

Cubs Nose Out Cincinnati In 18 Inning Game

Reds Take Abbreviated Night Cap By 2 To 1 Count

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs struggled through the longest major league ball game of this two-thirds-gone season yesterday with the Cubs winning 10-8 in an 18th inning rally for two runs off Elmer Riddle.

Then these men of endurance played a nightcap which darkness halted in the fifth inning with the Redlegs victors, 2-1.

All in all, the show kept 15,326 fans in the stands for seven hours. In the 13th frame of the opener, weather caused the management to announce postponement of both games until today. But the fans didn't want to go

Cards Take Two From Pirates To Gain On Dodgers

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 10. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals pated a full game from the lead of the Dodgers Sunday by edging out the Pittsburgh Pirates in both ends of a bargain bill, 4-3 and 2-1. The nightcap was called at the end of the eighth by Pennsylvania Sunday law.

The twin triumph left the Redbirds eight games behind the Dodgers, who were kept idle at Boston by weather.

The big bat of rookie Stan Musial provided the winners most of the double-barreled punch. The Redbird slugger slammed out a triple and a double in the first contest, his three-base wallop featuring a three-run St. Louis attack on the opening inning and the double paving the way for the winning tally in the eighth.

He lashed out two more hits in the nightcap, a double bringing over the first Cardinal tally. He turned in several sparkling fielding plays.

White Sox Defeat Indians In 2 Tilts

CHICAGO, Aug. 10. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, aided by the pitching of Ted Lyons and the timely batting of Bob Kennedy, slugged a double defeat on the Cleveland Indians yesterday, 11 to 1 and 3 to 2, and boosted their record to eight straight wins.

Lyons won his seventh successive victory and his 10th of the season in the opener before 17,002 fans. He rationed four hits which accounted for the 25th triumph of his major career.

The Sox took the opener with a collection of 13 hits off Mel Harder, who was shelled to cover the third and Harry Blumhoff.

home and when the weather changed, the management reconsidered and play resumed after an hour's delay.

The Reds went scoreless until the ninth when they chased Claude Passeau and made four runs to tie the score.

The Cubs scored twice on a walk, bunt, passed ball and wild pitch in the 10th, but the Reds tied it on a hit batsman and two singles in their half. Then in the 12th a walk, Stan Hack's double and Dom Dileasandro's single put the Cubs in front for two again, but two singles and Eddie Joost's double deadlocked the score at 8-8 in the Red's half.

Pauline Betz Is Top Seeded In Net Meet

MANCHESTER, Mass., Aug. 10. (AP)—Pauline Betz, the nation's second ranked woman tennis player, was seeded No. 1 for the 18th annual women's invitation tennis championship, which opened today with a strong and well balanced field at Essex Country club.

Margaret Osborne, of San Francisco, defending titlist in the event, has been seeded second on the basis that her tennis this season has not been on a par with that of the attractive Hollins college student from Winter Park, Fla.

Summer work football talk, and who said the war would play hob with the annual fall madness... Football, think some observers, actually will enjoy its greatest season ever. Certainly it's getting off to the earliest start anyone can remember, with an unusual initial impetus being furnished by the picked Army all-star team under Col. Don Neyland and Maj. Wallace Wade, who will do battle against pro teams before the regular collegiate season gets under way.

The Army, so it is revealed, had a list of 15,000 former gridgers, from which to name its all-star aggregation. Dozens of ex-National League and other top notch former collegians were on the list. Organized with the skill, and equipped with the modern operandi of Neyland and Wade, the Army outfit assumes quite some proportions.

Schedules of many of the big-time colleges are more attractive than ever, and the season of camp teams that will be met.

The brand of football that will be played? Don't worry, brother. You'll get your $2.50's worth, or more.

Only one section of the country is expected to be slightly sub-par, if at all. That's the east.

League Standings

Probable leader there is Fordham, with a service-riddled team that doesn't figure to be as strong as the Ram team of 1941. Tab Pennsylvania as second-best.

If you're in the Midwest you can count on a Minnesota team of usual dimensions, meaning a shade better than terrific; a dippy duo Notre Dame eleven that may feature the T-former, and Michigan and Ohio State outfits that are expected to be as good as they were a year ago when they lost only one game.

Word from the South puts the finger on Georgia and Frank Sinkwich; Tennessee, Tulane and Alabama. It's hard telling what Duke will do without Wallace Wade.

Texas graduated practically its entire first team but Southern experts warn that the Longhorns must again be regarded as top stuff along with Texas A&M and maybe Rice.

Most of them think the Longhorns must again be regarded as top stuff along with Texas A&M and maybe Rice.

Colorado and Utah are laboring under the pre-season favorite label in the Mountain country and out on the West Coast there are few folks who think Oregon State has enough to show the way again. Main choice on either top team will be a Southern Division outfit again, with Stanford and Southern California highly rated. Up north it's Washington.

No prospectus of a football season is complete without a few nominations for so-called "back of the year," so here goes in that direction: You pay your money and take your choice on either Frank Sinkwich of Georgia, Tim Kruma of Michigan or Billy Hirsch of Indiana, and you won't be far from wrong.

Personally, we like Billy, the Hoosier, who runs, passes, punts, place-kicks, blocks, catches passes, plays safety, is a competent defense, carries water, holds the 10-yard marker, leads and sells hot-dogs between halves.

You know—one of those double threats.

Income payments to individuals on a nationwide basis increased 20 percent from 1940 to 1941.

The Physical Side of It

Complaints against our high command for lack of offensive action in many theaters of war are unjustified in many respects, but in one particular we believe the critics have not given sufficient thought to a military phase which is most important before troops can hope to be successful in any large-scale drive to defeat our enemies.
Of course, there are all kinds of obstacles to overcome, like adequate weapons, sufficient transport, combat training, unity of command, and a host of others, but the important element of physical fitness is one that cannot be involved in a brief space of time. Producing hardened muscles, toughness and stamina is not a process that lends itself to short-cuts.

While American youths have shown themselves to be heavier, taller, and perhaps better fit than their fathers in the last war, nevertheless only a small proportion of our new recruits have engaged in occupations or sports that give them the physical stature to stand up under the hardships of modern battle without a comparatively long period of hardening.

It has been said some times that fighting today does not tax so heavily the energy and endurance of the human body as in other days when mechanized transport was not in use and when marching by foot was the order of the day.
However, we have been told that modern techniques of waging war demand more in a physical way than ever before. The mere operation of some of our various types of equipment are said to require the toughness of a football player in order to stand the strain. Infantry movements are more child's play compared to tank maneuvers, so it is said.

We have been in this war a little over eight months, a space of time that is hardly sufficient even to assure the muscle and sinew needed to fight successfully. Therefore we should be patient and not too critical when we speak of opening second fronts and taking the offensive and consider some of the many difficulties we face, not the least of which is "getting in shape." Remember Germany spent years toughening its young man-power for the day which has come.

Miami's Censorship Office

In operation 24 hours a day in Miami is the nation's second largest censorship office.
Staffed by a huge number of men and women, the office was set up a few days after Pearl Harbor, and has become recognized as one of the really important projects in the military program.

The job of the censors, most of whom are girls, is not simply to be on the alert for information being sent out by axis agents but also to strike from the letters of loyal but careless Americans information which might prove just as damaging as if it were sent out by fifth columnists.

Too many Americans writing letters to men in service beyond the boundaries of the United States unintentionally include information that is being sought by the enemy.
Much of the information appears harmless enough to the individual writing the letter, and so the censors have to give close attention to each line.

It's part of the timely effort to put the axis into the dark. Lakeland Ledger.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

Maybe it would be a splendid thing if the Tampa Junior Chamber of Commerce could sell of axes and "DON'T TALK" campaign to the growing army of bureau chiefs as well as a few cabinet officers in Washington.

Never in the history of the country have we had so many bureaus, departments, committees and groups charged with the responsibility of providing information, all maintained at the Taxpayer's expense, yet we find ourselves less informed and more confused in mind on all subjects than ever before.

Nobody seems to know very much about anything, yet they all insist on TELLING the rest of us. On every vital question war effort we get a potpourri of loose talk in the form of contradictory statements: official, semi-official and unofficial. First Mr. Ickes says, and then Mr.
Henderson contradicts, and then somebody else explains. Then a bureau chief has his say and a flock of others horn in, and when you try to add it all up and see what the score really is you find that you've got a grand and glorious conglomeration of first class hokey.

There used to be a time when a guy could write his congressman, but the way things are now the average member of congress is in just about the same boat as his constituents when it comes to knowing what's really what.
About the worst thing a fellow can have in connection with the war is a letter of recommendation or introduction n from his congressman or senator to some bureau chief or petty official.
It carries about as much weight and prestige as a cancelled postage stamp. In most cases it is the surest way NOT to get any attention.

Unfortunately, the bureaucrats insist upon looking on the accredited and real representatives of the PEOPLE as "Politicians" and advise you that "this is war, we have a job to do and politicians, including politicians, are strictly OUT."—In fact it has just about reached a point where the mere mention of the word "politician" will get you into somebody who knows a congressman is unparliamentary.

Gas Rationing May Be Eased In Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 11, (AP)—An investigation that may lead to easing gasoline rationing in Florida will be made later this month by Dr. John Frey, chief of the transportation section of Secretary Ickes' petroleum coordination in Washington.

Governor Holland will arrange a series of conferences for Dr. Frey, leading representatives of oil companies, transportation systems, and utilities which use fuel in their production. Public officials also will attend. Dr. Frey, the report said, is coming to Florida about Aug. 21 for a personal survey to see what rationing does and what it doesn't do.

The report said that the rationing system now in effect is "a hodgepodge of regulations" and that it is "not working very well." It also said that the system is "too complicated" and that it is "not working very well."

Special Features Are Planned For Displaying Film

In conjunction with the showing of the March of Time film, "Men of the Fleet," at the Ritz Theater Wednesday and Thursday, Chief Mechanic's Mate John H. Smith, recruiting station, has arranged an interesting display in front of the theater and has assigned to interview men between the ages of 17 and 50 who desire to enlist in the Navy, Charles Morrison, theater manager, announced today.

Chief Torpedoman Calhoun, a veteran of 31 years in the Navy, 15 of which have been spent in submarine duty, will be at the theater from noon until night during the showings of the picture. All eligible men are extended an invitation by the Navy man to witness a free screening of "Men of the Fleet" at 12:15 P.M. Thursday. This offer is extended to both white and colored, and it was stated that the Navy is offering exceptional inducements to colored men who can qualify.

Never in its history has the U. S. Navy faced a task so grim as the one that confronts it today. So urgent is the cry for ever greater supplies of skilled manpower that for the first time in the history of the Navy, the possibility of extensive drafting of men from the civilian population is being seriously considered.

To show Americans the opportunities for service afforded by the Navy, The March of Time this month devotes its latest issue, "Men of the Fleet," to the contribution the Bluejackets are making to our common effort.

Picture is Gordon McNaughton (left), ex-pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, who was shot to death in a Chicago hotel. Held in court today, the slaying is Mrs. Eleanor Williams, 25, tavern girl, who is entering a station house (right) with an officer. Police say she was the shooting, crying, "I just had to kill him; I had to do it. I had to bear to let somebody else have him."

After escaping from an Iowa state prison farm in 1921, Clarence A. Terry, 30, returned to his native Ohio, where he settled down and was married two years later. After he had been a good citizen for the past twenty years, he was shown in the picture with his wife, who is also in the picture. Terry was shot to death in a Chicago hotel.
