extension cords, don't trim hedges when the ground is wet and keep electric cords out of the way of cutting edges.

Christmas lights also should be used with care. Keep them away from flammable decorations, check for worn or broken sockets, cracked insulation and frayed cords, turn them off when you go out and use no more than three sets of lights on an extension cord. And, of course, never put lights on a metal tree.

Make safety your first New Year's resolution. And have a most joyous holiday season.

Make a wish, then enter our contest

Wishing puts the imagination to fun use.

Ask the cricket who sang, "When You Wish Upon a Star," or the fair beauty who sang, "Someday My Prince Will Come."

Remember, as a child, poring through "wishbook" catalogs and drooling over the latest toy? Or closing your eyes tightly as sucked in enough air to blow out every birthday candle to get your wished-for reward? Or pitching pennies into a fountain?

Wishes do come true, too. Take, for instance, the progress toward Martin Luther King Jr.'s vision in his "I Have a Dream" speech.

What better time to wish than Christmas, when the spirit of miracles is in the air?

Perhaps you've stretched your imagination and wondered what the world would be like if...

We invite our readers to write us about "What I'd Like to Give the World for Christmas" and why.

What do you see as the world's greatest need? If you had unlimited resources or influence, what would you give mankind that it is lacking?

Mail us or bring us your thoughts, in 50 words or less. Address your perspective to "Gift to the World," Sanford Herald, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford, FL 32771. Include your name, city, age and daytime phone number.

Entries must be received at the Herald by 1 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 15.

Selected responses will be published in our Dec. 25 Sunday edition.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

How do you lead from three small cards in your partner's suit, when the opponents are playing a suit contract themselves? I ask because many players make a top-of-nothing lead, believing that it is very important to let their partners know that they do not have an honor in the suit. The crucial problem that comes into play is that partner may then have great difficulty distinguishing between the top of three small and the top of a doubleton. My recommendation is that you lead low from three small cards, since I believe it is more important to let your partner know for sure when you are leading high from a doubleton. Here is a deal that demonstrates the effectiveness of this approach.

Against four spades, West led a low heart. East cashed two high hearts. Since he knew the remaining heart was held by West, it was futile to play a third round of the suit. So he switched to a low diamond. There was nothing for declarer to do but put up the king, so the contract was down one.

If West was a top-of-nothing leader, he would have led the eight of hearts. East would cash two tricks and then not know what to do. (It would be a reprehensible violation of the proprieties of bridge for West to fumble or hesitate before playing to the second heart.) A third round of hearts would let South make the contract.

Egg snacks dress up holiday parties

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Plan such a party around two or three simple appetizers, such as a set of deviled eggs with different fillings, or mini pizzas or tasty finger sandwiches. Guests look to the spirit of joining together to cheer the season, not to a back-breaking, drop-dead performance by the hostess or host.

DEVILED EGGS

6 hard-cooked eggs
1 3¼-ounce can sardines, drained

2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon lemon-pepper marinade

Food

Homemade treats are welcome gifts.

Food gifts are extra special when they're made by the giver

The holidays are a special time for letting good friends and neighbors know you care. This year, make them one of these festive yuletide food gifts.

Summer's fresh fruit might be long gone but it's never too late to make Autumn Jam. Ready-to-use pumpkin pie mix makes this jam convenient to prepare. Another attractive food gift is Nut and Pumpkin Poundcake. This scrumptious dessert loaf features a festive edible "ribbon."

Rich Chocolate Pumpkin Truffles and Holiday Almond Treats are scrumptious little sweets, perfect for yuletide indulgences. Both are easy to make and should be prepared ahead to allow the flavors to blend to perfection.

What would the holidays be without fruitcakes? Make unique Holiday Pumpkin Mincemeat Fruitcakes by preparing them in mini-bundt pans and dusting with powdered sugar.

HOLIDAY PUMPKIN MINCEMEAT FRUITCAKES

2 eggs, lightly beaten
3 1/2 cups (30-ounce can) Libby's Pumpkin Pie Mix
2 packages (17 ounces each) date bread mix
3 cups candied cherries, halved
2 cups walnuts or pecans, coarsely chopped
1 cup mincemeat
1 cup golden raisins

In large bowl, beat eggs and pumpkin pie mix together. Blend in date bread mix. Stir in cherries, walnuts, mincemeat and raisins. Spoon into generously greased mini-bundts, filling 3/4 full. Bake in preheated 325°F oven for 40-45 minutes or until toothpick comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pan to cooling rack. Makes 19 mini-bundts.

NUT AND PUMPKIN POUNDCAKE

1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup pecans, finely chopped or ground
1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground mace
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 cup butter, softened
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
3 eggs
1 cup Libby's Solid Pack Pumpkin
Marzipan Bow (directions follow)

In medium bowl, combine flour, pecans, cinnamon, baking soda, salt, mace and nutmeg; set aside. In large mixer bowl, cream butter, granulated and brown sugars. Add eggs; beat until light and fluffy. Mix in pumpkin and dry ingredients; beat well. Pour into greased and floured 5-by-9-inch loaf dish. Bake in preheated 325°F oven for approximately 1 hour 15 minutes, or until toothpick comes out clean. Cool in pan 10 minutes; turn onto wire rack to cool completely.

Marzipan Bow: On board lightly dusted with powdered sugar, roll out one 7-ounce package marzipan or almond paste into rectangle 4-inches wide, 20-inches long, and 1/16-inch thick. Cut into four 1/2-inch wide strips. Arrange two strips over bread to create tied-package effect. Create ribbon bow ends by cutting two 5-inch lengths. Attach at point where marzipan ribbons cross; press to hold. Make bow by creating two ribbon loops, pinch center. Add bow where ribbons cross; press to hold.
Makes 1 large loaf.

AUTUMN JAM

3 1/4 cups (30-ounce can) Libby's Pumpkin Pie Mix
1/2 cup lemon juice

In large saucepan combine pie mix, lemon juice, ginger, and pectin. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Add sugar. Heat to full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Continue boiling for 1 minute, stirring frequently. Skim off foam, if necessary. Pour into prepared jars. Makes 6 cups.

RICH CHOCOLATE PUMPKIN TRUFFLES

1 cup ground almonds, toasted
3/4 cup sifted powdered sugar, divided
2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
1 cup (6 ounces) chocolate pieces, melted
1/2 cup Libby's Solid Pack Pumpkin
1/2 cup coffee liqueur or apple juice
In medium bowl, combine vanilla wafer crumbs, ground almonds, 1/2 cup powdered sugar, and cinnamon. Blend in melted chocolate, pumpkin, and coffee liqueur. Form into 1-inch balls. Refrigerate. Dust with remaining 1/2 cup powdered sugar just before serving. Makes 4 dozen.

Cheese pleases as holiday fingerfood

United Press International

SONOMA, Calif. — "Hands-on" cheesemaking is a tradition at the Vella Cheese Co., a family-owned business operating from the original stone building where it was started in 1931.

An aged dry jack, which has a natural nutty flavor, was recently offered to distributors nationwide just in time for the holiday season. Ignazio Vella, the chief executive officer who took over the reins from his father in 1980, says the brand is so special it's been dubbed "California Gold."

The historic building, where wheels of fresh cheese are made and displayed for visitors, is located near the plaza in Sonoma where the Bear Flag, the California state flag, was first raised in 1846 in a revolt against Mexican rule. Less than a month later, it was replaced by the stars and stripes.

The reputation of the aged dry jack has been especially satisfying to "Ig" Vella, who said he developed a natural "touch" and "feel" approach for making quality cheese.

"Each cheese is individually handmade with the finest all natural ingredients using traditional old world methods on a new world product," said Vella. "The result is a unique all-purpose, long-lasting cheese of great depth and complexity."

Success at the company, said Vella, lies in the personal attention given to each day's production of a variety of cheese products.

"Quality starts in the pasture," he said. "Every cow is not the same, every day is not sunny, every blade of grass is not green and lush."

"But, if you insist on the finest breeding in the herds, the finest feeds, the greatest care in milking and transporting the top grade milk, so that you have the best possible natural raw material, you have set the stage for a superior cheese."

For holiday finger foods with a flair, says Vella, the dry jack is perfect for festive popovers or in making tasty cheese cakes that can be used for appetizers or served with salad and soup. Here are some family recipes:

VELLA'S CHEESE CAKES

2 1/2 tablespoons butter
3 1/2 tablespoons flour
3 egg whites, beaten stiff
5 tablespoons grated dry jack
Pinch of salt
Cayenne to taste
Melt butter under medium heat. Add flour, blending with a whisk. Remove from heat and add grated dry jack, salt and cayenne. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff. Drop the mixture from the tip of a teaspoon onto a buttered cookie sheet one inch apart. Put in 400°F oven for 12-15 minutes. Remove when toasty brown. Makes approximately 20 cakes.

GRATED DRY JACK POP-OVERS

1/2 cup grated dry jack
1 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt

1 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter, melted
2 large eggs

Place oven rack on next to lowest shelf. Preheat oven to 450°F. Grease 6 deep muffin or custard cups and sprinkle with dry jack; set aside.

Combine milk, flour, butter and salt in medium bowl. Beat in eggs just until blended (overbeating will reduce volume). Fill cups 3/4 full. Bake 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350°F (do not open oven door), and bake 20 minutes more. Carefully remove popovers with spatula and serve immediately.

CALIFORNIA GOLD PASTA

1 pound pasta or fettuccine
1 1/2 cups grated dry jack
1/2 pound butter
Salt and pepper to taste
Cook the pasta in boiling water until tender. Heat a serving dish. Drain the pasta and place in heated dish. Toss with the melted butter, salt and pepper and grated dry jack. Serve with salad and French bread. Serves 4.

Fruit desserts, hold the sugar

The glorious specialties are sure to please guests and family alike. It's a well known fact that the sweet tooth often wins out over rational dietary promises. But this Holiday you can have your cake and be guilt-free and sugar-free too!

A few simple recipes change—replacing empty sugar calories with SugarTwin low-calorie sugar replacement—is the solution.

MOCHA MOUSSE

1/2 cup cold water
1 cup cold coffee
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1 cup evaporated milk
1/4 cup SugarTwin
1 melted sugar-free dietetic chocolate bar

Pour cold water and coffee into a small saucepan. Sprinkle gelatin into water. Stir constantly over low heat until gelatin dissolves. Add evaporated milk, SugarTwin and dietetic chocolate bar. Blend well until chocolate melts. Remove from heat and chill until soft peaks form. Spoon into parfait glasses, garnish with fresh mint leaves, coffee beans or holiday decorations. Serves 6.

PUMPKIN PIEZ

1/2 cup Brown SugarTwin
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1 can (11 pound) or 2 cups pumpkin
3 eggs beaten
3/4 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup milk
1 9-inch unbaked pastry or graham cracker shell

Pre-heat oven to 425°F. Combine Brown SugarTwin, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and ginger in bowl. Blend in pumpkin, eggs, evaporated milk and milk. Pour into pastry shell. Bake 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 400°F, bake 30 minutes more or until a knife inserted halfway between the center and edge comes out clean. Serves 8.

Calories per serving: 150. Exchanges: 1 bread, 1 fat, 1/2 vegetable.

BERRY TART

1 cup unsweetened orange juice
1/2 cup Brown SugarTwin
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon orange rind
1 pint fresh berries
1 kiwi fruit
1 9-inch baked pastry or

Spiced Peaches, Raspberry Kiwi Tart, Mocha Mousse, and Pumpkin Pie.

graham cracker shell

To make glaze, combine in saucepan orange juice, Brown SugarTwin, cornstarch and grated orange rind. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thick and glossy. Set aside. Wash and dry berries, peel kiwi fruit and slice into thin rounds. Fill the pie shell with berries, putting them one at a time into the shell pointed side up. Pour glaze over berries, reserving a bit. Decorate with kiwi slices and drizzle remaining glaze over the tart. Serves 8.

Calories per serving: 154. Diabetic exchanges: 1/2 starch/bread, 1/2 fat, 1 fruit.

MINI GLAZED PEACHES

4 medium peaches
4 tablespoons margarine
8 tablespoons raisins
2 teaspoons mint extract
Pinch cinnamon
1 1/2 cups hot water
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/4 cup Brown SugarTwin plus 4 teaspoons
Pinch cloves
Fresh mint leaves for garnish

Peel and pit peaches from bottom being careful to keep peach intact. Layer in each peach cavity 2 teaspoons raisins and pinch of cloves and cinnamon and 1 teaspoon Brown SugarTwin. Place peaches in a baking dish cavity side down and sprinkle lemon juice over peaches. Dot each peach on top with one teaspoon margarine and sprinkle the 1/4 cup Brown SugarTwin over all the peaches. Add mint extract to water and pour into baking dish to cover bottom. Bake at 350°F for one hour until tender. Bake twice with juices from pan. Let cool and garnish with fresh mint sprigs. Serves 4.

Calories per serving: 121. Diabetic exchange: 1 fat, 1 1/2 fruit.

Assembling a family cookbook will produce delicious memories

Most holiday gatherings revolve around a meal of traditional family favorites, feasts that let family members share not only delicious food but fond memories.

If you want to preserve favorite holiday recipes and memories for generations to come, Better Homes and Gardens magazine suggests you use this season to create a family cookbook.

Here are some tips on putting one together:

—Put out a call for recipes.

Ask relatives to bring their favorite family recipes in writing. Ask for traditional holiday dishes, perennial family favorites—especially those that have been passed down through the years. Include any anecdotes or special reminiscences from family members.

—Give plenty of advance notice. Relatives need some time to go through their old files and standardize the recipes. Have them specify such things as precise baking time, oven temperature and ingredient amounts.

—Put together an editorial staff. Don't feel this is a solo project. Spread the work out by tapping into each family member's special talents. Ask the person with the best handwriting—or the word processor—to write the recipes; have the family artist do illustrations. The person with the head for figures can estimate costs for producing the book.

—Organize the cookbook. Sort the recipes into categories—appetizers, salads, main dishes, side dishes, beverages and desserts should cover most recipes. Decide ahead of time whether you're going to include all the recipes submitted or just the best. Let family members know ahead of time so there won't be any misunderstanding.

—Printing the book. There are a variety of methods available, from handwriting and photocopying to having it professionally typeset and printed. With the latter method, the more books printed will lower the cost but if you're planning less than 200 cookbooks, the price could be prohibitive. Other options include using a word processor and photocopying the text.

—Offsetting the costs. Deciding how you are going to pay for the book's production may help you determine which printing option to choose. For instance, if you're going to raise money to offset the costs by selling books outside the family or want copies for future generations, you'll need more books. If you're only providing the cookbooks for those who attend family gatherings, then you'll need a smaller number. Consider dividing up the costs among family members or securing some interest-free loans from relatives until the book starts selling.

For more information on producing a family cookbook, write for a free pamphlet to Reunion of Recipes, Better Homes and Gardens Magazine, P.O. Box 1237, Dept. 88, Des Moines, Iowa 50336.

The Table Was ... Loaded With Good Cheer

The dinner was served up in the great hall where the squire always held his Christmas banquet. A blazing, crackling fire of logs had been heaped up to warm the spacious apartment, and the flame was sparkling and wreathing up the wide-mouthed chimney.

We were ushered into this banqueting scene to the sound of minstrelsy, the old harper being seated on a stool beside the fireplace and twangling his instrument with a vast deal more power than melody. Never did Christmas board display a more gaudily and gracious assemblage of countenances: those who were not handsome were, at least, happy; and happiness is a rare attribute of your hard-favoured visage...

The table was literally loaded with good cheer, and presented an epitome of country abundance, in this season of overflowing larders...

When the cloth was removed, the butler brought in a huge silver vessel of rare and curious workmanship, which he placed before the squire.

Its appearance was hailed with acclamation; being the Wassail Bowl so renowned in the Christmas festivity...

The old gentleman's whole countenance beamed with a serene look of indwelling delight, as he stirred this mighty bowl. Having raised it to his lips, with a hearty wish of a merry Christmas to all present, he sent it brimming round the board, for every one to follow his example, according to the primitive style.

There was much laughter and rallying as the honest emblem of Christmas joviality circulated, and was kissed rather coyly by the ladies. When it reached Master Simon, he raised it in both hands, and with the air of a boon companion struck up an old Wassail chanson.

The Greatest King Of All

He was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another village, where he worked in a carpenter shop until he was 30.

Then, for three years, he was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never had a family or owned a home. He didn't go to college. He never visited a big city. He never traveled 200 miles from the place where he was born. He did none of the things that usually accompany greatness.

He had no credentials but himself. He was only 33 when the tide of public opinion turned against him. His friends ran away. One of them denied him. He was turned over to his enemies and went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. While he was dying, his executioners gambled for his garments, the only property he had on earth. When he was dead, he was laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen centuries have come and gone, and today he is the central figure of the human race.

All the armies that ever marched, all the navies that ever sailed, all the parliaments that ever sat, all the kings that ever reigned, put together, have not affected the life of man on this earth as much as that one solitary life.

Bach A Favorite At Christmas

Of all the inspiring music that is heard at Christmastime, none can excel the glorious sounds of Johann Sebastian Bach.

A deeply religious man, Bach through his music conveys to us all the rich heritage of his German background and the fruits of his genius are never more inspiring than during the holiday season.

Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" consists of six cantatas that feature a narrative of New Testament readings, interspersed with arias and chorales. This work was originally performed on six separate days: on three days at Christmastime, New Year's Day, the following Sunday and on the feast of the Epiphany.

The "Christmas Oratorio" is still performed by choirs here in the United States at Christmas, although not in its entirety.

Another Bach favorite during the holiday season is his "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" from Cantata No. 147. The rich choral measures and melodic background of this beautiful work, together with the worshipful text, cannot but inspire devotion in the hearer:

"Jesu, joy of man's desiring, holy wisdom siring love most bright, through the way where hope is guiding, hark, what peaceful music rings!"

Bach died in comparative obscurity in 1750 and for many years his works were forgotten. But today his genius is recognized, and shines forth brightly.
