Lookouts Gather 4 Hits While Azaleas Record 5

Miscue By Bob Pitman In Sixth Allows Kinard To Score Winning Tally; Doljack Gets 2 Bingles

AZALEA BOWL, Palatka, July 15.—Big Sam Miller, towering righthander for Manager Herb Thomas' Palatka Azaleas, hurled four hits baseball yesterday afternoon to best Joseph Pinder and win from the Lookouts by a score of 2 to 1.

Both hurlers were in tip top form as Pinder allowed only one more than Miller, but his mates were unable to come through in the pinch.

A questionable decision at the plate by Umpire Bill Kaschner in the fourth inning was credited for the downfall of the Lookouts. Kinard was on third and Letz popped up to Langston beyond first base. Kinard tagged up and came in and Contreras tagged him but Umpire Kaschner ruled him safe even to the laughter in the stands by the Palatka boosters.

Sanford came back in the fifth and knotted the score when Mayo Langston singled and went to third when Stith doubled to deep left field. Contreras grounded to Oechulami on third who threw to Emerson to nab Langston at the plate, Stith going to third. De Ramus hunted and squeezed Stith across for the tying marker.

Kinard singled to left to start the next inning. Trammell sacrificed Kinard to second and reached third on Bill Letz's infield out. Pinder purposely walked Machioleff. On an attempted double steal, Machioleff faked a throw to second and threw to Pitman, having Kinard between third and home. Pitman dropped the ball and it was too late to get Kinard at the plate.

Kinard led the Palatka attack with a double and a single in three trips while Joe Doljack of the Lookouts collected a pair of

Baseball Group To Hold "Orlando Day" Thursday

Mayor Sam Way May Head Delegation Of Orlando Supporters While Mayor Higgins Leads Local Fans

Officials of the Seminole County Baseball Association announced today that Thursday afternoon and night, Orlando Day will be held when Mayor John Ganzel brings the Senators for a double header against the Lookouts.

The first game of the double header will start at 3:00 o'clock while the second will start at regular time, 8:15 o'clock.

There will be several feature attractions which will be announced later.

Officials of the local Association are predicting the largest attendance of the season will be the two games as the local club guarantees that they will take the pair from the Ganzel managed outfit.

Mayor Sam Way of Orlando has been requested by Mayor Edward Higgins to head the delegation of Orlando fans here while Mr. Higgins will head the local rooters. Orlando may form a motorcycle and drive to Sanford, if so, they will be escorted from the outskirts of the city to the ball park by local police.

More details of the biggest event of the season will be released tomorrow by local officials.

Frank Guernsey Atwater To Hurl Wins New York Against DeLand State Net Title At Park Tonight

Orlando Youth Wins Over Julius Heldman To Get Crown

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Frank Guernsey of Orlando, who last week won the national intercollegiate tennis championship as representative of Rice Institute, yesterday announced the New York State clay court title on the courts of the Seminole Club at Forest Hills.

The blond Floridian played steady tennis in defeating dark-haired Julius Heldman of Los Angeles, 6-4, 12-10, 8-6. Guernsey was seeded second and Heldman behind him. The favorite, Don McNeil of Oklahoma City, was forced to withdraw a few days ago because of an ankle injury.

Heldman, who forced the competition in the early stages, failed several times in the clinches, while Guernsey plodded along, returning whatever came his way. Guernsey used a drop shot effectively, taking the first three games of the first set by this means with the loss of only two points.

Heldman had several chances to rally and make it a closer contest, but his rival's resourceful returns of well-placed shots proved discouraging. In the second set the Californian led 3-0, gaining better control of his bats, but Guernsey continued his canny game of drop shots and steady returns and frequently caught Heldman off balance with high lobs to the back court. Heldman drove most of them into the net.

After an epidemic of typhoid in Croydon, England, 100 damage suits have been filed against the municipality for loss of relatives and business.

King George And Queen Elizabeth Visit In France

Royal Pair Received In Paris With Fanfare And Display Of Military Might Jap Planes Raid China's Capital 20 Slain On Campus Of American Mission's Boone University

King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of England paid a state visit to France today, being received in Paris with much fanfare and a display of military might. As Europe's two great democracies gave this public notice of their intention to stand together, war continued in the Orient and in Spain.

Japanese airmen bombed Hankow, provisional capital of China. Four bombs fell on the American Church Mission's Boone University campus, killing 20 Chinese seeking shelter under the wall. The University is in Wu-chang, across the Yangtze River from Hankow proper.

In Spain, insurgent airmen bombed Barcelona and Valencia. In the latter port the British merchantman Standand was hit by a 1,000 pound bomb. It caught fire but the crew escaped. The fire was extinguished.

Two insurgent airmen continued to advance down the Teruel highway toward Valencia while the government "suicide squads" were desperate for guard action to cover the retreat of the main body to new defense lines. Minister of Interior Albert Sarraut was reported to have ordered the tracking down of every known anarchist in France, particularly Spanish extremists, during the state visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth.

The British king and queen, leaving British soil for the first time since their accession to the throne, arrived on a four-day visit regarded as one of the outstanding political events of the decade.

Sarraut's order to the Surete Nationale, France's G-man organization, was understood to have informed police that they have full authority to put any suspects under "preventative arrest" during the full time of the royal visit.

Radios To Be Installed In State Markets

Wilson Says Prices To Be Broadcast For Benefit Of Growers

Final approval is being sought for a WPA State-sponsored project through which short wave radio transmitters and receivers will be installed at every market in the State market system. Director of State Markets, William L. Wilson stated in a meeting of the Supervisory committee of the local market Monday evening.

Mr. Wilson declared that through the assistance of Administrator W. J. Hill and Senator Claude Pepper, who suggested the project, a dream he had cherished for some time was about to become a realization.

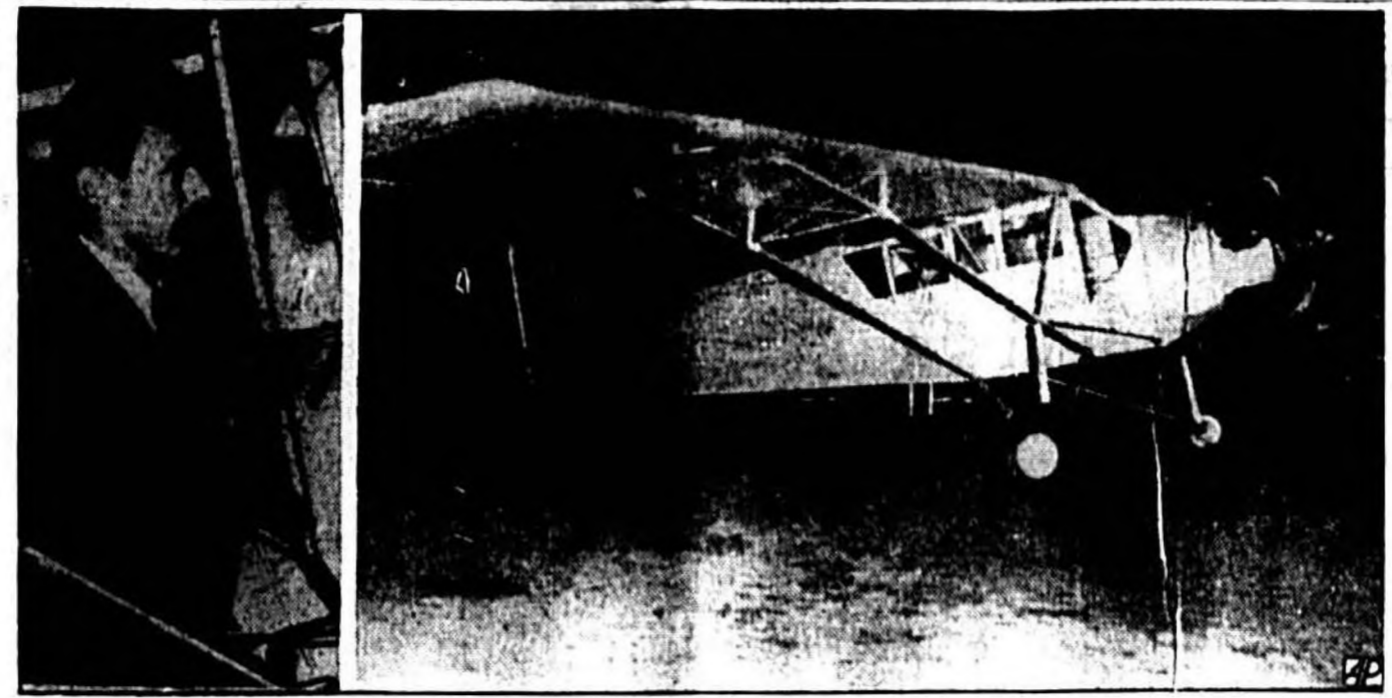

Daily quotations of prices paid for Florida grown commodities will be broadcast from each market over the system. Receiving sets will be placed at the inspection booths at the State line and inspectors will record the information from the various markets to be given to truckers on entering the state.

The daily quotations will be broadcast in time for the farmers to take advantage of any market trends, Director Wilson stated adding that the report will be news and not history as in the case of the market bulletin which the new system will supplement.

Mr. Wilson stated that the State Market Board and the Commissioner of Agriculture, Nathan Mayo were "highly pleased" with the report of the local market board in which a large increase in the volume of sale were reported by Market Manager J. G. Michael. Gross returns of nearly $600,000 for the season was reported.

Mr. Wilson further declared that the Sanford Wholesale market had led the way for other state markets and that the others were falling in line. The state marketing system is gradually developing into the system which is the ultimate goal of the Commission of Agriculture. A system which will result in the greatest returns to growers through savings in marketing cost and looking toward a permanent P. O. B. market, Mr. Wilson asserted.

'BOUND' FOR CALIFORNIA—CAME DOWN IN IRELAND

Douglas P. Corrigan, unemployed airplane mechanic from Los Angeles, stunned an amazed world when he came down on his wings after having his "bound" for California. The smiling daredevil vowed to Irish officials that he thought he was in California until he saw the Irish coast. Corrigan is shown (left) crawling into his plane at Floyd Bennett Field to start his flight. The airplane, which lacked a propeller and modern devices for ocean flying, is seen as it took off for California.

Production Of Strawberries In Sanford Talked Dawson Advocates Expansion Of Southern Celery Market

The production of strawberries in Sanford is being promoted by the local strawberry growers' association. The association is planning to expand its production and is looking for new markets for its fruit.

Market Manager J. G. Michael and others on the committee pointed to the production of strawberries for locally grown fruit. "Because of their fine appearance and excellent keeping qualities," he said, "they are in demand for the home market."

The committee passed a resolution appointing C. R. Dawson, C. S. Lee, and Roy Symes, as members of a promotion committee, whose duty it will be to make a study of means of expanding the southern market for celery and promoting celery sales at the market.

Mr. Michael pointed out that approximately 200 cases of celery had been sold at the market this year for an average price of $1.11 per case. "If we could get the price up to $1.50 per case," he said, "it would mean a $100,000 increase in the market."

According to a report of the Celery Control Committee, the average returns for interest in celery shipments averaged only 62 cents over the season. County Agent C. R. Dawson called attention to this figure as reflecting the value of selling it as a crop and suggested that the market might ultimately be sold as a crop.

The county agent, as chairman of the promotion committee, also plans to attempt to increase sales of celery throughout the southern states thereby increasing sales at the market. A plan will be worked out and submitted by the committee.

Lebmann Shows Colored Film At Council Meeting

Simpson And Bagwell Praise Local Contribution Of Shots

President T. E. Simpson and Secretary Ralph E. Bagwell of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, who attended a meeting of the Central Florida Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning in Daytona Beach said Sanford's part of a colored motion picture film shown by Karl Lebmann compared favorably with that of any other city or community included.

Mr. Simpson was high in praise of Sanford's contribution which was largely taken by Lloyd E. Buyle.

Mr. Bagwell declared Sanford's part of the film caused more comment among those present than any other part. He said scenes of the leopards of the zoo were particularly effective.

Other scenes included shots of Seminole High School, the Mayfair Hotel, and the "Big Tree" fair hotel, and the "Big Tree" fair hotel, and the "Big Tree" fair hotel.

Mr. Lebmann compared favorably with that of any other city or community included.

Mr. Lebmann stated that the film was a number of years in the making and that it was a great success.

An Opportunity—

The impetus which started many a little deal on the way upward to a fortune was a small classified ad placed in the daily newspaper. The tiny thread that often links a man to the chain of success are frequently the messages which he places in the want-ad column, by means of which he can take advantage of other men's desires to buy or sell or to hire. "Big trees from little acorns grow," and the sale of a shogun or a kitchen stove, long absent out of use, may result in the ready cash that will cover the "deal" that will mean "easy money" for ever after.

A Good Sport

A good lesson in true sportsmanship was given the sporting world the other day when Helen Jacobs returned to New York from Wimbledon where she had again failed to wrest the world's tennis championship from the crowned head of Helen Wills Moody.

It would have been an easy thing for Miss Jacobs to have offered some alibi for her defeat. It would have been the most natural thing in the world for her to have uttered some slighting remark concerning her opponent, or to have taken refuge behind some appeal to public sympathy.

She was met at the boat by a squadron of newspaper reporters and photographers who bombarded her with questions and resorted to every conceivable strategy to smoke her out with regard to her recent defeat and to get her to say that she hadn't had a fair chance, or that Mrs. Moody had been a poor sport.

After all, Miss Jacobs had been close to winning in the first set for the final match of the tournament, was in such good form that with her speed and youthfulness it looked as if this time surely she would achieve her life's ambition of winning the tennis championship. And then she sprained her ankle—a torn sheaf of the Achilles tendon, the doctors called it.

After that she didn't have a chance. She played gamely on, declining a chance to rest, electing to get it over with as quickly as possible. She did the best she could but there was no longer any power in her strokes, and the tournament ended in what the sportswriters called a merciless slaughter.

As if to make matters worse, it was recalled that the last time Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Moody met in a championship tournament, it was Mrs. Moody who was injured. Mrs. Moody in other days had defeated Miss Jacobs many times. This was the first time that Miss Jacobs was accorded a chance to win the championship. Then Mrs. Moody sprained her back, walked off the court, defaulting to be sure, but depriving Miss Jacobs of the thrill of an earned victory.

And so the other day newspaper reporters goaded Miss Jacobs into saying something about her rival. And this is what she said, "I have no 'blasts' if that is what you are looking for. When it was all over, I congratulated her and said I was very sorry I wasn't in condition to give her a better match. I didn't want a rest because I wanted to get the match over with. I was satisfied with my game but I just couldn't go on, and why hold up a match? She was playing very well, I thought."

A dead game sport, we call her. It would have been so easy to have claimed a foul, and so like so many of our leading sportsmen today. "Can you imagine what some of our stars, say Dizzy Dean, would have said in the same circumstances", the sportswriters ask. Yeah, or Max Schmeling?

A Good Queen

Whether or not Queen Marie was a desisting adventuress who hooked American investors during the "glorious decade" immediately following the World War and cost them a pretty penny running into millions of dollars, from the standpoint of the country over which she ruled, she was certainly the "Good Queen Marie" and did more for her people than anyone else during her lifetime.

Had it not been for her and her hold upon the Rumanian people, King Ferdinand, who was himself a Hohenzollern, would probably have joined Germany during the World War. Queen Marie, born in England, and a granddaughter of England's Queen Victoria, brought Rumania in on the side of the Allies and as a consequence doubled the size of her country at the pie counter following the war.

With her country in complete ruins, its young men annihilated, bankrupt, and poverty-stricken, Marie set to work to rehabilitate the country. She obtained loans from the Allies and inveigled American investors to put their money over there building up the country to a remarkable degree and bringing about a fairly prosperous condition.

Now that she is dead one wonders, whither Rumania now. The present ruler, Carol, is a Hohenzollern like his father, with strong German ties. Strong willed, he is nevertheless lacking in his mother's tact, charm, and intelligence. It appears likely that a rocky road lies ahead for this little Balkan country.

Without denying the courage which prompted Douglas Corrigan to fly across the Atlantic in a dilapidated old plane of 1929 vintage, one can hardly consider this spectacular feat without concluding that it was the act of a foolhardy youth. Nothing to the advantage of aviation was gained by proving that a plane almost as out of date as Columbus' Santa Maria could fly the ocean. But if Corrigan had been killed, a serious injury to aviation might have been done. Furthermore, Corrigan said he flew to Ireland by mistake, thought he was heading for California. Either he was a pretty poor navigator, or just a plain liar.

Fearing possible revolution of other trouble with the Spanish natives, military strategists stationed at Gibraltar saw the necessity of taking steps to replenish the stock of Barbary Apes. Consequently Captain D. A. Smith was commissioned to bring new ones from Africa to quiet the superstitious natives. He captured 30, ferried them across the Strait and turned them loose to clamber over the towering rock mountain. Today, strange as it seems, it is a crime to cause these peace-preserving monkeys of Gibraltar—and high treason to kill one! For 234 years England has held this strategic fortress which stands guard over the entrance to the Mediterranean, yet oddly enough, Gibraltar was not taken by England for England in 1704, but for Archduke Charles of Austria, pretender to the Austrian throne! During the War of the Spanish Succession, a British squadron was sent to the Mediterranean under Sir George Rouse who, after cruising about, decided to attack Gibraltar. Although the Rock was fortified with 100 guns, Sir George took it in three days, in the interests of Archduke Charles. However, Charles was defeated in his attempt to gain Austria's throne, so Sir George, on his own responsibility, caused the British flag to be raised over the fortress and took possession in the name of Queen Anne. Tomorrow: Tiny sheep of the Cameroons!

FREEDOM CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

Human experience in many life accordingly. "The admission to one's self that man is God's own likeness sets man free to master the infinite idea" (Science and Health, p. 90). The nature of this "infinite idea" is best discerned in the character and career of Christ Jesus. His understanding of God gave him dominion over supply, so-called laws of health, gravitation, and so on. His understanding freed him from every suggestion of lack and from the memorization of death and the grave, and also enabled him to free others. In the wilderness he resisted the temptation to indulge personal "desires" and material power; for he knew and demonstrated that one is assured of freedom in proportion to his meek obedience to the demands of God, revealed in Christian Science as divine Principle. Just as the planets are not free to follow an erratic course through space, but manifest beauty and harmony each in its own orbit, so man reflects the harmony of being through fulfilling the purposes of divine Principle. Just as an attempt to open a locked drawer with the wrong key is unsuccessful, so any self-willed effort on the part of a human being to communicate something not in line with Principle inevitably induces failure and frustration, since it constitutes disobedience. Nevertheless, divine Principle is still available in whatever circumstances one may find himself, whether apparently of his own or another's choosing. Being the "Father" (Ibid., p. 112), "If I ascend to heaven, thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there." An obedient, receptive mental attitude brings one's thoughts and one's affairs under the beneficent control of divine Principle, and dynamic power is thus made available to the individual.

Floridians At Duke Have Organized Club

The majority of the Floridians attending the first term of Duke University summer school have organized the Florida Club, which has been sponsoring social affairs and athletic contests among its members.

The activities of this group include a trip through the Chesterfield cigarette plant, an informal party, a picnic, a watermelon cutting and a state dance.

Woman Lawyer Flays Members Of Her Sex

LONDON, July 15.—(AP)—The first woman to become a member of the General Bar Council in the United Kingdom is a woman lawyer who flays her fellow members as not sav- ular because they are too aggressive.

"This aggressiveness," she declares, "is shown by the feminist who finds slights where none are intended, by the over-manly woman, and by those who depend purely on sex appeal."

"Women's talons have to learn delicacy of touch."

"Passport Husband" To Be Shown At Ritz

It has been a long time since anything so funny as the gangster's dilemma in "Passport Husband" has appeared on the screen—even though the rest of this 20th Century-Fox comedy at the Ritz Theatre is a howling, hilarious piece of film madness.

Picture Stuart Erwin a night club bus-boy, married to a Spanish gangster.

Erwin is bumped off the dancer becomes a widow and will be deported; if he isn't bumped off his widow can't inherit the pin-ball machine which the gangsters want for their racket—and which he won't give them. With two factions alternately protecting him and trying to put him on the spot, the film becomes a screamingly funny array of riotous situations.

The sad-lipped comedian who heads the featured cast of "Passport Husband," is ably aided by Pauline Moore, Douglas Fowley, Joan Woodbury, Robert Lowery and Harold Huber.

Siren For Rooney Banned By Police

OMAHA, Neb., July 15.—(AP)—Mickey Rooney, youthful screen actor, failed to make a hit with Police Commissioner Jepsen.

The commissioner ordered removed the siren attached to a police car used to transport Mickey about the city. He said he received a flood of complaints that the car had sped past stop lights with siren screaming.

"The job of the police department is to protect, not entertain people," he said.

Miss Marian Hoolehan Weds John C. Lytle

Miss Marian Hoolehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hoolehan of Daytona Beach, became the bride of John Carney Lytle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest J. Lytle of East Lake, in a small church wedding at noon Sunday. The Reverend Melville Edward Johnson performed the single ring ceremony in the St. Luke's Cathedral in Orlando.

The bride and groom had as their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Dan F. Stalnaker of Ocala.

Mrs. Lytle wore a Dresden blue traveling outfit with luggage tan accessories. Her corsage was of orange blossoms.

The couple left immediately on a short honeymoon in the southern part of the state. After Aug. 1, they will make their home in Summerfield where they both plan to teach this fall.

White Nails Newest Summer Accessory

By BETTY CLARKE
Add another white "accessory" to your midsummer list. It's white nail polish.

The leading lady of "Amphitryon," Lynne Fontanne, started it, they say. Now it's a fingertip rage.

White nails with a sun-tan complexion have a particularly provoking fascination—like the fascination of very blonde hair with a deep tan.

So try it out, now that you've acquired at least a part of your summer taffy tan.

You'll have to be especially careful in applying white polish. The white must completely cover the nail, including both the moon and the tip. You'll probably find it best to apply two coats. Or, if you like, use a polish foundation as the first coat and the polish as the second.

The point is to get the white polish on smoothly all over the nail. Let it run up the cuticle, if necessary. Then take an orange stick, wrap a bit of cotton in polish remover and take off the polish that has run over the edges.

Another white polish note: Apply your regular shade of polish to the main part of your nail as you always have done. Then tip each nail with a single stroke of white. You'll find it more effective than using nailwhite under your fingertips.

Household Hints

NEW ENGLAND CODFISH BALLS
Soak salt cod overnight (it comes in small cartons ready for soaking); boil until tender next morning, then shred. Add shredded cod to fluffy mashed potatoes in equal amounts until consistency to pick up and mould into balls. Roll in egg, then corn meal, and fry in deep fat, preferably in an iron pot. Any type of lard or left over fats is all right for the frying.

Corrigan Made Life Members Of Liar Club

BURLINGTON, Wis., July 15.—(AP)—Hallett, president of the Burlington Liar Club, solemnly affirmed he was telling the truth tonight when he said that Douglas P. Corrigan, who flew to Ireland under his assumed name, was headed for California and had been made a life member of the club.

"After the one he pulled," Hallett said, "I think he deserves it. Anyway, it's a good story."

Corrigan, when he landed in Ireland, said "I thought it was California all the time, until I saw the mountains here."

Hallett declared Corrigan is an eminently qualified man on whom the club has conferred the honor of life membership.

The club, which has a membership of 100, is organized for the purpose of collecting the "liar" story for the members. Hallett asserted.

The club members receive a monthly newsletter and are eligible for superior ability.

Reds Score Twice In Ninth To Gain 6 To 4 Victory Over Locals

Visitors Get 12 Hits Off Atwater, Schneider

Triple To Right-Center By Pitman Ties Score In Ninth But Four Hits In Final Frame Decides Battle

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor

A two run rally in the ninth inning at the Municipal Park last night gave Harry Rice's Deland Reds a 6 to 4 victory over Manager Bill Rodgers' Sanford Lookouts in a game in which Deland recorded 12 hits off two Lookout pitchers while two Red hurlers allowed the local delegation an even half dozen.

Dutch Schneider started on the hill for Lookouts but was replaced by Charlie Atwater after giving up three runs, allowing two hits and walking two men. Schneider just returned to the mound after a three week's layoff due to a rib injury.

Atwater replaced Schneider but was hit freely. He was nipped for 10 hits but he kept them well scattered except in the ninth when the Reds bunched four infielders. The Lookouts rapped George Belknap, newcomer to the Reds, for six hits. Belknap was taken out after pitching 8 and two thirds innings and replaced by Earl Porter.

The Reds started the scoring in their half of the first inning as Newell walked and took third on Parrett's single to deep right. Parrett going to second on the throw in to third. Aleno fled out and Smathers walked. Contreras let one of Schneider's fast ones get away and Newell tallied. Jackson singled to right-center scoring Parrett and Smathers.

The Reds scored one more in the fourth when Jones singled to right field scoring on Belknap's walk and scored on Newell's single to short center.

Sanford scored twice in their half of the sixth when Langston singled to left and took second when Davis walked. A passed ball advanced both men and they scored on Pitman's single to left.

In 1933, there were 370 motor vehicles in Afghanistan.

their half of the eighth when Bob Pitman tripped to the right-center field wall to score Langston and Davis.

The Reds broke the tie in their half of the final stanza when Belknap singled. Newell fanned but Parrett singled to left. Aleno was safe on a fielder's choice sending Belknap to third. Smathers singled scoring Belknap and Jackson's single scored Aleno.

8 Movie Firms Are Charged With Monopoly

Cummings Files Suit In Federal Court After Probe By Justice Department

Case Is Largest In Recent Years

Announcement Brings Sharp Decline In Shares On Market

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(AP)—A. Attorney General Cummings charged eight major film companies with virtually monopolizing the motion picture industry.

He filed a civil suit in the Federal district court in New York asking that firms be required to divest themselves either of their ownership of theaters or of production and distribution facilities.

The case, among the most comprehensive brought in recent years under the anti-trust laws, was presented after a long investigation by the Justice Department. It was disclosed last as a committee of congressmen and federal administrative officials started broad monopoly inquiry.

The government's bill of complaint charged eight companies, 25 subsidiary or affiliated corporations and 132 individuals with controlling about 65 percent of the nation's moving picture business.

The Justice Department named as principal defendants Paramount Pictures, Inc., New York; Irving Trust Company, New York; Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation, Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corporation, Columbia Pictures Corporation, Universal Corporation and Artists Corporation.

The announcement was followed by the loss of several points in amusement shares on the New York stock market.

10 Are Killed In Premature Dynamite Blast

The premature explosion of 450 pounds of dynamite killed 10 members of a crew of 11 workmen blasting a water tunnel through solid rock two hundred feet below the surface near the city pumping station.

Seven of the men were killed outright as a burst of rock rolled through the tunnel. Three of 11 brought to surface alive died in hospitals.

Only four escaped injury. All of the dead were negroes, while those who escaped with their lives were white men.

An Opportunity

The impetus which started many a little lad on the way upward to fortune was a small classified ad placed in the daily newspaper. The thread that often links a man to the chain of success are frequently the messages which he places in the want-ad columns by means of which he can take advantage of other men's desires to buy or sell or hire. "Big boys from little scores grow" and the sale of a house or a kitchen stove, or since out of use, may result in the ready cash that will bring the "big" that will make "big" for ever after.

JANESVILLE, Wis., July 20.—(AP)—Al G. Barnes circus entered today for Liverpool, after participating in an outdoor thriller that wasn't part of the regular program.

Elephants, labor union pickets and the law tangled in a wild melee at the circus grounds last night.

Labor unionists formed picket lines before the main entrance of the show which is affiliated with Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus, recently forced to close by labor trouble.

Sheriff James Croake said he was "chased a block" by an elephant when he tried to restore order.

Prowler Enters Home Of Dr. E. D. Brownlee

Police Chief Roy G. Williams said that the watch reported Tuesday to have been taken from the home of Dr. E. D. Brownlee, who has been on a three-week vacation with Mrs. Brownlee, was found in an unaccustomed place.

However, Dr. Brownlee said, some loose change amounting to about $1.50 was still missing.

Burned matches on the floor indicated that a prowler had invaded the residence while they were on vacation.

State Board Gives Permits To Drivers

TALLAHASSEE, July 20.—(AP)—Madison county got the first two permits under the State Board of Public Instruction's strict new regulations for school bus drivers.

The certificates went to E. L. Berra and O. H. Williamson, who passed complete physical examinations and met other qualifications.

State Supt. Colin English said about 1,500 bus drivers in the state would be required to comply with the same standards, as part of a safety campaign.

Earthquake In Greece Causes Death And Ruin

Worst Tremor In Recent Years Rocks Athens, Demolishing Nearby Villages

ATHENS, July 20.—(AP)—The strongest earthquake in Greece since 1903, and the most fatal, struck Athens and the surrounding area today, demolishing many buildings and killing at least 100 persons.

The island of Euboea, north of Athens, suffered most heavily.

In at least two villages nearby every house was shaken down. Reports said the shocks caused fires in some which small buildings toppled.

The government hurried relief by motor truck and railway to stricken communities. Officials said it was impossible to estimate the material damage.

The epicenter of the quake, felt in Athens at 2:15 A. M. (8:15 P. M. EDT, Tuesday), was at Chalki, on Euboea Island, about eight miles from Athens.

There apparently was no damage in Athens itself but the population was thrown into panic by the tremor. The majority of residents fled into the streets when the shock was felt.

The village of Kakeklessi also was partly destroyed.

The population in the Euboea village affected numbers about 5,000.

The shock lasted between 45 and 20 seconds.

The last serious earthquake affecting the same vicinity, including Athens and Corinth, occurred in 1923 when more than 100 persons were killed and a most 700 injured in a shock on the Balkan peninsula. At that time 275,000 were left homeless.

Northern Solons Protest Revision Of Freight Rates

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—The protests of two New England governors were added yesterday to Northern arguments against a Southern demand for northbound freight rate revisions.

Governors Wilbur L. Cross of Connecticut, and George D. Aiken of Vermont declared at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing that Northern industry would suffer if the proposed rates were put into effect.

They followed in the witness stand chief executives of those other Northern States—Rhode Island, Indiana and New York, which are opposing the Southern rate application.

Governor Cross predicted that the "general level of wages would be reduced" if the plan were approved. He added that industry is being attracted to the South by "lower costs of production in the form of wages, fuel and living conditions."

"No new jobs would be created," he said, "but the job of the Northern worker would be handed over to the Southern worker."

The 42-year-old monarch and his Scottish queen, Elizabeth, attended a gala banquet at the presidential palace as the climax of the jubilant homage that greeted them at the end of their first journey abroad since they came to the throne.

The king, in the uniform of a British field marshal, told the banquet guests at Elysee palace that "it would be impossible to recall a period in which our relations have been more intimate."

"Long and close collaboration has succeeded in proving that we are inspired by the same ideal."

Final Plans For New Court House Needed, Kiwanis Barbecue Made For July 28

Final arrangements for the annual chicken barbecue to be held at Sandhills Springs next Monday, July 25, was discussed Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club.

Participating with the local club will be the DeLand and Winter Park clubs.

Members of the local chapter suggested their intention of attending. In addition members have the privilege of taking guests with them.

John G. Leonard is general chairman in charge of all arrangements.

Several members of the club will be appointed later to work in conjunction with members from the DeLand and Winter Park Clubs to take care of preparations.

Pointing out that while members could gather anytime during the afternoon they might choose Mr. Leonard's and the barbecue would not be ready for serving until about 6:00 o'clock.

T. E. Simpson announced that tomorrow has been proclaimed "DeLand Day" as the last park by Mayor Higgins and street all to attend at least one of the six games scheduled for the afternoon and the other tomorrow night.

It was reported that the club has provided four box seats with necessary funds to enable them to attend the event.

The meeting for next Wednesday has been canceled due to its barbecue the following day. The next meeting of the club will be Aug. 3.

Brown Bear Is Added To Zoo's Collection

The Municipal Zoo has added a young brown bear to its growing collection. The bear was purchased from Messrs. Brothers and Ward, animal dealers in New York. It arrived yesterday.

The purchase was made possible through contributions and funds obtained from zoo concessions.

Ralph Tolar obtained about 18 feet of movie film this morning of the leopard. While Phil King, zoo attendant, managed the animals into the branches of the tree in their cage with a long bamboo pole, Ralph managed to get some excellent views.

Celery Soup On Desk Luck Charm, Dawson Declares

The desk of the average American business man is a travesty on nature.

"One can enter almost any office at random and there on the 'big shot's' desk one might see anything from an ivory elephant to a larkite dashboard; from a glass ball with a monkey inside to a corral obelisk.

Most desk pieces of this sort supposedly remind the owner of his work or favorite hobby.

Granting that this is true one must feel that County Agent C. R. Dawson not only makes celery his business but his hobby and the hub of most of his thinking for he delects elaborate desk sets and paper weights, preferring to use a can of celery soup.

"But why a can of celery soup?" "Well," he said, "I've heard it's good luck to keep a can of celery soup on your desk—and anything's worth trying with another celery season approaching."

AUTO CRASH FATAL CHIPLEY, July 20.—(AP)—A coroner's jury decided an automobile accident yesterday which resulted in the death of Mrs. Nellie Sowell was unavoidable. Sheriff's Deputies D. W. Braxton and A. B. Wood testified that Mrs. Sowell drove her car from a side road on the highway in the path of another driven by Jimmie Kubank of Bluefield, W. Va.

U.S. Embassy In Madrid Hit By Insurgents

Artillerymen Score 4 Hits On Building In Attack On City; No Americans Hurt

Advances Of Japs Halted By Chinese

Sino Forces Return Shell For Shell In Spite Of Heat

MADRID, July 20.—(AP)—The United States embassy building here was hit by four shells when insurgent artillery bombarded the city. Some damage was caused but no one in the embassy buildings was hurt. Elsewhere in the city, seven persons were wounded.

On the eastern coast of Spain the government's defense lines showed signs of intense drive toward Valencia.

The British foreign office, its position nearly exhausted by the situation, said British shipping companies would not sail until it could be known whether the bombing of Valencia was deliberate or part of a general insurgent raid.

The attack was the first in Madrid since Spanish ports for several weeks, a halt having followed earlier British protests to the insurgents.

It was disclosed that a reply still was awaited to the third British note to Generalissimo Franco, insurgent leader, on the general subject of the safety of British shipping.

SHANGHAI, July 20.—(AP)—China's air force defended along the Yangtze River as temperatures soared beyond 100 degrees.

Swooping Japanese troops tried hard last night to keep going toward Hankow and to blast the city into smoking ruins.

Chinese newspapers reported a new fourth of the leadership of Huang Ying, who time Communist chairman, was almost completed.

Japan's long-awaited "big push" up the Yangtze River against Hankow apparently was under way.

Terrific aerial bombardment yesterday of Hankow and nearby cities, intensified naval operations and air raids on Chinese strongholds defending approaches to the provincial capital indicated the campaign had started a new phase.

Reports from Hankow quoted Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as saying the cities of Hankow, Wuhan and HanYang were prepared to withstand whatever onslaughts Japanese unleashed upon them.

The Chinese commander-in-chief also was said to have declared Manchuria and Korea are destined soon to become battlefields.

His reference was to increasing Japanese-Soviet friction over a Manchoukuo border incident.
