Higher Income And Gasoline Tax May Finance Bond Issue

New Revenues Would Be Used To Finance Huge Public Works To Be Started Soon

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(A.P.)—Higher income and gasoline taxes to finance the public works program in the present decision of the House ways and means committee with a majority also planning provision for suspension of the new levies in the event of prohibition repeal.

As revealed today in interviews with committee members, the committee has agreed to recommend that the new levies be put out of the window if and when the required 25 states ratify repeal.

Anti-prohibition House members in private discussions have dwelt much on President Roosevelt's Wednesday message to Congress in which he advocated a provision for abandoning the new taxes upon repeal of the amendment and the Volstead Act.

President Roosevelt today urged immediate congressional consideration of all legislation. In a letter to Vice-President Garner and Speaker Hanes of the House he also suggested that the legislation be made a part of the pending industrial supervision bill "in order to save time."

Holly Bill Would Make Libel Laws Not So Stringent

TALLAHASSEE, May 20.—(A.P.)—Libel laws of Florida would be made less stringent under a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Representative Holly of Seminole.

The measure provides that when any action, civil or criminal, is brought for libel, the plaintiff or prosecutor shall, at least 15 days before instituting action, serve notice in writing on the defendant, specifying the article and statements which he alleges to be false and defamatory.

It further provides that "if it appears that the article was published in good faith, that its falsity was due to an honest mistake of the facts, and that there were reasonable grounds for believing that the statements were true, and that within 10 days after the service of a notice, full and fair correction, apology and retraction was published; then the plaintiff in such case, if a civil action, shall recover only actual damages."

If the case involved a criminal proceeding and a verdict of "guilty" is rendered the bill provides that the defendant shall be fined $1 and costs and no more.

Further provisions of the bill states that if any person states, delivers or transmits to the manager, editor, publisher or reporter of a newspaper any false and libelous statements and thereby obtains publication of the matter, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Recommendations of League Are Rejected

GENEVA, May 20.—(A.P.)—Bolivia today rejected recommendations by the council of the League of Nations for a settlement of the dispute with Paraguay over the Chaco territory. A Bolivian delegate declared that Paraguay had violated the covenant of the League of Nations by its recent declaration that a state of war existed. Bolivia asked the League to apply the provisions of Article 18 which provides for financial and economic sanctions against the nation declaring war, also possible military sanctions.

HARRIMAN IS FOUND AT LONG ISLAND HOTEL

Banker Who Left His Hospital Bed After Writing Suicide Note Is In Mental Stupor

NEW YORK, May 20.—(A.P.)—Inspector John Sullivan of the New York police received a telegram this afternoon from Nassau county police stating Joseph W. Harriman, missing New York banker, had been found at Old Orchard Inn, Roslyn, New York. A man registered there last evening and is said to have paced the floor all night.

Search for Harriman, who left notes indicating he intended to commit suicide, had been centered in the part of Long Island because Harriman's only son, Alan, who was killed in an automobile accident five years ago, was buried at Locust Valley.

The man, registered as Mr. Thomas, answered the description of Harriman exactly, police said. In the inner band of his shirt were the initials J. W. H. Police said he seemed to be in a "mental daze" but they did not believe he was suffering from amnesia.

The 66-year-old banker was scheduled to go on trial in federal court Monday on charges of falsifying the books of the closed Harriman National Bank & Trust Co., which he founded in 1912.

George S. Leasure, his attorney, made known the discovery of the suicide notes in a lengthy statement setting forth Harriman's physical and mental condition and defending his attempt to bolster the price of the bank's stock, for which purpose he is alleged to have made false entries of $1,081,170.

The statement did not disclose the contents of the notes or the identity of the addresses.

"A few minutes after Mr. Harriman had left," the statement read, "several notes, addressed to members of his family and to his friends were found in a desk in his room, and the contents of these notes made it clear that Mr. Harriman intended to end his life."

Mr. Harriman has been gravely ill for a long time, not only physically but mentally. He was aware that he was suffering.

Landis Preparing Bill On Tax Certificates

Representative C. W. Entminger at Tallahassee late this afternoon telegraphed Harry M. Landis as follows: "Attorney General Landis is preparing a bill to extend the foreclosure of tax certificates held by the City 10 years, will pass this bill next week regardless of any protest. Mr. Pappworth only Thursday sent Mr. Entminger—four petitions bearing names of 108 local taxpayers who asked for an extension of time in paying their delinquent taxes and redeeming tax certificates."

Larsen, state supervisor of the crop production loan office, yesterday announced Florida headquarters of the service, located at Orlando, had been transferred to Macon and Larsen will have charge of crop loan work in both Georgia and Florida. The transfer will go into effect May 25.

Drops Love Suit

LOS ANGELES, May 20.—(A.P.)—Mrs. Estelle A. Cohen said yesterday she would drop her $100,000 allegation of affection suit against Corliss Palmer Brewster, beauty contest winner formerly known as the "Georgia peach."

Mrs. Cohen made her announcement after she had obtained a divorce from Albert G. Cohen, film writer, on charges of cruelty.

Heat Wave In Southwest

KANSAS CITY, May 20.—(A.P.)—The sun warmed to its task of producing hot weather in the southwest yesterday. The temperature not upward to 101 at Salina, an early season mark exceeded there only by a 104 for May 4, 1909. A record May 19 high temperature of 93 was recorded at Topeka.

GE Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(A.P.)—A comprehensive plan to end the domination of the oil and gas industry—a bill empowering the secretary of interior to fix prices, wages and hours of labor and to limit production to demand was proposed to Congress yesterday by at least the tentative approval of the administration.

Cuba Tense In Expectation Of Revolution Move On Independence Anniversary

HAVANA, May 20.—(A.P.)—Wondering what the morning would bring in the way of revolt or lesser political disturbances, this nation last night awaited the thirty-first anniversary of her independence.

At noon 31 years ago today the United States flag over Marro (Castro Hatters) dock, the Cuban banner moved up to replace it and Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, military governor of the island during the first American occupation, turned Cuba over to her own people.

A long, bitter, grueling war for independence from Spain, crowned with a cease when the United States took Cuba's side, had ended less than four years before Don Tommas Estelada Palma, the nation's first president, took over the government.

Revolving strikes soon against Estrada Palma in 1901, and in September the United States again intervened to pacify Cuba. In January, 1902, self-rule was renewed, to continue uninterrupted until yesterday.

Yesterday a revolutionary force proportions hidden from this capital's eyes by the screen of censorship—continued in the east. An estimated 300 to 400 rebels are in the field in Santa Clara and Ciego de Avila provinces. That the government considers the situation fairly serious is evidenced in the fact that it has sent some 200 troops.

BAPTISTS OKEY PEACE PROPOSAL OF ROOSEVELT

Conference Deplores Return Of Beer And Supports Dry Law

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(A.P.)—The Southern Baptist Convention yesterday voted approval of a letter to be presented to President Roosevelt approving his appeal to the rulers of nations to maintain peace, but deploring the return of legalized beer and protesting against the movement to repeal the 18th Amendment.

A committee including one representative of each of the 18 participating states was appointed to call on the President.

A plan to appeal to Roosevelt to use Reconstruction Corporation funds for financing of church colleges and missionary projects was not presented at the convention, but was mentioned before the final draft of the letter to the President reached the convention floor.

The letter, a copy of which is being sent to the President and the first ending down a spiritual blessing on the President and the second expressing the earnest effort to relieve the distress of millions of men now without employment by means of which they can obtain an honest living for their families.

The third section read: "We must cordially approve your noble appeal to the rulers of all nations to maintain peace and to frown upon aggression on the part of any nation against another nation."

The fourth dealt with the prohibition question as follows: "We deplore the return of the legalized sale of beer and wine. We would regard the repeal of the 18th Amendment as a calamity to our nation. We believe that prohibition at its worst is better than the legalized sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes at its best. We earnestly hope that our President will not participate actively in the movement to repeal the 18th Amendment."

Committee members appointed to call on the President included E. G. Collins, Florida.

The letter was drafted after the keynote speech of Dr. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport, La., acting president, had stressed the financial plight of the church.

WIDE POWERS VOTED SHOLTZ IN SENATE BILL

Measure Would Give Governor Authority To Reduce And Combine To Cut Expense

TALLAHASSEE, May 20.—(A.P.)—Vast dictatorial power for the Governor of Florida to reduce expenditures through consolidations and adjustments of a population requested of the Legislature yesterday by Sholtz, was provided for in a bill introduced in the Senate today and placed on the calendar without reference.

The bill was introduced by President Fitch and Senators MacWilliams, Holard and Parrott.

It provided "that in the interest of economy and in the general welfare of the state it is hereby declared necessary for the protection of the life, liberty, and property of the inhabitants of the State of Florida that extraordinary executive powers be vested in the chief executive of the State of Florida in order adequately to cope with the present emergency and therefore the Governor of the State of Florida as chief executive is hereby vested with full power and authority to consolidate any or all statutory offices, bureaus, commissions, boards, and departments, or to transfer all or any of the duties, powers, and appropriations of one department to another as to him may seem most economical and for the best interest of the inhabitants of the State of Florida."

The Senate yesterday voted 80 to 17 in favor of a bill to allow payment of a rent taxes, without the necessity of paying delinquent taxes, for a period of five years, if the taxpayer met his current taxes during this time he would be allowed an additional 15 years in which to clear up the back taxes. The bill also provided that county and district bonds be used to settle delinquent county and district taxes during the moratorium on back payments. Heated debate marked passage of the bill, President Fitch, the author, and (Continued On Page Six)

Brownlee Explains Work Being Done To Relieve Needy With Agriculture

Rev. E. D. Brownlee, chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Seminole County Unemployment Relief Council this morning, in reporting some of the recent activities of his committee, took occasion to express deep appreciation for the fine cooperation which has been given our committee and our people by Alex R. Johnson who is supervisor of activities for the committee.

Since the committee was first organized and began its investigations into conditions locally some two months ago, Rev. Brownlee stated, it, through Mr. Johnson, has had ample occasion to come in contact with practically every case of indigent suffering or want in this county.

Through the courtesy of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., a five-acre tract of land on the West Side now is planned in tract portions that will be distributed to the needy late this summer.

Through the co-operation of the Seminole High School farm, enough sweet potato slips to cover a 10-acre field have been grown and soon will be transplanted to land that will be donated.

Mr. Johnson, as supervisor of this sort of work, directed the planting and preparation of both these projects during his spare time, while men who were paid with federal funds were employed in preparing the land and setting out the potato plants under Mr. Johnson's direction.

"Probably the finest bit of work that Mr. Johnson has done for the (Continued on Page Three)

Jap Planes Loaded With Missiles Fly Over Terrified City

Residents Of Peiping Run For Cover When Roar Of Engines Is Heard This Morning

PEIPING, May 20.—(A.P.)—This city of almost 2,000,000 population prepared for almost any eventuality today following the visit of 11 Japanese bombing planes carrying full loads of missiles which dropped no bombs but caused thousands to scurry to cover.

Planes, flying in S-Z formation appeared at 9:15 A. M. at an altitude sufficiently low to make their full loads of projectiles clearly visible.

The roar of the motors drowned out loud noises while thousands of Chinese ran for cover underground.

Asked if the Japanese fliers would bomb the city if fired upon by Chinese anti-aircraft guns, the Japanese legation announced the "Japanese army has not declared its policy in this regard."

The problem of stilling the booming guns of the Orient's undeclared war absorbed President Roosevelt last night as he bade farewell to China's envoy, T. V. Soong, and prepared for conferences with an official spokesman for the Tokyo government.

In addition, the Chief Executive kept in close touch with the developing arms reduction conference at Geneva, noted with interest a critical reply from the Russian government in response to his appeal for peace and refused to be disturbed by word from Paris that Premier Daladier had rejected a cut in military expenses with a declaration that the French army must be kept strong.

From his final conference with Soong, vice president of China's executive group and last nation's minister of finance, came a statement of mutual "trust" that peace may soon be established in the Far East.

LEGALIZED BEER IS BEING SOLD IN CITY OF ATLANTA

Dry Georgia's Capital Becomes Oasis For Thirsty People

ATLANTA, May 20.—(A.P.)—Beer, became a legal item of barter in dry Georgia's largest city yesterday and within an hour traffic policemen at Five Points and other downtown corners were directing the thirsty to the nearest bar.

In a session in which proponents and opponents of the beer ordinance engaged in heated debate, council passed the measure 22 to 14. It does not mention 3.2 percent beer but legalizes "a non-intoxicating malt beverage, not to exceed the alcoholic requirements of the federal government."

Retailers immediately began applying to the city clerk for licenses and 15 were issued within the first hour and a half.

Most of the license holders were immediately supplied from mysterious sources by wholesalers while a few walked about their establishments, anxiously awaiting the delivery truck as they watched customers go to their competitors.

Retailers were getting 30 cents a bottle for the first sales with a steady flow of customers reported.

City policemen watched the legalized sales and remembered Chief Sturdivant had promised a bottle of beer with every plate at the annual police barbecue on June 1.

The Fulton county sheriff's office announced no raids would be staged by the county officers but they would be forced to serve warrants served out by the individual citizens charging violation of the state laws dry law.

Meanwhile Governor Talma, who has refused to call a special session of the legislature to legalize beer, announced he could do nothing about the situation in Atlanta since Georgia does not have a state police force and the governor is without power to remove sheriffs or mayors who fail to enforce or ignore the state laws.

The ordinance fixed a license for wholesalers and manufacturers at $300 annually; for retailers where the beverage is consumed on the premises at $100 annually; and where it is not consumed on the premises at $50.

Mayor Key, long an opponent of prohibition, filed his signature to the ordinance immediately and Atlanta became the fourteenth Georgia city to declare the beverage legal.

Supplies were reported flowing into the city from out-of-state sources, but since the transportation and sale of beer was still against the state laws there was little said about whence it came.

Florida Solons Back Federal Highway Aid

Florida's senators and representatives at Washington are unanimous in their support of proposed public works plans especially as they refer to the construction of new or maintenance of old highways, according to letters received at the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce during the past few days.

The letters are in answer to the trade body board of directors' recent request that they endorse all measures that will find Florida and its highways benefitting by the appropriation and use of federal monies for public works.

Senators Park Trammell and Duncan U. Fletcher, and Representatives Mark Wilcox, R. A. Green, Millard Caldwell, J. Hardin Peterson and W. J. Sears all have written the trade body approving the request and in various ways expressing themselves as committed to the plans.

Golf Players Take Advantage Of Free Afternoon At Club

Andrew M. Carraway, manager of the Sanford Country Club yesterday expressed satisfaction over the response he received to an invitation that all golfers and spectators of this section visit the Sanford Country Club Thursday and enjoy its facilities without cost.

More than 60 men and women golfers thronged the course during the afternoon, he said, while most of these persons remained for supper and some for bridge and dancing until a late hour.

Mr. Carraway said that a scheduled tournament between professional men and a team of farmers and business men was won by the latter team, eight matches to three, with some of the matches won by default.

Dr. G. S. Selman, dentist Ralph B. Chapman; Dr. S. Puleston won over Fred Holly and George G. Herring won over A. C. Fort; Dr. C. L. Park lost to S. L. Higleyman; John Herbst drew a bye; Fred Dorner beat Jim Sharon; Chandler Sharon won over Henry Zurlfield; John Ludwig defeated Carl Williams; Kirby Pitt defeated Alex Sharon.

Mr. Carraway stated that the invitation will be extended every Thursday which in future will be known as Guest Day. All men and women, both local and visiting, are urged to avail themselves of all of the club's facilities on those days without any cost whatever except for the caddy fee, and supper, which is optional.

Japs Are Said Ready To Suspend Advance

TOKYO, May 20.—(A.P.)—Japanese military authorities consider that their objectives in the present North China campaign have virtually been achieved and they are ready to suspend their advance and await the next move of the Chinese, dispatches from the front said today. Military leaders believe that Peiping is easily won in their grasp.

THE POWER TO CUT

Time was, when all governments were in their infancy and kings were absolute, that the executive department, as signified by the crown, determined state expenditures, levied and collected the taxes, and spent the money as it saw fit.

Popular dissatisfaction over this condition led to the institution of parliaments, assemblies, or legislatures and to the governmental doctrine that "taxation without representation is tyranny".

However, though the assembly as a whole was supposed to be representative of the people as a whole, and was intended to protect the rights and privileges of the masses, it was soon discovered that each individual member of the assembly represented the particular group which elected him and felt his responsibility in far greater degree to his own constituency than to the whole state.

So it is with our Congress and our legislatures. Representatives are elected from each Congressional district in the country and go to Washington not to enact laws primarily for the benefit of the whole country, but to get something for their particular district.

Now the existence of this serious condition has at last been recognized in Washington. Senators and representatives have looked the situation squarely in the face and have admitted the absolute impossibility of effecting economies through representative groups.

But they can transfer this power to the President who is responsible not to any one section or locality or to any special group or interest, but only to the entire country.

This is precisely what Governor Sholtz is now asking of the members of the Legislature. All pledged to economy, all, as a matter of fact, sincerely interested in economizing, they have nevertheless been unable to agree upon any method or degree of economy after forty-eight days of futile effort.

Local farmers who have been hit hard by the new farm relief bill for the past two weeks have yet to find in it any measure of relief.

A "Non-aggression pact" is an agreement between nations by which the belligerents mutually fix the limits upon the sphere of military action.

When this legislative session began we started to make a scrap book of all the things which it did but after two weeks had gone by and nothing had happened we decided to abandon the idea.

Florida has not done so badly on political appointments under Roosevelt. There's Robert H. Carr as governor of Puerto Rico, Frank Bryan Owen as minister to Denmark, and James H. Cox as delegate to the London Economic Conference.

President Roosevelt proposes as a part of his administration program that all administrative positions be arranged on a merit basis.

Sanford, twenty years ago... W. F. Hill returned from several days... Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hill left...

THE NEXT STEP

I am neither a profound student of American history, nor an expert economist, but it has been my good fortune to listen to many acknowledged leaders in both fields expound their views and their theories in conversation with President Roosevelt over a period of many years.

In it I see two great problems confronting the Administration. First is the necessity for a "balanced government" and, second, the further development of the Democratic party as the liberal party of the nation.

What is a balanced government as applied to these United States? It is a government which will act as sort of referee and see that no foul tactics are used by those in the lead to hold back or oppress others.

This sort of balanced government has been promised by every party, in every political campaign, and the failure to keep the promise has been, generally speaking, the cause of the present situation.

Another way in which a government, such as ours, should be balanced lies in the equal sharing in the control of the government of the three great general divisions in our modern social order: Agriculture, Industry, and what, largely, has been called Finance.

But we have never had a balanced country in this respect, since the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Always one element or the other has controlled governmental machinery, always the other two have suffered, and always the modern social order has flourished because it has become dominated by selfish, unscrupulous, or shortsighted leaders.

Then followed the reign of Industry. The industrial North dictated the laws and the policies of the nation.

Industry was given every possible advantage by law for acquiring more profits and more power. But as in the case of the Agriculturists, selfish industrial leaders abused their power.

Expect to reside in the future. They have been residents of Sanford for many years and their many friends here are sorry to lose them but Mr. Hill was forced to go where his business called him.

Among the Orleto visitors to the city this week were Mrs. B. G. Smith and Mrs. T. L. Cushing. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Deane, of Griffin, Ga., who have been the guests of Mr. Deane's sister, Mrs. F. Turner and family for some days, left for their home Friday.

The Music Club, at its last meeting of the season and an individual club, was charmingly entertained by Mrs. Margarita Martin, at Comfort Cottage Friday evening. Mrs. Fannie S. Munson presided over the meeting when a committee was appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws of the club to conform as closely as possible with the constitution of the Woman's Club.

During the discussions the judge imparts useful hints which help the young people to carry out their pledges of good behavior made to him. The boys are required to make weekly reports to the judge and from these reports he has become convinced that the plan is practical. He says: "I sincerely believe that it is making better boys and I do know that it is making better homes because I have had the parents of a number come to me and thank me for what I have been doing."

Here, we believe, is the beginning of the real solution for the youth crime problem, and it is a plan which might well be more universally adopted.

YOUTHFUL CRIMINALS

The sentencing of Harry Murch, 16-year-old schoolboy, to 20 years in prison for stabbing to death William Bender, 12, brings up a perplexing question which has been troubling juvenile delinquency courts and law enforcement officials for a long time.

Regardless of the seriousness of the crime, the thought of a mere boy being sent off to a penitentiary to spend 20 years of his life among hardened criminals is enough to make most of us wonder if there isn't some other way, some other system by which cases of this kind can be handled.

It is a recognized fact that prisons are the best schools for training criminals, and that if a person hasn't yet embarked on a life of professional crime when he enters, he will, after his association with other criminals, graduate automatically into the realm of the underworld when he leaves the penitentiary bars behind.

It is difficult to say what plan should be adopted in dealing with youthful criminals, but it is obvious that our present system is ineffective, uncivilized, and brutal. A possible approach to the solution may be in the direction which has been taken by a police court judge in Jackson, Mississippi.

Of course, his cases are only petty ones, but the method he uses, we feel, is a long step towards the right manner in dealing with all crime cases involving youths. When youthful persons are arrested for petty crimes, instead of haling them into the juvenile court, the judge calls them into his private office, where, minus the atmosphere of court and attendance of uniformed officers, the judge holds a round-table discussion with the boys.

Strangely enough, the discussion does not revolve around the delinquencies which have been committed, but centers on sportsmanship. The judge talks about baseball, football, and other sports, and cites examples of heroes of the games and some of their acts of sportsmanship which have made them leaders.

During the discussions the judge imparts useful hints which help the young people to carry out their pledges of good behavior made to him. The boys are required to make weekly reports to the judge and from these reports he has become convinced that the plan is practical.

Here, we believe, is the beginning of the real solution for the youth crime problem, and it is a plan which might well be more universally adopted.

TO MATCH YOUR 3.2

By HARRIET DEAN

With the advent of beer, a whole new list of tempting dishes for Sunday supper, late night parties and holiday lunches are available to the perplexed hostess. Beer itself, as we all know, is unequalled as a thirst quencher, particularly on warm days, but if it is to be served with a lunch or meal it should certainly be accompanied by the dishes that go best with it.

Of course you'll have a supply of pretzels, pickles and cheese and then for your main dish try one of these new recipes that are bound to turn out a treat to please everyone. The frankfurter loaf pictured above can be served hot or cold, as you like. You'll find it extremely inexpensive and the essence of simplicity as far as the preparation goes. The recipe:

Frankfurter Loaf
12 frankfurters
1 cup flake soda crackers
1 cup prepared mustard
1 egg
1 cup canned tomatoes
Cut 4 frankfurters in halves lengthwise. Put remaining frankfurters and the crackers through grinder. Add mustard, egg and tomatoes to cracker-frankfurter mixture. Grease a loaf pan. Place halves of frankfurters, side by side and skin sides down, across in it a pan. Pack in the frankfurter mixture. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 35-40 minutes. Turn out on platter and serve. Good hot or cold. 4-6 portions.

For a new cheese specialty try this baked fondue which is easier to make than a soufflé but is just as good.

Baked Cheese Fondue
1 cup scalded milk
1 1/2 cups salina biscuits
1 lb. cheese, sliced
1 tsp. butter
1/2 tsp. salt
2 egg yolks beaten
2 egg whites
Pour scalded milk over finely crumbled crackers, baked cheese, butter and salt. Stir this mixture into beaten egg yolks, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) 20-25 minutes. 6 portions.

Prepared for revolutionary expectations expected to land north of Santiago, and just west of Havana.

Despite all the actual activity, Cuba's young radical revolutionaries—the A. H. C. secret society and its affiliate, the O. C. R. H., reliably reported to number between them more than 15,000 members—steadfastly deny any island-wide uprising has been ordered.

Always, until 1930, Cuba celebrated her independence day with true Latin exuberance, high-flown oratory, parades, music, island-wide gaiety—such were her national birthdays.

But not in 1930, nor in 1931, nor in 1932 has the day been so commemorated. Nor will there be any great deal of public rejoicing today.

As in recent years public demonstrations will be banned. In Havana, province, military edicts prohibit groups of more than three persons. Police reserves are held at quarters ready to quell any 'demonstrations. Officers' and soldiers' leaves have been cancelled.

The city at large and the public authorities have heard persistent rumors that President Machado's enemies who have carried on almost without pause these last three years a relentless battle against his regime, have chosen today to signify through rioting and disorder their opposition to his continuance in office.

Machado's opponents maintain—and the supreme court once so ruled—that his constitutional term in office expires today. Their contention is based on the allegedly illegal amendments in 1927-1928 which permitted his reelection for six years instead of 10.

Ordering him to stamp out rebellion as best he may, the general staff has sent Maj. Arsenio Ortiz to take charge of operations against the insurgents. Reports reached Havana last night that Ortiz had swiftly court-martialed and hanged several prisoners he took.

Travelers from Ciego de Avila, in Santa Clara, yesterday reported an insipient uprising in that section. From Santiago, capital of Oriente province, 20 soldiers, armed with machine guns were rushed to Baracoa, at the extreme eastern end of the island. An unconfirmed report said rebels again had attacked and partly burned San Luis, in Oriente.

The government is reported Charles Dooley, were shopping in Orlando Wednesday.

Mrs. L. Schweninger and infant daughter, Nancy Jane, of Chicago, Mrs. Doris Ingram and Mrs. Peter Glenn, of Daytona Beach, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Floyd Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. David returned Saturday from a visit in Palm Beach.

Mrs. George Geiger spent last week visiting friends in Palm Beach.

ing from acute and fatal disease of the heart and of the brain, and that there was no hope of his recovery.

Police and federal agents searched the city and watched steamship piers and railroad stations all day.

He is under $25,000 bond, and authorities said these would be forfeited if he failed to appear in court Monday.

Leisure reported the banker's absence, telling police that a doctor had noticed Harriman leaving the hospital, on East 61st St., shortly before noon.

As soon as he was informed of the incident, Asst. U. S. Atty. Arthur Schwartz, who conducted the Harriman Bank investigation, notified all agents of his office to maintain a watch at all railroads and steamship terminals.

Harriman has been under physician's care for several months. On Mar. 11, while ill in bed at his home, he was arrested on a federal warrant charging misuse of the bank's funds. U. S. Atty. George Z. Medabo, simultaneously, said the investigation begun more than a year ago indicated the falsification of three accounts, including that of the National Exhibition Co., owners of the New York Giants.

Bail was then set at $25,000 and was continued when he was carried into the federal courtroom Apr. 10 on a stretcher and pleaded not guilty.

Trial was set for May 8 and was continued because of his illness to May 22.

The banker's attorney said he went to the hospital, the West Nursing Home, immediately after Harriman had not returned. After waiting for more than an hour, he telephoned the police.

The doctorman at the hospital said Harriman walked slowly down 61st St. toward Lexington Ave.

Leisure said that as far as he was concerned because of his illness "mysteriously" in Harriman's walking away from the hospital, where he occupied a small, barred window room on the fourth floor.

HANDSHAKING IS PART OF JOB OF MRS. ROOSEVELT

White House Hostess Has Greeted Thousands Of Visitors

WASHINGTON, May 16.—After two months in the White House, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is beginning to think that her major occupation as the nation's hostess will be handshaking.

Since Mar. 4 she has received thousands of persons in the White House ranging from high officials of the leading nations of the world down to a group of eight-sevens who happened one day to be looking into the dining room when she came down to luncheon.

At first, Mrs. Roosevelt proposed to set aside a certain period each day when she would receive guests. The remaining hours she would have free for other things.

It would be quite a problem to most housewives to find they must economize on their budgets and then to be informed that they must be hostess to a whole series of Prime Ministers and other high representatives of foreign nations.

While the entertainment of these diplomats has called for some extra expense, Mrs. Roosevelt has made sure that the appropriations allotted to this entertaining has not been exceeded. Even the state dinners were simple. The first lady planned just what was necessary to have the foreigners feel that the proper respect was being shown them.

The entertainment of the recent stream of diplomats seemed like an "orgy" to Mrs. Roosevelt. With the exception of the dinner in honor of the Italian Envoy, Guido Jung, the rest of the state affairs in connection with this series of visits will be "stag."

There has been a considerable saving in the purchase of gasoline in the two months that the new executive has been in the White House.

The removal of a group of palms and ferns from the upstairs hall where a conservatory was formerly maintained has done away with the cost of their care, said to amount to a considerable sum each month.

There was evidence that both Prime Minister MacDonald and former Premier Herriot enjoyed the simplicity at the White House. They both talked of the simple background from which they had risen.

Try and get the American woman to spend a summer without her printed frock! When the hot weather descends on us, every woman will swear there's nothing for general all-round use as satisfying as the printed frock, with or without jacket.

Black And White Stands Up In Prints

There are lots of black and white prints which look well with black kid shoes; there are other black and white prints or blue and white ones which seem to need the new white kid shoes.

20 FOREST ARMY GROUPS TO WORK CAROLINA AREAS

Most Of Men Will Be Occupied In Work In National Parks

RALEIGH, N. C.—An initial contingent of 2000 "soldiers of peace," whose purpose will be to make war on erosion, and reforestation and aid in the general building up of the Tennessee Valley, will occupy 20 camps in western North Carolina, according to H. O. Stabler, forester in charge of eastern and southern national forests.

In each camp there will be 100 workers, and many of the camps will be located in the area embraced in that portion of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park, lying within this state. The mountain region, Mr. Stabler pointed out, comprises one-sixth of the entire area of the state and takes in 18 counties.

Practically all this territory, except the southeastern slope of the Blue Ridge, is drained by the eastern tributaries of the Tennessee River, whose waters go over the Wilson Dam at Muscle Shoals.

A tremendous reforestation program will be carried out on the watersheds of streams rising in western North Carolina, and some control development is expected to take place, Mr. Stabler announced. While about 75 percent of this area is still in forest, there seems a bright prospect that the steepest portions of the cleared land will eventually be placed under government control and returned to forest cover.

More reforestation work will be done about the headwaters of the Tennessee River's tributaries in North Carolina than in any other state, Mr. Stabler said. Since there will be large numbers of workmen pressed into service, a focused improvement in the problem of unemployment is looked for. In addition to the vanguard of 2000 men, more will be added from time to time, as the rehabilitation progresses.

Mountains Park area contains about 600 miles of trout streams. Residents of the mountain country are demanding the encouragement of recreation and the maintenance of the purity of their streams, and the beautification of highways for their own benefit, as well as to please the eye of the tourist.

The present program includes not only the opening up of new highways to bring out more effectively the scenic beauties of this vast region, but the building of horseback trails and other means of wholesome, outdoor recreation, which bar destructive practices and will keep the natural glories of Southern Appalachia intact.

Separate Tax Levy For Debt Service, Operations Is Plan

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 19.—Separate tax levies for debt service and operations by the city of Port Pierce would be authorized in a charter amendment introduced and passed recently by Representative E. J. Donison, St. Lucie. By the provisions of the bill the operating and debt service taxes would constitute separate liens upon property and could be paid together or singly.

The charter change also enables the city to levy excise taxes, for city operations upon privately owned utilities. The tax assessor would be required to make special effort to place the names of owners of real property upon the tax books.

This and another bill would empower but not direct the city as well as county officials to accept bonds for delinquent taxes, and special assessment bonds for assessments due. Another bill would create a delinquent tax adjustment board comprising the chairman of the county commission and the school board clerk of the circuit court, the tax collector and assessor, to pass upon applications for reductions in past due taxes the certificates of which are held by the state.
