Sanford ponders condos next to City Hall

By Dan Ping

SANFORD — A Lake Mary-based development company unveiled plans to construct a mixed-use condominium project on Lake Monroe next to Sanford City Hall.

Suncor Properties Inc. wants to build four- to six-story condos above 32,000 square feet of retail space. The development would also include 25 townhouses and single-story offices behind the condominiums.

Bob Florian, president of Suncor, said he has secured rights to land on the west side of Myrtle Street. In order to complete the project, he asked city commissioners to donate about 1 acre of land, which includes a vacant parcel next to City Hall and the northern most tip of Myrtle Avenue. The road would be closed to building the project.

Commissioner Whitey Eckstein expressed concern about giving land to a private development.

"What's the quid pro quo?" Eckstein asked.

City Manager Tony VanDerworp noted that the property is not on the tax rolls and donating the land would generate property tax for the city. He also said that the land Florian has secured rights to on the west side of Myrtle has existing dock infrastructure that could be utilized as a public/private marina. The city has been exploring options to expand the marina in that area, VanDerworp said.

private marina. The city has been exploring options to expand the marina in that area, VanDerworp said.

Eckstein said any participation by the city would have to include guarantees to prevent a dead end development.

"We need to protect ourselves," Eckstein said, noting there would have to be an agreement that the land would revert to the city should the project not materialize.

Florian agreed and told commissioners he has already secured financing from Colonial Bank.

Suspect takes bowl of candy, knocks woman unconscious

From Staff Reports

A Lake Mary woman was knocked unconscious Halloween night when she tried to give candy to trick-or-treaters.

According to the incident report, Diane Sutter of Silverwood Drive in Lake Mary, answered her door bell, believing it to be trick-or-treat youngsters. She said upon opening the door, she saw a black male, approximately 6 feet tall, 140 to 150 pounds, dressed in black pants, a black shirt, and wearing a dark mask.

Sutter had a bowl of candy in her hand and was planning to give the visitor some of it. The man grabbed the bowl and tried to take it. Sutter held onto the bowl and was dragged down the driveway.

Sutter was lying face down in the driveway when emergency personnel arrived. She was reportedly unconscious after striking the driveway, but was revived. Sutter sustained a cut lower lip and bruised elbow and was transported to South Seminole Hospital for further examination.

The man reportedly fled on foot. During the investigation, deputies were contacted by a juvenile. The juvenile told investigators that a male matching the description in the Sutter incident took his bag of candy. The male dropped the silver bag at the juvenile's residence.

The candy bowl and bag are being tested for latent prints as the investigation continues. When the perpetrator is found, deputies are expected to charge him with robbery by sudden snatching.

It was the only serious case reported by law enforcement agencies on Halloween night, although several cases of vandalism were noted.

In the Sanford area, deputies responded to reports of teenagers egging houses and cars. Deputies located a vehicle, with several teens inside, that was believed to be involved.

Deputies questioned the teens and information and evidence was gathered. The teens' parents were contacted. The investigation continues.

Woodruff named general counsel of Alabama utility

From Staff Reports

A Sanford native has been promoted to a top spot at a leading Alabama utility company.

David Woodruff, brother of Sanford City Commissioner Art Woodruff, was named general counsel and corporate secretary of Energen, the parent company of Alagasco and Energen Resources Corporation. Alagasco is the largest natural gas utility in Alabama and serves 463,000 customers throughout the central part of the state. The promotion becomes effective Jan. 1.

Woodruff replaces Dudley C. Reynolds, who was named Wednesday as president of Alagasco.

"I am pleased that the Energen Board of Directors elected to place Dudley and David in these key positions," said Mike Warren, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Energen. "Both are proven leaders and have the qualities that will continue to make Alagasco and Energen successful."

Woodruff currently serves as Energen's vice president - legal and assistant secretary and as its vice president - corporate development. He joined Energen in 1986 and has served as an officer of the company since 1988.

"I appreciate the Energen Board's confidence in me and I look forward to serving as Energen's General Counsel," Woodruff said.

A native of Sanford, Woodruff earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of North Carolina and his law degree from the University of Virginia School of Law. Before joining Energen, he worked with the law firm of Bradley, Arant, Rose & White.

Woodruff is a member of the Alabama and Florida state bar associations and is a certified public accountant. He is a director of the Alabama Chapter of the American Corporate Counsel Association, a member of the Vestavia Hills Board of Education, a director of the Birmingham Metro YMCA and a graduate of Leadership Birmingham.

Central Florida groups gather for Sanford's first Childhood Asthma Forum

By Marva Hawkins
Herald Correspondent

Goldboro Front Porch Inc., Central Florida Asthma Initiative, American Lung Association and the Florida Department of Environmental Protection held their first Childhood Asthma Forum in the Sanford Community recently.

The Central Florida Asthma Initiative was founded to help educate the public on ways to control their asthma and help prevent future asthma episodes. This will be accomplished through increased awareness, identification of resources and the complete understanding of the needs within our community.

Jacqueline Sinkfield, Outcome Coordinator for Central Florida Asthma Initiative gave much data on Asthma. Asthma is a chronic disease of the lungs, which produces recurring episodes of breathing problems which include coughing, wheezing, chest tightness and shortness of breath.

Symptoms of Asthma at night or after physical activity, cough that lasts more than a week. Waking at night is a true key to uncontrolled Asthma.

Allergens makes Asthma worse, such as furry pets, dogs, cats, birds, house dust mites, cockroaches, pollen from grass, trees, flowers, molds (indoors and out).

Irritants that make Asthma worse include cigarette and wood smoke, scented products such as hair spray, cosmetics and cleaning products, odors from fresh paint or cooking, automobile fumes, air pollution, chemicals such as pesticides and lawn treatment, preservatives in foods, exercise, strong expression of feelings such as crying and laughing, and certain medicines. 56 children have Asthma.

A parent gave a local perspective on the effects and how to live with Asthma.

Stephanie Hutchenson, Executive Director of the American Lung Association gave the mission of the Central Florida

Association. Its duty is to prevent lung disease and promote lung health through education, research and advocacy.

The strategies for fighting lung disease are Asthma, open airways for schools is the ALA's elementary school education program for children. It teaches them to understand and manage their illness so they will live normal lives. Tobacco control, aimed at teaching teens the dangers of smoking and

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

For what it's worth: If I were a betting man — and I'm not, at least not a good one — I'd put the odds at better than even that Sanford residents will vote to change the city's form of government to a strong-mayor and commission.

My history of picking winners isn't perfect. I thought Kerry Lyons would beat Randy Jones in commission District 3; I failed to make it past Week 1 in this year's football pool; and I declared the San Francisco Giants world champs when they were up 5-0 in Game 6 of the World Series.

Still, I think the proposal passes for two reasons. First, it's intriguing enough that I think most voters will start from the premise that a strong-mayor and commission form of government is a good idea.

Second, I think Sanford's various "political" factions like the idea of elected officials with the authority to make things happen. City Commission races are "non-partisan," meaning candidates don't declare as Republican or Democrat. That doesn't mean there aren't partisan camps. Most often these "parties" are issue-oriented: save the park, build the conference center, slow growth, no growth or full-speed-ahead growth. There's also the "Old Sanford" "New Sanford" split.

All of these groups want to push their issues. Quite frankly, they sometimes get the run-around under the current form of government. Staff passes off politically sensitive issues to the city commission, which often bounces the matter back to staff for more research, beginning yet another cycle. Case in point: Rami Yosafin proposed a condominium project similar to the one commissioners are considering now from Suncor Properties Inc. That was two years ago. Whether you agree or disagree with Rami's project, someone should have given him a yes or no answer. I suppose the consideration of the Suncor project could be interpreted as a no-go, but that's not the way it should be handled.

The bounce around won't stop completely with a new form of government. However, commissioners would be more accountable to make final decisions, giving the concerned parties more ammunition at the ballot box.

That's how I see this issue is shaping up in the early stages. You've been warned about my prognostication abilities. I'm only offering my two cents worth. Don't blame me if you lose yours.

Trivia: Who out there knows when Sanford first adopted the city manager form of government? Several people have told me stories and reasons why Sanford switched to a city manager, but so far, they've all been wrong. If you think you know, give me a buzz at 407-314-0379. I'll share the information I receive in a future Around The Clock column, as well as the research I've uncovered.

Lady Luck: Speaking of friendly wagering, did anyone catch Channel 6's video of Brenda Carey rolling the dice in Vegas? Seems the sassy redhead likes to gamble on more than just political races.

Carey, who has already announced her intentions to run for District 5 Seminole County Commissioner, sits on the Lynx public transportation board as an appointee of Governor Jeb Bush. Reporters from Channel 6 followed 17 Lynx employees and board members to a national transportation conference held in Las Vegas. Evidently the dice were more enticing than the seminars because the television station has plenty of footage of Carey rolling bones when she should have been taking part in "professional training."

Asked on camera about the incident, Carey responded by asking if she should be expected to spend four days in Las Vegas without walking through a casino.

I guess luck wasn't a lady for Carey. Expect the footage to be used against her if she continues with her race in District 5.

OPINION

Stop stalling

Sanford City Commissioners should make a decision on development proposal

City Commissioners were presented with a plan to develop a combination of public and private property on Lake Monroe. The proposal calls for a mixed-use development of condominiums, townhomes and office and retail space.

The plan is a good one. Some past proposals have been too grandiose, increasing the risk of failure. Downtown Sanford has a lot to offer, but it remains unproven ground for today's real estate investors. It's important, therefore, that the first major redevelopment project downtown be grand enough to attract other investors, but not so overly ambitious in size or scope that it's doomed to fail. Suncor's proposal fits the bill.

Suncor has a proven track record creating high-quality residential and commercial developments in Heathrow and Lake Mary. Furthermore, the company's president, Bob Florian, has publicly said if he can reach a deal with the city, this development will not be a "hit-and-run" project. Suncor plans to do additional projects. In fact, Florian is already in negotiations for several parcels of land in the downtown area.

There is some reluctance on the commission to donate the land to Suncor for the project. That's understandable, particularly when you look at the raw numbers: the city would be donating a piece of land that's valued — on paper — at more than $1 million. In reality, the property is a money pit, albeit a small one, for the city. The parcel generates no property tax and requires taxpayer dollars to maintain. It's too small for quality development, unless it is paired with another piece of land. Suncor is offering to do just that. In return for the land, the city will begin receiving thousands of dollars in annual property tax. More importantly, the Suncor project will serve as a catalyst for future development.

Commissioners, of course, must make up their own minds about the merits of the project. The Herald believes the project warrants their support. That said, commissioners have a responsibility to provide Suncor with a timely response, either positive or negative. The commission — and city staff — have done a poor job in the past of being decisive. Similar proposals have been announced with much fanfare, only to expire after months of inactivity. If the project is not a good deal for Sanford, commissioners should say so and move on to other matters.

But if the project has merit, commissioners should — without delay — actively support it.

How 'bout it, commissioners? Yes or no?

Get out and vote

If this were an Editorial Column, I would probably tell you who deserves your vote Tuesday. Of course, that would be just MY opinion, even though it would be based on information obtained through interviews and various communications.

Nick Pfeifauf

For many years, (1966-1975) I wrote editorials for WESH-TV (six per week). It was a difficult job, and at times it seemed as though — no matter what I espoused in an editorial — there were those who disagreed with me. I was relieved when the editorial writing went to another person.

Naturally, there was an editorial board through which all of the material had to pass, but seldom did they object because in each case, I had background material with which to support my beliefs.

That having been said — consider this somewhat of an editorial, but mostly a suggestion — no, an urging, GET OUT AND VOTE Tuesday.

One person told me this past weekend, in scanning candidate recommendations in an area newspaper, "I don't let anyone tell me how to vote. I study the candidates and issues by myself and make my own decisions." You must admire people who say that. They aren't allowing negative campaign ads or accusations made in debates form an opinion. They do the research themselves.

We are fortunate that people such as this take the time and make the effort to be informed. Unfortunately, these are only a handful in comparison to how many people will ease their votes Tuesday.

Many will vote based on what someone told them, a candidate's name familiarity, what some fear-monger has espoused, and in some cases, based only on the sex or nationality of the candidate. If a candidate used the word "taxes" many people will vote against him or her, regardless of how the word was used. Let's face it — there are cases where taxation is needed. "Taxes" isn't always a bad word.

This weekend, take the time to find out what the issues mean and what the candidates may favor. Have a family discussion — talk with neighbors or friends. Listen to campaign commercials if you will — but give serious thought to what is said or how it is said. All candidates couldn't be as rotten as their opponents say they are, or we would have a bad government, no matter who was elected.

The ballots are longer than usual. You will probably need longer time in the voting booth, but don't give up and just make a few marks. Read the items and understand what you will be voting for or against, preferably before you go to vote. Some of the amendments may have confusing wording to the average person, which may cause you to vote for something you are against.

Did this frighten you? I've mentioned negative campaigning, very long ballots, confusing wording, and other trials and tribulations you may find in that voting booth. But should it stop you from voting? Hopefully not.

The polls open at 7 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m. Take the time and make the effort to get out and vote. Don't let someone else decide who will represent you or which amendments shall pass. GET OUT AND VOTE!

...We gather today to mourn the tragic death of Senator Paul Wellstone...

Shaw applauds Bush for all he's done for veterans

To the Editor Recently, a veteran asked me what Jeb Bush has done for veterans.

This year, Governor Bush proposed and signed into law a bill providing an estimated 90,000 partially disabled veterans with a reduction in their property taxes by increasing their exemption to $5,000 (from $500).

When Governor Bush came into office in 1999, Florida had two operational veterans' nursing homes. With the recent opening of two new veterans' nursing homes, Florida now has a total of five.

Governor Bush has signed legislation to give high school diplomas to Korean War and World War II veterans who did not complete high school due to their service in the war.

The Bush-Brogan administration has secured 180 acres of state land to expand Florida's existing National Cemetery and $15 million from Congress for a new National Cemetery in South Florida.

Last December, a living World War II memorial and museum was dedicated at the Florida Museum of History.

Florida Agency for the Workforce Innovation has started a Veterans' Program to promote and maximize the employment of Florida's veterans.

The Florida Department of Veterans' Affairs distributes a weekly electronic newsletter to keep Florida veterans informed of the latest developments on veteran-related issues.

In 2002 Governor Bush also signed Senate Bill 148 into law, which guarantees homeowners' rights to fly the American flag in front of their homes.

The Florida Departments of Veterans and Elder Affairs are engaging in a joint communication effort to update and inform Florida veterans about the expanded benefits available to them through the U.S. Department of Defense's Tri-Care medical program. In October 2001, President Bush approved an increase in services provided by this important program.

Businessman thanks police for job well done

To Chief Brian Tooley
Sanford Police Department

Dear Chief Tooley

At mid-afternoon on Saturday, Sept. 28, 2002, I received a call from your department informing me that a report had been phoned in that several children were seen on top of the enclosed trailers we sell.

As I pulled up at the store, Officers C. Woehr and Matt Bowlin were waiting, with three juveniles in the back of a patrol car. The boys had come across Mill Creek which runs behind K-N-D Trailer, and were on the roof of an enclosed trailer. Fortunately, no significant damage was done to the trailer.

I would like to thank both Officer Woehr and Bowlin for the way they dealt with the three boys. I think they really scared the boys and hope it was sufficient to convince them to stay out of trouble. I would appreciate it if you would make certain that a copy of this letter is placed in the personnel file of both officers. It should be considered during their next review that both these young men did an excellent job of representing your department. They not only did their job well, but went beyond the "call of duty" and extended extra efforts to try to help the boys. Also, we were given several suggestions to try to prevent future problems. Both officers were efficient, helpful and willing to take as long as necessary to inform us of the situation and offer possible solutions to prevent future occurrences.

Sincerely,
John C. Noel

Midway Elementary's first RIF Day this Thursday

The first Reading Is Fundamental Day for the 2002-03 school year at Midway Elementary will be held on Thursday, Nov. 7, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Each child will receive a free book that they select. Seminole High School students will be assisting the students in selecting and reading their new books with the children. There will also be a teacher costume contest, with the winning teacher receiving a special gift. Midway Elementary is located at 2251 Jitway in Sanford.

The Reading Is Fundamental program is a federally-sponsored free book distribution program available to income-eligible students. There are three RIF distributions per year at each site. The local sites provide matching funds for the book purchases.

The Seminole County Public Schools' sponsors include Central Florida Bookpals, Veda Blake, and the Foundation for Seminole County Public Schools. The program's goal is to provide a home library of child-selected books for each child from Pre-K through fifth grades. Volunteer and donations are always welcome.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

NO. 1 CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT ARTICLE I, SECTION 17

BALLOT TITLE: Amending Article I, Section 17 of the State Constitution

BALLOT SUMMARY: Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution identical to a proposed amendment to Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution which was approved by a statewide vote in 1998. The Supreme Court of Florida struck the 1998 amendment in a ruling in which four of the seven justices found that the ballot summary was inaccurate. The proposed amendment expressly authorizes the death penalty for capital crimes and expressly authorizes retroactive changes in the method of execution. The amendment changes the prohibition against "cruel or unusual punishment," currently provided in Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, to a prohibition against "cruel and unusual punishment" to conform with the wording of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment prohibits reduction of a death sentence based on invalidity of an execution method and provides for continued force of the sentence. The amendment permits any execution method unless prohibited by the United States Constitution. The amendment requires construction of the prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment and the proposed prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment to conform to United States Supreme Court interpretation of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment would prevent state courts, including the Florida Supreme Court, from treating the state constitutional prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment as being more expansive than the federal constitutional prohibition against cruel and unusual punishment or United States Supreme Court interpretations thereof. The amendment effectively nullifies rights currently allowed under the state prohibition against cruel or unusual punishment which may afford greater protections for those subject to punishment for crimes than will be provided by the amendment. Under the amendment, the protections afforded those subject to punishment for crimes under the "cruel or unusual punishment" clause, as that clause currently appears in Section 17 of Article I of the State Constitution, will be the same as the minimum protections provided under the "cruel and unusual" punishments clause of the Eighth Amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment provides for retroactive applicability.

Condos

"We're prepared to talk very specific details," Horian said.

He added that the project would not be a "hit-and-run" development and said he is currently negotiating with SunTrust Bank about their parking lot, as well as the property owners of the old railroad depot on Myrtle Avenue that was partially destroyed by fire.

Previous proposals for waterfront development have indicated a large chain store — most likely a grocery store — could be incorporated into a condominium type project. Horian's proposal doesn't include such stores.

"There's not going to be a Winn Dixie or a Staples. It's not that kind of environment," Horian said.

The land available for the project would not support the development, Horian said. In addition, large chain stores put stores in proven locations. Though he expects such stores to eventually come, Horian said the current market does not warrant such development.

"There is a tremendous amount of marketing that will have to be done on this project," Horian said of his proposal. "The risk factor doesn't warrant getting those very large retail dollars."

Instead, the retail mix of the development would include boutiques, restaurants and coffee shops, Horian said. The condominiums would be priced from $200,000 to $500,000, with the townhouses selling in the mid-$100,000 range.

Suncor has been involved with a number of commercial and retail developments in Lake Mary and Heathrow. The company recently completed the extension of the Target/Winn Dixie shopping center on Lake Mary Boulevard, and built the retail and office space at the Goodings shopping center on International Parkway.

Commissioners provided no direction during Monday's meeting. VanDerworp will prepare a development order and provide tax and economic data for commissioners to analyze at their next meeting.

Neighbor irritated by earful

DEAR ABBY: I have a 16-year-old son, "Jordy." He has a lot of guy friends who occasionally sleep over on weekends, listening to CDs and playing on the computer. They are all good kids. They talk to me and are respectful of the house.

Dear Abby
A few weeks ago, on a Saturday night at about 11 p.m., Jordy and three other guys were in the driveway playing basketball. A neighbor called the police to complain about the noise. Two officers showed up and spoke to the boys. The kids were quick to apologize. The police never spoke to me — I was in the house with the door open, but was unaware of the incident.

I was angry that a neighbor would call the police before talking to me or the boys first. Eventually, I found out which neighbor made the call; I confronted him. Now he's put out with me for "making a big deal" out of the fact that the cops were called. Jordy and his friends never meant to cause trouble. They were having fun and got carried away with their laughter. The arrival of the squad car embarrassed them.

Frankly, I'm glad I can provide a safe place for them to hang out, so they're not wandering around town being bored.

I wish neighbors would be just that — neighbors. I thought we were supposed to look out for each other. I'm trying to let this go, but I won't be satisfied until that neighbor apologizes to Jordy and his friends. Am I right, Abby?

PITMAN, N.J., MOM

DEAR MOM: I don't know your neighbor, however, it is possible he is the kind of person who dislikes confrontation — and that's why the police were called. Police routinely investigate noise complaints. The fact they stopped by isn't going to mar anyone's record.

It's unfortunate that the neighbor didn't complain to you or the boys first, but I don't think an apology is called for. Now that you know you have a noise-sensitive neighbor, have the boys in the house by 10 p.m., or ask him to let you know when the boys are too loud.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl who learned something very special last holiday season. I learned there's more to Christmas than just getting gifts — it's also GIVING gifts. Some families can't afford to give their kids presents.

My family participated in a program through my mom's work called Adopt-a-Family. Through this program, you receive a piece of paper with the name and address of a needy family. There is also a list of some items that they want or need. We bought gifts for a mother and her two sons who are 6 and 7.

Instead of requesting DVD players and computer games, these kids wanted warm clothes and board games. Those little boys wanted things that are practical. The mother also listed items like towels, washcloths, dishes and a toaster.

If more families quit thinking about what they want and gave more thought to what others need, they could also help a needy family around Christmastime and other times. If they do, it will make their Christmas a whole lot better!

WANTING TO HELP IN OREGON

DEAR WANTING TO HELP: That's a terrific idea. Families, churches and businesses who would like to participate in such a program should contact the local department of social services or local churches and get the names of needy families. Blessed are those who give from the heart.

Churches helping community by working with food program

The Sanford and Metro (Oviedo) Churches of Christ are working with a program called Food Source to help the churches and community.

The program offers various foods each month at a discounted rate from grocery stores. Food Source is actually a buying program in which high volume purchasing enables the company to buy in bulk and distribute at considerable savings. The food will be shipped to the churches on the last Saturday of each month.

The next shipment must be paid by Nov. 10 at a cost of $20. The suggested menu for November is whole turkey breast, chicken breast fillets, Ortega chicken enchiladas, eggs, macaroni and cheese, corn bread dressing, gravy, butterbeans, corn, pumpkin pie, sweet potatoes, carrots, potatoes, onions, apples, bananas, grapefruit or naval oranges.

A meat package may also be purchased for an additional $20, but may not be purchased without the food package. The meat package for November will include a whole 12 pound fully cooked turkey, Ortega chicken enchiladas, Lee and Davis sausage, popcorn chicken, ground beef and cubed steaks.

Due to printing deadline, trucking and availability, this menu may change or items substituted. Pickup will be November 23.

Checks should be made to Food Source.

For further information or reserve a package, call Jeanette Stiffey at 407-322-8234 or 407-829-0272 or the church at 407-322-7781.

ALEXANDRIA, VA. — With the addition of 23 marinas, BoatU.S., the nation's largest association for recreational boat owners, announced that boat owners can now save up to 10 cents off a gallon of fuel at 247 marinas around the country. "While these discounted fuel locations are part of a network of 675 BoatU.S. Cooperating Marinas which offer BoatU.S. members a varying combination of discounts on marina fuel, transient dockage and repairs, boaters can join BoatU.S. right at the fuel dock and enjoy the fuel discount benefit immediately," said Jim Schofield, manager, BoatU.S. Cooperating Marina Program. According to Schofield, "One, 140 gallon fill-up can easily pay for a BoatU.S. membership right then and there and unlock a world of services, discounts and national representation just for boaters." BoatU.S. Cooperating Marinas are in 38 states and 18 foreign countries. LAKE MARY — The Oviedo girls volleyball team was dressed in appropriate Halloween colors Thursday night as the Orange and Black clad Lions repeated as Class 6A-District 2 champions at Lake Mary High School.

The defending Class 6A State Runners-up improved to 28-2 on the season with a 15-7 and 15-7 victory over DeLand to earn their second straight 6A-2 title and will host Jacksonville-Mandarin (17-12) at 7 p.m. on Tuesday.

If the No. 4 state-ranked Lions win, they would advance to next Saturday's 6A-Region 1 Semifinals and Finals to be held at the home of Tuesday's winner between Edgewater (23-6) and University (16-14).

The other 6A-1 Quarterfinal on Tuesday will find DeLand (14-13) taking on Sandalwood (22-5) in Jacksonville.

Lingard, Lions roll again

Oviedo too much for Seminole

SANFORD — On a special night, the Seminole Fighting Seminoles gave it their all.

Out-sized and out-numbered, the Tribe still went down swinging Friday night, falling 45-20 to the state playoff-bound Oviedo Lions at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

Oviedo improves to 8-1 (5-1 in 6A-District 1) while Seminole is now 1-8 and 0-6. "The kids keep playing hard," said Seminole coach Jim Bernhardt. "And I know they'll play hard again next week."

The Seminoles attempted to negate Oviedo's size and numerical advantage with a quick-strike passing attack.

Junior quarterback Michael McKenzie, who spent most of the night operating out of the shotgun formation, completed 20 of 34 passes for 253 yards and three touchdowns.

Mike Harlow caught McKenzie passes of four and 10 yards for touchdowns while Danny Johnson hooked up with McKenzie on 75-yard touchdown pass play in the third quarter.

The Lions dominated play from the start, scoring on seven of their 10 possessions. Of the three possessions that didn't result in points, one ended in a lost fumble, another in a missed field goal, and the third as time ran out in the fourth quarter.

This was the look that the Seminole defense had most of the night as Howard Lingard (No. 99, above) takes off on another run. The senior fullback ran for four touchdowns on the night, while the Lions defense played its usual tough hard-nosed, hard-hitting style (as witnessed by the hit at right) in a 45-20 Class 6A-District 1 victory at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium Friday night. The Fighting Seminoles gave it their all as they tried to get a win on the night when the school honored Dr. John Morgan and Tim Raines Sr. by naming the new Tennis Courts after Dr. Morgan and the whole Athletic Complex was renamed the Tim Raines Athletic Park.

Howard Lingard led the Oviedo assault with four rushing touchdowns. Lee Sloan tossed a touchdown pass to Matt Lougee for another score and Brice Patrick rushed for a touchdown. Placekicker Cliff McGrew tied an Oviedo school record with a 52-yard field goal.

Despite the final score, the night was still an important one for the Tribe and their faithful. At halftime, Seminole honored alumni Dr. John Morgan and Tim Raines by naming different segments of its athletic facility for them.

Rams roll, Pats stay alive for playoff

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary and Lake Brantley both made statements in their final district games Friday night.

The Rams showed everyone that they have completely recovered from the loss to Mainland and the Patriots let everyone know that they deserve an at large playoff bid.

Lake Mary became one of the few SAC teams to actually win Homecoming, romping to a 41-14 victory over Lyman to raise its record to 8-1 overall and 5-1 in Class 5A-District 3.

Lake Brantley picked up a huge road win, crushing Sandalwood, 41-0, in Jacksonville.

The Patriots are now 6-3 overall and finish Class 6A-District 1 play at 3-3. A victory over Lake Mary next Friday would look good, while they may still get in with a loss.

Things did not go as well two other SAC squads as Winter Springs saw all hopes of an At Large bid end in a 35-11 loss at the hands of Jacksonville-Mandarin. While the game was not a district contest, it still dropped the Bears to 3-6, assuring them of a losing season.

Lake Howell also had problems on the road again, as the Silver Hawks were handed a 42-6 drubbing by powerful Merritt Island.

The regular season will end next Friday with Seminole at 4A power Palm Bay, Lake Howell at Winter Springs, Lake Brantley at Lake Mary, Winter Park at Oviedo and Olympia at Lyman. All of the games are set to begin at 7:30 p.m.

SCC men open season with win

SANFORD — It didn't take long for the biggest names on the Seminole Community College men's basketball team to step into the spotlight.

Led by returning All-Conference player Kitus Witherspoon and FSU transfer J.D. Bracy, the Raiders rallied from a 10-point first half deficit to edge Miami-Dade Community College, 84-78, in the opening game for both clubs at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center Friday night.

Bracy, a former Mr. Florida Basketball from Kissimmee, scored a game-high 21 points, including making 4-of-4 free throw attempts in the final minute after the Sharks closed to within 78-77.

Witherspoon, a 6-foot-7, 245-pound sophomore center/forward, made his presence felt inside, scoring 18 points and doing a good job of rebounding.

It was a fitting display for the Boone graduate who verbally committed to Florida International University in Miami on Thursday.

Witherspoon averaged a double/double last season for the Raiders with 15.2 ppg. and 11.1 rpg. He was recently named by The Sporting News as one of the Top Ten Sophomore IUCO centers in the country.

SCC fell behind 17-7 at the start and trailed virtually the entire half until tying the game at 28-28 and going to the locker room with a 35-33 lead.

The Raiders led by as many as eight points in the second half, but M-DCC kept coming back behind the shooting of Francisco Rasio and Felipe Barrios (18 points each) and Rey Luque (15 points).

With the game still in the balance, the freshman guard duo of Jamaal George (nine points) and D.J. Wesley (11 points) came up with back-to-back steals and layups late in the game.

A pair of three's got the Sharks within one, but George and Bracy made 6-of-6 from the free throw line in the final 38 seconds to secure the win.

SCC will continue a nine-game homestand to open the season with a 7:30 p.m. game tonight (Saturday) against highly-touted Palm Beach Community College and then will host Manatee Community College at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday. Admission is free to all home games.
