

Despite Bad Weather Bombers Find Targets

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Flying at 25,000 feet above monsoon thunderstorms, waves of U.S. B-52 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of radar-guided bombs on North Vietnamese positions just below the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen reported today.

Some 40 of the Stratofortresses struck in support of South Vietnamese marines in Quang Tri province who were hit by 1,500-round artillery and mortar barrage over the weekend.

At least 44 North Vietnamese troops were killed in the fighting Saturday and Sunday, while government losses were at least 12 killed and 78 wounded, according to communiques from the Saigon command and field reports.

Despite the stiff resistance and heavy rains, field reports said the marines, backed by an armored column, had advanced about two miles and expanded their area of operations to a coastal strip of land 8 miles north-northeast of Quang Tri city.

It was the stiffest resistance encountered by the marines since they recaptured Quang Tri City Sept. 16. The North Vietnamese still control most of the province, and the South Vietnamese are trying to get back what they can before a cease-fire.

U.S. military sources disclosed that war materials were still flowing southward through the DMZ to enemy troops, despite the monsoon-swollen Ben Hai river which is the dividing line through the six-mile-wide buffer zone. Some troop re-placements also are moving in, but no new units are crossing, the sources said.

The U.S. Command reported that American fighter-bombers few only 40 strikes in the southern panhandle of North Vietnam Sunday, the third successive day the number fell below 50. Officials again attributed the curtailment to the weather.

The U.S. Command also reported that American troop strength in Vietnam dropped another 1,800 men last week to 29,300.

Food Store 'Hit' By Armed Robber

By GARY TAYLOR

The Casselberry Police Department is investigating the Saturday night armed robbery of a convenience store on U.S. 1-82 at Golden Days Road.

According to Chief George Karber, a young white male entered the Kwik Stop Store about 8:10 with a .38-caliber pistol and surprised the night manager, Arthera Rutledge.

The suspect took all the cash register and then forced the clerk to lie on the floor while he apparently escaped on foot.

Sgt. P. Ronald Tamburo is investigating. The amount of money taken in the robbery has not yet been determined.

James K. Rook, SR 320, in Oviedo, reported someone gained forced entry through the rear door of his trailer. Items missing included a turntable valued at $100, four speakers worth $100, a tape recorder worth $125, and about 100 tapes and 100 records valued at approximately $300.

Walton F. Mendenhall, an employe at a service station at SR 48 and Oxford Road, Fern Park, told deputies someone entered his car and took about 25 tapes.

Two bicycles were reported taken from English Estates School, Harry Zimmerman, 2500 Dakota Trail and Jim Conway, 2005 Collier Avenue, reported the theft of bikes valued at $80 and $55, respectively.

Mrs. Walter Price, 23 Lochmond Drive, Highland Pines, reported the theft of a 10-speed bicycle worth $90.

Charles Hayes, 321 Jackson Street, Altamonte Springs, told deputies someone stole a .32 caliber handgun from him. Value was set at $56.

Virgil Settle, of Orlando, reported the theft of a $125 boat trailer from the Bunnell Road area.

Roy Barfield, 2830 Gale Place, Sanford, said someone forced entry to his vehicle parked at the Wekiva River boat ramp, and damaged a tape player beyond repair, trying to remove it. There was also damage to the car.

Robert Louis Ansley, 38, of 1102 North Reams Street, was arrested on a warrant issued by the 18th Judicial Circuit, charging him with possession of prohibited drug and sale of prohibited drug. He was arrested at his residence.

What next with Women's Lib? Did you know that one South Seminole city had a woman police chief last week?

The area of law enforcement has always been an area which has shown prejudice to women. It has only been in very recent times that women wishing to enter law enforcement agencies are having their abilities recognized.

One man in one agency stands out as the exception and that man is Justus East, the police chief of Altamonte Springs.

Jack Devlin, President of the South Seminole Optimist Club asked area chiefs if they would select one young person to be "chief for the day." It was to be part of a national program to show youth appreciation, that young person was to show outstanding capabilities. After searching his area and noting many outstanding youngsters, Justus East decided the honor was to go to Rhonda Argentine.

Rhonda is the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Argentine of 211 Greenwood Lane, Altamonte Springs and is a student at Millwee Middle School.

It was a busy day for Rhonda, who received an Honorary City Police identification card for her efforts. She rode in a patrol car, worked the radio, sat in with the chief as he went about his duties and met with city officials, sat in on staff meetings, and attended municipal court sitting next to the judge on the bench.

"We'll me," said the chief, "it is not just a fad. I always believed that everyone should enjoy equal opportunity. I remember a woman who worked for my department several years ago, Cindy Perry. Cindy was smart and I encouraged her to go to school. She is now an investigator for Orange County. She grew faster than the department at that time, but I am proud to feel I was a part of her growing and maturing."

"We are lucky that both Orange and Seminole County have qualified Sheriffs, but it does not always have to happen this way."

By Two Firms Gun Law Is Argued

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin today told the Florida Supreme Court that "Saturday Night Special" handguns manufactured by two Miami firms were "good for nothing except to kill and maim people."

He said if the Court permitted the companies to go back into operation—even temporarily—it would be "just as deadly" as permitting a chemistry laboratory to continue manufacturing heroin.

Lawyers for both firms disputed Shevin's claims and asked the court permission to return to business while they appeal a state law prohibiting the assembly of foreign-made handgun parts.

"Guns have been manufactured in the United States incorporating foreign parts for well over 200 years," said Michael Capuccio, attorney for Firearm Import and Export Corp.

"Our guns compare favorably with those made by Smith and Wesson, the finest handgun available in America," said Capuccio. "We manufacture no gun that is dangerous to the user."

Raincheck Mandatory Under Proposed Bill

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Retailers who advertised merchandise on sale would have to give shoppers a raincheck on the price if they sell out the item, under a bill filed today by State Sen. David McClain, R-Tampa.

McClain said his bill would require store owners to have sufficient quantities of sale merchandise on hand to make good on their ads.

"Many persons travel considerable distances for bargains only to be told by the retailer that the bargain item has been sold out," said McClain. "This legislation will force the retailer to assume his responsibility to the consumer when he advertises a product at a special or reduced rate."

McClain's bill gives the shopper the right to take to court any retailer who claims a special sales item is sold out and does not provide a raincheck "or other means by which the consumer may obtain the advertised item at the advertised price."

'A Wave Of Protest' Urged By Irish Army

DUBLIN (AP) — The Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army is calling for "a wave of protest" in the United States, Britain and Ireland against the arrest by the Irish government of the "Provos' chief of staff, Sean MacStiofain."

The Provisionals' political arm, Sinn Fein, said MacStiofain's arrest in Dublin Sunday was an "act of collaboration" with the British Army, "calculated to give aid and comfort to the forces of British imperialism in Ireland."

MacStiofain is believed to be the mastermind of the IRA's campaign of violence in Northern Ireland, which is aimed at uniting the province with the Irish Republic.

The Dublin government has been reluctant to crack down on IRA leaders because of their grass-roots support in the republic. But in recent months the government pushed a Special Powers Act through Parliament, to bring IRA men to trial without jury and several other terrorist leaders have been arrested.

The apprehension of MacStiofain posed a new challenge to the IRA's claims to wide support in the republic and perhaps sets the stage for a conflict between the IRA and Dublin's security forces.

Enjoy This "American Breathing Spell"

Most happily this week is a time when a breathing spell is afforded almost every American. In it we celebrate the almost entirely American festival of Thanksgiving.

The reaction from the presidential campaign is being experienced, and quite properly, by the politicians. For such there is no breathing spell.

Republican leaders and first-rank Nixon advisors await word from the president from his period of sequestration and his decisions in regard to the stream-lining of the executive arm of government.

Democratic leadership shaken to its bones by the enormous personal victory of the first term Nixon record, is having a far from quiet time.

Out of the immediate reactions both by the still devoted followers of the defeated Senator George McGovern and the Democrats who see the need for a re-adjusting of the course of this historically majority party will come grave decisions.

But don't expect them soon or in a form which will be easily interpreted as a clean, new course for this divided political party.

Nor can this be a breathing spell for other peoples in other lands. Closely linked with the American scene is, of course, the still evasive end of the Indochina war.

Arabs and Israelis continue to live in the same climate of hostility and almost unmitigated hatred which has been their fate ever since the State of Israel was created and the Israelis proceeded to show just how much could be accomplished with vision, hard work and total commitment.

As this comment is being made another great state and another great area has swung into the spotlight of grave international concern. This is Argentina. For on this day the 77-year old Juan D. Peron, Argentina's strong man, returns from his 17-year exile and arrives with a stated purpose of bringing back to the land where he ruled with an iron hand and from which he fled "peace and understanding."

People in that troubled land, second largest in South America, have now to cope with aroused passions, new hopes and have to do so with sources of information being kept at a minimum.

There are other lands and other peoples who would find the issues which confront Americans of an order which could better any with which they are wrestling.

For problems are a continuing human condition which arise to prod the lazy into action, curb the ambitions with the cold water of hard facts, and in all of this hardening the steel of character with which man walks erect, sees clearly and acts with wisdom.

If anyone in this lovely Seminole county is troubled over local conditions—regardless of what they may be just take a look over our borders. North to Canada. South to Argentina. East to Israel. West to Vietnam.

Now, more than ever, "East, West—Home's Best!"

Personal, Private And Most Tender

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The biggest problem in learning how to be a widower is finding someone to sew on buttons for you.

After my wife Frances died four years ago of a pancreatic cancer detected too late, I made a surprising self-discovery: I no longer was really trained for life.

For nearly 31 years my wife had kept me as a kind of pet. The only job I had to do was to do my job — bring home the bacon. Otherwise I was totally free. My wife handled all the household problems and protected me from all other cares except my work. As a result I guess I became something of a basket case.

"I will never be able to understand how you managed to go through three wars and get back without me along to help you," Frances told me more than once.

"I had Uncle Sam there to tell me when to blow my nose," I explained.

After a loved one dies, there is a gulf of grief and measureless loss to cross. Despair and guilt are a daily bread. But when that gulf is crossed — if it ever quite is — there has to be a new accommodation to life.

In my case this was doubly difficult. I did know how to take out the garbage — every wife insists that her husband at least learn that fine art. But I didn't know how to cook anything except canned chili. I didn't know how to get my income tax forms filled out, pay the rent, or get the laundry done, the windows washed, the rugs cleaned, the furniture repaired, the car's oil sanctified, the landlord mollified, peddlers at the door rebuffed, our teen-age daughter raised, or how to throw a cocktail party.

Or — most of all — how to get a new button sewn on a shirt.

Global Weapon To Fight Air Piracy

By FRANK MACOMBER

Top U.S. officials, from Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe on down, are convinced that air piracy, like sea piracy, will come to a swift end only when all nations refuse sanctuary to airline hijackers.

The catch is that not enough other nations seem to feel the same way about it, and apparently not even the U. S. Congress is certain.

A check on progress toward an international convention which would leave no hiding place for the air pirate indicates any such global agreement still is far beyond the reach of reality.

The move for nonacquiescence was led by France and Britain and supported by the Soviet Union and Egypt. The proposed convention was offered first 18 months earlier at a meeting of a legal subcommittee of the International Civil Aviation organization, a United Nations agency.

At 57, I found I didn't need a baseball bat at all to beat off invading women. I could brush them back quite well with a small-to-medium-size peacock feather.

Well, with enough time a man can do anything. I feel that I've learned pretty well how to cope with life. I pay most of my bills the same year they're due, the apartment gets cleaned once a week, I now hold the track record for pushing my shopping cart around the local super-market, my daughter's the prettiest kid on the block, and our cat, Lady Dottie, purrs with contentment every day.

I am sure that if Frances looks down from heaven on her old boyfriend now, she must be shaking her head and thinking, "Rover boy, I don't see how you get along without me so well."

And my reply to that would have to be, "Honey, I don't. I still don't know how to get a button sewn on my shirt."

Warpath Not Way To Indian Redress

By DON OAKLEY

So now the American Indian, or a few people claiming to speak on behalf of all Indians, has decided to get into the act.

The thinking apparently is, if whites can ransack draft board files, if blacks can burn down ghettos, then the red man should be allowed to destroy government property and get away with it. After all, he has legitimate grievances, too.

Indians rightly resent the outmoded portrayal of their ancestors as ignorant, howling savages who had to be civilized by the white man. But what is anyone to make of those Indians who occupied, defaced and looted the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington?

"We don't give a damn what the American people think," said one of their leaders, Russell Means, to the inevitable television interview. "I'm taking over the BIA," he said, they had given the kids back on the reservations something to be proud of.

But not very much, really. They knew very well that no one was going to risk bloodshed in an attempt to dislodge them from the building. The victory was hardly on a par with the defeat of Custer.

We hereby declare war on the United States," said another bombastically at the beginning of the siege.

But if that is the case, then these Indians have abandoned all claim to their rights as citizens of the government they have declared war against.

It is only through the awakened conscience of the American people that Indians can hope for a redress of their grievances. Unfortunately, those who went on the warpath in Washington have aroused more disgust than sympathy.

Before he was committed he had lived there without electricity or running water and shocked neighbors by showering naked in his driveway.

Fire Dept. Capt. Vernon Baughman ran across the money while checking for any smoldering beds of ashes. A search of the attic revealed $150,000 in undamaged bills plus an estimated $50,000 to $75,000 worth of gems. Another $2,500 in cash, (firmen said, was burned.

"There's no telling how much money burned up," said Miami Fire Chief Lawrence Kenney.

Macon was arrested on a health violation in September, 1971, after neighbors complained about piles of junk in his yard, the stench of rotting vegetables he picked up from supermarket trash piles and his habit of taking naked showers in rainwater he collected.

What Agnew Must Overcome by '76

By BRUCE BOSSART

President Nixon will not be the one to decide whether or not Vice President Agnew becomes the Republican nominee for the presidency in 1976. Agnew's performance most likely will determine that.

Second term presidents, even landslide winners, do not have that kind of political leverage. In 1968 President Eisenhower did not "pick" Mr. Nixon as his successor nominee. Nor did Lyndon Johnson name Sen. Hubert Humphrey to take his place in 1968.

Mr. Nixon in 1968 was overwhelmingly his party's choice, and that was the determinant.

In 1968, Humphrey did indeed inherit some of Johnson's potential delegate strength in many states, but he gained most from the distracting rivalry between the Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy, and then, sadly, from Kennedy's death.

The fact is that, just as the two-term limit constricts the power of a lame-duck president, so today other circumstances tend to heighten the status of a sitting vice-president.

That is a big advantage for Agnew, as it was for Mr. Nixon and Humphrey. The second man these days moves around a lot, and develops an air of authority, even though he has none. Wherever he goes, television's light glares at him.

Still, there is nothing automatic about this process. It simply means opportunity is enhanced.

In Agnew's case, he has much to do, and fairly quickly, if he is to get a big leg up on the 1976 spot. Probably the first two years of his next term will tell the story.

His toughest task will be to establish credibility within his own party as a man who has the stuff to win in 1976, whether the Democratic nominee be Sen. Edward Kennedy or some other.

That means, for starters, being taken seriously and not being seen as a phrase-making hatched man, a head-bopping golfer, a fellow who makes a speech a day and then relaxes with the TV. He must give the impression that he has much ordinary fence-building to do with party people. He got into this somewhat more in 1972 than before, but the surface is barely scratched. He's got to know the next nomination.

Agnew obviously needs strong foreign affairs credentials. Once again, his first-term swings around the globe left a numbing flavor, a tone of "let's see the head of state and where's the golf course." He hopes to make some key visits abroad, and the impact this time will have to be more solid.

He'll get help in this field from Mr. Nixon whether the President intends it or not. Mr. Nixon sees himself as a foreign policy President, and so does the country. Some of that seems almost certain to rub off on Agnew. Surely, people can say, Mr. Nixon gives him some tips!

Agnew's most promising prospect, however, is the domestic issue arena. He knows it better. He never misses a governor's conference, and while there he is attentive, ever quite interested, questioning it a way that suggests knowledge and competence.

It is clear Mr. Nixon has less interest in domestic matters. The issues are more overwhelming, more debatable. Agnew can here more easily do what he needs badly to do, establish some independence for himself without violating basic loyalty to the President.

The order Agnew must fill is large. Every eye will be upon him, looking for errors and for switches too quick to be plausible. But if he brings it off, he'll be hard to stop for the next nomination.

One Man's Opinion

Warpath Not Way To Indian Redress

By DON OAKLEY

So now the American Indian, or a few people claiming to speak on behalf of all Indians, has decided to get into the act.

The thinking apparently is, if whites can ransack draft board files, if blacks can burn down ghettos, then the red man should be allowed to destroy government property and get away with it. After all, he has legitimate grievances, too.

Indians rightly resent the outmoded portrayal of their ancestors as ignorant, howling savages who had to be civilized by the white man. But what is anyone to make of those Indians who occupied, defaced and looted the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington?

"We don't give a damn what the American people think," said one of their leaders, Russell Means, to the inevitable television interview. "I'm taking over the BIA," he said, they had given the kids back on the reservations something to be proud of.

But not very much, really. They knew very well that no one was going to risk bloodshed in an attempt to dislodge them from the building. The victory was hardly on a par with the defeat of Custer.

We hereby declare war on the United States," said another bombastically at the beginning of the siege.

But if that is the case, then these Indians have abandoned all claim to their rights as citizens of the government they have declared war against.

It is only through the awakened conscience of the American people that Indians can hope for a redress of their grievances. Unfortunately, those who went on the warpath in Washington have aroused more disgust than sympathy.

Before he was committed he had lived there without electricity or running water and shocked neighbors by showering naked in his driveway.

Fire Dept. Capt. Vernon Baughman ran across the money while checking for any smoldering beds of ashes. A search of the attic revealed $150,000 in undamaged bills plus an estimated $50,000 to $75,000 worth of gems. Another $2,500 in cash, (firmen said, was burned.

"There's no telling how much money burned up," said Miami Fire Chief Lawrence Kenney.

Macon was arrested on a health violation in September, 1971, after neighbors complained about piles of junk in his yard, the stench of rotting vegetables he picked up from supermarket trash piles and his habit of taking naked showers in rainwater he collected.

Helicopter Spots Lost Children

17 Hour Ordeal Ends For Girls

ended Sunday morning when a helicopter spotted the girls standing on a muddy creek bank and directed ground crews to search for them.

"The whole country is looking for you," read the first searcher to reach the girls. Dirty, wet, scratched and bruised from frequent falls — but otherwise unharmed — the 17-hour ordeal for the five, ranging in age from 2 to 11, five girls were immediately reunited with their parents. "Mother came running down the road to us with her arms spread wide open," said Tonya. "Are you and dad looking for us?" asked 11-year-old Tonya Morgan.

"The girls went for a walk with Sheriff Ed Duff said the girls' place were never more than a mile from home. But the dense woods along the north bank of the Tomoka River a few miles outside of Daytona Beach made search operations difficult, he said.

"I wasn't afraid until it got dark," Tonya said. "Ellis and I are girls Scouts but we never camped out in the woods. We tried to huddle together to keep warm."

ISLAMORADA, Fla. (AP) — A pipeline supplying water to a 100-mile stretch of the Florida Keys was severed for about 24 hours over the weekend, forcing some tourists to bathe in swimming pools and quench their thirst with straight shots of liquor.

Water to the large section of the Keys was interrupted Saturday afternoon when a dump truck had a blowout and crashed into the U.S. Navy-owned pipeline which runs along the east side of U.S. Highway 1 from Florida City on the mainland to Key West, about 129 miles to the south.

Navy repairmen fixed the break about 4:30 p.m. (EST) Sunday and pressure was back to normal by the end of the day.

Residents on the chain of tiny islands took the lack of water in stride, and said the tourists didn't appear too upset either.

"The guests are taking it well," said Marty Gramagan, owner of the Drop Anchor Motel near Islamorada, a community of 1,500 on the Overseas Highway about 75 miles south of Miami. "One young lady came in and said, 'How do I take a bath?'"

John Kessler, manager of the Key Largo Holiday Inn, said his guests drank water from melted ice cubes and started in on a stock of sodas and liquor when that was gone.

"The people who live here have faces that show this is just an inconvenience, and most of our guests are regulars," said Gramagan. "They come for the fishing and the skin diving and they aren't about to let something like this get in their way."

A Jim Kennedy, manager of the Florida Keys Aqueduct Authority, said water was available in Key West during the outage from storage tanks and a 2.1 million gallon a day output from the Navy's desalination plant.

The driver of the dump truck, George McGhee, 47, of Naranja, survived the crash even though his truck sank to the bottom of Cross Key Cut Canal.

But he later had to be transferred to a Homestead hospital from Keys Community Hospital because there was no water available to process his X-rays.

Retain Home Streak Raiders Subdue North Florida

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

In a year that the free throw has been partially eliminated by new rules, it certainly played a key role in the Seminoles' Junior College Raiders' victory Saturday night.

The Raiders opened the home season with a 94-58 win over the North Florida Junior College Seminoles of Madison. The win pushed the Raiders to 2-0 on the season, while the Seminoles stand 2-1.

Free throws are not awarded on fouls (except shooting fouls)

13 field goals and a four for four performance at the charity stripe. He scored 16 of his points in the first half, all from the floor. In addition to his hot hand shooting, Paulk grabbed 10 rebounds for his team.

But while the Raiders shot less fouls, they connected on a higher percentage, hitting 20 of 22 attempts from the line. They out-scored North Florida by 10 points at the line, offsetting the two more field goals than the Raiders.

Willie Paulk paced the offense with 30 points, including ability to play. Bennie Shaw, seven points, 19-22, but the Seminoles bounced back with six straight tallies to cut the margin to one point. North Florida then took over the lead 25-21, but Joe Sterling's Raider quint roared back with 12 straight points over a three minute playing period, and owned a 33-22 lead. The Seminoles didn't give up, and had cut the margin to 43-40 at the half.

North Florida regained the lead with 17-43 left in the second half, controlling the score 48-47. The lead changed hands several times, but with 9:43 left in the games, Owens converted a three-point play, by shooting a free throw following a two-point foul, and the Raiders took over 68-66. They never trailed again, though the Seminoles cut the margin to one point on at least two occasions.

With 2:36 left in the game, and leading 86-83, the Raiders went into a stall. They ran over a minute off the clock before Owens found an opportunity and went in for a layup.

Wednesday night the Raiders play host to the Florida Southern College junior varsity in an 8 p. m. game at the Seminole High gym. That game was originally set for Saturday night, but was moved up due to a conflict in schedule.

Most Important Mercury Thinking Super Bowl

By JOHN R. SKINNER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP)—Mercury Morts acted insulted after the Miami Dolphins defeated the New York Jets 28-24 Sunday for the American Football Conference's Eastern Division title when asked if giving unbeaten foremost on his mind.

“No, man,” said Morris, who ran 22 times for 107 yards and scored two touchdowns, including the winning one on a 14-yard sweep in the fourth quarter. “I’m thinking about the Super Bowl.”

“We’ve got to try to polish, get our act ready for the playoffs,” said Morris. “Every game is a do or die game for us to keep our mental, physical edge.”

The Dolphins are now 10-0 and only four games from becoming the first team in pro football since the 1942 Chicago Bears to go unbeaten in regular season.

When asked who could beat Miami, Jets’ Coach Weeb Ewbank responded, “I don’t know who will. They’re the best football team we’ve played.”

“I’d rather play Washington,” said Ewbank. “I think this (Miami) is a better football team.”

Ewbank would like a third shot at the Dolphins in the AFC championship game, but faces an uphill battle to make it. His only hope now is to finish with the best record of a runner-up team, good for a fourth playoff spot, and he’ll have to send the 6-4 Jets against the Detroit Lions on Thanksgiving Day with seven injured players.

As to the Dolphins, Howard Twilley explained, “We’re certainly not giving up on the rest of the season.”

But he added, “Our only goal is winning our first playoff game.”

Twilley caught a nine-yard interception pass from Earl Morrall for the game’s first score after Miami safety Dick Anderson intercepted Joe Namath’s

Presidential Recheck Makes Felton Winner

By GEORGE CROSSLEY

DAYTONA — After a protest and a recheck by the race officials Gene Felton of Atlanta, Ga. driving a Camaro 427 was declared the winner of the Presidential 250. Tony Delorenzo of Troy, Mich. in a Corvette was placed second, Mo Carter from Hamilton, Ont., Canada was third, Dave Hienz from Tampa along with Bob Johnson finished fourth. Bob Beasley in a Porsche finished fifth. Hurley Haywood from Jacksonville finished sixth overall.

The feature race of the day began with a tremendous battle between Corvettes driven by Sam Posey, Don Yenko, Tony Delorenzo and Bob Johnson.

Haywood won the Camel GT IMSA Championship in the Jacksonville, Fla. based Porsche over Bob Hienz, 86.3 points to 85 points.

The IMSA series began a fine weekend of racing with a 100 mile Baby Grand Sedan race Saturday afternoon. This event was dominated by the Gremlin team of Whit Diggert and Amos Johnson for most of the race. When Johnson had to make a pit stop Toby Milne of Daytona Beach took over second spot in a Capri. Orlando Rugby Club Tops South Florida

Two conversions and two penalty kicks worth 10 points from Casselberry forward Frank Tressie led the Orlando Rugby Club to a 30-9 win over the University of South Florida Saturday in Orlando.

Defense-minded Orlando limited the visiting Tampa rugger to just three penalty kicks while the Orangemen were en route to their sixth consecutive victory of the season. Orlando now stands 8-4 in Florida play.

Tampa, smarting from 23-6 and 15-0 losses to Orlando earlier in the season, was unable to develop either a strong push from its forwards during "set scrums" or "loose rucks" and found its backs smothered in an Orlando defensive blanket that forced much of the game to be played within the Tampa 25-yard lines.

Orlando backs Marty Nelson, Larry Chisolm, Mike Walker and Richards scored four-point "try" goals as the Orange wingmen ran and

Horton Benefit Tourney Won By Norman's Farms

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor

Norman's Farms of Starke survived extra-inning games in their first and last games of the Glenn Horton Jr. Benefit Involuntary Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament over the weekend and walked away with the first place trophy.

Roto Rooter went through the loser's bracket to earn the shot at the undefeated Norman's Farm team, after dropping their first game of the tourney Friday night.

The tournament was held to honor the late Glenn Horton Jr. Fund. Young Horton has been confined to bed in Mercy Hospital in Orlando since July. He was paralyzed from the neck down during a swimming outing.

Ten players were selected to a tournament all-star team at the conclusion of the Glenn Horton Jr. Benefit Involuntary Women's Slow-Pitch Softball Tournament.

McRoberts Tires, host team for the three day, eight-team tournament, placed two players on the all-star squad. Winnie Dodgion was picked as first baseman and Linda Jordan was selected as center fielder.

Norman's Farms, winner of the tourney, placed three players on the team. They were pitcher Judy Broughton, second baseman Sandra Norman and shortstop Diane Jordan.

Jackie Pupari and Beverly Boyett of the Blue Angels were selected as catcher and left fielder, respectively. Two Mets were also chosen, with Debbie Billington named as third baseman and Shauna Kroen as roving fielder.

Gail Conrad rounded out the team as the right field selection. She played for second-place Roto Rooter.

Champions Have Three All-Stars

With two outs in the bottom of the frame, Cookie Mundruff reached on an error by the right fielder, moved up on a single by Diane Jordan and scored on a single by Sue Boyd.

In their first round games Saturday, the Satellite Mets blanketed the Satellite Mets of Starke, 10-0, while the Blue Angels of Tampa about the Bank of Bellview, 6-0.

Roto Rooter eliminated Black's Meats 12-1 in the next tilt Saturday. The Satellite Mets then topped Cola Homes 4-1, before McRoberts eliminated Bank of Bellview 12-2.

McRoberts used home runs by Gayle Bower and Lynn Keiser and three singles by Koni King in coasting to the win. Bank of Bellview's only two runs came in the bottom of the first inning.

In Saturday's seventh tilt, Norman's Farms advanced to the finals of the winner's bracket with a 2-1 win over the Blue Angels. Norman's Farms trailed 1-0 going into the final frame, but came up with a pair of runs to win.

In the final game Saturday night, McRoberts eliminated Cola Homes 7-6. A four-run fifth inning for the DeLand team tied the game at 5-5. Cola Homes went ahead 6-5 in the top of the last frame, but McRoberts bounced back with two runs to win it in the bottom of the seventh inning. Winnie Dodgion, who had three hits in the game, had the big hit in the seventh inning, a double. Linda Johnson had two hits, including a triple.

Roto Rooter, fighting to stay alive in the loser's bracket, played in four of Sunday's five games. They opened the day by blanking the Blue Angels 6-0.

Norman's Farms pulled off some more last-inning heroics in the finals of the winner's bracket, slipping by the Satellite Mets, 2-1. Norman's Farms took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning, but the Mets tied the score in the fifth. Diane Jordan hit a one-out home run in the seventh inning to put the Starke team in front.

McRoberts' Tires was knocked out of the tournament by a 6-5 score in the next game. McRoberts overcame a three-run deficit to tie the game at 5-5, but Roto Rooter capitalized on a pair of hits to score the winning run in the top of the seventh inning.

A seven-run first inning allowed Roto Rooter to glide by the Mets in the next game, and with the win, the DeLand team earned a shot at the undefeated Norman's Farms team.

Norman's Farms went ahead 3-0 in the top of the first inning, but Roto Rooter came back to score four runs in the bottom of the same frame. Norman's Farms took a 9-4 lead with four runs in the second and two in the fifth.

Norman's Farms added single runs in the sixth and seventh innings, and appeared to have the game under control in the eighth and ninth, but lost in the last regulation inning of play.

But after the first batter popped out, Roto Rooter went on to send 12 batters to the plate and score seven runs to knot the score at 11-11. The first three batters for Norman's Farms singled in the top of the eighth, and they scored two runs. Roto Rooter, however, had a couple of hits in the bottom of the frame.

'Wild Blue Yonder' Awaits Shula's Crew

By KEN RAPPOPORT

After intercepting a swarm of Jets, the Miami Dolphins are taking off into the National Football League's wild, blue yonder.

"We've got to get this football team ready to start the playoffs," said Shula after his half-game New Orleans tilt in Washington in the East. The Redskins play a game tonight against the Atlanta Falcons, who are tied for first in the West.

Oakland's Charlie Smith and Marvin Hubbard combined for 185 yards rushing and scored a touchdown play to lead Oakland over Denver. George Blundo kicked three field goals and also kicked four extra points for Oakland to become the NFL's all-time leader in career conversions with 812.

Quarterback John Hadl and running star Cid Edwards clicked on several key pass plays that gave San Diego a comfortable 24-7 advantage after two quarters and Kansas City never could recover.

Dallas' famed Doomsday Defense frustrated Philadelphia's ground and air attack in soundly beating the Eagles Sunday. The rugged Cowboys held the Eagles to 120 yards rushing and 85 passing.

Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton threw TD bombs of 76, 70 and 66 yards to score the Vikings over Los Angeles.

Green Bay punter Ron Widby completed a 68-yard touchdown pass play to Dave Davis on a fake punt and John Staggers returned a punt 85 yards for another score as Green Bay whipped Houston.

FSU Second Cage Bruins Rated The Best

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

UCLA has been voted the No. 1 college basketball team in this year's Associated Press pre-season poll but Coach John Wooden isn't especially optimistic.

As has been his customary, modest posture through the years, Wooden is making no predictions for the 1972-73 season.

"I never start thinking and I won't be quoted about the national scene," says Wooden after learning of the poll results Sunday.

He will, however, confess that the Bruins are not a bad team. "Yes, I think we will be respectable," he said.

Wooden has thus underplayed the start of several previous seasons at UCLA but most of them have been excellent—including the last six when the Bruins won the NCAA championship.

It's the reason that the Bruins received a sweep of 36 first place votes in the pre-season poll of sports writers and broadcasters. UCLA got a total of 720 points to run away from the rest of the field.

"They've got to be stronger than they were last year," is the assessment of Louisville Coach Dennis Crum, who was assistant to Wooden a couple of years back and whose team finished in a tie for 30th in the polls.

Florida State, which lost to UCLA in last year's NCAA finals, was picked as the No. 2 team with 220 points. Maryland, winner of last season's NIT, was picked by the voters as the third best team in America with 200 points.

Both Florida State and Maryland received 13 second-place votes and eight thirds. But Florida State was given seven fourths to only three for Maryland.

Minnesota, defending champion of the Big Ten, was nominated No. 4 with 149 points while Marquette's midwestern independent was the No. 5 club with 256.

Following Marquette in the Top Ten were: Long Beach State; Northwestern Louisiana; North Carolina State; Penn and Ohio State.

Memphis State headed the Second Ten, followed by Brigham Young; Kentucky; Tennessee; Houston; South Carolina; Kansas State; Oral Roberts; Michigan and two tied for

A bargain is a bargain.

While you can see the new 1973 Beetle is still at a nice low price, you really can't begin to see the value until you know what you're getting for your money.

A warranty, for instance, that's twice what you get with any other small car. 24 months or 24,000 miles.

But then, we wouldn't be offering it if it weren't for our incredibly finicky factory inspection. Over 100 inspectors poring over more than 5,000 parts. It sounds compulsive, but it's the best way to reach perfection.

And now, there's our new VW Computer Diagnosis System. Meaning literally what it says: a brand new computer that's been installed, or soon will be, in our service area ready to be hooked up to your car. The most advanced service system in the world. It checks vital service parts, via sensors and probes built into critical areas, and spells the results out in plain English. People should have it so good.

Consider also our legendary resale value. When you compare it with other cars after three years, it makes our $1999* sound absolutely amazing.

Everything adding up to one important point: there's a big difference between being cheap, and being a bargain.

Dear Abby

No one will close the baby factory

Betty Canary Dieting Is Easy, Just Stay Asleep

By Betty Canary
Once upon a time, when the conversations turned to dieting, I never had anything to say.

And, that reminds me, have I ever told you about the simply fantastic gingerbread my Aunt Elva makes?

Go for a walk in the woods. See? The leaves are changing color. Aren't these fall colors luscious?

Personally, I like escaping into books. Strange that before my diet I never thought that every novel contained an account of a Russian banquet, an English tea, a description of a little French sidewalk cafe, a chapter on Italian...

Putting down the book. Read a magazine. The one with the article on self-control. Just what you need! Now, why doesn't the editor have enough common sense to NOT put the ad for chocolate frosting on the opposite page!

Getting through the daytime hours isn't so difficult. It's the evening hours that are difficult. The children have probably been and victims of Denver sandwiches start dancing through his head.

Probably the best thing to do is go to bed early. Do NOT count sheep jumping over a fence. That's what I did — they turned into legs of lamb dancing in a bowl of milk jelly.

DEAR POLLY: My Pet Peeve is with garment manufacturers who persist in designing ready-to-wear with only front interest. Instead of having pleats in just the front of a skirt why not have them all around it. This also holds true with design and pattern and I venture to say, as much ladies' clothing is observed going as coming.

DEAR POLLY: I am answering Helen who is upset over the binding on her blankets splitting long before the blankets show wear. For years I have been taking a piece of an old soft shirt at least 12 inches wide and a length that will cover the width of the blanket. Such a piece could be even wider than 12 inches if one desired. I bastie this over the binding on any new quilt or blanket.

Former Army Officer Writes Critically Of Women's Lib

By Vivian Brown
If well-known super club singer Esther Tobl, who has been a second lieutenant in the Israeli military, becomes author of a best seller, she'll owe her success to Women's Lib, even though she is writing will not flatter the feminists.

She was inspired to write it, she says, because she thinks the liberation movement may be ruining the good life for American women and it is helping to enslave American men.

In doing research for her book, she has been shocked at some of the things that have been printed and the effect some articles of advice on sex written by the feminists may have on young girls — and their mothers.

"American men should be better known for their courtesy, good manners, beautiful behavior, but they are seldom given credit. There are legends about European men, their hand kissing and flattery, but it is usually an act. They would cheat on their wives and their mistresses. American men are far more sincere."

"In America men help with children, housework, kitchen chores, whereas in Europe men do not even walk past the kitchen where it takes half an hour to rise the sand out of a pound of spinach."

"Born in Israel — 'mother would be able to trace her ancestry to King Solomon.' — Esther, now an American citizen, spent two and a half years in compulsory military service. At the end she 'was happy to be a girl again.' She thinks the military stint gives her the right to argue 'the Lib bit,' she says.

"If women think they have a hard time of it they should visit a kibbutz in Israel or take a trip to Lima or Santiago," she advises. "American housewives have the best life in the world." In her opinion, "but they are being told to brood about such things as their chances of running for the vice-presidency or Women's Lib and how they will become garbage collectors, road builders, ditch diggers and other dirty jobs men do."

"Using femininity as an excuse for not achieving greatness is a copout" in her opinion. "There are many good women in the world — politicians and scientists, and they made it because they had drive, stamina and ambition. They didn't need motivation from outside sources. I am in favor of equal pay for equal jobs, but most women shun the work world because they take the shortest route to security — marriage and children."

Helped by dishwashers, washing machines, hot water, packaged foods and "nice husbands who do not even criticize television dinners," most American housewives are free to spend a great part of the day doing as they like. "What more do they want?"

Election Triumph Boisters Brandt

By OTTO DOELLING Associated Press Writer BONN (AP) — Willy Brandt, bolstered by his greatest personal election triumph, had an overwhelming mandate today to pursue the liberalizing policies that won him the Nobel Peace Prize.

A record number of West German voters gave his Socialist-led coalition for the first time the support of 37.4 million ballot-cast Sunday against 44.8 per cent for the conservative Christian Democrats.

Brandt means to plan a surprise 8.4 per cent of the vote and 42 seats. Three years ago, the liberals barely cleared the 5 per cent hurdle needed to remain in the Bundestag.

Most of the defectors quit the coalition in protest against Brandt's Communist neighbors to the East. The cornerstones of this policy, which won Brandt the 1971 Nobel Peace Prize, have been non-aggression treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland.

World's Smallest Nation Minerva: Population Zero

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — The president of the Republic of Minerva (current population: zero; elevation: 3 at high tide) says the world will soon sit up and take notice of the "newest and smallest nation on earth."

Davis, 46, conducts Minerva affairs of state from the provisional capital — his living room in this Los Angeles suburb. He has never seen Minerva, which consists of two coral reefs lying near the Tropic of Capricorn, underwater most of the time. Minerva, named after the Greek goddess, is 900 miles north of Auckland, New Zealand and 280 miles south of the capital of Tonga.

But for now, Morris C. "Bud" Davis, 46, conducts Minerva affairs of state from the provisional capital — his living room in this Los Angeles suburb.

Davis says he plans to visit Minerva next summer, but right now he is concentrating on averting a war with neighboring Tonga, which claims the territory.

North Minerva is a circular about 4 1/2 miles in diameter. South Minerva, which is 17 miles away, is a coral outcropping in the shape of a figure eight, about 3 1/2 miles wide and eight miles long. At low tide, the reefs thrust three feet above the water. At high tide, they disappear.

Davis, who formerly was an electronic engineer, is president of a company called Caribbean-Pacific Enterprises, which was formed for the specific purpose of establishing a new nation somewhere.

There are seven stockholders with a total investment of $250,000 in the project, Davis said in an interview. "The bulk of the money is from the president of a pharmaceutical firm who wishes, at this time, not to be identified," he said.

But King Tupou IV of Tonga, general of the 100-man Tonga Defense Force, led an expeditionary band accompanied by Tonga police in June and declared Tonga sovereignty over the reefs.

"We researched the reefs thoroughly," Davis said. "Tonga's boundaries of all rocks, reefs, shoals and waters have been spelled out in royal proclamations ever since 1887. Minerva is missed by 100 miles."

Davis said the Republic of Minerva plans to negotiate with the king. "We certainly don't want to go to war over it," Davis would not say however, if he is prepared to go to war if necessary.

Meanwhile, Caribbean-Pacific Enterprises plans to start work on a major landfill operation next April. "We have dredged sand in the lagoons and build a 1,000-to 2,000-foot-wide, 10-to 15-foot high surface on which to locate our country," Davis said.

Davis said the Republic of Minerva plans to negotiate with the king. "We certainly don't want to go to war over it," Davis would not say however, if he is prepared to go to war if necessary.

Ex-Dictator Peron Meets With Leaders

By ROBERT D. OHMAN Associated Press Writer

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Juan D. Peron, in Argentina only four days after 17 years of exile, has seized the political initiative from the ruling military junta in determining the course of the elections scheduled for March 11.

Bolstered by thousands of cheering, chanting supporters, the 77-year-old ex-dictator met Sunday night with leaders of the other major political parties. They accepted insults and catcalls from the crowd to attend a meeting called by Peron at the three-story suburban home purchased for him by his supporters.

Peron was to continue his meetings with political leaders today to strengthen his position in future negotiations with the military government.

There has been no major reaction so far from the government except for a warning that it would take any measures necessary to maintain order around Peron's house.

About a thousand militant Peronists camped overnight around his house in a vacant lot across from the villa and on neighborhood lawns. More than 10,000 had gathered there after Sunday afternoon soccer games, but this was far less than the 50,000 who packed the narrow, tree-lined street the night before.

Among the men meeting with Peron Sunday night was Ricardo Balbin, head of the Radical party and a key figure in Peron's plan to form a political alliance to offset the armed forces.

Balbin had to run a gauntlet of 200 young Peronists who shouted insults and guerrilla slogans at him. He told a news conference later: "We have spoken of the responsibility of political parties and the necessity of common action." He brushed aside the insults, saying Peron would probably get the same if he attended a Radical rally.

Also at the meeting were other representatives of the Hour of the People, a loose organization of political parties formed in 1970 to pressure the military government to call elections and hand power over to a civilian government.

Peron has carefully avoided any public criticism of the ruling junta headed by President Alejandro Lanusse. The junta has given virtually free rein to Peron's political dealings after a touchy 24 hours following his arrival from Rome last Friday.

Mud Builds Body Says Muscle Man

By JOHN VAN GIESSEN Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Ellington Darden, a baby-faced Ph.D. with Mr. America's muscles, says the secret to a strong, healthy body is as clear as mud.

Darden, 29, a Florida State University graduate student from Corcor, Tex., believes in exercising in a vat full of squishy mud.

"It's a pretty unique feeling," he says. "I guess it's like the difference between drinking a glass of water and a thick milkshake."

With a Florida State Ph.D. in physical education already in hand, Darden is studying for another doctoral degree in foods and nutrition. The 6-foot, 195-pound former college football tackle has won more than 100 trophies in weight lifting and body-building competitions.

Darden was introduced to mud exercises six years ago by Ed Key Jr., a football teammate at Baylor University in Waco, Tex.

"After that initial workout I could really tell there was tremendous merit to this type of exercise regime," he said. "You can work many muscles it would be difficult to work otherwise."

Darden said he found the mud strengthens and tones muscles by providing steady resistance throughout a series of exercises.

"The price I pay for electricity seems pretty high to me. I was wondering how it compares to what customers pay in other areas."

You ask. FPL answers.

On the average, the unit price paid by FPL residential customers is lower. Not the lowest in the country (operating expenses are less in some areas), but it's under the national average. And, in some cases, it's significantly lower. For example, in September, residential customers in New York City paid $32.32 for 1000 kilowatt hours. Your FPL bill for the same number of kilowatt hours would have been $21.50. Another interesting fact about your electric bill: the average residential customer served by FPL actually uses about 50% per cent more electricity than others across the nation.

FPL encourages you to ask questions. About electric service. Rates. Environmental protection. Or anything else. We believe you deserve honest, straight forward answers. And we try to answer your most frequently-asked questions publicly (All others will receive personal replies). Address your questions to your local FPL Manager. Knowing what concerns you helps us do our job better.

Thanksgiving Idea For Cranberry Dish

By AILEEN CLAIRE NEA Food Editor

Cranberries are now a year-round pleasure because of new packaging techniques. However, the tart and colorful red berry is still the traditionally favorite fruit to accompany Thanksgiving dishes. It appears as a sauce, jelly and in a gelatin mold. A cranberry gelatin mold with a difference combines mandarin oranges, pineapple, bananas, coconut, sour cream and whipped cream. Such a combination makes it an excellent salad or a dessert.

CRANBROSIA
2 cups fresh or frozen fresh cranberries, coarsely ground or chopped
1 cup sugar

1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments, well drained
1 can (8 oz.) pineapple chunks, well drained
1 cup shredded coconut

1 large banana, cubed
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin

1 cup sour cream
1 cup heavy or whipping cream

2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 jar (14 ounces) cranberry-orange relish
3 pineapple slices

In a bowl, mix ham, pork, cornflakes, cream, eggs, onion, salt and mustard. Add half of the relish and stir until well blended. Grease a 9x5x3-inch loaf pan and arrange pineapple slices on bottom. Spread pineapple with remaining relish. Top with ham mixture pressing firmly to prevent air spaces. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 1 1/2 hours. Loosen edges and invert on a platter. Drain off excess juices. Garnish with additional pineapple, orange slices and sprigs of parsley if desired. Makes one 9x5x3-inch loaf.

CRAN-HAM LOAF
2 cups ground smoked ham
1 pound ground lean pork
3 cups cornflakes
1 cup (1/2 pint) light cream or half and half
2 eggs
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 teaspoon salt

Many Varieties Of 'Hamburger'

By GAYNOR MADDIX

The word "hamburger" can cover a lot of deception. For example, too much fat in the meat is the common and major complaint. The legal federal maximum for fat is 20 per cent. Many butchers are selling hamburger with far more fat. Why? Because they make a lot of extra profit that way. Fat is far cheaper than red meat. My advice to purchasers is to inquire, when buying, what the fat content is. If the butcher cannot supply that information, or satisfy your curiosity about what goes into your ground meat, try another shop.

There are no uniform standards for hamburger, otherwise known as chopped beef. But many leading meat dealers are trying to make their products reasonably consistent in fat content. In general they have not yet been too successful.

Here is a quick breakdown of what to expect in types of chopped meat:

• Regular Ground Beef: Ground beef made from lean meat and fat as cut from a whole side of beef. For hamburger patties, casseroles, meat loaves and sauces.

• Ground Chuck: Only chuck is used.

• Ground Round: This is deluxe "hamburger" with a higher price tag to match its quality. Your supermarket grinds it from lean beef round.

• Meat-Loaf Mixtures: Most meat-loaf recipes call for plain ground beef, so choose regular, chuck or round. When a recipe suggests a mixture such as ground beef, pork and veal, ask your meat man to grind it to your order. The most popular weight package is 2 1/2 or 2 pounds — 1 1/2 pounds ground beef to 1/2 pound ground pork for beef-pork mix and 1 1/2 pounds ground beef to 4-ounces each ground pork and veal for the three-meat combination. Either choice is enough to make a 6 to 8-serving meat-loaf.

Two Great Ways To Prepare Turkey

The young tender turkey available today requires less preparation and roasting time than in grandmothers' day. And, methods of cooking are numerous. The home economist at Reynolds Aluminum suggest two great ways to roast your holiday turkey.

Full Trim Turkey Method
Line a shallow roasting pan with Reynolds Wrap and place thawed turkey on a rack in the pan. Brush all over with soft butter or margarine. Roast in a preheated 325°F. oven according to the following timetable.

Ready-to-cook weight	Oven temperature	Meat thermometer temperature	Total Cooking Time (Hours:approximate)
6-8 pounds	325°F.	185°F.	3 to 3 1/2
8-12 "	"	"	3 1/2 to 4 1/2
12-16 "	"	"	4 1/2 to 5 1/2
16-20 "	"	"	5 1/2 to 6 1/2
20-24 "	"	"	6 1/2 to 7

Cooking time is based on chilled poultry or poultry that has just been thawed—temperature not above 40°F.

When turkey is lightly brown, cover with a "tent" of foil. To make tent: tear off a sheet of Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap 5 to 10 inches longer than bird. Crease through center and place over bird. Hold in place by crimping it lightly at breast and over drumsticks. This keeps turkey moist without basting and prevents overbrowning. Snip the string holding drumsticks during last hour of roasting so heat penetrates inside of thighs.

Open Bag Turkey Method
Shake one tablespoon flour in empty turkey size Brown-In-Bag oven roasting bag and place in two-inch deep roasting pan. Brush thawed turkey with soft butter or margarine and sprinkle with seasonings. Slide turkey into oven bag. Secure bag with twist tie and make six half-inch slits in top of bag. Cook in a preheated 350°F. oven according to the following timetable.

Ready-to-cook weight	Oven temperature	Meat thermometer temperature	Unstuffed	Stuffed
8-12 pounds	350°F.	185°F.	2 1/2 to 3 hrs.	2 to 2 1/2 hrs.
12-15 "	"	"	3 to 3 1/2 hrs.	2 1/2 to 3 hrs.
15-20 "	"	"	3 1/2 to 4 hrs.	3 to 3 1/2 hrs.

Place over medium heat, stirring constantly to dissolve gelatin. Add to fruit. Fold in sour cream. Whip cream until stiff peaks form. Fold into fruit mixture. Turn into 13x9x3-inch dish or 2-quart mold. Chill thoroughly until firm, overnight if possible. If desired, servings may be topped with more sweet or sour cream. Serve as salad or dessert topped with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 16 servings.

Coffee
Cake
Snack

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
When you hear that the young home ec students in a foods lab class at St. Mary's Academy in Riverside, Rhode Island had won a prize for a Cranberry Coffee Cake we promptly tried their recipe. Served fresh from the oven it's a delight and here are directions for making it.

CRANBERRY COFFEE CAKE
1 cup chopped fresh or frozen cranberries
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese
1/4 cup butter or margarine
2 cups buttermilk biscuit mix
1/3 cup milk
1 large apple
Confectioner's Sugar Frosting, see below

In a small mixing bowl stir together the cranberries, sugars, cinnamon and nutmeg; set aside.
In a medium mixing bowl, with a pastry blender, cut cream cheese and butter into biscuit mix until coarse crumbs are formed. With a fork, gradually stir in the milk to form a soft dough.
Turn out on a well-floured pastry cloth and knead gently just until smooth. Roll into a 12 by 8 inch rectangle. Transfer to a large greased cookie sheet.

Peel and chop enough apple to make 1 cup; stir into cranberry mixture.
Starting at short side of dough, spoon cranberry mixture down center third of dough. With a kitchen scissors, cut 3 1/2-inch strips of dough at 1-inch intervals along both sides of rectangle. Fold strips at an angle across filling alternating from side to side.

Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven for 20 minutes. While coffee cake is still warm, brush or spread Confectioner's Sugar Frosting over top and sides. Best served warm from the oven.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.
CONFECTIONER'S SUGAR FROSTING
Stir together 1/2 cup confectioner's sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla and enough milk (about 2 teaspoons) to make a frosting of spreading consistency.

Oriental
Pork Is Excellent

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Oriental Pork is excellent in a Chinese supper. Because Oriental Pork is a sweet-and-sour dish, you may want to serve another main dish that has quite different flavoring on the same menu. Beef with Green Peppers (Pepper Steak) or Chicken Chow Mein would be a good choice to offer before the pork-and-pineapple combination.

When we tried the Oriental Pork in our test kitchen we bought a boneless pork loin (roast) and tied it, weighed between 2 1/2 and 3 1/4 pounds. By the time we untied and unrolled the pork and cut it into cubes (removing the fat) we had just the amount of meat called for in the recipe.

ORIENTAL PORK
2 pounds boneless fat-free pork, cut into 3/4- to 1-inch cubes
1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) pineapple chunks in heavy syrup, drained and syrup reserved
Water
1/4 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup dark corn syrup
1 green pepper, seeded and cut into thin strips
Hot cooked rice

In a 13- by 9- by 2-inch roasting pan, arrange pork. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven, stirring occasionally, until browned — about 45 minutes. Drain off any liquid and replace pork in roasting pan; set aside.

Add enough water to reserved pineapple syrup to make 1 1/4 cups. Reserve pineapple chunks.
In a 3-quart saucepan stir together the sugar and cornstarch. Gradually stir in pineapple syrup mixture, keeping smooth. Stir in vinegar, soy sauce and corn syrup until blended. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and boils 1 minute. Stir in pineapple and green pepper.
Four pineapple mixture over meat in roasting pan; cover tightly with foil and return to 375-degree oven. Bake until pork is thoroughly cooked — 25 to 30 minutes longer. Serve with hot cooked rice.
Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Lasagna Spinach Dinner

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A homemade Italian dish using prepared foods is a simpler way to satisfy the family appetites. Italian foods are high on the list of ethnic favorites but some cooks shy from making some dishes from scratch because the old technique can be time consuming. A Lasagna Spinach Casserole is well worth the little time it takes to put together.

LASAGNA SPINACH CASSEROLE

1 package (1 pound, 7½ oz.) complete lasagna dinner

1 package (10 ounce) chopped spinach

2 tablespoons minced onion

1/2 pound Swiss cheese, cut in strips

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Grease a 9x13-inch baking pan. Cook lasagna noodles as package directs. Drain well. Mix spinach and onion together. Layer ingredients in pan as follows: noodles, sauce, Swiss cheese, spinach and grated cheese. Repeat layers until all ingredients are used. Bake for 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Stuffed Fillet Of Beef

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A stuffed fillet of beef makes an enviable entree, one that should bring only raves. Fill the fillet with sauteed onion, carrot and celery and top with dried Austrian Swiss cheese. When almost roasted, cover top of fillet with additional cheese slices and return to oven until cheese is melted. Serve on a platter surrounded with baby whole carrots and asparagus spears.

BEEF TYPOLEAN

1 beef fillet
Salt, pepper and mashed garlic (to taste)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 large onion, chopped
1 carrot, chopped
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 packages (6 ounces each) Austrian Swiss cheese
Remove all fat and sinews from meat. Slice fillet lengthwise on one side and open out. Sprinkle meat on all sides with salt and pepper and rub with garlic in a small skillet, heat butter and saute onion, carrot and celery until soft and lightly browned. Spoon mixture onto cut surface of fillet. Finely dice one package of Swiss cheese and sprinkle over vegetables. Fold over meat and fasten openings with toothpicks and string. Place in a shallow roasting pan and roast in a preheated 400-degree oven for 40 minutes. Remove from oven and allow to rest for another five minutes or until cheese is melted. Serve garnished with baby whole carrots and asparagus spears. Cut into thick slices to serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Creole Crab Chowder

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A hearty soup makes a perfect late evening supper. Reflecting a touch of Creole cooking is a Creole Crab Chowder that is filling when served over cooked rice with crusty French bread or toast and relishes. The base is Alaska King crab made more economical since you stretch a 7½-ounce can of 6-ounce frozen package of the crab to serve four or five people. This also is a quick dish to prepare which makes it ideal for serving to unexpected guests.

- CREOLE CRAB CHOWDER
- 1 (7½-ounce) can Alaska King crab or 1 (6-ounce) package frozen Alaska King crab
 - ¼ cup chopped celery
 - ¼ cup chopped green pepper
 - 1 tablespoon oil
 - 1 (16-ounce) can tomatoes
 - 1 (1½-ounce) package dry onion soup
 - 2½ cups water
 - 1 teaspoon chili powder
 - ¼ teaspoon salt
 - 1 cup frozen peas
 - 2 cups hot cooked rice

Drain canned crab and slice. Or, defrost, drain and slice frozen crab. Sauté celery and green pepper in oil. Add tomatoes, dry onion soup, water, chili powder and salt. Add peas and simmer 5 minutes to heat or until peas are tender. Drain and heat through. Place a scoop of hot cooked rice in individual soup bowls. Spoon chowder over rice. Makes 4 to 5 servings. Serve with toasted French bread, buttered and sprinkled with grated Parmesan cheese and chopped chives.

Zucchini Adds to Cuisine

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Italian cuisine has a way of teaming pasta with vegetables that is delightful. In "The Complete Book of Pasta" by Jack Denton Scott (Bantam Paperback) there are no less than three dozen ways to accomplish this.

The vegetables that go into Jack Scott's pasta-plus-vegetable recipes are asparagus, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, eggplant, escarole, green lima beans, mushrooms, green peas, green peppers, spinach, tomatoes (ripe and green), dried beans, potatoes and zucchini.

Encouraged by this list, we tried teaming spaghetti with zucchini and found it very good indeed. If you'd like to do the same, here is the recipe: SPAGHETTI WITH ZUCCHINI
4 medium zucchini (about 1 1/2 pounds)
Water
Salt
1/2 cup butter
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 quarts boiling water
1 package (16 ounces) spaghetti
Grated Parmesan cheese, if desired
Scrub zucchini in cold water; cut a thin slice from each end and discard. Cut unpeeled zucchini crosswise into 1/4-inch thin slices.

Into a 16-inch skillet pour 1/4 cup water and 1/2 teaspoon salt; add zucchini. Bring to a boil; cover, reduce heat and simmer just until tender—5 to 10 minutes. Drain zucchini; then chop coarsely. Return chopped zucchini to skillet; add butter, 1/4 teaspoon salt and the pepper; simmer, stirring a few times, until butter melts; keep hot.

Meanwhile in a large saucepot bring 3 quarts water and 1 tablespoon salt to a rapid boil. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Boil uncovered, stirring several times, until tender; drain in colander.

Return spaghetti to saucepot; add zucchini mixture; cover, heat, mix well. If used, pass Parmesan cheese with spaghetti-zucchini mixture.
Makes 4 servings.

Brings Out Best In Veal

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Veal is a very tender cut of beef but must be handled differently than beef. Because veal or young calf has little fat it needs slow, moist cooking. For a true change in a casserole combine veal and quick-brown sausages in a special baked dish.

- VEAL AND SAUSAGE BAKE
- 1 veal cutlet (about 1 pound)
 - 1/2 pound quick-brown sausages, halved
 - seasoned flour
 - 3 tablespoons salad oil
 - 1 large onion, sliced thin
 - 1 medium eggplant, peeled and cubed
 - 1 tablespoon liquid gravy
 - seasoning and browning sauce
 - 1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
 - 1 can (2 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces with liquid
 - 1/2 cup soft white bread crumbs
 - 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 - 2 tablespoons margarine or butter

Have the veal cutlet pounded very thin, then cut in 4 pieces. Roll the veal and sausage pieces in seasoned flour. Fry in the oil in a sauté skillet or casserole. Brown the veal, sausage and onion. Remove the onion, veal and onion from pan, letting oil drain back into pan. If necessary, add another tablespoon of oil. Stir in eggplant and cook for 5 minutes. Add gravy, seasoning, tomatoes, mushroom stems and pieces with liquid and 1 cup hot water or broth. Mix well. Spread the meats and onion in a layer on top of eggplant. Top with mixed crumbs and cheese. Dot with margarine or butter. Bake in a 350-degree oven for about 30 minutes or until top is crisp and golden. Makes 4 servings.

Stuffed Chicken Breast

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A stuffed breast of chicken will be a pleasant surprise since it contains bananas wrapped in a heavily buttered bread. A special sauce is spooned over the chicken when it is served on a bed of rice. This is a dish that is far easier to prepare than it sounds and wins the chef a special star for the holiday season.

- STUFFED BREAST OF CHICKEN
- 2 small ripe bananas, cut on diagonal
 - 2 teaspoons Angostura aromatic bitters
 - 4 slices peeled ham
 - 4 boneless and skinless chicken breast halves
 - Salt and curry to taste
 - 1 cup flour
 - 2 eggs, well beaten
 - 3 cups flaked coconut SAUCE
 - 3 tablespoons sugar
 - 1/4 cup wine vinegar
 - 2 cups chicken broth
 - 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 - 1/4 cup port wine (or 1/4 cup grape juice)
 - 1/2 cup orange juice

Brush bananas with aromatic bitters. Wrap bananas in ham slices. Pound chicken breast until paper thin between two thicknesses of plastic wrap. Place ham roll on flattened chicken breast, is tender and coconut is golden brown. To prepare sauce, combine port wine, chicken in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and continue boiling until syrup becomes reddish brown. Add chicken broth. Mix cornstarch and port wine and stir into sauce. Add orange juice. Stir over heat until sauce bubbles and thickens. Serve chicken on a bed of rice but cook rice with sauce spooned over top.

West SR 46 Work Starts Next Week

In a telephone conference with Al Davis, Department of Transportation official of the District V office in Deland, County Commissioner Sidney Vihlen was informed Monday that work will begin on leveling and resurfacing of West SR 46 from Seminole-Lake County line at the Wekiva River to Mt. Dora.

He reported that a contract in the amount of $949,073 had been let to Leeson Construction Co. of Leesburg and work is expected to begin next week.

Further he informed Vihlen that work had begun on studies to realign the dangerous curves including acquisition of right-of-way for the realignment and the acquisition of right-of-ways for four lanes would begin soon.

A resolution from the Lake County Commissioners has been received by the DOT requesting additional right-of-way to straighten curves and the acquisition of four lane rights-of-way throughout this whole section of road.

Davis indicated that Lake County had moneys available to proceed with these right-of-way acquisitions.

The toughest time on a job is during the organizational or growth period... and certainly, Sanford's city attorney for many years Bill Hutchison was on the firing line during this hectic period. He submitted his resignation yesterday.

This exploding era we're in presently will require the services of an expert... one dedicated solely to the myriad of problems which will arise in Sanford.

To fill those shoes I humbly submit the name of Ken McIntosh for consideration. A public servant for many years who has performed in an admirable posture within this county, and one who already has the respect of everyone in this city.

Do me a favor, will you, please. And who knows but that perhaps it just might save both of us a couple bucks.

First of all was NOT one of the dog leash law. As far as I'm concerned, it was too vague! The favor is simply this... keep an eye on how much $$$ it's going to cost us, O.K.?

I don't know about you neighbor... but, I'm up to my blood-shot eyes-balls with taxes, and millage increases, and bond indebtedness, etc... Whenever this subject of dog controls comes up, I'm reminded of a story I read on the St. Petersburg area... the plus-one-million dollars it's costing those folks to round-up the loose canines is a little too, too much for me, thank you.

By 3.7 Per Cent Cost Of Living Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, nudged by higher prices for clothing, rose by three-tenths of one per cent in October, giving the nation a 3.7 per cent inflation rate in the last six months, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the rise in consumer prices was three-tenths of one per cent both on an unadjusted and seasonally adjusted basis last month, smaller than the September rise but still over the Nixon administration's target of reducing the inflation rate to at least 3 per cent by the end of the year.

Consumer prices in September increased by four-tenths of one per cent on an unadjusted basis and five-tenths on a seasonally adjusted basis.

More than a third of the increase in the October index was blamed on higher clothing prices. The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said price increases for used cars, health insurance and property taxes also were contributing factors.

The bureau said that in the 11 months before President Nixon started his Phase 2 wage-price control program, the cost of living has risen 3.5 per cent. It has gone up 3.2 per cent since August 1971 when the President imposed his freeze on wages and prices.

The report said the rate of inflation has worsened in the last three months, with prices rising at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 4.1 per cent compared with 3.3 per cent in the previous three-month period. For the six-month span as a whole consumer prices have gone up 3.7 per cent.

The bureau said the higher prices were moderated by lower prices for beef, some fresh fruits and vegetables and gasoline.

Prices for fresh fruits, poultry and beef dropped, but not as much as usual at this time of the year, the department said.

Altogether, food prices rose by a small one-tenth of one per cent unadjusted, and two-tenths seasonally adjusted. The prices of commodities other than food climbed by a sharp four-tenths of one per cent.

Mysterious Happenings In Oviedo

Drive, was back for the third time before City Council Monday night to discuss an apparent drainage problem. He said that he has lost 10 oak trees on his property located near Lake Charm.

A pond on his property has unexpectedly risen three feet while the lake has receded three to five feet, he said.

Rawson reported his house was turning, mysteriously, with cracks forming in the living room and the porch separating from the house.

He said that at the time of construction he built his septic tank and there was no water down 20 feet. "How can you account for this water now," he queried of City Engineer Charles Spooner, of firm of Driver and Spooner.

Spooner replied, "I can find no reason for this drainage condition at this home site." At the request of the city, the engineer had taken borings and tests to try to ascertain why the condition had come about.

Spooner asked Rawson why he came to the city with this problem and he replied, "At the time I purchased my property from the Oviedo Land Company (the 350 wide lot) I purchased it in good faith thinking I would have a substantial lot on which to build a home."

He further stated that because of the fact he is a resident and taxpayer in Oviedo he thought the city fathers should have some way of helping him relieve the problem.

Council promised to cooperate to the best of their ability contingent upon the property owner accepting the share of the cost, with city's share not to exceed expenditure of $350, but did not see how the city can be held responsible.

Resignation Given By City Attorney

Sanford City Commission will officially take action at its Nov. 27 meeting on whether to accept the resignation of W.C. Hutchison, city attorney, which was disclosed to the city panel at a Monday afternoon work session.

Read by Mayor Lee P. Moore, the letter of resignation advised that attorney Hutchison was resigning the post he has held for 17 years to devote more time to his private law practice.

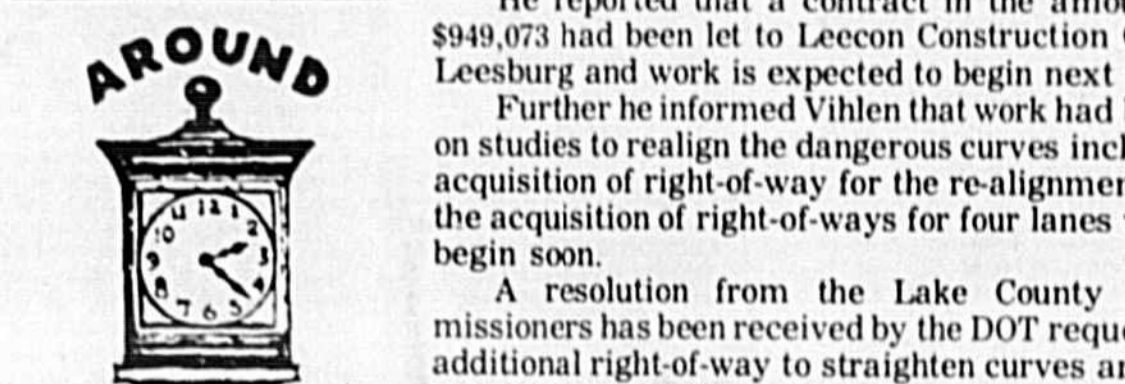

The long-time city official indicated he would serve "until the device would hold 30 gallons of refuse or about three regular barrels, and can be wheeled out to the curb for pickup."

In other items, the commission was invited to participate in the formal dedication of the new Seminole County Court House on Dec. 11.

The proposed city-wide sign ordinance was reviewed and placed on the agenda for possible passage at the regular Monday night session.
