Refugees Tell Of Castro's Gun Threat

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro, furious over Mrs. Dorothy Kronblum of Brooklyn, N. Y., and ten grandchildren.

shouted insults by Cuban refugees in the Uruguayan embassy at Havana, raised his machinegun and prepared to fire at them. But a militiaman grabbed the gun and talked his chief out of it.

They said Castro himself provoked the incident last June 23, by stopping his heavily guarded car in front of the embassy unexpectedly. It was jammed with several hundred of his foes who, had been given political asylum.

Castro sulked away, shouting over his shoulder, "you'll rot in there before I ever give you exit permits."

Cdr. Charles W. Meshier will be relieved Thursday as chief staff officer of Heavy Attack Wing One after two years in the important Sanford Navy post.

His relief, Cdr. George W. Kimmons, will step into the Wing's No. 2 job after a concentrated one-week indoctrination that included his first flight in the A-3A Vigilante Mach II (twice the speed of sound) attack bomber.

Cdr. Meshier is headed for duty on the Joint-staff of the Commander-in-Chief, Europe, in Paris, France. He also is a former squadron skipper, having commanded VAH-6 at NAS Whidbey Island, Wash., before reporting to the Wing.

Electors Plan Seen As Doomed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — House Speaker M. G. Hillery, after conferring with President Kennedy Tuesday, predicted a bill to place unpledged electors on Florida's national ballots was doomed to failure.

Horne talked with the chief executive after trying to reach Florida Sen. George A. Smathers at the White House. When Horne learned Smathers wanted to talk to him, he called the White House.

A secretary told the speaker that Smathers had just left but the President wanted to talk to him.

"Just thought I'd ask you about the unpledged electors bill," Kennedy said. "Do you think it will pass?"

Horne replied he doubted it because the Legislature would probably adjourn before it could act on the bill.

The bill was placed on a special calendar that has little chance of being considered by the lawmakers during the extended session.

Citrus Outlook Called Bleak

WINTER HAVEN (UPI) — Florida's citrus industry is in for some rough sledding during the next five years.

This was the five-year outlook for the industry as reported to Florida Citrus Annual meeting here Tuesday.

School Spending Bill Passes

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A controversial bill to give back to the Cabinet Budget Commission control over spending by the state universities cleared the Legislature today by a 75-41 vote of the House.

Tiros 7 In Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's seventh Tiro-7 "weather-eye" satellite rode into orbit aboard a three-stage rocket in a spectacular space shot today, and sent back "good quality" pictures on its first try.

A 90-foot Delta rocket, accelerating its 18th straight success, hurled the camera-carrying Tiro-7 into space at 4:50 a.m. EST.

Less than two hours later, the 297-pound satellite swung back across the United States, snapped a series of weather photographs at an altitude of 400 miles, and relayed the pictures to a ground tracking station at Wallups Island, Va.

The federal space agency said the pictures "appeared to be of very good quality," indicating the complex "eyes" were working properly.

It was the first training exercise for Tiro-7's major task—that of searching out and tracking giant storms, such as hurricanes and typhoons on earth.

Scientists said the bathos-shaped satellite was traveling once around the world every 97 minutes in a near-perfect orbit ranging from 300 miles to 403 miles up.

As this altitude Tiro-7 will train its eyes on the world and particularly on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans where tropical storms abound during the summer months.

Tiro-7 was the first of two such orbital television satellites the United States planned to launch this year. Tiro-8 is scheduled for a rocket ride into space around September.

ZIP Code To Affect All Sanford Mail

The United States Postoffice Department has announced a revolutionary new system of improved mail dispatch and delivery, which goes into effect nationally on July 1.

This code, called the ZIP Code, utilizes a five digit number which follows the name of the town and state and will permit the Post Office Department to short-cut repeated address reading.

"With ZIP Code, a clerk need only to glance at the code to know immediately to what national area, state and post office the letter is destined and to speed it on its way, cutting up to 24 hours off the time between deposit and delivery," postal officials said.

It is important that all citizens learn their city's ZIP Code number and use it in all their return addresses on all correspondence.

In answering mail, ZIP codes should be taken from all return addresses and used for correspondence.

Addresses on mail must often be read as many as eight or ten times by postal employees to get it to the proper destination, Post Office officials said.

Each handling slows the process of mail dispatch and adds to the opportunity for error, they noted.

The ZIP Code for Sanford is 32771 and the code for Lake Mary is 32746. Postmaster Guy Allen and Postmaster Clarence Donaldson said today.

An example of the proper use of ZIP Code follows: Sanford Herald, 32771 or Postmaster C. D. Donaldson Lake Mary, Florida, 32746

Competency System Dropped

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The $400 competency awards for state school teachers who made high scores on a national test was abolished Tuesday.

The measure was passed without Gov. Farris Bryant's signature.

The new law came on the heels of a pay hike law giving all state teachers a minimum across-the-board raise of $400. Many teachers claimed the old "competency test" system was discriminatory.

Kelly In Last Senate Speech

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Sen. Scott Kelly, a veteran of four regular and six special sessions, made his last speech on the floor of the state Senate Tuesday.

"It may well be," he told his colleagues, "that I can best serve my state and my country in another capacity."

The Lakeland lawmaker was referring to the governorship, but did not officially announce the beginning of his campaign because of a state law requiring weekly financial reports.

Solons Broaden Sales Tax

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Legislature adjourned its 80-day 1963 session today after broadening the base of the state's three per cent sales tax.

The sales tax measure was the final tax increase in a seven-bill package passed in the closing days of the Legislature. The measures are expected to produce $164 million more revenue for the state during the next two years.

Final vote by which the Legislature passed the compromise sales tax broadening bill included Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. (D) and Rep. S. J. Davis Jr. (D) for the measure and Rep. Jan Fortuna (R) against it.

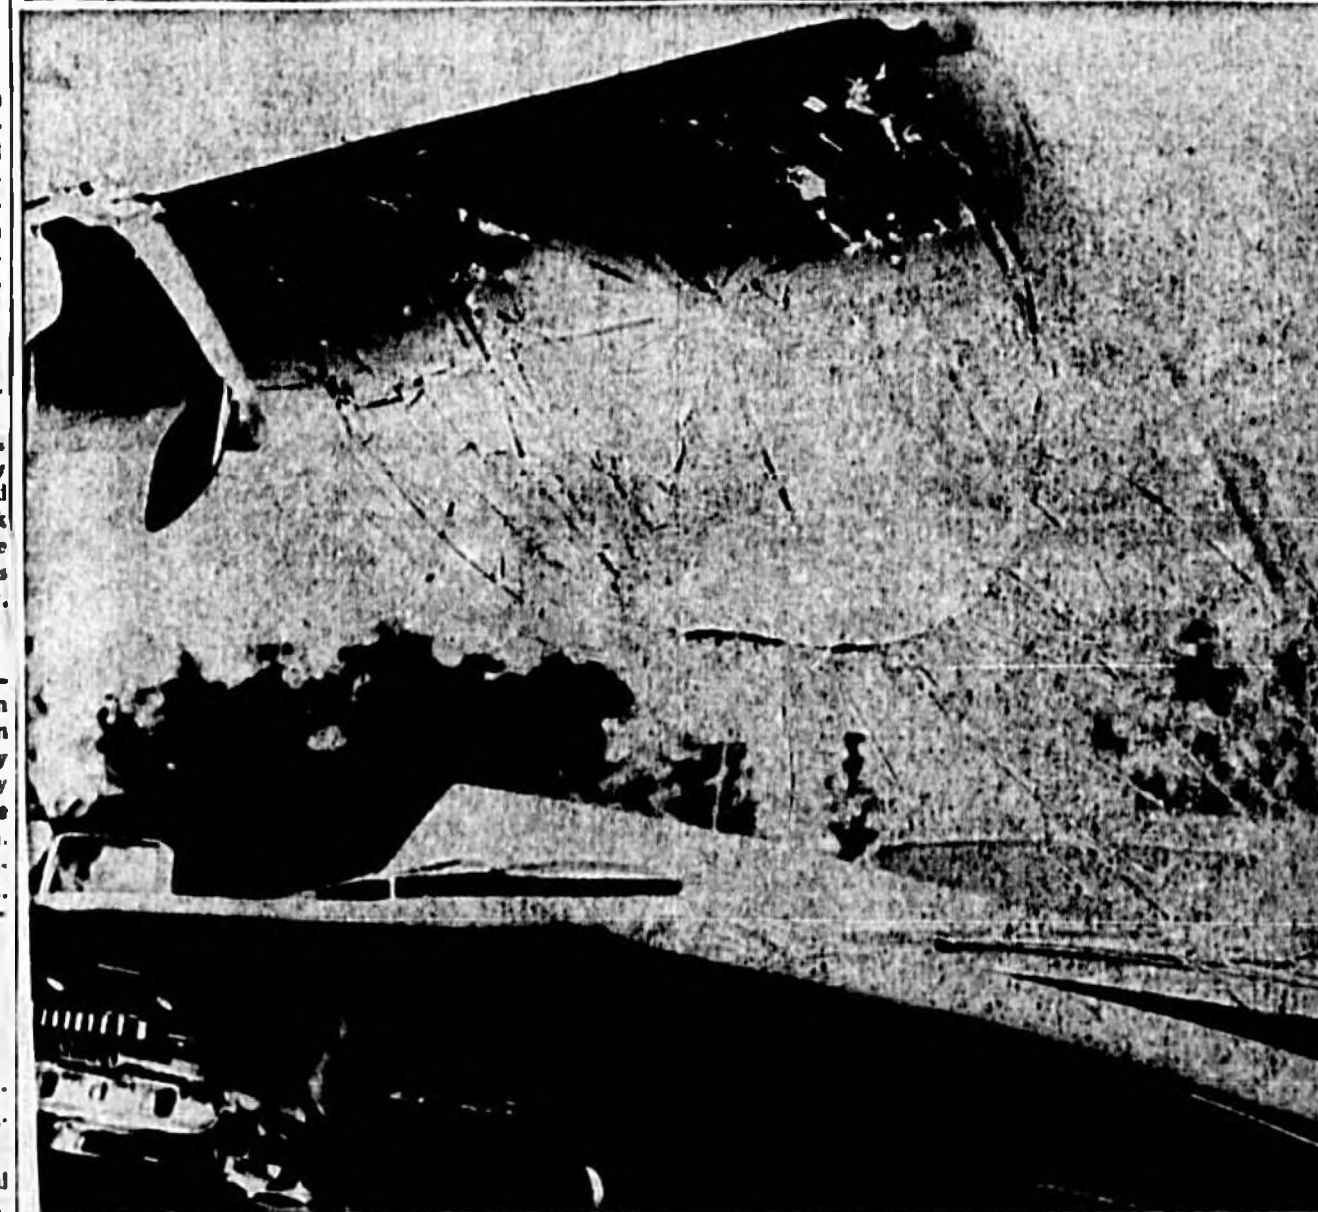

The sales tax bill last in the finance package to clear both houses, will raise upwards of $60 million over the next biennium.

The compromise bill, worked out by a joint conference committee Tuesday night, was whipped through the House without debate in less than 30 minutes. The Senate followed suit an hour later and it was all over but the shouting.

The House swallowed its "pride" and gave in to the Senate on most points of disagreement, backing off of proposed sales taxes on trading stamps, non-cigarette tobacco and newspaper, radio, television and billboard advertising.

However, the Legislature asked the Legislative Council to study these taxes in the next two years and make a recommendation on them to the 1965 Legislature.

House Finance Chairman James Sweeney, of Volusia, said the $164 million tax package would be ample to finance all appropriations.

Everett H. Williams Jr., director of the board's Bureau of Vital Statistics, said "We have the same number of employees the year round. Right now we're processing about 500 birth certificates a day. If the past is any indication, many parents will wait until August to make requests and since we can handle only so many a day, any last-minute rush is almost bound to cause inconveniences.

"Your child could miss an entire year of school unless a birth certificate is obtained in time. We can give fast service now but later during any rush the service will be slow."

Application for a certified copy must include the full name of the child; the full name of the father; the full maiden name of the mother; the day, month, year, city and county of birth; whether the child is male or female; and the child's race. The original birth certificate number should be included if possible. If the child was born in another state, the certificate must be obtained from that state.

A full photo copy or a wallet-sized card encased in plastic may be obtained. The type wanted should be specified. A fee of $1 for each copy or card must accompany the application. Application forms may be obtained at county health departments but a letter will be adequate if it contains all the above information.

The board also suggests that before starting the first grade, the child have basic immunizations for diphtheria, lockjaw, whooping cough, smallpox and polio.

Academy Gratified At Response

"The response to our quest for qualified instructors has been most gratifying," Col. H. J. Furman, superintendent of the Sanford Naval Academy, announced today.

"Those who have responded, especially men with military and naval careers," he added, "are well suited to this type of institution."

In response to some inquiries, Colonel Furman said applications will be accepted for day students from the Sanford area, as well as for boarding students.

Applications may be directed to the academy's temporary offices in the former Giants' building on Mellonville Avenue.

Colonel Furman also explained that the directors of the Bernarr MacFadden Foundation, which will operate the academy, have decided it shall be the Sanford Naval Academy and not the Sanford Military Academy, as previously announced.

"There are only five or six preparatory naval academies in the United States," said Colonel Furman, "and it is felt such a school here would be contiguous to the Sanford Naval Air Station and the Jacksonville Naval Air Station."

Although a naval academy, the students will be known as "cadets" and not "midshipmen." Naval uniforms already are being designed for the cadets of the local school.

St. Pete Museum Pleased With Wide Interest In Tussaud Waxes

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH (UPI)—They've conjured up the world leaders during World War II and brought them together in the rubble of a bomb-destroyed home with a crushed doll on the floor.

They've assembled the great masters of men from other, older ages and brought them face to face. And, with these, there stand the present top officials in the world powers of today.

These images are in wax, the famous figures of the London Wax Museum from world-renowned Josephine Tussaud of England. The $500,000 showcase opened here March 1 and General Manager John C. Tew, a Canadian, said he is happy with the reception his figures and museum have met.

There are 90 figures in the museum. They evoke strange emotions in their viewers due to the uncanny realism and extraordinary appearance of being alive.

Tew explains the quality of beewax, of which the figures are created, is similar in translucency to human skin. The method of creating the Tussaud features places the coloring agents beneath the final wax finish and lends a vibrancy similar to living flesh.

He said it requires an average of five months to create a figure. They are made in England and are legitimately Tussaud figures though the museum here has no other direct connection with the English museum.

Depicted are figures from history, current politics, sports, literature, the underworld and persons associated with inhumanity and cruelty on display in the "Chamber of Horrors."

There are some difficulties with the realism. The Lincoln deathbed scene so frightens some older persons, Tew said, that a chair is provided nearby. The figure "breathes" by mechanical means and the effect is startling when first noticed.

Maintenance of the figures is little worry, he said. They won't melt and air conditioning keeps dust at a minimum.

And, for the ladies, a hair-dresser comes once a month.

GENERAL ELECTRIC
WEATHERTRON
ALL ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP and COOLING UNIT

WHAT IT DOES...

IN SUMMER... It pumps OUT excessive heat and humidity leaving your family in a cool air of satisfaction regardless of outside temperatures. Since your INSIDE weather and your G-E WeatherTRON keeps it that way... automatically.

IN WINTER... It pumps IN warm, fresh air, providing your family with healthful heat all through the house... all through the winter. This cooling/heating cycle is done automatically with the change in outside weather by your G-E WeatherTRON.

WHAT IT COSTS...

LOW DOWN PAYMENT covers complete cost including installation. Up to five years to pay balance. Payments as low as $20 per month are much less, usually, than combined payments on old-fashioned separate heating and cooling units.

LOW OPERATING COSTS are only 1-CENT PER SQUARE FOOT OF FLOOR SPACE PER MONTH on an annual average for heating and cooling your home with WeatherTRON.

G-E cooling and heating unit mounts on flat or low pitched roof... or the single cooling and heating unit package mounts in central hallway ceiling space. Eliminates unsightly fuel tanks and cooling towers from your home and soot and gings from your housekeeping. Enhances property values.

Dogs Go To School
PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI)—Six German Shepherd dogs today began a six-week course in conversational English. The dogs arrived this spring to become part of the Boston police force. The main problem was that they responded only to commands given in German. The Providence police department, which has a nine-dog K-9 corps, was asked to re-train the animals.

U. S. Insists Many Troops Left Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — High administration officials said today they had evidence that many more Soviet troops had been removed from Cuba than had been publicly known. They said intelligence information also indicated that Russia's four groups of combat troops in Cuba—previously totaling 5,000 to 6,000 men—had either been partially removed or dispersed into other units.

But the administration is not sure of its information. There are disputes among U. S. experts how to evaluate it. Some officials, concerned daily with Cuban policy, appear not to have been given all the information known to the White House.

The first official report of the new information came from accounts of a private "background" briefing that Secretary of State Dean Rusk gave a group of newsmen, who invited him to dinner Monday night.

Rusk's report has now been leaked through a number of channels and essentially confirmed by several administration officials. Rusk gave no numbers. But he said there was evidence of a "substantial sending out" of Soviet forces in Cuba to a greater extent than the public has been told. The last public report in any detail by the administration on Soviet military strength in Cuba was made by President Kennedy at a news conference April 3. He said an estimated 5,000 were withdrawn in November when the Russians pulled their long range missiles out of Cuba, and an estimated 4,000 more were withdrawn by April.

Business Briefs

W. Fred Haelling, of Longwood is attending a conference at the home office of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company in Boston, Mass., this week. Haelling is retired from the U. S. Navy and is active in civic and social affairs in the Longwood area.

Bracken Fund Groups Named

In response to inquiries about contributions to a fund or organization in the name of Andrew J. Bracken Jr., who died Friday, the Herald today learned the names of two organizations to which his parents would prefer that the gifts be sent.

They are the Little Minor League Ball Club of Sanford, of which Rev. Charles Deas is president. The treasurer is Gene Hunt, 114 Jenkins Circle; and SHEBA, Inc., the Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Association.

Drew had had trouble with his eyes, and surgery had been performed, a spokesman for the family said.

He was an active member of the Minor League team called the "Chiefs," coached by Lt. Ben Butler.

Brownie Bus Schedule Set

Bus schedule for the annual Brownie Day Camp to be held at Silver Lake, June 24-28, from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m. will be as follows:

Southside School, 8:10 a. m.; Lake Mary Fire House, 8:25 a. m.; Sunland Playground, 8:35 a. m. and Pinecrest School, 8:45 a. m.

A reverse route will be followed in the afternoons.

Ebenezer Sets VBS Meeting

A meeting will be held at the Ebenezer Methodist Church at 7 p. m. Thursday for all teachers and workers of the Vacation Bible School which is scheduled from Monday of next week through July 3.

Those attending will make final plans for the school and learn songs to be taught the children.

Civil Rights Measure Goes To Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy sent Congress proposals today for new anti-discrimination laws which he considers the strongest civil rights program in this century.

Its aim: To end racial strife by guaranteeing equality to Negroes in jobs, schools and voting, and their access to hotels, restaurants and other public accommodations.

The President's 5,500-word special message, accompanied by bulky drafts of legislation, was to be delivered to the House and Senate at noon EDT.

Republican support was expected for much — but not all — of the package. The President hoped for enough GOP backing to help administration forces meet a filibuster threat by Southern Democrats in the Senate.

White House and Justice Department aides worked late into the night on last-minute details of the legislation. Advance indications were that the program would:

—Outlaw as a burden on interstate commerce any racial or religious discrimination in hotels, motels, theaters, and retail stores which do at least $50,000 business a year.

—Allow the attorney general to file desegregation suits on behalf of Negro children.

—Renew Kennedy's call for protection of Negro voting rights.

—Also renew and perhaps expand Kennedy's request to extend the expiring life of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission another four years.

—Propose, in a separate bill, a big new program of vocational training to give Negroes a chance to learn skills to acquire more and better jobs.

School Spending Bill In House

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A backtracking bill to keep university spending under the eyes of the State Budget Commission went to the House today. The bill would repeal part of a measure already passed by the Legislature which makes the state's Board of Control responsible only to the Legislature for spending allocations instead of using the Budget Commission to make any changes needed in this budget. The repeal bill passed the Senate Monday by a 20-13 vote over protests by the Board of Control. The new bill changes only the provision which makes the board responsible directly to the Legislature.

Bolivia Formally Resigns OAS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bolivia formally withdrew Monday from the 20-nation council of the Organization of American States (OAS) and called the withdrawal permanent.

Bolivian Ambassador Emilio Sarmiento said the action was prompted by the organization's failure to settle the long-standing dispute between Bolivia and Chile over a border river. It is the first time an OAS member has taken such a drastic step. Sacramento said Bolivia would continue to participate in inter-American activities.

17-Year-Old Perez Daughter Leaves Plush Home To Marry

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Margo Perez Jimenez, the 17-year-old daughter of the former Venezuelan president, left the family's plush home here Tuesday night, apparently intent on marrying her young "steady."

Miami Beach police detectives were summoned to the heavily guarded water front mansion of Marcos Perez Jimenez about 7 p.m. when Mrs. Perez reported Margo had left home. Police believed Margo and her 18-year-old American boy friend, identified by sources close to the family as Lee Brooks, were still in this sprawling resort city. Perez, who has been in the county jail since December while attorneys fight his extradition to Venezuela, and his wife refused to comment on the subject.

A spokesman for the family indicated the couple had been in telephone contact with the boy's mother and said they wanted to get married. The family spokesman said Perez and his wife had tried several times to discourage Margo's romance.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I married a widow who had a four-year-old daughter. We are very happy and get along very well, but her continued close relationship with her ex-in-laws irritates me. I never knew her first husband and, although I have heard that he was a fine fellow, I am not particularly interested in socializing with his parents. I prefer that my wife forget them. To what extent am I obligated to be friendly to these people?

SECOND HUSBAND
DEAR SECOND: If you love your wife, don't resent her close relationship with her ex-in-laws. She is no longer their daughter-in-law, but her child is THEIR grandchild, and always will be. And they probably love her all the more because she is a part of the son they lost. No one expects you to pretend a warmth that is not sincere, but be understanding, and don't ask your wife to "forget" them.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a good man. He has worked hard and has attained a fair amount of success. He travels quite a bit, his investments have been good and his company has been good to him. My complaint? He brags! (I even hate the word.) I cringe for him. He is rather intolerant of criticism and I'd be afraid of the consequences if I ever told him how embarrassing his bragging is. He'd probably never open his mouth in public again if I protested. So, Dear Abby, will you protest for me? Perhaps other long-suffering wives will bless you, too.

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I protest!

DEAR ABBY: Every time I go to my girl friend's house her father hits me up for a buck so he can bet it on a horse with me. I've never won anything yet, and I'm not that crazy about gambling. Should I keep quiet and keep handing him dollars, or should I tell him I'm not interested in horses?

NO BETTOR
DEAR NO: Quit handing him dollars and tell your girl friend you are no bettor. If she doesn't tip off her old man, she's no better.

DEAR ABBY: I always thought you had pretty good sense until I noticed you agreed that a husband should help his wife with the housework. I raised 14 children and my husband never once changed a baby or washed a dish. I think a man who works from eight to ten hours a day does enough, and it's not his place to do housework. I washed with a tub and board, and never owned a washing machine until 22 years ago. I've been married 43 years. The younger women are getting so lazy it's pitiful.

Highlights

7:30-9:30 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "Say Goodbye to All That." (Color) (Rerun). Tonight Fabian stars as a young man whose father was wounded by Trampas. Through the father's goading and his own need to assert his manhood, the young man sets out to fight Trampas. The powerful emoting of Charles McGraw as the father literally saves the play. 7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. The Vatican. (Color) (Rerun). Tonight's best bet which, although only two months old, is being repeated as the College of Cardinals convenes to elect a new pope. 8-10 p.m. NBC. Color (Premiere). Kraft Mystery Theatre. "Shadow of a Man." Good character studies make this more than average drama. Jack Kelly and Broderick Crawford star as insurance investigators who get the goods on one of their own insurance agents (Ed Begley), an elderly gent whom the town reveres. 10-11 p.m. NBC. The Eleventh Hour. "Eat Little Fishes, Eat." (Rerun). Psychology is needed more than psychiatry, so Dr. Bassett sits on the sidelines while Dr. Graham (Jack Ging) takes the case of a woman who becomes more and more mentally disturbed as her playwright brother becomes less and less dependent on her. 10-11 p.m. ABC. Naked City. "A Horse Has a Big Head—Let Him Worry." (Rerun). It's always a pleasure to watch the repeat telecast of a play which garnered an Emmy nomination, and try to discover just what was so good about it. Tonight's nominee is Diahann Carroll, who was nominated as best actress in a leading role for this episode.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Just last month I played in Columbia at my first South Carolina tournament. I have never played in a nicer one anywhere and I certainly hope to be back again. What I believe to be the best hand of the tournament was a four-club contract made by John Myers of Columbia.

West opened the deuce of spades. East won with the ace and continued with the queen in order to force dummy to ruff, but John was not going to fall into that trap. He discarded the deuce of diamonds from dummy.

Then East shifted to the three of diamonds, but John was ready. He rose with the ace just as if he were looking right at East's singleton.

John led the nine of hearts and let it ride to East's queen. Now it did not matter what East did, but actually he led a trump. John won with dummy's king, led the three of trumps to his ace, led a heart to dummy's ace, ruffed out East's king of hearts, returned to dummy with the ten of trumps, discarded his three diamonds on the last three hearts and made the last trick with his last trump.

Incidentally, a diamond shift at trick two instead of the spade continuation would have beaten the contract, but that does not detract one iota from John's play.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Memo to Women: You may not know this, but our beauty salons—long strictly feminine establishments so far as customers are concerned—are being invaded by men.

Some cities such as New York and Hollywood, have strictly male beauty salons where a man can go for a permanent wave, a hairdye job, a manicure and pedicure, or a facial.

But in cities where there are as yet no temples of beauty devoted exclusively to the male sex, the men are sneaking into the women's shops early in the morning and late at night, to make use of many of the aids to youth and good looks that women have learned to depend upon.

In Memphis, Tenn., for instance, beauty shop owners estimate that male customers now make up anywhere from 20 to 30 per cent of their business. And most of these men have started patronizing beauty salons within the last five years.

What's behind this sudden desire of men to look their best that is overcoming their timidity about entering beauty salons as customers? My guess is, with women spending as much as they do on beauty aids and openly changing their hair color to match their moods and fascinate their husbands with a completely new look, the men are beginning to feel drab and old in comparison.

No woman today has gray hair, except by choice. And when a husband sees how much younger his wife looks without any silver threads among the gold or brown, he may start wondering if he wouldn't look 10 years younger himself if he went in for a dye job.

Besides, we live in an age when looking as young as possible is all-important. Men feel this almost as much as women do.

So, if men are sneaking into our beauty salons in ever-increasing numbers, perhaps we ought to let them know that they don't have to sneak.

Kennedy Trip Sentimental Journey

Serious Talks With Europe's Leaders Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's controversial European trip shaped up today as a sentimental pilgrimage to the Old Sod, sandwiched between critical cold war talks with troubled Allies.

New political uncertainties in Italy appeared to strengthen rather than diminish the President's determination to go through with the 12-day odyssey, despite advice at home and abroad that the trip was ill-starred and should be postponed.

Highlights of his tour of Germany, which begins Sunday, include visits to two points on the Communist-built wall dividing Berlin and an address to 15,000 American combat troops massed at a U. S. base 15 miles east of Frankfurt.

Kennedy's major address during four days in Germany will be made in Frankfurt at Paulskirche (St. Paul's Church), where the first all-German parliament was convened in 1848.

He will talk with a number of German officials, including outgoing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Socialist Mayor Willy Brandt of Berlin.

After Germany, the President has scheduled three days in Ireland for trips to the ancestral home at Dungannon and other points reputed to be connected with the Kennedys who came to America. Kennedy is expected to address the Irish Parliament, an honor never before accorded a foreigner.

From Ireland Kennedy flies to England and a one-day visit with beleaguered Prime Minister Harold Macmillan at his private country home at Birch Grove, far from London's current sin and security scandal.

The next stop still listed as Italy, where the White House says Kennedy will spend July 1 and 2 conferring with Italian President Antonio Segni, and "other Italian leaders."

McGovern Offers Wheat Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern, (D-S.D.), today proposed a wheat program which he said would probably fill President Kennedy's requirements for any new wheat legislation this year.

McGovern said the program of mandatory production controls and high price supports — overwhelmingly rejected by farmers May 21 — could be converted with a brief bill into a voluntary compliance program.

Under such a program, he said, farmers choosing to comply with the controls proposed for the 1964 crop would get price supports of about $1.95 a bushel, plus payments for land taken out of grain production.

Calm Comes To 2 Areas

By United Press International

The Kennedy administration exerted its influence to carve out at least a temporary peace in two of the nation's racial trouble spots Tuesday.

But the efforts of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, apparently working closely with President Kennedy, failed to ease the situation in a third sore point—Danville, Va., a new critical area—Gadsden, Ala.—also cropped up.

The attorney general was in telephone contact with Mayor Allen Thompson of Jackson, Miss., Tuesday and met personally in Washington with Negro leaders from Cambridge, Md.

After the talk, Thompson agreed to hire Negro policemen and school crossing guards and upgrade Negro employees in the Jackson sanitation department.

Negroes at a rally Tuesday night tentatively accepted the concessions pending a meeting with Thompson today.

A planned demonstration Tuesday night at Cambridge, where 600 National Guardsmen are on duty to preserve order, was called off after Negroes were told the federal government would intervene as mediator if necessary to solve the city's racial problems.

But at Danville, Negroes ignored a personal appeal by the attorney general to preserve a truce and staged an hour long protest march.

Police at Gadsden jailed 466 Negro demonstrators during mass segregation protests at the courthouse and a downtown variety store.

Red Block May Scrap Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — Sharp new Russian attacks on Red China stirred speculation here today that the big Sino-Soviet ideological debate scheduled for next month may be postponed.

Western observers said a deferment of the talks slated to begin July 5 in Moscow might result from the Kremlin's refusal to publish a letter sent by the Peking regime last week. Chances of the Sino-Soviet rift easing appeared remote they said.

A statement issued Tuesday night by the powerful 330-member Communist party central committee, which currently is meeting to clarify the party line on ideology, said the Chinese letter would not be published on the ground it "would lead to the further aggravation of the polemics" between the two countries.

The letter, made public in Peking Sunday, restated Red

China's "hard-line" stand on virtually all the political and ideological questions dividing the Communist world's two giants.

It listed 25 issues which the Peking regime insisted must be thrashed out in the bilateral debate.

The sharp new Sino-Soviet clash was certain to be the subject of further consideration by the party central committee in its second secret session today on the culmination of a "new Soviet man."

In its long letter, the Peking regime demanded that the scheduled talks include an "exchange of opinion" on the Soviet drive to downgrade former dictator Josef Stalin and eliminate the vestiges of his "hard line" policies.

Moves Falter

Temporarily, at least, state legislative action on three controversial proposals to amend the U. S. Constitution in a manner favorable to the states has slowed to a crawl.

A score or more of legislatures still are in session, but observers say only a few might act favorably this year on the matters at issue.

The proposed amendments would: 1) establish a 60-state Court of the Union, superior to the U. S. Supreme Court in critical questions affecting U. S.-state relations; 2) bar the federal courts from acting in state repression cases; 3) ease the process by which the states can initiate changes in the U. S. Constitution.

Up to now just four states—Alabama, Arkansas, Florida and Wyoming—have had their full legislatures approve the Court of the Union proposal. Not many additions are looked for.

Ten to a dozen states (some action is a bit cloudy) have endorsed the other two ideas.

To get anywhere, such a proposal launched at the state level must be approved first by two-thirds (34) of all the states. Then Congress must call a national constitutional convention to consider proposed amendments. Thereafter, three-fourths of the states must ratify whatever action flows from convention.

It is interesting to note that not one of the 23 existing amendments to the Constitution was adopted by this process. All were initiated by congressional action.

The whole story of the three controversial proposals has been fogged with misinformation.

Some accounts have said the proposed change in the amending process would eliminate Congress from all amending effort. In fact, Congress could still launch amendments as always. It would be blocked out only when states initiate the action.

One often sees the complaint that the drive for these three amendments occurred in deep secrecy. But at least two national news services and some other publications wrote of it soon after it began last December at a session of the General Assembly of States, a body made up of legislators from the various states.

The evident truth is that many people were inattentive until a few knowledgeable persons called on them to note the significance of the proposals for future federal-state relations.

Suggestion is made, too, that the legislatures which have adopted the proposals—mostly in southern, midwestern and western states—did not really know what they were approving.

The evidence indicates, however, that these ideas fit admirably the conservative leanings of state legislators bent on holding or enlarging present power. Only New Jersey's upper house has had real second thoughts and reversed itself.

The drive is real enough. But so are the huge roadblocks still standing in its way.

Helen Fuller Says

Bloody-Shirt Rhetoric

WASHINGTON — The difference between what happened at Tusculum last week and what happened at Ole Miss last fall is dramatic evidence of how much the nation has altered its attitudes in a single year.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace showed, when he moved aside from the University of Alabama doorway and permitted the peaceful registration of two Negro students, that he had learned the folly of Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett's defiance of the Federal Constitution. Wallace will continue to challenge the interpretation of the Constitution which opens the doors of the University to all who are qualified without regard to race—but he will push that race by prescribed legal means through the courts, not by trying to place himself above the law.

The absence from the campus on Tuesday of the lawless element that stoned Autherine Lucy, the first Negro who sought to enter the University seven years ago, was important evidence of a shift in sentiment. The lawful element in Alabama has come a long way toward asserting greater control in the state—despite the seeming evidence of the Birmingham riots to the contrary. The lawful element is moving into the leadership, and regardless of his bloody-shirt rhetoric, Gov. Wallace should be considered one of those committed to legal methods until proven otherwise.

To stop the violence in Birmingham and to prevent violence at Tusculum, Southern businessmen with interests in the South have taken voluntary steps toward desegregation of public facilities in the last month that many of them refused to consider as recently as a year ago. They received much prodding from the Kennedy brothers. But businessmen themselves in 70 cities decided in the last two weeks that it is no longer prudent to ignore the cries of the Negroes for equality of treatment in restaurants, hotels, theaters, stores and have changed their policies accordingly.

Most important, the President has decided to alter his own approach to the mounting problem of racial conflict in the country. In his radio-TV address last Tuesday night, Mr. Kennedy announced that henceforth he will lead a drive to extend to every American the right to enjoy all the privileges of being an American, without regard to his race or color. His previous policy of relying on persuasion and mediation and full exercise of the powers vested in the Chief Executive by law are being set aside in favor of a new approach. The President intends now to act as leader of a moral crusade to assure full justice to Negro citizens.

But it should be reassuring to the country as a whole, as the President made clear in his speech, that he has no intention to bear down more heavily on one section of the country than on another in this speeded-up effort to enforce the Constitution. North, Midwest and West share blame with the South for less than full assurance of the rights of citizenship to Negroes, President Kennedy emphasized in his Tuesday speech.

"Difficulties over segregation and discrimination exist in every city, every state of the Union," he said, "producing in many cities a rising tide of discontent that threatens the public safety."

"It is not enough to pin the blame on others, to say this is a problem of one section of the country or another, or to deplore it," the President repeated as further assurance to the South that it will get a fair break in the new civil rights drive that is about to begin.

"The fact that we face a great change is at hand," Mr. Kennedy announced, "and our task, our obligation, is to make that revolution, that change, peaceful and constructive for all."

Mr. Kennedy made it ultra clear that he is making this new departure as President of all the country, not as President of any one part, or party, or special group. He is not out to give the Negroes the right to special dispensation.

"We have a right to expect that the Negro community will be responsible, will uphold the law," the President warned, and no one doubts it is his intention to see that that obligation is respected. At the same time, the President made plain, Negro citizens "have a right to expect that the law will be fair; that the Constitution will be color blind, as Justice Harlan said at the turn of the century."

"This is what we are talking about, and this is a matter which concerns this country, and in meeting it I ask the support of all of our citizens."

Let no one think that this was a speech spoken lightly or a pledge of leadership to be casually discarded when a moment of political tension has passed. Mr. Kennedy's Tuesday speech came from the heart and was spoken after long thought. It presages a major change in American life.

The Weigh-In

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE P-109: Fred Andre is Midwest Director of ISI (Intercollegiate Society of Individualists).

The ISI already has about 100 chapters on college campuses. And can set up 500 more before the 1934 election if you loyal business leaders will help.

Your contributions of money to ISI are tax-exempt and will quickly stop the mad trend of federal socialism in the U.S.A.

For when you donate to the Cancer Fund, you are only helping prevent the death of individual citizens.

But Uncle Sam himself has a fatal "cancer" that will kill off opportunity and the Constitutional freedoms of ALL Americans unless it is eradicated fast.

ISI is non-partisan as regards the Republican and Democratic parties. But it believes firmly in Americanism and the "free enterprise" system.

It does NOT advocate the stifling red tape and zoning laws that are strangling the famous Goose that lay the wonderful Golden Eggs of our lush American system.

The ISI members are also an interfaith group of patriots. The original founder of the ISI was Jewish Frank Chodorov.

The president this year is Catholic E. Victor Milone. And enthusiastic Protestant collegians make up a large part of its membership.

These ISI colleagues are very articulate. They even tie up the woolly pink professors in forensic knots.

They punch logical holes through the parroted arguments of the socialistic students.

America is now in the doldrums, tax-wise, because radical professors 30 years ago sold college leaders on a socialistic do-gooder program.

But this do-gooder doctrine lacked the "horse sense" of our various church missionary societies.

So it has degenerated largely into a racket for reelecting liberal candidates who further sabotage our "free enterprise" with more red tape to kill the Golden Goose of American industry.

If you want to stop the mad trend toward socialism, then get behind ISI financially to help organize more chapters among the leaders of American college campuses before the presidential election in 1964.

Remember, these collegians put American patriotism ahead of mere allegiance to any political party.

As they go back to their home towns, they will furnish the keen brains and articulate tongues to sway public opinion for "free enterprise" candidates on both tickets.

If you business leaders thus want to invest where it will sway the most voters in 1964, make your contributions to ISI, whose national headquarters is 629 Public Ledger Building, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — With May unemployment 3.9 per cent of the working force and likely to go higher for June as the high schools and colleges pour out millions of new job seekers, the No. 1 economic problem is to use every facility available for cutting down relief rolls and finding work for more people.

While this is going on, private employment agencies that charge a fee for placing people in new jobs are carrying on a campaign to restrict the free services of federal and state employment offices to finding jobs for only those who are unemployed. Anyone wanting to change his job would then be forced to go to fee-charging agencies.

There are over 2,000 of these private employment agencies. Most of the big ones and better ones are members of the National Employers Assn. It operates under a code of ethics which seeks to cut out the racketeers and to give job hunters responsible service.

At the Employers Assn. convention in Cleveland last October, however, a $1,000-per-member club was formed and $103,000 raised to launch a campaign against government free employment services.

A public relations firm was hired and a drive began for a congressional hearing, which has just been held without very concrete results.

The pitch of the fee-charging agencies is that the 2,000 state employment offices and the 1,900 part-time U. S. employment offices in the smaller communities and rural areas—where private agencies don't operate—are trying to destroy free enterprise and control the American labor market.

Behind this charge is a lurking fear that there will be a repetition of government manpower controls which were in effect through World War II and the Korean War. In these periods when jobs were plentiful and unemployment was low, about 2,000 of the private agencies went out of business. Since then, they have increased from 800 to 2,000.

When the Kennedy administration came to town and made reduction of unemployment a principal goal, a task force was set up which launched the depressed area development and manpower training programs.

A build-up of the U. S. Employment Service was approved by Congress and its budget raised by $29 million, to $109 million for the year.

That scared the fee-charging agencies. They made demands that federal and state employment officers refuse service to employed workers, professional workers, college graduates and government workers. The private agencies charged that "60 per cent of the job placements made by public employment offices in 1962 were people who were already employed."

This charge was finally tracked down to a 1959 Census Bureau household spot and sample survey. It showed that out of every five newly hired workers all over the country, three were employed workers changing jobs.

U. S. employment service figures show that in 1962, 78 to 80 per cent of all workers taking new jobs found these openings themselves, through friends or by answering newspaper ads.

Only five to six per cent found their jobs through fee-charging, private employment services. Fifteen to 18 per cent got their jobs through free federal or state offices.

These public employment offices are now required by law to help anyone who applies. In 1962 they placed 6.7 million workers in nonagricultural jobs and 8.3 million rural and agricultural jobs for a 15.2-million placement total.

Actually, from 85 to 88 per cent of the job seekers registered with U. S. and state unemployment offices are unemployed, and 97 per cent of the workers they placed in 1962 were unemployed.

Canal Start Possible In '64 -- Bryant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida said today plans for the proposed cross Florida barge canal were currently in such shape that $1 million in construction could be started in 1964.

Bryant asked a Congressional Public Works subcommittee to appropriate the necessary money to get the program started. The proposed cross state barge canal, stretching from the Gulf of Mexico near Yanketown to the St. John River and out to the Atlantic Ocean, has been a prime project of the Bryant administration.

The last congress provided preconstruction planning fund for the project, estimated to cost about $145.5 million.

Bryant and other state officials flew here immediately after the close of the 1963 Legislature to push for the canal and other rivers, harbors and flood control projects.

Bryant said although the canal was desired in the shortest possible time, it was not the intent of the state to request its construction as a "crash program." He said the most economical method of construction would be to dig the barge facility over a seven year period.

The governor's presentation indicated the first $1 million in construction money would be used for a lock at the St. Johns River.

Bryant said the canal was an essential element of the state's industrial development program, plus giving the state a good selling point to lure in industry. "This economic transportation system would provide a single interconnected industrial complex to better serve our nation," Bryant said.

The governor asked the subcommittee for $3.2 million worth of construction in the coming year, including the canal, an increase of $3 million for central and south Florida flood control projects, addition $100,000 for the inland waterway along the West Coast of the state, $121,000 for improvement of Pensacola Harbor, and $100,000 to start alterations in the harbor at Palm Beach.

Other money was requested for studies of proposed projects, including $250,000 for preconstruction planning of the four rivers basin flood control project in 15 counties centered around the Tampa area. Bryant said property owners in the basin area were providing tax funds to match federal monies.

Bitter Battle Seen In Congress Over Kennedy's Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At first glance, some of the proposals he sent the House and Senate Wednesday appeared likely to be passed after only perfunctory polishing. Others, including some of the key items, looked as if they would be chewed to pieces.

As Congress dug in for the legislative battle, the White House announced that the President had invited 30 Negro and white "civil rights leaders" to meet with him Saturday.

In Congress the initial reaction to the President's proposals was predictably strong. Southerners and some conservatives accused the President of giving in to mob rule and pledged to fight his program with every means at their disposal.

Southerners were so angry they threatened not only a filibuster but use of their long-held committee chairmanships to battle up the rest of Kennedy's legislative program.

Not even the staunchest backers of the President's many-pronged approach to the boiling race crisis believed Congress would buy it anywhere near intact.

Rabies Caution Urged

Examination of a raccoon killed at a residence in the Paola area revealed that the animal was infected with rabies. Sanitarian Val Robbins reported today.

"Rabies is known to be present in wild animals in Central Florida, especially raccoons and skunks and every precaution should be taken to avoid contact with these animals," Robbins warned.

"During this time of year all domestic pets should be observed closely and a veterinarian consulted if the animal appears sick or acts strange as the symptoms of rabies may not be recognized by the average person," he added.

He urged that all pets be inoculated against rabies "as this is the only way to prevent the rapid spread of the disease when it is present in an area."

"Hikers, picnickers and swimmers should especially be warned that animal particularly wild ones may be rabid," Robbins said.

Youth Drowns In St. Johns

A 16-year-old Negro youth drowned in the St. Johns River Wednesday afternoon while wading along the shore hunting for mussels to use for fishing bait, the Sheriff's Department reported today.

Clifford Howell had gone out in a boat from Crowe's Camp with two other youths, John Cash, 15, and Dennis Lawson, 16. The other two boys were wading when Howell stepped into deep water and began to struggle for air.

The other two boys said they attempted to help him but were not good swimmers, and when his struggles began to pull them under, too, got away from him and ran to the nearby home of Henry Russell for help.

Russell returned with them in the boat and began searching for Howell. Deputy Galloway said that they were bringing the body in to shore as he arrived after receiving a call from Mrs. Russell.

Coroner Vernon Mize was called to the scene and pronounced the youth dead from accidental drowning.

Howell was the son of Mrs. Inez Freeman and lived on Geneva Avenue. He is also survived by a sister, Jeanette Freeman, Wilson-Echelberger Mortuary is in charge of arrangements for the funeral.

More ZIP Code Numbers Listed

Here are the new ZIP Code numbers for postoffices in the area, supplementing the Sanford and Lake Mary numbers which were published Wednesday.

These numbers will go into effect July 1st and should be printed after the name of the city and state on all correspondence. Postal officials have advised.

The new numbered codes are expected to save up to 24 hours on delivery time, because of the ease and facility of handling mail distribution.

Area numbers are as follows:

Landings Announced By Council

MIAMI (UPI)—Commandoes of the Cuban Revolutionary Council have landed "at various points" in Cuba to carry out "an effective war" against the Castro regime, the council announced here today.

The announcement did not say how many men landed. The date of their landing also was not specified.

But the council said: "The first reports received by radio from our forces state that the landings were carried out without difficulty and had the cooperation of all people in the area."

(In Washington, State Department officials said they were "dubious" that any important military operation had taken place. But an immediate investigation into the council's announcement was ordered by the department.)

The expeditionary force came from "a point in the Caribbean," and not from U.S. territory, council sources said.

There was no indication where the landing was made. Premier Fidel Castro, in a speech Tuesday, said that 16 counter-revolutionary bands have been smashed in recent weeks in Matanzas Province. There was no indication whether these alleged bands were affiliated with the Miami Revolutionary Council.

The council announcement added: "These commandoes are adequately armed. They have penetrated Cuban territory. Tomorrow, at 1 p.m. (EST), the military command of this force will make a broadcast on the 40-meter band on 7010 kilocycles reporting to Cuban allies."

"The council announced that the war of liberation has begun and that its forces are prepared to carry the fight to the enemy."

The announcement was termed "war communique No. 1." It was signed by Jose Fernandez Huelde, council member and commissioner of the information department.

The president of the council, Antonio Maceo, could not be reached immediately. But informed sources said the landings were carried out from a boat before dawn today. They said the basic objective of the operation was to "reinforce" rebels in Cuba.

"A large quantity of arms was put ashore and many of the men are experts in guerrilla warfare," one source said.

The expeditionary force came from "a point in the Caribbean," the source added. The present council is not backed by the United States which cut off all funds to the organization after its president, Jose Miro Cardona, resigned last April with a violent attack on the Kennedy administration.

About half of the 18 council members resigned with Miro.

MIAMI (UPI)—Federal agents arrested five men last night and seized several cannons, submachine guns and a large amount of ammunition. Supervising agent Joseph Fortier of the U. S. Customs Office here said four of the men were members of the Intercontinental Penetration Force (INTERPEN), a group of adventurers that have been holding commando exercises in South Florida.

The men were turned over to alcohol and tobacco tax agents for prosecution under the National Firearms Act, which prohibits possession and transportation of automatic weapons without a license.

Agents seized a 20 mm cannon, a 35 mm cannon, a 57 mm recoilless rifle and two submachine guns. Fortier said agents had learned that weapons were being kept in a house and that members of INTERPEN were going to "hijack" them. He said they moved in after the men went into the house and loaded the weapons in a station wagon.

The Herald published a story the other day about a meeting of the Goldsboro Cadet Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol. Lt. William Taylor, commanding. Lt. Taylor reports the result of that little story was five new cadets, including two girls. Lt. Col. Richard C. Lockman, of Orlando AFB, representing CAP HQ at Ellington AFB, Texas, presented a charter to the Goldsboro squadron.

ACL has placed an order for 200 giant-sized hopper cars for transporting woodchips.

North Orlando has a big puzzle. (But an old time lock expert like we are, knows the answer.) The present village council, when it took over, replaced the lock on the village gasoline storage tank. Thinking to keep out all predecessors. Hah! Old keys work, too, in the new lock! (Council members. If you must know: All locks run in a series. No. 1 key will open all No. 1 locks in a series. No. 2 keys will open all No. 2 locks, etc.)

Capt. Jeanette M. Gray, ANC, will be on hand between 12:30 and 1:30 p.m. July 1 at the Sanford National Guard Armory to acquaint qualified applicants about duties in the Army Nurse Corps. Sgt. Frank Crowley, Army recruiter, is on hand every Monday between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. at the armory for those interested in an Army career.

Construction engineers report that target date for area and mall at Seminole Plaza is Aug. 1. Counters and inside furnishings already being installed in the drug and five and dime stores.

Seminole County will come in for another bid to fans with Altamonte Town Clerk Jim Palmer, who, for the second time, has been named Musician of the year by Kiwanis International. Jim will be leaving late next week for Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the annual convention where he will be hobnobbing with such notables as "Miss America" and Fred Young. Jim plays the organ and piano.

"The Good Lord didn't intend for people to live up here but down there in Florida," writes Mrs. Williamette Hofstead, of Deerwood, Minn., to Jim Crowe, Mrs. Hofstead spent most of last winter fishing out of Jim's camp.

Saw a smart man the other day. He was wading waist deep in a lake, fishing, but as a safety precaution, he had an inner tube around his waist. There's always the possibility of stepping in a hole, and the tube could prevent a disaster. Even inner tubes are not completely reliable of course, as they can become deflated, but they are better than nothing, and they are easy to come by, usually free.

Many drownings are a direct result of false pride. Men, especially and in particular, young men and teenagers, disdain wearing a safety belt. But the possibilities of falling and hitting the skis or having the wind knocked out are very real and very dangerous. Pride won't save you then . . . wear that ski belt. "The life you save may be your own."

Ski-show watchers will protest, "Pris don't wear safety belts." No, but look closely and you'll see two other safety factors. One, they have learned how to fall to avoid injury, and two, they always have a person in the towboat, whose sole responsibility is to watch the skier every minute, and to know instantly if he is in trouble.

The petunias which added so much to the downtown planters have about had their day, and are beginning to die out. How about some fresh plants from another group? Marigolds, maybe, or zinnias? They don't mind the heat so much. And they are relatively inexpensive.

Congress To Probe TV Editorializing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional feeling against radio and television editorializing broke into the open today with announcement of an investigation of the practice starting July 15.

The hearings, to be conducted by a House subcommittee, are expected to last for about a week. Politicians and broadcasters will testify. Government officials probably will be called too.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in recent years has been encouraging stations to editorialize on the ground that it could elevate the quality of programming.

But apparently many politicians—especially those in office—are upset at what they feel is an abuse of the privilege.

During debate in the House Wednesday on a related matter, several members denounced broadcast editorializing. The criticism was in-terruptive at times.

Rep. John Bennett, (R-Mich.), said "there are broadcasters who criticize one party and defend another, who criticize one candidate and defend another, all under the guise of editorializing."

Rep. Harley Staggers, (D-W. Va.), spoke of the "unfair tactics" of broadcasters, who he said showed attacks on an office holder but did not allow him free time to reply.

During the debate Commerce Committee Chairman Owen Harris (D-Ark.), said one of his subcommittees would start hearings on the subject July 15.

Rep. Walter Rogers, (D-Tex.), chairman of the subcommittee, said he has received at least 20 complaints from congressmen of both parties.
