Airport Expects $650,000 Grant For New Taxiway

Federal money totaling $650,000 is being sought by the Sanford Airport Authority for the initial development of a taxiway, ramp and utilities for large aircraft on the north side of the airport.

J.S. "Red" Cleveland, the airport's director of aviation, said pre-applications for the money will be submitted within two weeks and funding approval is expected in time to get construction underway around Oct. 1.

"We want to get some of the larger aircraft on the west side of the airport away from the small aircraft," he said.

Cleveland added that firms have approached the authority asking to locate DC9s and 737s at the airport. "And we have nothing large enough to handle them now," he said.

He said the authority expects to receive tentative approval of the grant within three months and at that time will begin preparing plans for the improvement.

The funding is being sought from the Federal Aviation Administration trust fund. Money for that fund comes from an 8-cent per dollar tax on all users of airports.

This is the latest in proposed improvements to the airport since it was acquired by the city of Sanford from the federal government in 1969.

Cleveland said airport business has continued to climb almost monthly and in March the "highest number of operations" in the facility's history were recorded — 10,200 landings and takeoffs.

Over the 15 years, he said, some $23 million in business has come through the airport. The 15th anniversary of Sanford's acquiring the airport was observed on March 15.

In other airport matters, Cleveland said a prospective new tenant is seeking a revenue bond issue for $600,000 to build a 20,000 square foot office and manufacturing complex on four acres at the airport.

While Cleveland declined to reveal the name of the firm, he said it will provide 75 to 100 new jobs when construction is completed.

The firm is now preparing plans and specifications for the complex and approval by the airport authority is expected in about two months.

A firm, already located at the airport, RIS Irrigation

Systems, is asking the authority to construct a 10,000 square foot building at a cost of $100,000. RIS has been at the airport for 2 to 3 years, Cleveland said.

A new plant for Lowe's of Florida, a truss manufacturer, under construction on a 10-acre parcel now will be opening within the next 20 to 30 days, Cleveland said. The new plant cost $1.5 million, he said.

Construction is also being completed for opening in the next two to three weeks on a north-south runway overlay and resurfacing. This runway has been closed since Oct. 24 when the restoration work began.

Child Abuse Bill Passes

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

A child abuse bill calling for the death penalty or life imprisonment when a child dies was unanimously passed by the Florida Senate Tuesday.

The death of 5-year-old Ursula Sunshine Assaid of Altamonte Springs after 55 hours of unrelenting torture by her mother's boyfriend 19 months ago spurred state Rep. Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs, to seek passage of the bill.

Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, and a member of the Seminole County Legislative delegation spearheaded the bill in the Senate. Vogt said his colleagues were shocked when told that state law now does not call for the death penalty in cases of death from child abuse.

He said he briefly recounted the story of Ursula's death which so "offended" the senators' sense of justice. All 38 members present at the time voted for the measure.

Grindle began the legislative move by pre-filing a bill last November and asked Vogt to help him with similar legislation in the upper house of the Legislature.

Tuesday the Senate took the first step toward stiffening the punishment in cases such as that of Donald Glenn McDougall, convicted for torturing Ursula Assaid causing her death.

The bill is scheduled for action on the floor of the Florida House of Representatives, but Grindle couldn't pinpoint when it will be discussed and voted upon.

The bill must be passed by both houses of the Legislature and be signed by the governor before it becomes law.

Grindle said today the final hearing Tuesday of three House committees, which reviewed the legislation, gave their blessing to the proposal Tuesday.

"Perhaps if a child-abuser knows he will face the death penalty or life imprisonment if he allows the child to die will seek medical assistance for the child." He noted that McDougall, who was sentenced to 34 years in prison, didn't seek medical help before her death because he was afraid of being accused of child abuse.

Because it could not be proved that McDougall intended to kill the girl, he could not be convicted of first degree murder.

The Grindle-Vogt bill opens up the felony murder statute to include aggravated child abuse. Grindle said the law now calls for the death penalty or life imprisonment of persons convicted of arson, sexual battery, kidnapping and other crimes which lead to someone's death.

"This kind of threat hanging over a child abuse perpetrator might make him feel it is better to take a child to the hospital and take a rap for child abuse rather than murder," Grindle said.

Man Who Stood On Tot's Head Guilty Of Abuse

A man who stood on his 5-year-old daughter's head and struck his wife, was found guilty Tuesday in circuit court of child abuse and battery.

Jesse Ruiz Rodriguez, 29, was found guilty by jury after two hours of deliberation Tuesday night of abusing his daughter and his wife while they were staying in a Longwood in October. The six-member jury returned the verdict at about 7 p.m.

During the two-day trial before Judge Robert B. McGregor, the jury heard testimony — including statements from Rodriguez' wife — that he stood on the girl's head, made the child stand up all night, bit the girl on the back, and struck his wife twice. He had also been accused of burning his wife with a cigarette lighter. According to prosecutor George Wallace, Rodriguez, of Orlando, faces up to 15 years for the child abuse conviction and one year each on the two counts of battery on his wife.

McGregor set a sentencing date of May 29.

Rodriguez is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $10,000 bond. —Deane Jordan

Plane Mystery Explained

The mysterious landing of a plane in southeast Seminole County that had two sheriff's departments searching for several hours was not mystery to the woman who owned the pasture the disabled craft landed in, she said today.

While Seminole County and Orange County law officials sorted out jurisdiction and then launched an unsuccessful search for the craft that landed Sunday, she took the pilot and his wife to their Bithlo home.

Mrs. Betty Schlusemeyer said that around noon Sunday, a plane with engine trouble landed in a cow pasture

Construction Worker Falls 28 Feet To Death

An Altamonte Springs construction worker fell to his death Tuesday from the roof of a Melbourne warehouse on which he was working.

James Coy McIntosh, 38, of 817A Second St., was walking on a beam of an incomplete roof of the warehouse at 7845 Ellis Road, when he stepped through insulation and fell 28 feet, according to Brevard County sheriff's spokesman Maude LaPlante. The accident occurred at 11:30 a.m. Mrs. LaPlante said, and McIntosh who landed on a concrete floor at the site was pronounced dead shortly after 12:30 p.m. at Holmes Regional Medical Center, Melbourne. An autopsy was scheduled for early today and results were expected to be released this afternoon, Mrs. LaPlante said.

Four other workers who were on the roof with McIntosh were not injured. They are employees of Apex Metal Buildings, 1444 W. Fairbanks Ave., Winter Park. A receptionist at Apex said McIntosh "was a new employee; he was married and that's all we care to say at this time." The woman said the owners of the business are out of town and are unavailable for comment.

Homicide investigator for Brevard County Diane Clark was on the accident scene this morning to interview witnesses and to clarify the cause of McIntosh's death, Mrs. LaPlante said. This is routine procedure in accidental deaths, she said.

Win Restores Mondale's Front-Runner Status

By Laurence McQuillan
UPI Political Reporter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walter Mondale's win in the pivotal New York Democratic primary has broken Gary Hart's exclusive grip on the Northeastern states, and restores front-runner status to the former vice president's campaign.

Jesse Jackson's most impressive finish of the year, built on the largest black turnout in the state's history, enhances the stature of his candidacy and establishes the civil rights leader as a force the Democratic party must reckon with at its national convention in San Francisco in July.

With 98 percent of the districts reporting from Tuesday's voting, Mondale had 606,377 votes or 45 percent; Hart had 367,972 or 27 percent, and Jackson had 344,439 or 26 percent.

As the Democratic battle shifts to next week's Pennsylvania primary, Mondale now holds a substantial lead in the crucial struggle for convention delegates.

The latest tabulation by United Press International shows Mondale has accumulated 864 delegates — including 133 in New York — of the 1,967 needed to secure the Democratic nomination. Hart won 72 delegates in New York for a total of 514 delegates and Jackson had 147, including 47 in Tuesday's count. Another 322 are uncommitted.

Hart did win a primary Tuesday in Wisconsin, but no delegates were at stake in the beauty contest in which both Democrats and Republicans could vote. With 92 percent of the vote counted, Hart had 46 percent, Mondale had 42 percent and Jackson had 10 percent.

"I love New York," an ecstatic Mondale told a rally celebrating his sweep of the state — New York City, its heavily populated suburbs and the upstate region.

"If I can make it here, I can make it anywhere," he said with a broad grin as he borrowed a phrase from the song New York, New York.

The results legitimately restore Mondale to the status of front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination — something the candidate may be reluctant to admit but hard-pressed to deny.

Hart, showing the strain of the bare-knuckles political brawling that has dominated the last weeks of the contest, claimed his loss came because Mondale "was able to get me down to his level."

Insisting he still has time to rebound, the Colorado senator said he intends to ignore his chief rival the rest of the way.

Jesse Jackson
...impressive finish

Walter Mondale
...love for New York

Gary Hart
...time to rebound

"I spent the last two or three weeks responding to attacks and charges and I'm just not going to do it anymore," said Hart.

He said voters yearn for "an alternative ... who does in fact represent the future and the stability of the past, can leap tall buildings in a single bound and do just about anything. I'm serious," he said.

Jackson, who beat Hart by 100,000 votes in the city, jubilantly told supporters: "New York City politics will never be the same." In some predominantly black districts, the turnout was 100 percent higher than 1980 levels.

The civil rights leader said Democrats would no longer "take us for granted and the Republicans will no longer write us off ... We speak for the poor."

"We will remain the conscience of this campaign," Jackson declared. "We leave this place inspired."

It marks the first time the former vice president was able to put a halt to the Colorado senator's string of wins in the Northeast, where he swept all six New England states.

Situation Less Bleak In Seminole

Debts Seed Despair For U.S. Farmers

From Wire and Local Reports

Foreclosure — a bleak situation facing many farmers across the country — is not as much of a problem in Seminole County, according to County Supervisor James Merrick of the Sanford Farmers Home Administration office.

Merrick said of the 50 farmers in Seminole and Brevard counties, who owe FmHA for loans none are now facing foreclosure — "not anyone trying to actively farm anyhow," he added.

Thousands of American farmers are faced with such staggering debts that lending agencies are foreclosing on their land now at spring planting time, instead of giving them the chance to produce a crop.

Merrick said the most recent case of someone from this county losing their farm because of default was in 1982 when a nurseryman and a poultry grower voluntarily conveyed their property back to the government because they could not make enough in their particular agricultural endeavors to pay back their loans and have a decent standard of living.

Part of their problem was timing and not having enough money to tide them over. "The economy was bad that year and housing starts were down which meant less demand for landscape plants in one case and the price of eggs was down and cost of feed up in the other," explained Merrick. "Also poultry has a high disease probability and is vulnerable to extremes in weather."

"Farm loans are high-risk loans," said Merrick, "and not many commercial lending institutions want to make them."

"This is the first time I ever saw so many farms go under this time of year," said Steve Purcell, a 31-year-old farmer from Sycamore, Ga. "Usually they wait until after you harvest your crops and then they demand their money."

Many growers who borrowed heavily in the late 1970s now blame high interest rates for delinquent payments.

Joseph O'Neil, a Farmers Home Administration spokesman in Washington, said 41 percent of the agency's 263,000 borrowers are behind in payments.

He said thousands could lose their farms this year — especially if the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals lifts an order staying foreclosures in some states.

A spot check showed 700 farmers face foreclosure in Georgia, 53 in Indiana, 121 in Alabama. North Dakota officials estimated 300 farmers will go out of business this year and 1,157 Nebraska farmers are seriously delinquent.

In Mississippi, 89 people owe FmHA $1 million apiece and 8,000 farmers are behind in payments.

Some lenders are forcing farmers to fork over or be foreclosed, but Mississippi FmHA director Don Barrett said that

Students In State Math Contest

Five eighth grade math students from Rock Lake Middle School will represent Central Florida at a state "Mathcounts Tournament" at the University of Central Florida Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Earlier, the Rock Lake Middle School mathematicians, Angel Velez, Scott Plyler, Kirt Woolner, David Nagel, and Maria Pomerance won the Central Florida title in a contest sponsored by the National Professional Society of Engineers, entitling them to participate in the UCF contest. Their teacher is Maria Gerrity.

Salvadoran Military Could Jeopardize U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats say colleagues in the midst of a long-running debate on emergency military aid for El Salvador should give the Salvadoran military an incentive to stay out of politics.

Sen. Dale Bumpers, D-Ark., outlined his proposal late Tuesday before the Senate quit work for the night on the supplemental appropriations package carrying $62 million for El Salvador.

The Senate was to resume work on the package today.

He proposed that military aid to El Salvador end if the winner of the presidential runoff is kept from office by the military or ousted in a coup. Renewed aid would then have to be voted upon again.

If moderate Napoleon Duarte wins and tries military figures for human rights abuses, Bumpers said, "The military must understand that (the trials) must take place ... and simply because it's one of their own they may not depose a duly elected president."

Jackson Denounces Threat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jesse Jackson said it was wrong for one of his supporters, Black Muslim leader Louis Farrakhan, to have broadcast a threat against Washington Post reporter Milton Coleman, the Post reported in today's editions.

The Post, which first reported the threats Tuesday, said Farrakhan, the leader of the Nation of Islam based in Chicago, made threats against Coleman in an effort to force other blacks covering Jackson not to report news critical of him.

Coleman, who is black, was the first to report that Jackson had referred to Jews as "Hymies," an issue that put Jackson on the defensive for several weeks.

While Farrakhan said in a recording of his radio address that no physical harm should come to Coleman now, he added, "one day soon we will punish you with death."

Striker Found With Bombs

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — A kitchen worker armed with three Molotov cocktails was arrested today outside one of 29 strikebound casinos where picketing turned violent shortly after a union call for an international boycott.

The arrest of Peter Francis, a striking food services employee at the Showboat Hotel, came after a club-swinging brawl between strikers and police Tuesday. Sixty-eight people have been arrested since the strike started Monday.

Francis was booked on charges of possessing an explosive device.

Groups of pickets also were arrested near the Flamingo, MGM Grand and Caesars Palace during the early morning hours. The brawl between strikers and police had broken out Tuesday at the Las Vegas Hilton — the world's largest hotel — within a half hour after union leaders called for an international boycott of the struck Las Vegas casinos.

Questions About Ed Meese Inevitable

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan says he will not comment further on the Edwin Meese investigation until it is completed, but he is sure to face questions tonight about his nominee for attorney general.

The president arranged to meet with top staff aides today and will be reviewing his briefing books for his 8 p.m. news conference which is likely to be dominated by questions on Central America, the Middle East and the political campaign.

It will be the 23rd news conference of his presidency and his second of 1984.

In a statement Tuesday, Reagan announced that he has ordered his aides to cooperate fully with Jacob Stein, the independent counsel investigating allegations against Meese, a key Reagan and longtime friend of the president.

At the same time, Reagan said the White House would have "no further comment on this matter" until Stein finishes his investigation.

The edict was not expected to deter reporters, however, who probably will ask Reagan about Meese's troubled nomination.

Deputy press secretary Larry Speakes also said Tuesday that William French Smith has agreed to

President Reagan

...he has said he won't comment about investigation, but reporters are sure to press the issue at tonight's news conference remain in the post of attorney general until his successor is confirmed.

Speakes reaffirmed Reagan's support for Meese, his friend and trusted aide of 17 years, and said the president "will stick with it" even if the Meese inquiry "goes into fall."

A lengthy investigation would assure the dispute over

Meese's fitness for the Cabinet post is an issue in the presidential campaign.

Stein will be looking into a variety of questions, including a $15,000 interest-free loan and other matters concerning his financial backers who received government jobs, his promotion to colonel in the Army Reserves and memos in his files about documents obtained from the 1980 Carter campaign.

Reagan will be asked about his Central American policies and the administration's proposed $62 million in military aid for El Salvador. The president's decision Friday to end all military involvement in Lebanon also may come up.

In addition, he may discuss his adamant stand against moving the U.S. Embassy in Tel Aviv, Israel to Jerusalem. Democratic candidates Walter Mondale and Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo. made it a top issue in the New York primary.

In recent comments, the president has been extremely cautious in sizing up the Democratic presidential aspirants, preferring to see them slug it out, but he may be asked to assess his chances in the November election.

The 11th Hour Attorneys Try To Save Killers From Execution

United Press International
Attorneys in Louisiana and Florida are trying to stop separate executions set for Thursday, in one case claiming the condemned man is insane and in the other arguing a case of mistaken identity.

Eimo Patrick Sonnier, 35, is scheduled to die in Louisiana's electric chair between midnight and 1 a.m. CST for the 1977 murder of two teenagers abducted from a lover's lane. The girl was raped before she was shot.

In Florida, Arthur Frederick Goode III, who has vowed "to kill as many kids as possible" if he ever goes free, is to die at 7 a.m. EST for the 1976 rape-strangulation of a 9-year-old boy.

Goode, who has boasted of molesting dozens of small boys, has asked in the past that his execution be carried out and be televised. Prison authorities denied the latter request.

William Quigley, a new attorney for Sonnier, filed appeals Tuesday with a state district judge and the Louisiana Supreme Court asking for a stay, based on information that Sonnier's brother, Eddie James Sonnier, apparently now claims he shot Loretta Bourque, 18, and David LeBlanc, 16.

Eddie Sonnier also was sentenced to die initially, but the state Supreme Court reduced his sentence to life after finding he held a flashlight for his brother and was not the triggerman.

Quigley said the twin appeals for Sonnier include several affidavits, "including a letter from his brother to the governor that goes to the determination of who actually did the killing."

He said if the appeals are denied in the state courts he would carry them to the federal courts.

Louisiana Corrections Secretary C. Paul Phelps announced Tuesday the fathers of Sonnier's victims would be official state witnesses to his execution.

near her home on the Old Mims Road south of Chuluota.

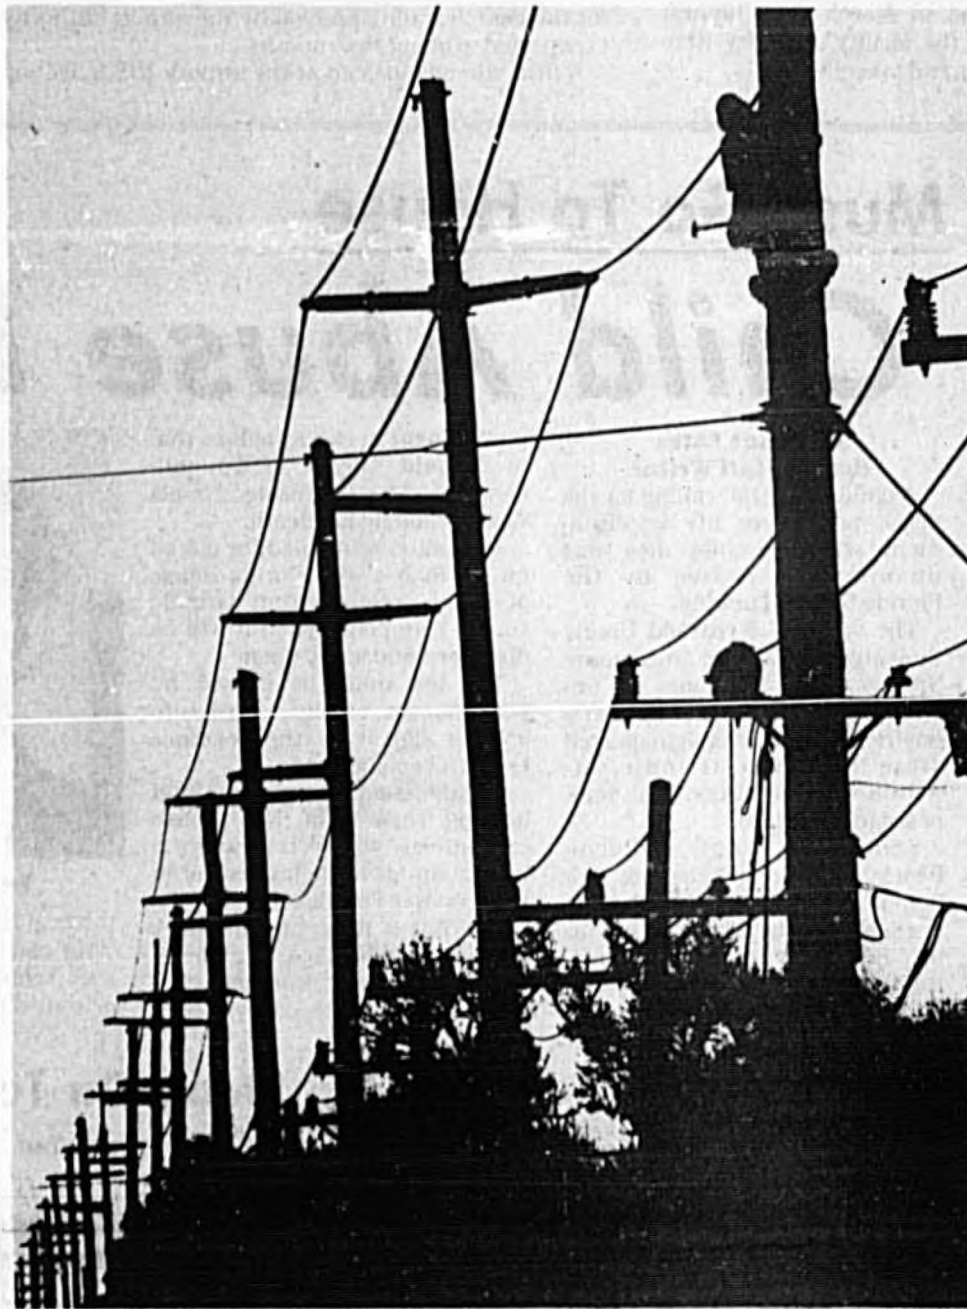

Mrs. Schlusemeyer's daughter-in-law, Joyce Schlusemeyer, said that when she and her husband reached the disabled plane the pilot and his wife were sitting on the ground, uninjured. The man had been looking at the motor.

According to the pilot, who works for an area automobile dealership, he and his wife had just left the Sanford Airport after having coffee with friends and were flying home when they had engine trouble. They set down on land of the Kilbee Ranch, which according to Joyce Schlusemeyer, is not uncommon event on the large ranch.

While the pilot called the Sanford Tower to inform them that he was all right and his plane unscathed, the man did not call the sheriff's department to tell them where he had landed. They continued their search and did not know where the plane was until Betty Schlusemeyer called them just before she went to bed, at 10 p.m.

Monday morning, according to Betty Schlusemeyer, a mechanic returned to the plane, replaced a valve, and flew the plane away.

Money Asked For Asbestos Clean-Up In Schools

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congress is under pressure to extend a law it passed four years ago to help protect millions of school children against cancer-causing asbestos — this time with the money needed to make the program effective.

Witnesses representing teachers and other school employees charged Tuesday that both Congress and President Reagan failed to follow up on the 1980 Asbestos School Hazard Detection and Control Act.

Testifying at House hearings, they urged passage of legislation to renew the law and demanded that Congress put up the needed money this time.

Mary Futrell, president of the National Education Association, said the failure of Congress to provide money for asbestos removal had made the 1980 law "little more than an empty promise."

Ms. Futrell said Reagan and other administration officials had engaged in "rhetoric on safety in our schools" but had "consistently failed to call for any funding for the act."

John Sweeney, president of the Service Employees International Union, AFL-CIO, said there is an overwhelming need for federal financial aid to help school districts reduce asbestos hazards.

Sweeney said more than 100,000 school workers are included among the 830,000 members represented by his union and that it had taken a leading role in studying the problem because the government has not acted.

The union's first step, he said, had been to conduct a survey which indicated about 3.2 million children and 648,000 teachers and other school employees may be endangered by asbestos building materials in schools.

"Already our union is starting to count the dead bodies," Sweeney said, citing recent deaths of school employees from diseases he said were related to the inhalation of asbestos fibers.

"Tragically, children face even a greater risk of developing cancer as a result of asbestos exposure than do adults," he said in noting that their exposure begins at an earlier age.

Sweeney said a union study showed that only 19 of 45 states surveyed offer varying degrees of financial aid to school districts with asbestos problems.

The states offering some aid, he said, are Alabama, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Virginia and Wyoming.

"States and local school districts alone do not have the resources to meet the costs of abatement," Ms. Futrell said in citing an estimate by the Education Department that the asbestos clean-up would cost about $1.4 billion.

Rep. Don Sundquist, R-Tenn., put most of the blame for the failure of Congress to fund the program on the Senate, which had refused to go along with House approval of an appropriation for it.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Israelis Clamp Down In Southern Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Israeli troops enforced stringent security measures in southern Lebanon today after guerrillas reportedly wounded 13 soldiers and captured another in attacks on Israeli occupation forces.

The reports of the attacks Tuesday came as fighting between Moslem and Christian militias flared in Beirut and the hills overlooking the capital. At least one civilian was reported killed.

Syria's Damascus radio, monitored in Beirut, said the southern Lebanon strikes and a terrorist attack Monday in Jerusalem in which 48 people were injured signaled an escalating campaign against the Israeli occupation forces.

Israel's Armed Forces Radio said a Japanese-American woman and a Lebanese man were being sought for involvement in the grenade and submachine gun attack by three Arabs. Two suspects were captured and a third was fatally shot by a bystander.

Soviet Armada Monitored

LONDON (UPI) — NATO vessels and aircraft today shadowed a Soviet armada of surface vessels and submarines engaged in giant war games in north Atlantic waters that would be crucial to both West and East in a military conflict.

The first ships in what was believed to be the biggest Soviet battle fleet ever assembled in the Atlantic put to sea a week ago and "a very swift buildup" followed, a British Defense Ministry spokesman said Tuesday.

British defense correspondents said the maneuvers apparently remained undetected in the West until the first vessels set sail last Wednesday.

U.S. Navy Secretary John Lehman suggested the war exercises were a test of Soviet capability to hamper Western naval movements.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A near-blizzard dumped up to 2 feet of snow on the high Plains Tuesday blew itself out today but huge drifts kept many roads in Colorado closed and stranded travelers heading east. Torrential rain threatened flash floods in the Florida panhandle and south Georgia. Flood warnings covered central Missouri after a day of severe thunderstorms, tornadoes and hail. Rain covered a broad area from southeast Nebraska to South Carolina and south to the Gulf Coast. Storms Tuesday dumped 3 inches of rain in six hours on Daytona Beach, and 6 inches fell in nine hours at Apalachicola. Severe thunderstorms whitened the ground with hail and spun off tornadoes in Arkansas, Missouri and southern Indiana Tuesday. Tornadoes in northern Arkansas destroyed several houses and trailers, hit a church, uprooted trees.

ORMC Offers Help To Agoraphobics

Beginning Thursday, a 10-week program for sufferers of agoraphobia will be offered at Orlando Regional Medical Center's mental health center.

Translated from ancient Greek, agoraphobia literally means fear of the marketplace, but Deirdre Brigham, staff psychologist at ORMC, said the modern definition is more detailed.

"Today we recognize agoraphobia as a panic disorder that is more than just a fear of the marketplace or open spaces," she explained. "Actually it is more a fear of fear itself. Just the anticipation of being afraid is enough to bring on a panic attack for the agoraphobic."

Ms. Brigham stresses that it is quite normal for everyone to have flashes of anxiety in certain situations. In the agoraphobic, however, those flashes accelerate and can cause physical problems that range from a rapid heart beat and high blood pressure to dizziness and increased perspiration.

"So far we have been unable to pinpoint the exact causes of agoraphobia," Ms. Brigham said. "However, we do know that it is more common in women between the ages of 20 and 30. Victims tend to be highly successful and many are perfectionists who are very competitive. It is impossible for many agoraphobics to regain control of their fears," she said.

Ms. Brigham and her colleague, Ray Thornton, also a staff psychologist at the ORMC mental health unit, will direct the program. Those who participate will work together in a group as they endeavor to learn how to cope with their anxiety phobia.

Two sessions are available on Thursdays. The first group will run from 9 until 10:30 a.m., and the second will run from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

Woman Receives Kidney From Long-Lost Dad

ORLANDO (UPI) — A New York man said he decided to donate one of his kidneys to his ailing daughter, whom he had not seen in 17 years so she could live a "more normal life."

The daughter, Chris Olsen, 31, is blind and suffers from a bone-weakening disease in addition to her kidney problems. The Vero Beach woman underwent 3½ hours of transplant surgery Tuesday to receive a kidney from her father, Robert Olsen, 52, of Parksville, N.Y.

Doctors at Florida Hospital in Orlando said the operation went smoothly.

Doctors said Olsen is the only family member suitable to be a donor for his daughter.

Doctors, who said the surgery has a 95 percent chance of success because the organ comes from a living donor, believe Miss Olsen's diabetes and the bone-weakening Osteoporosis might improve because of the surgery. But they hold little hope her sight will return.

Insurance Hike Justified

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A 23.5 percent increase in automobile insurance rates for the state's high-risk drivers was justified, according to Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter.

The increase was filed by the Florida Joint Underwriting Association (FJUA), a shared-risk pool made up of all auto insurers in Florida. It provides last-resort coverage to drivers who can't get insurance in the open market.

The rates took effect March 15 for new business and will be effective May 1 for renewal policies.

Gunter said the greatest increase were in bodily injury coverage, which increased from an average of $151 a year to $205 — an increase of 35.8 percent — and in uninsured motorist coverage, which rose 26.9 percent from $74 to $94.

Phone Access Charge OK'd

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Supreme Court has ruled that the Public Service Commission and Southern Bell may go ahead with a proposed $26.2 million access charge to be levied against American Telephone and Telegraph.

The charge is a fee AT&T would be required to pay Southern Bell, its former corporate child, for access to Florida customers. AT&T had attacked the proposed surcharge as discriminatory.

The action stemmed from a $92.5 million interim rate hike increase Bell sought earlier this year. Last month, the PSC gave Bell $35.9 million, including the $26.2 million surcharge.

Bell contended it was entitled to the rate hike because of a revenue shortfall resulting from the loss of equipment rental and other local money makers in AT&T as a result of divestiture.

Several Street Names Changing In Seminole

Official state road numbers will be changed May 1 on three roads in Seminole County and nine roads in Orange County. In addition, SR 528A (Sand Lake Road) will be changed effective Oct. 1.

The changes are the result of legislation requiring reassignment of public roads throughout the state, according to C.A. Benedict, district engineer of the Florida Department of Transportation in DeLand.

Public roads have been redesignated statewide based on how they are used, and the appropriate government agency has been assigned responsibility for operation and maintenance. For example, some state highways have been redesignated county roads or city streets, and vice versa. This redesignation has made some numbering or renumbering necessary in the state road system to create a more logical sequence.

New route marker signs will be erected and obsolete signs removed by May 1.

Affected roads in Seminole County are:

SR 431 (Forrest City Road) from the Orange County line to SR 436 will become SR 434.

SR 419 from the junction of SR 419 and SR 434 at Winter Springs east and south to SR 426 in Oviedo will become SR 434.

SR 520 (Alafaya Trail) from the Orange County line to SR 426 in Oviedo will become SR 434.

Affected roads in Orange County are:

SR 15-A (Goldenrod Road) from SR 15 north to SR 426 at the Seminole County line will become SR 551.

SR 426A (Maitland Boulevard) from Interstate 4 east to U.S. Highway 17-92 will become SR 414.

SR 438 (Lee Road) from U.S. 441 (Orange Blossom Trail) east to U.S. 17-92 will become SR 423.

SR 424A (Fairbanks Avenue) from Interstate 4 east to U.S. 17-92 in Winter Park will become SR 426.

SR 520 (Alafaya Trail) from SR 50 north to the Seminole County line will become SR 434.

Smith Street in College Park from U.S. 441 (OBT) east to Princeton, and Princeton Street from Smith Street to Interstate 4 will become SR 438.

SR 528A (Sand Lake and McCoy roads) from Interstate 4 east to the intersection of SR 528 in Belle Isle will become SR 482, effective Oct. 1 to give business interests time to make advertising adjustments.

Winter Garden-Vineland Road from Interstate 4 in Lake Buena Vista north to SR 50 at Winter Garden will become SR 535.

SR 535A (Dillard Street) in Winter Garden from SR 50 (Colonial Drive) north to SR 438 will become SR 537.

SR 526-A (Curry Ford Road) from SR 15 (Conway Road) in Orlando southeast to the new SR 551 will become SR 552.

Nelson Guest Speaker At Demo Tourney-Lunch

U.S. Rep. Bill Nelson, D-Brevard County, will be guest speaker at the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee's third annual golf tournament and luncheon to be held at the Mayfair Country Club on April 14.

Coffee and registration are to begin at 7:30 p.m. and a "scramble shotgun start" is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Lunch is to be served at 1 p.m.

Tickets for both the tournament and meal are $35. $8.50 for just lunch, and may be obtained by calling Charlene Graham, the party's public relations chairman, at 830-1105 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., or 678-1645 in the evenings.

Hit Car While Fleeing From Deputy

Oops! Accident Victim Says Too Much

When a Longwood officer asked a man how he got involved in a two-car accident, the man said he struck the unoccupied vehicle while he was trying to elude a sheriff's deputy.

An officer was dispatched to the scene of an auto accident involving injuries Friday at 8:37 p.m. One vehicle was occupied and a second empty.

The driver of the vehicle was at a nearby residence being treated by emergency technicians of a Longwood fire and rescue unit. The officer asked the man to step outside the building and tell him how the accident occurred.

The man said he was being pursued by a deputy on state Road 427 — in excess of 100 mph — when he turned onto East Palmetto Ave., turned his lights out and then struck a car.

Arrested for fleeing to elude a police officer, driving with a suspended driver license, and willful and wanton reckless driving was Jellery D. Halter, 23, of 436 Orange Ave., Altamonte Springs.

He was being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $500 bond.

BAR FIGHT

Sheriff deputies responding to a report of a bar fight near Sanford found themselves surrounded when they arrested a man for disorderly intoxication.

According to a deputy's report, he and another officer were dispatched to the Deluxe Bar, on Southwest Road, west of Sanford, Friday at 8:30 p.m. When they arrived, the bar owner told them he wanted a man who was turning over tables and chairs removed.

When the deputies entered the bar, two men were carrying a man towards the door. They said the man could not speak or hear.

The man broke away from the men and when a deputy grabbed his arm a fight ensued. The man and the deputies fought as a crowd pushed them into a corner booth at the bar. Some of the men in the crowd of 15 to 20 tried to help the deputies, others hit the deputies.

At one point, the subject stood up in the booth, pointed at one of the deputies, then hit him in the face and chest.

After the man was handcuffed and taken outside he began to kick and the deputies put leg irons on him.

At the jail, the man was still upset and had to be calmed by his brother, an inmate, who confirmed that the man cannot speak but can hear "some."

Arrested on charges of disorderly intoxication, resisting arrest with violence, and battery on a law officer, was Regional O. Steele, 28, of 1825 Collidge Ave., Sanford.

He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

RING FOUND

Two months after a woman's $2,500 ring disappeared at work, it was found among some personal items of another employee who had since left the business.

In January, a woman who worked at Pack N' Send, 2551 W. state Road 434, Forest City, told deputies her $2,500 one-half-carat diamond ring was missing. At the time it was not located.

Friday, a woman who worked at the same business asked that some of the personal belongs she left at the store when she left be set aside so she could pick them up.

While the manager of the business was looking

SAC Exercises Will Test Response To Nuke Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Strategic Air Command's bomber and continent-spanning missile forces has begun a 10-day exercise to test the readiness of U.S. and Canadian forces to respond to a nuclear attack, the Pentagon says.

Called "Global Shield '84," the sixth exercise of its kind in as many years began Tuesday and will be directed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Pentagon said.

The Joint Chiefs also will launch an overlapping war game beginning Thursday to test worldwide command and control procedures in a scenario depicting "increased tension and conflict," the Pentagon said.

The Pentagon said a key objective of the exercise "is to view the interaction of civil and military plans in the simulated crisis environment."

Pentagon spokesmen would not say whether the Soviet Union has been notified of one or both exercises.

Arrested and charged with grand theft at 9:30 p.m. Friday was Jennifer Louisa Harr, 21, of 918 Robin Hood Court, Maitland.

She was being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

NAVY MAN ARRESTED

Accused of desertion from the Navy, a man in Longwood was arrested after a chance check by a police officer showed the man was wanted by the military.

According to the officer's report, he stopped a man who was driving behind closed businesses at the Winn-Dixie Plaza on state Road 600, Longwood. A nation-wide computer check showed the man wanted by the Navy on charges of desertion.

Arrested was Terry Daniel Siedsma, 23, of 516 Church St. He is being held for military officials in the Seminole County jail without bond.

MOPED THEFT

Sanford police recovered a stolen moped after the two men riding it abandoned the small motorcycle while being pursued. The thieves escaped.

According to a police report, Edward Leroy Jones, 21, of Sanford, told police only his brother had permission to use his moped and that the machine was missing.

While on patrol, police spotted what appeared to be the moped ridden by two men at 9:24 p.m. Thursday. They eluded the police and then fled on foot at 11th Street and Oleander Avenue, each going a different direction.

The moped, worth $362, was impounded.

COMPUTER CROOKS

Selective in what they took, thieves entered a Sanford business and removed a computer printer and related items.

According to a Sanford police officer's report, someone entered Rush-Hampton, at 1201 Silver Lake Drive, between 12 p.m. Saturday and 9:30 a.m. Monday and removed a computer printer and related items for a total loss of $614.

The theft, reported by company personnel director Christopher John Carducci, was investigated without forced entry and the thieves probably left by the office's west door, according to the report.

ROBBERY AT MARKET

Confronted by a man with a pistol, a Sorrento, Fla. man was robbed of $6 and a $125 silver necklace while he was at a Sanford business.

Albert Maurice Rayne, 27, told police he was at Richards Supermarket, 1506 W. 13th St., at 9:10 p.m. Thursday when two men, one with a gun, robbed him of the money and jewelry.

DEED STOLEN

Someone took a deed and a birth certificate from the kitchen cabinet of a Sanford residence.

Rose Oliver, of 2113 Summerlin Ave., told police that between 6:35 p.m. Wednesday and 9 a.m. Thursday, someone entered her house and took the deed to the house and a birth certificate kept with the deed.

NOTICE TO ALL VETERANS

Who have Honorably Served Their Country In Time of War or Peace

Because of the lack of burial space and the distance of the National Cemetery in Florida, we are assigning grave spaces in Veterans Garden of Valor, Oaklawn Memorial Park. As an honorably discharged veteran of the United States Armed Forces, you may be qualified for Free Burial Space. However, you must register for this. You must be able to show proof of Honorable Discharge. There are a limited number of Veterans spaces available. Certificates for spaces will be issued on a first come first served basis. YOUR HOME MAY NEED A LITTLE H.E.L.P.

HOME ENERGY LOSS PREVENTION. We'll get the work done for you. And pay half the cost!

Most homes need H.E.L.P. Because 9 out of 10 homes leak energy—around windows, doors, air conditioning ducts and other places.

That's why so many homeowners have called for H.E.L.P. in the last few weeks.

H.E.L.P. with caulking and weatherstripping. H.E.L.P. with leaking air conditioning ducts. H.E.L.P. with low-flow showerheads, water heater blankets, reflective window film, wall outlet insulation gaskets, and energy-saving inserts for jalousie windows.

You won't just save on energy costs. FPL will pay you up to $75, or one-half the cost (most H.E.L.P. packages average less than $100).

We'll even arrange to get the work done for you. You won't have to lift a finger, except to call us.

So get a little H.E.L.P. for your home. From FPL.

No Matter Where The Awards Are...

New York City is a little better than a 1,000 miles away from Sanford, so for most of us, what generally happens there is of little or no consequence.

However, a recent event of considerable significance occurred in the Big Apple and it involved a Sanford man.

The event was the presentation of the "Lehman-LaGuardia Award For Civic Achievement" to Sanford's own Jeno Paulucci.

The award is presented annually by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and the Commission for Social Justice of the Order of Sons of Italy in America. Paulucci is only the third person to have received the honor to date. Before him, the award was presented to Frank Machiora, chancellor of the New York City school system, and Louis Lefkowitz, New York attorney general.

When the award was presented to Paulucci, it was given, the organizations said, to recognize "... this entrepreneur, philanthropist, humanitarian ... for his unselfish and tireless efforts on behalf of the underprivileged and handicapped, innumerable charitable endeavors, dedication to social justice and concern for Italian Americans and all ethnic groups that compromise the fabric of American life."

The fabric of American life. That intricate weaving of complex customs, values, mores and attitudes brought to our shores by people from all the lands of the world to make up one of the most fascinating, colorful and dynamic countries in the world.

The award to Paulucci in New York came to pass because, in addition to his commitment to helping the underprivileged, he brought about a first-of-its-kind national conference made up of people representing more than 30 different ethnic segments of our nation in the hopes of finding common ground on which to proceed to find solutions to common problems. A means by which those less fortunate may be helped.

Paulucci brought about the conference in his capacity as founder and chairman of the National Italian-American Foundation based in Washington, D.C. His works in these endeavors were recognized as leading to achieving common goals of B'nai B'rith and the Sons of Italy, both of which are based in New York, hence the reason the award was issued there.

We don't care where our great Sanford citizens have to go to pick up their awards, our hearts and our admiration go with them.

Dishonoring York

A Tennessee sharpshooter by the name of Alvin York was one of the authentic American heroes of World War I. In the Battle of the Argonne, then Pvt. York killed 15 Germans and captured 132 more in a single day. Some 60-odd years later, the Army honored this Medal of Honor winner by naming a new, radar-directed anti-aircraft gun after him. Poor Sgt. York.

That is not to say that the M-247 Sgt. York division air defense gun has not been a legend in its own right — it is without question one of the biggest boondoggles in recent memory. Even the Army, in a rare "cure-notice" sent to the weapon's manufacturer, Ford Aerospace, has called the company's performance "totally unacceptable." Not only is the production of the $4.2 billion tank-mounted gun six months behind schedule, but nearly everything about the program — from the training material to the gun itself — has been delayed. There is also very serious question as to whether the system will ever work under combat conditions. During one early test the weapon's radar aimed the twin 40mm guns not at a helicopter target but at a latrine fan. The General Accounting Office, in a review of the weapon, not only found that the M-247's critical hydraulic system had a tendency to leak but also that "the system's controlling computer performed erratically in temperatures below 25 degrees Fahrenheit."

If Congress is serious about cutting the federal budget, there is no better place to start than with the $639 million the Army is requesting for the Sgt. York anti-aircraft gun in 1985. Cutting the program would also help save the name and honor of an American hero.

Styron's Political Fiction

Because someone has the ability to create fictional characters in a novel, there is no reason to believe that he is either sound or prudent in his views on public questions.

I was reminded of this when I read novelist William Styron's Convocation Day address at the University of Virginia. Instead of focusing on the scholarly challenges facing the university founded by Thomas Jefferson, Styron offered a selection of his political and personal prejudices, an exercise which must have been very offensive to many in his audience.

Styron began his address, which has been printed in the University of Virginia Alumni News, with the complaint that he "spent an intimate though somewhat excruciating evening at a private home in Washington in the company of the President of the United States." He described himself and his fellow guests as a "tiny group of informed and sophisticated people." He was upset, however, because the President chose to talk about the motion picture industry. One wonders: does Mr. Styron think that the President should have consulted him on Lebanon, the Soviet Union or the state of the American economy? It is evidence of intellectual arrogance to think that an ordinary citizen, even a well-known novelist, should be treated to the innermost thoughts of the President on matters of pressing national business.

No doubt many of Mr. Styron's listeners would have preferred him to discuss the state of the novel rather than discourse on domestic and foreign affairs.

Mr. Styron, it turns out, is a typical, radical chic literary type. He complained that the United States has "so little compassion for the poor" and is "miserly in support of the arts." He judged that Thomas Jefferson might have concluded that Americans had become "greedy and unfeeling" and that they have "an insatiable need: and that is to prepare weapons for another war."

One gets the impression that Mr. Styron was itching to be consulted by the President on foreign policy. If Mr. Styron had had an opportunity to sound off at the dinner table, he undoubtedly would have said what he said in his speech at Charlottesville, namely that Jefferson "would perceive our terror of communists under every bed, in every domestic closet, as being unworthy of a nation as strong as we are."

How does novelist Styron feel about world issues? Well, in his speech he was critical of what he referred to as "our incessant intervention in places we have and have had no business at all — in Vietnam and now Nicaragua." Mr. Styron also said that we have constructed a "demonology" around communists. One can only suppose that he has been so busy writing fiction that he is unaware of the millions of Soviet citizens killed in the USSR's concentration camps.

Thailand Winning The Drug War

WASHINGTON — Thailand has redrawn the boundaries of the notorious Golden Triangle, the untamed hill region of Southeast Asia that for the past two decades has supplied tons of heroin to the world's junkies.

The Thais have finally gotten tough on dope traffickers.

In fact, with the encouragement provided by U.S. financing and expertise, the Thai government has cracked down so severely on drug exporters and opium-popy growers that Thailand is now a net importer of heroin.

The 35 tons of opium produced in the country last year — half the amount produced in 1980 — weren't enough to satisfy the needs of Thailand's estimated 500,000 heroin addicts — roughly 1 percent of the population.

Production and refining of opium into heroin are now largely confined to Burma, which produces about 500 tons of opium a year. Laos, the third leg of the triangle, accounts for about 50 tons a year.

On a news-gathering trip to Thailand, my associate Dale Van Atta visited the Enough people have agreed that the prevalence of child abuse has become such a problem that they have organized to combat it.

One group is now holding a week-long conference on the subject.

The Greater Orlando Crime Prevention Association, which includes Seminole County, has scheduled eight speakers this week to address eight interrelated aspects of this growing problem. One of the speakers, Dr. Nancy Monaco, based in Longwood, is the Seminole County Child Abuse Prevention Coordinator.

Last year in the tri-county area of Seminole, Orange and Osceola, there were 7,513 reported cases of child abuse, an increase of 25 percent.

In Seminole County, the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services reported 1,236 cases of some form of child abuse from Feb. 1983 to the same period this year.

In Seminole Circuit Court, there is almost an arraignment a week for child abuse or the sexual battery of a child.

And in Florida, 23 percent of the victims of assault are under 19 and 42.6 percent of the rape victims are under 19.

At a news conference held Monday, Dick Batchelor, association chairman, said the group's campaign for this year is not only community awareness but also what the community can do to solve the problem.

The goal of the group this month is to launch an intensive multi-media campaign on child abuse with newspaper stories, radio and television coverage, bumper stickers, billboards, and lapel pins.

Using a little girl and her rag doll, the campaign theme is "There's no rhyme or reason for child abuse," and emphasizes the public's use of the State Abuse Registry number, 1-800-342-9152, to get help.

In a separate incident, interest to another area anti-crime program —

Crimeline — a 19-year-old Seminole County woman was officially added to the 4,313 persons missing in Florida.

Mary Jeanine Mayo disappeared the night of Sept. 28 after leaving the Post Time Lounge at Dog Track Road and U.S. Highway 17-92 where she had been celebrating at a friend's birthday party.

A short time later, friends saw her getting into a light-colored van. She has not been seen since. Her purse and its contents were found the following day scattered along state Road 434.

Police describe her as 5-foot, 10-inches tall, 125 pounds, with shoulder-length dark brown hair and hazel eyes. She was last seen wearing tan slacks, a black and tan striped blouse and tan shoes.

If you know where Miss Mayo is, or what happened to her that night, you can call Crimeline in Orlando at 849-2482. You can remain anonymous and you may be eligible for a reward of up to $1,000.

Jesse's Voters Must Return

If there's one thing that can be said of the Rev. Jesse Jackson it is that he electrifies people. And that electricity has been responsible for the record turnout of black voters in this year's Democratic caucuses and primaries.

Last month Jackson received 79 percent of a heavy black vote in his adopted state, Illinois, and tied front-runner Walter Mondale in delegates won after the first round of caucuses in Virginia's Tidewater region.

In Super Tuesday's primaries in Georgia and Alabama, a record turnout of black voters, coupled with a low voter turnout for whites, created other Jackson successes.

In both states, Jackson won more than four out of five majority-black precincts, and usually won by margins of greater than 20 percent, according to an analysis prepared by the Southern Regional Council.

The heavy-black, low-white voting patterns even helped Jackson win two majority white precincts in Georgia: 55 percent white Camilla and 60 percent white Waynesboro.

In Greene County, Ala., the SRC survey found a 15 percent turnout in a predominantly white precinct, and a 63 percent turnout in a nearby precinct with more than 80 percent black registered voters.

In the precincts selected for study by the SRC in Birmingham, the turnout rate ranged from a low of 13 percent in predominantly white Cahaba Heights to a high of 60 percent in a black precinct on the city's west side.

In Albany, Ga., the study showed one white precinct with a turnout rate of less than 10 percent, while two heavily black precincts voted more than 80 percent.

The Jackson vote wasn't just heavy. It was heavier than the vote cast by blacks four years ago when the choices were Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan.

The SRC also reported that Walter Mondale received votes in every precinct surveyed, never falling below 11 percent in any. Gary Hart, however, received "very little" black support but ran well in white precincts carried by Ronald Reagan in 1980.

The large black turnout for Jackson in the South, it should be noted, simply follows a pattern of strong black political activity that began two decades ago. These voting rates contrast with the national trend of decreases in black voting since 1964.

While white voting dropped from 70.7 percent in 1964 to 60.9 per in 1976 and 1980, black voting dropped from 58.5 percent to 50.5 percent. But voting rates for Southern blacks went up.

In 1964, only 44 percent of Southern blacks who were registered actually voted. By 1980, that figure had increased remarkably. The percentage of blacks voting in midterm elections from 1978 to 1982 increased faster than that for whites and Hispanics.

Record turnouts in 1983 elected black mayors in Chicago and Philadelphia, and helped to elect a black mayor in Charlotte, N.C.

These victories, the general upswing in black political participation, and the excitement of the Jackson campaign explained the record turnout as black voters got the same chance that voters in New Hampshire and Iowa had earlier to express their preferences.

But no one knows whether the thousands who turned out in record numbers to vote for Jackson will return to vote for Walter Mondale or Gary Hart.

Registered but non-voting blacks handed Ronald Reagan victories in Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia in 1980.

VIEWPOINT

Warranties Broken Already?

By Baker Smith

(Editor's Note: Baker Smith is a staff writer for the USBIC Writer's Syndicate. His column is published in a variety of newspapers throughout the United States.)

United States security received a boost recently when President Reagan signed a bill requiring warranties on all weapons systems acquisitions. Before the ink was dry, Defense Department bureaucrats were scheming to repeal the provision.

Americans have grown to expect warranties on consumer goods from autos to toasters. But military warranties are nothing new. The Civil War Ironclad Ship Monitor was under warranty. Many major defense contractors have for years provided warranties to repair or replace defective weapons. Recently General Electric Company's willingness to provide warranties enabled G.E. to win the lucrative F-14 and F-15 fighter aircraft engine contracts from Pratt & Whitney Corporation. These warranties will save the taxpayers millions of dollars. Further, front line troops will less likely be saddled with weapons that won't shoot.

Without warranties, military hardware which doesn't work is not a cost to contractors. Contractors simply charge the taxpayers more money to repair or replace defective equipment. In the absence of a warranty requirement contractors have no incentive to avoid faulty equipment. Weapons failures risk the lives of our fighting men in battle, but the contractors who produce them do not even have financial risk.

Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition Management Mary Ann Gillette is reportedly heading the sabotage effort. Gillette's job is to implement and enforce warranties, but relying on the report of Assistant Deputy Harvey J. Gordon, she claims that warranties would be too difficult to implement. Former Defense Under secretary Paul Thayer signed a ninety-day waiver of the legislation, prior to his resignation.

The backyard methods to repeal outraged warranty sponsor Senator Mark Andrews of North Dakota. In a sneak maneuver that ranks as a classic, Defense Department bureaucrats and sore loser contractors quietly slipped a warranty repeal provision into both the 1984 Defense Supplemental and 1985 Appropriations Acts.

Ironically both pro-defense advocates and liberal budget slashers support the law. Even the New York Times supported the bill. The defense warranties law will make the United States more combat-ready than ever. At the same time, the Pentagon waste will be cut. National defense will be stronger without cutting one dollar from a single weapons program. Let's hope Congress bows to the will of the majority of Americans who support a strong national defense, and restores the warranty provision to the defense budget.

last long if they start up in Thailand."

— Chang and the other dope traffickers are still a threat. That government informants have been buried alive, drawn and quartered and suffered other grisly deaths. When the Thais offered a $23,000 reward for Chang's capture, he countered with an offer to pay cash for killing Americans. In 1980, a DEA agent's wife was gunned down in Chiang Mai.

— Much of the heroin that comes out of the triangle still travels through Thailand. But an American official in Bangkok noted that Thailand does a better job at interdiction than the United States does within its own borders. A single seizure usually brings in more drugs than a stateside DEA agent is likely to see in his entire career. In fact, the week Van Atta was there, the Thai government seized 285 kilograms of heroin from a single shipment — worth $500 million in the United States.

It's only fitting that the United States has taken a major support role in the Thai crackdown on heroin. A classified

DEA report blames the long American presence in Southeast Asia for creating both the need and the greed that nurtured the Golden Triangle in the first place.

"It was not until the buildup of U.S. forces in Indo-China in the latter part of the 1960s that heroin production became well-established in the Golden Triangle," the report said. "U.S. military personnel in Vietnam and Thailand provided a ready market for the heroin."

Another DEA report noted that "many U.S. armed forces personnel returned from the conflict in Vietnam not only with heroin habits, but also with the knowledge of where to purchase heroin and smuggle it into the U.S."

Unfortunately, the opportunity is still there. "An interested party can easily obtain a kilogram of injectable heroin in Bangkok, where established, detailed or complicated contacts with distributors are unnecessary," a DEA report notes. And a kilo of heroin bought for $15,000 in Bangkok would wholesale for more than $200,000 in New York and bring in upwards of $2 million in street sales.

Real Estate Industry Non-Competitive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An unpublished 1981 federal study found that real estate brokers get artificially high fees for selling houses because of the industry's non-competitive structure.

The study by the staff of the Federal Trade Commission said this structure, underscored by an interdependence among brokers, curbs the flow of information to consumers and makes brokerage rates generally uniform.

The report, a copy of which was obtained by United Press International, has been under review at the FTC's Washington headquarters since being completed in January 1981 by the agency's regional office in Los Angeles.

"The review has taken longer than is normal," said Art Lerner, an assistant director in the FTC's Bureau of Competition. "I can't discuss the deliberations, but I hope the report may be released in a few months."

Agency sources said there appears to have been no deliberate attempt to withhold the study. Instead, they said, it has been the victim of excessive delays compounded by a change in administration.

The industry is generally characterized by two broad performance problems—lack of price competition (in brokerage fees) and barriers to the free flow of information to consumers.
—Federal Trade Commission study

The report was completed just days before Ronald Reagan replaced Jimmy Carter as president. This change resulted in new leadership at the FTC, where James Miller became chairman in October 1981.

Sources said there have been no substantive changes in the findings of the report during the past 40 months, but that it has gone through several revisions.

"There is really no excuse for sitting on a report of this significance to consumers for almost four years," said FTC Commissioner Michael Pertschuk, who headed the agency under the Carter administration when the study began in 1978.

Sponsored by the FTC's Bureau of Competition and Consumer Protection, the study, "Residential Real Estate Brokerage," found:

"The industry is generally characterized by two broad performance problems — lack of price competition (in brokerage fees) and barriers to the free flow of information to consumers."

It said an interdependence among agents, including sharing lists of houses that are for sale, is largely responsible for uniform sale commission rates — generally 6-7 percent of the selling price of a home.

Noting the prevailing rate in England is 2 percent, the study said a 1-point drop in the U.S. rate would save consumers $1.3 billion a year, based on 1978 figures.

"Artificially high prices produce several serious consequences for consumers and for industry efficiency," it said.

"Consumers are paying more for brokerage services than they would if pricing were competitive."

The high rates also have led to an excessive number of brokers. Lower rates would result in fewer agents getting more commissions.

The study said nearly half of the sellers surveyed mistakenly believed commission rates are set by law or realtors' boards — unaware they are negotiable.

And most buyers surveyed falsely assumed brokers who help them look for a home are their representative, unaware the agent traditionally is considered a representative of the seller.

The National Association of Realtors, which represents about a third of the nation's more than 2 million brokers, cooperated in the study.

Legislative Alternatives To Proposition 1 Emerging

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham is calling for a "comprehensive review" of Florida's tax system, but key lawmakers say it's more likely the legislative session that just got under way will produce a tax limit of some sort.

In a "State of the State" address kicking off the 1984 legislative session, Graham said legislators should not be pressured by the popularity of Proposition 1, the revenue-limiting proposal knocked off the ballot last week by the Florida Supreme Court.

"This is not a year for us to rush to put back onto the ballot this misguided amendment. We do not need a tax-cutting amendment on the ballot this year," Graham said in his 34-minute speech.

Legislators listened politely, interrupting Graham 14 times for mostly scattered applause.

Many legislators said afterward they wanted to come up with one form or another of a cap on government revenues or taxes.

Lawmakers said the Legislature could pass a law to that effect, or propose its own revenue cap as a constitutional amendment and allow voters to decide on it in November.

"We better face up to reality," said Rep. Barry Kutun, D-Miami Beach, House tax chairman. "If (a tax limit) isn't No. 1 at the end of the session, there will be some serious repercussions."

"I think (Graham) is misreading the public reaction, and I think it would be a mistake not to recognize that reaction," said Rep. Betty Easley, R-Largo.

Rep. Herb Morgan, D-Tallahassee, chairman of the House appropriations committee, said he is against any tax increases — including hikes in tuition at state universities or in user fees.

House Speaker Lee Moffitt, D-Tampa, said he was against a tax cap because, "I don't think we have anything to apologize for or be defensive about."

A Republican plan would limit the number of state employees to 1 percent of the population, require a three-fourths vote in the Legislature to raise taxes and change the state's homestead exemption plan to require all property owners to pay taxes.

"We'll consider (tax limits)," said Senate President Curtis Peterson, D-Lakeland. "We've already had six bills filed that would do that."

He rejected Graham's call for a comprehensive review of the tax system.

"I thought we already learned everything we need to know about tax and spend," Peterson said.

Graham's sixth State of the State speech also praised legislators for improving education, law enforcement and environmental protection.

Graham called for education improvements, including average $2,820-a-year pay raises for teachers; continued anti-crime efforts; limits on the cost of health-care; protection of fragile wetlands; interstate banking; and development of a high-speed "bullet train" linking Tampa, Orlando and Miami.

Graham urged $75 million to improve the criminal justice system — including money for 33 new judges — and $7 million for education programs to prevent crime.

By the time Florida turns 150 years old in 1995, the cost of health care should rise no faster than inflation in general, Graham said.

He again said the Legislature should adopt a plan keyed to the findings of the McKnight Commission. The commission proposed a cost-containment plan that relies on free-market competition but allows limited state regulation of uncooperative hospitals.

Graham called wetland's protection "a key to our future," and said the Department of Environmental Regulation should be given broader authority to protect them.

Stiffer Sentences Sought For Rapists

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Feminist legislators, outraged by criminal sentencing guidelines that can free some rapists on probation, want to mandate prison time for sex offenders.

And in gang rape cases, like the recent conviction of four men in New Bedford, Mass., a pending proposal would add time to the usual sentences for sexual battery.

The bill (SB 138) is scheduled for renewed debate next Tuesday, when the full Senate reconvenes. It was taken up briefly on opening day of the 1984 legislative session Tuesday, but the Senate adjourned before completing debate on the proposal.

The measure by Sen. Robert B. Crawford, D-Winter Haven, started out as an effort to clarify age limits for statutory rape — so that all 11-year-olds would be protected by the existing law. Crawford said some courts have ruled that children past their 11th birthdays are not covered by the law.

His bill would set the minimum age of consent at 12.

Sen. Betty Castor, D-Tampa, offered an amendment to increase prison sentences for gang rape. Depending on the age of the victim and degree of force involved, rape penalties usually range from 15 years to life — although probation is possible in very few cases.

The Castor amendment provides that, if more than one assailant is involved, a second-degree felony would be upgraded to a first-degree felony, and a first-degree felony would become a life felony — thus increasing possible prison penalties to life in prison and eliminating probation prospects.

Women in this state are not safe," she said. "Sexual offenders are serving ridiculously light sentences."

Another amendment to the bill, also left pending until next week, would mandate three-year prison sentences for all rapists. Sen. Dick Langley, R-Clermont, said almost all rapists go to jail — but that he wanted to eliminate the probation prospects of a very few first offenders who are placed on "community control."

The Senate unanimously approved a bill (SB 72) allowing death sentences for persons convicted of killing children in abuse cases. Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa, said it is sometimes difficult to get more than a manslaughter verdict against child abusers because it cannot be proved that the offenders intended to kill

Taxpert tips from the Big E

A $2,000 IRA contribution could cost you only $1,340

You know a Big E Individual Retirement Account can cut your taxable income by up to $4,000*. And that the IRA interest earned is tax deferred until retirement. You also know that the Big E pays a great IRA rate.

What you may not know is that your actual $2,000 contribution could cost you only $1,340. Here's how.

If you are in the 33% tax bracket, you would pay $660 in taxes on $2,000 of earnings. But with a Big E IRA, that $2,000 is tax deductible, and you pay no taxes on it. That means your true cost is only $1,340.

It pays to make your IRA contribution now

The sooner you make your contribution, the sooner it will start earning tax-deferred income and that means more money for your retirement. But if you can't contribute right away, there's a new government rule the Big E Taxperts think you should know about. You can declare your expected IRA contributions as tax deductions, file your taxes and then make your contributions anytime before April 16, 1984.

Get special life and disability insurance

Not only do the Big E IRA Taxperts care about your financial health, they also care about your physical health, too. Now, through the Shelton Square Agency, insurance experts can show you where to get low-cost IRA Life and Disability Insurance. It means if you become disabled, you and your loved ones are assured that your retirement fund will be paid for as long as you are totally disabled, to age 65.

Seminoles Show Heels To Frosh-Soph Field

Brown Win 4 Events, Sets 2 New Records

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole High took first place in 14 of 17 events to dominate the 1984 Seminole County Freshman-Sophomore meet Tuesday on a windy, overcast night at Seminole High.

The Tribe finished with 169 1/2 points compared to 84 for second place Lake Brantley, 51.5 for Oviedo, 41 for Lyman, 33 for Lake Howell and 18 for Lake Mary.

"We ran an excellent meet," Seminole coach Ken Brauman said. "The kids had a lot of fun competing as a team. It was a nice team victory."

Louis Brown led the way for Seminole Tuesday as he won four events and set meet records in two of them. Brown edged Seminole teammate Pat Davis for first place in the 100 yard dash with a meet record 9.9. Davis finished second at 9.9. Brown also set a new meet record in the 220 dash with a time of 22.5. He also picked up first place ribbons in the 440 dash with a time of 53.7 and in the discus with a throw of 125.0.

Andre Jackson dominated the hurdles as he won both the 120 highs and 330 intermediates. His time of 15.6 in the 120 highs set a new meet record and he won the 330 intermediates with a time of 43.6.

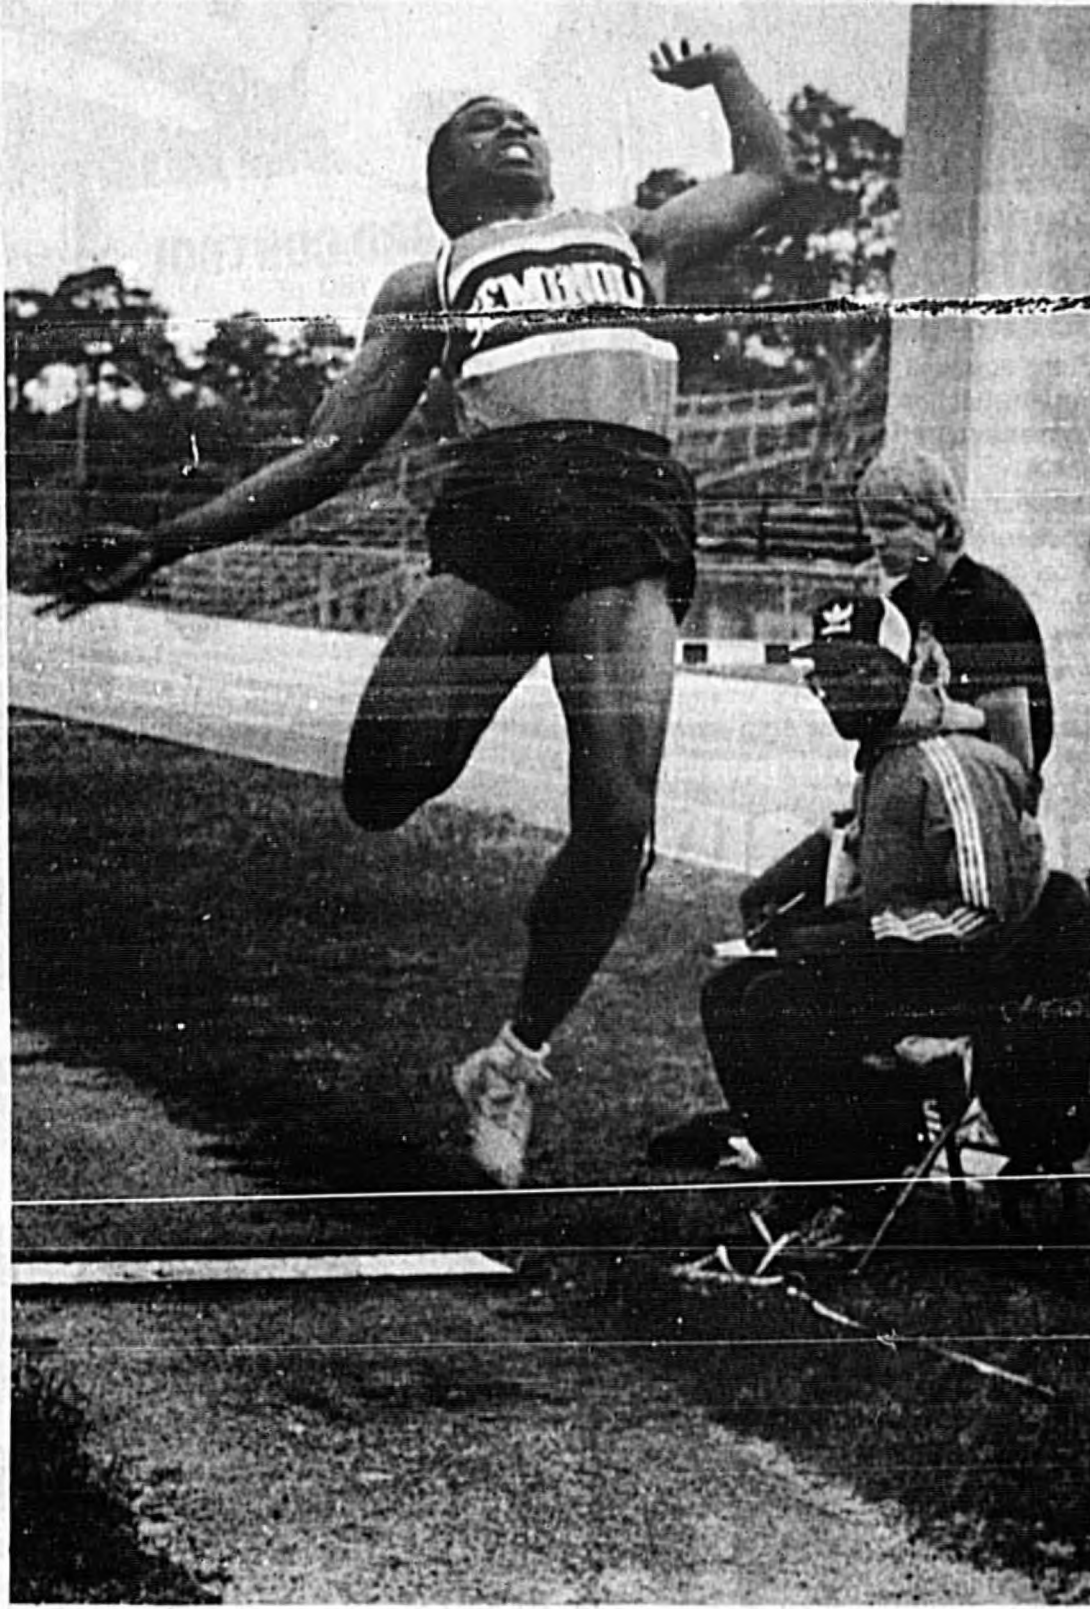

Leo Peterson came away with a pair of first places, a second and a third for the Fighting Seminoles. Peterson won the triple jump with a meet record 44-4 and cleared 5-8 to win the high jump. He also finished second in the long jump at 21-6 and third in the 100 at 10.3.

Another talented sophomore for Seminole, Alvin Jones, set a new meet record as he won the long jump with a leap of 21-10. Jones finished second in the triple jump at 42-5, second in the 220 dash at 23.1 and fourth in the 100 at 10.4.

Seminole also got fine performances from its sophomore distance runners as Billy Penick ran a 4:41.3 to win the mile and Larry Cosby turned in a 2:07.0 to win the 880. Penick was third in the 880 at 2:10.6 and Cosby placed second in the mile at 4:42.0.

The Tribe also came away with first place in all three relays. The team of Joe Holden, Peterson, Jones and Davis cruised to a 45.2 to win the 440 relay; Holden, Davis, Sonny Osborne and Cosby combined to win the mile medley relay at 3:55.8 and the team of Cosby, Osborne, Jackson and Mike Pearson won the mile relay at 3:44.9.

The only events not won by Seminole were the shot put (Lake Brantley's Conchelos won with a throw of 39-4), the pole vault (Brantley's Derdan cleared 10-0 to take first place) and the two mile run (Oviedo's Tim Newsom won with a time of 10:25.0).

Seminole's Alvin Jones strains for all he's worth en route to winning jump.

Gordon, Lady Rams Avenge Earlier Loss

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

After losing the Five Star Conference Freshman-Sophomore meet to Lake Howell on the last event, Lake Mary's Lady Rams came back strong Tuesday and claimed the Seminole County Freshman-Sophomore championship with 84 points, compared to 76 for second place Lake Howell.

Tanya Gordon led the way for Lake Mary as she won three events and finished second in one to total 26 points. After shuffling some people around the Rams also got some key points in event they didn't score in the Five Star meet.

"We nickel and dimed them (Lake Howell) to death," Lake Mary coach Mike Gibson said. "Tanya's (Gordon) 26 points was the key but it was a total team effort."

Behind Lake Howell, Lyman finished third with 66 1/2 points. Trinity Prep was fourth at 43. Seminole was fifth with 36, Lake Brantley sixth at 33 and Oviedo seventh at 14 1/2.

Gordon got the Lady Rams off to a good start in the field events as she won the long jump with an impressive leap of 17-6 1/2 which currently ranks second in the county honor roll. Anquennette Whack gave Lake Mary a big boost in the field events as she was second in the long jump (16-2), third in the discus (87-11) and fourth in the shot (29- 1/2).

Other field event points came from Mary Buggs who was fourth in the long jump at 15-4 1/2, Tracy Blakely who was sixth in the high jump at 4-6 and Tina Wade who was sixth in the shot at 26-0. After the field events, Lake Mary took a 24-10 lead over Lake Howell into the running events.

Gordon came away with first place finishes in the 220 yard dash with a time of 26.8 and the 330 hurdles with a 48.6 which tied the school record. She also recorded a second place in the 100 yard dash at 11.6.

Behind Gordon's 26 points, Whack added 16 for the Rams and freshman distance standout Sue Kingsbury scored 12. Along with her fine showing in the field events, Whack picked up a third place in the 100 (11.8). Kingsbury was second in the two mile (11:55.0), third in the mile (5:31.8) and fourth in the 880 (2:30.0).

Trinity Prep's talented distance duo of Adrienne Poltowicz and Katie Sams dominated the distance events Tuesday. Poltowicz, a sophomore, won the mile by six seconds over Lake Howell's Lisa Samocki with a time of 5:23.4. Poltowicz also won the two mile as she cruised to a 11:38.6. Sams, only a freshman, won the 880 at 2:25.6.

The Lady Saints also got a first place finish from Pam Johnson who ran a 63.8 to win the 440 dash and Trinity also won the mile relay with a time of 4:28.9.

Samocki was the leading point scorer for Lake Howell as she totaled 14 points including second place finishes in both the mile (5:29.4) and the 880 (2:26.0) and a fourth place in the two mile (12:16.3). Sheryl Brinkley scored 11 points for the Lady Hawks as she was second in the high jump (5-0), third in the 110 hurdles (18.2) and fifth in the 330 hurdles (53.5).

Seminole's top point scorer Tuesday was Sheila Crawford with 17. Crawford won the 100 yard dash at 11.5, was second in the 440 at 64.7 and second in the 220 at 27.3.

Lyman's top scorer was Gauvin with 16 1/2. She won the discus (97-0), was second in the shot (30-5), third in the 440 (68.7) and tied for sixth in the 100 (12.6).

Gebhart Leads The Way As Brantley Tips Tribe; Lake Mary Nears Crown

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots have a good young softball team. But, every young team also needs to have some senior leadership. For Lake Brantley, that leadership is provided by senior pitcher Dana Gebhart.

Gebhart came through with a clutch performance both in the field and at the bat Tuesday against Sanford's Lady Seminoles as the Lady Patriots claimed a 3-0 victory in prep softball action at Fort Mellon Field.

Along with pitching the shutout, Gebhart made two key fielding plays that saved runs and she also drove in the winning run for the Lady Patriots who improved to 5-7 overall and stand at 4-3 in the conference (Tuesday's game was a non-conference game). The Lady Patriots go up against Lyman today at 4 at Lyman High.

Seminole, which has lost six straight games, managed only six hits in the game. The Lady Tribe now stands at 4-8 overall and 1-6 in the conference. Seminole is back in action today at 4 as it hosts Oviedo.

The Lady Patriots took advantage of a Seminole error to score an unearned run in the top of the first inning. With one out, Sherry Asplen reached on the two-base error, Debbie Cook followed with a single to put runners on first and third and Gebhart followed with a single to right to drive in Asplen with what turned out to be the winning run.

Lake Brantley scored one run in the top of the second to take a 2-0 lead. With one out, Angie May singled and went to second on a throwing error. Holly Hagaman reached on an infield single to put runners on the corners and Marsha Daubert grounded into a fielder's choice. However, May scored on Daubert's grounder as Hagaman, who was forced at second, took Seminole second baseman Beth Nelson out of the play, enabling May to score without a throw.

Seminole threatened to score in the bottom of the second but Gebhart turned the Tribe away. With one out, Nelson singled to right center and went all the way to third on a Brantley error on Bert Detreville's infield grounder. Janet Hauck then bounced back to the mound and Nelson tried to go home. However, Gebhart tossed to catcher Kim Longhouser who hung tough and slapped the tag on Nelson for the second out of the inning. Angie Carpenter then hit into a force play for the third out.

Seminole threatened again in the third as it put runners on first and third with two outs. Katy Barbour then grounded to Asplen at first base, but Asplen was too far away to beat Barbour to the bag. The ever alert Gebhart though raced over to cover first and Asplen tossed to her for the third out of the inning.

The Lady Seminoles tried again in the fifth inning but again came away empty. Hauck led off with a single to left and Carpenter then singled up the middle. Hauck went to third on Carpenter's hit, then tried to go home as the outfielder overthrew third base. However, Gebhart was right where she was supposed to be, backing up third base and she fielded the overthrow and relayed to Longhouser who again stuck it out and put the tag on Hauck to end the threat.

Lake Brantley added an insurance run in the top of the seventh as Cook and Gebhart singled, Laura Davis drew a walk and Ashley Thomas walked with the bases loaded to force in Cook.

Nelson and pinch hitter Shelley Harley hit back-to-back singles with one out in the bottom of the seventh, but Brantley shortstop Kim Wain snagged Hauck's liner for the second out and Carpenter flew to Cook in leftfield for the final out.

Nelson had two hits to lead the Lady Seminoles at the plate while Hagaman was 3 for 3 and Gebhart and Cook added two hits each for the Lady Patriots.

Lake Mary.....6

DeLand.....2

Lake Mary exploded for five runs in the third inning en route to a 6-2 victory over DeLand at Lake Mary High Tuesday.

The victory moved the Lady Rams within one victory of their first Five Star Conference softball championship.

A victory over Seabreeze Thursday at Daytona Beach or a win over Mainland next Tuesday at home gives Lake Mary the title. The Lady Rams are 7-0 in the Five Star while Lake Howell and DeLand are both 5-2.

In the Lady Rams' big third-inning outburst, Lisa Santulli, who led the way with three hits, started the inning with a single. Reedy Metz grounded out but Liz Stone followed with a base hit and Karen DeSheller ripped another single to chase home the first run.

DeLand then intentionally walked Kim Averill to load the bases, but Beth Watkins spoiled the strategy by singling in two more runs. Lisa Gregory then lifted a fly ball to left for the fourth run and Lisa Simkins singled home Watkins to complete the outburst.

Lake Brantley's Dana Gebhart arches the ball toward a Tribe hitter.

Lake Howell.....12

Apopka.....3

Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks wasted no time in putting Apopka away Tuesday as they erupted for seven runs in the first inning and went on to a 12-3 victory over the Lady Darters in Five Star action at Lake Howell High.

The Lady Hawks, who have won eight straight, improved to 15-2 overall and 5-2 in the conference. Lake Howell hosts Lake Brantley in a conference game Thursday at 4 p.m.

Apopka took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first, but the Lady Hawks responded with seven runs in the bottom of the inning.

Jaudon Jonas drew a walk to lead off the bottom of the first for Lake Howell. Sandy Gillies followed with a single and Mary Johnson singled to drive in Jonas. Eileen Thiebaut drew a walk to load the bases and Ava Gardner followed with a two-run single, chasing home Gillies and Johnson. Thiebaut then scored on Grace Ley's RBI groundout and Gardner scored on a single off the bat of Mary Meier. Joy Weaver the singled up the middle and the ball went through the fielder's legs allowing Meier and Weaver to score for a 7-0 Lake Howell lead.

Lake Howell added single runs in both the second and third innings to take a 9-2 lead. Johnson drilled a solo home run, her third round tripper of the season, to account for the run in the second inning and Ley scored on a sacrifice fly by Cherie Green in the third.

The Lady Hawks made it 11-2 with two runs in the bottom of the fourth. Gillies led off with a double and Johnson followed with a triple, driving in Gillies and Johnson scored on an error on the same play.

Johnson led the way for the Hawks as she went 3 for 3 with four RBI and Gillies added two hits.

HAWK TALK — Gillies and Ley, both 17-year-old juniors, will be playing for the Orlando Rebels fast-pitch team over the summer. The Rebels are consistently one of the best women's fast-pitch teams in the nation and they won the national title two years ago.

In Tuesday's other Five Star Conference game, the Lyman Lady Greyhounds picked up a forfeit victory when the Spruce Creek bus broke down en route to Lyman High and the umpires declared a forfeit when the Lady Hawks didn't show up on time.

Lyman was scheduled to play Lake Brantley today, weather permitting.

Sunniland Rally Tops Rinker, 6-5

Sunniland rallied for three runs with two outs in the bottom of the fifth inning Tuesday to pull out a 6-5 victory over Rinker Materials in Sanford Little National League action at Westside Field.

Rinker broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the top of the third, one coming on Brian Grayson's single and the second scored on a Sunniland error. Rinker took a 5-1 lead with two more runs in the top of the fourth. Jon Bates left off with a single, Cornelius Ealy by a pitch and Darel Canada walked to load the bases. With two outs, Will Rena rapped a single to drive in both Bates and Ealy.

Sunniland bounced back with two runs in the bottom of the fourth, the first coming on Mike Merthie's RBI double and the second on a double off the bat of Robert Redden.

Merthie, who came on in relief, shut down Rinker in the top of the fifth and Sunniland rallied to win it in the bottom of the inning. With two outs, Gilbert Harris doubled and went to third on a passed ball. Benny Payne then drew a walk and Harris scored on a single by William Devlon. Merthie then stepped up and ripped a single to drive in Payne with the tying run and Devlon scored the winning run on a Rinker error.

Merthie, who was the winning pitcher, also led Sunniland at the plate as he was 3 for 3.

In other Little National League action Tuesday, Disabled American Veterans (D.A.V.) scored seven runs in the bottom of the fifth and went on to claim a 9-5 victory over Poppa Jay's at Fort Mellon Park.

Six of the seven runs came on either Poppa Jay's errors, walks or passed balls. The only hit of the seven-run outburst was Quincy Ticconi's single. D.A.V. had only two hits in the game. Ticconi's single and a solo homer by Kerry Wiggins in the second inning.

Poppa Jay's had six hits in the game, two each by Demetrius Presley and Maurice Fisher and one each by Leo Ford and Vernon Miller.

Arbitrator Rules In Favor Of Players' Reinstatement

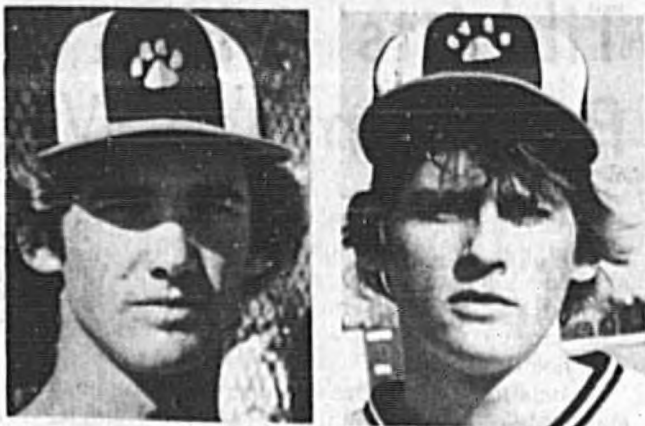

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Willie Wilson once circled May 15 on his calendar and hoped. Now the former American League batting champion can circle that date and know.

Wilson and former teammate Jerry Martin got a favorable ruling from arbitrator Richard Bloch Tuesday on a grievance filed in their behalf by the Major League Players Association. Both players should be reinstated May 15 if they live up to the terms of their original one-year, drug-related suspensions from Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Wilson, Martin and former Kansas City teammates Willie Aikens and Vida Blue all served about three months in federal prisons this winter after pleading guilty to federal drug charges. Kuhn slapped the players with additional one-year suspensions from baseball, subject to review and possible dissolution May 15.

"I'm happy I guess," Wilson said. "It's better than not knowing. I was looking at the worst — a year — and anything less would be a surprise. May 15 is nice — nicer than the other May 15. There will be no speculation now."

"The system was fair ... but it's a good thing we have an arbitrator."

Darrin Reichle ...slugs 4th homer
Eric Shogren ...game-winning hit

Shogren, Reichle Lead Lions To 6th Straight Victory

Oviedo's Lions moved within one victory of their third straight Orange Belt Conference baseball championship Tuesday by rallying for seven runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to pull out a 9-8 victory over Bishop Moore at Oviedo High.

The game was called on account of darkness by umpire Dick Dehler after the Oviedo rally.

"It was a wild one," said Oviedo coach Howard Mable. "Our defense was terrible (five errors), but we must have done something right to come back like that."

Oviedo, 13-8 and 8-1, holds a one-half game lead over Osceola in the Orange Belt. The Lions have won six straight games and a win Friday against 0-8 St. Cloud gives them the conference title.

Oviedo started in fine fashion Tuesday as Eric Shogren led off the first inning with a double down the left-field line. Two batters later, Darrin Reichle powered his fourth homer of the year over the 365-marker in left center for a 2-0 lead.

After that two-spot, though, the Lions bats went to sleep while Bishop Moore used the five Oviedo errors to pick up two runs each in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Mable pulled starter Jeff Greene in favor of Reichle in the fifth inning the big 6-5 righthander pitched the rest of the way to pick up his fourth win in seven decisions.

Shogren, who had two hits to boost his average over .400, started the seventh with a walk. Lester Cabrera singled and was replaced by pinch-runner Kevin Kewley. Greene struck out, but Reichle came through with a double to chase home Shogren and pare the lead to 8-3.

Dave Wood then walked to load the bases and Larry Grayson hit a sacrifice fly to right field to plate Kewley. With two out, Pat McCartney and Craig Duncan each walked, the latter forcing home a run.

Junior Mark Hofmann followed with a two-run single to pull Oviedo within one run and Shogren, batting for the second time, walloped a triple just over the center fielder's glove to apply the clincher to the 9-8 victory.

Rams A Hit With Tuttle

Metz Climbs Back To Join Lake Mary .300 Club

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Lake Mary baseball coach Allen Tuttle doesn't have to look far for a .300 hitter. He has eight of them in his starting lineup.

Which is the prime reason the Rams are challenging for the Five Star Conference championship in just their first season in the league. And, challenging with just one senior — shortstop-pitcher Barry Hysell — in the starting 10.

"It's unreal, isn't it?" said Tuttle, who has been pinching himself ever since he took over for Don Smith as coach last summer. "I thought we'd be a pretty good team, but not this good."

And the Rams are good. They are deadlocked with Apopka at 11-2 for first place in the Five Star Conference. Prior to the season, all the experts figured the Blue Darters to be a shoo-in for the conference title.

Combine that 11-2 league mark with a 5-3 non-conference slate and the Rams are 16-5 overall. Today, weather permitting, they were scheduled to play Mainland at home.

The hitting, however, still continues to amaze Tuttle. "Every time I think one of them might fall below .300, he goes out and has a great game or two to get back up," he said. "Kevin Hill fell below for a couple games, then he goes five for six and he's over .300 again."

Two precocious freshmen — Ryan Lisle (.360) and Shane Letterio (.315) — are the rally starters from the first and second spots in the lineup. Third-place hitter Scott Underwood (.385), cleanup-man Mike Schmit (.306) and fifth-place stroker Rodney Metz (.306) have been solid clutch hitters and good RBI men all season.

The level doesn't fall off at the sixth, seventh and eighth spots either. In fact, it gets better. Hysell, the steady senior influence, is batting .353 while seventh-place swatter Ron Natherson is hitting .358. Hill, with his .309 average, is batting eighth.

The only non-.300 club member is Donald Grayson. "And he's not a ninth-place hitter," said Tuttle about the Sanford strongman. Grayson is hampered every year by coming out late because of basketball season. The 6-2 powerman has put 100 points on his average in the past two weeks to pull up to .233 — and he will climb higher as he gets his stroke down.

Probably the most remarkable Ram comeback, though, has been catcher Metz. The blond-haired junior was in the pits during the first-third of the season. He was 0-19 (and February) before getting a hit against Winter Park. At one point, the Ram backstop had just two hits in 25 at bats. That's a cold .080.

"I think C.J. (Metz) was too tight at the beginning of the year," said Tuttle. "We had him batting fourth and he was pressing. We moved him to eighth and he started hitting. Then he went to fifth and he's still hitting."

Metz has climbed back from obscurity to .306. He has 13 runs batted in to go with his average. "And, he's come through with some clutch hits, too," added Tuttle, "along with doing a good job defensively."

Making Metz' job easy behind the mask has been the right arm of Schmit. The sophomore sensation is getting to the point where he's almost taken for granted. Give him the ball and chalk up a victory.

Schmit has appeared in 11 games and has come away with 10 wins and one save. Although not yet overpowering, the wily 10th grader has kept the opposition off balance with a dandy curveball along with a good-enough fastball.

MUNSON TAKES OVER — Scott "Thurman" Munson has taken over the batting leadership in the county with a .462 average. The stocky Lake Howell junior slapped three hits against Lyman Monday to slip past Lake Brantley sophomore Mike Beams.

Beams had one of his few hitless days Monday when he went 0-for-4 against DeLand. Beam is hitting .458. Although he fell down a bit average-wise, the rifle-armed center fielder took over the lead in runs batted in with 23.

Lake Howell catcher Bill Lang is second in ribbies with 22 and first in homers with six. Beams has five taters while Oviedo's Darrin Reichle has four.

Lake Howell sophomore Jeff Poindexter continues to lead in hits (29) and runs (28). Poindexter is batting .392, too. Seminole senior Steve Dennis has all but wrapped up the base stealing title with 32 thefts. He has not been caught.

In other non-action, the Seminole-Lyman game set for tonight at Sanford Memorial Stadium has been postponed because of the rain, according to Seminole coach Bobby Lundquist. It will be played Thursday at 7 p.m.

Carlton, Campbell Blank Braves

The Phillies were criticized last year for letting Steve Carlton stay in games too long, sapping the ace left-hander in the late innings.

The criticism didn't fall on deaf ears, as Philadelphia Manager Paul Owens pulled Carlton after seven innings in Tuesday's season opener. Carlton was working on a two-hit shutout, which Bill Campbell preserved for a 5-0 victory over the Braves at Atlanta.

"All we want from our starters this early in the season is seven innings, especially when it was as damp and cool as it was tonight," Owens said. "This time of year, we go mainly by the number of pitches thrown. Usually Steve would have 100 or so after seven innings, but tonight he threw only 83. Still, we figured he'd gone long enough."

Carlton, 39, got his 301st career victory and struck out six to raise his major-league career record to 3,715. He allowed a two-out single by Dale Murphy in the first inning and a one-out single by Rafael Ramirez in the fifth and walked only one.

While 83 pitches don't seem like a lot, it was far too many as far as the Braves were concerned.

"It was just a case of too much Steve Carlton tonight," Atlanta Manager Joe Torre said. "You never look good when you have a guy like that pitching against you."

The Phillies broke out on top in a hurry when Mike Schmidt belted his 390th career homer high up against the center field wall in the first inning off loser Len Barker.

Philadelphia added two runs in the fifth when Ivan DeJesus scored on a single by Len Matuszek and Juan Samuel, who had reached base after being hit by a Barker pitch, also scored on the play when right fielder Claudell Washington overthrew third base. The final two runs scored on an RBI double by Bo Diaz in the sixth and a sacrifice fly by Garry Maddox in the eighth.

Cubs 5, Giants 3

At San Francisco, Jody Davis' two-run seventh inning double off loser Mark Davis snapped a 2-2 tie and Lee Smith, the NL's top reliever last year with 29 saves, bailed Dick Ruthven out of an eighth inning jam to lift Chicago. Keith Moreland and Ron Cey had solo homers for the Cubs to power Dick Ruthven to the win.

Cardinals 11, Dodgers 7

At Los Angeles, Darrell Porter collected three straight hits, including a homer and triple, and keyed a five-run fourth inning to lead St. Louis. The Cardinals knocked out Fernando Valenzuela in the fourth inning, tagging him for six runs on eight hits. Danny Cox, who relieved starter Dave LaPoint in the third, picked up the victory while Bruce Sutter got the save. Terry Whitfield hit a three-run homer for the Dodgers.

Expos 4, Astros 2

At Houston, Andre Dawson tripled in the winning run and Charlie Lea pitched seven strong innings for Montreal. Lea allowed five hits and one run while striking out four and walking four. Jeff Reardon pitched 1 2-3 innings for the save. Pete Rose went 2-for-5 with two singles in his Montreal debut, leaving him eight short of 4,000 career hits. Astros' starter Joe Nickro took the loss. Tim Lincecum had a single in five at bats for the Expos.

Padres 5, Pirates 1

At San Diego, rookie Carmelo Martinez hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning. Kevin Reynolds added a solo shot and Rich Gossage pitched two innings of hitless relief for the Padres. Marvell Wynne had all three Pittsburgh hits off winner Eric Show. Rick Rhoden was the loser.

If there's a better way to open the season, the Kansas City Royals want to hear it.

Royals 4, Yankees 2

The Royals began the 1984 campaign with two victories Tuesday. Onix Conception belted Ron Guidry's first pitch of the 1984 season for a home run, lifting Bud Black and the Royals to a 4-2 decision over the New York Yankees.

Later, the Royals learned that an arbitrator has ruled outfielder Willie Wilson should be eligible to return from suspension on May 15.

Black allowed only two hits, struck out three and walked one in his first-ever opening day assignment before giving way to Dan Quisenberry in the eighth inning. Quisenberry, the 1983 Fireman of the Year with 45 saves, set down the Yankees on one hit over the final two innings for the save.

Conception gave Kansas City a 1-0 lead when he drove Guidry's opening pitch over the left field wall for his first major league homer. Frank White followed with a one-out double and Steve Balboni, facing his former teammates for the first time, slapped an opposite field single to right to score White.

Darryl Motley stroked Guidry's first pitch of the fourth inning to the left field wall, where it bounded off the glove of a leaping Lou Piniella for a triple, and he came home on a sacrifice fly by Slaught.

Tigers 8, Twins 1

At Minneapolis, Jack Morris continued his mastery over his hometown team by striking out eight and permitting just five hits over seven innings and Darrell Evans hit a three-run homer to lead the Tigers. Morris, a St. Paul native, is 12-2 lifetime against the Twins, having won the last 10 meetings.

Indians 9, Rangers 1

At Arlington, Texas, Julio Franco's three-run triple capped a six-run second inning that helped Rick Sutcliffe coast to his second straight season-opening victory. Sutcliffe was supported by a 12-hit attack — six of which came in the first two innings off loser Charlie Hough.

A's 8, Brewers 5

At Oakland, Calif., Jim Gantner's throwing error with two out in the bottom of the ninth allowed Rickey Henderson to score the winning run, capping a four-run ninth. Milwaukee's Don Sutton had a no-hitter for five innings but tired in the sixth. Henderson homered into the left-field bleachers for the A's first hit.

Has Beens Edge Taylor Trucking

The Has Beens came up with two runs in the sixth inning Monday night to edge Taylor Trucking, 5-4, in Sanford Men's Softball at Pinehurst Field.

In other games, the Tim Raines Connection drilled the Tennessee Thumpers, 13-1, and Session Time whipped S&H Fabricating, 17-10.

David Price, Gary Belcher and Mark Bartlett each had two hits for the Has Beens. Price and Belcher drove in the tying and winning runs respectively in the sixth inning.

Fred Aiken and Billy Lee led Taylor Trucking with two singles and Tim Parris chipped in a double.

In the Connection win, Rick Grant socked two homers and a double to lead the way. Ned Raines had a homer and two singles. Levi Raines added a home run and a double while Sam Raines contributed two singles as did Fred Washington.

Carl Chapman and Richard Sharrow paced the Thumpers with two hits apiece.

Session Time relieved two singles each from Tracy Holloman and Gilbert Strawter en route to its win over Fabricating. Wayne Crocker and Ron Ryan accounted for two RBI each.

Dave Perry led Fabricating with three singles.

Tibbitts' 6 Hits Pace Amoco Win

Christy Tibbitts may be one of the better pitchers around, but she also swings a pretty hefty bat. Tibbitts stroked six hits and drove in four runs while pitching a five-hitter and walking none to lead Winter Springs Lake Howell Amoco to a 16-4 rout of Lake Mary in Seminole Softball Club Eagles Division action.

Tibbitts had five singles and one double against Lake Mary while Lomicia Whitaker added a single, two doubles and three RBI. Katy Mike had three singles and drove in two runs and Caroline Chavis drove in three runs with a pair of singles. Chavis also played errorless ball at shortstop where she handled nine chances.

Tibbitts hurled a three-hitter and walked only one as Lake Howell Amoco upended Forest City II Seacoast Supply, 14-2. Mike led the 17-run Amoco outburst with a single, home run and five RBI. Whitaker added two singles, a homer and three RBI while Mikki Eby and Tibbitts had three hits apiece and Janie Myers and Chavis two hits each. Myers, the team's new third baseman, also came up with several key defensive plays.

In other Eagles Division action, Forest City I A.D. Enterprises picked up a pair of victories, 24-2 over Longwood II Bushor Plumbing and 10-2 over Forest City II Seacoast Supply.

Against busior Plumbing, Nicole Dunn smacked a single, double and triple and drove in five runs to lead a 18-hit A.D. Enterprises offensive output. Reedy Metz added two singles and three RBI. Katy Davis was 3 for 4 with three RBIs while Charrisse Potts, Tricia Noel and Nicky Burke had one hit and two RBI apiece.

A.D. Enterprises claimed its fourth straight victory as they trimmed Seacoast Supply, Nicky Burke allowed just three hits, struck out one and walked two to pick up the pitching victory. Monica Frakes was 3 for 4 with three RBI and Erin Higgins was 2 for 3 with a triple to lead A.D. Enterprises at the plate. Tami Northam came up with a clutch single with the bases loaded to drive in two runs. Tracy Maguire had two hits and Tracy Goodrow had a triple and two RBI. Tara Rinehart led Seacoast Supply with a single and one RBI.

Winter Springs II Trivison's Chevron also claimed two victories in Eagles Division play, 8-0 over Forest City III Rinker Materials and 9-7 over Semoran I.

Against Rinker Materials, Kim Miner pitched a three-hit shutout and Donna Griggs had three hits and two RBI to lead the way for Trivison's Chevron, Kim Soles added two hits and Cathy Beigman two RBI for Trivison's.

Against Semoran, Trivison's scored three times in the bottom of the fifth to erase a 7-6 Semoran lead. Griggs and Karen Cook had two RBI each for Trivison's Chevron and Miner scattered six hits to pick up the pitching win.

Rinker Materials split its two games last week as it lost to Trivison's and defeated Casselberry, 9-4. Cindy Staggs led Rinker at the plate in the victory over Casselberry with three hits and three RBI while Dawn Gebhart drilled a two-run triple and also picked up the pitching victory. Leslie Schroeffel and Gina Bassile played excellent defense to keep Rinker on top.

In Hawks Division play, Kristen Winger, Michelle Karr and Sherry Adams had three hits each to lead Forest City Loehman's Plaza to a 19-2 shelling of Longwood Rinker Construction. Winger had a single, triple and homer while Karr had a single, double and homer and Adams added three singles to back the five-hit pitching of Mary Hungerford.

In Starling Division action, Renee Sanville tossed a three-hit shutout and helped her own cause with a single and two RBI as Forest City I Goodings rolled to a 10-0 victory over the Forest City II Gators, Christine Risse had a double, home run and two RBI and Courtney Finley added a double for Goodings.

In other action, Jaimie Linn smashed a three-run homer and Mandy Mossman collected three hits to lead Salvaggio's Girls over Fern Park Auto, 11-7. Melonie Schrupp, Nicole Freda, Jennifer Forston and Kristen Frisbey added two hits each for Salvaggio's Girls and Ashley Mossman picked up the win. — Chris Piater

Porter Drives Firebird To End-Of-Month Championship

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — LeRoy Porter drove the Lewis Green Firebird to victory in the 50-lap End of the Month Model Championship on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

The extra-distance/extra-cash championship event for the thundercar division went to Doc McKinney. Driving the Carland Used Auto Parts Camaro, street stocker David Snodgrass "whopped it" on the flying Fords which had found their way to victory lane many times in recent weeks.

After leading every lap, Milo Vidic, who has been scoring runner-up finishes on a regular basis, finally scored a big win over a full field of four cylinder machines. Troy Maloney and Robert Ingris won the spectator races.

After the Bob's Space Racers crew completely rebuilt the team's late model which was destroyed when hit and flipped on its lid over a month ago, the new No. 96 was extremely quick right off the trailer.

So after turning fast time, Jack Cook led the 50-lapper for the first five tours, while Porter and Frank "Papa"

Stock Car Racing

Smurf" Wood were battling for second.

But as Porter moved up on the leader, he noticed a steady stream of water pouring out the back of Cook's car. So Porter pointed it out to the officials and the yellow caution flag was waived.

Cook, whose high engine temperature caused the spill, restarted last.

With 45 laps left do his thing, Cook was up to second spot at half-way, but his engine finally gave up, forcing him out of the race.

Trailing Porter at the finish were Wood, Bruce Lawrence in the extra-sharp appearing Airboats of Naples Firebird, Greg Fremming and Duke Woodard.

Spring For Art Show Set For Juniors

The Seventh Annual "Spring For Art Show" applications are now available. The Junior Art Show, sponsored by the Sanford Seminole Art Association and the Sanford Plaza Merchants Association is for grades one through 12.

The show will be held on Saturday, May 12, on the sidewalk at the Sanford Plaza. The show will be judged by Dr. Grace Barr Johnson, art professor, at U.C.F. Ribbons and $500 in prize money will be awarded to winners in three age groups.

For more information or entry blanks, call Betty Reagan at 322-8177 or write to "Spring For Art," 228BB Rt. 1, Sanford, Fl.

Comedy At SCC

The Fine Arts Theatre of Seminole Community College will present the comedy "Last Days at the Dixie Girl Cafe," by Florida playwright Robin Sander, on Wednesday, April 4 through Saturday, April 7 at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday, April 8 at 2:00 p.m. Performances will take place in the Fine Arts Theatre on the campus in Sanford.

A hilarious comedy, "Last Days at the Dixie Girl Cafe" deals with the closing of a small town Georgia cafe and the outrageous reactions of the zany characters to the event and the pressures of living in a modern age.

Ticket prices are $4.00 General Admission and $3.00 Senior Citizen/student. For reservations and information contact the Box Office at 843-7001 extension 399.

Women's Firearm Course

The Office of Community Instructional Services at Seminole Community College will offer a twelve hour class "Firearm Safety for Women." Class will meet Wednesday, April 11 and Thursday, April 12 from 7:00-9:00 p.m. The final class will be held Saturday, April 14 at the SCC Range from 9:00-5:00 p.m.

The course outline includes the following: When to Use a Gun, Safety Requirements, Legal Limitations, Nomenclature and Maintenance and Range Qualifications.

The cost of the course is $15.00. Students will register in the registration office at Seminole Community College. Students will be responsible for 60 rounds of ammunition.

For further information, please call the Office of Community Instructional Services at Seminole Community College, 323-1450, ext. 304 from Orlando 843-7001, ext. 304.

Florida Special Olympics

Florida Special Olympics will be holding their District summer competition at the University of Central Florida on Saturday, April 7. (Rain Date: April 14.)

Approximately 1500 mentally retarded athletes from six counties will be competing in the games. Events will include track and field, swimming, volleyball and soccer.

Opening ceremonies, with the Parade of Athletes, will begin at 9:30 a.m.

For information, call Debora Leisy, 849-2288.

Missing 1954 Classmates

The Seminole High School class of 1954 is planning the 30th class reunion for June 15-16. The reunion committee has been unable to locate the following classmates: Stanley Arthur, Gwen Coppenberger, Randall Ferrell, Carrie Redfield, Lynn Sellers and Walter Wiederhold.

If anyone has any information on these persons, please contact Grace Marie Stinecoper, 322-4381.

GED Tests Offered

The GED tests leading to a Florida High School diploma will be offered at Seminole Community College on April 16, 17 and 18. Eligibility for taking these tests must be completed by April 6.

GED Test Orientation will be held on April 12, at 4 and 5 p.m. Students qualified to take these tests are encouraged to attend this class on "How to Take and Pass the GED Exams."

For information call SCC and ask for the GED office.

Scholarships Available

The Navy Wives Clubs of America, Orlando #267, is offering the annual Jane Huey Scholarships to eligible dependents of Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard Enlisted personnel (E-1 to E-9) active duty, retired or deceased.

The deadline for applying is May 1. For applications, call Mrs. Strickland, 862-1219.

Cook Of The Week

Ex Navy Wife Recalls Exotic Road To Morocco

By Doris Dietrich
PEOPLE Editor

After 22 years in the service in such exotic places as French Morocco in North Africa to the paradise islands of Hawaii, Sanford is now home for June McFadden, her husband, David, and their family.

June collects recipes, cookbooks and antiques from around the world. She talks about her travels and always remembers special foods from each place the family was stationed.

She was especially impressed with the mint tea poured over rock sugar and served in tiny glasses in Morocco. But her favorite Moroccan cuisine is Couscous, a highly seasoned lamb stew. The recipe ingredients are not available in the area, she points out with disappointment.

After David retired as a U.S. Navy chief petty officer in 1962, the family lived in Lakehurst, N.J. where he taught naval science at Admiral Farragut Academy until 1978 when they moved to Sanford.

Their daughter, Sharon, was in the navy stationed at Orlando Naval Training Center. Another son, Tommy, also graduated from the center and their oldest son, David, is a navy CPO stationed in Maryland. Daughter Colleen is employed at Atlantic Bank, Sanford. June said they kept returning to the area for graduation at the naval center.

It was Lucy Fitzgerald who suggested the McFaddens move to Sanford. While stationed in Hawaii, the McFaddens met Lucy and Ed Fitzgerald of Sanford and they became close friends.

The family became involved. "I like being involved in the community," June said.

She is immediate past Royal Matron of Seminole Amaranth Court #59, Casselberry, a member of Seminole Chapter No. 2 Order of the Eastern Star, on the Rainbow Girls advisory board and a member of the United Methodist Women, First United Methodist Church, Sanford. June also works in several downtown Sanford stores to fill in when there is a need.

Formerly from New Jersey, June is a past president of the Navy Wives Club and was active in the Chief Petty Officers Wives Club. She was president of Tom's River Chapter of Deborah Hospital, Browns Mills, N.J., a volunteer auxiliary to raise funds for charity patients.

Although June loves entertaining and preparing fancy foods, some which she shares with Herald readers, she says David's favorite foods are meat loaf and his mom's Molasses Cookies.

HAWAIIAN BARBECUED PORK SPARERIBS

2 pounds spareribs, sliced long (5 to 6 inches)
6 tablespoons soyu
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 tablespoon mustard prepared or dry
1 tablespoon corn starch
1 tablespoon bourbon whiskey
3 cloves garlic, crushed
1 small joint ginger root, crushed
Mix together with spoon brown sugar, mustard and corn starch. Stir in soyu and whiskey. Add garlic and ginger.
Pour sauce over spareribs and soak thoroughly an hour or longer.

Broil on well-greased broiler about 20 minutes on each side. Pour sauce over spareribs when they've been turned once.

Or, bake in greased, uncovered roaster with sauce and a little added water at 350 degrees F for 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Or, fry in salad oil, bacon grease, or butter. When browned add sauce. If more gravy is desired, add water and thicken with 1 tablespoon cornstarch.

Or, for superior, fingerlicking eating, charcoal broil, serving with large napkins. Men to grills!

Salad with Dressing

MAUNA LOA DRESSING
¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup pineapple juice
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
2 tablespoons catsup
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
Combine all ingredients in a jar and shake well before serving. Will keep refrigerated up to two weeks. (Makes ¾ cup, 43 calories per 1 tablespoon).

June McFadden likes entertaining

Rub salt and pepper, 1½ teaspoons, each cut fresh tarragon, parsley in cavities of six cleaned chickens about 1 pound each (or Rock Cornish hens). Rub skins with powdered saffron. Brown, turning in deep pan ½ cup butter, 1 cup olive oil. Add four cups canned chicken broth, ½ cup cut parsley, 2 each large bay leaves, cloves, ½ cup lemon juice, ¼ cup each small green, unpitted Spanish Olives, brown, unpitted Mediterranean olives. Cover. Simmer 1 hour or until chickens are tender.

Remove birds to heated serving dish; skim off ¾ cup fat; reduce sauce one fourth. Top chickens with two cups more green olives, 1 cup more brown olives, 4 pickled lemons. Serve sauce on side for chickens and dipping breast — preferably the flat Arabic kind (Italian or French bread is just as good). Serves 6 people.

PICKLED LEMONS Moroccan style

Cut four large lemons into three pieces each - wedge, slices or chunks. Put into deep glass jar. Add 2½ cups wine vinegar, ½ cup olive oil, one teaspoon coarse ground salt, seven coarse-crushed peppercorns. Cover. Refrigerate two days drain.

NEW JERSEY TOMATO SOUP CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon powdered cloves
¼ teaspoon cinnamon or mace
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup seedless raisins
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, (well beaten)
1 can (1½ cups) tomato soup
Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and spices. Wash and cut raisins. (Roll in a small amount of flour mixture). Cream shortening; add sugar gradually; then eggs, mixing thoroughly. Add flour mixture alternately with soup; stir until smooth. Fold in raisins. Pour into two greased and floured 8 inch layer cake pans; bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 35 minutes, or until done. Frost as desired. 8 good size servings.

Two letters not on any ordinary phone dial are "Q" and "Z".

Sertoma Tourney To Help Area Charities

Area residents are invited to join WFTV channel 9 assistant sports director Glen Dehmer when he hosts the Seventh Annual Winter Springs Sertoma Golf Tournament at Big Cypress Golf Course, state Road 434, Winter Springs, on Sunday, April 8.

The tournament, sponsored by the Winter Springs Sertoma Club will begin at 7:45 a.m. for check-in, tee off, at 8:30 a.m. Included in the day will be a luncheon at Sunshine Park.

A $35.00 tournament donation includes the green fees, carts, and baggage. Luncheon cost for non-golfers is $5.00. Golfers may either arrange their own foursome, or be paired up to pro-shop. Full handicap for golfers with handicap, those without established handicaps will be given a maximum of 25 for men, 30 for women. Trophies and door prizes will be awarded.

Net proceeds raised from the event will be used for Sertoma charities and community projects. The Sertoma, a civic club whose main function is to help the hearing impaired, raises funds to help many charitable organizations, including BSA and assists needy families in emergencies and provides hearing aides to those who cannot afford them.

For more information on the tournament, contact Sertoma chairman of the board George Petsos at 831-4321. Reserations are needed for the tournament.

The Longwood Woman's Club has sponsored a Spring Fashion Show/Luncheon for April 12 at the Sweetwater Country Club.

Luncheon begins at 11:30 a.m., tickets are $12.00 each and may be obtained from any club member.

Congratulations to Charles and Sharon Crowder of Longwood. The Crowders have recently celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary. Charles, retired from the J.S. Air Force, is regional vice-president for the A.L. Williams Co., and Sharon is a division manager at the same company. They have three children and one grandchild.

In a recent Social Studies Project Fair held at Rock Lake Middle School, the following students were the overall winners:

Sixth grade: first place, Bryan Cole; second, Ryan Taylor; third, Karen Stone; fourth, Vanessa Minns.

Seventh grade: first place, Mary Hungerford; second, Kristen Conway; third, Allison Reynolds.

Eighth grade: first place, Chris Cornelius; second, Nick Djuric; third, Lee Alexander.

Grand prize winner was Shannon Warholle.

Rock Lake winners in the Seminole County Social Studies Fair were Mary Hungerford, winning second place in the individual project competition; Kirsten Patrick, first place winner in the presentation; debate winners were Debbie Bray, Nick Djuric, Katie Kruger, and Andy Reckles, taking first place.

Other winners from the school were: Donald Nestor, taking second place in the media presentation; Chad Driscoll, second place in extemporaneous essay; Angela Bowen, Claire Booth, Carolyn Perry and David Sherydan winning second place in the current events bowl; Stacie Hays, Courtney Cunningham, Stephanie Furnell, Zobeida Diaz, and Rachel Pawlowski winning second place in the dramatic music presentation, while David Rhyme took third place in the same event.

In the "Reconstruction of Greek Ideals," students from pod 6a dressed in authentic Greek Chitons, ate traditional Greek cuisine, participated in Greek Olympics, and even watched as Greek folkdancers demonstrated the ancient dances of the times past.

Students worked very hard in preparing for the all day event, with some acting in a play, while others assumed the roles of famous Greeks and participated in a mock press conference. Still others pantomimed Greek myths and researched individual gods and assumed the role of that god to tell the audience something about themselves.

Reminders: The Longwood Woman's Club will sponsor its Eighth Annual "Old Times Reception" on Sunday, April 8, at their clubhouse, 150 W. Church Street.

The reception will give a time for all the longtime residents of the city to meet with one another and talk over old times. New residents are also invited. The reception will be held from 3-5 p.m., refreshments will be served.

The Sweetwater Oaks Garden Club will meet at the First Baptist Church of Sweetwater on Monday, April 9, at 9:30 a.m.

Club members Judy Graham, Gayle Anderson, Helen Davis, Arlis Greiling, Miriam Ethier, and Millie Sansoucie will submit floral arrangements to be judged by two members of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, District 7.

The two judges will be Mrs. Becky Rose of Maitland and Mrs. Wilma Paulauskas of Orlando.

SCC Leisure Time Classes

The Leisure Time Program at Seminole Community College announces that the following classes will begin during April. "These classes are self-supported by student fees at no expense to the taxpayer," according to Fay C. Brake, Coordinator of the Program. Registrations are being accepted in the Registrars Office at SCC.

BREAD DOUGH ART (evening class) — Involves making bread dough ornaments, bread baskets, unique plaques, and novelty items for the kitchen, bathroom or any room.

WU SHU KUNG FU (evening class) — Kung Fu is the oldest known martial art and as such has given birth to or influenced many other styles of martial arts. The purpose of Kung Fu is not only self-defense but also physical and mental discipline.

ADVANCED WU SHU KUNG FU (evening class) — Before a student joins this class, he/she must have taken beginning Wu Shu Kung Fu. Advanced techniques will be taught.

INTRODUCTION TO PERSONAL COMPUTERS (afternoon class) — Intended for those interested in learning about how computers work, differences between different models, selection of systems and devices, what small computers can do, and programs available. This course does not include programming which is covered in a separate course.

PROGRAMMING YOUR PERSONAL

COMPUTER (afternoon and evening classes) — This introduction to the features of the "BASIC" language, the most popular programming language for small computers, covers the fundamentals of writing, editing, and running programs. Demonstrations and lectures provide guidance, class members must have computers available outside the classroom to practice and complete assigned work.

INTERMEDIATE PERSONAL COMPUTER PROGRAMMING (evening class) — A course for personal computers users who know the fundamentals of the "BASIC" programming language and wish to learn other features. Included are details of modular and structural programming, use of defined functions and sub routines, and complex program development. Assistance is given to class members in the creation of their own programs.

OIL & ACRYLIC PAINTING (morning class) — Basic to advanced techniques in acrylic and oil painting concentrating on use of color, composition and perspective as applied to portrait, figure, still life and landscape.

RESIDENTIAL SWIMMING POOL MAINTENANCE (evening class) — A comprehensive course to provide the pool owner with knowledge of pool water chemistry, pumps, filters and other equipment, plus trouble-shooting techniques.

Experts Discredit Myths On School Bus Seat Belts

DEAR ABBY: Who says that there aren't seat belts in school buses? Federal law requires seat belts in all school vans and small minibuses manufactured after April 1, 1977.

Dear Abby

Although seat belts are not mandated for larger school buses, any school district that wishes to equip its larger buses with seat belts is free to do so. In the Greenburgh School district in New York, seat belts have been on large school buses since 1979. Over 80 percent of the children use their belts. Bus drivers report fewer disciplinary problems. And they haven't had a single incident of a seat belt being used as a weapon.

But most important, many children have for the first time started using seat belts in their family cars. They have learned an important safety habit that is reinforced on the school buses twice a day, 183 days a year.

By the way, the letter that you recently published gave your readers the false impression that seat belts on school buses are dangerous. Such arguments were discredited years ago.

ROBERT A. BURNS, M.D. DALTON, GA.

we'd never use them as weapons!
BECKY FAST AND DANIELLE TORNELLO, MIDDLE SCHOOL STUDENTS FROM ARDSLEY, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: For 30 years I have crashed vehicles and studied roadway collisions and injuries. More than 20 of these years were spent at UCLA's schools of engineering and medicine. Included in these studies were dozens of this country's worst school bus and motor coach accidents.

A few facts:
1. In order to reduce the number of accidents, school bus drivers are generally required to have special driver training and to use seat belts.

2. If any vehicle falls into the water, the seat-belted occupant generally remains conscious. It only takes 3-4 seconds to unlatch a belt.

3. School buses are generally quite safe and accidents cause a small number of deaths; however, a large number of injuries do occur every year. If you doubt this, just ask the oral surgeons and plastic surgeons' associations who have official records on the number of children injured in school bus accidents.

4. Seat belts can't easily be used to "knock out each other's (students') brains." They are lightweight and are relatively short in length. School books are 10 to 20 times heavier.

But most important — seat belts do work, and the school years are the best time to form good habits. How can we expect adults to use seat belts to reduce injuries if we don't teach our children to use them on school buses?

ARNOLD W. SIEGEL, ACCIDENT RESEARCH AND SAFETY ENGINEER, ENCINO, CALIF.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Slow Heart Rate Puzzles Reader

DEAR DR. LAMB — I had a heart attack six months ago, resulting in about 33 percent damage to my left ventricle. My recovery is coming along fine and my doctor is pleased with my progress.

My question concerns exercise. My doctor recommends walking, which I do three or four times a week. I usually walk two or five miles at a time. However, my heartbeat never gets higher than 70 to 80 beats per minute. I've always heard that heart and respiratory exercise needs to make the heart beat above 120 beats a minute. In order to make the heart stronger, if this is true, how can my walking do me any good when I don't raise my heart rate?

I have no other health problems and quit smoking when I had my heart attack.

DEAR READER — What you've been told about heart rates is not the whole truth. Certain medicines will slow your basic heart rate and affect your heart rate during exercise. And sometimes heart disease affects how fast the heart can beat. It would be a mistake to overdo it.

You're really benefiting from your walking program. It uses calories to help control your body fat. That would be most beneficial for your heart disease. You should walk four miles a day, every day of the week.

Another rule is to increase your heart rate above your resting rate. If your resting rate is 50, increasing it to 70 with exercise is a big help.

If you want to do more than walk, you should be evaluated with an exercise test to see how you respond to higher levels of exercise first.

I've included more detailed information on what to do after a heart attack in the Health Letter 17-10. DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm writing in regards to children using syrup on eggs and pancakes for breakfast. It drives me up the wall! I always thought that anything sweet should be eaten at the end of the meal. Would you please give me an explanation I can pass on to my grandchildren? I wouldn't permit my children to do this.

DEAR READER — Sweets raise the blood glucose (sugar) level and cut off the appetite. That's why they're commonly used at the end of the meal. We tell children not to eat sweets before meals for the same reason, yet we tell fat people not to eat sweets because sweets make them fat.

In the meal you described, these items will be mixed together in the stomach anyway. So from a health point of view, it really doesn't matter whether they're mixed on the plate or mixed in the stomach.

Some people would say avoid the egg yolks because of their cholesterol. Others would say the same thing about the pancakes as they provide no bulk or roughage. Others would object to sweets. In my opinion, a good bowl of oatmeal or some whole grain cereal, along with fresh fruits or fruit juice, would be a better choice.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

APRIL 5, 1984

You're the type who is happiest when involved in a variety of activities and projects. Exciting times are ahead this coming year that will be tailored to your temperament.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Devote your efforts today to projects that utilize your mental attributes. You're a quick study and adept at either gaining or imparting knowledge. The areas in which you'll be the luckiest in the year ahead are revealed in your Astro-Graph predictions for the coming year. To get yours, mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your possibilities for improvising ways to gain material advantages are good today. Keep your wits about you in your financial dealings.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You frequently display a rare ability to juggle two complex situations simultaneously and do a good job on each. This can be one of those days.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Keep a low profile today in doings within your company or organization. Let others compete for attention or play to the grandstand.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A little change of pace will prove refreshing at this time. Try to involve yourself today with companions who don't take themselves too seriously.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Considerable personal satisfaction can be derived today from situations where you use your mental prowess to overcome difficult obstacles.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Sometimes it isn't wise to offer unsolicited advice. Today, however, if you have suggestions that could help a pal, speak up.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In joint endeavors today, let your counterpart do the heavy lifting while you do the brainwork. Your mind is more efficient than your muscles.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You might have to make a decision today where the alternatives appear to be of equal value. Let experience influence your judgment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Better communication with coworkers can be established today. Any misunderstandings will now be resolved if brought out into the open.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Recreational breaks are not frivolous pursuits today. They can serve as healthy releases to prevent tensions from building up.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) There is a possibility you may have some extra domestic pressures with which to contend today. They'll amount to nil if handled logically, not emotionally.

respond to the one-club bid, but passed at three clubs. The Moysie article did not give the full hand, but only mentioned that South made five clubs. In the actual hand you can see that six clubs was doomed to defeat, as was three no-trump, but five clubs should romp in.

Jacoby commented at the time that with almost any other partner he would have opened two clubs, but Moysie had a tendency to overbid at all times.

Actually, the South hand should be opened with a forcing bid. If North and South get to a six-club contract, South would be a favorite to make it if the clubs break 2-2 or if there is a singleton queen of clubs in either defensive hand.

In the actual field (it was match point pairs) three clubs making five was worth 10 points out of 12. One pair played in five clubs, and two others stopped at a club partial — one at three clubs, the other at four.

The rest of the field divided between six clubs and three no-trump, all down one.

Barbra Streisand Fans To Picket Oscar Ceremony

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Feminist members of a Barbra Streisand fan club plan a mass demonstration outside this year's Academy Awards ceremony to protest the fact she did not receive an Oscar nomination for Yentl.

More than 10,000 flyers have been distributed by a group called PEP, for Principals, Equality and Professionalism in Films, calling on fans and feminists to picket the Oscars April 9. PEP's organizer Simone Sheffield said.

Ms. Streisand produced, directed, co-wrote and starred in the MGM-UA film about a scholarly woman in turn-of-the-century Eastern Europe who dresses up like a man in order to study Jewish scripture, which was forbidden to women at the time.

Despite favorable reviews and modest commercial success, the big budget musical failed to be nominated in any major category by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

"Yentl's creator is a victim of male chauvinism," Ms. Sheffield said.

"If Sidney Lumet or even Roman Polanski had directed it, it would probably be up for best picture, he'd be up for best director and she would be in the running as best actress," she told United Press International.

Ms. Sheffield, a film producer and former Motown executive, predicted busloads of sympathizers from San Diego, San Francisco and Palm Springs would picket outside the Dorothy Chandler Pavilion in downtown Los Angeles, where the Oscar ceremony will take place.

Ms. Sheffield said the city has granted PEP a permit for the demonstration.

"I know Barbra. She is very headstrong and we don't, frankly, get along," Ms. Sheffield said. "Strong-headed, determined people like her and Orson Welles have always frightened Hollywood. Her total shoutout (from the nominations) had to do with how the academy felt about her personality rather than her film."

Ms. Streisand, who won the best actress Oscar for Funny Girl — her 1968 film debut — is in Europe promoting Yentl, which recently opened there.

In February, staff members of the defunct Barbra fan magazine lodged a formal protest with the Directors Guild of America, which also failed to nominate Ms. Streisand for its annual award.

The Academy Awards presentation, which has an estimated worldwide TV audience of 300 million, has been the focus of protests by various interest groups.

The Jewish Defense League picketed when Vanessa Redgrave, a supporter of the Palestine Liberation Organization, won the best supporting actress Oscar for Julia in 1977.

Vietnamese protested The Deerhunter's portrayal of their countrymen when it earned best picture and best director awards in 1978. And American Indians have demonstrated to condemn their treatment by Hollywood on and off the screen.

Live Longer

Proper Foods Cost Less Than Those Lacking In Nourishment

By Lelord Kordel
Number 5
of a Series

As you have already learned, good nutrition is not a matter of expense. It's a matter of selection. Proper foods actually cost less than many of those that are woefully lacking in nourishment. Many an expensively provisioned table is tragically poor in nutritional values because of poor selection and improper preparation.

Two basic dietary rounds planned high-protein diets. The two basic dietary rules are simply these:

1. Increase your daily protein intake (even more if you've been ill, are planning a reducing diet or indulge in strenuous physical activities).
2. Limit the starches and sugars to natural carbohydrates found in vitamin-and-mineral-rich fruits, vegetables, honey, unrefined raw sugar or molasses, whole grains and seed cereals.

This will provide your body with the maximum of high proteins, minerals and vitamins obtainable from today's food items ordinarily grown on soils whose mineral richness is not always as great as it could be.

By adding a good multiple-vitamin mineral formula you can eliminate any guesswork on minerals and vitamins, thus achieving the ideal diet for any person.

NOT EXPENSIVE

Proteins do not have to be expensive. You can be healthy on a small budget.

An omelet for six costs no more than many a starchy meal for four.

A pound of chopped beef cost less than a pound of dry cereal.

A chicken costs no more than a fancy coffee cake.

The cheaper cuts of beef and lamb, as well as their gland and organ meats, contain just as much, often more, nutrition as the most costly steaks, chops and roasts.

The proteins in fish and poultry are also valuable to your body.

So don't bankrupt the budget in an effort to obtain the finest cut of meat in the butcher shop with the thought that it will be "better nutrition." It's not necessary.

Remember always to cook all meats (other high-protein foods as well) slowly at low temperatures to conserve the proteins and vitamins, to avoid undue shrinkage, to obtain tender, juicier meat, and to avoid scorched drippings.

EXTRA PROTEIN

An inexpensive, wholly effective, low-calorie way of obtaining increased protein (extra calcium, too) is by adding as much as 6 to 8 tablespoons of powdered skim milk to various dishes and beverages throughout the day.

Skim milk powder offers a remarkable source of protein at low cost. There is no excuse for "not enough" protein in the diet when such a splendid food is so readily available.

In the next chapter you'll learn more about this nutrition booster and how to use it to best advantage.

Cottage cheese, too, provides another reasonably priced, high-protein food.

Sunflower seed kernels and meal, as well as millet and sesame seeds, are valuable sources of high proteins, minerals and vitamins.

The addition of 3 to 4 tablespoons of any of these seed cereals to the daily diet yields an effective increase in high-grade protein, together with other essential nutrients.

If you are a vegetarian, you may obtain the full benefit of a high-protein diet by replacing the meat dishes with high protein meat-substitutes.

However, for the sake of your health, and your dreams of feeling and looking younger, I hope you're a vegetarian with no prejudices against eggs, low-fat milk and cheese.

For I cannot stress eliminating these valuable protein foods along with meat.

PLANNED DIET

Planned diet most certainly does not mean "monotonous" diet. If food gives you a real taste thrill, you actually eat less, are better nourished and avoid the dangers of overeating.

Science has proved that if you really enjoy your meals, your appetite is more likely to be kept within sensible bounds.

Since the rewards are so great — isn't it time to reorganize our eating habits? Remember that protein is the magic key. It can open the door to a delightfully enjoyable longer life for you.

I could cite case after case of elderly persons, weakened by tea-and-toast diets, who were restored to usefulness by gradually converting their meals to high protein foods.

Their weakened bodies gained new vigor. Minds became keen and alert once more.

Nobody who has witnessed these recoveries, as I have, could ever deny that protein foods are truly nutritional wonders.

Your mind and your body can remain youthful many years past your so-called "prime," if only you don't help fasten the shackles of a premature old age on yourself every time you sit down at the table.

Seafood Quickly Prepared

One of the more popular food stuffs served during the Lenten season is seafood. Seafood is an excellent source of protein and is low in fat. A pound of fish fillets goes a long way because there is no waste.

Microwaving is a superior way to prepare seafood. No fat needs to be added and the microwaving time is approximate 3 minutes per pound or until the flesh flakes or loses its translucency. Overcooking causes the fish to be dry and tough.

Vegetables add flavor, texture and improve the appearance of seafood that is microwaved. Lemon and limes are flavor enhancers also.

Central Florida has available a good variety of fresh or fresh frozen seafood. Fresh grouper and red snapper are in good supply; sole, haddock, cod, trout, bass, and numerous others are in local seafood markets. At this time of the year scallops, shrimp, and various forms of crab are also available.

The fillets should be cooked on 100% power. The thickest portion of the fillet should be toward the outside of the shallow cooking container. Fish is done when it is white and opaque. Separate the flakes near the center with a fork to test that it is fully cooked. If you are counting calories, eliminate any kind of fat; instead, use vegetables and cover lightly with wax paper while microwaving.

VEGETABLE TOPPED FISH FILLETS

- 1/4 cup finely chopped celery
- 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/2 cup shredded zuc-

chini
1 tablespoon parsley chopped
2 tablespoons lemon juice

1 small red or green pepper, cut into thin strips
Combine vegetables (except pepper) and lemon juice. Set aside. Arrange the fish fillets in shallow baking dish. Top with vegetables. Garnish with the pepper slices. Cover with wax paper.

Microwave on 50% power for 10-15 minutes, or until fish flakes easily with a fork.

Let stand for 3 minutes. Red snapper is good anyway it is prepared in the microwave. My favorite way is with fresh Persian lime slices.

SNAPPER A LA LIME

- 1/4 teaspoon tarragon leaves
- 1/4 teaspoon fresh ground pepper
- 1 teaspoon chives
- 1 pound red snapper
- 2 limes, cut into 8 slices

Combine tarragon, chive mixture. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power for three minutes. Rearrange pieces, keeping the thickest portion to the outside of the container. Top each piece of fish with a slice of lime. Cover. Microwave on 100% power for 3-6 minutes, or until the center flakes easily.

Tomatoes provide a flavor contrast to the fish. Color, too, makes the fish look more appetizing.

WHITE FISH WITH TOMATO SAUCE

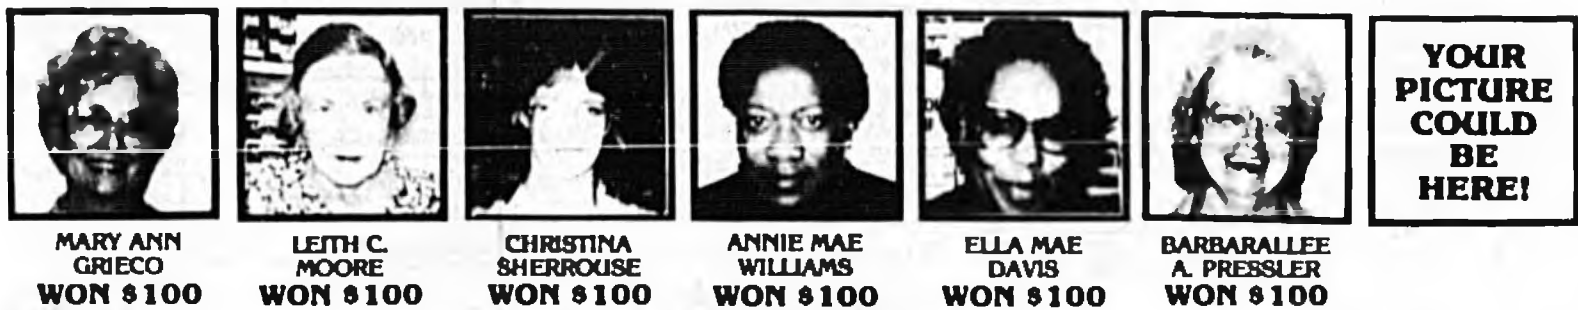

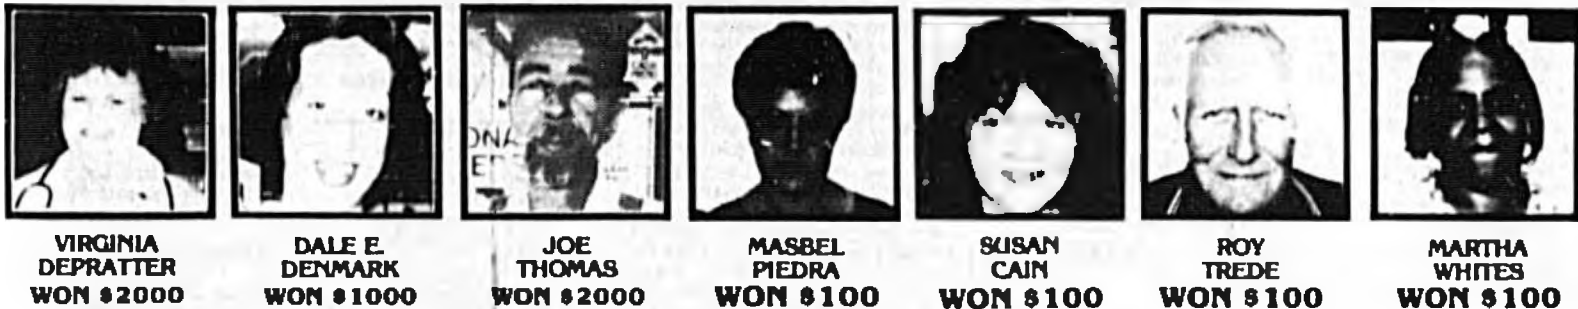

- 2 pound haddock or other white fish
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 4 medium tomatoes, cut into wedges
- 2 tablespoons white wine
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 1 teaspoon flour
- 2 teaspoons tomato paste
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme
- 1/2 teaspoon basil
- Salt and pepper

Combine all ingredients, except fish and butter. In a bowl, cover and microwave on 100% power for 8-10 minutes. Puree in a food processor or in a blender. This creates the sauce.

Place the fish in a shallow baking dish. Dot with butter. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power for 6 minutes.

Reheat the sauce and serve with the fish. Allow 1/2 pound of fish per person.

Stuffed Beef Rolls

Oregano, for centuries a favorite ingredient in Mediterranean dishes, became popular in the United States following World War II.

Soldiers who passed through southern Italy brought home a taste for the herb. American tourists in Italy later discovered oregano in such dishes as beef braciola; stuffed beef rolls in tomato sauce well-seasoned with oregano.

BRACIOLA WITH TOMATO AND WINE SAUCE

- 1 1/4 pounds (thinly sliced round steaks (1/4-inch thick)
- 3/4 teaspoon instant minced garlic
- Water
- 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs
- 6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
- 3 hard cooked eggs, chopped
- 2 1/2 teaspoons oregano leaves, divided and crushed
- 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 1/2 teaspoons parsley flakes
- 1 teaspoon salt, divided
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 3 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- 2 cans (16 ounces each) whole tomatoes, crushed
- 2 teaspoons onion powder
- 1/4 cup dry red wine

Mondale Rolls, Hart Looking To Calif., Jackson Shows Clout

By Clay F. Richards
UPI Political Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walter Mondale's lopsided win in the big New York primary Tuesday should give Gary Hart's campaign reason to reassess where it is going.

Mondale whipped Hart impressively in the biggest primary so far, grabbing almost half the vote and even carrying the suburbs that used to go for the Colorado senator.

Mondale won despite the amazing showing of civil rights activist Jesse Jackson, who carried 25 percent of the vote and gave Hart a strong run for second place. Those blacks would have been overwhelmingly in Mondale's corner had not Jackson been in the race.

There is no reason for the Hart camp to look optimistically to the short range future to score a victory in the Democratic caucus, political analysts say.

Pennsylvania next week is a state much like New York — large, industrial, with a history of voting for the traditional Democratic candidate. There is nothing in the recent trends to indicate it will not go for Mondale, with Jackson making another significant showing.

Then there is a two week break in the primary and caucus calendar over the Passover and Easter holidays. In early May come contests in Texas and Ohio. While Texas isn't exactly like New York and Pennsylvania, there is no reason to indicate that it is Hart country either.

That may be why, when he conceded Tuesday night, Hart looked down the road past the other big states to California. That's where he said the race for the nomination will be settled on the final day of primaries June 5.

California is the kind of state Hart could do well in. It has a track record of backing the Democratic newcomer-challenger over the party-endorsed establishment candidate.

But by the time the race gets to California, Hart may have piled up a string of defeats that won't make him appear very attractive to voters looking for someone new. And there is certainly no reason why those California voters won't take a strong look at Jackson as the alternative candidate.

In any case it may be time for the Mondale camp to stop worrying about Hart and start worrying about Jackson, who has said all along he is the candidate who will stay in the race all the way to the convention no matter what happens.

Jackson will drive a hard bargain for support at the Democratic convention, while Mondale will be a little gun-shy as the candidate already accused of giving away too much in promises to special interests.

One thing Jackson has demanded is that the nominee of the party support abolition of second primaries. That is the practice where if no candidate in a field of three or more wins a majority in the first primary, there is a runoff between the top two to win the nomination in a race for Congress or local office.

What that has meant is that a black comes in first in the initial primary when two whites split the rest of the vote, but a white wins the runoff. It is not only southern voters who are worried about Jackson's proposal — abolition of second primaries could guarantee election of a black mayor of New York City next time around.

What it all means is that even if New York is the beginning of the end for the campaign of Gary Hart, the race for the Democratic nomination is far from over. There is still an interesting story ahead if the Democratic party hopes to get its act together enough to mount a serious challenge to Ronald Reagan in November.

Military Anti-Fraud Move Fails In House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Armed Services Committee has approved a measure designed to help the military do a better job of buying spare parts.

At the same time, the panel refused to give a Pentagon office the power to block questionable contracts and payments.

On a voice vote, the committee Tuesday approved legislation requiring contractors who provide the Pentagon with equipment to identify the actual manufacturer of an item. The contractors also would be required to provide technical data that would make it easier for the Pentagon to buy additional equipment direct from the manufacturer.

In addition, prime contractors would be barred from "unreasonably restricting" subcontractors from making direct sales to the government.

But the committee rejected on a voice vote an amendment by Rep. Dennis Hertel, D-Mich., to give the Inspector General's office in the Defense Department the power to unilaterally step in and change or stop a contract considered fraudulent. Rep. Bill Nichols, D-Ala., who offered the spare parts measure on behalf of the Armed Services investigations subcommittee he chairs, argued against the amendment.

"Contract reform is not a proper function of the inspector general in the Department of Defense," Nichols said. "His function is to detect fraud and abuse. He has no responsibility in the contract area except to report to the secretary. Once he reports, it's the duty of the contracting officer."

Hertel unsuccessfully argued that contracting officers have failed to use their authority, even in cases involving wildly overpriced wrenches or hammers. "To have them continue with this power when they haven't done a good job is like having the fox in the chicken house," he said.

The measure approved by the committee provides nine categories in which the government gets unlimited rights to technical data. It also requires that each agency within the Defense Department establish "competition advocates" to promote competitive purchasing.

"We recognize that it will not correct every deficiency," Nichols said. "But it will focus the attention of the agency heads on the problem, and it will enact into law several provisions which now exist only in regulation."

"Further gains are to be expected as work progresses in fitting therapy to the individual tumor," the researchers said.

"I think that even more attention should be paid to the causes and contributing factors of children's cancer so that methods of preventing it can be made available," Miller said.

The Working Poor Reagan Budget Cuts Pushing More Into Poverty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal budget cuts enacted since 1981 have pushed more families headed by working women into poverty and made those who already were poor even poorer, a study says.

Domestic program cuts enacted in 1981 doubled the number of working-poor, female-headed families in Michigan and New York and raised the number in Georgia, according to the report titled "Working Female-Headed Families in Poverty."

The 85-page study, the second in a week to examine the impact of the Reagan budget on women, was conducted by the Center for the Study of Social Policy in Washington, D.C., the Institute of Social Research at the University of Michigan and the School of Social Work at Columbia University.

In a separate report, the General Accounting Office said the 1981 budget cuts affected a larger percentage of working poor than unemployed.

The findings come at a time when Democrats are mounting a "fairness" campaign against President Reagan, charging his policies are not fair to the poor and disadvantaged.

The report on female-headed families was based on interviews with 776 families in Georgia, Michigan and New York 12-18 months after their welfare grants had been terminated.

"In sum," the report said, "the budget cuts pushed more families into poverty and made families who were already poor even poorer."

"The administration's and Congress' action that cut benefits to these families runs counter to the notion that we should reward work effort and encourage self-sufficiency among the disadvantaged," the report said.

The women included in the studies generally had been working at least 21 out of the preceding 27 months, typically in clerical or service jobs such as clerk-typist, nurses' aides or hotel workers.

The study looked at selected changes in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children regulations that affected eligibility and benefit levels of the working poor in the program.

The study found that:

—The number of families in the Georgia sample living below the nationally defined poverty level increased from 70 percent before the 1981 cuts to 79 percent after the cuts.

—In Michigan, the number of families in poverty rose from 18 percent of the sample to 42 percent.

—In New York, the number rose from 19 percent to 42.5 percent.

—Half the Michigan and New York City families had run out of food completely within the past year.

—More than 80 percent of the Georgia and Michigan families had run out of money.

—One-quarter of the Georgia sample and one-third of the Michigan sample had overdue medical bills averaging $492 and $432 respectively.

Thief Steals Liquor

A thief carried off 10 cases of liquor valued at $2,500 from the garage of Linna Ckbulski, 37, of 712 Bear Shadow Court, Longwood. Ms. Ckbulski told Seminole County sheriff's deputies she didn't know if the garage was locked when the theft occurred between March 24 and Tuesday.

The apartment of Steven L. Laughlin, 24, and Robert Arents, 21, of #88 San Jose Apartments, state Road 436, Winter Park, was ransacked between 9:15 Tuesday and 1:45 a.m. Wednesday.

The burglar took nothing from the apartment, but Laughlin reported that his car was also burglarized and a camera and flash with a combined value of $600 was taken.

A cassette stereo and speakers valued at $330 were stolen from the car of Robert Hedgecock, 23, of #64, 2860 Red Bug Lake Road, Casselberry, when the vehicle was parked outside his apartment between 1 and 7:30 a.m. Sunday.

Carole Elaine Metz, 35, of 200 N. Driftwood Lane, Sanford, reported that two wheel covers worth a total of $125 were stolen from the right side of her car when it was parked in her driveway Sunday or Monday.

A wheelbarrow worth $90 and two electrical extension cords valued at $18 each were taken by a thief who ransacked the Seminole County Environmental Center, state Road 419, Sanford, between 5 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Monday.

The thief entered the building by breaking a bathroom window with a rock, according to a sheriff's report.

Alice Lenora Koss, 38, of 705 Blue Lake Drive, Longwood, gave sheriff's deputies the name of a suspect who may have taken a gold bracelet worth $100 from her home between March 27 and Monday.

Nose Drop Vaccine May Prevent Spread Of Flu

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A two-week test using volunteer college students paid $30 a day showed that a new live flu vaccine given by nose drops provided better protection against influenza than standard flu shots.

Moreover, doctors reported, the still-experimental nose drop vaccine reduced by 1,000 times the growth of flu virus in the nose of those who were infected without getting sick — a factor that may help prevent the spread of the disease that can kill thousands in nationwide epidemics.

But National Institutes of Health officials said the new vaccine will need considerable testing before it is approved for general use, and it is not expected to be available commercially for at least five years.

The new vaccine has the big advantage of being delivered right to the place where the virus grows — the inner linings of the nose.

Current flu vaccines delivered by injection consist of inactivated virus. Dr. Brian Murphy of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases said live virus vaccines are more protective, but until now, no flu virus was suitable for use in a live vaccine. They either caused illness or were not effective.

The vaccine, originally developed at the University of Michigan School of Public Health, was produced by a new method in which genes from two different flu viruses were swapped to make a safe and effective hybrid virus.

The vaccine was tested in college students at the University of Maryland and the University of Rochester by Murphy and Drs. Mary Lou Clements of the Maryland school of medicine and Robert Betts of the Rochester medical center.

The volunteer students, paid $30 a day, spent two weeks in isolation dormitories in Baltimore and Rochester. Sixteen were given the nose drop vaccine, 16 received commercial flu shots and 24 were not vaccinated. All were then exposed to a flu virus through the nose.

None of the students receiving the nose drop vaccine got sick, but two of the 16 receiving the shots developed influenza. Eleven of those 24 not vaccinated became ill.

Three of the 16 nose drop vaccinees were infected by the virus, although they did not develop influenza symptoms, while 10 of the 16 receiving shots were infected without illness. Infection meant the virus could grow in the students' noses even if they did not get sick.

"Clearly, the nose drop vaccine offered good protection against both infection with the wild-type virus as well as restricting the growth of the virus in individuals who were infected," Dr. Clements said.

"This we think is an important point because individuals who go on to not have illness but continue to shed the virus in fact could pass the virus on to other individuals," she said.

—Royce Jeffrey King, 21, of Orlando, at 12:39 a.m. Sunday at U.S. Highway 17-92 and Airport Boulevard, Sanford, after his car ran off the road.

—John Edward Wheels, 23, of Lakeland, at 7:05 p.m. Sunday after a highway patrolman using radar clocked his car traveling at 81 mph on Interstate 4, Lake Mary.

...Debts Seed Farmers' Despair

could crumble some area economies.

"If we followed the letter of the law and foreclosed on every delinquent account, it would literally collapse the economy of the Mississippi Delta," Barrett said. "We don't propose to do that."

Agriculture officials said the nature of farming has changed and farmers who do not have adequate business skills must share the blame for financial problems.

"The old-time family farm is almost extinct," said Lamar Martin, county agent in Dawson, Ga. "The management that comes into play will not allow you to farm like we have in the past — this is a business now."

Martin said many farms that fail are bought up by investors, including foreigners. About 8,000 properties, out of the 2.4 million farms in the United States are owned by foreign nationals.

Orson Swindle, FmHA director for Georgia, blamed Congress for passing the Emergency Agricultural Adjustment Act in 1978, expanding the farm loan program.

"After the act was passed, there was tremendous pressure on Farmers Home employees to do literally nothing but make loans, with damn little sound financial judgment being applied," Swindle said.

But private lenders say they have more troubled farm loans than ever before and the farmer-owned Farm Credit System reports record operating loan losses of $238 million last year and real estate losses of $9.8 million.

Swindle said former President Jimmy Carter compounded the economic problems in January 1980 by embargoing grain shipments to the Soviet Union to retaliate for the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan.

"We were exporting $43 billion a year in agricultural goods and all of a sudden we have all these supplies and nowhere to send them. It drove prices right down to rock bottom," Swindle said.

The Soviet Union found new grain sources and when the dollar rebounded in the 1980s, other nations found they could not afford American commodities.

That triggered a domino reaction.

The mounting surpluses drove crop prices down. Farm land values, pegged to the revenue they can produce, also dropped. That forced lending institutions to cut the amount of credit they extended and farmers, already heavily in debt, could not borrow as much as they needed for operating costs because they had exceeded their credit limits.

The Reagan administration, hoping to get rid of price-depressing surpluses, introduced the payment-in-kind program in 1983 — the largest acreage cutback in history.

But a drought last year cut crops even more, and farmers harvested less than they expected.

Many farmers have simply given up. In Georgia, 115 farmers have abandoned their lands this year. In Alabama, 24 have walked away. Abandonment automatically allows FmHA to foreclose, but the case the agency has appealed to the 11th U.S. Circuit Court Appeals prohibits most foreclosures.
