

League-Leading DeLanders To Face Left-Handers In Double Bill Here Sunday

By PETER SCHAUER

Left-handers will be thrown at the league-leading DeLand Reds at Municipal Park tomorrow afternoon by Manager Burie Taylor in an attempt to score a double victory for his hustling Celeryfeds and thus reduce the Reds' eight game lead over the Feds in six games. The first game starts at 2:30 o'clock.

Al Caldara, husky young Jack sonville fork-hander who throws them low and fast, is scheduled to work the first game with either Lefty Flora or Vic Nigenfind being held ready to handle the second game.

Caldara, sent here on the recommendation of Teem Gallegos and Stuffy McCrone, has already im pressed his mates as being a capable hurler. He set the league leading St. Augustine Saints down with eight hits recently and he is said to have the makings of an outstanding pitcher.

Flora, former Daytona Beach pitcher who tried his best to get a job with Sanford last June, finished with Thomasville Orioles in the Georgia-Florida League today and was scheduled to leave that city for Sanford this afternoon.

If he arrives in time and appears to be rested after having won 13 and lost six games in that league, Flora will be seen in one of the games tomorrow.

If not, Manager Taylor will probably use Vic Nigenfind who has been out of action for 10 days because of a bad attack of boils.

Skinny McGowan, veteran infielder who arrived this week and joined the Feds, says that Nigenfind is one of the best pitchers he has ever seen work, he predicts that the youngster will set the league afire before it closes on Sept. 19.

Manager Taylor had not decided on his starting line up for tomorrow's first game although it is indicated that it probably will be similar to the first game of Thurs day.

Leading off will be Charlie Robinson, stellar shortstop, Skinny McGowan will be left, Joe Barnes on first, Bill Gates on third, Willie Marques in center, Dave Swindell in right, Eddie Overstreet catching, Arthur Winn on second, and Caldara pitching.

Fans today were looking on the Feds as the best balanced outfit in the league. With Flora's arrival the Feds have five pitchers not counting Manager Taylor who started in the mound for over seven years before deciding on in field play.

McGowan and Taylor are expected of holding down any position in the infield or outfield while Gates and Taylor can catch if necessary and so can Teem Gallegos, who was signed up Wednesday although he may not arrive for about a week.

Manager Stanley Cupp announced at DeLand yesterday that he would send Earl Porter to arrive at the Feds in the first game and that either Bill Latte or Gene Fisher would handle the second game.

Fisher has been doing with a badly injured side. He barely got by the first half Sunday without a win back on Thursday and left Leesburg to have hits while his mates accounted four pitchers for a 10 to 1 victory.

Latte has been slipping since what fans have been too inclined to blame him on his own mistakes. However, he still has his effectiveness with more or less, with apparently the other two in the back seems about evenly matched by the best this year.

The Feds have been drawing the second largest crowd. With the Feds battling to get out of the cellar and with their eyes on first place they can be expected to turn in two more fine performances, and local fans should respond to the opportunity to see a double bill against the league leaders.

The Feds will play at Cocoa on Tuesday, and at Sanford with Leesburg next Thursday. Both of these games will be single affairs. Next Sunday the Feds play a double bill at Cocoa, while on Labor Day morning they play at Leesburg. Labor Day afternoon they meet DeLand here, and on Tuesday afternoon they again play Leesburg.

In other words, starting tomorrow, the Feds must play nine games in nine days, including two double headers and two games on Monday, Labor Day.

While the Feds and Reds will be playing here tomorrow, the Leesburg Islanders will be at Cocoa fighting to hold on to second place.

The Indians are only one game out of that position. A double victory over the slipping Islanders would put the Indians in second place for the first time this half and would place them in a fine position to go into first place since if DeLand drops two and Cocoa wins two tomorrow, Cocoa will be only one-half game out of first place.

Official averages the six Thursday games:

Fletcher Only State Solon Who Held True To New Deal

All Other Florida Congressmen Voted In Protest Of One Or More Of FDR's Views

By FRANK A. KENNEDY
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Contributing their full share to the national legislative program, Florida senators and representatives were busy yesterday winding up the longest Congressional session since the World War.

The session has witnessed the first significant defection of the Floridians from their previous unqualified support of the Roosevelt Administration. Only the delegation's dean, Senator Duncan L.
Fletcher, showed a record unmarked by a single departure from the New Deal banner.

Senator Trammell was the first to bolt the Roosevelt program when he voted against the nation's adherence to the World Court protocol, later he voted to override the presidential veto of the Palmetto bonus bill, but returned to the Administration ranks upon a third controversial issue, the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill, and voted to retain the famous

"death clause" in that measure.
Among the House members, Representatives W. J. Sears, R. A.
Green and Millard Caldwell first broke away from the Administration upon the bonus issue, each voting to approve President Roosevelt's veto. The trio swam back into line upon the issue that compelled Representatives J. Mark Wileman and J. Hardin Peterson first to oppose the New Deal. Willeman and Peterson voted against the utility "death clause" as Sears, Green and Caldwell voted in the affirmative.

Despite these defections, the delegation achieved a better record for consistent support of the New Deal, than most of the other solid Democratic states. Senator Fletcher's steady position and wide influence more than outweighed the relatively minor excursions of the other Floridians. Less than a dozen Senators still were in line.

Engineers Predict Bolivia, Paraguay Finish Of Work On Norris Dam Soon Are Determined To Return To Normal

Project Expected To Be Completed On
Or About Jan. 1

NORRIS, Tenn., Aug. 26.—(AP)— The one-million cubic yard of concrete will be poured into the glistening, white bulk of the Tennessee Valley Authority's $31,000,- 000 Norris Dam before New Year's Day, bringing the massive storage and power project to completion in slightly over two years.

This is the prediction of engineers engaged in supervising construction of the dam on the tiny Clinch River in northeastern Tennessee.

The 283-foot high dam approximately the height of a 17-story building, will create a finger-like lake in the mountains with a 100-mile shoreline. The stored waters will be regulated to control floods and increase power and navigation possibilities on the Tennessee River in Alabama.

The Authority began construction of the dam in November, 1933.

Today, the entire dam is 95 percent complete and construction work is several months ahead of schedule.

The 82-square-mile reservoir, which will extend 49 miles up the Clinch and Powell River valleys,

3175 Bogus Names On Tampa Voter's List

TAMPA, Aug. 26.—The city election board announced yesterday it had ordered 3175 bogus names off the new registration list which with 6854 dropped from the 1933 list Thursday will reduce the primary voting strength by 10,023.

Frank Alonso, assistant chief registration officer, in charge of the red pencil squad, estimated at least 1000 additional names will be stricken.

Cutting of 10,023 names would reduce the city's record registration from 34,884 to 24,057. Four years ago when Chancery ran against Henderson it was 22,104.

The 3175 names stricken off yesterday were put on the books 14 precincts or at the city hall since they were opened June 9.

Homestead Problem To Go Into Court

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Homestead tax exemption in Florida is somewhat modified again by reason of divergent official opinion on the amendment adopted by the voters last year.

Apparently it is headed for the courts for a definite guiding decision on whether homesteads shall continue to be assessed for taxes to pay outstanding bonds.

The Supreme Court, some months ago said homesteads must continue to bear their share of taxes to pay outstanding bonds unless money for the payment was provided from some other source.
That phrase "some other source" is the subject of discussion now.

Warring Neighbors Show Progress In Economic Condition

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 26.— War-torn Bolivia and Paraguay, which ended their three-year war by armistice in June, are steadily returning to economic normality while a peace conference in the new Alvear gingerly approaches the question of territorial rights in the Chaco.

The territorial question is an complicated, with claims and counter-claims of each country dating back to colonial days, that the conference is expected to run many months more. Estimates in conference circles run from six months to two years, with the strong possibility that the case eventually will go to the Hague Court of International Justice for settlement.

In the meantime, however, the mediation group which succeeded in halting the fighting after an estimated 100,000 men had been killed in three years, has much solid achievement on the record, whatever the complexities in settling the basic territorial question.
The mediators are Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, United States and Uruguay.

Demobilization has proceeded at a brisk pace on both sides, the neutral military commission working in the Chaco got Bolivia's Gen. Enrique Fernández and Paraguay's Gen. Félix José Monteagudo to sign a peace treaty in a festive and prolongation of the presidential mandate of Tejada Serrano in Bolivia until August, 1936, solved a Bolivia political question which had a direct bearing on the Buenos Aires negotiations for a definite peace treaty.

In July 30, Bolivia had demobilized 10,815 of its estimated 50,000 soldiers, and Paraguay had demobilized 12,735 of its estimated 60,000 or about double and quadruple, respectively, the number planned for the first phase of the 90-day gradual demobilization plan. This rapid demobilization was effected without incidents of any kind. The demobilization is expected to be continued in September, when each side will have reduced to the maximum of knowledged in the activities planned.

Demobilized Paraguayan returned to their normal agricultural lives carried on during the war by old men, young boys, women and girls, whereas the Bolivians were fed out gradually to their native agricultural villages in the countryside, which have been struggling with a shortage of labor through the war years.

To aid the returning soldiers, in case there isn't enough work, public works programs are shaping up in both Bolivia and Paraguay.

Bogus of foreign products, curtailed drastically during the war, has increased perceptibly in each country.

For Bolivia, a sign of stability was settlement of the presidential vacancy with decision by congress that President Tejada Serrano will remain in office until

Croats Offer Big Problem For Europe

Fate Of 2 Dynasties, Peace Of Nations Seen Depending On Solution To Debate

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia, Aug. 26.— Question-mark Croatia, intermittently in the news through all these post-war years, is rapidly approaching the magnitude of a problem on which may depend the peace of Europe and the fate of two dynasties.

There was a Croatian problem even before the World War, when Croatia was a Hungarian province, part of the great Hapsburg empire. In 1918, when the empire crumbled, the Croats united with the Slovenes and Serbs to found a new South-Slav state, the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slo-venes.

The Serbs, however, came into this new state as victors; the Croats and Slovenes as former subjects of the hated Hapsburg crown. Under the onslaught of Ansto-Hungarian troops little Serbia had suffered much. The people had been driven from their homes, the land laid waste. When victory finally came their way and Belgrade became the capital of a new Slav state, the Serbs, who undoubtedly had suffered most naturally felt more entitled to leadership in the new state than their Croat and Slovene partners, who had not broken away from the enemy until collapse was in sight.

On the other, the Croats and Slovenes, children of a western civilization acquired under Hapsburg rule, were inclined to feel themselves culturally superior to the Serbs, who had only very recently emerged from the Turkish yoke. Too, the Croats and Slovenes were predominantly Roman Catholic; the Serbs were Orthodox. And although they spoke the same language, the Serbs used the Cyrillic alphabet while their new fellow countrymen had been brought up in road and with the Slavic characters.

Zagreb, the capital of 1,000,000 Croats became the better rival of Belgrade and the natural center of all opposition to Belgrade rule.
Attempts to work out the problems of co-operation between Serb and Croat through the parliamentary interplay of political parties in metropolises in 1929 in the assassination of the Croat peasant leader Stefan Radić King Alexander stepped thereafter to almost the Croat problem by dictatorial methods culminating in his own assassination in 1934.

Since then the trend has been toward reconciliation, but it gained real headway only by Dr. Matchev in the Chaco got Bolivia's Gen. Enrique Fernández and
Paraguay's Gen. Félix José
Monteagudo to sign a peace treaty in a festive and pro-
longation of the presidential mandate of Tejada Serrano in Bolivia
until August, 1936, solved a Bolivia political question which had
a direct bearing on the Buenos
peace treaty.

But Dr. Matchev and the 3,000, 000 Croats still in their demands for real liberty, real autonomy. The new premier of Yugoslavia, Milan Stojadinović, leading a government installed in 1933 in the assassination of the Croat peasant leader
Stefan Radić King Alexander
stepped thereafter to almost the Croat problem by dictatorial
assassination in 1934.

In the determination of the out for a real solution, certain numerous quarters in Austria see a bright ray of hope for their own sake. They foresee the Croat movement developing into an all-out struggle for autonomy in the Balkans and the Karagoryevich

17 Year Old Youth Admits Firing 17 Denver Buildings

Boy Builds Blaze At Police Station To Climax His Record

DENVER, Aug. 26.—(AP)— A 17-year-old youth was sued by police today to have admitted he was the arsonist who set a series of fires which struck terror in city business district.

Sam L. Settler, 17, the fires and hostages, who wanted all over country. Detective Sergeant Walter L. Frazee quoted the youth as saying

The detective said the youth identified himself as Warren Crainer, son of Dr. Harry R.
Crainer of Oakland, Calif.

"I got out of it," Sergeant Frazee said the boy told him. It was fun and exciting, he said. I started a fire in police headquarters.

The boy said he was excited in several cities for some time last year and partly this year.

The fire in the police station last night eliminated a series of fires in abandoned business houses and office buildings.

Social Credit

We have a suggestion for all candidates for Congress, all we want is a Social Credit, and all others who may go before the electorate next year, we suggest attaching themselves to some lucrative public office. Be sure to promise the people something for nothing. And if your opponent offers them more for nothing than you did, then see his bid and raise him. For the candidate who offers the most for nothing is almost sure to be elected.

If you don't believe us, consider the returns in Friday's legislative elections in the provinces of Alberta, Canada, where a Social Credit League had been formed, waged a tremendous campaign on a program of paying everybody.

Of course, Florida is not Canada, but it is a sweeping victory. Of course, Florida is not Canada, but it is a sweeping victory. Of course, Florida is not Canada, but it is a sweeping victory. Of course, Florida is not Canada, but it is a sweeping victory.

All other things being equal, the nation's political parties will be forced to adopt the Social Credit League's program.

No Children

We wonder now how eager Mr. Roosevelt is to have another child. Mr. Lewis has made him pay his part of the last one!

It isn't alone for the

Romance Led To Arsonist's Arrest

DENVER, Aug. 27.—(AP)—A romance with a running house girl, police said last night, led to the arrest of a youth suspected of attempting to burn Denver's Connally and physician, sufficiently to smile husband before she lost consciousness again and died.

Detective Captain Chidley said the youth booked as Warren R. Cramer, 17, found the girl was leading a life of "shame" and threatened to burn the running house unless she reformed. The girl informed the lady who called police.

AAA Revises Its Policies On Cotton

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The AAA, under pressure of south cotton, last night revised its cotton policy to guarantee each co-operating individual grower a government subsidy to give him a return of 12 cents a pound on 1935 production.

At the same time, it was said there was no change so far as Virginia was concerned, where a similar ban on naval activities was imposed because of spread of the malady into that state.

Lifting of the quarantine in North Carolina, approved by navy surgeon general, also means that midshipmen again will be allowed to visit there.
