PROGRAM OF PRESIDENT IS MOVING AHEAD

Chief Executive Intends to Issue Immediate Future To Lift Fed- eral Gold Embargo

WASHINGTON, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt's program for action, domestic and international, forged ahead today on varied fronts.

While Congress kept its pace on legislation he has put before it, farm relief, unemployment, and security regulation, it developed that the Chief Executive intended in the immediate future to lift the gold embargo.

It developed that by Friday, Roosevelt hopes to lay one more big issue before Congress, the re-organization of the big Muscle Shoals power and nitrate plant together with a rounded development of the Tennessee River basin.

The President received from Frank T. Hines, veterans administrator, a report that $1,500,000,000 are going to be saved eventually from one feature alone of the new economy program, the elimination of hospitals and veterans care.

President Roosevelt's emergency executive program jolted over rough and bumpy road in Congress yesterday as the Senate debated the Black five-day week bill and the House sidetracked the administration's $500,000,000 unemployment relief measure.

The President's far-reaching plan for financing the nation's program for farm indebtedness, proposed in a special message Sunday, was advanced however, in a committee at both ends of the Capitol.

It was approved by the Senate agricultural committee together with the government farm relief bill designed to raise the price of farm commodities by the application of a number of alternative plans.

Conferees of the House and Senate committee on the bill to regulate sale of certain commodities. (Continued on Page Four)

Daredevil Derby In Good Spirits After 24 Hours

Daredevil Jack Derby, who yesterday permitted himself to be hounded to the wheel of a brilliantly painted Chevrolet sedan as he set out to prove the car's stamina by driving 100 hours without stopping, was in good spirits early this afternoon after 24 hours of travel up and down the streets. He did not appear tired.

He said that "There are some mighty pretty streets, homes, and people in Sanford," and said that he will stop driving at the 100th hour mark.

That means he will drive until 1:25 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and that he will have to be fed, shaved, and otherwise attended to while he sits in the motor for the next three days.

Daredevil Derby wants company during his drive, he said. If by chance you see him on the outskirts of the town, or for that matter in the heart of town, he'll slow down long enough for you to say hello to him. Then he'll take you wherever you wish to go.

While you are his passenger he will call your attention to the fact that he is driving a brand new Chevrolet sedan, and that several Sanford merchants are sponsoring his drive. After that he is prepared to converse with his passengers on almost any subject.

RECENT BOYCOTT AGAINST JEWS IS DECLARED OVER

Government Reserves Right To Resume Activities, However

BERLIN, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—The anti-Semitic boycott will not be resumed today, the government announced yesterday, but the Nazi party reserved the right to start the movement again if the "anti-city campaign" is revived abroad.

The boycott originally was called by the party rather than by the government itself. At the last moment Chancellor Hitler's cabinet stepped in, decreeing that Jewish restrictive measures should be limited to last Saturday and leaving the question of resumption today dependent on the cessation of foreign protests and reports concerning anti-Jewish atrocities in Germany.

George A. Gordon, the American charge d'affaires, communicated with the foreign office yesterday concerning charges disseminated by the Pan-German Press service that "an atrocity lie factory has been set up in the American consulate-general."

This service is edited by two Nazis. It asserted that the American and Polish consulates were collecting accusations made by eastern Jews against Nazis.

It was understood that the foreign office agreed the allegations were improper, and it was expected that the press service would publish a correction and would apologize to the consulate general.

"We strongly resent these unwarranted imputations and will properly represent ourselves on immediate stoppage," said George S. Messersmith, the American consul-general.

"Naturally, during the past days, the consulate has received, as is its duty, American citizens who complained of mistreatment. Their affidavits were taken and through the foreign office presented to the police presidency."

Elks Will Leave To Attend Ceremonies

Approximately 20 members of Sanford Elks Lodge No. 1241 will go to New Smyrna early this evening to attend the ceremonies connected with the installation of officers for the coming year.

After the meeting, leaders of the local delegation will invite the New Smyrna Elks Degree team which recently was named as the national champion to come to Sanford next Wednesday night for the purpose of installing local officers.

Woman On Trial For Life Weeps On Stand

JACKSONVILLE, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—Mrs. Leah Frazer, on trial for the murder of her husband's secretary, Miss Masona Farrell, wept on the witness stand today as she identified a letter she said her victim wrote Frazer referring to her "university." The letter said "I love you and hope the best and (unintentionally) will be a visit to Mrs. Frazer killed Miss Farrell," she said, to say, her name.

MACDONALD IS SEEN LIKELY TO VISIT U. S.

President Hopes Premier Can Hold Confer- ence With Him On World Questions

WASHINGTON, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt issued a statement today expressing the hope that Prime Minister MacDonald could visit him here to confer on world economic and arms questions.

The statement said "in course of informal exchanges of views between the British and ourselves regarding the general economic situation and the problem of disarmament, the President has felt that a visit to Washington by the Prime Minister would be helpful.

The President ever since his first conversations with the British ambassador at Warm Springs has emphasized his hope that the Prime Minister would come over."

Dispatches from London today indicated that MacDonald is making arrangements to come to Washington during the Easter recess of the House of Commons.

Mrs. Knox Awarded $1,500.00 In Damages

Mrs. A. W. Knox of this city was awarded a verdict of $1500 against the Guaranty Credit Association by a jury of the Clay County Circuit Court, Judge De Witt T. Gray, presiding, in Green Cove Springs late yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Knox, through her attorney, S. R. Dighton, had sued the association on account of automobile damages and personal injuries sustained by her in an automobile wreck Dec. 6, 1931 when Mrs. Knox, together with Dr. A. W. Knox and her daughter, Mariel, were returning from Jacksonville to Sanford. Mrs. Knox contended that she was forced off the road by the driver of the defendant company's car while she was attempting to pass the car.

Dr. Knox, Mrs. Knox, and V. A. Williams, of Sanford, and Dr. Simpson, of Jacksonville, testified for the plaintiff in the case. The party returned home last night.

John Senkarik last night was elected as president of Seminole Chapter Future Farmers of America succeeding David VanNess, who tendered his resignation.

During the meeting, held at Seminole High School, members of the chapter listened to reports from the most curing, corn growing, and buying and selling committee. They also discussed the staging of a one-act play in the school chapel, and Clifford King, C. Bell, and Talmadge Metts were appointed to supervise its presentation.

At the conclusion of the meeting some of the boys participated in boxing exhibitions, while others enjoyed meals furnished by Talmadge Metts.

Those attending the meeting were: David VanNess, C. King, J. R. Jones, Jr., Talmadge Metts, David Earle, William Burnett, Jerry Senkarik, John Senkarik, Creston Phillips, Paul Hodges, Casey Hamill, Ronald Multhead, and A. R. Johnson.

Surviving Officer Of Navy Dirigible Akron Describes Incidents Of Ship's Crash

NEW YORK, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—"Stand by for a crash!" That did Lieut. Commr. H. V. Wiley cry out to his shipmates on the Akron as the giant dirigible plunged toward the sea.

In a faded bathrobe, with a pair of borrowed pajamas about his tall, bulky figure, the second in command of the giant navy dirigible stood on the steps of the U. S. naval hospital in Brooklyn late yesterday and recounted the night of storm and terror that apparently brought death to 33 of his shipmates.

The officer was calm as he talked. The story of the hospital was filled with patients and at 7:30 P. M. Monday night on a rainy night, the lieutenant commander emphatically said that in his opinion, the Akron was not struck by lightning, and added that there was no fire aboard the Akron.

There was a possibility, he said, that the ship was struck by lightning without his knowledge "as there was plenty of lightning all around us."

CLEARING HOUSE ELECTS GROWERS TO GOVERN BODY

WINTER HAVEN, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—Grower members of the Florida Citrus Growers Clearing House Association yesterday re-elected all but two of the directors of the present board to serve for the next season.

Boat Racing In Lake Monroe During Summer Will Be Sponsored By C. Of C.

Boat racing upon Lake Monroe during the summer months is a matter that has come under the sponsorship of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Members of the trade body's board of directors last night, in April meeting, decided that such recreation is valuable from many angles. President H. M. Papworth, therefore appointed J. L. Marenquette, W. J. Wells, Jr., of Longwood and S. D. Higleyman as a committee which is to confer with David Cooper, local boat enthusiast, in reference to plans for motor and sailboat races during the summer.

Endorsement was given to St. Johns Valley Day at DeLand, Apr. 20 when the directors were advised as to the purpose and scope of the celebration which is expected to attract upwards of 2500 persons.

F. P. Dorner, trade body director who is president of the Seminole Agricultural Club, offered to donate all the barbecue fixings, and all the celery needed for the free barbecue, while the directors voted to purchase some of the pork which is to be fed to the crowds at DeLand on Apr. 20.

SENATE ACTS TO WIDEN VOTE IN THIS COUNTY

Action Of Upper Cham- ber Is Aimed To En- franchise Citizens In Coming Election

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—The Senate today adopted a resolution eliminating the necessity for payment of poll taxes in an election to be held in Seminole County next Wednesday for naming the successor of the late Representative H. S. White. The resolution, which was introduced by Senator J. J. Parrish, carried 37 to 6.

The Senate today adopted new rules limiting debate by any senator on any one subject to 30 minutes, except by a two-thirds consent and barring the public from the downstairs floor chamber except by unanimous consent.

Other changes of the Senate rules will reduce the number of standing committees, lengthen the number of sessions, reduce the number of attaches and clerks and cut the fee paid witnesses.

In a 20-minute session today the House declined to act on a bill providing for the extension of tax payment time from Apr. 1, 1933 to June 1. The bill was introduced by Haws, of Alachua, and by special resolution of the House was referred to a committee.

The House then adjourned until tomorrow to allow completion of organization duties.

Sweeping precedent issue, the House of Representatives, article laid down to work in mid-session fashion yesterday and last night the committee for the twenty-fourth biennial gathering stood organized for consideration of the important measures to come before the legislators.

Peter Tomasello, Jr., of Oklawaha, unanimous choice as speaker, late yesterday afternoon made public his committee list after the House had completed its routine organization work and had adjourned.

Approximately 1500 residents of this county are qualified to vote in the special election of Apr. 12. It was announced today by Supervisor of Registration W. J. Thigpen who completed his official check of the registration and poll tax books yesterday.

This figure includes all persons who had paid their 1932 poll tax on or before Mar. 18, 1933; all who are exempt from paying a poll tax because they are over the age limit; have just come of age; are members of the Florida National Guard, or are disabled-in-the-service war veterans.

The figure released today is almost double that announced in The Herald some days ago, when it was reported that about 725 persons were qualified. That report was based on statements that there were about 500 persons exempt from paying poll taxes, and an examination of 1932 poll tax receipts which show that 230 persons had paid their tax.

Nearly 900 of the 1500 persons qualified to vote are residents of the city's two precincts. The remainder are scattered in the county's 12 precincts.

According to figures released this morning by Mr. Thigpen 403 persons may vote in Precinct No. 1, Sanford; 53 may vote in Lake Monroe; 400 in Precinct No. 3, Sanford; 25 may vote in Paola; 98 in Oviedo; 70 in Geneva; 29 in Chuluota; 37 in Gambia; 25 in Longwood; 67 in Lake Mary; 80 in Altamonte Springs; 43 in Forest City; two in Slavia, and none in Ocoee.

These figures are subject to a slight revision, Mr. Thigpen said, for it is not certain that the list is free of persons who are dead. However, even with revisions, Mr. Thigpen states that "it is safe to say that 1500 people will be able to vote if they wish to do so."

Congress Launches Investigation Into Dirigible Disaster

RETIRED OFFICER REVEALS CAUSES OF AKRON CRASH

SEARCH CONTINUES FOR MISSING CREW BUT
NO HOPE IS HELD FOR FINDING ANY ALIVE

WASHINGTON, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—A mounting determination to end naval airship construction spread today through Congress intent upon finding the real causes of the Akron's plunge into the Atlantic.

At the same time the navy pressed its search of the waters to find possible survivors and locate bodies.

In the Senate a resolution prepared the calling of an investigation of the Akron disaster and consideration of the advisability of spending more than $20,000,000 plus that which the Navy already has invested in lighter-than-air craft.

Chairman Trammell of the Senate naval committee is also considering a study of the accident.

Chairman Vinson designated the House naval sub-committee to begin an investigation early next week.

Delaney, of New York, was named by Vinson as chairman of the inquiry committee. He told newspapermen that "all statements given out previously in the last 24 hours saying this accident is the death knell of the dirigible, in my opinion, are a little hysterical. It's too early to decide."

NEW YORK, Apr. 5.—(A.P.)—Search for the 71 lost officers and men of the airship Akron went forward swiftly today but hope that any survived was gone.

Spiglin says, shipped by three destroyers, had quit, making the lack of searching less difficult than yesterday.

Coast guard boats were ordered to extend their search southward. Lieutenant Commander Wiley and two other survivors were ordered to fly here and report to Admiral Pratt, chief of naval operations.

At the White House, President Roosevelt kept in close contact with details of the Akron's fate from the first moment he received the news.

"I grieve with the nation and especially with the wives and families of the men who were lost," Roosevelt said.

"Ships can be replaced but the nation can ill afford to lose such men as Rear Admiral Moffett and his shipmates who died with him upholding to the end the finest traditions of the United States navy."

Mrs. Roosevelt called to capsule Mrs. Moffett. The admiral's wife steadfastly refused to surrender hope.

But the most authentic report to reach the capital, written by Lieut. Commr. Herbert V. Wiley, one of the three survivors, held little hope for the 70 lost men.

"Lightning flash saw many men swimming," was the Wiley report conveyed to the White House. And shortly afterward came news that the body of Lieut. Commr. Harold E. MacLellan had been swept more than 20 miles from the crash.

As the first shock from the disaster became tempered somewhat, complaints were heard in Congress at the huge cost of airships. "It is another illustration of the awful waste of money of building great sea bags that serve only as sky shows in peace time and are worthless in war," said Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington. "We have wasted more money on them than we anything we have done in the navy."

Man Kills Self As Posse Seeks Him in Slaying Of Family

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Apr. 3.—(AP)—Sought for the slaying of his wife and son Saturday night, Louis Paul, 55, shot and killed himself in the woods near his farm home yesterday morning at the approach of a posse of officers and farmers.

The dead, Louis Paul, was his wife, Mary, 45, and the son, Tony, 25, who were slain, officers said, as the tragic climax of a family quarrel that had raged for several weeks.

Mrs. Paul was found dead in bed of a shotgun wound. Officers said Paul had apparently killed her on the porch of their home, then carried her body to the bedroom.

As officers reconstructed later developments, Paul then waited on the porch for the return of Tony and a younger brother, William, 19, who had been to Muskegon. Tony was killed as he neared the porch. William, who had approached the house from the rear, heard the shot and said that by the time he reached the front of the house, his father was running down the road.

A neighbor, Joseph Johnson, who officers said Paul had discussed his family troubles with him Saturday noon, saying his wife had refused to let him into the house; that Tony had caused by arrest on a minor charge and that he was trying to get an injunction to restrain Tony from living at home.

"The time has come to stop issuing cheap certificates to cheap teachers in Florida. The time has come to raise the standard of certification in this state and to require by law hereafter that no one be given a certificate to teach in this state unless she or he is a graduate of a two-year normal or four-year college course."

"Various state institutions" and "suggested changes to be made in the board of administration."

"Establishment throughout the state of a uniform system of salaries for county officers in place of the present iniquitous and much abused fee system."

"County budget commissions."

"Passage of additional banking laws, as the national situation develops so that I can advise you better as to what I should recommend."

"Workmen's compensation insurance as a means of fair play and a better understanding between employers and employees."

"The sentencing and pardoning of prisoners and the civilization of convict labor."

"Consolidation of certain departments, as well as the abolishment of others."

High-Lights Of Message

Continued From Page One) school system. In return for the assistance which the state gives, it must have a voice in the management of the schools.

Our municipalities and tax districts are burdened with tremendous debt. In many instances even counties have not been able to meet the interest on their bonds or provide a sinking fund for the eventual retirement of the principal.

All these debts, which were made in good faith, must be met honorably. There must be adjustments made within the capacity and the ability of the people to pay.

I ask you to forward and forget local interests until major projects concerning the whole state are disposed of.

The first real problem which must be solved before we can return to a condition of normalcy in our state is giving to the people an economical government—state, county and municipal.

I suggest, however, a dollar is spent and seeing that the service given is indispensable to the people's welfare.

Public treasuries are drained to the bottom. The condition of our people; your people—my people—the people we tax, is deplorable.

The first major task which confronts the legislature is to balance the State budget and to do it without seeking additional revenue.

The administration-sponsored appropriation bill based on the report of the budget commission, has been constructed with the idea in view that for once the State will live within its income, just as the private individual in Florida and elsewhere has been forced to learn that he must live within his income.

There may be people who will cry for larger tax collections instead of smaller tax expenditures, but I beg you to be mindful of the fact that it makes no difference from which pocket of the taxpayer you take his dollar, it is still the same taxpayer's dollar, and it is still his dollar which you are taking.

There is a general demand throughout the state for a reduction in the number of circuit and circuit judges. This demand should no longer be ignored.

I strongly urge and recommend; first, a statute limiting justices of the peace and constables to not exceeding two in any one county; second, the substitution of a constitutional amendment abolishing these offices.

I propose definite administration bills in a spirit of co-operation with a desire to give you whatever leadership a governor properly may give a State Legislature. I do this as a co-worker, not as a dictator.

Do not assume that I am at all pessimistic about the future, the growth or the ultimate return of prosperity to Florida.

Priest Renews His Attack on Bankers In Church Sunday

DETROIT, Apr. 2.—(AP)—The Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin yesterday renewed his attack on bankers whom he accused of responsibility for Detroit's financial plight, referring only briefly to charges made against him last week and making no mention of the explosion of a small bomb in the basement of his home last Thursday morning.

While Father Coughlin spoke in the Shrine of the Little Flower, his church in Royal Oak, an overflow crowd stood outside the building.

Much of his address yesterday was a criticism of the Detroit Free Press and of E. D. Stair, its publisher, who was president of the Detroit Bankers Company, holding company for the incorporated First National Bank-Detroit.

Yesterday, Father Coughlin said the Free Press "defames the League of the Little Flower and myself for investing in productive Michigan industry, which we will do again, while it continues a gambling organization, which pertains to the Detroit Bankers Company."

The letter referred to charges made by Father Coughlin last week, and repeated yesterday, that Detroit's national banks, most of the stock of which is owned by holding companies, "gamble with other people's money" in making some loans, Stair denied that charge, citing figures and quoting government officials in support of his contention that the banks were not reckless with funds.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1933

DEATH OR LIFE? To be carnally minded is death; to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Romans 8:6.

Yesterday was an off day for American dirigibles.

And similar. As busy as a Jewish lawyer in Berlin.

One thing this forest brigade could do to great advantage would be to stop around picking up cigarette butts.

We are strongly in favor of the Blue Sky laws on stock sales, but we think lottery tickets ought to be included.

And the Legislature should not forget the case with which Zangara procured his death pistol from a pawnshop.

Horse Thieves Still Pester Gotham Police.—headline. Any Texas cowboy can tell 'em how to cure that trouble.

At Dallas College the assertion is debated, "Women in politics are a fiasco." Well, aren't we all, whatever that is?

An Ohio man boasts of catching a fish with whiskers. That's nothing. We've seen some with horn rimmed glasses and linen dusters.

It looks as if Jews in Germany are damned if they do and damned if they don't. The Nazis layout their stores so that they can't live there and then pass a law so that none of them can leave Germany.

In passing a beer bill, Florida should also strengthen its law against drunken driving. It may not be anyone else's business how much a fellow drinks, but it does seem to be a very important part of everyone's business when he takes to the highway.

Newspaper dispatches reveal that the United States is the most murderous country in the world. The murder rate in this country is 10.8 per hundred thousand of population. Memphis, Tenn. leads all cities in the United States with 54.2 murders per hundred thousand. Records which are no source of pride.

The Widows and Widowers Club of New York has adopted a resolution demanding a change in the marriage vows so that the phrase "With all my worldly goods I thee endow" shall read, "With all my world goods and money I thee endow." Well, we don't think many men would hold back on that account, not in these days.

Figures prepared by the Imperial Bank of Germany indicate what happens when a country embarks upon the sea of inflation. Between Jan. 6, 1923 and Nov. 30 of the same year, the circulation of German marks increased from 1,336,500,000,000 to four hundred quadrillion, two hundred and sixty-seven quadrillion, six hundred and forty trillion, two hundred and ninety-one billion, seven hundred and fifty million marks, which looks something like this, 400,267,610,291,750,000,000. At the same time the gold reserves of the country declined from 1,046,000,000 marks to 487,000,000 marks.

The State of Florida will collect about $710,000 not from the various racetracks operated in Florida during the 1933 season, according to the latest figures we have seen. Hitherto, a part of this money, or perhaps more, was spent on what is known as "protection." It was paid to various officers of the law to allow the racetracks to operate against the law without interference. We contend that the present system, regardless of what you may think of racetrack gambling, is much preferable to the former. And we think the same thing could be said for beer legalization and control.

The Cost Of Pioneering

The wreck of the Akron in the North Atlantic Monday night and the loss of 78 men on board comes as a shock from which the country cannot quickly recover. Scarcely two weeks ago when this giant ship unexpectedly appeared in the skies over Sanford it seemed as impregnable and as securely suspended there as the sun itself. Then, trapped inextricably in the midst of an electrical storm, it suddenly drops like an elevator to the water's surface, and, torn and twisted from stem to stern, goes to the bottom of the ocean with most of its crew.

We have seen no finer testimonial of the courage, loyalty, and persistence of Uncle Sam's fighting men than the statement of Lieut. Commander Wiley, one of the three survivors, in which he pleads for public confidence in the merit of lighter-than-air craft, and, within fifteen hours of the time when he was taken cold and exhausted from the waters of the North Atlantic after seeing scores of his crewmates perish, urges that no congressional action be taken to suspend support of dirigible construction.

The experience of America with airships of this type has not been a particularly happy one. Like England this country has never fully mastered the secrets of dirigible construction and maneuvering. The wrecks of the Roma and the Shenandoah, once the pride of America's air fleet, were alone almost sufficient to turn public sentiment against the huge appropriations necessary for dirigible experiments.

But it should be remembered that many boats went down at sea and many a life was lost in shipwrecks before the safety and perfection of the Majestic and the Olympic were devised. Pioneer railroading was extremely costly in lives and money before methods were found which make accidents extremely scarce today. The casualties of the highways, even yet, run into the hundreds of thousands; yet no one suggests abolishing automobiles.

Germany, where zeppelins were invented, has succeeded in making them efficient and comparatively safe. No major dirigible accident has occurred there since 1913. The Graf Zeppelin, under the skillful guidance of Dr. Hugo Eckner, has successfully completed over 250 flights, covering 261,000 miles in 4,200 flying hours. She has crossed the North Atlantic six times and the South Atlantic 15 times. In 1929 she flew around the world in slightly more than 21 days, and during the five years she has been in service she has carried more than sixteen thousand passengers without the loss of a single life, or an accident of any consequence.

What Germany can do with zeppelins, America can do with dirigibles. This country has never been permanently defeated yet, either in a fight with foreign enemies or in a battle against the elements. It successfully overcame the hazardous difficulties of spanning the western prairies with railroads. It outwitted German submarines during the war while safely transporting hundreds of thousands of soldiers to France. It can overcome the defects which now exist in its methods of airship control.

It would be the height of folly to abandon dirigible experimentation simply because of the lamentable Akron wreck.

Pretzels

The pretzel has been called a doughnut with rigor mortis, but the person who gave the appellation evidently didn't know that the pretzel's early history is steeped in the pages of antiquity, pre-dating the ancient Romans, and that this curious looking bit of food was being eaten long before the first doughnut ever dropped in a pot of grease.

It is a curious fact that the consumption of pretzels, long associated with beer drinking, has greatly increased since the prohibition amendment was passed. However, with the passage of the beer bill, the pretzel industry has taken on an even added impetus and factories are putting on large crews of workers to supply the demand.

Most of the work in making pretzels is accomplished by machinery. The dough is mixed on a scientific basis to insure uniformity of product, and the actual baking is done under rigid time and temperature controls. The mixing, rolling, cutting and slicing have been mechanized.

The actual shaping or "bending" of the pretzel still remains a handcraft. No device has been invented which can give the proper twist to the product. The dough reaches the pretzel "benders" in a thin roll, about the length and circumference of a lead pencil. One end is taken in each hand, and a double twist brings the two ends together and completes the looped design. The operation is so fast that it can hardly be followed by the eye.

The word pretzel is claimed by one authority to have been derived from "prayer" and the shape of the pretzel is said to have been symbolical of a child at prayer with its arms crossed over its breast. The power of bringing good luck has also been associated with the pretzel and in some European localities pretzels were distributed to the poor, and to school children on feast days, and were supposed to ward off the evil influences of witches and demons.

Aside from its historical background, however, the pretzel has received the endorsement of medical authorities as a health food and has found its way to the school lunch room and to the family table, quite in contrast to its popular association with beer gardens and the old saloon.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Florida, and the whole country, is in breathless suspense at news of the serious illness of Henry M. Flagler. In his eighty-fourth year, he is still the idol of those who know what he has been worth to this state.

Democrats swept Chicago in Tuesday's municipal election, returning 23 aldermen, and the superior court judge, city clerk, and city treasurer. The proposed bond issue of $2,800,000 urged by the Hearst-Harrison factions of the Democratic party carried by a small margin.

W. W. Miller is entitled to place on the honor roll for large vegetables. He raised a cabbage that tipped the scales at 15 pounds. G. F. Smith, the Beck Hammock coler man, is putting in 26 acres of string beans on his coler land.

The Fancy Work Circle was entertained by Mrs. A. E. Hill Thursday afternoon. The ladies busied themselves with their prettily fancy work, while enjoying a social afternoon together. The hostess was assisted in serving a delicious salad course by her little granddaughter, Miss Olive Newman. Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Mrs. J. J. Parrish, Mrs. T. S. Davis, Mrs. W. T. Johns, Mrs. W. W. Long, Mrs. Henry McLaughlin, and Mrs. Robert Newman.

Mrs. A. A. Sistine and Miss Jimmie Glass are enjoying a visit from their sister, Mrs. J. S. Lee, of Newman, Ga., whom Mrs. Sistine has not had the pleasure of seeing for 25 years.

Miss Emma Adams arrived home Monday evening from Jacksonville where she spent the week-end with her brother. Her mother, Mrs. Alice Adams, will remain two or three weeks longer with her son.

The Road We've Got To Go Back Over

WORK OF MELLON

Andrew W. Mellon returns to the United States from Great Britain, where he served as ambassador following his retirement as secretary of the treasury. His return is greeted with enthusiasm by the radical congressmen, who have long sought to attack Mr. Mellon.

Three presidential administrations, during which he has been known to the greatest secretary of the treasury since Hamilton. When he took hold under President Harding the general treasury was burdened beneath a tremendous load of debt piled up during the World War under President Wilson. Taxes were alarming. The credit of the government was threatened. States and nation launched into a reign of extravagance. The Secretary Mellon straightened the ship, established order, efficiency and economy. Under President Harding and Coolidge the public debt was reduced about 50 percent and taxes were decreased. Mr. Mellon directed the treasury during that time.

If it had not been for his work and that of the two administrations, there would be no hope now of restoring government finances nor faith in federal credit. The American government would not have weathered the storm of depression and it would not be in a position today to extend significant relief.

These facts should be remembered while we had the splendid management of the treasury problems in the last few weeks by Secretary Woodin and the hopeful economy measures of President Roosevelt. It is not likely the record of Harding-Coolidge-Mellon in economy and debt reduction will ever be repeated.

National Guard News

The 1931 federal inspection is now history, Col. Freeman giving Company D the once over Monday night and the Medical Detachment and H-squad, Company, Tuesday night.

Company D put on a very satisfactory program and while there were some flaws to be found, most of the boys acquitted themselves very creditably.

"I am very proud of my boys," was Capt. Knox's, of the Medical Detachment, comment when the inspection was over, and well he might be. The Medical Detachment put on one of the prettiest schedules that has ever come out of the armory. From the time the whistle sounded for formation until the last of the program was put away, every member of the detachment functioned 100 percent and the program went over without a hitch. At the conclusion of the drill, Col. Freeman complimented Capt. Knox very highly on the work of the Company.

The Headquarters Company put on a complete C. P. N. drill, which went over smoothly, and they also received high commendation from Col. Freeman.

Capt. Starrett, of Orlando, was present at the inspection Monday night and Staff Sergeant Gladis, of Orlando, was over Tuesday night.

Effective next Monday night and until further notice Company D will appear at drills in slacks and cotton shirts.

The ship was in a very bad condition, although slightly heavy. The engine to the stern became quite inoperative and also stopped at the water.

"I got a shock when the ship struck a light house. There was no warning of that at any time, although there was plenty of lightning around us."

"We continued east for about an hour and then reversed the course. When we reached land again we saw lights and I identified the shore line. This was about midnight. The course was changed to southeast. About half an hour later the ship began to descend rapidly from 1,000 feet. I dropped all the ballast forward. The fall was stopped at about 500 feet. We rose rapidly and level 100 feet at 1,500 feet.

"After we were falling, the engines were pushed to full speed. After we were chugged to full speed, they were changed to starboard speed. Three minutes later the air became turbulent and around us the ship tossed violently."

"I knew we were near the center of the storm, because the center is most turbulent. I called all hands to the life stations as we have all of them available and not in their bunks."

"The ship took a sharp turn and the rudder control wires of the upper rudder were carried away. I unlatched the upper rudder and tried to steer with the lower rudder."

"I was on the right side of the control car and supervising the rudder. Commander McLeod was on the left side of the car and supervising the elevator which the elevator man reported. The ship was falling rapidly."

"I heard a report of 500 feet by this time the noise increased upward about 20 degrees, but the ship was falling quite rapidly. In the fog nothing out he could be seen."

"I asked for altitude and the answer was 500 feet. I ordered all hands to stand by for a crash. This order was rung up to the engine car and about nine minutes we hit the water."

"We had, as I remember, a lot of cardboard, to my side of the control car, water covered the windows on my side, covered up outside of the control car."

"I tried to swim away as rapidly as I could to get to the surface."
