Audrey Hiers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hiers, Enterprise has been awarded a Lewis scholarship, was in competitive exams for future teachers at Florida State University. The winner, who has just completed her freshman year at the school, is majoring in physical education. The scholarship gives her $400 toward her education.

A. K. Shoemaker today went on the city's payroll as administrative assistant to City Manager Warren Knowles. The 34-year-old was only recently discharged from the Army where he served as a second lieutenant in Korea for more than a year. He holds a master's degree in engineering from the University of Florida. He graduated in 1952. His primary assignment with the City will be to obtain soil piping and right-of-way permits for the City's water and sewer project.

Charles Morrison, member of The Herald's advertising staff, recently received a letter and clipping from Franklin English, who used to be a watch repairman here and now is pursuing his trade while living at 611 E. Grand St., Hazel Park, Mich. "I'm here in Detroit," he said in the letter, "and really have a good job in a large jewelry store. I'm already manager of the repair department." The clipping contained a story with the headline "Meet Pete" (English) which appeared in a local newspaper.

Commencement exercises will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Seminole High School auditorium.

Doris Jean Carlson, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Carlson, will go to New Smyrna Beach next week where she has been asked to be a miniature majorette in the Seattle Fiesta parade on June 11. She also will compete with other little girls in the Junior Miss Seaside Fiesta contest, a beauty contest for youngsters. The sixth annual fiesta is scheduled to start at noon Thursday and last until Sunday afternoon.

MEETINGS TO BE HELD
The County superintendent of public instruction, R. T. Milwee, has scheduled a meeting of the board of school trustees for Monday at 4 p. m. A meeting of the school board will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. Both meetings will convene in the superintendent's office.

Ike's Housing Program Gets Senate Approval

Legislative Body Endorses Request For Authority To Build Dwellings

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's housing program, fresh from overwhelming victory in the Senate, was ready today for a Senate-House conference in which public housing was the chief point in dispute.

The senators late yesterday shouted approval of the overall housing legislation providing liberalized government-insured credit for home buyers, a stepped-up slum clearance program and new safeguards aimed at preventing any future abuses in government-aided housing.

By a 66-16 vote—the only roll call vote on the complex measure—they also endorsed Eisenhower's controversial request for authority to build 25,000 new public housing units a year over the next four years.

The House version contains no such provision, public housing having been rejected there by a vote of 211-154.

Chairman Charles McNichols of the Senate Banking Committee, announcing a Senate-House conference committee to work out a compromise bill would start a week from today, presented in an interview that the joint group would okay at least some public housing and that the House would call off a dog.

Yesterday's Senate roll call followed an unusual behind-the-scenes maneuver in which Republican and Democratic leaders joined hands so that the GOP chiefs could get smashing approval for an appropriation request and the Southern Democrats could go on record without the segregation issue.

It happened this way: Sen. Maybank of South Carolina, Senior Ranking Committee Democrat and long a staunch advocate of public housing, had succeeded in securing committee approval of a 200,000-unit program, much bigger than Eisenhower asked. Then the Supreme Court turned down an appeal from a lower court ruling which banned segregation in a San Francisco public housing project.

Sen. Maybank interpreted this as a ban on segregation in all public housing. He said he would try to knock out on the Senate floor, the provision he had sponsored in the committee.

Leaders of both parties, it was reported, then agreed to handle Maybank's motion without a roll call vote. The motion went down by voice, and Maybank himself made no effort to place his colleagues on record. Majority Leader Knowland of California immediately endorsed Eisenhower's proposal.

Other major provisions in the Senate measure are: Lower down payments and longer repayment periods for home mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

Welfare Official Says 1,377 Here Assisted In April

Mrs. Mary G. Holler, member of the district No. 12 board of the State Department of Public Welfare, reports that in Seminole County, 1,377 persons were assisted financially during the month of April.

A total of 917 persons received old age assistance to the amount of $43,138. 37 persons received aid to the blind, totaling $1,729, and 423 families, representing 1,129 children, received aid to dependent children, in the amount of $52,150.

Forty persons applied for public assistance during April, and 25 applications were approved and 11 were rejected. Eleven assistance grants were cancelled during the month because the persons were no longer eligible.

In addition eight children received service including foster care, help with emotional and physical problems and social planning.

There were six adoption petitions under study for the Circuit Court. These are children placed in homes independent of service through a licensed child placement agency and the welfare department is responsible according to law to present a study and recommendations to the court.

IGNORING her plea to "leave me alone, I want to die," New York politician Anne Bradshaw, 41, from the North River after a 25-minute struggle. The woman was seen to slip into the water at 4:45 a.m. by a passing officer, who immediately dived in after her.

Plans Being Made To Reopen School For Sewing Work

Plans are being made to reopen the local vocational sewing school especially in view of the fact that Brooks-Kill Mills has made a change in its type of production which requires higher skilled workers according to Forrest Breckinridge, member of the Chamber of Commerce.

The concern will need at least 25 of the higher skilled operators within five weeks, he revealed.

Several highly skilled operators are working now on the new products and are earning from $9 to $11 per day, he said.

The Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, George E. Tushy, chairman, urges that all persons who are willing to complete the sewing course and make an effort to become finished, skilled operators contact Fred Murray, County head of adult and vocational training, at the Court House.

This is an opportunity for a much larger payroll and higher pay from garment factories, Breckinridge pointed out.

Leaders Meeting Held By Agent

Miss Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration agent, conducted a leaders training meeting for summer 4-H leaders yesterday afternoon at her office.

The following women attended: Mrs. Joseph King and Mrs. Howard Green of Fern Park, Mrs. W. B. Evans, Lake Mary, Mrs. Herman D. Jones, Sanford, Mrs. Joyce Ebert, Lake Monroe, Mrs. Richard McCanna and Mrs. J. Murray, Matland, Mrs. James I. Hargreaves, Sanford, and Mrs. L. W. Moraski and Mrs. Barney Gutzke, Chuluota.

The Sanford 4-H Club will meet at the County canning kitchen, 401 E. 25th St. June 17 at 9:30 a. m. All 4-H Club girls will be welcome.

Vietminh Get Bloody Victories

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Communist Vietminh rebels scored two bloody successes in the Hanoi delta yesterday. One posed a new threat to the vital French lifeline between Haiphong and Hanoi. The other turned a Roman Catholic seminary into a battleground where hundreds died in hand-to-hand combat.

Wave after wave of Vietminh troops crushed the stubborn defense of the 60 Vietminh men making the garrison at Chu Mot, 24 miles southeast of Hanoi and only 8 miles south of the Haiphong-Hanoi road. Over this road are conveyed supplies and equipment needed at Haiphong harbor.

Cut off by the Vietminh for nearly three weeks and under almost constant rebel assault during the past seven nights, the leaders smashed five assaults last night before the Vietminh tide overwhelmed them. How many Vietnamese escaped death or capture was not known, a French high command spokesman said in continuing the battle.

Seventy-five miles southeast of Hanoi, 1,000 Vietminh smashed their way through the village of Chuangphung against 1,000 Vietminh and a handful of volunteer Catholic militiamen who made a seven-hour stand in the seminary.

It was "truly a battle between Communists and Catholics—a religious war," a French army spokesman said.

The dead and dying fell or were thrown from windows and balconies in a hand-to-hand combat that raged on the staircases and in the corridors, a French army spokesman reported. Burning grenades pocked the seminary walls.

An indication that as high as 800 Vietnamese and Catholic militiamen may have been killed or captured at Chuangphung was seen in the French spokesman's report that the command "hoped 200 to 300 survivors from the seminary might get back."

Merchants Group Meets At City Hall

Sanford's Merchants' Association met yesterday afternoon in the City Hall. For the most part, the meeting was given over to reports, according to Gordon Sweeney, secretary of the organization.

A report was heard on the recent Sanford Navy Day celebration. It is expected that the association will have even as $1,000 had been donated to the celebration by local merchants. Costs to date amount to $1,700, leaving a profit of $300.

The directors passed a motion to make honorary members of all persons not regular members of the organization, who gave their time and effort to make the day a celebration.

Robert Hanson, chairman of the membership drive committee, reported that the organization had 47 paid-up members as of yesterday and urged members who have not paid their yearly dues to do so immediately.

The board passed a motion that all members close their business the Monday following Independence Day in celebration of the event, which falls on a Sunday.

Key Figures Of Probe Agree To Use Of Telephone Calls Between Pentagon, Solons

STAR LOCATIONS: Area in East Germany, where a $100,000,000 from East German atomic research center reportedly will be built. Area in the center of a uranium mining region. A refugee scientist said Communist China already has started working with German experts on construction of the laboratory in central Poland.

PARIS (AP) — France ordered ten Paul Ely, armed forces chief of staff, to the double-barreled job of military and political chief in Indochina today. By putting a new man in the combined command, Premier Joseph Laniel's cabinet sought to bolster the sagging defenses of the resort town country.

Ely, 56, replaces Gen. Henri Navarre as military commander in chief and Maurice Dejean as commander central of Indochina. Navarre, particularly, has been a major target of criticism since the fall of Dien Bien Phu.

Ely recently returned from a survey mission to the East Eastern background. His report has been made the basis of government plans for all-out defense against new Vietminh rebel thrusts to the vital Red River delta around Hanoi.

The appointment came shortly after Laniel's shaky regime gave further evidence of its determination to fight on in Indochina. The cabinet yesterday named Edouard Frederic Dupont, minister for the Associated States of Indochina and raised the post to full cabinet rank. Frederic Dupont's pre-1954 background includes the junior ministerial rank of secretary of state.

In combining the top Indochinese military and political commands the government returned to the setup followed when the late Marshal Jean de Lattre de Tassigny hurried the Communist-led Vietminh back from the delta in 1953.

De Lattre had been given both posts after a try at dividing them to minimize military influence on the developing Viet Nam government had not proved entirely successful. By again concentrating power in our man's hands, the government obviously hoped Ely would be able to rein in the latter's successful offensive.

There was no immediate announcement of new assignments for Navarre and Dejean. Both men had assumed their duties in Indochina only last year.

Ely's successor also was not named immediately.

The new Indochina chief is a three-wounded veteran of both world wars. A graduate of St. Cyr military academy, France's West Point, he became chief of staff last August.

Shrimp Boat Is Released

LAKE CHARLES (AP) — George Steele Jr., executive secretary of the Southeastern Fishermen's Association, said today he had just received a telegram that the shrimp boat Richard's sized off a composite of Mexico, Monday had been released.

Steele said Newman said the shrimp had been sold because no one could be obtained for shipping them. He said the wire contained the other details.

French General Has Dual Role In Indochina

PARIS (AP) — France ordered ten Paul Ely, armed forces chief of staff, to the double-barreled job of military and political chief in Indochina today.

Welch, McCarthy Confer

Understanding Debate Climax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy today agreed to permit use in the McCarthy-Army hearings of his monitored telephone calls with Army officials.

McCarthy and Army Counsel Joseph N. Welch agreed that all monitored telephone calls between Pentagon officials and senators and Sen. McCarthy, should go into the public record.

Welch and McCarthy further agreed that efforts should be abandoned to make the call involving key figures in the dispute—calls between administration officials only, and calls involving Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr, aides to McCarthy.

McCarthy and Welch had a conference outside the hearing room and returned to announce their understanding.

Welch said the hearings subcommittee should require the "inexplicable fact" that disclosure of calls within the administration is barred by President Eisenhower's directive forbidding testimony on conferences between administration officials.

He said it also should recognize McCarthy has taken the consistent stand that if these calls are not introduced, all the others should not be.

McCarthy said he agreed with Welch but if the other senators were going to put their calls into the record, he would agree to put in his.

The upshot of the McCarthy-Welch agreement, unless overturned by the subcommittee itself or later developments, would be that calls involving senators, including McCarthy, would be made public but no others could be.

The Welch-McCarthy understanding climaxed an hour's debate in the hearing room on the issue of the monitored calls.

In one apparent moment, Sen. Symington (D-Miss.) shook a consent agreement for release of monitored calls at McCarthy and called on him to stand.

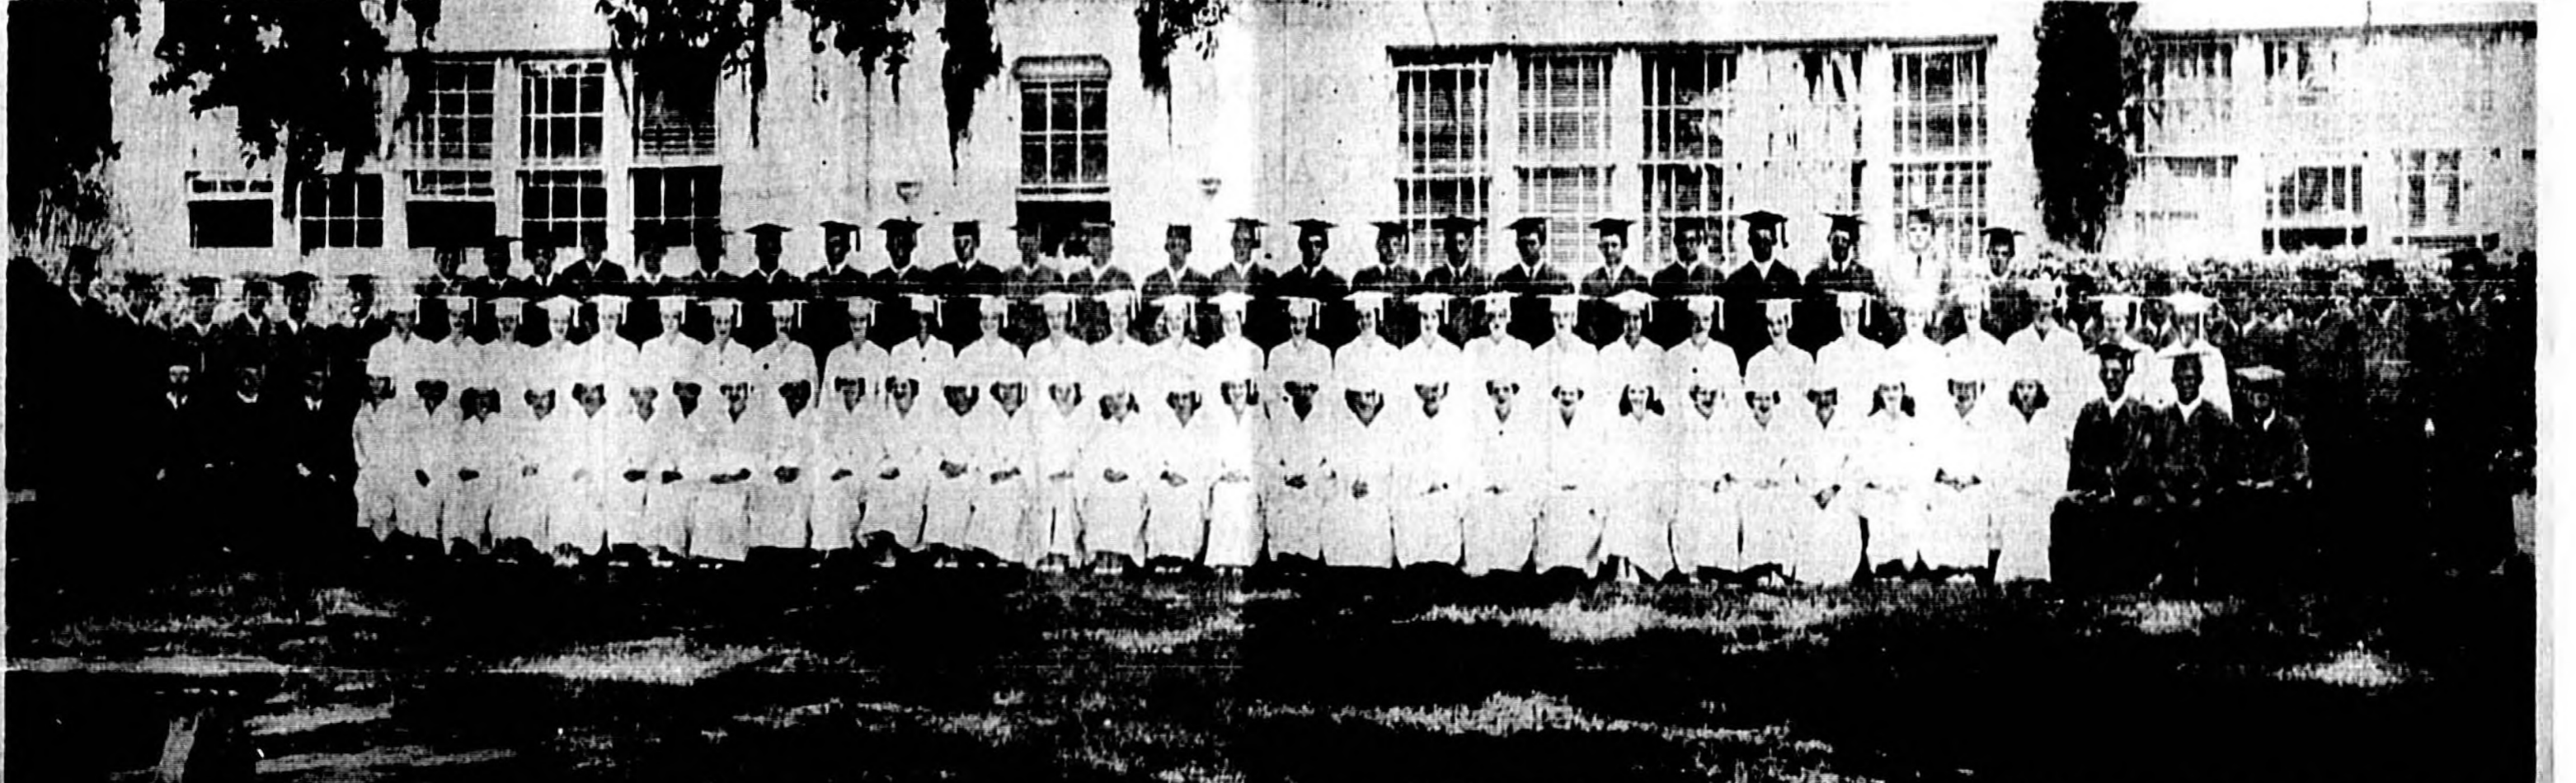

Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) banged his gavel and called in order.

Now, Mr. chairman, let's don't try to get anybody off the hook here," Symington told Mundt.

In another angry exchange, McCarthy demanded that Symington be required to testify under oath to conversations with Secretary Stevens concerning what McCarthy termed Army attempts to thwart hearings on alleged Communist infiltration of Army installations.

Symington had acknowledged earlier that Stevens had approached him about the investigation.

Joan Foster, Bride By Alice Ross Colver

THE DAYS passed. Mrs. Hunter took it for granted that her plan was acceptable to Joan and every morning she came nocking up stairs to the little apartment.

The older woman was not orderly or systematic as Joan was, so that the latter found this helping difficult. "Never mind that. Just leave it," Mrs. Hunter would say.

Joan had been embarrassed and upset. Such a frank revealing of what must have been, and still was, a deep pain, left her not knowing how to answer. She felt curiously, much older than this woman before her, who was actually twice her age.

She stopped for a moment. Then she went on. "He told me he thought Todd might grow up to be a student like himself. And if he did, then he would need lots of privacy and I must never break into it. If you want to keep your son close," he said to me, "you must let him go from you."

She stopped again, her face working so that Joan felt sorry for her. She was like someone who had been bereaved. Perhaps she had been bereaved. How thankful she was when a sudden emergency summoned Mrs. Hunter away for a day.

Bringing Meat To Your Table

Everyone knows this country has a meat problem. It is probably many people haven't too accurate an idea of why it exists, and what happens to the money that passes through its hands.

The reason for its being is plainly shown in a simple set of statistics. According to the latest available government figures on the subject, the states west of the Mississippi account for 62 per cent of our livestock production — while 69 per cent of all the meat is consumed in the states east of the Mississippi. In other words, the major livestock-producing areas and the big consuming areas just don't match up. The packers' job is to get meat from where it is grown to where it is eaten. It's a highly competitive field too—there are more than 4,000 meat packers and they are located in every section of the country.

The story of what the packers do with the money they take in is an interesting and significant one. In a recent year, out of each sales dollar — which means their income from all sources, by-products included—they paid 77-6-10 cents for livestock and other farm products; 10-9-10 cents for payroll; 9-8-10 cents for other necessary expenses, and 1-1-10 cents for taxes. This left them with six-tenths-of-one-cent, which was their net profit. It's evident that if they'd made no profit at all the consumer would never have noticed the difference in the price paid for meat.

So They Moved On

Representatives of a sizable industrial firm recently considered a Texas town as a possible site for a new factory which will develop a weekly payroll of $22,500 within two years. All elements were favorable except one—and that one fly in the ointment was sufficient to result in a turn-down. The town in question has a municipal power plant. So the representatives moved on, to seek a site elsewhere.

This need not be taken as a reflection on

HAL BOYLE

Writes Open Letter To Joe College

NEW YORK (AP)—An open letter to Mr. Joseph College, Class of 1954, U.S.A.:

Dear Joe:
Leaving the ivory tower this year, you come into a world that has lost the Ivy of the past.

A vast and visible vista lies before you that holds a greater peace or a deeper agony than mankind has ever faced before.

Before your present crew cut wears into baldness the issue will be settled. This crumbling dream you see now will firm into an achieved vision, or fragment into a nightmare chaos—and, as it goes, the credit or blame will largely come to you.

For whatever security you have known you come to breathless problems. It is your task to pick up the terrible broken mirror of "now" and try to make it reflect a better world.

It's a great challenge... it's your opportunity... And I'm glad it is yours. My generation took up the mirror in its turn, and I regret to say for all its efforts, most still head it to you cracked and considerably fogged.

Time... time... time... that impartial leveler... reaches to reduce or exalt you with ancient troubles before the ink is dry on your diploma, before your mother—crying for all the difficulty it caused the family to get you educated—can wet it with exultant tears, secret or public.

Now you are a man, with a certificate that says so, in a time that's about as fortunate, or unfortunate, as any. At least it's a great thing to get a college degree in a time when there still are many like you waiting.

If some industry doesn't want you—well, Uncle Sam's does. You may think that a forgotten course in the history of early Roman hand instruments or a nodding acquaintance with Caesar's Gallic campaigns was a waste of classroom time.

Perhaps so, perhaps not. The disciplines of learning, however carefully and lightheartedly taken, however seriously accepted, does the management of the municipal plant in question. No doubt it does the best it can with the resources at its disposal. But it is a matter of record that, time and time again, municipal plants have been proved inefficient and generally unsatisfactory in their standards of service, particularly as these affect substantial industrial users of power, to whom interruptions and other such difficulties are extremely costly.

Why should this be so? There are various reasons. Municipal plants are too often run on a political rather than a business basis—which is always a danger when an agency of government goes into commercial business. An isolated plant, serving a single small or medium-sized community, generally simply can't obtain or afford the kind of facilities which are necessary if first-class service is to be assured. And finally, municipal plants are tax-free, and often run at a loss—which is reflected in higher taxes on all other property than would otherwise be necessary.

So, it isn't surprising that a private enterprise should look to another private enterprise for dependable power service.

Beaking Down Wage Scales

The Tennessee Valley Authority is undermining the wage structure of the coal industry in one of the principal coal producing regions of the country. That charge has been brought by the head of a coal operators' association* in a letter to Congressman Baker of Tennessee.

TVA is doing that, he said in effect, because it seems determined to buy its coal at the lowest possible price regardless of social or economic consequences. Contracts for coal have been given to firms which pay wages as low as $9 a day, where the union scale is $19. Obviously, no operator paying the union wage can meet this kind of sub-standard competition. To make matters still worse, TVA's policy has forced some other large coal buyers to follow the lead—so, once again, wages are sharply depressed, there is severe unemployment among union miners, and operators who live up to union standards must drastically curtail operations and in some instances totally close their mines.

In the letter to Congressman Baker this was said: "Is it any wonder then that the coal industry in the Valley is in the worst condition in its history at a time when it could be expected to be... in the strongest position of any segment of the coal industry in this nation? By reason of this policy of a government agency, and by reason of this alone, the large coal producers of Tennessee are now faced with the alternative of either closing down their mines permanently or drastically reducing wages, and if this policy is to be sanctioned by the Congress we believe that we are entitled to be advised of that fact."

It remains to be seen what will happen. It's hard to believe that Congress can favor a ruthless purchasing policy which would gravely weaken a great and essential industry and tear the established wage structure to shreds.

Public Forum

This column is for Sanford Herald readers to use in expressing their opinions upon any matter of interest to the general public. We solicit your ideas and fair criticisms of any existing conditions, city-wide, state and national; comments or criticisms of individuals, public officials, groups or organizations, but be temperate, fair and truthful. No personalities. The length of your letter depends upon the importance of what you have to say. All letters will be signed by writer with address, though signature will be withheld from publication upon request. Wherever possible letters should be limited to 200 or 300 words. The Herald reserves the right to edit or cut letters to fit the space available.

To The Editor:
The people of Sanford, who have a feeling of civic pride, if they value their homes or property or if they love their children, should awake before it is too late.

On Monday night, June 14, three members of our City Council will, unless stopped by the voice of the people, amend our existing city stock-law, so that stock can be kept within one hundred feet of your residence instead of five hundred feet, as at present.

This will mean that we are set back 15 years, in our progress, that our properties will be depreciated, that we and our children will be subjected to greater health hazards and risks, all in order that a few people of wealth and influence may have ponies for their children's pleasure.

There might be some justification of the proposed ordinance if those people with small means and large families could have a row to produce milk for their families while the children of wealthy parents ride their ponies but, unfortunately, the new ordinance rewards the owner of the animal to have 10,000 square feet of pasture land for the first animal and 3,000 square feet for each additional

Indians Beat Lie Detector

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The tales about stive Indians are not just legend. The vanishing American is actually poker-faced all over.

"It's an amazing thing, but it's apparently true," said Dr. H. H. Donahue, state mental health director who has conducted lie detector tests on several Indians.

The full-bloods defy all theories of emotional and galvanic response on which the polygraph (lie detector) is based.

"Every Indian tested here has shown nil," said the veteran psychiatrist. "We get no results at all. The graph just runs along with no quivers at all. We think it's because of their very stive nature," Dr. Donahue said mixed bloods do have definite reactions.

DAUGHTER TO MARRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sweet Lailani! Queens is going to marry an Air Force man.

Composer Harry Owens announced yesterday that his 18-year-old daughter, for whom he named his award-winning Hawaiian composition, is engaged to wed Air Force Pvt. Roy M. Dobrie Jr., 20, of Tucson, Ariz. They met last year as students at the University of Arizona.

Owens wrote his sons when Lailani was born in Honolulu.

This inclosure must not be less than 100 feet from the residence of another and not less than 35 feet from the curb line of any street. If you will sit down with a map, a pencil and some paper, you will soon discover that this proposed ordinance is intended to do only a chosen few; your space will probably not meet the requirements.

"If you don't like this change in the ordinance, be at the meeting of the night of June 14th next, and don't let anyone tell you that you can't talk if you want to."

Red Association Decision Factor

WASHINGTON (AP)—You could suit yourself about recalcitrating with a long-time Communist friend if you worked in a department store. There's no law against it.

The boss might frown if he found out. But you'd still be able to take that chance.

Suppose, though, you were one of the great atomic scientists, working for the government, and carrying around in your head secrets involving national security. Would you then be free to associate with that long-time Communist friend?

That's one of the points in the decision which found Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer loyal but a security risk. Oppenheimer, director of the wartime atom bomb development and a government consultant afterwards on atomic problems, was told last December he could no longer have secret information.

Oppenheimer asked for a hearing to clear his name. The five-man Atomic Energy Commission appointed a special, three-man board to consider his case. It did, for weeks. It heard 40 witnesses and read 6,000 pages of testimony and evidence. This week it gave its verdict.

It not only found him to be loyal but said he had a high degree of discretion and a great ability to

Appendicitis Can Be Tricky to Diagnose

By HERMAN M. BUNDESIN, M.D.

THE appendectomy has become so common an operation today that many look on it as a minor procedure, in company with hernial removal and the tacking of a ball. It is the operation most frequently done in general hospitals.

About ten to 15 per cent of all major operations performed are for acute appendicitis. In 1911 the death rate from appendicitis was almost eleven per one hundred thousand persons. It has decreased to a little over one per cent per one hundred thousand at the present time.

When Diagnosis Is Tricky
The diagnosis of appendicitis is often very difficult at the two extremes of age. Children get "bellyaches" from all kinds of disorders: too much food, too many sweets, colds, sore throats, measles, chicken pox, and pneumonia. They roam and run a high fever readily.

Sometimes it is quite difficult for the physician to determine the abdominal condition of a frightened youngster. Many times he will operate on a child with possible appendicitis when there are enough subjective signs, even though the short period of observation may not have fully confirm the diagnosis. The complications of a ruptured appendix are so great that waiting too long for a definite diagnosis could prove dangerous.

Appendicitis in older persons presents a similar serious problem. They do not develop the fever and the other symptoms of typical appendicitis. The physician in many cases may have as much difficulty diagnosing the disease in older people as in children. However, in any case of doubt it is usually thought best to remove the appendix before it ruptures.

Statistics show that there were still three thousand deaths from appendicitis in the United States in 1950, most of them preventable. Above all, when a "tummyache" appears, mothers should not give laxatives or enemas to their children without first consulting their physician.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mrs. H.: What is the cause of throat?

Answer: Throat is caused by an infection from a yeast-like fungus. It occurs commonly in the mouth and other membranes of the body in the form of white patches.

GAINESVILLE—University of Florida baseball coach Dave Fuller announced the awarding of varsity letters to 17 players and a student manager for competition during the 1954 season.

Letters were awarded to: pitchers Jack Bailey, Lake Worth; Pete Hurt, Orlando; Wes Larson, Gainesville; Charles Manning, DeLand; Dick Massey, Dade City; and Bert Touchberry, Columbia, S. C. Infielders Maxey Fray, Miami; Barry Horenstein, Miami Beach; Albert "Wimpy" Lagan, St. Leo; Lou Pezer, Orlando; and Steve Schell, Gainesville. Outfielders Wayne Clark, Lake Wales; Doug Dickey, Gainesville; Tommy Haddock, Jacksonville Beach; and Captain Rudy Simpson, Chilton, Tenn. Catchers Jerry Bilyk, St. Louis, Mo.; and Larry Jaffe, St. Augustine. A manager's letter was awarded to Matt Robbins, Jacksonville.

"B" team numerals were awarded to 15 other players who competed with the junior varsity. Receiving numerals were: Johnny Arnet, Gainesville; Don Bonner, Ft. Lauderdale; Tom Clark, Winter Haven; Walter Duda, Miami; William Hervey, Cedar Key; Manrey Hurt, Orlando; Charlie Jones, Clermont; Eddie Kansriddle, Tampa; Charlie King, Ft. Pierce; Robert McAlpine, New Port Richey; Clayton Miller, Jacksonville; Steve Nevinis, Miami; Charles Norton, Wewahatchee; James Theodorian, Smyrna, Ga.; and William "Bucky" Williams, Tampa.

The Varsity nine had a season's record of twelve wins against ten losses and finished third in the Eastern Division of the Southeastern Conference although they defeated Georgia, the divisional winner, three of four games played.

Invited last week to the District Three playoffs of the N. C. A. A. as the Southeastern Conference representative, the Gators were forced to refuse due to a conflict with their final examination schedule.

Individual honors went to Captain Rudy Simpson, who in addition to being named on every All-Conference team, was voted Most Valuable Player by the Atlanta Journal. Simpson last week signed with Cleveland Indians. First baseman Lou Pezer, although forced from the final four games, made every All-Conference selection. Outfielder Wayne Clark, the only player to be honored, made the Birmingham News Coach's selection team.

Robert Anton Grim, New York Yankees pitcher... Born March 8, 1930 in New York City. Now resides in Brooklyn... Parents were Hungarian immigrants... Played outfield and pitched in high school... Received tryouts with Giants and Braves but picked Yankees... First team in organized baseball was Butler, Pa., in defunct Mid-Atlantic League where he won 8 and lost 4 in 1948... Sent to Amsterdam, N. Y., in Canadian-American League where he had poor record of 6 wins and 14 losses... Yankees had confidence in Grim and moved him up to Norfolk, Va., in Piedmont League in 1950 where he won 10 games... In 1951 with Birmingham of Eastern League he had 16-5 record... Next two years he was in Marines where he won 39 games for Camp Lejeune... Still on Birmingham roster when he reported for spring training but impressed Casey Stengel so much that he was added to the New York squad before the start of the season.

GENE CONLEY, Milwaukee pitcher... Born Nov. 10, 1930 at Muskogee, Okla. Resides at Richmond, Wash. Tall left-handed pitcher at 6 feet 8... Weighs 225... Bats, throws right... Formerly played basketball at Washington State College and in pro ranks with Boston Celtics... Broke into organized ball in 1951 with Hartford, Conn., in Class A Eastern League with 20-9 record... Led league in innings pitched with 263... Fanned 173 and walked only 83... In first trial with Braves in 1952, when they represented Boston in the National League, lost his only three decisions... Optioned to Milwaukee Brewer, then in American Assn. in 1952 compiled 11-4 record... With Toledo in American Assn. in 1953 had 23-9 record to league circuit in victories... Also led in innings pitched (261), winning percentage (.719), strikeouts (211) and in least earned runs (2.90... Recently handed Brooklyn Dodgers their first shutout of season.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK—One of the prize stories of the past spring baseball training season concerned the arrival of Dave Philley, a fairly undistinguished outfielder, at the camp of the Cleveland Indians in Tucson, Ariz.

Seems that Philley, a fourth-year native of Paris, Tex., who had been shipped to the Indians during the winter by the Philadelphia Athletics, showed up wearing his 273 lifetime batting mark like a shield and said he believed he knew what had been ailing Manager Al Lopez' club. This was an interesting statement as the Indians had just finished second to the Yankees for the third straight time while Dave had been laboring exclusively for clubs of less renown.

What Dave said, in effect, was that he had been a great admirer of the Indians, with reservations. They had looked to him like a club which should win the pennant. He was hanged if he knew why they hadn't been winning it, unless it was just that they needed to have a fire lit under 'em. He said quite sincerely that he hoped to do just that.

Partly due to the fine defensive play and timely bat of the A's castoff and partly to several impressive moves made by Manager Lopez, such as shifting Al Rosen to first base and installing rookies at third and in left field, this year's Cleveland club is different-looking outfit. Whether Philley personally lit the fire it would be difficult to say, but somebody did.

It is not simple to peg this outfit. It seems to have given up some of its fearsome power by sending huge Luke Easter to Ottawa and by benching Dale Mitchell, whose .315 lifetime batting average is second only to that of Ted Williams in the American League. It has one of the rarest rookies in the land, Rudy Regalado, at third, and Al Smith, who hit only .240 in 47 games with the Indians last year, in Mitchell's old job in left field.

But, it's winning the very kind of games that the "old" Indians made a practice of losing. It has a new spirit. Few more thrilling games have been played than the opener of the current series with the Yanks, in which the Indians spotted the champions seven big runs in the first inning and came in to lick them 8-7 in the 10th. Before the shakedown, the Indians simply did not do such things. Or, perhaps we should have said, before Philley.

Ben Hogan Prolongs Shooting In Tourney

NEW YORK—Ben Hogan, the champion of all golf, has put off his first official crack at the heavyweight champion of golf course—massive fangot Baltusrol, but the 150,000-handicap golfers across the nation still get a chance to outscore him tomorrow.

Hogan was to test the 7,027-yard, par 70 Baltusrol, which has been armed with new rough and sand traps in the third annual National Golf Day in which the handicap golfers of the country matched their scores against his.

"They still will shoot their rounds, but Bantam Ben will wait until June 12 before testing Baltusrol, scene of the National Open June 17-19.

"I'm not weak to do justice in the event," Hogan said yesterday. The 41-year-old shotmaker has been ill since last week with a virus attack. He was forced to withdraw from the Colonial Open Saturday and was bedded several days.

"I'm not in very good physical condition," he said, after arriving in New York yesterday. "I've been troubled with a cold since March. I got over most of my aches and pains but I still feel pretty miserable, and my golf game certainly isn't sharp."

Then the leathery Texan busied a thousand golf hopes with the statement: "I don't see how I can possibly win the Open."

Pro And Duffer Cardinals Rained Out; Will Play In Kissimmee

By E. J. DUTCH HARRISON (Written for AP Newfeatures)
The average weekend golfer usually lacks the power and accuracy to hit the greens in the regulation number of strokes so it is evident that he has to be good around the greens to make up the difference.

In this respect, many golfers use wrong club judgment in trying to get down off the green in two shots. When we speak of "off the green" we're referring to those shots just off the green, say about five yards.

In this day of perfection golf clubs, you'll find a lot of amateurs, and some pros too, who invariably pull out a wedge, 9 or 8 iron on short pitch shots even when they have no embankments to shoot over.

In my many years of professional golf, I've learned that it's easier to roll the ball into the hole instead of bouncing it in. By this, I mean that a deep-faced club gets the ball higher into the air and when it hits the green it is bouncing and many times it keeps right on bouncing past the cup.

I've found that you can get best results with a straight-faced club such as a No. 4 or 5 iron. With these clubs, you can pitch the ball just past the fringe of the green and still keep it low, permitting it to roll toward the hole.

Of course, there are all types of shots to fit the individual but for those players who don't have the time to perfect those fancy wedge and 9 iron shots, the 4 and 5 irons are the stroke-savers around the green.

Authorities list as many as 250 species of the true rose and there are many hundred varieties.

CARDINALS BOX SPTS
Once again bad weather halted the baseball games between the Sanford Cardinals and the Pinecastle Airmen. The game was scheduled to be played Wednesday evening, but due to bad weather it was postponed until Thursday night.

These same two teams will be able to decide who is the better in Kissimmee Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the Kissimmee baseball stadium.

Easy-Payment Plan To Buy Refrigerator Is Announced Here

Announcement of a plan whereby Seminole County residents can buy a brand new Frigidaire refrigerator with no money down and for only 25 cents a day was made today by John Nelms, manager of the Claude H. Wolfe appliance store at 305 Sanford Avenue.

The idea is called the Claude H. Wolfe Meter Plan, according to Nelms. It is the first time the plan has been available here.

It works this way, Nelms said: "A purchaser simply comes into the store and selects the refrigerator he wishes. It is promptly delivered and a Meter Meter installed in the kitchen.

The purchaser deposits only a quarter a day and gets a receipt instead of a bill at the end of the month when coins are collected from the meter.

It is possible to deposit up to 23 additional quarters in advance. Nelms said, making provision for vacations or other absences from home.

A number of sizes of refrigerators are available on the Meter Plan, Nelms pointed out.

Key

Symington also said that because of his interest in maintaining Army morale, he had requested that the investigation be held up until he returned.

"At the outset of the day, Symington had lodged a motion that the investigating subcommittee direct McCarthy to give the FBI any names he has of suspected Communists or security risks working in defense plants or the federal government.

A vote on Symington's motion was deferred.

Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee, was in the witness chair for the sixth day but the debates over Symington's motion and the monitored calls consumed virtually all the afternoon session.

Still left up in the air today was the question of what is to be done with what McCarthy describes as a list of 133 suspected security risks in defense plants. The Defense Department so far has refused to accept the senator's terms for disclosing the list.

Ike's Program

(Continued From Page One) an $1,000 new home from the present $250 to $400 and on a $16,000 home from $3,200 to $2,200. Repayment periods would go to 30 years across the board on all new homes.

2. No change in the maximum FHA-insured $2,000 home repair loan program, repayable in three years. Lenders would take 20 per cent of the risk on each of these FHA-insured loans.

3. A program for more effective slum clearance with federal grants to communities to clear blighted areas.

But the Senate refused to take Eisenhower's program for no down payment, 40-year FHA-insured mortgages for low-cost homes in slum-cleared areas. It voted to require a 5 per cent down payment with a maximum 30-year term.

4. An increase in the amount of government money available for direct loans to veterans who can't get private credit to buy homes under the GI Bill. The Senate voted to allow a total of 200 million, double the present authorization.

5. Tight new restrictions on apartment projects built with FHA-insured mortgages so that buildings cannot make "windfall" profits as they allegedly have in the past.

6. A program for more effective slum clearance with federal grants to communities to clear blighted areas.

7. Extension of the farm housing program and a new section to give farmers a chance to get government-insured mortgages without putting up their whole farm as security for the loan.

8. Continuation of the Federal National Mortgage Assn. as an agent for the sale of government-owned homes to private capital in easy stages.

9. A new program of FHA insurance for home-tenant mortgages.

The Senate refused to give the president these things he asked.

Flexibility in mortgage interest rates, with rates pegged to the yields of long-term government bonds, flexibility in repayment periods, and down payments in the big sales housing program, so that they could be changed to fit economic conditions, equal mortgage terms for old and new homes.

Announcement of a plan whereby Seminole County residents can buy a brand new Frigidaire refrigerator with no money down and for only 25 cents a day was made today by John Nelms, manager of the Claude H. Wolfe appliance store at 305 Sanford Avenue.

The idea is called the Claude H. Wolfe Meter Plan, according to Nelms. It is the first time the plan has been available here.

It works this way, Nelms said: "A purchaser simply comes into the store and selects the refrigerator he wishes. It is promptly delivered and a Meter Meter installed in the kitchen.

The purchaser deposits only a quarter a day and gets a receipt instead of a bill at the end of the month when coins are collected from the meter.

It is possible to deposit up to 23 additional quarters in advance. Nelms said, making provision for vacations or other absences from home.

A number of sizes of refrigerators are available on the Meter Plan, Nelms pointed out.

Ex-Sergeant Gets Life Sentence

MIAMI (AP)—Harold E. Taylor, 32, a veteran of 17 years in the armed services, yesterday was sentenced to life imprisonment in the fatal shooting Sept. 4 of his wife, Helen, 23.

He was denied bond while making an appeal.

Taylor, former Air Force master sergeant, was convicted of firing a .25 caliber bullet into the heart of his wife "because she had some dirty money."

The shooting occurred in their home only hours before they were to leave for a new assignment in Japan. They had been married eight months.

RECENT ADDITIONS—The Sanford zoo's most recent additions are Hambi and Handessa, baby deer. Both were to take their first steps in about five days, but Handessa seemed a little slower than her brother, who is shown. (Staff Photo)

Monkey Ostracized Planned Resolution Put Up For Sale

For sale—our dictator, Junior size.

Angled, the Sanford Zoo's spider monkey with a dictatorial complex, has been put on the block by Arnold Hood, zookeeper, who says, "Anyone who desires a monkey will part with 20 bucks can have him."

Last week angles got together with two other monkeys and formed a Sanford zoo storm troopers' society. The three then took over the food stand, fed their buddies and beat off those who weren't club members. This lasted for about five days. Then came the resolution.

Monkeys turned an opposition party stormed the food stand, beat all three monks and threw the leader, Hambi, into the most. Zookeeper Hood promptly threw him back on the island. And the remaining monkeys threw him into the next again.

For the past week, Hambi, like Napoleon, has been at his villa, a separate cage. Yesterday, Hood tried again. The same result occurred—one wet dictator.

So there is nothing left to do but trade him off to somebody who may want a washed-out dictator, Junior size.

OFFICER ESCAPES HANOI

INDOCHINA (AP)—The first French officer to escape his capture at Dien Bien Phu and flee through enemy territory reached Hanoi yesterday.

Lt. Raymond Makowiak, 32, said he survived on corn and rice sneaked to him by friendly natives during his long trek through rugged mountains and jungles to the little post of Nam Bac.

GENEVA (AP)—The Indochina peace conference made another effort today to break its deadlock on the issue of how a proposed Indochina cease-fire should be supervised.

Yugoslavia, Greece Begin Pact Work

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greece and Yugoslavia today began drafting an agreement which will bind their countries with Turkey in a new Balkan pact for mutual defense.

Greek Premier Alexander Papagos, host this week to Yugoslavia's President Tito, described the Balkan alliance as "realistic because yesterday's danger of war has been eliminated."

Bidault, Molotov Have Unsuccessful Cease-Fire Talk

GENEVA — French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and Russian Vyacheslav M. Molotov were reported by French sources to have had a "useful" exchange of views today on supercession of the present Indo-China cease-fire.

The French were reported however, to have come around to the Soviet position that at least one Communist nation would have to be included in the supervisory agency. Molotov was reported to have insisted upon this as a must.

French sources said Bidault now believes something can be worked out by taking three Asian nations, possibly India, Pakistan and Thailand as a base and adding one Communist country and one West European nation to the commission.

Bidault was understood to have told Molotov he was finally open to any commission on which the Communists and non-Communists would be evenly divided, such as the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in Korea. This body consists of representatives of Switzerland, Sweden, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Bidault also opposed supercession by a mixed French-Vietnam commission, unless such a body is limited to observation roles under control of an international commission.

The French foreign minister and Molotov also talked briefly about steps to speed up the military talks now going on in Geneva between representatives of the two high commands. These talks, dealing with the question of regrouping the rival forces after a cease-fire, were understood to have made no progress.
