Wintry Weather Predicted
Washington, Jan. 1.—Wintry weather will be general during the greater part of the coming week, according to a bulletin issued tonight by the Weather Bureau.

"A marked change to colder weather will overspread the region east of the Mississippi River within the next thirty-six to forty-eight hours," continues the bulletin, "with the line of freezing temperature extending southward to the Gulf and south Atlantic coasts and to northern Florida."

"Unseasonable cold weather will continue the next several days in the middle west, the southeast and the Rocky Mountain region."

"A storm that is now over the upper lake region will move down the St. Lawrence Valley during Monday, attended by snow in the region of the Great Lakes, the interior of New York and New England. It will be followed by clearer weather elsewhere east of the Mississippi River during Monday."

"The next disturbance of importance to cross the United States will appear in the far west Monday or Tuesday, cross the middle west Wednesday or Thursday and the eastern states about Friday. This disturbance will be preceded by a reaction to normal temperature, be attended by general snows in northern and rain in southern districts, and be followed by decidedly colder weather."

The Political Horoscope
In Florida the year will be especially exciting politically on account of the election of a Governor and all county officials. This will be a fight between Democrats only, however, and interest in State politics will cease with the end of the second primary. The contest for Governor will be a hard-fought battle between Col. Cromwell Gibbons of Jacksonville, J. W. Watson of Miami, Park Trammell of Lakeland and W. H. Milton of Marianna, all of whom are good men and have supporters in every section of the State.

For Congressman at large there are four candidates so far announced—Capt. J. Ed O'Brien of Pensacola, Col. Beacham of Orlando, Col. Martin of Brookville and Claude L'Engle of Jacksonville. It is too early to predict the result in this instance, as well as in other contests in the State at large.

The race for Superintendent of State Schools will undoubtedly be interesting. State Supt. Holloway and Hon. W. N. Sheats again measuring swords, with Editor Russell of The Brookville Argus hoping to get enough votes to beat them both with his free school book platform as a voter-getter. The contest for other State officers, from The Sun's viewpoint, promises to be a tame affair, but future announcements may tend to add interest thereto.

In the First Congressional District Congressman Spierman has opposition in the candidacy of State Solicitor Phillips; in the Second three eminent gentlemen, Col. Toomer of Jacksonville, Senator Hilburn of Palatka and Railroad Commissioner Burr, ask the people to redress Congressman Frank Clark, while in the Third two brothers-in-law, Judge Parkhill and Congressman Mayers, are pitted against each other. —Gainesville Sun

THE DOLLS' MUSICAL

Unique Entertainment Provided by Mrs. Fannie Munson

Dolls' Musicale for the Little Folks December 29th, 1911 Studio Mrs. Fannie Munson.

Never before in the history of Sanford has there ever been such a flutter of excitement and joyous anticipation among the wee little folks and their darling dollies as on last Friday morning, when they were getting ready to attend the delightfully unique entertainment Mrs. Munson gave in honor of the little folks and their dolls. When all the little guests had arrived and each and her doll was seated, Mrs. Munson gave each one of them a dainty little program, tied with ribbon, from which was suspended a tiny china doll.

Mrs. Munson told the little girls that as she did not think the dolls had been accustomed to attending musicales she would suggest that they tell the dolls not to make a noise or whisper to each other while the musical part of the program was rendered. One little girl very gravely said to her neighbor, "Tell your doll to hush."

PROGRAM
Piano—Doll's Overture, Dolly's Kitchen, Dance Dolly Dance, Sleep Dolly, The Jap Doll, Dolly Lost, Dolly Found—Mrs. Fannie Munson.

Songs—The Ashamed to Look my Dolly in the Eyes, The Japanese Doll—Miss Hayes.

Songs—Jerushy, The Doll I Love the Best, Rock a Bye—Miss Bowler.

Dolly's Reverie—Miss Bertha Packard. Teaching Dolly to Waltz—Miss Lucca Chappell.

Poupee Vansanté—Miss Estle Pardon.

Funeral March of a Marionette—Miss Margaret Davis.

Reading—The Dear Doll—Miss Margaret Coffee.

The dolls and their little owners behaved beautifully. Mrs. Munson explained the meaning of each selection and told them that when she played "Dance, Dolly Dance" she thought the dolls would appreciate a little dancing lesson, as they had been so very quiet. While she played the dance each little girl very earnestly and sedately danced her doll on the floor. Mrs. Munson also told them that the selections were all the work of fine composers and were for the dolls and those who love them. When Miss Hayes was to sing the "Japanese Doll, Mrs. Munson introduced a very fine doll from Japan to the Pacific and American dolls present. When Miss Bowler sang "Rock a Bye" the children were told that if they thought the dolls were sleepy to rock them to sleep in their arms, which each one began immediately to do. The dolls were given another waltzing lesson and then Miss Margaret Coffee entertained them with the beautiful recitation "The Dear Doll," using a very handsome doll, one of the guests, in demonstration of her great love for her dolly.

When the program was completed Mrs. Munson invited the ladies who had been honored by an invitation to be present to come and be introduced to the dolls, which they of course were delighted to do.

The little folks and their dolls were next invited to be seated on the lawn and enjoy some delicious cakes. When that pleasant part of the program was over, a photographer was sent for and a picture of the beautiful scene was taken.

Mrs. Munson's kindness and thoughtful attention to the little folks and their dolls has certainly won for her a lasting place in their hearts.

Had His Leg Cut Off

A negro named Rawls had his leg cut off between the knee and ankle last Saturday afternoon at the depot. He was crossing the tracks to board the Overland train when train No. 80 backing down to the station struck him and knocked him under the wheels. He was placed upon a stretcher and carried to Dr. Denton's office where it was necessary to amputate the leg above the knee.

THE MAN WHO KNOWS

The difference between fine laundry work and ordinary laundry work will appreciate the work we are doing.

Our work will please the most fastidious dresser because it is starched, dried and ironed in such a shape that it will fit just as the maker intended.

The open front and negligee shirts are ironed so that the buttons and button holes match perfectly.

Our colored goods are washed with soap which will not fade any color that will stand cold water.

We want fastidious people to try our work.

It will speak for itself. Phone us or drop a card.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurrifed Readers

Chairman Sulzer of the house committee on foreign affairs, announced today that his committee soon would begin its hearings on Rainey's resolution authorizing an investigation into the acquisition of the Panama Canal Zone by the United States. The resolution mentions the fact that a former president of the United States has declared that he "took Panama from Colombia without consulting congress."

The desire for "a good time" is the cause of girls leaving home, more often than anything else, states Chief of Police Griffith of Kansas City, whose annual report shows that 180 girls and women were reported as missing during 1911 and have not been accounted for. "Fifteen seems to be the most popular age for girls to run away," Griffith said. "Four-fifths of the missing are between fourteen and nineteen."

"Nothing but death can keep me out of the fight now," President Taft is reported as having made this statement to callers at the white house this morning, adding that he had no objection to the statement being made public. It was undoubtedly intended to set at rest doubts haunting the minds of some members of the republican party that Taft is old, feeble, and allow President Roosevelt to step prominently into the running.

Both houses of congress reassembled Wednesday after the Christmas holidays, recess for which began on December 21. Most of the senators and representatives were at their posts. Practically no important business was pending for the day. First snow of the winter in Washington brought with a bad cold for Speaker Clark. He had a touch of bronchitis when he reassembled the house. His voice was hoarse. He remained at his post against the advice of friends.

Alfred Tenynson Dickens, eldest surviving son of Charles Dickens, the novelist, died suddenly of acute indigestion at the Hotel Astor in New York Tuesday. Mr. Dickens was in this country on a lecturing tour.

General W. H. Jewell Dead

General William H. Jewell died at his home in Orlando on Tuesday afternoon of heart trouble.

General Jewell was a prominent lawyer and was well known in the southland being a bridgehead general of the Confederate Veterans.

General Jewell came south in his early boyhood from Massachusetts and, when the Civil war broke out joined the southern army and served in that great struggle until the close when he removed to Florida and had been a resident of Orlando up to the time of his death.

He was loved and respected by all who knew him and was a special friend of the newspaper fraternity having been a newspaper man at one stage of his career.

Passenger Agents Here

One hundred and eighty or more railroad passenger agents arrived in this city yesterday at 4:30 in a special train composed of seven Pullmans and a baggage car.

The party had dinner at the Sanford House and many of them visited friends in Sanford until the time for departure.

The party comprised passenger agents from every part of the United States and Canada and they intend to tour the state and will have a complete history of Florida when they return home to resume their duties. Owing to the lateness of the hour they could not be taken over the Delany Delta but they were greatly interested in what they could see of the city and surrounding country.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

On Tuesday afternoon in the Baptist church at 8 o'clock the W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting. A full attendance of all the members of the Union is desired. It will be the occasion of the election of officers for the local union, and also the report from the state convention.

Leap Year Dance

The most delightful and notably social function of the season, was the Leap Year Dance, given by the young ladies of the city Wednesday evening. In the dance hall, complimentary to the young gentlemen. The exquisite taste and artistic fingers of the committee on decoration, transformed the hall into a charming and attractive ball room; with its tasteful decorations of red and green interspersed with Christmas bells, both large and small. The Leap Year Idea, was fully carried out, by the young ladies, calling at the homes or places of residence of the young men, whom they had invited to accompany them to the dance; and later making all the engagements for dances with the young gentlemen themselves. The music was fine, the floor in good condition and the dances very pleasant. Delicious punch was served during the evening. The toilettes of the ladies were lovely, the young gentlemen faultless in their conventional dress suits, and the evening pleasure perfect at this the nicest and most delightful dance ever given in the hall. Those participating in this most enjoyable event were Mr. and Mrs. Forest Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. W. B. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Rosseter and Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Chaperones.

New Year's Outing

At early dawn last Sunday a party of six left Sanford to spend the week end in a camp on the shore. All nature seemed to bid us speed on our way, for there never was a more perfect and beautiful picture of dawn. One was forcibly reminded of Browning's tribute to Dawn: "Day? Dawn and more fast than night's trim Day bolts at last. Boils pure gold o'er the cloud cup a brim Where spurting and suppressed it lay For not a froth flake touched the rim Of yonder gap in the eastern cloud a mile away But forth one wavelet and then another rolled Till the whole sunrise out to be suppressed. Rose reddened and its setting breast, sheltered in bounds, Grew gold and overflowed the world."

After going about twenty miles through Lake Monroe and up the St. Johns river the party landed about nine o'clock. The first event being breakfast it was prepared in camp style, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The first day out being Sunday was spent in strolling through the woods, communing with nature and also reading magazines. In the afternoon a heavy rain came up, which sent the party in search of shelter. Fortunately an old, dilapidated, cabin was found near by, which afforded us a comfortable home for the night. After supper we all sat around the fire telling camp stories.

Early Monday morning the party divided, a part taking guns and dogs for a deer hunt and the rest with fishing tackle and boat went up the river fishing. About noon both parties returned, each loaded with booty and the best that the woods and water could offer. It was through a rough storm that the party returned late Monday afternoon, but each glad that he had been a participant in this outing. Those who composed the party were Miss Brain, Miss Boyd, Miss Evelyn Biggers, Capt. J. A. Ratliff, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Biggers, these being joined later by Mr. Cowan and Mr. McDonald.

Well Known Writer in Town

Mr. Percy P. Vyle, general manager Vyle's Advertising Agency, Jacksonville, came over from DeLand during the week look after the business of the Agency in this city. Mr. Vyle reports the outlook for business was never brighter and that several large prospects for the development of Florida are being considered by influential people. Mr. Vyle is a writer of prominence and of late has contributed to Clark L. Engle's Dixie. We look forward to seeing some of his work along the lines of advanced thought in this weekly.

Monroe Ferry Working

E. E. Osteen wishes to announce that the Monroe ferry is working now and every one can safely cross the "raging channel."

THE CELERY OUTLOOK

Sanford Never Had Brighter Prospects for Good Crops

RECENT RAIN DID SOME DAMAGE

Crops Will Need More Fertilizer But Cold Weather Saves The Day For Growers

According to statistics there has been nearly five inches of rainfall in this section in forty-eight hours, and as a consequence there was considerable water in many of the fields. Some apprehension was felt by the growers lest the weather turn warm and blight the celery crop, but the weather man was good to us this time and yesterday was cloudy followed by cooler weather and now the safety of the celery crop is assured.

The rain damaged the crops in some places and will necessitate a second application of fertilizer, as the water leached the ground and the fertilizer was washed away in the tiling. This extra fertilizing will entail an expense, but not a heavy one and the crop will be all the better for it.

The warm weather had started some of the lower leaves to turn yellow, but the majority of the crop is looking fine and the growers look for a fine price this season.

The lettuce has been hurt and but little is going forward at present, but the crop coming on is in good shape and ought to bring a fancy price.

COMING TO SANFORD

Hundreds of People Expected in This Section

The day of the fake land schemes is past. As predicted in The Herald that the real investor and home builder would eventually locate on irrigated land in this section, the news comes that hundreds of homeseekers are starting for Sanford and expect to locate here. The vanguard of the rush is here this week and the land offices of Howard-Packard and the Swope Investment Co. have been filled all week with the new people.

They are all good honest tillers of the soil who have the money to buy the land and develop the same. The fake lands have caused the people of the north and west to investigate Florida, and taking the advice of The Herald they are seeing the land first.

The Sanford section wants investigation. We have the best goods and the celery beds are the best evidence of the validity of our claims. The greatest development yet attempted in Sanford will now take place. Full particulars will be given later.

Revival Meetings

Some time ago the Baptist church invited Rev. Dr. W. E. Hatcher of Virginia to hold a meeting in Sanford. The invitation was accepted and the meetings will begin next Sunday. The Doctor will arrive next Tuesday and will hold his first service that night. He will preach until the third Sunday, holding two services daily.

For many years Dr. Hatcher has been one of the best known, most honored and most useful Baptist ministers in the South. For twenty-five years he was pastor of one of the largest Richmond churches, from which position he was called to take charge of the state educational work of his denomination. He is at present president of the Furk Union Academy, which enrolls 250 students. He is regular writer for a number of religious newspapers and periodicals, and is the author of several widely read books. While not an evangelist he has held hundreds of revival meetings in which many people have been converted. Notwithstanding he has now reached an age when most ministers cease to be active, his services are in constant demand for religious meetings of various kinds. The Baptists consider themselves fortunate in securing this gifted, godly and experienced man to hold a meeting in Sanford, and people of all denominations will hear him with pleasure and profit.

Notice

The annual meeting of the Sanford Library Association will be held in the Library rooms on Thursday, Jan. 11th, at 4 p. m., for the election of officers and transaction of such other business as may come before the association. 35-36

The Wednesday Club

The club met Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. S. O. Chase, where the members feel very much at home. The civic topics and arrangement of the program for the afternoon was exceptionally fine.

Mrs. A. E. Phillip's paper on "Some Recent Gains in National and Social Reform, through National and State Legislation", was exceedingly interesting and apropos, it had the way for the other fine articles from noted thinkers, writers and would be reformers, who are trying to lead the way, toward better things and living, for the child, as demonstrated by the very able articles, read by Mrs. Chase, on "The Duty of Society to the Child", and "A Brief Presentation of the Child Labor Situation." Mrs. J. W. Dickins read from an article by a great worker in the children's cause, some very interesting information about "The Children's Bureau and What it Will Mean." A very informal and interesting discussion followed by the members of the club, on the Child Labor Problem, in connection with The Children's Bureau.

Kindergarten Xmas Tree

One of the most attractive of holiday exercises was that given last Friday morning at Mrs. Yeiser's charming apartment on Ninth street by Miss Yeiser's kindergarten class.

Sixteen little chairs all in a circle were filled by as many little tots and as Miss Yeiser took her seat amongst them and called for their opening prayer, sixteen small heads bowed low over chubby hands clasped reverently, making a tender picture long to be remembered.

First came their "Good Morning" song after which the leader of the day marked the school calendar with a star at the year's close, telling very sweetly the story of the three wise men who followed the star of Bethlehem, to the manger where lay the Christ child in his mothers arms. They followed a song, "Sing a Song of Six Pence", by Robert Denton, which not only proved to all that five year old Robert had a fine voice but also that some good training had been given him.

After this an Xmas poem was sweetly rendered by Jenn Maxwell whose dear little face beamed with Xmas spirit. Little Miss Evelyn Biggers then sang, "Hang up the Baby's Stocking" with such a strong, sweet voice and so much self-possession as to cause much praise from all present. Then came an Xmas carol the class, splendidly sang, after which, led by Miss Yeiser, they marched into the kindergarten room where stood their tree filled with presents made by their own tiny hands. There were red teddy bears, red cornicopias bulging with candy, tiny dolls dressed in red and each child took home to papa and mamma a red whisk-broom holder which they had helped to make.

An individual Xmas tree was presented at the close and each little face was wreathed in smiles as, after singing their "Goodbye" song, they shook hands with Miss Yeiser and marched away, happy in anticipated joys yet to come.

"Fighting Bob" is Dead

Washington, Jan. 3.—Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, "Fighting Bob" to an admiring nation, died suddenly late today at his home in this city. Acute indigestion ended the career of one of the most popular officers in the navy. He was ill less than two hours.

Admiral Evans, born sixty-five years ago, in Floyd county, Virginia, arose today apparently in better health and spirits than he had enjoyed in some time. For years a sufferer from old wounds sustained in the civil war and from recurrent attacks of rheumatic gout the aged fighter seemed to have shaken off the burden of his advancing days. He displayed high spirits at breakfast and ate hearty luncheon at noon.

While in his library at 2 o'clock the admiral was stricken. Instantly his family sent for Dr. S. S. Adams, who on his arrival found the patient in great pain. After treatment, Admiral Evans fell into a restless sleep and it was thought that the danger had passed. Shortly after 4 o'clock, however, he awakened and, raising himself with difficulty announced that he was choking.

"I cannot get my breath," he said and sank back. At 4:45 o'clock he died, conscious to the end.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

Aviator Bonny who is making exhibition flights in Tampa had engine trouble with his machine last Wednesday and fell 300 feet to the ground escaping with a sprained ankle and a few minor bruises.

It is said that the camphor farm in Satsuma is an enterprise of great magnitude, that it embraces miles of cleared ground, a great extent of which is covered with large camphor trees and nursery stock. A good chip and shell road runs through the farm.

Key West will have a coming out convention for the candidates during the celebration in honor of the new railroad.

The fine Florida special trains are arriving in Jacksonville daily bringing their quota of tourists.

Supt. L. W. Buchholz of Hillsborough county was presented with a beautiful diamond stud by the teachers of that county a few days ago.

The city council of DeLand has passed an ordinance prohibiting the defacing of fences by bills, and the sidewalks by chalk and paint signs.

It is said that the velvet bean crop in Florida will be the heaviest in the history of the State.

Several good catches of fish were made this week, among them Mr. Raven caught a twenty-six pound bass Tuesday and A. W. Shattuck who was with him caught a twenty-four pounder and two ten pounders. On the same day Dr. Schnatterly and Mr. Pryor landed fifty six large whiting. These were caught in Mr. Fernald's fishing ground near the old fish factory.—New Smyrna Breeze.

State Printer F. J. Appleyard has bought from Miss Hyrtle Carpenter the Florida School Exponent, the official paper of the State Educational Association, and it will be printed in Tallahassee instead of Miami in future.

Missionary Society Meets

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church, held their regular meeting in the church Tuesday afternoon. This was the first meeting since the union of the Home and Foreign Missionary societies. The business transacted and various committees appointed at the meeting in December was reviewed, as the President Mrs. H. H. Chappell, did not attend that meeting. Some additional names were suggested on committees, and several plans were proposed and discussed, which were thought would be helpful in promoting a greater interest in both missionary and church work this year. Two ladies were added to the children's committee from the Junior Epworth League who are always appointed to see that the flowers are placed on the pulpit, for the Sunday service.

The united societies are expecting to add several degrees to their always high standard in their society work this year, both Home and Foreign.

Killed At Winter Park

C. A. Brown an aged resident of Winter Park was killed yesterday by the engine pulling the special train of the passenger agents.

According to eye witness of the tragedy Mr. Brown drove from behind the station building without hearing the train and as his team was within a few feet of the train before the engineer saw it there was no possible chance to stop and the engineer is entirely blameless in the matter.

The engineer did all in his power to check the speed but the engine struck the rig and killed Mr. Brown and the horse. The accident is deeply deplored by the many friends of Mr. Brown but no blame is attached to the railroad.

Unitarian Services

Rev. Eleanor E. Gordon of Des Moines Iowa, will preach in Sanford Sunday January 7th, at 3:30 p. m. at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Fernald 500 Oak Ave. This service is held under the American Unitarian Association. Miss Gordon's subject "Personal Religion." Everyone interested invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Raulerson, Mr. and Mrs. Lyon, Ned Lewis and Edwin Raulerson went up the St. Johns fishing and hunting for a couple of days last week.

The Misses Pattishall and brothers, Harold and Birdie are home from their respective schools and on Saturday night entertained the young folks at a very pleasant social.

On Sunday night last several couples were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curlet to watch the dying of 1911 and the coming in of 1912.

Misses Howard of Oviedo recently visited Miss Della Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Little are expected to return from Georgia this week.

As has ever been and will ever be Christmas brings to some homes gladness, life and joy; and to others sorrow, death and grief. Amid the holiday gaieties the grim reaper, death visited our little community and took to her home on high the sweet spirit of our friend, Mrs. Fultz. On Wednesday morning Mrs. Fultz gave up the battle of life and went home to rest. A battle it has been in truth, for no one possibly has ever suffered any more. For years medical skill has been exhausted to give her relief and yet only partially relieved her. Her home for years was in Chicago, but hoping the climate would prove a benefit she with her daughter, Mrs. Etta Roberson, purchased a home in Geneva and for several years have lived here. Mrs. Fultz was a christian as her life proved and Geneva will sadly miss her. She was for a number of years president of the ladies aid society and her cheerful face and words will be greatly missed. Ever ready with purse and heart and hand to assist in any kindness which she found to do, her place will be hard to fill. Undertaker Miller of Sanford, embalmed the body which was temporarily buried in Geneva. In early spring the body will be carried North and put into the family vault. To the one child, Mrs. Roberson, who survives her the sincere sympathy of many friends is extended, alone in the world, so alone, this devoted daughter will miss "mother" more than any one else. Mrs. Fultz had one brother, Dr. Lewis, of Defiance, Ohio, who with his wife and son attended the funeral.

BUDA ITEMS

Special to The Herald: Miss Bobbie Nicholson is visiting friends and relatives in Sanford and Osteen this week.

Miss Sallie Taylor has returned to Orlando after spending a few weeks with her mother.

Misses Kate, Virgie and Nora Higginbotham returned to their home near Jacksonville last week after spending Xmas with their aunt, Mrs. R. S. Gresham.

Mrs. Alma Nicholson and Miss Lelia Roper of Winter Garden visited their aunt, Mrs. W. L. Taylor a few days last week.

J. P. Taylor of Orlando is spending a few days at his old home this week.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Adams and Mrs. J. S. Adams will be glad to know that they expect to be here Wednesday.

EBENEZER NOTES

Special Correspondence to The Herald: We are having the heaviest rains that have been seen for several seasons at this time of the year. One of our hammock neighbors is thinking of getting a boat to visit in.

Jannita Letson is sick with a mild case of scarlet fever this week. She is improving very rapidly under Dr. Denton's treatment however, and hopes to be out again soon.

Rev. M. M. Lord left Tuesday for Martel to ship his household goods to his new home. After arriving he was informed that he had been transferred to Rodman instead of Rochelle, as was first intended. His family will follow in a few days.

J. D. Letson, who has been visiting his family here during the holidays left last Sunday to resume his work in Georgia. He is foreman for C. D. Smith & Bros. of Albany, Ga.

One of the serious illnesses of Mrs. Andea. At latest report she was improving and we hope she will soon be out again.

P. M. Elder and family are comfortably installed in their new home and seem to be enjoying country life.

Miss Gladys Bryan has been visiting in town several days.

Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Stenstrom of West Side visited relatives last Thursday.

HERE must be no stint of labor where it will tell for our neighbors' happiness, but no wasteful extravagance of it where it will not profit. —Phillips Brooks.

HOW TO PREVENT WASTE.

To keep down expenses, prevent waste in food and conserve the strength of the housekeeper is the great problem of household economics.

One of the best methods of preventing waste in food is to prepare only as much as will be eaten, this does not mean being niggardly but simply thrifty.

Wilted vegetables may be restored by soaking in cold water several hours.

When opening a can of tomatoes, use the thin juice for soups and the tomatoes for an escalloped dish.

Look over the ice box before planning a meal, often things most appetizing are forgotten.

Wise planning and careful buying will aid in reducing expenses, but all left-overs must be used or the table expenses will be too high.

Wash peaches before peeling and the skin may then be used with apples for jelly, giving the jelly a delicious peach flavor.

A dainty little toasted cracker may be made from thinly sliced baking powder biscuits that have been toasted and buttered. Serve with orange marmalade and tea.

To prevent the waste of energy in the housekeeper plan to lie down if but for five minutes, completely relax, close the eyes and if the feet are tired and swollen, elevate them and the blood leaving them relieves the tired feeling.

A hot bath and a brisk rub will do wonders to a tired body.

In the cool of the day get the pastry all ready for the water, and set on ice, then when the pie is to be made a few moments will do the work.

Watermelon rind makes delicious preserves and if cut in small cubes and preserved with ginger makes a most appetizing garnish for ice cream.

Use a carpet sweeper instead of a broom on the rugs and carpets unless you are fortunate enough to have a vacuum cleaner.

Wash a window now and then. Don't try to clean the whole house in one morning.

Nellie Maxwell.

WISE SAYINGS OF HORACE.

Thus the richer man is always an obstacle to one who is hastening to be rich.

Glory drags in her dazzling car the obscure as closely fettered as those of noble birth.

"The crowd hiss me, but I applaud myself at home when I contemplate my money in my treasure chest."

How it is, then, that no one lives content with his condition, whether reason gave it him or chance threw it his way?

But a great majority of mankind cry, "No sum is enough, because you are esteemed in proportion to what you possess."

If length of time makes poems better, as it does wine, I would fain know how many years will stamp a gain upon my writings.

Hence it is that we rarely find a man who can say that he has lived happy, and, content with his past life, can retire from the world like a satisfied guest.

SLAVERY WHICH DISGRACES

Conditions of Labor in the Steel Industry Are Shown to Be Deplorable

Our great iron and steel industry—how proud we are of it! How we have coddled and protected it and watched it grow! How marvelously it has been manipulated and turned and twisted and bought and sold and amalgamated and incorporated and combined and formed into giant trusts! How firms and corporations have been drawn into the big net, by force or otherwise, and then capitalized criminally far beyond their intrinsic value, so that the stock afterwards foisted upon the public was waterlogged to a greater degree than the most hopeless derelict that still succeeds in floating! What nice dividends have been paid upon all this watered stock which has been marketed, as upon the millions of such stock pocketed by the barons of the great industry as rewards for bringing about the various amalgamations!

Wonderful thing, this iron and steel industry, giving employment to thousands and thousands of men, helping to make our nation great and prosperous and creating a constantly increasing number of multi-millionaires whose fortunes are the wonder of the world! Sure, we're proud of it. But, wait a minute. Secretary Nagel, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, has been looking into the matter and he has reported to the United States senate that he had investigated the labor conditions connected with practically the entire industry in the United States, numbering some 344 plants. What does he find? Conditions which should shock the conscience of every man who boasts citizenship in this land of the free. The report covers 90,000 men. Of this vast army of industry one-third work seven days per week, Sunday differing in no respect from the other six days. Fully one-fourth of the 90,000 men work not only seven days but 12 hours per day. About 60,000 of these iron and steel employes are foreigners, mostly of the Slavic races. Some 45,000 of them receive less than 18 cents an hour; 22,000 receive between 18 and 25 cents and about the same number receive 25 cents or more per hour.

A rearrangement whereby these pitiable victims of corporate greed should work in three shifts instead of two—eight hours per day instead of twelve—might increase the cost of the product, even might reduce the princely incomes of a handful of steel and iron magnates, but the world would be the gainer.

Where corporate industry thus pitilessly preys on helplessness, poverty and ignorance the government should interfere. If interference is unconstitutional—well, we amended the constitution once for the sake of slaves of a darker color but no worse condition.

Explanations at Syracuse and Erie. At Syracuse Mr. Taft's explanation of why he vetoed the lower-cost-of-living bills consisted mostly of statistics showing why it was necessary to spend some money each year to disseminate information to farmers on the subject of scientific agriculture.

At Erie Mr. Taft's explanation of why he vetoed the lower-cost-of-living bills consisted mostly of telling how he will compromise with the senate on the question of arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France.

LIBERAL OFFER TO WOMEN
Health and Happiness Within the Reach of Every Woman Without Risking a Penny
For every sick woman there is health and happiness. Read this most liberal offer telling how you can be cured at small expense or if you are not cured there will be no charge whatever for the treatment. We give you a chance to get well without risking a penny.
If you are sick, discouraged, or have wasted time and money in vain efforts to recover your health, if you have taken a great many remedies and are no better, if you have doctored with physicians and specialists without help, you have naturally lost faith in everything. Still, you can't go on as you are,—weak, suffering and discouraged,—you must do something.
Reno's New Health offers you a way to be cured, to get well. If it fails, the medicine is free. Could anything be more fair?
This remarkable remedy is the outcome of years of experience of a celebrated physician. It is a medicine that positively cures 99 out of every 100 women who use it. You can get Reno's New Health from your druggist with his absolute agreement to return the money on first bottle if it fails to do all that is claimed for it.
You are to be the judge as to whether it helps you or not. Is it not worth while to try this remedy on these terms, since you have nothing to lose and everything to gain?
Reno's New Health surely and thoroughly relieves Scanty, Profuse, Painful, Irregular or Suppressed Menstruation, Sickly Periods, Constant Weariness and weakness, Depression, Cramps, Dizziness, Violent Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Back and Groins, Leucorrhoea, and All Inflammation, Ulceration and Discharges of the Vagina and Uterus.
Nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, palpitations, thinness of body are all due to female weakness that can be quickly and positively cured by Reno's New Health. Every woman who has a periodical sick headache should use this remarkable remedy and see how quickly it strengthens and invigorates her so her headaches never return.
You are doing yourself an injustice if you do not take advantage of this liberal offer.

If Gainesville can reduce the rate on gas and electricity 33% per cent, how much can the Sanford city council reduce the rate?

The Ocala papers claim that snow fell in that city last Monday. Better get on the water wagon before you get the white mice and green monkey stage.

Editor Felkel of the Pensacola News gives his readers a treatise on the mother-in-law. Now what in the summer breeze is Herb Felkel doing with a mother-in-law when he isn't even married?

In Tampa Wednesday, William Jennings Bryan declared that he would not be a candidate for the nomination at the Democratic Convention. This removes one uncertainty in the race for a Democratic victory.

The Groveland Times is a new paper published at Taylorville Lake County, Ben F. Davis is the editor and the paper is a neat four page, six column sheet that ought to advertise the new territory recently invaded by the homeseekers.

The Gainesville city council has reduced the rates for gas and electricity 33% per cent. The rates for these necessities of life are too high in Florida and every city council should follow Gainesville's example and look into the rates charged by these corporations.

The Herald is friendly to the commission men. We want them to come to Sanford and buy the stuff and we want them to realize a profit after the grower has realized his profit but the former methods of crowding one particular market will break up the game and kill the goose that lays the golden egg. Sanford celery can be marketed this year by safe and sane methods. The grower has the privilege of selling f. o. b. or consignment just as he sees fit only.

The Herald wants a better distribution of a crop that means so much to this community, and we call the growers' attention to the fact that even though your crop is sold and you have the money, you are still interested in a better distribution and a square deal.

At The Presbyterian Church Rev. W. H. Chalmers of Lakeland will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday at both morning and evening service. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

Nothing in it While sitting in a restaurant snatching a hasty meal the editor heard a man remark that The Herald was a good little paper but there is not enough reading matter in it. Another man remarked that the paper was small but it covered the field and chronicled all the happenings which was as much as any paper can do.

Such is life! With a force of fourteen people, with a pay roll amounting to about $200 per week; with the editor and business manager working overtime to get enough matter to fill the paper and enough money to fill the capacious maw of the expense accounts; there is nothing in it.

Quite true, my friend. There is nothing in it! Nothing for the men who give the best part of their life toward building a city, toward fastening and assisting and pushing every enterprise that makes money for every man except the editor. Nothing in it for the men who day after day go through the same treadmill of existence and regardless of personal feeling or sickness or troubles meet the world with a smile and inject a hyperdermia of good cheer into the pessimists and kickers and knockers.

Nothing in it for the men who by sheer force of will power and galvanic manhood keep the town from getting the dry rot of "what's the use" and are always inclined to lay down on the job when the newspaper keeps them braced up sufficiently to try it again with better results. Nothing in it!

Not for the newspaper, my friend, and please remember that, when you are reading your neighbor's paper and trying to find an item to suit your perverted taste.

A WORD TO THE GROWERS Advice from reliable sources would indicate that Sanford celery growers have the crop this season in the proper shape to dictate terms and prices. There seems to be a shortage in other sections and when Sanford celery is ready to ship there is no reason for a slump in prices on account of distribution because said distribution should be made. There are several important items that aid materially in distributing the celery crops. The shippers regardless of trade relations ought to get together each day and establish a clearing house plan by comparing notes and looking into the route of cars. Only the reliable commission men, those who have handled Sanford celery and have the welfare of the section at heart should be allowed to get in the game. If irresponsible men are allowed to operate here and regardless of the market conditions roll cars promiscuously the same slump will occur in the market this year even though Sanford controls the key to the situation. Honest dealers will assist the growers to properly distribute the celery crop and will look farther ahead in the game than their own personal gain.

The season of 1912 promises more to the grower if good weather conditions prevail than ever before and on this subject of distribution the growers and shippers should base their hopes and work together in a common cause. In the past there has been too much jockeying for place each shipper striving to get the stuff to his own particular house and often sending in cars and diverting them in route to handicap a rival house breaking up an otherwise bumpy market and between the millstones the grower is always crushed. The tendency has been to crowd the New York market and even though other cities were needing celery the New York prices made the standard for all and Sanford growers were face to face with the peculiar situation of seeing western markets suffering for celery and their products bringing nothing, all because of the greed of a few dealers bent on depressing the market and plucking the spoils of a slump for their own benefit.

The Herald is friendly to the commission men. We want them to come to Sanford and buy the stuff and we want them to realize a profit after the grower has realized his profit but the former methods of crowding one particular market will break up the game and kill the goose that lays the golden egg. Sanford celery can be marketed this year by safe and sane methods. The grower has the privilege of selling f. o. b. or consignment just as he sees fit only.

FASHIONS of the MOMENT

NEW YORK.—If it were not for the fantastic little contrivances that are brought out from time to time the wardrobe would become a monotonous problem. If it is not the shape of the collar or the depth of the cuffs it is the style of the girde that pronounces the costume fit for general criticism. The waist line may remain at a certain angle and the skirt show exaggerated lines in one extreme or another, but if the general chic of the tout ensemble is not altered the smartness is lacking. A touch of color here or there often brings out the finer qualities of the gown, and to introduce this particular touch of quality requires the hand of an artist.

One of the smartest color combinations of the opening season is violet with magenta, but unless the colors are absolutely correct and brought together in just the proper way, the effect is lost. On a tailor-made of unusual note these colors are successfully introduced. The body of the gown is of rich violet diagonal cloth, while the cunning little waistcoat is of magenta velvet of the most fascinating tone. The coat is made with the high waist line and big pocket flaps trimmed with ornate buttons. The short sleeves carry out the same idea and their cuffs turn back just enough to show the magenta satin lining. The waistcoat, however, is closed with small buttons covered with satin of the same tone.

New Features Are Many.

If one were to attempt a detailed description of the many touches many pages would be required to chronicle the story, and even then it is doubtful whether or not all the new features brought out this season would receive proper treatment. Big revers continue in vogue and as often as not one huge revers is seen. With the tailor-made gown the smart touch is found in the very broad jabot that extends from the throat across the front of the coat to the shoulder, where it is pinned. The newest jabot of this character is narrowed to the bottom and is joined to a band of heavy lace, which covers the front pleat of the shirtwaist.

The big collars and jaunty little jacket effects, both back after several seasons of disuse, are among the most successful accessory treatments for restored frocks. Black and white and green and white stripes trim 50 per cent of the smart outing dresses. A stunning little pongee costume seen the other day had a bias band of green and natural pongee color around the long tunic and forming the big shawl collar of the diminutive jacket. The band of stripes was piped with plain green. Another striking costume displayed at the same establishment was of soft blue Japanese crepon piped with scarlet satin. A shaped girde of the satin closed at the front with three big buttons. Odd color combinations are high in favor this season, and the more unusual the tones the better.

Effective Stripes Combination.

A very striking costume turned out by a Fifth avenue dressmaker is of two-inch stripes of white and bright blue. The entire plain close skirt is of the stripes, while the eccentric jacket is of the plain blue satin, with extremely large collar and cuffs of the stripes. The coat is wide open at the front and has a deep frill of lace filling the opening. A blue cord and tassel cross the sides of the coat and knots at the front, falling to the hem of the skirt. The hat shown with the gown is of bright blue French felt trimmed with a straight long ostrich feather in mauve, which stands upright at the back. A canteen bag of generous size was of blue suede trimmed with heavy cords, in mauve silk.

One of the most attractive gowns worn at an informal dinner the other evening was of cerise taffeta, made in the simplest possible manner, with long plain scant skirt and short waist. The waist was beautifully draped with a handsome lingerie fichu of the faintest French embroidery and lace, with a single red rose tucked into the belt. The cachet of the costume was a good deal the way the fichu was draped, which gave the air and chic of the outfit. Not every woman can drupe a fichu with the little touch which makes a simple performance an artistic achievement. The least effort on the part of the woman often produces the best results.

Separate coat collars of organdie, peasant laces and embroidered batiste are now occupying the center of the sartorial stage. Often these are in bright color. Over white serge the effect is very attractive, especially when the buttons are in the same tone, which more often than not is the case with the better class of tailor-mades. If one is to judge from the number of handsome buttons trimming the advance fall costumes, the fad is to be carried to a point a little less than a craze. Gorgeous buttons set with colored stones and further decorated with cut steel, enamel, gunmetal and the like, are being shown in hundreds of lovely designs. Many of these buttons are far beyond the limit of the average pocketbook. In such cases the girl who longs to keep pace with the dictates of fashion will have to be content with a single button to close the front of her jacket.

Reversible Long Coats.

Just now every one is wearing the reversible long coats. The outside is generally of plain color, while the reverse side is of gay plaid or a bright contrasting tone. Such garments really take the place of another costume, for, made as they are of soft, warm material, they have just enough weight for cool weather until frosty autumn days arrive. The smartest of these coats are the plainest, where the big collar falls over the shoulders in a sort of cape-like hood, and the big sleeves are made to be turned back. All that one requires to make the outfit complete and fit for almost any outdoor occasion is a pretty blouse or neckpiece that covers one as far as the bust.

The low neck has reached such a vogue and, withal, such favor, for reason of its comfort, that when a high collar is used it is made of the sheerest of transparencies that give the wearer the appearance of being collarless. And to exaggerate the line of the low neck all sorts of little bands, narrow cravat effects and scarfs are employed. Some of the daintiest ones are finished with clusters of little flowers made of satin and looking so natural that one is easily deceived by them. The odd little fancy for wearing a massive necklace under the gauze yoke continues to hold favor with a good many fashionably dressed women. Often large brilliants are mounted in heavy gold incrustations, and the more elaborate the ornament the better is the effect through the transparency.

Features for Fall.

The marabout neckpiece, muff, bag and fan are strong features in the up-to-date wardrobe for early fall. The feathers in such superb sets are preferably gray, shaded to almost white at the tips. Neckpieces are shaped variously to accommodate different figures where long and short lines are necessary assets, but the tufts are all large and round. Bags are in different styles with both long and short handles; usually of silk cord in corresponding color. Another smart touch that follows the soft gray feather effects is the unusually large cluster of ostrich tip shaded in all the natural tones of gray to the original brownish-gray of the natural feather. As every one knows, gray is to be one of the leading tones this season, and whether or not the shade is becoming, the smart woman is going to have at least one gray outfit in her wardrobe.

For ultra afternoon wear there is nothing quite so smart as the handsomely embroidered velvets. The work is executed in coarse wool and is heavily padded to make it stand out. Such novelties in moving styles are apt to be capricious, for the reason that they are spectacular and people tire of them quickly. However, all kinds of heavy wool work is threatening to make a decided impression throughout the approaching season.

The illustration shows a robe of navy-blue mousseline de sole and flit lace.

ARE MICROBES IN YOUR SCALP?

It Has Been Proved That Microbes Cause Baldness.

Professor Unna of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabourand, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under the observation of eminent scientists. This microbe lodges in the Sebium, which is the natural hair oil, and when permitted to flourish it destroys the hair follicles and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots, and overcome baldness, so long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do as we state.

It will frequently help to restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet it is in no sense a dye. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by aiding in making every hair root, follicle, and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

We exact no obligations or promises—we simply ask you to give Rexall "93" Hair Tonic a thorough trial and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store.

WATERING A LOCOMOTIVE IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

ONE of the unique railroad propositions of the continent is the Newfoundland company, operating some 800 miles of line in the Island of Newfoundland. It is a narrow gauge road, the main line of which extends from Port-au-Basque on the southwest corner of the island to the city of St. Johns, a distance of 546 miles. The interior of the island is uninhabited and the trains travel for miles through unbroken forests, winding around the lakes and mountains. The illustration shows the method of supplying water to the powerful little locomotives. Water tanks are unknown, but the mountain streams are tapped and the water fed into the locomotive tanks through flumes, which are in some cases as much as a mile in length. In addition to this method each locomotive is equipped with a pump and hose, and if the flume is broken or the water supply in the locomotive becomes exhausted between these supply stations the hose is dropped into a lake or stream and the water pumped into the tank.

TALE OF HORROR TOLD

MISSIONARY TELLS OF AWFUL CHINESE PUNISHMENT.

Tortures of Prisoners and Almost Unbelievable Penalties Executed by Official Sanction—How Deserting Soldiers Were Disciplined.

Kansas City, Mo.—Chinese military discipline is something fierce, according to Dr. A. J. Shelton of Anthony, Kan., who has just returned from the land of the pigtail. The doctor tells this blood-curdling story of the cruelty practiced upon a good friend of his who was a major in the Chinese army:

Three companies of Chinese soldiers under the major's command, but stationed in a different city, rebelled and deserted, taking their arms and ammunition. As the Chinese army is in the main made up of men who accept the service in place of a penal sentence, the most rigid rules are enforced heartlessly to get a minimum of service and discipline. They are paid the equivalent of $2.40 a month, on which they must subsist. To their starvation is always imminent and a dead dog or mule or other animal, even when dead of disease, is greedily cooked and eaten.

The major was held responsible for his rebellious troops, and only the intercession of the commanding general of the district, who got down on his knees and begged for the life of his subordinate to the civil governor, saved his head.

The punishment was modified to dismissal from the army and 2,000 light blows from a small paddle. The paddle used is from one to one and a half inches wide, 18 inches long and probably the eighth of an inch thick. In administering it the thighs are bared, and light, even blows are struck on the thick flesh between the hip and knee, the victim lying prostrate on his face. The paddle is used with a sort of a flip and for some time makes no impression; 500 blows makes the flesh red and puffy, 1,000 brings the flesh to a jelly-like consistency, and 2,000 marks the limit of torture a strong man may endure and live.

Often gangrene sets in and the victim dies; with the best of treatment it is months before the man paddled can use his legs naturally. In the case of the major the flesh sloughed off his thigh an inch and a half deep, five inches broad and 17 inches long. He expected to get well, but his legs would always be crippled. The rebellious troops were pursued, 200 of them were killed in action and the balance brought to camp for beheading. Eighteen of the soldiers were given swords and required to cut gashes in the flesh of their captain who was unable to prevent their rebellion, then they were beheaded before the captain.

To stimulate other officers to greater zeal in handling their men the captain was then taken in hand by the official executioner who had bound him to a big stake for the men to gaze with swords. With a keen knife the lips of the captain were sliced off, then his nose, later his eyelids were cut off and his eyeballs were exposed to the pitiless sun. After a few hours the skin of the forehead was cut away and allowed to drop over the blinded eyes, hanging by the corner edges. Then later the breasts were cut off, and the skin at the lower edge and allowed to hang; if the victim survived that, and the captain did, then the flesh covering the bowels was cut away and allowed to hang apron fashion while the wind and sun dried, and flies and vermin fed upon the blood and cut flesh. In this case the captain, long unconscious, died with disemboweling. In cases where a man survives that, then a knife is plunged in his heart at the end of the day of horrible torture.

The Tariff and the Millhand.
Cotton millmen enjoy probably a higher degree of tariff privilege than any other one industry.

The profits of the cotton magnates are enormous. Dividends of 40, 50 and 60 per cent are not uncommon. Capitalization is frequently three or four times the investment, and a surplus greater than the capitalization is maintained.

The federal bureau of labor has published the results of an investigation into the cotton textile industry, which gives some interesting figures.

The average wage of an adult worker in an American cotton mill is $6.82 per week. When one remembers that in the north 10.2 per cent of the male workers and 5.4 per cent of the female workers are children of 14 and 15 years, and that in the south 33.9 per cent of the males and 25.1 per cent of the females are of the same tender age, the pitance which cotton magnates pay for labor is apparent.

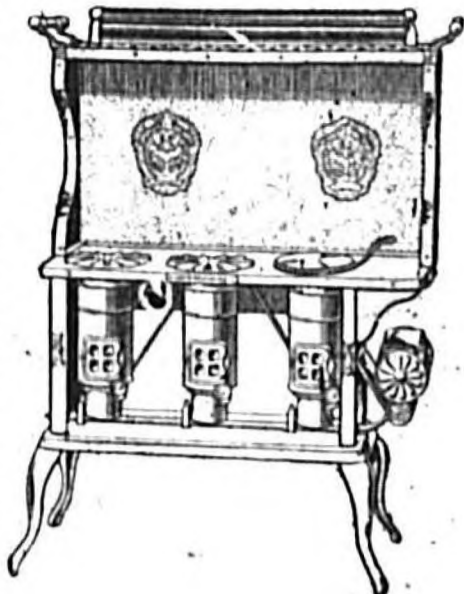

Will some standpat editor explain why high tariff, which enables the mill bosses to rob the people by high prices, not only fails to pit the cotton worker on a decent living standard, but actually puts him below the level of a street sweeper?

Oldest Locomotive Engineer.
Nathaniel Taft of Waverly, a cousin of President Taft, claims the distinction of being the oldest living locomotive engineer in the United States. He is eighty-six years old and is hale and hearty. When he was twenty years of age he signed a pledge to abstain from tobacco and alcoholic drinks, which he has religiously kept.

For sixty-two years Mr. Taft was an engineer on the Boston, Worcester and Fitchburg and later on the Erie. In 1849 he was engineer on the first passenger train which ran from Boston to South Framingham, Mass. He was retired on a pension when he reached the age of eighty. During all his years of service he never met with an accident, and traveled, according to a carefully kept daily record, a total of 1,524,086 miles.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

Yuletide in Australia.
In striking contrast to our own is the Christmas Day kept by our kinsfolk in Australasia. No snow or blazing log; no holly or mistletoe; only a bright sky, green trees, parched grass, and a blazing sun. Christmas is so inseparably associated by us with a cosy seat in front of a roaring fire that we can hardly realize eating our Christmas dinner on a veranda beneath a brilliantly blue sky, with every flowering plant in full bloom. But down yonder, picnics and garden parties are the order of the day. Many a delightful excursion into the country is arranged by the Melbourne, Sydney, Adelaide, and other townspeople, and Christmas Day is kept right merrily, far into the summer night.

PROPER FOOD FOR THE DUCKS

Correct Selection is Extremely Important to Secure Rapid Growth—Pure Water is Essential.

The food of the duck is both vegetable and animal in nature. In the wild state the duck gets its food from the brooks and marshes. This consists of small fish, water insects, etc. When the birds are raised in confinement their diet must in a measure be limited to get the most satisfactory results. The duck has no crop. Its food passes directly from the throat to the gizzard. As a consequence the food must be in a soft, mushy state. Too much hard food, such as grain does not agree with ducks, which cannot be made to thrive when so fed. While some raisers use a small allowance of grain others do not, and it has not been proved to be of any advantage to feed grain. Soft food is the natural diet. It may be imitated with grasses, vegetables and animal food.

The proper selection of food is extremely important to secure the rapid growth of the duck and the ingredients must be such as will form a well-balanced and substantial ration. As a whole, it may be said that the rations used by the largest duck raisers are essentially the same, differing only in proportions used in mixing. Investigation shows the real value of food to be the same for producing rapid growth and early development. The ducklings grow twice as rapidly and are much heavier eaters than the ducks; and to produce best results the food must be such as may be easily assimilated.

Pure water is of the greatest importance for ducklings. It is often a good plan to give water before feeding. Let the ducklings find water fountains as soon as they are placed in the brooder. Water to drink should be kept before the little birds all the time, as they will drink and waste a good deal. It is absolutely necessary to their digestion that they have water close at hand. Unless ducklings have an opportunity to rinse their bills and nostrils thoroughly and frequently they may suffer from having these openings clogged.

New Year's Bridge Party
Mrs. R. J. Holly and Mrs. R. H. Marks entertained most charmingly at a New Year's Bridge party Monday afternoon and evening, January 1, in the Welaka Club rooms, in honor of their sisters, Miss Hesse Tyner of Tampa and Miss Rose Clayton of Atlanta.

The decorations were yellow and white, a number of ferns and palms, with red roses, being used.

The honorees were beautifully gowned in yellow satin dresses, wearing American Beauty roses. The score cards were in keeping with the color scheme, bearing pretty girls' heads.

Top score was made by Mrs. Samuel Puleston, who received a pretty brass candlestick. Mrs. O. W. Brady received the booby prize, a pretty picture with this motto: "So here's good cheer for another whole year."

A delicious salad course was served at the close of the game.

Mrs. Holly's and Mrs. Marks' invited guests for the afternoon were: Mesdames Frank Miller, Fox, Holden, Smith, Bennett, Morrow, McLaughlin, Puleston, Newman, Herndon, Barnes, Cruse Barnes, Lane, Keelor, Howard, Claude Howard, DeForest, Neal, Lake, Woodruff, Brady, Putman, Shinholser, Dickins, Dingee, Geo. Speer, Turner, Papworth, Rossetter, Prather, Keely, Fitts, Driver, Johnson, Chase, Hurt, Higgins, Thrasher, Gonzales, Garner, Hughes, Gabbett, Maxwell, Connelly, Foster, Harrold, DuBose, King, Williams, Roumillat, Munson, A. W. Brown, Commons and Miss Nona Wylly.

At the evening party for the young people five hundred was played. When time was called it was found that Miss Charlotte Keelor had the highest score and she received a lovely box of stationery. Miss Flossie Frank received the consolation prize of a handsome deck of cards.

Mr. Raines was the real thing among the gentlemen and received a box of cigars. David Caldwell received the booby prize of a jar of stick candy. After delicious chicken salad, sandwiches and coffee had been served an impromptu dance was held and with reluctant feet the guests departed for their homes.

Those invited to the evening affair were as follows:

Misses Charlotte Keelor, Margaret Roberts, Vivian Yeiser, Dorothy Hayes, Annie Higgins, Irene Brady, Alice Whitner, Nell Whitner, Flossie Frank, Rose Dickenson, Ruth Mettinger, Mabel Bowler, Belle Smith, Peacha Leffler, Linda Leffler, Laura Fish, Bessie Schumpert, Veda Ward, Madge Ward, Mabel Hand, Charlotte Hand; Messrs. L. P. McCuller, Tracey McCuller, Willie Leffler, Geo. Atkins, Braxton Perkins, David Caldwell, Wydeman Caldwell, Nixon Butt, Frank Milteer, Felix Frank, W. L. Morgan, Meade Fox, J. Williams, E. B. Brown, Jay Einstein, Harry Einstein, W. H. Wakefield, Willie Hill, R. R. Deas, Ernest Betts, Raines, Thigpen.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

J. S. Bashaw, local representative of Crutchfield & Woolfolk, commission merchant, Pittsburg, has returned from a visit to Fairfield. Mr. Bashaw states that the continued rains have played havoc with the lettuce crop in the Fairfield section and estimates damage will amount to 80 per cent. The greatest damage was done to the plants set in low lands. The damage to the cabbage crop will be about 25 per cent.—Gainesville Sun.

A movement was brought before the school board in Miami a few days ago asking that a lunch room for the children be arranged in the Central school building. The board agreed to the suggestion and arrangements for same will be made.

Prof. W. N. Sheats has resigned as principal of the Lakeland High School and Prof. Charley M. Jones, now first assistant to Prof. Sheats has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Prof. Sheats' resignation will go into effect on the 15th of this month.

Three prominent homes in Daytona have recently been entered by burglars and many valuables stolen.

Work of razing the three-story brick building at Franklin and Zack streets, to make place for ten-story structure of the Citizens Bank and Trust company, was completed.

Mr. A. L. Schuch, the well known contractor, Mr. A. L. Schuch was the contractor who erected the structure some time ago. As soon as the present building has been razed the building of the Citizens Bank skyscraper will commence.

The Brookville Argus is ten years old and is a monument of what a newspaper can be made when a man knows how. The editor modestly gives it as his opinion that the Argus is the best paying country newspaper in the state without exception—which is rather a broad challenge.

The net earnings of the Bartow water works for last year exceeded seven thousand dollars, after charging 3 per cent depreciation and taking no account for water used for public purposes. Looks like a good investment.

Exchanges of the State say that Sempronius is the candidate for Governor from Key West is only running around the island. Anyway he'll be the big name at the political rally to be held there on the 22d of this month.

Judge F. M. Robles has decided that the fight between church members in a Tampa organization has no place on the court docket.

Death of C. A. Hawkins

C. A. Hawkins died yesterday at the home of his brother, J. J. Hawkins on Lake Avenue. Mr. Hawkins had been in poor health for some time and apparently was getting better, when an intestinal obstruction occurred and in his weakened condition could not be combated by the skill of the physicians, and Mr. Hawkins passed away almost at the threshold of his career.

It was known that little in Sanford, being a "training" disposition, but those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance recognized his true manhood.

Mr. Hawkins was a power for good in his native city of Commerce, Ga., where he was manager of the Commerce News and identified with many other business enterprises. His chief ambition to build was the chief cause of his physical breakdown and his last journey to Sanford was in the hopes that a rest and change of climate would benefit his health.

His remains were shipped to the old home yesterday, where the funeral will occur. His father and brother accompanied the remains. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family.

Mission Study Circle

The study circle of the united missionary societies of the Methodist church will meet at the residence of Mrs. Charles Smith Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All the members of the circle and society are urged to be present.

POLITICS WARMING UP

The Key West Celebration Will Bring Them From Cover

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 8.—With the passage of the holidays, before which a truce existed among candidates and near-candidates, interest in this city and throughout the entire state in the 1912 campaign is rapidly increasing. Following the meeting of the state executive committee here Tuesday, January 16, when it is expected that a call for a primary some time in May will be issued, the storm will break in earnest.

There is bustle and activity in the headquarters of all the candidates throughout the state. Just what the field will contain after the meeting of the committee is a matter of interesting conjecture at this time. It has just been announced that Hon. W. H. Eilla has withdrawn from the race for congressman-at-large, and will devote his time to increased interests at Quincy. His elimination as a factor, however, will carry small comfort to the other men in the race for it is practically known that Braxton Beacham, of Orlando, is preparing to announce for the place. This will leave the field for congressman-at-large just where it was before the retirement of Mr. Eilla.

It would be the merest guess-work to estimate just what showing Mr. Beacham will make throughout the state, but in the section about Orlando he is very strong. Through his extensive land and timber operations, he has become known to business men in hundreds of Florida cities and towns not in his own territory, and is said to be very highly regarded. He is a man of considerable wealth and of progressive ideas.

The latest feature of interest, and a circumstance which may permit Key West to see, along with its first sight of a railroad train, the greatest formal opening of an important campaign, is the invitation to candidates to attend a big only for the meeting at the island chairman of the Florida Democratic Executive committee. Mr. Price has sent letters to all the candidates in the field, and promises that a tent to seat 5,000 people will be provided. The exact date is not specified, but the jubilee will be held during the week of the over-the-sea railroad celebration.

It is expected that most of the candidates in the field will fire their first guns at this meeting. Perhaps the first man to accept the invitation of Mr. Price was Oot, Cromwell Gibbons, of Jacksonville, candidate for governor. He proposes to make his opening speech under the dome of the jubilee tent at Key West. Politicians and the people throughout the state are awaiting this speech of Colonel Gibbons with much interest, for it is believed that he will launch the paramount issue of the campaign—the policy of the state of Florida toward the drainage of the Everglades.

The drainage plank of Colonel Gibbons' platform appears innocent enough at first glance, but it is known that he has been engaged for months in making a thorough study of what has been accomplished in the work and the policy under which it is pursued. He has had the advice of the best engineers in the country, and has not yet finished. He proposes to strip the proppation to the bar skeleton and then weigh the past against the future of a great section of the state which, he has declared, is being destroyed by the methods employed.

Florida Facts.

Peanuts will certainly grow in popularity as a feed feed for animals and as a profitable crop to follow grain crops. They are a comparatively sure crop, quick maturing, easily cultivated and thrive on soils too poor for many other crops.

There is money in cabbage where one likes this line of truck growing and understands the requirements of the plants. Cabbage requires a deep rich soil, a sandy loam, or gravelly loam soil is preferred. A liberal amount of barnyard manure will be needed on most soils to supply the hungry required and some acid phosphate and potash.

There is splendid fishing in Florida, in fresh water and salt. The waters of the State are the source of many things which have contributed to the general wealth. Besides fish of many kinds, there are oysters, clams, crabs and sponges. The tarpon is the great game fish of the seas. It is doubtful if any other state in the Union is the equal of Florida in variety of fish.

THE LETTUCE OUTLOOK

Crop Has Brought Good Prices During The Season.

FIVE TO SIX DOLLARS PRICE NOW

The Late Crops Will Also be Money Makers According to Buyer's Predictions.

The lettuce crop for the season as a whole promises to be satisfactory. Despite the climatic changes and rains that caused the lettuce to go to seed and "damp off" the market has proved steady and even leaves have brought a good price.

When the market dropped a few weeks ago it was not on account of a glut but because the warm weather had caused the lettuce to damp off and it was not in good condition upon arrival.

As a whole the price has been excellent and the average has been much better than ordinarily. In some instances the record has been broken for high prices.

The crop coming on also promises good prices and the buyers are inclined to think that Sanford stuff will bring a good price all the season. With the growers making good on lettuce and such a fine prospect for celery there is prosperity in sight for the celery delta.

A GREAT TRADING CENTER

Sanford Offers Great Bargains To The People of This Section

It is the custom for merchants to offer goods at half price at the end of each season, but Sanford merchants are going farther this season and are offering winter goods at cost right in the midst of cool weather.

This week the well known firms of D. L. Thrasher, Palmer & Seigh, N. P. Yowell & Co., D. A. Caldwell & Sons and The Boston are offering large stocks of dry goods, clothing, hats, shoes, notions, ladies' and men's wear at cost and below cost and the prices are bringing many people from all parts of Orange, Lake and Volusia counties to Sanford to trade.

Never before have such low prices on good material prevailed and as one out of town customer remarked, "The prices are lower than New York." The people who come to Sanford to trade can make a dollar go further than in any other city in Florida. Glance The Herald this week.

Delightful Recital

The recital given Thursday evening, in the auditorium of the High School, by some of the pupils of the school and Mrs. Munson's piano students, under the auspices of the school improvement Association and the South Park committee, was a delightful success. In the pleasure afforded the audience, by the charming manner in which the young performers rendered their selections on the program, it is greatly to be regretted, that the various attractions in Sanford Thursday evening, prevented the young people having the full house that they richly merited. All those who did not attend deprived themselves of a great deal of pleasure, which the following program will show.

RICH PROFIT ON LETTUCE

Grower Realized $1,657.00 On One Car Load of Lettuce

Car F. G. E., 23063 belonging to Mr. Dale of Orlando and containing lettuce brought $1,657 last Friday. The car had 350 baskets of which some were seconds, but the hungry market grabbed it all at the above mentioned price and Mr. Dale realized a handsome profit thereby.

The car was handled by the well known commission firm of Smith & Holden, through their representative, J. W. Barnes, Jr., of this city and is a record car of the season. Mr. Barnes stated to a Herald representative that he had some Sanford lettuce that he expected to bring as much in the next few days, as the market was steady and the demand for lettuce was good.

Third Degree Was Good

Some of the plays that are given in Sanford are good and some are otherwise, and because this is true the theatre goes are apt to be shy of a play unless they can be assured of its merits. The Third Degree was one of the best, if not the best play presented this season in Sanford and merited a much better patronage than was given them.

The play is a strong one, has a good moral effect and the cast is excellent, the work of Raymond Wells and Miss Lord deserving special mention. Lack of space forbids an extended description of the play and players. The Herald recommends the Third Degree to the people of Florida as a good, clean show and one that richly deserves the patronage of the people wherever they give a performance.

Should the United Show Co., with the same cast give another performance in Sanford they can be assured of a crowded house and the S. Herald.

Fifty Thousand New Settlers

Fifty thousand new settlers in Florida during 1912 is the prediction made by the heads of three hundred colony organizations, according to figures gathered by J. D. Reaney, who is representing Florida at the National Land Show being held in Chicago. Every good organization interviewed reports tremendous business and to a class of buyers considered above the average and calculated to benefit the state. A concerted effort is being made to send to the state only those financially equipped to do the improvement work on small farms. Every railroad company operating south reports wonderful increase in business being booked, and it is forecasted by those who know that greater sincere interest prevails today than existed a year ago. It is believed that traffic will be at least one-third greater than last year.—St. Cloud Tribune.

After California Scalps

The Chicago Evening Post of Dec. 27th, goes after the Los Angeles, Cal., papers as follows:

Probably it is a vile slander. Undoubtedly it is a practice that no longer exists. But we were told this week by a former resident of Los Angeles that whenever the weather is bad in that favored spot the local weather office simply "forgets" to send out a bulletin on it, the object being to keep the world from getting the idea that it is ever unpleasant in Southern California. Of course this omission would not do much good, as the meteorological experts would retort whether or not storms hung over Los Angeles. Also too many "forgettings" would bring reprimand or discharge from the service. Nevertheless, this idea is so delightfully characteristic of a certain type of "city boosting" that it is worth setting down on paper. Also just in the off chance that there may be a truth in the story, we will balance it by recording the fact that the temperature of Los Angeles yesterday was 16 degrees above zero. Which is considerable of an extreme for the evenest climate in the world.

The reason that the papers of Southern California print the misleading and unfair weather reports is that this country is full of tourists and they want them to get some satisfaction out of the Southern California climate which runs from 40 to 65 degrees daily during the winter, to know that it is 40 degrees below zero at Medicine Hat and probably "Florida has had the fifteen freeze of the season and for the fifteenth time that season the entire orange crop has been frozen, the gloves ruined, etc."

Week of Prayer

The past week was observed by the Missionary societies of the Baptist church as a week of prayer, ending Saturday afternoon.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurred Readers

Nevertheless in spite of dismal croakings and actual evil the year 1911 was the best year the world has ever seen, and 1912 is going to be better still. The world not only moves but it moves forward and upward.

The severest cold weather of the present winter has prevailed throughout the country during the past three days. Nine below zero was the record in Chicago, while zero temperature was recorded in many other sections.

Columbia, S. C., suffered from a half million dollar fire in the wholesale district on the morning of January 5th.

Speculation will rife today as to what ultimately will the fate of Rev. C. V. T. Richeson, who yesterday in a written statement confessed the murder of his former sweetheart, Avis Linnell. From a source close to Governor Foss, the statement came today that the attitude of the executive probably would be in favor of a commutation of sentence of death in the electric chair to one of imprisonment if the law's fullest penalty is imposed by the court. Members of the Governor's counsel are known already to have been approached concerning their attitude in case the death penalty is imposed and a petition for commutation is made.

Plans for the promotion of a National Conservation Exposition, to be held for one month each year in some city of the Southeast, have been completed at Washington. While the exposition will have for its object the advancement of the conservation of the nation's resources, its field is to be especially the South. The exposition will be held in the fall of 1913.

Macon is making great preparations for the coming reunion to be held in May (7-8-9). Col. Walter A. Harris, who is colonel of the Georgia militia, and has been selected as general chairman and is assisted by an able corps of business men, who are untiring in their efforts to make this the greatest reunion ever held in Dixie.

Ortie E. McManigal, principal witness in the Federal grand jury's investigation of the alleged nationwide dynamiting plot, ended his secret journey from Los Angeles, Cal., this morning, arriving Indianapolis secretly, under heavy guard of United States marshals.

Alarmed by the number of fatalities resulting from spinal meningitis at Waco, Texas, some fifty-five deaths in twenty-five days, at a business men's meeting today it was decided to call upon Dr. A. Soppian, assistant to Dr. Simon Flexner of the Rockefeller Institute, New York, to investigate conditions here.

In his annual report, made public last night, Third Assistant Postmaster-General Britt recommends that an increase of one cent per pound be placed on newspapers entered as second-class mail. He also advocates the abolishment of the frank now the prerequisite of every member of both houses of the national legislature and other officials of the government, and issuance of postage stamps to such persons as are now using such mail frank.

Record Prices For Lettuce

New York, Jan. 5.—There was only one car of Florida lettuce on the market this morning and buyers almost fought to secure stock. The car was from Orlando and came to Smith & Holden. It contained 350 baskets, of which 298 were fancy and 52 No. 2 stock. The fancy sold at $5 and the No. 2 at $3.20, the car grossing $1,657. These prices are record breakers for the season and this is probably the most money a car of Florida lettuce has ever grossed. It is not believed that any high prices were realized last season.—Produce News.

Weather Report
