DEATH PUZZLE'S FIVE VICTIMS

After many days of blind searching, authorities have identified the bodies of a man, a woman, and three small girls found in Pennsylvania and have concluded he killed them and himself. Cold and lifeless in a railroad shack near Altoona, he and the woman were identified as Elmo J. Noakes (right top) a former marine of Roseville, Calif., and Winifred Pierce (top left), his niece and housekeeper. The girls, found in a wood near Carlisle, 135 miles away, were identified as Noakes' daughters. They are shown below. Left to right: Norma, 12, Cordelia, 8, and Dewilla, 10. (Associated Press Photo) of the case this week. It will begin at 9:30 o'clock Friday.

Judge Smith also drew the names of the following persons for jury duty in connection with the Yowell case: W. L. Cooper, J. A. Takach, George D. Hart, S. W. Bradford, C. P. Martin, E. C. Smith, Jr., Ben Ammon, C. E. Myers, J. M. McCaskill, J. A. Wright, J. R. Hobbs, E. A. Londonberg, J. A. Rumbley and E. Jagnuson of Sanford, J. H. Lee, John E. Carter and J. M. Jones of Oviedo, H. B. In sounding the civil docket, Judge Smith ordered two cases scheduled for trial during the week of Jan. 14. They are: Josephine Canady vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and T. A. Jordan, damages of $100,000 claimed as the result of the loss of a limb in an accident in the Oviedo section last year.
Sam Kinlaw vs. Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, damages $25,000. This is to be a re-hearing of an original case in which a local jury found for Mr. Kinlaw but his decision was ruled against by the Florida Supreme Court which declared the $225,000 verdict as "excessive" and ordered the case retried.
States Attorney Boyle indicated at noon today that the jury probably would present several indictments on Thursday morning. Judge Smith returned to his home late today, planning to return late this week.

Predict That House Will Pass Bonus Act

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—Early members of the Seventy-fourth Congress predicted last night a majority of House Democrats would join with Republicans to pass again with an overwhelming vote the $2,200,000,000 soldier bonus bill.

The fate of the measure in the Senate is problematical. Party leaders have informed President Roosevelt the bill is certain of increased support in the body which has voted against it.

SEARCH FOR FLIERS MEETS NO SUCCESS

Fear Expressed That Trans-Pacific Flight Has Sunk With Its Three Occupants

HONOLULU, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Through the aid and private searchers widened their hunt today for Fifth Lieutenant Charles T. P. Ulm and his two companions whose trans-Pacific plane was forced to an ocean landing.

Every hour brought the fear that the trim "Star of Australia," a land plane, had sunk beneath the surging Pacific with its three passengers when the gasoline gave out yesterday.

The men had virtually no chance of surviving their plane more than a hour or so as they were so confident of reaching Honolulu that they carried no life-saving equipment.

An all night cruise by 23 naval craft failed to locate a trace of the plane in which Ulm, co-pilot George Littlejohn and navigator-radio operator J. L. Skilling took off from Oakland Monday for Honolulu on a contemplated Australia flight. The trio was attempting to chart a commercial trans-Pacific flying route.

Six hours after Lieutenant Ulm's frantic message, "will land in the sea," the fliers had not been found. Many planes and ships were participating in the hunt over the ocean.

The searchers did not know where the aviators had been forced down, but they believed Ulm and his companions, Co-pilot George Littlejohn and Navigator Radio Operator J. L. Skilling, might be adrift somewhere within 200 miles of Oahu.

Whether the Star of Australia had overshot Honolulu, first landing point on its flight to chart a proposed commercial flying route, or whether it had fallen short of its goal was unknown.

Spreading in a wide circle, planes took off from Wheeler field, and coast guard cutters, three destroyers and a passenger liner joined in attempts to locate the missing plane.

Hope was held the land plane would float, unless it became waterlogged or a wind arose to swamp it, until the searchers found it.

Hanging "No Admittance" Sign, Shultz Orders Troops Turned Back At State Line

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—Florida, hanging out the "no admittance" sign yesterday for transients without jobs or visible means of support.

"Florida will be no haven of refuge for indigent non-residents this winter," declared Governor Dave Shultz, in a written statement which will be turned back at the state line.

Transient jobs, which come to the state line, the Governor warned, and "if they succeed in entering the state they will be arrested for vagrancy, which would be unpleasant and unprofitable to all concerned."

The telegraphed that the governors of all states east of the Mississippi River, appealing for their cooperation to "have sufficient and inconspicuous" to those who rush here in search of winter jobs, or subsistence in Federal transient relief camps.

"The trick of the jobless to Florida to escape the rigor of a northern winter will be stopped even if it is necessary to establish a patrol to turn them back at points of entry along our northern border," the Governor's statement said.

DeLanki Boy Killed As Car Strikes Him

DAYTONA BEACH, Dec. 5.—Donald Sherman, 17, DeLanki High School student, was fatally injured here yesterday when he was struck by an automobile while on a vocational agriculture field study tour, with 22 classmates.

Struck down shortly after alighting from a bus to inspect a poultry plant, Sherman died on the way to the Halifax District Hospital.

Fred Davis, negro, who is said to have been the driver of the car, was captured while attempting to escape from the scene of the accident. Lawton Cook, another member of the class and a member of the DeLanki High School football team, leaped to the running board of the car, knocked Davis senseless with a blow of his fist, pulled the key from the car and took guard over the negro, until police arrived.

CHRISTMAS TRADING SEEN BEST IN YEARS

Expert Claims Public In Better Spending Mood Than At Any Time In Four Years

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—The public is in a better mood to spend, government experts say. And so they expect Christmas trade to be the best in four years.

To these predictions that cash registers will jingle as they haven't done since 1930, John McKinnon, assistant secretary of commerce, added this note of cheer:

"Prospects for a big Christmas trade show very clearly the state of mind—a satisfied and optimistic state of mind."

All evidence indicates the people are in a greater spending mood, but not for reckless spending such as we saw some years ago. This mood to buy can be directly attributable to more employment and more money in the people's pockets."

Government statisticians said: Estimates indicate farm income this year will be nearly as billion dollars greater than last year. Business generally is running ahead of last year, according to trade reports.

October department store sales increased 7 percent over a year ago, retail general merchandise sales are up 12 percent, variety store sales 5 percent, and new motor car sales 3 percent.

Labor reports indicate such heavy goods industries as locomotive equipment, machine tools, and cement improved, and industrial production improving better than expected.

Experts also pointed to increases in government emergency expenditures.

Insurance Executive Sees Owners Of Defaulted Bonds As Nation's "Forgotten Men"

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—The owner of defaulted bonds of cities, counties and other subordinate governmental agencies was termed "the forgotten man" of the present recovery program by George A. Bangs, president of the United Mutual Life Insurance Company, in an address before the convention of the Fraternal Congress of America, at the Hotel Sutherland here, yesterday afternoon.

Bangs sharply attacked such administrative projects as the Tennessee Valley improvement, the Columbia River development and Mississippi Flood Control, insofar as they "destroy taxable property, failing to protect or even recognize the interests or rights of the innocent bondholders."

"The effect of many of these plans," said Bangs, "is to seriously impair and perhaps effectively destroy the debt-paying ability of the subordinate government agencies by reducing their taxable areas as well as by reducing and impairing the value of taxable property therein."

Bangs also criticized the Wilcox municipal bankruptcy law and urged vigorous opposition to the proposals for a reduction of the 75 percent minimum in the number of creditors who must join to make the plan effective against the minority.

SENSATIONS DEVELOPING AT HEARING

Munitions Committee Amazed To Learn Of Treaty-Breaking Intrigue In Europe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(A.P.)—The charges that Nobel, Ltd., British munitions firm founded by the donor of the international peace prize was guilty of "winking" at the re-arming of Germany in violation of the Versailles Treaty was reported today to the Senate Munitions Committee.

The committee also received evidence that the State Department in 1925 recognized that the Allies were conniving with Germany in violating Versailles Treaty because by permitting the illegal manufacture of explosives in Germany, it "swilled the reparations fund."

Correspondence between the Du Pont company and its foreign department, drew the charge of "winking" from Senator Vandenberg, Republican of Michigan who is conducting the inquiry.

One of the letters plainly said that Nobel could have brought pressure on the British government to stop the violation of the peace pact by German manufacturers in 1926 but it did not do so because of its German connection.

Senator Vandenberg said it is "amazing" that there apparently is such authentic information and yet no public protest over violation of the treaty.

He previously had said that re-arming was brought about by forces "more powerful than governments."

The Senate munitions inquiry resumed hearings yesterday with the disclosure that Herbert Hoover invited American arms manufacturers to a Washington meeting in 1925 to discuss a forthcoming Geneva conference on arms control.

The invitation was issued while Hoover was secretary of commerce. Chairman Nye of the investigating committee read a telegram from Hoover to the Winchester Arms Company, of New Haven, Conn.

"You are invited to send a representative to an informal preliminary conference to discuss the economic phases of the forthcoming Geneva conference for the control of the international trade in arms, munitions, and implements of war," the telegram said.

"It is important that the American representative at Geneva be fully posted as to the views of American manufacturers of sporting arms and ammunition so that he may be able to safeguard their interests."

Reading of the telegram elicited a session at which it was charged that American arms manufacturers anticipated by six years the outbreak of the World War and organized European sales forces to get some of the expected business.

LOVE SONG

No comic scheme is more vital than the plot and plan of a happy dream.

No structure tower can be builded higher than the green spire of a growing flower.

In stellar space where it sun so bright as young delight in a lovely face?

What gift of fame can reward so well as what you tell when you say my name!

—Carl John Hostenmann.

The trouble about this Christmas is that Congress meets right afterward.

A Chicago professor thinks women should be taught how to spend money. Teaching men how to make money would be more to the point.

See where Congress is expected to appropriate nine million dollars ($9,000,000 million) for relief next year. Gosh! We can remember when that was a lot of money.

Government experts are predicting the best Christmas trade in several years. Retail merchants are getting ready to get their share of it. Do your Christmas shopping in Sanford.

One thing you've got to hand it to the federal authorities for, they're doing a mighty good job cleaning up gangsters.

The Republican party seems to be split: Chairman Fletcher on one side, and those other two Republicans on the other.

That woman who killed her husband in London is to receive a reprieve and, perhaps a pardon, according to the latest reports. In this country there have been plenty who have been pardoned with far less reason.

Old age pensions are already being put into effect in some states. Pennsylvania has recently adopted a practical plan for assisting the aged over the final stage of life. It pays a maximum of $30 a month to persons over 60, but, of course, they must be destitute to obtain the pension. Soon so it will cost the state something like $14,400,000 a year.

An Orlando negro, who stabbed his wife 54 times with an ice pick was acquitted by the jury. If some the woman lived, if she had died, the jury might have thought something should be done about it. Evidently you can't convict a judge of merely picking his wife to pieces.

Walter J. Eaton, president of the Marine Society of America, and an expert glider operator, crashed 1,000 feet into Biscayne Bay and was killed when his glider turned over. The parachute which he had strapped to his back was not used. It is one thing to have a parachute descend from a airplane; it is another thing to have one when its use is not needed, drop upon you. Some people are like the things we see in the sky. It is in the hands of the pilot.

Tourist Opportunities

As is usual at this time of year there is considerable resentment among many of Florida's northern visitors against the practice of "gouging" tourists in many of our more popular resorts. In some of these cities rentals, restaurants prices, and other charges are sometimes doubled and even tripled as soon as the season gets under way. In some stores, for instance, there is a practice of having one price for the home folks and another for the visitors.

To some extent this sort of thing is justified. Houses vacant all summer naturally require higher rentals in winter than they would if occupied throughout the year. Hotels which stagger along through the summer months with only a few guests naturally must charge higher rates during the winter if they are to remain open at all. So it is with the merchants. In Florida they have to make up in the winter what they lose in the summer.

But it is nevertheless true that whenever Florida has a particularly good season as it did during the boom and as it appears about to have this year, a few unconscionable profiteers raise rates and prices so high, hoping in one year to make enough to last ten, that tourists go away vowing never to return to this state again. Most visitors expect to pay more here than elsewhere, due to the nature of our climatic trade, but no one, no matter how wealthy, likes to be robbed.

In this connection it seems to us it would be a good idea for Sanford to advertise throughout the state, particularly in the newspapers published in tourist cities, that rentals, rates, and prices in general in this city are not increased during the winter months, and on the whole are as low as in any other city in the country. As a matter of fact the average tourist can make the trip to Sanford and live more cheaply than he could by remaining at home.

In some of Florida's resorts, homes are rented for a season of three months for $2,500 which could be had in Sanford for $50 or $75 a month. Household servants, no better than those in Sanford who get $6 or $7 a week, must be paid $15 or $20 a week. Food prices are often twice what they are here. Other living expenses are similarly boosted. It seems to us that many visitors to these resorts, if they are disgusted at being gouged, would like to spend a few weeks in some place like Sanford if they knew how inexpensively they could do it.

Sanford has an opportunity in this tourist business and would benefit materially by taking advantage of it. Plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables growing all around us, the best hunting and fishing in Florida within easy driving distance, warm sunshine and cool nights, golfing, tennis, and swimming, at the lowest possible prices! What more could a person want?

Famous Last Words

If a person has but one last request which could be granted on this earth, it might well be that he would have the courage to face death like a man. For someone has truly said, "The coward dies a thousand deaths; the brave man dies but once."

Andre Maurois, writing recently in the New York Herald Tribune on "The Fine Art of Dying," shows from many famous last words how great men have died. Father Roubours, a famous grammarian was a grammarian to the end. Said he with his last words, "I shall die, or I am going to die—one just as grammatical as the other," while King Charles II of England who had lingered on beyond his time, said "I have been an unconscionable time a-dying. I hope you will excuse me."

Richelieu, when asked, "Do you pardon your enemies?" replied: "My only enemies were those who were enemies of France." Corot, like a painter: "I hope with all my heart that we shall be able to paint in Heaven." The philosopher Hall, who was also a doctor, kept tapping his own pulse right up to the last. "My friend," he said to a fellow worker, "the artery is ceasing to beat." Those were his last words. "I am dying as I have lived," said Oscar Wilde, "Beyond my means." And Heinrich Heine: "God will pardon me. It's His business."

"Gallop quick! Full speed into Heaven!" Madame Louise commanded a sobbing and imaginary post-boy. When they were singing at his bedside the hymn, "Naked I came into the world, naked I shall go out." Frederick William I, King of Prussia, rose from his lethargy to protest. "No," he said, "not naked. I shall be wearing my uniform." Napoleon III retained the somewhat haughty affability of a king. His last words were addressed to his doctor, "Connexu, weren't you at the Battle of Sedan?"

"To die, to sleep. . . . But in that sleep of Death what dreams may come?" Hamlet's supreme question is still unanswered, M. Maurois concludes, but it is not futile to know that kings, philosophers, artists, poor wretches of all sorts have, without losing too much courage, yearned for the answer from a Sphinx whose face is ever turned toward Night.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—It's a mad, haphazard, hopeless task — this business of trying to define New York. It looks easy, according to theory, because cities don't mean anything until you get tied up with them through people, and as there are more people here than anywhere else, one would think a cross-section of its life would yield the answer.

Yet, after a review of the records, I am convinced that if a true definition of New York is ever written, it will be a tale told by an idiot.

No sane man could hope to qualify the wild gleam in this town's eye—a city where you can sell anything at a profit, even plug nickels, if you wrap them up and tie them with a colored ribbon.

When "Design for Living" opened three seasons ago I suspected the truth. Now after the Army-Notre Dame game, I know it.

Eighty thousand people, at $4.40 per head, poured into the Yankee Stadium to see Army and Notre Dame. Here was Notre Dame, a thrice-beaten team. And here was Army, knocked off in the only important game it had played. Yet you couldn't even find standing room at kick-off time.

But two weeks earlier, when Tulane and Colgate came to New York, the stands were half empty—with seats selling at only $2.20. Odd as this may seem, on the record, either Tulane or Colgate could massacre Army and Notre Dame on successive days.

Each of those teams is representative of the best football in their respective sections. But, you couldn't point out this fact to New York. The newspapers tried and got nowhere. New York wanted the hoop-lah that goes with Army and Notre Dame, and it got what it wanted. It saw the cadets march and heard the bands blare, but it saw only an average game between two earnest but middle-class teams.

This game, on a larger scale, was what happened when the Lunts and Neel Coward opened in "Design for Living," a play that was a lot of fun and a great financial success. They asked and got $16 each for first night seats. Yet premiers in New York are as common as flies. Almost every night during the show season, there is at least one premiere and sometimes two or three.

After the premiere, the fee sank to something like $4.00, which was plenty high for the times, it being right at the core of the depression. Around the next corner, however, such admirable fare as "Goodbye Again" was going begging at half that price. Personally, I have no quawk coming.

I saw ten all on what the boys call "ducati." I got in for nothing. And I don't suppose anybody has a quawk. In this land of the free you can't tell people how not to spend their money. But it does go to show that a fancy razz-dazzle will always collect a crowd in New York.

It's an impertinent thought, but could W. E. George have been thinking of New York when, speaking of bunk, he wrote: "If only you throw enough of it, some of it will stick!"

players—fullback George McClellan and left guard Thomas "King King" Williams—and the two players who were honorably mentioned by Conference coaches—halfback Leslie Harnage and left tackle Ralph Pearson.

The game is being played on a benefit which in which the athletic department treasury will, it is hoped, be built up considerably. Popular officials will prevail and school officials today were urgent in their plea that all friends of the school turn out for the final game of the season.

Sholtz Orders All Transients Turned Back At State Line

For the week ending Nov. 23, these camps in Florida have a population of 11,006, of which 8919 were non-residents. Positively no more non-residents can be cared for in these camps with the limited federal funds now available and the state has no other facilities for caring for them.

There are no more surplus jobs in Florida during the winter season than in the North. The harvesting of our citrus crop and our crop of winter vegetables belongs to those who stay here all year round. At the present time there are plenty of our own citizens eager to do this work. Outside labor is not required. Other jobs also are filled.

There is no surplus employment and consequently no room in Florida this winter for the jobs. In their own interests, I urge those who are unable to finance themselves and those who do not have employment arranged for in advance, to stay away from Florida at this time.

Florida will be no haven of refuge for indigent non-residents.

When members of Celery Camp No. 625, Woodmen of the World met at the Woodmen Hall tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock they will find most of their time occupied with the election of 1935 officers who are to be installed at the first meeting in January.

Oyle Bass and Jack Dial, the two ex-convicts who were arrested near the B. W. Anderson home some weeks ago by County Motorcyclic Officer E. T. Hamilton, were sentenced yesterday in Orlando to 10 year terms at Sanford. The pair were found guilty Monday of robbing T. A. Cox, Orlando taxi driver, of his cab and clothing. Officer Hamilton picked them up quite by accident while enroute to Sanford.

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams and his men were making arrests today in the case of all persons who have so far failed to purchase their 1934-35 occupational license, due on Dec. 1. As a result of the activities of the police, many persons have called at the City Hall since Saturday and attended to this requirement of operation in this city. Arrests will be made, Ch. Williams said, until all licenses have been purchased.

Needed by County Clerk V. E. Douglas as president, all officers of the Florida Field Trials Association were re-elected when members of the organization met in Orlando Monday night to prepare for the annual field trials which were concluded in Tall this afternoon. The officers include: Clyde McKenny of Orlando as secretary, C. H. Cord of Orlando as 1st vice-president; C. G. Magruder of Orlando as 2nd vice-president; Dr. J. L. Ruble of Orlando as 3rd vice-president.

C. Washburn, senior warden; J. C. Trawick, junior warden; George W. Husk, re-elected as treasurer; C. J. Rumph, re-elected as secretary. Worshipful Master A. L. Betts reported this morning that members last night also authorized the repainting of the exterior of the Masonic Temple. The interior also will be redecorated and painted, he added.

Walter S. Coleman of Coleman's Office Equipment Co. this morning was supervising the installation in County Judge J. G. Sharon's office, of the largest filing cabinet safe in the city. The huge cabinet weighs 3000 pounds, and a large crew of St. Johns River Line Co. employees had a hand in its transportation from company docks into Judge Sharon's office. The cabinet fills a great need, Judge Sharon said, for it now will be possible for him to store dozens of valuable county records which had been unprotected for some time.

State Traffic Inspector J. V. Cameron of Tallahassee yesterday concluded his inspection of 20 school buses used in this county with the announcement that "Your buses are in better condition generally than any I have inspected this year." He particularly stressed the semaphore system which is in use on buses in the county, terming it "The best I've ever seen." All buses are up to and beyond standard, he added. Inspector Cameron was assisted in his work by County Motorcyclic Officer E. T. Hamilton.

The Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee will select the successor to the late C. W. Cuffepper of Geneva as a member of the Board of Public Instruction for this county, it was announced today. Postmaster E. J. Holly, Sr., and chairman of the committee, said that his group would act in the matter just as soon as Governor Sholtz requested that an appointment be made. Mr. Holly also indicated that the selection would be made by ballot.

Chief of Police Roy G. Williams is credited with the arrest on Thanksgiving eve of Wray Austin, young Lakeland man who was wanted by federal authorities on a charge of using the mails to defraud. It was learned today, Austin, operator of some sort of book selling scheme in which he was the principal one to benefit, was traced to Sanford by federal agents. Chief Williams was advised, and Austin was arrested as he was seated at the Milano Theatre last Wednesday night. U. S. Postal Inspector T. W. Overstreet came to Sanford the next day and took Austin to Tampa for trial.

Mrs. Paul Shoemaker and Mrs. Bert Chapman, recently named as teachers for the FERA Nursery school which will open in the old Telford home on Park Avenue next Monday morning, left Monday for Tampa where they will spend a week in training for their part in the six months course. Meanwhile, local FERA officials were making the end of their quest for equipment of furniture, cooking utensils, and other articles needed at the school. They report that "splendid assistance" has been lent them by local merchants, civic and social clubs and that from all indications, the 20 boys and girls who will be instructed at the school for the next six months will be well taken care of.

The widespread local rumor that the body of an attractive and well dressed young woman had been taken from either the Wekiva river near the Wekiva Bridge or from the river near the Oatman Bridge, appeared today to be definitely without foundation. Sheriff J. F. McClelland, Chief of Police Roy G. Williams, and Gordon Harrison at the Erickson Funeral Home all reported knowing nothing of the woman and were inclined to believe it "Just another rumor."

Home Demonstration Agent advising members of the local Demonstration club and other women whom she believed interested that Miss Gladys Kimbrough of Muncie, Ind., will be in Sanford to give two canning demonstrations that should be of value to every woman in the county. At 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, Miss Kimbrough will demonstrate vegetable canning at the Mayfair Hotel kitchen, while at 3:00 o'clock Monday afternoon she will demonstrate meat canning. Glass jars will be used for canning purposes, and a steam-pressure cooker will be used for non-ferrous vegetables and meat.

Charles E. Whitner today called the City Engineer's attention to what he termed "A completely equipped river channel" which has just been completed and begun marked by the War Department. He was referring to the channel recently dug for a distance of about 1700 feet west of the Chamber of Commerce dock, to connect with the regular channel which passes in front of the Municipal Pier, and the 2000 foot channel from the east, he said.

and new channel on the extreme west. Not only was beacon No. 14 moved back to facilitate the docking of boats entering the new channel from the east, he said, but nine other new beacons were erected. They will be marked within a few days, and they will serve to indicate the route which boats should take when entering or leaving the old channel for the new one.

GIRL ASLEEP FOR NEARLY 3 YEARS IS AWAKENING

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Patricia Hanrahan, asleep two years and nine months, has come back to the twilight of consciousness and responds to commands held before her eyes.

the 19-year-old "sleeping beauty" of Oak Park is rising from the coma that has baffled medical science.

Patricia, still unhooded the spoken command, now is able to recognize and follow instructions written on a slate and held before her.

"Pat raise your hand," Mrs. Hanrahan wrote on a slate. For a minute Patricia stared at the slate. Then, slowly she raised her hand.

Patricia's apparent ability to co-ordinate her eye and mind was first discovered by her mother a few days ago.

Sitting beside her pretty daughter, Mrs. Hanrahan watched Patricia move her eyes as if she were looking around the room. Mrs. Hanrahan spoke to her.

But just as it had been since Feb. 15, 1932, Patricia did not reply. Still trying desperately to reach into her daughter's mind and awaken her, Mrs. Hanrahan picked up a pad of paper and a pencil.

"Raise your index finger," she wrote and placed the paper before her daughter's eyes. Slowly Patricia obeyed.

Mrs. Hanrahan hurriedly wrote another message. "Raise two fingers."

WAR VETERANS DYING AT RATE OF 80 EACH DAY

Estimates Submitted For Use In Next Up Budget For '35

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—World War veterans are dying at the rate of more than 80 every day or about $5,000 a year.

These figures, with many others, have been furnished the budget bureau by the Veterans' Administration in connection with appropriation estimates for the next fiscal year.

Estimates will not be made public until submitted to Congress in January, but officials expect the appropriation to be much higher than for the current year—$54,748,000. The figure does not include the $100,000,000 estimated as necessary to pay for benefits voted by the last Congress over President Roosevelt's objections.

This $100,000,000, which will be submitted in a deficiency estimate for this year's expense, also will be carried in next year's appropriation.

If deaths and disabilities continue at the present rate, the increases probably will shoot the 1935-36 cost of Veterans' Administration to around $700,000,000 unless administration expenses are curtailed further.

Officials expect pension cost of grow for perhaps another decade, despite the drop in number to know for perhaps another decade, despite the drop in number based on the fact that the average age of World War veterans now is around 40. Experience has shown the heaviest mortality and sickness between 40 and 50.

A mortality expectancy table furnished the budget bureau shows the Veterans' Administration anticipates cases, covering all wars, by the end of the next fiscal year. This would boost the total number from 885,000 to 910,000.

There are now 366,895 World War veterans on the pension rolls including 336,786 service-connected cases. These are expected to increase to 367,000 by June, 1935, while the non-service are rising from 30,109 to 35,000.

Dependents of World War veterans on the rolls now total 115,852; these are expected to increase to 123,735.

Forty-nine regular passenger trains leave Atlanta, Ga., daily, running in many directions.

The contract group accepted the contract with the understanding that it would have a five year lease of the ground, with the option of extending the lease at the end of that period.

It was decided to delay the awarding of other concession graph company facilities, until a later meeting.

Also held up was the adoption of a permanent scale of stall rentals and entrance fees.

Huey Allegedly Cursed Editor Of Campus Weekly

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The assertion that he had heard Senator Huey P. Long viciously curse James H. Catron, resigned editor of "Reveille" the Louisiana State University campus paper, and threaten to "fire" any university student who "dared to say a word against Huey Long" was worn to yesterday by David R. McGuire, one of four students dismissed in the dispute over "Reveille" censorship.

The statement by McGuire, a New Orleans student, was issued about the time Dr. Guy E. Snavely of Birmingham, secretary of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary schools meeting in Atlanta announced that the executive committee of the association would investigate charges filed by Baton Rouge citizens that Long, a politician, "is running Louisiana State University."

REMINGTONS BEAT EMBARGO BOARD LEARNS

Senate Probers Given Data Showing How Big Arms Company Dealt With China

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(A.P.)—Evidence that officials of the Remington Arms Company attempted to kill arms embargo legislation in 1933 and "got busy" at Washington when rumors were received that the embargo was to be proclaimed was presented today to the Senate Committee.

Earlier, the committee had received information that Du Pont Company sent a shipment of powder to Holland in 1929 for re-shipment to China while the embargo was in effect on a direct shipment to China.

F. J. Monaghan, export manager for the Remington Company, repudiated implications of a letter he had written that "we reathred some mighty big officials" (Continued on Page Four)

20 Percent Of 1934 State, County Taxes Already Collected

Twenty percent of the 1934 tax roll was collected during November, it was announced at the Court House this morning by Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins.

He and his assistants counted 1207 receipts for state and county 1934 taxes on real and personal property, collecting a total of $1,011,877.45, or an average of $90.50 per receipt. The total assessment for 1934 is $5,071,446.10.

The figures also are 50 percent higher than the amount collected during November of 1933 for in that month, 1201 receipts were issued, bringing in $642,854.68.

Mr. Jenkins considers last month's collections as surprising in view of the fact that the millage is lower than it was last year. In the Sanford district the 1934 millage is 65 1/2 compared with 67 7/8 of 1933.

He also revealed that the total amount of state and county revenues collected in November reached $1,071,068.85, including poll taxes, occupational license fees, back taxes, and similar collections.

Taxpayers who paid during November took advantage of a four percent discount which totaled $48,422.

Mr. Jenkins reminds remaining taxpayers that there is a three percent discount allowed during December.

Tax collections have mounted in the past three months to $3,788,111 collected during November, 1933, to the $1,071,068.85 collected last month, he said.

HOOVER BLAMES U.S. SENATE FOR PARLEY FAILURE

Former President Explains His Part In Arms Control Meet

PALO ALTO, Calif., Dec. 6.—(A.P.)—Responsibility for the failure of the 1925 Geneva convention for the control of international arms shipments yesterday was placed on the United States Senate by Former President Herbert Hoover.

A conference of sporting arms manufacturers was called by Hoover in 1925, when he was Secretary of Commerce, preliminary to an international convention on arms in general in Europe. The result of the latter convention was an international treaty to control arms traffic. It was signed by the United States, but not ratified by the Senate.

"During eight years, from 1925 to 1933, its ratification was held up by the Senate and probably is yet," Mr. Hoover said.

Commenting further on the report to the Senate Minutes Investigating Committee Tuesday of a successful concerted effort by gun makers throughout the world to modify the Geneva convention through the League of Nations, Mr. Hoover said:

"The full report and details of the conference of sporting arms manufacturers which was called by myself as Secretary of Commerce in 1925, are on file in the State Department."

The conference was called at the request of the Secretary of State and for the purpose of giving a hearing to the manufacturers' views as to the methods of discriminating between sporting arms on one hand and war arms on the other.

Ratification of the international arms treaty was "indecisively advocated" by President Coolidge and Mr. Hoover and by Secretaries of State Kellog and Stimson, the former President said in his statement.

"As late as Jan. 10, 1933, I again urged its ratification and called the attention of the Senate to the fact that it had now been ratified by a large number of other nations, and that its failure of adoption in the world was largely because of the failure of the United States," Mr. Hoover said.

"I further recommended that pending the ratification of the" (Continued on Page Two)

Palatka Gardens Open To Public Free

PALATKA, Dec. 6.—Numerous donations to be charged those visiting the Ravine Gardens here were branded as false yesterday by City Commissioner E. W. Elliott, chairman of the Municipal Ravine Gardens committee.

"Everyone is welcome to visit the gardens as often as they wish, without a penny cost," declared Commissioner Elliott, refuting the report that a fee was charged those inspecting the local beautification project. Employees and gatekeepers at the ravine are not allowed to accept tips or gratuities of any kind, Mr. Elliott also stressed.

Straw Vote To Decide DeLand Liquor Sales

DELAND, Dec. 6.—Whether DeLand shall have a municipally operated liquor store, may depend on the reaction of the public, it was announced yesterday. In order to win consent of the community, a straw vote will be taken, in which only registered voters may participate.

The straw vote will be required to sign the bill in order to prevent its passing and the plan that is being considered.

BRITAIN TO LEND HAND IN SAAR BASIN

England Offers Its Troops To Patrol Valley During Plebiscite Of Jan. 13

GENEVA, Dec. 6.—(A.P.)—France yesterday said flatly she will send no troops into the Saar basin—and Great Britain promised to help police the territory during the forthcoming plebiscite if Adolf Hitler is willing.

Thus, with spectacular suddenness, the League of Nations council found apparent solution of the problem that brought it into extraordinary session, the matter of keeping the peace in the little European " tinder-box " that votes Jan. 13 to rejoin Germany, join France or remain under the League.

If the German reichsruhrer assents—and Geneva last night waited anxiously to hear from Berlin—an international army will march into the Saar before the plebiscite to assure "fair and free" balloting.

But French troops, long held ready to move into the Saar should Nazis attempt to seize it by force, will stay at home.

Through Foreign Minister Laval, France yesterday made her astounding renunciation of the right to send troops into the Saar.

"We can not participate in an international force," Laval said, "because Germany can not participate."

Capt. Anthony Eden, British representative, in an address that set the League abuzz with comment, proposed that an international army be dispatched to the basin before the plebiscite.

"His Majesty's government," Eden explained, "gives the greatest importance to the view that prevention is better than cure."

An agreement the French and German representatives reached at Rome recently, under which Germany in case she won the Saar promised to pay for French interests and guarantee Saarlanders should not be discriminated against by reason of race, religion or political affiliation, smoothed the way for yesterday's sensational developments.

TO DEMONSTRATE FIRING SQUAD MOWS DOWN 66 SOVIET FOES

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(A.P.)—The failure of NRA so far to fulfill the hopes of its founders were reported last night by Philip Richberg, executive director of the national emergency council.

The President's recovery coordinator, in an address made more significant by the pending reshaping of NRA, nevertheless told the national association of manufacturers here that "we see the foundations of a better economic system outlined in the principles which we have been seeking to make effective in the last 17 months."

To business' lack of organizations to take over the job of self government, and to opportunities missed by both business and federal officials, Richberg attributed the failure to attain all NRA's ends.

"It is much more important on this occasion," he said, "for us to admit candidly to each other that our experiment with industrial self-government demonstrated all too clearly that private business is not adequately organized for collective action and self-discipline; and that political controls are a poor substitute for voluntary co-operation."

Richberg in strong words left no doubt, however, that the NRA would go on. He declared, in effect, also, that the government was not going to withdraw its hand in business until private capital is more active. He said: (Continued on Page Two)

New Terror Laws Invoked In Finding Terrorists Guilty Of Plotting Death

MOSCOW, Dec. 6.—(A.P.)—Swift death to 66 "enemies" was Soviet Russia's grim counter-threat to terrorism today as she buried the ashes of Sergi Kiroff, assassinated Red leader.

The men were brought to trial in Moscow and Leningrad yesterday, specially convicted and immediately executed.

Only five of 71 "white guard" foes of the regime, escaped a similar fate, at least temporarily. They are held for further questioning.

The new "terror" decrees invoked because of the nation's anger at Kiroff's slaying last Saturday, were carried out to the letter. There were no defense attorneys, no prosecutors, and no appeals were allowed.

Russia buried Kiroff beside the other immortals of the Bolshevik revolution in Red Square today.

The court at Leningrad disclosed that the men sentenced there entered Russia through Finland, Latvia and Poland under instructions to organize terrorism.

Each case was tried separately behind closed doors, the communiqué stated.

The names of the men executed were none of the leaders who had figured prominently with the white armies during the civil warfare following the Bolshevik revolution.

Nor were there any names of men who had national prominence (Continued on Page Four)

YUGOSLAVIA EXPELS ALL HUNGARIANS

27,000 Persons Affected By Drastic Expulsion Order; 300 To Be Homeless

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 6.—(A.P.)—The Yugoslav government, it was announced today, has decided to expel all of the 27,000 Hungarians now living in Yugoslavia.

The government decision means the uprooting of the entire Hungarian element in Yugoslavia.

It was stated authoritatively that the expulsion would be a gradual process but it would proceed relentlessly.

About 300 luckless former Hungarians have found themselves without a country.

This group is composed of men and women who renounced their Hungarian citizenship preparatory to becoming Yugoslavs. Hungary has thrown them out and Yugoslavia will not permit them to return.

Hungary was incensed last night by word that "Yugoslavia was proceeding with the mass deportation of every Hungarian resident in that country and that already upwards of 1000 persons had been uprooted and started across the frontier."

The campaign, on the heels of Yugoslavia's charges before the League of Nations against Hungary, have aroused high tension among the Hungarians.

Sholtz Appoints 5 Local Men To New Farmers' Aid Body

The appointment of five prominent residents of Seminole County to serve as a local committee of the Farm Debt Adjustment Commission of Florida, was announced in Tallahassee today by Governor David Sholtz.

Members of the Seminole County committee are: G. F. Smith, Sanford; Col. E. T. Haines, Altamonte Springs; Frank Evans, Lake Mary; Arthur Howell, Sanford, and W. H. Schmidt, Sanford.

This group, serving voluntarily, will carry on in this county the efforts of the state commission toward voluntary settlement of farm debts in order to prevent foreclosures and thus save the homes of financially over-burdened farmers.

The committee will attempt to effect a compromise only in cases where there is no possibility of a farmer paying his debts in full, and in no instance will cancellation of debts be advocated.

The committee will formally organize in the next few days, naming a chairman and secretary and selecting a headquarters. In the meantime, the members have been asked to attend a meeting to be held at the Orange County Court House in Orlando on Dec. 18 at 10:00 o'clock, at which W. Kerr Scott, field representative of the Federal Farm Credit Administration, will explain in detail the work of the farm debt adjustment groups in Florida.

Members of the Orange, Osceola, and Broward county committees also will attend the conference. It will be open to all residents of this section interested in the subject of farm debts.

Haysl, Va. Wiped Out By Diastrous Fire

HAYSI, Va., Dec. 6.—(A.P.)—Fire yesterday practically wiped out his town of several hundred inhabitants, burning all buildings in the town proper except two garages and a small shoe shop. The fire was believed to have originated in a department store about 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

For miles along the highway between the hill to the southwest Virginia town the roadside was strewn with merchandise and household goods removed in a frantic effort to effect some salvage. Most buildings were frames and it was estimated that about half of those destroyed were business structures and the remainder dwellings.

Three persons were killed and one injured last night when the airplane in which they were riding crashed in an attempt to land at the Richmond airport.

The dead were identified as Dr. A. M. Hennessey, of Indianapolis, his daughter, Mrs. M. C. Richmond, and Dr. John Gunnick, of Indianapolis. The injured man was Howard Maxwell, of Indianapolis, their pilot.
