MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 15.—Thirty-seven of the 4,000 inhabitants of Elba, Ala., had been rescued as of 10 A. M. according to a report received by the office of Governor Bibb Graves today. The message, sent by the commander of a national guard company which reached the Elba vicinity in small boats, declared that the soldiers had taken 37 women and children to safety.

BIRMINGHAM, Mar. 15—(INS)—Four persons were known dead, fear was felt for the safety of hundreds of others, and a property damage that will run into many millions of dollars was the toll today of floods which ravaged the greater part of the Southeast.

Although an undetermined number of the 4,000 inhabitants of Elba, Ala., were rescued early today by national guardsmen, hundreds were seeking safety in the highest buildings in the town. Many were reported trapped in cemetery structures.

Fourteen feet of water deluged the stricken town, and spread four miles around as a result of an overflow of the Eno River and White Water Creek. Rescue of the entire population will be a slow task for the national guard unit, which had to work in small boats.

Swollen streams also were out of their courses in the remainder of Alabama, Georgia, which earlier in the month lost 13 lives and much property as a result of an overflow, faced a similar situation again today. In Western North Carolina the streams were on a rampage, and in the eastern section of the state they were rising at an alarming rate. Travel and communication throughout the area was crippled.

Three persons were drowned in the vicinity of Birmingham, Ala., yesterday as a result of floods in that district. Two train wrecks were attributed to the high waters. Early today one fireman was killed and an engine seriously injured when an Atlanta, Birmingham and Coast Railroad passenger train ran into a washout in the "Redskin."

The Kiwanians will meet at the orphanage at 1:30 to bring their young guests to Sanford. Following the performance, the children will be served with refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Revival Service Well Attended Last Night

The young peoples' revival being conducted at the First Methodist Church was attended by a larger number of people last night than on the previous evenings. Rev. A. R. Buhman delivered to the audience, which had assembled in the main auditorium instead of the annex, a practical message on the subject, "Conscience." The minister showed conscience to be a natural faculty of man and one of the marks of the divine hand that differentiates us from the animal.

A description was made of the dependability and other characteristics of a good conscience, while on the other hand the marks of a faulty conscience and its lack of dependability were shown. Rev. Buhman concluded his message with remarks on the deplorable lack of conscience in men and women of today.

Special music was rendered by Mr. Ed Buhman and Mr. Louis E. Riette.

Services will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the main auditorium of the church.

Danver Doctor Teaches Russians To Heal Sick

Dr. Albert W. Dewey of Denver, Colo., medical director for Near East Relief in the Caucasus, visits an orphan girl who is now conducting a clinic in a Caucasian village. This girl is one of 120 graduates from the only training school for women nurses in Southern Russia founded and maintained by the American Patriotic Fund.

One of the most interesting events held recently in Chuluota was a Carnival of the Months given by the Parent Teachers Association in the school auditorium Friday and Saturday nights. The school was brilliantly lighted and decorated in the P. T. A. colors of gold and blue. There were 12 booths, each decorated according to the particular holidays in that month and each one.

At the end of the time was an extra booth at which votes were cast for the most attractive sold some article appropriate to that month.

Both the campaign was lively and when time was called the April booth was declared winner, receiving over 1000 votes. The booth was decorated in yellow juncups and Easter rabbits with lavender jackets. Lavender drapes were on each side and a huge umbrella in white and lavender over the booth kept the April showers off. Candy was sold at this booth. The ladies in charge were Mrs. J. W. Wilson and Mrs. Joe Chalker. Each was presented with a box of candy by the P. T. A.

Each evening a special program was given. Friday evening the children in the school put on a minstrel show which was cleverly presented. Saturday evening Curtis Lowry of Stetson University and his brother and sister delightfully entertained with several musical selections as did Master Sommersill with his ukulele. There was the usual sleight of hand performance. The local band played several numbers each evening. The gold and white mystic booth, where the future was foretold from a crystal ball, attracted to many.

This carnival was declared by many to be the most beautiful fair ever given here. Numbers of people attended from surrounding towns. Two hundred and thirty dollars was taken in during the two evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Snyder delightfully bridged at her home here last Wednesday at two tables of needs afternoon. After playing about two hours each guest was presented with a hand woven basket. Delightful refreshments of pineapple and cake were served by the hostess. The guests of honor on this occasion were Mrs. Beatrice Bassett of Virginia and Mrs. G. W. Ellis of New York City, who were guests at Chuluota on several days last week.

War-Time Habit Continues As Girls Remain On Streetcars

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 14.—About the only remaining outward symbol of the great war to be seen around Palm Beach these days will be reflected according to a recent decision of the Municipal Council. Women, who took the place of their fathers, husbands and brothers in the war, have committed a crime against the magnificence of the world.

Cocktails which have become a very important feature of French society life, are not outlasting the five o'clock tea habit which came with the war.

No salaried girls, including No. 1 advertising, are finding No. 1 light demand moderate market.
