Commission postpones decision on new site for supervisor of elections

By Nick Pfelfauf Slaff Writer

It appeared at Tuesday morn-Seminole County Commission meeting, that Option I for a new Supervisor of Election facility, would pass with flying colors.

The proposal would provide a 20,000-square-foot facility for use by Supervisor of Elections Sandra Goard, her staff, and sufficient warehousing areas.

"I believe the first proposal would be the best regarding costs to the county," Goard said. "We need to have compact facilities, possibly 20,000 square feet, all at the ground level, and this one fits the bill."

The property is located at the Orlando Sanford International Airport, and would have been offered at an annual lease of $148,000 for a ten year period. Goard was on hand during the discussion, and indicated she firmly supported the proposal. When asked if the airport might consider shortening the lease to five years, with additional five year options, Airport President Larry Dale stepped forward and said the reduction from ten to five was acceptable.

"We have already submitted an application for storm water work at that site," Dale said, "and included in the lease arrangement, we would also provide janitorial and maintenance of the facility, as well as other benefits."

Window restoration project helps preserve history of Sanford's old post office

Major restoration work was recently completed on the old East First Street post office, which currently houses Sanford Main Street and a police substition. The building's 30 windows were removed, restored and replaced during a more than replaced during a more than five-month project.

Plans for the window project began in January 2002 when the city's director of Public Works, Tom George, began measuring the windows for replacement. However, at the urging of Main Street Executive Director Marlene Frith, restoration rather than replacement — was also considered.

"I knew that restoration would cost more than replace-ment of the windows, so we had to see if there was enough money budgeted for it," Prith said. "Since the building is on the National Register of Historic Places, trying to keep the histori-cal integrity of its architecture was a given."

The U.S. Post Office Building, located at 230 E. First St., was built in 1917 by Algemon Bair of Montgomery, Ala. Volusia County Fire and Rescue received the origi-nal call that a man was stranded inside one of the smokestacks. The man, not identified by press time but described as being in his mid 40s, was working for CDI, the company hired to help dismantle the stacks.

According to Mary Dom, community informa-tion officer for Volusia County, the man became ill while working and could not climb down the 350foot stack by himself. She stressed that the illness was not accident related.

McKee Construction still growing after 30 years

By Chris Bernhardt Herald Intern

On February 15, 1973, Bob McKee started his own construction business in Sanford, McKee Construction Company, doing arnall residential type work.

Thirty years later, McKee is retired, but the company he left behind continues to grow, build-ing facilities for major businesses in the Central Florida area.

"There's only a handful (of companies) that do," Bobby Von Herbulis, president of McKee Construction, said about constructions companies lasting three decades. "You have to change with the times and you have to change with the market."

Von Herbulis should have a pretty good idea of how McKee Construction became such a longterm success story. He's worked there his entire adult life. He went to work for McKee 18 years ago as a 17-year-old still in high school. He worked his way up through

Woman hopes fling with boss will become steady commitment

DEAR ABBY: I'm kinda involved with this guy at work. He's my boss and he's really hot. "Rod" and I started sleeping together almost a year ago, and he's told me all along that he cares a lot for me. My problem is he says he can't "be" with me, because he can't give me what I deserve emotionally — he can only fulfill my physical needs.

So, in my head I'm saying, "OK, that's better than nothing." Rod bought me a car and ing." Rod bought me a car and has been generous in the money department. But a couple of months ago, he started seeing this other girl. I refer to her as the "Sexless Unwilling Virgin." Rod says he loves her, but he still wants to sleep with me.

I don't understand why he Abby doesn't love me, and I can't figure out why he's never taken me out on a real date. Lately he only stays overnight when he doesn't have anything else to do.

I know he cares for me, and that we have a history he doesn't have with the "S.U.V." Should I keep sticking it out? I can't stop hop-ing that one day we'll end up being a real cou-ple. Rod means the world to me. I'd do almost anything for him. What do you think? IN LOVE WITH THE HOT ROD

DEAR IN LOVE: Idle your motor. The man you have described appears to be fulfilling your material and physical needs — but not your emotional ones. It's up to you to decide how long you can live with two out of three. I hope you'll soon wake up to the fact that you are being used, and that it will spur you to find a man who truly loves you and is willing to make a commitment. to make a commitment.

DEAR ABBY: My mother and I have always agreed that we don't interfere with each other's decisions. Emotional support and tidbits of advice are welcome — but no meddling. This worked well for us until she met "Don" nine months ago. They accurrently living together and plan to be married this summer.

Don spends his afternoons at the neighborhood bar, he weeke this element. Mom has known him (he was fired for stealing), has been arrested for shoplifting, and lies about his "war experience" in hopes of gaining sympathy. (He never served a day in the mili-

Mother is one of those women who are incapable of living alone. Her second husband of eight years died suddenly last year, and since then her life has been anything but normal and stable. My sister flat-out told her how she feels shout Don ("Dump the loser") and now they're not speaking. I don't want to harm our relationship, but Mom constantly asks me for money I don't have. What am I supposed to say to her, Abby?

WORDS IN ARKANSAS

DEAR EXASPERATED: Tell her no, and tell her why. Explaining that you have no intention of supporting her freeloading fiance is not meddling. It's a bracing dose of the truth, and a glimpse of what lies ahead for her.

Your mother needs to know now that although you love her, you refuse to dispense dollars like an ATM machine, and she deserves someone who will treat her far better than Don does.

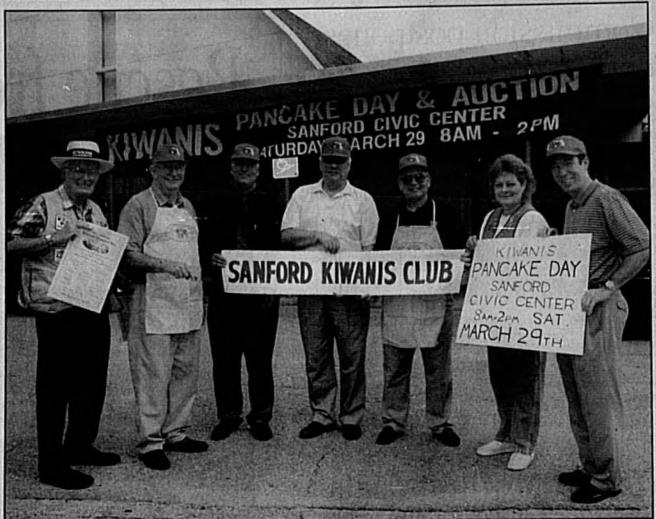

DEAR ABBY: I have a beautiful double strand of pearls I'd love to wear, but it was a gift from my ex-husband. Can I wear the neck-lace while out with my current husband? NEW WIFE IN GUAM

DEAR NEW WIFE: As long as your current husband doesn't object, I see no reason why not. Sometimes a string of pearls is only a string of pearls.

Commissioner Randy Morris suggested the commission see a finalized offer in writing, from the airport. He also wanted a better disclosure of the facilities offered in Option 2, that for the third floor at the Reflections Building. The annual lease was originally listed at $304,941, but it was announced that the lease arrangement could be lower. Additionally, there would be renovation costs of $125,000.

It was also discussed that being on the third floor might be inconvenient for citizens having to use an elevator.

A suggestion was advanced that the decision be held off for two weeks, pending additional information, until the April 8 commission meeting. Dale was asked if the offer would still stand. He indicated it could be but stressed that because of the time needed for receiving the required permits, the delay would rush construction to meet Goard's April 2004 deadline.

Regardless, the commission then voted to postpone any decision on the site selection until the next commission meeting.

Von Herbulis also tries to maintain a working relationship with local suppliers and subcontractors, the same ones McKee Construction has used since he started with the company almost two decades ago.

LEESBURG - The road proved to be no problem for the Seminole Community College baseball team as it increased its amazing winning streak to 17 games over the weekend.

But what is more important is that the three wins came over Mid-Florida Conference foes and the locals are now a perfect 10-0 in conference.

Last Thursday (March 20) in Jacksonville, the Raiders scored all three of their runs in the fourth inning and Zach McCamie and Kyle DeYoung combined on a two-hitter as the visitors edged Florida Community College (10-13

overall, 4-3 in the Mid-Florida

Conference), 3-2.

McCamie (6-2) went 8-1/3 innings, allowing two runs on two hits, while striking out 10 and walking two, and DeYoung earned his fourth save, retiring both men he faced.

Trailing 1-0 in the fourth inning, Winter Springs' John Michael Howell led off with single but was erased on a grounder by Sean Greear. Courntey Propst then tied the game with a double to left center and put SCC ahead to stay when he scored on a single by Tyson Malik. Matt Matheson and Mike

PALM BAY — The prospects of taking a week off in the middle of an athletic season can cause some coaches to have fits because they never know if the team will get stale during the break and take some time to get things going again.

But, if anything, last week's "Spring Break" for the Seminole Community College softball team gave the team new life as they returned to the field to post an impressive sweep of Oakland Community College from Michigan, 3-0 and 6-0, at Brevard Community College in Palm Bay on Sophomore ace Lacey Swarthout continued her mastery in the opening game, scattering four singles, striking out 13 and allowing no walks in giving the locals their 30th victory of the season while winning her 18th game of the season against two losses.

The All-American established her dominance immediately as, after the Oakland leadoff batter flew out, she struck out the next five in a row, and carried a perfect game through three innings.

OCC would finally get to the righthander for a leadoff bunt single in the fourth and would get singles in each of the last four innings. However, no Oakland runner advanced past first the entire game.

The Raiders' offense was also a little slow in getting started, but finally broke through in the fourth inning.

Oviedo's Megan Miller reached on an error and Oviedo's Megan Miller reached ball. Stacey one out later moved up on a passed ball. Stacey Spell then singled Miller to third, from where she scored on a squeeze bunt by Holly Lacko.

In the fifth inning SCC put its speed to work, Lori Schnepf led off with a single, stole second and went to third on a bunt single by Kiley Sieffert. The two then pulled off a perfect double steal, with Schnepf scoring and Sieffert going to second. Oviedo's Katie Field then singled in Sieffert with the final run of the same. Sieffert with the final run of the game.
