

LENA CLARKE'S STATEMENT SIGNED, SEALED, DELIVERED TO SHERIFF KAREL SATURDAY

In Which She Gives Reasons For Killing Miltmore

NOT CONSCIOUS OF KILLING HIM AS SHE DOES NOT REMEMBER THE CIRCUMSTANCES

Lena Clarke, who is in jail at Orlando charged with the robbery of the West Palm Beach postoffice and the murder of F. A. Miltmore, made the following confession to Sheriff Karel Saturday afternoon and this seems to be her last one for the present:

"In the early part of May, 1920, I worked until after midnight on my accounts, went home leaving all vouchers in a drawer to my desk designed for that purpose. In the morning when I came to the office the desk was broken open and the account gone, also all records of paid order numbers. I was completely disheartened by this loss which made it almost impossible for me to hide the other any longer. I wired for an inspector who arrived in a few days and recommended to the auditor that credit be allowed me for the stolen orders, but I was not sure this would be done and wrote Mr. Elwell that I had decided to let him help me out. Death intervened, as he was found murdered in his home in New York a few days later, before I heard a second time from him.

In the fall of 1920 I received word from the auditor to deposit $20,000 at Jacksonville to cover the amount of the orders, "pending a further investigation." This, it was naturally impossible for me to do. I went to Jacksonville in December, 1920, intending to ask inspectors for advice, but when I reached there I could not open my mouth and speak because of their wishes for me to make good in the position of postmaster which I had secured.

I returned home from Jacksonville and had a long talk with my brother, telling him everything. He asked me to wait until after Christmas, give Lee killed in her home here late Saturday night supposedly by a burglar. The annual tour of field duty of the First Florida Infantry was in progress at Camp Johnston and when Sheriff Merritt early last night received reports that attempts would be made to lynch Hamilton he asked for troops. A guard was thrown about the county jail and will remain until the danger is over. Hamilton was arrested yesterday after bloodhounds followed a trail from the scene of the murder to his home.

CHARGE THE DYE TRUST CONTROLS THREE MEMBERS PRESIDENT HARDING'S CABINET

Representative Frear Makes Sensational Charges in Letter

WASHINGTON, August 8.—The charge that "the dye monopoly headed by the Chemical Foundation Company" has sought to influence three members of President Harding's cabinet in an effort to perpetuate its "present exclusive power in this country" is made by Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, in a letter to Chairman Penrose of the senate committee considering the tariff bill. The communication was made public yesterday by Mr. Frear with the announcement that copies had been sent to the president and "to others who would seem to speak with authority on matters" contained in it.

The Wisconsin member, who led the successful fight in the house against the dye embargo in the Fordney bill, referred specifically to the letters written to Senator Penrose by Secretaries Weeks and Denby, who urged continuance of the embargo so that the country might be provided with chemicals in the event of war.

Mr. Frear also declared that Attorney-General Daugherty had failed to acknowledge or act upon his letter of July 18, asking that legal proceedings be instituted to set aside the Chemical Foundation Company.

"No invisible government," Mr. Frear said, "has ever shown more brazen effrontery than this dye monopoly. We may well be concerned over the power of these dye interests that reach to three cabinet officers in

WAR VETS OF 22 STATES RECEIVE $375,000,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—State legislation converting more than $375,000,000 to the aid of World War veterans has been passed over a risk waiting popular referendum, the Bank of America announced last night at the conclusion of a nationwide survey of the bonus situation. Veterans in fourteen states already are receiving cash bonuses totalling $184,000,000 and in eight more states legislation providing for cash bonuses of $191,000,000 now is pending.

Only Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi have failed to pass legislation authorizing aid to veterans in exemptions or benefits of some kind, the report declared.

The bonuses range from $10 a month for service in a number of states to $25 a month in North Dakota. Several states set maximum rates, ranging from $100 in New Jersey to $500 in Oregon.

North Dakota claims the honor of having been the first state to pay the bonus, and Illinois heads the list for amount with $55,000,000, provided the bonus law passes a popular referendum.

Many states which have given cash bonuses also are providing aid for a practical nature. In fifteen states aid is offered for vocational education and in California a bill has been adopted providing for vocational education of veterans' dependents.

Arizona, California, Oregon and South Dakota provide aid in buying homes and in Oregon the bonus is made optional with the privilege of borrowing up to $3,000 on real estate from the state. Nine western states offer assistance in settling on farms and in eight more western states special boards have been established to look after the interests of former service men.

In Connecticut, Texas and Wyoming, veterans are exempted from taxation. Sixteen states provide for civil service preference in the cases of former service men.

THE SANFORD BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION AND WHAT IT MEANS

The Herald is deeply interested in the Sanford Building & Loan Association, not from a monetary standpoint, but from the viewpoint of a citizen who has been here ever since this institution started, who built a home through the association and who has been a staunch friend of the association for years. It seems so absurd for citizens of Sanford to put their money in outside investments that promise much and give nothing in return when there is the best investment in the world right at your very door. The first real reason for investing your money in the Sanford Building & Loan Association is the fact that it is safe and sane and sure. This means that regardless of whether you have any sentiment in the matter it means a good investment from a purely business standpoint. The second reason is that it is a home institution and you are keeping your money at home which is the very foundation of building a great city. The third reason is that you are building up your city and right now when the Building & Loan Association has loans aggregating almost $100,000 for new homes that people want to build and the money is not forthcoming it would seem that the folks who have money to invest would stop and consider all that it means to you and to the city of Sanford to place your money in the Sanford Building & Loan Association. There are hundreds of reasons why you should invest your money at home. There are hundreds of reasons why you should invest your money in the Sanford Building & Loan Association. Just why people do not invest their money at home is one of those strange problems that are beyond the comprehension of those who make a study of the whims of the public. If sufficient money was invested in the Sanford Building & Loan Association right now Sanford could have ONE HUNDRED NEW HOMES READY FOR OCCUPANCY THIS WINTER. Think of what this would mean in the influx of new people here when we need them. Think of the employment it would give to the builders of houses. Think of the money that would be spent through all the trade channels. Will you stop and think at all?

Miami Business Men May Form Corporation To Finance Schools

BAD STATE OF AFFAIRS IN MAGIC CITY.

MIAMI, Aug. 6.—Business men and civic organizations of the city today were considering the formation of a $400,000 corporation to finance the schools of Dade county the coming term.

Approximately half a million dollars in debt, facing suits for $165,000 on long past due time warrants, the school board last week announced that it would be impossible for them to open the fall term on time. The schools could not be opened, it was declared, until the first of January, 1922, when sufficient taxes would be paid in to enable the board to pay the teachers' and janitors' salaries. It was suggested that the teachers, if they wished to do so, be permitted to conduct classes on a tuition basis.

The plan for the formation of a corporation to finance the operating expenses and to open the schools on time was presented to the Rotary Club today by Frank B. Shuts publisher of the Miami Herald. The money thus advanced to the school board would be paid back to stock subscribers in the corporation. Both clubs have appointed committees to go into the proposition.

THE LENA CLARKE CASE SEEMS MORE COMPLICATED BY FURTHER ENTANGLEMENT

Continued from Page One. said had refreshed her mind and given her a clear idea of how it all happened, both county and state officials have decided to delve deeper into the affair before making further statements.

Sheriff Karel, who had been absent in West Virginia on other official duties, returned to Orlando last night and immediately visited the prisoner. Karel again today was in consultation with Miss Clarke, but stated to newspapermen that he was not prepared to make any statement at present. He intimated that he might have something to say at a later date.

George W. Krick, special correspondent of the Jacksonville Metropolitan has opened up a new train of thought in the Orlando murder mystery.

WEST PALM BEACH, Aug. 6.—With the suspense, which has enshrouded the local community, for the past three days, finally lifted in the second confession of Miss Lena Clarke it now remains only to weave in the loose ends of the two crimes. All is not yet told.

It may require several days yet to settle the troubled waters, but the high tide has passed, and although the city was rocked to its very depths by the tragedy which had its origin here and was diverted in its climax to Orlando, it has already shown signs of an early recovery.

While every curious and anxious ear has been listening for the final outcome and fate of Miss Clarke since the death of F. A. Miltmore last Monday night in Orlando, which also announced the $32,000 postoffice robbery in this city, the sleuths of Uncle Sam have been working with the composure of the laborer on an ordinary job. The confession to the murder of Miltmore by Miss Clarke practically ended the thought of the tragedy in the public mind, but the work of the postoffice inspectors who have been tirelessly working on the case will have to continue raking over the heated coals until every detail of the situation can be cleared to the satisfaction of the federal authorities in Washington.

Many things cannot be accounted for according to the inspectors in the manipulations of the former postmistress. Her methods in her personal business and certain characteristics being so foreign to the ordinary person with whom they have had to deal with.

Although Miss Clarke has made a clean breast of the entire affair as far as the simple act of robbery and murder are concerned, there still appears in the minds of those who have been actively connected with the case from the beginning that something is lacking. Her motives for her deeds may have for the moment satisfied the average person, but not those who have been invited into the circle of investigation through duty.

Some still believe that Miss Clarke is not guilty of killing F. A. Miltmore even though she confessed, but instead has been willing to take the blame to shield another. Others believe that she is insane and has stated her motive fully. The latter believe upon the plea of insanity she can cast off the usual penalty and eventually become a free woman again.

For reason that there has been nothing tangible upon which to substantiate her dealings with Mr. Miltmore, in regard to papers, and other evidence in her personal records, her motives as stated are questioned seriously by the authorities. That she was a peculiar woman is found by the inspectors in all of her personal files. Her eccentricities are many and appear to have been the outgrowth of a spiritualistic mind which she placed above everything.

She flaunted repeatedly the accusations of inspector in charge, L. A. Johnson, when he fastened the last link in the chain and the robbery upon her in the presence of her assistants. She defied him to withstand her gaze, stating that she could read his mind and knew that he was bluffing her. In the face of the plea by the inspector last Saturday to "come clean" that the rest of her staff might be saved suspicion and humiliation and that she

NEWEST UMPIRE IN LEAGUE GETS A GOOD SEND OFF.

On a cloudless day back in 1904, two teams took the field at the old ball park in Greenville, S. C. The Greenville team boasted of a new outfielder whom they had recently signed; the opposing also had a star by the name of Wagner. Greenville's speedy rookie was Jackson, fresh from the cotton mill district, and a born hater of shoe leather. His debut was greeted by some rabid fan, who screamed, "Shoeless Joe Jackson," as the players ran to their positions. The name stuck, even when Joe broke into the big leagues. It sticks today as he is being tried for participation in the most monumental swindle in the history of any sport.

His co-star of the Greenville series, John A. Wagner, also went up to the big tops, playing outfield with the New York Yankees, while George Stallings, later "Miracle Man," of the Boston Braves, was managing the Manhattan American League Club. Wagner, however, spent several terms with various clubs in the South Atlantic League, starting with Jacksonville, which then held a franchise in the "Cally" circuit, before making the jump to the big time. Returning from the Yankees, he was still good for several seasons with the Georgia State League teams.

On Thursday afternoon, John A. Wagner, of Americus, Ga., made his debut as an umpire in the Florida State League, officiating behind the bat in the first game of the series between St. Petersburg and Daytona. His decisions were fair, his judgment good, and his manner of calling plays clear and easily understood. In contrast with former umpires who have served here, his work looked like that of an American League official. The State League has not last secured the services of a man who is a master of the game, who has played it successfully, and who will not falter in deciding the close points of play where many umpires too often go astray.

Here's wishing him luck in his new job, thankless though it is. Fans are warned to think twice before they call this man on a play as he knows more baseball with his cerebral chambers on vacation than the average bug does while thinking at a rate of speed slightly exceeding that of the guy who answered Edison's questionnaire.—Lakeland Star.

might be shown the easiest way out of her trouble, she refused and hardly showed a sign of weakening.

It appeared that when she left the room she had made her decision, and in a later review of her actions it is believed that she had figured the "way out" before the crime of robbery was committed and while she was planning and awaiting a chance to exchange "phony" money bags for the real currency in the mail. She was accustomed to receiving packages of money from the banks especially the First National Bank, which always shipped its currency through the mail to the Federal Reserve Bank in Atlanta. She had prepared the bundles of money in her "studio," where part of the loot was found. It is stated by the inspectors that she had been accustomed to do a little work in each department of the postoffice daily, which had shown a nervousness and an admission of irregularities. When the proper time came, it was easy to do what she did. Her act was deliberate and but for the failure to realize that it was a physical impossibility for a mail clerk on the train to manufacture duplicate bundles of "phony" money and switch them in the distance of twenty-eight miles, she might have done differently. The fact that Miss Clarke had been an employe of the post office for a period of seventeen years and knew the hazzard in attempting to beat the registry system, and walk into such a blunder is another feature which cannot be understood by the inspectors.

This, it is believed by the investigators, strengthens the theory that she had in mind the shifting of the blame from herself to Mr. Miltmore, while planning the robbery.

Another theory advanced is that she was of the opinion that Miltmore had wronged her brother, Paul Clarke, while he was postmaster, and Miltmore was an employe at the stamp window and that she for the love of her brother must avenge that wrong even to taking Miltmore's life, should he not obey her demands.

Threats of blackmail against her by Miltmore had been mentioned and scores of other suggestions coming from her friends have been worked into the case, but thus far little truth has been found to base them on.

That others have been connected with her downfall, there is no doubt. She was through her charitable nature an "easy mark" and any friends could get her money. It is stated that she was the bank for the whiskey "runner" and the "bootlegger," and seldom received payment of the amounts due her.

It is pointed out that several of her "friends" who are believed to have received a share of the stolen money are being sought by the federal officers. As yet no warrants have been issued here, although certain names of local persons have been mentioned, and no doubt arrests will follow in the near future.

"Seldom has Pittsburgh had a more interesting or more important visitor among women who are doing things in the world than Mrs. W. S. Jennings, of Jacksonville, Fla., vice-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who has been in the city for the past ten days, the guest of Mrs. Joseph Beatty, of Ellsworth avenue. Mrs. Jennings is devoting all her time to home demonstration work, which is done under the Lever act in co-operation with the U. S. department of agriculture. Within the past eight months 35 states have been organized in part and women workers are demonstrating the principles of right living, how to get the most out of life and how to make use of what they have, among the women in the rural districts of the country. Explaining to the farmers' wives how they may make their work easier, thereby winning a little time for the things of life, is part of the work of these home demonstrators. Another thing they do is to make country life more interesting for the young people in order that they will stay on the farms."

"Thursday afternoon following a luncheon given at the Allegheny Country club by Mrs. Geo. Phelps spoke at a meeting of Sewickley valley women at the Edgeworth club. On Wednesday Mrs. Beatty gave a luncheon of twelve covers at the Sehenley for her guest, Tuesday Mrs. H. T. Price gave a luncheon and Saturday evening Mrs. Jennings was honor guest at a dinner given by Mrs. C. H. Kerr, at their summer home in Northern Pike. She was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Stewart of Thistle Gate over the Fourth of July.

"Mrs. Jennings made many addresses during her stay in Pittsburgh. As a result of her visit, the Congress of Women of Allegheny county, composed of 119 organizations, will be brought into the general federation."

IN HONOR OF VISITOR.

Miss Martha Chappell entertained very delightfully Friday evening at a swimming party at Palm Springs, in compliment to her guest, Miss Mary Kirk, of Jacksonville.

After a delightful swim, the hostess assisted by Mrs. H. H. Chappell, and Mrs. Moore, served a tempting picnic supper.

Those attending this charming courtesy were Misses Mary Kirk, Dorothy Stokes and Virginia Neely; Messrs. Sherman and Arthur Moore, Fordyce Russell, and Wallace Bell.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Wilson announce the marriage of their daughter, Esther Harris Wilson to Mr. Sidney A. Rive, Saturday, August 6th, 1921, at 7:30 p. m.

SUNDAY BIG DAY FOR DR. GEORGE HYMAN.

Yesterday was a big day for Dr. George Hyman, who is now in Philadelphia, and who supplied the pulpit of Dr. Russell Conwell at one of the largest churches in America. It was also Dr. Hyman's birthday, and the fact that he supplied the church of his old friend on his birthday and that he has been treated so royally by Dr. Conwell and the people, made him feel like rejoicing and he wants his friends here to rejoice with him, hence his word to the Herald telling about the big day. Dr. Hyman says that Dr. Conwell has a great church and school, but that Sanford can also have great churches and schools if we will stick to it and stand by them. He sends best wishes to all the Herald force and all his Sanford friends. He expects to be absent in the north for about ten days.

NOTICE MEMBERS WOODMEN CIRCLE.

The Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, having at the last session held in New York City, reduced the rates of the membership, which was put into effect July, 1919, to a more reasonable rate, I therefore issue a call to each member to meet at the Gate City House, Wednesday, August 10th, at 3:30 p. m., and bring your original certificate—this call is to the men who are members also.

Please be prompt, as there will be business of importance to all. SARAH E. PARKER, Gundriam Celery City Grove No. 60, 116-2tp.

Europe need waste no sympathy in the American proletariat. A cleaner seat is more enjoyable than the grandstand, anyway.

THE COST OF DOING WITHOUT

The man who works in shop or office—who is "on the payroll"—whose income is sufficient to provide home comforts and probably lay away a little money besides, may feel that he has no practical need of an automobile; that to him it would be merely a costly luxury—a means purely of pleasure and recreation for himself and family?

He is looking at only ONE side of the subject. An automobile will help to make a new man of him.

It will give him a new spirit. The very nature of his work, occupied the same number of hours in the same place day in and day out, tends to restrict his VISION. It limits his thinking. It puts him in a mental groove that handicaps his possibilities of rapid growth in his chosen field.

His HEAD is his gold mine. His ability to dig out the gold is in proportion to his broad outlook, his initiative, ambition, courage, grit. An automobile, through all the recreation it makes possible for him, gives him a new angle on himself—and his work. It helps him to think. It makes his contact with the other fellow far greater—opening up a new world of opportunities to him.

An automobile broadens his mind; makes him see many things in a brand new light; makes him reflect on subjects that he had probably never thought about before; and inspired him to be a greater master at his task in the realization that a man's reward in success is in proportion to the degree of skill and enthusiasm that he puts into his work.

To such a man, an automobile pays for itself and makes a profit through the success-making inspirations that come to him through its use. It gives team work to his brain. It acts as a constant urge to him to make his job a bigger and better job by putting bigger effort and better ideas into it.

EDWARD HIGGINS AUTHORIZED FORD DEALER.

KILLEBREW GOES TO SANFORD TO BECOME POLICE CHIEF THERE.

Detective J. A. Killebrew of the Tampa police department, was presented with a handsome pipe, the exact reproduction of the one he lost recently while on a raid in which several shot were fired at him, by the members of the detective department yesterday.

The pipe was engraved with Mr. Killebrew's name and had the donors' names inscribed on it. He also was given a big carton of fine tobacco and some matches. This token of the esteem in which Mr. Killebrew is held by the members of the detective department, was exhibited because of the resignation of Mr. Killebrew, effective today.

Mr. Killebrew will go to Sanford to take the office of chief of police of that city under the commission-manager form of government, which is in operation there. He formerly was in Sanford and was the town marshal when the city was much smaller, which was many years ago. He will leave for Sanford this morning.—Tampa Tribune.

FORT MYERS.—To help beautify the city a local nursery in co-operation with the Fort Myers Press has offered to give to residents free of charge palms and shrubs to replace unsightly trees removed from yards and lawns. Persons whose yards do not contain citrus trees and who do not feel able to purchase palms or other shrubs will be supplied by the nursery without cost.

One Born Every Fourth Minute

A lady who had a family of three children didn't want any more because she had heard that every fourth child born in the world was a Chinaman.

A ludicrous, perhaps, as an old misconception some skeptical folks used to have about advertising.

There was a time, when some advertisements had to be taken with a grain of salt. A few misguided advertisers thought they could sell their goods better by misrepresenting them. Those advertisers have long since gone out of business or mended their ways. Hard experience taught them that untruthful advertising didn't pay.

Other advertisers proved that the only way to advertise successfully, make regular customers, and build up good will was to TELL THE ABSOLUTE TRUTH about their goods in their advertisements.

You can depend on the merchant or manufacturer who advertises. The concern that tells you frankly what it is doing is a good concern with which to do business. The store that advertises is a progressive store that has something really worth while to say to you. And companies that advertise their products or their service have confidence in them. You can safely share their confidence.

Inferior merchandise cannot masquerade in the quality clothes of advertising.

LAKELAND.—T. J. Appleyard, Jr., a son of T. J. Appleyard, Sr., of Tallahassee, a native Floridian, has been elected secretary of the Lakeland Chamber of Commerce and already has assumed charge of the work here. No contract was made between Mr. Appleyard and the organization, it being his own desire that he be left free to sever his connection with the body whenever his services may prove unsatisfactory or whenever he may feel that there is a lack of vision in the community or an unwillingness to support the work.

Mr. Appleyard has spent the last eight years in commercial organization work, specializing in reorganization, financing and modernizing Chambers of Commerce. His duties have taken him to widely scattered points, including Portland, Ore.; Ft. Smith, Ark.; Philadelphia, New York and points in New Jersey, North Carolina and South Carolina. He was secretary of the Piqua, Ohio, chamber of Commerce and served in the same capacity for two years at Newark, O. The last two years were spent in reorganization work.

TAMPA.—Declaring that "owing to the prosperity of this section there has been attracted to South Florida a large number of professional stock salesmen, who are offering to the public various stocks of questionable value, in many instances," the Tampa Clearing House Association and affiliated banks is publishing in the local newspapers advertisements "to warn the public against making investments in any stock without first consulting with some responsible banker and ascertaining reliable information respecting the proposed venture."

The Clearing House Association has invited other banks in South Florida "to join with us in our efforts to protect the public against the numerous doubtful schemes now offered through South Florida by professional stock salesmen."

The Interstate Realty Co., of Lake Butler, has begun the publication of a neat little booklet devoted to setting forth opportunities for home-seekers. It is called The Home-seekers' Guide, and the first number contained twenty pages of information that will answer the questions of many who are looking for investments in that section of the state. The book will be issued monthly by J. H. Williams and B. Z. Matthews, and will be given wide circulation.

HIT TAPE FIRST

Earl Eby, the great Penn miller, hasn't any patience with a fellow who devotes the most of his thinking to the time record, instead of winning the race.

"Give me the runner who can win the race," says Eby. "Time is a secondary matter. Beat the other fellow to the tape and you have accomplished the real purpose of any race."

Running against time is not sport.

Racing is competition between individuals. If you beat the other fellow, the time takes care of itself.

OUTFIELD RECORD FOR RICE

Washington Player Handed 478 Chances Last Season—Max Carey of Pirates Displaced.

Sam Rice, star outfielder for the Washington Nationals, set a record in major league history last season when he handled 478 chances in the outfield.

Sam Rice.

Tris Speaker, Cleveland boss, was the first to achieve a record number of accepted chances in the outfield, then Max Carey, the Pirate preacher and outfielder, exceeded Spoke's mark, and now Rice holds the record.

HITTING KEEPS CROWD BACK

League Officials Find That General Lambasting of Ball is Holding Attendance Down.

National league umpires are now doctoring the baseball instead of the pitchers. They're experimenting with a new chemical to take the shine off the ball. The new dope has the same effect as rosin, only it isn't as sticky.

League officials once stormed about pitchers using dope on the ball. Then, when they found that the general lambasting of the ball had hurt attendance, they rushed to the rescue.

FIELDING MARK IS EQUALLED

Third Baseman Schepner of Louisville Team Accepted Thirteen Chances Without Slip.

When Joe Schepner, third baseman of the Louisville American Association club, accepted thirteen chances without error in a recent game with St. Paul, sport writers declared he equaled the major league record held by third basemen, which was made by George Cutshaw, of the Brooklyn Nationals, on August 28, 1913.

Diamond Squibs

The St. Paul club has recalled Catcher Schlee from the Peoria Three I league club.

Barney Dreyfuss has a lot of young ball players whom he hasn't as much as put on exhibition.

The Atlanta club announces the sale of Infielder Fred V. Smith to St. Joseph of the Western league.

Experts have figured out that a man batting .300 this season is about equal to one hitting .285 a couple of years ago.

The Chicago club has released Jeff Stafford, the Southwestern university pitching phenom to Sioux City of the Western league.

Nig Clarke and Ty Lober, let out by Roger Bresnahan, are both helping to keep Milwaukee up in the race in the Association.

John Henry Robinson, the veteran Little Rock southpaw, is out for another record as a hard worker. Last year he pitched 364 innings.

Discovered at the trial of the Chicago "Black Sox"—a Chicagoan, sixty-four years old, who has never seen a ball game—and he is not blind!

Tony Knuffman, a pitcher who has been a sensation with the Winnipeg team of the Western Canada league, has been sold to the Chicago Cubs.

The Memphis club has taken on an outfielder named Frank Fuller, who last year played in the Independent Delta league with Greenwood, Miss.

Ross Roberts, pitching ace of the Martinsburg (Blue Ridge league) baseball club, has been sold to the Petersburg club of the Virginia State league.

A new umpire in the Southern league is the veteran Tommy Corcoran, who of late years has worked in the Eastern and International leagues.

With Oil Meyers reporting to New Orleans, Manager Dobbs released Doc Smith, his second-string backstop, to Nashville, where he was put in the outfield.

Fred Mitchell often has urged the establishment of a baseball school, but most of the ball players know more than their teachers. So what's the use?

Max Carey, the fleet-footed Pittsburgh outfielder, and Frank Frisch of New York are having a neck and neck race for stolen base honors in the National league.

Nelson Pott, college infielder sent by the Cleveland club some time since to Houston of the Texas league, has been transferred to Des Moines of the Western league.

The Kalamazoo club has sold Pitcher William (Red) Collins to Toledo, where he joins his battery mate, Alex Schaufel. He had a good record last year, but could not win at Kalamazoo this season.

Before the season is over it is not unlikely that the little choo-choo of Sister will come steaming up the pike just as if nothing had happened between this year and last.

Charley (Rube) Lutzke, sent by Indianapolis to a club in the Three-I league, which turned him back after a brief trial, was then taken on by Kansas City and Manager Otto Knabe has been using him at short as a stopper.

Don't worry, don't hurry, eat plenty of nourishing food, drink plenty of pure water, wash your hands before meals, clean your teeth twice a day, wear comfortable clothes, get long hours of sleep in the fresh air—and health is yours say some of the doctors teaching folks to avoid tuberculosis.—Miami Metropolis. Yes, but gee whizz, man, after you do all that what's the use of living?

Florida newspapers are beginning to publish prophecies made by returning travelers regarding the "big season" that this state is to have this year. Indications strongly point to the greatest tourist season in the state's history. People find it is as yet far from joyful to go pleasure-seeking in war-ravaged Europe; Florida makes a better playground.—Miami Metropolis.

In glancing over the box car letters at the head of the Reporter-Star of yesterday, it seems that they issued an "EXTRA" telling about the mystery of the bathtub or who gave the wine? Anyhow, it showed enterprise, and enterprise is what makes newspapers. The Orlando papers have a cinch now for news. Whenever the case drags, they can "glean" another story from the cell of Miss Clarke.

Miss Clarke, held for robbery of the Palm Beach postoffice and also for the murder of Miltmore at Orlando, seems to be having a merry time with the police and county officers, detectives and newspaper men. She "spills" a new story every hour and the latest is that she might have killed Elwell, the wisest expert and millionaire club man, of New York, who was found dead in his hotel room in New York last year. We have no doubt in the world but that if allowed to go as far as she likes, that Miss Clarke, will eventually be accused of "hitting Billy Patterson," and hiding Pearl Bryan's head at Cincinnati, two crimes that happened while she was a baby.

AS THE EDITORS SAW US.

The papers are still filled with glowing reports of Florida from the members of the National Editorial Association tour. The following, from the Newton, Mass., Graphic, is about Sanford:

Our Orlando drive ended at Winter Park, the home of Mr. Bacheller, and a truly lovely spot. It was said to be the home of only the wealthy, and I could well believe it. Here, after more orange juice, we were met by a bevy of automobiles from Sanford and were soon on our way to that city, celebrated for its celery. I was fortunate in selecting a car driven by one of the best known men of that city and gathered considerable information. He told me that only the previous night 72 carloads of produce had been shipped from the town, and over 5,000 carloads would be shipped before July 1st. Last year the expense for transportation and refrigeration on Sanford shipments had been over two million dollars. This led to a discussion in which it appeared that the cost of transportation seems to be the principal difficulty of the future market for Florida products.

Sanford is surrounded by celery farms. Three crops are raised each year on the same land, celery, peppers and hay or celery, lettuce and corn. A celery farm calls for a large sum for investment as the land must be irrigated at a cost of $800 an acre. But there is a fine profit if crop and market conditions are good. For while it costs $800 an acre to put celery on the cars, the gross profits on a 25-acre farm will total $95,000 and a net profit of $50,000. These are war-time prices. In addition to the celery the farm also has the other crops noted, and 4 acres of peppers are said to yield $2,780 a year.

PEAR FRITTERS

The celery is not bleached with earth as it is done in the market gardens around here, but is covered with a black paper, said to come from Massachusetts. The celery belt contains some 15,000 acres, and we heard conflicting reports about it,—one person telling us that only 20 per cent of available land being now in use, while another person said that all the land where water can be obtained for irrigation, is under cultivation.

On our return to the city we took the train once more, this time for DeLand, a neighboring city, where the inevitable automobiles were in waiting.

THINGS TO WORRY ABOUT.

Worry operates on the mental qualities as does rust on metal. It weakens, and if persisted in, destroys. And after all there are so few things that one should permit to worry one. If an apparent trouble is the result of individual dereliction worry is not the remedy, but that action necessary to overcome the dereliction. If the trouble or embarrassment comes about through no cause answerable to the individual, then to worry is foolish because it accomplishes nothing.

There is no more fruitful cause of worry than the stories set forth about one. Yet no one should or can justly be held accountable for what their friends or their enemies say. The one flatters because of partiality, the other slanders because of prejudice, and one is, at times almost as embarrassing as the other. The consequence of each is this: No friend believes the slander and no enemy is willing to accept the flattery. So why worry?

There is substance in neither the one nor the other. It is, perhaps, unavoidable, that slander or a mere half-truth must cause pain. Yet if there is the consciousness that it is not true and that one's life and conduct gives the report the lie, self interest alone should impel one to avoid letting it corrode the mind with worry.

There is nothing so utterly unnecessary and illogical as worry. If the trouble, which merely threatens or the possibility of which is recognized, is avoidable, then the crisis calls for clear-headed action, and clear-headed action is not possible with worry present. If it is not avoidable, then courage is required to meet it, and courage is not possible when worry is present.

One is reminded of the proverbial octogenarian which called his consorts to his side as the death dew gathered. "Sarah," he said feebly, "we have lived a long life together and in the main it has been a very happy life. It was worth it. We thought we had lots of trouble, Sarah, but looking back on it we know that most of it never happened."

That's the pith of the argument. Most of our troubles never happen. So why worry.—Tampa Tribune.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE.

A Jacksonville business concern has adopted and advertised as its slogan—Service with a smile!

While it would be plagiarism for other businesses to adopt and advertise the same slogan, it would be profitable for them to inaugurate it, in spirit, in their relations with the public.

It is just as easy for a salesman to smile as it is for him to assume the attitude of doing the customer a favor.

The habits of grouching and smiling are cultivated; the difference is in the number of customers.

Many a man has bought a smile that never gave a trade-mark a second thought.

The man with something to sell who carries a stock of yarns and gossip sometimes is a hero; no one ever objected to a smile in business. It takes up no time, costs nothing and is a business asset.

The "watcher want" establishment is doing business under a heavy handicap.

The smile and "what can I do for you, please," establishment has an advantage that is difficult to overcome.

Affability can be carried to extremes, but service with a smile is the happy combination.

A few years ago, in Atlanta, a young man opened a clothing store for men. At first he carried very modest advertisements in the papers. He signed them "Bob—By Himself." He met his customers at the door—with a smile—and saw to it that they received service. Today he is in a larger building, getting more trade, enlarging his business all the time—and still mixing smiles with service. Quality and price are essential and, although some businesses fail to recognize it, service with a smile is also essential.—Florida Metropolis.

THE HOME TRADE AND THE MAIL ORDER BUSINESS.

Two women were talking together on the street car, and their conversation turned, as feminine conversation often does, to the subject of dress, many comments being made on mail order catalogues recently received, and the "bargains" to be found therein. "Yes," said the first, "I enjoy shopping by mail and it certainly is cheaper. Of course lots of time the things when they come are not as attractive as they appear in the catalogue and they have to be returned, but I can always get them exchanged." We wondered if that woman were quite honest with herself if she would not say "the thing that I thought good and cheaper than I could get at home turned out to be so poor in quality I could not wear it, and in returning it I sent more money asking for a better grade. Really if I had decided in the first place to do this I could have done just as well, and had more satisfaction in buying here at home."

Of course there are always exceptions, but as a general thing surely if the women gave due thought to the subject, they would admit the folly of buying blindly when local stores offer a remarkable array of dry goods and ready-to-wear, just as attractive as can be found anywhere. If you want something good for the least amount of money, watch the special sales, for the local merchants offer wonderful bargains at certain times during the year, and the careful buyer can always add attractive things to her wardrobe at a minimum of expense if she takes advantage of these opportunities.

Then, too, there is another feature which the merchants themselves never refer to, but which of course must be in their minds when the women appeal to them on various occasions. Who supports the various civic enterprises that mean so much to St. Augustine, the Board of Trade work, and help with all good and charitable causes? Who are always willing to donate prizes for the parties the women plan for the purpose of raising funds for various causes, or will render assistance in other ways.—St. Augustine Record.

FLORIDA RANGES PRODUCING BETTER GRADE OF CATTLE.

As a result of a study of beef cattle production on the ranges of Florida, it was found by the United States Department of Agriculture that in Palm Beach county approximately 12 1/2 acres appear to be required to carry an animal through the year. It also was learned that a calf crop of 50 to 60 per cent may be expected annually; rapid improvement of the native stock can be made by the use of purebred bulls; the mortality is no higher on these ranges than on the western ranges; the use of nitrogenous concentrates in connection with winter grazing offers the most practical solution of the winter feeding problem; utilization of the native grasses with the object of gradually improving the pastures may be considered one of the chief problems.

It appears that the ranges can best be utilized in units of considerable size; 10,000 acres has been taken as a convenient unit on which to base estimates. There is great need for further investigational work on range problems in connection with large operations, not only in Florida, but in the entire Coastal Palm area, the specialists say.

Eustis has a live board of trade and it gets advertising whenever there is a chance. Some few months ago a small party of enthusiastic fishermen went for a record and the catch was photographed. The fishermen and their fish made a very fine showing and the board of trade has reproduced the picture, with a few facts concerning Eustis as a place to "catch 'em," and is sending the double post-card broadcast. The picture is certain to attract attention and every sportsman will note and remember.

The Sebring White Way says that the Scott Lumber Co., is getting ready to erect a big crate mill in Sebring. All the machinery necessary for the manufacture of fruit boxes has been ordered and will soon arrive and be put in position. It is expected to have things ready for work within four or five weeks. The crate mill at Sebring is announced to have a capacity of 15,000 crates a day. A saw mill will be operated in addition to the crate mill and the pay roll will help along in every department of business.

BROOKSVILLE.—Whiskers have disappeared from the faces of the men of Brooksville and the man with unsightly hair because of failure to have it trimmed has become a novelty. Safety razors have been discarded by those who "push in" their own beard and the man who favored the old fashioned blade has parked that instrument along with his strop, soap, brush and mug on the top shelf behind the shoe polish. The local barbers here for many, many months, have charged forty cents for a hair cut and twenty cents for a shave. A new shop opened for business one day last week and announced pre-war prices, twenty-five cents for a hair cut and fifteen cents for a shave. Business at the other shops fell off to such an alarming extent that their proprietors launched an investigation. They discovered what the trouble was and retaliated by reducing hair cuts to twenty cents and shaves to ten cents. No one has ventured to predict what the outcome of the price war will be but the competition has resulted in swamping each shop here with business.

REPUBLICAN TARIFF RULES UNSATISFACTORY

REPRESENTATIVE KELLAR ATTACKS ADMINISTRATION IN SEVERAL PLACES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—An attack on the administration generally and on the house ways and means committee particularly for its handling of the tariff and tax questions is made in a statement issued yesterday by Representative Keller, independent Republican of St. Paul, Minn., author of four tax revision bills which have been endorsed by organizations of farmers and others.

Mr. Keller charges that "the machinery of government has been commandeered by a little clique, ignorant of the A B C's of economics, whose blind obedience to Wall street is responsible for the stupid, selfish, short sighted policy that is retarding our prosperity and creating profound distrust and discontent among the people."

Declaring that most members of the house want to carry out the people's wishes with regard to taxation and other economic questions, Mr. Keller says a "little dominant minority has tied down the safety valve of free discussion until an explosion impends which will scatter the Republican party from Maine to California."

"The president has assumed more power than any of his predecessors," Mr. Keller continues, "and tells congress what bills to pass and what not to pass. Bills concocted at secret conferences are introduced without being referred to responsible committees. The president's advisers seem to think it possible for this country to lift itself by its economic bootstraps and vaguely promise that a half million dollars gift to the railroads—which in some mysterious manner is not to increase taxes—will restore prosperity. They would do better to busy themselves with lowering rates, taking off the transportation tax and seeing to it that the railroads are run efficiently with a minimum waste. But that is not likely so long as railroad executives can depend upon the administration for lavish gifts."

CLEARWATER.—The board of county commissioners has decided that it will not be necessary to increase taxes in Pinellas county as the result of an increase of $1,400,000 in the assessed valuation of property. The assessed valuation this year is placed at $12,800,000 as compared with $11,400,000 last year.

A bond issue is expected to be voted to cover the county's share of the expense in improving the county roads. The roads are to be widened to 16 feet and other improvements made, half the cost to be borne by the state, and the remainder by the county.

The bond election may not be called before late in the fall, according to County Engineer C. E. Burleson, who said that the condition of the bond market must be taken into consideration.

JACKSONVILLE.—The person arrested by the police here with liquor in his possession will fare badly if a proposed ordinance now before the city council becomes a law. The measure provides that "it shall be unlawful to have certain intoxicating liquors in one's possession" and provides that those found guilty of carrying intoxicating liquors shall be fined not to exceed $250 or sentenced to thirty days in jail, or both.

MOLINO.—The seven year old son of a man named Wright, who resides four miles from here, was shot and almost instantly killed Monday by the 11-year-old son of Nick Reibel. The boys were playing "robber" and the Reibel lad said he did not know the gun he had was loaded. The load of birdshot struck the Wright boy in the chin and throat tearing away the lower part of his jaw and breaking his neck.

CONTRACTION OF THE CREDITS ONLY AVERTED FINANCIAL DISASTER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Reserve bank policies of 1919 and 1920 were formulated solely to prevent the country's banking system from collapse, and were successful in their object, Governor Harding of the reserve board declared in closing a two day's appearance before a joint congressional commission.

To questioners he repeated time and again a declaration that the board had not sought to influence prices, either up or down, but had prepared to meet a price break that was worldwide, and yet to maintain and expand credit lines.

There was a bare possibility, he said, that if in 1919 the reserve board had raised national rediscount rates "the runaway in prices might have been checked and the result might have been better," but he mentioned needs of the government financing as influential in determining the course actually taken. Representative Sumner, Democrat, Texas, suggested that "the word might have gone out" from the board to bankers to be fearful of prices" but Governor Harding said that nothing had been done in consistency with his statement.

"It wasn't a good time to be talking too much—in 1920," he remarked, "but we can be bolder now."

He made a suggestion that the commission might consider the utility of the farm loan boards as a means of extending short term credits to farmers, for nine and twelve months periods, but said he would make no detailed recommendation.

"All over the country we find that agricultural and livestock interests feel they need more credit facilities," he said, "and want something to make themselves independent of banks. The farmers' credit horizon is necessarily limited and local. Any man hesitates about getting the government in business and we can't use the reserve system for that, because its funds are essentially reserve funds, but I consider there is a possibility that the farm loan banks might be extended to meet the need. The question needs study."

"We have twelve reservoirs of money in the reserve banks," he said, "and we can put a pipeline from one to another of them when the needs become too great for call money supply, always remembering that the loans come in and are secured by the local member banks."

GREEN COVE SPRINGS.—The Florida Farms and Industries Company has entered into contract with the Brooks Tomato Products Company of St. Louis, whereby a canning factory will be established at Long Branch, six miles from here. The first unit to be constructed will cost $100,000 and it is expected the plant will be enlarged as soon as operations warrant expansion.

The Farms and Industries Company has contracted to supply the canning concern with 50,000 bushels of sweet potatoes this year and 100,000 bushels next year, in addition to large quantities of tomatoes and other produce.

We gather from magazine fiction that it isn't really romance unless one of the parties has a superfluous wife or husband.

COLLECT YOUR OVERCHARGES, LOSS, DAMAGE, ADJUSTMENTS.

You doubtless have taken such steps as you think are necessary for your protection in each department of your business but have you provided proper protection against railroad errors? Such errors cannot be wholly avoided at any time and there was probably an increased number of them during the war period, due to the difficulty of obtaining competent help, which affected practically all lines of work.

We are furnishing exactly that kind of protection on a basis that places it within the reach of all, viz: We are to receive one-half of the refunds obtained from the railroads because of overcharges. Absolutely no other charge will be made for our services in auditing freight bills. Refunds will be received in form of vouchers, which will be forwarded to you at once and are negotiable only with your signature. Statement will be rendered you for our proportion. Reports are made in detail so as to fully explain each refund.

Overcharges may be recovered from the carriers only within the periods shown on page 2, following the payment of the incorrect charges. Send us at once, or with the least possible delay, by parcel post insured, all freight bills on such movements. At least, those on shipments moving prior to March 1, 1920, during federal control of railroads, should be sent in at once as claims thereon must be made before September 1, 1921. All bills sent us, whether one or a thousand, will be acknowledged immediately, audited promptly, preserved in steel cases and mailed back to you when our work is completed.

Read the advertisement in this issue of the Herald.
SOUTHERN FREIGHT AUDITORS AND COLLECTORS.

It is cheaper to travel by rail unless you are going on a long trip. In that case, it might be well to buy a car.

Hupmobile

There are four real questions when you buy a car—What will it cost to run? Will repairs be heavy? How long will it last? What will it bring when sold?

If you get the same answers as the man who buys the Hupmobile, you can be sure you have not paid too much. Hupmobile running economy is known to be truly exceptional.

Owners will tell you their repair bills are unusually light. It is a fact that many Hupmobiles serve three or four long-time owners before they wear out.

Used car dealers all know the car commands a price above the average.

These things are true of the Hupmobile because it is built to last and to keep going on a minimum of outlay; and because they are true, the car is worth what it costs.

LECTURE ON CHILL

The lecture on Chill at the Baptist church Sunday night by the Rev. Cecil Moore, a missionary from that interesting country, was enlightening, entertaining and inspirational. Few persons among us of the congregation, probably, realized the wondrous extent of that long narrow strip on South America's Pacific coast called Chill. We were informed that according to maps, it would stretch from Hudson Bay to Honduras. It is a republic with great mineral wealth; our largest resources for nitre, while rich mines of copper and silver abound, and coal is abundant.

But with all these natural resources, and advanced civilization in government, Chill needs a purer form of religion, one that will lift her to a higher plane of deeper spirituality. Mr. Moore is devoting his life to plant loftier ideals and nobler inspirations. He speaks again on this subject next Sunday night.

CAMERA INVADES MOUNTAINS OF KENTUCKY—MOUNTAINEERS ASSIST IN PRODUCING "THE KENTUCKIANS"

Dana Allen & Wilfred Lytell in a scene from the Charles Maigne Production "THE KENTUCKIANS"—A Paramount Picture

The motion picture camera invaded the Kentucky mountains for the first time during the filming of the Charles Maigne production of the John Fox, Jr., novel, "The Kentuckian," featuring Monte Blue. This picture will be exhibited at the Star Theatre tonight.

When Mr. Maigne notified the studio that he would take a motion picture company to Big Stone Gap, Va., the old home of Fox, he was warned that it would be impossible to work in the community because the mountaineers wouldn't permit it. Arriving in the town, Mr. Maigne planned how he would "show them" and thru the aid of the press, slides in the motion picture house and personal excursions into the mountains he obtained the most motley collection of mountaineers, old men and women who hadn't stirred from their cabins in years.

Monte Blue has the role of Boone Stollard, a mountaineer, who goes to the Kentucky legislature and, with the odds all against him, succeeds in proving to the others that the mountaineers can rule themselves. Viola Allen has the leading feminine role.

WAR PICTURES TO BE PRESENTED IN THIS CITY

AMERICAN LEGION WILL HAVE "FLASHES OF ACTION" AT THE PRINCESS

Campbell-Lossing Post of the American Legion will give the people of this county some realistic war pictures when they present "Flashes of Action" at the Princess Theatre in this city matinee and night, Wednesday, August 24th. Read what the Charlotte News says of this picture: "American soldiers are actually seen overwhelming the Huns in the vivid picture, 'Flashes of Action,' now being shown at the Strand. Heroes struck by shrapnel and falling wounded in the victorious dashes for liberty can be seen as plainly as if the spectator were on the scene of battle. The picture is in every way a marvelous reality, and was taken at the risk of death of the camera man. It is being shown under the auspices of the Hornets Nest Post, No. 9, of the American Legion.

"The war is seen in its most terrible aspects. Infantry charges, battles of the air, artillery offensives, submarine attacks, and night battles are set forth actually as they occurred on the battlefield.

"Lieutenant Quentin Roosevelt is seen leading his squadron of airplanes for an attack on the German lines, and aerial battles are presented to the eye, with the machine of the victims falling headlong to the earth.

"Gas attacks, with the great clouds of gas rolling across the earth's surface in front of the wind, are pictured. Then there are the bombardments with explosive gas shells, hurling the deadly poison in every direction.

"The artillery bombardment at night are terrible in aspect. The most horrible thunderstorm pales in significance to the blinding flashes from the big guns which light up the country for miles around. Shrapnel is seen exploding in all directions. Barrages are laid down like curtains of fire.

"In the face of all of this, the American infantry is seen advancing. Taking advantage of shell holes, the doughboys push back the foe with never faltering steps. Now and then a hero falls in death or badly wounded, and the Red Cross men dash out to render first aid under terrific fire.

"At one instance a German plane is seen attacking an American observation balloon. The observer leaps from the balloon with a parachute and descends safely to the ground. The German aviator flies around the balloon in an effort to set it afire. Anti-aircraft guns belch forth at him in the meantime. He succeeds in setting fire to the balloon, but is at the same time struck by a shell and comes zigzagging with terrific speed to the ground. Hundreds of soldiers rush to the spot. The aviator miraculously escaped death, but is captured.

"Ruins of beautiful towns are shown. The spectator feels almost as if he were on the spot. Buildings are seen crumbling under big shells and

THE COST OF DOING WITHOUT

The man who works in shop or office—who is "on the payroll"—whose income is sufficient to provide home comforts and probably lay away a little money besides, may feel that he has no practical need of an automobile; that to him it would be merely a costly luxury—a means purely of pleasure and recreation for himself and family?

He is looking at only ONE side of the subject.

An automobile will help to make a new man of him.

It will give him a new spirit.

The very nature of his work, occupied the same number of hours in the same place day in and day out, tends to restrict his VISION. It limits his thinking. It puts him in a mental groove that handicaps his possibilities of rapid growth in his chosen field.

His HEAD is his gold mine. His ability to dig out the gold is in proportion to his broad outlook, his initiative, ambition, courage, grit. An automobile, through all the recreation it makes possible for him, gives him a new angle on himself—and his work. It helps him to think. It makes his contact with the other fellow far greater—opening up a new world of opportunities to him.

An automobile broadens his mind; makes him see many things in a brand new light; makes him reflect on subjects that he had probably never thought about before; and inspired him to be a greater master at his task in the realization that a man's reward in success is in proportion to the degree of skill and enthusiasm that he puts into his work.

To such a man, an automobile pays for itself and makes a profit through the success-making inspirations that come to him through its use. It gives team work to his brain. It acts as a constant urge to him to make his job a bigger and better job by putting bigger effort and better ideas into it.

Member of The Associated Press

Every day is better in Sanford.

We have so much to live for in this bustling city on the St. Johns.

Did you ever see so much building going on at one time? We will be taking care of many people this winter.

Keep your eye on the golf links and country club. It means so much for Sanford that the city could well afford to issue bonds for it.

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce is leaving no stone unturned to bring the people here. It will be up to the home folks to give them rooms.

That golf links and country club should be taking shape. It is the one thing needed if Sanford expects to get real tourists. They want golf and golf they will have.

Some of the merchants are letting a golden opportunity get by them in sleeping through the month of August. This is the time for special sales and a stimulation of business.

The city dock should be torn down and a concrete dock or something as good should be built at the foot of Park avenue. With little outlay a decent landing place and pavilion could be made for the tourists this winter.

Sanford can boast of two generous hearted merchants. They are Messrs. McKinnon and Bradford, of the Sanford Shoe & Clothing Co., who, a few days ago donated to the Methodist Orphanage at Enterprise, twenty-six new suits of clothes for the little chaps housed therein.

The town of Ocoola, formerly Bridge End, has a large population of people who are making good wages. They could come to Sanford day and night if there was a good road connecting up with the Sanford-Geneva road.

Another phase to the legislation, antagonistic to tick eradication in Florida will deprive the state of the publicity it has acquired for cattle raising.

other livestock. It is not possible to send those fine cattle, which have taken several prizes, outside the state, because of the quarantine measures against Florida, owing to its lack of tick eradication work.

LET HENRY FORD DO IT.

That horrid Ford person, surnamed Henry, has broken loose again, and like a mad bull in a China shop is knocking the studied arguments, carefully rehearsed testimony and fantastic claims of frenzied railroad financiers and mismanagers into a cocked hat by a practically demonstration that indicates they are either liars, fools or plain thieves and a probable combination of all three.

Henry bought the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad about a year ago, and when he took it over the road was "losing" $200,000 a month, which Henry has changed to a profit, even the receipts fell off, of $100,000 a month.

The road has nearly 400 miles of track, employs several hundred workers, and after July 1 the lowest paid employee will receive not less than $6 per day of eight hours. That is the thing that makes managers of other roads see red and cuss Henry all over the lot.

Here they have been howling for years about the profiteering, overpaid railroad employee and demanding that his wages be cut so that they may show a profit, when along comes Ford and in less than a year takes a losing road, does less business during the hard times than was done on the road during good times, makes a profit on that reduced business, and raises wages just as the Labor Board cuts them on other roads.

How does he do it? Just by refraining from the practices of those in control of other roads. Ford owns the D. T. & I. He is not a hired man put in charge of the road by financiers who own concerns that sell rails, steel, engines, cars and other supplies to the roads; neither does he fake expenses nor resort to "bookkeeping" to hide profits.

He was not raised in—or developed out of—conditions that made lying, deceitfulness, willingness to accept a bribe and general disregard for law and decency the requisites for promotion, out of which conditions have come the ordinary railroad president and manager of railroads.

All unnecessary Sunday work on the D. T. & I. is to be cut out after July 1st, and the employees in train and other service are to have Sunday off whenever possible, thus giving railroad workers a right enjoyed by the majority and one long desired by those engaged in that employment.

That, also, is another evidence which is considered by railroad managements to be a deliberate insult to them. Wage cutting has never been popular with Henry Ford. Recently he stated that he intended to continuously lower the cost of his product to the public and increase the wages of his workers, declaring that to be his conception of his obligation as trustees of a great manufacturing plant.

A short time ago the big financiers sought Ford's scalp and failed to get it, and this taking of a practically bankrupt road, making it pay despite lessened business and then to raise wages just when they are claiming loss and the need for lowered wages—is the cause of great indignation among the spoilers of the people.—Sheet Metal Workers Journal.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE RATES TO BE PROBED.

Answering a letter from I. T. Williams, manager of the Manatee County Growers' association, W. V. Hardie, director of the traffic bureau of the Interstate Commerce Commission, assures Senator D. U. Fletcher that a discussion of fruit and vegetable rates will be held with growers and carriers in Florida at an early date.

Director Hardie says that complaints of injustice to shippers have heretofore been very vague, and the commission could take no action on the information proffered. The letter from Manager Williams, however, contains sufficient specific information to warrant a further hearing.

FATHER 82, MOTHER 80

For the past week newspapers all over Florida have published column after column in reference to Lena Clarke, her confessions and a tragedy that has more mysteries than any other in annals of the state.

In the humble home at No. 414 South Polaettia street, West Palm Beach, Florida, reside the aged parents of the young woman now incarcerated in the Orange county jail at Orlando.

The father, Doctor Almon Taylor Clarke, is eighty-two years of age, and the mother, Marietta Thankful Clarke, is eighty years old.

These octogenarians have been married fifty-five years. The old father has been a preacher of the gospel to dying men and women for fifty-four years.

He has served various Congregational churches in Florida and in 1888, was stationed at Tavara, the county seat of Lake county.

At that time Tavara was in Orange county, a co-incidence that the grief of Doctor Clarke's life should take him back to the same county thirty-three years later.

In the early spring of that year one fateful day, the town was almost wiped completely out by a disastrous fire.

The next Sunday following this disaster, Doctor Clarke preached to a crowd that congregated in the church edifice which was not destroyed.

He extended comfort and told the destitute congregation that the love of God still prevailed, and upholding his hands, in one he told them to put the value of gold of the devastated property in his right hand and true religion in his left and take a choice.

He said the choice should be the religion of God, which is love, all worldly possessions were immaterial.

This sermon impressed me, a small boy, as my folks were among the destitute, and I have never been able to get Doctor Clarke's idea into my head.

The reason being easily explained, I have not got his religion and faith which is sublime.

Doctor and Mother Clarke, as they are familiarly and affectionately known, have resided in West Palm Beach for fourteen years.

It is the universal love and esteem in which this venerable couple is held by citizens of Palm Beach county that made it possible for Lena Clarke to be postmistress of West Palm Beach.

Her appointment to this office being generally understood as the family dependence for bread and butter, and this fact brought about a petition that was signed by practically every man, woman and child in West Palm Beach.

Doctor and Mother Clarke are good in every way. He has never been a partisan in politics.

If I had his character, goodness of heart and goodness in every other way in my make-up, would be willing to give ten years of my life for the privilege of having folks hold me in high esteem the rest of my days.

This is the highest endorsement possible. Now, this good old father and mother want to see their daughter.

State Attorney Joe Jones is madder than a wet hen. He has a right to be, his vacation was spoiled, which is to be regretted.

He has, according to published reports, issued an order that no one except her counsel can see her at this time.

Doctor and Mother Clarke bow submissively to the constituted authority. Now, the people of Palm Beach county, one and all, will appreciate consideration to Lena Clarke's aged parents, (who have been thrust into a sea of error and grief), by Orange county authorities.

It is a long, trying, tiresome trip from West Palm Beach to Orlando. Their physical strength must have every consideration and be conserved.

This means that drawing-room accommodations must be utilized to New Smyrna and a comfortable automobile from there to Orlando.

They are old and feeble and for this reason the trip must be made by easy stages.

Be it known and remembered that Joe Earman is a friend to Doctor and Mother Clarke.

Doctor Clarke was my departed mother's pastor and spiritual adviser. He administered the rites of baptism to my little brother.

Be it further known and remembered that I am the friend that will go with them to Orlando when the trip is made to see their imprisoned daughter when permission is extended by authorities of Orange county to do so.

Now, Ramrods of the Fourth Estate, this means all connected with newspapers, including publishers, reporters, cubs, photographers, et cetera, the appeal is made to you not to crowd upon the aged father and mother when they reach Orlando requesting interviews and attempting to photograph them.

Leave them alone in their sorrow and give them the privilege to see their daughter, pray and converse with her just the same as in the privacy of their humble home at West Palm Beach.

Don't make it necessary for Babe Ruth's record to be broken with a baseball bat in my hands.

Beloved of the press of Florida, when State Attorney Jones consents for the aged parents to see their daughter, arrangements will be perfected for them to go to Orlando.

Respect the gray hairs and bended forms of this aged couple, drape a mantle of charity about them and respect the privacy and sorrow of old age.

Newspaper men are the most generous people on earth. A former publisher and one of you has made a request.

Please comply. Thank you.—Joe Earman of West Palm Beach.

BABSON GIVES FLORIDA A FINE BOOST

The Thomas Advertising Agency is giving wide publicity to a recent Babson report which takes a very encouraging view of business conditions in Florida. Following are extracts from the report:

"Florida, like every other state, has been undergoing readjustment. It should not be classed with the remainder of the South, however, as it is very much better off. In fact, few states have weathered the depression better than Florida. Sections depending upon lumber, naval stores and phosphate rock are dull; but throughout large areas of the state, conditions are somewhat favorable and should well repay sales efforts."

"Florida is not a cotton state, and cotton is the root of the present depression in the South. Florida's crop value last year was but 17 per cent less than in 1910. The country as a whole reported a loss of 25 per cent, and neighboring cotton states an average decline of about 40 per cent. Moreover, while the income from Florida's crops last year was somewhat less than in 1910, it was 38 per cent greater than the 1914-1918 five-year average. Few states can give such a favorable report."

"The citrus and truck seasons have been over for some time. Shipments were exceedingly large, but the net returns to the grower were small owing to weak markets and excessively high shipping charges. Profits were not large; neither were losses. As cotton, corn and wheat farmers nearly all lost considerable money last year, Florida has much to be thankful for. The tourist crop of 1920-21 was one of the best in years, and towns deriving benefit from this source are reasonably prosperous."

Our prediction was true. The temperature yesterday was down to 89 which is below 90 as this daily spasm said it would be within the week. Those cooling and refreshing showers that we are getting daily now are the greatest stuff in the world to cool the fevered brow of old lady Nature. COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

DARKENS BEAUTIFULLY AND RESTORES ITS NATURAL COLOR AND LUSTRE AT ONCE

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, in a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

WARN PUBLIC AGAINST QUESTIONABLE STOCKS.

TAMPA, Aug. 8.—Declaring that "owing to the prosperity of this section there has been attracted to South Florida a large number of professional stock salesmen, who are offering to the public various stocks of questionable value, in many instances," the Tampa Clearing House Association and affiliated banks is publishing in the local newspapers advertisements "to warn the public against making investments in any stock without first consulting with some responsible banker and ascertaining reliable information respecting the proposed venture."

DOG VALUED AT $3,000.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 9.—Legal steps to gain possession of a cat Dana dog valued at several thousand dollars to satisfy an alleged meat bill, has been instituted by a local market against Harry Tuberville, former manager of an amusement resort near here. The dog, which has been insured for $3,000 by its owner, has not been located by the sheriff's forces.

A man in Morgantown, N. C., cut his wife's throat, then knelt and covered her face with kisses and caresses. Perhaps he had been reading about Congress' treatment of the crippled and disabled ex-service men.

TWO DRAWN WHEN DROWNED BEYOND DEPTH BY CURRENT.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 8.—Miss Louise F. Parks Sloan, of Statesville, N. C., twenty-one, and Marion Avant, Wilmington, twenty-four, lost their lives in the surf at Wrightsville Beach near here, shortly after eight o'clock yesterday morning, having been drawn by the current beyond their depth. Both bodies were recovered.

Life guards had not gone on duty when the ill-fated young people with a number of others went in bathing from one of the inns on the beach and both were beyond help when a hurriedly manned life boat put out to rescue them. The crew picked up the body of Miss Sloan, which was floating face downward in the surf, but the body of Avant disappeared to reappear half a mile down the beach where it floated ashore. Mrs. A. R. Hardwick, of this city, a cousin of Miss Sloan, was also in the surf, but was easily rescued.

Miss Sloan was a daughter of J. L. Sloan of Statesville, and a graduate of North Carolina College for Women at Greensboro.

Mr. Avant was an ex-service man and was well known in this city. The remains of the young woman were sent to Statesville this morning.

Hupmobile

There are four real questions when you buy a car—What will it cost to run? Will repairs be heavy? How long will it last? What will it bring when sold?

If you get the same answers as the man who buys the Hupmobile, you can be sure you have not paid too much. Hupmobile running economy is known to be truly exceptional.

Owners will tell you their repair bills are unusually light. It is a fact that many Hupmobiles serve three or four long-time owners before they wear out.

Used car dealers all know the car commands a price above the average.

These things are true of the Hupmobile because it is built to last and to keep going on a minimum of outlay; and because they are true, the car is worth what it costs.
