

ARMS CONFERENCE HALTS MARKING TIME WAITING FOR ACCEPTING PROPOSAL

Hughes' Plan for 5-5-3 Ratio of Naval Strength

IS BEING DISCUSSED

SHOWS JAPAN TO HAVE LESS THAN 60 PER CENT STATUS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The purpose of the American delegation to the arms conference to accept no modification of Secretary Hughes' proposed "5-5-3" ratio of naval strength as the fundamental basis of any limitation agreement was authoritatively reiterated yesterday.

This showed Japan to have less than 60 per cent status to which the "5-5-3" plan would entitle her, no matter what method of calculation was applied. It showed also that the American delegates had been over the whole field before offering the plan and that their figures were correct.

Meanwhile, Prince Tokugawa of the Japanese delegation declared that the statement of Vice Admiral Kato of the Japanese advisory staff contending for a 70 per cent status for Japan was based on "personal opinion" alone. It was not, the prince said, sponsored by the delegation of which Vice Admiral Kato is not a member.

Prince Tokugawa would not reveal, however, the actual view of the Japanese delegates as to what percentage Japan would insist upon in fleets strength. He said the four delegates were determining this for themselves, independently of any additional instructions from Tokio. He would not say whether a decision actually had been reached as yet.

While these developments indicated still more strongly that a decision of this fundamental question was drawing near, the arms conference itself marked time. A further meeting of the naval experts of the United States and Japan scheduled for yesterday was postponed for twenty-four hours at the request of the Japanese. The Americans were not informed as to the reason for this postponement. At Japanese headquarters it was said further time to examine figures supplied by the Americans was needed.

In any case, the naval experts of the three powers chiefly concerned are scheduled to meet today, in further subcommittee deliberations. Their work cannot deal with any major factor in the American naval plan, however, for today's revelations showed that these constitute a closed chapter of proceedings.

The British experts have fully accepted the accuracy of the original American fleet estimates. The Japanese have been able to produce no figures competent to challenge successfully the American showing.

There were hints that a plenary session of the arms conference might be called next week. This could not be confirmed in any authoritative quarter. It is known, however, that when that meeting is called, it will mean that the delegates are preparing to reach a decision.

There is no present expectation that the fundamental question of the "5-5-3" ratio or any other major point will be worked out at the plenary session. Officials closest to the negotiations expect that informal meetings between the various delegates will bring about the ultimate agreement by personal touch. It will then be translated into conference action.

It is no secret that the American group expects Japan to accept the "5-5-3" ratio. It is also equally clear that the United States will not accept any enlargement of the status offered to Japan. That was clear to the most casual observer after the American delegates with the exception of Senator Underwood, who could not be present again talked over the naval situation yesterday in Secretary Hughes' office. Mr. Hughes, Senator Lodge, Mr. Root and Mr. Underwood are known to be of one mind on this and to be backed by the full approval of President Harding and all administration officers.

BISHOP CURLEY IS INSTALLED ARCHBISHOP

FORMER BISHOP AT ST. AUGUSTINE REACHED HIGHEST OFFICE IN AMERICA

(By The Associated Press) BALTIMORE, Nov. 30.—Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, former bishop of St. Augustine, was installed as Archbishop of Baltimore at the Cathedral this morning succeeding the late James Cardinal Gibbons in that capacity. Conferring of Pallium the crowning act in the elevation of the Bishop will take place in January.

Today's ceremonies were comparatively simple and in no way approached pomp and splendor accompanying the bestowal of Pallium. Preceded by long procession of clergy and seminarians, Bishop Curley, attended by retinue of Bishops and Monsignori entered the Cathedral where Bishop Corrigan, Diocesan administrator since Gibbons' death, pontificated at mass. After mass Corrigan delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the clergy and Robert Biggs spoke on the part of the laity. Bishop Curley responded. The clergy of the diocese then rendered their allegiance to the new superior who concluded the ceremonies with his blessing.

tails of the American plan for the limitation of naval armament was discussed today at a brief meeting of the sub-committee of the naval experts of Great Britain, United States and Japan. The session adjourned shortly after 11 and it was then said there would be no other meeting of the sub-committee today, and that it had not been determined whether discussions would be resumed tomorrow.

LENA CLARKE WAS INSANE WHEN MILTIMORE WAS KILLED SAYS DR. RALPH GREENE

Is Constitutional Psychopath and of Weak Mentality Testimony Shows

That Lena M. T. Clarke was insane and did not know the difference between right and wrong at the time she shot to death F. A. Miltimore, that she is what is known as a constitutional psychopath, suffering from paranoid delusions, and that if she were sent to an asylum or hospital for the insane that she would remain there for the rest of her life, constituted the opinion of Dr. Ralph N. Greene, of the Florida board of health, in testifying as a health witness to the sanity of the former West Palm Beach postmistress yesterday.

Eight witnesses were called to the stand by the defense during the seventh day of the trial to testify as to their opinion regarding the sanity of the woman who robbed the West Palm Beach postoffice of $32,000 and then came to Orlando and lured F. A. Miltimore to her room where he was found dead with a bullet in his heart. The testimony of the seven witnesses was a chain of corroborative testimony declaring that Lena Clarke was crazy.

With a paper, written in the cell of the defendant during the time of his investigations, allowing him to refresh his memory, Dr. Green for over an hour and a half told of the woman's peculiarities and the deductions he had made based on his long experience with patients suffering from mental and nervous troubles. He recalled the stories of her early childhood, from the age of nine months when she learned to walk and to talk at the age of one year. And of a blow from a well handle which had fractured her skull when she was but three years old of the diseases, including scarlet fever, dengue fever, and influenza; also a nervous breakdown she had once suffered; of an attempt made to kidnap her at an early age; of a fireworks display which had left her with a fixed dread of fire, though it fascinated her to such an extent that she wanted to walk straight into it.

An abnormal fear of water had been peculiar to her also all her life, he found on investigation, and the fact that she had never been permitted to sleep alone due to periodic attacks of nightmares was spoken of by him and testified to by her sister, Maude, on the witness stand.

Of her religious beliefs he found that "she took the best out of every creed and religion and applied it to her own life."

He recalled the ideas peculiar to her case that she imagined that she had a group of enemies, always sneering at her and sending her threatening messages and otherwise persecuting her. He said that such ideas of persecution would indicate in his experience an unsound mind.

What he termed as grandiose ideas, the belief that she had passed through a number of lives before the one she lives, pointed to the fact that she was unbalanced. In his investigations he stated that he had made a blood test seeking traces of hereditary insanity. He said that her blood had tested pure from any taint, but stated that her mother had suffered from rheumatism at the time of her birth and one cousin had died of insanity.

Lena's Vogaries ORLANDO, Nov. 30.—Here are some of the highlights of Lena M. T. Clarke's testimony during the three and a half hours she was on the stand in her own behalf: The belt strap was torn from her dress in a scuffle with Miltimore soon after he entered the room and found out that she wanted to discuss money matters.

She pushed him in the chair and held the gun on him and then suddenly things went black and she lost her memory. She brought the $1,000 to pay him for a letter he had of hers and which he had refused to give up. Miltimore admitted to her that he stole the $38,000 in 1918 and also the money orders in April, 1920, but that he refused to make a statement admitting it.

She has a "second sight" and sees "movies" in her crystal, or in a glass of water or any reflecting surface. She does not remember any of her conversation with Chief of Police Vestel who testified she admitted shooting the man.

She brought the money bags to prove to Miltimore the extremes to which she sees her brother, J. Paul Clarke, which she had gone. She died last Christmas, and Miltimore frequently at 2 a. m. Their spirits come and talk to her and they are good friends now.

Her aunt, who died ten years before Miss Clarke was born, taught her to read before she was born.

The color red suffocates her while other colors can be harmonized. Since her arrest she has been safe and peaceful for the first time in her life. Spies everywhere are after her and West Palm Beach crooks, blackmailers and members of the whiskey ring are after her.

She is now living her third existence. Her first recollection is when

ANOTHER KILL AT ORLANDO, KILLER GONE

CASOLETTO, OR BROWN, KILLED AT ASTOR HOTEL THIS MORNING

ORLANDO, Nov. 30.—R. Casoletto, alias A. W. Brown, was shot and killed in a room at one o'clock this morning in the Astor Hotel by an unknown assailant. Persons in the hotel who rushed to Casoletto's room a few moments after the reports of the shots were heard found the man lying on the floor in a pool of blood. One of the shots entered the right breast, while another entered the left ear and apparently was lodged in the head.

The occupant of a room adjoining the one where the shooting occurred told police he had seen a man run hurriedly down the fire escape a moment after the shooting took place. He described this man as being dark and of slight stature. A boy employed at the hotel also saw a man running down the fire escape who fitted the foregoing description.

Police had made no arrests in the case at an early hour this morning, though a man giving his name as G. B. Hopkins, of Athens, Georgia, was held for investigation.

At one o'clock occupants of the hotel were aroused by the reports of four gun shots sounding from room 21 on the third floor. Police were summoned and Patrolman J. T. Williams was the first to reach the scene. Casoletto was found lying in front of the closest door surrounded by a pool of blood several inches in diameter. Eight soda water bottles, four empty and four containing moonshine whiskey were on the dresser and cigar butts and ashes were strewn over the floor. A deck of cards had apparently been hurriedly tossed into a dresser drawer which stood wide open near the table. This was all, except the body of the murdered man, who lay, as he had fallen, a few paces from the table with one hand clutching his shirt near the spot where the bullet had entered his heart.

A man named W. E. Martin had occupied room 21 for several days, but had not been seen about the hotel last night, according to the clerk. Casoletto had occupied room 19 which adjoined the one where the killing took place. Both doors of a bathroom connecting the two rooms were found wide open. No trace of Martin could be found.

ORLANDO, Nov. 30.—G. H. Hopkins, of Athens, Ga., is being held by the police today in connection with the shooting to death in his room in a local hotel shortly after midnight of a man identified as A. W. Brown, alias Roxy Casoletto, of St. Petersburg. Persons told the police that they saw a man climb hurriedly down the fire escape a moment after the shooting.

Jimmie Collins Here, Presents Miss Canova to Sanford People

Jimmie Collins, the premier master of dancing, will present Miss Anna Canova, the noted Blues Singer of New York and her famous Jazz Band at the Valdez Hotel Friday night in a Vodvil Revue. If there are any here who do not know "Jimmie" Collins, the following from the Jacksonville News will introduce him. After that he will do the rest:

When out of town journals devote a few healthy columns to the general department and get up of the dancing pavilion that lies so close to our very doors and brag about it we guess it is about time that we too take our pen in hand and scratch a few lines about it.

It all lies in the fact that the South side Dancing pavilion is in good hands is one of the reasons for the lavish advertising that South Jax is receiving through the efforts of one "Jimmie" Collins, the main terpsichorean impresario of the Southside pavilion. Since "Jimmie" Collins has taken over the management, with his novel ideas of entertainment, things have been running smoothly and nice enough for the scribes of other cities to make a noise about it in their columns. Mr. Collins is no new comer in this healthful exercise known to the world as dancing. He has been before the footlights, and entertained thousands with his classical dancing and not alone that, he has wormed himself into the hearts of the people he has come in contact, and endeared himself to the extent that they have faith in him. His coming here a year ago was a ten strike for both sides of the river. Already he received honors, the like of which are rare. He is a member of the Community Players, owner of a dancing school, and is the author of a book on terpsichore. We have the journals who expounded Mr. Collins' art in handling the affairs of a dancing pavilion to thank for their timely article about a good citizen that lives right in our town and his name is "Jimmie."

YEGGS KEEP THE COIN BUT SEND BACK CHECKS

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 29.—Two unidentified young white men late Saturday night entered the bakery here of D. C. Dorsey, backed Dorsey into a corner, rifled his safe of cash and checks to the amount of $1,600, and escaped.

Through the mail today Dorsey received a letter containing the checks and a note signed "Yegg." The hand-dits apologized for the "inconvenience" to Dorsey, but said they needed the cash to return to their "stricken" families and that some time in the future "when fortune smiles upon us" they hoped to repay him. They got at least $649 in cash.

room, and finally in the flush tank, under the large copper ball, found a wad of bills. There was $725 in the roll in tens and fives. He took the money back to the jail, went into the cell and "we sat down in the bunk and counted it. Miss Clarke said she missed some and couldn't account for where it had gone unless she had spent it.

Postoffice Inspector Bannon was recalled as the first witness of the morning and Mr. Jones, for the state, tried to get him to repeat certain testimony relating to the money shortage in the West Palm Beach postoffice, but it failed to get by the judge.

The question, however, was opened up as to the alleged burned money order slips to the amount of $20,000. Mr. Jones got Mr. Bannon to say that if these slips, declared to have been burned, were not destroyed, could not Miss Clarke get duplicate credit for them? The inspector said he thought it likely that she could.

Mr. Davis, for the defense, made the inspector admit that if a double credit was gotten it would certainly be discovered in the postoffice auditor's office.

Miss Ella Spellman, assistant clerk at the San Juan, was the witness this morning. She said she saw Miss Clarke in the lobby about 8:30 Monday night. Dr. A. P. Black, a chemist of the University of Florida, recalled from Saturday when he told that in an analysis of the Millmore stomach he found no evidence of a drug, or poison, told today of the discovery by the analysis that Millmore had just eaten a meal when he was killed.

ORLANDO, Nov. 29.—G. L. Smith, assistant postmaster of West Palm Beach, was the first witness put on the stand today by the defense in the Clarke trial. Smith testified to erratic conduct of defendant who he said was subject to fits of melancholy after the death of her brother. One of her peculiarities, he said, was her fascination for blending of colors. She would often put fifty cent stamps on letters to make the color of the stamp blend with the envelope. Officials believe testimony will be concluded by tomorrow and argument begun not later than Wednesday.

FATTY ARBUCKLE TELLS HIS STORY ABOUT DEATH

OF VIRGINIA RAPPE AND THERE IS NO COMEDY ABOUT IT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Rebuttal testimony began at the reopening of the Arbuckle manslaughter trial this morning. The district attorney's office, after a conference with all engaged in the prosecution, announced that about forty witnesses would be heard.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—Ruscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle took the stand yesterday in the manslaughter case against him. He said he came to San Francisco from Los Angeles, September 3 and stopped at the hotel St. Francis. He named the guests at the party in which he is alleged to have fatally injured Virginia Rappe, saying that he had invited no one to the party but Mrs. May Taube.

Arbuckle said he had an engagement to go out with Mrs. Taube a few minutes after Miss Rappe is alleged to have been injured by him.

"I found Miss Rappe in my room. She was on the bath room floor very sick. I assisted her. She was holding her abdomen and I gave her some water.

"I helped her into the bed," Arbuckle continued. "She said that she had dizzy spells often. Then I went back to the bath room. When I returned Miss Rappe was on the floor, rolling and moaning. I placed her on the bed again.

"While I assisted her Miss Provost and others entered the room. I went into another room and when I came back Miss Rappe was on the bed tearing her clothing."

Arbuckle said he was dressed in bath robe and under clothing. The bathrobe was introduced and he identified it.

"Mrs. Delmont, a guest of the party, told me to leave Miss Rappe," Arbuckle testified. "I told her to shut up or I would throw her out of the window."

Arbuckle told of taking Miss Rappe from the room and into another room with the assistance of Harry Boyle, assistant manager of the hotel.

The door leading from his room into the corridor and a window were open, he said. "I did not hear Miss Rappe say 'he hurt me' or say anything that could be so understood," he testified.

He denied having forced Miss Rappe against a door or having told Alfred Semmacher, a guest of the party, that he applied ice to Miss Rappe's body.

He denied testimony by Jesse A. Norgard, janitor of the Culver City, Cal., motion picture studio that he offered Norgard a sum of money for the key to Miss Rappe's room.

His direct examination was finished at 10:50 a. m.

Arbuckle's testimony followed a futile attempt by the defense to have the testimony of Agnatus McCarty, fingerprint student, admitted. His testimony was desired to offset testimony of E. C. Heinrichs, fingerprint expert, regarding finger prints on the doors of Arbuckle's rooms in the Hotel St. Francis. Arbuckle said he did not know Mrs. Delmont previous to September 5, the date of the party in which Miss Rappe is alleged to have sustained her injury. During the party Miss Rappe telephoned to a Mrs. Spreckles, he said. This is believed to be Mrs. Sidle Spreckles, widow of John D. Spreckels, Jr.

Arbuckle never saw Alice Blake, a guest of the party, in his life before the affair, he said. Miss Zey Provost, another guest, also was a stranger to him, he said.

"I had no idea that Miss Rappe, Mrs. Delmont, Miss Blake or Miss Provost were coming to the party until they actually arrived," he said.

COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE FOR SANFORD

ROTARY CLUB FOSTERING A MOVEMENT THAT WILL MEAN MUCH TO THE CHILDREN

Sanford will have a community Christmas tree and every kiddie in this part of the country will be invited to attend the ceremonies on Christmas eve or Christmas night as the case may be and every one of them will think that old Santa Claus has come to Sanford especially for them. The Sanford Rotary Club is fostering this idea and the special committee is busy right now with details getting ready to enlist the help and assistance and good offices of all the lodges and orders and clubs of Sanford in this great work.

Sanford had a community Christmas tree several years ago fostered by the Woman's Club and it was a great success. Since that time the little ones have never had a tree of this kind and the big hearted people of Sanford will be asked to come and help put the idea over big this year. The Rotarians expect the co-operation and help of all the people in this idea which is not a Rotarian proposition but a public affair for the public and of the public. Further information about the Community Tree will be given in the Daily Herald and all the little ones are requested to be good and remember that old Santa Claus will positively be here on Christmas day and have something nice for every one of them.

Watch for Santa Claus and the Community Christmas tree.

A MUNICIPAL WOODYARD HANDLING THE VAGRANTS

Jacksonville's quota of pre-tourist season vagrants are slowly drifting into the city. Scores of them are appearing before the inferior courts, and are being fined, or sentenced to the city prison farm.

The Metropolis would suggest that no fines be permitted a vagrant. And, as a further suggestion along the same line, why not establish a municipal wood yard, using the vagrant prisoners to chop it to domestic fuel size?

The vagrants who usually infest the city at this time of year, thereby would be kept out of mischief, and the city could dispose of the wood through regularly established dealers.

The vagrant class is a prolific source of supply for the petty criminal class, just as the petty criminal class is the breeding ground for the somewhat greater criminal. All of the vagrant class are potential criminals. Potentially they are robbers, thieves and worse. They should be stopped before they have a chance to injure Jacksonville or any of her people.

The city authorities should act firmly and positively in eliminating from Jacksonville the vagrant class. There may be some who are honestly out of work, but the majority of those who have no jobs are men who do not want jobs, and who would not make any effort to keep a job if they had it.

The vagrant takes up too much room to be permitted to remain in Jacksonville.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

Leesburg Commercial announces in big headlines that "the yacht club will be stationary." We are glad of that. We don't want it to come floating down here to bump into our new pavilion.

The defense in the Arhuckle case will show a film to prove that Virginia Ruppe was an athlete. Maybe she was but an athlete would have no show against a mountain of flesh.

Dispatches today say "Japan holds key to armament situation." Say, why don't they push that bunch off the boards and get busy with their own affairs? Why should any nation hold the key?

State papers have discovered that the defense in the Lena Clarke case will put in a plea of insanity. Old stuff, old stuff. Everyone in this part of the United States knew that the day the man was killed.

Balfour says we "don't want two leagues." Quite right, old chap, quite right. We don't want two leagues of nations, we don't want two leagues of base ball, we don't want two leagues in Florida.

Barney Colson, of Gainesville, calls for "all Florida men" to attend the football game at Jacksonville between North Carolina and Florida on December 3. There will not be any crowding at that.

New England is having a time with heavy snows and hail and h-ll and all that goes with a heavy snow storm and sleet and cold winds. We are just enjoying it down here with our lettuce going north on bare markets from this time forth.

Hooover claims that 2,000,000 idle men have received jobs through the national conference on unemployment. What has become of the other 64,000,000 that some of the radicals talked about being out of jobs. Probably walking to Florida to pick gold off the trees.

Good old Major Whittlesby or Lieut. Col., as he was called before he left the service, committed suicide the other day by jumping off a boat. Dispatches said memories of the war unbalanced his mind. There is no doubt of it. He went through enough to unbalance him and so did all the rest of the bunch, officers and privates.

Henry Ford wants Muscle Shoals to help humanity as well as himself but if we know the people in power in this country they will never let Henry have the shoals at any price. The corporations do not want cheap nitrates, they do not want thousands of people to have jobs, they do not want prosperity except for themselves.

We want the people of the South to always remember that Henry Ford was not allowed to take over Muscle Shoals and develop it for the South and give employment to thousands of people and make the South the greatest country in the world. He was not allowed to give the farmers cheaper nitrates. Republican interests do not want it.

A CUT IN FREIGHT RATES.

To the average American promise of a cut in freight rates has a cheerful ring. It may mean fewer melons cut for distribution among railroad security holders, but it will mean smaller losses to the producers of the country.

The proposed cut of 10 per cent on farm products in carload lots will make a great difference to farmers and gardeners. That 10 per cent might easily mean just the difference between profit and loss to the grower.

Florida will be greatly interested in this announcement. It will mean several millions to Florida fruit growers and farmers during the next six months if it soon goes into effect. Last spring thousands of tons of cabbage rotted in the fields of Florida because the freight rates were so high that there was nothing in it to ship. The price received would hardly pay the freight, so it was cheaper to leave it rot in the field than spend the time and expense of marketing. People in the north were thus deprived of a supply of good cabbage, while the growers in the south were deprived of a market.

But the interesting fact is, that the railroad companies were likewise deprived of revenues. If the people did not ship their produce, the railroad company got no haul. Thus the high rate acted as a boomerang; freight cars stood idle; railroad companies had no business. Now railroad officials see the error of their ways and are reducing rates of their own accord. While state and interstate commissions were allowing them to boost rates at will, they were losing money because they were losing business. And it is altogether likely that rate-cutting will be extended further and the cuts will go deeper. Railroads have new competitors to meet and a determined people to satisfy. There is a possibility of the old competitive methods being resorted to in order to get business. A new era in transportation is upon us. The aircraft, the automotive transportation facilities and the developing of our inland waterways, may send railroad operators back to first principles in order to get business.

If railroad companies only paid dividends on actual investments, and did not pay fabulous salaries to men who render little or no services, there would be ample room to cut rates and still make good money. It is the artificial and ornamental side of railroading that is expensive.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM.

A problem of national importance is presented in the shortage of houses, amounting to perhaps five millions, which exists in this country as a result of the suspension of building operations during the war and the two years following it. It is a situation which will not right itself. Intelligent and patriotic effort is needed to counteract its evil effects.

Two distinct consequences of an unfavorable nature may be noted. In the first place the shortage of houses has forced rents up to a point which seems almost fabulous as compared to pre-war rates. Millions of house-owners, thereby provided with a new and unexpected source of income, are naturally interested in keeping up the present deficiency in the house supply. That is an influence which it would be foolish to ignore. In the second place, capitalists have discovered that there may be an abnormal profit in house building. Houses are built on the cost-plus plan, and sold at ruinous prices.

It is no secret that the average five-room bungalow, sold at $4,500 to $6,000 can be built, even at present prices of material and labor, for from $2,500 to $3,500. But there are comparatively few persons of moderate means able to pay all cash down for the construction of a house. Hence, they have to pay, on installments, a bonus of about $1,000 over and above a fair price to the more fortunate man who happens to have the money.

It is a skin game other way. It can be relieved if building associations and banks can arrange to finance the builder of moderate means. For that reason the new building association at Lakeland is looked to with much hope. It ought to make it possible for a lot owner, with a moderate in-

FOREST LAKE CANDIDATE FOR CITY COMMISSION

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SANFORD: It is with a deep sense of duty that I have consented to become a candidate for the office of City Commissioner of the City of Sanford, but when 796 of my fellow-townsmen request it, I know of nothing else to do. Having been thus nominated I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the office of City Commissioner at the ensuing election to be held on the 6th day of December next, and pledge myself, if elected, to an impartial and conscientious performance of the duties of the office for the advancement of our city and the welfare of its people.

LENA CLARKE'S STRANGE TALE.

The prosecution made a ten strike when they allowed Lena M. T. Clarke three hours and a half to detail the strange story of her existence in the universe. The time was little enough when one considers the extent of territory which she covered. She began with the creation of the world, when she as a conscious atom saw God place the planets in their orbits, and traced her existence down through the Garden of Eden, the mythological times, Egypt in the days of the Pharaohs and Cleopatra, Palestine and Old Rome, through many stirring scenes in which she bore always a most prominent part. Coming down to comparatively modern times she told of her familiarity with Shakespeare, who wrote the part of Ophelia for her. She predicted that in eight years Debs will be president of the United States, and she vice-president. Then Debs will be assassinated, and she will become president. It was a strange, weird, tale, such as could only be evolved from a disordered mind. Of the killing of Milton she claims to have no recollection whatever, although she recollects perfectly events that happened before the dawn of history. But one thing she made perfectly clear: She has an abnormal mind and is a dangerous person to be at large. Her place is in Chattanooga.—Tampa Times.

It will be gratifying news to residents of Lake county, says the Lake Region, to know that the bonds voted last spring for the construction of hard surface roads from Astor, on the northern border, to the southern boundary of the county, together with thoroughfares from Eustis to Cassia, Sorrento and Messina, lake shore drive from Mt. Dora through Tavares to Eustis, new road from Cassin to Crow's Bluff and rebuilding other roads on the east side of the county, are to be placed on the market within the next thirty days.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the National Education Association and the American Legion, by their joint and combined efforts, are endeavoring to secure for America a programme of Education adequate to meet the needs of the Twentieth Century and which will give every boy and every girl that equipment in education and training which is his right, under a Democratic government, and which will make of all, whether native or foreign born, good American citizens; and

WHEREAS, it is a part of the programme in carrying out and perfecting this commendable purpose of informing the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools, and to secure the co-operation and support of the public in meeting these needs; and,

WHEREAS, the work, as above outlined, undertaken by the American Education Association and the American Legion, is of vast importance to the future of our country and the proper development and training of the girls and boys who constitute our hope for, and must justify our faith, in a greater America, and should therefore receive the hearty support and co-operation of every community.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, H. R. Stevens, as Mayor of the City of Sanford, Florida, do proclaim the week of December 4th to 10th, American Education Week for the City of Sanford, Florida, and do call upon and urge every person in the City of Sanford to co-operate with the American Education Association and the American Legion in the work set apart for this week.

Witness my hand this 20th day of November, A. D. 1921.

H. R. STEVENS,
Mayor.

BALL SOLD FOR $750

Just a National League baseball, but, autographed by President Harding and Christy Mathewson, it brought $750 when auctioned off at the Polo grounds in New York for the benefit of the great "Matty," who is now fighting tuberculosis in the Adirondacks. Cubeb Important in Medicine.

The cubeb is the small aromatic berry of Piper Cubeba, a climbing shrub, native in Java and Borneo, but now cultivated in various tropical countries. The dried urticale fruit is much used in medicine as a stimulant, expectorant and diuretic. The inhalation of smoke from burning cubeb has a palliative effect in some affections of the respiratory passages.

The Bursting of a Bubble.

Statements made that because of the flotation method of mineral separation the future of copper production, and therefore, of the electrical industry, is largely dependent on bubbles is declared by students of industrial development to be exaggerated. The electrical industry is no more so dependent upon this process, it is declared, than is any other, but it will benefit more directly, experts say, from this intensive method of copper refining than any industry which does not use copper so extensively.

Women Match Coins.

"I'll match you," used to be reserved for masculine conversation. The flip of a coin decided who was to pay for lunch or for a cigar. But women have taken it up. It is masculine no longer. "The women have gotten tired of fighting about who is to pay," said the observing soda counter cashier. "It used to take them about five minutes to decide. Now they match a couple of quarters to find out. The winner gets treated."

The world always gives a respectful hearing to a reformer who isn't trying to make a living at it.

Lack Dramas in Verse.

It is a curious thing, in the present high tide of the drama, and remembering that the glory of English literature is its poetry, that we have no good modern English dramas in verse. It is all the more remarkable because the foremost French dramatist and the foremost modern German dramatist wrote their masterpieces in verse form—"Cyrano de Bergerac" by Rostand and "Die Versunkene Glocke," by Hauptmann.

John Masefield, when he writes plays, writes them in prose, with only slight exceptions. And so, for the most part, have Synge, Yeats, Lord Dunsany, and others. George Meredith might have written poetic dramas in the Elizabethan manner. Thomas Hardy's "Dynasts" is an intellectual rather than a poetic masterpiece—it has nothing of the sublime, emotional, thrilling, transporting power of Rostand. We admire the author's mind more than the work.—William Lyon Phelps in the Yale Review.

Rustless Steel.

Rustless steel seems to be a completely established fact and it should be looked into for employment in various industries, according to the Compressed Air Magazine (New York). Says this publication: "It is reported on German authority that the Krupp works are paying special attention to the production of such steel. The metal contains a large amount of chrome and is said to be remarkable for its hardness and strength. Its resistance to chemical action is such that it is not affected by boiling in nitric acid. It is used as a substitute for nickel-plated metal in the manufacture of instruments. The firm is also studying the question of using rustless steel in the manufacture of plates for artificial teeth in place of the gold or vulcanite now generally employed."

Her Conclusion.

"Mamma," said Elsie when the family and visitors from the country had sat down to breakfast, "is it true that people who snore have had consequences? I read in one of my books that they do."
"I don't know, dear. Perhaps they have. What makes you ask such a funny question?"
"I was just thinking, if it's true, Aunt Susan must at least have killed somebody once."—Boston Transcript.

Oil Burned by Ocean Liner.

It costs approximately $102,000 to fill the oil tanks of the White Star liner Olympic for a round trip. The tanks hold 7,500 tons, and about 700 tons remain at the end of a normal round voyage. The oil is taken out at New York at a saving of nearly one-half. The Olympic has only recently been equipped to take on oil enough for the return voyage.—Wall Street Journal.

SANFORD IS UTILIZING LAKE MONROE WATER FRONT.

Congratulations to the people of Sanford over the new city pavilion on the Lake Monroe front. There is much for Orlando to think about in this development. Sanford is going ahead and utilizing its water, its large lake, and as a result Sanford will gain a better appearance and the people will be benefitted to an untold extent. Orlando has seventeen lakes in the city limits. This is a boast which any city might well be proud of, and yet Orlando is far from the proper utilization of the water which is available in any quantity. Some day, "when dreams come true," Orlando should have a connected lake-boulevard system, and Lake Ivanhoe, for instance, should be a municipal recreation and playground, with a pavilion in the center of that body of water and the shore line should be extended into a comfortably sized park by throwing in the sand from the water.—Orlando Sentinel.

BRIDGE AND SHOWER

One of the prettiest parties of the season was that given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Aylette Fitts and Mrs. Hal Wight at the home of the former, when they entertained at a delightful bridge party and miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Adelaide Higgins, one of the most popular autumn brides.

The guests were met at the door
by Mrs. LaVerne Hurt and Mrs. W.
E. Watson, and little Misses Billie Wight and Martha Fitts received the gifts. The dainty little misses wore cunning frocks of pink crepe paper and satin ribbons. Mrs. Wight, and Mrs. Fitts, hostesses and Miss Higgins formed the receiving line. Mrs.
Wight wore a handsome frock of green organdie beaded in black over black taffeta and Mrs. Fitts was beautifully attired in pink georgette and tricotette. Miss Higgins wore for this occasion an exquisite gown of grey brocaded satin with sapphire blue ribbons, with accessories in grey.
The decorations were elaborate and beautiful and featured the dainty color motif of pink and white. Quantities of fragrant pink roses in baskets and vases were most effectively placed. Pink chrysanthemums were also used. The lights were shaded with pink wedding bells, and in the arches pink wedding bells were also suspended. The stairway in the reception room was entwined with feathery asparagus fern and wide pink ribbons.
In one corner was the "seat of honor" beautifully decorated in pink and white.

During the afternoon the guests played several numbers of bridge. The tally cards were hand-painted with gold wedding bells and pink roses.
High score being made by Mrs. Harry Lewis, who was awarded a large vanity powder puff. Second high score was made by Mrs. Fred Wight who was given a lovely Maderia tray cover. In cutting for the consolation Mrs. W. J. Thigpen won a deck of bridge cards. The honoree, Miss Higgins, was presented with a Maderia tray cloth. There were fifteen tables of players who were later joined by thirty tea guests.

The presentation of the "shower" was beautiful. Little Misses Billie Wight and Martha Fitts, as fairies, escorted the honoree to her seat of honor and later entered drawing a huge basket, of white prettily decorated with white chrysanthemums and pink ribbons. From the handle was suspended a large pink wedding bell.
The basket being filled with an array of exquisite gifts, which were opened and greatly admired by the guests.

The refreshments, of pink and white brick cream, pink leed cakes and coffee, the plates being decorated with Dorothy Perkins roses, were served by a bevy of young ladies who were attractively gowned in evening costumes in the pastel shades. They were Misses Norma Herndon, Daphne Wimblish, Martha Brown, Esther Miller, Mayme Mero, Sara Wight, Sara Warren Easterby, Agnes Dumas, Fannie Robn and Zoe Munson and Mrs.
Dick Brown.

This was indeed a charming social courtesy and one of a series of prenuptial affairs with which Miss Higgins is being honored.

MICROSCOPE SHOWS LITTLE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Harry Boyle, assistant manager of the hotel St. Francis, where Miss Rappe is alleged to have been fatally injured while attending a party in Arbutuck's rooms, testified that two of the rooms involved had not been occupied between the time they were vacated by Arbutuck and the time they were taken in charge by the police. One of the rooms is that in which Miss Rappe is said to have been injured.

E. O. Heinrich, a consulting criminologist, was recalled as a prosecution witness. He said he examined with a microscope the floor of the room where Miss Rappe is said to have been injured. He said he found a large amount of dust, many specimens of human hair giving no indication of sex, two shell hair pins, specimens of woman's hair, phonograph needle and a white feather.

Summary of the Floating Small Talks Succinctly Arranged for Herald Readers

BUSINESS MEN WANT MUCH

Some Qualities That Applicant for a Job Had to Show in a Character Test.

A New Yorker who, for reasons of delicacy, must be nameless, was recently gratified with a tempting offer of employment.

The firm which sought his services required from him a scientific character reading by an expert. He was referred to a local psycho-analyst retained by the concern.

The expert rated him high on latent ability, but deficient in the essential business qualities of "self-esteem and selfishness."

He did not get the job, says Leslie's. "Sorry," he was told, "but your character shows there isn't enough iron in your makeup."

Ho, for the good old days when a man was still an "ornery cuss" and generosity was yet respectable.

Time was when a man's kindness recommended him for a job and gave him reasonable hopes of advancement.

Now, a growing number of employers insist that his worth be weighed in advance with a pair of apothecary's scales and gauged with a machinist's micrometer.

And was to him if the acute psycho-detective discerns in him a tendency to meekness or human sympathy? He suffers the besetting business vice of modesty and unselfishness!

How deeply, we wonder, have the doctrines of these latter-day prophets penetrated the collective business mind of the country at large? Must the model citizen who listens dutifully on a Sunday morning to a sermon on the brotherhood of man hurry home to a learned treatise on how to despise his neighbor?

What a theme for G. K. Chesterton—or Nietzsche!

HER LIFE AN INSPIRATION

Difficulties Overcome by Helen Keller Should Shame Any One From Discouragement.

Mark Twain once said, "The two most interesting characters of the Nineteenth century are Napoleon and Helen Keller." Helen Keller, the Detroit News recalls, was a normal child until 19 months old.

At that time a serious illness left her blind, deaf and dumb. Even during these early years in the dark she learned many things through the sense of touch.

Her chief playmates were a little colored girl and an old setter dog.

She was nearly seven years old when a teacher was found to undertake what seemed an impossible task. This teacher, Miss Anne Sullivan, began at once to talk into her little pupil's hand with her fingers.

The first word Miss Sullivan spelled into her hand was "doll"; the next word was "cake." The words were quickly spelled back, even before the little girl knew what they meant.

Very soon, however, the spelled words with the hand language were connected with a real doll and real cake. Within a month she knew thirty words and could talk them back with her fingers.

As soon as she grasped the thought that all objects have names she learned very fast. Within three months her vocabulary had increased to about 300 words, and within a year to 900 words. She is now a noted writer and lecturer.

Indian Name Restored.

The United States geological board has restored the ancient Indian name to the Cataract canyon and creek in Grand Canyon National park. This is Havasu, the Sky-blue Water.

Havasu canyon, in the western section of Grand Canyon National park, is destined within a few years to become one of the scenic points, which visitors to the national park will desire to see. In its depth there is a primitive Indian tribe living.

They are the Havasupai, the people of the Sky-blue Waters.

Less than 200 Indians live in this blooming garden where old fig orchards yield enormous crops and corn grows 10 feet high. The tribe has just held its own for many generations.

English Sparrows Eat Dandelions.

At least one good mark may be set down for the English sparrow, so commonly regarded as a pest. He is fond of the seeds of dandelion, and when the flowers have given place to the fuzzy "blow-balls" spends much of his time cleaning them from the lawn.

In this country, as in England, the sparrow is also fond of young peas, and often ruins the early crop by picking off flowers and leaves. In some Chicago suburbs it is now impossible to raise peas without protecting them with a net.

Whether the sparrows' good offices in ridding the lawn of dandelions will offset his attack on the peas is a problem—Science Service.

Transylvania Silkworm Culture.

Silkworm culture in Transylvania, which was highly developed under the Magyar regime, but which declined during the war, is again engaging attention, and the department of agriculture has taken steps to forward the industry. According to Hungarian law, still effective in this district, the products of this industry must be delivered to the government for a fixed amount.

It is estimated that 150,000 kilos of silk cocoons, representing a value of $1,000,000 lot, can be purchased this year.

There are 267,918 Miles of Railway in the United States.

Less than 1,000 miles have been so far electrified.

THE WEATHER

For Florida: Generally fair tonight and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan of Geneva were in the city today. They report the Logan Mercantile company as flourishing and enjoying a fine fall trade.

We have not noted any Sanford people attending the Lena Clarke trial at Orlando this week. They are content to stay at home and read The Daily Herald.

George Kingsley of Altamonte was in the city today. He is manager of the Royal Palm Fernery and enjoys a big trade throughout the country in ferns and decorations.

Roy A. Hunt, of the American Central Life Insurance company of Indianapolis, is in the city on business connected with his firm. Capt. Wimbish is the agent of this company for Florida and is making a fine record and one of which the company is proud.

Mr. J. M. Britt, who has been engaged in the general merchandise business in Cochran, Ga., for the past ten years, has accepted a position with the West Side Grocery, and expects to bring his family here soon. He states that Sanford looks good to him.

HANDSOME NEW YORK YACHT MAKES TRIP UP ST. JOHNS RIVER

The gasoline launch "Sturday" of New York, owned by O. A. Slade and piloted by Captain Canova, of Jacksonville, stopped in Palatka for a short stay Sunday afternoon. On board with Mr. Slade and his wife were a party of friends who had come down from New York for a trip up the St. Johns river to Sanford and other points of interest.

The Sturday is a very trim 80-foot yacht carrying a crew of six men and the captain and contains accommodations for fifteen persons. Motive power is supplied by four Van Blerg marine engines.

After the trip up the St. Johns, the party will return to Jacksonville and will make a trip down the inland route to Miami, Palm Beach and other points of interest along the East Coast.

The pilot, Captain Canova, is well known in Palatka, having resided here previous to his change of residence to Jacksonville.

Well, the old bulb went down to the right mark last night and 67 might be chilly to some but 67 means that good old lettuce and that good price for the same. It takes cold weather to make good lettuce and it takes cold weather to bring the prices. It also takes cold weather to stimulate trade and make people buy winter goods. When one can wear b. v. d.'s all winter there is nothing doing in the overcoat line and nothing doing in the vegetable line or the clothes line, yes. Cheer up. Brush up. Brighten up.

Tonight they will put on the "Millionaire's Son and the Shop Girl" one of W. C. Herman's big productions and one that proves popular with the people everywhere.

Aside from the good dramas produced by Melville's Comedians there are many good vaudeville acts that make Melville's Comedians famous everywhere. There will be at least four good vaudeville acts tonight with the Dancing Durands, Addison and Livingston, Miss Grace Carpenter and E. Boyd Harrington.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IN THE SCHOOLS

Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, chairman for the high school; Miss Millen chairman for the grammar school.

BANG! The Christmas Seal sale started today.

Do the children realize the benefit done by these little stamps? We would think so, for the high school entered into the spirit of the thing and agreed to sell $200, with Mrs. Maxwell as the efficient supervisor of this school's work.

The grammar school, with Miss Claire Millen as principal, took $100 to the fifth grade thru the eighth to sell. Just watch the school children set the pace that the other organizations are going to follow. Whenever there is a worth while movement in the city we can guarantee that our school will not only stand behind it but will push it to the limit.

Stranded Warship Withstands Waves for Years

Since it went ashore on the coral reefs off Santo Domingo in March, 1916, the U. S. cruiser Memphis has stood like a veritable fort against the wild waves of the Caribbean sea. This photograph was taken during the equinoctial gales of September, 1921, and shows how terrifically the waves pound the old cruiser. Yet still she stands, firm and solid, a monument to American shipbuilding.

TRUCK

By a Sanford Celery-Fed Man

(Note to the make-up man: Give this a cabbage head.)

This kolyum will be continued as long as the gas holds out.

A Sanford man was putting up a stove when the pipe collapsed and he was covered with soot. His wife told him he never did things right. "If what I do don't soot you," he said, "soot yourself."

This kolyum ought to come up to the scratch the first day because I am suffering from red bugs.

There are some inconsistencies in this world that I don't exactly understand. Everybody is anxious to go to heaven but nobody is in a hurry about it.

"How long," he asked the photographer as he poked his head through the door, "how long does it takes to get a picture of me and my girl after your leave your measure."

I wonder where all the pillow cases go? I never asked a girl engaged in plain sewing what she was doing without being told that it was a pillow case.

Thought for the Day
The object of all ambition should be to be happy at home. If we are not happy there we cannot be happy elsewhere.

Many a man is looking for a day's work who does not want it.

It is said that Henry Ford is to again reduce the price of flivvers. His motto is "Give every child a rattle for Christmas."

The five cent cigar is touted in an advertisement as again a thing of the present. Yes, but we pay ten cents for them.

The devil owes much of his success to the fact that he is always on hand.

I just read that in Yap that the currency is stone. Each slab is circular with a hole in the center. Some pieces are so heavy that the wealthy have four natives to carry one piece. I am going over there with a boat load of grindstones and be the Rockefeller of Yap.

The difference between a woman and a clock. The latter serves to point out the hours; the former to make us forget them.

Hope for the Middle Aged.
"There is no need to grow old and stiff."

This is Sir James Cantle's message to the man or woman whose muscles appear to be losing their earlier resilience. It was delivered at a demonstration of Swedish gymnastics at the Albert hall in London. Sir James presided and after watching the graceful movements of the athletic young people of both sexes said he hoped they would continue their exercises even when they were no longer young in years. "Some of us," he added, "who are watching should be in the arena doing what these young ones are doing. Their muscles are not hard and inflexible. Ours probably are." Sir James added that 80 per cent of the people of the world were imperfect. One leg was shorter than the other by perhaps the eighth of an inch or a two hundredth part of an inch. It was abnormal to be normal.

Quality Before Quantity.
More blingness, after all, is never a sound criterion of value. Art connoisseurs know this. They will pay more for a tiny painting by Vibert than for huge canvases by painters inferior to Vibert in ideas—and in vision.

To think qualitatively is, and always has been, a fundamental human need. It will always be. Not how much we possess, how much we produce, how much we export or import, but the quality of all our doing and feeling and believing—that is the thing.

The wealthiest of nations can at the same time be the most discontented, restless and unhappy. "More, more, more," is never the slogan of true success. Think quality, not quantity, is the dictate of truth to all of us.—H. Addington Bruce in the Chicago Daily News.

Tired of Household Devotions.
E. F. Benson, son of the late archbishop of Canterbury, in a reminiscence record of his family life, tells that the Benson children grew rather weary of the rigors of devotion established in the household of the archbishop and, when the latter was absent, of Mrs. Benson, mother of the brood, saying: "We won't have prayers tonight for a treat!"

Source of Style.
"Your speeches do not display the accuracy of grammatical form which used to distinguish them."
"I've been afraid something like that would happen," replied Senator Sorghum. "I have been obliged to depend on a brand-new stenographer."

For office supplies, stationery, etc. come to the Herald office.

VENUS NEVER WITHOUT VEIL

Impenetrable Cloud Mask Envelops the Planet and Allows No Glimpse of Anything Beneath.

What makes the planet Venus so silver-bright? Many a one has put this question to himself, and must have been unable to find a satisfactory answer, London Answers states.

But the answer is that we see the silver lining of the cloud-mask which covers the features of Venus, for, as dazzling as this planet appears to us, it is enveloped in somber clouds that never seem to break and afford us a glimpse of what is below. At least there is no real proof that the markings which have been seen are on the planet's surface at all. Slow-moving cloud masses would be liable to be very deceptive and might well be mistaken for something more solid.

The persistency of Venus' vast cloud-envelope is remarkable; it is present year in and year out, reflecting the sunlight with mirrorlike brilliancy.

How Venus would appear without it is hard to say, as we have no knowledge whatever of the real composition of her globe.

All that can be said with any certainty is that she would lose a large share of her radiant beauty if this light-reflecting shell of clouds were removed.

She might look like Mars or like Mercury, and would certainly fail to bewitch mankind as she does now. The true secret of her peerless beauty, therefore, is her veil of clouds.

SAVAGE CHILD IS TRAINED

Baby Girls, From Their Earliest Infancy, Are Taught Household Duties by Their Mothers.

Most of those who know little of savage and semi-savage peoples naturally suppose that the children are allowed to "run wild" with no thought given to their training. This is far from the truth, particularly among some of the tribes of Togoland, on the African west coast.

As soon as a girl baby is able to toddle—and they are taught to walk much earlier than our children—the training of the girl is begun. She is given a calabash, and taught to balance it upon her head. Then the calabash is filled with water. Thus she learns her first duty in usefulness.

From this time forth the child becomes a part of the tribal or village organization. She goes with her mother to the river when the women go there for water. She is taught to sweep out the hut with a broom. Out in the forest she goes with mother and there learns what herbs and wild vegetables are good for food and which should be avoided. At home she is taught how to prepare the food the family eats. In a word, from her very earliest days the child is taught how to perform the domestic and other duties the average native woman must perform.—Temple Manning in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FORREST LAKE STATES HIS POSITION.

To the Voters of Sanford:
It has come to my attention that efforts are still being made to have the people believe that if elected City Commissioner I would disrupt our present form of government.

Now nothing could be further from the truth than such propaganda, for the following reasons:

First: I will be only one of three commissioners and could not do any act without being joined by one or more of the others.

Second: The City Commissioners cannot under the law abolish the present charter, even though they all combine.

The city charter can only be changed by an act of the legislature, or by a vote of the people themselves.

Furthermore, I have no desire to upset the present form of government, as it is the substance that counts in anything, and not the form. However, there can doubtless be some improvements made in the present charter as has already been demonstrated, for example, the present method of nominating candidates; but such improvements are matters for the legislature, or for the people themselves, and cannot be effected by the commissioners.

I believe that the administrative affairs of the city can be run on a more economical basis than is being done at present, and at the same time, with greater efficiency, and if elected I shall work to that end.

I believe that the law requiring a budget for each fiscal year's revenues and expenses should be rigidly followed, and that the administrative affairs of the city should be conducted on that basis.

I have made no statement or promise of what I shall do if elected, and shall not do so, except such public statements as may be published over my signature, as is this one.

Sincerely,
FORREST LAKE.

Take Yeast Vitamon Tablets to Supply Energy Food Lacks

Put On "Stay-There" Flesh, Strengthen The Nerves, Clear The Skin and Invigorate Your Body.

Thin, run-down folks who have been wondering why they remain so skinny and lacking in energy even though they seem to eat a lot, should try taking two of Mastin's tiny yeast VITAMON Tablets with their meals and watch results. Mastin's VITAMON Tablets supply in highly concentrated form a proper dose of the health-giving, body-building vitamins. You surely need to get some of these precious vitamins into your system at once. Mastin's VITAMON Tablets mix with your food, help it to digest and supply just what your body needs to feed and nourish the shrunken tissues, the worn-out nerves, the thin blood and the starved brain. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under this healthful invigorating influence. Mastin's VITAMON will not cause gas or upset the stomach, but strengthens the digestive and intestinal tract and helps to overcome even chronic constipation. Be sure to remember the name—Mastin's VITAMON. Avoid substitutes and imitations. You can get Mastin's VITAMON Tablets at all good druggists.

WELL-FED, YET STARVING!
Add vitamins to the food. The very food you eat may be weakening you because it lacks vitamins. Eat whatever you like, but be sure to take two of Mastin's VITAMON Tablets with every meal.
