

TURKS HAVE ACCEPTED CONDITIONS LAID DOWN AT PARIS CONFERENCE

ACCORDING TO AIDE OF MUSTAPHA KEMAL PASHA TODAY

DEMAND RIGHT TO CONDUCT MILITARY OPERATIONS DURING THE PROGRESS OF THE CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press) CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26.—Fire which broke out in Constantinople last night is causing intense excitement and fears that an attempt is being made to burn the capital were controlled after a flight of two hours.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26.—Reply of Turkish Nationalist government to Allied peace note has been completed and comprises acceptance of conditions laid down at the Paris conference, according to Easud, aide to Mustapha Kemal Pasha who has arrived here from Smyrna. The Nationalists, however, insist upon the right to conduct military movements during the progress of the conference and also demand admission to meeting of all the allies and the Angora government.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26.—A fire raging in Upper Pera street, a main thoroughfare of the capital. The population is in a state of panic.

Turkish cavalry, armed with machine guns, returned within the neutral zone at Chanak yesterday. General Harrington, the British high commissioner, instructed the Nationalist representative here to request Mustapha Kemal Pasha to order their withdrawal. The failure to comply, given as reasonable, would fall upon the heads of the Kemalists, the instructions said.

It is persistently reported that the cabinet will resign today. The armistice conference will be held at Mudania on or about October 1st.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Smiles which weathered Lord Curzon's face as he departed from the prime minister's office yesterday afternoon after making a detailed report to the cabinet of his Paris mission, typified the general easing up of the tenseness in the Near East situation as viewed from the British capital.

Even where in official circles, there are expressions of relief that the war news of last week have been replaced by the good diplomacy with such an element as Curzon directing British policy. Although there is no word that the allied note has yet been delivered to Mustapha Kemal Pasha, the nationalist leader, it is intimated that he is refused to come to terms is extremely unlikely.

The view is held in authoritative allied circles that immediate acceptance would be against Turkish "trading propensities." It is said that the Turk in bargaining diplomatically or otherwise always wants a first offer made to him. Then he holds the other to it and angles for further concessions. The allies have made Kemal Pasha a definite offer of Constantinople, Thrace to the Maritza river and membership in the League of Nations, but it is believed that Kemal Pasha probably will reply with a demand for all of Eastern Thrace and complete retirement from the neutral zones before the Turks enter into a peace conference.

TO ANNOUNCE HIS DECISION IN FRADY CASE

ALLEGED WIFE SLAYER WANTS HIS RELEASE ON BOND

(By The Associated Press) MIAMI, Sept. 26.—Judge Davis, of West Palm Beach, is expected to announce late today his decision in the appeal of Edgar C. Frady, alleged wife slayer, for his release on bond from the county jail here. Both sides closed their arguments yesterday. Frady based his habeas corpus plea on the contention that unless he is released illness from which he suffered may prove fatal before his trial in January.

SONS INDICTED FOR POISONING FATHER

MOORE HAVEN, Sept. 25.—A. B. and E. H. McCray were indicted by the county grand jury on a charge of murdering their father, A. J. McCray, last May.

It is alleged that the sons put poison in their father's coffee in order to get his money. The body of the elder McCray was sent to Tifton, Ga., and buried. A subsequent investigation resulted in the arrest of the two sons July 21. Following the arrest McCray's body was exhumed and an examination of his viscera disclosed poison, according to the officials.

The trial is scheduled to come up in circuit court today.

BEAUTIFICATION MOVEMENTS SHOULD BE SAFEGUARDED

The Florida Times-Union, recently carried the following article in its "Short Talks" column:

"The St. Petersburg Times a few days ago said: 'A steady stream of home owners, moved by the spirit of civic pride, visited the city auditorium this morning to dispense and receive free cuttings of rooted plants. Under the auspices of the Women's Town Improvement Association, today had been set aside as planting day to stimulate the planting of flowers, shrubs, and trees for the purpose of city beautification.' The newspaper adds that among the cuttings and rooted plants distributed were oleanders, poinsettias, alantanders, scarlet flame, bougainvillea, Joseph's coat, rubber trees, begonia, hibiscus, geraniums and many others. St. Petersburg home owners are all interested in making the Sunshine City even more beautiful and interesting."

Before undertaking this project the mayor of St. Petersburg arranged with the Florida State Plant Board to have an inspector present to inspect and certify all cuttings before they were exchanged.

This inspection is absolutely necessary for two good reasons.

First: The law requires it. Second: Quite often pests of considerable importance occur in the various backyards and if no inspection were made, such an exchange of cuttings might be the means of distributing plant pests of all kinds.

Cities that are planning civic beautification should certainly arrange to have all cuttings exchanged on one day and have an inspector of the State Plant Board present at that time to give them all a careful inspection.

Goldstone, Jacksonville restaurateur, were seized at the Georgia and Southern Florida freight depot late yesterday by George E. Gay, government dry agent of this city. Allen, state prohibition enforcement officer at Tampa, failed to disclose that a permit had been issued for the shipment.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE IS DOING GREAT WORK, HOLDING GOOD MEETINGS

Committees Are Hard at Work Getting Ready for the Big Season

There was an unusually large attendance of members at the weekly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held last Friday at the Valdez Hotel, which evidences the fact that a greater interest is being taken in civic affairs. Those to whom the heaviest portion of the work has fallen in the past in building up an efficient chamber of commerce are gratified that others who have heretofore been apparently unconcerned are taking real interest in the organization and have signified their willingness to cooperate in putting over those things which are recognized as absolutely essential if Sanford is to attain further prominence and prosperity.

The meeting Friday took more time than usual, which was due to the large amount of business which was handled. The much discussed band subject was again brought up at the meeting and the Committee appointed the previous week advised of their intentions to again meet the City Commissioners Monday evening and endeavor to have additional appropriation made in the budget to provide for the band. It was agreed that to permit the band to disorganize at this time for lack of necessary funds would be a reflection on Sanford, particularly after the great amount of favorable publicity it has brought to the city during the past year.

The Publicity Committee, of which R. J. Holly is chairman, submitted an advertising program for the coming year which was the result of careful consideration at previous meeting of members of the Chamber of Commerce. The Publicity Committee has provided for extensive advertising of Sanford's new golf course in a number of national golfing publications, this advertising to be inserted during the winter months. The Publicity Committee has arranged to advertise Sanford as it has never been done before. Publicity on this section will appear in more than 400 newspapers published in the middle west and New England States.

The purpose of this advertising is to attract the class of people that are benefited with the cold weather experienced in the north and are turning to Florida in greater numbers each year to escape the rigors of these Northern winters. A careful investigation by the committee disclosed the fact that Southern California was developed by just this class of people. The Publicity Committee also reported that work on the new eight page folders on Sanford was under way and these new folders should be completed and ready for distribution within a month.

Postcard day was again brought to the attention of the meeting by Chairman Holly. The fullest cooperation of everyone in Sanford is requested to make it the success desired by the committee. The plans as submitted to the meeting by the Publicity Committee for this year's advertising were approved by the Board.

The City Planning Committee had referred to it a suggestion from the Southern Drug Company which was (Continued on page 2)

Old Volusia County in the Midst of Another Big Political Upheaval

(By The Associated Press) DELAND, Sept. 26.—Petitions are in general circulation in many parts of Volusia county requesting Governor Hardee to remove Sheriff Lee Morris. The petitions charge the sheriff with being delinquent in his duties, stating that he has done little to suppress vice, that liquor smuggling and selling are rampant in the county. CHASE & CO. FOR LOWER RATES.

Under the above caption the Miami Metropolis took occasion to commend Chase & Co., for their attempts and successes at securing lower freight rates for Florida growers, and in calling the attention of the Metropolis readers to this act of Chase & Co., they referred to an advertisement of this company headed "Lower Freight Rates" (which also appeared in the Sanford Herald under the same date) and in which it is stated that this company was among the first to make a fight for lower freight rates for Florida growers. As this company makes Sanford headquarters and covers local territory, we are glad to call the attention of our readers to the article which follows:

"Lower Freight Rates!" Metropolis readers were attracted by those words in an advertisement appearing in last Thursday's Metropolis. They were attracted particularly because it is unusual for a business concern to come out in a public statement confessing, and taking pride in the confession, that it has been fighting for fair freight rates. The advertisement in question was that of Chase & Co., which stated that the firm of Chase & Co. "were one of the original few Florida growers and shippers who began the work for lower freight rates and reduced minimum loads on Florida fruits and vegetables, and were successful in this work."

"Chase & Co." the advertisement continues, "have taken active part in and contributed freely of their time and money to every important freight rate fight undertaken on Florida fruits and vegetables, and were successful in this work."

and contributed freely of their time and money to every important freight rate fight undertaken on Florida fruits and vegetables."

The Metropolis seldom adds editorial endorsement to an advertisement, but it wants an opportunity to say that if all business concerns, dealers in all commodities, would "contribute time and money" and honest enthusiasm toward securing a reduction of the exorbitant rates imposed upon the people of the lower East Coast, they could more justly qualify for the good citizenship class."

ROLLINS COLLEGE OPENS TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 26

WINTER PARK, Sept. 23.—Rollins College in Winter Park will open her 38th year next Tuesday, September 26th. Indications are that there will be the usual registration of 850. Preparations have been in process all summer and the facilities are in the best of condition to greet the student body on its return. The campus, which overlooks Lake Virginia, has been improved. Its natural beauty has long been a distinctive asset to Rollins and it will no doubt present a typical Florida welcome to the many students arriving from colder states.

The curriculum has been strengthened and meets, in every particular, the standard requirements of the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges so that students who wish to transfer to colleges elsewhere may receive full credit for their work. Such transfers have taken place this summer to Yale, University of Georgia, Oberlin, Ohio State, New York University, and other universities of equal rank. New courses are offered this year in business administration, home economics and citrus culture.

The Department of business administration is under the direction of Eldridge Hart, A. B., LL. B., a graduate of Brown, London and Harvard Universities. G. R. Schwartz, LL. B., a graduate of Washington University, will conduct the classes in Law and assist Prof. Hart with the work in Business English. Mrs. Martine Fitzhugh, A. B., a graduate of the Peabody College for Teachers, will have charge of the courses in Secretarial Science.

The Conservatory of Music has so broadened its scope that the degree of Bachelor of Music is now offered. Additions to the teaching staff are: Bertha Hart, Mus. B., piano; Emil Schuler (Leipzig), violin; Mae A. Bryan, Mus. B., piano.

The policy of administration for the coming year will be in keeping with that of the past which has limited the purpose of the college of offering the advantages of the small, Christian college. At Florida's oldest college, Rollins has an alumni list of more than 2,000 and her record of character building of the past 37 years is one which ranks her as one of the South's foremost small colleges.

MARKETING OUTLOOK BRIGHT.

In his monthly letter to Florida banks Business Manager Stewart of the Florida Citrus Exchange says:

"There is apparently a bright outlook for early shipments this season, on both oranges and grapefruit, especially during the month of October. Prices in November and December will depend largely upon the policies observed by shippers. If fruit is rushed to the markets out of proportion to the consuming demand or if heavy shipments of immature fruit are made during the months of September and October, some very moderate returns may be expected on the November and December movement. On the other hand, if the fruit is handled properly satisfactory prices should maintain throughout the entire season. Well

TROOPS GUARDED TAMPA JAIL PROTECT NEGRO

WHO HAD KILLED AN OFFICER ON TAMPA STREETS YESTERDAY

(By The Associated Press) TAMPA, Sept. 25.—Troops were withdrawn this morning from the county jail where they were stationed yesterday to guard against any possible violence to Leslie Glenn, a negro, who was lodged there following to shooting to death Sunday morning of Policeman H. R. Lett. The action of Chief Deputy Givens in requesting 75 members of the local National Guardmen was approved today by Sheriff Spencer who was absent from the city when the tragedy occurred.

Orange county which has long been famed for its production of vegetables and fruits is going into this business on a much larger scale this season than ever before. With 1,000 acres of rich hammock land tilled and producing enormous crops, growers in this section are laying 1,250,000 additional feet of tilling this fall which will bring some 500 additional acres into cultivation and give employment to some 450 additional laborers. The growers who are tilling larger acreages are: M. C. Britt, L. W. Tilden, Maguire Brothers, G. V. Robinson and G. T. Smith.

posted citrus authorities state that the Parson Brown orange in the upper part of the citrus belt and grapefruit in the lower peninsula will pass the required maturity test and be ready for shipment by September 15 to 25, and by October first the movement will be in substantial volume. Coloring rooms as recommended by the Department of Agriculture, for coloring matured citrus fruits, will be operated in many packing houses during the early part of the season, making it possible to move this early matured fruit in full color. While opinions vary regarding the yield for next season, it is generally conceded that it will be equal to last year with relatively a larger percentage of oranges than grapefruit."

Let no petty politics interfere with the growth of Sanford.

This is the time for all good people to get together and keep together on the big question of building Sanford.

The Ku Klux Klan had a big parade and speaking in Orlando last night and according to the Orlando Sentinel Orlando will be the headquarters of the Klan for the state.

Feller in Orlando named A. Future Booster certainly signed up a lot of notes to the San Juan Garage in the Orlando Sentinel today. He ought to have a Chevrolet car by now.

And the way to build Sanford is for every public spirited citizen to join the Sanford Chamber of Commerce and become an active member. It is only through organized effort that anything can be accomplished.

The bloody Turks after a little incursion into foreign fields and the killing and capturing of thousands of defenseless women have gained the esteem of Europe and they are now asked to desist until the League of Nations can meet and give them a part of Europe. Nice work!

Henry Ford will have no booze fighters working for him and his attitude will do more to help enforce the prohibition laws in Detroit than any other force. He says "Politics has interfered with the enforcement of the prohibition law. It will be enforced to the letter so far as our organization is concerned."

It is no wonder the working man looks upon the world with eyes filled with prejudice. It seems that every man's hand is against him and every time he turns around some one is trying to gouge him. It is high time he received a square deal and it is about the time when he is going to get a square deal by the ballot box route.

This old brotherly love stuff handed out at the meetings of the various organizations is all right to talk about. It is fine to talk it in the churches and the clubs and the fraternal societies but how many people practice it in everyday life? The fellow with the greatest flow of language about fraternity and brotherly love is usually the one who stabs his best friend the day after the meeting.

Next week the public schools of Sanford will open and this week should be set aside getting the boys and girls ready for school. All of those little things that have to be done to have everything in readiness for Monday morning. And the list of school books having been arranged the scholars can get their new books this week thus saving much time next week and helping Mobley's Drug Store out greatly. Get ready this week and save the big rush and much confusion.

The Herald wants to see a real athletic association in the High School. We want to see the best football team and the best basket ball team and the best base ball team this season that the schools have ever had. And we think that the people of this district should see that the boys have sufficient funds to carry out this big idea. If that fund was established that the Herald has been talking about so long the money for the athletic association would be ready in time for the expenses to be met instead of making a drag down First street as is the usual custom.

ORLANDO ON CITY BUILDING.

We think there are entirely too many young men hanging around the streets of Orlando late into the night with apparently nothing to do except to look for trouble or some form of exciting entertainment.

We are sure that the automobile with its load of belligerent young girls and young boys and men and women are demoralizing to the community and we appeal to all parents, as well as brothers and sisters of mature age, to warn their fellows in this wild joyriding nocturnal rambling.

We favor the extension of electric light service to every dark and obscure section of the city because vice lurks in the dark places.

Bootlegging is not the only evil that exists in Orlando.

We want every clergyman in Orlando to address his congregation on the matter of appealing to individual honor in promoting the character of our city.

Individual obligation to one's city is essential if vice is going to be eliminated. If the individual citizen refuses to execute the sacred duty which is his privilege then the soul of a city becomes a lifeless and spiritless thing. Is it right that we as an individual citizen should blind ourselves and fail to see the tainted spots that lead to debauchery of youth and the crippling of age? We are here to build an ideal city. What the rest of America is doing in the age of abnormality is no excuse for looseness or laxity of Orlando citizens. Let us build and serve a moral, upright city of Christian, law-abiding sons and daughters. What do you say, citizens? You rule.—Orlando Sentinel.

FOR ENFORCEMENT OF THE GAME LAWS.

The sheriff of Polk county has taken action in regard to the better enforcement of the game laws which ought to stand as a model for every sheriff in the state. The game and fish of Florida have long been one of the great assets of the state. They have been responsible for the bringing of thousands of tourists to the state. They have furnished food at critical times. The legislature has recognized this fact, and has passed laws for their protection. But it has neglected to provide means for their enforcement, and too often they have been disregarded. Some attractive species of birds have already become practically extinct, as the flamingoes and snowy egrets, and others are on the way. The same unfortunate fact is true of the fishes which have been so abundant in our Florida waters. We cannot afford to let this destructive process of extinction go to its ultimate limit, and rob the state of an asset of so much value to its people, hence the laws.

It is gratifying to know that the sportsmen's associations throughout the state are taking the matter up and demanding a better enforcement of the laws, and equally gratifying to know that the officers of the law are disposed to co-operate with them.

Sheriff Logan, of Polk county, has appointed every one of the 500 members of the Polk County Game Protective association, scattered all over the county, a deputy sheriff, with authority to act in cases where they find the laws being violated. He tells every member of the association that they will be paid 12 1/2 cents per mile to and from Bartow for all travel in causing the arrest and conviction of violators of the game laws, and will get one-third of the fines imposed. In one case of conviction for violating the game laws last year the violator was fined $50. By this action of Sheriff Logan he secures a corps of active, efficient and enthusiastic deputies scattered all over the county, and we believe will secure the enforcement of the game laws in his bailiwick. All honor to the sheriff of Polk county, and may his plan be followed by every sheriff in the state of Florida. It is in the interest of clean sport and the preservation of the wild life, which is a great asset of the state.—Tampa Times.

THE SETTLEMENT OF THE RAILROAD STRIKE

Several weeks ago in discussing the railroad strike we declared that it would be amazing if negotiations for a settlement should fail because of lack of public-spirited and constructive leadership among railroad executives and union representatives. We could not believe that such a thing was possible, and our confidence in the controlling good sense of "an influential minority" is fully justified by the agreement which has just been made by a large number of the roads and the representatives of the striking shop craftsmen. There can be little doubt that the Chicago agreement virtually marks the end of the struggle, and that the railroads not parties to it will soon be forced to fall into line. Baltimore can feel a pardonable pride in the fact that the last of the great industrial conflicts of 1922 which have disturbed business and threatened national prosperity and good will has been brought to an end by the persistent and intelligent efforts, the patience, tact and fairness of a Baltimorean. This personal feature of the settlement demands attention not merely as a matter of community pride, but as pointing a permanent moral for future guidance and instruction.

The honor and credit of this railroad peace distinctly belong to Mr. B. Davies Warfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line, and spokesman for a stockholders organization representing billions of railroad securities. He was the only man at the meeting of the Association of Railroad Executives in New York on August 23 who voted against the resolution breaking off negotiations with the striking shopmen. He refused to adopt the uncompromising attitude of his associates, and he set to work at once to renew the discussions which had been pronounced closed. Possibly the fact that he is not only a railroad president but the representative of many thousands of stockholders gave him a broader and less one-sided vision of the situation than the ordinary railroad executive can take. Or possibly his natural temperament is less dictatorial and his sympathies wider. At all events, he was the only man who thought it "unwise to close the door to the settlement of the strike at a time of great business and world-wide unrest," and he renewed the interrupted "conversations" with Mr. Jewell and brought other influential railroad presidents around to his point of thinking. The power of personal leadership and influence was never better illustrated, and the manner in which this strike has been terminated suggests that it is the lack of leadership and sanity which is nearly always responsible for the prolongation of the bitterest industrial quarrels.

To Mr. Jewell and other labor leaders must be accorded credit for meeting Mr. Warfield halfway, and for their frank, if belated, condemnation of acts of violence on the part of a lawless minority. We do not believe, and the general public does not believe, that the rank and file of the railroad unions sympathize with such savage outbreaks as have occurred; but there were far too many of them to be termed "apartid," and it is well now that they should be officially repudiated by the executive council of the shopmen. For every such act of violence union labor suffers in reputation and public esteem, and self-interest, as well as humanity, demands that the unions treat such lawbreakers as enemies of organized labor as well as of the country.

Mr. Warfield's "statesmanship" as the shopmen's executive council calls it, did not consist of mere surrender. Under the terms of the agreement the men will return to work "at present rates of pay," which are those fixed by the Railroad Labor Board and which became effective on July 1, the day the men walked out. This wage reduction was one of the causes of the strike, and its acceptance represents a gain to railroad revenue of approximately $50,000,000 a year. Seniority, the issue that arose after the strike began, is not mentioned by name in the memorandum, but the principle is recognized provisionally by the stipulations of the second and third articles of the peace settlement. Even as to this the strikers have accepted the condition that there is to be arbitration of disputes arising as to the relative standing of employees. The most striking and interesting point in the agreement is the establishment of a commission of six representatives of the railroads to which shall be referred all disputes growing out of the strike that cannot be otherwise adjusted. The life of this commission is limited to May 31, 1924, but up to that time, with regard to the questions of which it is to have jurisdiction, it establishes a tribunal independent of the Railroad Labor Board—a rather significant indication of dissatisfaction on the part of both sides to the manner in which that board has functioned recently.

It is clear that very material, if not radical, modifications of the Esch-Cummins railroad law lie ahead of us; that revision is to present a firmer legal roadbed and a safer legal track for harmonious railroad operating, it would be well for congress to avail itself of Mr. Warfield's wisdom and understanding of all the questions involved in such a scheme of reform. If his views had prevailed at the outset, say the executive council of the shopmen, "differences would have been composed in a week." It is reasonable to suppose that the man who has rescued the country from the grip of this strike could make many valuable suggestions as to the provisions of a new law.—Baltimore Sun.

SMILING THROUGH

What a wonderful thing is, the smile and what a wonderful creation is the man or woman who can keep up good humor at least 85 per cent of the time. And what a great contrast is the perpetual frown who is always looking for trouble and who is picking flaws in the fellow who is trying to do his duty at all times. The following from the Times Union on Smile Week is worthy of reproduction:

"The governor of Washington has issued a proclamation calling on the people to observe "smile week" beginning with October 1. Here is the proclamation:

Let everyone forget trouble. Greet each one with a smile, say some cheerful word, do a kindly act. I wish the newspapers, the theatres and the movies would eliminate the murders and all depressing and sorrow breeding items, act and pictures. Take the funny side, both pictures and papers, to the hospital, the sanitarium and all places where the unfortunate are confined, that all may forget their troubles and enjoy hearty laughter.

We will now have an opportunity of learning what one week of smiling will do for a state. It is not stated whether the remaining fifty-one caks of the year are to be devoted to frowns and grouches, but the man who smiles by proclamation is not sure to continue smiling when the time limit arrives.

The advice as to "smile week" is easier to give than it is to take. It is easy to say "Let everyone forget trouble" but it is not so easy for everyone to forget. But there is no doubt of the fact that cheerfulness is contagious and that it tends to health as well as happiness.

A real smile week should be coincident with some celebration that evokes smiles. The Mardi Gras at New Orleans, the Gasparilla carnival at Tampa are smile weeks without any proclamation so designated them and they are much more successful smile weeks than those made so by proclamation.

The smile that devotes friendliness and good humor is the normal expression of a sunny nature and, in this much abused world of ours, it is much oftener seen than the frown.

The average man does not need a "smile week" proclamation for he smiles a great deal every week. There may be some old grouches in Washington as there are elsewhere who need to be told to smile. Maybe if these keep it up for a week some of them will get the habit and during the balance of the year more sunshine and less gloom than had been their previous habit. There is a happy meaning between Happy Hoolligan and Gloomy Gus and most men occupy this middle ground without being told to do it.

to the effect that if the many advantages of Sanford as a distributing point for this section of the state could be brought to the attention of large manufacturers they would readily consent to contract for warehouse space. The Chamber of Commerce has received assurance that a warehouse will be built if rental contracts can be secured from these manufacturers. This proposition will be thoroughly gone into at the next meeting of the City Planning Committee.

E. T. Woodruff, one of Sanford's greatest boosters and workers for the development of the St. Johns River spoke briefly of the gratifying results that had been obtained to date on this important work. He urged a closer co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce by all the citizens. Mr. Woodruff, at the conclusion of his address, handed the Secretary his check for membership in the Central Florida Water Traffic League. Friday's meeting was one of the first that Mr. Woodruff had attended in some time. He stated that he was greatly impressed with the businesslike manner in which the many civic question were handled.

Deane Turner, who is Treasurer of the Sanford Country Club, and one of the members of the Golf Course Committee of the Chamber, called the attention of the meeting to the necessity of securing new members for the country club, and stated that while the object for which the golf course committee was organized had been accomplished, there was still a great deal of work ahead of the committee. He suggested that the Chamber of Commerce get behind a campaign and have the committee secure a membership of at least 200 members for the country club. Mr. Turner stated that it would require at least this number to make it self-sustaining. Mr. Turner further stated that a housewarming was being planned when the club formally opened, which would be held shortly, and it was hoped that a larger membership be secured that date. It was suggested that a special country club edition of the local paper be published about that time which would be devoted exclusively to the Sanford country club. Mr. Turner was of the opinion that a publicity campaign put on by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce would result in securing a great many new members. Randall Chase also stressed the necessity of securing new members with as little delay as possible and suggested that additional members be appointed to the Golf Course Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Chase submitted some very interesting figures on the financial condition of the club to date. These figures disclosed the fact that the expenditures to date exclusive of the purchase price of the property amounted to $18,200. Of the original 100 subscribers to the golf course there were but 85 who had paid their initiation and dues. The following figures are of interest and show how efficiently and economically the country club golf course has been completed.

- $7,700.00 for labor.
$3,500.00 for clubhouse, exclusive of plumbing.
$1,000.00 for irrigation.
$1,100.00 for fertilizer.
$973.00 for tools.

The Club has outstanding bills in amount of $5,000 which will soon be due and cash is needed immediately to take care of these. Mr. Chase advised that the weekly payroll for labor and supervision amounts to $125. It was unanimous opinion of those present that the golf course committee, of which S. O. Chase is chairman, had rendered a most valuable service to Sanford, and President Connelly eulogized the work they had done and the wonderful results their work accomplished. It was voted to collaborate further with officials of the County Club and Geo. D. Bishop and S. M. Lloyd were appointed additional members to the golf course committee, the personal of which is:

- S. O. Chase, Chairman.
Geo. A. DeCottea.
J. D. Davison.
Fred Williams.
F. P. Forester.
Forrest Lake.
Edward Higgins.
Deane Turner.

Chairman Yowell of the Retail Merchants Committee advised those present that he would call a meeting of the Retail Merchants some time during the coming week and requested the secretary to notify him of the most suitable date.

The subject of inviting the Southern Utilities Company to locate their general offices in Sanford was brought to the attention of the meeting and after thoroughly discussing the matter, it was moved that the Secretary write a letter extending a cordial invitation to this Company to locate their general offices in Sanford.

The Secretary read a letter from

Judge W. T. Bland, advising of his inability to be present at the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which was planned for the latter part of September. It was decided that a meeting of the membership of the Chamber of Commerce be held Oct. 6th in the evening. This evening meeting will take the place of the noon-day luncheon on that date.

COUNTY JUDGE IS REMOVED FROM OFFICE

Tallahassee, Sept. 26.—Judge J. R. Johnson of the St. Lucie County court was today ordered removed from office by Governor Carey A. Hardee for malfeasance and misdemeanors in office.

The governor took no action in regard to County Prosecutor Carpenter, who, with Judge Johnson was the subject recently of a petition signed by more than 1,000 St. Lucie County citizens presented to the Governor, charging the officials were lax in administration of the laws.

Governor Hardee in a statement accompanying his suspension order said that overwhelming evidence had been presented to him by citizens of St. Lucie County to the effect that Judge Johnson had not co-operated with them in law enforcement, especially as relating to prohibition laws.

The complaint against the judge and prosecutor and the governor's action today is the outgrowth of a conflict between those offices and that of Sheriff Merritt, who was recently installed in his position on a stringent law enforcement platform. Sheriff Merritt's predecessor was charged with laxity. The first day of his administration, Sheriff Merritt sprang into the limelight through a spectacular but unsuccessful liquor hunt and has remained there since.

A few days after he came into office, Judge Johnson issued a ruling that before a warrant could even be obtained for a liquor search, the suspected stuff must be tested through a chemical analysis to determine its real nature. He said his ruling was in accordance with one by the Florida Supreme Court.

Sheriff Merritt since that time has taken with him the chemical analyzer, one on wheels, so to speak.

MIGHT BE MONARCH OR CAT

Officials of Spanish Royal Palace, Careful in Their Investigation of Sounds at Night.

One day, so the story goes, a member of the royal household of Madrid heard noises below. He rose and went downstairs.

"It must be the cat," he thought, though as a rule the cat was not permitted to wander about the place at its discretion.

"Aha—now I've got you!" he whispered, as he opened the door and beheld the king rummaging around for food!

If the above story is not true, it is at least founded on fact, for the king of Spain sometimes feels hungry in the middle of the night, and when the pangs become poignant, he seeks royal joints, as you or I would seek the humble biscuit.

"We never know," said an official who figures in the story, "whether it is the cat or the king!"—London Answers.

"I beg your pardon, but I was talking of the coo. However, as to the Queen; somebody pointed her oof to me at the Perth Station. And there she was, smart and tidy-like; and says I to myself, 'Gin my auld woman at hame alaps awa', ye needna remain a widow another hoor langer.' (Cheers.)

"At 12,000 feet cows gave milk; at 18,000 feet they gave little or none. At 15,000 feet there were no cows. At 11,000 feet seas disappeared, though life remained so long as there were human beings.

At these heights men have lived for many generations, having become accustomed to the rarefied air.

Man, calling himself the master of nature, may yet be involved in a life-and-death struggle with insects for possession of the globe.

When a man is called "hysterical," therefore, the implication is plainly conveyed that he is acting under the impulses understandable and excusable (though sometimes extremely annoying) in a woman, but not permissible in a person of the male persuasion.

LATE RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR TO AMERICA RETURNING TO U. S. A.

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Sept. 26.—Boris A. Bakmetoff, lately Russian ambassador at Washington, is sailing Wednesday for America after an extended trip of inquiry and observation which led him to the belief that the present Bolshevik government of Russia is being slowly displaced from below by the growth of self-governing peasant communities.

As the day progresses, man, ever susceptible to sin, weakens and is more easily subjected to temptation. It is now claimed that it was near Eve when Adam ate the apple.

Don't forget Prayer meeting Wednesday night at 8 p. m. The Daughters of Wesley are in charge and have invited Dr. Burhans of the Congregational church to lead which includes a grand gospel message and a good prayer meeting. The Prayer meeting is the pulse of the church and without prayer we can't go on to great success therefore the necessity for attending these meetings for the one purpose of our church and of our pastor Dr. Walker is soul-saving and anything short of that goal is worthless. Let us be in our places Wednesday night.

KLAN PARADE IS WITNESSED BY HUNDREDS

MORE THAN THREE HUNDRED KNIGHTS MARCH THROUGH STREETS OF ORLANDO

More than three hundred Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, clad in the full regalia of their order, paraded thru the streets of Orlando last evening, while hundreds of persons looked on. The Klanmen marched down West Church street, turned into Orange avenue and broke ranks in Eola Park, where the Rev. C. A. Ridley, supreme chaplain of the Klan, addressed an audience which ran into the thousands.

In line with members of Cherokee Council, the local branch of the order, were a number of visiting members who attended the sessions of the state convention here. Extraordinary significance attached to the meeting here, due to the presence of a number of the imperial officers, including Col. William Joseph Simmons, of Atlanta, the imperial wizard.

The crowds which lined the streets in the down town section of the city to witness the parade burst into ripples of applause frequently as the line of white robed figures marched silently by. The applause was prompted by "declarations of principles" which were inscribed on banners carried by many of the Klanmen. Some of these banners informed spectators that "we stand for America first and all the time," that "we stand for the teaching of English language in the public schools," that "we believe in white supremacy but are the real friends of the negro," and that "we are not anti-anything except enemies of our government." The parade was marshalled by mounted Knights.

The Rev. Mr. Ridley discussed these principles at length in his address at Eola Park, which followed immediately after the parading Knights came to a halt in front of the band stand at the south end of the lake. He declared that the Klan had been assailed unjustly as opposing those who "because of race or faith cannot be received into its membership."

"The Ku Klux Klan," the Rev. Mr. Ridley said, "stands for America first, last and forever, and because its membership is restricted to white American-born citizens is no sign that it is anti-anything, and, in fact, it is not anti-anything."

The speaker turned to a discussion of the public school system, and declared that there are twenty-two schools in the United States "where not a word of English is taught and not a word permitted to be spoken." He touched upon the efforts of enemies of the Klan to discredit it, citing the celebrated "expose" by the New York World and attacks by other institutions.

"Notwithstanding all the efforts of its enemies," the Rev. Mr. Ridley exclaimed, "the Klan goes on and it will soon have three million members."

The chaplain prefaced his address with a tribute to Orlando and said that the reception given the parading Knights was "very gratifying." He was frequently interrupted by applause, many of his statements drawing cheers from the crowd.

Imperial Wizard Simmons addressed the delegates attending the convention at Lakeside Park yesterday afternoon. Following his address the local branch of the Klan was host at a barbecue.

Selection of Orlando as state headquarters for the organization was announced as a part of the convention's work. It was also learned that 1,166 members of the Klan attended the one-day session, this number including the local membership and the delegates sent by other cities.—Orlando Sentinel.
