our children. Having served the public for 18 years as teacher and recreation leader, I am aware of the fact that our children are deprived of one of the greatest needs of life, the need of love, the feeling of belonging. From infancy to adulthood, we all crave affection and will do anything to get attention. Sometimes when serious problems arise wherein our children are concerned, we ask ourselves, where did I go wrong in rearing my child? This can easily be answered: (1) I provide a house for him, not a home, (2) I gave him food, the same type everyday, (3) I put clothing on his back, a size too large or too small, (4) I sent him to school every day, didn't have time to go to P-TA or to visit his school on conference day, (5) I told him he could go out to visit with friends, who they were didn't really matter, (6) I made him go to york, who used the money he earned? (7) He talked of finishing high school and perhaps going to college, where will the money come from? What does all this add up to? - A frustrated, rebellious child who feels he has been neglected and robbed of one thing, parental love and attention of both father and mother. Let's resolve that 1967 will find our placing more emphasis on our children's welfare than on our jobs, our church activities, our social activities, and what our neighbors are doing. Through this resolution, our juvenile courts could go on an extended vaction until ???. . . .

How Good Is A Tie?

There was so much hue and tumult when Notre Dame decided to stick with a tie against Michigan State. And yet, for those of you who golf, let me pose this question to you. You're leading the tourney by a stroke and can get home on the final hole, the long way and get your par and win. Would you try to cut the dog-leg and possibly blow it all? For you towlers . . . you're in the tenth frame. All you need is nine pins to win, but you leave a 4-6 split. Are you going to go for one sure pin and victory or try to make the nearly impossible ?

Which brings me to the Rose Bowl.

Southern Cal was supposed to lose by 12 points to Purdue and there they were with an excellent opportunity of ending the game in a tie, which in the eyes of many would have been a victory in itself.

Well, you know the sad finale there. They gambled and lost and if you go to look up the records years from now, all you'll see is that they lost 14-13 to the Boilermakers. Notre Dame knew what they wanted and evidently got it with the number one rating. Granted, Southern Cal put up a magnificent battle, but they still lost, didn't they ?

Fickle Finger of Fate

All year long, I've been a Georgia Tech booster. After losing a steak dinner bet on the Green Bay-Dallas Cowboys game to our famous 'Sooper Snooper', and then having him bug me on the phone right after the Nebraska-Alabama debacle, I just couldn't take his final libe, "Hey, famous prognosicator. I'll give you Florida and take a double or nothin' ante on our earlier wager." After an hour's dickering, I finally got three points from Vershel and the sweet satisfaction of finally being forced into a right choice . (He doesn't know it but that 'steak' was going to be of the tube-type variety . . . a foot-long hot dog!) Hey, how about a bowl game for the losers? Credit this one to Johnny Carson - "I heard that even the New York Giants have received a bowl invitation. They've been asked to play in the Viet Cong Bowl." So long, Allie . . . it's been good to know yah . . . So long.

Miss Justice, David Wiley Adams Married In Candlelight Ceremony

cie, Sanford, and David Wiley "Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Adams, Country Club Road, Sanford, were married Dec. 23 at 3:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Sanford. Rev. Fred Chance officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony. Church decorations included a - profusion of palms and candelabra, two baskets of white chrysanthemums, kneeling bench and an aisle cloth.

Barney Griggs, organist, presented a program of wedding music and accompanied Errol Simmons who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal length gown featuring a bouffant skirt of white taffeta with an overskirt of daint ylace and taffeta. The dress was enhanced with long pointed sleeves, a lace bodice and square neckline.

The cascading train of taffeta was trimmed with lace and fell from the shoulders. Her fingertip net veil was held in place by a cornet of petals and seed pearls. She wore a white gold cross, given to her by the groom, and carried a bouquet of white orchids on a Bible. Miss Diane Beach, maid of honor, wore a formal length light blue gown with a long train featuring a darker shade

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. A dividend received on your life insurance policy is not taxable on your annual income tax return. A cash dividend received on stock you own is taxable.

Contradictory? Not necessarily. But it does indicate the confusion that exists and the need for an understanding of taxable and nontaxable income. The insurance dividend is not taxable because it is a partial return of your premium payment. The dividend on stock is taxable because it is money earned on your investment. In general, all funds you receive in the course of a year must be reported on your income tax return unless such funds are specifically exempt from tax by law. Income from some sources is fully taxable, from others partially taxable, and from a third source completely exempt. This income is TAXABLE. Periodic alimony and certain separation payments; awards; prizes; back pay; bonuses; business net income; commissions on sales; director's fees; gain from the sale of property; gambling net winnings; interest received from such sources as savings accounts, life insurance dividends left on deposit, notes, mortages, land contracts, corporate bonds and savings bonds; jury duty fees; notary fees; income from partnerships; rental net income; salary and wages; severance pay; supplemental unemployment benefits and tips. This income is NONTAX ABLE:

Accident and health insur ance proceeds; bequests; caspalty insurance proceeds; disability and death benefits; gifts and inheritances: interest or tax-free securities; life insurance proceeds paid on the death of the insured; military allowances; musteringout pay; payments to dependents of military personnel; Railroad Retirement Act pensions; rental or housing allowance furnished a clergyman; scholarships and fellowship grants; unemployment compensation paid by states; veterans' bonuses and workman's compensation benefits. Income from these sources is partially taxable subject to specific rules and handling:

Annuities dividends on stock; gain on the sale of a residence if you are 65 or older; pensions and sick pay. Proper accounting of these partially taxable items will be explained in later chapters.

Steve Adams Wins Coveted

Scout Award

By JANE CASSELBERRY The God and Country award was presented to Steve Adams, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney H. Adams of 166 Plumosis Dr., Altamonte Springs, Sunday at the morning worship service of the First Baptist Church of Sanlando Springs.

Participating in the ceremony were his pastor, Rev. Lewis Haines, and Scoutmaster W. T. Daniel of Boy Scout Troop 341 of Casselberry.

A First Class Scout, Steve is only the fourth boy to earn the coveted award in the history of the troop. To earn it, a scout must work with his pastor for at least a year doing special services, being loyal in attendance, learning more about the precepts of his faith and the Bible, as well as being faithful in his personal devotions.

Long before World War II royal preserves protected areas of natural beauty throughout Europe. Today scores of national parks, set aside for public enjoyment, dot the continent.
