The toll of lives and filling of homes with victims today were seeking to be left in the path of the storm and villages destroyed. The tornado struck Wrights, a small town, and killed three persons, and wrecked the Centerville school building—killing the teacher, Mrs. Keller, and injuring several others. It also struck a heroic death, killing a man and his wife, and a child. The Buffalo Hart, also destroyed, where two persons were killed. The Illinois State Fair, at Springfield, was also damaged. Mary Lewis Off For Europe On Honey Moon

NEW YORK, Apr. 20.—(INS)—Mary Lewis, Metropolitan opera singer from Little Rock, Ark., was on her way to Europe today with her newly acquired husband, Michael Bohannan, leaving a string of broken hearts behind her. She had intended to remain in this country to fill her concert engagements, despite the fact that she was married only last night, and went to the pier last night to see Bohannan off. But the thought of parting was too much for her, and Mrs. Bohannan made a dash for her apartment, where she pathered together a few clothes and her passport, returning just in time to board the ship.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Apr. 20.—(INS)—The House of Representatives took a 20 minute recess today to afford legislators access to a fire in Tallahassee's business district. The fire was little more than a smolder, but the fire siren was too fascinating to be permitted to go unheeded.

Mystery Surrounding Death Of War Veteran Unsolved By Capital Police

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(INS)—Doubt was expressed today that the mystery surrounding the death of Capt. Frederick Kopper, Jr., wealthy war veteran and steel man, ever will be cleared up. Kopper disappeared here on April 5 and his body was taken from the Potomac River near Great Falls late yesterday. An autopsy failed to establish conclusively that he was drowned, yet no evidence of injury could be found on his body. A compromise verdict was finally reached "death by drowning, accidental" with a question mark placed after the last word. Police and friends have established that Kopper left his place

LEVEE BREAKS AS 3,000 FLEE TO SAVE LIVES

Clarendon, Arkansas Covered With Water Eight Feet Deep Following Crash In White River Dyke Today

3,000,000 Acres In
The Flooded Section

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Apr. 20.—(INS)—Clarendon, Ark., today was covered with eight feet of water following a break in White River levee early this morning. The town of 3,000 population fled their homes and took refuge on the courthouse hill, which is considerably higher than the rest of the city. Merchants in Clarendon had evacuated yesterday when warnings were issued that the levee might break at any time, but the waters rose so rapidly that they very soon covered the elevated stocks. For more than two hours after the break, the water rushed through the crevasse at about 40 miles an hour, washing away outbuildings and burning and tossing pieces of furniture about like corks.

Red Cross And Other Organizations Rush Supplies
To Sufferers In 3 States

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Apr. 20.—(INS)—Appeals for aid today emphasized the seriousness of the Mississippi River flood—the greatest in the history—which has engulfed nearly 3,000,000 acres of arable lands and rendered 25,000 homeless. The Red Cross and other relief organizations declared that the homeless flood sufferers, crowded in refugee camps in a dozen states and cities in Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee, are badly in need of food and clothing. Meanwhile the raging Mississippi continues on its path of destruction aided by its tributaries. The main Mississippi levee at New Madrid, Mo., littered with breaks over a 10 mile area, was letting the waters rush into the rich Mississippi River basin, slowly engulfing a territory 30 miles long and inundating probably 75 towns and villages. Hundreds living in the Saint Francis basin fled to higher ground during the night, many dragging household furnishings and personal belongings. Secure for the moment in temporary camps, flood sufferers could do nothing but sit down and wait for the Mississippi to reach its crest and then slowly recede. The crest is expected Saturday, the weather bureau here said today. Rains however, were still falling in parts of Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas, adding to the discomfort of the refugees. Frisco trucks at Littleton, Mo., will soon be inundated, and the crossing train service has hampered shipment of supplies to refugee camps. Even the Southern League baseball schedule will have to undergo a revision, owing to the flood, because travel into Arkansas is so uncertain.

Seminole And Brevard Will Be In New Judicial Circuit; Wright, Smith Appointed

A bill creating the twenty-third judicial circuit, composed of Seminole and Brevard counties, was signed this morning by Governor John W. Martin, following which he immediately appointed Judge Wallace W. Wright of Sanford and Millard B. Smith of Titusville, judge and state attorney, respectively, of the new circuit. Following the placing of the governor's signature on the bill, both Judge Wright and Mr. Smith resigned their offices in the Seventh Circuit and their new appointments were made immediately. The bill was signed at 11:00 o'clock. This afternoon the Senate went into executive session and the appointments were confirmed by that body after brief deliberation, according to word received late today by the firm of DeCotte, Spencer and Dighton.

This measure has been under consideration for a number of years and was said to have been necessary through the great volume of business on the dockets of the three counties in one circuit. This volume was considered too heavy for one circuit. Judge Wright moved to Sanford from Quincy when he was appointed to the bench following the resignation of J. J. Dickinson in 1925. His tenure of office has been a popular one with both members of the bar and citizens generally throughout the circuit. Mr. Smith's home is in Brevard county and he is one of the youngest state attorneys in the state. His record in office is said to have been one of the best ever made in the circuit. Judge Wright's appointment is for six years and Mr. Smith's for four.

MUSSOLINI MAY BECOME ITALY'S YACHT CLUB PRESIDENT

Reports Current That King Will Create New Office On Thursday On Anniversary Of Founding Of Rome

LONDON, Apr. 20.—(INS)—Reports of the possibility of a proclamation creating a new office of Yacht Club president tomorrow on the anniversary of the founding of Rome, were current here today. The reports, which are as yet unconfirmed, state that the chancellorship would be based upon the German Bismarckian pattern and the chancellor would be responsible to the king and not to the parliament. The cabinet at the same time would be responsible to the chancellor and might be dismissed by him at will. One report is that the proclamation will also create "the empire of Italy." Such a change would not entail a great change in the present form of government, since, under the present laws, a two-thirds majority of the chamber and the possibility of the fall of the government through the parliamentary crisis is excluded. Another report is that a proclamation may be issued granting amnesty to many of the adversaries of Fascism who are either imprisoned or under police surveillance.

The reports state that if chancellorship is created Premier Mussolini will relinquish his present portfolios as minister of war, navy, air, home office and foreign office. It is reported that Signor Ciano would become minister of defense, combining the department of war, navy and air. Signor Fedorzi is mentioned as foreign minister.

Kiwanis Club Asked To Back Boy League

"Pop" Lamkin, physical director of the Y. M. C. A., today appealed before the Kiwanis Club and asked the organization to support a baseball league for Sanford boys between the ages of 12 and 15 years. Mr. Lamkin cited the example set by the Lions Club in sponsoring the organization of a Junior League and suggested several plans which he stated might prove successful in an older boy league. The matter was taken under advisement and a committee appointed to discuss the proposal and to make a report at the next session of the club.

One hundred and twenty-five persons made the trip to the Richmond-Washington highway at Fredericksburg on May 28. The invitation was presented by Senator Swanson. The President took it under advisement.

Henry Ford's Collection Of Americana To Be Put In Big Museum At Detroit

DETROIT, April 19.—(INS)—Most Henry Ford, the collector! America's first billionaire, known throughout the world as the silver king, is gathering the greatest collection of Americana in all history.

Ford plans to construct a huge museum near his Dearborn estate to house the collection, so that it may present a permanent record of the social, agricultural, industrial and transportation development of the United States. It will be known as the Ford Museum and will be quite unlike anything else in the world.

One great corner of the Dearborn plant here has been used by Ford as temporary home for his collection. A visitor is staggered by the bewildering variety of articles, gathered from every section of the country. Nothing quite like it has ever been seen beneath a single roof.

The collection varies from the late Tom Thumb's thirty inch case to an old fashioned sawmill, which was taken apart log by log, hoisted by board, brought into the Ford factory and kept to be reassembled in the museum.

Collection Varies
A visual history of the automobile industry probably is favored by Ford himself over all the other antiques. The first Ford is there as are many of its brothers and sisters. And all these strange-looking and mirth-provoking automobiles in excellent running condition, Ford has seen to that.

The collection of wagons fires the imagination. There is an oxcart with its wheels, harnessed out of solid oak, its floor and sides held together with wooden pegs. It still operates, although its age is estimated at close to 200 years. There are carriages, bronches, early prairie schooners, of a dozen types and a half dozen huge stage coaches for which the movies would pay a fortune.

Another section of the collection is devoted to farm implements. There are ploughs in a hundred forms. Several of the grain threshers are as large as locomotives. There are butter churners, their handles worn smooth by human grips.

The Furniture section would make an antique collector "stark mad with envy. There are high boys, tremendous old four-posters, chairs that must have come over in the Mayflower, tables, bureaus, until one gets tired looking at them. The same thing can be said for the collection of table utensils, china-ware, and whatever it was our fore-fathers used in eating, their meals. There are even bath-tubs and one, black with age and shaped like a huge shoe, is said to be the one in which Charlotte Corday murdered Baignoire de Marat.

There are fifty sleighs of different designs, each to a different period of our history. There are music boxes, which still grind out tunes favored in Civil War days. There are collections of shoes, bottles, pictures, school books, sleigh bells, hats, bicycles, Indian relics, and lamps. The history of illumination may well be told by the latter, for it includes lamps carried by Roman soldiers in the days of the Vestal Virgins down to the first incandescent globes made by Thomas Edison.

Some day, Ford will place all these whispers of the past under a single roof and the museum may well take its place beside Niagara Falls as a memento for Americans.

Russian Musicians Planning To Honor Beethoven Memory

MOSCOW, April, 19.—(INS)—Under the general leadership commission headed by the Commissar for Education, Lunacharsky, the Russian musical world is preparing for an elaborate celebration of the Beethoven's centenary.

The central feature of the anniversary will be a public meeting, devoted to Beethoven's memory, in the State Opera House; and a series of free Beethoven concerts of symphonic and chamber music will also be presided by a play, "The Moonlight Sonata" which has been written especially for the occasion and depicts the loneliness and personal tragedy of Beethoven's life.

Russia will send a delegation of six persons, including the distinguished composer, Alexander Glazunov and Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov, to attend the musical-historical congress which opens in Vienna on March 25 in connection with the Beethoven centenary. One of the younger Russian pianists, Elinson, has already played Beethoven's thirty-two sonatas in a series of five piano recitals.

With many rain forecasts in Arkansas and Oklahoma today, the crest of the flood may be delayed until next Saturday, the water rising steadily in the meantime, and engulfing more territory.

PARIS, April 19.—(INS)—Will the tourist tide flow Europeward this year as profitably as it did in 1926? This question is anxiously being asked in Paris by all those commercially interested in the periodic invasions of American travelers.

Steamship companies and travel agents are extremely worried over the mounting cost of travelling in France, which kept pace with the fall of the franc last summer and now refuses to scale downward in accordance with the franc's remarkable recovery in the last three months.

Rheumatism can't be rubbed away
Are you one of those unfortunate ones who suffer with pains in your muscles and joints, making you miserable, less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep?
You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?
For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in thousands of cases, as testified to in unsolicited letters of gratitude.
"I suffered from rheumatism for a good many years. At times my joints would swell so, I couldn't walk. I tried most everything. Went to Hot Springs and finally I decided to try S.S.S. I took a course. In a short time the rheumatic pains entirely left me. I also had a bad case of hemorrhoids, but now nothing would heal, but now it was S.S.S. which removed the cause. I am now in perfect health and want to add that I have tried all kinds of medicines but I think S.S.S. is the best." Carl C. Campbell, 115 West Main Street, Johnson City, Tenn.
S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs as given to Nature what she needs building you up so that your system throws off the cause.
S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, April 20—One hears that Governor Al Smith is gaining strength within the Democratic party and that he is more likely to be nominated than anyone else.

An attempt has been begun to identify him to the public with at least one national issue, the hydro-electric power issue, and it is not likely that Governor Al's scope will be similarly broadened as the issue draws high for the party to deposit in someone's hands the little red apple which last turned to a decayed raspberry in the hands of the estimable John W. Davis.

In these days prior to convening of the next Congress one man's hazy conjecture is as good as another's but it is hard to believe that Smith's nomination is as nearly certain as many insistent persons would have us all believe. The swing to Smith may be in progress, but various obstacles remain. And there are those who will stick as many more obstacles into his path as they can.

Millions of Democrats would almost rather take poison than a candidate from New York. Some of this feeling doubtless is traceable to a stupid hatred of New York and all its works. Bitter memories of the last national convention intensified the sentiment. But there is much more to it than that.

"The Democrats," says an important southern politician, "haven't had an electoral vote from New York in any presidential election since 1892, except in 1912, when the Republican party was split."

"The same is true of New Jersey, where the Democrats couldn't even win for Wilson in 1916."

"We haven't had an electoral vote from Illinois since 1892 and that was the only time since the Civil War."

"We haven't had one from Rhode Island since 1912."

"Never in the history of the party have we had an electoral vote from Massachusetts, except in 1912."

"We haven't had one from Pennsylvania since 1912."

"Nor from Delaware, except in 1912, since 1892."

"We're not afraid of losing with either Smith or McAdoo. If McAdoo wins he will have a better than fighting chance to win with the vote of the south and west, discharging the northeast. If Smith is nominated, we might well win with a combination of southern, western and northeastern states and will lose some of the doubtful states."

"But we've got to be shown that Mr. Smith can do better for us than Mr. McAdoo."

Speaking of the progressive vote however, it should be added that some of the late Senator LaFollette's best friends here are confident that Smith, if nominated, would inherit virtually every vote that was cast for the LaFollette-Whelan ticket in 1924.

EVOLUTION BILL IN LOWER HOUSE FORECASTS FIGHT

cent of the teachers in colleges not supported by religious institutions were "atheists, infidels and agnostics."

"You can be a six day old pup, without your eyes open, and if you go to the library of the state colleges for thirty minutes and see some of the books that are being used there, you will come out 160 years old," Singletary said.

Representative F. L. D. Carr of Tampa appeared before the committee in opposition to the bill and declared that the bill was "foolish, needless, expensive and cannot accomplish any purpose." Carr branded the bill as a farce and declared that the state needed constructive rather than destructive criticism.

"We do not want to go back into dark age history, we are not concerned from whence came, but where we are going and I am opposed to this monkey business in the house," Carr said.

Greenever Dawe, magazine editor, who was in the House chambers at the time of the discussion, declared that the person who introduced the bill had just awakened and that the topic was an old one that was discussed half a century ago and which was the subject of much discussion then and was now only a resurrection from the dead.

Dawe condemned the efforts of anyone to "curb free thinking and the advancement of scientific research."

Representative W. W. Woster of Jackson county declared before the committee that there were two kinds of evolutionists, "the Thomas A. Edison, Edison kind and the Darwinian type," and that he favored the first, who was "constructive," and that he was opposed to the second.

He urged the elimination from Florida text books of any reference to Darwin's theory and declared it to be "degrading to the young of the Bible."

The issue last night turned on the point of separation of church and state, and a heated discussion as to the teaching of theories that would "undermine the church" was the center of interest during much of the discussion.

Senator Singletary declared that the teaching of evolution was violating the doctrine of the separation of churches and state while Representative F. L. D. Carr used the same argument in defense of evolution.

An omelet made from the egg of an ostrich would feed eight persons.

When a New York state farmer killed a sick cow, he found in her stomach five nails, pieces of wire and iron washers. Several pieces of wire had penetrated the heart.

Memorial Proposed for LaFollette

Wisconsin is preparing to recognize the services of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette by a $3,000,000 memorial library at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Plans for the building, shown above, are now being considered in the state legislature. A statue of LaFollette is to stand in front of the building.

Nature Is Remaking Human Body To Withstand "Jazz" Living, Says U. S. Surgeon

(Editor's note: This is the second of two interviews with Dr. C. C. Pierce, acting surgeon general, showing that life is becoming longer and more abundant in its pleasures—that nature is gradually providing the human body to withstand the rigors of the jazz age.)

WASHINGTON, April 20—(INS)—Nature, the great adjuster, is slowly remaking the human body that it may withstand the high-powered speeded-up living of the jazz age, and yet permit the enjoyment of good health and longer life.

This opinion was held out today by Dr. S. C. Pierce, acting surgeon general of the United States, who declared that the American body is undergoing a slow but certain evolution.

Nature is providing weapons within the body that the race may be doomed by the rapid changes in life that have taken place in the last twenty five years.

Nature even is providing against physical ruin threatened by the wild night clubs, by the various lures cast about tired but rich "butter and egg" men, and by playing bridge and eating the food which at midnight hours usually accompanies an auction party.

"If this were not so, we still would be clipping around in the trees and eating roots and herbs," Dr. Pierce said.

The throat and other glands which in cave man days shot vitality, stimulation and animation into the aboriginal as he wooed his love or fled from lions and tigers, now operate to bring about longer life and better health. These glands are essential, but their purpose is changing.

A cave man suddenly translated into modern life would be about as useful as a finessa gone wrong and as dangerous as a beginner "no trump," he said. Put the cave man in an evening suit and first time the chorus appeared Mr. man would go over the footlights and one of the lady goddesses send him to a follies show. That would be missing.

Modern man sits tight, at least until the show is over, with little physical reaction except a transient jump in blood pressure regarded as harmless.

"All this goes to show," Pierce said, "that nature is providing by slow evolution of the body and mind that one may withstand his environment."

"As the new conditions come, such as the so-called jazz age, we are equipped with nature to meet them."

"There is nothing the matter with the human race, either mentally or physically. Life is becoming more abundant in its fullness."

Wet Ontario May Become Rum Supply For Northern Ohio

CLEVELAND, O., April 20—(INS)—There is about to be a new current in Lake Erie, according to those who know the lake. It will be a current of whiskey, beer and wine and it will flow from the Canadian side southward.

The province of Ontario, officially "wet" on April 15, will be the source of much smuggling, it is predicted. The fact that more speed boats are being built for lake usage this spring than ever before indicates that there is some basis for such predictions.

With only three real rum chasers on the lake, authorities on this side admit they are inadequately equipped for the smuggling menace which arises with a "wet Ontario." The government customs service will be a little better than a "selve" in coping with the new booze flow, according to predictions, since officials must spend most of their time with other duties rather than catching liquor smugglers.

Bootleggers in Cleveland are already reducing prices; and with all kinds of liquor, at old-fashioned prices, available just across the lake, northern Ohio may become the oasis in the great American prohibition desert this summer.

Labor Money Used To Build Planes For The Bolsheviks

MOSCOW, April 20—(INS)—been built for the Red Army with hundreds of new airplanes have funds received by voluntary donations from trade union members, government employees and individuals who wish to see the Russian air fleet the largest and strongest in Europe.

This was revealed by Joseph Unalicht, assistant War Commissar when he received in the name of the Red Army, six shining new airplanes for the military air fleet, the gift of trade union members of the little city of Ivanovo-Vosnesensk. The six planes were made possible by the free will offering of time and work, as well as of money by the Ivanovo-Vosnesensk proletariat.

The airplanes were christened with a solemn ceremony. Their names all of revolutionary origin, are "Leninism," "Working Woman," "Textile Workers," "August Tenth," "Commissar Ivanov," and "shevik" of that community.

Southpaw Hal Wittse engineered the Red Sox to victory over the Yankees, 6 to 3. The Yanks still lead the league by a comfortable margin, however.

Jess Haines turned in another fine performance and the Cardinals slaughtered the Reds, 9 to 1. Hugh Critz broke in to the Cincinnati line up, having won his fight for a $12,000 contract.

Jack Scott, of the Phillies, had everything except the gripe and blanked Brooklyn, 4 to 0. It was Brooklyn's seventh straight defeat and Dazzy Vance was the victim of the season and leads the circuit clouters of both leagues.

Ty Cobb stole home with the bases full as the Athletics downed the Senators, 3 to 1. Elmhke was the winning twirler.

The St. Louis Browns vaulted into second place by trouncing the White Sox, 7 to 5. Ernie Nevers, the ex-football star, blanked the Sox for four innings but weakened thereafter and was retired to the sidelines.

Detroit took advantage of Cleveland's errors and beat the Indians, 8 to 5, winning the series.

Gillis' home run in the seventh with the sacks loaded enabled Birmingham to beat Atlanta, 9 to 7. New Orleans climbed into first place with the aid of Murchison who pitched the Pelicans to a shutout victory over Little Rock, 1 to 0.

The Lookouts came from behind by scoring six runs in the ninth and defeating Nashville, 7 to 5. Taylor's homer in the second helped Memphis to down the Mobile Bears, 5 to 2.

on the physical dollar, should pop that bird over in the first few minutes of play and after that, you couldn't stop the riot at the turnstiles with a machine gun.

But suppose Paulino won? I asked that question around the garden today with the notion of finding out whether some imbecile thought the tree assassin could be tassed in with Tunney.

It seemed not, however, and here is where Messrs. Maloney and Sharky were to provide their excuse for breathing. This match, they said, would be lifted down from the shelf, carefully dusted off, exposed to public view and the winner matched with Paulino, the ultimate survivor then would get Tunney.

They apparently have signed contracts with great abandon, according to existing advices, Maloney is pledged to fight Johnny Risio in Cleveland and Tom Heeney in Boston before the Sharky date on May 19, and while it can be done, the betting is that it won't be Sharky also is alleged to be under contract for an early appearance in Boston, the result being that Rickard and his May 19 engagement are being badgered by injunctions, liens, threats and promises.

The worst of it is that the match doesn't look the part of a hot shot here, anyhow. So they say Rickard, having heard secretly from Dempsey, is almost ready to forget the incident.

As a matter of fact, the situation is a perfect 'out' for the gentleman, if there is anything in these persisting rumors that a return engagement between Dempsey and Tunney is ordained. All he needs for another $1,800,000 harvest is the build up of Dempsey and Tex could travel over land and sea, 1,000 miles or more, and he'd never find a corner stone-like Paulino on the floor.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE JOY OF THE BELIEVER:
—Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous; and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart, Psalm 32:11.

PRAYER:—"Yes, I will rejoice, rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation."

HOOF-BEATS
My dreams, like little ponies,
I begged to run ahead,
And center to the Future,
They sought the Past instead.

I held them to the Present,
But they would not be still;
Their hurried little hoof-beats
Went clicking down the hill.

And soon I heard a whinny
That sounded far away,
And knew that they had gone
Round the world To look for Yesterday.

My ponies all came stumbling
home,
Too tired for questing more,
I put them far back in my heart
And locked the stable door.

Charles Marshall made a mistake by injecting religion into Al Smith's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. Smith's family many and liquor prohibitions are enough to defeat him.

The Chicago Daily News says there are one hundred and ten married women in Chicago who are worth a million dollars or more. We have some in Sanford who are worth a hundred million.

President Angell of Yale University when asked the probable cause of student suicides, pertinently remarked, "perhaps we don't make life interesting enough for them."

An eight-year-old girl in New York City was arrested the other day for passing bad checks. She was said to be the daughter of a highly respected family who felt the lure of fine clothes and a good time irresistible.

Three elephants went on a riot in the downtown section of Newark, N. J., which resulted in one of them trampling to death an elderly woman. It's this pre-war liquor they are serving now. Even an elephant can't stand it.

Spare The Women And Children

Time was, and not so many years ago either, when a baseball game between Sanford and Orlando was apt to develop into a free-for-all fight that would make the battle of the Marne look like an argument between a couple of street urchins over the relative merits of their respective dads. Men-shouted their heads off, bet the shirts off their backs, and threw pop bottles at the umpire whenever he decided against them. Rivalry was at its height.

Now Sanford and Orlando are to pick up the hickory from where they laid it away to rest last year and step to the plate again. Tomorrow afternoon the Celery-feds and the Colts will renew the battle on the diamond to determine whether the Colts can out the Celery-feds, or whether the Celery-feds have too much arsenic on them.

The honorable mavors of Sanford and Orlando respectively, if not respectfully, have issued proclamations calling upon the stores to close and ordering all loyal citizens to the ball park. Their highnesses themselves will pitch and receive the first ball. At least, Mayor Lake will pitch it and whether or not Mayor Autrey can catch it, remains to be seen.

In all probability a large crowd will be on hand. It is rumored that the cohorts from Orlando are strengthening their forces with mercenaries to help them cheer the home team. To combat this evil properly, will necessarily require every leather-lunged individual of Sanford. Come early, men, and don't fire until Crowe is struck out.

Bull Copy, Number 956

Another stranger has stopped in Sanford long enough to make the customary pleasing remarks. "It is a great pleasure to me to have visited in your wonderful city and to have met your charming people. Your flourishing back-country is obviously the most fertile and productive I have ever seen in the United States, and with the industrial development which is sure to come as soon as your ideal location is generally known, nothing can stop you from becoming the greatest city in Florida. The substantial characteristics of Sanford have already given your city an enviable reputation in financial centers of the country."

Great stuff! How we all love it! But largely applause, isn't it? In the newspaper office we call it "Bull copy, number 956." It's the same old story from every visitor who ventures into our midst. Praise! Flattery! Commendation! Over and over again we hear it. How happy they think they are making us as they reel out the same old line! We have heard it a thousand times, a thousand times a year, and almost the same identical words, scarcely a change in inflection! Can anything be more boring?

Why don't some of them offer constructive criticism? These men who come from the great financial centers of New York, the great agricultural lands of the middle west, or the great intellectual and industrial centers of New England, have they no suggestions to make which might be of benefit to Sanford? We know how good we are. We know the matchless fertility of our soil and the importance of our location on the river. What we want to be told is what's the matter with us.

We are not so conceited as to think ourselves perfect, but sometimes it is a little difficult to see just which of our faults are most outstanding and the best methods to go about correcting them. These things people from the outside could tell us, if they only would. Visitors, fresh from the business excitement of bigger cities, have a better perspective of us as we are, than we, who have our noses pretty close to the grindstones, have of ourselves.

If they would come here and say to us, "Why don't you do this?" or "Why don't you do that?" or "What you need is a ——" or "Why don't you get a ——" it might make everybody sore, but it would do us a lot of good.

NEW YORK STATE easily sells bonds to yield interest of only 3.65. New York City alone has a debt greater than the whole debt of the United States before the World War. What a state, city or nation should fear is not debt, but unwise use of money got in exchange for bonds.—Arthur Brisbane.

REPORTS ARE GOING the rounds that the race track operators will attempt to bribe the legislature to pass a law favorable to their gambling interests. If that be true the operators will be digging their own graves, and those legislators who listen to their lucrative talk should be few and far between.—Gainesville Sun. Some people won't, mind being in a grave if its sides are lined with greenbacks.—Palm Beach Independent.

VALUE OF THE DEBATE

The debate on Prohibition between Senator Borah and Nicholas Murray is disconcerting only in that there was no presentation of a new point of view. The arguments were ably and at times eloquent, and always upon the high plane to be expected of the speakers. Naturally the speeches settle nothing.

The sole value of such a spectacular combat is in its forcing the Prohibition question into the political field, where it belongs. It may not be a party question, since no one party has taken a stand for or against, but it is a political question in that it goes to the determination of governmental policy. It is a sheer begging of the question to say that it is a social or a moral issue having no legitimate place in politics. It was forced into politics when the Eighteenth Amendment was forced into the Constitution. It can be taken out by political action only.

Here is a policy, forced upon a nation, meeting the bitter opposition of many millions of citizens, lowering the average regard for the laws and the Constitution, making for hypocrisy and corruption. The politician can no more ignore the question which agitates the entire Nation, and every class, than his predecessor in the trade of politics could ignore the slavery question. It must be met.

It has not been met because of the rank cowardice of politicians who always seek to ignore that threatens party solidarity. The Democrats have not been afraid to discuss it in their conventions, and to fight about it in the open, but Republicans, more supine under the whip of the party boss, and more susceptible to iron discipline and more hungry for the leaves and fishes, have utterly ignored it.

This is not because all Republicans are favorable to the Amendment and the Enforcing act and consider the question settled. The best evidence of that is the debate. It is a question on which men may honestly disagree, according to their temperaments. There is something wholesome in representative government in these days, gentlemen fought out in the open. Senator Borah and Dr. Butler are intellectually honest, and both are courageous with the courage of real leadership. They are distinguished Republicans and both agree that for their Party to ignore the question is to lose contact with the realities—the inevitable, forerunner of disaster. They want their party to meet the issue, and be fish or fowl.

The old parties know it, and never forget friends or enemies. Same with organized finance.

FRANCE AND ENGLAND can't agree on armament reduction. France wants plenty of submarines to sink enemy warships and has plenty of airships to take care of big cities.

England with her gigantic fleet wants small cruisers, not easily hit by flying machine marksmen and the best submarines possible. They are too dangerous to commercial shipping.

TO GOVERNOR SMITH, probable Democratic candidate for 1928 and a Roman Catholic, Charles Marshall addressed long questions which come to this: "If you were elected President would you be governed by the laws of the United States or by orders from Rome?"

Governor Smith answered ably in several thousand words. Thirty-one words of his answer constitute a complete answer, as follows: "I recognize no power in the institution of my church to interfere with the operation of the constitution of the United States or the enforcement of the laws of the land."

AN OLD GERMAN SAYING, "On all peaks there is rest," may not always be true.

James Axel Simonson was snowed out with a friend on Pike's Peak without food. They have food now. H. C. Lippe and A. C. Laz, boys from Los Angeles, flew up 22,000 feet, sailed over the peak and dropped down plenty of food. In the real flying age soon coming you may have to look for peace down in the valleys. "Peaks" will be crowded and the wise man will buy his mountain top now, cheap, and an extra one on which to make a good real estate profit.

ON A DULL NEWS DAY word came from Washington that President Coolidge and Secretary Hoover must be on bad terms, when the President's "Spokesman" announced that even if Secretary Kellogg did retire, Mr. Hoover would not become secretary of state.

That doesn't mean a quarrel, it means common sense. Taking Mr. Hoover from work that he is doing so well, canal planning and power development would be a calamity.

COOLIDGE AND HOOVER are not "competitors" for the Republican nomination in 1928. If the President wants it, it is his. If he accepts, which he may well do, since there is no third term question involved, Secretary Hoover and all other Republicans will work for him.

IF THE PRESIDENT, which seems improbable, should refuse a second nomination and election, he would, of course, refrain from any interference with the convention, watching "the best man win."

SECRETARY HOOVER would certainly be among the best men. That's all there is to that yarn, and the President and Secretary Hoover had breakfast together on Easter Sunday morning.

WISE GENTLEMEN THAT bought United States Steel stock praise themselves for good reasons. The new steel stock to be given as a present to old stock owners will be as good as the old stock and pay seven per cent dividend. At least, that's the ticker's guess. Thus the melon for steel stockholders turns out to be worth far more than $203,321,000, its face value.

You remember, perhaps, when steel was selling at $10 a share and Frank Munsey began buying it in blocks of 10,000 shares.

IF ONLY WE KNEW yesterday what we knew today. Mr. Gray who confessed that he beat Mrs. Snyder's husband to death with a sash weight, warns our men: "Lay off bad liquor. Be careful of the women you go with."

Mr. Gray could have found that advice expressed in better English in the Bible.

CHICAGO DESIRES FOR "FLESH POTS"

A very significant demonstration was made in Chicago last Tuesday evening when there was assurance that the election of that day, "Big Bill" Thompson, Republican, had been given a majority of the votes cast for mayor of that city, and that he would again become the chief executive of that municipality, after being out of office for four years, during which time Mayor William E. Dever, a Democrat, administered the mayoralty office with considerable credit to himself and to the satisfaction of the decent people of that city.

OVERRULING THE DICTIONARY

If the meaning of words is determined by usage, why should not the New Jersey Legislature establish a precedent and correct a senseless aberration by using "biannual" as the equivalent of "biennial" in a proposed constitutional amendment? From their derivation the two words ought to have the same meaning, yet the dictionaries say biannual is semi-annual (twice a year instead of once in two years), so the law framers at Trenton, it is pointed out, are submitting to the voters a scheme of elections which they did not at all intend, as is quite evident from the expression elsewhere in the amendment, "every second year."

WHAT FOOLS WE MORTALS BE

Don't bite the hand that's feeding you, is an axiom. It doesn't pay to bite then. For the hand will likely stop feeding and you will be out of luck for any more free lunch. And it is also impolite, to say the least, to bite the hand that has fed you. You might want to get fed again and then, too, it doesn't show the proper gratitude.

Billy Sunday evidently feels that he doesn't need any more handouts from Florida, for in a radio speech from Denver, Colorado, while he still had $7,022.84 of Florida money—the famous evangelist said: "I wouldn't trade one Colorado county for the whole state of Florida," and also "Florida coast cities are wild places in which to get rid of oney."

The statements are so absolutely uncalculated for that it is manifest that they were made in a spirit of bitterness. From all accounts Billy enjoyed himself in his stay in Tampa. It is true that the financial receipts from his six weeks' evangelistic work were unsatisfactory. Florida is going through a period of readjustment and is conserving its cash. Where a year ago the evangelist would have been on their homeland.

MRS. DAVID THRASHER IS HOSTESS AT LOVELY BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Most artistic in every detail was the lovely bridge luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. David L. Thrasher at her home on Park Avenue when she entertained the members of the Fortnightly Bridge Club and an extra table of players.

Bowls and baskets filled with pink and lavender snapdragons, pink gladioli, baby breath and ferns were placed with pleasing effect in the living room where the card tables had been placed for play.

Centering the small luncheon tables, which were laid with exquisite white embroidered covers, were silver baskets holding spring flowers. Marking the places of the guests were miniature baskets in the pastel tints filled with salted nuts. The names were fastened to the handles.

Following the delicious five-course luncheon duplicate bridge was played. The holders of highest scores were given unusually pretty organdie aprons. For the one cutting the highest card there was silk hose.

Those enjoying the cordial hospitality of Mrs. Thrasher were: Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. George A. DeCottos, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. W. J. Thigpen, Mrs. Donald P. Drummond, Mrs. Harry B. Lewis, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. R. A. Newman, Mrs. F. J. Gonzalez, Mrs. J. E. Hrause, Mrs. Norton and Mrs. Snyder.

MRS. DUMAS IS HOSTESS AGAIN AT DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE PARTY TODAY

Mrs. T. L. Dumas was hostess Wednesday afternoon at the second of a series of lovely bridge parties at her home on Park Avenue.

Lupins, ragged robins, oleanders, nasturtiums and bougainvillea were used in profusion in the reception room, while the living room where the card tables were placed, was adorned with gladioli, lupins, bougainvillea and oleanders. Bouquets of Australian corks were also used with pleasing effect.

The preferred colors were carried out in the tallies and other details.

After five progressions had been played, scores were added and the holder of high score was awarded a linen dresser scarf. The low score prize was a hand-painted guest towel. The one cutting the highest card received a hand-painted salad set. Those serving and the tea guests cut for another prize, which was a hand-painted ice pick set.

Mrs. Wynn W. Potter Entertains Duplicate Club On Wednesday

An exceptionally pretty as well as enjoyable social affair of the week was that of Wednesday when Mrs. Wynn W. Potter entertained the members of her duplicate bridge club at luncheon and bridge at her home in Rose Court.

The artistic color scheme of maize and orchid was carried out in the decorations and other details. The luncheon table was most attractive with its centerpiece, a large bowl surmounted with six candlesticks, filled with daffodils, and lavender stoksis. Tall yellow candles burned in their holders.

Quint courses in old-fashioned lace holders were used as place cards and at one o'clock a tempting four course luncheon was served.

The afternoon hours passed quickly with the game of duplicate and the holders of top scores were presented unusual porch pillows, one in blue, the other in orange check.

Covers were laid for Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Mrs. Monroe B. Hutton, Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. Ben D. Chaswell, Mrs. Robert J. Holly, Jr., Mrs. Hawkins Connelly, Mrs. James Hodge, Mrs. W. C. McLondon of Atlanta Ga., and Mrs. Potter.

Senior Class Members To Repeat Annual Play At High School Tonight

Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock at the new high school auditorium the senior class will reproduce its play "Anaxan Isle," which was given with so much success two weeks ago.

The play was given before a record crowd of nearly eight hundred people and was well received. It was only after many requests had been made that Mrs. Maxwell, the director, agreed to present the play again.

The play, a lighthearted farce of gay adventure is written in three acts and they are full of fun and interest.

The story is one of buried treasure on a South Sea island and the trials of a group of New Yorkers as they hunt for it. There is also a love story woven throughout the play. The cast of characters as they appear:

LEVEE BREAKS AS 3,000 FLEE TO SAVE LIVES

Memphis today took on the appearance of a refugee camp as hundreds came from Arkansas towns and sought refuge on the fair grounds.

Police cars are carrying hundreds of homeless from the railroad stations to the fairgrounds, about 350 had arrived early today, but hundreds more are expected. All the buildings have been filled and scores of tents were set up.

Government boats are picking up the refugees from points up and down the river and bringing them to the city.

The White River levee at Clarendon, Ark., broke late yesterday, flooding the town, and the levee opposite the Saint Francis basin was dynamited to relieve the situation in New Madrid.

Newspapermen and photographers, flying over the vast sea of flood water, reported that Caruthersville was staging a fight against breaks in the levee that could be seen from the air. Osceola and Lexington, Ark., were "high and dry" behind well-holding levees, they reported, but towns for 50 miles away were under several feet of water.

Telephone Concern Announces Several Important Changes

Important changes in the practices and charges for long distance telephone service in Florida are announced to become effective April 21. According to telephone officials the changes are expected to prove an added convenience and saving to the public and to eliminate service difficulties which prevailed under the present schedule.

Perhaps the most welcome change is the extension of the village of reversing charges to 50 points within the state of Florida where the rate is 25 cents or more. This will apply to calls placed during the day, evening or night.

This change is planned to be a real convenience and economy, because many situations arise when the reversal of charges is of advantage to the customer who calls a certain number.

Another interesting change from the public's viewpoint is that by which one and one-half hours will be added to the reduced rate period. Reduced rates on station to station calls to all points will begin at 7 P. M. instead of 8:30 P. M. as formerly. Between 7 P. M. and 8:30 P. M. the discount will be approximately 25 percent of the day station to station rates. These discounts will apply where the day station to station rate is 40 cents or more with a minimum reduced rate of 35 cents.

Under this new plan station to station calls may be made as early as 7 P. M. and persons wishing to take advantage of the lowest rates may make their calls any time after 8:30 P. M.

Breakdown Causes U.S. Newspaperman To Kill Self On Berlin Bremen Train

BREMEN, Germany, Apr. 20—(NS)—As the result of a nervous breakdown, S. Dunbar Weyer, for the past six years chief of the International News Service bureau in Berlin, shot and killed himself in a compartment on the Berlin-Bremen express early today.

Weyer was on his way to Bremen to embark for the United States. He was accompanied by H. R. Knickerbocker, Moscow correspondent of the International News Service who was to fill in for Weyer in Berlin during his trip to America.

Knickerbocker and Weyer were in conversation until 3 o'clock this morning when Weyer was apparently in good spirits, and he explained to Knickerbocker that he desired to write some letters and Knickerbocker went to his own compartment.

On the arrival of the train at Bremen at 6 a. m. the conductor found Weyer's body in the compartment with a bullet through his temple. The conductor stated that Weyer had mailed many letters when the train stopped at Hannover.

Weyer left the following note: "Official explanation—Nervous breakdown—seven years without vacation 520 a. m."

Weyer's body will probably be removed to the home of his parents at Hamburg. A wife and two children survive.

Weyer, prior to going to Berlin, had been for many years engaged in newspaper work in the United States, having worked in Milwaukee, Washington and New York.

Chiang Determined To Continue His Campaign Against Extremist Group

SHANGHAI, Apr. 20—(NS)—While reports continue of a drive against Chiang Kai Shek by the Hankow branch of the Nationalist movement, there is every indication here that Chiang intends to proceed ruthlessly with the extermination of the Extremists within his ranks.

Secret executions are proceeding nightly at the Langhwa headquarters and prior to daybreak today there were six alleged Extremists executed, which it is said brings the total of executions of alleged radicals to more than a hundred, including some of the leading officers of the general labor and other unions, who were declared to be back of the recent strike.

There is active war on the front today, with the possibility of civil war among the Nationalists on another front and continual internal strife in the ranks of both branches of the Nationalist movement.

Chiang Kai Shek's forces are still reported engaging with the northern troops in the vicinity of Pukow.

Hankow reports that Gen. Feng Yuh Shing has been named to succeed Chiang and preparing to throw his forces into the field.

The warfare may become more complicated from now on, particularly if Gen. Peng attempts to move his forces into Hankow. At present his armies of some 40,000 men are cut off from Hankow by Chang Tso Lin's forces. There are now possibilities of Chang Tso Lin and his allies having to face warfare on more than one front. It is doubtful whether Peng can move more than 40,000 active troops, since his forces are now widely scattered.

The forces in Hankow, which are available for a drive against Nanking, are also doubtful, for Chang Tso Lin has been engaging these troops.

Observers here are of the opinion that Chiang Kai Shek can hold his own against the Extremist faction of Hankow, and if hard pressed he always has the opportunity of forming an alliance with the northerners.

The sentiment against the Extremist faction in Hankow has been growing here of late and a mass-meeting of anti-Communists

Chiang Kai Shek's forces are still reported engaging with the northern troops in the vicinity of Pukow.

Hankow reports that Gen. Feng Yuh Shing has been named to succeed Chiang and preparing to throw his forces into the field.

The warfare may become more complicated from now on, particularly if Gen. Peng attempts to move his forces into Hankow. At present his armies of some 40,000 men are cut off from Hankow by Chang Tso Lin's forces. There are now possibilities of Chang Tso Lin and his allies having to face warfare on more than one front. It is doubtful whether Peng can move more than 40,000 active troops, since his forces are now widely scattered.

The forces in Hankow, which are available for a drive against Nanking, are also doubtful, for Chang Tso Lin has been engaging these troops.

Observers here are of the opinion that Chiang Kai Shek can hold his own against the Extremist faction of Hankow, and if hard pressed he always has the opportunity of forming an alliance with the northerners.

The sentiment against the Extremist faction in Hankow has been growing here of late and a mass-meeting of anti-Communists

WEIGH IN!

YOUR thoughts wisely directed and then translated into ACTION will bring success and happiness. Thought under like conditions has changed the destiny of Nations. Weigh In.

Until you forget failure---until you are reasonably sure that you are going to win---until all doubts have been erased from your mental blackboard---you are quite sure to get a glimpse of the Canyon of Gloom---the Valley of Defeated Purposes---the Road of Failure.

You have the power of fulfillment---your highest aim can be attained---if you have trained yourself to think right and put to right use the fruits of your best thoughts. Sanford needs you---you need Sanford.

Weigh in! Let not the scales say, "Weighed, and found lacking." Measure up to the times and demands of the community. Keep faith with Florida the best state in the entire South, the United States---the entire World for that matter.

Business IS Good---
let's make it better!

CARL SNYDER, Statistician, Federal Reserve Bank, recently stated: "When commercial journals talk about business being absolutely dead, it is going 90 PER CENT PLUS...In great booms it goes up 12 per cent above normal growth---that's the only difference." Read this over two or three times, then THINK.

Let this thought "sink in"---let it enter your consciousness---1927 WILL BE MY BEST YEAR IN SANFORD. Let it "stick to your ribs"---take this thought to breakfast, luncheon and dinner with you. Arise in the morning with it uppermost in your mind---and take it to bed with you when you retire at night. You will be surprised how much better you will feel---how much easier every task becomes---and you will prosper---with SANFORD ---IN SANFORD!

1927 in Sanford, Your Greatest Year

---if you THINK so, act accordingly and have the courage of your convictions
