LOUISIANA NATIONAL GUARD IN CAMP AT MER ROUGE WILL DRAG FOR BODIES

OF MISSING MEN SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN KIDNAP- PED BY KU KLUX IN FOUR STATES

Just Another Chapter in Celebrated Kidnapping Case of Several Weeks Ago

(By The Associated Press)
MONROE, La., Dec. 20.—Company G, Louisiana National Guard, of Monroe, which moved out here for Morehouse Parish yesterday, was in camp at Mer Rouge at daybreak this morning, and will remain there several days according to a message received from Captain Cooper commanding. Cooper said he was unprepared to give the purpose for which the troops were sent to Mer Rouge, but according to well-informed observers they were sent there as an other chapter in the celebrated kidnapping case, blame for which has been laid on the Ku Klux Klan organizations in Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi. It is believed that troops will drag the lake near Mer Rouge, in which it is believed are hidden the bodies of Major Watt Daniels and Thomas Richards, Mer Rouge citizens who have been missing since the kidnapping on August 21.

British Dispose of Number of Older Capital Vessels

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Responding to House resolution, Secretary Denby transmitted to congress today the information in the hands of the navy department on the status of warships scrapped under the terms of the Washington arms conference naval treaty, or otherwise disposed of by the signatories since the adjournment of the conference.

The report shows that neither the United States nor Japan plan to complete the scrapping of any existing capital ships, at least pending promulgation of the treaty, although both nations have stopped work on large building programs of capital ships. Great Britain, on the other hand, was shown to have disposed of or to be disposing of a very considerable number of older capital ships.

The United States, according to the report, in addition to suspending work on vessel under construction under the treaty, has decommissioned all completed ships except the battleship Connecticut, which soon will be placed out of commission, and has sold the Maine and the Missouri, which are actually being broken up.

Great Britain, Mr. Denby said, had at the time his information was gathered, broken up three capital ships; sold to be broken up, seven; sold, but not dismantled, one; completed mutilations on two, and was engaged in mutilating six others. The Australian government, he said, had decided to scrap the battleship Australia.

Through her ministry of marine, the secretary continued, Japan had stated that while work preliminary to scrapping will be done, the hulls will not be broken up or sunk until the treaty has been ratified by all of the powers. Certain preliminary work involving removal of guns, turrets, armor, and engines, he said, was being done on several capital ships, three others had been placed in the fourth reserve, and work had been suspended on six. Work on two others was proceeding with the evident intention of completing them as aircraft carriers permitted under the naval treaty.

Unsettled weather, says report. Right. It is unsettled.

ROTARY CLUB HAD GRID BOYS AS THEIR GUESTS

ENTERTAINED FOOTBALL TEAM OF SANFORD HIGH SCHOOL

The Rotary Club entertained the members of the High School football team last night at the Valdez Hotel at their regular monthly night meeting. It was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season and about twenty or more of the members of the team together with their coach, business manager and Dr. Gardner, who looked after their physical needs during the games.

President Thrasher called the meeting to order and after the invocation by Dr. Walker several songs were sung in Rotary style and the president called upon Dr. Walker for a few remarks and in his customary good humored style the genial minister gave the boys some good advice on their school life and their life after they have gone out into the world.

Dr. Puleston gave them a few talk on Rotary and what it means to have the Rotary spirit of giving more than you receive in life.

President Thrasher then introduced all the members of the football team and as each boy arose they were roundly applauded.

Prof. Cooper and Dr. Gardner were called upon and after they had made short talks they laid the whole blame for the success of the team upon Coach Wilkinson who was asked to give an account of his stewardship of the team and he made a stirring speech on the good results of having a winning team of boys at the High School both in football and basket ball and athletics of all kinds and the benefits to the city from an advertising point. Coach Wilkinson, who is also one of Sanford's able attorneys was one of the best players on the Florida University team during his college days and his good work on the team here this year has made it one of the best in the state.

Capt. Andrew S. McCredie, a resident of Maine, who is visiting in the city, was introduced to the assembly by Col. George W. Knight and after making a talk on football and athletics gave several of Harry Lander's songs and South anecdotes that were most favorably received.

Col. Knight brought to the attention of the Rotarians the sponsorship of the team of the Boy Scouts, which are actually being broken up. It, J. Holly spoke briefly on the subject of athletics in the school and promised the boys the help of the Rotarians and of the Sanford Daily Herald.

Judge E. F. Housholder gave a fine talk on the subject of football and the battle of life, likening the football field to the business world and telling the boys that the best athletes and the best football players reached the goal in life chiefly through their idea of service and not through individuality. That it takes team work to win on the gridiron and in life.

The Valdez Hotel, as usual, served an excellent collation and every one present enjoyed the evening with the boys and the guests as only Rotarians know how to enjoy an occasion of this kind and the boys of the Sanford High School football team and all those who have assisted them this year left the Valdez with the feeling that they have accomplished something and that the men of Sanford are standing behind the Sanford schools in every good movement.

GREAT RECORD FLORIDA CITIES IN BUILDING

ROAD BONDS, BUILDING, PROGRESS BEING SHOWN EVERYWHERE

The reports compiled by the Associated Press on Florida building will be a most interesting one when it is finished and all the figures are in. It will show all the building record and the good roads and the bonds and all the wonderful record of achievement being accomplished in Florida.

The first four counties reporting included one in West Florida, two in North Florida, and one in West Central Florida. They are among the oldest in the state and at no time in their history have they done in one year the amount of building recorded the last few years in Duval, Orange, Dade, Hillsborough or Pinellas, but their total of new construction in 1922 is slightly less than $1,000,000.

One of these counties constructed no new highways this year nor does it at this time contemplate any in 1923, but the other three built a total of 135 miles of roads in 1922 and plan construction of 149 miles of additional highways in 1923.

Three of the counties issued $1,376,000 worth of bonds during 1922, while the fourth sold $887,000 worth voted in 1921, a grand total of $2,263,000. Of this amount $1,510,000 was for highways.

The issuance of bonds was continuing up to the last days of the year. Bond-touting yesterday having on an issue of $221,000 for municipal improvements, with indications early last night that the issue had been raised.

Twenty-one cities and towns alone in the peninsular section of the state in 1921 spent a total of more than $22,000,000 for construction of new buildings, while conservative estimates placed the state's total at $50,000,000. The peninsula continued its building in 1922 without a let-up and building material dealers here already have estimated that the total for the state this year would be $50,000,000. Other persons who are familiar with the amount of construction under way in 1922 from Key West to Pensacola, believe this figure will be exceeded.

Preparations Started For Ski Tournament

(By The Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 20.—Work has begun on the one hundred foot steel ski slide at Glenwood Park here, on which skiers of the country will participate in the national ski tournament, to be held in Minneapolis February 10 and 11.

Co-operating with the board of park commissioners, the Municipal Ski Club of Minneapolis and the Odin Club, another local organization, have subscribed toward the erection of the slide. The tournament will be conducted under the auspices of the three bodies.

The outstanding event on the opening day will be the boy's national championship meet, in which all boys under sixteen years of age are eligible to participate. In addition, a dual meet between the University of Minnesota and University of Wisconsin will be held that day.

On the following day, Class A and B skiers from all parts of the United States and Canada will compete. "The Minneapolis tournament will be the biggest in the history of the ski sport and will take on an international aspect with entries coming from Canada," states L. J. Sverdrup, secretary of the National Ski Association.

Among the list who already have made arrangements to attend are delegations from Dartmouth College, Ironwood, Mich.; Grand Beach Club, Michigan; Denver, Colo.; Revels Stok, B. C., Canada; Winnipeg, Montreal, Toronto and Quebec, according to Secretary Sverdrup.

"There is a revival in skiing and more and more clubs are organizing now than ever before in the history of the nineteen years of the existence of the National Ski Association," Dr. Sverdrup said.

TWENTY TWO CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES OF NAVAL BASE ARRESTED AT BROOKLYN

KIWANIS CLUB WILL REMEMBER POOR XMAS DAY

COMMITTEE NOW AT WORK ON PLANS TO GIVE OUT BASKETS TO THE NEEDY

At today's noon-time luncheon of the Kiwanis Club, Rev. Father Peck, an always welcome visitor, was called upon to invoke the blessing. Dr. O. J. Miller and A. E. Henson, of the Orlando Credit Association, were the other visitors, and both were called upon for short talks. Ed Lane, who is at the head of the alleged entertainment committee pulled off another stunt. The members were asked to write their names on slips of paper and the slips were deposited in a cigar box and then President Connelly drew out three of the names and the unfortunate ones were informed that they were the speakers of the day. The names drawn were Frank Miller, H. A. Neel and A. L. Betts. They were ordered to tell what they would do if they had a million dollars, and were informed that the one who talked the longest, holding a big chunk of ice in the right hand, would be awarded a prize. A. L. Betts and the writer were suspicious of the whole thing and made their talk mighty short, but Frank Miller, who always takes a chance, chewed the rag for at least five minutes and won the prize—a pair of socks and he didn't know what to do with them when he got them.

President Connelly told of being called to Jacksonville to testify in the circuit court as to what he knew about the operations of a gang of wire tappers and confidence men who made Sanford their headquarters a few years ago. He claimed he was called there simply to testify, but his talk showed that he was very familiar with the workings of the gang who operated here. At that, he may have been called to Jacksonville just to testify.

Bob Deane, of the Christmas committee, reported that the committee was getting busy and promised to have everything in shape for Christmas day. Father Peck offered some good suggestions and promised to do all he could to help the committee in its work. On motion of Kiwanian Scoggins it was unanimously decided to send a real Christmas bouquet to Kiwanian Thigpen, who is confined to a hospital in Baltimore, the gift to be made through the Kiwanis club of that city.

"Die!" Boyd, the sweet singer of the Seminole swamps, favored the club with a little piece of a song, but was called back to finish the job, which he did to the entire satisfaction of all present.

GIVE WATER FAUCET SPECIAL TREATMENT: BEHOLD! MOONSHINE

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 20.—Sheriff Merritt and several deputies almost wrecked the interior of a negro cafe here with axes before they uncovered the most unusual bootlegging equipment yet found in the city. Concealed in a wall was a 20 gallon tank of moonshine liquor. A pipe 15 feet long ran from the tank to an ordinary faucet at the kitchen sink.

The faucet was a "trick" spigot. A person not knowing the combination would only get water from the city mains if he opened it. Those who knew the ropes could, by inserting a small key in a slot and turning it, obtain moonshine when the faucet was opened. The proprietor, John Blukley, was to be arraigned before the county judge today.

ON INDICTMENTS CHARGING THRIFT OF GOVERNMENT PROPERTY OVER ONE MILLION

Dollars Worth of Property Has Been Stolen Since The War

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Twenty-two civilian employes at the Brooklyn naval base were arrested this morning on indictments returned several months ago by Federal grand jury, charging that government property to the value of more than a million dollars had been stolen since the war. The arrests were made by agents of the department of justice.

Special investigators are said to have discovered government property being stolen from the naval base by truck loads, including great boxes of clothing, barrels of paint, and crates of glass and commercial alcohol by the gallon.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Newton D. Baker, who was secretary of war in President Wilson's cabinet, appeared before the special federal grand jury which is in session here, investigating war frauds.

TURKS FEAR OF SUBMARINES AND AIRPLANES

THAT WILL PUT CONSTANTINOPLE IN DANGER

(By The Associated Press)
LAUSANNE, Dec. 20.—Turkish fears of submarines, Turkish fears of swiftly flying aeroplanes, laden with bombs, and, generally, Turkish fears of aggressions from without that will put Constantinople in danger have placed the whole Lausanne conference in jeopardy.

The United States is silent on the situation, but the allied leaders say that they have uttered their last word on the question of the liberty of the straits. Today the Turks must say yes or no to the allied project.

The British experts have already left for England, believing their work completed, and the French experts are preparing to depart tonight at the conclusion of the "last session" for discussion of the straits. Whether a rupture will come on the straits problem depends chiefly on whether the Entente diplomats and their experts can remove the Turkish fears. This they were trying to do last night.

The allies have emphasized that they cannot accept the Turkish request for the suppression of submarines and military airplanes, especially they have been unable to accept the Ottoman suggestion that combined foreign fleets entering the Black Sea shall not exceed in strength the fleet of the strongest naval power of the Black Sea. "That would make the Black Sea forbidden ground," said a French expert.

As the Russians are here only for discussion of the strait question, today may see the last of them at Lausanne.

It was pointed out last night that failure of the Straits negotiations would not necessarily imply failure on other vital matters of the Lausanne agenda, one of which is arranging the peace between Greece and Turkey, and between Turkey and the Allies.

Marquis Curzon yesterday informed H. Barrere, of the French delegation, that the British government had abandoned the idea of having the Lausanne treaty written in English and French languages. He agreed that the French alone should be used.

METHODISTS MAKE GAINS DURING YEAR

At the closing session of the Methodist conference Monday morning, a mass of business, including receiving of reports, and various routine matters, was disposed of in expeditious manner. Debate which has been comparatively free during the preceding days, was held down to the minimum.

Facts relative to the condition of Methodism in the conference, as revealed in the statistical report, followed in part: Members, 48,031; adults baptized, 1,855; infants baptized, 1,138; Epworth League chapters, 266; league members, 9,157; Sunday Schools, 385; officers and teachers of schools, 4,131; scholars 17,515; women's missionary societies, 191; members, 6,725; Educational institutions, 1, with 22 teachers, 200 students, $377,626 property and $201,000 endowment; orphanages, one, with five officers or teachers, 93 children, property valued at $65,000; contributions, $8,844 for foreign missions, $22,716 for home and conference missions, $5,265 for church extension, $15,210 education, $747 for American Bible society, $498 for general conference expenses, $1,003 for support of bishops, $34,899 for support of presiding elders, $248,427 for support of preachers.

The grand total which goes into the record, will show $1,172,737 raised for all purposes during the year, which is compared with $1,029,000 raised last year.

The denomination has 472 church buildings valued at $2,854,550, and there is against these churches a debt total of $228,532. There are owned in the conference eight parsonages for presiding elders, valued at $57,500 and 164 parsonages for preachers valued at $719,890, against which there is a debt total of $75,210.

Insurance carried by the church on its various properties, totals $832,585.

There are now 11 supernuminate homes in the conference, valued at $15,760. When Dr. B. K. Throver, one of the older members of the conference, took up the matter of establishing supernuminate homes, some years ago, there was not a single supernuminate home in the conference.—Tampa Times.

SARAH BERNHARDT HAS FAINTING SPELL

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 19.—Sarah Bernhardt had a fainting attack at the close of the last rehearsal yesterday afternoon at Sacha Guitry's new play Un objet de Roman, which was to have been produced last night with Bernhardt in one of the principal parts. By reason of her indisposition, the production was postponed.

The physician who attended Madame Bernhardt said last night her indisposition was in no way serious. Indeed, after resting for a time, she expressed a determination to go back to the theatre and produce the piece as planned, and was only dissuaded with difficulty.

NEED LARGER POSTOFFICE

Those hide-bound congressmen in the northern states who are afraid to give the south anything in the way of appropriations and are always talking about the "pork barrel" in the south while they fill the same receptacle with choice meat for themselves—those birds should come to Sanford and see the magnificent building they built here thinking it would last for one hundred years and fill our needs. Our own congressmen who obtained the concession—Frank Clark and Joe Sears—tried to get more money at the time for all the postoffices in their districts but the northern watch dogs of the treasury cannot see any growth or progress in Florida. They have not been down here and they have no knowledge of this state or of the needs of the fastest growing state in the union. What sufficed ten years ago for any growing Florida city would not begin to take care of the needs of the present day and this holds good of the postoffice buildings more than any other one need. At this time of the year especially, the small force of employees is handicapped by their crowded quarters, by one window for stamps and one window for packages and by the small corridor where the white and black are crowded together and standing out in the street in a manner to make the blood boil and there people are forced to wait for hours. It is not the fault of the postmaster nor any of his employees. It is simply the fault of the penny wise and pound foolish government that tries to save a cent by using up a five cent lead pencil figuring with the idea of saving something by building postoffices for one day instead of building them for twenty years to come. And then the same pichumish policy holds true of the amount of men or women allowed for each post office. They are always shy of help, always shy of room, always shy of what it takes to operate postoffices of the state with the degree of efficiency that government machinery should have but which is sadly lacking. Sanford needs a larger building. Do we get it?

AT THE POST OFFICE

At the post office these days is a fine place to show the Christmas spirit. In every city people are lined up in front of the window waiting their turn to send a Christmas package. In some of the more populous cities the crowd is great and pressing from early mornning until late at night. All are anxious to get up to the window. To keep sweet and pleasant under the long strain of the waiting is not always easy. But the Christmas spirit should enable us all to smile, and if we refrain from jostling and trying to edge in ahead of our turn our waiting will not be attended with unpleasant memories or experiences. In this great southland people are sending thousands of boxes and packages to the friends at home in the far north; and the snow covered trains that pull out of the stations of the northland are heavily laden with the Christmas cheer to the friends in the Sunny South. In this interchange of gifts the postoffices and the train crews are put on a heavy strain. But they accept the responsibilities of the season good naturedly, and it would seem that the least we can do is to be cheerful and patient in our effort to get service at this crowded season. Let's remember that goal motto and keep smiling.—Reporter-Star.

WATER POWER; CHEAP ELECTRIC CURRENT

Is Florida depriving itself, its people to be more specific, of light and power, provided by electricity generated by water power, the most economical means by which electric current may be produced? Without any question, Florida has water power. Most of it is going to waste, so far as its use for producing light, heat and power is concerned. Illustrations of just what is intended to be conveyed to thinking minds, of a practical turn, is probably best to be illustrated by quoting from a news dispatch recently sent out from Bushnell, in Sumter county, a portion of which reads as follows: Several years ago, Bushnell contracted for electric current from the great hydro-electric plant of Mr. Camp near Dunnellon, on the Withlacoochee river, some forty-odd miles away. The demonstration is so satisfactory that recently Center Hill and Webster tied on to the service, the rate being only four cents per kilowatt, as against twelve or fifteen cents charged by steam plants everywhere, except at Jacksonville. Shortly the Camp line will conduct current to Wildwood, Oxford, Coleman, Sumterville, thence via Bushnell, Webster and Center Hill eastward, with Orlando as a probable terminus, a hundred miles or more from Dunnellon. The scheme is of extraordinary moment, enabling communities served by this cheapest of all known sources of power, to dispose absolutely with privately conducted plants for every purpose for which electricity is now used. Here is something for practical thought and even more practical in-

HERALD COLLECTIONS

The Herald carriers manage and control their routes, pay in advance for all papers drawn, and absolutely depend upon their collections for their running capital and profits. When subscribers neglect to pay them it is the CARRIER and not THE Herald that stands the "brunt." Subscribers who do not care to pay the carrier each week may pay the Herald two or more months in advance and they will pay the carrier each week from this fund. This system of delivery is known as the INDEPENDENT CARRIER PLAN and is used by most of the larger newspapers of the country and has proven beyond doubt to be the very best plan of delivery. When a boy manages his own route, buys and sells at a profit he is in business for himself in exactly the same sense as any merchant. He knows he must give service to be successful and build up his business. He knows that every new customer he secures means more profit. In short, he knows he must conduct his business in a capable and efficient manner to be successful. The Herald earnestly requests its subscribers not to discourage these boys in this, their first business venture, by refusing to pay promptly each week for their newspaper.

Investigation and effort. Only recently a New England scientist has declared that he is able to provide all the light and heat required in the city of Boston, at a cost to the users, the same as would be the price if coal were selling at $2.50 to $3 per ton. As everyone knows, with regret, coal is selling for very, very much more and wood, for fuel purposes, at prices comparatively very little less than those demanded for coal. Sumter county citizens are not scientists but they are proving to themselves that by utilizing heretofore wasted water power they can provide themselves with much needed and most serviceable heat, light and power at a cost almost negligible. There is reason to believe that other Florida communities, cities, towns or rural sections, might do what is being done practically and cheaply in Sumter county. It is a matter at least worthy of serious investigation and study.—Times Union.

COOPERATION VS. COMPETITION

There has been evolution as well as revolution in business in the last few years. Business is becoming more human, and the successful business man does not permit his ambitions to transcend his sense of the proprieties. He is becoming imbued with the spirit of cooperation instead of competition. Business seems rather to have accepted as an unalterable policy the prescription of one of the two leading business men's organizations that "business standards shall have in them a note of sympathy, for our common humanity," and that "my business dealings, ambitions and relations shall always cause me to take into consideration my duties as a member of society." Last Sunday we have the example of a local business firm devoting its entire space, a considerable amount, in The News, to this spirit of cooperation rather than competition. It mentioned by name other businesses of the same line, commending their high character, their ambition to serve fairly and honestly, and appealed for a closer spirit of co-operation between the public and the business houses which serves them. The example of the Browning-Fearnside company is sure to have its effect. It has already excited most favorable comment and is worthy of that commendation it has excited.—Palatka News.

DON'T WORRY—DON'T COMPLAIN—IT'S CHRISTMAS

Don't worry and don't complain about waiting at the postoffice windows or in the stores. You cannot expect to get the same prompt service at this time of the year that you get in the summer time. It is all on account of Christmas and the Herald warned you to shop early and to get your packages off early and do other stunts that would relieve the load the last days before Christmas. The clerks are as busy as they can be, the postoffice employees are as busy as they can be, everybody everywhere is as busy as they can be and we should all take our medicine—we are all in the same boat. It only comes once each year. If it came twice a year we would be dead. Take everything as it comes and remember that it is Christmas time and while we have more worries and we have less money than usual it is all in a life time. Don't worry. Smile the while. Help the tired employees to smile and even you have to wait do it gracefully.

FLORIDA CITIES AND TOWNS ARE GIVING ATTENTION TO ATTRACTIVENESS

Florida cities and towns are paying a great deal of attention to attractiveness now. There are two reasons for this. One is that Florida is peopled by an unusually progressive class of folk, and improved living conditions, both personal and civic, are receiving increased attention from all progressive citizens. The

SANFORD STORE NEWS

We believe the people are following our advice about shopping early. Certainly the stores have been doing a fine business and the streets are crowded every day. We understand the Sanford stores will remain open at night for a short time on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights as well as Saturday night. While many people have visited the neighboring cities as usual to shop and look at the Christmas things, we believe that there has been less trading away from home this year than ever before. All of our merchants report a fine Christmas trade. One of the best ideas ever originated is the Christmas Savings accounts. Last Saturday many thousands of dollars were paid to depositors by the Sanford banks and this ready cash was put into circulation not only making it easy for the people to have Christmas money but making it fine for the merchants who enjoyed a much better trade thereby.

The Herald wishes to congratulate the Sanford merchants upon their pretty stores, and especially upon their window displays. They are always good but we believe they are better this year than ever before. With the fine stocks of goods attractively displayed the Sanford stores all show the Christmas spirit and it is having its effect upon the buying. Coupled with a good line of advertising it means a much better business and is like casting their bread upon the waters—it is returning to them in many ways.

Klan Will Never Unmask Declares Imperial Wizard

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Emphasizing that he had not sought the conversation he had yesterday with Gov. Allen of Kansas, Dr. H. W. Evans, of Dallas, Tex., imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, said today he had "listened to Mr. Allen two or three minutes in which he said he was in hearty sympathy with the Klan principles but registered some objection to the Klan regalia." The Klan mask will never be taken off, he asserted, saying it was part of the organization's lodge regalia and would never be abolished.

I came to Washington on important business," said Dr. Evans, "and had no intention of wasting an time with Mr. Allen—it makes little or no difference what Governor Allen says, and what he does means even less." The new imperial wizard of the Invisible empire held confab with Klan officials in his hotel here today, but no hint of what was considered was disclosed. He was accompanied to Washington by a group of high officials of the order. "The spirit of Klan-Kraft," he said, "has enraptured the United States in a mantle of love for country which designing and ambitious politicians cannot break and in a few years the influence of the Klan will have engulfed the thought of the country that we can expect intelligent legislation from the congress of the United States which will drag down the white flag of supine inaction from our legislative halls and raise in its place the militant flag of red, white and blue, which means the thing nearest to the heart of every real American." "It takes a few men like Mr. Allen to prove the justice of Klunkraft. We are profoundly grateful to Mr. Allen for the sacrifice he has made in relegating himself to political oblivion in the stand he has taken to oppose those men of America who have pledged their votes, their money, their sacred honor, and their lives, if necessary, to maintain our national honor unimpaired, unstained, untainted, and unullied by the foul breath of alien influence."

Would Prohibit Issuance of Tax Exempt Security

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—After a sharp preliminary skirmish, the house took up yesterday a resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution under which issuance of tax exempt securities by the federal government and state would be prohibited.

Backed by the endorsement of President Harding and the Treasury, the proposal was the center of a hard fight, in which many Republicans opposed. Passage of the measure, offered by Representative Green, Iowa, ranking Republican of the Ways and Means committee, which reported it, will require a two-thirds vote of the house. Opponents last night claimed it would be defeated although leaders who caused it to be brought up insisted it would go through. Four hours of general debate, allotted under a special rule giving the measure right of way, had not been concluded on adjournment last night. Republicans speaking against the resolution were representatives Graham, Pennsylvania, ranking Republican on the Judiciary committee; Bacharach, New Jersey, a member of the Ways and Means committee; Crago, Pennsylvania; Cable, Ohio; and Norton, Ohio; Representative Crisp, Georgia, Democratic member of the ways and means committee, spoke for it, and the several speeches otherwise were along party lines. Chairman Fordney, of the Ways and Means committee, Mr. Green and Representative Mills, Republican, New York, also of the committee, urged passage of the measure, while Representative Garner, Texas, ranking Democratic member of the ways and means committee, directed the fight against the passage and made the principal speech. Throughout the debate the question continually bobbed up that the proposal would invade the right of the states to control their own credit.

Petrous Flavoring Seems to Be Right Material for Building

D. G. Ziegler, the Patentee, is Now Residing in Sanford

The enterprising citizen, Mr. John Meisch, knows a good thing when he sees it. He was shown samples of the Petrous Flooring that is now manufactured in Chuluota, Fla., and he at once arranged to have Mr. D. G. Ziegler to finish up his big new office building, with this flooring. Mr. Ziegler is now pushing the work with a force of men. These floors look to be very hard, but are not. They are said to wear indefinitely, and when walking on them one will feel that he is walking on a rubber floor. This composition on which Mr. Ziegler has patents, is wonderful. Nails can be driven into it like wood, it takes a high polish like hard woods, it is composed of minerals that will not burn or rot, and will not permit dampness to penetrate it.

Some weeks past the architect, Mr. Moughten, wanted some one to get the water out of the basement of the primary school building, and was told that Mr. Ziegler could do it. He sent for him and Mr. Ziegler made an inspection of the basement, and told the architect he could get the same dry, and if he failed he would charge nothing for the job. The job has been finished and he has been paid. The architect and trustees must be convinced that the Petrous composition is what Mr. Ziegler claims it to be.

Mr. Ziegler came here last January and with the assistance of Mr. C. D. Hrumley he organized the Petrous Mfg. Co. and began the erection of a factory at Chuluota, which has been partly in operation for some time, and for a while some of the stockholders felt that it could not be made a profitable business. However, Mr. Ziegler did not flinch in the least, and now he has removed all of this feeling, and while this factory was built on the east coast to serve the trade on that line of the railroad, and it is found that the rates to this point and on the west coast are rather high, the company has decided it will soon begin the erection of another factory in or near Sanford, so as to serve the trade on this side of the state to the best advantage, and the present stockholders with other business men from Jacksonville will soon make this one of the biggest manufacturing industries of the south. There is at present being installed in the factory at Chuluota, new machinery and more power and that factory will be kept in operation in order to serve the trade in the lines of that road.

Florida has always been in need of a fire proof and rot proof and water proof building material, that can be manufactured at a normal price, and Mr. Ziegler has no doubt accomplished these results.

SAYS BANKS CAN AID IN PROMOTING READING GOOD BOOKS

(By The Associated Press) MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 20.—The part that banks can play in bringing to the attention of their customers the desirability, pleasure and profit to be gained by reading good books, is shown in an article by J. H. Puelicher, president of the American Bankers Association appearing in the bulletin of the American Library Association.

"A list of books on national and international affairs could be placed in the pass book of every business man," said Mr. Puelicher. "A list of books concern modern accountancy, business law and practice could be given out with the accountant's pass book, while a list on composition and letter writing might be handed the stenographer. At the savings window, lists of books on literature could be distributed and lists of miscellaneous books might be enclosed with the monthly statement.

"The intelligence test during the war showed much illiteracy. It aroused many to serious thought. It made many feel that they had not properly supported the public school systems. It showed that the illiterates of America were largely economic. "The fact that the banker and the teacher had often cooperated, the teacher in speaking before the bankers conventions, the banker in serving on school boards, brought forth the idea—maybe the banker could further aid the teacher. "The committee on public education of the American Bankers association had ten lectures prepared to be delivered before seventh and eighth grade pupils and college and university students, believing that it was unnatural for the banker to be pressed into service where knowledge of elementary economics was concerned. "Now if the bank can go further and help the libraries to encourage the reading of good books, it will be but extending its service toward overcoming our economic ill."

SKYSCRAPER BUILT ON STILTS

New York Architects Are Putting Up Big Structure With Seemingly Slender Supports.

A great, complicated skyscraper is being built in New York under unusual conditions, directly above the railroad tracks of a busy terminal. The tracks running beneath the walls in some places are double-decked, so that trains pass on two levels through the basement of the building. The entire structure rests upon slender stilts, extending between the tracks down to bedrock. A unique method has been found for isolating these uprights so that the constant rumbling of heavy trains on both levels causes not the slightest vibration in the building above. This construction, including the digging for the foundation and the erection of the building, is being carried on without affecting the movement of trains beneath. The entire weight of the skyscraper rests upon the supports rising between the tracks, which are spaced in the usual way. Although capable of supporting 20 or more stories, these stilts seem surprisingly slender. Both track levels beneath the building are remarkably free from obstructions, so that engineers have a clear view of other tracks to either side.

It was at first believed that only structures of six or eight stories could be safely supported on such foundations. A series of tests, including the measurements of vibration caused by the passing of trains, proved that buildings could safely be raised to 20 stories on these supports. Excavations for foundations have been carried down until the beams rest upon solid rock. The whole operation has been carried on without upsetting train schedules. Each column supporting the building is completely isolated. It is not enough to keep it from touching the foundations on which the trucks lie. It also must be protected by vibration mats from the rock on which it rests, so that vibrations from passing trains will not affect it.

ONE THAT HE DIDN'T SHOW

Autograph Faker Probably Carefully Put Away That Particular Copy of Marlowe's Works.

Senator Lodge at a Boston dinner party said, apropos of an autograph collector who had bought a fake autograph of Marlowe, the Elizabethan dramatist:

"That reminds me. There was once a New York man who collected books with autograph dedications. Most of these dedications were to himself. Open his Longfellow, his Kiplings, his Bernard Shaw, or his Maupassants, and there would be his name in a flattening autograph deduction from Rudy or Guy, from Henry or George."

"Now, this man's friends had noticed, or thought they had noticed, a certain similarity about the handwriting of all these dedications. Probably they were wrong, but anyhow, after he had shown a fine folio volume of Marlowe to a festive gathering one evening, he found inscribed in the opening book the next morning the following words:

"To Bill"—his name was William—"From his faithful old friend and schoolmate, Kit Marlowe."

A mouse had the bad luck to fall into a can of beer while on a food hunt.

Presently a gray old cat came prowling along and pricked up its ears at the sight of mousey's struggles.

"Sithe, Tom," gasped the victim of misfortune, "if thall get me out of this ale can th' can all me!" To which bargain the cat agreed, and speedily effected a rescue. But as soon as he felt himself on firm ground the mouse made a bolt for it and disappeared down a hole.

The cat went to the mouth of the hole and remarked angrily:

"That's nout reet; th' said if Ah got th' ale, I could all th'."

To which the mouse, keeping well out of danger, replied:

"Ay, Tom, Ah did; but th' know folk'll say owt when they're in drink!" —London Tit-Bits.

New York's City Directory.

R. L. Folk & Co., publishers of the city directory, announced the other day the preparation of a new edition to link the New York city of 8,000,000 persons to the New York city of the day when Alexander Hamilton lived at 67 Wall street and grew flowers in the back yard, says the New York Times. The new edition is to be commemorated in 1923 of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of the city and "passing into first rank" of present day New York city.

This city now outranks London in point of population, the directory publishers said, because of the Port of New York district, created through a treaty between New York and New Jersey.

Turn From Business to Army. Some idea of the wide differences in business connections of those applying for commissions as second lieutenants in the regular army is shown by the fact that 13, newspapers, 11 engineers, 5 each of newspaper men, chemists, accountants and managers; 4 each of civil service employees and machinists, 8 teachers, 2 each of auditors, examiners and students applied. There is also 1 application on file by a news photographer, bookkeeper, translator, secretary, conductor, automobile mechanic, buyer and a wrestling instructor.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

To our friends, both far and near,
We extend our greetings, true and sincere;
May in your hearts joy-bells ring,
And the New Year bring you every good thing.

All the little boys and girls in Sanford are requested to come to The Sanford Grocerteria
Saturday morning and get a balloon.

Sanford Grocerteria.

(Opposite Fire Station)

CELERY SEED

Over twenty-five football players intiated into the Rotary club last night.

This meeting brought out the fact that prospects for next year are even better than the season past.

And that should satisfy even the most hardest to please.

Jim Stone will be captain of the 1923 squad. A very, very good selection, we would say. And a good selection in picking Bill Moye for the basketball team.

Coach Wilkinson is somewhat of a speech artist along with his coaching ability. Should have heard him last night. We see now how he keeps the boys in line.

Another thing brought out last night was the importance of the new ball park. Sanford should never rest content until this field is completed.
We need it, must have it, and thanks to the Chamber of Commerce, we will get it.

If a baseball park and athletic field never does anything for Sanford more than give the local boys a chance to come into their own in an athletic way it will be just that much and that's a lot. The bringing of outside players and the majors here to train is but second consideration along side of the good our boys will get out of it.

The Sanford High School basketball team will go to Daytona Friday night for their second game of the season. Reports from the coast say that Sanford will find a difference between the football and basketball teams of that town. We'll see.

day on the first lap of their 3,000 mile they will meet the University of Year's day in the inter-sectional game of the Carnival of Roses. The players are due in Pasadena Sunday.

Bids High for "Lost Ball" Privileges

(By The Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 20.—Retrieving lost golf balls on the municipal links has been so lucrative to Matt
C. Malley, that he bid $850 for the 1923 privileges. This was made known yesterday afternoon by the board of public service, in announcing Malley's bid had been accepted.

Mr. Malley employs boys to search for the balls. If found immediately they are returned to the owner. Many balls, however, are not found until the owners leave the links, and Mr. Malley pays the boys five cents a piece for these, re-paints them and sells them for from 10 to 40 cents, it was explained.

After the holidays and some time in January we intend to put on a big gala occasion here of some kind. Sanford has not enjoyed a big time all this season and we need to play a little and bring the people in here, to help us enjoy it.

Mr. T. L. Bell, writing us from Bir-

"I have suffered for five years from terrible itching that I have been in horrible condition. My kidneys had become affected and I became in a run-

"At last I was attracted to FERRAter using less than one bottle I was noticeably relieved, and now since tak-

"I am glad to recommend FERRA-

GRAPE VINES PRODUCED PERIODICALLY

(By The Associated Press) BUFFALO, Dec. 20.—Vineyards of the United States produced a bumper crop of grapes in 1922. Total carload shipments from all sections up to and including November 17th were 51,254 cars, an increase compared with 1921 of 14,053 cars, or about 36 1/2 per cent, according to a summary issued by the State Department of Farms and Markets.

In the fifty-one thousand odd cars were a total of 1,025,030,000 pounds of grapes, which would be sufficient to supply approximately ten pounds of grapes to every individual in the United States. They were worth, at an average price of $70 a ton, $35,850,000.

Two causes contributed to make the season a profitable one for eastern grape-growers. A car shortage in the west cut California's normal shipment about 35 per cent, and there was an increased demand for private consumption and grape juice manufacturing in the East. It also was a year of unprecedented yields in eastern vineyards.

New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan, the three principal grape states, made enormous gains in carlot shipments, and there also was a heavy movement by truck because of the prevailing car shortage in the east as well as in the west. Michigan figures show a gain in shipments of 371 per cent; Pennsylvania, 288 per cent, and New York 201 per cent. The crop of these three states alone brought approximately $10,000,000. Truck shipments in the three states, which are not included in the department's figures, are estimated at 20,000 tons, worth another million and a half dollars.

Statistics on destinations of the Michigan-New York-Pennsylvania crop show that Pittsburgh took the largest number of cars for the season with a total of 1,726. Philadelphia was second with 1,476 cars. Other large distributing points for the crop were: Chicago, 1,141 cars, Boston, 1,032 cars; Cleveland, 888 cars, and New York City, 582 cars. The city farthest from the productive centers to market grapes in volume was St. Louis, with 157 cars of Michigan fruit, five from Pennsylvania, and 25 cars from New York state. Milwaukee took 186 cars from Michigan, 12 from Pennsylvania and 21 from New York.

The price paid by grape juice factories this year averaged $65 a ton, compared with $130 in 1920 and $96 in 1919. No grapes were pressed in 1921 because of the high tax and the poor condition of the crop, due to early frosts. The lowest price on record at grape juice factories was in 1917 when $10 a ton was the average.

Will Hays Visits Wallie Reid; Says He Will Get Well

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—Will H. Hays, head of the motion picture industry, late yesterday visited Wallace Reid, film actor, at the Hollywood Sanitarium, where he is suffering a nervous breakdown, and expressed the hope that Reid would soon recover from his illness.

Hays met Mrs. Reid at the sanitarium and accompanied her to the bedside of her husband. He shook hands with Reid, said he hoped he was getting along well and would soon be himself again, and added that he had come to wish him a merry Christmas before returning to the east.

Reid thanked Mr. Hays and said he appreciated very deeply the friendly spirit back of the visit.

After the interview, which lasted but a minute or two, Mr. Hays remarked that the patient looked much better than reports had led him to expect. Reid spoke clearly, he said; his eyes appeared normal, and in every way seemed to be in an encouraging mental and physical condition.

Mr. Hays added that his visit had been impelled by a general interest in any one connected with the film industry as well as his personal friendship and sympathy for Reid, whom he has met several times in the course of his association with the motion picture people.

STYLES FOR AQUATIC ACTIVITIES

The distinctive styles of land clothes pervade the realm of the wave, thus we see to the left, a surf costume in dark blue taffeta trimmed with fancy band into which are woven the bright pastel colors so much in vogue. The kimono over-dress has a round neck and is belted with the band. The interesting little cape matches the suit. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yards. Beach taffeta and 5 yards of band.

Flannel of fanciful figure trimmed with black surf satin, is featured in the second model. The round neck is bound with bias folds of the satin, as are also the sleeveless armholes. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards 44-inch flannel and 1 yard of satin.
