Jacksonville "insurance firm," paid 41.5 cents for the reserve 4-H champion.

All steers in the show, as well as a lot of 48 exhibited by the North Florida Experiment Station at Quincy, sold for an average of 13.376 cents a pound. The show and sale, held at Farris and Company's yards, were sponsored by the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce and directed by L. H. Lewis of the State Marketing Bureau, chairman of the show committee. Other members of the committee represented the State Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Extension Service, railway development agents, banks, feed, fertilizer and implement dealers, packers, and cattlemen.

First reported victim of the newly-laid British minefield in the central Mediterranean is the 17,879-ton Italian liner Costa Roma (above). Quick Repairs In Farm Appliances Saving By ...

DAINESVILLE, Mar. 6.—(Special)—The quick repair of farm appliances is a saving by itself. The repair of a piece of equipment may cost a few dollars, but the saving in time and trouble is worth the cost. A roof leak caused by a broken pipe or piece of machinery, if not repaired at once, may be repaired at a small cost and in little time. If the repair is done as soon as it is needed, but allowing it to continue will result in extensive damage of lumber all around it. Replacing a roof as soon as it is needed, from foundations will prevent the house from sagging and subsequent damage.

"Pumps," he said, "are no stronger than their weakest parts, and making prompt repair necessary if they are to be kept in operation. From foundations will prevent the house from sagging and subsequent damage. Doors and gates with loose or broken hinges will sag and get out of shape in a short time, but quick repair will prevent the damage, and in addition, make them much more satisfactory and serviceable. Professor Rogers pointed out:

"Prompt repairs to equipment will result in them always being ready for use and will prevent further damage. Delay in making repairs, whether they be needed in the form of a broken hinge or a loose bolt, will reduce efficiency of the farmer and make his maintenance costs higher. Every farmer should adopt the practice of making repairs as soon as they are needed," he concluded.

New Game For Furniture Movers Said Easy On Backs And Budgets

MARGARET KERRICK—THERE'S a new decorating game in the stores that should delight the Spring-cleaner who craves to move furniture around, change the draperies from one room to another and perhaps buy something new for the annual spring-up of her home.

The board which serves as a floor is marked off in squares, each representing a square foot. The wall pieces fit into these grooves and make it quite simple to outline in exact scale a room of any desired size. The size and shape determined, the room is ready for door and window symbols and the cardboard carpet.

The John C. Winston Company has announced new editions of the various books on the Culbertson system to incorporate the new changes in the Culbertson system of contract bridge. It is claimed that there are 25,000,000 bridge players in the United States and that 98 percent of them use the Culbertson system. Some 500 newspapers have carried or will carry articles on the new Culbertson system, and Eli Culbertson himself will broadcast a statement about the changes. He has already sold 4,000 Culbertson booklets, about the changes (first presented at the National Teachers' Convention, January 22-24). The teachers will recommend the revised Culbertson books to some 4,000,000 students.

Two good mixers are better than one

There you sit, watching the long road ahead as it dips and rises. Under your feet there's a quiet whispering, to let you know that all right able Buick cylinders are happily on the job.

You're giving not a single thought to what's happening under that long bonnet housing out in front, but here's what's going on:

Instead of the single, compromise-size carburetor you find on most cars, this Buick FIREBALL eight with Compound Carburetion has two good mixers on the job.

A single one of them—the front carburetor—keeps you rolling smoothly, easily, steadily, on the very minimum ration of gasoline.

But the other carburetor is alert and ready for any sudden need. Just tramp down on that accelerator pedal—it goes into instant action, giving you more fuel and more power for any emergency purpose!

It's almost like having two engines—one to handle normal requirements thrifflily, another to team up with the first for extra oomph and wallop when you want it.

That kind of teamwork pays.

And owners by the thousand will tell you it's more economical too—as much as 10% to 15% more economical.

If you haven't experienced what it feels like to have that under the bonnet of your automobile, better go have that Buick demonstration now.

Strike Board Is Considered By Roosevelt

Group Will Act As Mediation Agency, Taking Up Factors Entering Disputes

Work On Defense Front Continues

Threats Of Walkouts Removed At Several Points In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—(AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that he is considering the creation of a labor board which would act not only as a mediator agency but would consider the problems of labor, production, and other factors entering into labor disputes.

Simultaneously the President spoke out against jurisdictional strikes among union men.

An agreement by the management and employees of the Consumers Power Company to arbitrate their dispute removed yesterday the threat of a power shutdown at many Michigan plants working around the clock on national defense orders.

Threats of walkouts also were removed at several points in the U. S. A. A recent mediation board reported to President Roosevelt that an agreement had started a strike in the National Railroad in Vermont. Employees had voted to accept a proposed settlement.

At the same time, the department said that delays which have hampered its camp and arms plant construction program were being overcome. As of Feb. 27, it was said, the status of 230 projects: 18 complete, 120 on schedule, 55 behind schedule, 24 ahead of schedule, and 15 not started.

Building material other than lumber bought during the five months ending Feb. 31 included $1,277,137.

While driving by the Orlando army air base yesterday morning, Mr. Cross stopped to watch a number of army pursuit planes coming in for a landing. Three planes had come in to a safe landing and he was playing with the thought that he would like to see a real plane crack up.

The next plane landed safely and was rolling along the ground when it struck a ground bump, pitching the plane over on one wing and turning it over several times. Mr. Cross said the pilot, Lieutenant George A. Walker, escaped injury.

Mr. Cross is suspending his messages for awhile.

Proposal To Ban Convoys Is Rejected

Vote Comes As Sen- ator From Wyoming Offers Substitute To British-Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—(AP)—The Senate today rejected an amendment to the British-aid bill which would forbid the conveying by American armed forces of war materials shipped out of the Western Hemisphere.

The vote came on a proposal by Senator D'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) offered as a substitute to the Administration-sponsored amendment stating that nothing in the measure should be construed as changing the existing laws governing land and naval forces.

The roll call was 62 to 28. Administration strategists in the Senate succeeded yesterday in abtracting the restrictive rider amendment to the British aid bill in favor of a compromise proposal omitting reference to western hemisphere limitations or the use of U. S. armed forces.

Simultaneously Senate Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky said the chamber would sit until 10:00 P. M. today to hasten action on the measure.

Senator Clark (Democrat, Missouri), non-interventionist leader, objected vigorously, but Barkley said night sessions had become necessary.

The compromise—declaring that nothing in the bill changes existing law relating to the use of the U. S. land and naval forces—represented at least a temporary victory for President Roosevelt.

Caldwell Is Elected New President Of Sanford Association

Charles Bradshaw officially resigned from the Sanford Baseball Association at a meeting held this morning and Otto Caldwell, manager of the St. Johns River Line, was elected new president of the association, Frank Lamson, secretary for Mr. Bradshaw said today.

Mr. Bradshaw gave notice of his intention to resign Nov. 30 to give the organization a chance to make plans for the baseball team this year, Mr. Lamson said. The former president was expected to leave the team was about to lose its franchise in the Florida State League. Since that time a number of outstanding ball players have been developed, among them Sid Hudson and James Harry "Bliss" Dean.

Both were sold to the Washington Senators and Hudson is now counted as one of their best pitchers.

Other outstanding rookies who were developed while Bradshaw headed the team, are Willie Skren, Roy Marlen and Ralph Hyder.

Second Year Of Service In Army Seen For Guard

Action Will Depend On Status Of Inter- national Situation

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7.—(AP)—The War Department said today the Army may ask Congress for the authority to keep the National Guard in service for an additional six months or a year.

Whether the Guardsmen will be kept in uniform beyond the current year's period of training, it was explained, will depend on the international situation.

Some 240,000 Guard officers and men have been mobilized thus far.

The War Department reported yesterday it had spent more than $15,000,000 on building materials and equipment used in the construction of camps and cantonments.

At the same time, the department said that delays which have hampered its camp and arms plant construction program were being overcome. As of Feb. 27, it was said, the status of 230 projects: 18 complete, 120 on schedule, 55 behind schedule, 24 ahead of schedule, and 15 not started.

Great Britain Sends Supplies To Turks;

German Tanks Near Frontier Of Nation

Yugoslavia's Role Is Still Mystery

British Troops Con- tinue To Advance In African Battle

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Mar. 7.—(AP)—The Turkish press warned the nation strongly today against accepting German assurances, asserted that the spread of the war into the Balkans seemed inevitable. The press warned Hitler that "the million Turkish bayonets" stand against his "birdshot" assurances.

By Associated Press
Greek diplomatic quarters expressed the belief today that Turkey would send troops into the mountains of Greece Thrace to help combat a German invasion, while Great Britain was reported speeding all the equipment she could spare to the Turks.

Balkan armies spotted 60 German tanks almost within sight of the Turkish frontier.

The first Nazi onslaught, however, is expected to strike into Greece's million-man army in Macedonia, a 60-mile corridor leading to the sea at Salonika.

Yugoslavia's role in the crisis remained a mystery, but authorities in Belgrade, the Yugoslav capital, said that Regent Prince Paul had conferred Monday with Hitler at the Faubourg Hotel in Berlin.

Yugoslavia's neutrality was expected to remain unchanged.

On the African war front, the principal development was an announcement by the British that their troops had surrounded Farafra in the heart of Italian Somaliland, that they were continuing to advance and that they had broken off German detachments in Libya.

Throughout actual activity in the Syrian European war zone was limited.

Yugoslavia's government, ready to submit to a "sovereign" pact with the Axis, was under a great deal of pressure to break down Greece's refusal to submit to a German demand to cease with Italy.

Within the next 48 hours, it was reported in diplomatic quarters, the Belgrade government will announce a new German policy to take the one step in the Axis encirclement of Greece and bring the last Balkan neutral into the last German camp.

Yugoslavia's shift to the Axis was understood to have been discussed at a conference in Belgrade among Prince Regent Paul, Premier Cvetkovich, and Foreign Minister Cincar Markovitch, Dr. A. Masek, leader of the government opposition, and the German minister without portfolio, Franz Schulerer, also attended the conference.

Indicating that major decisions were being taken, the Yugoslav cabinet was summoned into session last night with all three top officials and chief of Staff Simovic in attendance, the (Continued on Page Three)

'Cruise-Way' Of Travel Gains In Public's Favor

JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 7.—(Special)—Old sailings from Miami and Jacksonville each week of the "Cruise-Way" of travel between Florida and New York, officials of the line said today.

More and more visitors' homeward bound after Florida vacations are discovering the advantages of "Cruise-Way" travel, they said. The sea route adds extra days of rest and recreation, free from long tiring drives on crowded highways.

New low fares and frequent sailings from Miami, Jacksonville and Charleston contribute to "Cruise-Way" popularity. Clyde-Mallory liners offer two sailings a week from Miami, Jacksonville and New York direct, and on Tuesdays to New York with a brief call at Jacksonville.

Northbound travelers through the Jacksonville gateway have their choice of three weekly sailings, one of them an express cruise direct to Manhattan leaving every Wednesday. Some prefer the more leisurely "Cruise-Way" voyage leaving Jacksonville Fridays and Saturdays, with a stopover of five or six hours for sightseeing in Charleston, S. C.

As a climber to a southern destination, as an introduction to the North, "Cruise-Way" is the preferred way to travel, it was stated. The spacious Clyde-Mallory fleet—the Ochober, Seminole, Shawnee and Algonquin—offer all the comforts and diversions of ocean travel, including comfortable staterooms and spacious areas for shipboard sports.

A continuous program of entertainment is provided for those who wish only to relax and rest there are comfortable staterooms on wide breezy-swept decks and cozy corners of spacious public rooms.

Beneficial, taking advantage of the low fares for automobiles carried on board when accompanied by passengers, arrive in New York rested and refreshed after enjoying the sports, amusements and famous service of Clyde-Mallory steamers.

Teletype To Aid Big Army Buying System In South

ATLANTA, Mar. 7.—(AP)—Atlanta is soon to be the hub of a huge Army purchasing system that will spend $50,000 daily for fresh fruits and vegetables.

Details of the plan to help keep 200,000 soldiers in the fourth corps area healthy and strong were discussed here yesterday by quartermasters in the eight Southern states.

When sufficient supplies cannot be obtained in markets near camps, calls will be sent over the teletype, via a teletype machine network, even to Army marketing specialists over the country.

For example, the quartermaster supply officer at Fort Benning needs avocados to complete his menu for the 40,000 troops there. Unable to obtain them nearby, he contacts Atlanta. A buyer is able to purchase 20,000 pounds, but 5,000 pounds more are needed. Jacksonville is contacted and the remainder are obtained.

Present plans call for regional markets to be located in New Orleans, Jacksonville and two other cities.

General Frink pointed out the program was not aimed at diverting local markets. "We will utilize them to the utmost," he declared.

Special Submarine Cable Is Laid On Lake Jessup Bed

Dial telephones are being installed in Geneva and Oviedo by the Bell Telephone Company and new submarine cables are being laid on the bed of Lake Jessup.

Exchanges at Geneva and Oviedo will be automatic and no operators will be necessary. More equipment will be installed at the Sanford office to take care of calls to Sanford and over toll lines, Mr. Turner said.

The underground lines have been laid by the men seen working around the manholes on Sanford streets for the past several weeks. The lead covered lines are buried 42 inches deep.

Mr. Turner explained. Planning for the move has been going on for some time but the actual work has taken only four weeks.

Special batteries have to be installed as the dial system takes a stronger current than the ordinary system. New testing boards for the toll lines are expected to be installed in the Sanford office along with the new equipment.
